FINAL DRAFT OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO BE PRESENTED TODAY TO PLenary SESSION OF PEACE CONFERENCE TODAY

ORLANDO ACCLAIMED BY ROME POPULACE ADDRESS CHEERED

Greeted With Cries of "Long Live America, Down With Wilson"—A Critical Hour—Little Food, But Italy, Which Has Known Hunger, Has Never Known Dishonor.

Rome, April 27.—Vittorio Orlando, the Italian premier, arrived in Rome yesterday morning from Paris.
Rome was befogged in greeting to the returning premier. The offices and shops were closed and the members of some 200 associations, clubs and patriotic leagues, bearing banners with the legend, "Italy, Fiume, Dalmatia," went to the railway station or lined themselves along the thoroughfares which Premier Orlando would have to pass on his way from the station to the ministry of the interior. All the cabinet ministers in Rome, high officials of state, the prefects, Prince Colonna, the mayor of Rome and 300 senators and deputies gathered in the station to receive the prime minister.
Banners were displayed bearing the inscription, "Fiume, Dalmatia or Death." Airplanes hovered above, among them a gigantic bombing machine.
The premier, addressing the crowd which greeted him, said:
"It is not time for fine language. In the face of the world, which is judging us, we must have firmness and a calm, serene conscience.
"There are two questions. The first is whether the government and the Italian delegates have faithfully interpreted the thoughts and will of the Italian people."
The response was thunderous shouts of "yes."
"I never doubted it," continued the premier, "for I know the soul of my people, but confirmation was re-

FRENCH POLICY NOT A SCRAP OF PAPER

Engagements Between France and Italy Will Be Honored, Says Clemenceau in Message.

Rome, April 27.—Engagements between France and Italy will be honored, according to a telegram received tonight by Prof. Luigi Luzzatti, former premier and minister of the interior, from Premier Clemenceau of France, to whom Prof. Luzzatti sent an appeal this morning.
The French premier's telegram follows:
"You cannot doubt, my dear illustrious friend, that I am animated by the same sentiments toward Italy as are yours toward France, for we have esteemed it an honor to manifest them in darker days. At the hour of signing peace, there can be no question of disregarding our reciprocal engagements. French policy is not a scrap of paper."
"You, sincere and devoted friend,"
"CLEMENCEAU."

JAIL MATRON AND GUARD SUSPENDED

Granted Reporter Interview With Vera Lavell Against Regulations.

Guard Charles H. Spanton and Miss Tannie Soady, head matron of Toronto Jail, have been temporarily discharged pending the investigation by the authorities of the allowing of a reporter to interview Vera de Lavell, the principal police witness in the escape from the death cell of Frank McCallough. The story of an interview with Vera de Lavell proved a breach of the prison rules, and when the interview appeared in the press Saturday William W. Dunlop, inspector of prisons, matrons and charities, ordered Sheriff F. Mowat of the jail to suspend the parties on duty at the jail when the report was made. The World last night that an investigation of the affair would be held this week, but up until Sunday night the date of the hearing had not been set. Both the guards and the officials refused to discuss the case at all.
Inspector Dunlop when seen at his home last night by the World reporter said that he would not divulge any information at present. When pressed as to whether or not Guard Spanton and Miss Soady, who had been temporarily dismissed, had been temporarily dismissed he replied: "The provincial prisons act states that no person shall interview prisoners in custody for the publication of a story."
Police Surprised.
The temporary discharge of the two employees was the subject of much discussion in police circles over the week-end. The police were surprised when they learned that a prisoner on remand had been interviewed while in custody. Immediately on hearing of the affair Mr. Dunlop issued instructions to Sheriff Mowat of the Toronto Jail, and Inspector Spanton and Miss Soady Saturday night. They did not report for duty Sunday, but will be notified if they are to attend the hearing.
Miss Soady has been a police matron for over 15 years. Up until Saturday night she was head matron in the women's section of the jail. Recently she has been on duty at the women's jail farm. Guard Spanton has been on duty at the Don institution for the past 14 years. When seen at his home, 604 East Gerrard street, last night, he would not discuss his case at length. He admitted that he had been suspended from duty Saturday night. During the past year Spanton had been badly beaten by prisoners attempting to escape from custody.
Knew Him Personally.
On Friday afternoon when the reporter entered the jail Spanton was guarding the door at the main entrance. He said that he knew the reporter personally, and when he entered he asked if he could speak to Miss Soady. It has been customary, according to Spanton, for the attendants to allow persons to converse with officials without producing a pass or giving an explanation of their mission. Spanton rang the bell and Miss Soady appeared in the corridor. He then released the door leading to the female prisoners' compartment, and after doing this, deputies having seen the reporter.
Miss Soady is alleged to have allowed the reporter to interview Vera de Lavell. Whether or not she took the newspaper man right to the cell or brought the Lavell woman into the waiting room could not be learned yesterday.
Spanton in answer to a question if he had seen the reporter leave the premises after the interview said: "He had other jail duties to perform and was not around to unlock the door to allow the scribe to leave at the conclusion of the talk with Vera de Lavell."

TO APPLY CLOSURE IN FEDERAL HOUSE

Unionists Will Take Means to Ensure Passage of C.N.R. Co. Bill.

Ottawa, April 26.—The application of the closure rule in the commons on Monday to ensure the passage of the bill to incorporate the Canadian National Railways Company limits speeches on any one clause, or amendments thereto, to 20 minutes. As there are a considerable number of clauses not yet disposed of, and, in addition, two schedules and the preamble, the group of opposition members who have been fighting this bill will probably be able to keep it from being reported until 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, when the discussion actually ceases. The expectation in the corridors of parliament tonight is that the chief fight will again occur on clause 20, which renews the charters of 44 C. N. R. lines in western Canada. The government contention is that these renewals are necessary, while the opposition maintains that instead of a blanket renewal of all the lines, each one should be dealt with separately, and on its merits.

ALL EYES OF CONFERENCE ARE TURNED TOWARDS ROME

Situation in Italy Declared Officially To Be Tense—Britain and France Said To Be Standing Square Behind President Wilson.

Paris, April 27.—Yesterday was one of the most anxious days of the peace conference, with all eyes turned toward Rome.
While work proceeded on the final details of the treaty before the meeting with the German delegates at Versailles, yet the absorbing topic was the Italian situation, and the effect it had in store for the peace conference. Brief information from official quarters during the day showed the situation at Rome to be very tense. High. The departure of Baron Sonnino and Signor Salandra at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon took the last of Italy's plenipotentiaries from the scene of the negotiations, leaving only subordinates, without power of action.
President Wilson joined the American delegation at the Hotel Des Crillon at 2 o'clock for a conference, and then returned to his residence for a renewal of the council with Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George. It was stated after the American meeting that the discussion was on the details of the treaty, and that the Italian matter only came up incidentally, as no detailed reports had been received from the American embassy at Rome, and there was no change in the general attitude on the Italian issue.
Experts who attended the meeting of the council on Friday said that the members looked "completely worn out," but the president today showed no outward evidence of this strain.
Standing With Wilson.
All indications point to the fact that Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau are standing squarely with the president on the Italian issue, thus presenting a united front of the principal great powers. Further written statements have thus far been withheld, in order not to inflame Italian sentiment further. But friends of the president took steps today to relieve him from being the sole party to bear the burden, and this may

WEATHER REPORTS NOT FORTHOUGHING

For Four Days No Word Received in Newfoundland and Flight Delayed.

St. John's, Nfld., April 27.—Lack of weather reports from mid-ocean brought postponement again today of the start of the trans-Atlantic flight of Harry G. Hawker, Australian aviator, and Capt. Frederick P. Raynham, his British rival, although local conditions were the best for many weeks. For four days no word has been received from far at sea on wind and weather. Without this information both pilots have agreed not to hazard a start, although a 30-mile westerly wind has dried out both "taking off" grounds and driven the fog which has been hovering in-shore far out to sea.

5,000 AUSTRALIANS PARADE IN LONDON

Buildings Specially Decorated With Scrolls Recording Various Sections.

London, April 27.—Five thousand Australian troops, under command of Lieut.-Gen. Sir John Monash, celebrated Anzac Day on Saturday by a march thru the main thoroughfares of the west-end of the city.
The King took the salute outside Australia House, the commonwealth's imposing administrative headquarters in the Strand. The buildings was specially decorated for the occasion, with numerous scrolls recording the actions in which Australians had gloriously participated. Occupying places in the windows were many wounded Anzacs, who heartily cheered their marching comrades. A squadron of large airplanes escorted the troops, who were subsequently entertained while in custody. Immediately on hearing of the affair Mr. Dunlop issued instructions to Sheriff Mowat of the Toronto Jail, and Inspector Spanton and Miss Soady Saturday night. They did not report for duty Sunday, but will be notified if they are to attend the hearing.
Miss Soady has been a police matron for over 15 years. Up until Saturday night she was head matron in the women's section of the jail. Recently she has been on duty at the women's jail farm. ### WEATHER REPORTS CONFLICT.

London, April 27.—The Daily Mail says that a question which is engaging attention is just now is the source of the unfavorable weather reports that are being sent to the station in Newfoundland at a time when, according to the information of the air ministry, the weather is most favorable. Indeed the conditions during one special 24 hours were excellent almost beyond precedent. There is a hint that the official weather reports may have been interfered with in transmission, and the suggestion is offered that these reports be communicated to the airmen henceforth by special code.

THE SITUATION IN EUROPE

The Associated Press issues the following:
Monday is to see the commencement of the final action on the covenant of the league of nations. This will probably be the outstanding feature of the peace conference during the early days of the week. There are French, Japanese and Belgian amendments, already passed upon, to be reconsidered in part and adjusted, but it is reported in Paris advices that progress in this direction has already been made.
Sunday passed quietly in peace conference circles in Paris. No meetings were held by the members of the council of three, in an endeavor to disentangle the situation arising from the controversy over Italy's claims to Fiume and the Dalmatian coast.
All the main Italian delegates to the peace conference, headed by Premier Orlando and Baron Sonnino, the foreign minister, either are in Rome, where the premier shortly is to appear before the chamber of deputies to acquaint that body with the situation in Paris, or are on their way thither.
There has been little change in the situation in Paris, and all attention there is focused on Rome, and what

Text of the Covenant.
Washington, April 27.—The state department made public tonight the text of the revised covenant of the league of nations, which it will be presented tomorrow to the plenary session of the peace conference at Paris. The text follows, with paleontological insertions, showing changes made in the covenant as originally drafted and made public.
Covenant of League.
In order to promote international co-operation, in order to achieve international peace and security, by the acceptance of obligations not to resort to war, by the prescription of open, just and honorable relations between nations, by the firm establishment of the understandings of international law as the rule of conduct among governments, and by the maintenance of justice and a scrupulous respect for all treaty obligations in the dealings of organized peoples one with another, the high contracting parties agree to this covenant of the league of nations.
(In the original preamble the last sentence read, "Adopt this constitution," instead of "Agree to this covenant.")
Article One.
The original members of the league of nations shall be those of the signatories which are named in the annex of this covenant and also such of those other states named in this annex as shall accede without reservation to this covenant. Such accessions shall be effected by a declaration deposited with the secretariat within two months of the coming into force of the covenant. Notice thereof shall be sent to all other members of the league.
Any fully self-governing state, dominion or colony not named in the annex may become a member of the league if its admission is agreed to by two-thirds of the assembly. It provides more specifically effective guarantees of its sincere intention to observe its international obligations and shall accept such regulations as may be prescribed by the league in regard to its military and naval forces and armaments.
Any member of the league may at three years' notice of its intention, so to do withdraw from the league, provided that all its international obligations and all its obligations under this covenant shall be fulfilled at the time of its withdrawal.
(This article is new, embodying the alterations and additions of the old article. Originally this was part of article one. It gives the name assembly to the gathering of representatives of the members of the league, formerly referred to merely as "the body of delegates.")
Article Two.
The action of the league under this covenant shall be effected through the instrumentality of an assembly and a secretariat, with a permanent secretariat.
(Originally this was part of article one. It gives the name assembly to the gathering of representatives of the members of the league, formerly referred to merely as "the body of delegates.")
Article Three.

The assembly shall meet at stated intervals and from time to time as occasion may require, at the seat of the league, or at such other place as may be decided upon.
The assembly may deal at its meetings with any matter within the sphere of action of the league or affecting the peace of the world.
At meetings of the assembly, each member of the league shall have one vote, and may have not more than three representatives.
(This embodies parts of the original article one, two and three, with only minor changes. It refers to "members of the league," where the term "high contracting parties" originally was used, and this change is followed throughout the revised draft.)
The council shall consist of representatives of the United States of America, of the British Empire, of France, of Italy, and of Japan, together with representatives of four other members of the league. These four members of the league shall be selected by the assembly from time to time in its discretion. Until the appointment of the representatives of the four members of the league first selected by the assembly, representatives of ( ) shall be members of the council.

LINDSAY CRAWFORD AT SUNDAY FORUM

Upholds Liberal Party Government and Denounces Protection.

Lindsay Crawford, editor of The Statesman, who addressed the Sunday Forum at the Labor Temple yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Independent Labor party, in answer to a question by Charles Watson, as to his right to speak upon a labor platform. (The I. L. P.) as he was doing, replied that he had always been a wage earner, and he had taken part in the big Irish workers' strike in 1907 in company with Jim Larkin. "May I inquire of my friend as to just what he had done in the strike?" asked Mr. Crawford, not realizing that he was addressing the Mr. Watson.

Lindsay Crawford's subject was "Canada's Fiscal Policy" and in the course of his address he expressed his opinion that Germany lost the war to the allies because of her mistaken policy of economics. Britain's policy of free trade had prepared her for a greater siege of endurance than the highly protective policy of the Hun imperialists. Canada's protective policy had already bred millionaires and high-priced bacon, continued the speaker, and it was a fact apparent on the face of it that the protectionist policy added an extra tax upon the people. "There can be no real freedom without economic freedom," said Mr. Crawford, "and you cannot have economic freedom so long as you are denied the right to buy from whatever market be your choice."

Comparing Japan, Mr. Crawford was asked what means the country had of fighting the industrial policy of Japan and China, especially with respect to the iron industry, the Japanese being able to produce iron at the cost of only a dollar a ton, and labor in China averaging not more than 10 cents a day. "Well, I may point out that the allied conference is attempting to readjust the standard of wages throughout the world so as to effect an equalization of wages," replied Mr. Crawford. "We are out for the economic freedom of all people, Canadians, Japanese or any other."

"What in your estimation is the difference between the Conservative and the Liberal party from a workingman's point of view?" asked a man in the audience. After some hesitation Mr. Crawford replied that the Liberal party stood for Liberalism in its highest sense, liberation of the whole world, freedom of the press and every other form of freedom.

THEOSOPHISTS HEAR FRANCIS HANCHETT

All Men, Said Speaker, Are Gods in the Making.

Quoting Emerson's well-known adage, "All men, be they in hovel or broche, in park or palace, are on the way to the seat of the Godhead," Francis G. Hanchett, for many years assistant attorney-general for the city of Chicago, and today a well-known interpreter of the philosophy of theosophy in a delightful address delivered last night before the Toronto Theosophical Society at Foresters' Hall, dwelt upon "The Joy of Theosophy." To the theosophist, said the speaker, all men were gods in the making, all were potentially divine. Was it not we who were the gods of the world? "Henceforth I seek not Good Fortune; I myself am Good Fortune." All men of great insight were optimists said Mr. Hanchett.

The speaker traced the course of the great philosophical circle of theosophy, which included that missing link, reincarnation, the force of evolution, the immortality of man, the future of whose glory and spirit was limitless, the perfection of the justice of that law, cause and effect, reincarnation itself, which showed the why and wherefore of the poet, the criminal, the student, the loafer, the musician, the aviator, the worker and the capitalist profiteer, all these factors in the roller chain of the great philosophy of life were well interpreted by the lecturer, who, quoting Longfellow's verse: "Only those are crowned and sanctified who will know us acquainted," pointed out that despite the fact that sorrow and grief were necessary to the welfare of the soul, the joy of living rose made itself felt in the realization of what was behind the apparent riddle of life. There was after all but one reason for the sorrows of existence, he said, and that was that forgetfulness of self, which, ignoring one's own selfish worries, enriched the lives of others with the undying optimism of service and brotherhood.

COMPANY BANQUET CAPTAIN MINNS

Saturday evening was the occasion for a reception banquet at the King Edward Hotel of the staff of the Ontario division of the Gutta Serena and Rubber Company, Limited, in honor of Captain E. H. Minns of the 3rd Battalion, just returned from the scene of war. After dinner, W. H. Alderson, manager Ontario division, taking the chair, sounded the note of welcome to the distinguished guest.

Captain Minns enlisted in August, 1914, as a private and went to France in 1917 and has military crosses in 1917 and 1918. He was promoted to sergeant and awarded the Military Cross in 1917. He was promoted to lieutenant, later to command of a company in the 3rd Battalion as captain. Awarded the military cross in 1917 and has military crosses in 1917 and 1918. Captain Minns was handed a cheque by the company covering his salary from time of enlistment to date.

MINISTER TO INSPECT WORK ON HARBOR

Frank Carvell, minister of public works, will be in the city on Saturday, May 3, to make an inspection of the harbor improvements according to the statement of Mayor Church yesterday.

The city officials will have a conference with members of the cabinet at Ottawa on Friday next relating to an elevator for Toronto, sewer protection for the island and the important matter of more orders for shipbuilding for the city. This is in accordance with a decision reached at a joint meeting between the city and the Toronto Board of Trade.

GENERAL CHANGE OF TIME

SUBSIDIES AND CONTROL OVER PRICES WITHDRAWN

The following cablegram, dated April 24, has been received by the British government trade commissioners in Canada. G. T. Milne and F. W. Field, from the department of overseas trade (development and intelligence):

"All subsidies and control over the prices and material with regard to orders for pig iron, manufactured iron and steel and tin plates will be withdrawn April 30, subject to the provisions of existing contracts, and any export regulations. This means that manufacturers and merchants in the United Kingdom are free to make their own terms with regard to price and delivery from May 1."

L.O.O.F. PARADE AT MASSEY HALL

Returned soldiers were largely represented at the annual church parade of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, held at Massey Hall on Sunday afternoon, and at which Grand Master Walter Cox officiated. Christian fellowship within the ranks of the L. O. O. F. was the central theme of the afternoon discourse, delivered by Rev. Walter Cox himself, who dwelt upon the sacrifices of the soldiers of Canada, and those also of the sacred hymn, "Some Blessed Day," by the Crescent Quartet, Brothers Galbraith, Lessley, Atkinson and Ross, being excellently rendered.

These Present.

There are at least 7000 Oddfellows in Toronto alone, and the occasion was one of splendid augury. Among those present were Brothers Controller Robbins, James Somers, W. McCullough, D.D.G.M.; A. S. Sheppard, D.D.G.M.; W. J. Gadway, D.D.G.M.; A. H. Moore, D.D.G.M.; James Barclay, D.D.G.M.; W. J. Jones, D.D.G.M.; W. F. Stott, chairman of the printing committee; H. G. Goldey, chairman of the music committee; W. J. Foster, ligadier-general of the Patriarch Militant; Major S. Johnson of the Patriarch Militant; A. F. Webster, D.D.G.P.; Sister M. Leamen, D.D.P.; Sister Mrs. E. Curless, D. D. P.; Sister Mrs. E. Saville, D. D. Z.; and J. Clayton, chairman of the Church committee.

Brother W. E. Brown of Cooke's Church officiated as organist. The offertory was made on behalf of the Centennial Endowment Fund.

THOUSANDS ATTEND MASS MEMORIAL

Service to Heroic Dead Was Wonderful Tribute to Their Sacrifice.

An impressive service in commemoration of the soldiers who fell in the battle of St. Julien in April, 1915, and in later engagements, was attended by between 6,000 and 7,000 people in front of the parliament buildings, Queen's Park, Sunday afternoon. The weather, in contradiction to that of the previous two or three days, was gloriously fine, and before three o'clock, the hour at which the service was timed to start, a large gathering had assembled. Among those on the platform were Sir William Hearst, premier of Ontario; Mayor Church; H. Eardley Dewar, K.C., M.L.A.; Controller McBride, Alderman Donald C. MacGregor, who was director of singing; Colonel G. W. Wood, senior chaplain, Toronto military district; Capt. Rev. J. E. Gibson, and Captain Rev. MacGillivray.

Capt. Rev. Sidney E. Lambert, Whittier, delivered an appropriate address which was distinctly heard by the majority present. He spoke of the spirit which animated the men of St. Julien and other battles, their splendid manhood, their love of righteousness, and their sacrifices in order that the high cause which had enlisted their services would triumph. That spirit had been based on and would live, and would be the dominant factor in the world in the days to come.

"The Last Post."

The hymns included "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," "For Ever With the Lord," "Lead Kindly Light," "Abide With Me" and were rendered with fine spirit. The "Dead March in Saül" was played by the Garrison Band, under Band Serjt. Woods, and "The Last Post" sounded by two trumpeters of the band. The singing of "God Save the King" followed by the benediction concluded the service.

The Riverdale Salvation Army Band and the bugle band of the Naval Brigade also took part. Many soldiers were included in the attendance.

The groom gave her a pocket watch, the best man, Mr. Stanley Banks, he gave gold sleeve links. After the ceremony Mrs. Gooderham held a reception for the small party, when she was wearing black beaded georgette crepe, a black hat and a bouquet of violets and pink roses. The bride's table was arranged with white roses and the cake, eaten in the afternoon the bride and groom left on a motor trip and on their return will live in Summerhill Gardens.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 28.

The League of Nations.

With the epitome of the changes made in the draft of the agreement among the powers establishing the league of nations, we have the earnest of a definite step taken towards this essential feature of the great peace that the world hopes for as a result of the great war. Elsewhere we have considered the obstructions, the dangers, the malevolence that is seeking to rob the world of the victory it has won. The league of nations is a project that goes past the nominal rulers, as Mr. Wilson has done in the case of Italy, and constitutes an appeal to the peoples themselves. The more widely these terms of the league are spread abroad and understood, the less likely are the people—particularly the great masses of the common people, whether bourgeois or proletarian, to be led away from this solid substance after any phantom offering from Petrograd or Munich.

The league of nations implies democratic rule, and if the people express their true views in governments freely elected this agreement means the end of war. The rub is in the difficulty of free election. No such freedom is possible under Lenin, nor probably under Ebert, and certainly not under Von Bernsdorff.

If free election can be achieved as in France, with its double voting, or in Belgium, with its proportional representation, the people understanding this agreement would support it solidly. The wisdom of the representatives of the great powers is to be estimated by their provisions. We dwell on this point of freedom of election because the most important clauses in the agreement deal with the reduction of armaments, their permanent limitation as thus restricted, subject to the consent of the assembly council, the limitation of the manufacture of munitions by private enterprise, and full exchange among the nations of information on their military and naval status.

This is by all odds the most important feature of the league. All kinds of radicals, pacifists, and still baser sorts are running around still declaring that war is made by profiteering munition manufacturers. These clauses are a complete answer to such a cry. The people are here given the power, if they desire to exert it, to make war impossible.

Next to this in importance is the equality given to women in all matters relating to the league. This means a new world after the next generation. If a new order of beings came down from one of the planets it could scarcely make a greater change in our social and national polity than to have women enter into all phases of public life on terms of equality with men. It means that they must be educated for the position; that they take an interest in affairs hitherto closed to them; that their minds will be broadened and widened; that their keen and piercing analysis will end much of the humbug and pretence of public life; that the daughters of tomorrow will be a different race of women from the mothers of today.

Are we to lose the possibility of this league of nations and its preparation of peace for the world? We believe not. No influence that can be brought to bear among the great powers concerned will fail to be exerted to give it effect and establish it as the guardian of international relations in the future. What seeks to oppose it or to overthrow it is hostile to humanity and must be treated as the enemy of the race.

A Situation Needing Common Sense.

It looks as if the Germans had gained the advantage of the diplomatic situation. Since November 11 all sorts of negotiations have been going on among the allies, and more or less progress has been made in various directions, but there have been too many sine qua non, apparently, to get along with conclusive speed. President Wilson is being debilitated by a good deal of the delay, and undoubtedly his league of nations has had drags on it. But all the nations were anxious for a league if one could be made.

While the entente allies were sowing the wheat of peace the enemy was busy sowing tares. The Bolshevik propaganda and other revolutionary propaganda have undoubtedly been stimulated by Germany. The stories of funds supplied by Russia may ultimately be found to be based upon the funds supplied to Russia by Germany as the first place. The golden hoard sent by Germany to Trotsky and Lenin allies Erinstein and Ulanoff, is being distributed elsewhere than in Russia. The simple Russians are satisfied with paper money, and Ulanoff coolly states that he will print enough to make money of no value, so that when it becomes valueless the people will be independent of it, and of those who rely upon it.

This is the subtle process that is being put into operation, wherever possible, and Ulanoff is as grim and pitiless in the pursuit of his aims as the Kaiser or any of his generals. It should be obvious enough to everybody that money is of no value unless it represents commodities in demand. When these cease to exist, as they do in a laborless community, money might as well cease to exist also. But this is a double-edged sword and cuts both ways. The laborer that thinks high wages an advantage, is being deceived equally with the capitalist, if he thinks that his money can represent value, which he refuses to produce. The capitalist who thinks he can subsist on his surplus without inducing the production of values will presently be unable to find anything to subsist on. We are reaching that point now in the coal trade. It will pinch us next winter without question. In the United States with 800,000,000 bushels of wheat they may be using it for fuel, as they did some years ago while the rest of the world is starving. Nobody realizes what the death of 32,000,000 people in India from starvation means. Another five or six millions are victims of influenza.

These things are part of the evil conditions of affairs in which Germany delights, for the Germans see in them the seeds of disintegration and destruction such as they love to cultivate, in the hope that the harvest of ruin to others will bring something to their despotic gristmills.

Such a situation needs more common sense, more determination, more foresight and more hope than even the war called forth. It requires co-operation at home as well as among the nations, and whether there be peace or not, and whether there be a good peace or not the greatest need of the time is production of all the materials on which rests what we call civilization. Food of all kinds, fuel, clothing, building materials, and all the tools that are required to produce or manufacture these things are the prime necessities of the world today. Whatever policies, or theories or circumstances interfere with the production of such commodities and the co-operation of all classes of the nation in such production, are elements which are helping the enemy, and tending to raise to the ground the whole structure of the centuries in which civilization has been built up.

Effort today is either constructive or destructive, and all who are not putting forth effort are on the side of destruction. It is easy for the citizen to know which side he is on. Is he producing or merely consuming? The consumer, whatever else he may be, is nothing else, is the real Bolshevik.

FREEDOM. I seek always the Freedom of my soul—Freedom to strive for my elected goal; Freedom to seize what opportunity The passing days shall chance to offer me; Freedom from shackles of the kind that hold the powers that lurk within me; And most of all the Freedom from the press Of greed that stamps the seal with selfishness.

PROJECTED ALLIANCE BETWEEN FRANCE AND U.S.

Paris, April 27.—A project for an alliance between France and America actually is under way. The Echo de Paris says, President Wilson, however, the paper adds, is withholding action until he can place the matter before the American senate for ratification.

U. S. Recognition Blocks Egyptians' Hope of Independence

Cairo, April 27.—The strike of government officials, which has been going on for some time, is over and work has been resumed. The publication of the American letter recognizing the British protectorate acted like a cold douche to the extremists. They realize now that their aspirations for complete independence are not likely to materialize in view of America's recognition of the British protectorate in Egypt.

Many Lives Were Lost When Chilean Steamer Sank

Valparaiso, Chile, April 27.—Heavy loss of life is reported in the sinking of the steamer Magdalena (Chilean) and Alfonso. The Magdalena went down in a storm five miles off Corral. The Alfonso was sunk in collision with the steamer Fortuna.

ALGOMA SENDING STEEL DELEGATION

Will See Federal Authorities Regarding Aid for Big Soo Plant.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., April 27.—Today a delegation of steel plant workers and other representatives of labor left the city for Ottawa to interview the government regarding reduced operations at the big steel plant, which ordinarily employs 4500 men, exclusive of the mines and transportation forces. At present the plant is only operating to 40 per cent capacity, and the outlook is so uncertain that the men decided to take matters into their own hands and go to Ottawa to get any information as to the future that may be available. Among the delegates are the following: Algoma Lodge, No. 5, Eric Dalrymple, president; Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, A. E. Whytall, vice-president; J. J. Brothers, William O'Neill, all of "Big Union"; W. H. Foster, I. S. and O. Engineers' Union; Albert Ellis, local 45, International Association of Machinists; F. A. Cole, local union 16,527, A. F. of L.; C. Dexter, local 282, Sulphite and Paper Workers; A. E. Whytall, vice-president; Structural Iron Workers; B. Singer, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Minor Lowery, president International Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; J. M. Brown, president International Amalgamation of Steam and Operating Engineers. The steel plant is the backbone of the prosperity of the 80,000 people in Algoma, and the matter of orders for the mill is the most vital one for the two ridings of East and West Algoma.

REVOLT IS SPREADING AGAINST BOLSHEVIKI

Stockholm, April 27.—The inhabitants of Olonetz, 110 miles northeast of Petrograd, in the government of Olonetz, are revolting against the Bolsheviks. Reports received here add that the revolt is spreading northward. The allied forces advancing southward along the Murmansk railway were last reported approaching the northern shore of Lake Onega. Olonetz is situated between Lake Onega and Lake Ladoga and near the Murmansk railway, which runs along the western shore of Lake Onega. The allied force is about 100 miles to the north.

London, April 26.—The Duke of Connaught in the presence of several thousand Canadian soldiers present at Witley camp today the king's colors to the 18th, 20th and 24th battalions. The 20th also received regimental colors. The duke was accompanied by Prince Arthur and was received by Generals Currie and Burstall. The religious ceremony was performed by Col. Almond.

MAPLE LEAF MILLING IS MONTREAL FEATURE

Montreal, April 26.—Another demonstration of strength on the part of Maple Leaf Milling preferred stock, which rose locally to the record high of 14 1/2, was easily the feature of the trading in stocks here in Saturday's short session, that issue being in consistently good demand thruout the forenoon. Opening at 14 1/2, an overnight rise of the fraction, the price rose two full points and ended at 14 3/4, a net gain of its gross advance, with that figure bid for more stock at the close of the market.

FEARS FARM LABORERS WORKING IN MANITOBA

Winnipeg, Man., April 26.—Manitoba is suffering the greatest famine of farm labor in its history, say officials at the Dominion provincial employment service offices here. Hundreds of men are needed for farms thruout Manitoba, and very few are answering the call. Farmers fear that they will be unable to put in the same amount of acreage this year as last.

CHAPTER LXXX.

"Will you remain to dinner with me?" I asked as I returned to my guest. "Mr. Forbes is not able to come home. He had to dine with some out-of-town men. We will order the car and take a drive thru the park so that you will not be bored."

"Does this woman whom you said your husband visited with his out-of-town customers or clientele live with her husband? Has she one?"

"Her husband died a short time ago. She is received to a certain extent in good society, altho she always has been very unconventional."

"You aren't jealous of her?" He asked the question haltingly, not looking at me.

"No and yes. I am not really jealous as one usually thinks of jealousy, yet I am jealous that he spends his time with her."

"I see. Well, I do not think I shall accept your invitation to dinner to-night. I will hunt up Forbes and see if I can't stroll along with his outfit. Excuse my expression, but I, too, am western, you know. I will drive with you, then go to his office. Perhaps you will let me telephone him."

"Certainly." The door was open. Mr. Frederick talked rather loudly, so I could not help overhearing his conversation with Nell, who came to the telephone at once.

"Hello, this is Frederick. Are you going to be disengaged this evening? I don't—anyone I know—you don't say—why, yes, if you are sure I won't be butting in. At the club—six-thirty—yes, that suits me—I'll be prompt. Good-bye." Not one word about being with me.

"Nothing like fishing," he laughed as he returned. "Forbes bid."

"I had something else to tell you. I did something while Nell was away that angered him. I haven't had time to tell him just why I did it; that it was up to him to see if he would forgive me, but a wish to set him right before my friends and his, or those who pretend to be friendly to him. I went down to his office to see if I couldn't find something to refute what I thought, still think, were lies. His private office was locked and so, of course, I failed. I told him I had gone down there and my reason—as far as he would let me. But he was very angry."

"I don't really wonder. You see I am honest with you. No man wants anyone, even his wife, rummaging among his business papers, it would cause most men to lose their tempers if it were done."

"You also blame me?"

"Yes, you should have waited and told him what you had heard and given him a chance to explain or not as he chose."

"But I couldn't bear to wait. Mr. Powers told me that he had not put any money into his (Nell's) schemes, warned him that he would lose it if he did, adding that he (Nell) was doing a good work."

"Powers—um—that's too bad. He's a pretty big man, not a narrow one, either."

"Yes, and I so wanted Mrs. Powers to be at my affairs."

"Um—I see! A wheel within a wheel. That was why your friend advised you to give up the idea of doing the society act at present?"

"Yes; I am so mortified."

"Had you sent out invitations?"

"No, but intended to this week."

Band Concerts.

Editor World: The board of control having passed the mayor's motion to grant $5000 for the above proposal, I hope the council will see their way clear to carry the same into effect. If there is no money available to finance it I would suggest a guarantee fund be asked from the citizens, altho their pockets have been taxed very heavily during the period of the war. Now that the horrors of war have ceased and the reconstruction period is beginning, I think it a good idea to carry out the following suggestions: 1. An enclosure for chairs and a small fee for each person. 2. Programs, with advertisements, which would cover the cost of printing. 3. Returned men or volunteers to act as ushers and distribute programs. 4. Bands to be asked to give one concert each year. If at the end of the season there is any surplus after paying the bandsmen the balance could be carried forward to next season or given to some charitable institution for the benefit of the widows and orphans of those who have made the supreme sacrifice. The guarantee fund would only be asked for if necessary. H. B. Brett. 198 Simcoe street.

Guglielmotti, when speaking here two months ago on behalf of Italy, asserted that Italy was prepared to be most generous to the Jugo-Slavs, and to give them the best port on the Adriatic, and a great stretch of Dalmatia. Apparently his principals in Italy are now of a different view. As I had the honor and pleasure of accompanying General Guglielmotti during his mission in Canada, I wish to state that the general, if you will study the account of his speeches, declared that Italy was prepared to be most generous with our foe of yesterday—liberated by the Italian victories—in giving them eight ports on the Dalmatia, and two-thirds of the coast. He absolutely did not assert that Italy was disposed to give the Italian city of Fiume, which for centries has been waiting for liberation and redemption. "The Captains and the King" have demonstrated that they are with the Italian population who, according to the 14 points of President Wilson, are willing to leave the principle of self-determination to the liberated peoples, and demand nothing but the respect of the treaty of London and the famous 14 points. MRS. D. CARSWELL DIES

Seaford, Ont., April 27.—The community was shocked to learn of the tragic sudden death at 51 years of age of Mrs. Carswell, wife of Rev. David Carswell of McKillop, which occurred late last night.

"Oh, You Do Look So Strong and Well"

"AND why shouldn't I?" "You always wrote about how well you were, but we never thought you would be so hearty-looking as you are after all the hardships of camp and trench life."

"Oh, we had our share of hardships, all right, but except on rare occasions we had plenty of good, wholesome food and lots of fresh air and exercise. That is what makes a person strong and well. But I don't think I have it much over you. What have you been doing to look so nearty?"

"Didn't I tell you I was using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"

"You don't mean to say that has made such a difference. You were so thin and pale when I went away."

"Yes, it certainly has, and after you went away I had a regular break-down, and was in a bad state for some months."

I had nervous headaches, could not sleep, and grew down-hearted and discouraged. Mother got after me to try the Nerve Food, and I am so glad I did, for I did want to be well to welcome you home.

"It is a joy to me to find you so well. And now that we have such a good start surely we can keep well and enjoy life. My experience overseas has caused me to place a greater value on life and health than I ever did before, and your experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food convinces me that you women folks need not be pale and weak and nervous if you will but use it when you feel tired out and run down."

"Honor to Canada, France and the other allies who fought in the war, but on St. George's Day honor England, and may we be worthy of her," said Rev. Canon Plumtre at St. James' Cathedral yesterday.

DR. HENRI BELAND AT ONTARIO CLUB

Would Remove Tariff on Implements and Reduce Taxes.

PETTY, STERILE, FUTILE

Is What Struck Prisoner of Germany About Canadian Differences.

No other Canadian could have captured the hearts of the listeners so completely as Dr. Henri Beland, M.P. for Beauport, at the Ontario Club on Saturday evening.

Let It Be Now.

"Let there be a substantial reduction in the tariff for our agriculturists and for our toiling classes in other walks. It must come. Let it be now." (Applause.)

From his quick survey of war and victory, Dr. Beland changed the theme to peace. He told of the beauty of the spring morning when he crossed the frontier into Holland after three years of "exile" and under heavy sense of loss by domestic bereavement.

"The speaker urged consideration of the real things. The people can themselves be trusted in respect to their energy and economy if assured of the essential companion blessings of peace. He put the name of autonomy first among those blessings.

Then he spoke of the war a national autonomy that satisfied the people. The war came and everything was upset. What was done was intended for the best. One of the resources taken was the war time election act.

He had met Canadians of every province and class since his return, and he could say that, practically in the opinion of all, the war time election act was unfortunate legislation. (Applause.) He did not wish to have his meaning mistaken. He did not intend to convey the idea in any sense that residents of the country out of sympathy with the national will in the war should enjoy the privileges of equal citizenship.

But the thousands, tens of thousands, of good Canadian citizens had been deprived of the privilege of the franchise by that act. "I am not ashamed," he added, "to use the word privilege in respect to the franchise, for I look at it as you look at it. What autonomy is to the nation, the franchise is to the individual. It is the right of the citizen. (Applause.) But my experiences have taught me how quickly national autonomy sinks before power. Power over the franchise in the hands of a government is as the sword in the hands of the autocrat. (Applause.) Franchise proposals are to be presented to the house of commons. Sir Thomas White had invited the whole house to advise him. "My advice to my friend Sir Thomas White is, do not tamper with the franchise." (Loud applause.)

Not only by the power of conquering authority can autonomy be swept away; it may suffer by the act of a domestic government. Addressing himself to this point, Dr. Beland instanced the Siberian expedition. Canada had sent four or five thousand men to the far eastern or Asiatic coast of Russia after peace was assured and the enemy in line for punishment.

No Military Occupation. There was no military occupation of the expedition. Japan had not outside Kiaochow engaged in field operations. Her great army had not been called upon. Franchise was close to exigency on the Asiatic coast. Canada had lost more than 40,000 killed and more than 100,000 wounded when called upon to furnish an expedition to Siberia. He had asked his friend, Mr. Meuburn, and his friend, Mr. Rowell, how they came to be called upon in face of all the conditions existing when the expedition was called. The only explanation offered was that they had been sent to eastern Asia at the request of the imperial war cabinet. If that was so, and he granted it was so, he remained but two conditions. Canada's representatives in the imperial war cabinet had either consented that Canadians be sent into Siberia from the Asiatic coast or they had been outvoted in the cabinet.

If they were outvoted, what becomes of our autonomy? (Applause.) Assured of their franchise and of their autonomy, the Canadian people within the British connection which they prize can be trusted to meet the problems of readjustment. Social and industrial unrest exists all thru Europe. Unrest is in Canada. The people themselves can be trusted to ally it. There must be readjustment of the burden of taxation. Those above, who have the ability to meet the demands of government, must be prepared to face the problems of today and tomorrow more generously. Those below, who have borne the burden of taxation ungenerally, must be relieved of that share of the load they cannot and should not be asked to shoulder; but they must act with moderation. Herein is the solution of all the problems of the future otherwise than by unity of purpose upon the nation. Canadian sacrifices for liberty would be vain if they realized only a restriction of the liberty they loved and prospered under. (Applause.) Peace may and can bring its rewards to Canadians in more liberty, more goodwill and more prosperity and enjoyment for those whose portion is hard toil.

Hon. George P. Graham declared safety depends most surely upon party government, and in the next election those Unionists who are animated by Liberal principles will again call themselves Liberals. H. H. Dewar gave an address in sympathy with Dr. Beland's discourse.

Chatham, April 26.—Captain Ernest Ansell, M.C., a veteran of the original first battalion, arrived home. He enlisted as a private with that unit, and in France was promoted from the ranks.

What will become of the running meetings is likely to be determined when the committee of the Canadian Racing Association and the "board" of the Ontario Jockey convenes this week.
