ALLIED FORCES WIN GREAT BATTLE IN AFRICA

RUSSIANS PIERCE FOE'S LINE--CAPTURE 1,000

SEVERE LOSSES FOR HUNS BY HEAVY FIGHTING IN AFRICA; ENEMY IS IN FULL FLIGHT

Allied Forces by Squeezing Operations Compel Germans To Evacuate Many Strong Positions After a Stubborn Defence.

London, July 23.—German troops in German East Africa attempted to make a stand last week against the Allied forces, which are gradually closing in on them. An official statement issued here today says heavy fighting took place, in which the Germans suffered large losses. The announcement follows:

Germans Hard Pressed.

"On July 17 the enemy evacuated Mount Shakama. A portion of his forces retreated southwest toward Tikawage and the main body fell back on Narongombe. Throughout the 17th and 18th our columns pressed the retiring enemy in a most difficult country, capturing a few prisoners and occupying a ridge two miles north of Narongombe by nightfall of the 18th.

Heavy Fighting.

"On the 19th the main enemy positions in the vicinity of Narongombe were attacked. Severe fighting ensued, the enemy offering most stubborn resistance and making numerous counter-attacks, in the course of which, it is ascertained from prisoners, he sustained heavy losses. Our casualties were considerable.

"In the Rufiji area the enemy evacuated Kitope, our column having driven his rearguard toward Madaba on the 21st. In the Songea area the enemy continued his retreat toward Mahenge, offering slight resistance to our pursuing forces. In the northern area a small German column, reported in the Sonjo district, west of Lake Natron, is now moving south through Engar, pursued by Belgian columns from Ikoma."

RUSSIA HITS HARD BLOW ON NORTH END OF EASTERN LINE

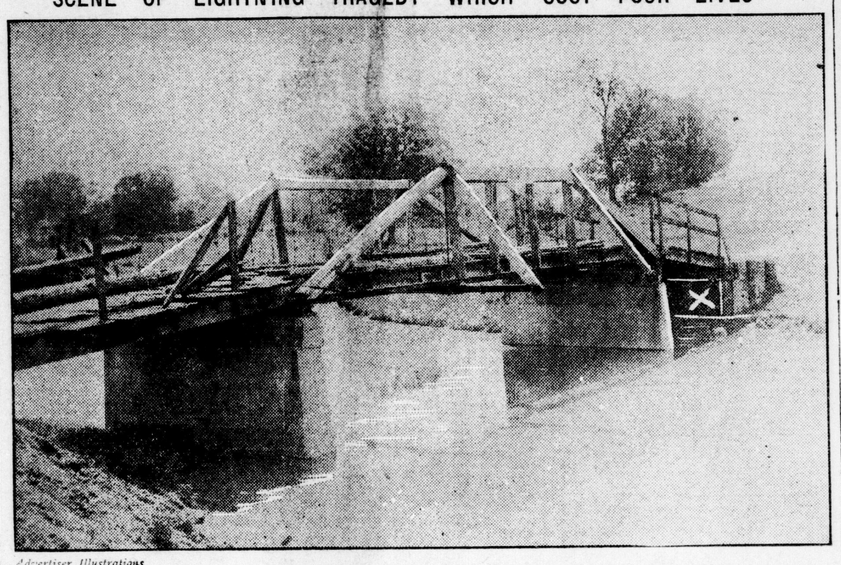

Penetrates Positions Near the Pinsk Marshes For Distance of Two Miles.

Petrograd, July 23. — The Russians yesterday attacked the Germans near Krevo and Vilna, north of the Pinsk marshes, and penetrated Teuton lines for a distance of two miles, according to an announcement made officially here today. The Russians captured more than 1,000 Germans, but the developments of success, the statement adds, are being jeopardized by the moral weakness and instability of certain Russian detachments.

U. S. AND ALLIES HAVE AGREED ON OCEAN RATES

Washington, July 23.—Regulation of ocean steamship rates between the United States and allied nations has been agreed upon in principle by the British and American Governments. Negotiations are now proceeding between the British admiralty officials and United States authorities to devise a program to make the regulation effective and bring down present prohibitive rates. France and Italy have signified their willingness to accept the principle. Negotiations probably will be opened with Japan upon the arrival here of the Japanese mission headed by Vice Admiral Takeshita.

WHOLE DOMINION GETTING TOGETHER TO TACKLE WAR FOOD PROBLEMS

Government Announces Creation of Six Departments To Deal With Various Phases of Food Distribution, Consumption and Conservation.

Ottawa, July 23.—The collective food experience of the Dominion is to be employed to solve the food problem and secure essential food supplies for Great Britain and the allied armies and nations, according to official announcement today. There is to be the closest possible co-operation between the food controller's office, the Federal and Provincial Government, and national and local organizations of a public character.

The basis of organization of the food controller's office provides for the creation of six departments to deal with various phases of the food problem.

Control Advisory Committee.

There will be a central advisory committee, composed of representatives of the Government, the churches, the labor organizations, educational departments and institutions, urban interests, farmers, rural municipalities and men's and women's organizations. This central body will advise the departments through the food controller.

Provincial machinery is to be established through the creation of special provincial committees to advise upon plans prepared by the departments and approved by the food controller. Each provincial committee will include in its personnel representatives of the Government, the churches, schools, farmers, and men's and women's associations.

Special Committees.

In addition, special committees representing producers, manufacturers, handlers and consumers of food products, will be appointed to investigate and formulate plans for action on individual problems dealt with by the departments. Action has already been taken in this regard by the creation of the food consumption control committee and the fish committee.

The interior organizations of the food controller's office will include:

Food-saving department.
Food industries department.
Food distribution department.
Information and statistics department.
Business and office department.
Educational department.

Food Saving Department.

The food saving department will deal with such problems as:

(a) Consumption in public eating places, etc.

(b) Instruction in methods of conservation in private houses.

(c) Instruction in preservation of perishable products.

(d) Instruction in substitution of foods to take he place of those required for export.

(e) Securing the co-operation of national, provincial and local organizations.

Food Industries Department.

The food industries department will have charge of:

(a) Matters relating to flour, bread, meat, fish, dairy products, canned and all manufactured food.

(b) Preparation of certain foods in order to encourage their use and to insure plentiful supplies.

The food distribution department will be divided into sections:

(a) To deal with purchase, prices, storage, transport and sale of food for home consumption and export problems.

(b) To advise with British and foreign buyers.

(c) To advise with handlers and shippers.

Gather Statistics.

The information and statistics department will have sub-divisions to:

(a) Gather statistics from Government departments and international sources and tabulate them for use of the other departments.

(b) Ascertain the quantity, location, ownership and sources of food supplies for home consumption and for export.

The business department, in charge of the assistant chief of staff, will handle general office organization, accounting, finances, office supplies and systematic filing of all data and correspondence.

The educational department will be responsible for the dissemination of general news for the information and instruction of the public, and the publication of all educational and other matters supplied to it by other departments.

The personnel of the national and provincial advisory committees, and the heads of the various departments will be announced shortly.

GIVE KERENSKY COMPLETE POWER TO BRING ORDER

Peasants, Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates Back the Premier.

LATTER GOES TO FRONT

Russia's Strong Man Will Endeavor To Crush Out Widespread Anarchy.

Petrograd, July 23.—The Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates and peasants of all Russia voted today, after an all-night session, to grant the Government of Premier Kerensky "unlimited powers" under the title "Government of national safety for the re-establishing of public order, both at the front and at home."

KERENSKY GOES TO FRONT.

London, July 22—(Delayed)—Premier Kerensky has again started for the front at the instance of the central committee of soldiers' and workmen's delegates, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd.

Dispatches from Galicia state that the breach in the Russian line is 8 miles wide and 10 miles deep. The Bourse Gazette says that at a meeting of delegates from regiments at the front it was resolved that it had become imperative to turn over all authority to M. Kerensky.

RUSS RETIREMENT GROWS?

Copenhagen, July 22.—Dispatches received here from Germany seek to convey the impression that the Russian defeat at Zlochoff, Galicia, is developing to even wider proportions. Special dispatches to newspapers from German headquarters say the Russian front north of the Kniester is tottering and that it is officially reported that the Russian seventh army south of the Zlochoff gap, affected by pressure on its flank, is also beginning to retire. The Russians have destroyed the Sereth bridges. Some elements of the Russian rearguard are described as fighting valiantly to delay the pursuit, but it is stated that the German vanguards are pressing on impetuously, recklessly hurling themselves on one defensive point after another. The Germans are using an airplane squadron to throw wagon trains into confusion. Little is being heard, even in the Austrian reports, of the Austro-Hungarian infantry. The blows seems to have been executed by selected German infantry, but with the assistance of all available Austro-German artillery.

A Berlin dispatch says Emperor William has departed for the eastern front.

DISARMING THE WORKMEN.

Petrograd, July 23.—The disarming of workmen, including the so-called red guards, is proceeding systematically in the Vassily Island and Viborg quarters. More than 1,200 rifles and revolvers and some machine guns have been recovered. The majority of revolvers were obtained at the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, where cases just arrived from America had been broken open. According to the Russkia Volia, about a third of the arms stolen since the outbreak have been accounted for. Several carts with shells were stopped on the banks of the Neva. The military authorities know nothing about them. The drivers were arrested and the carts taken to the arsenal.

BRITISH CABINET TO ASK CREDIT 650,000,000 POUNDS

London, July 23. — In the House of Commons tomorrow the Government will ask for a vote of credit of £650,000,000, the largest single vote since the outbreak of the war. It will bring up the total for the war to £6,292,000,000.

RUSSIAN MUTINEERS BATTLE WITH CADETS; FINALLY SURRENDER

Many Casualties in Clash at City of Nijni Novgorod.

Petrograd, July 23.—A dispatch to the Bourse Gazette from Nijni Novgorod relates that on July 27 a regiment of troops ordered disbanded for insubordination mutinied, took possession of the town and were still in control July 20. Cadets sent from Moscow to subdue them battled with revolvers resulting in casualties to both sides and the surrender of the mutineers, who at last accounts were held prisoners. A parley with the commander of the Moscow garrison after order had been restored resulted in an agreement to surrender control.

British Have Success To South of Avion; Reach All Objectives

Gain With Loss and Send Back Several Score Prisoners.

London, July 23.—"A successful local operation was carried out by us last night south of Avion," says today's war office report on the Franco-Belgian front operations. "Our troops reached their objectives with little loss and captured a number of prisoners, of whom 51 have already been brought in.

"We also raided the enemy's positions during the night south of Havrincourt and in the neighborhood of Bullecourt and Hollebeke. Additional prisoners were secured by us, and a number of the enemy were killed and his dugouts bombed.

"Hostile raiding parties were repulsed southeast of Loos and in the neighborhood of Lombaertzyde."

INGERSOLL MAN HITS COW WHILE CYCLING; DIES OF INJURIES

Thomas Nixon Fatally Hurt by Collision on St. Marys Road.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, July 23.—While riding along the St. Marys road late Sunday night, Thomas H. Nixon struck a cow near the Half-Way House, and was so severely injured that he died at the General Hospital some time later. He was on a motorcycle.

Nixon was an Ingersoll, man and was with three companions.

COAL OPERATORS OF WEST ANNOUNCE A COMING JUMP OF FIFTY CENTS A TON

Calgary, July 23.—All coal will be advanced 50 cents per ton, according to an announcement from the mine operators' organization. This will be to cover the increased cost of production. Commissioner Armstrong says he has no power to interfere in such matters except in the case of a dispute.

CONTEST NOTES

The work in connection with The Advertiser's $16,000 prize contest has grown to such an extent that more room had to be had at once, in order to keep the work anywhere near up to date. So after today the headquarters of the contest department will be located in the Mailagh bookstore, five doors west of The Advertiser office.

Candidates, cover your territory thoroughly. Secure second payments on the short-term subscriptions. For instance, Mr. A. gave you a six-months subscription to The Advertiser a week ago. This counted you 2,500 votes. If you can get Mr. A. to give you another six-months subscription, thus making a full year, it will count you 4,500 votes, or 7,000 votes in all. If they see that you are in earnest in your efforts to win a prize, they will give you their support. Everyone admires a hustler, and you will find it just as easy to get votes and subscriptions from strangers as from friends.

All votes secured while working for special prizes count toward the regular prizes, consisting of automobiles, pianos, bedroom sets, cabinets of silver, Hoosier kitchen cabinets, sewing machines, cash prizes and any other regular prizes.

"If I win one of the prizes, and do not want it, may I take cash instead?" asks one candidate.

No. The Advertiser has already paid for the prizes, and we will not be able to give cash instead of the prize.

"Are there any candidates working in the contest whose names are not in the paper? I have been told that there are."

No; there are not. The name of every candidate appears in the published list. A number of candidates have given books and supplies to friends to work for them, and it may be that those helpers have been taken for candidates.

There will be no larger vote offer than what has been offered at any time during the contest.

The best advice anyone could give you at this stage of the race is to hustle as you have never hustled before—do not stop until the last minute of the contest. It will be too late to make up for lost time when the judges have announced the winners, and someone else has walked off with the prize you figured you had "cinched." The battle of ballots will wax more furious as the end approaches, and as all candidates are turning in a lot of new subscriptions, the race is far from "cinched" by any one candidate.

Some one district is going to win four of the big prizes, and while District No. 2 held first place last Saturday, it is hard to tell which district will be leading tomorrow.

All subscriptions will date from the time The Advertiser is mailed from the office, and not from the date the subscription is given to the candidate.

CANADIANS RIP THROUGH DEFENCES OF THE GERMANS FOR FIVE HUNDRED YARDS

Fine Success For Central Ontario Battalion At Avion.

(By Stuart Lyon, Special Canadian Press Representative In France.)

Canadian Army Headquarters, July 23.—A remarkable successful minor operation, which resulted in the capture of sixty prisoners and the infliction of serious losses on the Germans in killed and wounded, was carried out early this morning by the Canadians in the region southeast of Avion. The force engaged was a Central Ontario battalion. The German position was penetrated for a distance of 500 yards.

To add to the difficulties of the men, a barrage of gas shells was put on by the enemy as they went over the trench tops and continued as they advanced, which made it necessary for them to wear gas masks during the attack.

Under the conditions prevailing, an advance would have been impossible had the men not been carefully instructed by scouts as to the obstacles they would have to encounter and the means of getting around or over them.

A Clever Attack.

The colonel of the regiment himself assisted before the attack in placing white tape to mark the practicable paths through the enemy wire, which at this point of the Oppy-Mericourt line is very wide. Thus aided, the assaulting waves, protected by an excellent barrage from our guns, had little resistance to overcome until they passed the enemy's first-line trench, where a number of prisoners were taken. Pushing on rapidly, the attacking force encountered fierce resistance and had to fight their way.

BOSCHES' NERVES NEAR BREAKING; SCARED BY HAIG

Desperately Attempting To Locate Point of Next Mighty Blow.

(BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS, U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

[Special to The Advertiser.]

With the British Armies in the Field, July 23.—Forty German airplanes brought down in five days is one indication of the frenzy of nervousness with which the Prussians are trying to find out what Field Marshal Haig is preparing for them.

The complacency with which German Chancellor Michaelis announced his satisfaction with all things military movement is not apparent today on the west front.

Scared by Haig.

The curiosity of Boche planes is just one indication of a deep-rooted apprehension that Haig is preparing another stroke. Just where this may come is worrying the Germans.

All along the front the Germans are lavishly using up their shells. Barrage fire starts at the slightest movement in the British trenches. Big guns systematically but blindly search out supposed depots back of the lines. Particular apprehension is shown among the sand dunes on the Belgian coast, where Germany recently won a gain. But the same apprehension shows in no neglect of fire through the Lens, Loos, Armentieres, Wytschaete or Ypres sectors.

Prisoners related today that one commander had ordered there would be no further leave granted members of his Bavarian division until his men by raids had fully identified the British troops opposite. One other commander announced a reward of the Iron Cross and a fortnight's leave, with twenty marks as a prize, to any patrol which would bring in a Britisher, dead or alive.

FORMER PASTOR IN CITY. — Rev. Thomas H. Mitchell, pastor of Old St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, formerly of the New St. James' Presbyterian Church this city, is in London for a short time. He underwent a minor operation on his throat on Saturday, but is making a rapid recovery. Mr. Mitchell will spend a week or two in this city.

BRITISH SUCCESS IN PALESTINE RAIDINGS

London, July 23.—The following official account of military operations in Palestine was issued here today:

"On the morning of July 19, the enemy pushed two cavalry regiments from Beersheba toward the line El Buggar-El Girjeir, about nine miles west of Beersheba. Our mounted troops engaged and drove them back to Beersheba, capturing thirteen prisoners.

"On the night of July 20, our troops successfully raided the enemy's trenches southwest of Gaza. They killed one Turkish officer and 101 men, and brought back prisoners, a machine gun, a trench mortar, a number of rifles and other booty."

GERMANS STORM FIRST LINE OF PETAIN'S POILUS

Succeed in Securing a Footing On the Casemates Plateau.

LATER LOSE PART OF IT

Party of the Crown Prince Guards Are Caught in Death Trap.

Paris, July 23.—Continuing their violent attacks on the Aisne front, the Germans last night stormed French trenches on the Casemates Plateau, the war office announces. Later they were ejected from most of the positions. On the Californie Plateau the French maintained their supporting trenches.

The French Statement.

The statement follows:

"German attacks, accompanied by violent bombardments, continued last night on the plateaux in front of Craonne. On the Casemates Plateau the enemy in new efforts of extreme violence succeeded in penetrating our first line. An immediate and vigorous French counter-attack resulted in the preservation of only a small portion of this line. On the Californie Plateau the fighting was not ended until late at night. In spite of all their efforts the Germans were unable to dislodge us from the plateau. Our troops repulsed all attacks directed upon our supporting trenches, which we occupy in its entirety.

"There was intermittent cannonading at various points on the front."

TRAPPED BY FRENCH.

With the French Armies in France, July 21.—By the Associated Press.—The Fifth Division of the German Guard in its furious attack on the eastern end of the Chemin-des-Dames, on the Aisne front, during Thursday night and Friday morning gained nothing but a death trap in the shape of a trench 500 or 600 yards long on the northern side of the creek between Craonne and Californie plateau above Craonne. The objective of the Germans to obtain possession of observation points was defeated totally. Today hundreds of German bodies lie on the ground and the Germans who supposedly are holding the trench cannot advance or retire.

Cannonade Intense.

The cannonade today was most intense, and the French, who are in a position to observe all movements of the enemy smothered with shells several attempts of the Germans to assemble troops in this vicinity for further operations.

Many Prisoners Taken.

Numbers of prisoners belonging to the famous guard regiments were taken. From them it was learned that the attack had been arranged for several days previously, but the German crown prince decided to await the arrival of special units of shock troops before making the assault. A model of the French defensive system had been constructed behind the German lines, and the troops destined for the attack were instructed therewith before making the assault. They met their masters in the shape of stolid and hard fighting regiments from Touraine, which held the position.

The only point along the whole line of attack from Craonne to Hurtebise at which the Germans succeeded in obtaining any advantage was between the Casemates and Californie plateaux, where the crest is narrowest and where it was impossible for the French to bring much artillery to bear, owing to the configuration of the ground.

Hand-to-Hand.

All through Thursday night and Friday hand-to-hand fighting proceeded with grenades and bayonets, until the exhausted Germans were compelled to seek shelter in shell craters and shattered trenches of the front line formerly held by the French. There they cannot move or see, being under constant machine gun and artillery fire of dominating French batteries, and they still remain on the wrong side of the crest. The few yards they gained are being reconquered gradually by the French.

IS ASSISTANT ADJUTANT.—Lieut. A. T. Byrd, No. 1 Special Service Company, has been appointed to act as assistant adjutant of the Central Training Depot, it is announced in camp orders today.

KILLS WIFE, SHOOTS SELF AFTER A QUARREL OVER AUTO OUTING

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Blyth, July 23.—Quarreling with his wife because she had gone for an auto ride with a neighbor, and the latter's wife, James McCrackin, a young farmer of the fifth concession of Forest, early Sunday evening shot his wife with a revolver and then turned the gun on himself. The woman was killed instantly, while McCrackin's wound, which is on the side of head, will not result fatally. He was placed under arrest by Constable Summers this morning, following an investigation by Coroner Dr. Miller, who last night made a post mortem examination of the dead woman.

The tragedy occurred about 7:30 Sunday evening. McCrackin and his wife have not been living together for some months owing to quarrels, it is said, due to jealousy on the part of the young man. Last night he informed his parents that he was going to his own home, and reached there just as his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Carney, neighbors, drove up in the Carney automobile.

The couple at once got into an altercation over the auto drive, and before he could be stopped McCrackin had drawn a revolver and shot his wife through the head, the ball entering the right ear, causing instant death. He then ran into the house and shot himself in the head, the bullet, however, making only a slight surface wound. The constable had no trouble in putting the man under arrest. He appears calm and unconcerned over the matter.

The McCrackins have been married for some years, and have a child.

After the preliminary inquiry this morning the coroner adjourned the inquest until Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

CORN PRODUCTION BILL OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO OLD LAND FARMERS

London, July 13.—The importance that the Government attaches to the debate on the corn production bill, while proposes to pay fixed prices to farmers for cereal crops for a number of years after the war, is shown in a statement by the Government whip, wherein the request of supporters to attend is trebly underlined, and a division on the minimum wage of $6.25 a week it is proposed to pay farm laborers, is declared vital. Supporters and opponents of the measure both profess to believe that dangers will be avoided.

TEUTONS CONTINUING THE GALICIAN DRIVE; RUSS LEADER KILLED

Petrograd, July 23.—Between the Rivers Sereth, Stripa and Zlota Lipa, the Russian statement says, the Austro-Hungarians continued their offensive, occupying villages. The chief of the Russian divisional staff was killed while establishing order among the units on this East Galician front.

VALENCIA IS PLACED IN STATE OF SIEGE

Paris, July 23.—A statement of siege has been proclaimed in Valencia, according to official announcement in Madrid, says a Havas dispatch from the Spanish capital. The action was taken because of clashes between strikers and gendarmes in which many persons were wounded. The announcement said the troops were cheered by the population of the city.

FIVE LEADING SOCIALISTS RECEIVED BY EMPEROR

London, July 23.—According to the Berlin Vorwaerts, the Socialists who attended the conference between the emperor and the Reichstag Friday evening were Friedrich Ebert, Phillip Scheidemann, Dr. Eduard David and Dr. Alberto W. Suedekum.

The Vossiche Zeitung says this was the first time the emperor ever met Socialist deputies as representatives of the Socialist party.

CALLS INTERFERENCE WITH TRUTH-SEEKING ANTI-CHRISTIAN ACT

Rev. R. W. Norwood Scores Those Who Condemn Fads.

BLACKEST OF ALL CRIMES

Bishop, Prelate, Ministers and "Loud-Mouthed Critics" Are Arraigned by Rector.

Rev. R. W. Norwood, rector of Cronyn Memorial Church, had a few things to say at the evening service Sunday on what he termed "the loud-mouthed and vulgar" criticism of some local ministers and prelates regarding religious fads.

Mr. Norwood took his text from the Acts of the Apostles, giving an address of Gamaliel's, the teacher of Paul, who informed some of the critics of Christianity that if the latter were of the devil it would fail, but that if it were of God, all they could do against it would be of no avail. This was the notable utterance, said Mr. Norwood, and showed the breadth of vision of this great scholar, whose influence, through his pupil, Paul, had done much to shape Christianity. Behind him were 20,000 years of thinking along theological lines. For that time men had been thinking of God in about the same way. The sacred writings had revealed God in the same way, as an angry God, one who demands pound for pound, ounce for ounce, tear for tear. And yet, when this new doctrine appeared, Christianity, Gamaliel told the Hebrew scholars of the day that if the "fad" came from God it could not be destroyed, but if it had no substance or truth it would die out.

Forget Luther's Teachings.

"We hear many things about religious fads today," said Mr. Norwood. "On one hand, we have the heavy thunder of the Vatican. On the other we have the thunder of Geneva. On one side we have the tyranny of Rome, and on the other the tyranny of Protestantism. Herod and Pontius Pilate have joined hands and become friends, to crush out the freedom of men in religious matters.

"In politics freedom is allowed, although there is some tyranny. A man has a right, as a broad postulate, to vote as he likes. The essence of the Magna Charta is that a man may think, act and speak as he likes, so long as he does not interfere with the sacred rights of others. The minister of nowadays will not let a man worship as he likes, will not allow him to find God as he likes. They tell you about the great things that Luther did. He simply enunciated the principle that every soul had the right to find God in his own way. They remember Luther's words, but forget his teaching.

Can Find God in Own Way.

"I enunciate the same principle, and these ministers and prelates, thunder as they may, will not hinder me from telling men and women that they can find God in their own way. A man may be a Roman Catholic, or an Anglican, or a Presbyterian, or other denomination, and he is all right; but he cannot be a New Thoughtist, a Christian Scientist or a Theosophist, or he is thundered at and threatened and menaced, if he dare depart from the custom of the elders. In Gamaliel's day they fulminated just as much against the new thought, Christianity.

"The same language is being used now that was used in Pliny's works, when he wrote the Emperor Trajan about this obscure sect, Christianity, and advocated punishing children, and putting them to death, to put out this fad.

Cannot Stop God's Works.

"I have no apology for any of these fads. But I do say that if they are of God, you may bring the stars down, but you will not stop the torrent of truth. Ministers will not prevent its flow by bellowing from the pulpit and uttering vulgarities and anathemas.

"No threats of a Roman Catholic prelate or a Protestant prelate will change the truth or untruth of these things. I do say that they are striking at the very foundation of Canadian civilization when they say that any individual has no right to find God in his own way. There is a sacerdotalism of Protestantism, as well as Roman Catholic sacerdotalism, and it can be just as vituperative as that against which Luther raised his hands.

Suspicious of Threats.

"I am suspicious of any religion that must be bolstered up by threats. So is every thinking man. Methinks they protest too much, and have not confidence in their own religion, or they would not indulge in vulgar personalities against a lonely woman. The thing may be all wrong, but it is a greater evil to utter loud-mouthed, vulgar diatribes in the pulpit in the name of Jesus of Nazareth. You have a right to find God in your own way, so long as you find Him. I may think that your way is obscure and painful, but that is not my business. I am interested only in that you find God.

Challenges Bishop's Right.

"Let us be fair, and just, and kind. During my five years' ministry here I have made no efforts to make proselytes. Where I am face to face with my brother, that is God's house. Religion is the progressive experience of God in the soul. I challenge the right of Bishop Fallon or any of his Protestant followers to deny the rights of any individual to find God in his own way. I call anti-Christian any effort to interfere with any man in his search for God. That is blacker than the most infamous crimes of history.

"A group of ministers the other day satirically condemned religious fads. A fad is a truth in the experimental stage. Flying was a fad some short years ago, so was Franklin's electricity. Some of the ancestors of the ministers of today must have been in the crowd that laughed and jeered at Abraham when he discovered a new thought and decided to act upon it. Pharoah persecuted the Israelites because it was a religious fad that Moses advocated. Freeing the slaves was a fad to a lot of holy men of God. One of the loudest-mouthed critics of religious fads in London today belongs to a church that scarce 200 years ago was laughed and jeered at as a fad. The absurdity of it all. If you can find Jesus in the Catholic mass, I rejoice that you have found Him. If you have found Jesus in Christian Science, I am glad you have found Him. But be fair, be just, be kind, be merciful, to every other seeker after truth. If any truth is not of God, it will die."

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me, and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth, and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years, and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."—Mrs. Jennie Moyer, 342 E. North street, Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Two stars are showing at the Patrica Theatre today, Clara Kimball Young in "Love's Sunset" and Mary Miles Minter in "Annie for Spite."

In addition to this big double program, a high-class vaudeville act, the Club Trio, dancers, singers and musicians, will present a sketch reputed to be one of the best of its kind.

MAN'S DUAL MIND MAY BE SOLUTION OF SPIRITUALISM

Power of Mind Over Matter Key to Psychic Phenomena.

The fact of the dual mind of man, subjective and objective, and of the power of mind over matter, Rev. Byron Snell, pastor of Hale Street Methodist Church, declared to be the whole solution of psychic phenomena, and the key to unlock the mystery of so-called supernatural manifestation, spiritism, Christian science healing, etc., in the course of a sermon delivered yesterday morning in Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church.

Announcing his subject as "Psychic Phenomena, Spiritualism and Other Isms," Mr. Snell stated that he had been very much interested in psychic phenomena. He had given several years to the study of the subject. He admitted its fascinations. In view of the revival of interest in "spiritualism," which he stated is more correctly "spiritism," he expressed his opinion that a great debt of gratitude is due to the press, which is giving publicity to the subject.

Easily Understood.

He further admitted that he understood how people could quite be carried away by the study of psychic phenomena, hence the great necessity for placing before the public an explanation capable of solving in a satisfactory manner manifestations regarded as supernatural.

The objective mind he defined as the everyday, ordinary, wide-awake working mind, and the subjective as the mind which manifests itself in dreams in sleep, in hypnotism, somnambulism, trance, etc.

Amenable to Suggestion.

Attention was drawn at this point to the extent to which the subjective mind is amenable to suggestion, and the case was cited as an illustration of an old minister of highest repute in an American city.

A prominent doctor of the city, who understood the laws of hypnotism, and frequently made use of hypnotism insteady of anaesthetics in performing operations, asked a prominent clergyman if he would submit to hypnotism for demonstration purposes. In the presence of a gathering of fellow-ministers and other people of prominence, the revered divine was hypnotized, and, in obedience to suggestions while in that condition, picked the pockets of his fellow-clergymen and impersonated Jonah.

Impersonation.

Impersonation of other people, Mr. Snell reminded, is one of the commonest demonstrations used in public entertainments given by hypnotists. The subject assumes not only the character but mannerisms of the one being impersonated. In a similar manner, Mr. Snell declared that this is the secret of so-called communication with discarnate spirits through mediums. The medium, in a self-hypnotized condition, impersonates the departed relative or friend, and the illusion is completed by the mental condition of the witnesses.

"If I went to a seance tonight, and the seances are always held in the dark," continued Mr. Snell, "and said I wished to speak to my mother who died so many years ago, I might receive a message from the medium which I would recognize as something my mother would likely give, because it would probably be something that I had often heard her say, and that was in my own mind.

Witch of Endor.

The Witch of Endor didn't bring back Samuel. There was nothing which she told Saul that Samuel said that was not in Saul's own mind. Saul was in terror. "He feared the armies of Israel were going to be defeated, and himself and sons slain. The Witch of Endor, in a self-hypnotized condition, simply told him what was in his own mind. The secret of the power of mind over matter is the secret of spiritualism or spiritism."

Another illustration of the power of mind over matter was that of the cataleptic state when a man becoming rigid, acts as a bridge between two chairs, and is capable of bearing up a weight that would crush him under other conditions.

Telepathic Side.

Reference was made to "telepathy," the appearance of a friend who has been in mind. "The old story," said the preacher, "of 'think of angels and hear the flutter of their wings,' the story of mind acting upon mind."

Another manifestation dwelt upon was that of healing by mental suggestion, either salf or a patient, a rod, a mile, or ten thousand miles away.

"Have you ever gone to bed, tired out, suffering, perhaps, from toothache, neuralgia or rheumatism, making up your mind that you would waken up feeling fresh and alert at 6 o'clock, the pain quite gone? And haven't you awakened at 6, your first feeling being of refreshment and freedom from pain? Auto-suggestion may similarly be used on others. This was the secret of Mr. Dowie's power of treating people at a distance."

This fact of the power of "mind over matter" has been seized upon and made the foundation of so-called "Christian Science," according to Mr. Snell.

"Christian Science," he stated, "has two principles. First, that God is a spirit, and that all is a spirit, hence since there is no such thing as matter, there is no existence of disease, excepting in the mind. The second principle is that God is all and God is good, hence there is no evil. This eliminates Christ, therefore cannot be Christian."

All Are Affected.

Recognition was given of the extent to which physical, mental and moral cures are effected by obtaining a changed point of view. Physicians are recognizing this in their practice.

The preacher touched upon the cures that have been effected in victims of alcoholism by hypnotism and suggestion.

Mr. Snell emphasized the point that fads and abuses have come about through misunderstanding, misuse and misrepresentation of the power of mind over matter. It was possible, he believed, for a person to be a medium and to be entirely conscientious, in that case, self-deluded.

Cannot Return.

"The departed cannot return," he said in conclusion, "as witness the testimony of the Good Book in regard to the rich man and Lazarus, in which it is distinctly stated that they may not return to us, but we will go to them."

Expressing his profound sympathy with fathers and mothers and others bowed down with grief and anxiety for loved ones in danger, or who have lost their lives in the war, the last word on spiritualism was: "The medium is a self-hypnotized psychic, and cannot tell you anything that is not in your own mind or that is suggested, and so far as fortune-telling by the Ouija board and table-rapping, etc., is concerned, it is simply a case of the influence of mind over inanimate matter."

Simple Experiment.

To illustrate this, the preacher, leaning over the pulpit, tried an experiment. Attached to the end of a string he had an ordinary large button. Holding the end of the string in one hand, the button soon began to move in circles. Calling attention to this, he asked the congregation to note a change of motion to a pendulum course. A moment later the button began to move slowly backward and forward.

"This was simply the action of my mind on the inanimate button. Try it yourself when you get home. This also explains the supernatural in regard to the Ouija board and such fortune-telling."

As a last word, the possibility of making life better through right thinking was emphasized.

$175 COLLECTED AT SUNDAY BAND CONCERT

One of the most successful band concerts in point of proceeds and attendance which has been held yet this summer was given at Victoria Park Sunday evening under the auspices of Overseas Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The collections taken up at the gates amounted to $175.

The musical program given by the 1st Hussars band was of a high order and greatly appreciated by all present.

Notwithstanding the amount collected at the gates last evening it will only go a limited ways in providing lunches for soldiers proceeding overseas.

It has been the custom since the organization of Overseas Chapter to provide lunches to soldiers about to depart and to also provide many comforts that have been forwarded at frequent intervals to the boys in the trenches. All these demands upon the finances of the chapter have depleted the funds to such an extent that unless a sufficient amount is procured by collections or through voluntary contributions the lunches that have been provided in the past will necessarily have to be discontinued.

In view of this possibility, Overseas Chapter would appreciate any contributions to that end.

MANY FINE PICNICS HELD AT SPRINGBANK SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Hot Weather Brought Many Large Parties to City's Park.

The hot weather on Saturday afternoon resulted in all kinds of picnics being held at Springbank. There were any number of private family affairs, and many larger outings. Among these were the picnics of the employees of the O-Pee-Chee Gum Company, the members of the Sunday school of the Christian Church, of the Junior Baptist Young People's Union of the Adelaide Street and the Wortley Road churches, and of the Young People's Society of the Knollwood Park Church.

Most of the picnickers spent their time at various sports and games, and in many cases large and varied programs were carried out, including contests for men, women, boys and girls. Baseball games were the most noteworthy features of the programs, and while the plays were not all of the "major league" variety, the enjoyment was much more keen than that to be found in the professional ranks of ball players.

O-PEE-CHEE GUM COMPANY.

One of the attractive events on the extensive program of the O-Pee-Chee Gum Company picnic was a tug-of-war, while another was a three-inning baseball match for girls. The blind pig race also proved to be an attractive race, which might be expected in a prohibition country.

The judges in charge of the races were: J. K. McDermid, D. H. McDermid, Cy Edy, A. Brown, E. H. Shaw, C. W. Eastwood, A. Orr and J. Tambling, while the members of the committee in charge of the picnic were:

President, J. K. McDermid; vice-president, D. H. McDermid; chairman, J. DeWolfe; secretary, F. Westman; transportation, S. Hudgell; printing, J. Caton; treasurer, J. Post; refreshments, Miss Etta Ryckman; clerk of course, A. Anderson; announcer, R. A. Emery; starter, T. Morgan; sports committee, W. E. Krebs, secretary; G. Currie, R. Chartrand, F. Cromarty, A. Davis, W. Forsythe, W. E. Knight, A. Simpson, Miss Mayme Crawford, Miss Tena Kemp, Miss Katie Stannard. Lady helpers, folding box department—Clara Corrigan, Irene Dowdell, Lilian Chapman, Cyrita Chapman Mary Holt, Alice Holt, Verna Thompson. Solid box department—Mrs. O'Donnell, Grace Foss, Norah Clarke, Alice Edwards, Allison Scott, Orill Rockwood. Gum department—Edith Palmer, Alice Branch, Florence Nye, Dorothy Newman, Frances Greatorex, Bessie Wadsworth, Pop corn department—Daisy Horner, Ila Mitchell, Clara Burgess, Hilda Stannard, Ethel Simpson, Evelyn Hodges, Lily Jenkins.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The program of the Christian Church included a baseball match between the gentlemen and the ladies, which, needless to say, was won by the latter by the score of 9 to 6. Other events on the program of the Christian Church, together with their winners, were:

Primary class race—Minnie Burns, May Wood, Morton Burns.

Boys under 10—W. Smallman, W. Alport, W. McAdam.

Girls under 10—M. Alport, E. Burns, M. Burns.

Boys under 13—H. Deeley, W. Smallman, L. Smallman.

Girls under 13—G. Hardy, E. Burns, M. Alport.

Boys over 13—H. Deeley, L. Smallman, W. Smallman.

Young ladies' race—Miss McCreight, Miss Assiter and Mrs. Wood.

Obstacle race—C. Deeley, H. Deeley, M. Webb.

Consolation race—E. Banks, Moden Wood, G. Sargent.

200 yards—Rev. W. B. Sharratt, T. Deeley, F. Deeley.

Quarter mile—H. Deeley, F. Churchill, R. Churchill.

The committee in charge of the picnic consisted of: G. B. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. F. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. F. Deeley, Mrs. Baker, A. Blackwell, F. Churchill, J. J. Smallman and Rev. W. B. Sharratt.

ADELAIDE STREET B. Y. P. U.

The winners of the races on the program of the Adelaide Street Junior B. Y. P. U. were:

Girls under 12 (50 yards).—D. Shepherd, L. Cline.

Boys under 12—Ross Noel, Fred Cline.

Boys and girls under 14 (75 yards).—K. Graham, L. Thomas.

Girls under 16 (75 yards)—Paddy Boyd, B. Lankin.

Necktie race—Paddy Boyd and Fred Angus, B. H. Piercey and Sid Reid.

Biscuit eating contest—Sid Reid, F. Cline.

Girls' three-legged race—P. Boyd and B. Lankin, M. Piercey and M. Reid.

The committee which looked after the arrangements was composed of H. Scheiding, Velma Reid and Mrs. Southcott of Wortley Road Church, and Mrs. G. Shortt, Miss V. Sloan and Sergt. and Mrs. Batterson of Adelaide Street Church.

KNOLLWOOD PARK SOCIETY.

The events on the program of the Knollwood Park Society for Christian Endeavor were:

Thread and needle race, ladies and gents.—Mrs. Wheeler and Mr. Williams.

Hop, step and jump—Ronald Fox, Mr. Bishop and Eddie Davis.

Coat race, ladies and gents. -- Miss Bramall and Mr. Bishop.

Prune and string race—Capt. Fletcher Ronald Fox and Eddie Davis.

Single ladies' race—Elsie Benford, Minnie Wheeler, Miss Bramall.

Single men's race—Ronald Fox, Teddie Williams, Eddie Davis.

Time race—Elsie Benford, Alice Madge, Mrs. Fox.

Children's race—Kenneth Balch, Arthur Bishop, Kenneth Bishop.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. Balch, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Bramall.

Married men's race—Mr. Bishop, Capt. Fletcher.

The four-legged race, in which two ladies and a gentleman formed a team, the ladies walking forward and the gentleman walking backwards, proved to be the most interesting feature of the afternoon. It was won by Miss Bramall, Miss Wheeler and Mr. Bishop, second prize going to Miss Banford, Miss Alice Madge and Bernie Wheeler.

The picnic, which was the first held by the society, was most successful, and everybody had a pleasant time. Refreshments were provided by the ladies' social committee, and were much appreciated. The sports were in charge of Misses Bramall and Pring, Capt. Fletcher, E. C. Davis and Mr. Bishop, and the success of the program was due to their efforts. The prizes will be presented at Monday evening's meeting of the society.

LONDONERS ANXIOUS TO LEARN TO CONSERVE

That Londoners are anxious to do everything possible for the conservation of food supplies is evidenced by the demand for pamphlets issued by the Government on various lines of economy. More than a thousand booklets on methods of cooking fish have been given out at the public library, and there is a constant demand for the pamphlets dealing with backyard gardens.

A new booklet which will probably arrive in the city by Monday will deal with canning and preserving fruit.

ODELL FARM FOR HOSPITAL

Property On Port Stanley Line Chosen For 600-Bed Building.

DIVIDE ASYLUM FRONT

Land Will Be Sold For Building Lots—Hospital To Be Permanent.

The board of control, at a special session this morning, was informed by Sir Adam Beck that the Provincial Government and the military hospitals commission had decided on the Odell farm, situated just outside the city limits on the line of the London and Port Stanley Railway, as the location for a convalescent hospital. He asked that the city make a survey of the property at once, and close the deal for the land as soon as the order-in-council was passed. This would happen in a few days, and the whole matter be disposed of.

Oppose Asylum Site.

Sir Adam stated that the Provincial Government and the hospitals commission had met in conference, and had decided to erect a 600-bed hospital in No. 1 military district. London had been selected as the most suitable location. The various sites proposed had been gone over here, and the commission was in favor of the Odell farm site. There was opposition by the Government in placing the buildings on the asylum grounds. It had been decided to divide the 20 acres on Dundas street later into building lots, so the growth of the city in that district might not be impeded. The Government would later offer the front portion of the asylum grounds, south of the C. P. R. tracks and Dundas street, directly in front of the main building, to the city later as a park. These were matters to be dealt with later. The Government had no desire to have the buildings erected on either of these properties.

The Odell farm was selected because of its proximity to a natural gas supply, which was needed badly in the building. The city would provide the site, and furnish sewers, water and electric connections. The latter would be paid for by the Government, but the city would have to assist in getting these accommodations.

Used as Asylum Later.

"We want a survey at once," said Sir Adam. "This thing will be closed this week, and we want to start work shortly on constructing the buildings. They will be permanent in character. When the hospitals commission is through with them they will be used for asylum purposes. The commission was offered Alma College, St. Thomas, and Huron College, London, but they were refused, as it would cost too much money to put them in shape."

The survey will be made at once, and arrangements made for giving sewer, water and other connections.

RAILWAY DRAFT IS EXAMINED FOR MOVE EAST SOON

Lieut. Torrance Warned That Departure of Men Is Imminent.

No. 1 Railway Construction Draft is the latest unit to be warned to prepare for a move eastward in the near future, and it is possible that the members of that unit will be sent away before the Army Medical Corps draft, which has been ready to go for some time.

Lieut. R. D. Torrance, officer commanding the railway construction men, had his men up before the medical board today, and it is expected that the draft will leave at a strength of about 50 rank and file, in addition to two sergeants and two corporals.

As No. 1 Railway Construction Draft is up to full strength, instructions were issued in camp orders today to send all recruits for construction work, obtained in this military district to the Forestry and Construction Depot at Carling Heights for allotment to No. 20 Railway Construction Draft which is commanded by Lieut. Detweiler, and which is also rapidly approaching the full strength mark.

ARRANGE FOR SWITCH TO BEATTIE FACTORY

The agreements between the city of London and Beattie Brothers, covering the cost of installing a switch at Chelsea Green to their factory connecting with the London and Port Stanley Railway, will be prepared by the London Railway Commission and submitted to the council for ratification.

Sir Adam Beck and Gordon Philip, commissioner of industries, consulted with the board of control on the matter this morning, and asked for instructions. The first agreement will cover the usual form, as to business, maintenance, etc.

The second will have to do with the payment of interest and sinking fund, which will be assumed by the city, the commission to do the work.

HEADLIGHTS ARE ACCIDENT CAUSE

John White and Party Are Injured at Talbotville Bridge.

DID NOT DIM LIGHTS

Driver of Another Car Drives On After Serious Accident Occurs.

Blinded by the glare from headlights of a motor car which he met near Talbotville on Saturday night, John White, aged 68, a well-known London manufacturer, residing at 432 Piccadilly street, drove his automobile into the abutment of a cement bridge. Mr. White had three ribs broken, and was cut about the face and mouth. Ed. Westland had two ribs broken, the latter's son, Morris Westland, had his nose broken, Mrs. White was painfully injured, and two other children and Mrs. Westland were more or less seriously bruised.

According to the story told by Mr. White to his son this morning, he was on his way home from Port Stanley, with his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Westland and the children, when a car going south approached. Mr. White dimmed his headlights, but the other motorist kept the full glare on, with the result that Mr. White was blinded and crashed into the bridge.

Motorist Drove On.

The crash of the car into the cement pillar could be distinctly heard, and there is no doubt that the other driver observed the accident. He made no attempt to stop, however, but ran on. Other motorists and people residing in the vicinity came to the assistance of the party, and doctors from St. Thomas were notified at once. The ambulance of Smith, Son & Clarke was sent for, and Mr. and Mrs. White were removed to Victoria Hospital.

The number of the other motorist is reported to have been secured by a woman at Talbotville, and an effort will be made to secure his name. A recent law prevents the use of headlights on this country road on which one car meets another, and it has always been regarded as a courtesy which any thinking car owner will observe to dim lights on approaching another car.

Cause of Many Accidents.

Hundreds of accidents have resulted from the glare of headlights, especially to small cars, which have dim lights. It is expected that more stringent legislation will be agitated for as a direct result of the accident at Talbotville.

Around this city complaints are frequently made that many motorists never dim their lights.

Mr. and Mrs. White will be able to leave the hospital in a few days, neither developing serious injuries. Mr. Westland is going around bandaged.

BEACH BUSINESSMEN WANT BECK'S ORDER REVOKED BY BOARD

Property-owners and businessmen at the beach at Port Stanley will petition the Dominion Railway Commission to grant an order compelling the London and Port Stanley Railway to stop their cars at the road leading to the pavilion, and other places of business. It is located about half-way between the village station and the London and Port Stanley station. These men say Sir Adam Beck ordered that the cars run past this road, so that all business would be directed to his pavilion.

Some time ago a petition was sent to the London Railway Commission, asking this be done, but the request was refused. The residents will now take the matter to the Dominion Railway Commission.

There is much criticism of the local management for its failure to agree to the request. It would be a great convenience to a very large number of patrons of the road.

It is understood that the commission has made an agreement with Fred Loftus, around whose place it was decided to erect a spite fence, so that the old photographer could not do business, although he has rights on the hill. He has been paid $200 for the property, the commission agreeing to remove his house to any location he desires.

SIX MINISTERS ACT AS PALLBEARERS AT FUNERAL OF DEPARTED PREACHER

Rev. John Mahan, whose death occurred suddenly on Thursday, was buried today at Wyoming. The funeral was held from his late home, 31 Askin street, this morning to the G. T. R. station and was largely attended.

Many ministers from the city and surrounding district were present. Rev. S. W. Muxworthy, president of the London Methodist Conference, presided at the services, and brief addresses were given by Rev. D. N. McCamus, ex-president of the London district; Rev. H. S. Dougall, pastor of the Askin Street Methodist Church; Rev. B. L. Hutton and Rev. W. H. Harvey, pastor of the First Methodist Church, St. Thomas. Rev. Dr. Manning led in prayer and the Scripture was read by Rev. H. T. Fergusson of the Centennial Methodist Church. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. James Kenney.

The pallbearers were Rev. Walter Pescoe, Rev. H. T. Fergusson, Rev. S. Anderson, Rev. David Rodgers, Rev. E. C. Couzens and Rev. W. J. Ashton.

Present at the funeral were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Mahan and daughter Donalda of Regina, Thomas Polley and Miss Louise Polley of Petrolea, Mrs. (Rev.) Thompson of Petrolea, Rev. G. Rivers and Mrs. Rivers of Petrolea.

KILTIES WILL SEND MEN HERE

Toronto Highlanders In Chicago for Recruits This Week.

RESULTS COME TO CITY

Influx of British-Born in the States Expected as Result of Tour.

With the arrival of the 48th Highlanders in Chicago this week a big increase in the number of British-born recruits reporting from the United States is looked for by local recruiting officers.

The band and a large detachment of men of the Toronto Kilties spent the past week in New York, but the recruits obtained there are not sent here, and their work in New York had, therefore, little effect on recruiting figures in Western Ontario. This week they are in the west, however, and it is hoped that it will mean a large increase in the London recruiting figures.

Four men were attested at the armories Saturday, and one was refused as unfit. A. M. Ewart, London, and Norman Rock and Wilbert Schieldel of Galt signed up, and also Silas Thomas of the city of Jerome, Arizona, who reported from El Paso, Texas.

Three men arrived in the city on Sunday, one from El Paso, one from Cleveland, and one from Denver. A party of fifteen men are expected to arrive from El Paso in the near future.

TRANSFERS RING TO ANOTHER PRISONER AT COUNTY LOCKUP

Lorne Sears Denied Having Possession of Diamond.

MOTHER COMES TO AID

Three Hamilton Youths Found Near Jewelry Store Are Further Remanded.

Lorne Sears, Oswald Clark and Charles Trevaskis, all of Hamilton, were remanded to jail again for another week, when they appeared in police court today charged with vagrancy.

The remand was made upon the request of Crown Attorney McKillop, who asked that the crown be given further time to investigate their records.

All Have Records.

Jared Vining appeared on behalf of Sears, and asked that he be dealt with leniently. A list of convictions against each was read by Mr. McKillop, showing that Sears had been found guilty on four occasions for violation of the law, but two of these only were criminal offences.

When arrested Sears had in his possession a diamond ring, but as it was not found on him afterwards, he denied having it at any time.

This morning Detective Downs questioned Mac Harbin at the jail, a prisoner awaiting deportation to the States, and Harbin produced the ring, claiming Sears had handed it over to him when he was taken to the jail.

Arrested Near Jeweler's.

The three were arrested by Patrolman Tutt on Sunday night, July 15, at the rear of Young's jewelry store in East London. Sears' mother came from Hamilton to secure counsel for her son.

Alex. McKee, giving his address as Detroit, and stating that he was a machinist, was arrested last night by a C. P. R. constable while walking along the company's tracks near Quebec street. He was charged with trespassing, but upon his agreeing to leave the city at the earliest opportunity, sentence was suspended.

Woman Often Convicted.

Florence Donahue, who has been convicted in the police court nine times since the summer of 1915, was remanded to jail for one week on a charge of vagrancy. She pleaded for just one more chance, but the magistrate failed to see the force of her argument.

Two returned soldiers and a Philip street resident of foreign nationality were each fined $10 and costs for being drunk Saturday night on the street.

The first soldier pleaded guilty without hesitation, but the second stated he could not remember a thing, as he had taken nothing but Jamaica ginger and local option beer. The evidence of two patrolmen was taken, and then he changed his mind, and admitted he must have been intoxicated.

Too Much To Ask.

The foreigner, in answer to the charge when read, said: "Yep, a little bit drunk." When the fine was imposed, the magistrate suggested that he had better quit drinking, but he replied: "No, no, I can't do that."

FOSTER WELL WATER TURNED ON TUESDAY

The water from the Foster wells will be turned into the city mains for the first time on Tuesday morning.

General Manager E. V. Buchanan has received reports from Dr. H. W. Hill, medical officer of health, and the provincial analyst, stating that the water was perfectly pure, and free from germ infections of any sort.

Owing to the fact that the river has been high it has been impossible to connect the amin with the Horton street reservoir. Temporary connections were made with the Beck wells system, so that the water can be brought to the city mains.

FIRST BATTALION MAN RETURNS TO CITY TO INSTRUCT CYCLISTS

Sergt. A. G. Cameron, a member of the original 1st Battalion, whose home is near Byron, returned to this city on Saturday, and as a member of the Cyclists Platoon will train the cyclists at Carling Heights camp for service overseas.

Sergt. Cameron returned from the front with a dislocated knee in November, 1916, and was taken on the strength of the Cyclists Platoon of this district, under Lieut. Atkinson, with whom he served at the front. After instructing the platoon at Queen's Park camp, he left in charge of it for further training as a part of the Divisional Cyclists at Toronto. When the Divisional Cyclists left Toronto for overseas service, he was left in charge of the depot at Toronto, where he recruited another platoon of Cyclists, and accompanied them to Camp Borden, where he has been engaged in training them.

Lieut. Atkinson again requested that he be sent here to assist in training the Cyclists at Carling Heights Camp, and the transfer was effected Saturday. His London friends will be glad to hear of Sergt. Cameron's return.

GUNNER SHERWIN IS IN FRENCH HOSPITAL

Gunner Harold Sherwin is in No. 4 General Hospital at Camieres, suffering from a gunshot wound in the left thigh, according to a message received by Mrs. Sherwin, 121 Oak street, this city, today.

Gunner Sherwin, who received his wound on July 11, left here with a draft from a Western Ontario battery over a year ago, and has been at the front since March.

WILL ACT ON ADVICE OF SOLICITOR RATHER THAN BECK'S ORDER

Controller Moore Objects to Tearing Up of G. T. R. Team Tracks at Sir Adam's Request Until Mr. Meredith Is Consulted.

A lively row between the Grand Trunk and the city is threatened as a result of the proposal to remove the team tracks of the Grand Trunk on Bathurst street from Wellington to Waterloo street.

This morning Sir Adam Beck asked the board of control to order City Engineer Brazier to go ahead and remove the tracks.

"I went to the Dominion Railway Commission to get it to order the removal of the tracks," said Sir Adam. "The board refused to sanction this, saying that it was merely a matter to be settled between the Grand Trunk and the city. I have tried to get the Grand Trunk to remove the tracks, but so far nothing has been done. There is considerable friction, and we are not able to use our switches as we want to. The Grand Trunk has no right to the tracks, as they are built on city property. The fact that they have been used for years does not constitute ownership. If you order them removed, we will be able to go to the courts and settle the matter. The engineer has the authority, and I would suggest that he be instructed to remove the tracks."

"Let us act on the advice of City Solicitor Meredith," commented Controller Moore. "Sir Adam has told us a nice story, but we should have the advice of Mr. Meredith, as there are possibilities of a legal entanglement and a lot of trouble."

"I did not tell you any story at all," retorted Sir Adam. "The facts are there, and we can't use our tracks."

However, it was decided to allow Mr. Meredith to offer the advice he considers proper under the circumstances.

If the city does attempt to remove the tracks, there would be some fun, as the Grand Trunk would oppose this.

HAMILTON ROAD LIKENED TO SHELL-TORN VIMY RIDGE BY AN OBSERVING MOTORIST

Enough Good Roads Speeches Blown Into Air to Carry Flock of Zeppelins, but Policy of Waste and Drift Is Pursued.

The Farmers' Advocate of current date has the following:

The other day in my rounds I chanced upon a stretch of the King's highway known as the "Hamilton Road." Its condition as disclosed herewith by the tell-tale camera is a lamentable reflection upon the name which the ambitious city at the end of Lake Ontario will likely want repudiated forthwith. If his majesty were compelled to motor over it a few times he would certainly throw up his job and conclude that the good road movement was a delusion and a snare. Catalogued as a "county road," the administrative fathers of Middlesex have there a horrible example of how not to do it, that might be mistaken for a bit of Vimy Ridge after the high explosives had got in their work. I surmised that it was maintained in this condition to harmonize with some of the streets in the city of London a few miles further on. It looks like a conspiracy to prevent any truck or trade between city and county, but autos and a few other vehicles manage to elude the boulders making a runway at the side. This road has a history, by the way, I am told it was a pre-railway wilderness route from Hamilton to London with a spur to Port Stanley. Parts of it are evidently in the pioneer stage yet. Motorists describe it as one of the worst roads in the country. Once it was coated with beautiful pine planks that would almost make a millionaire lumberman nowadays. It was gloriously smooth for a while, but the ending was worse than the beginning. The only thing about the experiment that endured was some of the long pine stringers the ends of which were seen sticking up at the lapse of over half a century as late as last season. After that the gravelling era set in and it will likely outlast the war. The bit of road illustrated is up along a moderate hill and is typical of several others having a wide, flat roadbed and no ditch to carry off the water. A carriage is in view navigating through the deep coating of soft Thames gravel and sand, so flux that even a steam roller would hardly pack it into a passable bed. Every heavy rain that comes starts a torrent down the middle of the road, washing away the finer material, leaving the unbroken stones and rocks to shatter tires and ruin horses' feet. It is a near approach to perpetual, municipal motion in a three-year circuit, gravel dragged on one season, washed back to the river the next and then hauled on again. This is what the patient rural taxpayer has endured so long that he has become calloused and half-insensible to the injustice perpetrated upon him by inefficiency. Nor can he be blamed upon want of knowledge for tons of road construction literature have been thrown broadcast in every county, and enough of good roads speeches blown into the air to carry a fleet of zeppelins. Neither is it due to lack of funds because under the procedure described sufficient money is wasted many times over to properly drain and crown the road at the outset. To put it plainly, the results in evidence are the direct consequence of a policy of drift, and it is up to the authorities to give the people something better for their money.

ON THE WING.

ATTEMPTED IN VAIN TO SAVE YOUTH FROM WATERY GRAVE

W. W. Dods and Charles Bartlett Swam Toward Victim and Sought To Reach Body by Diving—Believe Young Field Had Epileptic Fit.

How they attempted in vain to save the life of 15-year-old Willie P. Field, who was drowned Sunday night in the north branch of the Thames, was related this morning to The Advertiser by W. W. Dods of Huron street, who, with Charles Bartlett, was in swimming at the same area where young Field lost his life.

"We were in the water, having gone in from the west side, and we saw the lad come down to the water on his bicycle," said Mr. Dods. "He was quite warm, and we talked with him for a minute or two, and then, as he was just undressed we started to swim across the river. The current carried us down about fifty yards, and when we looked back we saw that the boy was in trouble. He shouted once and then disappeared. We started back at once, but were carried down some distance. We made a search for him, but although Mr. Bartlett dived, and we made every effort to reach him, he was not seen again.

"I have heard that the boy was subject to fits, but cannot say whether he was stricken with one at the time the drowning occurred. The whole thing was over in a few seconds, and our only regret was that we had started for the other side."

Body Is Recovered.

The body was recovered at a few minutes to 10 o'clock this morning at what is known as Becher's Island, a point nearly three-quarters of a mile from the place where young Field went in the river. It was discovered first by John Murphy, a teamster, who was hauling gravel on the north shore of the river. He noticed the boy's head above the water floating along in an upright position.

He summoned the assistance of other teamsters and the body was taken from the water and placed on the bank of the island.

Coroner Ferguson was summoned and decided that an inquest would not be necessary.

The remains were removed to the undertaking parlors of Smith, Son & Clarke, and later taken to the lad's home, Britannia and Cambridge streets, Oxford Park.

The funeral will be held from the family residence at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Services will be conducted by Canon Sage.

COMPANY HAS NOT YET SIGNED GAS AGREEMENT

The agreements between the utilities commission and the Southern Ontario Gas Company for a supply of natural gas here, have not been signed by the company and forwarded to the city.

Just when this will be done is not known, but General Manager Buchanan expects some definite information in a short time.

GIRL ACCUSES HIM OF ATTEMPTING ASSAULT

A young man, whose mother, an eminently respectable woman, has urgently requested that his name not be published, appeared in police court today charged with attempting a criminal assault on a 13-year-old girl, near Springbank, Sunday evening.

He was handed over to the county authorities, and when brought before Squire Chittick at the court house half an hour later was remanded to jail for one week.

It is claimed that he and a married man for whom a warrant has been issued induced the girl to go for a buggy ride with them. It is then alleged that when near Springbank the attempted assault was made, but the girl managed to get away, and was later picked up by a taxi driver and brought to the city.

She told her story to the police, and the one young man was arrested shortly after 11 o'clock by Sergt. Monahan, as he came into the city with the horse and buggy.

The married man in the meantime disappeared, and has not been seen since.

Scouts Theory of Storms Caused By Many Hydro Wires

Prof. Dearness Says They Minimize Danger Rather Than Reverse.

That electrical storms this season have not been more frequent in proportion to the rainstorms in preceding years was the statement made by Professor John Dearness to The Advertiser today. Although he had not kept a detailed record of the weather, the professor thought that this was the probable explanation of what many people regarded as phenomenal. The damage done by lightning, he thought, was perhaps slightly heavier than in former years, but not to such an extent as to be regarded as remarkable. He scouted the theory advanced by some that the increasing number of overhead electrical wires was one of the chief causes. These, he asserted, if they had any effect whatever, would tend to reduce the possibilities of damage by lightning.

FURTHER REPORT ON PAVEMENT MIXTURE

Sir Adam Beck Submits Tests Made by His Engineers.

Sir Adam Beck submitted to the board of control a further report on the character of the gravel being used for concrete work in the city.

Some time ago, his engineers took some samples of the gravel, and sent it to Toronto, where it was mixed with cement. The proportions of cement to gravel was one to eight, the same as being used by the city engineer. The concrete was allowed to stand for ten days.

The first test was made with the gravel as it came from the river. It was mixed with ten per cent water and one part cement to eight parts of gravel. The result, according to the report, was "sloppy" cement, similar to that taken from the Richmond street pavement on June 8.

For the second test, the gravel was partially graded, there being more fine sand, and a better proportion of stone in it. Six per cent of water was used, although the other ingredients were in the same proportion. The concrete was much better, similar to that seen in the Richmond street pavement on June 18.

After standing for fifteen days, the reports showed that the first sample was very wet. Crushing tests were made, the first mixture standing a load of 8,375 pounds, or an ultimate strength of 303 pounds per square inch. The second sample stood a test of 23,550 pounds, or an ultimate strength of 832 pounds a square inch, or more than two and a half times as much.

"These reports may be theoretical, but I submit them for your information," said Sir Adam.

There was no comment on them, but they will be printed in the minutes for the information of the aldermen.

THIS CHICKEN HAS THREE REAL LEGS

An industrious hen owned by W. J. Clark, tobacconist, has just hatched out a chicken with three legs. The regular legs are in the customary positions, the extra limb extending from the end of the baby bird's wing. It looks as if it were there to stay, too.

"Simply a good hen's appreciation of the appeal for greater production," said Mr. Clark. "Think of the wonderful increase in foodstuffs if each chicken would produce another leg."

"That hen must have visited the Winter Garden, and concluded that an extra leg was needed in these dancing days," said another man.

HEROES GET NO PASS TO HEAVEN

Evangelist Says They Are Not To Be Fooled by New Theology.

ONLY ONE SALVATION

That Is In Christ, Declares Rev. R. W. Andrew, Who Works Among Soldiers.

The large congregation that gathered in Adelaide Street Baptist Church last night listened with deep interest, notwithstanding the high temperature, to a splendid evangelistic sermon by Rev. R. W. Andrew, the noted Scottish evangelist and singer.

Mr. Andrew's subject was "Christ our passover, is sacrificed for us." I. Cor. v., 7, in which he showed that the soldiers in the camps are not fooled by the so-called "new theology," that if a man dies for his country on the battlefield he is sure to be saved and go to heaven. The boys know that there is salvation only in Christ, and that faith in Christ is necessary if the soul is to be saved from sin and hell.

Referring to the original passover in Egypt, he pointed out that there was no safety, no security for the family until the blood of the slain lamb had been applied to the lintel and side posts of the doors of the houses of the children of Israel. In like manner there can be no safety for the guilty sinner until the merit of Christ's death had been appropriated.

During the service he sang very feelingly, "He died of a broken heart." Following the reading of Scripture, Ed. Wilmer sang, "For You I Am Praying."

The pastor was present and had charge of the service. Mr. Andrew will speak each day this week to the soldiers assembled on Carling Heights.

RHUBARB REALLY CAME IN BUNCHES FOR SHELTER TOTS

Women Can Large Quantity For Winter Supplies.

CLOSE TO MANY HEARTS

Children's Aid Work More Than Ever a Magnet For Private Kindness.

So generous was the response to the appeal for ruhbarb to can on Saturday last for the winter stores of the Children's Aid Society Shelter that forty cans were put away and still a quantity of the pie plant remains for present use and to be made up into jam or conserved in some other way. Mrs. J. I. A. Hunt, Mrs. John Weld and Mrs. D. Regan took charge of operations. Mrs. Turner, a visitor from Philadelphia in the home of Mrs. Hunt, assisting.

Mr. Carroll and Thomas Joyce of the Pipe Line road sent in especially large supplies, a number of people taking over big bunches from their city gardens. One market gardener stated that he frequently has an unsold surplus of fruits, vegetables, etc., which he would be glad to turn over to the Shelter. He had not previously realized that it would be acceptable. He was assured by members of the board that everything to the smallest donation sent in helps to solve the problem of financing the work and supplying the children with good, wholesome food.

Will Gather Supply.

It is proposed this year to make a regular campaign of canning in order to stock up the larder at the Shelter, provided it is possible to obtain the raw material.

One member of the board who is willing to give her services in canning stated today: "We would be very glad indeed if people from the county, coming into the city, would remember us with any of the farm products they feel they can spare. The Shelter is a county as well as a city institution.

Apropos this suggestion, a wider interest than formerly is all the time being manifested in the Shelter and the work of the Children's Aid Society. The children playing on the lawn in front of the Shelter attract the attention of passers by, and it is not unusual to see people from out of town stopping their horses or automobiles to watch the little ones who are being given a chance to become good citizens.

New Plumbing Installed.

Extensive repairs are in progress at the present time on the upstairs part of the old section of the building, which is being bricked over and entirely remodeled. New plumbing is being installed to prevent trouble with frost in the winter time.

It has been suggested to hold an "open house" day when the repairs are completed to give the public an opportunity of seeing the Shelter and something of the work which is being done there.

AJAX BYLAW WILL BE DISCUSSED AT MEETINGS

This will be a busy week for the controllers and aldermen. Six public meetings are scheduled to discuss the Ajax Rubber Company's guarantee bylaw, and the plebiscite to establish a coal yard.

On Tuesday evening there will be a meeting at Victoria School, South London. On Wednesday evening there will be meetings at Talbot Street School and at the Empress Avenue School in West London; on Thursday at the Aberdeen School on the Hamilton road, and the Potter Hill School, and on Friday at the Ryerson School on Victoria street.

It is expected that the members of the council, prominent members of the board of trade, and others interested in the welfare of London will address the electors.

The Ajax Company will be represented, and there will be deputies from the Trades and Labor Council at each session to speak on behalf of both bylaws.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF MR. HENDERSHOTT.

Peter Hendershott, one of London's oldest wholesale merchants, died Sunday evening at his residence, 85 Fullarton street. Mr. Hendershott was born in Welland County, and belonged to one of the oldest families in the Niagara district. His grandfather was a United Empire Loyalist. Before coming to London Mr. Hendershott resided at Niagara Falls and St. Catharines. A wife and seven children survive him.

SOLOMON PERRY BURIED.

The funeral of Solomon Perry, veteran building contractor, who died on Thursday, was held today from his late residence at No. 1 Perry street to St. Peter's Cathedral, where solemn requiem high mass was sung by Dean McKeon, with Father Harding as deacon and Father Finn as sub-deacon. Interment took place at St. Peter's Cemetery, where further services were conducted by Father Finn.

The pallbearers were M. O'Sullivan, J. F. Faulds, William Durkin, R. Elms, E. Graham and J. Cleary.

BURIED AT WOODLAND.

Mrs. Jessie Bennet, who died at Lloydminster, Sask., July 15, was buried at Woodland Cemetery here on Sunday. Funeral services conducted at the residence of her son, Henry Bennet, Glanworth, were largely attended.

The pallbearers were J. Fowler, J. Smith, J. Bradish, J. Lewis, George White and George Weekes.

AIR RAIDERS FOILED IN FRESH ATTEMPT TO REACH CAPITAL; 8 PERSONS KILLED

Squadron of Twenty Bombs Felixstowe and Harwich.

FORMATION BROKEN UP

Hot Pursuit by British, but the Enemy Were Favored by Haze.

London, July 23.—Sunday's daylight air raid over the east coast of England which resulted in the repulse of about 20 German airplanes after they had dropped a number of bombs over Felixstowe and Harwich, killing eight persons and injuring twenty-five, lasted barely two hours. The morning broke bright and sunny, but a thick haze soon appeared. At about 8 o'clock the enemy machines were heard, and were seen flying high and fast toward the coast. They received a hot reception from the improved defences, in the shape of anti-aircraft gunfire, and were hardly well over the coast before their formation was broken up. They dropped bombs hastily before retreating.

Well "Peppered."

Observers say that the gunfire which followed the section which went down the Essex coast reached a pitch of unusual intensity. It was the movements of this squad which caused the firing for the first time of new warning signals in London.

British planes pursued the Germans well out to sea, fighting vigorously all the time, but handicapped by the low visibility. Reports of heavy firing received from various quarters indicates that the authorities have made a considerable improvement in the defences since the last raid over London. Thousands of persons turned out along the coast when the British planes went up in the hope of seeing battles in the air, but the combatants soon disappeared in the haze.

Raiders Driven Off.

A correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company telephoned from the Isle of Thanet that warning signals sounded in a number of coast towns, and that firing was heard soon afterwards. A number of airplanes which were already in the air proceeded in the direction of the firing, followed by fighting planes. Soon the signal that the raiders had been driven off was given.

A correspondent of the News of the World wired that seven German Taubes crossed the Essex coast, flying from the west, at 8:45 o'clock in the morning. Others followed at intervals until 9:30. In all about 20 machines passed and disappeared toward the sea without dropping bombs.

Excitement at London.

Some excitement was caused in London by the sounding of the raid warnings, of which the first notice was given in Sunday morning's newspapers. Persons unaware of the intentions of the authorities were convinced when the firing of signals began that German airmen had again penetrated London's defences and were showering bombs on the city. At 8:20 o'clock "sound bombs" were sent up from every fire station in the country transforming the usual Sunday morning quiet into a din which London now associates with an air raid. The signal consisted of three bombs fired at intervals of a quarter of a minute. There were distinct reports as the bombs left the small mortars and loud ones when they exploded in the air.

A Rush For Cover.

The persons who believed anti-aircraft guns were in action made a rush for cover, being urged to do so by police, who appeared in the streets with placards warning the public to seek shelter. The tube stations were favorite places of refuge. Some persons whose breakfast had been disturbed brought pots of coffee with them and finished their meal on platforms. Early morning services in the city churches proceeded without interruption.

About an hour after the first warning the police again appeared on the streets with placards announcing that all was clear.

There is little doubt an attempt was made to reach London. In giving notice that warning signals would be fired, the authorities announced that such warnings would not be given until it appeared from information received from the military that an attack on London was intended.

WESTMINSTER BOY HAS SUCCESS AS MINISTER

Rev. Robert S. Laidlaw, B.A., of Knox Church, Winnipeg, preached to the congregations of the First Presbyterian and St. Andrew's Church on Sunday, a union service being held in the former church in the morning, and the latter in the evening. Mr. Laidlaw is a Westminster boy, who has achieved much prominence, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Laidlaw. After graduating from the London Collegiate Institute he took his arts course in Toronto University and theological in Knox College. His first charge was in Belleville, and from there he was called some years ago to Brandon, Man. When a vacancy occurred in the big Winnipeg church he was invited to become the pastor.

He is spending a part of his vacation in his old home in Westminster, a number of friends from the country as well as in London making a point of hearing him yesterday.

100 ARMY HORSES TO BE SHIPPED TO PETAWAWA

The Remount Depot at Queen's Park is about to be disestablished, and the 100 or more horses at present quartered there are to be sent to Petawawa Artillery Camp in the near future, according to instructions received recently at militia headquarters from Ottawa.

When the last of the members of the 63rd Battery left for Petawawa, they took with them about 90 horses, and when the orders were received recently, it was at first though that all the horses quartered here, including those of the Army Service Corps, the Service Company, Canadian Engineers, and the Army Medical Corps, were to be withdrawn, but it is now expected that only those at the Remount Depot, approximately 100, will be shipped away.

Lieut. D. Stewart, officer commanding the Remount Depot, will still carry out his duties of assistant director of veterinary services.

O'CONNOR SHOULD FIGHT.

HON. THOMAS CROTHERS, minister of labor, announced on Friday in the House of Commons, that the publication of the O'Connor report was premature.

The minister would have seemed a more courageous person had he backed up his investigator and stood with him for good or ill.

Were Mr. O'Connor and his staff of economic experts an incompetent crew who blundered on, and on and did Sir J. Wesley Flavelle a monstrous injustice?

Mr. Crothers appears to admit that some terrible mistake has been made, but of course Mr. O'Connor is to be heard from. Sir J. Wesley Flavelle has asked for a judicial investigation, and the findings of the investigator who sent a wave of anger over the country are meanwhile shrouded in doubt.

Is it to be a pretty trick of side-stepping with the law's interminable delays? Perhaps it would be well for Mr. O'Connor to resign and "go to the mat" before the grandstand of public opinion. His minister has forsaken him. But the people are willing to give him a fair hearing.

FINLAND.

FINLAND'S declaration of independence, following the Russian revolution, is probably due to Swedish influence aided by German agents. It brings to this northern country an altogether new condition and one which is not likely to contribute to its peace of mind, for as a Russian dependency it enjoyed in recent years not only prosperity but an autonomy in internal affairs such as had not been granted the Russian provinces.

Finland has been a Russian dependency for a little over a century. Together with the Aland islands it was wrested from Sweden in 1809. It had been under Swedish rule for seven hundred years, a fact which the Swedes have not yet forgotten. As an alien country it was a menace to Russia, for its boundary was only thirty-three miles from Petrograd and it divided with Russia control of the Gulf of Finland. Long Swedish domination made Swedish the language of the towns and of the cultured and official classes and helped to maintain a bond of sympathy between the two countries. Since the day when Finland was lost Sweden has been suspicious of Russia, a state of affairs which has militated against Russia's operations in the present war, being responsible in part for Sweden's sympathy toward Russia's enemies. It has made Sweden an inviting camping ground for German agents with the result that supplies of all kinds have been provided Germany and shipments to Russia have been delayed in every possible way.

During the last three years political writers have urged the czar to grant independence to the Finns, not only as a measure of justice but also as a means of palliating Swedish feelings. Yet the fact that the Finnish soldiers were practically the last to join the Russian revolution showed that the country was tolerably well satisfied with its condition. It enjoyed self-government, universal suffrage, and freedom of press and religion, granted by the recent emperor.

As an independent country Finland is certain to cause anxiety in Europe. In area it is about the size of Ontario, new and old, and has a population of a little more than three millions. Its largest city, Helsingfors, has about 150,000 people. It is not favorably situated for either agriculture or manufacture, but has developed large dairying and timber industries. The fact that its trading is chiefly with Russia may offset the influence of Swedish language and customs, and as a buffer state it may relieve Swedish alarm over Russia's designs. On the other hand Russia's new government will have extra reason to fear for the safety of Petrograd, with the protection of the Gulf of Finland and the Aland islands removed. The report that the capital is to be established at Moscow bears double significance. In fact if by any chance the Finns are won over to the Germans the Russian situation would become extremely serious.

HOME CASUALTIES.

THE TRAGEDIES of a summer appear to have accumulated in the first burning-hot Sunday. Four boys are killed by a lightning-stroke while bathing, another is drowned, a prominent citizen is seriously injured, all within a space of a few hours. These home casualties shock more than the grouped slayings of the kaiser on the fields of France. The "domestic" accident which takes life affects us quite as keenly as it ever did. This shows that the war has not made us callous to loss of life by violence. Every casualty among friends or relatives also shows that the wells of human sympathy have not been dried. More than this, the tragic death which comes close to us releases the pent-up commiseration of which our souls are full. Life should be more treasured for the possibility of death, which is ever near.

LIBERALISM TO TRIUMPH.

LIBERALISM can stand the mocking jeers of Conservative autocrats, because Liberalism is always ready to risk its life for a principle. Liberalism can only live through the pains of disagreement and turmoil, because only machine-made politics is capable of framing a united front which disregards truth for party service.

Liberalism is at its greatest today, when it shows itself a party of free men who refuse to let any man hold the supreme power of decision. Liberalism has triumphed from coast to coast since the war began, because Liberalism is the one policy under which a country like Canada may win its destiny. Liberalism's fair appeal would attract hundreds of thousands to the colors.

Many tremble at the prospect of compulsory service because of the possibilities for an autocratic and partisan application of that principle. If favoritism such as has markel the present administration is to continue, if Rogers is to be the master hand, if an attitude of sending out the press-gang is to be displayed, it is well that an election looms ahead, as a great speaking-trumpet through which the people may cry their verdict in the ears of Borden, Blondin, Rogers & Co.

WELCOME ASSURANCE.

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE has given assurance that the number of ships built in Britain this year will be four times as great as in 1916, and that there will be as many finished in the last two months of the year as in the whole of the preceding twelve months.

This is most cheering information, not only because it shows how impossible it is for Germany to starve Britain, but because it proves the wholeheartedness with which the workmen of Britain have entered into the task of winning the war. Were there any appreciable number of shirkers, such a speeding up would have been utterly impossible.

Germany had officially admitted that the submarine is the only weapon on which she can base hopes of victory. Even now her chancellor has seen and informed the people that the U-boats cannot starve the inhabitants of Albion, but he counts on them to "impair England's economic life." With this great increase of shipbuilding, not to mention the number of vessels the United States has under construction to help the Allies, the submarine's opportunity is vanishing.

In the whole of Lloyd George's statement there is nothing out of which Germany can take comfort. It is a reiteration of the intention to fight to a satisfactory finish, with a stronger optimistic note than ever before. The contrast between the spirit of Lloyd George's words and those of the German chancellor can hardly fail to impress even the Teutons.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Now that meatless days are almost upon us boarding house hash and meat pies will be quite the vogue.

Parties who neglect to put out fires when camping in woods should be listed along with the fools who rock the boat.

Why is the man who boasts he is training an army in Montreal to fight conscription enforcement not jailed instead of interviewed?

Both first and second prize winners of the baby contest at the Returned Soldiers' picnic were called Cyril. Still they ask "what's in a name."

Spain admits that one ship was sunk by the Germans in Spanish waters, while Britain says there were twenty. Did Germany pay for even one?

Sir Robert Borden and Hon. T. Crothers might hold a conference, with about the cold storage inquiry. Neither advantage, and come to an agreement seems to know the other's plans.

It is peculiarly appropriate that Canadian knights must wear their decorations hung around the neck with baby ribbon. It makes the knighthood a little more ridiculous than before.

There's a fine chance of Britain returning the captured German ships, taken during "a brutal assault on defenceless merchantmen." That's a great phrase to emanate from Berlin.

Conservative papers have devoted much space to praising Hon. T. Crothers for his courage and honesty in giving out the O'Connor report for publication. Now he goes and spoils it all by expressing regret. It's a shame when his friends had just found something in him they could praise.

FIRST ASSIGNMENTS.

By Jane Osborn.

If librarians of the central public library ever have time to wonder at the choice of the books made by the men and women who haunt the reading-rooms, they might have well done so the day that Cecile Dayton called for at least a dozen reference books on football. For there was nothing about Cecile, from the tip of her high-heeled pump to the feather that drooped caressingly at one side of her hat, to indicate that she ever could master the rules of the game. But she actually had stood before the drawer of the card catalogue marked "Food to Forceps" for minutes at a time, searching out such books as "Fine Points on the Great Game," "How to Train for Football," and numerous special articles that deal with the technicalities of the great college game.

But even more would a librarian in an inquiring frame of mind—did librarians ever amuse themselves with such diversions—wonder at the selection of books chosen by the six-foot-two of stalwart humanity who later chanced to sit opposite Cecile in the main reading-room, for delivered to him and carefully concealed as soon as delivered was a volume on "How To Be Beautiful at Forty," and another entitled "Milady's Dressing Table." Tom saw the extremely feminine little woman opposite him with her fair brow puckered in a dozen frowns over the task she was attempting. He looked at her in wide-eyed amazement. At the second look he remembered that somewhere he had met her—a sister of one of his college friends, to be sure. He couldn't remember whether he had ever been really introduced to her or not, but at least he would give himself the benefit of the doubt. So forgetting the formulae for rosewater and vanishing cream before him, he waited for the next raising of the little woman's eyes, when he offered a very grave and dignified smile of recognition. From the girl's perplexed eyes came back an answering smile and then a look of self-pity. Then those eyes wandered down to the title of the book that was open before the man, and a smile that was disconcerting reminded him that he had not carefully covered the title.

In spite of the sign in the reading room that warned readers not to talk, and in spite of the vigilance of the attendants that made infringement of that rule perilous, Tom rose and walked around to Cecile's chair. In his mind his object was to express some sort of excuse for the book he was reading. It seemed all at once as if the most calamitous thing that could happen would be to have that blue-eyed little woman there with the drooping feather on her hat imagine that he was the sort of man who would read "How to Be Beautiful at Forty" for his own amusement. It was quite imperative that he tell her on the spot why—although half an hour before he had promised himself never to divulge the secret to any one.

"I didn't know yon at first," he began awkwardly. "You were hidden behind all those books. Did you see the book I was reading? I know you did because I saw you smile"—thus Tom made his explanation. "Well, it's awfully funny how I happened to be reading it. I'd like to tell you the joke, only those guards there might shoot if I talked. Seems funny to have those fellows watching all the time. But I suppose we mustn't talk here if it is a rule not to."

Cecile did not conceal the fact that she was glad the man had come to her rescue. She whispered that she hated to read the book she was reading, but there was a funny story connected with that, too, and then—it was after Tom had brought his detestable volumes over to Cecile's side of the table, as the light was poor on his side—she put a little note in his hand. "We can talk in the main hall," said the note. "Let's go out and meet for a little chat."

So Cecile and Tom met and compared their troubles.

"You know I wanted to break into newspaper work when I left college. That was two years ago, and so I got a job in the home town on the local paper—reporting first and then city editor. Then I decided to come to the big city. So I got an introduction to old man Jameson, editor of the 'Star,' brilliant man I suppose, but a dreadful bear. Treated me like a schoolboy, and just because I happen to be life size—he's a shrivelled little fellow with a monkey face—he told me I looked more like a prize fighter than a newspaper man. But he couldn't refuse to honor the letter of introduction—had to give me an assignment. And what do you think it was? Told me to get up some stories for the Sunday women's page on 'How to be beautiful.' And just to show that I can't be bluffed, I am going to do them, on"

Cecile had listened with amusement and interest. "That bear you spoke of is my uncle, Uncle Ben. Oh, you didn't offend me in the least," she assured Tom when he apologized. "He is a bear, but not such a bad bear when you know him, if you stick to it he will like you. You see, I get so tired of playing bridge and going to parties and winding Red Cross bandages that I asked him for a job. He hasn't any use for girl reporters, I suppose. Anyway, he was almost rude. But I insisted, and he gave me my first assignment. It is to cover the big game on Saturday. It will be first page stuff, he says, if nothing like a cyclone or a king's abdication crowds it out. And I don't know the first thing about football. Of course, I used to go to the games when you and brother were at college, but I never knew what it was all about. And now, in a day, I shall have to understand the whole thing. It is really enough to drive me distracted.

"But we aren't going to give up, are we?" she added after a moment's pause. "I am more anxious than ever to get on the staff, because you and I would be together, and I think between us we could make Uncle Ben get over some of his bearish manners. It is just a pose, in reality."

But Tom had been thinking, and though the near presence of the caressing green feather and the little blue-eyed lady beneath it had charmed him, he had not heeded her last remarks. He was thinking of a plan.

"I'll tell you what we'll do. We'll start a company," he said. "I guess you could get on to this beauty lingo all right. Not, of course, that you ever use any of these things—don't have to—but every girl knows something about powder, I guess. And I'll get the football write-up. I was on the team for two years, you know, so I can cover it all right. I'd insist on your going down with me and letting me tote you around, only I want to spend all my time with the men, getting inside dope, and if you were along I wouldn't see the game, I'm afraid."

It was half past eleven on Saturday night, and Cecile Dayton, with more than usual agitation, hurried from the elevator in the Star building to the arcade that led to the street. According to agreement, Tom Landreth met her there. A half hour before they had met hurriedly in the same place, just long enough for Tom to slip into her hand the typewritten pages that he had just dictated to the stenographer at the hotel that lay between the station and the Star office, containing the glowing account of the great game. Cecile had carried the pages to her uncle. Earlier that morning Tom had quietly carried in the first assignment of the beauty talks.

"What did he say?" Tom greeted Cecile on this latest meeting.

"He said that I didn't write it. He shrieked at me so that all the men on the floor could hear it. That was when he had just read a paragraph; and then he went on and read the rest, and I'll tell you just what he said: 'I know you didn't write it. No woman could have written that. I knew you would fall down on it. So I sent our regular man out, and his copy is on the press now, but this is great—rattlin,' and then he didn't pay any more attention to me, but called a boy and told him to rush this out to the copy man to have him use it instead of the other copy. I was just going when he called me back. I suppose no one is very polite in a newspaper office when the paper is going to press, and uncle is no exception. He fairly grabbed me by the arm and said: 'I don't know who did it, but it is tiptop stuff, and if you can deliver that kind of goods you can tell your accomplice he can have any job he wants on the paper.'"

"Bully, and now I'll tell you what he told me this morning," Tom explained as they hurried from the building. "He said that that was the best beauty dope they ever had. He said it would take with the readers—had human interest and all that sort of thing. He also added that he might have known a man would do it better than a woman, and he told me I could go on with it for double space rates."

Two blocks from the office Cecile met her limousine, where her faithful maid was waiting, sleepy-eyed, to escort her home, and Tom accepted Cecile's offer to "lift him" to his hotel. The maid was too sleepy to hear the words, though her presence gave Cecile the satisfaction of feeling that she was not breaking the rules of propriety even if she was handling her first assignment.

"The only thing for us to do is to go into partnership—business partnership," Cecile explained excitedly, and Tom, who was wondering whether the maid was too sleepy to hear their conversation, stopped wondering and took his cue.

"Yes, let's be partners—but not business partners only. Cecile, it seems years since I saw you first in the library the other day. Let's be life partners—let's get married." And only the sudden awakening of the dutiful maid at that juncture prevented Cecile from doing what no young woman of Cecile's good breeding is ever supposed to do—accepting a proposal the same day it is given.

AERIAL VICTORIES ON WESTERN FRONT WITH NEW ADVANCE

LONDON, July 22.—A British advance near Monchy-le-Preux is announced by the war office. "Patrol encounters resulted in our favor last night northwest of St. Quentin and south of Lens," the statement says. "We advanced our line slightly southeast of Monchy-le-Preux. The hostile artillery was active during the night in the neighborhood of Lens and Armentieres and near the coast."

NON-PARTISAN CALL ISSUED IN TORONTO TO STOP ELECTIONS

John M. Godfry Announces New Convention.

TORONTO, July 22.—John M. Godfrey, chairman of the Ontario branch of the Win the War League formed some weeks ago at a conference in Montreal, has issued a statement, which says in part:

"We believe that the conclusions of the Ontario Liberal members and Liberal candidates at the meeting on July 12 do not represent the views of the great mass of voters. At this time no attempt to hunt with the hounds and run with the hare must be permitted, and the inconsistency of the two statements that winning the war is the first consideration and that the coming campaign must be fought under the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is apparent. This leadership derives its principal support fro melements which not only openly oppose conscription but maintain that Canada has already done enough in the war, and do not support further efforts to increase recruiting."

After stating a coalition of all sincere win-the-war elements in the country is not only possible but necessary, that a national win-the-war government before any election, and that the recruiting should be continued, and not be permitted to delay the passage and enforcement of the military service act, it concludes:

"We believe that the time has mome when the people of Ontario must speak through new non-partisan agencies, and that the patriotism of the country is eager to unite on a level far above that of the old party lines. An open convention will, therefore, be called to be held in Toronto on Thursday and Friday, the second and third of August, of all elements in Ontario which are devoted to the above principles, to bring into active effect a union of the patriotic determination of this province. A formal call for this convention will be promptly nssued."

MEATLESS MENUS FOR CANADIANS, HANNA'S SCHEME

Food Controller Would Restrict Bread and Dinner Courses Likewise.

TORONTO, July 22.—Hon. W. J. Hanna, food controller, yesterday issued a statement, the most important item of which is the suggestion that no meat be served in hotels or restaurants on Tuesdays or Fridays and that no bacon be served on those days, either, and on other days only at breakfast. Also he suggests that at every meal there shall be supplied some substitute for white bread and that no more than two courses may be served for breakfast and luncheon or three courses for dinner with courses to be defined. Printed cards will be distributed setting forth the necessities of the situation and asking every citizen to sign a form of pledge to reduce considerably consumption of bread, beef, and bacon.

Siamese Latest To Join Liberty Cause and To War On Huns

Little Eastern Kingdom Joins With Entente Against Teuton Allies.

LONDON, July 22.—Siam has declared that a state of war exists with Germany and Austria, according to a Reuter dispatch from Bankok. Nine steamers, aggregating 19,000 tons, have been seized.

The object of Siam's declaration is to "uphold the sanctity of international rights against nations showing contempt for the principles of humanity and respect for small states."

All Germans and Austrians, the dispatch adds, have been placed under arrest and their businesses closed.

GERMAN RAIDER OFF SPANISH COAST, SAYS BRITISH FREIGHTER CREW

AN ATLANTIC PORT, July 22.—The presence of a strange vessel, believed to be a German raider, due west from the Spanish coast, and two-thirds of the way across the Atlantic from Europe, was reported by a British freight steamer which escaped from the unidentified craft and arrived here today.

Officers of the British vessel described the stranger as bark rigged with four masts and a smokestack rising between the main and mizzen masts. She was steering northwest at seven knots when sighted early on July 14 and bore down on the freighter. The latter out-distanced the supposed raider after a brief chase.

ALGONQUIN PARK.
The Highway to Health and Happiness.

No better place could be devised for a real holiday for red-blooded men and women, than Algonquin Park, situate about 200 miles north of the city of Toronto. It is an unspoiled territary of nearly 2,000,000 acres, starred with beautiful lakes and intersected by winding streams. No reserve in Canada can approach it in the wealth of attractions it offers to the lover of out-of-doors.

Away up in the Highlands of Ontario, 2,000 feet above the level of the sea, the park is a wonderful spot in which to renew the energies of a tired body or refresh a wearied spirit. Its tonic airs from straight hundreds of square miles of pine, balsam and spruce; the days are unusually long, with bright sunshine, while the cool evenings are a time of enchantment. The park is a paradise for the fisherman and canoeist; the excellence of its sport draws anglers from every part of the Dominion, and from every state in the Union, while the canoeist can travel for hundreds of miles in his light craft and be in a veritable kingdom of his own.

The accommodation in the park is such that the most varied tastes can be pleased. There are hotels for those who want to be in the wilderness—yet enjoy all the comforts that good service and social companionship can bring; there are groups of log cabin camps, comfortably furnished and ideal for family parties, with central lodges containing recreation and dining rooms, where you may dine and find everything ready for you on your return from the tramp; or if you have planned to camp under your own canvas you may step into a canoe at one of the little railway stations, and after a short paddle find a site unmarred by the hand of man yet within easy reach of the park outfitting stores.

Many families now go into the park expressly for the camping, making their headquarters at the hotels long enough to get supplies and camping outfit ready for the trip. Then in canoes, and with guides or without them, they launch out into the deep woods, camping where fancy prompts.

A handsome, illustrated publication telling you all about this famous park is issued by the Grand Trunk Railway, and a copy can be had free on application to C. E. Horning, Union Station, Toronto, Ont. July 31.

"Does better all things a tube is meant to do"

A tube is meant to hold air—well—as long as possible; to resist air leakage.

The fulfilment of this purpose lies in the word "laminated." Lamination is a quality-giving process that marks the line between the best tubes and substitutes.

For we take the best rubber and roll it out tissue-thin for inspection eliminating all sand holes and air bubbles. Then we build up, layer on layer, an extra thick, extra good tube. To finish with we vulcanize in the valve patch, instead of sticking it on.

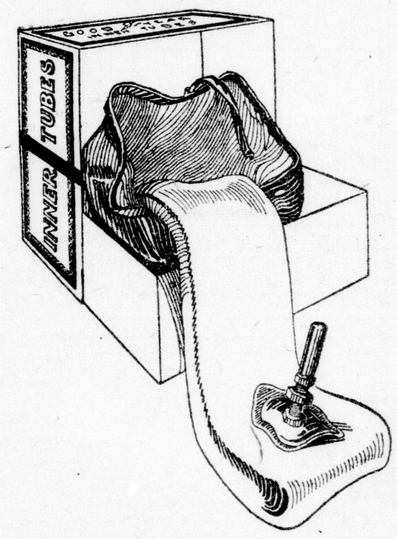

A costly process—yes. A cost that we pay. But we pay it gladly for it but follows our fixed policy to put the name Goodyear only on quality products.

When tubes are suggested, for your tires' sake, say "Goodyears."

Saturday's Session Heat of Physical Type and Not Verbal Kind

OTTAWA, July 22.—Parliament had a quiet sitting in a hot chamber on Saturday.

The Government promised to explain why it prohibited the circulation in Canada of the book, "The Fiddlers," which describes the liquor traffic in the motherland.

The prime minister promised also to consider the issuance of a statement of the war tax paid by various firms. The information was asked by Mr. Carvell, who said that a partial list had been given by Mr. Middleboro in a speech to the House, and he thought that it might be well to give Parliament the whole thing.

Bill for the protection of migratory birds, and for the protection of fur-bearing animals in certain seasons, were advanced.

LIGHTNING CAUSES HEAVY LOSS TO ZURICH FARMER

ZURICH, July 22.—During a heavy thunderstorm here, lightning struck the hogpen on D. Gingerich's farm, and it was burned to the ground, together with nine small pigs. With the assistance of neighbors, the large barn adjoining the hogpen was saved.

The local flourmill has signed up for 50 horsepower with the hydro commission, and will install a motor at an early date.

The wiring for the street lights has been nearly completed.

Zurich public school showed up well in the results published of the entrance and junior graduation exams. In the latter class all passed with honors, and one of the pupils, Jean Campbell, secured the highest marks in the county, 848.

Farmers are busy harvesting the hay crop. The yield will be much heavier than expected.

In a hotly-contested game of baseball played on the Clinton diamond, Zurich won out in eight innings by the score of 9 to 6. The Zurich intermediate team defeated the Dashwood boys on the local diamond on Thursday night by the score of 5 to 2.

Much damage is reported in this section as a result of the heavy rainstorm. Whole fields of beans are a total loss, and the damage will run into thousands of dollars. Many culverts were washed out in the township.

FUNERAL OF MRS. RAMSEY.

LOBO, July 22.—The funeral of Mrs. Marion Ramsey was held from her residence Tuesday, burial at the Friends' Burying Ground, Coldstream.

Miss Florence A. Brown has been engaged to teach the coming year at Lobo school.

Miss Ada B. Marsh, who recently underwent an operation at Victoria Hospital, is doing nicely, and will soon be home again.

The weather has been very unfavorable for hay-making.

Miss Ethel Bycraft is expected home shortly from England, where she has spent the past year and a half.

MOTHER AND CHILD HAD ARMS BROKEN IN RUNAWAY AT HENSALL

HENSALL, July 22. — Mrs. Herman Walters of Hay Township had her arm fractured and her little son also had his arm smashed when a horse Mrs. Walters was driving ran away after the bit had been taken from its mouth in order to let it drink. Mrs. Walters tried to save her little girl from injury by throwing her from the buggy. She landed in a ditch and was stunned. The horse ran until the buggy landed in the ditch and upset.

Last evening during a severe storm the barn of Colin Moir, a little over a mile northwest of this village, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed, together with some hay and a few implements. The outbuildings, the more valuable, were saved by the crowd which quickly gathered.

A large number from here attended the garden party held at Brucefield on Friday evening.

A congregational meeting of Carmel Church will be held on Monday to see if the congregation are prepared to give a call to a minister.

Common Sense Beauty Talks

The way to prevent a good share of the ills which do and will befall complexions in summer is to train the skin to stand exposure. A very thin, delicate skin freckles almost instantaneously. A firm, strong skin is not apt to freckle at all. Which sort of skin will you have?

I keep up my cold cream application all the year round. If the skin has no oil and is dry, it burns readily, freckles under the least exposure, and, of course, tan follows in the trail of these two evils. The remedy is obvious—you must keep the skin oily, and the application of cold cream brings this about, while at the same time it overlays the skin itself and is a real shield from the sun. Of course, I do not mean that you are to put a palpable layer of cold cream over your skin; but if you will rub into your skin all the cold cream it will absorb—and, with a dry skin, the amount will surprise you—and then carefully wipe off all surplus until no greasiness is visible, there will still be an imperceptible layer of cream over your skin to act as a protection. And when you supplement it with a dust of pure powder, you have donned a "veil" which will be of more permanent help than Amy's yards of chiffon.

Don't use hot water on the face at any time for cleansing purposes, not even when taking a hot bath. Wash it in warm water before you get into the tub; then let it share in the cool spray later, preceded by a tepid spray. After the cool spray, dash very cold water on the face. If you can stand the cold shower, face and all should share in it, but if you take only a cool shower or spray, then be sure to supplement it with the cold douche for the face.

Also, don't forget before you wash the face with tepid water, to cleanse it first with a pad of cotton and a liberal application of cold cream. This will get off the surface dirt, and at the same time soften the skin and the contents of the spores.

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letter can be answered privately.]

Not Quite Clear.

Dear Miss Grey,—Would you be so kind as to answer a few questions?

1. What would be the cost of starting a first-class nurses' home, run in first-class style, not as a boarding-house, where only those with best of references would be kept? Hoping I am not asking too much. AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—I'm not just clear as to what you mean, I'm afraid. Is it a home where nurses on private cases may rent rooms both off and on duty, but no meals served? It is not a bit of trouble to give any information I possibly can, but perhaps you'll write me a little more definitely as to what your idea is.

Pte. A. T. B.'s Address.

"Kilarney"—"Soldier Boy's Mother" sends me the latest address of Pte. A. T. B., No. 124556, so may I have yours in order to forward it?

Suit or Separate Coat.

"Bess From Essex"—1. Certainly it is a wise bride who considers both her purse and the suitability of the clothing she buys. One has to decide for herself whether a suit with blouse, or a one-piece dress with separate coat, be chosen. A nicely-fitting suit, with dainty blouse in voile or embroidered net, worn with a smart hat, and pretty corsage bouquet, looks decidedly well. Then you can have a one-piece frock (yes, they'll still be worn heaps) of silk or some fine wool material to wear later in the season with a heavy coat. For a suit, advise serge or a similar woolen material rather than silk.

With a quiet ceremony as you are having, the corsage bouquet is in better taste, and as it is "pinned on," you need have no more anxiety about it.

A neat veil in fine mesh is a very nice touch to a going-away costume.

2. Black derby, dark overcoat, and pearl tie.

If there's anything more I can tell you, just ask it, "Bess."

All She Can.

Dear Miss Grey,—In last week's paper I saw where "Nadine" sent two soldiers' names. I would love to help them all I can, and please find inclosed a stamped envelope for their addresses.

Please criticize my writing.

SAILOR GIRL.

Ans.—The addresses supplied by "Nadine" have been mailed. Your writing is large for a feminine hand, but very legible.

Tells Me a Secret.

Dear Miss Grey,—The letter with lonely soldiers' names has, I presume, been miscarried. Would you send me the names again, please?

Now, Miss Grey, put your ear close to the paper, and I'll tell you a secret. I've got the dearest, sweetest little niece you ever saw, only she's so small I'm 'most afraid to touch her.

Now for some queries, please: Do you think a girl of 17 too young to have a boy friend?

2. I have light brown hair, a somewhat dark complexion and chameleon eyes, being sometimes light and sometimes dark brown. What colors would you consider most suitable for me?

Hoping you can make out my scrawl, I am, as ever, SAFETY FIRST.

Ans.—Your self-addressed envelope is just returned to this office, marked "Not known here," so, my dear, there's a mistake somewhere. Naturally I hesitate to send the names a second time until I hear again from you.

Would say that shades of brown a little darker than your hair would become you; some blues, not too dark, and shades like old rose, reseda and bronze should be favorable.

That is a very nice secret, and I'll not even whisper it to a soul!

Books and Chickens.

Dear Cynthia,—Please tell me who wrote The Eyes of the World, and if he (or she) has written other volumes. Also would appreciate a recipe for chop suey or any other chicken dish. Thanking you, I am, A DAILY READER.

Ans.—The author is Harold Bell Wright, an American. He has also written The Winning of Barbara Worth, The Calling of Dan Matthews, The Shepherd of the Hills, and That Printer of Udell's. There may be more recent books, but I do not know of them.

2. Chop Suey.—Remove breast meat from an uncooked chicken and cut in strips one inch long. Melt one tablespoonful of butter, add chicken meat, and cook two minutes; then add three-quarters cup celery cut in thin slices crosswise, one onion peeled and sliced, and six mushrooms cut in slices; cook five minutes and add one cup chicken stock, half teaspoonful sugar, two teaspoonfuls of any sharp sauce preferred, green peppers from which the seeds have been removed, and cut into thin strips, one teaspoonful cornstarch dissolved in two teaspoonfuls of water. Bring to boiling point and simmer ten minutes.

Smothered Chicken.—Cut a young chicken up same as to stew. Dry it thoroughly and roll each piece in flour (put on all it will hold nicely), place in a covered baker, sprinkle pepper and salt over it. Pour over it one or two cups of sweet cream; if not, sweet milk and a piece of butter. Bake one or one and a half hours.

What appears a saving in price is actually an extravagance when you buy ordinary, poor tea. Salada yields twice as many cups to the pound, hence its economy.

Eat More Fish Instead of Meat

Fish may be served in all sorts of appetizing ways, and as everyone knows is better for one's system, than meat in the summer time. The following recipes may be found useful for the housewife.

Baked Bluefish, Sea Trout, Etc.—Have the fish cleaned and split and the backbone removed. Brush a baking pan with drippings; lay the fish in skin side down; dust with salt, pepper and flour; pour over two tablespoonfuls of melted butter or drippings and half a cupful of milk; place in a hot oven and bake for from twenty to twenty-five minutes, or until nicely browned. Remove to a hot platter, sprinkle with chopped parsley, and garnish with slices of lemon dipped in chopped parsley. Two tablespoonfuls of melted butter with two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley may be poured over the fish. Boil, drain and mash potatoes; arrange them in a border around the fish with a tablespoon, then sprinkle the entire dish with paprika.

Broiled Fish.—All fish are broiled in the same way: Prepare the fish as for baking; brush a broiler with bacon or ham drippings; place the fish in the broiler, the thin parts on top of each other (otherwise they will burn). Turn the broiler often until the fish is well done. Put the fish on a hot platter, cover with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter to which have been added salt and pepper to taste and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Garnish with parsley or watercress and lemon.

Small Fish Can be Baked.—Scale the fish and remove its head; then split it and remove the centre bone; cut away the small bones along the edge of the fish. Wash and dry it between pieces of cheesecloth. The fish must never remain in water after it has been scaled. Brush a baking dish with drippings, put in the fish, its skin side down; pour the tomato sauce over it and bake in a hot oven for from 25 to 30 minutes. Before serving, sprinkle with parsley.

Tomato Sauce.—2 cupfuls of tomatoes, ½ cupful of finely cut onion, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, white pepper and Paprika to taste, 1 tablespoonful of cornstarch, 2 tablespoonfuls of drippings or butter, 2 tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley.

Put the drippings and onion into a pan and cook until the onion is tender, but not brown; add the tomatoes and the seasonings and cook for two minutes. If the tomatoes are firm, add half a cupful of water. Strain; add the cornstarch, which has been wet with a little cold water, and cook for three minutes.

Fish Chowder.—Three pounds of any white fish, 2 cupfuls of diced potatoes, 2 cupfuls of tomatoes, ¼ cupful of salt pork or bacon, 2 cupfuls of milk, 1 cupful of finely cut onion or scallion, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, 1-8 teaspoonful of paprika, ¼ cupful of flour, parsley or celery top cut fine.

Clean the fish, put it into a saucepan with one quart of boiling water; boil for fifteen minutes. Remove the fish with a skimmer, strain the stock, and add to it the potatoes. Put the salt pork, which has been diced into small pieces, into a fryingpan; add the onion and fry until a light yellow, not a brown. Add the onion and tomato to the fish stock and tomatoes; boil slowly for twenty minutes. Pick the fish into small pieces, discarding all the skin and bone; add the seasoning, and the milk, which has been just brought to the boiling point. Mix the flour with cold water until smooth; add the mixture to the chowder and boil for five minutes. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve with warm crackers.

Jellied Fish.—Two pounds of any large steak fish, 2 cupfuls of strained tomatoes, 1 teaspoonful of onion juice, 1 teaspoonful of salt, ½ teaspoonful of table sauce, 6 stuffed olives, 1 hard-cooked egg, 3 tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin, 6 thin slices of lemon.

The fish is boiled in three cupfuls of water with a bay leaf and a small piece of whole mace for twenty minutes. Remove the fish with a skimmer, return the stock to the fire and boil rapidly until reduced to two cupfuls. Strain, add tomatoes, onion and seasoning.

Cover the gelatine with two tablespoonfuls of cold water for ten minutes; then add it to the boiling stock. Remove the skin and bones from the fish, break it into small flakes and put into a bowl or a mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Cut the lemon, egg and olives into thin slices, put around the edge of the bowl, then slowly pour in the mixture. Set in a cold place or in a pan of finely chopped ice until firm; then turn out on a chop plate that has been lined with shredded lettuce. Garnish with lemon and a few rings of stuffed olives. Serve with tartare sauce or salad dressing.

Deviled Fish.—3 to 4 pounds of fish, 3 tablespoonfuls of pimentos or green peppers, 2 tablespoonfuls of butter, 3 tablespoonfuls of flour, 1½ cupfuls of milk, 2 tablespoonfuls of parsley, 1 tablespoonful of onion juice, 1 tablespoonful of salt, ¼ teaspoonful of white pepper, ½ teaspoonful of dry mustard.

Cover the fish with boiling water; add one small onion and one tablespoonful of salt; boil for 25 minutes. Take them from the water; when cooled, pick the fish, discarding all bone and skin. Put into a bowl and add the sauce, mixing well; put into ramekins, sprinkle with bread crumbs; place the ramekins in a pan and put in a hot over for fifteen minutes. Scallop shells of clamshells may be used if desired.

Sauce—Put the butter into a saucepan; melt; then add the flour and mix; when smooth, slowly add the cold milk, stirring until thick and smooth; add the onion juice, finely chopped pimentos or green pepper, parsley, salt, pepper, and mustard (which has been mixed with a little cold water); mix well, then boil for five minutes.

Flaked Fish a la Creme in Ramekins.—Two cupfuls of cold boiled or fried fish flake (any fish will do); 2 tablespoonfuls of butter, 1 tablespoonful of flour, 2 egg yolks, 1 cupful of milk, 1 teaspoonful of salt, a few drops of onion juice, 1-8 teaspoonful of paprika, ¼ cupful of buttered bread crumbs.

Put the butter into a saucepan; when melted, remove from the fire and add the flour, stirring until smooth. Return to the fire and add the egg yolks and milk, which have been beaten together. Add slowly and stir constantly. When thick and smooth add the seasoning and the fish. Fill the ramekins and cover with buttered crumbs. Place in a hot oven for a few minutes, or until the crumbs are a light brown. Garnish with parsley.

Breaded Fish.—If steak fish should be used remove all the bone and skin; season with salt and pepper; dip in flour, then in well-beaten egg (to each egg add one tablespoonful of cold milk), then in bread or cracked crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat or oil. Smelts and all other small fish are breaded and fried in the same way. Serve with tartare sauce.

Escalloped Fish.—Three cupfuls of any cooked flaked fish, 1 cupful of fresh bread crumbs, 2 cupfuls of cream sauce, 2 tablespoonfuls of finely cut parsley, celery top or green pepper, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, ¼ teaspoonful of paprika, 1 teaspoonful of table sauce, 2 teaspoonfuls of butter, 1 tablespoonful of grated onion.

Brush an earthenware dish with butter; sprinkle with half the bread crumbs; then cover with the flaked fish, from which all the skin and bone have been removed; then with the rest of the bread crumbs. Cover with a cream sauce to which have been added the onions, salt, pepper, paprika, half the parsley and the table sauce. Bake without a cover for 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Fish Souffle.—1 cupful of cold boiled fresh fish, 2 cupfuls of diced or mashed potatoes, 3 eggs, 1 cupful of cream sauce, 1 teaspoonful of salt, ½ teaspoonful of table sauce.

Add the picked fish, cream sauce and egg yolks beaten until light to the potatoes. Fold in lightly the egg whites, which have been beaten until dry. Brush a baking pan with a little butter, put in the mixture, rough it on top, and bake until a light brown. Serve at once.

Crab Salad.—Four cupfuls of crab meat, 1 cupful of well-seasoned mayonnaise, ½ cupful of cut pickles, 2 tablespoonfuls of chopped green peppers, capers or stuffed olives.

Line a bowl with shredded lettuce and put the crab flake in the centre; then cover with the well-seasoned mayonnaise. Garnish with pickles cut into thin slices, and sprinkle with finely chopped green peppers, capers or stuffed olives.

Roe Salad.—Fry or steam the roe, set it aside until cold, then cut it into small pieces. Line a dish with shredded lettuce or watercress and lay the shad roe on it. Serve with either French or mayonnaise dressing. Garnish with sliced lemon dipped in chopped parsley.

Fried Roe.—Wipe the roe with a damp piece of cheesecloth. Put one tablespoonful of drippings into a frying pan; when hot, put in the roe, cover, and fry very slowly for ten minutes. Remove the cover and turn the roe carefully with a cake turner so as not to break the roe. Dust with salt and pepper, cover and fry for five minutes, then uncover and fry to a light brown color on both sides. Serve with lemon and garnish with parsley. Be careful not to break the roe.

WHITE BEAT RED SOX IN SUNDAY PASTIME

Boston and Chicago Go 15 Innings to Tie Saturday.

INDIANS GOING SOME

Bat Elephant Twirler All Over Lot for 17 Hits and 20 Runs.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Risberg's fielding, batting and base-running and Russell's good pitching enabled Chicago to shut out Boston today 2 to 0. Risberg doubled in the second inning and went to third when Schalk singled. Russell fouled to Gardner and Risberg dashed for home after the catch. The ball beat him, but he slid viciously to the plate and upset Agnew, who dropped the ball. In the sixth inning he sent Gandil home from second on a long single. His fielding saved Russell several times. Russell allowed the Red Sox but four scattered hits and only two men reached second base. Score:

YANKS BEAT DETROIT IN THIRTEEN INNINGS

DETROIT, July 22.—New York defeated Detroit 7 to 5 in a thrilling 13-inning game here today. Pipp started the final inning with a two-base hit, and a base on balls, two sacrifice hits and a single followed. Two singles and a sacrifice hit gave the visitors a run in the eleventh inning, but Detroit tied the score when R. Jones came home on Burns Texas Leaguer to centre. Score:

FINE GAME AT TECUMSEH PARK

London Blue Labels Win Five Straight by Defeating Winsor Wanderers 6 to 1.

The fans who missed the ball game at Tecumseh Park Saturday afternoon lost out on the best game of the season. London added another win to its long string of home victories, and sent the Windsor Wanderers wandering back home trimmed 6—1.

The Blue Labels looked good, extremely good at all stages of the game. Manager Dinsmore made a wise move when he moved Armstrong to first base replacing him with Jack Danford. John caught a great game, while Armstrong looked like a team in himself on the initial sack. The infield's work was snappy all the way through, and the outfield fielded faultlessly. Ernie Dinsmore made two beautiful running catches that were ticketed as hits. The work of Stickner on third base was remarkable. This youth has a whip that might well be envied by International League third-sackers. His pegging to first was worth going a long way to see. He had hard luck with the sticks, but against a right-hand hurler might have shown up better.

They Weren't Present.

Rube Deneau and Cy Reidy did not show up. It was stated that Rube was taken ill, but personally we don't believe that Rube ever belonged to the Windsor gang. Up until the seventh inning neither team made an error. Then Murray and Kaister came through with bobbles, much to the disgust of Frenchy Campeau, who used to pitch here several years ago with Guelph in the Canadian League. Frenchy was touched up for seven hits during the excitement, but contributed toward the visitors' defeat by handing out passes at the right time to the London team.

Yankee Flint pitched great ball, and the chances are he would have had a shutout to his credit had not Danford whipped the pill to Gadsby with a man on third. The return throw was just a trifle late to catch Lynch, who had been sacrificed round to third base.

Only Missed Two.

The first and the eighth inning were the only two spasms in which the locals failed to cross the pan. In the second Armstrong walked, stole second and scored on Smith's single. The next inning was opened with a sizzling two-bagger by Toots Doherty, who is one of the most dependable men on the team. Dinsmore beat out a nice bunt. Toots did a nice bit of hiking when he scored on Gregory's grounder with the infield playing in close.

Windsor managed to get a man on occasionally, but they persisted in trying to steal on Jack Danford, and it was all off. Rankin got an idea that he could pilfer third, but he and another of his friends were caught so far off the bag that they looked foolish. You've got to hand it to that London team.

In the fifth Dinsmore walked, and came home while the fielders hunted in the tall uncut for Danford's swipe to middle left. The Labels score two in the next inning, when Gadsby and Smith both came home. Gad walked, and got to second by a narrow margin, while Smith reposed on first on a fielder's choice. Gad stole third while Smith ambled down the line. Doherty lined the ball to Murray, who juggled it long enough for Gad to score. He then tried to get Doherty on first, and Smith came right on home while the first baseman had his back turned. It was a pretty bit of base running. Danford added another run in the lucky seventh, while Smith made the circuit for the last London score in the eighth.

There was a crowd of about 350 fans present. The teams:

R. B. RICE, TORONTO, WINS BOMMER TROPHY FROM GUELH RINK

GUELPH, July 21.—Once again has the now famous Bommer trophy changed hands, this time going back to Toronto, from which place the Fergus club took it. R. B. Rice and a crack rink from the Queen City club came up here Saturday afternoon, and succeeded in lifting the trophy from a rink skipped by J. B. Hoover, one of the veterans of the Geulph club. The score was 20 to 13.

The game was easily one of the most brilliant ever played here. The visitors deserved their victory. The green was in perfect condition, and Skip Rice and his players were compelled to put up a phenomenal exhibition in order to carry off the cup. The veteran Toronto skip changed end after end from two and three shots against him to as many in his favor. The Guelph club immediately put in another challenge for the cup, but it is understood there are one or two ahead of Guelph.

The rinks were:

Guelph.	Queen City.
E. H. Johns	F. Marks
M. B. Dulmage	W. Sykes
T. W. Fox	W. Philip
J. B. Hoover,	R. B. Rice,
Skip 13	Skip 20

Queen City seven shots up.

G. NIGHTINGALE L. R. C. WINNER

Boys in Fine Shape for W. O. B. A.—Ten Rinks Out Saturday.

George Nightingale skipped the winner at the Rowing Club Saturday afternoon, grabbing off three games, with a score of 15. The boys did some fine bowling, and should be in fine fettle for the W.O.B.A. that starts this afternoon.

LEAF AVERAGES

TORONTO, July 21.—The Leafs played seven games during the week and the players just about held their own with the club. Manager Lajoie continues to lead the team and added a point in the seven games. George Whiteman fell back a trifle and it is likely due to the shaking-up he got when he took a bad tumble early in the week. We look to see him spurt again this week.

Joe Schultz collected one or more hits in each game and picked up 23 points. He made the biggest gain during the week. Jacobson keeps up the good work and is steadily improving. His lift last week was for two points.

Most of the other regulars dropped a few points. Frank Truesdale turned in a mark of .333 for his first two games.

George Whiteman continues to lead the scorers. He has crossed the plate 66 times. Jacobson is ten runs behind him.

The averages, including Friday's game, are:

OLD HANS WAGNER COMES UP SMILING IN AUTO SMASH-UP

NEW YORK, July 21.—Hans Wagner, of the Pirates, hasn't a scratch to show today for his narrow escape when his taxicab was crushed by a street car. "Honus" was carrying a bouquet of flowers to his wife. He serenely emerged from the wreckage, holding the flowers with not a petal bruised.

BEARS AND ROYALS BREAK EVEN ON 2 DOUBLE PASTIMES

Toronto Breaks Even With Richmond Saturday Afternoon.

MONTREAL, July 22.—Ground rules prevented Montreal from taking both games here today, when Bill Holden slammed the ball over the right field wall in the ninth inning of the second game with a man on base. The ground rules called that the hit should be only for two bags, and both men were left stranded on the bases, the final score being 3 to 2 for Newark.

The Royals won the first game 6 to 0, Gerner whitewashing the league leaders in easy style. Scores:

REAL SPORT

The following account of a baseball game is taken from a weekly paper published in a small Minnesota village:

"The visiting team looked like conquering heroes in their short pants, but our boys sailed right in, long pants, paper collars and all, and finished them to a frazzle. Ye scribe had a good seat, where he could see the slaughter, also could view the fair sex, of which our lovely village has more than its share of. The visitors had a smart Aleck city fellow for a pitcher, but his arm was as stiff as his biled shirt before our boys got through with him, and they hit the ball so hard they busted the seams. They had a big fellow for catcher, but the ball didn't get past our boys' bats not so you could notice it. Very few was hurt in the game, but ye scribe got hit by a foul ball in the eye and didn't see the last two innings, which was played in the rain, which made the diamond and the game kind of mussy. The game was umpired by Coroner Crane, of here, who was fair in his work, according to the visiting players, who didn't have much to say after they got laced. Our boys done good team work, and Rance Haines, the popular bookkeeper, of here, kept a straight score, which was 18 to 2, and could of been more if the ball had lasted. After the game refreshments was served by the ladies of the church, and plenty to eat was had by all."

SARNIA GOLF

Ross Hayes Winner of Handicap Event.

SARNIA, July 21.—In an 18-hole sealed handicap golf match, which was concluded on Friday evening at the local links, Ross Hayes, carrying a handicap of 14, was the successful winner of the three golf balls offered as a prize, with a net score of 78. F. Hoblitzel and F. L. Riggan were tied for second position, and will play off the knot in the near future. Twenty contestants participated in the event.

FINE WEATHER FOR W. O. B. A.

Forty-Two Rinks Will Start Play This Afternoon.

Real old W.O.B.A. weather will greet the 42 rinks assembled here today for the big Western Ontario tournament. The weatherman has been keen in hand confidentially by the executive, and has promised his best brand of the hot stuff, which will mean that the boys will be able to leave off their sweater-coats and any other garments that they may deem necessary.

Twenty rinks are entered from local clubs, while sixteen out-of-town rinks are after the trophies as well.

All the out-of-town rinks arrived this morning, and had some regular old-time fanning bees. The grounds were nicely decorated with flags and bunting, and presented a festive appearance.

The first round of games started at 2 o'clock, while the second bunch to take over the eleven greens put into excellent shape by Dick Sparrowhawk began at 5 o'clock. President R. B. Rice of Toronto opened the tourney with a short address.

From the draw that has been made, it looks as if the games this afternoon will be as hot as the weather with a little more warmth tacked on. Snelgrove and Shannon of the Rowing Club are expected to put up a sizzling match.

BLUE RIBBON WEEK FULL OF PROMISE

Five Days of Good Racing Carded for Detroit.

DETROIT, July 21.—"Blue Ribbon Week," the official designation of grand circuit racing in Detroit, and which for a third of a century has been an institution in Michigan social, sporting and business circles, holds more promise this year than ever. So many conditions have combined to make the meeting, which opens here tomorrow, of unusual importance that with a fair break in the weather it cannot fail to be the best entertainment the present Detroit Driving Club has been able to offer its patrons. With a fast track, there is every reason to believe that the sport will be of the superlative order, the contests keen and the time fast.

All appointments at the state fair grounds out Woodward avenue have been put in shape, to harmonize with the excellent card of racing, and indications are that if any prestige has been lost by the Blue Ribbon trots in recent years it will be restored. Detroit never has relinquished first place among cities giving five days of racing. This week it will set a pace that is apt to make some of its rivals leg weary.

Of greatest interest on the grand circuit racing bill here are the old standbys, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' stake for trotters and the Board of Commerce stake for pacers. These have been the leading fixtures of the turf since the creation interest in them never has waned, and this year it is far more general than in many reasons. The Merchants' and Manufacturers' looks like the toughest proposition that there has been mentioned as a likely winner or contender was beaten during the first four days at Cleveland, Lucile Spier, Wilkes Brewer, Busy's, Lassie, Chilcoot, and others were in the dust of the winners.

So the racing of the "M. and M." dawns with the public at sea as to which is best of the dozen or so that will accept the issue in this $10,000 affair.

Track conditions were such that Ridgemark, winner of the Ohio stake last week, did not go fast, but it is believed that there will be record miles in the "M. and M." if the footing is right.

Less has been said about the Board of Commerce stake, but the beating of Peter Look, conceded to have the best chance, has put that event in the same class with the trot.

From a racing standpoint there is about as much interest in the late closing purse events as in the stakes. The reason of this is the presence in these of the pick of the Michigan and Ohio half-mile track circuits. Generally the horses from the small tracks have been regarded as fillers in, but this time they are more than that, in fact they have given the grand circuit steeds a good trimming in their encounters thus far.

While the big line stables have been working on the smooth mile tracks, with everything in their favor, the half-milers have been battling on ovals at times little better than bull rings. They are hard as nails and when they do strike good footing they are hard to catch.

Detroit this year has more half-milers in its purse events than any track where the sport is confined to a week. In fact, the percentage is as great as that at Columbus, where the fall round-up assembles all of the half-mile track talent. In addition to the winners at North Randall, there will be a herd of victors from the "shortship" circuit that will show some drivers they are not the whole works.

TIGERS VS. MUELLERS AT SARNIA TONIGHT

SARNIA, July 21.—The league-leading Tigers will engage the tail-end Mueller nine in a six-inning contest on Monday evening, and it promises to be a lively fracas. Rumors have been current since the Tigers battled their way to the league lead that the Muellers are after their scalps, and it is stated that they will go into Monday night's contest "loaded for bear." Harrington and Duncan will perform for the brassmakers, and Morris and Paige for the Tigers.

KINGS OF RING IN TITLE SCRAP

Kilbane and Leonard Clash for Lightweight Honors at Philadelphia.

DETROIT, July 22.—Fur will fly tomorrow night when Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight king, stakes his ring career at Philadelphia against the lightweight title held by Benny Leonard.

Probably not in the history of the American ring have two lightweights ever been matched against each other who possessed the class of Johnny Kilbane and Benny Leonard.

As there will be scarcely four pounds difference in their weight on the night of the contest, they will virtually start equal, as Kilbane enjoys an advantage of one inch in height, with a corresponding advantage in reach. This, coupled with his ring experience and hitting powers, may be considered almost sufficient to balance the difference in weight.

Leonard was born April 7, 1896, and in consequence is 21 years old, while Kilbane is also an April progeny, arriving on the eighteenth day of that month in 1889, so he must confess to 28 years. The former is 5 feet 5 inches in height, and the latter one inch taller.

Both Have Admirers.

The moment the match was consummated and all the details arranged the sportsmen of America began to take sides. Each boxer has a legion of admirers. Each has won his distinction in a fair and square manner, outclassing each opponent in his respective class. Each can hit a knockout blow. Each has many decisive victories to his credit. So it is no wonder that when this match was made the tongues of ring followers began to wag.

When the writer suggests that not within the knowledge have two men with the peculiar assets of Kilbane and Leonard ever faced each other in the lightweight class, he fears no contradiction. You can go back to McAuliffe and ransack the pages of ring history and you will not find two men who possessed the same attributes as the duo who are to clash at Shibe Park.

Leonard is an aggressive boxer. In fact, he is a combination of the boxer and fighter, relentless when he gets an opponent going, and he never has been known to "back up" under fire. He is what is termed a good two-handed boxer, can hit a knockout blow with either hand and is a splendid blocker, timing his parries and counters to a nicety. Just what he can do on the defence when facing a skilled opponent will be discovered tomorrow.

Kilbane Greatest.

In Kilbane, America has a featherweight whose equal has not lived in the present generation of boxers. He has outclassed them all. Matchmakers and promoters have been unable to dig up any more opponents in the featherweight division who could be rated as having a chance with the 122-pound king. So, in order to be kept busy and show the proper interest on the $1,000,000 investment, as Manager Jimmy Dunn estimates Kilbane, the latter has been obliged to go out of his class. He threw his hat into the lightweight ring.

Had he always been careful to limit his opponents to 133 pounds, which he has done in the case of Leonard, his career would have been naught but conquest. He, however, took on Ritchie Mitchell and Rocky Kansas, two boxers nearer welterweights than lightweights, and both "roughed" the champion up.

GOES TO TORONTO.

BROOKLYN, July 22.—The Brooklyn National League club yesterday sold Catcher John Snyder to the Toronto club of the International league. Snyder was drafted from the Macon club.

The Navy's Brand of Efficiency

covers everything afloat, from manoeuvring battle-cruisers, training great guns, and spotting "subs" to keeping brass-work "bright", decks spotless and faces clean-shaven. The naval life, with its training and traditions, develops men who are never satisfied with equipment that "will do", but only with that which will do best.

In this atmosphere the Gillette Safety Razor most emphatically "makes good". Always keen—always ready for instant action—swift and workmanlike—the Gillette commands the respect of the most exacting naval man, and the affection which every real man feels for a good tool.

The man ashore who shares the clean-cut efficiency of the Navy is equally enthusiastic over the Gillette Safety Razor—or will be the morning he tries it first. He will realize then what comfort and genuine satisfaction a man can get out of a three-minute Gillette shave!

These are days when no man should waste unnecessary time or money over shaving, particularly when so quick, so clean and so smooth a shave waits at home for every owner of a Gillette. If you are not already one of them, join their ranks to-day!

The Beechams and Newspaper Advertising

Sir Joseph Beecham, who died recently at St. Helen's England, was a strong believer in and patron of newspaper advertising—as was his father, the founder of the Beecham business.

The elder Beecham used to say, "There is only ONE advertising medium—the NEWSPAPERS!"

He was one of the first men in Europe to recognize the value of newspaper advertising and early impressed his views upon his son, who he intended should succeed him.

Under Sir Joseph's management, according to Sir Joseph's own testimony, about 98 per cent of the Beecham appropriation went to the PAPERS, the remaining 2 per cent having been spent for "supplementary work and detail."

As time went on, the Beecham business grew to be very large. Sir Joseph left a fortune of many millions, notwithstanding the numerous charities and philanthropic movements connected with his name.

It is the old story—Give your business INDIVIDUALITY, then get back of it, and—PUSH!

Liberal use of PRINTER'S INK in the daily papers—a "square" CAUSE, and proper co-operation with the advertising, and you are BOUND TO W-I-N!

SAPPER SHAWCROSS, INSTANTLY KILLED IN BELGIUM ON JUNE 25

Advertiser Illustrations

Mrs. J. H. Shawcross of 133 Ann street has just received word of how her husband met his death. While engaged with twenty others on an advanced piece of construction, a German shell burst a few feet from where the men stood. A fragment struck Sapper Shawcross in the head, killing him instantly. Two others of the party were killed and four wounded. All were buried in the new military cemetery at Poperinghe. Sapper Shawcross was a member of the 127th Canadian Railway Troop.

MOTHER FIGHTS LIKE TIGRESS TO PREVENT LAW WRESTING CHILDREN FROM HER CLASP

Mrs. Emma Liley Adjudged Guilty of Neglect of Family While Husband Is Overseas—Little Ones Scream and Mother Faints Upon Separation.

The four children of Mrs. Emma Liley, 373 Dundas street, ranging in ages from 3 to 13, were awarded to the Children's Aid Society today by Magistrate Graydon when the evidence submitted proved the charge that she had neglected them.

The information was laid against Mrs. Liley by Inspector Joseph Sanders of the society, who proved that the children had not been surrounded by influences in the home that had been conducive to their general welfare.

The case was heard in Magistrate Graydon's office, and it was only after the strongest evidence to prove neglect that the magistrate decided to hand the children over to the society.

Begs for Children.

During the hearing Mrs. Liley pleaded with tears in her eyes that her children be not taken away.

When the decision was finally made, and Inspector Sanders started to take the children, Mrs. Liley interfered and fought like a tigress for possession of her children. The children screamed and clung to the mother and Inspector Sanders appealed to Chief Williams to help him out of the difficulty.

Finally Mrs. Liley was induced to go downstairs, and after some further argument consented to allow the children to be taken to the shelter.

Mother Falls in Swoon.

The police motor car was brought out and when the moment of separations came the children again started to scream and cry. Mrs. Liley became hysterical at this point and fell to the floor in a swoon. She was carried into the detectives' office and revived after some minutes. In the meantime the four children, in charge of Inspector Sanders and Adam McGuire, were placed in the motor car and taken to the shelter.

Sent Them to Toronto.

In order to prevent the four children from being placed in the shelter three weeks ago Mrs. Liley sent them to Toronto unaccompanied to a brother there. The children arrived in Toronto on a late G. T. R. train, and were taken over for the night by the Salvation Army. The brother had them returned to the city two days later.

According to Inspector Sanders the brother has advised that the children be taken over by the society if the evidence warranted the magistrate in finding his sister guilty of neglect.

Father Is Overseas.

The father of the children is overseas having left this city last summer with the 142nd Battalion. The children were placed in the Shelter last winter for some months upon complaints being made to the society.

Evidence was submitted today to prove that Mrs. Liley had been in the habit of frequently calling at the jail to see Mac Harbin. She had on every occasion brought him delicacies not on the jail bill of fare.

She protested that she had never neglected the children, but as the evidence against her was overwhelming, the magistrate was forced to give them to the keeping of the society.

They will be given back again when the father returns from overseas or if it is proven that she can take proper care of them.

102 EMPLOYEES OF TUCKETT FACTORY GO OUT ON STRIKE

Discharge of Cigarmaker Is Cause of Trouble.

A RETICENT ATTITUDE

Men and Employers Object To Stating Particulars Regarding Disagreement.

Claiming that one of their number, Fred Humble, had been discharged without a reasonable cause, 102 cigarmakers at Tuckett's went out on strike at 9 o'clock this morning, and were still out at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The cigarmaker, it is claimed, was discharged because of stock condition.

The affair the men claim is not one affecting the union, but purely a shop matter, which it is expected will be adjusted soon.

The superintendent at the factory declined in any way to discuss the matter claiming he knew of no trouble.

WHITE SOX TO LOSE SIX MEN

Chicago, July 22.—Of the two Chicago major league clubs, the White Sox were the hardest hit by the draft, an accounting shows.

Ball players drawn were apportioned as follows:

Sox — Eddie Collins, second baseman; "Lefty" Williams and Mel Wolfgang, pitchers; Charles Risberg, shortstop; Byrd Lynn and Joe Jenkins, sub-catchers.

Cubs—Claude Hendrix, pitcher; "Reddy" Elliott, catcher, and Charles Deal, third baseman.

Several of these men are able to claim exemption because they are married. Among these is Collins.

LONDON MAN SAYS HE SPENT HUNDREDS WITHOUT RESULTS

No Treatment That He Tried Gave Him Relief.

FEELS LIKE NEW MAN

Tanlac Has Done More Good Than Anything Else He Ever Took, He Says.

Nearly everybody, especially railroad people in London, Port Stanley and St. Thomas, knows Marshall Thomas, a popular conductor on the London and Port Stanley Railroad, residing at 535 Grey street, London. Mr. Thomas is among many well-known people in this section who have testified to the benefits they have derived from the use of the new medicine, Tanlac. In an interview at his residence a few days ago, Mr. Thomas said:

"I suffered from stomach trouble for more than five years; for nearly four years of this time I never ate any breakfast, and the only thing I could take was a cup of tea. I always had a bad taste in my mouth, and what little I managed to eat didn't taste right. I had a painful, burning sensation in the pit of my stomach, like I had swallowed a coal of fire, gas would form and make me miserable. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep much and would get up in the mornings as tired as when I lay down at night, and felt tired and draggy all day. I seemed to have no energy or ambition and just felt my health rapidly slipping away from me. I tried all kinds of treatment and spent several hundred dollars trying to get well, but nothing seemed to reach my trouble, and I continued to grow worse.

"Tanlac proved to be just what I needed, and two bottles of the medicine have made me feel like a new man through and through. I can now eat a hearty breakfast every morning, my food tastes good and don't bother me like it did. The gas has about disappeared from my stomach, I'm not constipated like I was, and my tired, sluggish feelings have left me. I have more energy and ambition now, in fact, I haven't felt as good in several years. Tanlac has done me more good than all the medicines I ever took and I have made up my mind to take a full course of six bottles to make sure those miserable feelings I used to have are snowed under for good."

The food people eats does them absolutely no good unless they digest it. When you suffer from indigestion or other forms of stomach trouble, the food does you harm instead of good, because food which is not digested stays in the stomach and ferments, causing pains, swelling, gas on the stomach, shortness of breath, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness and many other disagreeable symptoms. If this condition is permitted to run on for an indefinite period the entire system becomes saturated with poisons and various complications are apt to result.

Mr. Thomas' trouble was relieved by Tanlac simply because it toned up his vital organs and enabled him to digest his food properly. In fact, there is not a single portion of the body that is not benefited by the helpful action of Tanlac, which begins its work by stimulating the digestive and assimilative organs, thereby enriching the blood and invigorating the whole system. Next, it enables the weak, worn-out stomach to thoroughly digest its food, permitting the assimilation of the nourishing products to be converted into blood, bone and muscle.

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the personal direction of the special Tanlac representative. —Advt.

CITY BREVITIES

STORES ARE CLOSED.—As the ledgers of the ordnance stores are being balanced this week, the stores will be closed for all but urgent issues, camp orders announce today.

STREET CARS COLLIDE.—Normal car No. 90 and Richmond car No. 74 were in collision at the corner of Dundas and Richmond streets last night. The Normal car was so badly smashed that it had to be sent to the barns.

NOT OUT OF BOUNDS.—The Military Y. M. C. A. premises are for purposes of administration to be considered as a part of the camp lines, camp orders state, and men who, for duties or other reasons, are required to remain in camp will not be considered out of bounds, if they enter the "Y" tents.

PUTTEES DISCARDED.—Hot weather plays havoc with the clothing regulations in camp, and puttees are the latest articles to be discarded by the men at Carling Heights. Camp orders announce today that during hot weather, by direction of the officer in command of the Central Training Depot, puttees may be dispensed with for drill purposes.

INSPECTION OF GARDENS.—An inspection will be made this evening by city officials and representatives of the Women's Gardening Association of the community gardens of the association in various parts of the city. The party will leave Richmond street, in front of St. Paul's Cathedral at 6:30 o'clock, going first to the gardens in the north end and winding up with Belvidere, South London. The object in going at this time is to see the women and girls at work on their gardens in the evening, the majority of them being engaged on other work during the day.

NEW MOTOR RULINGS PROHIBIT ALL UNDER 16 YEARS AS DRIVERS

High Power Headlights Must Be Deflected On Ground.

SPOTLIGHTS ARE BANNED

New Regulations Make For Safety of Travel On Public Highway.

Recent amendments to the Ontario Motor vehicle act go to show that greater safety is provided for pedestrians by the adding of such restrictions as will in every way guard against accidents.

Not only is the safety of pedestrians provided for, but the careful motorist is furnished additional safeguards that will make driving for him freer from danger and accident.

None Under Sixteen May Drive.

Under a certain section it is an offence for any person under 16 years of age to drive a motor car upon the public highway. This amendment was made because of many accidents that have occurred in which persons under that age were found to be driving. The same section also provides that any person between the ages of 16 and 18 shall not drive a car unless an examination has been first passed and the person furnished with a certificate.

Section 9, subsection 4, makes it an offence to use glaring headlights on the public highway.

The wording is that "no light of over four candle-power, equipped with a reflector, unless the same be so designed, deflected or arranged that no portion of the beam of deflected light, when 75 feet or more ahead, shall raise above 42 inches from the surface of the highway" shall be used.

No Spotlights Allowed.

No spot or revolving lights, no matter what candle-power or how arranged, can be used on a car. These were usually attached to the windshield.

Both front lights must be lighted between dusk and dawn. Formerly one light was all that was required if the motorist did not care to light both.

When motors or other vehicles meet at any street intersection, the one to the right has the right-of-way over the other.

Section 10 provides that any bylaws passed by a municipal corporation or police commission with respect to regulating motor traffic, that are found to be inconsistent with the sections of the provincial act must be deemed inoperative and repealed.

LISTOWEL RACING

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Listowel, July 21.—The trotting and pacing race meet, postponed some time ago, was run off here today, and proved to be a great treat. There were plenty of fast horses, and they raced from wire to wire. The proceeds went to patriotic purposes, and a considerable sum was obtained. Mayor Watson and J. A. Kelly were largely responsible for the success of the venture. The results:

Time—2:16⅛, 2:16, 2:19¾, 2:16¼, 2:18½.

The farmers' race was won by the Holman entry, with the Hueston entry second, the Coates' entry third, and the Moore entry fourth. The best time was 2:49¼.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE AFTER MANY TRIALS TO JOIN THE FORCES

Pte. Boynton Throws Himself Under Motor Car.

HAS DESIRED EFFECT

Young Man Who Haunted the Armories Is Likely To Be Signed On Forces.

Pte. G. A. Boynton a returned soldier, formerly of St. Thomas, but who resided in London for some time, tried to commit suicide in Hamilton last week, throwing himself under the wheels of an automobile. The machine was stopped in time to save his life. He is being sent to Camp Borden, where it is possible that he may be sent overseas with a battalion.

The youngster enlisted in St. Thomas when 16 years of age, and got as far as England. He was turned back owing to his age, and came to London. Here he tried to enlist for overseas service, but was refused repeatedly.

Later he went to Hamilton, where he made further efforts to sign up, but in every instance was turned down. The other day the Mounted Rifles refused him, and he tried to commit suicide.

According to advices from Hamilton, Boynton will not work in any civilian capacity. He was bought a fine suit of clothes, but pawned them for something to eat. He informed the police there, that he had but one ambition, and that was to go to the front. He claimed that his father and two of his brothers had been killed in battle, and he would not do any work until his request has been granted. Life is nothing to him, he said, and he preferred to die rather than live as a civilian without doing his bit. He wanted to get a shot at the Huns, and would do nothing until he got the chance.

The Hamilton authorities sent him on to Camp Borden, with a request that he be given a chance to go across.

Pte. Boynton's mother went down with the Empress of Ireland, when that vessel was sunk in the St. Lawrence River.

He is well known locally, and for some weeks haunted the armories and the militia headquarters, trying to get attached to an overseas unit.

SMOKY JOE ALLEN IN FORM AT BRANTFORD

BRANTFORD, July 22.—Smoky Joe Allen was back in form on Saturday afternoon, holding the Cordage Works to one hit and scoring a shut-out. The game was a keen one, the Dominion Steel Products not scoring until the ninth, when they pushed one run across. O'Connor, for the losers, twirled a fine game, allowing but five hits, but Allen was better. Two double-plays by the Steel Products put zest in the game. In the preliminary the Motor Trucks defeated the Holmedale Cubs 8 to 3, bunching their hits, particularly in the third inning, when they scored six runs. It is reported that a scout from Toronto is looking Allen over.

The batteries were: First game—Cubs, Johnson and Summerhayes; Motors, Buckburrough and Rupp.

Second game—Steel Products, Allen and Tillman; Cordage, O'Connor and Wright.

Umpires—Legairy and Hambourg.

DAY AFTER ONE SON IS REPORTED KILLED, ANOTHER WOUNDED

Mrs. Mary Dent Hears of the Accidental Death of One Boy.

SECOND IS IN HOSPITAL

Five Sons and Husband Have Offered Selves To Cause Since Outbreak.

To have two of her sons numbered among the casualties within two days is the experience that brought sorrow to the heart of Mrs. Mary Annie Dent, Rogers avenue, this city. On Friday last she received word that Bugler Percy Arthur May, a son by a previous marriage, had accidentally met his death on June 29, and on Saturday her cup of sorrow, already full, was filled to the overflowing, when a message came telling her that Pte. Robert Dent was in a hospital suffering from a severe gunshot wound in the left leg. Five of Mrs. Dent's sons, as well as her husband, have donned the khaki since war began.

Bugler Percy May.

Bugler Percy A. May, who was 23 years of age, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian May, and one daughter, a year old. Four brothers and two sisters also survive him. He was a former member of the 7th Regiment Fusiliers and the Dufferin Rifles of Brantford. He was employed at McClary's plant previous to his enlistment in a Western Ontario Battalion.

Pte Robert Dent, the news of whose wounding came on Saturday, is at No. 18 General Hospital, Camieres. His wife, Mrs. Mary Annie Dent, resides at London Junction. He is 21 years of age, and left here with a Western Ontario battalion.

His father, Pte. George Dent, and another brother, Bugler Fred Dent, are members of the 70th Battalion. The father, however, was returned to this country three months ago. He has had 22 years' service in the army, including the South African campaign, the 7th Regiment Fusiliers, and the Dufferin Rifles at Brantford, where he was a sergeant.

Mrs. Dent has had five sons, and her husband in khaki during the present war.

CAR IS WRECKED ON ORCHARD BEACH HILL

Arthur H. Keene, head of the firm of Keene Bros., met with an accident last night when ascending the hill which leads into Orchard Beach at Port Stanley. The roadway gave way beneath his car, and caused damage of at least $150. This road has caused much trouble to the summer cottagers, but has been given little attention by the village.

Mr. Keene announced today that he had entered an action against the village, and that he was receiving the support of all motorists who used the road. Numerous complaints have been made, but practically nothing done to eliminate the danger.

CONTROLLER LITTLE'S SON FALLS FROM WINDOW AND FRACTURES JAW

Allen, the 16-months-old son of Controller E. S. Little, slipped and fell out of a window at his home on Wellington street north Saturday afternoon, fracturing his jaw. The little fellow was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. Norman H. Beal attended to his injuries.

The youngster eluded his nurse maid and leaned out of the second-story window. He lost his balance and fell to the sidewalk. It was feared at the time that he was badly injured, but close examinations show that the jawbone is fractured.

OSGOODE ISSUES WRIT AGAINST S. M. GENEST

Toronto, July 23.—A writ of execution for $127 costs has been issued at Osgoode Hall against S. M. Genest, chairman of the Ottawa school board. The writ is for the costs in the action brought by R. Mackell and others in connection with the bilingual dispute.

HEAT CAUSES LATE RUSH TO RESORTS

Summer resort travel is increasing greatly with the advent of hot weather. Ticket agents report big business during the past few days. There were numerous inquiries as to rates, suitable locations for outings, and other information.

The damp weather of early July filled the keepers of resorts with gloom. There was little business. Many had ordered reservations, but when the floods came these were cancelled, leaving the hotelmen to tear their hair. Now there is a rush for reservations, and it would seem that August will be a heavy month.

"Business is much better," said E. R. Ruse of the Grand Trunk. "During the early days of July business was quiet, or comparatively so. Now it is much better, with every indication that it will improve."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

Fruits and vegetables have reached what is practically a rock bottom level and with the exception of raspberries and strawberries can be bought at nearly a minimum value on the local market today.

The season for strawberries is virtually closed, tomorrow being the last day they are likely to be offered.

They have not been of the quality expected. In fact the fruit was below par this year, although fairly plentiful and large.

Very few raspberries were offered on Saturday at 22c per box, but tomorrow they will likely be on sale in greater abundance and a slight decline in price is looked for.

According to growers raspberries will be of a particularly fine quality this season and show indications of making ample atonement for the disappointment of the strawberry crop.

Cherries are most abundant, and consequently cheaper than in former seasons, every variety being now at their best in quality and price.

Currants, black, white and red, are plentiful, and will sell tomorrow at slightly lower rates than those of Saturday. Gooseberries are going at a steady rate, and bringing $1 per basket.

Certain vegetables have dropped slightly, and their decline marks the level of the majority. Green peas came down 10 cents on Saturday, selling now at from 25c to 30c per quart, while carrots, old potatoes, lettuce and asparagus declined materially. The old tubers although dropping from $2.25 to $2, made a spurt in popularity, and are now in fairly good demand. Home-grown spuds have not made their official appearance yet, and may not be on the market for some time.

Oats are scarce and have advanced from 2c to 3c per cwt., while wheat is so scarce that it is impossible to quote a standard price for it, but the approximate value of the grain is $3.33.

Dairy produce remained firm, butter being in good demand at 42c retail, and eggs selling from 34c to 35c wholesale in crate lots, and 36c in baskets.

Some changes are expected in live stock and butchers' meats tomorrow. Hogs have already declined $1 per cwt., following the drop in prices at Toronto, while veal has increased in value about 50c per cwt.

Beans are likely to be offered on the market tomorrow for the first time, and as they are of a first rate quality there will be a good demand.

FLOUR

Montreal, July 21.—A heavy demand for flour continued, and a brisk business was passing, with closing prices unchanged. No new developments in millfeed and rolled oats are recorded, but there was a good export business for the latter, and a good domestic demand for the former, with prices unchanged.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $13; seconds, $12.50@12.60; strong bakers, $12.30; winter patents, choice, $12.50@13; straight rollers, $11@11.25; do., bags, $5.35@5.45.

Rolled Oats—Barrels, $9@9.35; do., bags, 90 lbs., $4.40@4.50.

Bran—$35@36.

Shorts—$40@41.

Middlings—$43@50.

Moullie—$60.

Minneapolis, July 21.—Flour—Fancy patents, $13.50; first clears, $11.25; other grades unchanged.

Bran—$31@32.

HAY

Toronto, July 21.—Hay—Timothy, $15@16; clover and mixed hay, $11@14; baled hay, track, No. 1, $12@13; do., No. 2, $12@12.50.

Straw—Carlots, track, $8@9; do., bundled, $14@18; do., loose, $12.

Montreal, July 21.—Hay—No. 2, per ton, carlots, $11@11.50.

GRAIN.

Chicago, July 23.—New advances in the price of wheat today resulted from the Senate vote favorable to a minimum quotation of $2 at primary centres, and from the bullish crop outlook in North Dakota and Canada.

After opening 1c to 1¼c higher, at $2 56 for July and $2 29 for September, the market scored further gains.

LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, July 23.—Cattle—Receipts, 23,000; market easy; beeves, $8 40@14 05; westerns, $8 65@11 60; stockers and feeders, $6 35@9 40; cows and heifers, $5 50@12; calves, $10@14 75.

Hogs—Receipts, 28,000; market was strong and higher; light, $14 25@15 50; mixed, $14 20@15 70; heavy, $14 10@15 75; rough, $14 10@14 35; pigs, $11 50@14 60; bulk of sales at $14 55@15 50.

Sheep—Receipts, 20,000; market was steady; lambs, native, $10@16; wethers, $7 75@10 90.

Montreal, July 23.—The receipts for the week at the west end cattle market amounted to 700 cattle, 660 sheep, 900 hogs and 650 calves. This morning the offerings were 500 cattle, 550 sheep and lambs, 450 hogs and 400 calves. The market shows a better tendency, and there was a more lively interest taken in the trading. With the exception of hogs there were hardly any changes in prices, but hogs were weak at a decline of 25 cents per 100 lbs. Quotations:

Choice steers, $10@10 50; good, $9 25@10; medium, $7 50@8 50; choice bulls, $8 50@9 25; good, $7 75@8 25; medium, $7@7 50; choice cows, $8 50@9; good, $7 75@8 25; medium, $7@7 70; canners' cattle, bulls and cows, $5 50@6 50.

Sheep, $7@9; lambs, spring, each, $8@9

Calves, according to quality, $6 50@11.

Hogs, choice selects, $16@16 25; cows, $14@15.

Offerings at the Canadian Pacific live stock yards this morning were 800 cattle, 375 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs and 1,200 calves.

WALL STREET.

New York, July 23—Wall street, 10:30 a.m.—Events over the week-end, particularly latest developments in Russia, were unfavorably interpreted by traders at the opening of today's market. War stocks reflected moderate pressure, at declines in representative industrials and equipments extending from 1 to 2 points. Coppers and motors showed a renewal of last week's heaviness, and rails were irregular, St. Paul again yielding to its recent minimum. Dealings were light, and restricted to the more speculative groups.

Noon.—The irregular drift of the opening continued throughout the early session. Shippings and a few specialties moved smartly upward, but motors and war shares made little headway, some of the steels recording half-way recoveries. Rails were seldom quoted, and lost none of their uncertaintone. The easing of money rates, call loans, renewing at 3 per cent, was among the few encouraging developments of the forenoon. Bonds were steady on nominal dealings.

1:30 p.m.—Leaders sought lower levels on the broader selling of the intermediate session, rails, steels and the war issues in general then showing extreme losses of 1 to more than 3 points. Shippings also broke on Washington advices suggesting a drastic cut in ocean freight rates.

SHIP YOUR WOOL DIRECT TO US

John Hallam Limited

The Highest Prices Ever Paid For Wool Are Now Being Paid By Us

Mr. Farmer, you can get more money for your wool by sending it direct to us. In all probability it will come to us anyway at some time, no matter to whom you sell it.

For over thirty years we have been one of the largest buyers of wool in Canada. We could not continue in business for this length of time if we had not treated our customers fairly and pay top prices. We send your money the same day as wool is received, only deducting freight or express charges.

We are now paying for wool as follows:
Unwashed fleece, fine..62c to 61c per lb.
Unwashed fleece, coarse.61c to 60c per lb.
Washed fleece, fine ....77c to 74c per lb.
Washed fleece, coarse ..74c to 71c per lb.

Ship today or write us telling how much wool you have, if washed or unwashed, and breed of sheep clipped from. We will then quote you a straight price and send you shipping tags with full instructions.

TORONTO

BIG DROP FOLLOWS WHEAT RESTRICTION

Winnipeg, July 21.—When it was announced on the exchange this morning that the Canadian board of grain supervisors had fixed a maximum price of $2.40 per bushel on wheat, to be effective August 21, buyers who had been bidding immediately became inactive and holders became eager to sell. As a result prices dropped. It is said that as high as $2.51 was bid at the opening of the session on July basis, but reacted to a point around $2.40 to $2.41, when the news of the board's action became known. October also fell off a cent from the opening quotation. All grades of oats were in demand at high prices and flax also was wanted on a strong and rising market. Millers and a few exporters were in the market, but the volume of business being done was not large. There was nothing doing in barley. Cash wheat closed 8c lower than yesterday at $2.40. October wheat closed at $2.29½, 4⅜c higher than Friday. July oats closed 1⅛c higher at 79¼c; October, ⅞c higher at 68c, and December ¾c higher at 64c. Barley showed a ¼c higher. Flax closed ½c higher at $2.91; October, 3⅜c higher at $2.93; December, 6c up at $2.90.

Cash grain:

Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2, $2.37; No. 3, $2.32; No. 4, $2.20; No. 5, $1.95; No. 6, $1.80; feed, $1.52; No. 4 special, $2.20; No. 5, $1.91; No. 6, $1.80.

Basis contract—July and first half of August, $2.40@2.35.

Oats—No. 2 C.W., 79½c; No. 3, 77½c; extra, No. 1 feed, 77½c; No. 1 feed, 75½c; No. 2 feed, 74c; track, 72c.

Barley—No. 3 C.W., $1.27; No. 4 C.W., $1.22½; selected and feed, $1.11.

Flax—No. 1 N.W.C., $2.92; No. 2 C.W., $2.88; No. 3 C.W., $2.73; track, $2.91.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, July 21.—The movement in the local grain market was small, with business represented by a few cars of No. 2 and No. 3 Canadian western oats, and of No. 1 extra feed.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $2.10@2.12.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 84c; Canadian western, No. 3, 83c; extra No. 1 feed, 83c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1.26.

MONEY.

New York, July 23.—Bar silver, 78⅝c per ounce.

London, July 23.—Money was plentiful and discount rates were quiet today.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, July 23.—The Russian situation caused an unsettled feeling in the stock market generally, and was mostly reflected in further depreciation of the rouble and a decline in Russian securities. The forthcoming vote of credit was responsible for a slight easing in consols and gilt-edged securities. Rubber shares were firm with the commodity, and Argentine rails and oil and shipping shares were steadily supported. The other sections were dull.

GOLD!

MOHAWK GOLD & COPPER COMPANY

CAPITALIZATION - $200,000

Stock Now Selling At 12½c PER SHARE

The Mohawk Gold and Copper Company own 100 acres of land, situated on Lane Mountain, in the Lane Mountains, San Bernardino County, California, the richest gold-bearing district in the western country.

There has been over $20,000 expended in development work. The Mohawk is a proven mine.

ANALYSIS

	Gold oz.	Silver.	Value per ton.
On the 140 foot Shaft No. 1	.54	.30 oz.	$ 11.57
On the 140 foot Shaft No. 2	.44	......	9.10
On the 60 foot Shaft No. 3	1.00	1.60 oz.	26.00
On the 60 foot Shaft No. 4	1.03	.90 oz.	21.94
On the 60 foot Shaft No. 5	32.86	3.62 oz.	683.39

The company has over 10,000 tons of valuable ore on the dump ready for milling. A mill to extract the gold is needed to make the Mohawk a big success. Conservatively figuring this will cost about $15,000, for which stock is being sold. The officers of the company state that it will take about 40 days to erect this mill, and the company will be able to pay dividends 60 days after its erection.

The company can mine and mill their ore at a cost of $3 per ton; this includes all overhead charges. Every dollar received by the company from the sale of stock must go toward operation of the mine. The officers and directors of the company do not receive a salary.

Can you ask for quicker action on your investment than stated above? You certainly cannot. I consider the Mohawk Gold and Copper Company the greatest mining proposition ever offered to the public.

Fortunes in Legitimate Mining

A good legitimate gold mining investment is 17 per cent safer than Banking.
29 per cent safer than Mercantile Business.
32 per cent safer than Farming.
41 per cent safer than Manufacturing.

The State of California has paid dividends of $20,000,000 yearly in gold since the year 1849. In the year 1916 there was taken out of the ground in the West over $100,000,000 in gold and about $35,000,000 in silver.

It is estimated that over half of the population of the State of California are living off the dividends received from different mining enterprises. The same opportunity is afforded you, but you must venture in order to win. No one ever acquired wealth by simply saving his earnings.

SPEED COP TRIES TO GIVE DRIVERS REASONABLE DEAL

P. C. Tomlin Has Stop Watch Tested and Certified.

GIVES 20-MILE LIMIT

No One "Pinched" Who Only Goes Five Miles Beyond Law's Limit.

Notwithstanding the fact that motorists have been fined in the police court during the last month than for years past, the numbers continue to grow, and another batch of speeders will be asked to explain Tuesday morning next why they traveled over fifteen miles an hour in the city.

On account of certain persons disputing the accuracy of a stop watch used by Patrolman Tomlin, the latter has had the timepiece tested and it has been passed by a local jeweler to be as correct as it is possible to adjust it.

Magistrate Graydon, although an enthusiastic motorist himself, is bound to put a stop to the dangerous practice of speeding upon the city streets, and if necessary will increase the usual fine of $5 and costs to a much higher figure.

Patrolman Tomlin, who has been assigned to the duty of catching speeders, has according to evidence introduced, at various times in court discharged his duty in a fair and impartial way. He has displayed no desire to prosecute any motorist and has on scores of occasions given a benefit of a doubt to the speeder. No one has been yet summoned to court where the timing showed that he had traveled less than 20 miles an hour, whereas the motor vehicle act makes it an offence to exceed 15 within the city limits.

LOBO WOMEN BUSY FOR RED CROSS

ILDERTON, July 23.—Lobo Women's Institute held its monthly Red Cross meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. P. Crawford with a large attendance. Quite a large amount of Red Cross work, socks, etc., was received, also $5 from Mrs. Jas. F. Campbell in lieu of work. Mrs. D. P. Campbell handed in $47, amount realized by the sale of the Ivan Ladies' Aid quilt, sold at the Poplar Hill picnic and donated by the ladies for Red Cross work. The next meeting will be held at he home of Mrs. Malcolm Grey.

200 PENNIES SAVED BY CHILDREN FOR DISTRESSED BELGIUM

Two hundred coppers have been received by Mrs. H. A. Boomer, president of the Local Council of Women, from the kindergarten children of the Tecumseh Avenue School, as a donation to the Belgian relief fund.

Miss Brenton, supervisor in the Tecumseh Avenue Kindergarten, testified to the great pleasure manifested by the children in saving their pennies and watching them grow to two dollars. The sum of $6 for Belgian relief has also been received from Miss Edith Whittaker.

A friend in the Memorial Church has forwarded $5 for the sailors' relief fund of the Local Council of Women, which, by the way, was started for the district a year ago in Sarnia by Mrs. Boomer while she was holidaying there.

Further recent donations for the Lady Beatty sailors' fund have been: $5 from Miss Maud Gray of Sarnia and $10 from the Iona Women's Institute.

LIGHTNING KILLS FOUR BOYS UNDER BRIDGE NEAR LAMBETH; WIPES OUT SWIMMING PARTY

Westminster Lads Sought Shelter From Storm, and When Bolt Struck Died Painlessly — Found Lying Together Unclothed After Going For Swim in Hot Afternoon.

The Dead:
LEONARD JONES, AGED 16.
GEORGE JONES, AGED 13.
GLEN SCOYNE, AGED 16.
AUBREY MARR LOVELY, AGED 17.

In the most terrific storm of a stormy season, four lads, ranging in age from 13 to 17, were killed south of Lambeth yesterday afternoon by one stroke of lightning. Death was instantaneous.

The young lads, suffering from heat that was most oppressive, left their homes in the vicinity of Scottsville, and Lambeth, to go to their favorite swimming hole, on Wesley Baker's farm, lot 69, on the Talbot road. The two Jones boys rode their bicycle, and later were joined by Scoyne and Lovely.

Three of them doffed their clothes and disported themselves in the water, leaving George Jones, the younger of the party, on the bank under the bridge.

Rushed Under Bridge.

The storm broke in terrific fury, and the three swimmers decided to come to the shore and take refuge under the bridge.

A terrific crash of lightning came just as they had reached the bank, and four corpses lay on the edge of the water.

A couple of hours later, Wesley Baker, who owned the farm, went to look for his cows. He saw two boys lying stark and dead on the bank of Dingman's Creek, and he immediately telephoned Dr. George A. Routledge, the coroner.

When the doctor arrived to make an investigation, he found the four boys dead under the bridge. He immediately took charge of the remains, and had them removed to their homes. It was a terrible sight, and one that he, after a practice of considerable duration, could scarcely speak of.

The lightning had struck the cement abutment, tearing a big chunk out of it. The pole supporting it had also been hit, making it doubly sure of destruction.

The older Jones boy had been in swimming, leaving his younger brother under the bridge. The latter had evidently been terrified by the storm, and had walked to meet his brother. The latter had got out on the bank, when the bolt came. Leonard was felled first, and the body of his younger brother, struck an instant later, lay across his.

Glen Scoyne was lying a few feet away, face downwards. Lovely fell just as he came out of the water, part of his body being in the creek. Three of them were stripped, while the younger Jones was fully dressed. The boys' clothes lay in a bundle under the bridge.

Two Others Escaped.

Two other boys were at the creek at the same time. They had gone down to have a swim, but went to a pool further up the creek, at a distance of possibly an eighth of a mile. Their names could not be learned. When the storm broke, they got out of the water, and dressed under a tree. The bolt that struck the tree hurled them to the ground, so they decided to leave, and ran up the road, not thinking of the danger of their companions. They did not learn until many hours later of the accident that had befallen their friends.

Dr. Routledge decided that an inquest was not necessary, and immediately issued certificates of burial.

"About 6 o'clock I was called up by Wesley Baker, who told me that two boys were lying dead under a bridge, on his farm, over Dingman's Creek," said Dr. Routledge. "I immediately went to the spot, and was horrified to find not two boys, but four of them dead under the bridge. It was a horrible sight. Three of them had been in swimming. The two Jones boys lay dead together. Leonard, the older, had been in the water, and had come out. His brother's body was lying over his. Scoyne was lying close to the Jones boys, with his face buried in the ground. About ten feet from Jones, closer to the abutment, was Lovely. All four were dead. The bodies were considerably burned and discolored. Death was certainly instantaneous.

Bridge Damaged.

"The lightning had evidently struck the top of the cement abutment, a chunk more than a foot square having been torn from it. A pole used to strengthen the abutment had also been struck. The same bolt possibly had struck the boys. I viewed the bodies, and ordered them taken to their homes."

Lovely, the oldest of the four boys, was a resident of Payne's Mills. His father, James Lovely, is residing at Talbotville. He had come to Scottsville on Friday evening to work in the cheese factory there. His brother had taken a position elsewhere, and Aubrey had come to learn the business. He had worked but one day. Mrs. Alex Grant, 636 Wellington street, is an aunt. He was a very bright boy, industrious and clever and well liked.

The Jones children were the only sons of a widowed mother, Mrs. Charles Jones, living on the 5th concession of Westminster Township, a short distance east of the Talbot road. Their father dropped dead a few years ago. Their grandfather is David Jones, a prominent resident of the district. One sister and the mother survive.

An Only Son.

Glen Scoyne is the only son of Fred Scoyne, the storekeeper at Scottsville. He was employed at McClary foundry in this city, and was a bright lad. The Jones children were favorites. The accident stirred the people of Lambeth greatly. The Jones boys were regular attendants at the Methodist Sunday School, and this was the first Sunday they had missed in a long time.

Wesley Baker, who found the bodies, stated that he had gone back to get the cows, when he saw the bodies lying under the bridge. He could see but two of them, the Jones brothers, and immediately notified Dr. George A. Routledge, who immediately came to the spot, and discovered the bodies of the other two lads.

The storm was most severe. The lightning was terrific, and the rain came down in a veritable deluge.

TREACHEROUS THAMES CLAIMS ITS SECOND VICTIM OF THIS SEASON

The Thames claimed its second victim this summer, Saturday night, when Willie P. Field, 15-year-old son of W. J. Field of Oxford Park, was drowned in the north branch, between Regent and Huron streets. Dragging operations were carried on all Saturday night and Sunday, but so far all efforts to locate the body have failed.

The tragedy occurred shortly after 8 o'clock. The lad, who delivered papers, had finished his route, and, after stopping at his home for a few minutes went away on his wheel without telling his mother where he had gone. He stopped on the west side of the river near Huron street. After removing his clothes he waded out to a gravel bar a few feet from the bank. From there he walked out into deeper water, and disappeared immediately, never rising again.

Only two persons witnessed the accident, it is thought. They were two young men who went in to bathe from the same side of the river. They were on the opposite side of the river and made an attempt to save young Field, but he was gone before they could reach him.

Firemen Called.

An alarm was turned into the fire hall, but because of a mistake in the transmission of the message the whole brigade was called out, and a further delay ensued before the pulmotor and dragging apparatus could be brought to the scene. Efforts to recover the body were made immediately, but were unsuccessful. Little could be done through the darker hours of the night, but with the coming of dawn the search was recommenced, and relief parties from the firehall kept the boats going all day. Several of the best swimmers and divers from that section of the city were at the river early in the day and aided the firemen. Hundreds of citizens lined both banks of the river throughout the morning and afternoon.

The section of the river where the tragedy occurred is regarded as treacherous. There are numerous holes and swimmers state that cold springs in that vicinity increase the danger of cramps. The current in addition is swift, and would rapidly sweep an inexperienced swimmer beyond his depth.

Parents Did Not Know.

The drowned lad could only swim a little, and had never mentioned to his parents that he was in the habit of going to the river. Although 16 years of age, he was not strong, having been ill through several winters. He was a bright lad, however, and popular with his playmates. He was a pupil of the Hutton school.

In addition to his parents he is survived by one brother, Austin, and three sisters, Lilian, Gertrude and Irene.

MRS. CAROLYN McLAREN WAS STRUCK BY STREET CAR AND BADLY HURT

Mrs. Caroyln McLaren, aged 57, a dressmaker, residing at 12 Cartwright street, was painfully injured about 11 o'clock on Saturday evening by being struck by Normal car 114 at Central avenue and Waterloo street. She was crossing the street at the time, and it is stated, stopped suddenly right in front of the car, which was approaching the crossing and going slowly. Motorman Jack Compton at once plugged his car and dropped the fender. Mrs. McLaren was carried onto a lawn and lay there for 45 minues while people who came to her assistance vainly endeavored to locate an ambulance. The police ambulance is away being painted, and that of Smith & Hunter was away at an accident at Talbotville. Mrs. McLaren was finally taken to Victoria Hospital, where it was found that she had received a fracture of the left arm at the elbow, and that she had serious cuts about the head. She is resting quietly, and no fatal results are anticipated, although she suffered considerably from shock.

Seven Questions Asked and Answered On the Ajax Agreement

QUESTION 1.

If the Ajax Company erects a plant here which costs less than $450,000 for site, buildings and machinery, does the city give its indorsement for the full amount of $450,000?

ANSWER

No. The city, under clause two of the agreement, gives indorsement for only such an amount as the company expends on site, plant and manufacturing accessories.

QUESTION 2.

Are bonds guaranteed for the purchase of crude rubber?

ANSWER

No.

QUESTION 3.

How is the amount of the company's expenditure arrived at? Can the city go behind the company's vouched statement?

ANSWER

The last paragraph of clause one provides that the city has the right at all times to inspect and peruse all vouchers, agreements and documents showing the expenditure of moneys by the company on site, buildings, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories.

QUESTION 4.

Does the passing of the bylaw have the effect of immediately guaranteeing the company's bonds?

ANSWER

No. The city's indosement is not given until the company has its plant in operation, has paid for the same in full, has given a first mortgage on the plant for the full amount to be indorsed for, and has deposited with a trust company, approved by the city (and which shall act as trustee for all parties) trust securities approved by the Ontario Government in sufficient amount to pay the full amount of the bonds at their respective maturities. The agreement provides (clause eight) that the city indorses only for an actual plant in operation—not for one in prospect.

QUESTION 5.

How many men will the company employ, and what will it pay them?

ANSWER

The company (clause three) shall employ not less than 250 employees (of whom 60 per cent shall be adult males) residing in the city of London, and shall pay them at least $250,000 in wages yearly for a period of twenty years. This is exclusive of directors' salaries and fees.

QUESTION 6.

Does the city pay the expenses of submitting the bylaw to the ratepayers?

ANSWER

No. The company pays the cost (clause six).

QUESTION 7.

Does the guaranteeing of the company's bonds affect the city's borrowing power?

ANSWER

No. This question having been raised by a ratepayer, City Treasurer Bell consulted a leading Toronto bond house, and their legal department answered by letter that it did not.

VICTIMS TO BE BURIED TUESDAY

No Inquest To Be Held Into Deaths of Four Boys Near Lambeth.

BODIES BADLY BURNED

Whole District Shocked by Tragedy, Regarded as the Worst of Its Kind.

There will be no inquest on the four boys killed by lightning yesterday afternoon south of Lambeth.

Dr. George A. Routledge, the coroner, made the investigation Sunday afternoon, and decided that an inquest was not necessary.

"The bodies were badly discolored by reason of the shock," said Dr. Routledge. "One could see where the electricity passed through their bodies. They got the full force of the blow. Their bodies were blue, and red, and in some places burned. There was scarcely a spot on them that did not show the effects of the lightning. It would not be of any use to hold an inquest, as nothing new could be learned."

Funerals on Tuesday.

The funeral of Glen Scoyne, son of Fred Scoyne, Scottsville, one of the lads killed, will be held on Tuesday afternoon from his residence. The Jones boys will be buried on Tuesday also, the mother, Mrs. Jones, was overcome by the tragedy, and was unable to state her wishes. Her father, John Kelly, is in delicate health, and the family did not tell him of the accident until this morning, fearing the shock to him might be fatal.

The body of Aubrey Lovely was removed to Talbotville last night, and he will be buried at Payne's Mills, his place of residence.

Mrs. Alex. Grant, 636 Wellington street, an aunt, went out this morning to assist in making arrangements for the funeral.

Shock to District.

The residents of Lambeth and vicinity were terribly shocked by the accident yesterday, and today it is the chief topic of conversation. The boys were all well known, and well liked.

John Carley, storekeeper at Lambeth, stated that the father of the Jones boys, left his place of business some three years ago, after making some purchases, and dropped dead on getting home. Leonard Jones was in his store on Saturday evening, and he went to his death on Sunday.

Residents of the city and district cannot recall so great a fatality from one bolt of lightning at any time in Western Ontario.

RECRUITING EXPENSES ARE NOT DEDUCTED

Traveling expenses of officers and men engaged in recruiting work will not be charged against the grant made by the Government for recruiting purposes to each unit, according to an announcement made in camp orders.

Each unit has been entitled to a grant from the Government for recruiting purposes, and it was feared in some quarters that the expenses of men traveling on recruiting duty would be deducted from the amount of the grant in each case.

The announcement clears up the situation in this regard, and will enable many units to use the amount allotted to them to better advantage for advertising and for other means of securing men.

Economy is urged upon those who are required to travel, however, and orders state "that traveling claims will, of course, be submitted as usual, but it is desired that no expense in this connection be incurred that is not absolutely necessary."

FARMERS SMILE AS THE MERCURY GOES STEADILY UPWARD

Hundred in the Shade Registered at St. Thomas.

The season's record for heat was broken here on Sunday, when the mercury climbed up to 92.5. It was 90 on Saturday and 89 the day before. These figures and the absence of rain bring to the farmers' faces the smile that wont come off. Reports from the whole district are to the effect that with warm dry weather a banner harvest will be saved.

100 IN THE SHADE.

ST. THOMAS, July 23.—Sunday was the hottest day here since the famous hot spell of the summer of 1916. The mercury regestered 100 in the shade. The farmers of this district are jubilant, however, stating that the extreme heat is required to dry the hay and make the corn grow.

LITTLE HAY CUT.

ILDERTON, July 22.—Farmers throughout the district have been held up for the past two weeks by the continued rains and very little haying has been done as yet. Two large fields near Coldstream of clover cut and had to stand so much wet that the hay will be of very little use for feed, but most of the Lobo farmers feel that it is much better to let the crop stand until there is good prospects of dry weather. Some of the clover fields are so long and heavy that the crop is lodged and lying on the ground much like a heavy crop of peas, and some of it will no doubt spoil even before it is cut.

The timothy is not yet ready, and with fine dry weather a bumper crop of this hay may yet be saved in good shape, but fall wheat is maturing now quite rapidly and much hay may have to stand until after the wheat has been cut.

Crops Look Well.

Crops of all kinds look well. In fact the straw on the barley and oat fields is so long and heavy that some fields are already lodged, but with a few weeks of dry weather one of the largest crops in many years would no doubt be reaped.

Roots and corn on the drier land are also looking well, but late, and much hoeing yet remains to be done. Potatoes also promise a big crop, but the beetle has been very numerous and busy. Since warmer weather set in some growers are using bordeaux spray with the poison in order to check the rot blight.

Nearly all of the barns are completed ready for the crop, but owing to delay by the weather the large barn on the farm of Jas. Boland is not yet raised. If possible the frame will be raised on Tuesday, as a large gang are at work and the cement wall is all ready to receive the timbers, after which a few days will make all ready to receive the crop.

Cattle buyers have been taking a look at some of the big steers that are being finished on the grain farms, but no extensive sales have been made as yet. It is expected that prices will rule quite high for export cattle this season as they are not so plentiful as usual.

PARTY OF 14 REPORTED HERE TO JOIN ARMY

A party of fourteen men are said to have arrived in the city today from Chicago to enlist in the Canadian overseas forces. They were reported to have arrived via G. T. R. at 4:25 this morning, but they had not reported at the recruiting office at the Armories or at Carling Heights Camp this afternoon.

It is thought possible that the men were on their way to report at Toronto, and stopped here a short time to change trains.

LACK OF RESOLUTION CAUSES MANY MEN TO BECOME FAILURES

Rev. E. D. Silcox, editor of "The Congregationalist," Toronto, preached in the First Congregational Church Sunday morning and evening.

In the evening he gave an address on "The Unjust Steward," showing that the man acted wisely in forming his resolution to give an account of his stewardship, though he was unjust in this position of trust.

"We have many examples today," said Rev. Mr. Silcox, "of men whose lives are a failure because of lack of resolution. They drift through life aimlessly, forming no purpose in life, forgetting that some day they will have to give an account of their 'thistledown' life. There are thousands lost to our churches today, who are failures, simply because they have neglected their many opportunities and privileges for making some definite results in the life they are living here."

Rev. Dr. J. B. Silcox was preaching in Bond Street Congregational Church, Toronto, Sunday.

YOUNG LONDONERS WED IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, July 21. — A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ellis, Balmoral street, when Miss Mildred McCullough of London, Ont., was united in marriage to Stanley Houston, manager of the Bank of Toronto at Bredenbury, Sask. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of blue silk, and wore a corsage of sweetheart roses. Both bride and groom were unattended. The bride was given away by Mrs. Murray Green, recently of St. Stephen, N. B. Rev. Mr. Caldwey of Grace Church officiated. The bridal couple left for their future home after the ceremony.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A FREAK FORD.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

We know a car, 1907 model Tin Lizzie, and it goes once in a while. The troubel is that when it starts it will not stop. The owner carries a heavy drag with him, and throws this out around a post or a tree. Then the car stops. This is the funniest buzz-wagon we know. Who knows any other freaks?

FRED MARSTON.

Chatham, July 20.

HOW TO LIVE LONG: WHAT'S YOUR THEORY?

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I am more than 92 years of age, and I get around just as well as I did when I was 75. In fact, when the hay ripens this summer I expect to get out and help my son a little, as two of his boys are working to crush this villainous Prussian.

The other day a young man told me I was 72 years of age, and asked me what I had done to keep so well-looking. I told him that I had just taken care of myself and stayed in at night. The young men of today go out too much at night and stay up till late at night. My theory is that every hour you take off your sleeping hours is taken off your life. Perhaps some other really old men and women among your readers can give us some more information. JAMES FULLGART.

LONDON GIRL APPOINTED.

EMBRO, July 22.—At the trustees' meeting in the public school last night, Miss Emily Dicks of London was appointed teacher for the primary room at $550 per annum.

Ham conducted mission study classes each forenoon, which were very much enjoyed. The new executive held a meeting Friday afternoon and adopted as their motto "Best Ever" for next year, and plans are already under way to make the school of 1918 measure up to this motto.
