RELIANCE TO BE MEASURED; MAY AFFECT THE LAST RACE

The Decision Is Due to Change of Rigging on the Defender.

Narrow Escape Lipton's Yachts in Squall Off Sandy Hook.

Clear Weather and a Light Breeze Predicted for Thursday's Contest—Sympathy for Sir Thomas.

New York, Aug. 25.—In a glorious whole-sail breeze over a triangular course of ten miles to a leg, the fleet-footed cup defender Reliance again today showed her heels to Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger, taking the second race of the cup series by the narrow margin of 1 minute and 19 seconds. It was as pretty and as hard fought a contest as has ever been sailed off Sandy Hook, and had the wind not fallen during the last 10 minutes the record for the course, 3 hours 12 minutes and 15 seconds, made by Columbia two years ago in a race against Shamrock I., would have been broken. As it was, Reliance sailed the 30 miles within two minutes and 39 seconds of the record, which speaks wonders for her speed in the wind that was blowing.

Reliance's victory, narrow as it was, would have been even smaller had not Captain Wringe, the skipper of the British ship, bungled at the start, sending his craft over the line 19 seconds after the last gun and handicapping her to that extent. At every point of sailing the defender's superiority was demonstrated. She gained one minute and 51 seconds in the windward work to the first mark, 40 seconds on the run to the second mark, and 45 seconds on the close reach for home.

An assemblage of excursion vessels, almost as large as that of last Saturday, poured down through the Narrows and out into the Atlantic today to witness the vanishing glory of the challenger. The early morning had held out but little hope of a race. A smoky haze hung over the sea and the wind was very light from the south. As the day wore on, however, the curtain lifted slightly, the wind blew strong and clear out of the south and the dancing swell sparkled under the radiance of an August sun. The course was a beat due south, then a broad reach or run as the case might be, off toward the Cholera banks, and thence home again to the lightship, each leg ten miles.

The spectators watched the jockeying for the start with eager interest. It seemed momentarily as if the spars and hulls of the yachts would clash, but they wheeled and circled like gulls, tacking, gybing and putting about with wonderful ease and grace. At last, when the starting gun had been fired and the first yacht bounded across the line, close hauled for the thresh to windward, it was seen that the American skipper by his extremely clever work had again outgeneralled his rival, and secured the weather gauge. Not only was the challenger's captain defeated in his effort to secure the windward berth, but he actually failed to cross in time to save a handicap of 19 seconds, this time being a dead loss to him.

Barr never relinquished his advantage after the start, holding the challenger under his lee all the way to the first mark. As the racers got farther out, the weight of the wind steadily increased. Both boats, with every stitch of canvas set, smashed into the seas, heeling down in the puffs under the press of thousands of yards of light canvas, until their lee rails were awash. Wringe had his boat a good rap full, and sailed through the Reliance's lee, until satisfied he could not be blanketed, when he flattened his sheets and began to point closer. Barr, however, was working his boat to windward in masterly fashion, and gained continually to the first mark.

Here the entire excursion fleet was forced to lay until the yachts, bowling along at a terrific pace, turned the second mark. By this time the wind had increased from 7 to 10 knots. The time of turning the first mark was:

Reliance, 12.21.30.
Shamrock, 12.24.45.

Because of time allowance and difference in the start, the Shamrock was still six seconds ahead, officially. It was evident that the Yankee boat had won the race, barring accidents. Both captains broke outballoon jib topsails when they squared for the second turn. The wind was so fast after that they quickly discovered that, instead of being a broad reach as intended, the course to the turn was a run. The wind varied from four to ten knots. Staysails were taken in and spinnakers set. Both were heading off their course a bit in order to make their spinnakers draw well, and they ran that way for half an hour, when the Reliance smothered her spinnaker and set her staysail.

During that time she did not appear to have gained an inch, but immediately upon laying her true course she began to draw away. Ten minutes after Reliance, the Shamrock also took in her spinnaker and set her staysail. With the wind over their quarters both yachts made fast time of it, but it was apparent that Reliance was gaining. The y made the second turn as follows:

Reliance, 1.17.50.
Shamrock, 1.21.45.

The Reliance had overcome the time allowance, made good the difference at the start and established a margin to her credit of 34 seconds. The Reliance whirled about the mark, gybed over, trimmed in her sheets and romped away on a close reach towards the finish line. She was three-quarters of a mile on the way before the Shamrock III. came booming along arry-yachts were heeling before a 12-knot wind. Reliance on this last leg demonstrated that she is faster than any racing craft ever built. The guide vessel coastwise was scurring along ahead of her at full speed, but the Reliance overhauled and passed her.

Rebellious Soldiers.

London, Aug. 26.—According to a dispatch from Belgrade, Servia, many of the soldiers belonging to the reserves called out by Turkey are refusing to join the colors, as the troops in the field have not received any pay for months.

Lipton's Flag.

New York, Aug. 26.—When Sir Thomas Lipton, for whom a dinner was given in the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach, on Sunday night, was about to enter the dining-room he saw an American and an Irish flag entwined. He objected to the Irish flag because there was no golden crown over the harp, signifying British supremacy. The diners were delayed awhile, and when they were allowed to enter the dining-room the Union Jack had been substituted for the Irish flag.

A POWDER EXPLOSION

Three Men Killed and Three Badly Injured.

Carthage, Mo., Aug. 26.—An explosion at the works of the Independent Powder Company, on Center Creek, early today wrecked the mixing room, killing three persons and injuring three others, one fatally.

The dead: W. O. Roll, superintendent; Ernest Peerman and Jerry Haworth.

Today's explosion is a second to occur at the company's works within a month.

"EXCESSIVE ZEAL"

Which Is Another Name for Cruelties of the Congo.

Brussels, Aug. 26. — Congo advices state that 35 persons are now in prison at Boma on various charges of "excessive zeal" in the treatment of natives. Other arrests are expected. It would seem that recent events have quickened the sense of the local authorities, who are now using repressive measures towards those guilty of acts of violence.

ARMS AND THE CHINESE

The Russians Remove the Arms Prohibition Order.

Pekin, Aug. 26.—The period of prohibition of the admission of arms into China is ended, the Russian minister's efforts to induce his colleagues to assent to a prolongation having been opposed by several other representatives, including those of Britain, America and Japan, for the oft-repeated and excellent reason that it is unfair to hold China responsible for the maintenance of order, while denying her the means wherewith to maintain it. The French minister has recorded the statement that his Government will not be responsible for the consequences of the removal of the prohibition.

MACEDONIA GRATEFUL

The Revolutionary Committee on Salisbury's Death.

London, Aug. 26.—Roussoupoule, the president of the Macedonian committee at Athens, telegraphs the Times as follows: Mindful of the just and equitable declarations embodied in Lord Salisbury's circular of April 1, in 1878, which preserved Macedonia from the misfortune of seeing its Greek population, Hellenic by race and sympathy, incorporated in big Bulgaria and absorbed into an alien community at variance with its national, political and religious aspirations, the committee unites with the British people in expressing the deep regrets of all Macedonians at the death of a great British statesman.

THE ROAD TO RUIN

Emperor Joseph's Abdiction Would Wreck Hungary.

Vienna, Aug. 26.—The Austrian press regards the Hungarian situation as degenerate. The Tagcblatt, of this city, discusses the Emperor's possible abdication as King of Hungary, and foretells disaster to that country as a result of separation. The ruin of Hungary's agriculture, manufactures and credits, it declares, will be inevitable.

The Freie Presse contains a violent impeachment of the Hungarian nobility for allowing the development of the present crisis, declaring that the nobles ought to have warned the nation against following incompetent agitators on the road to ruin.

HARVESTERS IN A SCRAP

They Severely Beat a Policeman at Chapleau.

Fort William, Aug. 26.—Nearly 1,400 harvesters arrived yesterday on one train of 25 coaches from Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia. The train left here about noon in two sections. Some of the young men had a "scrap" with the special policeman at Chapleau. One of the harvesters received a severe cut on the head from the policeman's baton, and the policeman was badly beaten by one of the harvesters just as the train was leaving Chapleau. No arrests were made. On Monday's train a harvester was arrested at Port Arthur. He was the only one of a gang of men identified who made things in general hot at a small station on the eastern division. They broke the sectionman's shack and were in the act of stealing a trunk when the engineer made them take it back. Another train will wind up the excursions from the east.

Parks Sentenced.

New York, Aug. 26. — Sam Parks, agent for the Housesmiths' and Bridgemen's Union, was sentenced today to not less than two years and six months nor more than three years and six months in Sing Sing on a charge of extortion.

Dr. Hadley Williams.

While all the medical men of London are taking advantage of the Canadian convention, a number of them are taking a particularly active part in the proceedings. Dr. Hugh A. McCallum presented yesterday one of the most important papers on medicine, dealing with a matter that is attracting particular interest among the medical men of the country at present. Dr. Hodge has taken a prominent part in many of the discussions, and Dr. Hadley Williams, also of this city, brought before the attention of the association a number of interesting surgical cases.

CODFISH SCARCE

Prices Have Reached Highest Figure in Many Years.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—Scarcity of cod in New England waters is redounding to the wealth of owners and crews of some of the trim little schooners that make fast to T. Wharf. Arriving at the Boston water-front with only 10,000 to 20,000 in their holds, instead of 50,000 to 60,000, they are getting good prices for what they do bring in, and are happy in the prospect of extraordinary prices in the early fall.

So scarce are fish that the big salt water fishermen out of Gloucester cannot get a load in a month's trip, and most of them have started into the fresh fish business. This has helped to keep the price of fresh cod from getting unusually high as yet, but salt cod has jumped to $4 50 and $5 50 per 100 pounds for large and medium fish respectively, prices unequaled since the Civil War.

BYE-ELECTION ON FISCAL POLICY

Free Trade and Protection Candidate Face to Face in Argyllshire.

London, Aug. 26.—The first parliamentary bye-election fought on the fiscal question raised by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain is occurring in Argyllshire, Scotland (containing a large number of islands), where there is a vacancy caused by the death of D. N. Nicol, who was a Conservative. The candidates, Charles Stewart, Unionist, and J. S. Ainsworth, Liberal, represent respectively protection and free trade. The polling is being conducted under considerable difficulties. All kinds of craft are being used to convey the voters from the fishing grounds to the polling booths. The candidates had a three weeks' campaign, during which they journeyed in yachts from island to island. The weather was so stormy that they frequently were unable to land and address their waiting audiences. The result will not be known until Friday, owing to the difficulty in collecting the returns.

HE INSULTED JUDGE BRITTON

A Warm Scene at the Treadgold Inquiry at Dawson City.

Dawson, Aug. 26.—There was much excitement in the commission when Graham Campbell offered a most flagrant insult to Commissioner Britton. The latter had refused to order the production of certain papers at the suggestion of Mr. Campbell, saying he had no authority to do so. "You have no authority," Campbell most insolently observed. "What authority have you?"

"I have the authority to commit you for contempt," was the quiet observation of his lordship.

"I have shown no contempt," campbell muttered. "I consider you beneath contempt."

Commissioner Bell heard the sotto voice insult, and Campbell was called back and given a verbal castigation. He would have been forthwith committed but for the intercession of Judge Britton in his benalf.

Mr. Treadgold, when he again took the stand, gave the figures estimated at the total cost of his water scheme as $4,580,000. He said that if certain difficulties were removed he would begin the work next March and deliver water by June of 1905. There was sufficient capital in hand. His company was not a promoting company.

Commissioner Congdon, when in the witness box, was asked this question: "Do you believe this order is detrimental to the prosperity of the mining interests of the Yukon?"

"It may be from one point of view," he replied. "And it may not be from another. My opinion is a summary of others you have already heard."

The Governor's evidence was immaterial either way.

Messrs. Matson and Doyle are on the stand, and general interest in the proceedings is dropping.

Complaints have been filed against the Boyle, Williams, Bronson and Ray and Healey concessions on Milier Creek. Fraud in obtaining the same is the basis of the protest.

FACTION FIGHT IN TORY CAMP

Big Row at Mr. Borden's Nomination at Halifax.

LEADER TURNED DOWN CROSBY

Who Was on Conservative Ticket Last Provincial Election—Latter's Friends Indignant.

Halifax, Aug. 26. — A faction fight almost disrupted the Halifax Conservative convention yesterday afternoon. The candidates nominated for the Federal elections were Messrs. R. L. Borden, M. P., and John C. O'Mullin, barrister. The were no question as to Mr. Borden's nomination, the contest arising over the selection of his colleague, who, according to custom, must be an Irish Catholic. The most prominent candidate was Mayor A. B. Crosby, of this city, who was on the Tory ticket at the last provincial election. He had a large local following, particularly among the "sporty" set, but for that and other reasons was not acceptable to Mr. Borden, and the party managers made strenuous efforts to get a candidate who would command the confidence of the whole party. Mr. T. E. Kenny, ex-M.P., and Sir M. Daly, ex-Lieutenant-Governor, were pressed to accept the nomination, but both gentlemen emphatically declined. The managers then fixed upon Mr. O'Mullin, who formerly was a member of a well-known firm of brewers, and is wealthy. Mr. Crosby was still in the running, and his friends, taking advantage of the strong dissatisfaction manifested by local Conservatives, as well as Liberals, with the attitude of Mr. Borden in opposing the new transcontinental railway, threatened to knife Mr. Borden in the convention if Mr. Crosby was passed over. The party managers were thrown into consternation, and the following dispatch from Ottawa was published in the Halifax Herald, the Conservative organ, in the morning, to whip the warring factions into harmony:

"R. L. Borden will have the fight of his life in Halifax during the coming campaign if the Liberal machine can bring its influence to bear on the people of that constituency. Already carefully laid plans are afoot to secure the defeat of the Opposition leader, who has maintained such a warm place in the hearts of Canadians during the past week. It has been a part of the great scheme to make a deadset against the big men of the Conservative party, and their animosity towards Mr. Borden grows with his reputation as a national leader. Liberals have been openly boasting that they intend to move heaven and earth to down their much-feared opponent, and the convention which meets in Halifax tomorrow to nominate a candidate should make up their minds that perfect organization will be required if the machine is to be successfully combated."

The faithful rallied to Mr. Borden, but Mr. Crosby stayed in the fight to the finish, and after a hot contest the ballot stood: O'Mullin, 67; Crosby, 65. The latter's friends are indignant, and Mr. Borden will have an interesting snarl to settle when he comes to Halifax. The outcome will be worth watching.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Terrible Domestic Tragedy in the Maritime Provinces.

Halifax, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Benjamin Lynds, is dying near Truro with two bullets imbedded in her head at the base of the brain. At noon yesterday David Lynds finished his meal first and went sat at dinner in their humble home. Lynds finished his meal first and went into an adjoining room and took down an old gun loaded with three bullets and began to work with it. The lock was bad, and the hammer slipped down on the cap of the gun, which exploded. Two bullets passed through a board partition and entered the head of Mrs. Lynds, who still sat at the table. She immediately fell across the cradle at her feet, in which slumbered her month-old baby, and over which flowed her life blood.

The woman cannot recover.

LEFT MILLIONS FOE THE POOR

Usurer Lewis Leaves $7,000,000 for Charitable Purposes—Hospitals and Homes.

London, Aug. 26.—Sam Lewis, the most famous and most fashionable usurer in England in the past generation, who died two years ago, leaving a fortune that was estimated at $5,000,000, left, it now proves, $12,500,000.

Over $7,500,000 goes for charitable and other public uses, including $2,000,000 for dwellings for the poor in any part of England that the trustees may select, and $500,000 for the Jewish hospital.

For many years Lewis advanced money to society men and women, who had expectations but no available cash. He always insisted upon the fulfillment of the whole bond, and this was one of the chief cases adduced for the passage of the recently adopted Money Lenders' Act, which empowers judges to revise or cancel contracts where money lenders have obtained extortionate terms. Lewis once broke the bank at Monte Carlo, and gave all his winnings to the poor of Marseilles.

ROBERT REFORD CHOSEN CHAIRMAN

Will Head Transportation Commission,—Messrs. Fry and Bartram the Other Members.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—Mr. Robert Reford, of Montreal, who has been chosen chairman of the transportation commission, is one of the most widely known business men in the Dominion. He is a native of the North of Ireland, and received his primary education at Belfast. Coming to Canada in 1845, a young man, he stayed a short time in Montreal, and then came on to Toronto, where in 1850 he began business in his own name. Eleven years later he purchased the wholesale grocery business of William Ross, and soon a branch was started in Montreal. Having moved to that city some years later, Rr. Reford about 1868 began to interest himself in the carriage of merchandise by water, and now he is one of the foremost shippers of the Dominion, his company being agents for the Donaldson, Thomson and Lord Lines. He was one of the first to undertake the transportation of fruit direct from the Mediterranean to Canadian ports. His name has long been identified with the Board of trade and harbor commissioners of Montreal. One of his incidental occupations is importing and breeding of thoroughbred cattle, for which purpose he keeps a magnificent stock farm near Montreal. Mr. Reford has advanced liberal views on the means of transportation and is never backward in speaking out regardless of politics, nor does he limit himself to local ends when the interest of the whole Dominion are involved.

Cotton Trade Depression.

Bolton, England, Aug. 26.—The cotton trade is in a worse state than for fifteen years, owing to shortness of the supply of cotton. Heavy demands are being made on benefit societies owing to the large numbers of persons who are idle.

TWO HUNDRED PHYSICIANS ARE ATTENDING CONVENTION

Cast Up By Sea.

San Francisco, Aug. 26. — A bottle containing the following note has been picked up on the shore at San Pedro, Southern California:

Jan. 26, 1876—My name is Henrietta Ford. Our ship was wrecked off the coast of Labrador. There were 50 people on the boat. Only three are on this boat with me. All the rest were drowned. Don't expect to live more than half an hour longer. If possible send word to my parents, East Forty-ninth street, New York."

Whether the name of the ship was written on the paper cannot be determined, for the bottom of the page is largely worn away.

THE RECORD FISH YARN

143 Whales Killed at St. Johns, Newfoundland.

St. Johns, Nfld., Aug. 26.—A school of 143 small whales drove ashore yesterday at St. Marys Bay, and were unable to retreat. The residents — men and women — waded waist deep into the water and killed them all with hatchets, scythes and pitchforks.

350,000 AT A FUNERAL

Immense Crowds at Obsequies of Menotti Garibaldi.

Rome, Aug. 26.—The funeral of Menotti Garibaldi, the eldest son of the patriot, who died last Saturday, was held yesterday, and evoked a great popular demonstration of sympathy. It is estimated 350,000 people witnessed the funeral procession. The garrison of Rome rendered military honors, while all the public officials attended the ceremony. The Garibaldian veterans marched in great force.

A FORECASTLE FIGHT

Fatal Stabbing Affray on Steamer From Las Palmas.

New York, Aug. 26.—D. Zadoki, a Greek, 19 years old, was stabbed to death, and M. Andras, a Turk, 21, was probably fatally wounded by J. Lewis, a Frenchman, on the streamer Bristol City, which arrived at quarantine last night from Las Palmas. All three were members of the ship's crew, and the stabbing took place during a forecastle fight Monday. The cause of the fight is unknown. Lewis seemed to be insane, and could give no explanation of his actions.

DEATH OF DR. TIEDMAN

He Was Dean of the Buffalo Law School.

New York, Aug. 26.—Dr. Christopher G. Tiedman, dean of the Buffalo Law School, and author of several law books, died at Roosevelt Hospital yesterday after an operation. He had been at Nantucket for his health, and, finding that an operation was necessary, went to New York about a week ago. He was born in Charleston on July 16, 1857, was graduated from Charleston College, and studied for several years in Germany.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT

An Ontario Man Attacks a Manitoba Farmer.

Lariviere, Man., Aug. 26.—One of the new arrivals from Ontario engaged Sol. Taylor to drive him out in the country. While driving along the stranger pulled out a jack knife and made a murderous assault on Mr. Taylor. Mr. Taylor succeeded in getting away from his assailant, who subsequently came to Lariviere and surrendered to the authorities. Taylor is under the doctor's care with over a dozen stabs in his person.

PORTLAND IS CAPTURED

Uncle Sam's Battleships Play at Game of War.

Portland, Me., Aug. 26. — Through dense smoke and amid the tumult of continuous cannon fire, the United States battleships Kearsarge, Illinois and Alabama entered this port early today, having stormed the main entrance to the harbor in connection with the great war game which is going on this week in this vicinity. From midnight when the scouts of the hostile fleet were discovered by the vigilant pickets of the army on shore, until daylight when the battleships came thundering up the channel, Portland was treated to an experience very much like actual war. This continued until after 7 o'clock, the battleships entering the inner harbor in spite of the opposition of the fort batteries, and the guns behind the fortifications manned by regulars in the vicinity of the city. The warships apparently engaged in the different defending points and after a time passed on. As they did so, the forts, one after another, ceased firing, until only an occasional gun was heard. The battleships sailed back and forth in the inner harbor. At length they turned and passing towards the entrance to the bay, began cruising among the islands.

Where the victory, if any, rests is not apparent to shore observers, for while the battleships passed the forts, and other defenses, the firing was so general as to make it seem that only the umpires could determine the result.

Every Province in Canada Is Now Represented.

Sessions Are Absorbingly Interesting to the Profession.

Papers Read by Experts Thoroughly Discussed—The Opening Day's Programme.

The first day of the Canadian Medical Association's annual meeting, while it was necessarily marked by a great deal of preparatory work, will undoubtedly prove to have been one of the busiest of the big convention, and also one of as much general interest to the members. The doctors got together for the first time at 11 o'clock in the morning, and it was not until after that hour in the evening that the final adjournment for the day was made.

General meetings of the association and meetings of the surgical and medical sections were on the programme. The association was in session in the morning, for a short time in the afternoon, and during the entire evening, while the sections were in session for the greater part of the afternoon, with some of the most interesting surgical and medical cases under consideration.

The presence of the celebrated surgeons and physicians from points in the United States and Canada has been the means of awakening the keenest interest in the proceedings. The guests of the association have taken an active part in the discussion of many subjects, which are at the present time agitating the minds of the profession, and their opinions and experiences are appreciated. The members of the association have also shown an unusual activity in the debates, and it is a noteworthy fact that the physicians and surgeons of London are among the foremost of them.

THE LATEST ARRIVALS.

Throughout yesterday the members continued to arrive from all parts of the Dominion, and when the register was closed for the day it contained the names of nearly 200 delegates. Nova Scotia now has its representatives, making every province in the Dominion with its quota of members at the meeting. Among the latest to arrive were:

THE ZIONIST CONGRESS

Delegates Divided on Great Britain's Offer.

Basle, Switzerland, Aug. 26.—At yesterday's session of the Zionist congress, Dr. Herzl, the president, submitted to the delegates a letter which he had received from the Russian Minister of the Interior, Von Plehve, apparently pledging the support of the Russian Government to the Zionists in their movement to establish an independent state in Palestine. The minister said his Government was quite favorable to the original programme of Zionism, which would be morally and materially supported when its practical measures tended to decrease the Jewish population of Russia.

The discussion by the congress of Great Britain's offer of an African settlement to Jewish immigrants promises to be prolonged. The Russian delegates oppose the project, while the German, English and Italian delegates urge the appointment of a committee of investigation. Judge Sulzberger, of Philadelphia spoke today in favor of the scheme. It is believed that Dr. Herzl is in favor of the British proposition, and his views are likely to influence the final decision.

Dickens' Birthplace For Sale.

New York, Aug. 26.—A dispatch to the Times from London says the sale at auction of the birthplace of Charles Dickens, on Commercial road, Portsmouth, is announced.

Goebel Murder Case.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 26.—The defense of Caleb Powers for the Goebel murder was formally closed yesterday, and the arguments to the jury begin today. The case will go to the jury Friday.

A Governor Marries.

Boston, Aug. 26.—Sir Gilbert Thomas Carter, Governor of the Bahamas, and Miss Gertrude Parker, were married at the Church of the Advent yesterday by Episcopal Bishop Codman, of Maine, a relative of the bride.

THE WEATHER TODAY—Fair and comparativeiy cool.

LIBERAL POLICY VINDICATED

The Bargain With the Grand Trunk Will Prove an Excellent One for the Dominion.

Ottawa, Aug. 25. — The Liberal party were right in criticising the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1871, and they are right today in advocating the construction of the G. T. Pacific. So argued Sir Richard Cartwright in one of the most important speeches in the railway debate. Sir Richard, in that forceful parliamentary style for which he is noted, presented the claims of the Government's policy to a full house, amid the frequent cheers of the Liberal members. The present favorable situation in the west and the choice of the Mackenzie route west of Winnipeg Sir Richard regarded as a vindication of the Liberal policy of 32 years ago, and amid loud cheers he declared that if the Liberal policy and route had been adopted then the Northwest would have been as far ahead by 1885 as it is today. Answering the criticism that there was not enough information, Sir Richard said there was a thousand times more known of the route than was known of the route of the C. P. R. when it was projected. Sir Richard, apart from his rheumatic troubles, was in excellent form, and his keen logic and graceful diction flowed in a never-ceasing stream of sparkling language.

Mr. E. Gus Porter accused the Government followers of raising sectional cries in regard to the new railroad scheme. Why did not this "Business Government" evolve some mighty scheme that would relieve the manufacturing industries of the country and give them their rights, instead of undertaking railway schemes of such magnitude, coupled with doubtful advantage. The Government was playing to one individual interest as against the necessities of the nation, and when the time came he felt certain the country would condemn them. Mr. Porter figured that the ultimate cost of the project could not be less than $150,000,000.

Sir Richard Cartwright was greeted with Government cheers on rising to reply. He wished to say a few words on the merits of the Liberal railway policy of the past as compared with that now presented to the people. It was almost to a day, thirty years, since this transcontinental railway problem was first presented to the country. As few public men today could remember that time, it was not strange that a good deal of ignorance was displayed on both sides of the House as to the policy then advocated by the Liberals. He did not think the Liberal party were at all to blame for the criticisms they had bestowed upon that project. For himself he had no apology or retraction to make for his condemnation of the course pursued by the Conservative Government on that occasion. The Liberal party was right then as now. In Mr. Borden's proposals, the hand was the hand of Esau, but the voice was the voice of Jacob. Sir Richard thought he could discern that Mr. Borden had been instructed by the ex-Minister of Railways. (Hear, hear.) The Conservative proposal would cost more than that made by the Government, and would not be nearly so useful. There were three objects which the Government had in view: To develop as early as possible the whole of the Northwest, to bind together as closely as possible all the different sections of the Dominion and to prevent division of traffic which was certain to ensue unless some such scheme as this was caried out. The great objection to the Government proposal seemed to be that it was too good a bargain and that the Grand Trunk would not be able to live up to it. He, however, believed that the proposed bargain would enable the Government to escape from a serious difficulty which it would incur by owning and operating the road. He had no hesitation in saying that with the present system of government in Canada, it would be prejudicial to the country's best interests for the country to own and operate a great system of railways.

It was at present worse than idle to discuss the commercial side of the road. The greatest difficulty in considering the interests of the various provinces of Canada was still the huge gap between the frontiers of Manitoba and Quebec. This ridge was only traveled by a single track railway. The west was rapidly filling up with settlers from the United States, who would naturally look south for their trade. This fact would justify the Government in expending a great deal of money in securing the best possible connections between the west and the older parts of Canada. The Grand Trunk would in any event reach into the west. Without Government aid they would have made connections through their Chicago terminus, which was only 700 miles from Winnipeg, and taken the trade to the United States. (Applause.)

Sir Richard declared that the Government knew a thousand times more about the route for the proposed road than was known when the C. P. R. was put through. The Government was taking all reasonable precautions in the matter, because the Grand Trunk would certainly see that the new road was well and cheaply built. They also undertook to pay interest on the cost of the road and this he regarded as good security. If the present scheme was carried out before five years, at the end of which he expected a large part of the road would be finished, the increase of commerce would more than compensate the country for the entire sum to be laid out in the work. (Prolonged cheers.)

Hon. J. I. Tarte followed. He declared that the trade of the Canadian west was tributary to Lake Superior. The marked feature in the disposal of the Northwest wheat crops was the condensation of the trade at Minneapolis and Duluth, while Chicago was always, of course, one of the great trade centers in wheat, grain and flour. The Canadian railways, however, were drawing a large and increasing proportion of trade from these points, and with proper improvements would continue to draw that work. Lake Superior, however, was the natural outlet for the Canadian western wheat crop, being the keynote of the St. Lawrence route. (Opposition applause.)

Mr. Clancey moved the adjournment of the debate.

The Senate spent the whole day over the railway commission bill, reaching the 195th clause at adjournment. The rights of municipalities were further safeguarded by some slight amendments made during the evening.

FINDER OF MILLIONS

Who Returned Them Received $85 in Gifts.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 26.—Isaac Banks, until pensioned off after 58 years of constant service as doorkeeper of the vaults of the Fidelity Trust Company, found and returned to the owners about $2,000,000. His largest find was $100,000, and for its return he got not a cent, while from the loser of a $60,000 roll he has never since received anything but studied discourtesy. All he got in his long faithfulness was, in cash, $30, and books, neckties, silk handkerchiefs, suspenders, slippers, gloves, pulse warmers, hats, writing paper, one watch guard and five shirts, having a total value of $85.

THIS JARRED THEM

The Colored Folk Ate and the U. S. Senators Didn't.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 26.—Booker Washington and a party of 40 negro men and women dined in the the main dining-room of the restaurant at Hamlet, N. C., recently, while United States Senator A. O. Bacon, Representative Shackleford, of Clarke Country, Joel Hurt and other white men were invited to get what they could to eat in an improvised dining-room arranged in a side apartment. They declined.

The negroes were mostly Northern men and women returning home from the negro convention in Nashville.

The eating house at Hamlet has the reputation of being one of the best places along the lines of Southern railroads, and traveling men say they never before heard of negroes being served there.

Hamlet is the regular station where the Seafoard Air Line trains stop for dinner. Just before the train reached Hamlet a man went through the coaches and received the orders.

Senator Bacon and others ordered their meal and when the station was reached walked leisurely to the dining-room, which, they found to their astonishment, was occupied exclusively by Booker Washington and his friends. The Senator and others were invited to be seated in a little reading room which had been temporarily cleared.

During the meal a number of the local negroes of Hamlet gathered around the windows and watched with delight the movements of Washington and his friends as they ate. When they had finished the negroes walked out, seated themselves, lighted cigars and cigarettes and waited for the train to depart.

Carnegie Talks of U. S. Relations to Canada.

London, Tuesday, Aug. 26.—Andrew Carnegie, who has been occasionally taking part in the controversy over Mr. Chamberlain's fiscal proposals, writes to the Times saying that an unpopular tax upon tea roused the Boston people to action which imperiled the total traffic of Boston as a seaport for a long time. Nevertheless, the tea was thrown into the bay, and Mr. Carnegie declares that he would not be surprised if Canadian preferential products in Boston harbor aroused a similar demonstration. "Nobody believes," he added, "that discrimination against American products would not be highly unpopuiar in Boston or anywhere else throughout the length and breadth of the Union." Mr. Carnegie regards the withdrawal of the bonding privilege from Canada as the easiest counter-stroke at hand because it would cease the same day the preferential tax by Great Britain against American products came into operation. Should Congress be in session at the time, however, it might prefer to meet the British attack by a surcharge upon British products entering America, prefererce for prefe:ence, as bounty-fed sugar was met.

"Not If It Costs $10

a bottle would I be without Polson's Nerviline," writes Mr. J. A. Ruth, a farmer living near Trenton, Ont. "It is the best household liniment I know. We use it for all manner of stomach troubles, indigestion, headache and summer complaint. I have derived wonderful results from Nerviline in sudden cases of sickness in the family, and know of nothing better to take in hot water to break up a cold, or to rub on for rheumatism and neuralgia. Every farmer should keep a few bottles of Nerviline handy, and have smaller doctor bills." Price, 25c, at all dealers.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEY ACHE

Pains in the Small of the Back Warn You of Kidney Disease.

Hard work, stooping, reaching, twisting the body, exposure to cold and dampness or drafts are among the causes of kidney derangement and the most pronounced symptom is backache. The first touch of backache, weak or lame back, should be sufficient to lead you to immediately begin the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. There is no treatment so prompt to relieve and none which is so far-reaching and thorough in action. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box. 7

SURGEONS OPERATE UPON PATIENTS AT HOSPITAL

Clinics Attended by Numbers of Visiting Physicians.

Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, One of New Arrivals.

Vancouver Is Mentioned as Possible Meeting Place for Next Sessions.

The Canadian Medical Association did not transact much business this morning at the general meeting. Dr. Matthew D. Mann, of Buffalo, who was one of the surgeons who operated on President McKinley after he was shot, was expected to deliver an address on gynaecology, but he was unable to arrive in time. He will likely give the address before the close of the convention. The nomination of the nominating committee was one of the matters before the association, the following being placed on the committee to name the committees for the ensuing year:

Ontario—Drs. Mitchell, Toronto; J. H. Cameron, Toronto; Farncombe, Newcastle; Eccles, London; Gunn, Clinton; Herald, Kingston; Powell, Ottawa, and Sir James Grant, Ottawa.

Quebec — Drs. MacPhail, Armstrong and Hutchinson, Montreal.

New Brunswick — Dr. Atherton, Fredericton.

Nova Scotia — Dr. Detoitt, Wolfville.

Manitoba—Dr. Chown, Winnipeg.

Northwest Territories—Dr. S. Patrick.

British Columbia — Dr. Gibbs, Victoria.

The sections met after the general meeting and heard a number of papers of interest from well-known physicians and surgeons.

MEMBERS CONTINUE TO ARRIVE.

Members of the association continued to arrive this morning from all parts of the province, while not a few came from Quebec and the west. Among the most notable of the arrivals was Sir James Grant, of Ottawa, whose fame is widespread. Sir James will participate in some of the discussions at the meetings and he may also present a paper. Among the other new arrivals are:

H. G. Arnott, Hamilton; M. Johnston, Toronto; A. McPhedran, Toronto; P. Stewart, Milton; J. O. Camerand, Sherbrooke; J. F. Rioux, Sherbrooke; W. F. Butler, Alma, Mich.; George M. Aylesworth, Collingwood; N. Wallace, Alma, Mich.; W. H. Drake, Windsor; R. Lucy, Drayton; J. D. Meikle, Mount Forest; M. Sharp, Tilbury; L. J. Mothersill, Port Stanley; A. M. Spence, Lucknow; R. Stanbury, Bayfield; A. Farncomb, Newcastle; C. R. Dickson, Toronto; C. O'Reilly, Toronto; J. W. Shaw, Clinton; P. S. Graham, Lobo; Sir James Grant, Ottawa; W. Rogers, Winnipeg; H. Long, Granton; J. Quinn, Ailsa Craig; Alex. Thompson, and A. E. Thompson, Strathroy; J. R. Anderson, Ailsa Craig; A. Taylor, Goderich; J. E. Tamlyn, Wingham; Arthur Gunn, Durham; W. Gunn, Clinton; H. E. Tamlyn, Wingham; James Samson, Windsor; D. J. Cochrane, Durham; J. H. Carsteus, Detroit; Mabel Henderson, Hamilton; John Walker, Glencoe; D. F. Webster, West Lorne; W. H. Nichol, Glanworth; A. Leitch, St. Thomas; A. E. Fraleigh, St. Marys; M. Ferguson, Ethel; E. D. Rice, Flint, Mich; F. H. Mitchell, Kilworth; L. Hyttenrauch, Appin; F. J. Uren, Toronto; D. J. Sinclair, W. T. Parker, W. Brownlee and John Odlum, Woodstock; A. D. Ellis, Norwich; J. P. Rankin, Stratford; A. L. Benedict, Buffalo; J. F. James, Melbourne; R. A. Leonard, Napanee; W. J. McCollum, Toronto; D. B. Fraser, Stratford; M. Steele, Tavistock; F. J. Reches and G. Silverthorn, Toronto; W. Philp, Hamilton; W. H. Crawford, Toronto; E. L. Garner, Fenwick; E. Meek, Port Rowan; F. J. Desmond, Newcastle, N. B.; J. T. Fotheringham and Allan Shore, Toronto; J. A. Meldrum, Belmont; Robert Kains, St. Thomas; W. O. Lambly, Cookshire, Que.; James Sulton, Clandeboye; E. L. Hodgins, Lucan; W. G. Ratcliffe, St. Catharines; A. Rice, Woodstock; Bruce L. Riordan, Toronto.

This brings the total in attendance to close upon 250.

PLACE OF NEXT MEETING.

A matter which is being discussed by some of the medical men is the place of holding the next meeting. At the session in Montreal a year ago an invitation was extended the association to meet in Vancouver, B. C., in 1904, and there is a strong possibility of its being accepted. The invitation has not been rescinded, and the impression prevails that in the matter of the meeting of the association the west should be given as much consideration as the east and central portion of the Dominion. The naming of Vancouver for the next meeting will mean the choice of a Vancouver doctor for the position of president of the association for 1904, the practice being to have the chief officer in the place where the meeting is to be held in order that he may oversee the arrangements for the gathering.

MEMBERSHIP VARIES.

The membership of the Canadian Medical Association this year will be close upon three hundred, if it will not exceed that number. The members have to pay their $2 fee before they are allowed to attend any of the meetings or participate in the discussions, and in this way the strength of the association depends entirely upon the attendance. In this way the latter varies considerably. When the meetings have been held in large centers, it has been large, while if the doctors name some point to the west or east, it generally falls off, as the great distance to be traveled keeps many a medical man home. The meeting at Montreal last year was the largest in the history of the association, the attendance being 325. Of this number many were students. The doctors of the city are priding themselves on the fact that the present is the second largest held by the association.

OPERATIONS PERFORMED.

Some interesting clinics were performed this morning before large gatherings of spectators. At 8 o'clock at St. Joseph's Hospital, Dr. Wishart, of London, performed Halstead's radical operation on the mammary glands. There was a large attendance of visitors, and the demonstrations proved most satisfactory.

At Victoria Hospital at 9 o'clock, Dr. Hugh Ferguson, of Chicago, one of the most eminent surgeons on the continent, took two cases. The first was the removal of the thyroid glands from the neck, one of the most critical operations in surgery. The second case was one of the operative cure of hernia, in which Dr. Ferguson does an operation distinctly his own. The technique met with the strong approval of the visitors.

Dr. McGraw, of Detroit, also a prominent surgeon in the United States, exemplified his own operation for cancer of the stomach, operating on two cases, both of which he considers hopelessly late for recovery. All the demonstrations were watched with the greatest interest.

TURKEY IS IN EARNEST

Powers Give Him Free Hand to Suppress Rebellion.

London, Aug. 26.—In taking more energetic measures for the suppression of the revolution Turkey is acting in accordance with the advice of the powers. The negotiations which have been in progress relative to the Balkan situation do not contemplate a general European conference and at present seem directed towards letting the Sultan have a free hand in quelling the revolution in Macedonia. An official of the Turkish embassy here said to a representative of the Associated Press today: "The calling out of additional troops by Turkey is due solely to the decision to suppress the insurrection at once. It is not in anticipation of war with Bulgaria. Turkey has no intention of declaring war, in spite of rumors to the contrary, and Bulgaria, warned by the powers, does not seem at this moment to contemplate hostilities. We know what public opinion is in Bulgaria, and how the situation may change tomorrow, but in the meantime Turkey proposes to lose no time in restoring peace."

OTTAWA'S EXECUTIVE

The Hon. John Costigan May Be Asked to Run.

Ottawa, Aug. 26. — Hon. John Costigan is spoken of as a possible candidate for the mayoralty of Ottawa. A deputation of prominent Irish Catholics will wait on him at an early date and ask him to run. Hon. John Costigan, when seen, said that a special friend had waited upon him, representing a number of prominent citizens, and had asked him to consider the question of being a candidate for mayor. "At present I do not feel like becoming a mayoralty candidate in Ottawa, as I think there are many others for the position. But, of course, one never knows what may arise. Circumstances might turn up which would make me decide to step into the position, but at present I do not know of any. I thoroughly appreciate the feelings of those who asked me to take such an honorable position."

GOLD IN MEXICO

Cavalry Sent to Guard Ledge of the Precious Metal.

Mexico City, Aug. 26. — There is much excitement in the State of Oaxaca over the discovery of rich gold fields about 160 miles west of the city of Oaxaca and twelve miles from the town of Ejutla. The ore found is said to assay up to $50,000 a ton and so great is the local excitement that cavalry have gone to guard the claims located by enterprising and lucky miners. The ledge is said to be fifteen feet wide.

U. S. Officer Suicides.

New York, Aug. 26.—Frederick D. Pressler, until seven months ago a captain in the U. S. army, shot and killed himself in Carroll Park, Brooklyn. Capt. Pressler was about fifty years of age, a West Point graduate and had spent his life in the army. He was in financial straits and became very despondent.

CONCERT WAS SUCCESSFUL

Many Hundreds Attended Affair Arranged by St. Mary's.

Seventh Band and Well-Known Entertainers on Programme.

St. Mary's Church has a reputation for giving garden parties that always excel the like efforts of the majority of other parishes. Remembering the success of St. Mary's parties in previous years a large crowd attended last night's affair. A success was anticipated again for this year, and Father McKeown arranged to have it held in Queen's Park.

Here an immense crowd gathered, for the weather proved much better than what was promised during the day. Probably a thousand people circled about the grand stand, while it was estimated that the proceeds would amount to as many dollars, as the booth did a good business, and the young ladies who sold cigars, candies and various other things were irresistible.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all, the programme being of a delightful character. The Seventh Regiment Band rendered selections in its usual pleasing manner, being assisted by Miss Susie McGill, in soprano solos; Master Perrin, cornet soloist, and Mr. J. Leach, of New York, tenor; also by the Kenwick Male Quartette. This musical organization was never heard to better advantage, among their most pleasing numbers being Hiawatha, the first quartette rendering of this popular air to be heard here.

During the evening Rev. Father McKeown addressed the audience from the band stand, expressing his satisfaction with the success of the venture and thanking those who had aided him in the work. He introduced Mayor Beck. His worship was well received and made a brief, but appropriate speech.

SHIP FOUNDERS; ALL HANDS LOST

The Schooner Willie Newton, of Bangor, Capsizes in Long Island Sound.

South Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 26. — The two-masted coasting schooner Willie L. Newton, of Bangor, Me., was capsized six miles east of Greens' Reef light in Long Island Sound, during the storm of last night. It is believed that the entire crew, numbering probably seven men, were drowned. The wreck was sighted by Capt. Miner, of the tug Patience, of New York, as his vessel was towing the barges from New York to Providence. A line was attached to the keel and the vessel towed into Wilson's Cove. After the wrecked vessel had been anchored, the body of a man, believed to be that of the captain, floated out of the cabin and was recovered.

The condition of the wreck indicates that the headsails had been blown away, and that the lower sails were being furled at the time the schooner was capsized.

The Willie L. Newton sailed from New London on Monday last for New York.

GIANT LAKE BOATS

550 Feet Long and 11,000 Tons Bulk Freight Capacity.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 26.—Announcement will soon be made from the Cleveland offices of the American Shipbuilding Company of the closing of contracts for much the largest ships ever built for fresh water. The firrst of these ships will be out some time the coming year. They are to be built for Mr. A. B. Wolvin, of Duluth, and associates. These new ships are to be 550 feet long over all, probably about 57 feet beam and 31 feet deep. They will carry not less than 11,000 tons of ore or other bulk freight.

At present there are but two lower lake ports where such a ship can unload, South Chicago and Conneaut, O. They can load at any one of the big upper lake ore ports like Duluth, Two Harbors, Ashland and Escanaba. Their construction will force improvements to lower lake ports, for the first one will be followed by others in quick order. The financing of a company to construct these ships has been completed.

THE MOST POPULAR PILL.—The pill is the most popular of all forms of medicine, and of pills the most popular are Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, because they do what it is asserted they can do, and are not put forward on any fictitious claims to excellence. The Hudson's Bay.

The Canadian Government, having decided on sending an exporing expedition into the Hudson's Bay, the party left Halifax last Saturday on the steamer Neptune. It is time that this was done; and done a little more satisfactorily than the somewhat abortive attempt made fifteen years ago. Whatever report was made by the former expedition seems to have been of comparatively little value. We presume it is buried in some parliamentary blue-book; and the present Government seem to consider it of no more value than their predecessors did. It is understood that the expedition now sent will make a thorough exploration of the bay, of its coasts and harbors; of its geological conditions and of its natural resources.

The Hudson Bay is an important part of Canada, and will become very important as the settled belt of the Dominion broadens to the north. About one thousand miles in length, with an average width of six hundred miles, it covers an area of five hundred thousand square miles. The straits connecting it with the Atlantic are never frozen over; but the masses of floating ice in the winter render navigation difficult except for about four or five months, from June to October. Many people look upon this body of water as being too far north to be of any practical importance. As a matter of fact, however, no part of the bay proper reaches the Arctic Circle, while the southern coast of it is nearer the tropics than any part of Great Britain. And the records kept by the Hudson's Bay Company show that the climate is by no means so rigorous as many people have supposed.

No less than thirty rivers—some of them of considerable magnitude—flow into this northern ocean of ours; excellent harbors are known to exist in connection with many of these. There are mineral resources of vast but undetermined extent, while around the southern extension—James Bay—there is a large area of arable land, fitted not only for stock and dairy farming, but for cereal growing. There are vast possibilities in connection with this ocean. Hitherto, it has been of no practical importance to Canada. But the new railway will run within one hundred and fifty miles of it; and it will not be many years before we are utilizing it in the development of the country. Of course if the policy of the Opposition could be adopted, there might not be so much necessity for looking after it. If we can understand the varying and contradictory opinions expressed in the House lately, they do not seem to be advocating any railway in the northern section.

At the same time, however, there are other reasons why the Government should explore this region thoroughly, and assume their rightful responsibility in its control and development. Other parties have not been neglectful of it, even if we have. New England whalers have been treating it as though it were a part of the United States. Indeed, if we are not mistaken, they have established something like a permanent port in at least one locality; possibly in more than one; and are practically enjoying all the rights and privileges they would have on their own coast. It will be among the duties of the exploring expedition to establish police posts, and to report on the poaching depredations of the United States fishermen. Another duty will be to go up Davis Straits and take formal possession of the northwestern coast. It is quite probable that one of the results of this expedition will be to bring to the front fishing and trading questions of an international character, and very likely give us another subject of dispute with our southern neighbors.

Already the press of the United States are referring to the expedition in terms of alarm. It is said that if the Canadian Government is going to declare the Hudson Bay a closed sea, and under the complete sovereignty of Britain, then the great republic will have to interpose its objections. That some of the people of that country will object we may be certain. All those interested in the poaching operations that have been going on for years will object if there is going to be any interference with their usual harvest. But we need not be alarmed on that score. Whatever rights Canada and Britain may possess in Hudson's Bay will be maintained. The treaty under which this bay was formally ceded to Britain before the United States had an independent existence ought to have some weight in international law, besides which we have always held that the three-mile limit does not apply to what is entirely inland water; and this bay is nothing more than a salt water lake, surrounded by Canadian territory on all sides, and only connected with the ocean by a comparatively narrow strait. Of course, that will not prevent our neighbors claiming it. But that is a matter for the future. The duty of the Government now is to explore it thoroughly, and police it effectually. It will be time enough to discuss the claims of other people when they are officially presented.

One of the resolutions adopted by Congress at Montreal last week strongly condemned the authorities in Britain for the continued restrictions on the importation into that country of Canadian cattle. Now the London Standard resents the proposal to raise the embargo as a piece of selfishness on our part, and says the restrictions are only carrying out a sanitary policy rendered necessary by repeated proof of the danger of allowing foreign cattle to enter Britain. Vulgarly speaking, that is all "bosh." It has been established beyond question that cattle disease does not and never did enter Britain by means of Canadian cattle; that the precautions against the outbreak of disease of that kind are just as rigid in Canada as in England, and that the reasons for the restrictions are not to be found in the fear of imported disease, but in the desire to give a measure of protection to certain agricultural interests.

This is the era of railway enterprise. A company has been formed by French, Russian and American capitalists, to tunnel Bering's Straits, and connect by rail Siberia and Alaska. It is proposed to run a line from the terminus of the Siberian Railway to the boundary between Alaska and Canada, at a point near Mount St. Elias. Stranger things than this have happened. A few years ago the Siberian Railway would have been considered a winter's night dream. Now it is an accomplished fact. Another enterprise, for which a company has been formed, contemplates building the line of the Canadian Pacific ing from Fort Nelson, Hudson Bay, in a southerly direction, crossing the line of the Canadian P acific near Winnipeg, thence through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory to Galveston; through Mexico to the Isthmus of Panama; through Columbia to Ecuador, and finally through Peru to Buenos Ayres. The stock of the company is fixed at $250,000,000, but we have not heard how much has been taken.

At the late convention of provincial municipalities, a resolution was passed recommending that legislation should be secured giving cities the right to appoint a couple of aldermen on the board of police commissioners. It does seem reasonable that the municipal body which has to provide the money to pay for its police protection should have a large representation on the board that spends the money. On the other hand, if there is any department of municipal affairs which should be kept independent it would seem to be the police force. Under our present system, we have a good class of men, who do their work well. But, put them under aldermanic control, and the result would be to get them mixed up in municipal politics. We do not think that would be a blessing by any means. It would only lessen the chief's authority, weaken discipline, and bring the force into the disrepute which it has reached in some cities in the United States. Better leave things as they are. Police commissioners are not absolutely indifferent to public opinion, even though, with the exception of the mayor, they do not have to depend upon the popular vote for their positions. Even if we do have some cause for annoyance occasionally with what some might consider a tendency to extravagance on the part of police boards, the remedy proposed would be worse than the disease.

Nocturne.

[Thomas B. Aldrich.]

Up to her chamber window
A slight wire trellis goes,
And up this Romeo's ladder
Clambers a bold white rose.

I lounge in the ilex shadows,
I see the lady lean,
Unclasping her silken girdle,
The curtain's fold between.

She smiles on her white rose lover;
She reaches out her hand
And helps him in at the window—
I see it where I stand!

To her scarlet lips she holds him
And kisses him many a time—
Ah, me! it was he that won her
Because he dared to climb!

Why the Abyss Yawned.

[Philadelphia Ledger.]

"I had scarcely taken a dozen more steps," continued Mr. Borem, "when right before my feet I saw a yawning abyss."

"Indeed!" exclaimed Miss Weery, ostentatiously emulating the abyss, "I don't suppose it began to yawn until you got near it."

Reflections of a Bachelor.

[New York Press.]

Next to having a pearl necklace herself, a woman gets the most joy out of her best friend not having one.

When a woman isn't jealous about a man she loves it is because he is sick abed, where he can't see anybody.

What makes a woman specially happy is to do something for love's sake, that she would be ashamed to do for duty's.

You can tell a girl who isn't engaged by the way she pretends to be, and a man who is by the way he pretends not to be.

It is hard to make some people understand that you can't pour water into an income as you can into a teapot, to make it go further.

RIVERS OF BLOOD IN MACEDONIA

Awful Barbarism of the Turkish Soldiery.

THE HORRORS OF KRUSHEVO

The Horrors of Krushevo. Sultan's Huge Army Attempts to Repress Rebellion.

London, Aug. 26.—According to a Sofia telegram to the Times the Turkish repressive measures in Macedonia have reached the utmost limits of barbarism, and it is evident that it is the intention to accomplish by degrees the total extirpation of the Bulgarian population. Within the last few days, says the Times, twelve more Christian villages have been handed over to fire and sword, and the women, children and the aged have been massacred. Convoys of prisoners dispatched to Monastir have been murdered by their escorts. A private letter from Monastir says even the local Turks are disgusted and meditate assassinating the consuls in order to provoke European intervention.

Constantinople, Aug. 26.—The Government has decided to call to the colors all the remaining European reserves belonging to the second and third army corps, and a number of other reserves, which will bring the total of the Turkish soldiers in Macedonia up to 250 battalions, or almost double the force utilized in the Turco-Greek war. The enrollment of such large bodies of troops indicates the seriousness with which Turkey views the situation and her determination to use all the means at her disposal to repress the rebellion. Ibrahim Pasha, the new commander of the troops, is a young and capable officer. Seven battalions have been dispatched to Florina from Monastir. The valis of Monastir and Salonica telegraph that they are now able to guarantee the maintenance of order in their respective towns.

HORRORS OF KRUSHEVO.

On Aug. 2, the day fixed for the Bulgarian attack on Krushevo, while four marriages were being celebrated in the Greek Church, a number of Komitajis, by prearrangement, remained hidden in the church and were locked in by the sacristan on the conclusion of ceremonies. They killed ten Christians whom they believed had betrayed the plans of the committee. The notables of the town were compelled to distribute $10,000 to the revolutionary fund. The Bulgarian villagers in the neighborhood, hearing that Krushevo was in the hands of the insurgents, entered the town and demanded ammunition, which, however, was unobtainable.

The provisional government constructed a rampart inclosing the town, and the inhabitants were ordered to melt down their spoons to make bullets.

The Turks, informed of the capture of the town, sent from Perlepe three squadrons of cavalry which were attacked en route and compelled to retire with a loss of 100 killed.

On Aug. 13 the Turks concentrated seven battalions and one battery on Krushevo. They made an offer to the Komitajis to allow the women and children to leave the town. This proposal was declined, and the bombardment began. The Komitajis quickly abandoned the town and escaped to the neighboring forest, where pursuit was impossible.

The Turks entered the town and, guided by Turkish villagers from the neighborhood, attacked the houses of the Greek notables and ordered the inmates searched and stripped. They seized the money and jewels and ravished the women, those who resisted being immediately killed. A Greek priest who sought to protect his daughter was killed. The girl's earrings were torn out and her hand was chopped off to secure a bracelet.

Monastir, European Turkey, Aug. 24. — The once beautiful city of Krushevo is a heap of ruins. The women and children are homeless and exposed to the weather and famine. The town is rendered uninhabitable by the odor of corpses which are being gnawed by dogs and pigs, the Turkish authorities refusing to allow them to be removed on the pretext that an inquest will be held.

MAY MEAN WAR.

Philippopolis, Bulgaria, Aug. 25. — The Turkish consul, accompanied by a suspected person, arrived here this evening from Constantinople. They were stopped by a policeman, who demanded their passports. An altercation ensued and the consul took his companion to the consulate. The prefect has dismissed the policeman, but the consul is not satisfied and has presented a strong protest demanding severe punishment for the perpetrator of what he calls a serious assault upon himself and his secretary.

The man who can hardly crawl, and has just strength to get through a day's work, has no strength left for family life. He wants to be quiet; to be alone, out of sight and sound of everybody.

What a difference between such a man and the healthy, hearty man, who romps with his children and rides his laughing baby to "Banbury Cross."

What makes the difference? Usually disease of the stomach, involving the entire digestive and nutritive system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When these diseases are cured the hindrance to the proper nourishment of the body is removed and strength comes back again.

"I am happy to say I am getting to feel fine," writes Mr. A. J. Vanderwiter, of 873 West Division Street, Chicago, Ill. "In all I have taken six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four or five vials of the little 'Pellets.' They have done me words of good. These medicines have brought the great change in me from a slow mope of a man that could hardly crawl, tired and sick all the time, and could do no work. Now I can work, sleep, eat, and feel fine, and that tired feeling is all going away. I am very thankful that I wrote to Dr. Pierce. His 'Golden Medical Discovery' and his little liver 'Pellets' have almost made a new man of me. I feel young as I did at thirty years. No other doctor for me, only Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BACKACHE.

Backache is a forerunner and one of the most common symptoms of kidney trouble and womb displacement.

READ MISS BOLLMAN'S EXPERIENCE.

"Some time ago I was in a very weak condition, my work made me nervous and my back ached frightfully all the time, and I had terrible headaches.

"My mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and it seemed to strengthen my back and help me at once, and I did not get so tired as before. I continued to take it, and it brought health and strength to me, and I want to thank you for the good it has done me."—Miss Kate Bollman, 142nd St. & Wales Ave., New York City.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures because it is the greatest known remedy for kidney and womb troubles.

Every woman who is puzzled about her condition should write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her all.

U. S. CURRENCY IN CANADA

A Plan Suggested to Get Rid of the Influx.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—The following appears in Dun's bulletin: At the time of the World's Fair in Chicago, ten years ago, we took occasion to suggest the possibility of getting rid of practically the whole of the United States currency then floating around in this country, which at that time was so large as to be regarded a nuisance and although the large quantity taken back to the United States by parties visiting the fair, had the effect of very materially diminishing the evil, no concerted action was taken by the banks at that time, to prevent the inflow again; and the result has been that our circulation has been augmented gradually by United States money, until at the present time it is probable there is more floating about on this side than ever before. In the western part of Ontario especially, the amount of United States currency in the shape of silver, nickies and coppers, is getting to be tremendous, and at the present rate of increment, will in a few years exceed the Canadian article, as the United States coin is taken just as freely as our own. The layman does not stop to consider what loss this incurs to the country and how much better it would be if Canadian money only was legal tender. We think the time is opportune to suggest to bankers the propriety of putting the necessary embargo on United States money, after a certain interval, say from September 1st next, by which time in all probability, a great portion of the United States money at present circulating in Canada, will have been made use of by the large number who will visit the St. Louis Purchase Exposition next year. Every one will be anxious to take a certain amount of United States money with him, not only bills, but silver and smaller change, and in this way the country will again be practically free from the influx. The trouble is not so much with the bills, which can easily be collected in by the banks and sent away, but with the smaller denominations, which will no doubt next year be taken over by individuals in greater or lesser sums, and if it is known that discount, of perhaps 10 per cent., will be imposed on all United States money after 1st September, the country will be relieved of all this currency and no hardship or loss will result. There is no reason why foreign money should be so generally accepted in Canada; it is not so in the United States. In Detroit, Buffalo, and a few border towns, Canadian money goes to a limited extent, but beyond the border it is not taken except at a discount and in some places it is refused altogether. We trust the suggestion thrown out may be acted upon by the banks, who to a great extent control the situation, but some preliminary agitation should be taken by the press generally.

A New Plum Blight.

Stratford, Aug. 26.—A strange blight has befallen the plums in portions of this district. Horticulturists cannot account for it. The fruit has not been frozen, nor has an insect been at work. The plums shrivelled up and dropped off, some of the finest trees having in this way been deprived of their fruit.

CHOLERA AND ALL summer complaints are so quick in their action that the cold hand of death is upon the victims before they are aware that danger is near. If attacked, do not delay in getting the proper medicine. Try a dose of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and you will get immediate relief. It acts with wonderful rapidity and never fails to effect a cure.

"BY MEDICINE LIFE MAY BE PROLONGED."—So wrote Shakespeare nearly three hundred years ago. It is so today. Medicine will prolong life, but be sure of the qualities of the medicine. Life is prolonged by keeping the body free from disease. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil used internally will cure coughs and colds, eradicate asthma, overcome croup and give strength to the respiratory organs. Give it a trial.

RELIANCE TO BE MEASURED

When the Reliance was a quarter of a mile from the finish line the wind died away considerably, but the Shamrock III. came booming along carrying a splendid breeze and fast overhauling the leader. It looked as though the British boat was going to get within her time allowance, but the finish line was too near, and the Reliance slipped across it with one minutes and 19 seconds to spare.

The official time:

Name.	Start	Finish.
Reliance	11.00.36	2.15.39
Shamrock III.	11.02.00	2.20.10
Name.	Elapsed time.	Corrected time.
Reliance	3.14.54	3.14.54
Shamrock III.	3.18.10	3.16.13

SQUALL HITS YACHTS.

New York, Aug. 25.—A fierce northwest wind and storm struck Sandy Hook shortly after 5 o'clock to-day and Shamrock III. and Reliance and a fleet of a half dozen yachts, including the Erin, the defender's tender Sunbeam, and the Herreshoff's Roamer, were in great danger for a time.

The yacht Eureka, breaking from her anchorage, was blown violently against a scow and carried the scow before it. It seemed for a time that the two boats would crash into Shamrock III., which lay almost in the path of the gale, not 100 yards away. The Roamer, which was dangerously near the Shamrock, began to drag her anchor, and despite efforts to hold her, drifted rapidly against the Sunbeam, but getting a chance to start her engines, escaped from the danger line.

The Sunbeam also dragged, and crashed into a scow, and for a moment it looked as if the Shamrock III. would be overwhelmed. Captain Barr, on the Sunbeam, yelled to the Shamrock watch: "If you can't hold, you'd better pull up and drift away from us." This they prepared to do, but a lull in the wind prevented the catastrophe.

Two steam yachts, Gerald and Alita, anchored further out, near the Horseshoe, were torn from their anchorage and came into bow and stern collision, the bowsprit of one crashing through the stern of the other and the two, thus locked, drifted before the wind, dangerously near to the challenger. The tug Cruiser saved them, pulling them apart and away from the other boats. Both yachts were considerably damaged.

Reliance was not in so much danger, as she was not in line with the drifting vessels. The moorings of Shamrock III. and Reliance held fast. The tugs Guiding Star and Cruiser went to the assistance of the cup yachts and did much to help them out of their difficulties.

Sir Thomas Lipton left the Erin before the storm broke and with several army officers viewed the havoc in the bay anxiously from Sandy Hook. Lightning flashed from an inky sky and the wind came like a cyclonic blast, reaching a velocity of nearly forty-five knots. The sea boiled furiously. A small fishing sloop was blown upon the beach at the Hook but the crew was rescued by lifesavers. In half an hour after the storm broke, it abated. Only a few drops of rain fell. Afterward a high sea ran, dashing heavy breakers all along the Hook.

RELIANCE TO BE REMEASURED.

New York, Aug. 26.—The World says: The cup defender Reliance was permitted by the regatta committee to sail yesterday's race subject to a subsequent measurement of her gaff. She had taken on a new stick and the result of the race is technically in doubt, although it is certain that the change cannot effect Reliance's victory.

The replacing of a piece of rigging, however, necessitates a remeasurement.

LIPTON'S ILL LUCK.

Since it is regarded as impossible that Sir Thomas Lipton can lift the cup this year, the newspapers display a waning interest in the contests. His ill luck in failing with the three Shamrocks to win a single race is the subject for editorial sympathy, especially after the fine showing the Shamrock made yesterday which is praised on all sides. The Standard says: "Sir Thomas Lipton will, of course, abate no whit of his endeavor to secure a favorable result in the remaining contest and if the sympathy or his hosts could effect the issue he might almost count upon victory."

The New York correspondents of the English papers mostly concede that Reliance is the better boat and Captain Barr the more skillful skipper, but they think that under certain conditions the Shamrock III. might win.

C. O. Iselin, aboard the Sunbeam, the defender's tender, said that as far as he knew there was no material damage to anyone, though the Irish yachts were in some danger from other boats.

Manager Iselin, Capt. Barr and Designer Herreshoff, of Reliance, had a long conference on board the Sunbeam today, but Mr. Iselin refused to say anything for publication as to its character. It was learned through Herbert C. Leeds, that the Reliance's new gaff is a duplicate of the one she has carried since the cup races began. Mr. Leeds said Measurer Mower was expected later in the day, but it was not anticipated that any change in the sail to length would be found.

SHAMROCK UNDAMAGED.

New York, Aug. 26.—An alleged wireless report from the yacht Erin, which is equipped with the Deforest wireless system, published in a morning paper to the effect that Shamrock III. was seriously damaged during yesterday's storm and that there was a possibility of Sir Thomas asking for a postponement, caused considerable excitement in yachting circles this morning. Investigation promptly proved that the statement was without foundation. Shamrock rode out yesterday's squall without the slightest damage, although the big anchor was dropped as an additional precaution.

There was no particular evidence at Sandy Hook today of last night's blow, except the broken bowsprit of the Giralda, which her owner's crew was making as presentable as possible.

THURSDAY'S WEATHER.

New York, Aug. 26. — The local weather bureau is in receipt of the following special on the weather for Thursday's yacht race from Washington:

"To Observer, New York:

"The wind over the international yacht course Thursday will be light to fresh, shifting in the afternoon to east and southeast, with probably cloudy weather. (Signed) Frankenfield."

Lipton Still Hopeful.

The time allowance under which Reliance, Constitution and Columbia have sailed in the preliminary races this year was made known this morning. These times have been kept secret. Reliance allowed Constitution 1 minute and 46 seconds and Columbia 2 minutes and 41 seconds in all races. By these times it is figured that Constitution won two races from Reliance, but Columbia failed to score. Reliance sustained no damage whatever in yesterday's squall. Sir Thomas Lipton refuses to give up hope. He was very much surprised this morning to learn for the first time that Shamrock III. was handicaped 19 seconds at the start of yesterday's race. Being some distance away from the lighship, and seeing nothing but the official times last night, he believed that the Shamrock crossed with the handicap gun.

"That's very bad," he said, but made no other criticism.

ANCIENT FORESTERS

Biennial Meeting of High Court for Canada.

Peterboro, Aug. 25.—The fourteenth biennial meeting of the high court of the Ancient Order of Foresters for Canada was held in the Sons of England Hall here today. The only business done at the morning and afternoon sessions was the reception of reports of the several officers, which showed a satisfactory condition of progress. The report of the high chief ranger, while showing a slight decrease in membership, recorded satisfactory progress in the beneficiary department, which has a balance to the credit of the fund of $47,972 32, which, with accrued interest outstanding, premiums and other assets, bring the credit balance up to a total of $50,536. The debt of $9,682 92 left by the high court of 1900 in the management fund has been paid off. In the sick and funeral branch, death claims, sick benefits, etc., to the amount of $28,813 45 have been paid, not including the sick benefits paid by subordinate courts. This fund, on June 30, showed a credit balance of $8,154 50, an increase of $2,211 55.

Hungary's Troubles.

Vienna, Aug. 26.—A hundred thousand Austro-Hungarian troops, whose three years' service expires in September, have been notified that they must remain with the colors until the end of 1903, in consequence of the Hungarian Diet not passing the bill providing for the annual quota of recruits from Hungary. The order is considered to be a severe blow to the farmers.

Killed by Express.

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Wm. Riley and James Bargan, two men who worked at Harvey's Camp near Clearwater, were found dead beside the railroad track two miles from Clearwater Tuesday morning. They started for their camp about midnight Monday night and were intoxicated. They were struck by the Adirondack express and both instantly killed.

A TOY KINGDOM DISAPPEARS

Moresnet Sold by Prussia to Belgium—One and a Half Square Miles in Extent.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—Altenberg, or neutral Moresnet, the little neutral district covering barely one and a half square miles, and having a population of some 2,600 souls, has ceased to be. Prussia has surrendered her claims, dating from the Napoleonic period, to Belgium in view of a cash consideration.

This piece of territory, where Prussia, Holland and Belgium meet, belonged to Austria from 1753 to 1814. Following the Napoleonic settlement, both Belgium and Prussia claimed Moresnet. They agreed in 1816 to let the inhabitants rule themselves, the statutes being the Code Napoleon. The inhabitants had the free use of the stamps of either country. Trade was absolutely free, and the people were exempt of either military service. The republic got along well until a few months ago, when gamblers from Liege obtained the Councilmen's consent to erect a gaming pavilion in Moresnet designed to rival Monte Carlo.

Accounts of distinguished persons surrounding the tables drew the attention of both governments to the anomalous status of the territory, and a quick exchange of communications resulted in an agreement that Prussia would sell her claim to Belgium.

THE LAUNCHING OF THE DOMINION

The Magnificent New Battleship Christened by the Princess Louise.

Barrow-in-Furness, Aug. 25. — A special train from London yesterday brought here the guests of Vickers Sons & Co., Limited, shipbuilders, to witness the launching of the battleship Dominion, named in compliment to Canada. The party, which was entertained at hotels in the neighborhood, included the London correspondents of the News and Toronto Telegram, several prominent admiralty officials, Mr. W. L. Griffith, secretary to the High Commissioner (representing Lord Strathcona), and others. Those who went to the Grange Hotel, eight miles from Barrow, were received on behalf of Messrs. Vickers by Major Lambert, a brother of Hon. Mr. Lambert, of Ottawa.

The ceremony took place in glorious weather. The christening was performed by H.R.H. Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, who was accompanied by his Grace the Duke of Argyll, better known in Canada as the Marquis of Lorne. Both of the distinguished guests looked remarkably well. The princess used Canadian champagne, from Pelee Island, for the christening ceremony. Great enthusiasm prevailed as the Dominion took the water without a hitch. The Canadian ensign flew at her stern, and the band played "Rule Britannia," as she entered the water. When completed the Dominion will be one of the largest vessels in the navy. She represents the highest attainments of battleship construction in offensive and defensive qualities. She will have a gun power fire of about nine tons of heavy shells a minute, viz., four 12-inch projectiles of 50 pounds each, sixteen 9.2 shells of 380 pounds each and 80 6-inch shells of 100 pounds each. When chasing an enemy the Dominion's power of firing ahead will be four 12-inch projectiles of 850 pounds each, eight 9.2-inch shells of 380 pounds, and sixteen 6-inch, with a range of twelve miles. The number of her guns will be greater than any other battleship. She will have a speed of 18½ knots, a crew of 800 officers and men, and will cost over a million and a quarter pounds sterling.

After the launching ceremony the guests, to the number of 260, were entertained at luncheon in the model room of the Messrs. Vickers, when several patriotic speeches were made, all filled with complimentary references to the Dominion of Canada.

Sharp and Bryan Settlement.

New York, Aug. 26.—A statement given out today based on the present value of securities, indicates that Sharp & Bryan will be able to pay their unsecured creditors about 50 cents on the dollar.

Train Killed Cyclist.

Utica, Aug. 25.—A Polander who came to this country a few days ago was found drowned in the canal this morning. One Friday evening last a companion who came from Poland at the same time fell from a bicycle while learning to ride near the railroad tracks in this city and was instantly killed by a train.

South American Nervine.

The seat of the majority of chronic diseases is the nerve centers. Cure them—build up nerve force there—and you cure the disease. This is the secret of the amazing results attending the use of the South American Nervine—a veritable life-builder and eradicator of disease. Cures Stomach and Liver Complaints, General Debility, Impure Blood, Female Complaints, and every disease which indicates impaired nervous force. Read what it did for the family of A. W. Stephens, Strathaven, Ont He writes: "A bottle of South American Nervine Tonic did more for my sister Ida than a whole summer's doctoring and drugging for after effects of La Grippe. It cured my father after months of torture from boils. Only used two bottles and has not been troubled now for seven years. It's the greatest of remedies."

Magical Relief

In Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains is afforded by the South American Rheumatic Cure. Cures in one to three days and does it thoroughly. An indisputable specific. No. 48

GREAT BRITAIN'S WAR COMMISSION

War Secretary Is Blamed for Mistakes of Boer Campaign—Want Office Reorganized.

London, Aug. 26. — The report of the royal commission on the South African war, issued yesterday afternoon, refrains from commenting on the conduct of individual officers, strongly condemns the lack of preparations for war, indorses Lord Lansdowne's opinion that such a condition is full of peril to the empire, and says "an unsatisfactory and insufficient safeguard has since been suggested to prevent a recurrence of so serious a scandal."

From the beginning to the end of the war 448,435 troops were engaged, and, owing to the drain caused by the South African defense, Great Britain became dangerously weak in 1900. The commission confirms the necessity for a higher degree of intelligence in the men and a well-educated staff.

Lord Esher, a member of the commission, in a supplementary report, says the unpreparedness in 1899 shows the war secretary was guilty either of culpable negligence or ignorance of the facts, and urges the reorganization of the war office, the abolition of the position of commander-in-chief, and the appointment of a general commanding the army, separate from the war office.

STORM DESTROYS BARNS AND CROPS

Serious Damage Done to Many Farms in the Vicinity of Stratford.

Stratford, Aug. 26.—(Special).—One of the worst electric storms of the season passed over this city Monday night, coming from the south and passing away to the east. Fortunately no damage was done here, as the lightning was not very close. The thunder was terrific, and the lightning continuous for some hours. Immense quantities of rain fell, blocking culverts, etc., so that at one time the city appeared to be under water in a good many places. Reports are coming in of much damage to fruit, etc., in many parts of the country surrounding the city.

The lightning played havoc in the local rural districts, leaving a trail of desolation. Mr. Alma Lupon's barn, near Harmony, was struck, and in a few minutes the fine structure was a mass of flames. The building and the whole of the season's crop of cereals and hay was destroyed. Fortunately the fine herd of dairy cows and the horses were out at pasture, and escaped incineration. The heat was so intense that nothing could be saved that was in the building. Loss $3,500; insurance, $1,500.

A bolt struck the barn belonging to the farm which Mr. Innes Sutherland rents near Harrington, between one and two o'clock, and nothing was saved. The barn contained the whole of the grain, etc., which had been harvested on a 200 acre farm. Loss on building and contents about $2,500. Insured. After the harvest Mr. Sutherland took in the harvesters' excursion to the Northwest. Mrs. Sutherland was at home, and it is reported that she had a narrow escape from death, while attempting to enter the barn. She was overcome by the smoke and heat, and was rescued in the nick of time.

Mr. Joseph Hunter's barn near Drumbo, was another victim of the fiery element. It is not known whether any stock was destroyed, but the whole of the crop housed in the barn was lost.

A DEFAULTING AGENT

A Petrolea Man Arrested by the Detroit Police.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 26.—D. E. Boug, the defaulting agent of the Singer Sewing Machine Company at Petrolea, who was arrested and handed over to the Windsor authorities by the Detroit police, has been taken back to Petrolea by Chief of Police Ferguson. Boug ran away from Petrolea about a year ago with a considerable amount of the company's funds, which he had received from collections. He claims there was no criminal intent in his actions, as the company owed him more than he took.

KAISER AND JESUITS

He Reads Chancellor Von Buelow a Curtain Lecture.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—The Kaiser is very angry with Imperial Chancellor von Buelow for arousing Protestant passions by furthering the movement for the repeal of the anti-Jesuit law, which excludes Jesuits from Germany. The Lutherans appealed direct to the Kaiser, who summoned the Imperial Chancellor and gave him a half-hour's straight talk. The repeal will be dropped.

COURT AND BE COURTED

Schoolmarms Insist Upon the Right to Make Love.

Newton, Kan., Aug. 26.—The teachers of Kansas are up in arms against the rule which is being generally adopted by school boards, on the recommendation of the state board of education, forbidding courting by teachers during school terms. Harvey County teachers today, at the close of the normal institute, adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That we view with alarm the tendency of school boards in certain parts of Kansas to adopt harsh and oppressive measures in restriction of our sacred and inalienable rights; that to submit to such tyranny would prove us to be unworthy children of such noble parentage; that a large percentage of our teachers being marriagable, we urge upon all the necessity of vigorous and unceasing rebellion against this attempt to deprive us of our right to court and be courted.

BAYLEY'S.

Letters to the Editor.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I observed in your paper of the 24th and article headed "To Blow or Not to Blow," having reference to the blowing of steam whistles on the G. T. R. inside of the city limits. In answer to the above, I would say that laws are made with the best intentions to protect the rights of fellow-men and to guard citizens from being encroached upon by nuisances, either from railway companies or any other source. The law is not supposed to take into consideration whether it is broken by street car companies, drivers of vehicles or bicycle riders and numerous others. Any infringement against existing law is dealt with irrespective of persons. I wish to draw your attention to a petition signed by the residents of Stanley street, South London, and sent to his worship the mayor and aldermen, complaining of the unbearable annoyance of the G. T. R. whistling in the immediate neighborhood, giving good reasons why it should be abolished. It is detrimental to anyone who may be lying on a bed of sickness and to persons of nervous temperament. Complaints have been made by mothers with small babes being startled convulsively by the sudden shrieks of the whistle. It is a well known fact that numerous accidents and people injured and killed from horses taking fright and running away are the result of the whistling. The G. T. R. has been notified by the engineer of the bylaw, and the penalty, and Mr. Costello, assistant superintendent, seems to assume all responsibility, treats the matter in a very trifling and light manner, so much so that his language I would only expect from a child, asking the engineer would he come and visit him if he went to jail. He also states that within the last few months there has been two or three cases of injuries at crossings, and the question asked, whether the whistle was blown or the bell rung. Does that go to say that the bell was not sufficient signal in the eyes of the law? He does not say what part of the country it took place in. Was it in a city like London, where so much is at stake, and we require all the protection we can get for peace and comfort? The railway companies have the right of the law against any person infringing on their rights, even in the most trivial offenses. Then, should they object to take the medium they give to others? I would also state there are as many accidents where the whistle is used as when the bell is used. In conclusion, the signers of the petition desire the city to enforce the bylaw. Whether Mr. Costello or any other person prefers boarding with Mr. Boston, that will be at his own option. Thanking you for the space occupied, I remain,

AT THE PIANO FOR 26 HOURS

A Pianist at St. Louis Breaks All Former Records for Playing.

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—With blisters on his fingers and his nerves and muscles in a state of utter collapse, J. M. Waterbury ended a 26 hour sitting at a piano, which he had been playing without intermission in a saloon in Belleville.

He began his endurance feat at 8 o'clock Saturday night, and, with never a stop of longer than five seconds' duration, continued to thump the keys with both hands until 10 o'clock Sunday night. He ate one Swiss cheese sandwich and one ham sandwich and drank whisky. He smoked cigarettes almost without cessation. For most of the time he was sitting on the orthodox piano stool, but now and then he would stand.

For this remarkable feat Waterbury received $1 an hour. He says his best previous endurance record was made in the Lambs Club, New York City. This was a contest, Ada Bellville being his opponent. She played for 24 hours. He lasted an hour longer. He challenges anybody to try to beat him.

The Critical Age.

Height of vigor past—nature's power slowing down, vitality less, recuperative power less, endurance less. Stop the progress of decay, tone up the weakened nerve centers, impart vigor to the tiring brain, prepare for the crisis. A means of remarkable potency in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone. It brightens up the whole being, imparts a sense of power and strength. By the use of Ferrozone, old age is pushed back twenty years. Ferrozone gives strength, vigor, endurance, vim. Your druggist has it. Get a box today.

SOME PERSONS have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed, no further trouble will be experienced.

It's all well enough to take things as they come, provided they don't belong to somebody else.

COLONIES REFUSE THE PUBLICATION

The Premier Brings Down Correspondence on the Colonial Conference Report.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 25.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier laid on the table of the House this morning the correspondence between the Canadian and Imperial Governments as to the full publication of the proceedings of the colonial conference. On July 31, Mr. Chamberlain cabled Lord Minto as follows:

"It was decided at the conference of premiers not to publish the full report of the whole of the proceedings in deference to the wishes of Canada. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach asks in House of Commons that decision should be reconsidered and publication allowed. Kindly inform me by cable what view your Government holds."

Lord Minto's reply was: "My ministers, with all due respect, must object to any alteration of report of proceedings as published. They consider that the resolution, which was ultimately accepted under the fullest discussion at the time, and which was unanimously carried, distinctly indicates the views of the conference."

The Premier also told the House that he expected to fill the office of chairman of the transportation commission and the commission would be issued tomorrow. Hon. Wm. Ross, of Victoria, C. B., continued the railway debate. He dealt with the two ex-ministers. For Blair he had little hope, but for Tarte, who was present, and greatly enjoyed the allusion, he said: "While the lamp goes on to burn, the greatest sinner may return."

ARE YOU DEAF?—All deafness is not curable, but doctors state that ninety per cent of impaired hearing is due to inflammation of the Eustachian tubes, and can be treated with certainty of success by Catarrhozone, which gives instant relief to catarrh in any part of the system. THE MARKETS

STOCK MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Carrington today:

New York, Aug. 26.—Noon.—Stock market movements today savor of the professional, and there is no more animation or activity than there was yesterday. The better feeling that existed at the close of yesterday's session seems to have disappeared, and for it has been substituted a languid interest and marked indifference to the general course of prices. Professionals are, of course, busy squeezing profits out of fractions, but this only serves to accentuate the general lethargy. Commission house business amounts to nothing and outside interest is a legend. General fractional gains were scored at the opening. There was a momentary steadiness, a semblance of activity and then the market declined a little. There was not enough trading to send it either way. If there was a feature in the trading it was the ease with which St. Paul broke 1¼ points. There was some good selling of St. Paul, but it did not amount to much, its side partner, A. C. P., was relatively steady, but the general dealings eased off something less than one per cent. New York Central was in a state of absolute stagnation with scarcely any quotations recorded. Atchison and Rock Island sold down and Steel, common, seemed to lack either support or substantial strength. Missouri Pacific gave evidence of a reactionary tendency, but buying for insiders was noticeable. The movement of the rest of the list represents a juggling of fractions. The Wabash debentures, however, were very strong. There is no news of any account. It is probable that a certain room trader who recently made an assignment under peculiar circumstances and then tried to withdraw, may have to go through regular process of having his assignment carried out as if he were insolvent, and in the meantime make an announcement of his suspension on the Stock Exchange. Money continues easy. Sales to noon, 113,700.

LOCAL MARKET.

Wednesday, Aug. 26.

There was seventeen loads of hay offered today. There was a good demand at $7, $7 50 and $8 per ton.

No straw offered today.

Ten loads of old oats sold at 87c to 90c per cwt; about the same number of loads of new oats went at 80c and 82c per cwt. Several loads of wheat went at $1 25 per cental.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

There has been a slight improvement in the attendance at the local market during the past six days. The offerings of small stuff continues to be the feature of the market. There has been a moderate demand for most of the stuff offered and prices are nearly the same as on the previous week.

Grain—Oats are coming in more freely and quite a number of the loads offered are new oats, which sell at 80c to 82c per cwt. Old oats sell 10c per cwt higher at 90c to 92c per cental. The deliveries of wheat are larger than for some time, prices for the best wheat both old and new is $1 25 per cwt.

Hay and Straw—About 75 loads of hay has been offered during the week. Prices rule at $7 to $8 per ton. Straw is scarce at present at $5 per ton, or $3 per load.

Butter and Eggs—There is a fair demand for what butter is offered, and prices range from 16c to 17c for crocks, and 18c to 19c for pound rolls. Eggs are coming in quite freely. Most of the basket lots sell at 13c to 14c per dozen. Store lots are quoted at 12½c to 13c per dozen for crates.

Potatoes are plentiful at 40c to 50c per bushel.

Fruits—Apples are offered in large supply, most of them are of inferior stock. Prices range from 60c to $1 per bushel. Peaches sell at 40c to 65c for the 12-quart basket. Plums, 30c to 40c for the 12-quart basket. Pears $1 to $1 40 per bushel.

Dressed Hogs—There is a limited demand at $8 50 to $8 60 per cwt.

Live Hogs—The prices paid here on Monday last was $6 10 per cwt for selects. Unless there is a change in the market, about the same prices will prevail for next Monday's shipment.

Butchers' Meat—Sales are slow for what is offered. Prices are steady.

WOOL MARKET.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—The offerings are fair, but there is little or no inquiry for fleece, and the market is quiet.

Fleece—The oerings are not large, this being due probably to the fact that prices are below the views of sellers. Local dealers quote 16c to 17c for washed and 9c to 10c for unwashed.

Pulled Wools—There is a fair inquiry from the home mills and prices are steady at 17c for supers and 19c for extras.

LONDON ENGINEER KILLED BY EXPRESS AT WINDSOR

James Hendry Did Not Notice Approach of Fast Train—Death Was Instantaneous.

James Hendry, a C. P. R. engineer, of this city, was instantly killed in the company's yards at Windsor at 2 o'clock this morning.

Hendry was a freight engineer, and went west with his train yesterday afternoon. At the time of the accident he was walking along the tracks to the round house, where he was to get his engine in readiness for the return trip, and it is supposed that owing to the noise of the trains in the yards, he did not hear the express, known as Number Three, which leaves London at 11:25 p. m., approaching. He was struck by the locomotive and thrown many feet. When picked up he was dead.

Hendry was a married man and had been in the employ of the company for many years. He was a steady, reliable engineer, and his untimely death will be greatly regretted.

A dispatch from Windsor says: Jas. Hendry, aged 38, a Canadian Pacific engineer, who lived at 181 William street, London, was instantly killed in the C. P. R. yard here at 3:20 o'clock this morning. Hendry, who was one of the best known engineers running on freight trains in the employ of the road, was walking on the track on his way to the roundhouse to take out his train, when he was hit by No. 3 express coming into the depot. His body was horribly mangled. He is survived by a widow and four children. The remains will be sent to London for burial.

DELEGATES TO CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE IN LONDON

Took Trolley Ride Round City and to Springbank.

Luncheon Was Served to Them There —Left at 4 O'Clock.

The delegates to the chambers of commerce, who have been in session in Montreal arrived in this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

They are on their way to Detroit, and had only a few hours to spend in this city. Upon their arrival at the station here they were received by a committee of the local board of trade, who welcomed them to the city in an informal manner, and later escorted them to trolleys that were waiting to convey the delegates and their party to Springbank.

The members of the party evinced the greatest interest in all that they saw, and many subsequently expressed their pleasure in the delightful ride to Springbank. They had some time to rest there and to walk about enjoying the beauties of the place while luncheon was being made ready for them. The Seventh band discoursed music at this time, and later also, when the party sat down to the prettily spread tables in the pavilion.

Afterwards Mr. John R. Minhinnick, president of the London Board of Trade, and representative of it at the conference at Montreal, made a short speech. He proposed a toast to the King, which was enthusiastically honored. He welcomed the delegates to London. He referred to the fact that it was named after the great London, and that many of the places here, named after prominent places in old London, would be of particular interest to them. He told of the population of the city now and of the room there is here and around London for thousands more, and urged the delegates to tell the people in the old land, when they returned, of this London.

MR. JOHN R. MINHINNICK,
President of the London Board of Trade, who welcomed the delegates to this city.

The party were taken around the city in trolley cars before returning to the station to leave at 4 o'clock for the west.

THE GREEN-REID WEDDING

An Interesting Society Event Takes Place at "Bellevue".

A wedding in which much interest is taken is being celebrated this afternoon, Bellevue, the residence of Mrs. John Green, Ridout street, being the scene of the happy affair. The nuptials are those of Miss Beatrice Green, daughter of Mrs. John Green, and Mr. William Reid, Montreal, manager of the Featherbone Novelty Manufacturing Company, Limited.

The ceremony is to be performed at 5 o'clock by Rev. George J. Bishop, assisted by Rev. W. J. Clark. It is a green and white wedding, the decorations being of these colors, which are daintily arranged. Only the immediate friends and relatives are in attendance, the number of guests being 50. Some of these are from outside places.

The brides gown is of white silk, trimmed with real lace, while all her attendants are dressed in white. The latter carry asparagus ferns and the bride white roses. Miss Reid, sister of the groom, is maid of honor, and the bridesmaids are Miss Perrin and Miss Southam. The flower girls are Miss Marion Green, Miss Ruth Green and Miss Isabelle Ivey.

Mr. Reid and his bride leave on the International Limited for the west. Before going to Montreal, where they will take up residence on Montrose avenue, Westmount, they will spend some time in the White Mountains and the Adirondacks.

TROUBLE BETWEEN TAILORS

A Wage Dispute Aired in Court—Serious Charge Modified.

In the police court this morning Abram Aaron charged John Slater with assaulting him with an iron bar on the 11th of this month. Though no evidence was taken in the case it took up over an hour of time of the court, as an attempt was made at a settlement. In the end, the defendant pleaded guilty to common assault and Acting Crown Attorney McKillop accepted the plea.

The trouble arose over a demand for wages. The complainant worked for the defendant and wanted his money. Slater, however, would not pay him, and when he went to Aaron's for some coats that the latter had at his place, Aaron refused to give them up. Slater then returned to Aaron's house armed with a heavy piece of iron with which he struck the complainant.

The defendant arranged to pay what he owed outside of court, and the crown agreed to accept the plea of guilty to the changed charge as above. The magistrate postponed sentence until tomorrow.

CHARGE WAS NOT PROVEN

Clarence Jackson Not One of Kensington Bridge Assaulters.

The Kensington bridge affair of last week came up in police court again this morning, when Clarence Jackson was charged in participating in the head-punching contest. This case was dismissed, as there was evidence given, which went to show that Jackson, while one of the crowd, was not the one whom the chief witness thought.

The chief witness, as in the cases last week, where young Leathorn was fined $20 and costs, was the young lady whom the complainant was accompanying home, when the assault took place. She testified to having seen the assault as before described, claiming that one of the boys who hit her escort was Jackson. The defendant had witnesses, who swore that he had charge of a 5-year-old boy and that therefore he could not have shared in the affair. The bridge being dark it was possible for the girl to have been mistaken.

Her evidence, however, was given in a clear manner. She had confidence enough to tell Mr. McEvoy, defendant's counsel, that there was some jealousy over her between complainant and one of the boys on the bridge, saying, however, that since she had been keeping company with the other admirer, Stevenson had degenerated until he became one of a gang that interfered with other boys who went home with other girls.

THE CONSERVATIVE PL A

Mr. Clancy Tells What Their R. R. Scheme Would Cost.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 25.—James Clancey, of Bothwell, gave the House today an estimate of the cost of the Conservative railway plan. The building of a line from Montreal to Coteau Junction would cost $1,260,000. The acquisition of the Canada Atlantic or construction of a new line to Depot Harbor would cost $12,660,000. The construction of the line from Scotia Junction to Sudbury would cost $4,160,000. The acquisition of the C. P. R. to Fort William would cost $25,000,000 and betterment of the line would cost $3,000,000. The acquisition and betterment of an existing line from Fort William to Winnipeg or the construction of a new one would cost $14,880,000, making the total for the whole system $50,470,000. The Government proposed line, according to Clancy, from Winnipeg to Moncton, taking as a basis the cost of extending the I. C. R. to Montreal, which was $41,500 per mile, would amount to $33,122,000 and in ten years the country would have to pay $29,358,000 interest.

DEATH OF MRS. COLLIE.

Mrs. Georgina Collie, wife of Mr. W. W. Collie, of 136½ Mill street, died this morning at the family residence. Mrs. Collie formerly lived in Toronto, and the remains will be taken to that city for burial.

MORNING MARRIAGE.

The marriage took place this morning at 7:30 o'clock of Miss Ellen Morkin, George street, to Mr. David Rehder. The ceremony was performed at St. Peter's Cathedral by Rev. Father Aylward in the presence of a large number of friends of the contracting parties. Miss Sarah Morkin and Mr. Michael Morkin, sister and brother of the bride, supported the happy couple at the altar.

DEATH OF MRS. COOK.

Mrs. Hannah Cook, wife of Mr. Job Cook, died this morning at the family residence, 58 Wellington street, after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Cook was a resident of the city for many years, and was well known. She is survived by her husband, who is one of the most prominent members of the Sons of England in the west. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon to Woodland Cemetery.

LOST FROM PONTIAC.

The local police received word from Pontiac, Mich., this morning that a former resident of this city, William James Pearce, was missing from that town, and that a reward of $25 was offered for his discovery. He is described as a man of 50 years of age and about 5 feet 6 inches, weighing 175 pounds. He wore steel gray clothes and a black derby hat. His hair is dark, turning to gray, and he has a sandy mustache, with bluish-gry eyes. The information states that he was struck on the head with a falling stone on July 16, and is supposed to have wandered off. He was last seen at the Wabash Hotel in Detroit, and the police of Pontiac request the police of other places to look, especially in hospitals, for him.

SHUFF—NORTHEY.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Northey, 224 Maitland street, was the scene of a very happy event this morning at 8:30, it being the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lizzie, to Frank K. Shuff, one of London's Old Boys, but now residing in Chicago, and son of Mr. J. G. Shuff, of this city. The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Coulter, B. A., in the presence of friends and relatives to the number of about 25. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father, while the familiar strains of the wedding march were being played by her sister, Miss Jessie Northey. The bride wore a handsome gown of white Persian lawn trimmed with white duchesse satin baby ribbon, and Valenciennes lace and insection, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was assisted by her sister, Miss Florence Northey, who was becomingly attired in dove gray crepe de chine, and carried a bouquet of white asters. The groom was supported by his uncle, Mr. Lew A. Keenleyside. The ceremony over, the bridal party and guests repaired to the dining-room, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. Subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Shuff left on the Lehigh express at 11 o'clock for Chicago, where they will reside, followed by the good wishes of their many friends. The handsome array of presents testified to the esteem in which the young couple are held. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl crescent.

CHAPTER XXVI.

"I suppose I must bear your mistrust and displeasure, my lady, as best I can, since I have no means beyond my simple word of proving my assertions," Philip replied, with an assumption of proud humility, to Lady Elaine's warmly-avowed confidence in Arley.

"Perhaps, he added, "you might not be quite so skeptical regarding what I have told you if you should write to the woman with whom Arley lodged, or the lawyer whom she employed; I could give you the addresses of both. It is a great grief for me, Lady Elaine, to forfeit, in any degree, your esteem; for—for you must bear in mind that although I was attracted by Arley's beauty and vivacity, yet it was not she who won the firm, warm passion of my heart."

Lady Elaine made a gesture of displeasure at this artful insinuation, and the crimson surged hotly to her face.

"But she was your wife. You had promised to love, honor and protect her as long as you should live, and I cannot—cannot believe she could have been so false to her vows to you and to herself. Something which I do not understand must have occurred to work a radical change in her feelings in order to make her leave you. I believe you are mistaken regarding what you have told me about her unfaithfulness — a feeling of jealously may have blinded you—Arley was so true and noble by nature," Lady Elaine argued, very earnestly.

"No, I have not been mistaken," Philip steadily replied. "She told me, out and out, that she would not live with me another day, and packed her trunks and went away to a lodging which she had hired without my knowledge. Then I witnessed a secret meeting between her and a man residing in Madrid, and I know that she took money from him; but that last act—leaving the place with that Englishman—was worst of all. Can you, even you, who love her so well, find any excuse for such a proceeding?"

Lady Elaine looked deeply troubled. Surely Arley's conduct did appear reprehensible, if things were just as he had stated them, of which she had grave doubts.

"Who was this Englishman?" she asked.

"I do not know. I never saw him until he suddenly appeared in court and argued her case for her; and when, after the decision was rendered, I commissioned her lawyer to go to her and ascertain if there was any service which I could perform for her, supposing her comparatively helpless as to the means of returning to England, he was told that she had left that afternoon with him, taking everything with her."

"I do not like to do you injustice, Mr. Paxton," Lady Elaine said, after a long and thoughtful pause, "but I cannot pass judgment upon her until I have seen and talked with her."

"If," she added to herself, "she did really leave Philip Paxton, I believe she had some good reason for doing so; my faith in her is stronger than it is in him, and I do not credit this story about the young Englishman at all. Arley would never dishonor herself."

She showed so plainly that she wished the interview to end that Philip arose to go, feeling, however, that he had not accomplished very much in this first meeting.

"Do you remain in town long?" he asked.

"About a month, I believe."

"Then I shall hope to see more of you; I beg to be remembered to Sir Anthony and Lady Hamilton, and if there is any way in which I can serve either of you, I hope you will allow me to do so."

Lady Elaine politely bowed her thanks, but did not promise to avail herself of his offer; then he bade her good-night and took his departure.

Lady Elaine sat down the moment the door closed after her visitor and indulged in a flood of tears for her absent and unhappy friend—she knew she must be that under any circumstances.

She was greatly distressed, for everything looked very dark regarding Arley's strange proceedings, at least, as they had been elated to her, and though she could not, and would not, believe all Philip Paxton's statements, yet there was very much about the affair that seemed unaccountable.

She did not mention a word of this to Sir Anthony or his wife—did not even tell them of Mr. Paxton's return, as she knew that disagreeable inquiries regarding his wife would follow; but the next day she went alone to call upon Miss McAllister and Ina Wentworth, hoping to learn something of her friend from them.

Both welcomed her very cordially and thought it exceedingly kind of her to come to them, when they knew, of course, that she went out so little.

In the course of their conversation, she inquired when they had heard last from Arley. She asked the question in a general way, for if they knew nothing of the poor girl's trouble she had no intention of telling them what she had learned, believing that Arley herself was the proper one to do so.

They had received a letter from her only last week, Miss McAllister said, and she appeared to be in much better spirits than when she had last written. They had left Madrid, she wrote, and Philip had gone another way for a time, and she was to travel with with some acquaintances whom she had made—a Lady Herbert and her son, Sir Charles. She spoke of them both in the highest terms, particularly of the former, who, she said, had shown her great kindness.

She had closed her letter by saying that they should probably travel four or five months longer before returning to England.

Miss McAllister remarked that she had felt much relieved upon receiving this letter, for she had imagined Arley as being very unhappy in Madrid, by a word which she now and then dropped; but she seemed to be enjoying so much now, and was visiting so many delightful places, of which her letter was full, that she felt quite comfortable about her, although she "did long to see the dear child more than she could express."

Lady Elaine went away both relieved and disturbed—relieved to know where she was, her letter had been written at Turin, on the way to the southern part of Italy, where they were to remain during the cold months—and disturbed to find a portion, at least, of Philip Paxton's story confirmed.

Though the Hamiltons did not go into company at all, on account of their bereavement, yet Philip Paxton contrived to meet them a great many times during the next few weeks.

While Sir Anthony was occupied with business, his wife and Lady Elaine spent the time driving and visiting points of interest. Thus Philip, always on the watch, often ran across them, as if by chance, and managed to render them some little attention, which made them remember him.

The first time Lady Hamilton met him she had, after greeting him most cordially—for had he not been the friend of her dear son?—inquired most kindly after Arley.

Philip shot a quick glance at Lady Elaine, and knew that she had said nothing regarding their interview to her friends, and so he replied in an offhand manner that she was well the last he knew, but was still traveling with friends, and he was home again to look after his business interests.

"It does not do for a man to play all the time," he concluded, with a genial smile which he knew so well how to assume; "he must look after the stern realities of life somewhat."

"True," Lady Hamilton returned, unsuspectingly "but it must be quite lonely for you. When will Arley return?"

"Her return is indefinite; it will depend somewhat upon circumstances, I suppose," he said, and then turned the subject, while Lady Elaine regarded him with more respect than she had ever entertained for him; for, as she believed, trying thus to shield Arley's good name until she should return and be able to defend herself.

It became a thing of frequent occurrence after that for him to spend the evening at the Langham in Sir Anthony's handsome parlors, and he was thus thrown much into Lady Elaine's society.

He conducted himself with the greatest decorum, however, and though Lady Elaine still retained much of her former prejudice against him, yet she could find no fault with his manner and bearing whenever he was in her presence.

Many Ball Games Postponed Owing to Wet Weather—General Sporting.

See the fan!
Isn't he a noisy man?
Isn't he as full of fire
As an Indian funeral pyre?
Isn't he a holy terror
When the home team makes an error,
Or when dubs, as if in doubt,
Stand and fail to line 'em out?
See him doff his coat and hat
When his favorite goes to bat!
See him open up his chest,
Bellowing his level best,
Urging players, one and all,
To jump in and kill the ball!
How he ululates and roars,
When a hotfoot runners scores!
Oh, he nearly throws a fit
When the home team scores a hit
In a pinch, when batting counts
More than riches!

See! he mounts
Benches, chairs, and even treads
On his luckless neighbors' heads,
In his wild, infectious spasm
Of sublime enthusiasm!

Oh, the fan, the crazy fan!
Find his equal if you can!

So good has been the game at Saratoga that the bookmakers are all booking, instead of playing them from the ground. There is no telling how much money would have been dumped into the ring had not Wall street been in such a shaky condition. Scores of heavy bettors have not put in an appearance at the track this season because they were short of cash to tide over the Wall street difficulty. Had such a remarkable succession of reverses occurred last year the bookmakers would have amassed fortunes. They have done pretty well, anyhow, so much so that half of the heaviest players are now in difficulties. This does not mean that they are bankrupt, but they have lost so heavily that their wagers have been cut to exceedingly small proportions. If the procession of defeated favorites keeps up there will hardly be a dozen of the regulars left to tell the tale. All the smaller fry are impoverished and the bookmakers are beginning to attack each other.

This state of affairs is not attributed to cheating in any way, but to a force of circumstances—the changeable track and the difficulty of the talent to pick winners or to predict the way a race should be run.

Young Corbett leaves no doubt of his intention to make a busy ring season of it, advices from Chicago being that Eddie Santry has already been made an offer to take charge of the champion's training for his go with Ben Jordan, which the coast promoters hope to stage in October or November. The champion himself will go to San Francisco as soon as his summer engagements are completed. If he takes Santry with him he will have a competent handler, and one especially qualified to fit him for a bout with the Briton. Santry boxed Jordan when the Englishman was in this country on his earlier trip, four years ago, and knocked Jordan out in sixteen rounds. At that time Santry was regarded as a prominent candidate for the championship. Since that time his path has not been as pleasant, though he has had fairly steady work. He is matched now with Jimmie Briggs, who recently boxed Corbett, the bout to be held before a Boston club.

During a recent game which was breaking badly for the White Stockings, says the Chicago Daily News, Umpire Connolly made two decisions that called forth strong protests from nearly every member of the south side team, as well as the bleacherites. The spectators even called on Manager Callahan to get a new and good umpire. On the second occasion of the dispute over the decision rendered by the indicator manipulator, a baseball official closely identified with the league took up the cudgel for the representative of the league, and said some strong things about the behavior of players on the field.

"In this game Umpire Connolly has made two mistakes, according to the players who lost by his decision," said this official. "The 'sun gods,' judging from their angle, side with the home team.

"Grant, for the sake of argument, that Umpire Connolly was wrong in both these decisions. The same players who made such a howl over those decisions because they did not accomplish what they set out to do made three blunders themselves, one more than the league official.

"The difference between an umpire and a player, in these cases, is that when a ball player, by his inability, makes a bad play that puts his team in bad, the umpire goes ahead and minds his own business, saying nothing to anyone. But when the arbitrator makes a mistake, and it is much more difficult to judge his work correctly, every player on the side affected takes it upon himself to point out his mistake, but they take it to heart, and talk about that mistake to him for days and weeks later.

"Silk O'Loughlin has an answer for the kicking ball player that, to my mind, is just the proper one. 'I never missed a ball or strike on any player in my life,' says he. No difference how many mistakes he makes he won't admit them on the ball field. If the players could only use their brains long enough to figure out that they would look a great deal better to the honest fan and to everyone else if they admitted thir faults without trying to blame them on the inoffensive umpire, and also that no matter how much they kick they never get a reversal of the decisions, but may influence the umpire to give them the bad end of the close ones throughout the rest of the contest, they would stop the senseless umpire baiting that has disgraced the game for so long.

"There never are any close decisions,' says O'Loughlin; 'they're either safe or they're out.' So you see what a chance a player has against that game. They'd better take the umpire philosophically as an evil that cannot be mitigated, and get along as best they can, for nine-tenths of the plays over which trouble is made are not seen clearly by the other players, much less by the spectators, who make most of the noise. The umpire is often fooled, especially on this single umpire system, by plays that go on behind one of the fielders who stands between the umpire and the base-runner, but they are the minority."

THE TURF.

AT HAWTHORNE.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Hargis, the heavily backed favorite in the 1 1-16 miles handicap at Hawthorne today, was beaten by Linguist and Louisville. SEAGRAM STABLE AT BUFFALO.

Buffalo, Aug. 24.—Joseph E. Seagram's stable of twelve horses arrived at Kenilworth Park yesterday afternoon for the big race meeting, which will begin on Saturday, under the auspices of the Buffalo Racing Association. P. M. Cavill was due at midnight with fifteen horses from St. Louis, and Bob Tucker is on his way with Capt. S. S. Brown's western division, Capt. Presgrave, for the Goughacres stable, whose Short Hose won the $20,000 Tidal and is a stake winner at Saratoga, is due to-day. Green B. Moris, who had not intended to leave Saratoga until Tuesday, probably will take advantage of a special race train which is being made up. Fourteen cars already have been engaged. More than 250 horses from Saratoga and the Long Island tracks will be here in time for the meeting, and these, with about 150 from Chicago and from St. Louis, should, with those now racing on the northern circuit, make a meeting such as Western New York never before saw.

McCAFFERTY'S STRING SOLD.

J. J. McCafferty sold his string of race horses at Fort Erie Saturday. Ben Howard brought the top price of the sale, and went to S. T. Jacobs, the bookmaker, and will be trained hereafter by E. W. Moore. Mr. McCafferty is not only a clever trainer, but also a good auctioneer.

The following is the list of the sales:
Frank Rice, to W. F. Shaw, $600.
Bruceville, to H. McCarren, $300.
Ran After, to J. L. Booker, $250.
Ben Howard, to S. T. Jacobs, $1,500.
Lofter, to W. R. Freeman, $500.
Light Hunt, to W. D. Stringer, $500.
John Coulter, to Abe Garson, $600.
McGonnigle, to W. R. Freeman, $300.
Jerry, to K. D. Orr, $300.
Graden, to P. H. Jones, $275.
Tennesseean, to John Croker, $300.
Property of George Hendrie:
Circlus Girl, to A. L. Laubader, $100.

THE RING.

DRAW AFTER 20 ROUNDS.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 25.—Johnny Reagan, of Brooklyn, and Tommy Felts of St. Louis, fought a twenty-round draw here last night. Both men finished fairly strong although Reagan, in the opinion of many, had the better of the contest throughout.

STILL HOLDS THE TITLE.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 25.—Martin Duffy, of Chicago, scored over Matty Matthews to-night in a ten-round bout which went the limit and retains the white welterweight championship of the world. Matthews had the better of the fight in the second, seventh and ninth rounds, but Duffy landed blows with more telling effect and at several stages had Matthews against the ropes.

LAWN BOWLING.

FINCHAMP RINK WON.

In the London Rowing Club tournament only one match was played yesterday in the first round. The result was as follows:

A. Heaman,		H. Wilcox,
Col. Fisher,		Dr. Scott,
J. Lochhead,		Dr. Wood,

REGATTA PROMISES TO BE A SUCCESS

Entries Have Been Filled—Sarn'a Tippicanoe Club Will Be Among the Contestants.

The London Rowing Club purposes holding its annual regatta on Saturday Sept. 5, and already every event in the programme has been filled and the regatta promises to be a great success. The Tippicanoe Club of Sarnia has promised to enter all the canoe races and possibly the double and single scull races, and as this club's members are all old argonauts, some keen competition will result. Handsome prizes have been donated by C. S. Hyman, M. P., Mayor Adam Beck, M. P. P., London Street Railway Company and others. The regatta will be held over the usual course at the waterworks. After the regatta a dance has been arranged for members with ladies at the Pavilion, Springbank, where the prizes will also be distributed by the president.

WAS HARD FOUGHT GAME.

The Ben Hur Baseball Club, of the Detroit Amateur City League, opened their Canadian tour at Lucan on Monday in a game that was fast and furious from start to finish. Up to the first half of the eighth inning it looked as though the Irish nine could not possibly pull a victory out of the contest, Detroit having a comfortable lead of four runs, scored in the first inning, after which they could do nothing with Walter Gibson's twisters, who finished the game, striking out thirteen men. By some timely hitting in the last half of the eighth Lucan filled the bases, finishing the inning with four runs and the score was a tie. William Tripp scored the winning run in the last half of the ninth on a home run hit with no men out.

WILL DEFAULT GAME.

Peterboro', Aug. 25.—Word has been received by F. A. Clarke, the secretary of the Athletic Lacrosse Club here, to the effect that Lindsay will default the return game in the junior class in the final series to-morrow. This leaves the Athletics champions of the Junior C. L. A. districts east of Toronto, with six wins and no losses.

USED HER HAT PIN

Prodded Eight Times Into Man to Make Him Move Up.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 26. — Because she is alleged to have prodded J. B. Strode, a farmer, with a hatpin to the extent of eight times, Mrs. Helen Grubb, of Lincoln, was yesterday fined $15 and costs. They were fellow-passengers on a crowded stret car returning from the Chautauqua, and Mrs. Grubb alleges that Strode took up too much space and that she was forced to prod him before he would make room.

A LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODES

Engineer, Fireman and Brakeman Blown From Cab.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 26.—While ascending a heavy grade about two miles west of Girard, the crown sheet of a Lake Shore Railroad locomotive on a westbound freight blew out, fatally scalding Engineer Charles Albright, of Buffalo, and Fireman J. W. Burns, of Ashtabula, Ohio, and terribly burning Brakeman Ralph Clary, of Collinwood, Ohio.

The men were blown clear out of the locomotive cab. The train continued to run and the rest of the crew knew nothing of the accident until they saw from the caboose windows, the bodies of their fellow-employes lying along the track.

HORSE CHASES AUTO

Becomes Enraged at Tooting of Horn to Frighten Her.

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 26.—Angered by the tooting of an automobile horn, a horse owned by William Brook, a farmer living near here, broke down a fence and chased the touring car for a long distance today. A Chicago automobile party making a tour into the country passed through the road where the river bends at John Lanicom's farm. Here Nance, an aged horse, stood, attached to a hay rake, in a field. The chafeur tooted the horn, expecting to frighten the animal, but Nance reared upon the fence, breaking it down, and pursued the auto with the hay rake rattling behind her. Only the catching of a rein in her foot ended the chase.

NELLIE THE GOAT TAKES HER LIFE

Because She Was Denied a Diet of Tomato Cans and Bill Posters.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 25.—The story of a goat deliberately ending its life because of a change of diet from tomato cans, paste-covered show bills and kindred commodities of backyard neglect to a decent food of a reputable quadruped, is just now the theme of general discussion among citizens in South St. Louis.

Nellie, a shaggy-haired acquisition of Frederick Shuepbach's family, No. 3344 Marine avenue, plunged down the jagged walls of an abandoned quarry to instant death. The drop was 100 feet if it was an inch, and Nellie, in the palaver of the gamin, "never knew what hit her."

Spectators to Nellie's tragic and speedy dissolution declare with all solemnity of truth the deed was carefully planned—that she had been premeditating it for many days.

John Ranzallo, a junk man, says that the goat walked several times to the ragged brink of the quarry, looked over and scrutinized the dizzy depths several times before taking the final and fatal plunge. "It was a clear case of suicide," said Ranzallo. "I yelled at the brute, but this only seemed to hurry her up in the deed. She shook her head, leaped high in the air and away she went."

And Ranzallo is unshaken in his conviction. It looks like the irony of fate that Nellie should have fallen upon a heap of rubbish in which tomato cans were largely predominant. Some of the neighbors are charitable enough to attribute her end to a dominant desire to get at all hazards the menu of her childhood days.

Three weeks ago Nellie and her running mate, Belle, were brought from Kerry Patch to the Schuepbach home and presented to the Schuepbach boys, Robert and Carroll, who were training them for team work to a cart. Belle took up naturally enough with the place, but Nellie was disconsolate from the start. The Schuepbachs are cleanly people; there was no trash in the alleys nearby upon which Nellie might graze as in the good old days of her goathood. She sniffed in every crack and crevice, but all in vain.

People of the neighborhood threw their rubbish in the quarry, and there is where the goat went to feast her eyes in the absence of an ability to partake.

Master Schuepbach is inconsolable over his loss.

150,000 YEARS OLD

Is the Skeleton of a Rhinoceros in London.

London, Aug. 26.—The perfect specimen of a great Siberian rhinoceros which was dug up in preparing the foundations for the Daily Telegraph office in Fleet Street, is now on view to passers-by. Dr. Ray Lankester, estimates that the skeleton is 150,000 years old, but having laid in clay soil it has been wonderfully preserved. It has been accepted by the British Museum.

MRS. MAYBRICK'S TERM

Has Served Fourteen Years for Husband Murder.

London, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick, the American convicted of poisoning her husband, has just completed fourteen years of her sentence, and subject to good conduct, will be released on July 26 next year. She is now in her forty-second year and enjoys good health. She has been chiefly occupied in Aylesbury jail in bookbinding. The judge who tried her at the Liverpool Assizes and the counsel who defended her, Lord Russell of Killowen, are both dead. Her two children are now nearing 20 years of age.

A CYCLONE AT ST. CATHERINES

Electrical Storm Sweeps City and Sets Fire to the Orphans' Home.

St. Catharines, Aug. 26. — A very severe electrical storm struck this city early yesterday morning, and lasted over an hour. People rushed from their beds, thinking a cyclone was coming. The lightning was most vivid and struck several places. The rain fell in torrents, and on the main streets the sewers blocked and the water ran above the curb, flooding several business houses. The Orphans' Home on Ontario street was fired by lightning, but the firemen confined the blaze to the tower. Reports from outside say the fruit crop was not damaged to any great extent.

Stayner, Aug. 26.—During a heavy thunderstorm which passed over here Monday night, Percy Wales' barn was struck by lightning, and, with the crop, totally destroyed. The crop had just been harvested. Insurance on barn and outbuildings, about $800; contents not insured. No live stock was lost. One or two other barns also were struck, but there are no particulars.

Teeswater, Aug. 26.—During a thunderstorm Monday night Mr. John Little's barn on con. 8, of Culross, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The barn contained all the season's crops and implements, together with one horse and three calves. Total loss about $2,500; insured for $1,500.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—During the electrical storm early yesterday morning the east side of the city hall was struck by lightning. Several masses of stone were broken off and fell to the street.

Embro, Aug. 26. — The barns of James Sutherland at Harrington with the year's crops and farm implements were destroyed by lightning Monday evening. Insurance unknown. Mr. Sutherland is at present in Manitoba.

Fergus, Ont., Aug. 26. — During a thunderstorm Monday night a barn of Mr. Alex. Spence, of Met- was struck by lightning and entirely consumed. Most of the season's crop and a lot of first-class implements were destroyed. Loss $2,500, insurance $1,700.

Simcoe, Ont., Aug. 26. — Never during the lifetime of the oldest citizens has Simcoe been visited by such a violent storm as that which swept over the town and vicinity yesterday about 11 a.m. The storm came from the west, accompanied by what appeared very nearly to a cyclone. In the town large trees were twisted and torn down and many of the largest trees destroyed as if they were made of pipe-clay. Windmills were blown away and other things were also destroyed. The crops will suffer the most. Telegraph and telephone lines suffered and many of the streets are decorated with fallen trees. It is not possible to give an estimate of the damage, but it will be serious, as many of the best orchards in this section were heavily laden with fruit.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

AT THE GRAND SATURDAY.

William Owen, accompanied by a large supporting company, has been secured for an appearance at the Grand on Saturday next, matinee and night, presenting his successful romantic play "When Louis XI. Was King." The new play, the story, plot and characters of which have been suggested by and taken from Sir Walter Scott's famous novel, "Quentin Durward," is Mr. Owen's first contribution to the library of stage literature. An elaborate scenic dress has been provided and the costuming is both complete and correct. The plan opens Thursday morning.

—Mr. Thomas Martin has been appointed director of the piano department of Harding Hall, which reopens Sept. 9.

LONDON AND DISTRICT

—Chatham News: Capt. J. W. McLaren left yesterday to continue his course at the Military School in London.

—Mr. H. Fixter, of Wingham, for some time fireman on the L., H. and B., has been promoted to the position of engineer.

—The car ferry Shenango made two trips to Port Stanley from Conneaut, with 26 cars of coal on each trip. Monday, P. M. No. 16 was also in with 26 cars of coal.

—Rev. James Grant, for the past eight years pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle at Ingersoll, and well known in this city, has resigned to take the pastorate of another church east of Toronto.

—An Aylmer correspondent says: Mr. Fred Campbell leaves at an early date to take a situation in London. Mr. Campbell's removal will be a great loss to the I. O. O. F Band, of which he was a valued member.

—One of the largest funerals ever seen in East Nissouri was that of the late Mr. Eli Day, which took place on Monday afternoon. Rev. A. K. Birks, of this city, and Rev. Mr. Madden, of Thamesford, conducted the services.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. Dan Joyce, of the Gore of London, was struck by lightning in a field Monday during the heavy rainstorm.

TRAFFIC HAS BEEN HEAVY.

Mr. A. H. Notman, assistant general passenger agent of the C. P. R., was in the city on Tuesday, paying the London offices a visit. When asked by an Advertiser reporter as to the present season's trade, he said that the company was well satisfied the business that had been done. Last year had been a big year with them, but this year had exceeded all others. The traffic through the London district had been heavier than they expected, and, he said, they were now looking forward to great business during both the Toronto and the London exhibitions.

THE LATE JOHN HUSSER.

Mr. John Husser, of London township, died Saturday evening last. His suffering at times was extreme, yet amid it all he bore up with remarkable patience and Christian submission. On Monday at 12 o'clock the funeral services were conducted at his late residence, con. 4, betwen Richmond and Adelaide streets, by Rev. S. Salton, assisted by Revs. J. C. Nethercott, of St. Johns, and R. D. Hamilton, of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, of this city, after which the remains were taken to the G. T. R. station, thence to Strathroy, where interment took place. Besides a wife he leaves to mourn his loss, one sister, Mrs. J. N. Barter, of Masonville, and four brothers—Thomas, at home; William, of Fanshawe; F. A., of Strathroy, and James, of Holmesville.

DEATH OF WELL - KNOWN LAWYER.

A well-known lawyer died at St. Joseph's Hospital on Monday morning in the person of Mr. Edmund Campion, of Huron County. He was one of the best known barristers in Western Ontario. He was born in Ireland 56 years ago, and came to Canada with his parents when very young. He received his education in Huron County and studied in the office of Judge Doyle, now the judge of the county. His illness was of short duration. The remains were taken to his home in Goderich on Monday evening.

ATTEMPTS WERE UNSUCCESSFUL

The youth who on Monday afternoon secured $2 from Mrs. Cameron, of Central avenue, on the pretense that he had been sent after the money by a daughter who worked in a down-town store, attempted to repeat the trick last evening on two residents of Oxford street, but in each case was unsuccessful. He called on Mrs. Tydd, of 142 Oxford street, first, and represented to her that Mr. Tydd, who was at work at Carling's brewery, had sent him for $2. He could not tell what the money was required for, and until he returned with that information Mrs. Tydd refused to hand over the cash. He was not seen again. Later he went to the home of Mrs. Bishop, who loves two doors west of Mrs. Tydd, and attempted to get $2 by a similar pretense. He failed. Both ladies can furnish a good description of the boy, who is about 13 years of age. He has a very prominent scar on the left wrist.

HAMILTON TO PORT.

A new radial line running via Brantford may be constructed between Port Stanley and Hamilton. The scheme is a big one and will require considerable capital, but it is said that the promoters are prepared to build the road if conditions are favorable. Already surveys of the proposed route have been made and plans and maps have been prepared. The line will be nearly 100 miles long, starting at Port Stanley and running to St. Thomas, London, Woodstock, Brantford and Hamilton. The principal promoter of the new line is Roland S. Portheim, joint managing director of the firm of Bruce, Bebbles & Co., limited, of Edinburgh, Scotland. The firm has built many railways and is thoroughly reliable. Mr. Portheim is now making a personal inspection of the route in company with a civil engineer. From a local standpoint the proposed line will be a most important one, as it will establish direct radial connection with Woodstock, London and St. Thomas on the west, and Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville on the east. As yet the road is not a certainty, but actual plans have been drawn up and there is every indication that it will be constructed.—Brantford Expositor.

TRIED IN ENGLAND

But Mr. Bailey Could Not Cure His Backache Till He Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 24.—(Special).—Mr. H. Bailey, of 256 Patrick street, who arrived here some months ago from England, makes the following statement regarding a well-known Canadian remedy.

"I had spent considerable money in England treating pains across my back and in the region of the Kidneys, but got no permanent relief.

"Happening to read of cures by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them. And glad I am that I did.

"After taking three boxes I found myself perfectly free from any pain whatever. It has never troubled me since, no matter what lifting or stooping I do."

Backache is Kidney ache. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure all Kidney aches.

ATTRACTING SPECIAL ATTENTION.

At the opening of the general meeting yesterday afternoon, Dr. H. A. McCallum, of this city, was called on for a paper on "The Lymph System in Relation to Medicine," which he submitted in lieu of Dr. James Stewait, of Montreal, who was unable to attend owing to illness. The subject is one which is attracting special attention at present, with the promise of important results in the future. Hence it was of more than ordinary interest to the medical men.

The sections of the association subsequently met. Dr. Atherton, of Fredericton, N. B., presided over the surgical, at which several papers were presented. Dr. Robinson, of Ottawa, dealt with several operations for hip joint disease, which he has performed without causing a shortening of the leg, and Dr. Hadley Williams, of London, described the case of a local boy who sustained a gun shot wound in the upper arm, causing a fracture, and yet completely recovered the use of the member. This case drew comments from Dr. Ferguson, of Chicago, and Dr. Powell, of Ottawa.

Dr. Howitt, of Guelph, interested the medical men with a review of two cases of hour-glass contraction of the stomach. The operation in each case was described. Dr. Howitt showing that both patients had secured relief—one permanently, while in the case of the other, which was of a malignant character, life was prolonged for eleven months. Dr. Howitt was highly complimented on his work by Dr. Ferguson and several other members of the section.

PROSPECT FOR GREATER RECOVERY

Dr. Hutchison, chief surgeon of the Grand Trunk at Montreal, also reviewed cases, the like of which are not infrequently met by physicians. They were five in number, and in each perforation of the bowels had resulted from typhoid fever. In every instance Dr. Hutchison had operated, the fifth resulting in recovery. This was considered a fair percentage, owing to the very critical nature of the illness, and Dr. Hutchison took occasion to point out that with improved technique the prospect of greater recovery from this extreme condition is probable.

In the medical section, Dr. Bruce Smith, of Toronto, presided. Two unusual cases of nervous diseases were presented by Dr. Hodge, of London, Dr. Caven, of Toronto; Dr. Herald, of Kingston; Dr. Hunter, of Toronto, and Dr. McCallum, of London, devoted some time to a discussion of typhoid fever, while Dr. Hornibrook, of Cherokee, Iowa, devoted his attention to a paper on the "Intoxication in Appendicitis." Early operations for appendicitis were favorably spoken of by Dr. Hornibrook and the other members taking part in the discussion, but none considered an operation at all times necessary. Dr. Jennie Drennan, of St. Thomas, discussed "The Physiological Generative Cycle of Woman," and the session concluded with Dr. Hunter's (Toronto) paper on "The Medical Treatment of Diseases of the Nose and Throat."

AN AGE OF ASSOCIATIONS.

In his address as president, delivered at the general meeting of the Medical Association, last evening, Dr. Moorhouse extended a welcome to the members. He spoke of the age as one of associations, every calling having its organization, with the result that the status of society at large was raised. Referring to the medical association, he said it gave each member of the profession an opportunity of meeting his fellow-practitioners from throughout the length and breadth of the land. They heard papers and debates on the various subjects of interest, medical or surgical, in which are detailed the failures and triumphs over disease. It also gave him renewed and increased enthusiasm, without which the medical man was unable to work successfully or comfortably. Failures as well as successes were recorded and discussed. The confession of mistakes and failures, while it required a great deal of moral courage, was a means of imparting great information of a profitable character. The most brilliant and astute observers — the most successful pratitioners have all made mistakes and had dismal failures, the recital of which served to encourage the more timid by showing that the leading men do not live and work on a higher plane than the ordinary observer, that these men have their perplexities and trials to overcome, all of which affords so much instruction and encouragement to those who were diffident and less courageous, pointing out that "genius consisted, chiefly, in an infinite capacity for taking pains."

PROFESSION HAS A NOBLE ANCESTRY.

The beneficial results of the meeting were not confined to science. The ethical and social side was quite as important. Medical men are inclined, said Dr. Moorhouse, to live within themselves, or within certain rings or circles, to the exclusion of their neighbors, but at the medical association all barriers are, or should be, broken down. The hatchet of professional strife should be laid aside and the brethren dwell together in peace and learn to know each other, to know that their confreres are not the professional cutthroats and freelances they had imagined, to know that they belonged to a profession whose members were united. Referring to the ancestry of the medical profession, Dr. Moorhouse said that as scientists they owed no allegiance to any nationality, kindred, race or tongue. Each generation had handed down its experience, which had been verified and perfected by following generations. Thus the general fund of knowledge had grown, gradually becoming more and more defined, facts being weighed and great truths established. Tracing the profession back to the time of Melchisedek, Dr. Moorhouse said its origin had a most noble ancestry, being both royal and sacred in character, and dating from time immemorial. Seeing, then, the very high position which the profession occupied in the past, and the very important, nay, essential, part it plays in the welfare of civilized nations, in the present age, how necessary it was that its members should be men of culture. In the early pioneer life of this continent, especially the newer settlements, the chief struggle consisted in providing homes and other necessaries of life, yet in the face of discouraging circumstances men of prominence were found in the profession. As time went on and wealth increased, schools of more advanced character were established, until now, with an educational system founded on a broad and liberal basis, what excuse could be offered for a low standard for matriculation in medicine. In no walk of life does the inner life of the individual shine out so brightly, unless it be that of the sister profession, the clergy. In no profession is the highly cultured man more truly honored, neither is any class of society more powerful for good than the cultured, polished physician.

THE GREAT ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS.

Dr. Moorhouse spoke of the attention which the country has of late attracted among the better class of emigrants, saying that only recently the great agricultural and mineral wealth of Canada had been properly and fairly ascertained and placed before the world, and that the Dominion was on the eve of a great and continued prosperity. In this connection, he said, one of the great essentials to success or prosperity of any kind was for those concerned to have faith in themselves and their cause, whether it be their country, their profession or a more elevated plane of life in general. A tone of intense optimism prevailed, betokening that confidence and faith which insures prosperity. "Let us," he said, "as a profession, be alive to our needs, and establish a high ideal and endeavor to live up to it. We should encourage our students to be thorough and well grounded in their preliminary training. A great deal can be done by our associations in advocating the higher education of students in medicine. You can strengthen the hands of those who have in charge the matriculation and medical curricula."

Dr. Moorhouse dealt with Dominion registration. He said a uniform standard of medical education throughout the Dominion was much to be desired, adding that the Ontario Government laid the registration bill over chiefly because of its unstable tenure of office, and the very grave charges brought against some members of the cabinet, while in British Columbia affairs were in a very unsettled state, politically, the Legislature being unable to get through its legitimate business. Those in favor of Dominion registration, however, who had watched the trend of public sentiment, felt assured that so soon as the political atmosphere becomes cleared both the provinces named would adopt it.

QUEBEC'S GREAT OBSTACLE TO REGISTRATION.

Quebec was the one great obstacle, the Legislature having rejected the bill by a large majority, and present indications showing that it had no intention of accepting the measure, unless amendments of a most damaging character were made to suit that province only, and which would render it entirely unacceptable to the other provinces. The solution of the difficulty as it now stands, said Dr. Moorhouse, is for the other provinces to rise in their might and right and insist on an amendment providing that if five or more provinces—a majority of the total—are ready for the act, the Dominion council may be formed and put into operation. Was it just that the other provinces should be kept out of their rights because Quebec desired for certain selfish reasons to continue as at present, and adopt "the dog-in-the-manger" policy?

The president referred to the advancement during the past decade in medical literature and also to the rapid improvement in hospital equipment, and to what he called the patent medicine craze and the great danger therein to the unsuspecting public. It has been estimated, he said, that more than $60,000,000 was annually expended in this manner alone, making it impossible for one to scarcely grasp, at first thought, the true situation nor its gravity. The evils were many and of a serious character, some of the medicines containing from 10 to 60 per cent of alcohol, while various narcotics also figured largely in their composition. Nostrum after nostrum, Dr. Moorehouse said, was resorted to in the vain effort for relief before consulting a proper medical adviser, losing much valuable time in allowing the disease to make greater progress. Evil habits were frequently contracted, leading up to confirmed inebriety, also to morphinism, etc. Another class of preparations frequently the cause of much mischief was in the form of stimulating tonics, which, with similar preparations, were often prescribed by people of apparently strong temperance principles, who would hesitate to use or recommend the ordinary alcoholic preparations.

WHAT WILL THE DOCTORS DO?

"Cannot something be done to shield the public from this great evil?" asked Dr. Moorhouse. Shall we, the members of this enlightened profession, not raise our voices in loud protest against it? Can we not, unitedly, in some way arouse public sentiment, so that in some measure, at least, this evil may be rectified? Our profession, which has done so much in the form of preventative medicine, should not stop short while such important work yet remains to be done."

Dr. Moorhouse discussed the physician's duty to himself. He admitted that the profession was no doubt overcrowded, and that the old adage, "There is room at the top," has been overdone. He advised complete relaxation as necessary to overcome the effects of the great strain to which the physician was subjected, and in concluding urged the medical men to follow strict business methods in their financial affairs, and to pay attention to the minor affairs of professional life.

THE LOSS THROUGH EYESTRAIN.

Dr. Moorhouse was followed by Dr. Gould, of Philadelphia, with an address on "The Role of Eyestrain in Civilization and Medicine." Dr. Gould illustrated the loss to mankind from eyestrain by citing the cases of Carlisle, Parkman, De Quinzy, Herbert Spencer and a number of other celebated literary and professional men, and said that great as were their contributions to literature and science, it was only a tithe to what it would have been if they had not suffered from this ailment. Dr. Gould also asked how tremendous then must be the total loss of the world from that one affliction. He urged the profession to devote a greater amount of attention to the diagnosis and relief of the condition.

Dr. Elliott, the superintendent of the Gravenhurst Sanitarium, gave a lantern lecture, illustrating the sanitaria treatment of consumption. Views were given of the outdoor life and routine at the leading European sanitaria as well as that of Lake Sarinac and Gravenhurst.

MUNICIPAL SANITORIA.

The question of municipal sanitaria for the care of consumption was introduced by Dr. Barrick, of Toronto, who, seconded by Dr. Powell, of Ottawa, submitted a resolution urging the Government of the province to make provision for the same. The resolution was supported by Rev. Dr. Moore, of Ottawa, ex-moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, who was among the visitors at the meeting, and it carried unanimously.

The association also decided to invite the British Medical Association to hold its 1905 meeting in Toronto.

OIL STEAMER BURNED

1,650 Gallons of Kerosene and Gasoline Destroyed.

Frontenas, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The Clayton, the Standard Oil Company's supply boat, which distributed gasoline and kerosene to residents on the Thousand Islands, took fire while in Clayton Bay yesterday and burned to the water's edge. By the burning of the tanks on the boat, 1,400 gallons of gasoline and 250 gallons of kerosene were spread burning upon the water. The steamboat landings and railroad dock caught fire, but were saved after hard work of the firemen.

CATARRH IS NOT A LUXURY
OR A NECESITY.
Catarrh makes a man ridiculous—it makes him an offensive nuisance and it makes him dangerously sick. It is pretty sure to bring on consumption, pneumonia or at least a throat affection. You can not afford either, but you can afford the cure for it. It is Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It relieves a cold or catarrh, or cures a headache in ten minutes. Don't hawk and spit and disgust your friends, but cure yourself by the use of this remedy.

GREAT YEAR IN MUSKOKA

Travel to the Canadian Highlands Has Been Enormous—Train Service.

A popular shade just now is Muskoka tan. Many Londoners are arriving home with liberal applications of it, and many more are still to come. The tendency is to prolong the Muskoka season until well on into September, and the late sojourners this year have had the most delightful weather of the summer. Despite the coolness of June, July and the first half of August, the season has been a great one for the Highlands of Canada. The influx from the United States has reached enormous proportions. Our American cousins claim to have discovered Muskoka, and they come in thousands from all parts of the Union, more particularly from Pennsylvania and the Middle Northern States, which are some distance from the seaside resorts. The money they have invested in summer homes in Muskoka amounts to hundreds of thousands of dollars, and the sum annually spent by the army of tourists must be a fortune. The Grand Trunk Railway Company has expended a great deal in popularizing Muskoka in the United States, and in this way has performed a genuine service for Canada, by directing a profitable stream of travel to it. Some of the finest trains on the continent are run on this branch of the company's system. The excellence of the train and boat service has a great deal to do with making Muskoka one of the greatest summer resorts in the world, as from any point on the lakes, the tourist is within daily reach of Toronto, Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland, Pittsburg and places within a wide radius.

LYNCHERS PUNISHED

A U. S. Court Inflicts Severe Sentence on Mob Leader.

Danville, Ill., Aug. 26.—Winfield Baker, who formerly lived in the mountains of Kentucky, was convicted yesterday in the circuit court of assault with intent to murder Sheriff Whitlock. He was sentenced to a term of from one to fourteen years. This is the first conviction of a member of the mob that attacked the Danville jail in the latter part of July, after having lynched the negro, James Metcalf, and burned his body. Immediately after the verdict, Harmon Mangold, a painter, who was publicly criticising the court officials, was arrested, charged with inciting a riot.

The trial of the eight others accused of being in the mob was begun late yesterday afternoon. Bessie Dodge, the woman accused of inciting the mob, is too ill to be tried at present.

Anarchists in Vermont.

Montpelier, Vt., Aug. 26. — A. A. Adee, acting secretary of state, has formally complained to Governor McCullough, of the revolutionary and anarchistic character of a paper published in a foreign language at Barre. The governor has turned the matter over to the states attorney with instructions to investigate the matter thoroughly, and if the laws justify such action, to suppress the sheet. There are many anarchists in Barre.
