

ALLIES FROWN AT ENEMY OFFER

Germany Makes Proposal of Separate Peace to Belgium

PRESENT OFFERS FORESHADOW DESPERATE PEACE OFFENSIVE

Germany Seeks to Buy Belgian Neutrality AN OFFER MADE The Central Powers Doomed to Failure

By Courier Leased Wire. New York, Sept. 16.—The Associated Press this morning issues the following: "While Austria was preparing her note to the belligerent nations, proposing that they meet in formal discussion of peace terms in a neutral country, Germany was making ready to make another offer of separate peace to Belgium. It is announced that the Belgian government has been approached with a proposal that if she will remain neutral during the remainder of the war, Germany is ready to withdraw to the frontiers that were violated in August, 1914.

"It is affirmed from Berlin that the Austrian government acted on its own initiative in sending out its peace proposals, but the offer of Germany to Belgium points to what may be said to be more than a coincidence, and probably a desperate 'peace offensive' is now well under way."

If official sentiment is reflected by newspaper comment at the Entente capitals, the efforts of the Central Powers to reach a peace by negotiations are doomed to failure. In London and Paris the offer of Austria was very coolly received, while at Washington it is pointed out that the United States will not entertain any peace tentatives that can, at best, bring about only a temporary respite from hostilities.

Even in the German press there seems to be little hope that the Allies will agree to meet representatives of the Central Powers. The newspapers of Berlin point out that similar steps by Germany and Austria have failed in the past and that while the people will no doubt be hopeful for a resumption of the struggle, there is little prospect of its early termination.

German Press Doubtful. Amsterdam, Sept. 16.—The peace initiatives should have been left to the Entente Allies, according to the Tages Zeitung of Berlin, which comments on the Austrian peace note. "The fate of all previous arrangements as to methods for peace and a conciliatory spirit on the part of the Central Powers does not encourage great hopes that this offer will meet with greater success," the newspaper says. "It must naturally encounter great skepticism on our part."

"After our experiences hitherto with peace proposals," says The Total Anzeiger, "we cannot help feeling thoroughly skeptical."

SERBIANS LAUNCH DRIVE IN SALONIKI

By Courier Leased Wire. Washington, Sept. 16.—Bulletin.—Launching of an offensive against the Bulgarians on a front against the Bulgarians on the Saloniki by the re-organized Serbian army, in co-operation with the French forces, and the capture of three strongly fortified Bulgarian positions is announced in an official Serbian communication received here today from Saloniki.

BRITISH ADVANCE LINE ON ARRAS-CAMBRAI ROAD

Establish Posts in Vicinity of Sauchy and Oppy—Successful Operation Results in Advance Astride Ypres-Comines Canal

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 16.—British troops last night advanced their line north of the Arras-Cambrai road, establishing posts in the vicinity of Sauchy-Cauchy and Oppy, according to today's report from Field Marshal Haig. On the Flanders front, the British pushed ahead in a successful minor operation astride the Ypres-Comines canal, on a front of more than two miles. The text of the statement reads: "During the night we carried out a successful minor operation astride the Ypres-Comines canal, on a front of over two miles, capturing a number of prisoners and machine guns. On the battle front encounters with hostile raiding parties and patrols have taken place in the neighborhood of Moeuvres and near Gavrelle. We have established new posts in the vicinity of Sauchy-Cauchy and Oppy."

LABOR'S WAR IS WITH GERMAN GOVERNMENT, AND NOT PEOPLE

Attitude Taken in 1914 Reaffirmed by Executive of Canadian Trades and Labor Council in Session at Quebec This Week

By Courier Leased Wire. Quebec, Sept. 16.—The report of the Executive Council of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which opened its annual convention here this morning announces that viewing the situation from both industrial and political aspects, the organized labor movement has every reason to be proud since the last convention. The report points out that the somewhat astonishing decline in the membership of trades and labor organizations during 1915 and 1916 afforded cause for anxiety, but the turning of the tide during 1917 and 1918 had more than compensated for the strenuous efforts to prevent a further slump in membership. At the close of 1917 the membership for all classes of trades unions was 240,630, comprised in 1914 branch unions, a total increase for the year of 44,223 in membership and 132 in local unions. During the year 1917 there were 4,839 trades unionists enlisted for active service. With the enforcement of conscription, the total of unionists with the army rose to 32,000.

The report states that the large increase in the membership of the unions has given added virility to the movement for increased wages to meet the increased cost of living. Through the industrial disputes investigations act many disputes had been settled in the interests of the workers without resort to strikes and while strikes had been necessary in some cases in proportion to the number of demands for higher wages, the industrial disturbances had been few.

Political Field. In the political field, the report continues, considerable progress has been made, both in the recognition of the organized labor movement by the Government and in the organization of the Independent Labor Party in the different provinces. Prior to the general election, it is contended in the report, the congress had every reason to protest against the action

BABES AND WOMEN ARE SURVIVORS OF GALWAY

Heart Rending Scenes When Rescued Reached Plymouth—Steamer Was Torpedoed Without the Slightest Warning

By Courier Leased Wire. Plymouth, Sunday, Sept. 15.—Heart-rending scenes were witnessed here when hundreds of survivors of the torpedoed steamer Galway Castle, were landed at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. The passengers were mostly women and children, and it is believed that whole families have been lost. Among the survivors were little tots scarcely able to walk, crying in vain for their parents. Parents were searching in all directions for news of their children, and women were seeking vainly for their lost husbands.

It mattered not that women, dry clothing was distributed to take the place of the scanty attire the survivors snatched as they left the ship. Their one thought was to get news of relatives and friends.

There seems no reason to doubt that the vessel was torpedoed without the slightest warning. The explosion occurred between the engine room and the stokehold, a fact which is taken to rule out any possibility that the ship struck a mine. The explosion caused comparatively little noise but caused the ship to buckle in a most extraordinary manner. She was injured at the extreme bottom, and was bent and torn clear to the upper deck, and seemed likely to break in two at any moment.

In spite of the extent of the damage done to the Galway Castle, some of the crew declared that the impact was hardly greater than that of the collision with a heavy sea. The ship was swamped, and the engine was swept into the tunnel of the engine.

WORK ON PORT DOVER DOCK TO BE COMMENCED THIS WEEK

Promise Given Big Deputation by Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works on Saturday—Visit to Port a Memorable Day

"There are times in the life of a man when he must think and act individually. That time is now."

"I disavow in the most emphatic manner that it was not necessary that these gentlemen should go to England," (referring to visit of the Premier and Colleagues.)

"I assure you, if the Grand Trunk does not become the property of the Government, the harbor will. We have the power and we will use it."

"I have been impressed with the conditions, and the work of repair will be commenced at once."

"I have decided to hand this work next week to some competent firm, and that goes."

Austria is Seen as the Catspaw of Germany TEUTON TRICK Offer to Belgium a Shameless Insult

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, Sept. 15.—Austria's invitation to the belligerents to meet in informal peace discussions is given a warm reception by the London morning newspapers. The warmth, however, is not that of cordiality, but of indignant repudiation. The note is seen by commentators as a German trick by which Austria is made the catspaw in an endeavor to gain time to enable the German high command to re-organize its shattered troops. The offer of peace to Belgium is regarded as a shameless insult.

"The Austrian note does not bring real peace any nearer," says The Express. "Preliminary conditions to peace have been stated over and over again by the Allies, and there is not the faintest suggestion that the Central Powers will agree to anyone of these conditions. They who drew the sword are scheming to save themselves from perishing by the sword. The disingenuousness of the note betrays that it was written in Wilhelmstrasse, Berlin."

Relative to the offer of peace to Belgium, The Express says:

"This is another Brest-Litovsk scheme and part of the same plan for preserving the power of the Hohenzollerns."

After referring to the sinking of the liner Galway Castle as a coincidence to the offer of peace, the newspaper says:

"The Allied peoples will not shake hands. They will not be friends nor will they agree to any hole in the negotiations. Democracy is now at the helm of the world's affairs. Militarism is tottering and if the German people desire to save themselves from falling with it, they must insist on the preliminary conditions which alone make useful talk possible."

"Our peace terms have been made clear," says The Post. "When Germany and her dependents are ready to accept them, they can let us know. There will be no abatement to them. Germany must be beaten and must recognize she is beaten. Until then her suggestions for peace conferences are not to be regarded any more than the cracking of thorns under a foot."

The pacifist Daily News is the sole exception to the prevalent tone of the comment. Anticipating a general rejection of the Austrian proposals, it says that reasonable, other-minded men should, nevertheless, face the proposals squarely. The paper argues that discussions are not to be regarded any more than the cracking of thorns under a foot.

"There is no solid ground upon which statesmen, sincerely zealous for peace, can justify the rejection of the Austrian proposals. Discussion would not involve an armistice. There would be no question of the Allies compromising fundamental principles. Against the more than remote prospect that discussions might have German overtures, they might have a very different result in the case of Turkey, Bulgaria and even Austria. The Allies with an unshakable moral base, have everything to gain and nothing to lose by discussion."

"An imminent sham," is The Mail's editorial head over its comment on the note, which it describes as "Another form of an old German trick."

"The German Emperor is a veritable 'log' whose voice we may hear."

CHURCH'S BOSTONS CLEAN UP LONDON

Simcoe Man's Dogs Took Large Number of Prizes Last Week

OTHER SIMCOE NEWS

Simcoe, Sept. 14.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—Mr. Joseph Church returned from London on Saturday with practically all the prizes that his four Boston Bulls could carry off.

"Peter" took three firsts—puppy, novice, open, second in limit, and the London Street Railway silver cup for best Boston under 17 pounds.

"Miss Canada," first in female puppy, novice, and open, and 2nd in limit, and for best puppy under 17 pounds.

"The Spirit," 2nd in open, the only class in which he was eligible.

"Buster," 2nd in novice and open. Mr. Church will show at Oakville to-morrow.

Has Honored Norfolk.

It is not perhaps surprising that the native county of the pioneer educationalist, Dr. Egerton Ryerson, should from time to time produce sons and daughters to distinguish themselves in the world of letters and intellectual acumen and it is our pleasure to record to-day the achievement of Miss Marjorie Buck, daughter of Warden John L. Buck, who after graduating in arts at Toronto last spring, just reached home after a three months' intensive course in training at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, receiving preliminary instruction in nursing, and bringing with her one of the only half dozen appointments given to Canadians to pursue two years work in American institutions. Miss Buck has been assigned to the New York General Hospital.

To Improve Status of United States Nurse

Conscious of the superiority of the Canadian nurse, and anxious to bring their own up to a better standard, the American Red Cross organization called for university graduate volunteers for the course indicated above and made financial arrangements with Vassar College stipulating that at least five hundred should take the course. They received lectures from the best informed scholars in the land and at the conclusion of the course those who were able for the final test were most highly praised and addressed by the governing executive heads and superintendents of United States hospitals.

Norfolk will congratulate Miss Buck on her distinction and acknowledge the honor brought to this county.

The Gas Situation

If all natural gas were consumed along the lines advocated by Manager H. A. Stringer of the Dominion Natural Gas Company's interests in this section, there would be little need for the fuel controller to worry over the gas question. Interviewed on Saturday Mr. Stringer thought that for steamship purposes and for heating large buildings some other fuel should be used. This has been his policy for more than a year at least, and as occasion presents itself he is advocating the general householding of the gas supply for domestic purposes, and the smaller consumption required in some mercantile or manufacturing operations where gas is a necessity. He considers gas engines the most economical source of motive power, cheaper than hydro-electric power, converted at the source of generation.

Drillers Making Progress

After several days fishing for a lost drill in a hole over 400 ft. deep, down in Woodhouse the attempt was abandoned a few days ago, the device shifted a few feet and a new well had been put down over 200 feet before the drill stopped on Saturday.

Another fairly good well in the Lyndoch field was finished on Friday and the outfit will be set up on another site at once. Still another well in this field has been progressing favorably for some time.

Over at Long Point the steel chisels had battered its way down some thirteen hundred feet with results combe, Grover Murdoch, N. Portor, Stringer says, "conserve" and he has no fear of a fuel famine provided the maximum quantity of coal and wood available can be brought into requisition for the first two or three months of the winter season in order to give the wells an opportunity to store up strength for the cold seasons.

SWING BRIDGE AT DOVER INSPECTED

Hon. F. B. Carvell Heard the History of Plank Road

NEWS FROM PT. DOVER

Port Dover, Sept. 14.—(From our own correspondent.)—Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, travelling as an ordinary citizen, on a very ordinary train service, reached here via Jarvis on Saturday morning, and accompanied by Hon. Wm. Charlton, proceeded at once to look over the surroundings of the old swing bridge located a few rods from the depot. He was met at the depot and accompanied to the bridge by Hon. A. McCall, Warden L. Buck, Reeve Walker of Port Dover, and the following members of the county council: Robert W. Dick, Edward Scram, John Macklem, James Welsh, O. H. Duncombe, G. McSloy, Jos. Crilland, W. J. Schuyler and T. E. Langford.

The history of the old plank road as a government highway, and of the bridge and the traffic up the river, the stationary railway bridge development of the village as a port were considered with a view to retaining liability necessity for a swing bridge. The Minister after making several enquiries as to the provincial regulations regarding highways summed up, "I tell you frankly gentlemen, it is all a question of the principal involved in building a highway bridge. I do not know the procedure in this province of Ontario. The federal government has subsidized one or two railway bridges under exceptional circumstances." And later he explained that while in a sense the matter was a provincial affair, still, the federal government has control over all navigable streams, and while it is not in our power to build highway bridges unless they become a part of a harbor works under government control, still, "if you attempt to build a bridge to-day over this stream you would require the consent of the Minister of Public Works."

The Minister understood that the railway bridge was allowed to go in as a stationary structure temporarily because the highway bridge could not be operated at the time as a swing bridge in its decayed state. And this he thought would have to be replaced by a swing bridge at such time as a new swing bridge were constructed on the highway.

ONE BRIDGE OR TWO

Asked if he thought it feasible to divert the highway and construct one swing bridge for both railway and highway, Mr. Carvell replied promptly "That would be an easy matter." The interview was most cordial and matter of fact throughout. The result is this, that although a few years ago the government renounced all claim to the river as a navigable stream, the Minister assumed that it is such. How could he do otherwise, Capt. Kothe was during the interview at the timely employment of getting a scow under the old bridge or cutting off some station tops to allow the scow to pass through.

In case, therefore, that the government takes over the G.T.R. and the harbor, if the stream is still held as navigable, the government railway must install a swing bridge, and in that case the necessity of building two so close can easily be avoided.

In the meantime Warden Buck has requested Engineer Marston to bolster up the abutments of the old bridge for a few months longer. As the party left the bridge a special train of the line containing about one hundred delegates from Board of Trade, Municipal Councils and manufacturers' association and a sprinkling of M.P.'s, M.P.'s and Senators came in on the L. E. & N. The two parties blended and took luncheon at the hotels, after which the Minister inspected the harbor and dock. For particulars see elsewhere in this issue.

BREVITIES

Since Friday, Dover has had one vacant house, a brick dwelling on Main street. Every other dwelling is occupied.

One proposed location for the harbor pier passes close to the east border of Orchard beach park and extends out across in front of the present bathing waters. If this location is chosen Dover's first drawing card as a summer resort will become a mess of refuse such as now obtains over towards the present dock. Is this a consideration?

It is apparently authoritatively stated that Buck's park has been acquired by the C.P.R. at the figure of $35,400.

The "Soo City" has been named the "Martin Todd." It is owned by sportsmen up the L. E. & N. and stripped of everything but the wheel and rudder and will require considerable upper works before it is completed as a house boat for fishermen to use as a portable club house for transit to Long Point for sporting purposes.

A Simcoe auto driver was pinched recently for leaving broken glass on the street in front of the school, $10 and costs.

A load of field tile shipped from Port Rowan to Dundurn came around by Simcoe and down to Port Dover to be switched to the L. E. & N. They have no inter-switching at Simcoe as we have here.

A young Torontonian has been summoned to appear in Port Dover to answer a charge of using cut-out. He was warned and did not desist.

BURGLARY AT SIMCOE

Malicious Damage Done Office of The British Canadian SIMCOE CASUALTIES.

Simcoe, Sept. 16.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—A youthful burglar yesterday afternoon broke into the press and composing rooms of the British Canadian and did considerable damage in destroying valuable apparatus. The lad broke bicycles that were in the upper floor and cut wide gashes in the ink rollers on the press. After doing all the damage he could to the machinery he visited the office and removed the change from the cash drawer. Nothing else has been found missing except the boy of whom no trace has been heard.

Word was received Saturday to the effect that Powland McLean of this county who went overseas with the 133rd Batt. had been wounded recently.

The news that W. A. McLean had been admitted to a hospital, Manchester reached here Saturday afternoon. Mr. McLean went overseas with the 133rd Battalion.

Pte. Theobald Richards of the 133rd Battalion, who was formerly a student processor of the local canning factory has been wounded in action for the third time.

A cable received Saturday announced the fact that Wm. Gurr, of this town had been wounded. He is the father of Wesley Gurr who recently was invalidated home from the front.

FEW CARS SEEN IN CITY YESTERDAY

Motorists Obeyed Request of Controller to Save Gasoline

Brantford went on foot to church yesterday, or else had recourse to that conveyance of former days, the horse and buggy. During the entire day, the automobiles seen on the central streets of the city could almost be counted on the fingers of one's hands. I was expected that the request of the fuel controller would meet with a ready response, but the actual state of affairs evinced the expectations of the most sanguine.

The weather may have had some thing to do with the diminution of motor traffic, but in the majority of cases it was through patriotic motives that automobiles remained all day behind locked garage doors. Seligson's public opinion alleged their so promptly behind any measure of conservation, and thick, indeed, must have been the skin of any motorist.

One Brantfordite, either through ignorance or disregard of the government's request, drove his car to church in the morning, and found it later with all four tires punctured and the valve caps removed. He will probably thank twice next Sunday, and then walk to church, if he goes at all.

Despite the threatening weather, there were as many people as usual on the streets yesterday, and even- ing. The number of pedestrians was equal to that of the average, while more horses and carriages were in evidence than has been the case in years. Bicycles, too, resurfaced from corners where they had lain, became popular particularly with the younger generation.

Only one garage in the city was open yesterday, and its business was below that of the average Sunday. Brantfordites have reason, indeed, to pride themselves on the thoroughness with which the first "motor-less Sunday" was observed. And those few motorists who ventured forth will know better than do so next Sunday.

In Hamilton and elsewhere doctors and others who are charged to motor on Sunday, have been supplied with green crosses to be worn on the windshields of their cars. The plan is one which is regarded with considerable favor, and may be adopted here.

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

At the End of a Month Ruth's Salary is Doubled.
CHAPTER XXIV.

It was a very uncomfortable evening for both of them, that first evening. She tried to talk, but Brian was sulky, almost morose. Only once more had he referred to her action in any way. Then he had hinted that Mr. Mandel—who, he told her was a bachelor—was in love with her.

Ruth had made no reply. Mrs. Murphy had not been able to come up to clear away, and for once she was glad that work in the kitchen kept her busy. Brian buried himself in his paper, although she thought he might have offered to assist her.

After she had finished, as he still seemed disinclined for conversation she spent half an hour writing out an advertisement for a working woman to care for the flat. She would start early, take it to the newspaper office before she went to work; perhaps she could find some one at once. It was the thirteenth of the month—usually a lucky day for her. She said nothing to Brian. After she had everything going smoothly, there would be time enough to talk things over. Other plans seethed in her brain, plans for his comfort and for hers.

After two days' advertising, Ruth had many replies. She finally wrote one of those who had replied, to call. One who lived nearest her. "Mrs. Crawford" had been the name signed to the reply which had been written unusually well.

Ruth had engaged her at once. She was so clean, so neat in her person, and seemed at once to understand what Ruth required.

"I cannot pay large wages," Ruth explained. "But the place is so small that I am sure it will not require all your time to keep it in order."

Mrs. Crawford agreed to come in the morning early, get breakfast, and remain until the flat was in order. Then to return in time to cook the dinner. She had an invalid mother, and such an arrangement was ideal for her. Of course she would sleep home.

"She would have to, anyway, unless she slept on the kitchen table," Ruth told Brian, when she explained what arrangement she had made.

"I hope it will work. I haven't much faith in it," he growled. "But it did! Mrs. Crawford was an excellent cook and manager. It did not cost as much as I've as if had when Ruth attended to things, and they lived far better."

"You see, Brian, she knows how to buy; and then, after she gets the things she knows how to cook them. 'She is some cook all right,' he returned, mollified by the good dinner she had served them on her first night.

"Oh, doesn't it all taste good?" Ruth exclaimed, as she helped herself to more creamed potatoes. "I don't wonder, after the messes I put on the table!"

"You would have done, all right after a while." He would not so easily appeased.

"Yes, after we were both dead from mal-nutrition."

It was working better than even she had dared hope, Ruth thought often. And she was so much happier. She had fitted into her place at the shop in the same capable manner that Mrs. Crawford had, at the house. Brian, too, if not reconciled, soon ceased to be cross, and was his own bright, optimistic self again.

"I'll take you out of that proty soon, now, Ruth! Things are picking up at the office."

Ruth never contradicted him; she only smiled and told him she was pleased that he thought he would soon do better. They had come to a very amicable arrangement as regarded expenses, and the fact that he had more money in his pocket—felt more free to spend a little—might have had something to do with Brian's good nature.

Brian was to pay the rent, ice, electricity, gas, etc. Ruth was to pay the maid, then they would divide the grocery and meat bills between them. It was a very equitable arrangement, and left them both with quite a little balance for spending money.

Brian insisted on paying for all amusements and they went out often, now that they had a little money in their pockets.

"It is only fair when you have to buy all your own clothes," he had said when Ruth objected.

One plan Ruth had, of which she had not breathed a word to Brian, just as soon as she had her promised raise, she was going to rent a better apartment, nearer the office, and furnish it decently. Sometimes she spent part of her noon hour looking yet not daring to think she would be able to make any change for a long time. She had found one or two delightful places, the rooms not much larger than where they were, but new and so clean. But more to her than all the rest—they were not decorated. The entrances were plain, but there was an elevator, telephone service, and many other improvements not found in her present quarters.

She had been in her position just a month when Mr. Mandel came to see her.

"You are very much more competent than I supposed you were when I hired you. From now on, your salary will be forty dollars a week."

Ruth could scarcely believe in her good fortune, nor could she imagine the effect it was to have on Brian.

EVERYBODY NEEDS PURE, RICH BLOOD

Pure blood enables the stomach, liver and other digestive organs to do their work properly. Without it they are sluggish, there is loss of appetite, sometimes faintness, a deranged state of the intestines, and, in general, all the symptoms of dyspepsia.

Pure blood is required by every organ of the body for the proper performance of its functions. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes pure blood, and this is why it is so successful in the treatment of so many diseases and ailments. Its acts directly on the blood, it ridding it of scrofulous and other humors. It is a regular combination of blood-purifying, nerve-toning, strength-giving substances. Get it today.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE
How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 600,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every atom and tincture that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

FRENCH STRIKE A HARD BLOW

Gain a Valuable Portion of the Hindenburg Line and Many Prisoners

NEW WEDGE IN LINE

With the French Army in France, Sept. 15.—Gen. Mangin yesterday morning struck a new blow at the German salient north of Soissons, launching at an early hour an attack by the infantry with the support of tanks. The French progress was so rapid that at one point a German Colonel and his staff were captured. At 6.20 o'clock the Laffaux Mill was carried.

The holding of this point was of vital importance for the Germans, and they put up a stiff resistance. The retaking of the position by the French represents the gaining of a valuable portion of the Hindenburg line. The enemy engaged his reserves in his efforts but was unable to stop the French progress.

The Allies are advancing along the ridge on which the Soissons-Mauberge runs, forcing new wedge into the German line and capturing many trenches of the neighboring positions.

On Gen. Mangin's right the Mennejan Farm was the scene of most stubborn resistance. Each shell crater had been transformed in to a miniature fortress, and machine-gun nests, one after the other, had to be overcome after the hardest sort of grenade fighting. Despite all the efforts of the enemy, the French had carried the entire position by noon and had made a bag of 2,500 prisoners.

At the same time the French captured the town of Allemant, situated on the north slope of the Laffaux plateau. The enemy here, as everywhere, was unable to stop the irresistible pressure of the allies.

The Official Story.
Paris, Sept. 15.—The War Office communication last night says: "South of St. Quentin we advanced our lines as far as the outskirts of Fontaine-les-Cleres. "Between the Oise and the Aisne we proceeded at various points to carry out local attacks designed to improve our positions. Despite the spirited resistance of the enemy we occupied the village of Allemant and the crest northeast of Celles-sur-Aisne. The prisoners taken by us present amount to 2,500.

"South of the Aisne, in the neighborhood of Merval, we made progress. About 200 prisoners fell into our hands.

"Prisoners Number 3,500.
"South of the Oise," says the War Office announcement tonight, "we maintained our positions against violent counter-attacks. We captured the plateau east of Vauxaillon, and the crest northeast of Celles-sur-Aisne. The prisoners taken by us since yesterday morning exceed 3,500."

An injunction restraining the municipal authorities of Moyal Vernon from enforcing new dealers to give notice of publications they intend to sell has been secured on behalf of the Hearst newspapers.

KEG LANE SCHOOL PUPILS HELD FAIR

Fine Exhibits of Flowers, Vegetables and Live Stock at Paris

THE PRIZE WINNERS

(From our own Correspondent).
Paris, Sept. 16.—The annual fair Keg Lane school, was held on the lawn of Mr. John Barker, 2nd, Thursday afternoon. Despite the heavy shower, there was a good attendance and keen interest manifested throughout. The exhibits of flowers, fruits and vegetables were certainly good, while the live stock was more than creditable. To Mr. Schuyler, the department representative, much praise is due for his untiring efforts in these fairs. Lunch was served by the ladies of the Paris branch of the North Brant Women's Institute. Following is the list of prize winners and name of school each attended in the section:

Sec. 1—Quart jar oats—1st, McKenzie Hall (White); 2nd, Daniel Barker (Keg Lane); 3rd, Andrew Telfer (Maus).

MONDAY, SEPT. 16, 1918
THE SITUATION
The Americans have made further progress on a thirty-three mile front, penetrating to a depth of three miles in some instances. They took much material including two hundred big guns.

British and French forces have both made satisfactory advances. The voice is Austria's voice, but the hands are the hands of Germany, can be as truthfully said of the latest peace proposal as Isaac of old said it of Esau. The Kaiser's ally and tool never made the suggestion except at his behest and with his connivance; would not have dared to do so. The truth of the matter is that as the world-be world devastators realize that the fighting is soon likely to be carried to their soil, they are anxious to escape the fate that during four years, they have inflicted on Belgium, a large part of France and other countries. They shall not thus easily avoid the day of reckoning which they have so abundantly earned. The loathsome foe must be brought to his knees in absolute submission. Anything short of that would be to besmear the proud record of the hundreds of thousands who have made heroic surrender of life for the sacred cause of human liberty. A peace with Germany, Austria and Turkey escaping unscathed would be a crime as big as that which in the first place led to the wanton launching of hostilities. The peoples of the Allied lands have made enormous and heartbreaking sacrifices that freedom and justice might prevail, and the iron must be made to enter into the very souls of the apostles of a bastard kultur before the reckoning can be called off.

HON. MR. CARVELL AND PORT DOVER HARBOR

When it was announced that Hon. Mr. Carvell, Dominion Minister of Public Works, would pay an official visit to Port Dover, in order to inspect the harbor there with a view to improvements, the Courier ventured to point out that he was a man of very direct methods, and that a terse business presentation of the facts would be more likely to appeal to him than anything else. It is a matter for congratulation that the proceedings throughout were characterized by that tone. This was the first visit of the Minister to this portion of Ontario in his official capacity, and it is not too much to say that all with whom he came in contact were much impressed by his practical personality and ready grasp of matters.

As will be seen by the report of proceedings elsewhere in this issue, he did not hesitate to announce that he readily recognized the need of the improvements asked, and gave the assurance that work of repair would be at once commenced. With regard to the larger matter of harbor deepening and so forth, he could, of course, not pledge himself to anything without consultation with his colleagues, but he made the significant statement, "I have formed conclusions which I will endeavor to carry out." What those conclusions are, no one can say very much doubt. The outcome will unquestionably be that Dover harbor will be put in such condition as to fulfil its proper and natural destiny as a port of the most marked value to the people and the industries of this thickly populated portion of the province.

GERMAN CAMOUFLAGING

Mr. Morris, American Minister to Sweden, now at home in the United States on leave, warns the American people of the danger of being deceived by reports from Germany tending to encourage the belief that starvation is likely to drive the German people toward revolution. There is no doubt, he says, that in many parts of Germany there is a marked scarcity of food, and that the civilians are reduced to a minimum ration; but the people receive that ration and it is sufficient for subsistence. In the manufacturing districts, where population is congested, there is less food than elsewhere; but it is a mistake, he declares, to believe that this has produced a strong current toward revolution or any general lessening of the loyalty of the people. On the contrary, they still believe in the invincibility of their armies. To which it may be added that the idea on the part of quite a few that it is the Kaiser and his associates who have forced the Germans into the war and who are keeping them at it, largely against their will, is all moonshine. The Hun, as a people, were first as keen to get into the fray and the course of the All Highest was just what they ardently desired.

AN AUTOLESS SUNDAY

The faith of the Dominion fuel department was fully justified by the request that Sunday riding should cease. The few who failed to respond to the suggestion might soon had cause to realize what it means to go against public opinion. The weather for the first Sunday helped of course to somewhat mitigate the denial, but that is no reason to believe that there would have been any less loyal observance of the edict had the day been of an ideal nature. This thing is a part of war service, and as such must appeal to anyone of normal intelligence as a very small sacrifice indeed. Sunday motoring, except in cases of absolute necessity, must stop, and will stop until conditions warrant a resumption.

NOTES AND COMMENT

As a matter of fact car owners on Sunday simply did what they auto. There wasn't any toot ensemble on Brantford streets yesterday. Carvell came and saw and concurred. It rains these days just about as easily as it didn't while ago. The proposed thanksgiving service in Zion church, in connection with the improved outlook of matters at the front is an eminently proper way in which to mark the dawn of the new era from the Allied standpoint.

Not how little but how much should be the attitude of all citizens of Brantford and Brant county in connection with this week of giving to the Merchant Sailors and the British Red Cross. Germany now has the nerve to offer Belgium a separate peace. It does not take much imagination to divine how soon King Albert and his subjects will kick it down the back stairs route.

BOOZE PARTY BROKEN UP

Police Made Haul of Austrians and Port Wine Saturday Night. The second anniversary of the Ontario Temperance Act was being honored more in the breach than in the observance by a party of Austrians assembled at 100 Dalhousie street, whose revelries were interrupted by the police on Saturday night. The party had taken upon the wine—perfectly good port, too—where it was red until their vision had become obscured by a ruby haze, and a tress for all means approaching the proportions of a miniature riot ensued. Drawn by the sounds of revelry and carouse, a party from the police station, composed of Sgt. Donnelly, Detective Schuler and Constables Tyrell and Taylor, thrust themselves as unbidden guests upon the festivities and took charge of four Austrians (two, six wine bottles (ditto) and a number of empties. The arrival of the police was so timely that a foreign woman, who was one of the constant on the losing side, raised a cry of "kammerad", embracing one of her rescuers and being restrained only with difficulty from like expression of her gratitude toward the other officers. Her effusive affection, however, was not sufficient to indemnify her against arrest, and she was escorted to the police station after the others, where she delivered an anti-British harangue.

PARIS HAS HEAVY CASUALTY LIST

Several of Town's Soldiers Killed, and Others Wounded. Paris, Sept. 16.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—Official notification was received by Mrs. Thomas Ware, Park Junction, that her youngest son, Pte. James Crawford, had died of wounds on September 2, at No. 2 Field Ambulance. He enlisted in 1917, at Windsor, in June, with the 1st Hussars and trained in London, later leaving for Valenciennes, in September last, he went overseas where he was attached to the 4th Reserve Battalion. In March last Pte. Crawford went to France with a draft from the 10th Battalion. He was born in Paris 23 years ago, and received his education here, later going to Detroit, from where he enlisted. He was a member of the Congregational Church and a general favorite of all who knew him, and his early demise will be regretted by a large circle of friends. Besides his mother, he leaves one sister and four brothers, to whom their many friends extend sympathy. Word was received yesterday by Mr. Wm. McGuire, King street, that his son, Pte. Wm. E. McGuire, had been admitted to No. 50 General Hospital Cologne, on September 3rd, suffering from gunshot wound in the thigh. He enlisted in Hamilton with the C.M.R. going over to France with the 102nd Battalion, and went to France with the 4th Battalion.

Mrs. Hough of Emily street received word that her husband, Pte. Frank Hough, had been admitted to No. 56 General Hospital, Etaples, on September 3rd, suffering from gunshot wound in the thigh. He enlisted in Hamilton with the C.M.R. going over to France with the 102nd Battalion.

Report has reached town of the death of Pte. Lacey on August 28th. He enlisted in St. Catharines, and had previously resided on Dumfries street, Paris. Word was received in town today that Pte. Wm. Bachelor, who enlisted with the Bantams of St. Catharines is reported wounded. He is well known in town, having worked among the farmers. He was a member of St. James' Church.

In the casualty list, Lieut. Alex. Chenevix Tandy is mentioned as being killed in action, but no details have come to hand. He is a nephew of Miss A. Chambers and Mrs. Gambel, West street. Word has been received of the death in action of Michael Connolly on August 8th, who went over with the 215th Battalion. He was well known to various farmers in "Keg Lane," and was a general favorite with all.

Following are more Paris men who have been listed among the casualties in the past few days. Sergt. Harry Palmer left with the 12th Battalion, badly gassed.

Pte. Chas. Wooden left with the 215th Battalion, wounded by gunshot in left arm.

Pte. Samuel John Lambert, enlisted in the 4th Battalion, wounded by gunshot through right hand. Lambert was engaged in farming in Brantford Tp., near Paris, at time of enlistment.

Pte. C. L. Slivier of South Dumfries, left with the 125th Battalion, gunshot wound in leg. Well known in Paris.

GERMAN CAMOUFLAGING

Mr. Morris, American Minister to Sweden, now at home in the United States on leave, warns the American people of the danger of being deceived by reports from Germany tending to encourage the belief that starvation is likely to drive the German people toward revolution. There is no doubt, he says, that in many parts of Germany there is a marked scarcity of food, and that the civilians are reduced to a minimum ration; but the people receive that ration and it is sufficient for subsistence. In the manufacturing districts, where population is congested, there is less food than elsewhere; but it is a mistake, he declares, to believe that this has produced a strong current toward revolution or any general lessening of the loyalty of the people. On the contrary, they still believe in the invincibility of their armies. To which it may be added that the

BOOZE PARTY BROKEN UP

Police Made Haul of Austrians and Port Wine Saturday Night. The second anniversary of the Ontario Temperance Act was being honored more in the breach than in the observance by a party of Austrians assembled at 100 Dalhousie street, whose revelries were interrupted by the police on Saturday night. The party had taken upon the wine—perfectly good port, too—where it was red until their vision had become obscured by a ruby haze, and a tress for all means approaching the proportions of a miniature riot ensued. Drawn by the sounds of revelry and carouse, a party from the police station, composed of Sgt. Donnelly, Detective Schuler and Constables Tyrell and Taylor, thrust themselves as unbidden guests upon the festivities and took charge of four Austrians (two, six wine bottles (ditto) and a number of empties. The arrival of the police was so timely that a foreign woman, who was one of the constant on the losing side, raised a cry of "kammerad", embracing one of her rescuers and being restrained only with difficulty from like expression of her gratitude toward the other officers. Her effusive affection, however, was not sufficient to indemnify her against arrest, and she was escorted to the police station after the others, where she delivered an anti-British harangue.

It is not humanity which they have in view, but the safety of their own skins. This German trick had been disposed of in advance by President Wilson's masterly addresses. Mr. Wilson's great watershed, "No peace with autocracy" applies to Austria as well as Prussia and for the same cause no German autocracy can be trusted for an hour. The Allied attitude is clear. We require reparation, restitution and guarantees, and since the fresh German outrages upon French territory,

STILL ON GAS WELLS.

The Dominion Gas Co. is still working on the gas well at Long Point. The work is making satisfactory progress, but just when the wells will be completed is not known, owing to the uncertainty of the weather.

KITH AND KIN.

The Terrace Hill Kith and Kin meet on Thursday, Sept. 12th, at the Scotchman St. Methodist church, quite a good number of members being present. The meeting opened with the National Anthem, followed by the Kith and Kin prayer. Various business was attended to and it was decided to hold a Talent Tea at the home of Mrs. Brock, 130 George St., to procure more funds to send boxes to men overseas. After a very pleasant time the meeting closed with singing the Women's Anthem.

HOPE TO SAVE FRUIT.

The Canada Food Board has issued a request that the fruit inspected or supposed to be infected by phenol or some other substance on the rubber bands on the jars be not destroyed. The trouble, first located in Muskoka, seems fairly widespread and a great loss might result if all the fruit infected is destroyed. Experts are now investigating and are hopeful that ways and means of saving this fruit will be discovered. In the meantime the board asks that the fruit be held. The public is asked not to destroy it until it is definitely and positively known that it cannot be made fit for use.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The Grand View, Terrace Hill Women's Institute held its September meeting in the Grand View school with a good attendance despite the inclement weather showing the keen interest taken in the work. The Red Cross committee are doing good work and among other items of business it was decided to send a case of Home Canned fruit and vegetables to the Canadian Hospital in England. After the business was over the meeting was treated to an unusually interesting paper on Home Nursing by one of its members, Mrs. J. Watkins. At the close of the meeting the ladies were asked to tarry for light refreshments served by the President and Sec., Treasurer.

HYDRO OFF.

Owing to a break in the service at Niagara the hydro-lighting power was shut off practically all day Sunday. The power came on during the evening.

ROADS BAD.

All the roads with few exceptions have become very muddy as the result of the heavy rains of last week. Motor traffic is very much held up and at present there seems to be no let-up of the rain.

STORM SEWER.

Storm sewer connections with Greenwich street were made Saturday, draining into the canal.

EXCAVATION COMPLETED.

The excavation at the Niagara street subway that was necessary in order to prepare it for the paving, has been completed and the paving will be begun immediately.

GRADE AVA ROAD.

Men of the Board of Works Department were employed Saturday morning on the work of grading Ava road as it had become in bad condition with the excessive rains recently.

ROAD GRADING.

Road grading is the order of the hour in the city at present as several of the city's streets have been badly cut up with the heavy traffic and the soft roads made so by the heavy rains.

RENOVATIONS.

The boys' department of the Y.M.C.A. is at present in the hands of the decorators, having the ceiling and walls kalsomined. The decorations will be completed before the end of the week.

LADY FORESTERS HERE.

UNION SERVICE.

Preparation for a union service of thanksgiving for the Allied victories of the past two months are being made by the Ministerial Association. The service will be held in Zion Church on Wednesday, and the Rev. Mr. Marshall of Wesley Church will be the principal speaker.

EMBARGO LIFTED.

Mr. W. Lahoy, manager of the C.P.R. office here, received word this morning that the embargo on all goods except perishable material on the Dominion Express Company had been lifted. This will in all probability mean the end of the expressmen's strike.

READY FOR WINTER.

The winter supply of apparatus and sporting goods have arrived at the Y. and Physical Director Mosley of that institution is busy to-day unpacking them and trying them out. The cost of the articles has been very high this year as compared with other years.

SUGAR SITUATION.

The following comment on the market situation as regards food-stuffs appears in Canadian Grocer: Salmon largely overshadows other items in the market locally, but the outlook on all lines except sockeyes seems better than had been expected. In view of existing high prices it is possible supplies retained for domestic trade will be sufficient for the demand. The sugar situation is no easier, and only by strict adherence to present regulations will the distribution be effected to best advantage. Marketing restrictions in this market a little more liberally after removal of prohibitive freight rates on Thursday of this week. Their entry may ease off the situation to some extent. Flour has advanced 40 cents per barrel, and bran and shorts are also up $2 per ton, higher freight rates being largely responsible for these new figures.

SERGT. TOM HOWELL

Williams went overseas with the first contingent and was wounded once before about a year ago. He is well known as the champion lightweight boxer of the city.

GENERALLY OBSERVED.

By Courier Leased Wire.
Toronto, Sept. 16.—Reports received here show that the fuel controller's appeal for elimination of unnecessary Sunday motoring was generally observed throughout Canada yesterday.

In Vancouver the observance of anti-joy-riding request was general. It applied also to motor-boats. Ninety per cent of Winnipeg's passenger automobiles were idle in garages on Monday with an estimated saving of 10,000 gallons.
Secretary McNamee of the Automobile Club of Canada wired that out of 13,000 cars in Montreal, he believed less than 1,000 were out on Sunday.
In Nova Scotia and New Brunswick the response to the fuel controller's request was practically general.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE GARDEN OF ALLAH
Brantfordites who witnessed the presentation of "The Garden of Allah" at the Grand Opera House Saturday will bear long in their memories the desert scene wherein Boris Androvsky confessed to his wife Domini that he is Father Anselme, the fugitive Trappist monk who has fled from his monastery to seek the joys of the world. It is a long time since local audiences have been privileged to witness acting of such ability as that done by Paul Gilmore and Edna Archer Crawford in this scene. Mr. Gilmore, in the role of Androvsky, delivers a marvelously sustained interpretation of the monk's confession, while Miss Crawford exhibited a rare degree of dramatic repression in her part. That one scene alone would make "The Garden of Allah" notable, but it is only the climax of several. The scenes throughout were unusually striking, a sandstorm in the desert being one of the effects successfully obtained. The cast supporting Mr. Gilmore and Miss Crawford was carefully balanced, a very special feature being the "overly detailed" and the entire production was worthy of a larger audience than that which witnessed it on Saturday night.

"THE MILLION DOLLAR DOLL"
In these days of keen competition among theatrical managers and song publishers, a manager considers himself lucky if he strikes one big song "hit" as a musical comedy. In this respect "The Million Dollar Doll" which will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Friday, Sept. 20th, is far ahead of all other attractions of this kind. There are no less than four songs "hits," any one of which will probably make the composer rich before the end of the season. "My Little Fox Trot Girl," "A Little Luxury Called Love," "Proposals" and "My Country and the Flag I Love," are all songs that stamp this production far ahead of all other musical comedies.

Room and drowned. Fearing that the liner would founder at any moment, Captain Dyer ordered the boats lowered and fastened lifebelts to all passengers. One boat was swamped, another was damaged because the falls became fouled and another was swept back against the liner by a wave and smashed by the propeller. Another narrowly escaped a similar fate. Henry Burton, minister of railways of the Union of South Africa, who was among the survivors, was not inclined to speak of his own experiences, but joined with other survivors in praising the devotion to duty and the self-sacrifice of the officers of the ship and the men on the naval vessels which rushed to the rescue.

MINISTER INSPECTED POST OFFICE BUILDING

Hon. Frank Carvell in the City on Saturday Afternoon CAME FROM PT. DOVER

After handing out the good news in Port Dover on Saturday afternoon, Hon. Frank Carvell, Minister of Public Works, was prevailed on to visit Brantford by Mr. W. F. Cockshutt, M.P., who on the arrival of the special car, kindly placed his automobile at the Minister's service. Although the visit was a short one, occupying but two and a half hours, the Hon. gentleman had the pleasure of a fast ride around the city, viewing with pleasurable surprise the many large factories and the beautiful homes and streets. A visit was then made to the Post Office, and the Minister expressed his pleasure that Brantford had succeeded in securing such a handsome building before the war. "For," he said, "there is no money these days for anything except that pertaining directly to the war, or spent on matters which could be designated 'war measures.'"

AUSTRIA GERMAN MOUTHPIECE IN NEW PEACE OFFER

Dual Monarchy Proposes a Non-Binding Conference of Belligerents

DISCUSS PROBLEMS
Germany Also Makes Offer of Peace to Devastated Belgium

London, Sept. 16.—It is understood that the Government has received the Austro-Hungarian peace note, and also the proposal, previously referred to, that all the powers should withdraw their troops from the Murman territory.

It is also learned that Germany has made a peace offer to Belgium. The terms of this proposal are as follows:

"That Belgium shall remain neutral until the end of the war."

"That hereafter the entire economic and political independence of Belgium shall be reconstituted."

"That the pro-war commercial treaties between Germany and Belgium shall again be put into operation after the war for an indefinite period."

"That Belgium shall use her good offices to secure the return of the German colonies."

"That the Flemish question shall be considered, and the Flemish minority, which aids the German invaders, shall not be penalized."

The proposal contains no word respecting reparation or indemnities, no admission that Germany wronged Belgium.

Amsterdam, Sept. 15.—The Austro-Hungarian Government yesterday invited all belligerent Governments to enter into non-binding discussions at some neutral meeting place with a view to bringing about peace. The Holy See and all neutral nations also will be notified. An official statement from Vienna making the above announcement has been received here.

In extending invitation the Austro-Hungarian Government states that the object of the conference would be to secure an exchange of views which would show "whether those prerequisites exist which would make the speedy inauguration of peace negotiations appear promising."

The Austrian proposal suggests that there be no interruption of the war, and that the discussions would go only so far as to consider by the participants to offer prospects of success."

The proposal calls for all the belligerents to send delegates to a "confidential and undemanding discussion on the basic principles for the conclusion of peace, in a place in a neutral country, and at a near date that would yet have to be agreed upon."

The proposal says the conference would be one of "delegates who would be charged to make known to one another the conception of their Governments regarding those principles and to receive analogous communications as well as to request and give frank and candid explanations on all those points which need to be precisely defined."

What the Note Says.
 The text of the official communication reads:

"An objective and conscientious examination of the situation of all the belligerents states no longer leaves doubt that all peoples, on either side they may be fighting, long for a speedy end to the bloody struggle. Despite this natural and comprehensive desire for peace, has not so far been possible to create those preliminary conditions calculated to bring the peace efforts nearer to realization and bridge the gap which at present still separates the belligerents from one another."

"A more effective means must therefore be considered whereby the responsible factors of all the countries can be offered an opportunity to investigate the present possibilities of an understanding."

"The first step which Austria-Hungary, in accord with her allies, undertook on December 12, 1917, for the bringing about of peace did not lead to the end hoped for."

REV. J. W. WOODSIDE AT ALEXANDRA CHURCH

Toronto Pastor Spoke on the Subject of "Christ, the Unchangeable"

Rev. J. W. Woodside of Chalmers Church, Toronto, gave a striking exposition of "Christ the Unchangeable" at the Alexandra Presbyterian Church last evening. Large crowds thronged the building, and not a sound was heard from the audience from the time Rev. Woodside rose to speak until the last words of his message were uttered. One of the features of the service was a solo by Miss Kate Lytle.

Mr. C. S. Ellis, President of the Board, occupied the chair, and those present included: W. F. Cockshutt, M.P. for Norfolk; The Honorable, the Minister of Public Works, Mr. Frank Carvell, of Woodstock, N. B.; Acting Mayor Fred Harp, Aids Kelly and Hurley and Messrs. Shepperson, Wilke, A. S. Russell, Trench, W. E. Turnbull, C. Waterous, The Honorable, J. A. Schultz, Terryberry, Cook, Powell, Walsh, Whitney and Bamford.

KINGS MESSAGE TO PRESIDENT

Lloyd George Also Sends a Characteristic Telegram

By Courier Leased Wire
 London, Sept. 14.—King George has sent a message of congratulation to President Wilson on the victory won by the Allied forces. The King's message reads:

"On behalf of the British Empire, I heartily congratulate you on the brilliant achievement of the American and Allied troops under the leadership of General Pershing in the St. Mihiel salient."

"The far-reaching results secured by these successful operations, which have opened the active intervention of the American army on a great scale under its own administration, are the happiest augury for the complete, and I hope not far distant triumph of the Allied cause."

BETTER THAN PHYSIC.
 London, Sept. 14.—Premier Lloyd George has sent the following message from Manchester to General Pershing at the American front:

"I desire to offer to you and your brave armies heartiest congratulations on your great victory."

"The enemy has made many mistakes in this war, but none greater than when he underestimated the valor, determination and intrepid spirit of the brave soldiers of the United States. Now that he has tasted the mettle of the American armies, the enemy knows what is in store for him."

"The news came to me on my sick bed, but it was better and infinitely more palatable than any physic."

Another of Brantford's traffic signals has been removed by some ambitious person. The one in question, situated at the foot of Terrace Hill, has been misused since yesterday and as yet nothing has been heard of it.

LOCAL NEWS

FLEET OF TRUCKS.
 In order to relieve the freight situation there is talk of running a fleet of motor trucks between the places where the traffic is heaviest. A route will probably be laid out between Hamilton and London, possibly by way of Brantford.

LIQUOR CONSIGNMENTS.
 Seven liquor consignments have been seized at the local express companies within the past week by Inspector Barrett. This morning in the Police Court no one appeared for them and they will be destroyed.

REMOVED SILENT POLICEMAN.
 Another of Brantford's traffic signals has been removed by some ambitious person. The one in question, situated at the foot of Terrace Hill, has been misused since yesterday and as yet nothing has been heard of it.

POLICE COURT.
 In the Police Court this morning a man was charged with the theft of numerous automobile tires at various times. He pleaded guilty to most of the charges, but was retained until Friday. A case of a family quarrel was dismissed. A case of assault and using abusive language was dismissed. There was apparently no grounds for the charge.

PERMIT ENTRY.
 The War Trade Board at Ottawa, has issued instructions to inspectors of customs throughout Canada to permit entry without license of woven cotton and linen manufactures from Great Britain. This action is taken for the convenience of merchants, and is merely a temporary measure.

Dr. Chas. Jarvis is spending a couple of days in Goderich this week.

REV. J. W. WOODSIDE AT ALEXANDRA CHURCH

Toronto Pastor Spoke on the Subject of "Christ, the Unchangeable"

Rev. J. W. Woodside of Chalmers Church, Toronto, gave a striking exposition of "Christ the Unchangeable" at the Alexandra Presbyterian Church last evening. Large crowds thronged the building, and not a sound was heard from the audience from the time Rev. Woodside rose to speak until the last words of his message were uttered. One of the features of the service was a solo by Miss Kate Lytle.

Mr. C. S. Ellis, President of the Board, occupied the chair, and those present included: W. F. Cockshutt, M.P. for Norfolk; The Honorable, the Minister of Public Works, Mr. Frank Carvell, of Woodstock, N. B.; Acting Mayor Fred Harp, Aids Kelly and Hurley and Messrs. Shepperson, Wilke, A. S. Russell, Trench, W. E. Turnbull, C. Waterous, The Honorable, J. A. Schultz, Terryberry, Cook, Powell, Walsh, Whitney and Bamford.

Each one describes Jesus from the writer's own particular point of view. Despite all these different characters He is given, He is still unchangeable. No two men can write about Christ exactly the same because all people are different, and look upon things from different views but all these different aspects do not make the subject a particle. People who reach great heights of glimpses of the life of Christ naturally have different ideas of Him. Men who have been helped by Him look upon Him in different ways. Each man has his own particular class. People cannot expect a full view through their own narrow horizon. People think that in their own minds they know all about Christ, but in reality they know of a very small part of His goodness. But regardless what we think of Him; He is always the unchangeable. It is remarkable to think that Jesus, a Jew born in a small corner of the Roman empire, should be the most conspicuous person in all the world, and as soon as He is mentioned, He attracts the people from all parts of the known world. Greeks, Romans, Ethiopians and Persians alike marvelled at the wonder of His doings. Some men say that the Gospel is worn out and that it has lost its power, but only when people cut it down to suit their own narrow needs does it seem that way, and it is not the Gospel. Men of all ages have died for it, and what better proof of its lasting power could be had than this. Every man who has appeared on the front in this war has made that sacrifice for the sake of Jesus Christ, and if the power of the Gospel was not in the hearts of our soldiers, the Germans would be far more successful than they have been at times during the war. Human love changes and decays, but God's love for the world is always the same. Biologists would be far more successful if they had the power of Jesus Christ. At one time not in motion; this great and mighty river, whose roar is heard far and wide, whose waters pass over the rocks to three hundred feet below can be held up for many miles. Even this great river has its period of changes, but God's love for the world never ceases to flow. Inevitable changes may come but God's love always remains the same yesterday, to-day and to-morrow.

Yes, to-day, though all the nations of the world are in a state of confusion, Christ has remained the key to the philosophy of our evolutions. To-day His power will sooner or later bring this great war to a successful close. To-morrow the power of Jesus Christ will triumph over sin, injustice and everything wrong, and He shall be King of Glory eternally.

DEFT HAND OF GERMANY GALWAY CASTLE SUNK BY U-BOAT

Is to be Seen in the Austrian Peace Offer
The Opinion Expressed at Sunday Service by Rev. Mr. Woodside

In announcing the peace suggestion of Austro-Hungary in Zion Church yesterday, Rev. Mr. Woodside said:
 "Tired and weary of war as we all are, I think we all feel that peace at the present time under such conditions as Germany would assent to would be disastrous to the world. Even though Britain and her Allies might not consent the time spent in negotiations would give Germany opportunity to strengthen herself for further war. The peace proposal is a most dangerous move—more dangerous than any movement of her forces whether on land or on sea. I think we can all see in this move by the Austro-Hungarian Government the deft hand of Germany, yet too proud to make the suggestion herself, but most anxious for peace and who continues to make a 'cat's paw' of her friend and ally. This is conclusive evidence that her spirit is not broken and until it is she continues to be a most dangerous and unprincipled enemy. We are not ready for peace because she says so. Rather would it indicate the time for our striking our hardest blow and this is the answer I would give to their proposal."

PARIS BOMBARDED.
 By Courier Leased Wire.
 Paris, Sept. 15.—Several enemy aerial squadrons flew over the region of Paris this morning. They were subjected to a heavy anti-aircraft fire, but succeeded in dropping some bombs. There were a few victims and some material damage, according to an official report. The alarm was sounded at 11.24 and the "all clear" signal was given at three o'clock.

120 of Passengers Who Were on Board the Vessel Are Missing
CAPTAIN ALSO LOST
Many Women and Children Included in Those Drowned

London, Sept. 15.—The British steamer Galway Castle, of 7,988 tons gross, was torpedoed and sunk Friday morning. She had 960 persons on board, of whom more than 800 were saved. One hundred and twenty passengers are missing.
 The passengers included 300 women and children. The bodies of three of the children, who had died, were brought ashore. The captain and several of the officers are reported to have been still on board the ship when she was last seen and sinking.
 180 Missing.
 The missing from the torpedoed Galway Castle number 189. They include 120 passengers, 36 naval and military officers and men and 33 of the crew.
 Ninety third-class passengers lost were, without exception, women and children.
 The liner floated for two days in charge of the captain and volunteers.
 The Galway Castle left port for South Africa on Thursday in a stormy sea.
 The Central News account of the sinking was that one of the lifeboats was driven by a stormy sea against the ship's propeller and smashed. One of the steamer's passengers, the account adds, was Henry Burton, Minister of Railways of the Union of South Africa, who was saved, and Major Babington, a member of the South African parliament, who is missing.

Johnson's Pitching Gives Malleables Championship

P. and L. Twirler Held Plowmakers to Three Hits on Saturday Afternoon—Verity's Protest the Game on Play in Seventh Inning

Nine innings of greeting, hard fought, baseball resulted in a 1-0 score, gave Pratt and Letchworth's the championship of the city league on Saturday afternoon, unless a protest laid by Verity's is sustained by the league executive. The dispute arose in the seventh inning, when Slattery, the Pratt and Letchworth second baseman threw wide of first trying to catch Anderson. The runner went on to second but, was touched out when off the bag a moment later. Verity's claimed, however, that the ball had not been restored to play after the overthrow and finished the game only under protest. In the opinion of the majority of those who witnessed the play, however, the Plowmakers have not a leg to stand on, in their complaint for the ball was retrieved after the overthrow at first, and two attempts were made to catch Anderson at second. The first one did not succeed, and had the ball not been in play, that would have been the proper time to point out the fact. Umpire Lyle, who was on the bases, called Anderson out, when the ball was thrown to the bag for the second time. The entire Verity's aggregation, manager, players, and bat boy, thereupon rushed onto the field and surrounded the arbiter. It appeared at first that they would refuse to continue the game, but after a written protest had been filed by Manager John Kerr, play was resumed. A ball game is never lost until it is over, and not always then, in the opinion of the Plowmakers' for this is not the first game they have protested.

Score by Innings table with columns for A.B.R.H.P.O.A.E. and rows for Verity's, Malleables, and P. and L. Twirler.

A PITCHER'S BATTLE

The President of the Toronto Typographical Union said that as a Londoner, coming from England, he wanted to see the work done in Canada. As a matter of fact, he had worked on the prayer book at the Oxford University Press and knew the work could be done here.

At noon the "god received a delegation representing the Bookbinders' Union and all printing trades, who urged that print work and binding in connection with future editions of the revised prayer book be done as far as possible in Canada, as well as any future periodicals, prayer books or bible. It was pointed out that millions of dollars were invested in the printing and bookbinding trades, employing thousands of men and women. The employers were desirous of having a committee of the Synod visit the plants and see the facilities to do the work.

sent to the various Boards of Trade. It was arranged that special cars should carry the deputations to the Port, and two cars were provided by the management of the L. E. and N.

The party reached Port Dover shortly before noon on Saturday, and after a short drive around the village dinner was served, after which an inspection was made of what remains of the former docks.

Here the spokesmen of the party, who included E. C. Kabel, chairman, of Kitchener, J. H. Hancock, secretary, of Galt, Capt. Robinson and C. W. Harwell, pointed out to the members of the party the harbor and were asked several questions of import by the Hon. gentleman. It was evident that the Minister of Public Works knew something of harbors and docks, also of boats.

After the inspection the party proceeded to Port Dover's pretty park where from the band stand, speeches were made to a crowd numbering hundreds.

Mr. J. H. Hancock as chairman explained that remarks from those who were to speak would be limited to five minutes. He stated that the business men present were there at a sacrifice, owing to the fact that Saturday was usually a busy day with all of them, and he assured Mr. Carvell that the gentlemen present did not consider the affair an afternoon picnic but a matter of serious business which affected the entire district. He reminded the minister of the importance of the manufacturing interests centered in the valley to the north of Port Dover and he trusted that the remarks of the men who were to speak would impress him seriously.

Mr. C. W. Harwell, Mr. Barwell of Port Dover, who then spoke, told his hearers that the question of improvements in the harbor and docks had been a matter of much import to him personally for years, as a resident. To-day the situation had become more serious than ever before. Recent storms had washed out the east pier of the dock, and where the water had been 12 feet deep, through the washing in of sand there was at present a bare seven feet. This he pointed out must be remedied at once, or in a short time, even the fishing fleet, which comprised ten boats, would be unable to find a harbor there, and that would bring a serious condition of affairs to residents of Port Dover, and to the fishing interests which at this time, were helping in no small manner to assist in the conservation of meats. He was pleased on behalf of the citizens of the Port, to welcome the minister, and felt sure of good results from the visit.

Hon. W. A. Charlton, M.P. Mr. Charlton, member for Norfolk, on being introduced, asked leave to make five points in the five minutes at his disposal. The main point in his remarks was that the Minister of Public Works had promised to take over the harbor from the Grand Trunk, who, by their failure to repair the wharf and harbor in repair and use, had forfeited their right of ownership to the government, from whom they had purchased it. Mr. Charlton insisted that as a "measure," which would relieve the present stringency in the coal situation by providing an additional avenue for the transportation of coal from the state of Pennsylvania, the government would be justified in an expenditure for harbor improvement. He endorsed the plans of Capt. Robinson of Port Dover, for the improvements and promised his fullest support to the minister.

Mr. W. P. Cocksbutt, M.P. Mr. Cocksbutt, after expressing his pleasure at being present, confessed that it had been some years since he had visited Port Dover, and congratulated the residents on the progressiveness shown. He was heartily in accord with their desire for harbor improvement, and thought from what he personally knew of the Minister of Public Works, that they were in line to secure the much needed improvement. "If I had been told three years ago," he said, "that to-day I would be supporting Mr. Carvell, I would have believed it impossible. But the war brings severe changes, and to-day I am able to support the Hon. gentleman, not only in the matter of the harbor, Mr. Carvell," the speaker continued, "does after what he wants hard, and I believe he is impressed with what he has seen and what he has heard here."

Mr. Cocksbutt believed that the promise of Mr. Carvell at the Ottawa meeting, that the government would take over the harbor, was a matter of importance to this district. The Lake Erie & Northern railway had been of direct benefit, but he believed the greatest benefit could only accrue when the Port Dover harbor and docks were properly equipped for freight boats and ferries, so that the congestion which continually occurred at Buffalo, might be relieved by lake service. This, coupled with the electric railway, would supply coal and other freighting facilities to this district.

Senator John Fisher Senator Fisher was re-elected, he said, during a previous visit to Port Dover, at the time the L. E. & N. bonds were being offered to the Port, that he had promised that the government would spend a quarter of a million dollars for harbor improvements there. "I feel certain," he said, "that the Honorable Minister will not let me break my word." He assured his hearers of the sincerity and honesty of purpose of Mr. Carvell, and expressed "the opinion that the delegation to Ottawa had made it plain to the minister that the work was necessary. He felt confident that everything possible would be done to immediately put the harbor in proper condition."

C. E. Kabel, Kitchener Mr. Kabel, manager of the Dominion Rubber Co., of Kitchener, who has been indefatigable in his efforts for harbor improvement at Port Dover, did not speak, but expressed himself as well pleased for his efforts, by securing the visit of the Hon. Minister to the Port.

Capt. Robinson, of the Canadian patrol boat "Vigilant," is one man who knows Lake Erie intimately. He knows the harbors, too, and declared that Port Dover offered the most excellent harbor facilities on the north shore of the lake. This, he claimed, was the unanimous verdict of all sailors on Lake Erie. He understood that it would cost a lot of money to put the harbor in proper shape, but called attention to the fact that it was 13 or 14 years since the present harbor had been dredged, and that the water was nearly as deep now as at any time, which would prove that once it was put in shape, the amount of keeping it right would be low.

Mr. F. S. Scott, M.P. Mr. Scott, who is member for South Waterloo, regretted that Mr. Carvell could not find time to visit all the towns interested in the harbor. A visit would prove the necessity of harbor facilities and there would then be no difficulty in convincing the Minister. He realized that the war had caused a holding-up of moneys for purposes other than for harbor improvement, and he was impressed with what he has seen and what he has heard here. He assured the Hon. gentleman that if this had not appealed to him as a matter of great importance he would not have taken the time to do so. But the war, and from a business viewpoint, he believed money spent on Port Dover harbor would be well repaid, and would benefit the country at large.

He had been on

Acting Mayor Harp. Ald. F. C. Harp who represented Mayor MacBride at the meeting, claimed that as a large manufacturing city Brantford was vitally interested. He agreed with Mr. Scott, the former speaker, that money spent at once on harbor improvement would be well spent, and that owing to the congestion at Buffalo and Cleveland, and the threatened coal shortage, that work could well be proceeded with as a war measure.

Mr. W. Weichel, ex-M.P. Mr. Weichel of Waterloo, was sure that the Minister, after viewing the remains of the harbor, would find it even worse than had been depicted, and that the Government would appeal to his business mind as one of great necessity to this district. The coal proposition was a serious one to a centre of such large manufacturing interests, and the benefits derived would outweigh the expenditure.

Mr. John Harold, M.P. Mr. Harold, member for North Brant, was convinced that the harbor would have to be opened up sooner or later. To him the matter appeared as one which should be attended to at once. The situation as regards coal supplies was serious. A trip to Buffalo or Cleveland would convince the Minister of the congestion. Because of inadequate railway facilities, it was impossible to move freights across the border as rapidly as needed. This applied particularly to coal. He favored immediate action on the project, which would come properly under the head of a war measure. It would be true economy that the good job of it, and not to patch up the old job.

Warden Buck. Warden Buck, of Norfolk County, declared that for 80 to 100 miles north, east and west from Port Dover was the garden of Canada, and that the question of a harbor was a vital one.

Mr. W. D. Euler, M.P. Mr. Euler, member for North Waterloo, went into detail that the harbor was the natural complement to the Lake Erie and Northern. To-day the question of the development of all natural resources was vital to the country. This development was necessary, if we were to be able to face the financial situation caused by the war. The building of the harbor at this time would be true economy, because of its effect on the eleven manufacturing industries so dependent on coal for manufacturing purposes.

Hon. Frank Carvell. Mr. Carvell was greeted by cheers and then more cheers. Coming at once to the question of the harbor improvement, the Minister of Public Works said: "There are times in the life of a man when he must think and act individually. That time is now. Conditions which are unique confront us, because of the war. I pray they may never happen again. I have come as the Minister of Public Works to see for myself. When your deputations came to Ottawa, accompanied as they were by representatives whom I knew to be capable and shrewd business men, I realized that you were in earnest. I regret that I was not able to earlier fulfill the promise I made to come here. You all know that at Ottawa we are busy. You know, too, that several Ministers found it necessary to go overseas, and that additional work fell upon those who remained. And here, let me say, that I disavow in the most emphatic manner that it was not necessary that these gentlemen should go to England. Contrary to some reports, it was necessary, and we who were at Ottawa know it to be so."

Continuing, he said: "When the Union Government was formed it was decided that I was to spend no money except what was actually necessary. This was a war measure. Now that I have seen the conditions here I find them worse than I was pictured to me—worse than I could have conceived. My friend, Mr. Charlton, made five points in five minutes. I am glad that he did not have ten minutes. In connection with the harbor improvements, I may say there has been an idea that the Grand Trunk might be taken over by the Government, and that the harbor would be taken over with the road. This has not yet been accomplished, but I assure you if the Grand Trunk does not become the property of the Government, the harbor will. (Cheers). We have the honor and we have been impressed with the conditions, and the work of repair will be commenced at once."

A voice from Moncton: "Since I have been Minister of Public Works

every dollar spent has been under tender, and the work has been given to the lowest tenderer. Should tenders be called for the work it would cause delay, and that would not do at this time, with winter close upon us. I have decided," he said, "to hand this work next week to some competent firm—and that goes." (Cheers).

Speaking of the development of the harbor on a broader scale the Minister expressed himself as satisfied that the dock and deep water terminus were necessary, but desired to confer with his colleagues before undertaking an expenditure so large. He promised, however, that he would ask for a substantial sum of money for the greater work and felt hopeful that it would be placed in the estimates.

Continuing his remarks he said: "I have formed conclusions which I will endeavor to carry out. I realize that there must be coal and railways for great manufacturers, such as are in this important section of the country. My colleagues and myself know conditions and we realize that transportation is the keynote. We understand that 'wheels and keels' are necessary before you can do business. The Minister then thanked the delegation for giving him the opportunity of visiting the harbor and assured them that he felt they would be satisfied at the result of his visit.

It was a jubilant delegation that entrained at four o'clock Saturday afternoon at Port Dover for their various homes, and a no less delighted population was left to rejoice at the good times ahead for their village. To Brantford the completion of the harbor at Port Dover means that we will have practically a lake port, which will supplement in no small way the present shipping facilities.

Among those who comprised the deputation from Brantford were: Aids, Harp, Kelly, and Hurley, Messrs. W. J. Verity, W. R. Turnbull, E. C. Tench, C. Cook, C. G. Ellis, R. White, J. Ker, M. Wilbee, J. A. Schultz, J. P. Schultz, J. W. Sheneman, S. F. Passmore and E. W. Ewald, and the Government was represented, in addition to the Hon. Minister, by the following gentlemen: Hon. Senator John Fisher, Hon. Senator McCall, and W. P. Cocksbutt, M.P., John Harold, M.P., W. A. Charlton, M.P., F. S. Scott, M.P., W. D. Euler, M.P.

SMELTING IN EXCELSIS Canada's Only Refining Centre

ALTHOUGH, as is well known, a world-wide attention was first directed to British Columbia by reason of the discoveries in the late "fifties" and early "sixties" of alluvial gold in the Fraser river and in the streams of the Cariboo district—and for many years a rich harvest was reaped from these sources—mining as an important basic industry of the Province—and it is now by far the most important industry in British Columbia was not, fairly launched until nearly forty years later, and the building of the Trail smelter in 1896 by that brilliant young American financier and copper king, F. Augustus Heinze, not only made Rossland, whose mines have since produced gold, silver and copper to the value of $70,000,000 in round figures, but had the effect of enormously stimulating mineral development and the investment of capital in mining in other sections of the province. But Heinze was essentially a business man, and in establishing his smeltery was certainly not actuated by philanthropic or eleemosynary motives. It was no part of his plan to operate the smelter for the profit of anyone but himself. Hence although he received a land grant from the Provincial Government as a consideration for the construction of the smelter and of a narrow-gauge railway to a Ford connection between the works at Trail and the mines at Rossland, and also obtained an assurance from the Dominion Government of a bonus of a dollar on each ton of ore treated, he also took care that the rate imposed on the treatment of customs ore should be a tolerably stiff one. In fact, as long as the development of the mines progressed and it became necessary to market ore of a lower grade average, the rate of profit left to the miners after payment of treatment charges became considerably restricted, and consequently the satisfaction was very general when in 1898 the reduction of the rate of duty was acquired by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the rates were at once reduced very materially. It is fair, however, to state that the owners were in a much better position to undertake to smelt at a lower cost owing to the great seaport of Vancouver following the development of the "Crowned" road in 1898, the smelter became the property of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. of Canada, which also operated at that time the War Eagle—Centre Star group of mines at Rossland, the St. Eugene lead mine at Moyle and other properties, (which since have been further augmented) and the capacity of the plant was greatly increased, so that the undertaking now ranks as one of the largest and most important of its kind in the British Empire. This is attested by the fact that the smelter has treated to date 5,179,307 tons of ore having a gross value of $94,315,754 and representing 1,733,221 lbs. of gold, 27,000,000 lbs. of silver, 458,328,524 lb. lead, 75,047,410 lb. copper and 23,056,996 lb. zinc. The site of the smelter was admirably selected, having regard to engineering and commercial considerations and requirements on an elevated terrace of gravelly soil overlooking the Columbia river; an only a few miles distant the magnificent Falls of Bonington, from which the plant derives its power. Moreover, ore can be shipped for treatment to this centre most readily and advantageously from the various localities in both West and East Kootenay, and indeed from much farther afield. In consequence the Trail smelter has become almost a national "inter-connection" situation. In addition to British Columbia lead, zinc and copper ores, ore from the Yukon, Manitoba, and Ontario, from the United States and from China. From quite small beginnings the works have been expanded until they now cover many acres of ground, and when working at full capacity give employment to 1,500 men, a large proportion of whom are necessarily skilled men. In this article we are not going to enter into details, but it may be stated briefly that the main smelting plant consists of four cupolas, four blast furnaces, and two 12-ft. blast-furnace converters, the product of which is refined locally, employing electrolytic methods. This latter, perhaps, the most interesting part of the smelting process as a national achievement, is the most successful method of refining copper, which is refined in a bath of electrolytic solution, the electrolyte being a solution of copper sulphate, lead pipe, charcoal, wire, gold, silver, sulphuric acid, and hydrofluosilicic acid. In short, it is now as complete a metallurgical works as there is on the continent, and as such has played a most important and useful role in furnishing the metal needed for munition making in Canada, contributing materially to the success of the Dominion's war effort. Now does this complete its record for patriotic achievement? Since its proud boast is that it has an honor roll on which is inscribed the names of something like three hundred of its employees, who enlisted voluntarily for overseas service in the war. Among these are several members of the engineer, the staff all of whom have won distinction for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in the battle fields of France and Flanders. It

Make me a Kite—

Hardly Excusable Even in a Child

If a child were to enter one of our aeroplane factories and interrupt a workman with a request to have a kite made—the workman would smile indulgently—and proceed with his aeroplane. You yourself would condemn the man if he stopped his vital war work to build a toy. Condemn yourself, then, if you employ labor and material to make such goods as cater only to your self indulgence.

Every time you buy a thing you do not need, you interfere with Canada's war work.

Every dollar you spend on goods not strictly necessary, is a dollar—not merely wasted—but used to employ labor on things that have nothing to do with our efforts to win the fight for freedom.

Too many of us, in Canada, are flying the "luxury kite." Too much of the time of Canadian workmen is being purchased by us to make the things that are for show and pleasure. Too great a quantity of material that our soldiers could effectively use against the foe, goes into the making of superfluous things for us, whom they are so valiantly defending.

Stop the reckless spending. Stop acting like children. This war we are fighting calls for men and the brains of men. If you cannot fight—at least do not interrupt the war-work by buying the things you merely want and do not need.

The money you have been spending wastefully—with no result but to divert labor from war-essentials—will make a worth-while sum.

Use that money to build up a fund, that you can lend your Country, when your Country calls.

RUSSIA BETRAYS THE BOLSHEVIK BY THE BOLSHEVIK

Lenine and Trotsky Indisputably to the aid of Germany FRESH REVEALS Washington, Sept. 15. Moving any doubts that Trotsky, the Bolsheviki, paid German agents—doubts remain—are laid to rest by the fact that the Government in the form of an amazing series of documents disclosed through the Public Information Office in Russia. RUSSIA BETRAYED BY THE BOLSHEVIKI

Lenine and Trotsky Proven Indisputably to be Agents of Germany

FRESH REVELATIONS

Washington, Sept. 14.—Proofs removing any doubts that Lenine and Trotsky, the Bolsheviki leaders, are paid German agents—

Obtained in Russia by American Agents, these documents not only show how the German Government, through its Imperial Bank, paid its gold to Lenine, Trotsky and their immediate associates to betray Russia into deserting the allies, but give added proofs, if any are necessary, that Germany had perfect plans for a war of world conquest long before the assassinations at Sarajevo, which, as the world now is convinced, conveniently furnished her pretext.

These documents further show that before the world was four months old, and more than two years before the United States was drawn into it, Germany already was setting afoot her plans to "mobilize destructive agents and observers" to cause explosions, strikes and outrages in this country and planned the employment of "anarchists and escaped criminals" for the purpose.

Ranking in their sensational nature with the notorious Zimmerman note, proposing war by Mexico and Japan in the United States, these documents lay bare a new strata of Prussian intrigue, a new view of the workings of culture to disrupt the allies, standing between the world and Kaiserism. They disclose a new story of human treachery for gold which might almost well be described without sacrifice as placing its perpetrators on a pedestal with Judas and his 30 pieces of silver.

The intrigue appears to have been carried down to the last detail with typical German system. It will be revealed completely in a series of seven articles furnished by the Committee on Public Information for publication each day, beginning today, until the series is complete.

The disclosures show that the Bolsheviki Revolution which threw Russia into such orgy of killing and excesses as the world seldom has seen, actually was arranged by the German general staff. They show how the paid agents of Germany betrayed Russia at the Brest-Litovsk "peace" conference; how German staff officers secretly have been received by the Bolsheviki as military advisers; how they have acted as spies on the emissaries of the nations with which Russia was allied or at peace, how they effectually have directed the Bolsheviki foreign, domestic and economic policy wholly in the interest of Germany and to the shame and degradation of Russia.

German Defends Russ. They show how a picked German commander was detailed to "defend" Petrograd against the German army.

Originals of documents, photographs of originals and typewritten circulars, some of them marked "very secret," or "private," and many of them bearing the annotations of the Bolsheviki leaders themselves, some of them containing references to "Comrade Trotsky" or "Comrade Lenine," comprise a damning record. Some of the originals, it is shown, although deposited in the secret archives of the German general staff in Petrograd that they might be destroyed. But evidence of them remained in the fabric of roguesy and into the vacuities they fit perfectly.

The Bolsheviki leaders, themselves, informed their "comrades" that the German Government had required the return of the order of the German Imperial Bank, depositing 50,000,000 gold rubles in a Stockholm bank for Lenine and Trotsky and that at the same time the accounts of the bank had been "audited" to conceal the payments.

The first instalment of the revelations is prefaced by an official statement of the Committee on Public Information which tells briefly what the succeeding instalments of documents will prove.

The Committee on Public Information releases for publication here-with a series of communications between the German Imperial Government and the Russian Bolsheviki Government and between the Bolsheviki themselves, and also the report thereon made to George Creel by Edgar Sisson, the committee's special representative in Russia during the winter of 1917-18.

The Mask Torn Off. These documents show that the present heads of the Bolsheviki Government—Lenine and Trotsky and their associates—are German agents.

They show that the Bolsheviki revolution was arranged by the German general staff and financed by the German Imperial Bank and other German financial institutions.

They show that the treaty of Brest-Litovsk was a betrayal of the Russian people by the German agents, Lenine and Trotsky, that a German-picked commander was chosen to "defend" Petrograd against the Germans; that German officers have been secretly received by the Bolsheviki Government as military advisers, as spies on the Embassies of Russia's allies, as officers in the Russian army, and as directors of the Bolsheviki military, foreign and domestic policy. They show, in short, that the present Bolsheviki Government is not a Russian Government, acting solely in the interests of Germany and betraying the Russian people, as it betrays Russia's natural allies, for the benefit of the Imperial German Government alone.

And they show also that the Bolsheviki leaders, for the same German Imperial ends, have equally betrayed the working classes of Russia, whom they pretend to represent.

70 Documents Proved. The documents are some 70 in number. Many are originals, as noted by the Bolsheviki officials. The balance of the others are photographs of originals, showing annotations. And they corroborate a third set of typewritten circulars (see appendix later), of which only two originals are possessed, but all of which fit perfectly into the whole pattern of German intrigue and German guilt.

The first document is a photograph of a report made to the Bolsheviki leaders by two of their assistants informing them that, in accordance with their instructions, there had been removed from the archives of the Russian Minister of Finance, in the order of the German Imperial Bank "allowing money to Comrades Lenine, Trotsky and others" for the propaganda of peace in Russia, and that at the same time the order of the German Imperial Bank had been "audited" to conceal the payment of money to Lenine, Trotsky and their associates by order of the German Imperial Bank.

This report is endorsed by Lenine, with his initials, for deposit in "the secret department" of the Bolsheviki files. And the authenticity of the report is supported by Document No. 2, which is the original report sent by a German general staff representative to the Bolsheviki leaders, warning them that he had just arrested an agent who had in his possession the original of the order of the German Imperial Bank referred to in Document No. 1 and pointing out that evidently "at the proper time steps were not taken to destroy the above-mentioned documents."

There was early communion at 8.30 a.m. and at the 11 o'clock service that solemn rite was also again observed.

The text of the morning discourse was taken from Matthew 19-20. "And the young man said unto Him 'All these things have I kept from my youth up. What lack I yet?'"

That all life was indebtedness to our forefathers, to civilization, to education, to morals, and to God. The way to pay that indebtedness was by worship, by willingness to help others and by personal consecration.

In the afternoon there was a children's thanksgiving service with the children's choir and the reverend gentleman again gave a most happy address.

In the evening his text was from Matthew 5-27. "But the men marvelled, saying 'what manner of man is this that even the winds and the sea obey him?'" The speaker portrayed the circumstances in vivid terms and from that dwelt upon the magnificent work of the British navy since the commencement of hostilities and what the world owed to the brave sailors. He also spoke in terms of the highest admiration of the conduct of the civil population of England.

The organization of their finances, and their industrial and war efforts constituted a marvel of the life and the work of the men in the trenches, he emphasized their cheerfulness, their adaptability and their optimism.

From personal observation he could unhesitatingly affirm that all reports of their alleged intemperance and immorality were generally speaking absolutely false. They were men who had delegated themselves to a great and righteous cause and apart from that earnest dedication would any sane person explain how they could stand up under the tremendous strain to which they were subjected if they were either intemperate or immoral?

The collections for the day amounted to $175 and will go to the general fund of the church.

Wheat in Canada. There were 20,500,000 bushels of wheat in Canada on May 31 last, a census made by the Board of Grain Supervisors has shown. There were, moreover, products equivalent to an additional 14,150,000 bushels of wheat. There were in the farmers' hands in the West 5,000,000 bushels, in Western elevators and flour mills about 5,750,000 bushels, in Eastern elevators, 5,635,885 bushels, and in transit about 2,000,000 bushels. It is estimated that there are around 6,750,000 bushels in Eastern Canada, and 7,400,000 in Western. Adding these products to the actual wheat in store, there were the equivalent of 41,900,000 bushels in the country on May 31. In the month of April the British Wheat Export Co. exported 11,000,000 bushels.

Sunk Submarine. A cablegram has been received stating that Percy Innes, an old Havelock boy, now of his Majesty's navy, distinguished himself by sinking a Hun submarine at a distance of 500 yards. It is stated, and has been recalled to London to be decorated. The submarine was totally destroyed.

SUCCESSFUL THANKS GIVING SERVICES

Are Held at the St. James' Church, Terrace Hill

Eloquent Preacher of the Day Bears Testimony to Men at the Front

There were large congregations in St. James' Church, Terrace Hill, yesterday when harvest Thanksgiving services took place. The edifice was suitably decorated with fruits and vegetables and the members of the choir excelled themselves in appropriate music.

The special preacher for the occasion was Rev. Arthur Carlisle of All Saints' Church, Windsor. He is one of the outstanding men of the Anglican Church and his exceedingly able discourses were thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Carlisle has spent two years at the front as chaplain of the 13th Battalion and his references in his evening address to the war therefore came with all the greater force.

There was early communion at 8.30 a.m. and at the 11 o'clock service that solemn rite was also again observed.

The text of the morning discourse was taken from Matthew 19-20. "And the young man said unto Him 'All these things have I kept from my youth up. What lack I yet?'"

That all life was indebtedness to our forefathers, to civilization, to education, to morals, and to God. The way to pay that indebtedness was by worship, by willingness to help others and by personal consecration.

In the afternoon there was a children's thanksgiving service with the children's choir and the reverend gentleman again gave a most happy address.

In the evening his text was from Matthew 5-27. "But the men marvelled, saying 'what manner of man is this that even the winds and the sea obey him?'" The speaker portrayed the circumstances in vivid terms and from that dwelt upon the magnificent work of the British navy since the commencement of hostilities and what the world owed to the brave sailors. He also spoke in terms of the highest admiration of the conduct of the civil population of England.

The organization of their finances, and their industrial and war efforts constituted a marvel of the life and the work of the men in the trenches, he emphasized their cheerfulness, their adaptability and their optimism.

From personal observation he could unhesitatingly affirm that all reports of their alleged intemperance and immorality were generally speaking absolutely false. They were men who had delegated themselves to a great and righteous cause and apart from that earnest dedication would any sane person explain how they could stand up under the tremendous strain to which they were subjected if they were either intemperate or immoral?

The collections for the day amounted to $175 and will go to the general fund of the church.

Wheat in Canada. There were 20,500,000 bushels of wheat in Canada on May 31 last, a census made by the Board of Grain Supervisors has shown. There were, moreover, products equivalent to an additional 14,150,000 bushels of wheat. There were in the farmers' hands in the West 5,000,000 bushels, in Western elevators and flour mills about 5,750,000 bushels, in Eastern elevators, 5,635,885 bushels, and in transit about 2,000,000 bushels. It is estimated that there are around 6,750,000 bushels in Eastern Canada, and 7,400,000 in Western. Adding these products to the actual wheat in store, there were the equivalent of 41,900,000 bushels in the country on May 31. In the month of April the British Wheat Export Co. exported 11,000,000 bushels.

A POPULAR HERO.

Col. Joseph Boyle Saves Lives of Roumanian Deputies. Col. Joseph Boyle, a Canadian officer, from the Yukon, has become the popular hero of Roumania and wears the highest Roumanian decoration within the gift of the King for saving a number of Roumanian deputies from certain exile, and probably death at the hands of the Russian Bolsheviki, according to travellers reaching France from Jassy, the temporary Roumanian capital.

Soon after the Russian Bolsheviki broke off relations with Roumania last January, as the result of alleged anti-Bolsheviki activities on the part of the Roumanian deputies, several of these officials were arrested at Odessa, following the invasion of Bessarabia by Roumanian troops. They were sentenced to exile to Sebastopol and were placed on board a ship to be deported. None of them knew what their fate might be and everyone was convinced they would never see their native country again.

Col. Boyle pleaded in their behalf with the Bolsheviki leaders and insisted upon their innocence. The Bolsheviki authorities were won to his appeals, and would not revoke the sentence of exile. Col. Boyle then declared that if the Roumanian deputies were deported to Sebastopol, a special steamer conveyed the deputies and Col. Boyle to Sebastopol, where, after a stay of several days, during which the party offered many hardships, Col. Boyle finally convinced the Russians that the Roumanians were innocent and all were released.

Col. Boyle took them back to Odessa by the steamer on which they were deported to Sebastopol and accompanied them to Jassy, where he was given a great reception by the people and the Government. King Ferdinand awarded him the Crown of Roumania, the highest Roumanian decoration.

Col. Boyle is six feet tall, rugged and broad as the country he comes from. It was he who, when all other means of communication were impossible, carried from Jassy to Odessa the Roumanian peace terms with the Bolsheviki, thus preventing hostilities, which at the time seemed imminent.

To Escape From the Huns.

Pat O'Brien, the daring aviator who escaped from a train bearing him to a German prison camp, says in the American Magazine: "I began to cough violently, as if the smoke in the compartment was choking me. So, when I opened the window again, as if I had to have air, the guards didn't interfere. I had been figuring out a plan for making the jump a quick enough one to prevent their catching me and pulling me back."

"I had some bread and sausage in a sort of knapsack I had made out of an old gas bag, and I acted as if I wanted to put this up in the rack. To do this, I stood on the edge of the seat and took hold of a strap. Pretending to sway with the train, I tested this strap and found it gave my weight. So then with my bare hands I grasped the food in it. I gave one or two lurches, as the train rocked, and then threw myself straight out of the window. "I landed on my feet, but my head struck the ground at almost the same instant and I lost consciousness. It was only for a few moments, however, for I pulled myself together quickly and started to run off the right of way. The train was stopped half a mile further on, but by the time they came back I was lost in the darkness. Fortunately I was so fast that I had headed the wrong way—back into Germany. I say 'fortunately' because if they searched for me, they probably would have found me. By the time I changed my course I was able to make my way through a different section where they were less likely to be looking for me."

Lieut. O'Brien trained with the R.F.C. at Camp Borden.

A Comparison.

The following was heard on a street car one very cold day in winter in a Canadian city. At a corner the car was boarded by a husky soldier in the picturesque Highland uniform—the kilts of which leave the knees bare. On the car was a young dude still in mufti, seated with his feet on the seat, casting admiring glances at the attractively uniformed "kiltie," much to the displeasure of her slacker escort. So he endeavored to make fun of the uniform by remarking: "I think that outfit is most ridiculous. That fellow's knees look as if they were frozen." The kiltie, overhearing, the comment, glanced contemptuously at the dude's civilian clothes, then scornfully replied: "Well, young fellow, it is a sure thing my knees aren't as cold as your feet." The slacker got off at the next stop.

A Narrow Escape.

Tommy Atkins likes to pass a joke, even when he is hurt. "Coming through Ypres during hot fighting," says a Canadian soldier-author, "I passed a friend. 'You have a fine bullet on your forehead,' said I, pointing to a raw bump the size of a goose-egg. 'How did you get it?' 'I haven't an idea,' he answered, 'unless a shell bounced off it. Some of 'em have come close enough, so one might have done it.'"

Has Polar Disease.

Vilhelmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, who is now on route from Fort Yukon to Victoria, is just recovering from a mysterious malady to which Constable Lamont of the R.N.W.M.P. and many of the natives succumbed. The disease was epidemic last winter on Herschel Island.

Owners Must Pay Penalty.

It will be interesting to garden owners to know by a recent decision in the Hespeler court that when a dog parades up a private garden, found or unfound, the owner of the dog may be legally held liable for damages.

LADY'S APRON. By Anabel Worthington.

The good looking apron has many desirable qualities which will appeal to the housewife. It is very easy to make, for it is all in one piece and slips on over the head. The neck is cut square at front and back, and the armholes are open to the waist line. For your own convenience it will be a good idea to add the large patch pockets at the front. The apron may be worn loose, as shown in the small front view, or if you prefer, you may make a wide casing at the waist line and cut a piece of the material 4 1/2 inches wide by 2 yards long for the strings, which are to be inserted in the casing and tied in a bow.

The lady's apron, pattern No. 8683 is cut in three sizes—36, 40 and 44 inches bust measure. As on the figure, the 36 inch size requires 3 1/2 yards of 27 inch or 3 3/4 yards of 36 inch goods. Price, 10 cents.

DON'T CAST OFF YOUR OLD TIRES

Generally There is Much Good Mileage Left in Them

"Don't throw that old tire away," is the injunction of a branch manager for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. "Few tires are completely worn out when thrown away. Most of them are quite capable of giving extra mileage if given a little help. A rim-cut patch or an inside tire protector will often add hundreds of miles to the life of a tire."

"A rim-cut patch is designed for application on the inside of the tire and is constructed with flaps which fit underneath the tread of the tire on both sides to hold the patch in place. It is flexible and enduring and once applied is out of sight and mind. Tires which seem to be hopelessly rim cut are given a new lease of life after being reinforced by a good rim-cut patch."

"And then there is the inside tire protector which is provided to provide complete reinforcement for worn and weakened casings. Its use often adds several thousand miles to the life of a tire that appears to be about ended. It is applied to the inside of the tire as its name suggests, and provides at a very low cost many miles that otherwise would be lost."

"Anything that will give a tire longer life will keep road jangling dollars in the car owner's pocket and will put off the day when the purchase of a new tire would otherwise be necessary. We are not for economy that goes to the extent of scripping, but we believe that if the millions of tires available in this country are run properly and conservation principles observed in their use, there will be tires enough for everybody."

"Tire accessories also make an ideal and profitable investment. at any time, but right now they are especially timely, economical and useful. For instance, the tire saver kit, which is obtainable from Goodyear service stations, is just what the name implies, for it contains just the accessories that permit a motorist to put into practice the fashionable principles of tire conservation."

"Take the pressure gauge, which is but one of the items in the kit. It enables the motorist to maintain proper air pressure and to know at all times just how much air his tires contain. Then there's the putty which heads wounds and keeps out sand and dirt, which are active tire destroyers. And so on through the list. Help your tires, and save money. A stitch in time saves nine."

Establish Fund to Punish Lynching

TEXAS Newspaper Strives to Help Stamp Out Lawlessness

(U. S. Paper)

The publishers of the San Antonio Texas Express have established and set aside a fund of $100,000 to be used in combating the crime of lynching in this country, thereby to aid in stamping out the lawlessness and violence of the mob.

At the latest meeting of the stockholders of the Express Publishing Company, August 1, it was determined to devote this fund of money to the purpose of rewarding persons who shall be directly responsible for the arrest and conviction of those who incite riots and mob outbreaks that result in lynching, and of those who perpetrate the lynching crime itself.

It was the opinion of every member of the stocktaking body at the meeting that the irreparable injustices, the debasement and degradation by a crime that invariably exhibits a contempt for law and order, and an enmity to the decent systems of courts and law enforcement, must be brought to an end throughout the United States.

Lynching must no longer go unpunished or lightly punished, in any state or districts of this nation.

The anti-lynching fund of the San Antonio Express will be employed in this manner:

A reward of $500 will be paid to each person who shall be directly responsible for the arrest with subsequent conviction and punishment of any person or persons who were instrumental in arousing a mob to commit a lynching or in putting through the lynching itself, when the individual lynched was a Negro.

A reward of $1000 will be paid to each person who shall be directly responsible for the arrest with subsequent conviction and punishment of any person or persons who were instrumental in arousing a mob to commit a lynching or in putting through the lynching itself, when the individual lynched was a Negro.

This fund of $100,000 and the offer of reward thereunder will be maintained and in effect for a period of five years from August 1, 1918.

The system of rewards will apply to any and every crime of lynching committed within the bounds of continental United States—that is, exclusive of the American possessions of Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, the Panama canal zone, etc.

These awards will be paid to private citizens—persons of either sex—or to peace officers of whatever class; Sheriffs, their deputies and possemen; constables and their deputies; United States marshals, their deputies and possemen; city or state police, rangers, etc.; officers and men of the organized military forces, or National Guard of the several states; and to any and all persons who may not be debarré legally from the acceptance of a reward for this character of law enforcement.

Five hundred dollars is fixed as the reward for directly lynching about the arrest; conviction and punishment of a person or persons guilty of lynching an individual other than a Negro, and $1,000 is fixed as the reward in the case of the lynching of a Negro for this reason.

A heavy majority of the crimes of lynchings in this country have Negroes as their victims.

James R. Creed, horseman, whose stock farm and horse boarding establishment on Union Turnpike, Jamaica, L. I., was known throughout the country, died at St. Mary's Hospital, Jamaica, after an illness of several days from pneumonia.

FRESH Rene OPEN VERD IS RETURN LICKERS

Deceased Came to Through Violence Unknown Ha

FOUL PLAY C Indian Believed Fr Been Call Ni

Responsibility for the death of David Lickers, the found dead near his home last week ago, was left when the coroner's night returned an opinion of violence at the hands of a person or persons. That Lickers came to through foul play, the submitted left no doubt; he was called from his home at night, after he had been and strangled to death unknown assailant who peered outside. An act of gruesomeness was in the testimony of Dr. Bragg, to the effect that he had been placed round man's wrists.

Evidence submitted by witnesses tended to show that the body of Lickers, the crime, as Lickers believed to have been a case of money much less than that found on his body, was placed in the body of Lickers, and a recommendation of the jury to the effect that the Provincial Detective had in the case will be proceeded upon. The jury's verdict after retiring minutes.

Constable P. J. At the first witness called, Lickers had worked part belonging to the witness about four miles west of the deceased had always good work and had no ill-feelings against the man who was in a quarrel over a with a young man, body was found by Mr. about noon Tuesday and had been seen shortly afterwards. He was apparently a man in a furrow and was turned over. Tracks of a rik supposed to be other belonging to Lickers, noticed leading out of the appeared as though Lickers at the place where he was found, as there were no struggle near there. This was the last man to be alive at which over a found to have $11.56 in purse.

Dr. Bragg, the next witness, stated that he examined the body and noticed that Lickers had died by strangulation, being lying on his back and a wound at the back may have been caused. He was apparently a man in a furrow and was turned over. Tracks of a rik supposed to be other belonging to Lickers, noticed leading out of the appeared as though Lickers at the place where he was found, as there were no struggle near there. This was the last man to be alive at which over a found to have $11.56 in purse.

John Atkinson told how he had arrested Lickers for the sale of about two weeks before death. When he came money on Tuesday he a lying dead on the ground into the yard. When no one who looked near the place. He did the body, but in company Mrs. Bumberry had gone stable Atkins. Witness
