ANOTHER BAD SLUMP IN THE STOCK MARKETS TODAY

Bank of England Increases the Discount Rate—Effect is Felt on the Different Exchanges—The Money Situation

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The directors of the Bank of England after a prolonged discussion today raised the bank's discount rate from four to four and a half per cent, owing to the monetary situation of the continent and in New York, and the anxiety of American houses to place finance bills and notes which is taken to indicate possible gold shipments to New York in the near future.

The recent foreign competition for the gold arrivals evidently helped the directors to arrive at their decision, and the usual demands for Egypt as well as South Africa must be met before the year end. The reserve will be sufficiently depleted without such a demand from New York as that experienced last year. The hope is expressed in financial circles that Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou will assist the New York market, if necessary to prevent gold shipments from here, which undoubtedly will cause an advance in the Bank of England's discount rate.

The stock market experienced a renewed depression this morning, chiefly due to the opening of the stock market, and the advance in the bank rate. Consols declined 1/8 to 8 1/8. American stocks started in a poor way yesterday's prices and fell quickly when the high bank rate was announced, but went up later and ruled steady at about parity level.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Another sharp break in the prices of stocks characterized the opening of the market today following the lead set by London, where the prices of American stocks slumped after a preliminary recovery of the increase in the Bank of England's rate of discount. Amalgamated Copper which has been in the storm centre of price depression lately, again was the leader of the downward movement at today's opening here, scoring an initial drop of 2 1/2 points from yesterday's closing prices of 63 1/2. The first sale today was at 66.

GIRL IN MONCTON KILLED IN AN ELEVATOR

MONCTON, Aug. 15.—Attempting to take a ride down stairs in an elevator intended only for the accommodation of freight, a young girl, 12 years of age, employed as a domestic for Dr. O. H. Price, had her neck broken this morning. A little girl who was passing down stairs saw the face of the dead girl protruding, caught between the wall and the elevator box, and immediately gave the alarm. The girl had been there probably half an hour, life being entirely extinct, and a medical examination proved that her neck was broken. No inquest was held, as no one saw the affair, and circumstances point to a pure accident. The girl belonged to Beersville. The elevator is a box like affair and used for carrying coal, ashes and other heavy articles, and when she stepped into it it often riddled down in it, but the girl, who was quite tall, was too large for the box. When she stepped into it she shot down beneath her weight, and her head protruding was caught between the step of the door and the bottom of the box, breaking her neck.

BOARD OF TRADE MEN WILL HAVE AN EXCURSION

The Maritime Board of Trade will meet in this city on Wednesday next. On that day there will be three business sessions, in the morning, afternoon and evening. A business session will also be held on Thursday morning. The steamer Victoria has been chartered to take the members and their friends to Evandale on Thursday afternoon. The boat will leave Indian town at sharp three o'clock and will arrive at Evandale at five o'clock. A band will be on board the boat. Supper will be served on the steamer, at John O'Farrell's hotel and on the lawn—if the weather is fine. The party will remain at Evandale two or three hours and will return to the city at ten o'clock. It is expected that 300 people will attend the excursion. On Wednesday afternoon the ladies accompanying the visiting members together with a number of local ladies will be driven about the city. In the evening they will be privately entertained in the city. Should it be necessary a business meeting of the board will be held on Friday morning.

MORE WITNESSES SAY COAL WAS GOOD

Uninteresting Evidence in the Sydney Case

Draft Contract is Not Admitted by the Court—No Complaints Heard About Quality of Coal.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 15.—The court opened at the usual hour this morning with Mr. Fergie still on the stand. Cross-examination resumed by Mr. Nesbitt—There was a standard for making water tests. He was not present during the water tests, but had them from the mechanical department. The average from No. 6 was 7.33; No. 4, 7.64; No. 5, 6.54; No. 1, 6.58; No. 9, 6.72. He was not able to speak of his knowledge of the analysis of coal made in November, 1906. The analysis of coal from No. 3 in June, 1906, was 14.6 sulphur and 3.20 in ash; No. 1 shows 2.78 sulphur and 7.33 ash. A coal with one per cent sulphur and seven per cent ash represented about 13,500 British thermal units. As the sulphur and ash increase the thermal units decrease. The belts at the Intercolonial mine were put in about fifteen years, and ago at a distance of about four years ago.

Re-examined by Mr. Lovitt—The products of the mine are mixed together as a rule at the shipping pier. A coal which gave 12,900 thermal units to the pound is a fairly good coal. He has never seen any coal at any of the mines inextricably mixed with stone and other impurities. A conversation then ensued between counsel as to the quickest means of putting on record the fact that in the opinion of the witness the coal submitted a draft contract that the coal supplied should be suitable, which the Coal Company refused to accept. The judge some days ago expressed himself as of the opinion that evidence of previous negotiations between directors of the company could not be received in evidence, and that the contract executed was the only paper he could look at. The opinion was reiterated today.

Lachlan McLean, examined by Mr. Lovitt—He has been superintendent of the Sydney and Lonsburg Railway for three years and a half. He was familiar with the assembly yard where the coal company delivers coal to the Steel Company. There were two tracks used for storing coal, one track for empty and one for loaded. It is on the main line of the Sydney and Lonsburg Railway. On Nov. 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th the trucks were usually blocked. He had charge of removing cars to the assembly yard. On the 13th he went to make an inspection of the cars. The cars were still loaded. He was accompanied by Mr. Wanklyn and Hon. Robert Drummond. He first went to Dominion yard and checked the numbers with his list. The same thing was done at Grand Ledge siding. He wears over some of the cars. He was accustomed to see the different kinds of coal and knew the general appearance. The coal he received to was good looking as others he had seen. There was no more stone and shale than in other coals of the company. Some of this coal was used for domestic and some for locomotive purposes. He had used considerable No. 6 coal on the railway. He had had no more complaints last winter than he had any previous winter from locomotive men. March of last winter was the worst month for railway traffic he remembered. The railway got through its work that month as well as any other time. Speaking of a car of coal which Capt. Reid of the Alameda complained of and which was sent to L. A. Petrie, the witness stated that it was selected from Dominion coal. Dominion Coal Co. sent No. 6 coal to L. A. Petrie this year to the last of July.

BURYING VICTIMS AT CASABLANCA

Military Escorted the Bodies to the Graves.

Moors are Gathering a Big Force for Another Assault on the French Position.

TANGIER, Aug. 15.—Reports from Casablanca today indicate that the Kabyles are gathering reinforcements as if preparing for a final effort to capture General Druces camp outside that city. The European victims of the original massacre at Casablanca were buried yesterday with impressive ceremony. The foreign consuls, commander of the French expeditionary force, a detachment of troops and Europeans to the number of five hundred followed the bodies to the graves. The funeral oration was delivered by the French vice-consul. The bombardment of Casablanca has produced a deep impression at Fez. The government received the news well and at once provided guards for all European residents, urging them not to leave the city, where it guarantees their security.

SCATTER HUMAN ASHES ON RIVER

Dust of Henry Van Zuilan Thrown to the Winds by His Own Request.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 14.—Twenty men stood with bared heads in the rear of the ferryboat Artic, of the Camden and Philadelphia line at noon today, while from a ten ounce tin were scattered to the winds the ashes of Henry Van Zuilan, who had been esteemed and loved by the little band that attended the strange funeral.

B. F. Schroeder, a Camden undertaker, performed the ceremony. As the ashes were emptied from the tin and scattered in all directions over the water Mr. Schroeder said: "As much as it pleased Almighty God in his wise providence to take out of this world the soul of Henry Van Zuilan, we therefore commit him to the winds and the waters of the Delaware in accordance with his last wish. Ashes to ashes and dust to dust."

Many of the passengers on the ferryboat gathered about the mourners to watch the ceremony. The chief justice granted a warrant for the seizure of the estate, real and personal of John P. Richard, a trader, formerly of Richbecks, who is now and has been absent from the province for the past six months. The warrant was issued under the section of the Consolidated Statutes referring to absconding debtors.

Richard O'Leary is the creditor for the amount which is in the vicinity of $300. J. Milton Price acted on behalf of H. H. James, attorney for Richard O'Leary. Court was adjourned sine die.

EARL GREY WENT TO FREDERICTON TODAY

Crowds Lined the Streets to Indiantown Wharf

Members of the Government and Aldermen Accompanied the Vice Regal Party to the Capital.

His Excellency Earl Grey and Lady Grey accompanied by Ladies Styll and Evelyn Grey and staff, left for Fredericton this morning on the S. S. Elaine which had been chartered by the government to take the party to the capital. Crowds of loyal and interested citizens stood outside the Royal Hotel this morning to see the vice regal party leave for the trip. When the party entered the barouches cheers were given for His Excellency and all along the route to Indiantown wharf recognized, the party was cheered. The members of the government, some of the city fathers and other guests accompanied the vice regal party on the trip to Fredericton. The morning was an ideal one for a sail on the river and His Excellency was greatly pleased with the prospect of a pleasant day's outing. The party will return from Fredericton tomorrow morning. The two cars Cornwall and York which were built at the time of the Duke of York's tour through Canada and which carried the Royal party, were sent to Fredericton last evening and will be used by the vice regal party on the trip into the C. P. R.

After arriving here the party will proceed by automobiles to New Brunswick to the Mrs. Close's Children's home. Mrs. Close has made elaborate preparations for the reception of the party. Besides the children of the Home the children of the Nauwigwauk and the surrounding villages will be assembled on the verandah of the Home and upon the arrival of His Excellency will sing "The Maple Leaf."

Mrs. Close has also made arrangements to serve tea al-fresco to over 300 guests. General arrangements were made some time ago to convey the party by automobile and it was thought a number of automobiles owned by prominent citizens would be requisitioned for the purpose. The owners were asked about the matter by the Star today, and the Mayor had given them no definite plans regarding the use of their automobiles and they did not know who would be called upon to supply the cars.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 15.—Beautiful weather prevails here today and everything is in readiness for the reception of the governor general and party. Queen street is prettily decorated as well as many other parts of the town. The city Opera House where the civic address will be presented has been prettily ornamented with flags and potted plants. It is now stated that it will be after four o'clock before the visitors will reach the city.

The People's Popular Paper.

- * THE STAR makes no boast when it claims to be St. John's most popular afternoon paper for today, as in the past, it is read by more people than any other evening advertisement. The thoughtful advertiser the above statement is pertinent, for the advertiser wants that paper which "pulls" the business, and the Star is the paper. Besides it is the home paper, the paper that gives an childlike voice, and the Star covers St. John like the Morning Star.

ST. JOHN MEN MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Burlock and Clark Tie for the Kinnear Plate—Results of the McLean and Sinclair Contests.

SUSSEX, Aug. 14.—The fact that St. John riflemen have won every cup so far in the P. R. A. meet, has given rise to much talk on the subject. The marksmen from St. John have already taken over $100 in prizes, as well as the most coveted cups offered. The Association Cup contest was one of the prettiest matches ever shot on the Sussex range. A great surprise was sprung on the spectators, however, when the shooting at 600 yards commenced. Sergt. E. H. Haggerty started in well, but before he had fired his second round it could easily be seen that he was "off," and at that range he only made 20 points, bringing his total up to 85. Lieut. L. A. Langstroth, of St. John, then piled up the bull's eyes, and when he had finished, had the fine score of 81 points to his credit. Major Twining Hart of St. John, also made a fine showing, ending second with 80 points to his credit. The Association Cup won by Lieut. Langstroth is one of the most coveted trophies.

SUSSEX, N. B., Aug. 15.—The scores in the McLean cup contest which was shot yesterday afternoon, were announced this morning.

As stated before, Captain Forbes won the cup. This is the first trophy which has been won by other than St. John marksmen. The individual scores in the McLean contest were as follows:

McAdam, St. Stephen, 82; 80; The Sinclair cup, presented by Mrs. John Y. McKane, was shot for in connection with the association match. It was open to teams of five members. The cup went to No. 1 team of the 62nd Regt. The 5th Hussars team finished second. This evening the annual meeting of the members attending the D. R. A. meet was held at 8.30 o'clock. Capt. J. L. McAvity presided. The meeting is termed among the marksmen as the "kickers' convention," and there the men are given an opportunity to make proposals. The riflemen had no grievances to make, however, and the meeting was in session only a short time. Captain E. A. Smith moved that the association thank James F. Robertson and John Y. McKane for presenting prizes and that these gentlemen be invited to make the presentations. The motion was carried, it having been seconded by Major F. Hart. The remainder of the time was taken up in discussing the matches which have taken place this year. It was the general opinion that the shooting has been far above the average. The scores made have been higher, and several marksmen who last year were not in the running have this year forged to the front and won creditable places in the prize lists. The Sinclair cup contest, which took place this afternoon, is causing much discussion among the members of the executive committee. The 74th Regt. team won first place, but a protest was entered on the ground that one of its members was not an active militiaman. Soon after the protest was entered it was stated that the 74th team had been disqualified and that No. 1 team of the 62nd Regt., which was in second place, had been given the cup. It was learned tonight, however, that the matter will have to come before the executive before it is settled. Two important matches were completed this afternoon. The shooting for the Association cup was finished at 2 o'clock.

MRS. EDDY UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION BY A COMMITTEE.

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 14.—Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, the founder and present head of the Christian Science church, underwent a mental examination here today by the masters who had been appointed to determine her competency in business matters for connection with the suit brought by Mrs. Eddy's "next friends" for an accounting of her property. The examination was made at Mrs. Eddy's home, Pleasant View, in this city, between two and three o'clock this afternoon by Judge Aldrich, Dr. Joly and Attorney Parker, the masters. The only other persons present were General Frank S. Streeter, Mrs. Eddy's counsel in the case; William E. Chandler, counsel for the "next friends," and a court stenographer. Mrs. Eddy received her visitors in her private sitting room, and by arrangement with her counsel she answered a series of questions asked of her by the three masters, who took turns in examining her upon various points. The stenographer made a verbatim record of the whole conversation, which was carefully written out, making about a dozen typewritten sheets. In respect to the call at Pleasant View, Mr. Streeter said that as counsel for Mrs. Eddy in the case he was entirely satisfied with what resulted. YOUTHFUL FINANCIER. This really happened in New York the other day: Displeased Parent—Molly, I find you have been buying three pairs of gloves without my permission. Why did you do so? Miss Molly (aged twelve)—Why, daddy, I was obliged to wear some gloves; I hadn't a pair to wear. Displeased Parent—It was wrong of you to buy the gloves without the permission either of your mamma or myself. Miss Molly—Well, never mind, daddy dear; they won't cost anything. I had them charged. NOT EVEN THE CLOCK. Two ladies were being shown through the State Hospital for the Insane. As they entered a ward one turned to the other and said, "I wonder if that clock is right?" An inmate standing near overheard her and instantly replied: "Great Scott, no! It won't be here if it was!" LIPPINCOTT'S.

It is possible for your STAR Want Ads. to be productive of more results by wording your advertisement properly. For instance, in renting rooms the answers will be better and more numerous if you tell the size, price, direction, locality, accessible car lines, etc., than if you merely give the street address. Tell the whole story, and readers will be interested. Think before you write. Word your ad. carefully.

ST. JOHN STAR.
ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 15, 1907.

BUNGLED.

His first official visit to St. John has furnished Earl Grey with a fund of reminiscences or stories which if he is so inclined may be used by him with telling effect in whatever after-dinner speeches he may make in the future. The visit has been marked by such bunting as would be highly amusing if it were not thoroughly discredit. There remains one faint hope that the automobiles to be used tomorrow on the drive to Nauyaswaik will not break down. Up to the present not one item on the whole visa legal programme has passed off smoothly. The Germanic exhibition in City Hall on Tuesday forenoon was the first bad break, and taking place in the presence of His Excellency's aide would undoubtedly create a very painful impression. Such petty squabbling was to be regretted and the aidmen who participated in the unseemly wrangle have not won any honor by so doing. The landing of the vice royal party was delayed, and owing to the lateness of the hour, the ceremonial reception took on the appearance of something which had to be hurried along as quickly as possible. There had evidently been little attention paid to minor but necessary details. The state dinner at Union Club had its humorous side not altogether in accordance with the programme. Yesterday's luncheon was badly managed from start to finish and while the executive of the Canadian Club no doubt endeavored to make things run along smoothly, the affair could not be regarded in any way as a success. It may have been that the attendance was larger than anticipated, but surely preparations might easily have been made for seating and serving the guests in a better manner. Even the visit by Countess Grey and party to public institutions yesterday was not without its incidents which caused unpleasantness. A regrettable incident occurred at last night's dinner, though of course the civic committee could hardly be called to account for it. Earl Grey, however, takes it all with a smile and no doubt thoroughly enjoys the strenuous but misdirected efforts to provide for his comfort.

THE STANDARD OIL.

Secretary Bonaparte is evidently determined to bring the Standard Oil companies to a strict observance of the laws of the land. While all the promises which he makes may not be carried out, there is reason to believe that the action now in progress against the company will bring about some radical reform in business methods. Whether or not the fine of over twenty-nine million dollars imposed by Judge Landis is ever collected, the very imposition of such a fine is a spectacular feature of the case, and the possibility that it may be collected will undoubtedly have some effect in the guiding of the company's policy hereafter. Mr. Bonaparte has the desire to put some big men in jail. This is a laudable ambition, but there will be difficulties in the way of its accomplishment, for though a slight awakening is now noticeable in the United States courts, there is still a general observance of the problem that justice should always be tempered with mercy. The man with the bank account has the best chance of freedom, and the more money he possesses the longer he will remain out of jail. Hence there is little likelihood that John D. Rockefeller will ever see the inside of a prison, unless as a casual visitor, and this in spite of Secretary Bonaparte's fond hope. On the other hand, evidence against the Standard Oil is rapidly accumulating and profits by facts made public so far, a number of independent concerns have entered action on their own account against railroads which have been guilty of granting rebates. The struggle promises to be a bitter one, but the results will undoubtedly prove of value.

THE END OF A POET.

He had the fever right hard, he did,
He hankered to be a bard, he did,
But got decidedly jarred, he did,
In hunting a rhyme for month.

He swore he would swim or sink, he did,
So got his paper and ink, he did,
And then he began to think, he did,
To light up a rhyme for month.

He balked at calling it June, he did,
Declared it was out of tune, he did,
Said nothing would fit his tune, he did,
Excepting a rhyme for month.

He knew he would make his name, he did,
He felt he was meant for fame, he did,
Declared it a beastly shame, he did,
The scariness of rhymes for month.

He melted a heart of stone, he did,
Gave up the job with a groan, he did,
Left Shakespeare to twinkle alone, he did,
For lack of a rhyme for month.

THE SUBJECT OF DISCUSSION.

I heard de winds a-whisperin' in de clover field one day,
About de ladies' critter dat had ever come dat way;
Dey didn't know his reg'lar name, an' so in laughin' tones,
Dey christened him deir'se's an' called him "Mistuh Lasybones."
He didn't gather honey like dat busy little bee,
Nor dress up, like de butterfly, foh every one to see;
He'd stretch hisse'f out in de shade an' look up toward de sky,
An' not pay no attention as de hours went driftin' by.
An' de bee it kep' a-hummin', an' de yaller jacket buzz,
An' de locust laughed an' hollered, like de way he allus does;
An' I got so interested dat I staid de whole day through,
A-listenin' to 'em tell how Mustuh Lasybones would do,
An' when de sun was droppin' pas' de trestle in de ves'
I staid, sittin' up an' takin' notice mo' or less;
An' den I couldn't stop myse'f 'fom laughin', 'cause you see
Dat Mistuh Lasybones dat dey was talkin' 'bout was me!

CARED FOR HER TEETH.

There were callers and no one seemed to notice the small girl who sat quietly in her corner. Presently the conversation turned to dentistry. "It is really amusing," said her grandfather, "the progress that has been made in dentistry since I was a boy. But then, too, people take better care of their teeth now than they used to."
"I take good care of my teeth," volunteered the three-year-old.
The visitors turned to her smilingly. "Is that so?" one asked. "How do you take care of your teeth, dear?"
The little girl glanced shyly at her grandfather. "I keep mine in," she said.

AN IMPORTANT POST.

Social Aspirant—I never met such a lot of curious women in my life as I find at this exclusive resort. They've cross-questioned me about my whole life and future prospects.
Social Guide—I told you, didn't I, that some engineering was necessary to get into the inner circle?
Social Aspirant—Yes.
Social Guide—Well, this is a pumping station.

CONFLICTING STATEMENTS.

The merchant had advertised for a bill clerk and a young lady applied for the position.
"Yes," said the merchant, "I am in need of a bill clerk, but only a man can hold down the job."
"But I have had experience," protested the young lady.
"So have I," replied the merchant, "it will be part of the clerk's duties to render monthly statements and my experience as a married man, has put me wise to the fact that women render them daily."

WHERE HE PAILED.

Mrs. Diggs—Yes, she is suing her husband for divorce on the grounds of failure to provide.
Mrs. Diggs—Doesn't get enough to eat?
Mrs. Diggs—Oh, yet; but he failed to provide her with the diamond necklace she wanted.

VERY POLITE.

Her (sighing)—Oh, I met such a lovely polite man today!
Him—Where was that?
Her—On the street. I must have been carrying my umbrella carelessly, for he bumped his eye into it. And I said, "Pardon me," and he said, "Don't mention it—I have another eye left."

A BARGAIN.

During a match at St. Andrew's, Scotland, a rustle was struck in the eye accidentally by a golf ball. Turning up to his assistant, he yelled:—
"This'll cost ye five younds—five pounds!"
"But I called out 'fore' as loudly as I could," explained the golfer.
"Did ye sir?" replied the troubled one, much appalled. "Wed, I didna hear; I'll take fower."

"LORD" BARRINGTON ESCAPES HANGING

Governor Folk Commutes Sentence to Life Imprisonment.

Day of Hanging Was Set Four Different Times—Prisoner's Career and His Crimes.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 14.—Governor Folk announced today that the sentence of "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington, Frederick Neville and Sir Frederick Sydney Burgoyne and who the police assert is George F. N. Barton, has had a remarkable career. He appeared in St. Louis early in 1903, and passed as an English nobleman and a representative of the British government to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. While there he was married to Miss Grace Wilhelmina Cochrane, and on February 4 of that year was sentenced to six months in the workhouse because of his treatment of her.
It then developed that he had been married some fifteen years before to Miss Celestine Elizabeth Miller, of Brooklyn, and that on December 1, 1902, he had married another woman in Philadelphia. A saloonkeeper paid his fine, obtaining his release, and in this man's saloon he met McCann, and got a position in his service.
McCann and Barrington left the house together on the night of July 15, 1903, and Barrington returned in the morning with blood stains on his clothing. The body of McCann was found in a stone quarry pond at Bonita Station with two bullet holes in the head. Jewelry belonging to the murdered man was found in Barrington's possession, and at the time of his arrest he wore the clothes in which McCann left the house. Although there was only circumstantial evidence against him, Barrington was found guilty.
He protested his innocence vigorously, and the case was carried to the State Supreme Court of the United States. The date of execution has been set for March 15, 1906, July 25, 1907, and August 25, 1907. Hundreds of people, believing in Barrington's innocence, petitioned the governor for the commutation, and the executive has spent the last two days in a thorough investigation of the affair.
Barrington, Barton, Seymour or Neville is forty-nine years old and of English extraction. When only twenty years old he was arrested for arson and sent to the reformatory.

SUICIDE STATISTICS. Childless Marriages a Cause—Rate High Among Germanic Nations.

Among 1,000,000 suicides of all classes, it has been found that 200 married men with children destroyed their lives; 470 married men without children; 525 widowers with, and 1,004 widowers without children.

With respect to the women, 45 married women with, and 153 without, children committed suicide, while 104 widows with, and 233 without offspring, completed the list.

On the face of things, says the Illustrated London News, it would appear that in childless marriages the number of men suicides is doubled and in women trebled. Leaving the case of actual insane persons out of the count, it would also appear that in males suicide is more frequent than in females.

FACTS ABOUT OUR GREAT SALE OF SHOES.

A Shoe Sale with us doesn't mean an offering of heaps of any old factory's refuse of alluring priced "gone by" styles and "use-to-be" shapes. We don't conduct our business on that basis. Sometimes conditions enable us to give you our good shoes at less than usual price. Then we have a sale—such is the case now. We want to close out our present stock and get ready for Fall Trade—we want to convert our shoes into money, even if we have to meet a loss in order to do so. But we don't buy up job lots or odds and ends simply to make a great show of "cheapness." We want you to feel, when you come here, that you'll get Strictly Up-to-date and Dependable Shoes, whether you pay full prices for them or whether you buy them under value, as you can at present. Our present prices would tempt a miser.

THE REAL WILD WEST.

Cowboy, Indian, and Broncho Making Their Last Stand.

The Glamor of the Pioneer Plains is the Pride of Cheyenne--Annually Sur-renders to the Plainsmen.

Twenty, 30, 50 years hence, when the western plains are dotted with luscious towns and the present public domain is being converted into prosperous farms by irrigation of the new cut, dry farming and little bunches of high-grade cattle and sheep graze in the business where a strenuous pioneer now seeks (successfully) the best bear and the best cat, it is not improbable to suppose that the circus of that day will keep alive the spectacular features of the wild west, even as it now educates the masses with representations of the Roman chariot race and the wild man of Borneo, says the Indianapolis Star. The reception that Buffalo Bill and his aggregation of rough riders now receive is sufficient assurance that the exciting features of his show will continue to be reproduced long after that debonair and much-adventured friend of kings and cowboys will be chasing hison on the happy hunting grounds of his pension in passing--he passed, one would say, unless he has seen it in its last retreat, where each year it is a throng of timber and underfoot alike back to the reckless dare-devil times of the old days.

CHEYENNE PAINTED RED.

Cheyenne is now highly respectable and peaceful, but every year she sends to the plainsman, Tom Horn, and Jeff Carr took place, is naturally the scene where the old life of the plains is to be found, if anywhere.

Every year in the latter week in July one may see a sudden awakening in the picturesque capital of Wyoming. Expert riders from Texas to Montana, lasso wizards from California, or the border of Mexico cowboys, horsemen, as well as cowgirls, come to pit themselves against the Wyoming plainsman, who has a record or a reputation to make or to defend.

The contests there are for blood as well as purse and championship saddles and the big out-of-doors arena, more than a mile above the sea, with the blue and white Rockies for a background, is the scene of many a hot battle for supremacy in feats of skill once necessary in the most hazardous of occupations and developed into a science, an art, and a sport that has no equal or parallel.

DOWNFALL OF CHAMPION. There are few competitors who the pretended is so quickly found out and real merit awarded. There are no excuses offered or accepted, no perplexing rules, no fake decisions, no appeals.

The would-be champion of the ropers is set to try his skill against a fast, strong steer that he never saw before, and which is as anxious to escape the noose as the vaquero is determined he shall not. The man who thinks he can ride draws a number. He must ride a horse sixty times around the arena, each with individual tricks of equine devilment, the task is no easy one. Further, the judges, all old-time riders themselves, are not required to make a decision until they are satisfied, and the contestants may be required to ride and ride again until no doubt remains.

make many a rider bite the dust in the afternoon. Every attempt to bolt or dodge arouse the crowd is minutely checked, and the ponies are safely conveyed back to the corral for the afternoon performance.

The show generally lasts three days and takes place in the last week in July. The great events are the steer roping, the wild horse race, and the rough riding contest for the world's championship.

The steer roping under the Wyoming code differs from the Spanish or Texas rules. In the latter the rider follows the steer until the signal is given, when the animal may be fifty yards away. His task is to catch, throw and tie the steer, a sport more exciting and uncertain in Wyoming than under the southern rules on account of the varying speed, strength and agility of the steer and the mounted cowboys.

The wild horse race is the most exciting of all frontier contests. A dozen broncos none of which have ever before been saddled, are brought upon the track and at the word they must be saddled, mounted and ridden around the half mile. The confusion can be imagined. Some horses are impossible to saddle, others are entirely docile and quite willing to be executed.

But instead he was leered unmercifully and cries of "ride him" come from every corner of the field, even from his staunchest admirers, and the rule being that the rider must stay with a horse until he will no longer buck. But before he could remount the judges had craved him aside and the great Sowder went back to his seat on the corral fence and watched an unknown youngster carry off the day's honors. He has never appeared in public since.

STREETS ARE FULL OF RIDERS. But you do not need to wait until you are seated in the big frontier arena to see the old west. The streets are full of riders with the ungainly "chairs" flopping on either side of their quick-eyed, nervous ponies; you will be awakened early in the morning by the thunder of a hundred hoofs as a bunch of punchers, with their string of extra horses, come in from an early roundup to see the fun.

The small boy in Cheyenne is no different from the genus in other cities if you see the crowd unusually thick on a Sunday afternoon, it is the warpath has been grass grown for many years, and the Indians of the reservations that are within easy distance of Cheyenne are proud to join in the frontier fun, and with their beaded and fringed ponies, and their squaws, and perhaps a few ponies to enter in the Indian race, they come early and stay late.

And the soldiers. The high, dry air, with limitless acres of Uncle Sam's own prairie for manoeuvres, and its location on a transcontinental line of railroad have made Fort Russell, just outside of Cheyenne, one of the favorite posts of the war department, and a full complement of troops of two or more armies at the service are always stationed there. Most of them are veterans recovering, perhaps, from Philippine or Cuban service, and they enter into the spirit of the day with gusto, and cavalry and artillery drills are given under conditions that leave nothing to be desired.

UNLIKE ANY PARADE. All these form necessary and interesting parts of the great frontier pageant, which is unlike any parade you ever saw, for all the characters that entered into the old life of the west pass before you in solemn procession.

First comes one of the fine bands of the United States army, the Ninth Cavalry, perhaps, every man mounted on a big steady gray horse, while the burst of martial music starts every drop of blood in your American veins in a flush of enthusiasm.

The cowboys follow, wiry, unpretentious, easy with only a flaming shirt or handkerchief to mark the recognition of the holiday. Girls from near by ranches riding astride, the only safe way on western horses, are with them, and their seat in the saddle is no less secure and often much more graceful than the masculine conquerors of steer or bronco.

The Indians all ride well and generally appear in the parade mounted, and their glory is as the story of Solomon. Old American Horse, the Henry Clay of the Sioux, rode in state in an automobile with his family one day and since that time declines to ride in public in any other conveyance. Then comes the old stage coach, with its six mules that look as though they left Deadwood only the day before, driven by a typical Alkali like, who has not forgotten the old tricks though he may have been running a prosaic livery stable for the past decade.

The road from Fort Russell is dusty and when the cavalry and artillery arrive to take their place in the procession, it does not require a great stretch of imagination to fancy them in one of the gruelling rides after renegade Utes or Sioux, and the creations of Remington and Schreyvogel appear in life before you.

There is a scurrying of the crowd and two or three active riders skillfully hitch through the long line of spectators, the wild horses that are likely to

ANTI-CHURCH RAGE PERIL TO ITALY

Grave Situation From Repeated Attacks--Government Deal to Appeal.

ROME, Aug. 14.--In Vatican circles the passive attitude of the Italian Government during the anti-church crisis is commented upon unfavorably. The parish priests of Rome have addressed a petition to the Prefect of the province, in which, after protesting against the outrages committed daily against the clergy, they ask whether the laws are still in force and whether it is lawful for a savage rabble composed of Jews and anti-Christians to outrage with impunity the Catholic religion, which is still recognized as the religion of the state.

THE SHARK'S MISTAKE Took a Torpedo for a Fish and Is Blown Up Off Sag Harbor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.--Mistaking a torpedo for prey, a shark chased it off the proving grounds near Sag Harbor, L. I., and was blown to pieces. This is said to be the first time such a thing has happened, although many kinds of fish, including sharks, have been killed accidentally by the explosion of torpedoes.

YOUNG ACCOUNTANT STOLE MONEY AND LEFT

QUEBEC, Aug. 14.--No small commotion was caused in the revenue office when it was discovered that the safe had been unlocked and that the sum of twelve hundred dollars, which had been collected as liquor revenue during the morning had disappeared. Not many minutes had elapsed before it was learned that the young accountant, J. B. Poiroux, was also missing, and further investigation showed that he had perpetrated the theft and suddenly left town. His description was telegraphed to Montreal, with the result that he was arrested in that city last night. All the money with the exception of a railway ticket which he had purchased was found in his possession. It was reported here this morning that he would not be prosecuted provided he left Canada.

EVERYBODY WELCOME TO THE VICTORIA GROUNDS. New Playgrounds Were Opened Today and Promise to be a Grand Success.

The Victoria playgrounds are now in full swing and this morning were filled with delighted children, for whom all the known outdoor games had been provided.

The grounds are in charge of Miss Robertson and Miss Beattie, who were delighted at the spacious grounds. They considered the Victoria field incomparably superior to the copped up asphalt school yards which have so long vied the children with amusement during the summer.

Mothers are specially invited to visit the grounds, where there will be no limitations of space, and perambulators can be taken down for the children too young to walk.

The grass has been thoroughly run over with havis mowers and the grounds now present an ideal appearance. The older children and grown ups are invited to attend also and partake of the fun and enjoy the pleasure so manifest on the faces of those attending the grounds this morning.

Judge Wilrich, U. S. Consul, Left Before the Dinner Began—Much Talk Over His Action

St. John is today discussing the official standing of the United States consul at this port, and views are being expressed as to whether or not his position entitles him to especial distinction in formal gatherings.

The discussion arises from the fact that Judge Wilrich, United States consul, did not participate in the corporation dinner tendered last evening to His Excellency Earl Grey.

It was evident from the arrangement of seats that Judge Wilrich was not regarded by the civic committee as entitled to a place of exceptional honor, as he was allocated to a chair at one of the tables jutting out from that at which Earl Grey was seated.

GET UP EARLY AND LOOK AT THE COMET

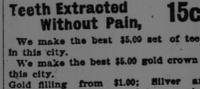

Have you seen the comet? People who are out late at night or early in the morning these days have a good chance to look at it.

Mr. Harrison states that it is to be found in the eastern sky and is visible at any time after three o'clock, not very high above the horizon.

The comet is in the constellation of Gemini and the body is now about the size of a star of the second magnitude.

The tail, which to the naked eye looks like a mass of vapor, is quite distinct when glasses are used, and appears to be several degrees in length.

The eastern sky in the early morning is pretty well crowded, but Mr. Harrison says that in spite of this the comet is easily discernible.
