FRANCE HAD VIRTUALLY ASSURED BRITAIN THAT SHE WOULD NOT MOVE AGAINST GERMANY ALONE

Premier Millerand Gave This Impression, Says British Document, After Allies Had Repeatedly Declined To Sanction Invasion of Germany—Note Contains a Subtle Warning.

London, April 10.—Declaration that the Allies repeatedly declined to sanction the advance of French troops east of the Rhine and that statements by Premier Millerand and other French ministers had given the impression that that country would abstain from single-handed action against Germany, are contained in the note outlining the British attitude sent to Paris, says the London Times. Emphasis placed on the fact that the grave problems in connection with the execution of the Versailles treaty may arise in the future, it is said, and it is assumed "France will not act again on her own initiative, otherwise the work of the peace conference may become futile."

FRANCE OUTLINES ATTITUDE.

Paris April 10.—The note sent yesterday by Premier Millerand to the British Government in reply to the British note with regard to the action of France in sending troops into the neutral zone in Germany, says: "The French Government affirms, first of all, that no doubt can be felt of the loyalty of its attitude. The Allies have been constantly informed of its policy. The French Government has always opposed the entry of supplementary German troops into the Ruhr region, and has added that the authorization for such an entry must have a counterpart in the occupation of Frankfort and Darmstadt.

"How could the Government of France have been satisfied with the German promise to withdraw the troops when order had been restored? Neither for reparations nor for the delivery of the war guilty, nor for coal, have the Allies received the stipulated satisfaction.

"The question could be asked when the British Government, which no doubt has not measured the danger of these systematic violations would step in the path of concessions. France, in any case was obliged to say: 'That is enough.'"

VIENNA IS PLEASED AT DISAGREEMENT OF GT. BRITAIN AND FRANCE

Vienna, April 10.—Satisfaction over dispatches telling of dissension between Great Britain and France relative to the action of the latter in sending troops into German cities east of the Rhine, is not concealed by Vienna newspapers, which express the hope that France will be isolated.

France is accused of designs which may provoke further bloodshed, by the Neue Frie Presse, which invites the entente to intervene "more than verbally to prevent fresh hostilities." Other newspapers speak of France as having received a "diplomatic defeat."

FRANCE CLAIMS THAT AMPLE WARNING WAS GIVEN GT. BRITAIN

London, April 10.—The reply of France to the British note on the action taken by France in occupying additional German territory was received in London today. The note maintains that France gave Great Britain ample warning on April 3 that France considered it necessary to take military steps if Germany failed to withdraw her troops.

The reply mentions the unratified treaty drawn up between France, Great Britain and the United States for the protection of France, presents proofs of various violations of the peace treaty, and concludes with an expression of the wish of France to act in accordance with the wishes of the Allies, and a hope for further conferences on the subject.

TO REPLACE AFRICANS.

London, April 10.—According to the Daily Mail, the eleventh French division from Nancy will replace the African troops in Frankfort. The latter, the Mail says, belonged to the famous 37th division, which has been occupying the Mayence bridgehead, and by reason of its location naturally formed part of the troops of occupation at Frankfort.

GERMANS URGE THAT LEAGUE OF NATIONS EFFECT SETTLEMENT

Berlin, April 10.—Great Britain's disapproval of the action of France in occupying cities in the neutral zone east of the Rhine, is hailed by newspapers here with moderate expressions of satisfaction.

"France is in the thrall of chauvinism and militarism," says the Vorwaerts, "which, as Germany's fate has shown, leads nations inevitably to perdition. It is essential that Germany seeks to live in agreement with her neighbors, and it is the duty of French Socialists to see that the ground for this understanding be prepared. An international crisis can be avoided only by the league of nations becoming a reality and taking a hand in the solution."

"Great Britain's attitude," the Tageblatt declares, "is a reminder to France that the Versailles treaty is not a compact between France and Germany, but all European belligerents."

SPECIAL CONSTABLES AID ST. CATHARINES VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

St. Catharines, Ont., April 9.—Special constables were on guard throughout this city tonight to prevent a repetition of the sounding of false alarms, which upset the volunteer firemen last night. The destruction of the grandstand at the lacrosse park by fire last night was due to incendiarism, supposedly at the hands of sympathizers with the firemen, who went on strike yesterday because the city council refused them an ingrease of 25 per cent in pay

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.

Following were the highest and lowest temperatures recorded in London during the 24 hours previous to 8 o'clock last night: Highest, 38; lowest, 16..

The official temperatures for the 12 hours previous to 8 a.m. today were: Highest, 30; lowest, 21.

HUSBAND, TURNING 18, ASKS COURT TO MAKE HIM SINGLE

Detroit, April 10.—Manville DeWing will be 18 years old Saturday. Among his birthday presents, perhaps, will be one from the circuit court, in the form of an order annulling his marriage.

The young husband appeared before Judge Harry J. Dingeman Friday with his mother, Mrs. Florence DeWing, who, as next friend, had started the annulment proceedings against Goldie Cole DeWing. At the time of the marriage, January 20, 1919, Manville was only 16 years old, his mother said, while the then Miss Cole was 21.

"Did you tell Miss Cole that your son was only 16?" the mother was asked on the witness-stand.

"Yes, I did," was the reply. "She said it didn't make any difference, that she was going to have him anyway."

Mrs. DeWing, the younger, did not appear in court. Judge Dingeman reserved decision.

Sees No Reason Why Film Star Should Mix It With Her Manager.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—Denying that her relations with Louis B. Mayer, her manager, could have given Charlie Chaplin, world famous film comedian, any provocation for having a fist-fight with Mayer, Mildred Harris Chaplin expressed great astonishment at San Diego yesterday, when she learned of the fisticuffs in the lobby of a Los Angeles hotel.

The comedian's wife was visibly distressed when she was informed that Chaplin had been worsted in the encounter, and bore several marks as a result of the affray.

"I know of no reason why there should be trouble between Mr. Chaplin and Mr. Mayer," she said. "Mr. Mayer was my manager and producer, and I know him only in a business way."

Chaplin was said to have received a bruised nose and contusions of the head in the bout with Mayer, in which the footwork for which he is famous on the silver screen failed to save him from a bad fall on the tiled floor.

LOCKOUT ORDERED BY LUMBER MILLS

2,000 in Three States Deny Wage Raise to Employees.

Chicago, April 10.—All lumber mills in Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota, numbering approximately 2,000, will be closed down May 1, it was disclosed here today by D. W. Baird, president of the D. W. Baird Lumber Company.

The shutdown will be the answer of the lumber manufacturers to demands of the timber workers, who have been unionized, for an increase in pay to 75 cents an hour, Mr. Baird said.

Such a lockout will mean a tremendous curtailing of lumber production and that prices, which have already reached unprecedented heights, will soar still higher.

BRAKEMAN ACQUITTED ON NEGLIGENCE CHARGE

Ottawa, April 10.—Thomas J. Curley, C. P. R. brakeman, charged with criminal negligence in connection with the wreck of two sections of the Montreal-Winnipeg train at Corbeit on January 25, was honorably acquitted by the jury in the supreme court of Ontario here yesterday. Mr. Justice Latchford, who presided, hinted that the consideration of a "station block system" might well be taken up by the heads of the Canadian railroads.

GERMANY FORMALLY CALLS ON LEAGUE FOR ARBITRATION

Request That the League of Nations Take Action On French Occupation.

COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Germany, Not Being a Member, Cannot Force Consideration.

Paris, April 10.—Germany has formally called upon the league of nations to arbitrate between herself and France.

Herr von Mayer, German charge d'affaires here, handed to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary of the league, a letter asking that, under article 11 of the covenant, the council of the league take action relative to France's occupation of the Rhine cities. The letter was accompanied by a copy of the German statement sent to the Allied ambassadors accusing France of violating the covenant.

Under article 5 of the covenant any action of the council must be unanimous. In French official circles, it is stated, France's delegate will oppose Germany's request. Leon Bourgeois, France's representative, is chairman of the executive council of the league.

Article 11 of the covenant, under which Germany asks for action, says:

"Any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the members of the league or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the whole league, and the league shall take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations. In case any such emergency should arise, the secretary-general shall, on request of any member of the league, forthwith summon a meeting of the council."

The calling of a special meeting is not necessary inasmuch as the council meets anyway to consider the matter of the Armenian mandate. There is no way of telling whether the German letter will be taken up at the meeting.

Should any member propose it, it would have to be considered.

Is Not a Member.

A distinct feeling of nervousness was prevalent all day in French official circles who were waiting for word from the Allies. There had been some very disturbing reports that England might not approve Foch's occupation of Frankfort and Darmstadt.

There is the deepest interest in the stand of the American Government. A report that the Germans would call on the league was current at the foreign office, and it was feared that, although America is not a member of the league, President Wilson would be in favor of the league's considering the situation.

The French officials blame the Frankfort clashes on the delay of the Allies in coming to France's support. It is stated officially that the outbreaks followed the spread of a report sent out by the Wolff Agency that England and America had sent to France an ultimatum calling for the withdrawal of troops from Frankfort within 24 hours. This report was sent all over Germany, and as a consequence the majority of Germans probably will believe it and thus become more recalcitrant toward France. Therefore the French argue that every hour America delays making a public statement on the case adds to the dangers of the situation.

It is the French view that should the allies favor the league's action, it would result in an immense encouragement to German militarists and reactionaries, and render the eventual enforcement of the treaty more and more difficult. Germany is not playing a bad game, for if she gets the league to take up the case she scores heavily against France, and if the league refuses, Germany will have an argument against the efficiency of the league, and consequently another argument against the Versaillles treaty.

QUEBEC MAN ROBBED OF $32,000 BY MEN WHO WERE 'FRIENDS'

Claims Money Was To Be Used in Pool For Betting.

Albany, N. Y., April 10.—W. B. Lamy of Coaticook, Que., reported to the police last night that he had been robbed of $32,000 in currency by three men with whom he was supposed to form a pool in a bet on a horse race. The money, he claimed, was grabbed from him in a room in a local hotel, and the robbers made their escape after locking the door.

According to Lamy's story he made the acquaintance of the men at Miami, Fla., and on March 29 in Albany, the four were supposed to form a $100,000 pool to bet on a horse race. Lamy secured a Canadian bank draft for $32,000 as his share, and went to New York to get it cashed, being vouched for by an acquaintance there.

He said that he returned here today and went to the hotel, and when he exhibited the money, one of the men grabbed it, and the three men ran out of the room, locking the door. He broke down the door, but the men made their escape.

PARTY OF 42 BOYS FOR HAMILTON COMES OVER ON CANADA

Halifax, N. S., April 10.—After a trip of eight days from Liverpool tthe White Star Dominion liner Canada arrived here yesterday afternoon. Among the passengers landing here is A. Culver's party of 42 boys, bound to Hamilton, Ont. A national children's society party of 38, destined for Toronto, is also aboard.

WALLOP WORTH $25

New York, April 8.—When Cheam Davidson was fined $10 in Essex Market Court this morning for an assault on Nathan Thuman, he paid the money over with a smile and said:

"I'll give $25 for another wallop." Davidson is a buttonhole maker, 30 years old.

It appeared in testimony that three times in the past two months landlord Thuman has boosted tenant Davidson's rent. On the occasion of the latest increase they severed diplomatic relations.

"On Monday night," Thuman testified, "I went to the house with a dispossess for him. We met in the hallway. He recognized the paper.

"'Before you push that over on me,' he says, 'let's go down and see the janitor.'

"We went to the cellar together and I went to the floor. He hit me in the nose so hard that I lost my dispossess."

ODESSA FACING STARVATION SINCE ALLIED TROOPS LEFT; MARAUDERS ROB RUMANIANS

Bolshevik Troops Patrol City and Put Down Disorders, But Have Been Unable To Secure Food Supplies—Distress Reigns in the Southwestern Parts of Russia.

Bucharest, April 10.—Odessa has been facing starvation since the allied powers withdrew their forces from the city, Bolshevik troops patrol the city and have put down disorders, and looting, but were unable to get supplies, as they do not control the territory outside.

Great disorder and distress reigns in Southwestern Russia, and wide stretches of the country are desolate, uncultivated and depopulated. Marauding bands have swept the land clear of everything of value, and have during recent weeks been crossing the Dniester into Rumania and running off herds of cattle. The river is flooded at present, however, and a check has been put to the depredattions of these outlaws.

PRINCE NOT TO VISIT CANADA ON WAY HOME

Will Return From Australian Trip Via Panama Canal.

Ottawa, April 9.—Canadian Press.—Any possibility that the Prince of Wales will carry out his original intention of traveling through Canada on his way home from Australia in tthe autumn, is disposed of in an official telegram from Lieut.-Col. E. W. M. Grigg, military secretary to his royal highness. Col. Grigg telegraphed from H.M.S. Renown last night to the Canadian Press, Limited, as follows: "The Prince of Wales will return to England via Panama, in order to visit the chief islands of the British West Indies. He much regrets, therefore, that he will be unable to travel through Canada on the return journey this year, but he means to visit Canada again at the first opportunity."

DR. JOHN A. LEE DEAD; VICTIM OF THE X-RAY

Widely Known Through Experiments With Its Use in Healing.

New York, April 9.—Dr. John A. Lee, president of the Kings County Medical Society, who became known because of his early experiments with the X-ray, died at his home in Brooklyn. Death was the direct result of burns suffered in these experiments when the X-ray was only slightly known and little understood.

Dr. Lee was born in New Britain, Conn., in 1872.

It was at St. Mary's Hospital in Brooklyn that he equipped the first X-ray hospital department in the United States. He received many burns in 1905, and he was forced to give up the use of the ray. In 1908 one of the fingers from his hand and a tumor from his chest were removed. Several minor operations followed, from time to time, until 1919, when another tumor was removed from his chest. This failed to check the disease and his lungs became affected.

In the world war Dr. Lee was attached ta the hospital ship Solace with the rank of lieutenant-commander. At the time the armistice was signed he was at Brest engaged in transport duty. He was later promoted to the rank of commander. His wife and two brothers survive him.

ALLEGED CROOKS ARRESTED.

New York, April 10.—Three men and four boys were arrested yesterday as alleged partners of a firm which rented a loft, ostensibly for legitimate business but which the police say was a "fence" for dishonest errand boys and a "drop off" for loft thieves. Property valued at more than $4,000 was found in the loft, alleged to have been stolen.

SUES FOR $100,000 DAMAGES.

San Francisco, April 10.—A libel action seeking $100,000 damages was filed in the superior courts here yesterday by David B. Ogden, Brookline, Mass., representing the board of trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, against the board of trustees and certain individuals of the Fourth Church of Christian Scientists in San Francisco, as the result of resolutions said to have been adopted by the church criticizing the society.

LLOYD GEORGE ON WAY TO ITALY FOR CONFERENCE

No Discussion of Franco-German Situation Expected.

DISCUSS VITAL SUBJECTS.

Paris, April 10.—Problems arising from the German situation will take precedence at the conference of allied premiers at San Remo, according to the Echo de Paris. Conversations on the situation in the Ruhr Valley, which have been begun in London, will be continued, and an answer will be given Germany's demand that she be given a three-months' extension of the period allowed for reducing her army to the point stipulated by the Versailles treaty. In addition, the conference will attempt to settle the Fiume question, and it is expected that conversations at the meeting will probably restore complete harmony among allied statesmen. The United States will not be represented at the meeting, over which Premier Nitti of Italy, will preside.

London, April 10.—Premier Lloyd George leaves for the conference of allied premiers at San Remo, Italy, this afternoon. He will make the trip by sea, according to a statement issued in Downing Street this morning. Announcement was made that no conference of allied representatives for discussion of the Franco-German situation was expected.

GERMANY SHIPPING CATTLE TO FRANCE

Live Stock Being Delivered According to Treaty Terms.

Compiegne, France, April 10.—Shipments of German cattle into France, in accordance with the terms of the Versailles treaty, have begun. The first trainload arrived at Chery-en-Valois yesterday, and will be distributed among the farmers of that district.

Under the peace treaty Germany was required to furnish France livestock in equal monthly installments in the three months following the date the treaty went into effect.

PRODUCTION DECREASED AS WORKING HOURS ARE LESSENED, CLAIM FRENCH

Paris, April 10.—Arguments that the establishment of the eight-hour day would result in as large or greater outputs as the ten or twelve hour day have proved fallacious, so far as France is concerned, by an investigation conducted by the ministry of commerce. Those who have made a study of the French worker, and know his inherent antipathy to being converted into a machine for automatic action, are not surprised by the conclusion that production is decreased in exact proportion to the reduction in the hours of labor.

PRIVATE JUDGE SAYS FRANK HALL'S HOME IS NEAR NORWICH

Returned Soldier in Hospital Says He Recognizes the Veteran.

AS FELLOW-WORKMAN

Declares Trooper With Lost Memory Enlisted in St. Thomas.

Brantford, April 10.—Pte. Judge, a Brantford man in the Burlington Hospital, has written to the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Office here, asserting that he identifies the pictures published of the soldier without a memory, as a fellow workman. Judge says his name is Frank Hall, and that his home is on a farm between here and Norwich. He states that he has a sister and a brother living on the farm, and that the reason he knows Brantford so well is that he came in and out of this city when he was younger, and that he worked a number of years ago in the Massey-Harris factory. He enlisted in St. Thomas, as he was working there when the troops went overseas. Sergt. Cross at Burlington has also recognized him. The number of Pte. Judge in the army was 660457.

WINDSOR MAN SHOT IN MISTAKE TO SUE POLICE OFFICIALS

Ernest Bergernon Must Undergo Operation To Save Life.

Windsor, April 10.—Redress through the courts is to be sought by Ernest Bergernon, businessman, who was seriously wounded by police officers when he was taken for a rum runner recently on the river front road, and his car and wife's clothes riddled with bullets. A bone in the back of his head was fractured and must be removed if his life is to be saved.

He was held up Tuesday night by bandits, and discussing the case last night declared: "My contention is that when holdups here are now of almost nightly occurrence, law enforcers should at least wear some mark of identification, if not, their uniforms, when stopping cars in outlying districts."

Bergernon denies he fired at the officers, and declares that the four shots emptied from his revolver were fired at the ground in front of the Merchants Bank building, Sandwich West, when he drove up and stopped to seek protection from a friend residing above the bank. He claims shots were fired to attract attention, as he was exhausted from the loss of blood and shock after being wounded.

HUNGARIAN PEACE DELEGATES INSIST UPON PLEBISCITES

Allies Have Already Intimated Demands Will Be Refused.

Paris, April 10.—Hungarian peace delegates will refuse to sign any treaty which does not provide for plebiscites in territories detached from their country, it is learned on good authority. Intimations have already reached the delegates that demands for plebiscites will be refused, and it is thought possible that Count Apponyi, head of the Hungarian representatives, will not return to Neuilly to receive the supreme council's reply to objections recently filed here.

As soon as the council's reply is received it is expected the president of the conference will be informed the Hungarian delegation has not been empowered to sign such a treaty.

JAPAN SENDS MORE TROOPS TO MANCHURIA

Tokio, April 10.—An addidtional two housand troops to reinforce the Japanese soldiers in Manchuria sailed today.

COUNCIL WILL NOT INITIATE ANY STEPS TOWARD GIVING HIGHER FARES TO ST. RY.

In Spite of Decision Handed Down in Toronto Friday Afternoon That London Has Power To Grant Increased Fares—Agreement Cancelled March 31—Moral Victory, Says Cunningham.

London's city council can grant higher fares to the street railway, according to a decision of the appellate division at Osgoode Hall, reversing that of the late Chief Justice Falconbridge. This will have no immediate effect on the situation, according to all parties interested in the case. Ald. O. I. Cunningham, who supported the higher fare bylaw characterized it as "more of a moral victory than anything else."

In spite of this decision it is still possible that the railway board will be called in to operate the road in the event of a strike occurring on May 1 as threatened. Although the council, according to this decision has power to grant higher fares it is doubtful if any alderman would introduce such a measure in face of the vote recorded at the last municipal election.

Won't Start It.

Mayor Little thinks that the decision will aid in settling street railway difficulties, but does not think that the council will initiate any move toward higher fares.

"It has been stated several times that in the event of a strike here the railway board would step in and operate the road until such time as they found that the existing rate of fares would not meet operating charges and that they would then get out and leave us high and dry," said the mayor. "This decision would avert such a situation as if the railway board reached the conclusion that higher fares were needed the council would have the power to grant them.

"The attorney-general's department has the power to order increased fares where there is no agreement existing, such as in the case of the London and Port Stanley Railway. It is possible that the powers of this department may be extended, so that it can deal with a situation like the one here where there is an agreement in force."

Moral Victory.

Ald. O. I. Cunningham, who voted for higher fares last year, was also of the opinion that the decision would not affect matters now. "If this had been handed down before the election it might have had a good deal to do with the situation," he said. "But the bylaw which we passed was only valid for one year, or until March 31, and as this has now expired I don't think another one would be brought before the council, considering the way the people voted on the matter in January. It is more of a moral victory than anything else. It merely proves that our contention last year was correct."

Ald. G. B. Drake, who was not such a warm supporter of higher fares, today declared that he was "off the street railway for life."

"They wouldn't give us service when they did have higher fares, and even if we have the power now I don't see why we should grant them," he said.

Ald. E. R. Seabrook, one of the aldermen who opposed the higher fares, was non-committal. He would not intimate if any further steps would be taken to prevent higher fares. He did not consider it likely that the council would attempt to bring forward another bylaw of that kind.

Manager King refused to make any statement in connection with the matter.

The decision of the appelate division was not unanimous. Four judges concurred in it, but Justice J. A. Magee dissented. This may give ground for further appeal on the action.

History.

The decision of the appellate division the action of the city council in March last year in granting the street railway power to sell six and eight tickets for 25 cents instead of seven and nine tickets as previously. This was done to avert a strike by enabling the company to pay higher wages.

The higher fares remained in effect for a few months. Two injunctions were then sought to quash the bylaw, one by W. Service and the other by D. Joyes. Both these were granted by the late Chief Justice Sir Glenholm Falconbridge.

The street railway immediately appealed the decision, and the argument was heard in December before Justices Masten, Riddell, Clute, Sutherland and Magee. It is possible that the powers of this department may be extended, so that it can deal with a situation like the one here where there is an agreement in force."

In the meantime fares reverted to the old scale. A general vote was taken on the question in January, and higher fares were refused by a majority of 473.

Since that time the question has been more or less in the background. The decision of the men to ask higher wages and the certainty that the company would refuse them unless granted higher fares, made it likely, however, that the topic would be a live one by the end of this month.

The decision of the appellate division was handed down Friday. It allowed the appeal, with costs, and dismissed the motion to quash the bylaw. I. F. Hellmuth appeared for the street railway, and the city was represented by T. G. Meredith.

WOMAN WHITE SLAVER JAILED

Two and a Half Years' Sentence Imposed by Federal Judge Tuttle.

Detroit, April 10.—Genevieve Muskileno, 22 years old, the first woman convicted in Michigan under the Mann "white slave" act, was sentenced to two and a half years in the Detroit House of Correction by Judge Tuttle Friday evening. She was convicted of conspiring with her husband, Joseph Muskileno, to transport Charlotte LeClaire, 17, from her home in Syracuse, N. Y., to Detroit. The girl was placed in a downtown hotel by Muskileno.

In imposing sentence upon the woman, Judge Tuttle said that it was a serious enough offence to transport an immoral woman from state to state, but when an innocent young girl was the victim the offence was much more serious. He told Mrs. Muskileno that the life which she had led should have made her think of what she was bringing the young girl to.

RECREATION CENTRE

To Be Established For Girls On Lines of the Y. W. C. A.

Next Thursday evening the dining-room department of the Salvation Army Soldiers' Hostel, York and Clarence streets, will be closed, but the dormitory department of the hostel will remain open for some time yet.

While soldiers' hostels all over Canada are being closed as the leases expire on the properties, the needs and purposes for which they were established having been served, the Salvation Army will remain in possession of the hostel premises here, and will remodel the building, which was formerly the Hotel Cecil, into a hotel and recreation centre for young women traveling or working in the city away from friends at home. It will combine in a large way both the residential and recreational features of the Young Women's Christian Association centres in the city.

FAR EAST TRAVEL IS VERY ACTIVE

Accommodation on Steamers From Japan Fully Booked To Midsummer.

Montreal, April 10.—Abnormal activity in the matter of travel in the Far East, both to and from Europe via the continent of North America, and also by way of the Suez Canal route, was reported by Mr. F. T Hartman, agent of the International Sleeping Car and Express Company, at Yokohama, for the past seven years, who was in the city yesterday en route to London. The company is known in Europe as La Compagnie Internationale des Wagons-Lits, and is known to all passengers in France, Switzerland and Italy.

"The accommodation on all steamers from Japan to Vancouver or to American ports," stated Mr. Hartman, "is practically fully booked up to July and August of this year, and it is absolutely necessary for travelers from this country to see that they have their return berths allotted before setting out for Japan and China. The month of April is one of the heaviest seasons in tourist business in Japan, owing to the blooming of the far-famed cherry blossoms."

Yokohama, said Mr. Hartman, possesses a fine harbor, where passenger facilities are quite modern, and there are two very good hotels. In line with other parts of the world, the cost of living has gone up, and whereas before the war good accommodation could be obtained for 150 yen (about $60) a month, now the figure stands at more than four times that amount. At the same time the Japs have made money during the war and are spending lavishly. To some extent western tastes are creeping in, and there can now be seen large buildings of reinforced concrete in place of the light wooden houses with paper windows and sliding screens, in which most people live.

Japanese Railroads.

The railroads of Japan, in the opinion of Mr. Hartman, compare very favorably with American and Canadian railroads. Nearly all the employees have a knowledge of English, as the director of the passenger department, Mr. Y. Kinoshita, has had experience in Great Britain and has established schools for all grades of employees to study English, as well as technical matters pertaining to railroading.

Before the war it was possible, said Mr. Hartman, to take the train from Yokohama and travel over the Trans-Siberian Railway to Calais and thence to London within thirteen days, at a cost of £70 for the entire trip, including meals. At the present moment, however, owing to the unsettled state of Russia, passage over the Trans-Siberian does not extend from Yokohama beyond Omsk, and such accommodation as there is in the way of sleeping cars is mostly monopolized by allied military and diplomatic missions. The railways in Japan are government-owned and operated; but though they are well conducted and keep good time, there is a tendency to make the appointments political, and with a change of government there is always liable to be an all-round change in officials.

Mr. Hartman, accompanied by Mrs. Hartman and two children, sails for England on the Empress of France.

GENERAL DENEKINE ON WAY TO MALTA

Constantinople, April 10.—Associated Press.—General Denekine, former commander of anti-Bolsheviki forces in Southern Russia, left here Thursday on a British warship, presumably bound for Malta. There have been no arrests as yet in connection with the assassination of General Romanovsky, which occurred at the Russian embassy here on Monday night.

UNITED WELFARE ASSOCIATION WILL CONDUCT A CAMPAIGN FOR $180,000 DURING WEEK MAY 3

Decision Reached At Banquet in Tecumseh House — George M. Reid Will Be in Charge—Joint Fund For All Welfare Organizations in the City.

Under the able leadership of its president, George M. Reid, the United Welfare Fund Association will conduct a campaign during the week of May 3 to raise $150,000. This decision was reached at a banquet in the Tecumseh House on Friday evening.

This association was an incorporated one formed to raise money periodically by one campaign for all local welfare organizations expending money in the city, President Reid told the hundred members present. By the constitution all organizations benefitting by the joint campaigns agreed not to conduct independent canvasses during the year. They were required to submit their budget with a statement of last year's receipts and disbursements to the budget committee for its approval. The committee had the power to reduce or increase budgets.

Those Benefitting.

Societies benefitting by the association are: Young Women's Christian Association, Women's Christian Association, Young Men's Christian Association, Salvation Army, I. O. D. E., Children's Hospital Committee, Mount Hope Home, Social Service Council, Mount St. Joseph, Protestant Orphans' Home, Women's Sanatorium Aid, Victorian Order of Nurses, St. John Ambulance Corps, Byron Sanatorum (London Health Association), and London Child Welfare Association.

Other organizations which have pledged their assistance are: Rotary Club, Knights of Columbus, Western University, Ministerial Alliance, Canadian Club, Advertising Club, Builders' Exchange, London Rowing Club, Thistle Club, Commercial Travelers' Association, Life Underwriters' Association, St. Andrew's Society, Irish Benevolent Society, Bankers' Association and Chamber of Commerce.

Budgets Passed.

A. T. Little (chairman), J. K. McDermid, Major T. J. Murphy, John Pringle, William Spencer, J. G. Richter and C. R. May, who compose the budget committee, passed the following budgets for current expenses: Y. M. C. A., $25,000; Y. W. C. A., $10,500; House of Providence and St. Joseph's Orphanage, $16,000; Protestant Orphans' Home, $7,500; Child Welfare Association, $3,600; London Health Association, $13,000; Women's Sanatorium Aid, $3,500; Salvation Army, $7,000; Social Service Council, $5,000; Victorian Order of Nurses, $1,150; St. John's Ambulance Brigade, $2,500 and Soldiers' Aid Welfare Department, $2,000. This totals $96,750.

To this is added $65,500 for capital account or building costs. This will be held in trust until used for a specific purpose. It is composed of the following: Women's Christian Association for new home for incurables, $25,000; I. O. D. E., for children's hospital, $25,000; Y. W. C. A., toward new building, $5,000; Salvation Army, building work, $8,000, and to pay interest on large sum to be borrowed for erection of children's and nurses' home, $2,500.

Heart in Right Place.

George M. Reid, who was in the chair, was enthused with the turnout, and said it augured well for the United Welfare campaign. There was every reason to believe that London's heart was still in the right place. The commercial travelers, he said, would wind-up the campaign with a clean-up one at the end of the week of work.

Major A. T. Little, chairman of the budget committee, said that the aim to make the appeal as moderate as possible had been carried out.

The Army and Navy Veterans' Association asked to be placed among the beneficiaries, but this was impossible, as it was not a public welfare organization.

With its allowance the welfare department of the Soldiers' Aid Commission intends to send about thirty families to the lakeside for twelve days.

The objective of the campaign was set for $180,000 to allow for advertising expenses and shrinkage of first payments.

By unanimous consent the budget committee's report was passed.

7,000 "Special" Visits.

Gerald Pearson, chairman of the special list committee, stated that there were about 7,000 people in the city to whom it would be well to pay a special visit.

A. W. White, chairman of the public utilities team, thought that all would be well looked after in his district.

C. W. McGuire and Morley Adams of the Commercial Travelers' Association, declared that their organization would get behind this campaign as it had done in the case of the Children's Aid Society. As a result of its efforts the Children's Aid did not have to share in the money raised in this campaign.

Major Gordon Ingram stated that adequate publicity would be given the campaign. T. H. Yull was arranging a newspaper advertising campaign. "Give Once But Give Enough," was suggested as the slogan.

Results Day by Day.

H. F. Skey, chairman of the audit committee, hoped to be able to arrange to compile the results of the campaign day by day, so that each day's results could be published in the newspapers of the following morning. A. G. Calder, Kenneth Ingram and Eric Reid would assist him. He proposed to utilize the services of the accountants of the various banks in the city.

Philip Pocock declared that the meeting was an exceptional one, there not being one word of discord.

Professor W. Sherwood Fox said that he had witnessed a campaign of this kind in Baltimore and that it was a success. "What Baltimore can do, London can do." It was said that the canvassers were not greenhorns. Heretofore they had only done sniping. This time they were going to fire a volley.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor thought that much thanks was due to the chamber of commerce for the inauguration of this campaign. The cause was a worthy one. The results would be far beyond any prophecies. "If it is a good cause you can trust the people." The ministers would do their share in the pulpit and by canvassing.

Fundamental Principles.

Dean Norman L. Tucker declared that this work embodied the fundamental principles—union, brotherhood, service and sacrifice—which, when carried out resulted in overflowing treasuries.

Adjutant W. A. Martin of the Salvation Army was deeply interested in any work that was for the betterment of London. What was needed was more financial rope. Then more assistance could be given to those unfortunates in need of it.

Mayor E. S. Little was sure that the campaign would be successful, and that the canvassers would derive a great benefit from their work.

Mrs. Stevenson, A. E. Silverwood, John Bridge, Rev. Dr. R. G. Peever and Rev. T. S. Roy all expressed their faith in the success of the task that the association was going to tackle.

From all sides came words of appreciation of the work of George M. Reid in bringing the association into existence. Three cheers were given for him. He assured those present that without their loyal support he could not have done anything.

The Officers.

Officers of the organization, are: George M. Reid, president; Col. W. M. Gartshore and Philip Pocock, vice-presidents; A. D. McLean, honorary treasurer, and Gordon Philip, secretary.

The chairmen of the committees are: Budget Committee—A. T. Little.

Special Lists Committee — Gerald Pearson.

Individual Subscribers Canvass Committee—John Bridge.

Employees Canvass Committee—W. F. D. Jarvis.

Public Utilities Canvass Committee—Arthur W. White.

House-to-House Canvass Committee —C. W. McGuire.

Educationalists Canvass Committee —H. B. Beal.

Publicity Committee—Major Gordon Ingram.

Auditing Committee—H. F. Skey.

The Teams.

Following are the teams for the four districts:

1. Lieut.-Col. W. J. Brown (chairman): J. M. Watt, Rotary Club; W. B. Christianson, Canadian Club; W. Sherwood Fox, Western University and Ministerial Alliance; D. M. McArthur, Chamber of Commerce, and Bruce Wanless, Bowling and Curling Club.

2. W. R. Yendall (chairman); E. E. Reid, Y. M. C. A.; T. B. Parkinson, Ad. Club; C. May, Rotary Club; Jared Vining, Chamber of Commerce, and L. A. Boss, Builders' Exchange.

3. Ald. F. E. Harley (chairman), J. C. Beemer, Rotary Club; T. A. Faust, Chamber of Commerce; C. C. Waller, Canadian Club; R. C. MacKnight, Life Underwriters, and E. J. Ryan, Knights of Columbus.

4. E. V. Buchanan (chairman), W. J. Ashplant, Ad. Club; A. E. Barbour, Thistle Club; Adjutant W. A. Martin, Salvation Army; Ben Brick, Rotary Club, and J. J. Foote, Chamber of Commerce.

A special insignia made especially for the association is to be given to all subscribers to place in their windows.

CYCLIST IS INJURED IN CRASH WITH AUTO

Kenneth Miller Is in Hospital Semi-Conscious.

As the result of a collision between a bicycle and an automobile on the east side of the York Street Bridge yesterday afternoon, Kenneth Miller, 24 Cove road, aged about 58 years, is in Victoria Hospital with injuries, the full extent of which have not yet been determined.

Miller was riding a bicycle eastward across the bridge when the accident happed. According to Arthur Taylor, who was driving the automobile with which he collided, the cyclist came suddenly from behind a delivery wagon which had obscured both his and the car driver's view, and the collision was unavoidable. The automobile was one of those operated by the transport section of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment.

The police ambulance took Miller to the hospital, where Dr. L. H. Douglass attended him. Dr. Douglass stated last night that his patient was in a semi-conscious condition, and that about forty-eight hours must elapse before he could determine whether his injuries were of a serious nature. At present, he said, there were no indications of anything worse than shock, abrasions and bruises on the right shoulder and left ankle and scalp injuries.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

AN ENEMY OF SOCIETY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Your editorial in a recent issue dealing with "The War on Venereal Diseases," is along the right line, and if you will follow it up with another editorial dealing in like fearless manner with "Venereal Diseases' War on Society," you will have set in motion a thought wave that will shake the very foundations of this most terrible scourge.

Very few who have given the matter serious consideration will agree with the opinion of Dr. Bates, as reported in your issue of the 5th inst., that "early marriages would be a solution of the problem presented by the social evil." To the mind of the writer, your editorial touches the key to the solution, when you say: "What is needed is public knowledge on the existence of social dangers. Humanity is not a race of fools that will deliberately walk into a clump of reeds where rattlesnakes are known to lie in wait. Venereal disease has flourished far more under the poisonous shadow, the deadly nightshade of ignorance and prudery, than it ever could have flourished in the open."

But your editorial contained one weak spot in that you give voice to the opinion that the most loathsome of venereal diseases are curable. Dr. Martin, of the Battle Creek Sanatorium, a specialist in venereal diseases, who was selected by the United States Government for work along his line at the front during the world war, is not sure that these diseases are curable. In an address delivered in the Y. M. C. A. in this city shortly after his return from the front, he related the case of a young man whom he had treated and thought cured. The young man was keeping company with a young woman and contemplated matrimony, but having some conception of the awfulness and tenacity of the thing from which he hoped he had been delivered, he returned to Dr. Martin for further examination before pronosing to the lady in question. Dr. Martin called in another specialist, and together they applied every known test, but could not find any lingering trace of the dread disease, and they assured the young man it would be safe for him to marry. In less than one year from the date of his marriage his wife was hovering between life and death on the operating table, having contracted the disease from which he thought he had been cured.

Dr. Martin is of the opinion, and so are many other doctors with whom the writer has discussed this question, that a large percentage of the internal troubles of married women is due to this one thing—a nasty, ugly thing to say; but if we are going to make headway along this line the truth must be laid bare. Thousands of medical men in the large centres of population carry some awful secrets locked up in their breasts. They see mothers by the score placed on the operating table; they see children brought into the world blind or deformed; and they know the cause, but dare not tell it. The time has come when the medical profession must speak and tell, not merely half the truth, but the whole truth. Society has rights which must be considered, and the medical profession owes this much to society.

Whatever rights may be claimed for those already afflicted must give way to the far greater rights of those not yet tainted who stand in danger of contact. The only way to stamp this pestilence from the land is to throw upon it the full glare of knowledge and truth, and if the guilty suffer in consequence, that will be but their contribution to the safety of the innocent. Let the world know the war that venereal diseases are making against society.

OFFICERS UNABLE TO THROW LIGHT UPON DUPLICATION OF PAY

St. Catharines Canal Guard Inquiry Closes.

St. Catharines, April 9.—The inquiry into the finances of the 19th Regiment while it did guard duty on the frontier was concluded here tonight, and Gen. Cruikshank, the president, said the court would look over the evidence and announce its findings as soon as possible.

Lieut.-Col. W. W. Burleigh, commanding officer of the 19th, was the last witness examined, and he was questioned again as to disposal of some thousands of dollars kept back by arrangement with the men with which to buy extra rations, but he could throw no light on the mystery, as these rations were bought and paid without bills or receipts being taken. He said he knew nothing of the duplication of the pay sheets and presumed that the men who were down twice had been paid twice through some error.

W. E. Erskine, whose name was on two pay rolls for August, 1914, one for overseas and the other for the frontier, admitted he had been paid twice.

"Why would you take the money, knowing you were not entitled to it?" Gen. Cruikshank asked.

"I did not know I was not entitled to it," said Erskine. "I did not enlist for the money. They told me where to sign and handed me the money and I thought it was all right."

Capt. C. S. Patterson, the paymaster, was again questioned this afternoon and asked about the duplication of the pay sheets. He could offer no explanation except that somebody in the excitement of the time had evidently blundered and the thing had gone through unnoticed.

Major George R. Bradley said that somebody had evidently signed the payroll for him, because the name was not even spelled right.

WILL INVITE EXPERT TO SUBMIT PLANS ON TOWN PLANNING

Landscape Architect Will Be Asked To Come Here.

ESTABLISH AERODROME

Town - Planning Committee Member To Interview Airmen On Subject.

An invitation to Alfred V. Hall, landscape architect, Toronto, to visit London, Saturday, April 17, and make suggestions regarding local town planning was extended by the town-planning committee at a meeting last night. The arrangements were left in the hands of the chairman of the committee, Ald. E. R. Seabrook.

Mr. Hall is already fairly familiar with the city. However, it is expected that he will arrive Friday, and will take a trip to the principal sections with some members of the committee. A meeting will be called for Saturday night, and he will then present recommendations suggested by the trip. It is possible that the members of the Housing Commission may be asked to be present at the meeting, as Mr. Hall will touch on matters of importance to them.

Initial steps toward establishing an aeroplane landing field here were taken when Ald. Cameron Wilson, a member of the committee was asked to interview members of the local aero club on the matter. Their suggestions will be brought before the committee.

Fear Prejudicial Bill.

Apprehension that a town-planning bill prejudicial to the interests of London, in the Provincial Legislature, resulted in a decision to telegraph the local members, Dr. H. A. Stevenson, to prevent such action.

City Clerk Baker stated that Dr. Stevenson had called at his office with a draft of "The City of London Town-Planning Act." Mr. Baker informed him that no such bill had been authorized by London's Town-Planning Committee or any other city body to his knowledge.

Gordon Philip, secretary of the Town-planning Association had previously notified the committee that a draft of a proposed town-planning act was being sent to the city. Ald Wilson said this apparently had been received by someone here, considered by some persons interested in town-planning, and sent back to Toronto.

John Cottam was of the opinion that no such legislation was proposed. He claimed the Government was drafting a basic act with the idea of adding clauses later to suit the needs of each municipality. In doing this they might have consulted people in London, whom they considered to be well-informed on town-planning matters. The Londoners in making a reply to the request for information would be expressing their own opinions, and not those of the official body. There was no intention of slighting the official town-planning body.

Ald. Wilson claimed that the town-planning committee was as much interested in the basic principles of the act as any one in the city, and that the Government communication should have been addressed to it instead of to any individual. London might not agree with some of the "fundamental principles," which were being introduced.

To clear the situation it was decided to telegraph Dr. Stevenson to withhold any town-planning legislation, purporting to be authorized by the City of London, and asking him to forward a copy of any general legislation along this line, which might be before the House, and also to state from whom he received the bill regarding which he had made inquiry from the city clerk.

VALUABLE PATTERNS AND MODELS BURNED IN INGERSOLL FIRE

Firemen Have Hard Fight in Dense Smoke and Steam.

Tillsonburg, April 9.—Fire which for a time threatened to assume very serious proportions broke out in the molding department of the Darrow Ironworks Company at 1:30 p.m. today. The firemen made a quick response to the alarm, but it was only after an hour's hard work that the flames were got under control.

Owing to the dense smoke and clouds of steam it was some time before the seat of the fire could be located, but the excellent water pressure enabled the firemen to confine the blaze to a small section of the plant. A considerable number of valuable patterns and models were destroyed before "fire out" could be signalled.

The management were unable to make an estimate of the damage this afternoon, but stated that the fire would make no serious difference to work in hand and that work, including repairs, will be resumed in the damaged building tomorrow morning. The fire is believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring.

BANQUET AT Y. M. C. A.

Twenty-five of the young men of the Y. M. C. A., were present at a banquet held in the building of the association last night. The young men meet every Friday night, but owing to a special program being arranged the banquet was also put on.

A lecture was given on bonds, by D. McArthur of the London and Western Trusts Company, covering the system of bond transactions from the time of their origin to the present day.

A very lusty sing-song was held after the lecture by the members present.

IT TAKES THE JOY

Out of Life—In the Spring When Impure Blood, Lost Appetite,

Lifelessness, lassitude, and that tired feeling pull down health to the low level that invites illness.

The knees become weak, and life seems hardly worth living.

In this condition Hood's Sarsaparilla has the real "human touch." It meets the necessity promptly, and completely. It purifies the blood, creates an appetite, "makes food taste good," and aids digestion, thus naturally increasing strength and in a common-sense way building up the whole system. Then the bright days of spring find in you happy response and the whole world smiles again.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla for your Spring Medicine—used as such for nearly fifty years by thousands. It "makes food taste good."

Keep on hand Hood's Pills as a gentle laxative or (in larger doses) as an active cathartic.

BERRY BOWL PRESENTED

On Tuesday, April 6 a delightful evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Hoskins, former leader of the Clarence Street Baptist Church choir, when about 30 choir members gathered for a surprise party, and presented her with a beautiful cut glass berry bowl. The address was read by C. Barker, while J. Tupholme, president of the choir, made the presentation. The evening was spent in pleasant games and music after which a dainty lunch was served.

UNKNOWN SOLDIER RECALLS DETAILS OF BRANTFORD FACTORY

None of Brantford Party Recognizes "Hall."

Toronto, April 9.—Identification of the shell-shocked returned soldier who calls himself "Frank Hall," and says he worked at the Massey-Harris plant in Brantford before the war, has not yet been established, but it was brought appreciably nearer today, when two or three Massey-Harris employees of Brantford, accompanied by Mayor M. M. MacBride, M. P., visited "Hall" in the Dominion Orthopaedic Hospital here.

None of the party recognized the stranger, but the visitors were convinced that he came from Brantford, as he recalled numerous details in connection with the Massey-Harris factory and mentioned a number of Brantford people. Another attempt will probably be made tomorrow to connect the unknown soldier with his own name.

A dispatch from Vancouver stated that the shell-shocked soldier was the son of Steven T. Hall, West Vancouver, and a later dispatch added that William Hall, 96 Oakwood avenue, Toronto, was an uncle, and should be able to identify Hall. Inquiry at Mr. Hall's home here tonight brought to light that the published picture of the unknown soldier had not been recognized by Mr. Hall as that of any relative, and that Mr. Hall did not know of any relative named "Frank Hall."

START REBEKAH LODGE

For the purpose of organizing a Rebekah Lodge of the I. O. O. F. at Dorchester, a committee was appointed by the chairman, Bro. Boyce, of Lily Lodge, No. 211, at a recent meeting, at which a number of Dorchester ladies were entertained. District Laputy Sister Bolton and Past District Deputies Sister Borland and Sister Siessor of London were present for the occasion, and the proposal to inaugurate a Rebekah lodge at Dorchester was received with enthusiasm.

DIES IN CHELSEA GREEN.

Iva E., only daughter of Mrs. Madea and the late Fred Thrower, aged 13 years, died at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Berdan, after only five days illness with pneumonia. Iva was particularly well liked by all, and will be greatly missed both in the school and Sunday school. She leaves to mourn her loss her mother and brother and grandparents.

The coffin was laden with beautiful floral sprays. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. McKinley of Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. Mr. Crawford of Chelsea Green Presbyterian Church. Interment was made in Woodland Cemetery.

FATHER-SON SERVICES

Father and son week will close tomorrow with Father and Son church services in all the Protestant churches of the city.

The Methodist Ministerial Association on Monday last decided unanimously to hold the Father and Son service for their church at 7 p.m.

At Askin Street Church, in the evening a special Father and Son sermon will be preached by Rev. Floyd Maine, of Albert College. All men of the congregation, with their sons, are requested to occupy the centre of the church.

POLICE CHIEF PUTS BAN ON PUNCH BOARDS

Wallaceburg, April 9.—Chief of Police Cousins has ordered all tobacco dealers and restaurant keepers who have punch boards to put them away. It is stated that in some instances considerable business has been done in connection with these devices, which come under the statutes prohibiting games of chance.

Local merchants observed their first weekly half-holiday yesterday. It is planned to continue Thursday half-holidays until October 31.

Mrs. A. Trudell, aged 53, is dead from complications which followed an attack of influenza. The funeral will be held on Saturday to Stony Point.

Twenty-three Belgian hares, some of which were valued as high as $8, owned by James Parrish, were killed by a dog.

Mrs. Riley Judson has left for Detroit, to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. L. Benedict, formerly of Wallaceburg. Mrs. Benedict, while about to board a street car, was struck by a passing auto truck, and had her skull fractured. Her condition is very serious.

"MOONEY" GIBSON ANNOUNCES SALE OF TWO PITCHERS

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—Manager Mooney Gibson of the Pittsburg National League Club, announced here yesterday that he had sold Pitchers Meador and Eberhardt to the Wichita Falls club of the Texas League, under optional agreement.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Rev. J. T. C. Morris, M.A., B.D., of Askin Street Church, will preach in First Methodist Church Sunday morning. In the same church the First Brotherhood will take charge at night, and addresses will be given by J. F. Maine, E. R. Dennis and L. M. Holding, in connection with the "Father and Son" movement.

TO ABOLISH WHIPPING POST.

Budapest, April 9.—The Agrarian members of the national assembly have introduced a bill providing for the abolition of the whipping post as the penalty for usury and smuggling.

SALVATION ARMY WORKS IN BERLIN

Officer Just Returned Tells of Desperate Conditions Prevailing.

Toronto, April 10.—Desperate conditions among the poor in Berlin, due to the scarcity of food and also to the inadequate housing facilities are described by Major Walter B. Mabee, editorial secretary of the Salvation Army, who has just returned from four months spent in Germany.

"The people in Berlin are rationed more strictly now than ever before," he said, "and the quantity of food allowed has been cut down to less than the lowest wartime ration.

"As the Salvation Army workers are in constant contact with the very poorest of the poor in Berlin, I had opportunity to learn of the real conditions in that city while I was there. The lack of a sufficient supply of milk for the babies is producing the most serious results.

Deformed Infants.

"War's deprivations have just begun to manifest themselves in a most terrible form. The number of deformed infants born, especially among the poor, is appalling. For the treatment of these, and of the feeble offspring of under-nourished mothers, the municipal authorities have taken over one of the largest hospitals in Berlin.

"Throughout Germany the milk supply is sufficient for only forty-eight per cent of the children under six years of age. No child over six can be given milk except on a physician's certificate. There is almost no fresh milk; practically all being either condensed or evaporated.

"England has now taken up in earnest the problem of providing nourishing food for the German babies. The British Government has appropriated $25,000 for milk for the little ones, chiefly those in Berlin, where the need is greatest. The Salvation Army has set aside an equal amount for the same purpose. The distribution of the milk made available by both these funds is to be made by the Salvation Army.

Distributed by Salvation Army.

"The first cargo had reached Hamburg just before I left, and the German Government had granted the Salvation Army free transportation for that shipment and for all supplies of milk that might follow. Lieut.-Col. Braine of the Salvation Army International Headquarters, is directing the distribution, and is being assisted by the German Salvationists in Berlin.

"Two conditions make the situation bad for the adults in Berlin. The German potato crop was seriously injured by an early frost last fall; and the poor are now forced to live chiefly upon turnips and beets. This was their diet during a good part of the war; but just now the supply is lower than ever before and the rationing more skimped.

"Because of the great rush of people to Berlin from the country districts during the war, that city found itself with a population of 6,000,000 when hostilities ceased: and there were adequate housing facilities for only 2,500,000. Through the efforts of the municipal authorities, aided by the Federal Government, a million people have been induced to return to the country; but with its remaining 5,000,000 Berlin is still dangerously overcrowded. Whole families are living in cellars and in single attic rooms."

ROBERT HERRING DIES; WAS FIRST COMMERCIAL TRAVELER IN CANADA

Montreal, April 10.—Robt. Herring, who claimed to be the first commercial traveller in Canada, is dead here.

He was 87 years of age, and came to Canada over seventy years ago from Bawtery, Yorkshire.

Mr. Herring entered the drygoods business of Messrs. Winks, on St. Paul street. His territory included Toronto, Hamilton, London, Kingston, Ottawa, which was then called by town, and various smaller places along that route.

ROBB WANTS DETAILS OF GRAVEL PURCHASE

Ottawa, April 10.—(Canadian Press).—Details surrounding the Government purchase of gravel for the concrete highway on the east bank of the Welland Canal near Port Colborne are asked in a question for the House Monday from J. A. Robb, chief Liberal whip, and member for Chataugauay and Huntingdon.

SPRING PICNIC

Anglican Church Affair at "Y" Promises to be a Large One.

The spring picnic of the Anglican churches will be held in the Y. M. C. A. on April 24. With the exception of the Grand Trunk picnic tonight, it is expected the Anglican picnic will see the largest turnout of the year.

Twelve hundred people are expected to be present from all the young people's societies in the city which are attached to the Anglican Church.

The picnic was to have been held three weeks ago, but owing to the influenza epidemic it was called off.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FUNERAL OF W. J. MARSHALL.

The funeral of William John Marshall, who died in Victoria Hospital April 7, was held Friday afternoon from the undertaking parlors of Hunter & Beam at 2:30 o'clock, to the family plot in Woodland Cemetery. The pallbearers were six nephews of Mr. Marshall, Matthew, Robert, Joseph, Thomas and George Marshall and Fred Lachie. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Wright, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

NEW NAME FOR 7TH REGIMENT

Will Now Be Known As Western Ontario Regiment, 1st Battalion.

Word has been received from Ottawa by Capt. Chester Butler that the Seventh Regiment will lose its name and will now be known as the Western Ontario Regiment, First Battalion. The regiment will take over the colors and the battle honors of the original first battalion of the C. E. F.

The identification of all overseas units will be carried out in this district, as all militia regiments will change their numbers to that of an active service unit. The regiments which lost their identity on proceeding overseas will go down on the list as a corps reserve. The Thirty-third will be one of the reserve units of the W. O. R.

This is part of the lengthy program submitted to Ottawa by Lieut.-Col. Walter Brown some time ago, while he was A. A. Q. M. G. of this district. The report Lieut.-Col. Brown submitted included that of the taking in of all overseas units, keeping the units which kept their identity overseas as active militia regiments, and using the others as a reserve.

Just what will be done regarding the compulsory training is not known, as the government has not made a move yet in that direction.

The uniforms for the Seventh will be drawn from the ordnance stores some time next week. The reason for the hold-up in the equipment was the closing of the stores for the annual stocktaking, as the fiscal year of the army closed on March 31.

TELLS OF TRICKS PLAYED ON GERMANS

Lieut. H. Cameron, Formerly of 135th, Writes Interesting Letter.

Lieut. Hector Cameron, formerly attached to the 135th Battalion recruited in this city, and a native of Parkhill, writes an interesting letter to a friend in this city from Skagen, Denmark.

In the letter he tells of some of the tricks the Jews in the Scandinavian countries played on the Germans. He says: "Whether it was their sympathies were with us or that they were out for money, is a question, perhaps a little of both. A Jew would get an order for some kind of oil, and the money would have to be paid before the order was filled. Some of these orders for oil proved to be 90 per cent water; and again they buy large consignments of fish in Norway that is far past the state of selling in that country and sell it to Germany. The fish would be nearly beyond handling when Germany was reached.

"It is very hard to find out which way the Scandinavian people's sympathies run. They certainly play the neutral part very well and naturally."

Lieut. Cameron is abroad in the interests of a United States oil company. In his letter he says he has visited in Le Havre, Rouen and Copenhagen, but has been prevented from viewing the battlefields on which he fought with many other Londoners, and who will remember him quite well.

IS DISAPPOINTED AT GOVERNMENT ACTION

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles Gives Opinion On Gratuity Turn-Down.

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles expressed disappointment this morning that the government had announced it would not pay further gratuities to the returned soldiers. All he could say, he stated, was that he was sorry the government could not see further than the length of its own nose, but he hoped that the soldiers would be able to swallow their chagrin at the indignity with which their request had been turned down. He hoped that no disorder or upheaval would befall the country as the result of the government's action.

How tthe member for London stood on the gratuity question this last time has not been reported locally, but his failure to keep his pledge to a committee of three soldier representatives who waited on him at the preceding time the question was before the House was a matter of severe disappointment to local returned men. Major Hume Cronyn at that time promised to support a measure for increased gratuities, but voted with the government when it came up in the House. Report had it at the time that he declared he had no desire to make himself a catspaw for the returned soldiers.

Lieut.-Col. Coles is of the opinion that a good way to have granted the increased gratuities would have been to issue another war loan, which the soldiers would have worked hard to sell. The gratuities to each would have been paid in installments monthly over a period of from one to two years, and to keep the returned soldiers in Canada might properly enough have been restricted to payment in Canada or other parts of the British Empire. Such a procedure would keep in Canada thousands of desirable citizens who have gone to the United States since the close of the war.

John Cunliffe, secretary of the G. W. V. A., announced this morning that the gratuity question was far from settled. Sir George Foster, he said, was the only one who has turned it down, and Hon. Mackenzie King is now fighting to have the matter again brought up.

The committee appointed by the G. W. V. A. for the settlement of the gratuity question was ordered to stay in Ottawa until it had received a definite answer regarding the money for the returned men.

CHASING CHICKEN

Chinaman Has Interesting Tussle With Flapper.

A local Chinaman, owner of a restaurant, had a jolly time this morning at the corner of King and Richmond streets, chasing a chicken. The Chinaman was first seen coming along King street by the Bank of Toronto.

The chicken, which caused all the commotion, was leaning on the Chinaman's arm, and when the corner of King and Richmond streets was reached it made for liberty. The chicken, being of the feathered kind, was quite a flapper, and it was only with the aid of passers-by that the bird was rescued.

RECOVERING.—Two of the soldiers of the P. P. C. L. I., who are ill in the county jail with diphtheria, are recovering. Another is still in a critical condition. They are held in the jail in connection with the raid on the military canteen some time ago. As a result of the outbreak of diphtheria, the "No Visitors" sign is again hung out at the entrance of the jail.

LIMBERS ARRIVE.—Eight ammunition limbers arrived from overseas for the 12th Field Battery this morning. The limbers were brought to Canada on the steamship Trooper and were shipped from Halifax over the Grand Trunk to this city. They were taken to the armories. The carriages are still covered with war paint, being splashed with patches of yellow green and brown. This paint was put on to camouflage the limbers and to make them invisible at any distance. Field guns are expected to arrive here next week.

C. P. R. LAYS OFF SEVERAL CREWS

Freight Embargo Affects Canadian Roads Seriously.

Several crews on the local division of the C. P. R. have been laid off on account of the tight embargoes tnat has been put on all ports of entry into the United States. Practically no freight is crossing the border at any point leading into Western Ontario this morning.

Cars are piling up all along the line on the roads. No cars are being moved to the border from any point in order that a congestion might be avoided at the points of entry.

According to Superintendent C. F. Forrester, of the local division of the Grand Trunk, no freight is either crossing to or from the United States. No coal is moving, but as far as it is known no hardships or serious shortages are being caused.

The coal situation is being helped by the great quantities of all classes of coal that was moved by the roads during the month of March. Over fifteen thousand cars of coal were moved out of Fort Erie by the Grand Trunk alone during this month, establishing the second highest record for the amount of coal moved since the year 1914.

BIG REDUCTION IN PLUMBING COSTS

Prediction Made by Ald. O. I. Cunningham Today.

"Twenty-five to $50 reduction in the cost of the average plumbing job will result from the changes made in the plumbing bylaw, last Monday," Ald. O. I. Cunningham said today. He was instrumental in having the measure reconsidered, claiming that some of the clauses unnecessarily enhanced the cost of the work.

Only about half the clauses have been reconsidered.

"There will be a reduction of about $100 in the cost of the average plumbing contract before we are finished," the alderman predicted.

The remaining clauses of the bylaw will be dealt with by the special committee Monday night.

EARLY CLOSING BYLAW CONSIDERED A GOOD MOVE

Sarnians Are Preparing To Revive Motor-Boating Clubs.

Sarnia, April 9.—The early closing of grocery stores and meat shops as enforced by the recent passing of a by-law, has been a good move it is considered in this city except by few people, who run small stores and would like to keep them open all evening. No complaints of dealers refusing to close have been made to the police, and it is thought that all the dealers have decided that the by-law is a good one. It has been suggested that the stores all close every Wednesday afternoon, but this is not being received with much enthusiasm by the dealers.

REVIVE BOATING CLUB.

Considerable interest is being manifested locally at present in boating, and it is likely that the old Sarnia Motor Boat Club will be brought back to life again. Sarnia at one time had a large number of motor craft, but the war thinned out the owners and the sport died down, owing to restricted areas on the river and operation of patrol boats. These restrictions have now been set aside, and the time is considered good to resurrect the old boating game.

MUST SALUTE FLAG OF FRANCE

Berlin, April 9.—By the Associated Press.—Advices from the Rhineland report that the French commander-in-chief in the area occupied by his troops has ordered all Germans to salute the French flag and French officers, and that he threatens reprisals in the event there are fresh outbreaks.

The arrival of fresh forces throughout the day is reported. Railway communication between the occupied area and the rest of Germany is still suspended. Strasbourg dispatches say new troops are steadily crossing the Rhine.

TOOK DRINK FOR "EXPERIENCE" FINED $200 IN POLICE COURT

Eighteen-Year-Old Windsor School Boy Led Astray by an Alleged Friend, Who Gave Him Half-Pint Bottle of Whiskey.

An 18 year-old Windsor boy was fined $200 and costs in police court by Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon, this morning, for having a bottle of liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

P. C. Agmon Berryman, arrested him on the Grand Trunk station at 4:45 o'clock this morning. The boy was taking a drink out of a half-pint bottle of Hiram's Walker's whiskey.

"I only took a drink for the experience," said the defendant.

"This is a nice state of affairs," remarked the court. "What were you doing with the bottle?"

"A friend gave it to me before I left Windsor."

His father, he said, was in Florida, but he had a brother living in Windsor.

Magistrate Graydon offered to remand him for a week, so that he might get in touch with his relatives, but he preferred to be fined immediately, and then attempt to secure the money necessary to gain his freedom.

$100,000 Theatre To Be Built on Site of Old Duke of York Hotel

Manager of United Theatres, Limited, Says Company Will Have Theatre Ready For Occupation About October 1

East London is to have a new theatre costing approximately $100,000, within a few months, according to John Myers of Sarnia, general manager of the United Theatres, Limited. He stated Friday evening that the company intended building a theatre on the property occupied by the Empire Hotel, formerly known as the Duke of York, which has recently been acquired for the purpose.

Outside of the fact that the theatre will be built this summer, and that it will be ready for occupancy about the 1st of October, little could be learned. Mr. Myers could not say what the seating capacity would be, as the plans for the building have not been completed.

The deal was put through by Bert Weir. Mr. Weir could give no particulars of the reasons why the building was bought, or who bought it, but stated that $35,000 had been paid for the property.

RESERVES JUDGMDENT

Justice Lennox presided over the weekly high court sessions, held at the courthouse this morning. Judgment was reserved in the case of Marshall against Burch, the last case heard in the spring non-jury sessions Friday before Judge Macbeth. David Marshall asked for $2,000 damages, alleging misrepresentation in regard to grain and implements, which figured in the sale of a farm in Wawanosh Township, purchased from Elmer Burch.

DEBATE ON FRENCH BUDGET.

Paris, April 10.—Debate on the budget, by which it is intended to raise 8,500,000,000 francs, will begin in the Chamber of Deputies on Monday. Morning and afternoon sessions will be held with a view of expediting the measure, so that it may reach the Senate in the shortest possible time.

From the income tax it is expected $1,400,000,000 will be received.

MONTREAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

Montreal, April 10.—Spanish River preferred was the leading stock in the early trading on the local market this morning. It started ½ higher at 143, and advanced to 144¼ in the first ten minutes, with the bulk of the trading at 144. The common remained unchanged at 97. Other stocks remained practically the yesterday's closing, and with little activity.

C. E. F. CEASES TO EXIST TODAY

Means Demobilization of 200 Men in This District.

The Canadian Expeditionary Force ceases to exist today. All units which have been kept on the strength of the district as C. E. F. units will be demobilized. This will include the Dental, Medical, and Pay Corps, and will mean the demobilization of about two hundred men.

The clerical staff of district headquarters will also go as far as the civilian and C. E. F. staff is concerned, as all units will now be cut down to a peace-time footing

MINISTERS TO AID SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Will Discuss Accident Prevention At Services.

Detroit, April 10.—Public safety will be preached from nearly every pulpit in Detroit Sunday, according to officials of the committee on public safety. Requests have been mailed to every minister in Detroit, and more than 100 replies have been received promising that five minutes of the service will be devoted to a discussion of accident prevention. Although all churches have not replied, members of the committee believe that every minister will accede to their request.

All teaching nuns will discuss the prevention of accidents among their students Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the K. of C. hall on Woodward avenue. They will be addressed by Miss Marriet Beard, who has arranged a course of study for all pupils of city schools. Secretary George Walters of the police department will address the meeting, which has been called by Father Command, in charge of the safety movement in Catholic schools.

Policemen who have been addressing school children, are getting the material for their speeches from the children themselves, by acting as traffic officers near the school just before they speak. They note the actions of the children and discuss methods of preventing accidents in the immediate neighborhood.

Meetings at which the committee will advance its work on Saturday are: The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's employees and officers at 318 Farwell building, 10 a.m. Employees of the Burnham Stoepel Company at noon. Noon-day meeting of the employees of the Charles A. Strelinger Company. The safety film "All For Safety" will be shown at a gathering of school children at the Columbia schools in the afternoon. O. H. Rounds of the police department will address a meeting of the City of the Straights Lodge of Masons at Masonic Temple.

WHERE DID THEY GET IT FROM?

T. F. King, who pleaded guilty to defrauding Charles Escaff, a Dundas street fruit dealer of $300, had two local newspapermen on his list, according to information received by the police. One of these was almost "hooked" for $600 and the other for $300. The only mystery of the affair is where the newspapermen got the money.

TREATY DISCUSSION AGAIN TAKEN UP IN AMERICAN SENATE

Washington, D. C. April 10.—With the adoption of the House of the joint resolution declaring the war with Germany at an end, the Senate today again became the "battleground for peace." Both Republican and Democratic leaders expected the measure to be taken up there without great delay, probably Monday.

Opposition to the resolution from those who have fought so bitterly for the adoption of the Versailles treaty was assured, but opponents of the treaty and the league of nations were confident its passage would be obtained with considerably more than a majority, and that the affirmative vote would include a fair percentage of Democrats, as was the case in the House.

The resolution was adopted late yesterday by the House, 242 to 150.

WALL STREET.

New York, April 10.—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—(New York Time).—Stocks were under pressure at the dull opening of today's session, the more serious aspects of the railroad strike and the usual week-end settlement of contracts prompting moderate selling for both accounts. There were several striking exceptions to the reaction shippings and sugars scoring substantial gains. Heaviness was most marked among equipments, Steels and the Automobile groups, Oils also easing.

MARCONI STARTS ON WIRELESS RESEARCH

Going To Sea To Make Tests and Develop Direction-Finding.

London, April 10.—William Marconi, who will leave Southampton today on his 700-ton yacht Electra on a voyage of wireless research, said on Friday:

"I am not going out fishing for Mars messages, nor is there anything especially sensational in the objects of the voyage. Our intention is to make a number of tests, both telephonic and telegraphic, by wireless, more particularly to develop wireless direction-finding for navigation purposes, in which I believe much useful work can be done."

When asked for his personal views on the unexplained "messages" occasionally noted by wireless operators, Mr. Marconi said:

"These sounds which we have received on our instruments are probably due to electrical disturbances in the sun or some other remote place, but I do not think they are messages from Mars. I have been asked if I could exclude Mars, and I said I could not, nor could I exclude Venus or any other planet. It would not be logical, because the sounds are so far unaccounted for; but they are probably due to electrical disturbances in the sun.

"These sounds are curious, and are not explainable by the theory that they come from remote parts of the earth, because they have been heard in three continents in which our instruments are working. The magnetic storms, of which we have had considerable experience recently, may have something to do with them."

The subject of the interplanetary communication is a speculative one. It will be far more immediately useful to development means of safety for ships at sea than to try to get to Mars. "During this trip I shall be in touch with Marconi House, and should anything of surprising importance occur I could inform them immediately; but I assure you I do not look for anything sensational."

Mr. Marconi said that, besides his wife, there would be some personal friends aboard the Electra, among them the Marquis de Medici and his wife. The Electra is fitted with four powerful sets of wireless instruments, representing the pick of the latest wireless developments. The trip, which will last two months, will take the party to the Mediterranean, but Mr. Marconi's full plans are as yet undecided.

NO DECISION GIVEN IN EBER-MASON BOUT

Hamilton, April 10.—The fight staged here last night between the featherweight boxers, Frankie Mason of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Bobby Eber of Hamilton, resulted in no decision. Eber could not make the weight, by over two pounds, weighing 115¼ at 3 o'clock. Mason, therefore, could not agree to a decision being given. Local experts agreed that Eber outboxed and at times outclassed the Fort Wayne boxer, Mason had the best of it in only two rounds, the fifth and tenth, while the seventh was even.

In the main preliminary of six rounds, Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, earned the decision over Kid Bingham, of Hamilton. Another minor bout between Phil Murray and Battling Garrity, two local men, was declared a draw.

IS McTIGUE CHAMPION?

Halifax, N. S., April 10.—A controversy is going on here as to whether Mike McTigue, New York, when he knocked out Eugene Brosseau of Montreal, Canadian middleweight champion, took that honor away from him. The men did not weigh in. McTigue claims he weighed about 158 pounds, and that he understood he was fighting for the championship. On the other hand, Billy Moorehouse, Brosseau's manager, claims the title was not at stake. Both men have expressed a desire for another match, when the championship point will likely be definitely settled.

Brosseau made $2,400 out of the scrap and McTigue $1,400.

GRECIAN PRINCE TO RETAIN HIS TITLE

Report That He Would Renounce Rank Is Denied.

Geneva, April 10.—Prince and Princess Christopher of Greece, the latter being formerly Mrs. W. B. Leeds, the widow of an American tin plate magnate, have requested that reports recently published in America that the prince has renounced his rank in the sovereign house of Greece be denied. It had been reported that he and his wife were content to become simply a Danish count and countess.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS TO BE SENT VIA B. C. PORT IN FEW WEEKS

Vancouver, B. C., April 1.—Word was received in this city yesterday from London that the movement of the Czecho-Slovak troops through Vancouver from Vladivostok will commence the first week in May with the arrival of the steamer Ixion. Other ships, carrying troops, will arrive at weekly intervals. The men will be transported across Canada to Montreal over the Canadian National Railways.

CHAMPION RUNNER DIES.

Bakersfield, Cal., April 10.—Daniel J. Kelly, 33 years old, holder of the world's record of 9 3-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash, died yesterday at Fernie, B. C., of pneumonia, according to word received here last night.

4,000 MINERS ETRIKE IN KANSAS FIELDS

Pittsburg, Kas., April 10.—Four thousand miners were idle this morning, an announcement from the headquarters of the coal operators said. About forty mines are involved. More than 12,000 miners are employed in the district.

BACK FROM TORONTO

T. D. McCullough Tells of Meeting of Temperance Forces.

T. D. McCullough, district secretary of the Social Service Council, states that at the meeting of the temperance forces in Toronto last Tuesday both Dominion Alliance and Ontario referendum factions again presented a united front. On the question of forcing the referendum issue without waiting for "amended legislation," Rev. Ben Spence announced that the alliance would be in the fight "lock, stock and barrel."

It was felt that the great need of the present is to stop inter-provincial shipping. A resolution calling for legislation restricting the sale of native wines was unanimously passed. For the proposed referendum, it is estimated that the temperance forces will not need more than $100,000 to prosecute their campaign. The new referendum will not be nearly so costly as the previous one.

"The Bond of Sympathy Between One Woman and Another"

If you are discouraged with your condition, weak, tired, subject to headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations, weakness of bladder, constipation, hot flushes, melancholy, tendency to cry over trifles, nervousness and loss of interest in things generally, I want to help you to better things.

My own was probably as deplorable a case as could be found, yet it quickly yielded to "Orange Lily" treatment, and today I am a well woman.

"Orange Lily" is a simple, natural, common-sense remedy that you apply yourself. To go to drinking harmful drugs for troubles such as ours, is like trying to cure a sprain with pills. The only right and effective treatment is a strictly local application, like "Orange Lily."

Because I am sure in advance of the wonderful results you will have, I want to send you ten days' treatment, FREE. Will you write me today, NOW, and let me help you? Inclose three stamps. Address: Mrs. Lydia W. Ladd, Windsor, Ont. Sold by leading druggists everywhere.

GODFREY SAYS MORRISON GAVE POLITICAL TALK

Uses Report of U. F. O. Secretary's Speech To Guelph Students.

EARLY CLOSING STORES

Rollo Defends Bylaws To Shut Shops Early, Opposes Curry Bill.

TORONTO, April 9.—F. G. Sandy's bill to prohibit transportation of liquor within Ontario, which was introduced in the Legislature by the member for South Victoria yesterday and objected to by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson on the ground that it was not in order for a private member to introduce a bill affecting the revenue of the province, was given its first reading today, the Speaker, Hon. Nelson Parliament, having overruled Mr. Ferguson's objection.

Dr. Forbes Godfrey drew the attention of the House to a report of a speech made at Guelph by J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario. Mr. Morrison was quoted as saying that Premier Drury had not a majority in the House, and hence could not introduce all the legislation he desired.

"I would ask the minister of agriculture," observed Dr. Godfrey, whether this quasi-political sermonette delivered by Mr. Morrison in such a strictly non-partisan institution as the Guelph Agricultural College, has his indorsation?"

"I am constrained to believe that Mr. Morrison never delivered a speech which would have any political significance in the Guelph College," Mr. Doherty replied. "He was there to deliver an address on political economy."

"Do you deny that this is a partisan speech?" demanded Dr. Godfrey.

Answered Very Fully.

"I have answered the honorable gentleman very fully," replied the minister of agriculture.

"If this newspaper report is correct, do you approve of it?" Dr. Godfrey persisted.

"I consider the question frivolous," declared Mr. Doherty. "If I had anything to do with the newspaper in question, I might be prepared to answer it more fully."

Hon. W. R. Rollo, in answer to a question by J. A. Pinard, East Ottawa, stated that the cost of advertising issued by the provincial health department in connection with vaccination was $3,480.14. No persons other than the Government bore any of the expense.

Owen Sound has aspirations to cityhood and before the present sitting of the Ontario Legislature is over it will probably have its ambition realized. Mr. D. J. Taylor, North Grey, introduced for the first reading a bill to incorporate the Georgian Bay town as a city. There is little likelihood of any opposition to the proposed measure.

Incorporate Police Body.

Mr. J. W. Curry, K.C., Southeast Toronto, introduced a bill to incorporate the Ontario Police Association. Asked for an explanation of the document, Mr. Curry said that it enabled the police to have an association of their own, as recommended in the findings of the commission.

The introduction for the second reading of Hon. Mr. Nixon's housing act found the Government and Opposition leader in accord that there should be some limit to the borrowing power of municipal councils for housing principles. Upon the suggestion of Premier Drury, however, the bill was given a second reading and will be amended, if necessary, in committee.

In introducing the measure Hon. Mr. Nixon explained that it was a duplicate of the present measure, except that the guarantee of municipal debentures is substituted for direct government loans. Major Tolmie said he thought the ratepayers ought to be consulted. The whole matter should not be left to the discretion of a Government official.

MacBride for Aid.

Mr. M. M. MacBride, Brantford, put the housing situation strongly before House, and pointed out that if huge debentures were to be submitted to ratepayers they would be defeated since ratepayers in the main were landlords.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson favored the bill as it stood.

Although Mr. J. W. Curry, K.C., Southeast Toronto, stood alone in support of a bill which he introduced to invalidate early closing bylaw, the House permitting the bill to go on to the municipal committee. It was opposed from labor benches and from Mr. Curry's leader, Mr. Dewart. Its chances of getting through committee appear to be none too bright.

Hon. Walter Rollo pointed out that it was a serious thing to legislate to take away something for which workers had fought for years. He said the early closing bylaw was a measure in the interest of the retail clerks, and it should not be taken away from them.

"No More Sleepless Nights" —Bathes Internally.

Mr. J. R. Burrows, 271 West North street, Decatur, Ill., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"I am still using the J. B. L. Cascade once a week, and find it most efficient for keeping me in fine condition. It acts as a sedative for tired nerves and has been a great help for sleeplessness. I have frequently arisen from bed and used it in the middle of the night with satisfactory results."

The reason for this remarkable result is because the functions cannot work properly when there is accumulation of waste in the lower intestine.

The "J. B. L. Cascade," by the simple process of properly applying warm water, eliminates all this waste and causes the functions to work smoothly and properly.

Over half a million intelligent Canadians and Americans are now using the Cascade with similar results.

It is the invention of Charles A. Tyrrell, M.D., of New York, a noted specialist on internal bathing for 25 years.

It will be shown and explained to you by Standard Drug Company, Limited, who will be glad to give you an interesting booklet by Dr. Tyrrell called "Why Man of Today Is Only 50% Efficient." This booklet is free upon request. Ask for it today while you think of it.

WAGES AND C. OF L. ARE INCONSISTENT, SAY RAILWAYMEN

Strike of Yardmen At Border Growing Rapidly.

TIE UP OF FREIGHT

WINDSOR, April 9.—Claiming that the general scale for switchmen of $5 for an eight-hour day, while possibly sufficient in some parts of Canada and the United States, is absolutely inadequate on the border, yardmen in the employ of the M. C. R. are following the example set by the Detroit workers and are leaving their jobs. The entire border district is threatened with a tie-up in freight transportation tonight.

Risking Lives.

"We are risking our lives out here on 'the hump' every night, for eighteen have been killed within the last ten years switching cars there," declared one railwayman today. "Every month I pay out a week and a half wages for rent, and only two weeks ago fifteen men left the M. C. R. employ because of lack of sufficient wages."

Others May Quit.

Officials tonight admitted the possibility that the 185 men remaining in the employ of the M. C. R. in addition to those working for other roads would quit their jobs because of the inconsistency between wages and the cost of living here.

Yards Congested.

In the meantime, as a result of the strike, which has become more or less general among railwaymen in Detroit, the M. C. R. yards here are cluttered with freight, including 30 cars of coal and scores of cars of automobiles, machinery, furniture and foodstuffs. General Manager Shearer of the M. C. R. yards in Detroit today appealed to the Windsor officials for men to aid in clearing the situation across the river, but the men refused to go across.

AUTO FATALITIES IN DETROIT STILL GROW

Increased Fourfold During March—Passenger Cars Most Dangerous.

DETROIT, April 9.—Automobile fatalities in Detroit increased fourfold in March over the February deaths, the figures being sixteen and four as shown by data assembled by the coroner's office.

Passenger automobiles were responsible for twelve of the sixteen March deaths, the others being caused by trucks. Street car deaths jumped from two to nine, and railroad deaths from one to seven.

The larger number of February medical cases bring the total deaths handled by the coroner's office to 322, while the March total was only 215.

CHANGE LIMITS FOR MOOSE AND DEER

TORONTO, April 9.—Amendments to the game and fishery act were considered by the game committee of the Legislature at its inaugural meeting today. The north and west limits within which moose and deer, reindeer and caribou may be shot within the month of November have been changed from the C. P. R. tracks to the French and Mattawa Rivers. Placing of traps within 20 feet of a muskrat or beaver house will be forbidden under the new regulations. The open season for mink will be shortened by cutting off the months of April and November, leaving December, January, February and March. Increased royalties are imposed on skins of various animals. Hon. F. C. Biggs was elected chairman of the committee.

HORSE RACE AT PARKHILL.

PARKHILL, April 9.—Arrangements are under way to hold races here on June 16. A big day is anticipated, and as Parkhill is the town of the Royal Grattan colts, now so famous in the racing world, keen interest is shown in this district in sport of this kind.

ILLICIT TRAFFIC IN LIQUOR CAUSE OF EXCESSIVE RENTALS

Mayor Winter of Windsor Places Blame For Present Conditions.

OFFER $300 FOR $75 HOUSE

Co-operation of Businessmen With Police May Check Traffic.

WINDSOR, April 9.—Attacking the large scale upon which the illegal traffic in liquor is being conducted between Windsor and Detroit, Mayor Winter today appealed to the businessmen of the border cities to led their best efforts in co-operating with the police to stamp out the illicit operations.

His worship related how on his return from Toronto this week he was approached at the railway station by a man who offered to procure him a bottle of liquor for $12. The man told the mayor that the price had been advanced $2 since the first of the week.

Offered $300 Rent.

"Detroiters are renting houses on the border at fabulous prices and using them for storehouses, and our border citizens are either compelled to pay competing prices for houses or live in undesirable places because of the increase in rates through the liquor situation," Mayor Winter declared.

Mayor Winter was himself asked to rent a house, which he owns, for $300, when normally he received $75 for the dwelling.

STUFFY HEAD CLEARED OF CATARRH GERMS BY "CATARRHOZONE"

To catarrh victims we have just one word of advice—cure it now. The remedy is "Catarrhozone." That it will cure permanently you cannot doubt. Catarrhozone has cured thousands; it will cure you, too.

It acts in two ways: First, it destroys the germ—that checks the progress of the disease. Its second action is to heal the sore places the germs caused. Nice to think of breathing little drops of healing to every part of the lungs, bronchial tubes and nasal passages. It is such absolute thoroughness that makes Catarrhozone so effective in grippe, catarrh and colds. Then by its sedative influence upon the mucous surface it clears away the cough and throat tenderness very quickly. We owe something to a science that has given us Catarrhozone—that wonderful remedy which so surely enables us to permanently cure disease of the breathing apparatus. We all know that stomach dosing is useless, and this departure in the mode of treatment is an advance in medical science that everybody can appreciate and value. Complete outfit of Catarrhozone, which is guaranteed to cure any case of catarrh, asthma, bronchial or throat troubles, lasts three months, price $1.00; smaller size, 50c; trial size, 25c; sold everywhere.

WHY BE A DYSPEPTIC?

It's So Easy To Have a Good Digestion.

What's the use of suffering from indigestion, gastritis and dyspepsia when it's so easy to have a good, healthy, digestion. Thousands of folks right here in London, who used to have stomach trouble, and were actually afraid to eat, now enjoy every meal—eat anything they like. You, too, can do the same. Go to your druggist and get a 50c package of Bi-nesia tablets. Take three or four after every meal, and you'll wait in vain for the usual pain and distress; or, if the trouble has already started, Bi-nesia will stop the pain in five minutes, or you can have your money back for the asking. Remember the name—Bi-nesia—the wonderful little "non-skid" tablet that prevents stomach "upsets."

GERMAN AIRPLANE

GENEVA, April 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Germans are working feverishly to construct giant commercial and passenger airships and aeroplanes, according to a report from Romanshorn. The first trials were successfully held yesterday of two monster machines above Lake Constance.

The airship Nordstern, greatly surpassing the Zeppelin Bodensee, in size, capacity and power, flew for a half hour around the lake with a crew of seven men. At the same time a new giant hydroplane, whose motors totalled 1,000 horsepower, made aerial trips with 20 passengers.

Both machines were recently completed at Friedrichshafen, where the airship factory is said to have doubled in size since the armistice, and other monsters have already been begun. The Germans are concealing the results of the trials, and no reports of them are published in the press.

CAR FOUNDRYMEN CALL FOR INCREASE

MONTREAL, April 9.—Following the lead of the Marine trades workers in drawing up a schedule through the Canadian Metal Trades district council calling for a flat rate for skilled trades of 90 cents an hour, the workers in the plants of the Canada Car and Foundry Company, the Montreal Locomotive Works and the Steel Company of Canada are negotiating for a similar increase. The railroad shopmen, who are also in line for a revised wage schedule, are awaiting the outcome of wage negotiations now being conducted in the United States before formulating their own demands.

Not Chance Games, Because Players Had "No Chance"

Fifty Men Arrested When Police Raid Detroit Club.

DETROIT, Mich., April 9.—Fifty men, many of them in evening dress, made a wild scramble for exits, scaled fire escapes and jumped through windows when a squad of police raided the fashionable Greater Detroit Athletic Club on Wayne street at midnight last night. The raid was well timed and all but ten of the occupants of the place were loaded into patrol wagons and taken to police headquarters where they were later released with a lecture.

The "club," according to the police, is nothing more than an organized gambling place. When the officers entered they found several kinds of cards and other games in progress. Officers of the "club" insisted that none of the games were "chance" games, and Sergeant Collop, in charge of the raiding party retorted that they were not chance games because the players had "no chance."

SHARP SPLIT IN UNION CAUCUS ON FRANCHISE

Eastern and Western Members of Borden Party At Loggerheads.

WOULD BAR ALIENS

Some Ontario Tories Want To Keep Foreign-Born Vote Out.

OTTAWA, April 9.—(Canadian Press.)—A sharp division between eastern and western members on the Government side of the House is said to have taken place this morning at the caucus of Government supporters, when the franchise bill was the chief measure up for discussion. The western members were of a different shade of opinion to those from Ontario constituencies in regard to the disfranchisement clause of the act, it is stated, and while some of the western men fought against such a wide measure of disfranchisement of aliens as was proposed, some of the easterners wanted to bar all military service act deserters and slackers from voting, for a term of years at least.

That the bill will, in all probability, go through in Parliament in its present form and without further amendments in the way of disfranchisement, is the general consensus of opinion among Government supporters following the caucus today. That there were also some very outspoken passages from returned soldier members in regard to the proposed disfranchisement of defaulters is also an open secret around the corridors tonight.

Frankly Confessed.

Led by one members who won high distinction on the field during the great war, it is stated that about a score of members today frankly confessed that since the bill was first drafted they have diametrically changed their opinions. When the question was first mooted these men were out strong for refusing to go to the polls with a man who had failed his country in a time of direst need. But today it is just a question if we could get at the real slacker, is how this member is reported to have expressed himself today.

"There are just as bad defaulters who went to the front line trenches. Some of them got a mere scratch and got back home as quickly as they could," is another expression of feeling given as coming from the same speaker.

Other members of the party, who, six months ago would have been strongly opposed to the idea of taking in defaulters, are also said to have switched entirely, not so much on the ground that they wish the slacker to have the same rights of citizenship as the loyal Canadian citizen, but because of the difficulty of sifting the wheat from the chaff.

No Change In Plan.

There is apparently no disposition to change the plan to bar persons from enemy countries having the franchise for ten years, but in view of today's stand by the soldier members it is regarded as a foregone conclusion that there will be no general disqualification of deserters or delinquents under the military service act.

Asked if this would bring criticism from returned soldier organizations, one member said he believed the vast majority of returned men were wanting to get away from the war spirit, and would not press for demands they originally made in respect to the defaulters.

Ontario members, it is understood, held out for the disfranchisement of aliens, and though they were in the minority at the caucus, will likely press their views in the House debate. Sir George Foster appealed for a national, rather than a political measure, and this received considerable support. The proposed changes in regard to aliens which Hon. Arthur Meighen promised when the bill was before the House some days ago, were not discussed this morning, it was stated by several members.

"NATURAL CAUSES" VERDICT OF JURY ON DEATH OF SENG HUM

Chinaman Found Unconscious in Basement of Dominion Cafe, Sarnia.

SARNIA, April 9.—The jury inquiring into the death of Seng Hum, the Chinaman, who was found in an unconscious condition in the basement of the Dominion Cafe on Monday evening, tonight returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Seng Hum had been peeling potatoes in the cafe basement and had apparently been in his usual health, so that a certain amount of mystery attached to the condition in which he was found a little later, and at the request of the two medical men called the coroner order an inquest.

The medical report on the post-mortem examination of the body stated that a clot of blood found at the base of the brain was evidently the cause of death, and that the condition was the result of natural causes. The jury based their verict on this report.

Early Closing Bylaw To Be Dealt With At Special Council.

STRATFORD, April 9.—The Trades and Labor Council has appointed a special committee to approach the executors of the James Moore estate, relative to the purchase of the Arlington Hotel property as a labor temple.

A special meeting of the city council has been called for Monday evening to deal with the merchants' early closing bylaw. It is necessary to take action within twenty days from the time the petition was presented.

$35,000 FOR ROADS.

The county council at its closing session this morning indorsed the petition from Lennox County asking the Legislature to relieve counties of the expense of a provincial officer for removing prisoners to the penitentiary where a high constable is employed.

A petition from Victoria County favoring a larger percentage of police court fines for the counties was also indorsed.

It was decided to make a levy of $35,000 on account of good roads.

BELIEVES BREAK IN RAIL STRIKE DUE AT CHICAGO

Brotherhood Official Hopes Unauthorized Walkout Will End Today.

ATTEMPT AT O. B. U.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 9. — A signed statement was issued here tonight by the chiefs of the four big transportation brotherhoods, saying the present strike of switchmen was originated for the purpose of destroying the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, and that the wage demand later was injected for the purpose of deceiving yardsmen throughout the country and promoting the One Big Union ideas. The statement was signed by L. E. Shepherd, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; W. S. Stone, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and W. H. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

CHICAGO, April 9.—A break in the unauthorized strike of switchmen and enginemen at Chicago, where it started, nine days ago, with a subsequent spread to a number of railroad centres, was announced today by A. A. Whitney, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who conferred with a committee of strikers from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

The delegation was said to have told Mr. Whitney that a vote would be taken within twenty-four hours with a view to ending the strike, on that railroad, by Saturday night. Brotherhood officers said that a number of strikers returned to work today, and predicted that the movement of freight in the Chicago area would be near normal by next week.

Leaders of the insurgents said the strike was not only not broken, but would be carried on until a new union was completed.

Reports from rail centres throughout the country indicated that nearly 30,000 railroad men were on strike. Freight embargoes were declared in a number of cities by railroads affected by the walkout. Breaks in the strike were reported in a few places.

ADMIT WALKOUT NOW BEYOND CONTROL

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Virtually admitting that the railroad strike of trainmen and switchmen over the country had gotten beyond the control of union officials, W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, telegraphed Representative Cooper, Republican, Ohio, today, asking whether present laws "apply to renegade organizations or those increasing illegal strikes."

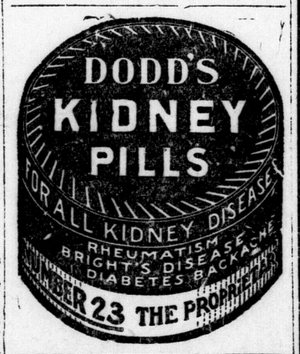

Mr. Cooper, who is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, took the matter up with Acting Attorney-General Ames and was told that while the department of justice was watching the situation it had no statement to make at the present time.

Before the telegram was received, the Senate had adopted a resolution directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate all strikes of railroad employees not sanctioned by the responsible officers of the railroad unions. Chairman Cummins of the Interstate Commerce Commission announced that the investigation would begin next Tuesday.

Administration officers are giving close attention to the strike, but they indicated that the Government would not intervene at this time, leaving the matter to the union officials to handle.

BOY SCOUT TO GET CROSS AT MOOSE JAW

OTTAWA, April 9.—The bronze cross, the highest decoration that can be obtained by a boy scout and regarded as the Victoria Cross of the movement, has just been awarded to a young member of the Minto troop, Moose Jaw, Sask. Announcement of the award was made by Dominion headquarters here this morning. Chester Fraser, a boy of 13, first Minto troop of that city, is the scout upon whom the honor is to be conferred. At great risk of his own life he saved another scout, H. C. Gordon, from death by rescuing him from the top of a telegraph post where the latter had become entangled in a live wire charged with 2,200 volts. The presentation will be made shortly.

HOUSE PASSES PEACE MOTION AT WASHINGTON

Resolution Declaring War At End Now Goes To Senate.

SOME DEMOCRATS FLOP

Twenty-Two Join Republican Majority in Supporting Measure.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9.—The Republican joint resolution declaring the state of war with Germany at an end and repealing most of the war-time legislation, was adopted today by the House. It now goes to the Senate.

The vote on the passage of the peace resolution was 242 to 150, present, two.

Twenty-two Democrats joined with the Republican majority in suporting the resolution and two Republicans voted against its adoption.

Before adopting the resolution the House voted down a motion by Representative Flood of Virginia, the ranking Democrat of the foreign affairs committee, to send the resolution back to that committee with instructions to report out a substitute repealing all war-time acts.

The vote on that motion was 171 for and 222 against.

Chairman Porter of the foreign affairs committee, claimed after the roll call that 20 more votes would carry the resolution over a presidential veto. Democratic members, however, said a vote on that question would see party alignment virtually intact.

The vote ended a two-day battle of words in the House.

The debate began at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and occupied all the time of the House for more than twelve hours. It was marked throughout by sharp partisanship except for those on each side who broke away from party lines to join the Opposition.

PIPE LINE TO LAKE WOULD COST ABOUT $300,000, IS CLAIM

St. Thomas May Ask Co-operation in Construction of Aqueduct.

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—The approximate cost of piping the route along the creek from St. Thomas to Lakeside to insure a plentiful supply of water is placed at $300,000. The area under control of the commission north of the city the commissioners say has plenty of water, but the board is doubtful of its purity. Some of the wells sunk there are impregnated with sulphur. The scheme of pumping by electric power is looked upon with favor by the commission, as the supply would be without limit, and the local service would not be endangered by a drought. The course of the creek is practically level and in case of encountering a heavy grade the bed of the creek could readily be lowered. Dependent on the recommendation of the city engineer the proposition may be given the people by the commissioner. London would be asked to co-operate with St. Thomas in the construction of the pipe line, and by a union of the interests the cost of maintenance and overhead expenses would be much lower than if the utility were under control of separate corporations.

"So This Is Your Birthday, Grandmother"

"YES, dearie, I am seventy-five years old to-day. It doesn't seem possible, for I don't feel old."

"And you certainly do not look old."

"Were you never sick, grandmother?"

"Oh, yes, indeed, there was a time in my life when I never expected to live to be fifty, say nothing about seventy-five. When your mother and my other children were small I had my hands full and got run down in health. I got so nervous that I could not sleep and had frequent headaches. Every little thing the children would do seemed to annoy and worry me until, finally, I gave out entirely, and was in bed for months with nervous prostration."

"Did you have a doctor?"

"Yes, dearie, I had two or three doctors, but they only told me that it would take a long time for me to regain strength. One day your grandfather came in with some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. He said some one told him that it would cure me, and he went away to the drug store and bought half a dozen boxes."

"What did your doctor say about using it?"

"Well, what could he say? He only said that he had done all he could, and that he had run across a great many cases in which the Nerve Food had been used with excellent results. So I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it was not long before I was on the way to health and strength."

"And did it cure you?"

"Well, the best evidence is that I am here to-day, well and happy, after all these years. And I am more than ever enthusiastic for Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for I have used it several times during the last few years when I felt that I needed some assistance to keep up vitality. As a person gets older I think their blood gets thinner, and they seem to need something like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to increase their strength and vigor."

"That is something worth knowing, grandmother."

"If you will take my advice, dearie, you will not forget about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food when you get run down, tired out and nervous. This has been my advice to a great many people, and I know that it has done them good."

SALVADOR WOULD KEEP UNITED STATES OUT

WASHINGTON, April 9.—After receiving the state department's interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, the Congress of Salvador adopted a decree proposing a Latin-American alliance with the United States excluded. The decree also proposed abolition of the Pan-American Union, with headquarters in Washington, the central American court of justice and the international court on arbitration. The United States was instrumental in the organization of the union and the two courts.

SARNIA THEATRE CO. TO OPEN HOUSE IN LONDON

J. F. Myers States That New Theatre Will Cost $150,000.

SARNIA, April 9.—John F. Myers, general manager and secretary-treasurer of the United Theatres, Limited, of Sarnia, today announced that company had purchased property in London on which will be erected a new theatre to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000. Associated with Mr. Myers in the enterprise are several Sarnia, Windsor and London capitalists. The site of the new theatre is the old Duks of York Hotel property on the corner of Dundas and Adelaide streets with frontage of 75 feet and depth of 150 feet.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAM GEDDES.

EMBRO, April 9.—The death of Mrs. William Geddes who recently broke her hip by a fall at her back door, took place today at 7:30 p.m. after much suffering. Mrs. Geddes was 79 years of age and because of her age the doctor was unable to set the fractured bone. She had resided in Embro for 56 years. Three daughters and four sons survive, Mrs. Peter Smith and Mrs. George Boxall of Embro, Mrs. T. H. Blair, Kamloops, B. C., William J. and Robert of Embro, Harry of London and John of Ottawa. The funeral will take place on Sunday at 2 o'clock from her late residence to the Embro Cemetery for interment.

THE BY-ELECTIONS.

The local Union organ has become a tame, lame cat of late in the political alley. It purrs and snuffles contentedly over a very rancid bone. "Temiskaming," it purrs with an asthmatic accent, a famous defeat at least if not a victory. It is a sad-battered old Gilbert, much scratched and bitten in recent war and peace, snatching at morsels that it would have turned up its nose at any time before the late provincial cataclysm.

Banishing from particular attention the election in Montreal, where a Tory did not even look in, our contemporary emits one of its old racial strife howls to the effect that Liberalism's "parliamentary membership is comprised almost exclusively of representation of constituencies in which there is a non-English-speaking community." Mr. Angus McDonald, the Farmer-Labor victor of Temiskaming, must speak Gaelic or French, for the Union organ blames free trade on the Liberals, and the Farmers are going in for it strong. When Premier King brings in his tariff-reduction bill, he will find more help than hindrance from the Farmer representatives, and as for Labor, its opinion on the tariff was given by an overwhelming majority in the I. L. P. convention. It becomes apparent that it is quite absurd to say that the Liberal "trade policy cannot appeal to broad Canadian patriotism." Mr. King will be able to count on even surer assistance from the Farmer-Labor bloc for taxation reform and the curbing of profiteers.

The elections since last summer leave not the slightest doubt of the toothless debility of the Union Government. Liberals and Farmer-Laborites have taken nine of the eleven seats opened. Temiskaming comes as a crushing proof that the Ottawa Government is everywhere detested. But the old, fur-clawed cat prefers to die by slow attrition to a sudden death at the hands of all the constituencies at once. So it hides under the barn.

MARGARET BOURGEOYS OF MONTREAL.

It is believed in Roman Catholic circles in Quebec that next month will possibly see the canonization of Canada's first saint in the Venerable Margaret Bourgeoys, founder of the Congregation of Notre Dame, which on the 17th of May is to celebrate the tercentenary of her birth. She has already given her name to 131 religious houses in Canada and the United States, of which 30 are in Montreal, the parent house of the order among them. The first steps towards canonization were taken half a century after her death, but what is known as the non-cult process began at Rome only in June, 1879, under Pope Leo XIII. Verification of the remains was made by Cardinal Vannutelli in September, 1910, while the first ceremony, the introduction process, took place under Pope Pius IX. All the evidence has now been presented and examined by the church authorities.

Margaret Bourgeoys was born at Noyes, France, on April 17, 1620, and died in Montreal on January 12, 1700. During her long career in Canada she gave remarkable service to the life of the young colony. Parkman says of her: "In Margaret Bourgeoys was realized that fair ideal of Christian womanhood, a flower of Earth expanding in the rays of Heaven, which soothed with gentle influence the wildness of a barbarous age." The old convent at Montreal which continued her work during the whole of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, was torn down but a few years ago. Its chapel, Notre Dame de la Pitie, was one of the many quaint ecclesiastical edifices which a few years ago made Montreal rival Quebec, but all of which are gradually disappearing before the ruthless march of commerce. Notre Dame de la Pitie has gone, so has the historic old convent with its stone walls four feet thick and its beautiful courtyard garden hidden completely away from modern Montreal bustle. Today the Order of the Congregation occupies a new home in the west end of Montreal, but its work has spread over a continent.

THE SPORT OF BOOK-COLLECTING.

The Napoleon of the book auction room has just passed away in the person of George D. Smith. Only a few weeks ago nearly every paper in the country told of his purchase for an American collector of a rare volume of Shakespeare—unique in being the only copy known—for which he had paid $50,000 in an English auction room. Book buyers gasped when the Mazarin Bible in the Hoe library sale went for forty odd thousand a few years ago, and it was freely predicted then that never again would such a price be realized. But there are more book collectors today than there were when the Hoe library went under the hammer, and the collectors are ready to pay larger sums than ever before to secure the treasures of the printing presses.

It is an amazing business, this buying and selling of rare books. Both in England and America it has been developed to a remarkable degree, and sales running into the hundreds of thousands of dollars take place all through the season, both in London and New York. On a side street in New York, up a dozen stories, may be, a group of people gather in a comfortably furnished room, and there, catalogue in hand, bid down the rarities of the ...t world just as in a lower sphere men and ...en buy in stoves, bureaus, dishes and kit... utensils at the disposal of somebody's household effects. Items are called from a printed catalogue, and the sales go forward with a speed that is bewildering to the novice. It is not even necessary to attend the sale, for bids come in by mail from every part of the country, and go into competition with the bids of the buyers actually present.

Tastes in book-buying change from year to year, but there are what are known as standards in the business. Elizabethan literature, Shakespeariana and the drama of that period, is always in demand. First editions of the poets bring ever higher prices, but perhaps no class of rare book shows greater advance in value from year to year than those known as Americana, the books and pamphlets dealing with early history and travel on this continent. Usually printed in limited editions to begin with, time has lessened the number of copies year by year, and anything that relates to America printed before 1800 will usually command a high price, while many items printed after that date are also in demand. It might be thought that rare books of this kind would reappear again and again in the auction rooms, but this is not the case. Each year sees a large number of these rare books absorbed into public and university libraries, from which they never depart. Once a book is bought by other than a private collector its end has come as far as the auction room is concerned.

There are many Canadian books, or, rather, books relating to Canada, that command high figures among collectors. Among the most desirable of this character are the famous Jesuit Relations, the little missionary reports that were sent home to France by the black-robed missionaries on the shore of Georgian Bay. These little volumes were designed to stimulate the interest of the generous-hearted in France, and also to stir young men to work in the mission field,-and they present a remarkable picture of the life among the aboriginal tribes of this part of the country. No library in the world, aside, perhaps, from the central Jesuit Archives, has a complete set of these little reports. The Jesuit Archives at Montreal have a partial set, there are quite a number in the Library of Parliament, still more in Laval University Library, and the New York Public Library lacks but three or four. There are some issues that appear almost every year in the market, but of others there is no recorded sale for a generation past.

Book-collecting in such fields as rare Americana is possible only to those who combine a long purse with a real love for the pursuit of such treasures. In other fields, however, there are unnumbered collectors who extract the same pleasure out of picking up items that are more easily secured, and this city possesses some private collections in limited fields that have given satisfaction to their owners in the collecting, and that may give yet wider benefit if eventually made available for general use. Western University would be much poorer today if J. Davis Barnett had not used his taste for good books to gather together his library, in many respects unique, and which in days to come will be a finer memorial than anything in stone or brass that could be raised.

BOXING IN THE SCHOOLS.

One of the speakers at the annual convention of the Ontario Educational Association urged that boxing be made part of the school training. To many it is considered strange that this form of recreation and athletics was not long ago adopted by the physical development side of the public schools. When properly supervised it develops in the boy self-control, courage and manliness. It instils into the lad a self-confidence that is of immense value to him later on when he steps out into the world. Boxing has suffered from being associated with prize ring brutalities and dishonesty, but if kept clear of this sort of thing there is no reason why it should not be an excellent aid in achieving clean, wholesome self-reliant Canadian manhood.

BOOK-LOVERS.

[H. Addington Bruce.]

Book-lovers have some notable advantages over other people.

They need never know lonely hours so long as they have books around them. And the better the books the more delightful the company.

From good books, indeed, they draw much more than entertainment. They gain mental food such as few companions can supply.

Even while resting from their labors they are, through the books they love, equipping themselves to perform these labors more efficiently.

This albeit they may not be deliberately reading to improve their minds. All unconsciously the ideas they draw from the printed page are stored up to be worked over by imagination for their future profit.

Book-lovers, too, if the books they love are really good, benefit signally by the increased knowledge they obtain of the correct meaning and the proper use of words, which is a distinct cultural and social advantage to them. It is also a business advantage of no small value.

There are thousands of people whose progress in the business world is retarded by their inability to speak and to write correctly. Many cannot spell even simple words correctly, though they have been to school.

With reason employers hesitate to promote such people to positions that involve much oral or written communication with others. When the inability to speak well or to write well is conspicuous, promotion to positions requiring social contacts is virtually out of the question.

"I like Joe," the employer may reflect. "He is honest, faithful, a loyal, hard worker. But he murders language so atrociously that he would be a laughing stock to our customers if I sent him out on the road. I guess he'll have to stick where he is."

The reading of books—of good books—is one of the surest ways to guard against being afflicted with such a business handicap as this. Show me a man with a limited vocabulary, weak in grammar, absurdly deficient in spelling, and I will show you one who is almost certainly not a lover of books.

Finally, book-lovers are far more likely than other people to have keenness and breadth of vision. Unless their reading is all in one direction they can hardly suffer from near-sightedness and narrowness of mind, which is another business as well as social advantage to them.

It helps to make them sympathetic and tactful. It saves them from many a mistake due to bigotry and intolerance. It prevents them from needlessly making enemies and assists them to win friends.

In a word, love of books promotes spiritual as well as intellectual growth.

Hence it may fairly be described as a virtue which all should do their best to cultivate. Hence, again, the old philosopher's advice is as sound today as when it first was uttered:

"Have thy study full of books rather than thy purse full of money."

And hence also there is a world of wisdom in Isaac Barrow's saying:

"He that loveth a book will never want a faithful friend, a wholesome counsellor, a cheerful companion, an effectual comforter."

THE RIVER OF GOD.

[The Khan.]

The River of God is full of water.
And its depths are never dim,
With sweet and life-giving water
'Tis full to the very brim;
It springs from the heavenly highlands
To freshen the grass and trees
On a thousand thousand islands
In a thousand thousand seas.

The River of God is full of water,
It flows thro' all spac serene,
It splashes against Arcturus,
And keepeth Orion clean;
Thro' the great Square of Pegasus
Its sparkling torrents flow,
And it floods the sunless places
Where the long-lost comets go.

The River of God is full of water,
And in it the stars do dip,
And the mightiest sun, Canopus,
Doth float on its tide like a chip;
Its depth, its width, is bewildering,
Its currents do leap and toss,
But, oh, I've seen little children
Safely wading across!

Oh, the River of God is full of water,
Of water there is no dearth,
There's waters far above Vega,
There's waters under the earth.
Hell will be put to new uses,
We'll flood it, the time is near.
God's people are digging the sluices,
And Chrit is the Engineer.

CANADA AT WASHINGTON.

[Manchester Guardian.]

The latest development in Canada's constitutional progress is an ironical comment on the complaint of the Hertzog party that South Africa will be reduced by British imperialism to the level of a crown colony. It is stated that Canada is now to have a representative of her own at the British embassy in Washington, who will have the rank of minister, will normally be the chief lieutenant of the ambassador, and will take charge in his absence. Really his principal function will be to uphold the interests of Canada in the country with which her future is, and must be, most concerned. The dominions, rapidly expanding in population and every sort of material power, have long found a difficulty in the exclusive representation of their interests by British home diplomacy.

CORRECT FORM NECESSARY.

[London Sphere.]

A recently discharged soldier, who had unpleasant memories of his military experience, took the first opportunity after resuming his civilian clothes to write to his former colonel:

"Sir,—After what I have suffered for the last two years, it gives me much pleasure to tell you and the army to go to ——," a place to which only the wicked are consigned.

In due course he got this reply:

"Sir,—Any suggestion or inquiries concerning the movement of troops must be entered on army farm 2132, a copy of which I inclose."

CRITICISM EASY.

Ex-Premier Asquith has declared himself against the government's home rule bill for Ireland. But when it comes to presenting some better or more acceptable solution of the Irish difficulty, the ex-premier has nothing feasible to offer. In this he is like the Irish themselves.

GREAT INVENTION.

[Vancouver Province.]

As the spring housecleaning season appproaches housewives may be interested in the device of an Indian inventor that can be used as a child's go-cart, sled, hat-rack, carpet beater or carpet stretcher.

WHERE A CHANGE IS NEEDED.

[Kingston Whig.]

While the wages of machinists, painters, plumbers and carpenters have increased from 50 to 80 per cent, statistics show that the salaries of Methodist ministers have increased only 7 per cent. Should the church people not feel ashamed of such a record? The clergyman is worthy of his hire.

AN INTERRUPTED LIBRARY.

[London Daily Telegraph.]

When the kaiser decided on war he halted plans for the building of the greatest library in the world, a structure with mechanical devices for the handling of 10,000,000 volumes. A library of this size would take first rank in the universe, since the British Museum Library contains only 4,000,000 volumes, the New York Public Library on Fifth avenue 1,650,350 books and pamphlets, and the London Library only 300,000. German kultur on the peaceful side of spreading knowledge had progressed so far as to send an engineer around the world to study the great libraries and report on their facilities for the handling of their books. The German Government had received the report, and when the war burst forth was engaged in a study of the mechanical devices to handle the transportation of 10,000,000 volumes between the storehouses, the reading-rooms and the central offices.

JUSTICE FOR THE OPPRESSED!

[Vancouver World.]

Demanding their "freedom and independence," the people of the Philippine Islands appeal to that numerous and assertive body in the United States known as the "Friends of Irish Freedom."

The "down-trodden" Filipinos say that they are denied their rights, that they seek "self-determination," and that because within nine months the United States Congress has twice gone on record in favor of an Irish republic, the Filipino people ask that Congress grant them what it seeks for the Irish.

It would seem a reasonable plea. There are only two and a half million people in Ireland "languishing" under the "oppression" of one-half of the Anglo-Saxon peoples; in the Philippines there are ten and a half millions "languishing" under the "oppression" of the other half. If justice is a matter of figures, the Filipinos have the better of the argument.

It is hardly to be expected that Great Britain, following Washington precedent, will take up the cause of the "oppressed" Filipinos. Great Britain will content herself with offering self-government to Ireland, while the Filipinos, as they so pathetically put it, "continue knocking at the door of the American Congress asking for their promised liberty."

The Times is not an opponent of the U. F. O.-Labor Government, nor is is opposed to the Independent Labor Party. It sees good in both, and looks upon them as agencies calculated to better conditions among the people. They stand for much that the Liberals stand for, and have been fighting for for many years back. We welcome them in the struggle on behalf of the common people. The Hon. Walter Rollo is a comparative newcomer among us, but he should be fairly well versed in the political life and history of the old country. As a student of political economy he would not be ignorant of the work accomplished by the Liberal party of Great Britain. He must know of the struggles of that party in the interest of the workers. He must know all about the reform bill agitation and the free trade struggle. He must know who widened the franchise and who gave the people the ballot. He must know who legalized trade unions, and so on.

Well, the same kind of a struggle went on in Canada. The Canadian Liberals have had an uphill fight for the liberties of the common people. The statute books of both this province and the Dominion are full of laws passed by the Liberal party or at its intigation, making it easier for them to live, and giving them privileges and liberties that were denied them. When Mr. Rollo arraigns the political parties for their remissness or worse in caring for the workingman, can he not give those who deserve it some credit for what they did?

Canada did not reach its present political status in a day or without a struggle. The whole political history of Canada is that of one continual fight for the masses against the classes. Canada did not always have responsible government. It had to be fought for and won. There was such a thing as clergy reserves. They no longer exist. The ballot had to be fought for. We make our own tariffs, and we make our own laws. Perhaps all these reforms just grew, like Topsy.

WHITE MAN

[By George Agnew Chamberlain.]

"Can you believe me," he continued, "when I tell you that no one was more surprised than the Superman himself when he assumed flesh after his long preparation and awoke to find himself a Vandal—a Frankenstein The theory was perfect—all that was lacking were the things of the spirit, the breath of life without which any animated creation becomes automatically a monster.

"And yet the collective spirit of man advances only by plunder. You can see it in my own country, yesterday, in Africa today and it will come in the other Americas tomorrow. The greatest thing ever said by Salisbury, a rock among men, was that ruins are not evidence of occupation and that packed epigram brings us face to face with danger at the fork of the road of freedom."

He glanced at her as though to make sure she were following his thought. "Justifiable plunder" he defined, "is robbery through the giving of self. On that rock I will take my stand and build my house of life. I'll kill game to feed men, scar the earth with railways, rob forests to build ships and gladly see nations fall before a race that shall carry not a sheathed sword but a lighted orch."

"Oh, White Man," said Andrea, her brow puckered with internal effort, "please apply it to individuals."

He started to nail her once again to the tradition of her sex, but something truly pleading in the tone of her voice made him turn boldly to the personal, after all and however much we may jeer at it the ultimate measure of sincerity. "I will," he said. "If ever I'm bent on plundering the heart of a woman, I'll travel the highroad of surrender in the company of ravage and love. I'll give and still give and with each giving will grow the heaped mountain of my demands. You see it, don't you That's justifiable plunder. Now I'll look at your sunset."

"Bother the sunset," murmured Andrea, her cheeks flushed, her eyes dreamy with new thoughts and old emotions. They traveled through a long silence which was finally broken by M'sungo's mumbling half audibly to himself, as he checked off a tally on his fingers.

"What are you saying?" asked Andrea quickly. "What are you doing?"

"Trying to tot up the meat we're bringing in," he explained without looking at her.

"Oh," exclaimed Andrea non-committaly, but she measured him with scornful eyes.

While the supply of the vast larder and the supervision of the fiber camp formed the major part of M'sungo's untiring industry they were by no means the total of his affairs. Watching him, Andrea soon learned why he never lunched. He hadn't the time; too many things pressed to his attention. He was a governor on no mean scale and during the midday rest hour he would pass from group to group settling all those disputes which could be determined without recourse to legal argument. In this manner he sifted to a minimum the cases to come before the solemn conclave of chiefs.

On the first occasion that Andrea witnessed this tribal ceremony which occurred monthly at a certain stage of the moon, she began by feeling huffed, but, lacking an audience for her mood, soon gave it up for one of scornful amusement which, in turn, surrendered to an interest that almost amounted to awe. The day in question began with the curt information from M'sungo, who appeared carefully groomed and for the first time in her experience, dressed in punctilious mufti, that she would have to amuse herself for twelve hours without his aid. Mystified, she awaited developments, and they came—rapidly.

Under the great acacia was placed a table and behind it a camp armchair. To the right and left of this throne of justice stood in a crescent fourteen other seats of varying dignity—chairs, petroleum cases, kerosene tins and an inverted bucket—for every native king, be he monarch of but one village, has the right to sit in the presence of authority, whatever its grade. The white man took the armchair and immediately, to the rumble of a dozen tomtoms, a horde of natives—all men—swarmed into the beaten court of the craal. Before Andrea awoke to the fact that seats were at a premium every one was occupied, and she found herself standing around aimlessly waiting for M'sungo to send for a chair.

In the meantime, all those natives who lacked the royal hall-mark were squatting on their heels in a vast mass of serrated and concentric circles, of which the innermost left an open space whose periphery was determined by the exact circumference of the wide-spreading branches of the tree. Andrea coughed softly but M'sungo did not look up—in fact, nobody looked up. It was exactly as though she were not. She slipped to the trunk of the tree and leaned on one hand placed against it. Somehow it seemed an only friend in an empty world.

The preliminary palaver was a matter of much leisurely ceremony, guttural pronouncements, grunts, pauses, more monologues, repeated grunts; but, once it was over, M'sungo settled back with a sigh and started dispensing justice with a breathless rush that reminded one of the manner in which he dispatched game.

It seemed to Andrea that he never waited to hear more than the statement of the offence when he would immediately pronounce sentence. "Twenty lashes. Next! Thirty lashes. Next! Twelve lashes. Next," at the rate of about a case for every two minutes. Nine times out of ten the victim would smile sheepishly and withdraw; in the tenth case there would come a look of sullen wonder into the culprit's face, whereupon the white man would promptly call a halt and demand more evidence. Such cases were then allotted half an hour and even an hour each, and without exception resulted in the acquittal of the prisoner at the bar.

Andrea was suddenly aware of M'sungo's voice indubitably addressed to her though he kept his eyes to the front and spoke in a toneless monologue as if he were communing with himself. "Behold! Psychology on the job," he said. "Watch their faces. Every native that knows his sentence to be just, takes it with an apologetic smile; if he looks sullen, the chances are a hundred to one that he's innocent. I've never gone wrong. They think I'm a wonder. Next!"

One case alone that day was apparently interminable. When at last it was completed M'sungo dropped his eyes for the first time and sat for a long while with bowed head; then he drew erect, looked the prisoner in the eye and spoke three words. A grey hue crept into the black's face as he turned away. "I have surrendered him to the justice of his tribe," murmured M'sungo. "Poor devil!" And Andrea knew that she had witnessed the precursor to an inevitable sentence of death.

Already she had been leaning for some time against the tree trunk, not with her hands alone but with all of her body that could find any restful purchase. Now she straightened and feeling unusually meek at continuing quite unnoticed, picked her way through the dense and ill-smelling throng to go to her room and try to forget herself and her surroundings in the pages of a back-home book.

That night M'sungo was too tired to talk and excused himself immediately after dinner. Andrea read until her eyes ached, and then went to bed wondering if she were feeling only slighted or if existence were actually becoming monotonous. She shrank from the latter admission for she knew that, once made, it would shatter the longest run of sheer peace of spirit which she had experienced in her short but much bored life. She need not have worried. When she stepped out early next morning dressed for the field in compliance with a message from M'sungo to put on her roughest and toughest she was so excited that even the memory of her doubt was blotted from her mind. Something was in the air of the craal that could be felt rather than heard, the sort of something that one could imagine possessing a hive just before it began to hum.

M'sungo was already sitting under the dining tree engaged in a diminutive palaver with three wizened blacks who squatted on the ground squinting up at him and speaking in turn in answer to his patient questioning. Around them, but at a respectful distance, were gathered various members of the camp's personal staff. On the faces of the wizened three and also on M'sungo's, was the same look of fanatical exaltation, the look that proclaims any group of diverse men brothers at heart.

"What is it?" asked Andrea, breathless from hurrying.

"Elephant," replied M'sungo. He drew a chair to his side. "Sit down," he said softly as one whose mind is half-narcotized and fearful of losing the dream. "Watch and listen for these men bring great tidings." He smiled almost like a boy.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

TELL IT TO THE SOCIETY EDITOR.

Mrs. Ed Shuttler of Hamilton has returned home after visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Steele, Grey street.

Mrs. Richard Shaw of Detroit will be the guest of her son, Mr. Harry Shaw, during the presentation of "Liberty Hall" in the city.

Mr. Oscar Thorne of the Merchants' Bank staff, Leamington, has returned there after spending the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thorne, Ridout street.

A recent delightful event given in aid of the Sick Children's Hospital took place on Thursday evening last, when Mr. and Mrs. Charles White entertained at billiards, cards and dancing at their beautiful home on Dundas street.

Among those who are coming to London to attend "Liberty Hall," the English drama being presented by the Women's Press Club at the Majestic Theatre next week, will be Miss Edna Porte and Major Ord, D.S.O., of Toronto.

Mr. John Sealy of the engineers' department, Soldiers' Settlement Board, Toronto, and Mrs. Sealy will be guests with Miss Jennie Fidlar, Belgrave avenue, next week. They are coming to the city to attend "Liberty Hall," being presented here by the Women's Press Club.

The City Carpetball League held an "at home" at the building of the McCormick Manufacturing Company last night. Progressive euchre, dancing and a carpetball game were enjoyed, an orchestra playing delightful music until the midnight hour, when refreshments were served.

The Institute of Musical Art was the scene of a gay little dance last evening, when Dr. and Mrs. Hugh McCallum entertained in honor of their sons, Hugh and John McCallum. About fifty couples were present, dancing the merry hours away until 1 o'clock, to delightful music played by the Tony Vita Orchestra.

The euchre and bridge being held at Wong's Cafe on the afternoon of Friday, April 16, by the Isabel Hampton Chapter, I. O. D. E., is a social event being anticipated with great interest. Mrs. John McLeod is in charge of the arrangements for the affair, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Sick Children's Hospital fund.

St. Mary's Parish Hall was the scene of a happy social event on Wednesday evening last, when a progressive euchre was held there under the auspices of the Christian Mothers' Society. Mrs. Larkin was the winner of the lady's prize, while the gentleman's first prize went to Mr. Walsh. Orchestral music was furnished by the Skinner Orchestra, and several vocal numbers were rendered by Mrs. Bottoms.

The final class function of the year, the fourth-year "meds'" Easter dance, went off with a flourish last evening. Great energy had been expended in decorating the university "gym," all athletics being abandoned during the week, so as to get the hall in readiness for the great event. Delightful music was provided for the occasion by Skinner's Orchestra, which continued to play until midnight, when the last dance brought the evening to a close. The committee in charge of arrangements for this most enjoyable affair included Mr. Ken Johnston, Mr. Jas. McGeoch and Mr. E. Harding.

EDWARDS—ALFORD.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on April 3, 1920, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Edwards, 2 Katherine street, city, when their eldest son, Frederick, was united in marriage to Violet, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Alford, late of Manchester, England. The Rev. J. G. Leichliter, pastor of Adelaide Street Baptist Church, officiated. The young couple will reside in Walkerville.

WELLS—GIBSON.

"Maitland Brae," the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gibson, was the scene of a pretty event, when their eldest daughter, Margaret Moffatt, was united in marriage to Archibald Wells, B.A., Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Chas. Malcolm at noon Wednesday in the presence of fifty guests, Miss May Gibson playing the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a becoming gown of white satin with veil. Mr. and Mrs. Wells left on the 3:30 train for their future home in Toronto, the bride traveling in a brown suit.

WHO STOLE THE CLOTHESPEGS?

Part One.

Peter had done a dreadful thing when he was a little puppy, but that was so long ago he had almost forgotten about it. You see, he had seen the nice white clothes dangling on the line invitingly, just as if they were saying: "Catch hold of me. Catch hold of me." And he had done just what he thought was the best thing to do to have fun. He had run after the clothes as they dangled, fastened his little teeth into them and pulled himself off the ground so that he could swing with them. Then what a terrible rip he had heard. Of course, big sister Cora's white frock had been badly torn, and Pete had got a good spanking, so he had learned his lesson.

Imagine his fright then, one day long after he had grown up, when he came out to the backyard and found many pieces of the Monday wash lying in the mud. He was sure he would be blamed for it, and sure enough he was. What a spanking he got then, for Pete was a big dog and his master thought he should have known better. But the strangest part of it all was the disappearance of the clothespegs.

"I am quite sure he must have buried them," Peter's master told his wife. "Bad dog, Peter!" he scolded. Poor Peter never felt so miserable in all his life. He knew that somewhere he must have an enemy. Perhaps it was Tabby, the cat, but then when Peter thought it over he knew Tabby was too small to do such a thing. He just waited to see what would happen next.

The week went by, but still the clothespegs were gone. Pete's mistress talked of sending him away to a farmer, for, although she loved the little dog a great deal, she could not have him getting into such mischief. Poor Peter! He knew he was blameless, but what could he do.

Monday came again. Out went the wash as usual. Peter had almost forgotten about the accident of last week, until he went out to the yard, and then what a surprise he got. The clothes were all down again. What enemy had done it? He would surely be sent away to the farm this time, blameless though he was. Poor Pete could have died with shame. And all this time two jet-black eyes were peeping from the branches of a tree. Who was the thief? Pete was soon to find out.

RED CROSS SOCIETY REPORT SHOWS WORK DURING FLU EPIDEMIC

Kept Quiet At Time of Epidemic, But Worked Steadily.

The London branch of the Red Cross Society stood up splendidly during the recent epidemic according to the report of Mrs. Ronald Harris, honorary secretary, sent to the Ontario branch of the society in reply to a recent questionnaire from them. This report shows that since there was no central organization in the city to meet the influenza emergency, the Red Cross was called upon by the Board of Health to equip an emergency hospital which had been opened for influenza sufferers, and to furnish volunteer nurses and V. A. D.'s for private houses. As a result through the various Red Cross auxiliaries 167 nurses and V. A. D.'s were provided, the majority of them voluntary, and this number being sufficient, it was not necessary to employ paid nurses.

At the request of the Red Cross Society the diet kitchens from the public schools provided all the necessary invalid food, all the expenses for this food being assumed by the Board of Health at their own suggestion.

Bedding and Clothing.

The society also provided bedding for twenty-five beds in the emergency hospital, at which 160 patients were treated and which was operated under the direction of the London Board of Health. Sheets, pillow cases and blankets were provided as well as towels, night dresses, pyjamas, infants' clothing and underwear for patients and in a few very needy cases entire outfits of clothing.

Besides helping in nursing patients, voluntary helpers went into houses wherever necessary to keep up the fires and do the housework. The Red Cross undertook this work alone, but valuable help was given them by individuals from other societies who volunteered for assistance in various ways.

Plan of Work.

The plan of work devised by the Red Cross in the recent epidemic was excellent and is recommended for future emergencies. The city was organized into four districts, north, east, south and west. The main Red Cross office was used as headquarters and all telephone calls, both from volunteers offering their services and influenza sufferers needing assistance came there. Lists were kept and each name entered as received. A nurse was appointed in each district, who was given a list of the volunteers who could assist her in the district. All appeals from doctors or from individuals were telephoned to her and she sent out the helpers, both for nursing and V. A. D. work.

Appeals for assistance were made through the presidents of the auxiliaries, through the public press and through the clergymen of the city. To each of the latter a letter was written, asking them to make an appeal to their congregations on Sunday from the pulpits. Letters were also written to the doctors in the city, giving them the names and telephone numbers of the nurses in charge of the various districts. The society also appealed to the St. John Ambulance Brigade for workers, suggesting that the arrangements about pay would have to be made with the families obtaining aid.

The whole of this work was carried on under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Slater, first vice-president of the association, the president, Mrs. F. E. Leonard being confined at home herself through illness. Mrs. Slater was ably assisted by Mrs. A. T. Edwards, Miss Jennie Fidlar and Mrs. Partridge.

SCOTCH LASSIES AT ONTARIO HOSPITAL ARE ENTERTAINED

Welcome Extended By Fellow-Countrywomen in City.

That the Scotch lasses lately arrived from the old land to enter the Ontario Hospital here to train as nurses are receiving a warm welcome by their fellow-countrywomen in London was truly demonstrated last evening, when the newly-organized Daughters of Scotland assembled there to extend a welcome to them. The keynote of the address of welcome, read by Mrs. Robert Tagg, the president, is contained in the following words:

"We want you all to feel that you are not among strangers here, but with your ain folk. We are striving to cultivate in this land a taste for Scotch music, poetry, history and sport; to maintain a love for one another, and to give assistance where needed. We welcome you to the Land of the Maple, and hope you will come to love it as your motherland, Scotland."

A very fine program had been arranged for the evening, including a piano solo by Hugo Ettelelo, vocal solos by Miss L. Mowat and Mr. Christian, a Scotch song and dance by Miss Marion Stark, and a reading by Miss Helen Baker. Miss Rogers acted as accompanist. The success of the affair was largely due to the conveners, Mrs. Burt and Mrs. Stark. Refreshments and dancing followed the giving of the program.

Club Is Raising Money To Purchase School Victrola

Mrs. W. A. Tanner was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Aberdeen Mothers' Club held at the school on Thursday evening, her talk on "Club Courtesy" being very fine indeed. Mrs. Logan, the president, was in the chair. A splendid program followed, including readings by Miss Mary Less and Miss Helen Collyer, vocal solos by Miss Marjorie Davis and an instrumental by Miss Alma Gillies. The club has decided to hold a concert in the school some time in May, the proceeds to be in aid of the Victrola fund.

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise and thankfulness for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N. S., who writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children, and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative, which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, drive out constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Western Ontario Women's Activities

Address News For This Column to the Editor of Woman's Page.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

More Useful Hints.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a silent reader of your page for some time, and have found both pleasure and profit from it. I see someone said they had been blistered by mustard plasters. If they mix the mustard with white of egg it will not blister. My husband was in mustard plasters for six to twelve hours, and was not blistered.

Then someone asked for a marmalade recipe. This is how I make mine:—I take six oranges, six lemons, cut in quarters. Put through food chopper. Then take eight cups heaped full of boiled vegetable marrow well mashed, eight cups white sugar. Mix all together and boil slowly until it will set as jelly. We like this just as well as if made from all oranges and lemons. If Molly O. will try beating her butter with a dinner prong, and adding a tablespoonful of milk at a time, I don't think she will have any trouble making her two pounds of butter from one. That's the way I do, and mine comes all right.

Please accept my best wishes for your page, Miss Grey, and excuse bad writing. From FARMER GEORGE'S WIFE.

Ans.—Your call on the Mail-Box has been very helpful.

Couldn't Get the Nerve.

Dear Miss Grey,—Have often thought of dropping into your delightful corner before, but somehow never got up nerve enough. I enjoy reading your letters, and also taking the advice given therein.

Now, I am not going to take up too much of your valuable room, as I just wanted to get Mickey's address. I saw in the issue of February 26th that she is 18, and wanted to correspond with someone her age, so guess I can qualify! I think it would be nice to get aquainted with someone that way, and then to meet them afterwards. So here goes, Mickey, for an invite down to our town as soon as we know each other by letter! Would also like to get acquainted with a boy this way, so if an address comes along slip it my way! So please, Miss Grey, send my address along to Mickey, and get her to write first. Hoping to hear from her soon MICKEY'S PAL.

P. S.—What do you think of my writing? Do you get many letters from this town?

Ans.—Your writing is very clear.

Yes, we get letters from your town. I've forwarded your letter to Mickey, and hope you become real friends

A Letter for Slim.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you kindly forward the inclosed letter to Slim, whose letter requesting some correspondents appeared in the Saturday's Mail-Box, and by so doing greatly oblige, ME.

Ans.—Indeed I will.

Mail-Box a Success.

Dear Miss Grey,—Your Mail-Box has become so interesting lately, and so many boys and girls write to you, that I thought I would write too.

I do not live on a farm, as so many think it would be fun in the summer. I am glad I live in the city, though, as there is so much going on all the time. In the summer we always go to the beach and I swim and dance all summer long and come back in the fall, as tanned as an Indian.

Could you tell me please, what day the twentieth of March, 1903, came on?

I am sixteen years old, and would like to correspond with anyone around my age, if they will write first, and I will leave my address with you, Miss Grey.

I am inclosing ten cents for the Children's Hospital.

Your Mail-Box is certainly a success I think, and it seems to be spreading all the time. I'm sure everyone finds it one of the most interesting sections of "The Advertiser."

VIRGINIA V.

Ans.—Friday.

Glad you enjoy our page.

Wants to See It In Print.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am a little girl 12 years old, and I read your page every day. A few days ago I saw where someone asked for directions for crocheting a tam, and I would like to have it also if you would please mail in inclosed envelope. I have brown eyes and dark brown hair. What colors would be suitable for my tam? I think this hospital plan is a good thing, and am inclosing 25 cents for it. Hoping to see this in print, I remain,

PUSSY WILLOW.

Ans.—Tam would be pretty in delf blue or rose. Thank you, kiddie for your generous donation to fund.

About Books.

Dear Miss Grey,—Will you please send the inclosed letter to Bug, who wished to correspond with me?

I saw where someone said Mrs. Richmond's books were so good. I certainly agree with her. Mrs. Southworth is also a good writer.

How many have read "Laddie" by G. S. Porter? It is fine.

Do any of the Boxites take a monthly paper called "The Illustrated Companion"? It is a cheap paper, and very interesting.

Has any one ever read any of Williams W. Walter's books? They are fine, also "Next Door," and "Doctor Latimer" by Mrs. Burham; "Dora Thorne" by C. Braeme.

I think if anyone gets the above books or Bertha M. Clay's, they will like them.

As my grandmother has all the above books and many more, I have a good chance to find the good ones.

I am sending a good cake recipe, which I hope someone will like.

Cocoanut Layer Cake.

¼ cup shortening.
1 cup sugar.
1 egg.
1 cup milk.
2 cups flour.
3 teaspoons Royal baking powder.
⅛ teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon flavoring. Bake in three layers. CAPITOLA.

Ans Letter forwarded to Bug.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

ALINE

Of curious Teutonic origin is Aline It signifies "noble," and belongs to the great cycle of names evolved from the prefix, Aethea Adel, or Adol, which mean high-born or noble. Athalaric, the conqueror of Rome, was a forerunner of the feminine Aline. Since he was oft known as Alaric, the process of evolution is more easily discernible.

Early in the ninth century, the feminine name of Adolphine was coined in Germany and brought to England. Though it was soon contracted to Doline—a name still common in Germany—the original name remained long enough to become the predecessor of Aline, through slurring the consonants. One of the daughters of Waltheof, Earl of Northumbria, was so called and it is believed that her christening set the fashion for the barbarous names, which made their appearance in England about that time.

Aline bears no connection with Eileen, which is the Irish version of Eleanor, nor with Aileen, which is another form of the same name, though the similarity in pronunciation is striking. Aline however, is more popular in this country than either of the other two.

Aline's talismanic gem is the ruby. It will protect its wearer from danger, and disease, bring her courage and success. Tuesday is her lucky day, and three her lucky number. The lily of purity is her flower.

MRS. ELIZABETH KENT, MacDONALD COLLEGE.

HOME-MADE TOYS.

"Into everything," is the common phrase on a mother's lips of the child below kindergarten age. It is a great thing if the mother realizes what an important part of his training it is, and gives him the right "everything" to keep him busy.

Home-made toys are really best of all in many ways. The big soft rag doll, or the teddy-bear, with clothes that can be buttoned and unbuttoned is the best teacher for little hands that need to learn to dress themselves. Empty cardboard boxes, spools and colored paper afford an infinite variety of amusement and entertainment, and if they are judiciously chosen for size, shape, color, and judicious hints are given for their use in making carts, cars, dolls, furniture or boats, with scissors, string and paste, a child's ingenuity can be developed to a surprising degree. Give him but the least start in the way of using his abilities, and he will soon go ahead for himself. A child who can so entertain himself, with a few simple aids of material and suggestion, is a joy to himself and to others. He is laying a sure foundation for a hapy and useful life, in which he will never be at a loss for something to do.

The essential thing in providing for a child's activities is an opportunity for construction. The destructive tendency is really only curiosity, and is easily changed into its desirable converse, construction. Show a child how a thing goes, how it is put together, whenever you can. Satisfy his craving for that knowledge. But also teach him respect for things by helping him to see for himself what it means to make

Wilde Talks Wife and Kiddies —Anything but Fighting

Is Social Lion in Detroit and a Golf Bug To Superlative Degree—Is Mere Boy in Naturalness Despite Ten Years in Ring.

[By A. L. Baxter.]

WINDSOR, April 8.—A small, thin-bodied boy, peering from his child-like features, with nice blue eyes, under a derby hat—talking of golf, automobiles, dogs, card tricks, his wife, children, rugby, rowing, theatres, handball, and last of all, fights—that, in a nutshell, is Jimmy Wilde, who, in addition to being the flyweight champion of the world, holds the distinction of being the greatest atom of fighting energy the world has yet produced.

Between engagements at the Essex Golf and Country Club here and links in Detroit, attending afternoon teas and other social functions with his wife, who is accompanying him, Jimmy is training for his coming fight with the Zulu Kid at the armories here next Monday night. He intends, he declares, to put up a much better exhibition than when he met Jack Sharkey, for, discussing that bout and referring to the methods of a few American champions generally, he said:

Wants to Please.

"They don't go in to win like I do. I always want to please the fans, because they pay money to see me and want to see me at my best. As a result I get more money when I box than most of the champions do.

"I beat Jack Sharkey when I fought him in Milwaukee, but I beat him on points, English points, you know. But the Americans had heard so much about me they expected too much when I met Sharkey. Then again, I wasn't in shape when I fought Sharkey, for I was carrying too much weight, and it was my first fight in six months, but things will be different this time."

The flyweight champion surprised everyone on his arrival here. He is soft-spoken and polite, just a little embarrassed, and with a marked and obvious desire to make a good impression with his elders. In street clothes he looks very much like a child, an office boy in a financial institution of some kind. For all his ten years of battling in the ring he bears no scars. He strikes one as having just donned his first pair of long trousers, and feeling rather awkward and out-of-place in them.

His greatest hobby is golf. He plays it well, talks of it fluently and knows the game in all its angles. He also likes motoring, owns a French automobile now, and intends acquiring an American one. He is a dog fancier and owns several winning Airedales which have been bred from champions. Although but now approaching his 28th birthday he has two sons, one 9 and the other 4 years old.

Wife With Him.

He is staying with Mrs. Wilde at the Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, and to her he gives most of the credit for his wonderful success. He says she's a "wonderful loser."

"If ever I should lose she would be the first to shake the hand of my opponent. She is a bloomin' good sport," he declared enthusiastically.

Such a man, or rather boy, is Jimmy Wilde, world's flyweight champion, and generally acclaimed the best fighting machine on the globe.

Speaking of some of his ring battles to The Advertiser he described his toughest engagement as occurring when he met Johnny ("Babe") Asher of St. Louis.

"He was the gamest fellow I ever fought," said Jimmy. "I dropped him twice, but I couldn't put him out. I hit him with everything I had, but he was so shifty that most of my punches landed on his head. I couldn't put one to his jaw."

As an afterthought he added:

"He was a pretty sight next day, all beaten up. They awarded him a Distinguished Service Cross for bravery in France, and he certainly deserved it."

FLINT WITH 32,000 WORKERS BEHIND BASEBALL IS SET

Manager Tom Halligan of Flint Club Is Assured of Whole-Hearted Support.

[Special To The Advertiser].

FLINT, Mich. April 9.—That the factories here with some 32,000 workers on their strength are strong behind Tom Halligan in his organized baseball scheme this year is evident from the line of sporting chatter just published in five local industrial periodicals calling the sporting element of the factories to their duty regarding putting more pep into sport here. Tom Halligan is one of the most firm believers in supporting the factory worker in his baseball, indoor bowling, etc., and he has ever stood firm behind them, and it was to a great measure due to the courtesy and forethought of Tom Halligan that two live bowling teams copped off so much prize money down at Peoria, Ill., tourney recently. So in turn the factory boys will stand behind Halligan this season in his pro baseball, and it looks like a case of go over the top with the laurels so far as the crowds locally are concerned.

Flint fans have a whole lot of faith in "Hump" Pierce, Halligan's efficient manager of last year and this year also. They like Pierce. Some of them know him as "Jimmy" and have followed him up through his ball experience and have learned that when Pierce says a thing is all right, it is good. Both Pierce and Halligan are working hard, scanning this man and closely observing the other in the hope to land a team of men this season that will give Flint fans all they expect for their money and a little more thrown in.

It looks like a big time here on the opening day when the Kitchener Club comes to test the local strength at home. Halligan says that if at all possible, Al Jolson, the great Yankee entertainer, will be on deck and will throw the first ball, and added to this there will be band music and other features of a special nature not yet ready for announcement.

It would be interesting to know just what "Hump" Pierce has up his sleeve down at Lafayette where he is training the Perdue University group. Rumor has it that "Hump" has some real batmen under his view and that as soon as "T. J." goes that way there'll be a boy or two. Both Halligan and Pierce have been scanning around for weeks and it is known that they have an extra large list of choice men to pick from.

The factory league is none too pleased with the schedule allotted to Halligan this year, in that he will draw on several Saturdays. But certain arrangements are under way to clear the air in this regard and owing that it's co-operation from the drop of the ball season, there'll be no difficulty, no trouble, no uprising between the elements whatever.

"I was among the 500 at the park last Sunday when the soccer game was staged despite the blinding blizzard, and when I looked about me I couldn't help but feel that this is the new spirit of Flint in 1920," said Halligan today. "One year ago there would not have been a dozen out," he went on.

[illegible] are watching the proceedings George Orme, sold to Brantford and Milwaukee are concerned. The locals would like to see Knotty Lee hold Orme and later see George in action here again this summer. It is local feeling that Brantford will get him yet.

THE EDDIE McKAY MEMORIAL CUP

[BY C. S. GRAFTON.]

In naming the cup donated to the Public School Hockey League winners by Mr. William Haddon, the Eddie McKay Memorial Cup, a fine and particularly apt tribute has been paid the memory of one of the finest types of athletic manhood ever connected with London sport.

It is not too much to say that no athlete in the annals of sport history in London has left so clean and so high an ideal of sport in the minds of those who knew him, as did Eddie McKay, nor in the minds of those who followed sport in all its various forms.

His enthusiasm for whatever sport it was, his ever-present spirit of "the game for the game's sake," and, above all, his high ideals of sportsmanship expressed in his every move on any field of sport, marked "Eddie" for what he was—a sportsman who played the game of life as he played any other, with unswerving tenacity of purpose and absolute fairness.

His athletic career from the time he came to the city from Harrington, near Embro, where his family still resides, is a matter of general knowledge. Without any of the apparent physical attributes of the athlete ordained by nature to accomplish great things in the field of athletics, Eddie McKay, while attending Collegiate and later Western University, fought his way into every line of athletic endeavor, and became an exponent of practically every game, creating his own indispensable niche in each. No mean achievement this, with plenty of leisure time to contribute, but a splendid one when the time was sandwiched and taken here and there from a day, first of all taken up by hours which, on his own decision, had to go to maintaining himself by working; and secondly, study periods.

In 1914 came the war. That autumn he achieved his greatest athletic distinction, when, as a member of the Western University Junior Rugby team, Dominion champions, a large share of the final victory was attributed to his work at flying wing.

As soon as the war broke out, Eddie McKay announced his intention of joining the Flying Corps. That course of action at that time was surrounded with plenty of obstacles, not the least of which was the financial outlay involved. The middle of winter found him in the southern aviation training camps, paying for the chance to get into the big game, and fitting himself in the only available way. Just as he went into any game, so he directed his energies to flying, and, graduating, was sent to England. The work in the South was done over again in England, and then Eddie McKay got his chance at the reality in France. His daring and resource was marked even in the training period, and so, when the news came through in 1916 that Richthofen, the German Ace, had been brought down, it did not surprise Londoners so much as it confirmed their mental prophecies to find that the London boy had been "in the mix," and while never receiving official credit for the deed, he did receive what confirmation there could be under the circumstances, ungrudgingly, from his squadron companions. He returned for duty to England, but December, 1917, found him in France again on the Cambrai front.

On the afternoon of the 17th of December he left with his flight patrol. The patrol sighted Huns, superior in number, and were sighted. The formation of the Britons was broken. It became, as it often did, "every man for himself and as many Huns as he could." Out of the disconnected story of the survivors of one more "scrap," there was enough pieced together to show that Eddie McKay was "buckin' the line" the last seen of him. "Missing," that word of so much dread, uncertainty and ever-flickering hope in the official language of the war for five years, gave way to "Missing, believed killed." Eddie McKay had "gone west," and gone in the way one of his indomitable spirit would choose to go.

The Eddie McKay Memorial Cup is more than a cup and a name. Behind it all is a life full of the highest sportsmanship and purpose. What his athletic career taught him of "playing the game" carried him gloriously through to that life's glorious closing in the greatest game of them all, with life and death as the even and odd. An ideal of manhood such as the Eddie McKay Memorial Cup represents might well be for generations of the school children of London one to be maintained, striven and fought for.

FRANCE MAY COMPETE FOR DAVIS TENNIS CUP

NEW YORK, April 9.—Added importance was given the Davis Cup international tennis matches next summer with receipt of word here today that late entries may be made by France, as well as Canada.

This information was received by the United States Lawn Tennis Association in a cable from the secretary of the French organization, requesting support of the American body in application for reopening of the entries. The entry list closed March 1 with the United States, England, South Africa and Holland as the contesting nations. Later Canada requested the consent of these four entrants for permission to compete. The American Association cabled such consent to Australia, holder of the trophy, but nothing further was heard in regard to the matter.

Similar action was taken on the French application.

DE PALMA TO DRIVE FRENCH MACHINE IN INDIANAPOLIS RACE

Ralph Claims He Is Switching To Get Something Distinctive in the Line of a Car.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 9.—Ralph De Palma, undoubtedly the most popular automobile racing driver in history, has signed to drive in the eight annual 500-mile race to be held at the Indianapolis speedway May 31.

Ralph will pilot a Ballot, a product of the famous Ballot Moteurs, Paris, France, and there is no little mystery surrounding the mount the winner of the 1916 classic will drive. His team mates in the big race are not announced nor any details of his car except that it will be of 180 cubic inches piston displacement, 3 cubic inches inside the limit specified, and that it will be a 1920 model.

Last year De Palma drove a 12-cylinder Packard, and despite persistent engine and tire trouble finished sixth. This year he is using a Ballot—because he wanted something distinctive," as he put it.

Little is known of the Ballot car, as last year was the first time it appeared in racing competition. In the 1919 Sweepstakes four Ballots were entered—Albert Guyot finished fourth, Rene Thomas eleventh, while Louis Wagner and Paul Baboit, other members of the Ballot team, were forced out of the race because of broken wheels.

However, Rene Thomas speeding a Ballot, traveled the fastest lap ever turned at the speedway, when in the speed trials he was caught by the timers in 1:25:89, or an average of 104.8 miles per hour. The nearest approach to this record made by an American driver in a Yankee-made car was Louis Chevrolet in a Frontenac, 103.15 miles per hour in 1:27:37 for 2½ miles.

De Palma first raced in a Ballot at the Los Angeles speedway this year, finishing eighth, and in the meantime changed eighteen tires. The car that De Palma will drive here in May is still under construction at the Ballot plant. It is rumored that it will be of 8 cylinders, in line type a racing sensation.

He has been turning in some fast cards in trials on coast tracks recently, his best trip being around a 1¼-mile oval in 32:2, or 117.01 miles per hour. His speed trials over the Indianapolis track before the race will be watched with interest by devotees of the speed game, and his performance in the race will undoubtedly furnish thrills a plenty for all the racing bugs.

Ralph, of the sunny disposition and ever-present smile, firmly imbedded himself in the memory of the thousands of race enthusiasts in the 1912 sweepstakes. With but two laps to go De Palma and his flying Mercedes, which had kept the stands on its feet throughout the thrilling race by its daring performance under De Palma's guidance, was leading the vanguard of racers with Joe Dawson, the nearest competitor, 8 laps or 20 miles behind.

It looked like an easy win for the favorite of the day, but a connecting rod broke, tossed him out of the race and literally knocked the $20,000-prize for first place out of his hands. De Palma jumped from his car and pushed it down the home stretch to his pit amid the cheers of the excited thousands. When Joe Dawson in No. 8, a National, whizzed by him De Palma waved him on to victory, and kept on pushing his disabled car, smiling.

Joe Dawson won the race, but Ralph De Palma was the hero of the day.

De Palma has never blamed "hard luck" for his racing misfortune. He merely tells what happened to the car, giving no alibis. His clean sportsmanship has won for him a place in the racing hall of fame—there never was a more popular driver.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 9.—Strangler Lewis defeated Sava Munich tonight in two straight falls. Both falls came within 43 minutes.

OLYMPIC BOXING CONTESTS PRODUCE FINE ATHLETES

Some of Ottawa and Hamilton Athletes Refuse To Join Despite Western Ontario's Example.

TORONTO, April 9.—(By Canadian Press).—Local boxing fans turned out en masse tonight to witness the preliminary bouts of the Ontario boxing championships held under the auspices of the Ontario branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. The ultimate winners of the various classes will qualify for the Olympic boxing elimination events, which will decide who will represent Canada at the Olympic boxing tournament at Antwerp.

The bouts for the most part were fought under Olympic rules, which will govern competition at the Olympic bouts. According to the rules, each bout was of four rounds' duration, but owing to the multiplicity of boxers, the bouts tonight lasted three rounds unless otherwise decided. The new rules are a decided deviation from the ordinary boxing rules. A clinch was not broken by the referee; a warning being the only official notice to break.

The University of Toronto boxers were expected to compete in the championship events, but were prevented from so doing by reason of coming examinations.

Owing to the non-arrival of the Ottawa and Hamilton delegation of boxers three of the events were cancelled.

The results:

Fisher, Arlington, defeated McTamney, Riversides; McConkey, Classics, knocked out Duffy, Riversides, in the first round.

Flyweight—110 Pounds.

Young (unattached) defeated Potter, Riversides; Smith, Classics, defeated McGrath, Riversides.

Featherweight—125 Pounds.

Donovan, Riversides, easily defeated Hanna, Sarnia. Referee Marsh stopped the bout in the first round.

Coyne, Classics, defeated Brookes, Riversides, in two rounds. The referee stopped the bout near the end of the second round.

Newtown, Riversides, defeated Price, Classics.

Lightweight—134 Pounds.

Reed, A. M. A. C., knocked out Larken, Classics, in the second round.

Lightweight—135 Pounds.

Jenkinson, Riversides, knocked out McKay, Classics, in the second round.

Chris Newton, Riversides, defeated Colquhoun, Classics.

FOREST CITY QUOIT CLUB LOOKS FOR GOOD SEASON

Officers Elected at Meeting in Dominion House.

A meeting of the Forest City Quoiting Club was held last evening in the Dominion House. A large number of the old members were present and all were enthusiastic in regard to the prospects for this season's play.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: Honorary presidents, Matt Brown, "Rafe" Errington and Pat Mullhall; honorary vice-presidents, Harry Storie, John Talbot and Joe Holliday; president, J. C. Hopper; vice-president, George Bolton; secretary, Percy J. Summers; treasurer, Charlie Wray; ground committee, George Bolton, J. Hopper, J. Summers, games committee, Charles Wray, James Singleton, Roy Brooks, Bob Reid; official referee, Sam Lewis.

BOYS OF RIFLE CLUB ATTEND A BANQUET

Unit Already Has Thirty-Four Medals For Marksmanship.

A highly enthusiastic crowd of boys attended the banquet of the London Rifle Corps, held in the Y. M. C. A. last night at 6:30.

The corps, which is a foster-unit of the Seventh Fusiliers, has at present 40 members. Recruiting will open at once for the unit in an attempt to bring the strength up to 80, which is the authorized strength and is the number of uniforms supplied by the militia department.

Drills will be held in the armories every Monday at 4:30, and Friday at 7:30, under Sergt.-Major Whitfield. Shooting will also be on the program of the unit, which already has 34 medals and a gold watch to the credit of its members for their marksmanship.

George Copeland, who is in command of the unit, expressed great regret at the retirement of Malcolm Bedford, who has acted as captain of the corps since it was organized. George Sessions, who has experience with various cadet corps of the city, will take the place of the retiring captain.

The unit expressed its appreciation of Capt. Bedford's services by presenting him with a high-class safety razor.

Capt. Chester Butler, adjutant of the Seventh, spoke to the boys and stated that he would do everything in his power to make the corps a success. Uniforms and rifles will be drawn from the ordnance stores next week, and a room will be provided for the boys in the armories.

TUXIS BOYS AND TRAIL RANGERS

BY Firelighter

A great many of the city churches will hold special Father and Son services Sunday evening. All of the Methodist churches and a number of the Baptist churches will be among them.

A call has gone from the "Y" for boys to lead the C. S. E. T. groups which are forming throughout the city, as a number of them are without leaders.

One Anglican group is still without a leader after making two appeals to the "Y" and several to members of their own church.

Many of the groups which will participate in the national athletic meet which will be held from April 19 to 24 are already in training.

Thirty boys visited the McCormick factory Thursday under the guidance of Robert Liddle, industrial secretary, and Lloyd Houlding, boys' secretary. The boys seemed to be very sweet on the candy girls.

A visit will be made to the McClary foundry this afternoon by about twenty-five boys. This will finish the factory trips.

The C. S. E. T. relay race to be held tonight has been postponed on account of the bad weather.

Boston Fighter Knocks Out Silas Green, Canadian Champ

Sam Langford Proves He Still Carries the Wallop.

Detroit, April 9.—Sam Langford of Boston proved that he still carries the old wallop by knocking out Silas Green of Montreal in the wind-up of the Moose A. C. boxing show tonight. The Canadian heavyweight champion furnished a remarkable exhibition of gameness until he took the final count in the third round. Green tried to slug with Langford in the first, but was met with an avalanche of jabs, swings and uppercuts that would have stopped an ordinary fighter.

In the third a right cross put Green down for the count of nine. Another punch had the same effect. As Green staggered to his feet and attempted to back away a left swing to the jaw knocked him cold, and he was carried to his corner.

Yankee Delaney of Newark and Red Zimmer of Chicago fought a gruelling ten-round draw in the semi-final at 116 pounds.

SHE SAYS SHE CAN NOW DO HER WORK

MRS. M. MAGNANT GIVES THE CREDIT TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Her Back Ached and She Was Always Tired, But She States She Found the Relief She Longed For in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Lina, Alta., April 9.—(Special.)—"Thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills I can now do my work." So says Mrs. M. Magnant, a well-known and highly-respected resident of this place. Mrs. Magnant was a sufferer from that terrible weariness so many women know.

"My back ached," she says, "and I felt so tired all the time." But she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She persevered with them, taking sixteen boxes in all, with the result given in the glad words of the opening paragraph.

Other women in all parts of Canada make the same statement. They were weighed down with weariness, weakness and pain, and found the relief they longed for in Dodd's Kidney Pills. For sick kidneys are the cause of the great majority of the ills from which women suffer. To treat them the kidneys must be strengthened so they will strain all the impurities out of the blood.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not help sick kidneys.

REOPEN MARTIN CASE

Border Painters Still On Strike—Sympathetic Action Feared.

WINDSOR, April 9.—Further evidence was taken today when Commissioner James Murdoch of the Dominion Board of Commerce reopened the hearing into the alleged profiteering of H. V. Martin, proprietor-manager of an organization known as the Consumers' Association, which was closed up some two months ago on an order from Ottawa, when the probe was first instituted. George Nairn, prominent local grocer, occupied the stand for considerable part of today's session.

FIRE LOSS $5,815.

Windsor's fire loss for the first three months of the year, according to figures quoted by Fire Chief Defield today, totalled $5,815, involved in 46 alarms.

A special Pullman sleeper was today engaged by the Windsor Rotary Club to take a large delegation of local members to Battle Creek next Tuesday to attend the convention there.

Windsor firemen today saved a large automobile, which caught fire in transit from a Detroit manufacturer, when the engine back-fired and the car burst into flames on the hill leading up from the ferry dock.

EXPROPRIATE LAND.

Windsor City Council will expropriate land near the Essex terminal railroad at the next council meeting and order the construction of the municipal coalbins to better preserve the city municipal coal pile which has become an institution in the city. Already the council has purchased fifteen carloads of coal, which will cost the consumer about $15.50 a ton, according to present estimates of the city engineer. The fifteen carloads were all the city could buy at present. They will place further orders immediately to fill the new bins.

More than 4,000 tons of coal were bought for the border residents by the city last year. The new bins will hold at least 4,000 tons. Mayor Winter said today that the city will buy all the coal it can for the municipal coal pile, since already warnings are being issued by the provincial fuel controller concerning the 1920 supply.

STILL ON STRIKE.

Painters of the border today met the master painters and border mayors, but there was failure to settle the strike of painters and decorators which has been in effect for ten days. The painters are asking $1 an hour, while the master painters refuse to give more than 80 cents. Contractors of the border fear a general sympathetic strike of all workmen of the building trades. The carpenters and masons are both asking large increases.

E. G. Henderson, manager of the Canadian Salt Company left for England today, where he will remain a month on business. While abroad he will go to France to visit the grave of his son, Lieut. Morris Henderson, who was killed in 1916 on the western front.

DAYLIGHT SAVING IS FAVORED BY WORKERS AND YOUNG PEOPLE

Galt Board of Trade Also Favorable To Summer Time.

GALT, April 9.—While no action has been taken here yet in regard to daylight-saving for this summer, there is a strong feeling in the city among the younger generation and the workingmen who spend their spare time in the gardens in favor of the new time. The board of trade has expressed its approval of daylight-saving, and by the time May rolls round it is anticipated some action will be taken.

MONSTER MERGER OF STEEL FIRMS ALMOST COMPLETE, REPORT

MONTREAL, April 9.—(By Canadian Press.)—The Montreal Gazette will tomorrow say editorially:

"It may now be stated more or less positively that the long and much discussed consolidation of the two principal Canadian steel enterprises, the Dominion Steel Corporation and the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, Limited, is now close to the completion stage. A further extension to include Canadian Steamship Lines and several shipbuilding enterprises is also embraced in the plans of the interests which conceived the scheme, which is one of the most ambitious in the history of Canadian industry. The ultimate ramifications of the enterprise, it is stated, will extend to not only Great Britain but to the outlying parts of the Empire, including India and Australia, so that the developments here form but a part only of the comprehensive Imperial Steel and Shipbuilding Combination, in which the splendid natural resources of the Dominion are to play an important part."

CANADA CONTINUES TO LEAD UNITED STATES IN TRAINING SERVICE MEN

Figures Published At Washington Show That Dominion Has More in Training For Like Period.

OTTAWA, April 9.—(By Canadian Press.)—In comparison with the United States, Canada continues to lead in the industrial retraining of disabled ex-service men.

According to official figures published at Washington, by the federal board for vocational education, a total of 32,204 men had entered training out of 41,813 men, who had been approved for training.

In Canada at the same period 48,365 men had been approved of for courses under the vocational branch of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, and 43,124 had actually commenced re-training.

In the United States 3,409 men are recorded as having completed or discontinued training. During the same period in Canada 13,030 men had graduated as trained.

It is estimated that 55,000 disabled ex-service men will have been benefitted by these courses by the time the work terminates.

MANY DRUNKEN MEN PICKED UP BY POLICE

SARNIA, April 9.—Considerable bootlegging appears to be going on in this city, as drunken men are often seen, and the police pick them up nearly every day. So far the efforts of the authorities to stop the peddling of booze have not been very successful, as it is practically impossible to get any of the men to state where they get the booze. It is understood that an investigation is being made, and a round-up of the bootleggers is expected at any time.

LOEW'S

THE POPULAR LITTLE VAMP, CONSTANCE TALMADGE, COMES TO LOEW'S FIRST HALF OF NEXT WEEK IN "TWO WEEKS."

Constance Talmadge, the screen's popular little vamp, and one of the best-loved stars in pictures today, comes to Loew's Theatre for the first three days of next week in her latest comedy drama, "Two Weeks," taken from the Anthony Wharton play of the same name. "Two Weeks" is the story of a chorus girl who leaps to fame and who, to escape the importunities of a too-rash lover, flees to the home of three crusty, old bachelors, where she upsets all rules and traditions and vamps her way through their hard shells and into their hearts. Of course, you liked Constance in "A Temperamental Wife" and "A Virtuous Vamp," but in "Two Weeks" Miss Talmadge has surpassed all her other efforts.

The vaudeville menu for the first portion of the week brings an all-star bill and one that Loew patrons will enjoy keenly. The program includes Doherty and Salvatore, in nifty songs and dances, with some extraordinary banjo selections for good measure. Haskell and Bloom have a snappy little turn of harmony song and cut up, and one does a pianologue that is one of the big features of the act. Hazel Harrington and company present a clever comedy one-act playlet entitled "The Squab," guaranteed to bring the house down—every line is comedy, the farce was built for laughing purposes only. Pease and Dawson will cut up in a snappy turn built around the Tale of a Coat Tail, and Williams and Burnie will complete the vaudeville in versatile bits of eccentricities via the air.

The added attractions include the popular Loew Weekly Pictorial, a big V comic and special musical program by the Loew concert orchestra under the direction of J. VanVught.

THE EVER-LOVABLE BILLIE BURKE COMES TO LOEW'S FOR THE LAST HALF OF NEXT WEEK IN "SADIE LOVE."

The popular little star of stage and screen, Billie Burke, comes to Loew's Theatre for the last portion of the week in her latest Paramount Artcraft picture, "Sadie Love." Billie as Sadie Love found her wedded life a dream of bliss—with one tiny exception. She wanted another man—she knew who, too—an old flame, and so she took the necessary steps to get him. But hubby's name happened to be Pallavicini, from the land where lovers grow; her twin soul Jimmie was a heavy lover only on the scales. So a string of stirring events convinced our Sadie than instead of an unfilled romance her fat Romeo was only a romance that had filled out. You'll find oodles of laughs, and the rest of the story one long chuckle.

A musical comedy Fashion revue, "Fashions a la Carte," heads an exceptionally fine vaudeville bill. Five pretty girlies and one man comprise the cast, and songs, dances and pretty music combine to present a most pleasing turn. During the course of the act, the latest fashion creations are presented. Davey Thursby will offer clever character impressions. Gladys Gillen, John Carlton and company present a brilliant little one-act comedy drama entitled "The Slippery Duck"; Cooper and Lacey will entertain with a sparkling series of artistic songs and dances and Heras and Preston will complete the vaudeville in unique and amusing acrobatic stunts.

The added attractions bring another funny Hank Mann comic and the popular Loew Pictorial of World Events.

What the Press Agents Say

THE GRAND

VIVIAN MARTIN IN "HIS OFFICIAL FIANCEE," NEW SCREEN COMEDY SHOWING AT THE GRAND MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

A novel situation, rich in fun-making possibilities, is set forth in Vivian Martin's new Paramount-Artcraft photo-play, "His Official Fiancee," which comes to the Grand on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Martin has the role of a stenographer employed in the London office of William Waters, a stern, cold-blooded businessman. He summons her and tells her it is necessary for business reasons for him to pose during the next few weeks as a man engaged to be married. He offers her the post of "official fiancee" for a money consideration. Pressed for funds, she consents. Many complications ensue, including the coming on the scene of a former lover, Waters' embarrassing gay dog uncle, and the arrival of a charming French girl, between whom and Waters an understanding evidently exists. The two officially engaged persons fall in love, and it all comes out happily.

Playing opposite Miss Martin is Forrest Stanley, who has been leading man in several stage stock companies, and also has had a long and successful career in pictures, appearing first in Bosworth & Morosco releases.

Coming to the Grand Opera House Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

EXCEPTIONAL VAUDEVILLE FEATURES AT THE GRAND MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

What promises to be one of the most entertaining and varied vaudeville bills of the season has been booked for the Grand on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next. Containing plenty of good singing, dancing, music, comedy and novelties, the program is certain to score a big hit with Grand patrons.

One of the most novel and pretentious acts to be seen on the Keith circuit this season is Mlle. Theo and Her Dandies, who will be the feature attraction. Mlle. Theo and Her Dandies present a miniature revue in three complete scenes, featuring the original Balloon Girl. This latter feature is said to contain more thrills and excitement than half a dozen circus acts. An interesting part of the offering will be the invitation to patrons of the theatre to take a ride in the balloon which floats high up in the auditorium of the theatre. Two exceedingly attractive girls and a man constitute the trio of the Spanish Goldinis, who will present "Europe's Most Sensational Artistic Novelty." This trio of artists introduce many new ideas, combining juggling, spinning, dancing and high diving. True Rice and Flo Newman will offer exclusive comedy songs and talk written by themselves. It is a super-comedy act that will keep theatre-goers in throes of laughter. Lorimer and Carbury have an offering that will appeal strongly to all lovers of fine dancing. San Tuci is billed as "The Wizard of the Accordion," and rightly so. This artist has an extensive repertoire, embracing both popular and classical numbers. In addition to the feature film and vaudeville, other features will be a selected comedy, the Pathe Review, Topics of the Day and Gaumont News.

"POLLYANNA" COMING TO THE GRAND THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—"THE GLAD PLAY" DELIGHTS THEATRE-GOERS WITH ITS SENTIMENT AND MIRTH.

Not in years has so much genuine interest centred in a book or play as is now directed toward "Pollyanna," which comes to the Grand on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:15 and Saturday matinee at 2:30. The "Pollyanna" stories, which have enormous circulation in many lands, were written by Eleanor H. Porter of Boston. "Pollyanna" was dramatized by Catharine Chisholm Cushing, the author of "A Widow by Proxy," "The Real Thing," "Kitty MacKay," and Billie Burke's "Jerry." The comedy is in every sense one of fascinating interest, and its urgent appeal is to those who have been through the mill of experience. It does not deal with sex problems or morbid themes, and is for the many who seek the theatre for real diversion, for harmless merriment and appealing sentiment. And it is full of surprises. The play goes with the spirit of glad philosophy. "Pollyanna," a young girl, the orphaned daughter of a western missionary, has gone to live with a crusty maiden aunt in the city. The aunt did not desire her, but through her persistence in playing what she calls "the glad game," Pollyanna not only won the heart of her aunt, but transformed all the grouches of the town. "The glad game" is simple. The player simply tries to be glad over everything; it matters not what happens. Young people all over have organized what the call "Glad Clubs" to attend the play and drink in the beautiful philosophy of the buoyant girl whose gladness converted an entire community into one of happiness. Lolita Westman plays the title role, and those prominent in her support are Pacie Ripple, Wallace Roberts, Earla Elverson, Augusta Durgeon, Peter M. Macguire, Rusell William Day and others. The seat sale opens Tuesday morning. Mail orders now.

ALLEN'S

KIDDIES THRONGING TO ALLEN'S EASTER FESTIVAL, WITH CHARLIE CHAPLIN AND JACK PICKFORD.

You must surely allow the kiddies this one great treat of their Easter holidays and let them see the big Easter festival at the Allen this afternoon and evening. Charlie Chaplin in his big four-act jazz opera "Carmen," supported by Edna Purvience and Ben Turpin, heads the bills with a rollicking, joyful, mirthful tumult of laughter.

Jack Pickford in "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is all that boyhood could desire in the way of a young adventurer. The picture, as you will know from reading the book, is packed with wholesome heart appeal, thrills adventure and romance.

Special music and organ recital under the direction of Maurice Poure, with beautiful scenic and educational pictures complete a perfect program of entertainment.

DRURY LANE'S MOST THRILLING MELODRAMA, "THE SPORTING DUCHESS," PRESENTED AT ALLEN'S MONDAY, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

As a play in England, it had the reputation of being the most thrilling melodrama that was ever presented to the public; as a picture in America, it has become the most sensational of pictures, establishing a new record for thrill upon thrill, beauty, and lavish, magnificent scenes of brilliant splendor, all in a story whose charm has never been equalled on the screen before. With its first showing in Canada, at the Allen Monday, "The Sporting Duchess" comes, as the best racing picture that has been shown here in years.

Beautiful manor homes, archery fields, training quarters, luxurious interiors, magnificent motors and fast horses form an ever changing background for this thrilling tale.

LEW CODY: MALE VAMP, STARRED IN HIS OWN MAGNIFICENT PRODUCTION, "THE BELOVED CHEATER" AT THE ALLAN.

Lew Cody has endeared himself to the screen fans of the world, by the finished art with which he depicts the most difficult roles. He has made love to the beautiful heroine, and won the scowls of his audiences by the exquisite villainy of his work as a heavy. In "Mickey" he was hailed as the greatest villain the screen had yet produced, and at last we have him in his own picture "The Beloved Cheater," which comes to the Allen Thursday, Friday and Saturday next week. Seldom of monster film spectacles is there seen the many lavish settings, which abound in "The Beloved Cheater." This wealthy bachelor is the idol of many charming society maids, and a man who other men were forced to make friends with, in order to save their family happiness, or at the dictation of heart-hungry wives. He had the hearts of a hundred maids on his coat sleeve. You must see how Cody taught this amateur the game of love; and aided him in his campaign for the hand of his sweetheart.

Lew Cody, the ace of hearts, who comes to the Allen Thursday, Friday and Saturday in his first starring picture "The Beloved Cheater."

MAJESTIC

THE PUBLIC DEMAND THAT "THE END OF THE ROAD" BE SHOWN AGAIN NEXT WEEK FOR GOOD OF THE PEOPLE.

It seems that there has been some little trouble at the Majestic this week in that the theatre has not been able to accommodate the immense crowds which are thronging to see "The End of the Road," that wonderful picture presented by the Public Health Films under the auspices of the Canadian National Council For Combating Venereal Diseases. The doctors, public health institutes of the city and those who have the welfare of the nation at heart have demanded that "The End of the Road" be held for at least four days next week, well knowing that the demand throughout the country for this exceptional film is so great that if they once allowed it to leave the Majestic. It would be a long time before they could secure it again. So the management have arranged with headquarters in Toronto that for the sake of those who have not been able to yet gain entrance to the Majestic, or have not yet had an opportunity of seeing "The End of the Road" that the picture is to be shown Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, as well as today.

Although this picture presents to the public the greatest lesson the stage or screen has yet offered, it is in no wise offensive, and but deals forcefully and beautifully with this most delicate of subjects. Although startling and unique in many ways, and open to criticism from the narrow minded, it has a priceless power for good, picturing as it does the romantic aspirations of youth and the dire results of thoughtless and indiscreet actions; graphically illustrating that those that sow wild oats must reap blind babies, or exist in a living death in horrible punishment for their maybe first indiscretion.

MAJESTIC

TODAY, MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY NEXT WEEK—By the demand of the public, "The End of the Road," under the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—"Liberty Hall," by all-star company of London artists. This is not a picture.

MISS LOLITA WESTMAN as "Pollyanna," in the play of the same name, that puts the joy into living. Coming to the Grand next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with matinee on Saturday.

"LIBERTY HALL."

The name of R. C. Carton, author of such well-known stage successes as "Lord and Lady Algy" and "Gay Lord Quex," has always been associated with the highest ideals in good comedy drama. The presentation of "Liberty Hall" by a talented local cast, assembled by the Women's Press Club, is looked forward to by the lovers of clean theatrical performances as a rare treat.

Of "Liberty Hall," a New York critic says: "Liberty Hall" is dignified drama. Its laughter leaves you self-respect; its tears leave you unashamed."

The players assigned to the various parts are well fitted for the characters they are to portray, and will give artistic interpretation of the lines of the master playwright. The term "amateur," as applied today, too readily gives one the thought of Friday afternoon recitals and Sunday school entertainments. The "Liberty Hall" cast prefers to be referred to as "enthusiasts," for they have worked hard to put the forthcoming production on a high standard, and, under the careful direction of Mr. Sydney C. Stevens, have succeeded in accomplishing a triumph, which will be evidenced when the play opens in the Majestic Theatre next Friday evening.

ALMA MATER INTERESTED IN PHOTOPLAY DEBUT.

The students at the university of Chicago, and particularly the members of the dramatic society are anxiously waiting for the Windy City showing of "The World and His Wife" as one of the alumni, Leon Gendron, makes his first screen appearance in this production as the leading juvenile.

SAXON KLING RETURNS TO PICTURES.

Saxon Kling, last seen on the screen as leading man to Alice Brady in "The Indestructible Wife," has resumed work before the camera. He is now playing the leading role in "Shavings," one of the current New York dramatic successes, and feeling at home in his role, feels that he can again combine work in both branches of dramatic endeavor.

ONE REELERS

TENNIS CLUB FOR STARS ORGANIZED FOR SHIRLEY MASON.

A tennis club exclusively for motion picture folk has been organized by Shirley Mason, the piquant Fox ingenue-star. Miss Mason has built a handsome home near the Fox studio, which is the temporary headquarters of the organization. Prominent charter members of the club are Bert Lytell, Bernard Durning, Alice Lake, Viola Dana, Anna Q. Nilsson, Ward Crane, Philo McCullough, Buster Keaton and Rosemary Theby. On the club's statutes are slated a series of tennis matches played by picture celebrities.

SERIAL STAR SCOFFS AT USING DOUBLE.

That Ruth Roland, the serial star, consistently refuses a "double" for dangerous scenes, is the affidavit of Frances Guihan, the scenarist, who is writing the film story of her serial, "Broadway Bab." Miss Guihan observes that Miss Roland considers no stunt too dangerous, and that she has personally seen Miss Roland make a 60-foot dive from a fast-moving ocean liner.

ANNA Q. NILSSON GETS EUROPEAN OFFER.

An offer to star for the first picture company to produce in Vienna since the war, Slavia Films, has been received by Anna Q. Nilsson, shortly after the announcement of her coming trip to Sweden this summer. She is at present playing opposite Eugene O'Brien at Seiznick in "The Figurehead." The offer carries a salary of $40,000, a production, and the plan is to produce stories by famous French authors. Another offer received by Miss Nilsson is from Swedish Biograph.

HOPE HAMPTON INTRODUCES NEW VOGUE.

Shoes are priced so exorbitantly, that even a photoplay star has to hesitate before indulging in a new pair. Hope Hampton, star of "A Modern Salome," solved the problem by buying a pair of wooden sabots at a Fifth avenue shop, and "breaking them in" by a walk through Central Park. The young star feels that the H. C. of L. will receive an awful blow, when American women adopt the wooden footgear, which is speedily gaining in popularity in Paris, Nice and other European style centres.

SESSUE HAYAKAWA FORMS COMPANY.

With the announcement that he will make no more program pictures comes the statement from Sessue Hayakawa, Japanese film star, that he is severing his present connections with Haworth to produce on his own right four stories a year by his own company.

His new company, capitalized at $1,500,000 by Los Angeles business interests, is to be known as the Sessue Hayakawa Feature Play Company. Hayakawa will probably produce at the Howarth studio. Hayakawa has completed his current play, and one more story slated on his present contract.

The star will receive a salary in excess of $6,000 a week, in addition to one-third gross receipts of each production. He states that he will make four pictures a year, all of which are to be released by Robertson Cole as special productions. His first story is to be a film version of the stage play, "First Morn." His own play, "A Man's Name," which he has played on the stage, will be his second production.

PERCY MARMONT MAGAZINE CONTRIBUTOR.

Being an Englishman as well as a famous actor, Percy Marmont is naturally, very popular with British photoplay followers, and his contributions to "The Boys' Cinema," "The Picture Show" and "Picture Plays," London publications have proven very popular with their readers, as they reveal the refreshing viewpoint of the action. In response to readers' requests, the editors have asked for additional stories by him.

HAMPTON ESSAY CONTEST ATTRACTS THOUSANDS.

The monthly photoplay magazines in which appeared the advertisements about the Hope Hampton prize essay contest, have only recently come to the news stands, and yet Hope Hampton Productions, Inc., announces that already four thousand contestants have entered two hundred and fifty thousand competitors for the $3,000 in cash prizes.

CHARLES LANE PERMANENTLY FOR SCREEN.

Charles Lane, another promient stage player, has succumbed to the lure of the screen. His last appearance on the stage was as William Gillette's financier-partner in "A Successful Calamity." Since then he has been prominent in the screen support of Billie Burke, Dorothy Dalton, Marion Davies and John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

By arrangement with Young's Magazine, Vitagraph will shortly complete preparations for the production of a story of metropolitan life entitled "The Broadway Bubble." Corinne Griffith will probably be the star of his production.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR SPRING USE

Harsh Purgatives Should Be Avoided—A Tonic Will Restore Your Energy.

Not exactly sick, but not feeling quite well. That is the way thousands of people feel in the spring. It is a sign that the trying indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order, and these symptoms may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken, instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you that this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will build up the blood and nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do this speedily and surely. This medicine enriches the blood, clears the skin, improves the appetite, and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. As an example of the value of these pills we give the statement of Mrs. S. McBurnie, Tatamagouche, N. S., who says: "I have good reason to speak in the highest terms of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was badly run down, failing in weight, and suffering from dizzy spells and weakness. In fact, my condition was such that I was hardly able to do my housework. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using several boxes there was a noticeable improvement. I continued using the pills for some time longer, and found that I had fully regained my old-time health and strength, and was able to do my housework without feeling weak and worn out as I did before I began using the pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can be obtained from any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

FIFTY APPLY DAILY FOR ADMISSION TO CANADIAN AIR FORCE

Department Is Getting Camp Borden Ready For Training.

OTTAWA, April 9.—(By Canadian Press.)—Applications are coming in at the offices of the air board at the rate of fifty and sixty a day for enlistment in the new Canadian air force. All the applications are from ex-officers in the Royal Air Forces.

Preparations are already under way at Camp Borden, Ontario, for the establishment of the first training camp of the force. Officers of the new force will train at Camp Borden in periods of a month or so at a time. There are adequate facilities there for the training of nearly three thousand men at a time.

The equipment installed by the Royal Air Forces at Camp Borden has been taken over by the Canadian Government for the use of the Canadian force, including eighteen hangars and substantial permanent buildings. The building of this flying base cost the Imperial Government $1,000,000, and comprises an up-to-date aerodrome and barracks.

TWO IRISH PICKETS REFUSE BOND AND ARE SENT TO JAIL

Women Received Hearing Before Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Refusing bond offered by counsel, two of the Irish pickets arrested yesterday for picketing the British Embassy, Misses Mary Galvin of Philadelphia, and Maura Quinn of Jamaica Plains, Mass., today were committed to jail after a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Richardson.

The third of the trio arrested, Miss Katharine McKeon of Philadelphia, gave bond in the sum of $1,000, and was released until Monday, when the cases of the seven women thus far arrested will be called.

Picketing of the embassy was not resumed today, it being planned to transfer the scene of protest to the treasury department.

WHO WILL RECEIVE SALARY FOR LEADER OF ONT. OPPOSITION?

Ferguson and Dewart, Both Leaders, Cause Dilemma.

TORONTO, April 9.—The problem of the dual leadership of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature is still unsolved. Ruling that the Opposition is composed of two distinct parties, each with a leader of its own, Hon. Nelson Parliament, speaker, has refused to recognize H. H. Dewart as sole leader of the Opposition, and has given as his decision that Messrs. Dewart and Ferguson are equally leaders.

Thus arises the question, to whom the salary voted last session for the leader of the Opposition will be paid. The statute reads that "the sum of $5,000 shall be payable to that member of the House recognized by the Speaker as leader of the Opposition." Whether, under the ruling now given by the Speaker, the salary should be divided between the Liberal and Conservative leaders, remains a matter of conjecture, and an amendment to the statute will probably be required in order to settle the problem.

KITCHENER VETERANS REMEMBER VIMY RIDGE ANNIVERSARY BANQUET

General H. A. Panet, G.O.C. M. D. No. 1, and District Officers Attend.

KITCHENER, April 9.—Kitchener returned soldiers were given a banquet by Mayor Eden and the city council here tonight, in honor of the anniversay of the battle of Vimy Ridge. The affair was historic, and over one thousand soldiers sat down to a spread which was prepared by the Daughters of the Empire. Speeches were made by General Panet, D.S.O., G.O.C. M. D. No. 1, London, who responded to the toast to "Our Soldiers." The toast to "Canada" was responded to by Major Corrigal, M.S.O., M.C., of London, and proposed by Capt. Routley, Croix de Guerre, of Kitchener. "Our Guests" was proposed by Major Richardson, D.S.O., of Kitchener, and responded to by Capt. John McCrae of Galt. Capt. Grieves and Capt. Kennedy of Kitchener spoke to the toast to the ladies.

SAVED FROM LIFELONG MISERY

COMBINING OF OFFICES COUNTY AND SURROGATE COURT CLERKS PROPOSED

KITCHENER, April 9.—The Waterloo County Council passed a resolution at their session today favoring the combination of the offices of county clerk and surrogate court clerk. The attorney-general will be asked to investigate the possibility of combining the two offices.

The council also went on record as favoring the Sprague road as the proposed provincial county highway between Brantford and Galt.

Mrs. Henrietta Lapinski of Waterloo died at an early hour this morning. Deceased, who was 74 years old, was born in Germany. She had resided in Waterloo 31 years. One son and one daughter, Gustave Lapinski of Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. A. Dipple of Waterloo are left to mourn her death.

NERVOUS, THIN, AILING WOMEN

Vinol Will Enrich Your Blood, Banish Nervousness, Make You Strong and Well.

Physicians Recommend Vinol and Druggists Guarantee It.

Pale, nervous, ailing women always tired and often fussy, make homes unattractive and unhappy.

You can readily change that tired, dragged-out, listless feeling to one of buoyant health by building up your blood, nerve and muscle tissue with VINOL.

It makes red corpuscles and enriches the blood, quickens the circulation, creates a hearty appetite, promotes sound sleep, strengthens the nerves and imparts renewed vitality, energy and vim to every organ in the body. The step quickens, the eyes brightens and a clear, healthy complexion replaces that pale, sallow color.

If such women could only realize the change that VINOL will make in their appearance, by restoring strength and health, they would not rest until they started its use.

For all rundown, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like VINOL. Your druggist will return your money if Vinol fails to benefit you.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advt.

EXCESSIVE USE OF TOBACCO AFTER 45 IS SUICIDAL, SAYS DR. HIRSCHFELD

Most men who use tobacco have no idea of the harm tobacco does them because it does it so slowly that no one day's damage is noticeable. In the strength and vigor of young manhood the injury seems trivial, but it accumulates day by day and lays the foundation for many troubles later in life. Tobacco lessens the powers of resistance to disease, and along in the late thirties—sometimes much earlier—it begins to tell, and the awful damage it has done begins to show.

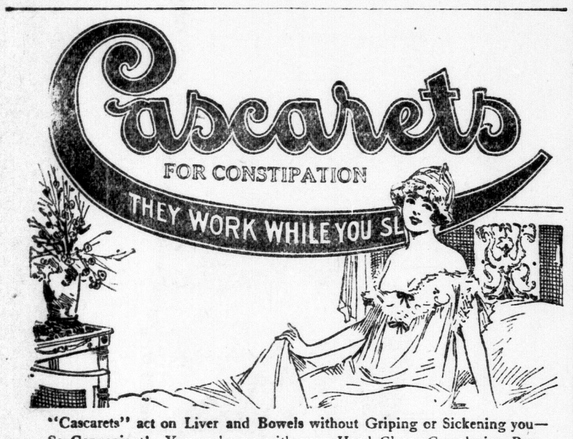

Dr. Hirschfeld in his book, "The Heart and Blood Vessels," says excessive use of tobacco after 45 is suicidal. Authorities agree that excessive use of tobacco causes loss of appetite, cancer of the stomach and intestines, indigestion, headaches, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, irritability, lack of concentration, dimness of vision, loss of will-power, forgetfulness, and many other serious troubles. It also causes hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure, and these are the troubles that manifest themselves along in the forties.

Thousands of men who use tobacco daily know it is injuring their health, and from time to time they decide to cut down the supply and use less. Thousands of them would quit, but they lack the will-power to stand the awful craving that follows giving up the habit. There is hope and relief for all such if they will let Nicotol set them free. Nicotol has helped thousands to give up the habit or to lessen the supply of tobacco used. It is not habit-forming. It simply kills the craving for tobacco and supplies what the nerves need temporarily to brace them up until the nicotine is out of the system.

You can quit tobacco if you want to, and will let Nicotol help you. Your druggist has it or can get it.

A grateful user says: "I will be glad to help anyone out in a case like I once had, and now I am at last freed by your wonderful Nicotol. You are perfectly welcome to use my letter to save another victim from that dangerous tobacco habit."

Note: When asked about Nicotol, one of our leading druggists said: "Nuxated is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit. It is away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an ironclad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists.

Newspapers Turn on Union Govt.

(Special To The Advertiser.)

OTTAWA, Aprl 9.—Frank disgust at the result of the recent by-election is expressed by Ottawa newspapers, both of which gave slavish support to the Government at the last election. The Ottawa Journal, after commenting bitterly on the result in Temiskaming, says that the time for "pious platitudes" on the part of the Government is past, and that in their place there must be reorganization and "education of the electorate."

The Ottawa Citizen is more brutal, and says that "no amount of apologizing by government organs or gramophones can explain away the defeat in Temiskaming by-election."

"The country," says the Citizen, "cannot afford to wait until one member of the Government has established himself as Canadian minister to Washington, another as parliamentary librarian, a third on this, that or the other permanent commission. Canada has had all it can stand of Union Government. The nation needs new men in a new parliament."

Gloom Settles Upon Union Government Following Blow of Three By-Elections Lost

Week Has Been One of Unpleasant Nightmare For Borden Regime — Three More Contests Against Government Make Possibility of Hanging Smaller Still.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Aprll 9.—The week has been an unpleasant nightmare for the Government, and an atmosphere of fatalistic gloom has settled over the treasury benches and pervades the councils of the cabinet. The by-election debacle in which the Government lost all it hoped to hold and the Opposition held all that it had formerly held came as a severe blow to Union, especially since no less than three ministers of the crown had taken an active part in the Temiskaming fight. All three contests constituted a defeat of the ministry. The result of the North Ontario fight in particular proved that so-called "ignorance" on the part of the electorate of the "record" of Union Government is not the cause of its unpopularity, for Hon. Messrs. Meighen, Blondin and Guthrie severally undertook to "educate" the electorate of Temiskaming with regard to that record, and the electorate rejected it.

Ranks Are Growing.

Slowly but surely the ranks of the official opposition and the agrarian opposition are growing, and just as slowly, but just as surely, are the ranks of the Government party dwindling and its formerly substantial majority being changed to a precarious one. Two years ago the Government commanded a majority of 72. Today it has 34 or less, and is not always sure of that on any important issue. Two years ago there was a cabinet of over a score. Since then there have departed Hon. Messrs. Carvell, Mewburn, MacLean, Crerar and Sir Thomas White, while Hon. Frank Cochrane has passed away, and his seat, won in 1917 by a heavy majority, has been won by the enemy. Sir Edward Kemp is spending his time between England and Canada, and the prime minister is golfing in North Carolina. The Maritime Provinces are without a representative in the cabinet, while there is no elected representativee of the two and a half million French-Canadian population in the councils of the Government, and the rights of labor and soldiers are sopnsored from the Senate—a non-elected and irresponsible body.

The situation to anyone else but the Government cannot but appear ludicrous, if not tragic. That Union has outlived its usefulness, if it ever had any, must be apparent to all. Since coming to power two years ago, the Government has made eleven tests of public opinion.

By-elections were held in Prince, Prince Edward Island; Victoria-Carlton, N. B.; East Quebec, St. James, Montreal, Kamouraska, Kingston, Glengarry, North Ontario, Temiskaming, Assiniboia, and Victoria, B. C. The Government succeeded only in holding Victoria, B. C. and Kingston. In the latter Sir Henry Drayton was returned by acclamation after promises of public works had been given. In the former Hon. Dr. Tolmie was re-elected by a much-reduced majority in spite of similar promises. North Ontario, Assiniboia, Glengarry and Temiskaming, won by the Government in 1917 by large majorities, (Glengarry by acclamation), were lost to the Government in the by-elections. In all the contests Liberals held what they had, securing acclamation in Prince and Kamouraska, and securing heavy majorities in St. James and East Quebec.

Voice of Electorate.

In the eleven by-elections the predominant voice of the electorate has therefore been against Union Government and the mandate has been that they should relinquish the reigns of office and quit. The logical demand for dissolution moved by Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberals, and backed by the Agrarian group, has been strengthened by the experience of the week when it was proven that not even the silver-tongued and plausible oratory of Hon. Messrs. Meighen, Blondin and Guthrie could save the Government candidate from disaster, even though he did call himself a Conservative and was a returned soldier. Their very advocacy of his candidature was to him a hopeless handicap.

There is still a vacany in East Elgin, but the issue of writs has been delayed pending the result of the by-elections above mentioned. It is now fairly apparent that the issuance of the writs there will but add to the ranks of the Opposition in the House and the Government may not be in any hurry about it.

Hang On Until After.

In reply to Mr. King's demand for dissolution the Government declared it to be its intention to "hang on" until after a census and redistribution had been held. In spite of the unequivocal mandate of the electors this week that may still be the intention of the Government. The question is whether it can succeed in doing so. Reconstruction has been talked of, but reconstruction is impossible unless the Government can win by-elections for its new ministers, and there is no reason for believing that it will have any more success in that respect in the future than it had in the past. In fact every defeat is but detracting further from its prestige. The Government ranks are being subjected to gradual but deadly attrition, without hope of reinforcements. Certain of the present ministers are turning wistful eyes toward Washington where a Canadian ambassadorship is dangling. Mr. Speaker Rhodes is a candidate and it has been stated that Hon. N. W. Rowell would also like the position, but the Government can hope to hold neither Cumberland, where Mr. Speaker was doubtfully elected in 1917, nor Durham, Mr. Rowell's seat, in the case of either securing the position. In the meantime a somewhat dangerous movement pregnant with the possibilities of fatal discussion and division has developed within the rank and file of the Government forces.

Have Banded Together.

A score or so of the Western members have banded together in revolt against the Government's failure to provide for the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway. They contend that to render useless the result of $20,000,000 outlay for the sake of temporarily saving a couple of millions more is poor economy. They further declare that if economy is the Government's purpose they will insist upon consistency, and will move for the striking from the estimates of the very considerable appropriations for the Welland and Trent Canals and other important works. It is apparently a clash between east and west and may have unhappy consequences for the Government.

In fact whatever may be the present intention of the Government so far as holding on to power is concerned, it is quite concelvable that pressure from within and without may bring about a condition where dissolution will be inevitable, and where the desire of the Opposition and the people generally for a constitutional Government and a responsible and representative Parliament will be fulfilled within this year.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts To Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Dominion Raynsters

"Made-in-Canada" Raincoats

—At Popular Prices
—For Every Member of the Family

"DOMINION RAYNSTERS" came into being in response to a pressing need.

Men, women and children wanted coats that were absolutely waterproof, and at the same time, cut on graceful lines, well tailored, comfortable and serviceable.

How well "DOMINION "RAYNSTERS" have filled this need is shown by the large number of stores carrying these double service coats, as well as the steadily increasing demand for them by every member of the family.

"DOMINION RAYNSTERS" are not merely showerproof—the cloth is not "treated", but is "rubber lined" and made waterproof. They have the same style and finish as you see in the custom-made top coats.

"DOMINION RAYNSTERS" coats, even to the seams, are absolutely waterproof: and the guarantee label of the Dominion Rubber System is an assurance of quality and service.

An End to the Suffering!

It has been estimated that one out of every fifteen people in Canada use Gin Pills yearly, the annual sale being between 580,000 and 600,000 boxes and still increasing.

That these Gin Pill users have benefitted is evidenced by the immense number of letters which continually pour into our office, full of praise for Gin Pills and gratitude to us for perfecting the formula on which these excellent Pills are prepared. That formula was only achieved after profound study and patient experimenting. But it was well worth all the time and thought given it, for Gin Pills have done more to relieve pain and to prevent serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles than perhaps any other preparation that can be obtained.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

Mr. Frank Ide, a Pullman conductor, suffered intensely from pains in the groins, sore back and very severely from gravel and sediment. After taking Gin Pills, Mr. Ide wrote us:—

"The pain left me entirely. I have no trouble whatever in urinating and I feel as well as I ever did in my life. I recommend Gin Pills to everybody in any way troubled with kidneys or bladder."

Mrs. Milford, Galetta, Ont., writes concerning her husband thus:—

"After one dose of Gin Pills my husband found them exactly what he needed, and after taking two boxes he was completely cured." He had had backache and kidney trouble for a long time.

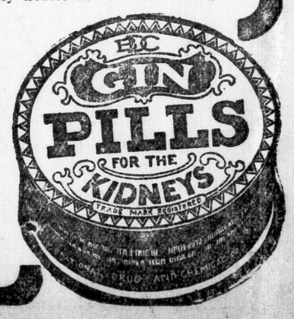

In writing for more Gin Pills Mrs. Grant, Woonsocket, R. I., says:—

"I am having good results from them. The doctor says I have consumption of the bladder. The pills seem to keep me comfortable."

Mrs. Percy, Halifax, N.S., after trying a sample sent for six boxes. She wrote:—

"Before I finished the third box I found myself for the first time in years perfectly free from pain—the pain did not return. I wish everybody who suffers from backache and kidney trouble would use Gin Pills. They are great."

If you suffer from pains in the groins or back, rheumatism, swollen ankles, stiff joints, gravel, constant headaches and lassitude, constipation and dizziness take Gin Pills and nip the trouble in the bud. Send for free sample—or get a box from your druggist or dealer 50c., with money-back guarantee. Act at once—delay is dangerous.

SHORT OF BREATH

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N. S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO GRANT ADDITIONAL GRATUITY TO VETS.

Sir George E. Foster Announc es That the Union Administration Thinks It Unwise To Place Lump Sum in Hands of Returned Soldiers—No Daylight Saving This Year.

OTTAWA, April 9.—(Canadian Press.)—Two important announcements by the Government featured what was otherwise a dull day in the House of Commons. The first of these was the statement by Sir George Foster that the Government had not changed its mind in regard to the granting of a cash bonus to returned soldiers, and that it did not consider it a wise measure of re-establishment to place a lump sum of money in the hands of each returned man.

The second announcement, also from the acting premier, in answer to a question of Mr. J. E. Armstrong, was to the effect that the Government had no daylight saving bill under contemplation at the present time. Daylight saving, Sir George said, was entirely a matter for the towns and villages which wished to adopt it.

In announcing the policy with regard to the cash gratuity, Sir George stated that the opinion of the Government had been fairly expressed at the last session of Parliament after a long and careful examination into the whole subject of readjustment, reconstitution and relief by a committee of the House. At that time it was intimated that the Government was not in favor of a cash bonus or gratuity. Since then additional consideration had been given to the matter, and the Government had decided that it could not change its mind with reference to the principle of a cash gratuity.

Financial Condition.

The financial condition of the country, said Sir George, as well as other considerations would not justify the Government in acceding to a request for a gratuity. The indeterminate amount running anywhere from four hundred million to a billion dollars, formed the most essential factor in the Government's conclusion, and the Government was not of the opinion and never had been that the best way to re-establish the soldier was by putting a sum of money in his hands over which there would be no government supervision.

Sir George stated that the pensions committee established this session would take the question of re-establishment into consideration, and that the Government would, as in the past, have the benefit of its advice and suggestions.

The methods of re-establishment now in force, such as land settlement and vocational training had the support of the Government and would be continued.

Re-establish and Adjust.

"The Government," he said, "is not of the opinion and has never been of the opinion that the best way to reconstitute and re-establish and readjust the returned soldier is by placing a sum of money in his hands over which there would be no Government supervision, and without any reference to the peculiar and different conditions of each returned soldier."

Sir George first referred to the representations in favor of a cash bonus made by delegates from the G. W. V. A. and later by the seven soldier organizations whose delegates saw the cabinet last Monday. Both of the delegations, Sir George said, contemplated the payment of the cash bonus or gratuity to all returned soldiers. Although there were differences as to the amount of bonus requested and the basis upon which the amounts were reached, yet they were both inherently the same in the fact that they asked for a cash gratuity to be paid to the individual soldier.

Indeterminate Amount.

"In that respect, the indeterminate amount, running anywhere from $400,000,000 to $1,000,000,000, which would be involved in such payment of cash gratuities for readjustment has to be taken into consideration and form the most essential part of the conclusion. The Government is not of the opinion, and never has been of the opinion, that the best way to reconstitute and re-establish and readjust the returned soldier is by placing a sum of money in his hands over which there would be no Government supervision and without any reference to the peculiar and different conditions and circumstances of each returned soldier. In that respect, the Government, as I have said, has not changed its mind. Consequently, the reply to both these requests, so far as gratuity or bonus is concerned, must be in the negative."

Since Armistice.

Since the armistice and demobilization, continued Sir George, the Government has not been remiss in giving its most careful consideration to the re-establishment of the soldier. The result of this consideration has been certain conclusions, the Government had not hesitated to put into forms of relief. It proposed to continue doing this. In the past the Government had been given advice from a pensions committee of the whole House. This committee had again been appointed during the present session, and to it had been assigned the task of taking up the methods which had already been adopted for relieving the soldier and suggesting what amendments were necessary to these. In so far as the relief of wounded or incapacitated soldiers or of their dependents are concerned, the Government would do its utmost to aid them.

Form of Relief.

Sir George stated that the Government proposed to continue its present forms of relief under the soldiers' land settlement bill and the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment with its system of vocational training. For these the Government had the greatest sympathy. He did not know that it was necessary to say anything further on the matter. The question was such an important one that it seemed impossible to dispose of it at a single session of the House. He intimated that not only the Government, but private business organizations must co-operate in the best way possible to assist the men who had borne the brunt of the great struggle for freedom.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said that the subject was one on which he was desirous of making some remarks. He understood that it was not permissible to do so on the orders of the day. Would there be an opportunity later on to discuss the statement?

The acting prime minister replied that there would.

Replying to Mr. Archambault, who asked whether the question of a cash bonus had been taken entirely from the hands of the committee on pensions, Sir George said that the statement had just made expressed the stand taken by the Government. So far as he knew the pension committee had never had the question of a cash bonus or gratuity referred to it.

War Indemnities.

The question of Canada's share in war indemnities was raised by P. R. Detremblay (Laurier-Outremont). Sir George Foster stating that the reported visit of Sir William Wyseman, financial agent of Great Britain, to this country had nothing to do with any arrangement of war indemnity. As to Canada's share, that would be settled by the assembled powers and would be paid at the same time as other Entente powers received payment.

J. A. Currie (North Simcoe), raised the question of Col. Lang being allowed to continue as a member of the pensions committee, when he had expressed a desire to resign. Sir George Foster promised to answer the question later, after Mr. Currie had declared that one of the rules of the House had been violated.

Daylight Saving.

Speaking further on the daylight saving question, Sir George Foster said this question had now assumed somewhat of international status. The Government did not contemplate bringing in any bill, "but if the enterprising cities and towns wanted to adopt the system there was nothing to stop them doing so."

East Elgin Waits.

On the clause respecting nomination of candidates, Mr. Fielding suggested that where a number of vacancies occurred about the same time, the by-elections, as was the case in a general election, should be held on the same day. Why, he asked should East Elgin be deprived of representation in the present session, while members had been returned for St. James and Temiskaming?

The solicitor-general could not see any advantage in making the change, remarking that by a statute passed last session, the Government was required to issue a writ for a by-election within six months of a vacancy occurring. Six months, Mr. Guthrie added, was not a long time to wait.

Had No Backing.

There was considerable debate on the suggestion of J. J. Dennis, (Joliette), that candidates' deposits should be raised from the present figure of $200 to $500. This would tend to prevent the nomination of men who had no backing. He reminded the House that in the last election 169 candidates lost their deposits. The leader of the Opposition was among those who opposed the suggestion.

O. R. Gould, (Assiniboia), said the member for Joliette was putting a premium on money instead of brains in candidature, and John Best (Dufferin), retorted that the farmers counted money more than brains. They had collected another $5,000 for their campaign fund recently.

Mr. Best thought that the increased deposit would save the country much money spent on the candidature of unrepresentative men.

Mr. Gould replied that the farmers were not afraid to show where and how they got their $5,000, and that was more than could be said for the average candidate in the past. The clause was then adopted without amendment.

Black Lead Pencil.

W. F. Cockshutt raised the point of ballots being marked with a black lead pencil. The clause refers specifically to the provision in polling booths of "suitable black pencils which shall be kept properly sharpened throughout the hours of polling."

In these days of fountain pens, Mr. Cockshutt continued, it was not unusual for a voter to mark his ballot in ink. Yet, there were cases when such ballots had been rejected. Was a voter, Mr. Cockshutt asked, to be disfranchised because he used a fountain pen or a blue pencil

Mr. Guthrie agreed that there was something in the objection and on his suggestion the clause stood over for further consideration.

The clause of the bill dealing with the swearing of voters carried without amendment.

Before the House resumed consideration in committee of the franchise bill tonight, H. M. Mowatt's bill to incorporate the Canada Security Assurance Company was put through committee without debate, and was given a third reading. Four clauses of the franchise bill were put through within half an hour.

WINNIPEG CARMEN ASK WAGE INCREASE

WINNIPEG, April 9.—Winnipeg Electric Railway Company street car men, in a schedule presented to the company on Thursday, asked for wage increases estimated to amount to $600,000 yearly. Fourteen hundred men are affected by the schedule.

PRISONERS FATTENED ON SEVENTEEN CENTS DIET

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—The solution of the low cost of living has again been demonstrated by Governor Luton at the county jail. The governor fed and fattened his guests at the rate of 17 cents each a day, and in weighing out the prisoners every man was found to have put on extra layers of fat during his confinement. There were 44 prisoners sentenced during the quarter, and their combined terms reached 602 days. The whole amount expended on their keep for the three months was $105.43, the biggest items being, $3.25 for beans; potatoes, $12.43; bread, $40; oatmeal, $18; peas, $3.25. The cost of the last quarter was 15 cents a man.

This Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms The advent of mercolized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remagnetically beautiful, artificial complexions so natural in appearance so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or two, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion, but a brand-new one. That's why mercolized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it, of course; one ounce will do.—Advt.

DOCTORS STAND AMAZED AT POWER OF BON-OPTO TO MAKE WEAK EYES STRONG—ACCORDING TO DR. LEWIS

Guaranteed to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. — Victims of eye strain and other eye weaknesses, and those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored by this remarkable prescription, and many who once wore glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using it: "I was almost blind. Could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would pain dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription fifteen days everything seems clear. I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I was bothered with eye strain caused by overwork, tired eyes which induced severe headaches. I have worn glasses for several years both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own name on an envelope or the typewriting on the machine before me. I can do both now and have discarded my long distance glasses altogether. I can count the fluttering leaves on the trees across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me. I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription. Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note—Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or misfit glasses. I can highly recommend it in case of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to smoke, sun, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine or a secret remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by the Standard Drug Company, Strong's Drug Store, and others.

HELENE'S MARRIED LIFE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

XLIX.—An Hour Too Late.

Tony Lascelles was "persona grata" at Anstruther Lodge. At least, in Alice's eyes. Her husband probably didn't share the feeling.

But the young man always was made welcome. Alice's husband was the very soul of hospitality. Kind, too, to a degree.

He seldom remonstrated with Alice in her friendships. "Flirtations" was a more adequate term, I think. For the most part, she would go her own sweet way. And his affection for his flighty little wife was wonderful.

"That is not love which alters when it alterations finds!" wrote Shakespeare. Mr. Anstruther's love had certainly been 'tested' and had emerged from the flames, triumphant.

Of course, feather-headed Alice didn't appreciate such adoration. That was the irony of fate.

I—Helene—loved a man who had forgotten that I'd ever been his wife. While Alice—who didn't know the meaning of the word "affection," trifled with her husband's love a thousand times a day.

Now, as I eyed Tony (that confirmed trouble-maker), I wondered how best I could explain his presence in the house, should Alice or her husband come upstairs?

And yet I didn't wish to end our tete-a-tete, until I should discover something more about Tony's "past."

He seemed in a communicative mood. A trifle reckless, too. Yes, now was the time to push my questioning.

"You always hated Jim St. Aubyns?" I repeated, softly. "But he never harmed you, Tony."

"I hated him—I think I always shall, too," repeated Tony, doggedly. The look on his dark young face was not a pretty one. He stared straight ahead of him, with a far-off gaze in his eyes, as though he were seeing again the long vista of the past years.

"And what of Jim's father?" I put in.

"Worse and worse!" Tony scowled. "He was as hard as brass, and ready to listen to every word against me. He didn't believe in second chances."

"What did you do, to make him turn against you?" I interrogated him.

Tony looked shifty. I know that shifty look.

"Oh, nothing better nor worse than the average youth. Wild oats, and that sort of thing!"

"Was Jim the same?"

"Jim posed as being an angel, though I'll bet he really wasn't." The man beside me sneered, as he spoke these words. He turned to face me. A queer light was in his eyes. "If what you say is true—if Jim St. Aubyns has got into trouble over the forging of some check, I'm glad—glad—glad!"

"You're cruel, Tony," I said, sharply. "After all, you're deeply indebted to the St. Aubyns family, although you won't admit it. I suppose all the—the breeding and the education that you've ever got are due to them."

This might be true—but my comment was scarcely tactful. Tony didn't like it. He prefers to think that his own personal charm had given him the entree everywhere.

And then I added, sharply:

"And you had no earthly right to tell Mrs. St. Aubyns that I had promised to marry you! It was disgusting of you, Tony!"

"I only did it to shield you," cut in the untruthful gentleman. "It was the only possible thing to say, under the circumstances!"

"You did it to shield yourself, you mean," I cried. "You were afraid that Mrs. St. Aubyns would denounce you—would expose you—if you didn't hide behind an engagement with myself! But I'll tell her that it was a lie—"

Tony rose to his feet. He looked down on me with an air of languid disapproval.

"I'm not at all sure that I do wish to marry you, when I see you in such tempers," he remarked. "Don't worry over the fact that you're supposed to be engaged to me, my dear! Because very probably I shall tell them that I myself have 'broken it off'."

With which bomb-shell, Tony gave me a mock-courteous bow, swung round, and descended the wide staircase to the hall below.

I bit my lip, annoyed. Oh, he was quite impossible!

I couldn't follow him, and set the error right with Jim's mother. I could only wait until she should return.

It was very quiet, now, in the upper hall. The minutes passed.

Then I heard a rustle of drapery on the stairs. Someone was coming up. I hoped it was Jim's mother—for then I could have a moment all alone with her, in which to explain.

It proved to be Jim's mother. But she was not alone. Alice accompanied her.

And Alice, catching sight of me, frowned in annoyance.

"So Tony was the reason that you left Mr. Travis Lloyd so hurriedly, Helene! You aren't very flattering to my guests! If Tony and you want a long tete-a-tete seance, why must you hide away in a corner—? I—I'm quite astonished at you, Helene!"

I flushed all over at being thus rebuked before Jim's mother. It gave me not the slightest chance at explanation, either. Alice, of course, was jealous.

It hadn't been at all my fault that I'd been involved in this "tete-a-tete seance," as Alice chose to call it. And yet I could hardly tell them of Tony's entrance by the window! Alice, for one, would not believe it.

I stammered out an incoherent answer of some sort. But it seemed to me there was reproach in the kindly eyes of Jim's mother—reproach and a sort of regret. Perhaps she'd hoped that I might marry Jim?

Now—now she wouldn't want me to come and visit her in town! The thought hurt.

As Alice and she went by, together, I resolved that I'd clear up the matter in the morning.

So I went straight to bed.

But, once there, I couldn't sleep. I tossed and turned, and formed my plans, discarding them each time. Would morning never come?

It did—after a few hours' of troubled slumber.

At half-past eight, Alice sent in my breakfast to me. It was almost 10 o'clock before I got downstairs.

"I'd like to talk to Mrs. St. Aubyns. Where is she, Alice?" I inquired.

Alice gave me a cool, keen look. And then she spoke.

"Mrs. St. Aubyns left for town about an hour ago," she said.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM

CURED BY B. B. B.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, caused by the uric acid in the blood. It manifests itself by pain and lameness attacking the muscles and joints of the body, which often swell and become hot and inflamed.

Anyone who has suffered month after month, and perhaps year after year, with rheumatism, and who has tried remedy after remedy in the hope of relief, and without success, should not give up hope.

Burdock Blood Bitters, by invigorating the digestive organs and eliminating the uric acid from the system, will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. D. Barry, Purlbrook, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit my husband derived from using your Burdock Blood Bitters. He had been suffering for the past two years with inflammatory rheumatism. He tried many medicines but got no better. A friend advised him to take B. B. B. He did so, and after taking five bottles he felt like a new man, and was able to go to work the same as ever."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BILLS CALLING FOR TARIFF ADJUSTMENT MAY BE SIDETRACKED

Is Receiving Little Attention From Congress Owing To Rush of Business.

Washington, April 8.—(By Canadian Press.)—A number of bills calling for tariff readjustment which affect Canadian interests are now before the United States Congress. Owing to the pressure of other business, these measures have received but little attention from the members of the United States House this session, and it now appears likely that most of them will be side-tracked. Nevertheless, their introduction indicates that the United States has not abandoned its high protection principles, and it is generally believed that had it not been for the favorable balance in trade with Canada, some of these measures might have been pressed more strongly than they have been.

Two of these bills propose to put a duty on wheat and flour. One, introduced by Representative Young of North Dakota, calls for a duty of 25 cents a bushel on wheat and $1 32½ per barrel on flour, with a 10 per cent ad valorem duty on semolina and other products of wheat not specifically mentioned in the act. This bill has met with a good deal of opposition, and it is not likely to be passed. Mr. Young has a second bill, which is now before the committee of ways and means, and which proposes a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and 45 cents per barrel on flour and other wheat products, as well as 25 per cent ad valorem upon potatoes. These bills indicate that Canada is still regarded as a competitor of the United States in wheat and flour.

A bill which has attracted a good deal of attention in view of Senator Underwood's campaign to force the cancellation or modification of Canadian provincial regulation limiting the export of pulp wood to the United States, was introduced by Representative Hull of Tennessee. Senator Underwood's proposal was to appoint a commission to study the question with a view to discovering what measures could be adopted to induce the provincial governments to let down the bars on pulp wood, and his resolution merely contained a hint of retaliation. Mr. Hull goes him one better. His bill includes a provision intended to penalize Ontario and Quebec for their export prohibitions on wood used for the manufacture of wood pulp. It calls for a duty of 12 per cent on printing paper valued above 8 cents per pound, "provided, however, that if any country, dependency, province or other subdivision of governments shall impose an export duty, export licence fee, or other charge of any other kind whatsoever (whether in the form of additional charge or license fee or otherwise) upon printing paper, wood pulp, or wood used in the manufacture of wood pulp, there shall be imposed upon printing paper valued above 8 cents per pound, when imported either directly or indirectly from such country, dependency, province or other subdivision of government, an additional duty equal to the amount of the highest export duty or other export charge imposed upon either printing paper or upon an amount of wood pulp or wood for the manufacture of wood pulp necessary to manufacture such printing paper."

The effect of this would be to force the American customers of Canadian mills to pay extra duty upon paper imported from the provinces which have pulp wood exportation restrictions, and would mean the penalizing of United States newspapers, which are forced to look to Canada for a large percentage of their print paper supply. The bill is now before the ways and means committee. The general opinion is that it has but little chance of being enacted.

Other bills still under consideration which affect Canada include the following:

A bill providing for a duty on magnetite ore of one-half cent per pound, and a higher duty on manufactured magnetite. In the year 1918-1919 Canada sold the United States magnetite to the value of $796,236.

A bill proposing to regulate the importation of coal tar products by prohibiting the bringing in of any of these products if they can be secured in the United States. This would affect Canadian exports only to a comparatively small extent.

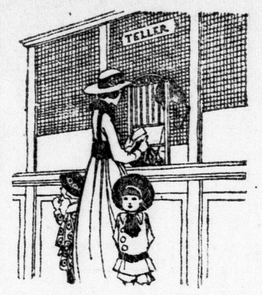

A bill providing for a duty on shell and pearl buttons.

Bills calling for duties on tungsten ores and zinc ores. Both of these have passed the House of Representatives, and are now before the Senate committee.

An anti-dumping bill, which provides extra duties on goods the importation of which is likely to injure the United States industry or prevent an industry being established.

The bill to repeal the reciprocity act of 1911, which was passed by the house last October, is still before the Senate.

FRENCH DECLARE LLOYD GEORGE HAS MADE A BREAK POSSIBLE

Paris Newspaper Says Policy of "Wait and See" Would Cause Loss of Peace—Says Lloyd George Vexed—London Hopes Franco-British Matter Will Be Smoothed Over Soon—Germans To Hold French Responsible—Belgium Jumps To Side of France.

PARIS, April 9.—In its leading article today on the Franco-British relations, the Journal des Debats says that Mr. Lloyd George has revived the motto of former Premier Asquith, "Wait and See," returning thus to his first diplomatic methods.

"Does he not see," continues the newspaper, "that he is committing at this moment an error analogous to that of President Wilson, losing the prestige and authority his energies justly gained for him during the war? He is belying the finest period of his political existence and is renouncing his title to the gratitude of posterity.

"Mr. Lloyd George was vexed because Premer Millerand did not await his former consultant's return from the week-end. When Mr. Lloyd George recovers his good humor he will regret that he yielded to the impetuosity of his temperament. He has created a situation capable of generating catastrophe. 'Wait and see' is no more in order in 1920 than in 1914. Such an aberration would cause the loss of the peace as surely as the prolonged abstention of England in 1914 would have caused the loss of the war."

Notified Government.

The Temps points out that the Government informed the allied and associated governments of its intended action three days before the French troops advanced, and hence cannot be accused of taking the Allies by surprise by its action. The Temps adds that if, as the British Government seems to think, it is in accord with all the other allies and associations in France in disapproving the occupation, France would find herself in isolation, a spectacle which would increase the audacity of the military party in Germany, which refuses to allow Germany to disarm.

Belgium, however, the Temps points out, has expressed its views by practical association with the French action in the neutral zone, while President Wilson has confined his expressions to a request to the French Government to define its intentions.

The Temps, as well as other newspapers, dwells upon the contrast between the comment in the British press and the attitude of the British Government.

HOPES MATTER SMOOTHED OVER SOON

LONDON, April 9.—Paul Cambon, the French ambassador, has formally given such explanations to Lord Curzon, the foreign minister, regarding the policy to be pursued by France in connection with the German situation as to lead to the expectation that matters will be speedily smoothed over between France and Great Britain, the diplomatic correspondent of the Evening Standard states today.

The smoothing over is expected, at any rate, before Mr. Lloyd George leaves for San Remo, the correspondent adds.

GERMANY HOLDS FRANCE RESPONSIBLE

BERLIN, April 9.—The German Government has forwarded to Dr. von Mayer, German charge d'affaires at Paris, an emphatic note declaring that Germany will hold France responsible for all damages and casualties growing out of the occupation of the cities in Hess which French troops have entered.

BELGIAN GIVES MEN AND RAILWAYS

COBLENZ, April 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Notification was given today through the Belgian military mission here of the formal participation of Belgium in the French action in occupying Frankfort. Belgium is sending a detachment of troops with the French to mark its co-operation, it is announced.

Only a small Belgian unit, the strength of a battalion, will be sent, the soldiers probably going to Frankfort.

OFFERS RAILWAY.

BRUSSELS, April 9.—The Darniere Heure says the Belgian Government has decided to place the Belgian roads and railways at the disposal of France for the eventual dispatch of troops to Germany.

The Nation Belge asserts the belief that the Belgian contingent which is to collaborate with the French will be a line regiment.

REICHSWEHR ARE NORTH OF DUSSELDORF

HEADQUARTERS OF FRENCH OCCUPATIONAL ARMY, MAYENCE, April 9.—Tonight the German Reichswehr held the front of Duisburg, Mulheim, Essen, Dortmund and Iserholm. It is reported also that they have occupied Hagen.

Duesseldorf had not been entered by the Reichswehr this morning, as had been expected, but they were a few miles north of the city.

ALLIED OFFICERS EXAMINE SITUATION

MAYENCE, April 9.—A dispatch received here from Dortmund announces the arrival in the Ruhr basin of officers of the Entente commission from Berlin. The dispatch adds that the officers will examine into the situation as to the grounds for the German Government's military action in the Ruhr.

SCORES IMMODEST DRESS

REV. BERNARD VAUGHAN, the widely known Jesuit Father, again attacks the gowns of society ladies, which he says sin against every canon of good taste.

ZURICH

ZURICH, April 9.—A number of important business changes have taken place during the past few days. E. Wurm has disposed of his livery business to George J. Theil of this village, who has taken possession. Casper Walper has sold his implement agency business to Joseph E. Druar of St. Clements, Ont. Mr. Druar will take possession on May 1. Mr. Walper has purchased the Dominion House property in Zurich, and after May 20 will have full possession.

While Wm. Bassow was loading some bags at the grist mill a few days ago he overbalanced and fell off the wagon, seriously injuring his back. He will be laid up for some time.

The Hall Dent Canada Company, Limited, have reopened their branch factory here, and expect to have 25 girls working in a few weeks.

Local Dutch sett onion dealers are contracting for a large acreage in this section to be sown this year.

Farmers were preparing to work in the fields, but the snowstorms of the past week will throw them back for a few weeks.

SHIP REMAINS CUBAN PROPERTY.

WALL STREET REVIEW.

New York, April 10.—Specialties held the centre of the stage in this week's enlarged dealings on the Stock Exchange. Under the guidance of bull pools various secondary issues, and some of less speculative character recorded extensive gains.

Among the more representative industrials changes were comparatively slight, though towards higher levels, while rails were only occasionally active and frequently reactionary.

Accompanying the movements of equipments, motors and kindred stocks were rumors of impending mergers of consolidations, but these failed of confirmation in authoritative quarters.

Call money was easy, holding at 6 per cent most of the time, but rising to 10 per cent yesterday, probably on belated borrowing over the week-end. Time funds were quotably unchanged, but the tendency was towards relaxation.

The international credit situation was again complicated by further gold imports from London, offset by heavy exports from this market to South America. Foreign exchange was decidedly unsettled, the London rate losing much of its recent rally and French and Italian bills making new low records.

General industrial and mercantile conditions remained on a firm foundation, but the spread of the railroad strike is calculated to diminish prevailing activity in many lines of trade.

RAILROAD STRIKE CAUSES UPTURN IN PRICE OF CORN

Increased Export Buying of Breadstuffs Also a Factor.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Widening out of the railroad strike, together with increased export buying of breadstuffs, led to a sharp upturn today in the value of grain. Corn finished 1⅞c to 2⅞c net higher, and oats at an advance of 1¼c to 3¼c. Provisions closed 20c to 47c down.

The accepted bullish view of the railroad strike as affecting the corn market was that the big terminals are almost bare of any accumulated stocks, and that as contracts for shipments from the principal centres have to be filled, the stoppage of transportation tends more and more to compel higher prices.

Nearby deliveries of both corn and oats, it was urged, must respond to this condition and would influence through sympathy the deferred deliveries. Active European demand for wheat and rye counted further as a bullish factor, and was ascribed largely to the Washington crop report pointing to a small yield of winter wheat. The market was further strengthened by prospects that any indictments for alleged price manipulation here might not be returned for weeks.

Oats jumped to the highest prices yet this season. Much of the impetus came from the closing out of spreads between Chicago and Winnipeg.

Provisions gave way with hogs.

WALL STREET.

New York, April 10—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m., New York time.—Country-wide spread of the railroad strike probably accounted for the lower trend of prices at the opening of today's stock market. Some of the leading equipments, motor and food shares, declined 1 to 2½ points.

LINSEED.

DULUTH, April 9.—Linseed—Track and to arrive, $4.77; May, new, $4.73 bid; do., old, $4.77; July, $4.60 asked.

DESERTING WHOLESALE FROM U. S. NAVY

WASHINGTON, April 9. — That sailors are deserting from the United States navy "wholesale" and officers are resigning daily as a result of insufficient pay, was disclosed by Rear-Admiral Washington, chief of the bureau of navigation, in testimony given this morning before the senate committee investigating the part played by the navy in the war.

Mrs. Pankhurst's Brother, Former Newspaper Editor, In the Railway City

Published Official Organ of the Knights of Labor.

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—The coming of Mrs. Pankhurst to the city next week recalls the fact that her brother owned and edited the local official organ of the then Knights of Labor, which was printed and published in the basement of the store on the northeast corner of Talbot and Flora street, the new site of the east end Molsons Bank. When the organization reached the end of its activities Mr. Pankhurst left for England. Before coming to St. Thomas, Mr. Pankhurst owned a publication at Aylmer.

DEATH OF DR. McBAIN.

The death of Dr. Dugald McBain, a former resident of North Yarmouth, took place today at Rainy River, Ontario, after a serious illness, in his 45th year. His death was unexpected. He is survived by his wife (formerly Miss Flossie Gilbert of Paynes Mills) and two sons, Kenneth and Murray. Dr. Kenneth McBain, who was assisting him in his practice, was a brother and Miss Marybelle McBain was a sister. The remains will be brought to St. Thomas for interment.

THE 20TH CENTURY LIMITED.

The operating of the 20th Century Limited over the Canadian division of the Michigan Central has not yet been determined, declares a local official, and from the present outlook it is a question if the train will run over the Canadian lines. So far the management has not considered any change in the present railway program.

A COMMUNITY SHOP.

Local labor men and U. F. O. will establish a co-operative store in the city, and at a joint meeting last night of representatives of both organizations the reports from the committee pointed to a successful canvass for members. When a prescribed membership has been obtained a store will be secured. Another chief organization at Toronto will supply the goods and place the premises under local control. An open meeting will be held in the labor hall on Thursday evening to discuss the details.

A LONDON COLORED LASS.

The police in St. Thomas and London are looking for a colored lass who picked the pocket of Nicholas Khoury, a Syrian, while he was assisting her on the car for London last night

METLER—FISHER.

Miss Helen Marion Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, 57 Alma street, and Roy A. Metler of Boston were married yesterday afternoon at St. John's Church, Rev. W. F. Brownlee, the rector, officiating. Mrs. Brownlee played the wedding march. The popular young couple received many expensive gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Metler left for Boston, where they will reside.

NOTES OF INTEREST.

The water commission has struck a flowing well on the Lewis farm, North Yarmouth, with a flow of 80,000 gallons a day in excess of that judged by the operator. An analyis is being made by the department.

The collegiate students in their drive yesterday for old books and magazines realized about $475 in aid of the proposed memorial hospital.

The membership of the Farmers' Club at Boynes Corners is 180, the largest in Elgin County.

The proposal of the street railway department to place a switch in front of the Catholic Church on Talbot street has been protested by members of the congregation and others, and the city engineer has been instructed to leave the switch at its present location.

WELCOMED HOME.

BOTHWELL, April 9.—Bothwell's last soldier boy to return home reached here unexpectedly on Good Friday, when Pte. Peter Hicks quietly slipped into town after an absence of four years. He left with the 186th Battalion and saw much hard service in France. A public welcome was given him by the town. He is the son of Mrs. John Hicks. His wife and family will arrive later.

The Junior League of the Methodist Church gave a splendid Easter concert on Monday night. The large audience thoroughly enjoyed it and voted it the best concert given by the league yet.

ENDS STEEL CO. BAN AGAINST U. S. SHIPS

Gary Promises Benson To Make No Discrimination.

Washington, April 10.—Assurances that hereafter there will be no ground for complaint against United States Steel Corporation subsidiaries on the ground that American vessels were being discriminated against in shipment from the Pacific coast were given the shipping board yesterday by Judge Gary of the Steel Corporation.

Chairman Benson of the board recently asked the officers of the Steel Products Company and the Illinois Steel Company if those concerns were discriminating against American vessels on the Pacific coast, because of the requirement that through bills of lading show freight charges on the water.

Judge Gary's telegram said:

"My attention has been called to your telegram to our subsidiaries, the Steel Products Company and the Illinois Steel Company, asking if they are discriminating against American vessels in shipment from the Pacific coast. I think our local officials have been laboring under a misapprehension. Please be assured we will not intentionally antagonize the statutory regulation, and there will hereafter be no just ground for complaint."

AMES IS RELEASED.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—The unconditional release of Pitcher Leon Ames, formerly a member of the New York and Philadelphia National League Clubs, was announced today by the St. Louis Nationals. Pitcher William Bolden, last year with Houston of the Texas League, was released to Kansas City.

Have you noticed that 2,000 British subjects arrived last week to become our fellow-citizens? These men arrived full of optimism and ready to cope with the ordeals of a country in the making—may they meet the optimist, the true Canadian. We have pessimists; they knock everything, even the buying of real estate. But wise men are buying, and will continue to buy. They all see the folly of renting.

Canada, this last few years, gave striking evidence of what it was capable of.

Crops that astonished the world for their size brought unheard-of prices. Every line of business increased accordingly. Salaries were advanced until men in nearly every walk of life, who had taken the fat years with the lean years philosophically, suddenly found themselves in easy circumstances, and the first thought naturally is to provide themselves with a better home. This has made an ever-increasing demand for residences, not only in this city, but in every city throughout Canada.

We have properties which leave nothing to be desired in a home to meet the needs of the most exacting and fastidious.

In order to cope with the increased volume of business we will be in our office every evening during this month from 7 o'clock until 10 p.m.

FARMS FOR SALE

MIXED FARMING IN WESTERN CANADA—In Central Alberta and Saskatchewan are rich park lands—open prairie ready for the plow, interspersed with trees, which afford excellent shelter for stock. Here grain growing, dairying and livestock raising are being carried on successfully. The country is ideal for mixed farming. The Canadian Pacific Railway is offering a large area of these fertile lands in the neighborhood of Lloydminster and Battleford. These rich districts will become the home of thousands of prosperous farmers. On similar land Seager Wheeler grows the world's prize wheat. Near Lloydminster the world's prize oats have been grown and butter of the highest quality is made. A man can soon become independent on a farm here. These lands can be bought now at prices averaging about $18. You pay down 10 per cent. If land is purchased under settlement conditions, no further payment of principal until end of fourth year, then sixteen annual payments. Interest is six per cent. Irrigated lands in Southern Alberta $50 an acre upwards. Same terms. Write for illustrated booklet. H. La Due Norwood, C. P. R. Land Agent, Windsor Station, Montreal, Que. Apl.10,24

G. T. R. TELEGRAPHERS DECIDE TO ASK FOR INCREASE IN WAGES

GUELPH, April 9.—A meeting was held tonight in Trades and Labor Hall of about forty members of the Ontario Telegraphers' Association, representing the operators employed on the Grand Trunk Railway between Toronto and Stratford and Harrison and Palmerston. W. Middleton of Breslau occupied the chair.

The telegraphers discussed the new wage schedule at considerable length, and it was decided to meet the officials of the railway at Montreal on April 22. An increase of wages will be asked for, but the percentage of increase has not been announced. The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and the telegraphers are hopeful that their demands will be granted.

MASTER PAINTERS MEET.

A meeting of the Master Painters' Association of Guelph was held at the Y. M. C. A., when the wage question was fully discussed, as some of the painters are still on strike. It was decided that the rate to be chargel for work done in future will be 70 cents an hour.

FARM STOCK SELLS HIGH.

LUCKNOW, April 9.—Stewart Robertson and James Clarkson held auction sales this week of farm stock and implements. The sales were well attended, and everything sold high.

Lucknow and vicinity has been visited with quite a heavy fall of snow this week, and sleighs are running again. Although most people have seen enough snow for this year, the farmers generally welcome it as an aid to the clover and fall wheat.

LUCKNOW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

LUCKNOW, April 9.—The canvassers for the peace thank offering of the Presbyterian Church presented their report at a special meeting held on Tuesday evening. The report was received with great satisfaction by the board of managers and the congregation. The allocation for the congregation was $5,700. The amount subscribed is over $9,000, beating the objective by $3,300.

RAILWAY CITY MAY ADOPT UTILITIES COMMISSION SCHEME

ST. THOMAS, April 9.—Representatives of the several utilities of the city, the mayor and several aldermen, met in the city building today and a resolution recommending the consolidating of all the departments, now managed by a commission, and that they be placed under one governing body, was adopted.

Before the council is asked to submit a bylaw to the people, the heads of the several utilities, the chairmen of the standing committees, the city solicitor, city treasurer and the city auditor will formulate a scheme of consolidation which will be agreeable to the commissioners themselves as well as be acceptable to the council.

A plebiscite will then be asked and if the vote be favorable, the members of the consolidated utility will be chosen by the people at the municipal elections.

The newly-organized commission would leave only the revenue from taxes and licenses under control of the council. The utility board would pool the profits and loss of each of the departments, but because of the big and recurring deficits of the street railway this department would be placed under a separate commission and the city council provide for its maintenance. The entire scheme will, it is believed, give a more efficient service, be more economically managed and by placing the utilities in one office and in charge of a supervising cashier would result in greater public convenience.

The commission would replace the present system of municipal government, and the city solicitor suggested that the board might consist of six members and the mayor, two of the members to retire every three years, and that the commissioners be placed on salary.

SOUTH PERTH SPRING FAIR

Wintry Weather Affected Number of Entries—Exhibits of High Standard.

ST. MARYS, April 9.—The South Perth Agricultural Society held their annual spring fair amidst wintry conditions yesterday. There was a large attendance from the countryside. The entries were not as large as last year owing to the inclemency of the weather, but the grade of horses exhibited was equal to former years. The following are the prize winners: Imported Clyde, 4 years old, first prize "Dalziel," owned by William Mossip, St. Marys; second prize, "Baron Randolph," owned by William Nairn, Motherwell; third prize "Karrare," owned by William Mossip, St. Marys.

Canadian Heavy Draught, 3 year-olds, first and second prizes, owned by Walter Rae, Downie.

Canadian Heavy Draught, 2 year-olds, first prize, Norman McIntyre, Downie.

Percheron class, first prize, owned by William Mossip, St. Marys.

Sweepstakes, "Dalziel," owned by William Mossip, St. Marys.

Roadsters, first prize, F. Beacham of Uniondale.

Three-year-old filly or gelding, first, W. Hodge, Science Hill, Blanshard.

Agricultural team, first, William Ross, West Nissouri, T. McMichael, Seaforth, was judge.

CLINTON'S TAX RATE THIRTY-SEVEN MILLS

CLINTON, April 9.—The tax rate for 1920 has been set by the council at 37 mills, one of the highest rates in the history of the town. This is partially due to the decision not to carry a debt and to pay up everything. Owing to a deficit of $1,700 last year in connection with the Collegiate Institute, and with increased expenditures at both the Collegiate and Model school four extra mills are required.

If you have your advertising campaign prepared right in the first place, you will have less trouble with it afterwards.

THEDFORD MAN LAMBTON COUNTY GAME WARDEN

SARNIA, April 9.—Fred Jennings of Thedford has been appointed by the game and fisheries department as game warden for Lambton County, and has already taken over these duties. Mr. Jennings a number of years ago was a fisherman on Lake Huron and has had experience which should make him a good official.

At a meeting of fishermen in the police court room last night Mr. Jennings issued some of the licenses, and had a talk with the men. If ice conditions remain the same in Lake Huron it is likely that stake driving will start next week.

INGERSOLL MASONS PAY VISIT TO HAMILTON LODGE

INGERSOLL, April 9.—A large number of the members of the two Masonic lodges, King Hiram and St. John's, paid a fraternal visit to Acacia Lodge, Hamilton, this evening. A year ago there was a large representation of Acacia Lodge here, and they furnished a minstrel performance in the town hall. Members of St. John's Lodge tonight conferred the first degree.

Work was commenced by the contractors on the site of the new Central School today. Excavating will be rushed, and it is hoped the new sixteen-room building will soon be in course of erection.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND.

Baseball and Bolshevism, America's national game and America's national bogey—these two and Booth Tarkington's clever treatment of the theme combine to form a picturesque setting for what is really a great American play. But it requires the exactness and impartiality of a great English actor, George Arliss, to present "Poldekin," instructive and entertaining to radical and conservative alike. The orthodox patriot will thrill with Blanche, the outcast, but loyal American girl, when the band plays and the old soldiers march by, but the other kind of patriot who wants to make a few changes may appreciate the subtle irony in the last act, where the federal officers arrive to seize, as seditious literature, Russian translations to the declaration of independence, passages from the original constitution of the United States, and the immortal stanzas of "The Star Spangled Banner."

What more dangerous doctrine has Bolshevism evolved, after all, than the dictum of "all men born free and created equal," which inspired the American revolution!

Poldekin escapes in the first act from the machine gun of the Czar-loving Cadets in Russia to accompany a Bolshevik band to America, where he is to print their propaganda. Could one blame him for not printing the tawdry phrases and uneven sentences of Nicolai, the dangerous pathological type of malcontent, after he had discovered on a quiet library shelf, the stronger, more virile radicalism of Washington, Tom Paine and Jefferson?

Misplaced seriousness is after all the cause of most of the troubles of individuals, reformers, races and nations alike. Poor old Professor Podoff was deadly in earnest about his ant hill ideals for human society. Blanche had been too serious in pleasure seeking. Nicolai took himself as well as others too seriously. Sane Americanism prevails because it laughs often, even if sometimes at inconsistent and incongruous times.

Just why Tarkington gave the police informer's role to the one Canadian ingredient of the melting pot is not clear. Welsh, unlike most Nova Scotians, had no sense of poetic appreciation, but then the Russian philosophy of the play is not the philosophy of Tolstoi, Krapotkin, Dostolevsky, Turgihev, nor even of the great nihilistic interpreter of life, the author of "Sanine" whose name is as difficult to spell as to pronounce.

George Arliss as Poldekin is the same brilliant and perfected actor who appeared here four years ago in "Disraeli." One of the two or three greatest English actors in spoken drama today, his impersonation of Poldekin, the surpassingly clever fool, leaves no room for criticism. Norma Mitchell, as Blanche, is an unaffected and brilliant actress. Manart Kippen is excellent as Nicolai, and Jean Robertson capably presents the somewhat difficult role of Maria.

Carl Anthony, as Podoff, Guy Cunningham as Pinsky, W. H. Barwald as Endachieff and Stapleton Kent as Krimoff, are true impersonators of types as common in America as elsewhere. Edward Donnelly as Welsh is especially good in the second act, and Irving Deckford gives satisfactory support as police sergeant. The negro, who appears on the stage only for a moment, to deserves credit, but his name does not appear on the program. "Poldekin" will be presented at the Grand twice today.

VANCOUVER MAN HAS CLUE FOR FRANK HALL

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 9.—Reading in a local newspaper about Frank Hall, a shell-shocked soldier who recently arrived in Toronto without any knowledge of his family, Steven T. Hall of this city, stated today that the unfortunate man may be his nephew. If this surmise is correct, the veteran is about 50 years old and a son of S. Hall, formerly of New Westminster, but now living in Yankton, S. D.

YOUNG'S DIAMONDS and WATCHES London

Distinction

There is a certain distinction that diamonds add when worn that no other piece of adornment adds. A diamond necklet or ring worn with an evening gown invariably adds a finishing touch and lends distinction to the wearer.

An interesting display in our downtown store window this week shows several combinations, made up from our stock of unmounted stones, that would be suitable for diamond clusters and pendants.

If you prefer buying diamonds that are unset our stock of unmounted stones, which far exceeds our stock of mounted ones, would interest you.

CAN SCHOOL TAXES BE COLLECTED IN ADVANCE?

Test Case Being Heard in Essex County Court This Week.

WINDSOR, April 9.—A test case to determine whether the school board or municipality have the right to collect taxes in advance is being heard before Judge Coughlin in Essex County Court now in session at Sandwich, in which several ratepayers of Sandwich West are complainants.

Eugene Gignac paid his 1920 assessment to the separate school board under protest and instituted an action for a refund. A number of other residents of the township withdrew their support from the board and aided him in his fight.

The municipality claims the money was borrowed from the township clerk to meet expenditures, instead of issuing debentures, thus saving the interest that would otherwise have had to be paid.

FURTHER EFFORTS BY IRISH TO SHAKE OFF BRITISH CONSTABLES

LONDON, April 9.—Further outrages in different parts of Ireland were reported today. A vacated police barracks at Blackroy, outside the Limerick boundary, was burned down. Four men arrested under the defence of the realm act, were taken to Cork.

At Nemagh, a Tipperary report says three constables were shot at while riding bicycls from Rearcross to Newport. It is said that one of the constables was killed, that another was fatally injured and that the third was wounded badly.

A mail van from Cavan to Arva was held up near Crossdonney and more than £100 sterling, representing old age pensions was stolen.

The cathedral at Rosscarbery, County Cork, was entered Wednesday night and the statue of the late Lord Carbery, valued at $19,000, was damaged beyond repair.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR UNITY OF ALL VETERANS

WINDSOR, April 9.—Robert H. Harrison, vice-president of the Provincial G. W. V. A., left tonight for Ottawa to attend a conference called for the purpose of effecting an amalgamation of all veterans' organizations in the Dominion.

"I am delighted that prospects are now so bright for bringing the various associations together," Mr. Harrison said on leaving. "It is only by combined and united effort that we shall achieve the objects that the veterans have in view. I have always been an advocate of the 'open door' policy, and it is most gratifying to me to know that this plan has been finally adopted."

TO AID HOSPITAL.

ILDERTON, April 9.—Arrangements for the holding of a dance in the town hall here on April 15 have been made by the Birr Women's Institute. Part of the proceeds will be donated to the children's hospital, London.

SPRING FISHING.

The season for speckled trout fishing opens May 1, and for salmon and lake trout it is now open, and will be until October 5. It is expected the ice will be out of the lakes by the end of April. Algonquin Park offers attractive possibilities for the angler, and the "Highland Inn" desirable accommodation. Ask Grand Trunk agents for all particulars and illustrated booklet, or write to N. T. Clarke, manager, "Highland Inn," Algonquin Park Station.
