KING ON TRIAL

CONVICT IN PENITENTIARY CHARGED WITH CRIME OF THREE YEARS' STANDING—TRIAL BEGAN IN SUPREME COURT MONDAY.

Monday Morning's Evidence.
Apparently as unbecomingly as an spectator, Convict King sat in the prisoners' dock in the Supreme court Monday morning for the opening of the preliminary trial. Entirely in the shadow of the gallows by the charge which has been laid against him, the man in the striped garb of the penitentiary seemed to be in a peculiar mood. Several times during the interval which elapsed while the court was waiting for the presiding justice to take his seat, King grimaced broadly as though much amused at some passing fancy. Once he attempted to joke with the guards who sat on either side of him, but met with no response.

When the trial commenced and the witness, a close friend of Hindahl, the man alleged to have been murdered, took the stand, King leaned forward in the dock and followed the evidence with the closest attention. He listened without a sign of sentiment to the address of the crown prosecutor to the jury in which the facts of Hindahl's case as it is supposed to have occurred, was recited and supported by damaging evidence given at the preliminary trial. Entirely circumstantial in nature, the evidence formed a chain strongly indicative of guilt. Although a score of witnesses are to give evidence for the prosecution no direct proof of the crime can be adduced. The trial will last for three days at least.

RICH SMUGGLER FINED $5,000.

No Mercy for Minneapolis Banker Convicted of Offense.
Preston, N.J., June 9.—Wealthy persons who try to smuggle goods into the ports in the Federal district presided over by Judge John Bellah, of Trenton, need expect no mercy from him. He intimated as much here this afternoon, when he imposed a fine of $5,000 on Hiram E. Lyon, a Minneapolis banker, after his lawyer had pleaded non-quit to a charge of attempting to smuggle two pearl necklaces on May 29 last. The necklaces were valued at $2,400.

Lyon and his counsel, Habert E. Rogers, of New York, believed they would get off with a fine of not more than $2,500. They seemed greatly surprised when $5,000 was imposed, but paid over the money. The fine is the heaviest on record here for smuggling of goods of the value of the Lyon pearls.

It is expected that Judge Bellah will pass sentence next Monday on the case. The case was argued by Massachusetts, who was recently convicted of attempted smuggling.

LAND SUITABLE FOR THE FINEST OF GLASS

Is in Unlimited Quantities Along the Athabasca River, Says J. L. Cote, M.P.P., Who Disparagingly States That He Has Been Damaged Concerning Athabasca Constituency.
That land suitable for the manufacture of the finest glass may be found in unlimited quantities in the district of Athabasca was the statement made to the Bulletin Friday by J. L. Cote, who represents Athabasca in the legislature.
Mr. Cote was speaking with reference to the request of the board of trade for information regarding the geological survey of the neighborhood of Edmonton. The member for Athabasca speaks, not only as one having an intimate knowledge of the resources of the country, but also as a mining engineer of long experience.
"Silicious sand of a quality suitable for the manufacture of the finest glass," said Mr. Cote, "has been found in three places in Athabasca, namely, at the mouth of the Athabasca river, along the Clearwater river, and also along the Athabasca river, north of Wainwright."
"Not only is the material found in unlimited quantities," he continued, "but it is easily accessible. It has been found in the sand of the surface. The deposit is estimated as of an average depth of 150 feet."
"Found in Tan Sand."
"This," he said, "is what is known as 'tan sand,' and the composition of it is such that it is suitable for the manufacture of the finest glass. It is one hundred thousand million tons of this tan sand in the districts named, and the bitumen which it contains alone represents a mine of wealth."
"It would be possible," said Mr. Cote, "to transport this material to the far sand in Athabasca that would pay a roadway from here to New York."
"Mrs. in Edmonton District."
Mr. Cote stated that in his opinion the land formation would suggest that it is unlikely that any considerable quantity of this material will be found in the vicinity of Edmonton.
"It crops up in the north," he said, "but dips toward the south, and if here at all would probably be several thousand feet below the surface."
"Remembering on the fact that one of the most valuable of the deposits was by placing before the people an accurate statement of the tremendous natural resources of the great north country."

PLEADED GUILTY TO ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

James Murray, Agent Resident of Leudue, Appeared in Supreme Court on Thursday, the 7th of July, and pleaded guilty to the charge of attempted suicide. He was committed to the hospital for treatment and sentence was reserved.
Stole $205 From Jap.
Charles Womler, a youth of 19, from Yorkton, a Japanese woman living in the north end of the city. Womler had been working on the grading outfit and the 29th July he had taken up a homestead in the Edmonton district, coming from North Dakota for that purpose. He said he had been compelled to abandon his homestead owing to its being too far out to reach it with supplies. H. H. Robertson entered a plea for leniency in view of the extreme youth of the prisoner. Womler was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at Fort Saskatchewan with hard labor.

ATTEMPTED TO ESCAPE

John Yek, a Poleander who attempted to break out of the Leudue jail after a month's imprisonment, and on the 29th of July, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at Fort Saskatchewan with hard labor.

The wreck occurred near Towle, Ala. The injured were brought to Birmingham. Conductor Murford states the train was running exactly at schedule when the wreck occurred. It was the detachment of the tender, following which all the cars left the track. Most of the injuries received were from slight cuts, caused by flying glass.

NATIONAL PARK KOOTENAY.

To Link American Reserve With Canadian National Park.

Victoria, June 3.—The establishment of a Provincial National Park in the Kootenay was strongly advocated yesterday before the Timber and Forestry Commission by G. H. Chapman, of the Geological Survey of Canada, who explained that the United States had established such on the Columbia border, beginning 1,300 miles east of the mountains and extending westward to the North Fork of the Flathead. What is desired is that British Columbia tie on to this park reserve at the boundary line and link the American park with the National Park of Canada, thus allowing the game a clear field under protection and protection in its northward and southward migrations.
The area proposed to be thus devoted to National Park purposes (the utilization of natural resources in which other than timber may be arranged) is about 200 square miles, while the Alberta Park area adjacent is considerably larger.

PROPOSE EXCURSION FOR BUSINESS MEN

Secretary Fisher of the Board of Trade Contemplates a Five-Day Trip Through the Western Territory to Edmonton—Proposal is Now Being Presented.
The Edmonton board of trade, following the example of the Winnipeg business men who made a very satisfactory excursion trip over the West several weeks ago, are contemplating a tour of the territory tributary to Edmonton, under the leadership of C. N. R. G. T. P., and Lacombe and Wetaskiwin branches of the C. P. R.
The idea is to promote a friendly feeling between these points and this city, permitting the heads of houses to get into personal touch with customers hitherto only called on by their traveling agents. The knowledge of Edmonton business men as to the territory in which they are doing business, possibly discovering new prospects of business, and generally to strengthen and develop the idea, in the tributary towns and villages that Edmonton is the point to which they should look as their commercial centre. It is the intention that any attempt will be made to see some of the territory.

Council Approves Idea.

This idea has been approved by the council of the board of trade, and the details will be worked out by the executive committee. The proposal meets with the approval and support of Edmonton shippers generally.
While the details have not yet been worked out, the idea is to arrange for a special train, consisting of sleepers and possibly a diner, which would stop for a short time at each of the size and importance of the place, at each point. The trip would occupy four or five days, and would probably cost in the neighborhood of $40 for each man participating. The exact time, schedule and expense involved would be worked out before the matter was finally closed.
To enable the question of the necessary accommodation to be settled, and to ascertain how the cost involved, it is necessary to know as accurately as possible just how many gentlemen would be interested in this excursion. With this end in view Secretary Fisher is now writing business men of the city setting out the plans and asking them to let him know their views as to how they regard the proposal.

BIG FIRE IN MONTREAL.

Damage to Fournier Establishment Estimated at $40,000.
Montreal, June 5.—A fire on Saturday caused damage, estimated at $40,000, to the premises occupied by J. E. Fournier, trunk manufacturer, at the corner of Notre Dame and St. Lawrence streets.
The Fournier establishment, where the fire broke out, was on the top floor, and this was badly damaged by the flames, while the lower stores suffered a good deal by water. The fire in the top story had gained considerable headway before the alarm was sounded, and the firemen had a busy time when the roof fell in. Fireman Lapointe being struck by a falling beam. He was removed to Notre Dame hospital with bad cuts on the head. The brigade was much bothered by the swarm of electric wires, and two men were caught by electric shocks, but not badly injured.

TORONTO RADIAL LINES.

Company Refuses to Construct Except on Merits of Old Charter.
Toronto, June 6.—Hopes that the electric railway would begin building two lines asked for by the railway and approved by the Ontario railway board, were shattered today by Manager Fleming, who said the company would not build unless the city accepts the company's contention that the railway board in giving the order do so on the merits of the old street railway agreement and not on the whittened act passed last session giving the railway board the right to prescribe the lines, which shall be built. Counsel Drayton, for the city, insists the company must recognize the validity of the Whitney act which the company holds as ultra vires.

MANY LIVES LOST

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN ITALY AGAIN VISITED BY DISASTROUS EARTHQUAKE.

Rome, June 7.—A violent earthquake in Central and Southern Italy has occurred. It is feared there has been heavy loss of life. A large part of Calabria has been destroyed. All the telegraph wires are down. The fate of many villages in the terror zone is unknown.
The earthquake is the worst since the destruction of Reggio and Messina. Hundreds are believed to be dead. Many towns have been destroyed. The seismic wave is reported to have swept the Gulf of Materonia on the Adriatic and graves fears are felt for Bari, a city of 18,000. The first reports said the earthquake was felt through the province of Basilicata, Campania and Calabria, in Sicily as well as in Apulia.

When the news was received at the Vatican the pope immediately retired to his private chapel to pray for the people in the affected districts. Both the king and queen are greatly affected by the disaster. Premier Lazzati has summoned all the resources of the government to ascertain the extent of the disaster and to take measures for relief.

The Valley of Aosta is the chief sufferers. Saint Angelo de Lombardi, with 7,000 population, and Conza, ten miles southeast, 1,600, are reported destroyed. The mountain of Conza is in ruins. Potenza, with 17,000, also suffered, as did Catona, 25,000, Rignano, 12,000 and Trinitapoli 10,000. It is feared that much territory in which 200,000 people live, has been affected. The unaffected parts of Italy are a panic. The crowds fear an earthquake and refuse to enter the churches. Troops have been ordered to the stricken districts, and have been placed under martial law. Smoke is arising from small hill-towns and hamlets ruined by the shocks and set afire. Weeks will probably elapse before the full extent of the loss is known. There were several shocks of increasing intensity, and it is feared the shocks that occupants of buildings were killed, as they fled from their homes, by falling walls.
The work of preparing relief for the earthquake sufferers on a wholesale scale was taken up this morning by the Red Cross, assisted by the queen. The most urgent need is for medical supplies and plans are being made for rushing forth more applicants than there is immediate use for, but fully equipped field hospital corps with nurses and surgeons were organized within a few hours. The army hospital service has been impressed and that branch of the king's forces is being concentrated here, orders bringing in all available men. Thousands of army tents have been prepared for shipment to the shaken provinces.
Tools for digging in the ruins, quick lime and cots made up the cargo of several cars which departed this afternoon. The immediate food supply of Rome has been drawn upon for supplies. There is little danger of shortage. All classes are giving freely to relief funds. About the subscription depot were enacted today many scenes of grief. The general impression of the public is that the disaster is on a scale with that of 1928 and the result is an excess of the usual fear that accompanies bad earthquakes in Italy.
King Goes to Stricken Zone.
King Victor Emmanuel today left for the earthquake zone in a special train in spite of the protests of his advisors. The king said, "My place is where I can do the most good." A heavy escort accompanied the king.

The Report at Naples.

Naples, June 7.—Naples today was shaken by a severe earthquake. The shocks continued on the coast to the south, including Salerno. The death toll will run into hundreds of thousands. Vesuvius is giving signs of eruption and panic prevails. Despatches from Avellino, twenty-eight miles east of here, report heavy damage in the surrounding country. Many villages in the Apennines are thought to have been destroyed or badly damaged.
Vote Million Dollars for Relief.
Rome, June 7.—The Italian parliament this afternoon voted $1,000,000 as a relief fund for the earthquake sufferers.

Fatally Struck by Pitched Ball.

San Francisco Cal., June 6.—Catcher Orendorf of the Los Angeles team of the Coast league, was struck on the head by a pitched ball during the morning game with Oakland on Sunday and was injured so badly that he may die.

MONDAY'S GRAIN MARKETS.

Winnipeg, June 8.—Wheat was decidedly stronger than has been for some time, one of the factors no doubt being that shorts are rather afraid to go any deeper just at present.

H. B. CO. MAY HAVE TO PAY STILL MORE TAXES

Instead of Reducing Assessment the Court of Revision Will Increase It. If Possible—Owners of Glenora Score Reduction in Assessment From $580,000 to $500,000.

Again last evening the commissioners sat as a court of revision to consider assessment appeals, but were once more obliged to adjourn without having finally disposed of the appeal of the Hudson's Bay Company.

NOT SO DESTRUCTIVE AS AT FIRST THOUGHT

Fire which Raged in Manitoba and Saskatchewan Two Weeks Ago Caused Loss of Less Than Half a Million, Greatest Damage in Mistamin District.

Winnipeg, June 8.—Capt. W. B. Sifton of Swan River Valley, government ranger, who is in the city, considered that the fire about May 27 were not really so destructive as at first reported.

THE ASSEMBLY FAVORS UNION

Presbyterian Body Adopts Church Union Proposal By Vote of 184 to 73.

Halifax, N. S., June 7.—All the commissioners from various parts of Canada and hundreds of Halifax people met in St. Matthew's Church this morning to hear the debate on Church Union before the general assembly when forenoon addresses in favor were delivered by Dr. Patrick of Winnipeg and Lieutenant-Governor Fraser, who presented the report of the union committee. The controlling idea was the need of united action in order to cope with vast demands of religious work in the newer districts of Western Canada. The report, after receiving the history of the movement since the invitation for negotiations was received from the Methodist Church in 1902, urged that union be the result of all Christian people, if not forbidden by conscience; that the benefits of union would be many; that union is required by the necessities of the work of the evangelization of the world; and that the present proposed union may be precursor of a still wider union. The assembly is, therefore, asked for its formal approval of a basis of union and to send documents to all Presbyteries who vote such vote to be reported to the assembly of 1911 and final action to be taken in 1912.

Unanimously. In seconding the adoption of the report, Lieutenant-Governor Fraser said he had seen in the far west unpopulated regions between Methodist and Presbyterian churches in small villages, but it was not necessary to leave Nova Scotia to witness that. During the present year, 400,000 people would enter Canada and they would bring no money with them. Principal McKay, of Vancouver, presented an amendment to the report and he was still speaking when the morning session terminated.

Final Vote in Favor. The final and decisive vote on the question was taken at the close of the afternoon session. Earlier in the day it had been arranged that at a fixed hour Dr. Patrick should be given thirty minutes for the closing address and he began to speak at five o'clock. The vote was taken shortly before six and resulted as follows: For union, 184; against, 73.

The vote does not indicate the feeling of the assembly on the question of union in itself. According to the findings of the Union committee, the report is to be sent this year to the Presbyterian Assembly for consideration and vote and next year to emigrate for consideration and vote. It was agreed that the assembly of 1911 might vote as against union without sending the matter down to the congregations.

This point was fought out in the afternoon with the utmost vigor and determination, and it is stated that of the 73 commissioners who voted against the adoption of the report, a considerable number are strong men who will be consulted this year, and their votes on the matter called for.

The meeting was full of excitement all through the afternoon and evening, culminating with the address of Dr. Patrick and the taking of the vote. The Winnipeg Free Press, which stated his exact and varied knowledge of the history of similar movements in the past. The various arguments adduced by Principal McKay, of Vancouver, and other opponents of union were dealt with and fully discussed.

University Question Debated. Halifax, June 6.—A debate of the warmest nature was precipitated in the General Assembly today, when the commission on Queen's University, named in the assembly of 1909, made their report. The popular interest in the discussion was shown by the fact that the attendance both of commissioners and the general public was larger than on any day of last week.

Rev. Dr. Lyje, moderator of the assembly of 1909, laid the report of the commission before the assembly. Rev. Dr. McLeod, of Barrie, at once asked whether the minority report ought to be submitted at that juncture. An attempt was apparently made by friends of separation to shut out this report on a technicality and half a dozen points of order were raised. Four or five speakers were on the platform at one time and the moderator spent a strenuous half-hour.

He finally decided to accept both reports and these were submitted. The first mention of church union was made at the assembly in this morning's session. Dr. Patrick, of Winnipeg, read the report of the union committee, which was in absolute accord with the cause of union. After giving some account of and stating clearly the various arguments for union, the report recommended that the statement be sent down to the Presbyteries for a vote, such a vote to be taken prior to May, 1911.

Principal McKay, on behalf of those opposed to union, secured permission to have the alternative plan printed. The business is so great that the assembly may be compelled to remain in session till the end of the week. The invitation from Knox Church, Toronto, for the assembly of 1911 was accepted, and it will meet there first Wednesday, August 19, 1911.

Visitors Occupy Pulpits. Halifax, N. S., June 6.—The pulpits of every evangelist church in the city were filled yesterday by members of the General assembly. The arrangements for these services were made by a local committee, which distributed the best known ministers of the church impartially among the various denominations. A considerable number of the members of the assembly went to points outside Halifax, and among these were many former residents of the province, who are now in ADDRESSMAN. Bulletin News Service. The baseball team, with a bunch of enthusiastic fans, journeyed to the city on Saturday afternoon to try conclusions with the famous Agricola ball players.

The game was played with excitement and though all the players did not make errors when given the opportunity, the need of practice was made abundantly clear on both teams. It seems to be fashionable to kick at the umpire's decisions.

There was a fair amount of kicking, each team had two bad innings, but after the fourth the boys seemed to steady down and the play was really brilliant in spots. A fair-sized crowd of spectators were present, but we fear larger numbers will turn out to future contests between these teams. The players were: Andrews—T. Sword 1b and p. C. Vance if. C. When Mayor Berger says the final foe of Socialism will be the Roman Catholic Church he speaks well," said Dr. Brant, "but what does that matter. Before the Socialists have won over every man who owns a bit of land the time will be so distant that it is not worth bothering with. Socialism having nothing will be against private property rights, yet if I have one ten acres of land do you suppose he would divide it with his fellows? No, he would immediately cease to be a Socialist.

NEWSPAPERS GO TO OTTAWA

To Appear Before Railway Commissioners on Telegraph Rates. Winnipeg, June 4.—A number of western daily newspaper publishers are in the city today and will leave this evening on the Imperial Limited for Ottawa, together with representatives of the Winnipeg daily papers, to attend a meeting of the Board of Railway Commissioners on Tuesday next. The board will then consider what is hoped will prove the final stage of the now historic case of the Western Associated Press against the telegraph companies, in which the applicant, representing practically every daily newspaper between Port Arthur and the mountains, besides several on the coast, seeks to obtain fair press rates for delivering its news services to its clients.

The board's monthly ago prohibited the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraph from further discrimination against clients of the Western Associated Press and in favor of papers taking the railway company's news service, and an effort has since been made under the direction of the board, to arrive at a schedule to which all the publishers and telegraph companies. For this purpose the telegraph companies have been given two opportunities to file schedules, but on each occasion the schedules filed have been of such a character as to be unacceptable to the board and an object of derision by the publishers.

Finally, at the sitting of the board here last month, the western publishers, through the Western Associated Press, filed a schedule of their own, which they claim is scientific and fair to all parties. It is to consider any objections by the telegraph companies and also, it is hoped, to finally settle the question that the Board of Railway Commissioners will hear the interested parties next Tuesday.

Among those who will leave this evening are E. H. Mackin and J. W. Dufour, of the Manitoba Free Press; W. E. Kerr, of the Regina Leader; J. Woods, of the Calgary Herald; C. F. Hayes, of the Edmonton Bulletin, and B. H. Hill, of the Vancouver World.

NO PRAYERS SAID AT LATE KING'S DEATH

Would Give No Time to Religious Exercises—Every Conscious Moment Devoted to Settlement of Worldly Affairs—Reported to Have Left Two Wills.

London, June 5.—There has been a dissonance in religious circles as to the attitude of King Edward on his death-bed towards religion. It is learned from authority that so long as he was conscious the King would give no time to religious ministrations. When he realized that death was near he dictated messages to friends, and had a long talk with the Prince of Wales. Queen Alexandra brought in an intimate friend, who, it has been rumored, was Father Vaughan. This, however, is not a fact. It is a fact that not a single prayer was said for the King's soul while he was conscious, the dying monarch using every conscious minute to settle his worldly affairs.

ASKING AUTHORITY.

On assuming the direction of a department of government, a minister is required to seek the endorsement of the electors as to his choice. If a member of the legislative body, he must seek re-election. If not a member, he must become one.

It is well that the ministers are appealing for approval by the electors at early dates. When they come into office under altogether unusual circumstances, and circumstances which make it more than usually proper that they should seek early endorsement at the polls.

THE HUDSON'S BAY RESERVE. It is not often that civic authorities have to complain because property-owners have too great faith in the future of the city. That is substantially the point of difference between the commissioners. Not that the commissioners are the only ones who hold Hudson's Bay company and the city views contrary to the policy of the company in respect of their real estate holdings.

The commissioners recommend that the strip between the street car rails be left unimproved. It would certainly be better that way than in its present condition. The paving now remaining between the rails is more of an eyesore than a thing of beauty.

An Englishman flew across the channel and returned without alighting. Preachers of England's decadence will have to find a new text, his somewhat notable accomplishments on land and sea. John has added that of leading the world in the navigation of the atmosphere.

A forest reserve has been set aside in Alberta equal to two-thirds of the Province of Nova Scotia. Yet it does not infringe on the agricultural area of the Province. It is situated on the eastern slope of the mountains. Alberta is a somewhat large piece of the earth.

extensions would have been less the services would have been available to the householders sooner and cheaper. A scattered city is necessarily an expensive city to supply with services.

LEAVE IT ALONE. Perhaps it would be as well for Canadians to leave the people of the Old Lands to settle the question of this King's oath among themselves. We are far enough removed, geographically and constitutionally, to pull along as usual whether the offending clauses are retained or expunged.

PAUPER IMMIGRATION AND CANADA. Toronto Globe.—The question of pauper immigration has two sides. The British side makes appeal to Canadian sympathy. No one who has come into touch with the problem of the out-of-works in the cities of Britain, its magnitude, its discouragement, its haunting appeal, can but wonder that organized benevolent efforts are being made to transport the least hopeful to the overseas dominions of the empire.

DAULAC. Montreal Witness.—Montreal has honored herself by commemorating the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the heroic death of Daulac Ormeaux, called also Daulac. The great story has been told and retold in prose and verse, but never loses its freshness for the common heart of mankind.

ANGLICANS LOOK FOR CHURCH UNION

Two Prominent Church of England Clergymen Address Presbyterian General Assembly

Halifax, N.S., June 5.—His worship Mayor Chisholm, of Halifax, addressed the General Assembly at the morning session yesterday and welcomed the delegates to the city.

Chisholm, who is a member of the Roman Catholic faith, paid a high tribute to the unselfish devotion of the Presbyterian ministers of Halifax with all of whom he enjoyed a personal acquaintance.

He congratulated the assembly on the elevation to the chair of the moderator of Principal Forrest, one of the prominent citizens of Halifax.

His eleven o'clock Bishop Worrall and Archdeacon Armitage, of the Church of England, appeared. Addresses were delivered by both these gentlemen, and reference made to the growing desire for the union of the great religious bodies of the Dominion.

Worrall stated that there were various elements of the work of the Presbyterian church on which the Church of England looked with admiration. The factor, which served to separate the churches, was an interpretation of terms, a point of view, and he trusted that the course of a few years there would be realized the hope of all true christian people of international brotherhood in Jesus Christ.

Close Relationship of Churches. Archdeacon Armitage referred to the close relation between the historic church of Scotland and the Church of England, and mentioned the names of the distinguished members of the Presbyterian church in all lands who had made very large contributions to christian scholarship.

Dr. Daniel M. Gordon, Queen's College, Kingston, and Dr. Lyle, moderator last year, replied to the address of the visitors.

The routine work of the assembly was the reading of the report of the church in the Sunday Schools and Young Peoples' societies. Rev. Dr. Alex. Macdillivray, of Toronto, presented the report of the Sunday School committee making an excellent address. All of the sections of the assembly held their sessions on Saturday afternoon were called off owing to the damp weather. Many Westerners preached in the churches today.

Minister Evangelists. The church has in its service in the West a number of workers known as minister evangelists. All of these men are graduates of the university where they have taken courses of instruction which are shorter than the regular course, and which are given at a cost of $250.

In the School of Mining all departments of engineering work are taught, including civil, electrical, hydraulic, chemical, etc., and the men trained in this school have done such excellent work that the school has a reputation second to none in our country. It must be noted that the medical department also ranks very high.

In the School of Medicine the American Medical Association, as well as the Carnegie foundation, Queen's was placed in the front rank of the medical colleges along with McGill, Toronto and Manitoba.

Correspondence Courses. "You have an arrangement by which some students take part of their course by correspondence, have you not?"

"Yes, these we call extra-mural students, as distinguished from those in attendance. It is necessary now for all students proceeding to a degree to attend at least one session, and for those taking teachers' special certificates to attend two sessions.

The university aims, however, at giving these extra-mural students a training as nearly as possible equal to that of those in attendance. Of course, nothing can quite make up for the lack of personal intercourse of a student with his instructors and fellow students, but some are so situated that unless they can acquire a university education elsewhere, they are barred from it entirely.

The arrangement of our courses at Queen's makes it possible for students to be arranged not in years but in subjects, and the student gets credit for all the subjects he has completed in a full year's work. In this way many of our public school teachers have been able to spread their college course over more than four years, and by obtaining a degree have become qualified for high school and college teaching.

Regular instruction is given by correspondence; lecture notes are furnished to the students, and exercises are regularly sent in, duly corrected and criticized, and returned, and the same terminal examinations as the student in attendance. This extra-mural system is confined to the art classes. During the past year there has been 433 students taking their work extra-murally, many of whom may be one, two or three years in attendance. Of these, 102 were women out of a total of 222.

Post-Graduate Work. "During the past year we have had 25 students doing post-graduate work, as the men who pursue their course of study beyond graduation and obtain distinction in special departments often spend several years on a long matter. Queen's, you know, has long been celebrated for philosophy."

Dr. Watson, is the most eminent teacher of philosophy in Canada. His outstanding ability for having been recently recognized by the University of Glasgow selecting him as Gifford lecturer for this year. Under him and other members of our faculty the honors and post-graduate courses are kept at a high level, far as I know, Queen's is the only university in Canada where Plato and with his strong optimism might have expected. In the session of 1899-1900 there were 600 registered students; in 1909-10 the total enrollment was over 1,400. No doubt within this period there has been a large increase in general throughout Canada in the number of university students, but Queen's seems to have had an unusual share of this increase.

"How many of these are art students?"

"Upwards of nine hundred, or more than sixty per cent. of the whole student body, and an increasing number of them are taking the course in arts before proceeding to the course in medicine or engineering. Indeed, it has always been one feature of the life of Queen's, and probably one secret of her power, that she has maintained what may be called the ideal of education, and has emphasized the importance of a liberal education, rather than a mere technical or professional training.

During the greater part of her history Queen's had only two faculties of arts and theology. With her growth she added a faculty of medicine through arrangement with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. Next she secured what is practically a faculty of applied sciences through the affiliation of the School of Mining and Engineering, and three years ago, by the generous action of the legislature, there was instituted the faculty of education for the training of teachers. There are in arts, 943; in science, 25; in medicine, 315; in practical science, 310; in education, 43; making allowance for some registered in two faculties a total of 1,517. They hail from all parts of Canada, from Cape Breton to the Yukon, a fair proportion coming from the western provinces, although, of course, the large majority are from Ontario."

Does the Ontario government give Queen's any assistance?"

"Not directly, because at present, as during all its past history, the university has been connected with the Presbyterian Church, and although not denominational in spirit, nor properly speaking under denominational control, yet as the members of the Presbyterian Church form the corporation of the university, and as the greater part of the work of the university is Presbyterian, Queen's is regarded in the eye of the legislature as a denominational college, and therefore precluded from government assistance."

Indirectly, however, Queen's is greatly benefited by the aid given by the provincial government to the School of Mining, which, though controlled by a separate board of government, is closely affiliated to the university. The government has also assisted the medical faculty by providing medical laboratories at a cost of $50,000, and has been given a grant of $30,000 a year, recently increased to $12,000 in support of the faculty of education.

In the School of Mining all departments of engineering work are taught, including civil, electrical, hydraulic, chemical, etc., and the men trained in this school have done such excellent work that the school has a reputation second to none in our country. "Yes, but the connection is not at all artificial, King and Hegel, are studied in the original Greek and German."

"How do you manage to cultivate such a strong Queen's spirit in your students?"

"I don't know to what all influences the 'Queen's spirit' is to be ascribed, but it is certainly there. I have never known any university characterized by such a splendid loyalty and enthusiasm on the part of its students, and this is a great asset in the welfare and progress of the university. Something perhaps is due to the fact that as Kingston is a comparatively small city the university looks largely into the life of the community, is, indeed, the most important factor in it. There are few outside attractions or distractions. Much of the social life of the students is within the college halls, and a large liberty is allowed for at homes and other gatherings. Besides, our students are practically self-governing. Through their own societies—a separate society for each faculty, and the Alma Mater society embracing the entire student body—they manage all matters of discipline and the discipline is, in fact, rigidly and effectively carried out, not only in many colleges where it is enforced by the senate or other college authorities."

Fine Student Spirit. "Not only so, but the students feel that they are a part of the university, and have a sort of proprietary share in it. Few of them are wealthy, many of them are working their own way through college; and yet generous after graduation they have taken up some work for the permanent good of the university. They built Grant Hall, the noble building for this purpose, principal; they built the gymnasium, so far as I know the finest university gymnasium in Canada, year after year they are undertaking some effort for the permanent welfare of their Alma Mater. They enjoy on the one hand the freedom of a liberal education, and on the other hand the restraining, guiding, influence of their own fellows, and these furnish a wholesome training for their later life's serious work. When they leave the familiar halls they carry with them a permanent appreciation of what their college life has done for them. They retain the self-government as well as the enthusiasm of their student days, and are ready to take part in the national life and progress, and are thus a standing witness of what the country owes to Queen's."

Queen's has always been connected with the Presbyterian Church, has it not?"

"Always connected with the church, but the connection has not always been the same. Queen's was founded in 1827 by Scottish Presbyterians because Kings called it a college, and it became the University of Toronto, was at that time narrowly denominational, applying religious tests to the admission of students as to professors. The Scottish founders of Queen's could think of no better model for the new college than Edinburgh university, and it was necessary to place it under the care of some responsible body, they engaged the Edinburgh university to do so. The Presbyterian church of that day became sponsor for it. The trustees were to be members of that church, twelve clergymen and fifteen laymen, the ministers being appointed by the synod. Collections were appointed in the front rank of the medical colleges along with McGill, Toronto and Manitoba."

Correspondence Courses. "You have an arrangement by which some students take part of their course by correspondence, have you not?"

"Yes, these we call extra-mural students, as distinguished from those in attendance. It is necessary now for all students proceeding to a degree to attend at least one session, and for those taking teachers' special certificates to attend two sessions.

Queen's in the eye of the legislature as a denominational institution under church control."

Union Not Closer. "But did not the university enter into closer union with the church at the Vancouver assembly in 1903?"

"No. The university simply agreed at that assembly to maintain existing relations on condition of adequate maintenance. For three years the church had been considering proposals to have the university released from any appearance of denominational control. Queen's had become truly national in spirit, in aim and in the nature of its work, and it was thought well to have its constitution as non-denominational as its spirit. So a committee of the assembly had, after several conferences with the board of trustees, reported to the assembly constitutional changes intended to provide for the university's independence, just about to be adopted by the assembly at Vancouver when the movement was checked, and it was resolved to ask the university to reconsider the existing relations, the church being expected to guarantee the adequate maintenance of the university. This led to the canvas for half a million dollars of additional endowment for the university."

What has been the result of this canvas?"

"It was carried out with a good deal of vigor, although not with as rapid success, as has been hoped for, but while it was still in progress the financial aid was recommended by the trustees, and the university was seriously affected by the progress of the canvas. It was affected, too, very greatly by a revival of desire, for changes in the constitution, which was expressed in the assembly at Winnipeg in 1908, and has since then been steadily increasing. The canvas, however, has reached the sum of $400,000 in subscriptions, of which more than half has been paid, and the Carnegie trust has given $100,000 as soon as the entire $400,000 are paid."

How has the constitutional change now worked for?"

"It has chiefly three points: (1) The trustees of the corporation instead of consisting of the members of the entire Presbyterian church shall consist of the trustees, the professor, the rector, the principal, and two laymen. (2) It is proposed that the board of trustees shall consist of the chairman of the board of trustees, the minister of education for the province of Ontario, an assessor appointed by the minister of education, two members appointed by the corporation of the city of Kingston, one member from each affiliated college, six members to be elected by the trustees, and six members to be elected by the graduates. They left Tuesday p.m. on a continuation of their trip to the coast and will return to Edmonton about June 15th.

To the Bulletin Tuesday Mr. Bullen said he would prefer not giving an interview until his return from the coast. He, however, expressed himself as delighted with what he had seen of Western Canada on his first trip over the prairie. He spent three days in Winnipeg and also visited Saskatoon, Prince Albert and other towns. He will remain several days in Edmonton on his return from the coast. Mr. Bullen is engaged at present in writing a story having special reference to life along the Canadian North-West. He is also contributing a series of articles to the London Daily Express.

THE RIFLE RANGE. Saturday being fine there was a good turnout at the range, but as the additional targets were not ready for use, work having had to be discontinued on account of the recent rains, it was nearly eight p.m. before the three ranges were completed. A couple of days will be required to complete the work and four targets will be available by the middle of the week.

Owing to the action of the sun on the damp ground there was considerable mirage at the 300 yards and a wind varying from one to three degrees in force, kept the marksmen on their alert, the mirage affecting the elevation considerably. Messrs. Holden, Regan, Stewart, Balfour and Bowen used the new Ross rifle with good results, the latter experimenting with this rifle, and Mr. McListre used a new Lee-Enfield with good results for the first time, doing very well.

Co. Sergt. Hodson, who had put on a century on Saturday, beat this score by a point, putting on 101, and is to be congratulated on having struck his bag he being a South African marksman with a good record.
