WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 26, 1883.

NOTICE AND ATLANTIC RAILWAY.

The Chronicle says:—

Among the arrivals in town are Mr. T. G. Stearns, President of the New Brunswick and Atlantic Railway Company, Mr. E. W. Wade, of the same company, and Mr. W. Bedford, who has been for some years connected with the enterprise. The presence of these gentlemen is understood to indicate that the company are preparing to commence operations and claim the subsidy promised by the legislation of the last session.

The papers, in a manner, our information in reference to the bonds to be correct, and we may also say that we have other information from a gentleman who has no interest in subverting the most remote way, in connection with the matter, but who is in a position to become acquainted with the facts that there is now a more reasonable prospect of the road going forward, than has existed for two or three years. What particular news are in possession of are a private nature, and communicated to us as such, therefore, we cannot of course make them public; but we think it would be worth while to have had our own hopes to our long suffering friends in the western part of the County who have had much to bear in the past in connection with the road.

The past history of the N. E. N. & A. R. R. has been one of trials, false hopes, disappointments, and severe loss, which we confess had greatly shaken our belief that the scheme of uniting Lunenburg and Annapolis with the glittering lines of metal, over which the iron horse annihilates space, would become a reality within reasonable time. Now, however, the silver lining has appeared, and while we admit that the people of Lunenburg have a just right to the future movements of the company, we yet we trust every encouragement consistent with reason will be forthcoming.

One of the first, and most important, steps in the history of the road, was the election of a Board of Directors, which was done, a large sum will be required, and it may be presumed as an undoubted evidence of the good intentions of the Company, that we shall be able to meet our obligations.

The following clipping from an exchange, in reference to the assessment question, will be of interest to rate payers:—

Vermont's experiment with a new system of taxation has produced an entire success. Under the old and loose rule rate was assessed at only two-thirds of its real value, and personal property almost entirely escaped taxation. In 1880 a law was passed which required every owner of real estate to file a return of its value, and real estate is assessed at its actual value. The result has been a large sum of money, and the value of real estate has risen from $71,114,747 in 1880 to $104,549,074 this year, and the value of personal property from $15,037,252 to $49,585,810. Many of the richer men protesting against the new law, in addition to his regular business of general merchant, was appointed justice of the peace, and his year was closed Municipal Councilor of Ward No. 1. He was highly esteemed for his many excellent qualities, and was in the prime of his life, when he suddenly called away, and apparently in the best of health. He is universally deplored by a large circle of friends and acquaintances, and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved widow and orphans.

The owner of Jay Eye See has reduced his charge at the Provincial Synod at Montreal, last although the union of the Roman Catholic, Wesleyan, Baptist, Presbyterian and Church of England bodies is not immediately practicable, it is not impossible. The New Brunswick Reporter says:—

However this may be, it appears to us, union would be more likely consummated were the clergy of these bodies to intermingle more freely and cultivate a more christian and brotherly spirit in the very day of their life, an example for their several flocks to follow and emulate. This would make union, in the end, more easy to consummate.

Another name has been erased from the roll of living journalists, that of Mr. David R. Main, editor of the St. Croix Courier, of St. Stephen, N. B., who died on the 10th inst. Mr. Main was a provincial born, but resided in a direct line from Sir William Alexander, Earl of Stirling, to whom was granted in 1621 all the lands now comprising the province of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, at a time Mr. Main was engaged in mercantile pursuits in St. John; later in teaching in the Education College, and in 1863 he entered the field of journalism as a reporter, and finally founded the St. Croix Courier in 1865, which he conducted with an energy and success that has given it a place among the foremost journals of the day, and his death is sincerely regretted.

The Lunenburg Times says that operations in coal at New Germany have for the present been suspended, the proprietors having decided to warrant the expenditure.

Partridges are so plentiful about Bridgewater that they enter drawing rooms, upset flower pots and frighten ladies.

The Steamer Express will make daily trips from St. John to Digby and Lunenburg from 1st to 31st of October inclusive.

The fourth son of the two hundred millionaire, W. H. Vanderbilt, is about to enter the ranks of the newspaper profession. He will commence his career as a police reporter. Welcome, young and honest to you.

Mr. E. Langley's "ch. of Honor" is showing well in all the trotting matches he has lately been engaged in. At the Pointe-au-Loup 19th inst., he took second money, ($100), in the 238 race.

The first anniversary of the Sons of Temperance, falling on the 29th of September, instant, it has been recommended by the National Division that suitable merrymaking be observed by subordinates, and that collections be taken up for the benefit of the National Division Propagation Fund.

Mr. G. W. Kent, pastor of the Church of the Redeemer (Universalist) Halifax, was in town on Monday last. The Rev. gentleman is a patron of the bicycle, and brought his wheel with him, which is of a different style from those seen here as yet—the small wheel being in front.

Mr. Frank Hill, referred to in our last, suffered a fall from his bicycle on the last week. He was running at full speed, came into collision with a log, and was thrown some ten feet, landing on his face, striking his head considerably and rendering a liberal dressing of his forehead and nose with court plaster necessary.

Over forty-six tons of blueberries were shipped from Yarmouth this season, amounting in value to upwards of five thousand dollars.

The following additional entries for the Dominion Exhibition have been made since our last issue, from Annapolis and Kings Counties:—

W. Starr, Port Williams, K. C. Grain, roots, fruit, and vegetables, and other articles.

G. B. Robinson, Annapolis, Crochet work in wool.

From the Lawrence (Mass.) American, we clip the following:—

The father and mother of Mr. B. W. W. were visiting their son here. The former is 74 years of age and the latter is 76. They are living at Torkeo, Annapolis County, Nova Scotia, with three miles last Monday, and the mother died at 11 o'clock, road in a railroad car on a steamboat, through a river, and was seen with slight of her son. She is very vigorous for her years, and during her stay here has been much interested in the mill and public buildings.

Mr. W. V. W. is the only one of the family who has been living away from home for some time. His parents will continue their visit here some time longer.

Mr. W. W. W. has received a copy of the Littlefield (Ill.) Monitor, which contains a list of all journals bearing the name of Monitor in the United States and in the Dominion of Canada. The whole number comprises 46 of the four are published in the Dominion, viz:—

—The "Irish Times" says: "It is certain the police had a warning of an attempt to rescue O'Donnell from the 'Fortune Hope,' composed of Fenians of London, Liverpool and Manchester, who were in the city on the 24th inst. Lord Louth of the English peerage and a Mr. Tracy of Buffalo, recently had a drinking party to see which could stand the most of the 'Irish Times' key cocktails. Tracy weakened after 44, while Lord Louth drank 43—and the object of the party was to see who could stand the most of the 'Irish Times' key cocktails. At the close, the contestants dined together and drank a toast to the bottles of champagne, and one bottle of sherry. It is said that Tracy was as near to being taken to the hospital as anything that does."
