RECORDS SMASHED

Schaefer of Halifax Takes 100 Yards—Covey of St. John Second

HALIFAX, Sept. 13.—Four records were smashed at the twenty-first annual championship games of the Maritime Provinces Amateur Athletic Association on Saturday afternoon. The sports club on hold on the Wanderers' grounds on Saturday afternoon. The sports were the most successful ever held, and the day was an ideal one and the entry list was large, but the officials succeeded in getting all the events off in remarkably good time. The attendance of spectators was small, there being less than 300 persons present.

There were four New Brunswick competitors present. Although they failed to win a first prize they added much interest to the meet, and Schaefer and Covey were warmly applauded for the fine showing they made in the events in which they competed. Schaefer is a Halifax boy, but he has been residing in St. John for some time and appears to have improved since he left here.

The Islanders were again much in evidence and they carried off many of the honors.

Duffy was not in good form and therefore did not make as good a showing as usual.

The feature events of the day were the 800 yards run, which was won by Ross of the Wanderers, in 1:53. His performance was exceptionally good, as the former record was 2:00-1/2, held by White of Charlottetown. In the one mile run Hans Holmer won 4:33-1/2, with Sterling of St. John a good second. TO COMPETE FOR CHALLENGE SHIELD

Rifle Match Will Take Place in This City on Thursday

The rifle match for the Moncton Citizen's Challenge Shield will take place at Moncton by a team from the 2nd St. John Rifle Club on Thursday next. The match will begin at 9:30 a. m., and it is expected will be completed at 1:30 or two o'clock in the afternoon. Lunch will be served on the range. Adjutant J. R. Miller of the 2nd St. John Rifle Club is the referee for the match. So far the teams entered are from the 2nd New Brunswick Artillery and the St. John City Rifle Club. The latter organization has entered two letters, the personnel of which is as follows:

First Team. Second Team. First Team. Second Team. Sgt. J. G. Sullivan, Jas. Donnelly, D. Conly, McJ. J. McRobbie, W. J. Kennedy, H. Sullivan, E. P. Gladwin, N. J. Morrison, Maj. O. W. Wetmore, R. A. C. Brown, Sparsa mess—Capt. George F. Thompson, A. G. Staples, George A. Dickson.

The Moncton Rifle Club will send a team to try to retake the shield and entries are also expected from Fredericton and Sussex.

The trophy, which constitutes the first prize of the match, was put up for competition last year by the citizens of Moncton. The Moncton, St. John and 2nd Regiment rifle clubs have both been successful in their attempts to bring the shield to St. John. The second prize is $10 cash, donated by the 2nd Regiment and the third prize is $5, donated by the same organization.

WILL BE IN FULL SWING SATURDAY

The local Rugby season will be in full swing by Saturday. Two intermediate games are booked for that day, Carleton Place and Victoria v. Miramichi. It is also likely that there will be a senior game, an outside XV being brought here, or in the event of an outside team being unavailable a match between the Algonquins and Marathons may be arranged.

St. John seems to have the start on other places as far as football is concerned. It is to be hoped that an early beginning is the forerunner of a successful season for all the clubs. This week there will probably be a conference between representatives of the Marathons and Algonquins to arrange for a series of games for the city championship and the Bullock cup.

Activity in football circles will become general throughout the Maritime Provinces within a couple of weeks. The college teams will then begin practice. In New Brunswick teams there will also be teams. Moncton is expected to again put a XV on the gridiron, and in Fredericton, after several years of quiescence, efforts are being made to put a senior team on the field. The sporting editor of the Gleaser is helping the work along in praiseworthy fashion.

THE CONDUCT OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

(The London Spectator.) One of the most remarkable changes in English political life during the last twenty years has been the removal of foreign politics from the contentions of party. During the previous two centuries the country's relations with foreign countries proved one of the most fruitful topics of opposition to the government in power. In Queen Anne's reign Whigs and Tories fought most eagerly over the question of peace or war on the Continent; the real cause of Sir Robert Walpole's downfall was the Spanish dispute; all the great Pitt's efforts in opposition and in power turned on foreign policy, while his son and Fox were most at variance on the French war. Canning's liberalism was best shown in his Continental dealings; Palmerston had some of his highest flights of such matters as Don Pacifico, the Orani bomb and the Chinese war; and within the memory of most of us Gladstone, in his Homeric fight with Lord Beaconsfield, drew his heaviest artillery against his rival from the field of foreign politics. To-day, no doubt, some of us would go further in one direction, some in another, but from a broad point of view would be true to say that the nation marches as one man in foreign affairs, and that discussions on them in the House of Commons or in the country are more with the object of elucidation than of criticism. This is obviously a more satisfactory condition of things than marked division of opinion; for whatever may be the merit of controversy in arriving at a just conclusion in domestic problems, nothing is gained by presenting a divided front to other nations with regard to their concerns, for the uncertainty thus engendered is not only a cause of alarm and unrest in other nations.

UNITY OF PURPOSE.

There is a story that Frederick the Great, Pitt's faithful friend and ally during the Seven Years' War, planned of alliance for the preservation of peace only four years later, not because he had failed, but because having once experienced a sudden change in English foreign policy as a result of a new ministry, he was afraid of another. The confidence which we and others feel in ourselves, and our true national policy, is a benefit gained within the last quarter of a century. It can hardly be exaggerated, and its maintenance should be one of the dearest objects of our statesmen. Perhaps the main reason for this greater unity of purpose is that we are not in such an incontestably superior position to enter into Lord Chatham's plan, as we have been at some periods in our history, and therefore cannot afford to dissipate our energies in discussion. But whatever may be the reason, it is well to remember that it is of

THE EXHIBITION.

New Brunswick's Provincial Exhibition was formally opened on Saturday evening and will be continued during the whole of the present week. Taking into consideration the tendency of the present age the manager and directors have achieved success. Manufacturers and merchants are nowadays inclined to regard such affairs as occasions for business, rather than as opportunities for which valuable advertising may be done by the display of their wares. The consequence is that each year finds a smaller number of exhibits pure and simple, but ever increasing numbers of space holders who are an hand principally for the purpose of catching trade. In the present fair the displays in the main building show this tendency, but there are still a sufficient number of actual exhibits to make the affair very interesting. Numbers of merchants and manufacturers have expended large amounts of money in arranging their stands, and the only return asked is that fair attention may be given to their goods by all who are interested. After all, though, the manufactured articles should not be regarded as of principal importance. It may be that the rather unfavorable arrangement of the grounds is responsible, but certainly the public has never evinced proper interest in the live stock. This year's exhibit is probably the best ever seen in St. John, all classes being very well filled, and no one attending the fair should come away without having devoted a reasonable time to that section which to the east of Agricultural Hall. Too many people go to exhibitions for the fun they can get. This has forced upon those who conduct such affairs the obligation of providing amusement features, which should in reality be excluded, but which are apparently necessary in order to assure financial success. The amusements provided for this week are varied and every visitor should be able to find something entertaining. The gentlemen who form the board of directors have freely given their time and ability in the effort to make this year's exhibition a good one. In return for their efforts they expect the support of St. John people, and as the fair is conducted for the benefit of all classes, it should be generously patronized. Attendance should be regarded as a duty as well as a pleasure.

IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The Star has received a communication from one of the teachers who went to South Africa some few years ago, from which the impression may be drawn that conditions in that country are not such as should prove attractive to those who are thinking of making a change. The writer of this letter is very moderate in describing the situation, but is compelled to observe that the country has been rapidly going down for the past few years. Responsible government, it is stated, has not made any improvement. The Dutch members of Parliament seem to spend a considerable portion of their time in squabbling among themselves and dismissing all British employes, no matter in what branch of service, the popular excuse being economy. Hundreds of British, many of whom have held responsible positions, are leaving Africa by every steamer. Officials who have given no cause for dismissal are removed without notice, and when they request explanation are merely told that retrenchment is the policy of the government, or that further discussion would be useless. Instances of grievous injustice on the part of the Boers towards the British are occurring every day. "And," says the Star's correspondent, "it is no wonder that British blood boils. It is hard on those poor fellows who gave up good prospects to come to South Africa to be obliged to return home, in many instances with almost no money, and to begin life over again." An impression prevails among British residents that the present serious and unsatisfactory state of affairs is directly due to the mistaken policy of the Home Government. Too much power has been placed in the hands of the defeated Dutch, and they are adopting the attitude which a good many felt might be developed, which indicates a contempt of the British, and a belief in the weakness of the conquering nation. The boast among the Boers is that the British are afraid and it is no uncommon thing to hear about the streets the expression "South Africa for the Dutch." The dream of the original trekkers has not been forgotten and the aim of many who are now members of the Colonial Parliament is to firmly secure control, and, when the proper time comes, declare independence. The teachers who depart from Canada are affected in various ways, by reduced salaries, by being compelled to accept less responsible positions than they first held and by a regulation passed a short time ago that within three years of the issue of such regulations, they should have a thorough knowledge of the Dutch language. Those who still remain in Africa envy the ones who have come home, which can scarcely be regarded as a satisfactory condition.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

"Now, children," said the history teacher in her most impressive manner, "I wish you to remember that the time to ask questions in my class is whenever anything is said which you wish explained. Do not wait until the time comes for recitation and the complaint that you did not hear or did not understand when I talked."

HIS CHIEF FAULT.

"Well, there's one thing about Nurtich, he's always ready to confess his faults." "Nonsense! Why, he's never bragging about being selfmade."

FALLING OFF THE CAR.

(With apologies.) Somersaults and acrobatic stunts: Conductor's call to me: Oh! when you fall off backward from the car, May there be none to see, A bump, a bruise, a mad desire to weep; A gown besmirched with loam; And she who tried to take the backward leap Turns again home.

OPEN SWITCH CAUSES INJURY TO THIRTY-FOUR

MEADVILLE, Pa., Sept. 14.—Thirty-four persons were injured early Saturday in the wreck of an Erie passenger train at Geneva, eight miles west of here. Railroad officials believe the wreck was due to enemies of the company opening a switch. All of the injured were brought to this city and twenty-three of them were taken to Spencer Hospital. Five of this number, after having their injuries dressed, were discharged during the day, while eighteen still remain at the hospital. Thirty-one of the injured were passengers and three railroad employes. A majority of the former were Italian and Greek laborers. It is not believed any of the victims will die from their injuries. At the time of the accident the train was running fifty miles an hour. Upon striking the open switch the entire train left the track, the locomotive turning over on its side. Two of the cars were demolished and the track was torn up for a distance of over one hundred feet.

MARRYING MARY WILL BEGIN TONIGHT.

The Halifax Recorder has this to say of the attractions which this evening begins a week's engagement at the Opera House. Manager Medcalf has an attraction for which he has a Broadway production right in Halifax, but we have now, and it is just the class of entertainment our people like, musical comedy, all the elements of a farcical comedy, the music of a comic opera, with principals, chorus, beautiful costumes and magnificent scenery. "Marrying Mary" is the title of this bright breezy, frothing concoction, which enthused the large audience so much last evening that they encored the various numbers over and over again; they laughed heartily at the many witty sayings and humorous situations, and they vociferously applauded the many clever points. Miss Florence Gear is a star in more than name only, and while she is noted in her profession in "Marrying Mary," she has a vehicle that will bring her to the very front rank. She has a beautiful soprano voice, she has the most original methods in her acting, she is possessed of great magnetism, she has a charm of manner and a way about her that makes her audience feel perfectly at home. She has an attractive stage presence, while she wears the most magnificent costumes—such as the ladies of Halifax seldom have the opportunity to witness. She took part in about a half score of musical numbers; she fairly dominated the piece, as might be expected with a play of this nature, but the only time the audience have any lack of interest in the play is when she is off the stage. The support are all good; Harry B. Roche makes a host of fun, and with Matt Hanley, John Moore and Harry Benham are four of a kind. Richard Karl plays the colonel in capital style, and his singing is a delight. Jules Clussett, who has been here in opera, is also excellent; Florine Murray and Bessie Graham are good. In their roles, while the chorus is also capital. The stage setting is strikingly handsome, particularly that in the last act.

WORLD NEEDS NEW NITROGEN SUPPLY

Modern Miracle of Science to Procure the Article.

The Important Practical Application of an Apparently Chimerical Principle.

"A prodigious world is beginning to discover that it cannot indefinitely continue to deplete the stores of nature without taking thought for the morrow," writes L. G. Chikza, M. S., in the London Daily News. "Forest, mine and prairie have been ravaged until in respect of many different commodities world scarcity has made itself felt at a very early period in the world's history. Fifty years of war, waste are beginning to tell; 50 years more would mean world famine. Of the problems of civilization which have arisen, none is more important than the nitrogen problem. Without nitrogen flesh cannot be formed, without nitrogen life is impossible. With the preservation and rapid multiplication of man the call for nitrogenous foods has led to the rapid exhaustion of soils and manure beds. The soils of the old world demand replacement in nitrogen before they yield a crop. America has got rid of the available nitrogen in great tracts of her lately virgin soil. The world's guano beds are practically exhausted. The nitrate deposits will be in the same condition within the lifetime of many now living. This while the world's mouths to be fed are always increasing in number. "Fortunately for mankind, science is proving equal to the occasion. The daily loaf, endangered by the arts of business, is to be preserved for us by the arts of the laboratory. "Several scientific processes claim our attention in this connection. First let us note that Prof. Ostwald and Dr. Brauer, two of the brilliant chemists whom Germany produces so prolifically, have made it possible to produce nitric acid from the ammoniacal liquor of gas and coke works. It is impossible here to detail the technical process, but it consists essentially in the decomposition of ammonia vapor by platinum. It is a beautiful method, which depends upon the exposure of the ammonia to the platinum for one-third of an hour. The ammonia has been the exposure were longer than this unoxidized nitrogen would be created, and, of course, lost to the world's supply. To pass like a gale of wind, so that decomposition goes far enough to produce nitric acid and not free nitrogen. The nitric acid of the decomposer used is but that of a teaspoon, but it produces 200 pounds of nitric acid in a day. The production of nitric acid from ammonia has been known as a classroom experiment for 60 years, but the Ostwald-Brauer process is economical, and gives cheap nitric acid. "Not this alone is the scientist proving himself master of the situation. Even more fascinating are the methods employed for utilizing the nitrogen of the air. "Air is a mechanical mixture of oxygen and nitrogen, 28 pounds of the former and 77 pounds of the latter making 105 pounds of air. We have, then, but to separate the oxygen and nitrogen, and to combine the oxygen with water, and the result that calcium nitrate, or lime saltpetre, is obtained. It is a scientific triumph which looks prosaic enough when the stuff leaves the factory in wooden barrels. "In another direction also science is operating in order to utilize the boundless stores of atmospheric nitrogen, 75,000,000 tons of which are suspended over every acre of land. "About 20 years ago Hellriegel showed that leguminous plants (known from ancient times to fertilize the soil in which they grow, and always therefore grown in rotation before corn) obtain their nitrogen from the air, and that the nitrogen is oxidized. Immediately the gas coming from the furnace is cooled down to avoid loss of nitrogen, and led over limestone sprinkled with water, with the result that calcium nitrate, or lime saltpetre, is obtained. It is a scientific triumph which looks prosaic enough when the stuff leaves the factory in wooden barrels. MURDER CAUSES CHURCH TO BE DISMANTLED

Pending Young Priest's Trial Catholic Church in Rutland, Vt., Will be Vacant.

RUTLAND, Vt., Sept. 14.—The interior of the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, which is being constructed by Rev. Father Francis Crociata, a young Sicilian priest who is being held at the Rutland County jail awaiting trial on the charge of being connected with the murder of Accursio Santoro, was dismantled Saturday by order of Bishop Michael P. A. Gougeon, who held a chattel mortgage on the furniture, took out the pews and other furnishings, and a Rutland priest removed the host and altar fixtures.

It is believed this action is only temporary, pending the finding of the court. The crime in connection with which the young priest is held, was committed on the night of July 22, when the body of Accursio Santoro was found on a lonely road near the old 76th bridge. Later four Sicilians, a young Sicilian girl named Annie Black, and the priest were taken into custody, two of whom were indicted by the grand jury on the charge of murder in the first degree and the remainder, including the priest's brother, were held for trial on the charge of being accessories. The motive of the crime is not known. The Black girl confessed that she enticed Santoro to a secluded spot, where he was attacked and killed by the four Sicilians. The police claim that Father Crociata had knowledge of the crime which he did not report to the police, and that he aided the men after the crime was committed in concealing them from the authorities.

BRIEF DESPATCHES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 13.—Burglars entered the British Embassy last night and stole from the room of the housekeeper, Miss Clara Childs, a sum of money, most of her jewelry and a gold watch and chain. Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce are in Europe. Tonight the police arrested George Chison and William Owen, mechanics who have been doing repair work at the embassy. At first it was supposed that the robbery was a blind to cover up the seizure of state papers, but investigation disproves the theory.

"D" WANTS A SOLID
NEW BRUNSWICK

Liberal Party Never So Strong in the Province as at Present

St. John, N. B., Sept. 11, 1908. To the Editor of The Star: Dear Sir,—Looking over the political field at this writing and sizing the situation up, it looks like victory complete all along the line for Sir Wilfrid Laurier and good government. The Liberal party never were in better shape from one end of the province to the other, and organized in such fighting trim as they are today. Our distinguished leader in this province, Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, is marshalling his forces and making good in no unobtrusive way, and will without a doubt go back to Ottawa much stronger than before.

There is no reason in this world why the people of New Brunswick should not emulate the example of Nova Scotia in 1904 by having a solid New Brunswick. Nova Scotia will do it this time again beyond a doubt. (Colchester and Chatham counties to the contrary, etc.) We have as much reason, I think, to stand by the Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, who has Fielding done for his province that Pugsley has not done and is doing for New Brunswick. His whole interests are bound up with the city of St. John and his native province and we have every reason to feel proud of him and give him the unstinted aid that Nova Scotia gives to her equally gifted son. Make the attempt this time and let us go hand in hand with Nova Scotia in the good work, for in unity there is strength, and in this way we will be able to impress upon the government our importance and to counteract the growing political strength of the great Northwest. The people of these lower provinces have not to be united more so today than at any other time since confederation. As noted, the great West is growing by leaps and bounds and of course increased representation goes with it. That being the case, how necessary it is for us with our dormant strength, so to speak, to show a bold front to this condition of things political. There is food for great thought in this connection and it should make us think and ponder over the real possibilities of such action. Let the battle cry be Pugsley and a solid New Brunswick, and when we have such a leader with a solid following behind him we will be in a much better position to demand our rights than ever before.

We cannot make our position too strong. Strike the iron while it is hot. We have everything in our favor, a good strong government, Rev. B. J. Laurier, and it remains for us to speak as one man in no uncertain way. By doing so we will be studying our own best interests and at the same time making of this end of Canada a country worth living in and fighting for.

Yours, etc. D.

SPRINGHILL WANTS
I.G.R. BRANCHES ACQUIRED

Such Action Urged on Minister of Finance —Big Liberal Meeting. SPRINGHILL, Minn., Sept. 14.—At a meeting of the board of trade of this town Saturday afternoon, at which Hon. Mr. Fielding was present, a resolution was passed asking the government to acquire the line of railway connecting Springhill and Springhill Junction, owned by the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company. It was pointed out to Mr. Fielding that the Intercolonial ran into Springhill, it was pointed out that the town would increase rapidly in population. Mr. Fielding promised to bring the matter to the attention of the government.

SOME OF THE POSSIBLE
EMPIRES OF THE FUTURE

It is somewhat astonishing to think that less than two hundred years ago not one of the big Empires of today existed, with the solitary exception of China. Japan was never mentioned, the United States did not exist as a separate power, Russia was not considered of much account and even the British Empire had not really started out on its career, for it did not include India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, nor a rood of Africa. As for the German Empire of today, it is not yet thirty-eight years old. As the big Empires of today have sprung up within two hundred years, it is quite possible that another couple of centuries, or even much less space of time, may see equally amazing changes in the political map of the world.

THE KAISER'S OBJECT. Germany is constantly being accused of a wish to go to war for the sake of a new overseas Empire. It is admitted that she does not want war for glory. But the population of the German Empire is already too big for the country. In a generation or so there will be room enough for the people in the Fatherland. This is why the Kaiser wishes to found a new overseas Empire. He would not object to a portion of the British Empire, provided he could get it. But his pet idea is to establish a big, new German Empire in South and Central America, starting in Venezuela, and taking in Chili and Peru, and spreading out to the limitless pampas of the Argentine. The republics themselves are not strong enough to effectively resist a powerful invader.

UNCLE SAM'S DREAM. All that prevents the Kaiser's conquest in South America is the strong objection of the United States that he should do anything of the sort. Some romantic people are started by planning to set up a young lady, whom they call Helen of New York, as a brand new throne in America. They declare that these splendid girls are played out, and they expect to obtain the enthusiastic support of the millionaires and "bosses" by promising that the country shall be created in the name of Helen, as soon as Queen Helen is enthroned. Many quite level-headed Americans contend it certain that the day will dawn when the States will join with Canada, and then either conquer or peacefully annex all South and Central America—and without asking the permission of the Kaiser, either!

DON'T

For she cannot help it. Women are often cross, irritable, hysteric, and declare they are driven to distraction at the slightest provocation. Men cannot understand why this should be so. To them it is a mystery because in nine times out of ten this condition is caused by a serious feminine derangement. A remedy is necessary which acts directly upon the organs afflicted, restoring a healthy normal condition to the feminine system, which will quickly dispel all hysterical, nervous and irritable conditions. Such is LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Mrs. Henry Clark, Glandford Station, Ont., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years, and never found any medicine to compare with it for sick women. I had ulcers and a displacement of the female organs, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has cured me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it? Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has grided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE NICKEL"—VISITORS' HEAD-QUARTERS.

To miss seeing the big Nickel and to enjoy its unparalleled shows two or three times during a trip to St. John is to miss one of the richest treats a stranger could desire. Any St. John lady or gentleman will testify to this truth. This large and up-to-date Carleton street storehouse of fun has grown to be an integral part of the city and its people, an amusement enterprise that has done wonders in brightening the way for thousands who had heretofore not delighted in such pure entertainment. Today the Nickel starts upon its Exhibition Week programme with the strongly emotional talking picture drama, "A Hero in Overalls" full of stirring climaxes and home-like scenes. The leading plain picture will be "The Broken Violin," a lovely story about the great Lully, violin virtuoso; also "The Reprieve," a tale of Abe Lincoln days; "The Selfish Man," a Christianization fantasy; Miss Felix will sing "Bonita," a Mexican lullaby, and Mr. Weston is booked for "My Texas" a comedy in a very true, original, and realistic effects. Biggest show in Canada for five cents.

PRINCESS THEATRE.

A special programme will be given at the Princess Theatre this week at the same old price of admission. The Marathon Race, which took place in Napoleon. It is a dramatic story that gives an interesting and fascinating insight into the home life of one of the greatest and most successful generals the world has ever known. The Pastorious Spider is the title of a picture that is full of real comedy. Two other most amusing films will be shown. The performance at the Princess of the best in the city, and exhibition visitors will enjoy visiting this comfortable family amusement resort.

A GREAT SHOW AT HAPPY HALF HOUR.

Today the Happy Half Hour will present the greatest programme ever offered in this city. Holmes and Bonbon will sing A Matrimonial Bon-Bon, a conversational duet from the musical comedy Funabashi, and the best variety set offered. Prof. J. Edward Woods, the famous magician, illusionist and Paper King, assisted by Miss Woods, will make his first appearance in this city. Among the feats presented by Prof. Woods are the following: Catching real live gold fish with rod and reel; catching a live eel with a coin and billiard ball palming, and many other wonderful feats. His greatest act and one that will cause a sensation is his hypnotizing Miss Woods and floating her through the air unsupported by wire or anything else. Prof. Woods will change his act on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. As usual this theatre is to the front with the latest and best pictures. The Theatre Race, which took place in London in July last, will be shown and everybody will want to see it. This race is the one which Dorando almost won, and Longboat dropped out of. Grand Prize 1908 is the greatest horse race of the French turf and the President of France, his wife and daughter, who was recently married, and her husband, are shown in the grand stand. Customs Officer's Case is a dramatic picture. Prof. Titus will sing illustrated songs. For this week the price will be 10 cents, and a twenty cent show is promised.

EXHIBITION WEEK STARTS WELL AT THE BIJOU.

Strangers as well as city folks will find today at the Bijou, the Union street picture house, one of the best programmes for exhibition week it has ever been the pleasure of the management of this house to present. Starting with the beautifully pictured drama, "The Rivals," which tells of the jealousy or rivalry between two pretty princesses in the Roman era and how the one with most influence has the other cast into prison. The going of the imprisoned one's sister to the witch's cave and learning from the witch her sister's whereabouts. The freeing of her sister and the imprisonment of the princess of influence, who appears just at the time of the two sisters' departure. The next picture, "Adventures of a Countryman," shows the man who has killed the zed starting to town with his produce. Everything goes well until he arrives in town, then some bonco man steals a even a shirt on his back. It's very laughable the way the bonco man "d" the farmer. "Just Married" is another, and for rich and rare fun can't be beaten. There's generally something to laugh about when the newbies start up housekeeping, but in this picture—more than the ordinary. Then in "Fashionable Faria" the Bijou presents a picture showing where the elite of the world's fashion center spend their time and the ways they have of spending it. Miss Ada Smith will be heard in "Then You'll Remember Me," from the Bohemian Girl.

NO TRIFLING WITH LOVE AT THEBIJOU.

For the opening of exhibition week the management of the Unique Theatre has secured a programme much above the average. The leading film is called "No Trifling With Love," and is a 1,000 ft. drama of the 18th century. A number of young people have gathered to celebrate the marriage of a couple of their friends, a nobleman arrives on the scene and inquires the reason of the merrymaking. The bride-to-be arrives on the scene without her lover, who has been detained. The nobleman is greatly struck by her beauty and kidnaps her and takes her to his castle. This enrages the people very much, they storm the castle, and taking him prisoner, set him blind side; before upon a donkey, carry him in that position to the jail. "Captured By Telephone." This is an excellent comedy and shows how many use the telephone really has. The last picture is called "Love Laughs at Locksmiths." This drama is full of amusing incidents. A wealthy gentleman wishes his daughter to marry a man of his choice, while she is in love with his clerk. He endeavors to force her into submission, but in the end love conquers. Today Miss Mae Powers will be heard in that charming little song, "Sweet Sixteen."

MARTIN AND DOTLE AT THE CEDAR AUL WEEK.

The Cedar opens this week with another bang-up show. Two high salaried artists have been engaged for one week only. Martin and Dotle, expert singing and dancing artists, introducing some very clever high kicking and wooden shoe dancing. Along with this big hit there will be a new song and three very interesting pictures. Matinee every day at 2.30. Evening performance starts at 7.15 sharp. Admission the same, 5 cents.

FELL FROM WAGON TO HIS DEATH

BIDDEFORD, Me., Sept. 11.—The body of Howard Brown, aged 46 years, a farmer of Alfred, was found on a highway between his home and Alfred today, with the wheels of his wagon on resting on his neck. The man was taking a load of wood to the town, and probably fell from the load, the wheels running over him and breaking his neck. He leaves a widow and several children.

A most interesting Association Football League game, McAvity's v. Cornwall and York, took place on the Every Day Club grounds on Saturday last. McAvity's team arriving late a star was not made until 8.30. The C. and Y. lost the toss and kicked off with the sun in their faces. They soon made tracks for McAvity's goal and a shot from Byrdell nearly did the trick. Even play followed, each goal being visited in turn. McAvity's men then got the best of the C. and Y. backs and rushed the ball through, scoring the first goal of the game. Half time arrived without any further score being made. Score, McAvity's 1; C. and Y. 0.

We determined on carrying on this sale at Exhibition time, when numbers of our customers from outside the city would be able to participate in the harvest of bargains. MAKING OVER CHRISTMAS

By CHALL PANCOAST.

"Do you really mean to say," asked Florence MacQuinn, wife and co-worker of Dan MacQuinn, schemer and solver of mysteries, "that you are scheming to undermine the generous Christmas-spirit by regulating the giving of gifts and tokens?"

"That's the idea," he laughed. "You see, you started it, so I had to do something with this idea when it began to trouble my mind."

"I started it?" she exclaimed in surprise. "Well, of all things. How had I anything to do with it? I tell you right now, I certainly wouldn't do anything that would destroy the peace and goodwill of Christmestide. I'd like to know how I started it."

"Well, you did," he asserted. "The other day you asked, 'Oh dear, what shall I give you for Christmas?' I didn't think much about that, because it seems just natural for you to ask questions when you know there isn't any answer. But as I walked down the street I passed a chap and his girl and she was asking him the same question. I heard other people talking about Christmas and wondering what they would buy for their relatives, friends and neighbors. The question of the town seems to be: 'What do you want for Christmas?' and nobody will answer it."

"So you see," he explained, "we have a demand with no supply. In the business-world, when we find such a condition, it means that the man who can supply this demand stands in the way of making a fortune."

"Beware of schemes," she quoted, "and this scheme," he said confidently, "cannot fail. It is a sure winner. I've worked it over in my brain so thoroughly that it will float through the roughest storm."

"Well, Mr. Schemer," questioned his wife sarcastically, "what is this wonderful scheme that will change Christmas from a day of joy to a bargain-counter rush affair?"

"Not so strong on the bargain-counter end," he protested laughingly. "You are entirely mistaken. It will be a comfort, a profit, and a saving in time, labor, and worry to the whole town."

"Here is the idea," he continued. "Every man, woman, and child is going about this town with a secret written in his or her breast, and that secret is, what they want for Christmas. But they wouldn't tell anybody—no, not for the world. Why, they think it would be terrible to let anyone know what they want."

"Now these same human secret carriers are wasting good brain-energy trying to find out what their friends want. But they can't do it. For years it has been this way. The Christmas-secret has filled madhouses and poor-houses, and packed attics and cellars with useless presents. Yet it has never been solved. Now, at last, I have found a way to bring peace unto the giver and satisfaction to the receiver. 'I do hope you will succeed in satisfying the people who have to say 'Thank you,' and 'Oh, how lovely,'" said Florence, giving him a mischievous look out of the corner of her eyes. "I have a beautiful plush toilet set in the attic, which the rats are enjoying immensely."

"He growl and gasped as she threw this embarrassing memory squarely in his face."

"But remember, dear," he protested, "I was in the same fix as all gift-buyers; compelled to grope in the dark. I hadn't the least idea what you wanted. If I had known it would have been easy."

"Now here is what I propose to do: I am going to make it easy for people to select presents, make happy the people for whom they are intended, and as for myself, who will be the cause of this perfect harmony at Christmas time, I expect it will be very profitable."

"It certainly is terrible," said his wife indignantly, "to have to accept some of the presents one's friends thrust upon one. And if you have a plan to wad off these blows 'in sure you will confer a great blessing on humanity in general."

"Yes," it is deplorable," he replied seriously, "when you think of the utter lack of system in presenting gifts. One seldom gets what he needs, or can use. Between the two, I believe the people who send out 'Christmas' presents, are more lacking in propriety than the wedding present throwers."

"So you mean," she interrupted, "that you have a scheme to get for anyone and everyone just exactly what he or she is a want?"

"I will not only guarantee it," he answered earnestly, "but I will also find out for any person what his or her friends may want. All this work will be carried on in secret, so there will be as many surprises as former. But the spasms of fright and cases of nervous prostration over the effects of receiving unsuitable presents will be done away with, and at the same time there will be no need to prevaricate or pretend being pleased and delighted when one does not in the least feel that way."

DEACONESS HEARD IN PORTLAND ST. CHURCH

Miss Bessie M. Scott Tells of the Work of the Order

Miss Bessie M. Scott, deaconess from the Methodist Home and Training School, was heard in the Portland street Methodist church last evening. She gave an interesting discourse on the history of the deaconess order. It first originated in Apostolic times and was afterwards dropped. The work was reorganized in the nineteenth century in Germany and spread to the United States, thence to Toronto, where it has been established for the past fifteen years. At present there are seventy deaconesses in the Toronto home. These come from all over the Dominion. They work among the poor and sick and aim to make women and children lead a higher life. The training school is also an excellent branch of the home.

MATCH SETS FIRE TO WOMAN'S DRESS

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 13.—A shocking fatality occurred on Saturday night when Henrietta Galloway, aged 28 years, daughter of John Galloway, was burned to death in her parents' home on Kempt Road. She was in her room dressing her hair and carelessly threw a lighted match behind her on the floor, which ignited her muslin dress. In an instant she was enveloped in flames, and before her father reached her she was so badly burned that she died in a few minutes.

The body was in a terrible condition, being burned almost to a crisp in some places, and the sight was so sickening that the body had to be immediately placed in a casket and sealed up. The deceased was one of few people in the world who could claim Sable Island in the Atlantic as her birth place.

BIG LINERS IN COLLISION AT CRANE ISLAND

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—A collision occurred at Crane Island, thirty miles below Quebec, this morning between the steamship Corinthian, of the Allan line, outward bound from Montreal to Havre and London with passengers and general cargo, and the Malin Head, of the Head line, inward from Cardiff, for Montreal with cargo. At the time the collision occurred the river was covered with dense smoke from forest fires. The Malin Head was struck amidships, and had to be beached at St. Laurent. Her engine room is flooded and she was struck fair amidships by the passenger boat. After the accident the Corinthian lost her stern and put back to Quebec, reaching there at four o'clock. Most of the one hundred passengers on board were in their berths at the time the crash came, but no accidents are reported.

Tried to Kill His Wife and Then Jumped Through a Window, Hurting His Leg

He rolled out of the window before the hotel porters reached him. The crazed baseball player struck the roof of a second floor window and fell to the ground. He was taken to a hospital here. An X-Ray examination was made of his left leg which was badly injured. No bones were broken, but the tendons were sprained badly.

COMMENT ON INTERFERENCE WITH THE CATHOLIC PARADE

LONDON, Sept. 14—The Standard this morning prints a long interview with Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador at Rome. It deals mainly with the relations between Great Britain and Germany and with Prince Von Buelow's opinion in article which recently appeared in the British periodical.

With reference to British apprehensions in the matter of German naval aggression, the ambassador thinks that it would be more excusable if the Germans were apprehensive of being attacked, pointing out that Great Britain has not been invaded since the time of William the Conqueror. Continuing, Prince Von Buelow says "I can assure you that no one of any sense in Germany dreams of picking a quarrel with England, much less is there any insane idea of invading England. But for German there are far more tangible reasons for apprehension through our exposed geographical position, let alone a dark historical background.

The attendance was unusually large, over four thousand people having passed through the entrance gates before eight o'clock.

Representative Audience The audience which assembled in the small hall to hear the speakers was a representative one, composed, as it was, of men and women from all over the province of New Brunswick, while not a few visitors from outside provinces were present.

The result that most of the booths were completed and the rest so well advanced that a brilliant and dazzling array greeted the spectators Saturday evening.

Never Looked Prettier The exhibition halls never looked prettier. For a week painters, carpenters and decorators were busy getting the interior ready for the installation of the booths, and many complimentary remarks have been made on the ideas carried out and the general excellence of the decorative design.

larger and grander than ever before attempted in this province. Among the set pieces, of which there are fifty-five, there will be a grand spectacular production of the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, one of the most gorgeous pyrotechnic pictures ever presented.

Another feature, probably the greatest of the entire amusement programme, is the act of King and Queen, the world's cleverest and most sensational performing horses.

Miss Darling Scores One of the most appreciated features of the opening programme Saturday evening was the part, taken by Miss Darling, the leading soprano singer of the Grand Opera Company, which opens a week's engagement in the Opera House on Sept. 21st.

THE BOOT IS NOW ON THE OTHER FOOT

A Practical Joke With a Serious Turn

Two Pugilistic Ladies Found Scant Sympathy in Court—A Bunch of Drunks Fined

A little practical joke at the Travelers' Home, Water street, run by the Salvation Army, resulted in one of the lodgers appearing before the Police Magistrate this morning on a charge of theft. Harry Faulkner, a young Scot, who has been here about four weeks, was the man whom Joseph Marshall, colored, charged with stealing his boot. Faulkner denied the theft and was remanded. His story is that the boot was taken as a joke. He will have an opportunity to see the point of the loss of the boot.

Young Marshall informed the court that he had given his boot to the S. A. lieutenant in charge of the home last evening, as that officer had promised to repair and been completed, had placed the boot outside the witness' door, but mysteriously disappeared from there. This morning when witness went to work on a steamer he was compelled to borrow a boot from the cook. Marshall said his suspicions rested upon Faulkner because he was the only one who had left the house at the time of the loss of the boot.

Faulkner was in a very aggressive frame of mind, interrupting frequently and questioning the witness very sharply. Special Policeman Olive, who arrested Faulkner this morning, told of finding the man in a bar room and of his saying that he had heard a whisper among the other lodgers at the Travelers' Home that the boot had been taken as a joke and was hidden on the D. A. R. wharf. The missing article of footwear was found in that place.

Faulkner, when asked to make a statement, said he knew nothing concerning the hiding of the boot. He had heard it was a joke.

"Well," remarked His Honor, "you're in a serious position. Unless you can bring some of the other boarders here to prove it was a joke you're liable to go to jail for six months. You can't help it," was all that Faulkner replied.

Two ladies, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Dunham, who had been exchanging compliments on Saturday, brought their little spat before Judge Ritchie on Saturday. Mrs. Patterson said Mrs. Dunham had called her a very, very naughty name, and also intimated that she was humpbacked. Unless you can bring some of the other boarders here to prove it was a joke you're liable to go to jail for six months. You can't help it," was all that Faulkner replied.

"You Honor," said a man, evidently belonging to the Dunham faction, who arose in court, "Your Honor, may I have the privilege?"

"No, you may not," said the magistrate shortly, and the Patterson-Dunham scrape removed itself from the court room. The principals, however, began a hot debate on the subject just outside the door, and had to be hustled along by one of the police.

J. King Kelley and E. S. Ritchie appeared in a Jewish assault case. Mr. Ritchie's client was not in court, and the case was postponed.

Joseph Cahill pleaded guilty to throwing stones on Mill street, injuring a girl named Combsley. He was fined $8 or thirty days. He went to jail.

Jas. Daley, for vagrancy, was given two months or an eight dollar fine. Eleven drunks faced the magistrate. All but one pleaded guilty and got the usual dose, $8 or two months.

ST. JOHN FIREMEN LEFT FOR CHATHAM TODAY

About Forty Men in Command of Chief Kerr Will Take Part in the Fire Tournament

About forty members of the St. John Fire Department left on the eleven o'clock train this morning for Chatham, where they will take part in the firemen's tournament.

The party was in command of Chief Kerr, and was composed of several representatives from each fire company. The local men will appear in the parade, but as they will not take part in any of the competitions, they took no apparatus with them.

The Salvage Corps is represented unofficially by Lieut. Harry Ervine and a few of the members. Owing to the fact that this is exhibition week, and also that many of the men already have had their vacations, it was found impossible to get a larger representation from St. John.

NEW MAIL ROOM BEING ERECTED AT THE DEPOT

A new mail room is being erected at the Union depot for convenience in handling outgoing mails. Hitherto the mails have been brought to the station and kept in the wagons until put on board the trains. When the trains were late this was frequently inconvenient. In future the mail can be stored in the shed and held there until put on board. The structure is being erected inside the railing at western end of the train shed.
