HER LOVE AFFAIR WITH BAUM BROKEN OFF FORTNIGHT BEFORE TRAGEDY CAUSE OF TROUBLE AT HOME

Florence Kinrade on Witness Stand for Six Hours, Admits That Choir Engagement Was Brief, and Becomes Confused in Telling of Her Travels and the Friends She Was With—Denies Having Posed as Married Woman With a Husband Whom She Feared.

LETTERS FOUND IN RESIDENCE STRENGTHEN HANDS OF CROWN

HAMILTON, May 3.—(Special.)—Florence Kinrade has survived the ordeal of six hours' sharp inquiry at the hands of such a brilliant examiner as Geo. T. Blackstock, K.C., and if she has not emerged with flying colors, as the saying is, neither has she been led into any apparent very serious admissions, so far as the subject of the enquiry is concerned. The enquiry adjourned at 11:30 to resume at 7:30 to-morrow evening.

The crown played a trump card in the production of a number of letters—the important discovery made last week in the Kinrade residence. They brought out one sensational point—that it was not until a fortnight prior to the tragedy that Florence Kinrade wrote Jimmy Baum, terminating their love affair, because, she said, she now realized that her affections were centred on Montrose Wright.

It was brought out that there had been trouble in the Kinrade home between Florence and the others, following the discovery that a Christmas present from Baum to Florence had been intercepted and returned.

It was made evident, too, that the crown's investigations in the vicinity of Richmond and Virginia Beach had been productive of considerable results. Miss Kinrade was confronted with statements that persons with whom she had been more or less intimate, according to her own story, couldn't be discovered to exist, and, most surprising of all, that she wasn't known at Manchester Presbyterian Church, in which she was a soloist.

Mr. Blackstock's "My instructions are" were a frequent prelude to the introduction of statements so flatly contradictory to what Miss Kinrade had sworn that the wonder was how she could bear up with such apparent unshaken composure. Time and again she was compelled to retract statements.

When Mrs. Kinrade, the first witness was called, Mr. Lynch-Staunton formally asked that the enquiry be continued in private, limiting U. S. grand jury methods, which he thought was a desirable innovation for Canadian courts.

"As you say," replied the coroner, "there have been some misrepresentations made, and it is for that reason that I cannot grant your request. I think it will be far better if further investigations will be corrected by public opinion."

Later, Mr. Lynch-Staunton actually appealed to Mr. Blackstock to continue the enquiry in private, but the coroner declined to accede.

The Talk of the Town

"Hello, Bob! How are you?" "Fine and dandy. Just out for a walk."

"So am I. Which way, along Yonge to Bloor? Oh, all right; we'll go together."

"And an automobile, a motor-boat and several other things, that most people in our walk of life could never hope to own. Say, old chap, I've a blamed good notion to put up a fight for that car," remarked Harry.

"What are you fellows so animated over?" asked one of the trio.

"Why, Bob was just arranging to get a valuable house and lot, and I am going to get a motor-boat," replied Harry.

"What's that?" gasped the three. "What are you giving us? You haven't the money unless your dad's are putting it up."

"No! That is true enough, but we have the idea, and ideas are what make money," said Harry loudly, as he tapped Bill Saunders on the shoulder.

"Glad to hear it, old chap, but I have my doubts," replied the latter. "You are playing for too large game."

"Well, now, doesn't that beat you? We were just talking about that very topic, and we came over to the bridge. Gee they are great prizes."

Sir Wilfrid Can't See Why Ontario Interferes

Lennox. The latter sent across the order-in-council to the Ontario Government, in which it was set forth that the bill was an invasion of the civil rights of the people of Ontario, and asking that consideration be deferred.

Another amendment by Mr. Henderson to refer the bill back to the standing orders committee was declared lost.

Whitney Raises Issue On Canada Life's Bill

The Attorney-General, with reference to the bill respecting the Canada Life Assurance Company now before the Dominion parliament, has approved of your honor, and that a despatch be forwarded to the secretary of state, Ottawa, accompanied by a copy of the said report for the information of the government of the Dominion of Canada.

A stand for provincial rights is being made by Sir James Whitney in connection with the Canada Life bill now before the house of commons.

An order in council was signed on April 30 on the report of Attorney-General Foy and embodied in a despatch to the secretary of state at Ottawa.

ONTARIO SECURES CHANGE TO PROTEST

After Day's Discussion on the Amended Conmee Bill the Government Yielded to Opposition's Demands.

OTTAWA, May 3.—(Special.)—A second time James Conmee's Ontario and Michigan power bill has been set aside after a strong provincial rights argument by the opposition.

This is the second notable victory the opposition has achieved over this attempt to infringe on the rights of the province.

Mr. Blain opened the discussion this morning, saying that Premier Whitney had expressed the view that parliament should leave the question to the Ontario Legislature as being one of provincial jurisdiction.

Mr. Blain noted that the principal promoters are American capitalists, who know that the Ontario Government will give such large powers to no man, friend or foe, in the country or out of it.

Assuming for the sake of argument, that jurisdiction rests with the Dominion, would it be a good policy to alienate Canada's wealth of power without providing for some form of compensation? asked Mr. Blain.

Dr. Sproule said that the interference of the government with the provincial rights of Manitoba and British Columbia was the cause of the defeat of the Liberals in these provinces at the last election.

Just before 6 o'clock J. E. Armstrong asked the premier to definitely state his objections to delaying the bill until the province was heard from.

This evening Mr. Armstrong reminded the house that he had asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier for a reply, but that he was not present, Mr. Pleading on the same line and Mr. Pleading thereupon held conversation with Mr. Pleading and the Liberal whips.

Dr. Workman Asks $5000 Damages For Dismissal

MONTREAL, May 3.—(Special.)—An action for $5000 damages has been entered by the Rev. Geo. C. Workman, D.D., thru his attorneys, Elliott & David, against the Wesleyan Theological College.

In his declaration, Dr. Workman, after reciting the fact of his appointment as professor of Hebrew and Old Testament exegesis in the Wesleyan Theological College, at a salary of $1600 a year, from May 1, 1904, proceeds to state that he occupied and fulfilled the duties of that position until May 1, 1908, when, without his consent and without any legal or just cause therefor, he was dismissed from the position, and all his rights and claims were null and void.

SEEDING PROGRESSING

Winnipeg, May 3.—(Special.)—Reports collected by the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. from their numerous widely distributed agents and buyers denote that from 2 to 25 per cent. of the wheat seeded and under the most favorable circumstances, the recent setback having increased the moisture stored in the seedbed. The company's inspectors estimate the acreage under wheat at about 10 per cent. on last year's figures, but the unknown amount breaking in the new districts may increase the figures materially.

BOTH LEGS MANGLED

Harold Brock, 25 years of age, son of James Brock of Midland, is in a critical condition at the Western Hospital and may die as a result of a fall from Bathurst-street car No. 959 about 6:30 last night.

Mr. Middleboro cited a New Brunswick case to show that the province had all the authority to grant the powers asked for in this bill, and had had jurisdiction.

Edmund Bristol could not understand why the premier should not find it consistent with the dignity of his position to let the bill stand for three or four days to allow the premier of the Province of Ontario to express his views.

Just before 6 o'clock J. E. Armstrong asked the premier to definitely state his objections to delaying the bill until the province was heard from.

WHITE'S DOLE FOR NAVY
Sends Penny in Pound of Income as Nucleus of Fund.

COLBORNE, May 3.—(Special.)
Charles John White, a carpenter of this place, has set a noble example in making a contribution of $3.30 to the imperial navy. Writing Finance Minister Fielding, he says:

"The British navy is supported by the English, Scotch and Irish taxpayers exclusively. At the same time they enjoy no advantages which the Canadian non-contributor does not enjoy. Logic, sir, is not my strong point; but I have a little pride, a little patriotism, a little sense of decency. When I hear my country spoken of as rich, happy and prosperous, an hear that Canada enjoys the respect of foreign nations, I do not feel I should care to face the English, Scotch or Irish taxpayer and explain to him that none of the cost of the protection and prestige I boast comes out of my pocket. At all events, sir, I want to ease my own conscience. I feel that the average cost of the British taxpayer to support the British navy is only one penny (two cents) in the pound of income, and by this contribution 40 millions sterling is raised annually. As I do not clearly see why I, as a British subject, should be, totally exempt from this duty, I beg herewith to enclose $3.30, my income as a carpenter last year being roughly $325."

The despatch adds: "The minister of finance begs to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Charles White's letter and enclosure. He is unable to forward the sum of $3.30 as desired, as such a sum might be considered disproportionate to the expectations of the imperial chancellor of the exchequer, and might, moreover, set a precedent for the payment by Canada of much larger sums, contrary to the settled policy of this country."

In Police Court.
Magistrate Denison disposed of the following cases in police court yesterday morning: Norman Garrett, theft of $600 worth of furs from W. G. Lizard, remanded a week.

Matthew Murphy and Hugh Mallory, assaulting their landlord, Murphy 30 days, Mallory discharged.

TO DESERT GOLDFIELDS FOR SILVER COUNTRY

Nevada Man Looks Over Discoveries at Gow Ganda and Will Advise Boys to Come.

GOW GANDA CITY, April 28.—(From the Man at the Camp.)—M. E. Flynn is the son of the man who floated Cobalt Central, and who has put thru mining deals from Mexico to the Yukon.

Mr. Flynn arrived at Gow Ganda a few days ago, after a tough walk from Elk Lake. He had come almost direct from Goldfields, Nev., and with the air of a man who had been brought up in the mining camps, he breathed deeply and said it was good to get into the atmosphere of a mining camp again.

"Things were evidently not lively in the Southwest, and attention is being directed to the Canadian camps. He admitted that things were off in the American camps.

"We only heard about Gow Ganda a short time ago, and I came on the jump," said Mr. Flynn. "I had only got as far as Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo when I realized that Gow Ganda was more than the product of an idle dream. At Toronto I knew that the camp was good, for the Canadians do not enthuse for anything that is not really worth while.

"The atmosphere of the big hotels at Toronto was filled with talk of mines, discoveries and deals. I took the first train northward."

"I missed Flynn the next day. The day following he returned to the 'city' with a satisfied smile on his face. He has visited the Bartlett, Boyd-Gordon and Mann properties.

"I never saw such deposits in my life before," was his expression. "And this from a practical man who had delved for the stuff in Mexico.

"A lot of Nevada prospectors will be up here," said Mr. Flynn, "as soon as I can let them know the nature of the discoveries and the opportunities in this field. They will probably invade the field farther west from points on the main line of the C.P.R.

HONOR DEAD OARSMAN PARK NAMED HANLAN

And Probably a Memorial Too—Gas Meters Discussed, 103 Complaints a Month.

"Hanlan Park" will be the name of the Heber property acquired by the city, south of Turner's bridge and east of the walk along the Hanlan Island lagoon.

This was decided by the island committee yesterday, when 12 fancy names, commemorative of great Marathons, city fathers and national celebrities were cast aside.

Ald. Thomas Church proposed the name of the great oarsman and suggested that the city should erect a monument to "Ned" on the property. This was viewed with favor.

The property commissioner was instructed to report on the possibility of providing a landing for small boats at the wharves on Centre and Ward's Islands.

Property Commissioner Harris has written advising the board of control to protest against the Dominion Government's proposal to abandon the old lighthouse on Gibraltar Point. He says the grounding of the schooner St. Louis at this point on Sunday shows the need of "training" the beacon.

Ald. J. J. Graham yesterday called the attention of the special committee appointed to deal with complaints of overcharges against the Consumers' Gas Co. to the fact that he had received 103 complaints in 30 days. He thought that in view of this strong evidence the council should engage an expert to investigate a sufficient number of cases to establish their genuineness and the city should prosecute the company.

It was decided to write to New York and Massachusetts to learn to what extent their meters are allowed to run fast before a prosecution can be instituted. City Solicitor Chisholm called attention to a report made by Fred Angus last year, in which he stated that a 3 per cent. excess, as allowed in Canada, was a much greater percentage than allowed in England or the United States. The report goes on to say: "I feel that the government should go carefully into gas meters and draft rules for testing which will bring the government tests more in accordance with the working conditions of the meters."

This report, which was supposed to be transmitted to the government, was never forwarded, and the board of control will be asked why.

WAITING LONG FOR LEGACY
Action Brought By Mrs. Tari Against Executors of Canassa Estate.

Mrs. Anna Tari, an Italian, who had come all the way from Genoa, Italy, appeared before Judge Winchester yesterday morning, urging the partition of the estate of the late Mrs. M. Canassa, who died March 15, 1907. The estate is valued at $50,000, and, according to the will, Mrs. Tari was to get one-half of the estate, one-quarter to Lugo Canassa, and one-quarter to brothers of Andrew Canassa.

The claim is made by the executors, Dr. Harley Smith, John O'Connor and William E. MacKay, that they are to hold the estate for five years. Counsel for Mrs. Tari, Reginald Eyre, denies this and received an order for partition from the high court, his client to receive the Portland-street houses, 134 to 152, inclusive. Before this could be done, however, the executors secured an order to have the accounts passed.

Mrs. Tari's counsel argues that the executors are unnecessarily slow in passing their accounts, as Mrs. Tari has already been here two years. Adjudgment was made till to-day.

Weak, Nervous Women

Their sad story would fill a book of countless pages.
Ever since the world began woman has borne more than her share of suffering. Secret troubles undermine her strength, yet she seldom complains. But because she has suffered in the past is no reason why she should forever be dragged down by misery and sleeplessness.
There are periods in the life of every woman when she should exercise great care in the protection of her health. There are times when the slightest cold will bring on troubles that shock the nervous system, weaken the frame and invite disease.
Thousands Have Been Cured.
There is a remedy, one that will lift that awful burden and remove the ill from which women suffer. The name of this remedy is Ferrozene, which today is a household word throughout the length and breadth of the American continent. New hope has been brought into the life of many a downcast woman, and a new era of health has dawned for thousands who have tried and proved the merit of Ferrozene.
Get Back Strength and Vigor.
Ferrozene is a remedy that acts directly on all the organs and insures functional activity upon which health so largely depends. Among the troubles that are relieved and cured by Ferrozene, are suppressed, painful or irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea (whites), bearing-down pains, womb and ovarian weaknesses and uterine displacements.
Ferrozene Makes Strong Women.
Your days of weakness and headache, your hours of nervousness and despondency will all depart. Life will hold for you many new joys as it does for everyone that uses Ferrozene regularly.
Your whole body will feel the quickening influence of Ferrozene. The blood will be purified and enriched. You will no longer suffer from the suppression and interference with the menstrual functions. Ferrozene cures all such ailments and prevents their return.
Don't listen to the druggist who urges something just as good. No substitute compare with Ferrozene, which does all that is claimed of it. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at druggists and dealers.

MOB RESCUES PRISONER

Give Chief of Police a Rough Handling on Halifax Train.
MORRISBURG, May 3.—Police Chief Zial had an exciting experience while bringing Jos. Lawarde from Montreal under armed charges of smuggling. The mobber, on boarding the train, he meditated on leaving the train, but was snatched by some fifteen to twenty men, a portion of whom were Assyrians, who pulled him and the prisoner out of their seats. In the meantime, one of the party produced a document written in French, which was read by Chief Zial, who demanded the release of the prisoner. The mob pulled and pounded Chief Hall all the while, and the train started, leaving him out on the platform twice. The last time he was forced to release his man. The mob also rifled Chief Hall's pockets.

UNION HELPS TEACHERS

Will Get Same Salaries as Staff of Old City Schools.
The finance committee of board of education yesterday received a report from West Toronto that the school board there had a balance of $9940.
It was agreed to pay the teachers in the annexed districts on the same basis as the other city teachers.

GOOD COACHMAN, BAD CHAUFFEUR, HE SUICIDES

LAKESIDE, N. J., May 3.—Dis-spondency over his troubles with his employer's motor car, owing to his inexperience as a chauffeur, is believed to have been the cause for the suicide of Caspar Harbell, aged 35, chauffeur for Parks Wright of Buffalo. Harbell drowned himself by lying down in comparatively shallow water. He had been for many years coachman for the firm, and was recently given charge of the auto.

Funeral of John Williams.

The funeral of John Williams, late city bridge engineer, who died Saturday morning, took place yesterday at Mount Pleasant Cemetery from his late residence, 45 Kendal-avenue. Rev. W. F. Wilson, D.D., of Trinity Methodist Church conducted the service. Nearly all the city engineers' department were present. The pall-bearers were chosen from the department and were C. H. Rust, C. L. Fellows, J. S. Scott, W. M. McCartney, Arthur Clarke and J. D. Shitka.

Shot at Poshers.

BUFFALO, May 3.—Discovered fishing with seine in the Niagara River at Bridgeburg early this morning, two Canadians were ordered by Game and Fish Protector Briggs of Bridgeburg, and his deputy, Luther Jeffries of London, to surrender, but the men jumped into the river. The officers emptied their revolvers, but did not hit the men. The men were picked up by a negro companion in a boat and rowed to the American side. Later they returned to Fort Erie.

Public Amusements

At the Princess.

"Brewster's Millions" seems to be the present-day "Charlie's Aunt" in so far as bright, beautifully humorous comedy is this week enjoying its fourth presentation at the Princess Theatre. George Barr McCutcheon's entertaining book has been capitally staged, and in the hands of Mr. Abeles and his capable company, the very best results are achieved. The comedian's attempts to secretly spend a fortune in a given time to earn a greater one are intensely amusing, while the scenes of the yacht in the storm is one of the most realistic and picturesque ever presented here. Popular price matinees will be given to-morrow and Saturday.

At the Alexandra.

From their novelty the first crude moving picture attracted large crowds, but not any larger than overflowed the Royal Alexandra last night. To those who remember the earlier production of the same subject, the suggestion of Lyman H. Howe's New York Hippodrome Travel Festival make plain the wonderful degree of perfection which has been attained, so far indeed that little more finish and realism can be imagined. The program naturally divides itself into two divisions, the first containing transcripts from real life, the other the cleverly posed pictures and stories which represent the humorous element and equally display the unlimited resources of up-to-date invention.
Last night's reproductions of travel scenes had great educational value and were worth volumes of description. A series such as the Gorges of Taran, France; the Grand Prix auto races; Wilbur Wright's aeroplane flights; the views of Egypt and Russia, Sicily before and after the great earthquake, and the Italian cavalry manoeuvres were vivid and interesting. Only actual personal observation could excel them, but for those who have not had the opportunity to see the scenes in person, the travel pictures were undeniably educational.
Hearty laughter was evoked by the first experiments in chemistry, Bobby's fire engine, the machine that evil, the electric hotel and the prize camel, and the ride on a runaway train thru the Tyrolean Alps. The latter picture, which has considerable merit, the majesticope has a number of good films and the pictures are interesting.

At the Grand.

Thomas E. Shea opened his spring engagement at the Grand yesterday and presented in the evening, "The Star of the Defense," to two houses that showed their appreciation of the work of the popular star and his company in an unusual manner. It was a delightful production, capably acted and perfectly staged.
"The Star of the Defense" was written by Henry Irving Dodge, the popular magazine writer, who has drawn his characters so strongly that the interest in the events of the play is as gripping as the plot itself. The story of the play—a peculiar story in detail—revolves briefly in the criminal lawyer kills a man who insulted a woman he loved five years ago, but who is married now to another woman. The circumstances are such that suspicion of the murder is directed very strongly against the husband of the woman.
The husband, being positive he killed the man while under the influence of liquor. The woman asks the lawyer

At the Majestic.

Another big bill of vaudeville features was presented at the Majestic yesterday and the house was crowded the entire day; so interesting was the entertainment that many remained and saw the performance twice in the afternoon. The three Morrisies have a great acrobatic turn and introduce as the climax to their specialty a large troupe of acrobats, including the men. A cry goes up from the audience at the daring act, but the man jumps to his feet after the machine has passed, and the acrobats are in a twinkling, out, unharmed. The Diehls are a team of black face comedians who have a good dancing specialty. Little Hazel, starting out of the best child entertainers seen on a Toronto stage. Rowley and Gay, with their Scotch dialect, clean humor sang and danced their way into favor, accompanied by the music of the pipes. Courtwright and Hutchison are also clever dancers. Greber and Kev have a musical comedy which has considerable merit. The majesticope has a number of good films and the pictures are interesting.

At Shea's

All lovers of vaudeville should go to Shea's this week, there's not a dull spot from start to finish. Van Cleveland and Pete, the muis, start the fun and are well worth seeing. Harry Brown certainly earns his title of a "Rapid Song Writer" as he does as fast as the last car when you've just missed it. One of the best turns is Binns, Binns and Binns as an exceptionally good one and should prove a strong drawing card for the Majestic all week.

At the Star

Shining is the strongest point in favor of "The Fashion Plates" at the Star this week. The large chorus did some excellent vocalistic work last night and the orchestra was as well as the last car when you've just missed it. One of the best turns is Binns, Binns and Binns as an exceptionally good one and should prove a strong drawing card for the Majestic all week.

At the Gayety.

"The Three Skins" is the first burlesque and it depicts the adventures of a man who is very willing to be paid to get married.
In the olio the "Newsboys' Trio," composed of three boys, all good dancers, one of a singer of no mean merit, met with a good reception.
There were several other excellent subjects in the olio, the whole making a delightful entertainment.

At Massey Hall.

Massey Hall was again filled to overflowing last night to hear the joint concert of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra and Edith Miller and her Eng. Can company. The fact proves conclusively that high-grade concerts at popular prices will pay, and that hereafter there is no excuse for the prices which have prevailed in the past.
The orchestra was the order of the evening—the audience would not be satisfied till it got its fill of good music. The program on the whole was a most interesting and well selected one, and the orchestra was possibly a little below their own standard, but quite satisfactory, more especially in the Vespers of Reinhold's "Fanny and Alexander" and the third act of Kistler's "Kunhild."
The chief attraction, no doubt, was Miss Edith Miller, the celebrated Canadian contralto. She has, indeed, a rich, sonorous, tho' hardly sweet voice. She sang effectively "O, Mio Fernando," from Donizetti's "Favorita" and the "Song of the Sea" by Wagner, but she has acquired mannerisms in breathing and phrasing which should not obtain in the art of a finished vocalist. Alfred Hervey has a melodious and well-rounded tenor which he used bril-

But best of all, her discovery has not only succeeded in her own case, but it seems to have worked even more astonishing results in the cases of others.
Mrs. Mary J. Davis of East St. Louis, Ill., says: "My wrinkles were very deep and of long standing, so you can imagine my surprise when, after only two applications, they entirely disappeared." Mrs. L. E. Maskell, of 502 Clay-street, San Francisco, writes: "I did 50 years ago, and consequently my wrinkles were of long standing, and I had not thought it possible to erase them, but now, when I view my changed reflection in the mirror, I can scarcely realize the transformation that has been wrought." Mrs. M. A. Edwards of Raleigh, N.C., says: "I look younger than I did 20 years ago." Mrs. Nellie W. Hoyt of Brooklyn, N.Y., writes: "Your treatment has removed every mark and blemish from my face, and filled out the hollow places, giving it a most remarkable tone."

No other Beauty Specialist, living or dead, has ever been honored by gold medals from International Expositions, and patronized by Countesses and ladies of high title and rank to the same extent that Harriet Meta has been.

Baseball Providence 4 Torontos 0 Lacrosse News and Gossip Turf Wintergreen Wins Derby

Note and Comment

Mention of the thorough cracks in the Toronto Cup is a review of the best horses coming to the O.C.C. spring races and they are the biggest recent winners on the American turf.

Jeff Bernstein was often first as a two-year-old. High Private landed the California Derby and other big stakes at the recent Pimlico meeting. Hildreth has been James, who captured the Burns Handicap and three other good ones. Bartley Shrober has the record for the mile and Red Walker will start among others Stanley Day. The local owners are also well represented in the big list.

The other stakes are filled equally elaborately, all of which bespeak the magnitude of the meeting that is near at hand.

The National Sporting Club of London have given out an autograph letter from Jack Johnson, showing that the black man agreed to meet Sam Langford in their pug last February. Manager in their pug last February. Manager in their pug last February.

Toronto must win the wind-up game on the road to-day to start the baseball season at home with a record of 50 and it is a good guess that the Leafs will do it. They take a holiday to-morrow and then go for the island and the opening of the season on Thursday.

Manager Kelley and his men have been up against climatic conditions since leaving Chatham and they can well lay the blame of defeat to the chilly weather at Newark, Jersey City, Baltimore and Providence. Warmth and humidity are the ingredients of the table when they strike the sunny slopes of Haulan's Point!

TORONTOS SIGN NEW MEN

Dad Stewart, Fitzgerald and Lantz the New Players.

The Toronto Lacrosse Club, who will honor their first practice of the season at Rosedale on Saturday, have signed three new men, one of them being our friend and club member, the new recruit, while the other two are home players, they being Fitzgerald of St. Kitts and Lantz of Hespeler.

Manager Charlie Querrie of the Toronto team states that Stewart played two games with Toronto last year, and has signed with him for the season. However, Stewart is eligible to play with which club he chooses, as the N.L.U. rule last year made him ineligible if he played three games, but Stewart only played two.

There is a chance that the Torontos will again play at Rosedale this season. At any rate they will play there in the middle of the season, as the grounds will not be ready before then.

Charlie Querrie has picked up a good man for the Indians in Bert Jardine, a former Young Toronto defence fielder. Jardine, who is now in New York, was given a try-out with the Torontos in 1907 and showed good form. He is speedy and a remarkably hard checker.

The first batch of C.I.A. Intermediate certificates has been issued. Murphy of the Young Toronto is the first to receive them.

The Toronto Lacrosse Club will banquet all their players Saturday night at the St. Charles. They have all of last year's team and a new one, the list being: Atton, Harshaw, Menary, Stagg, Braden, Powers, McKenzie, Warwick, Barnett, Cameron, and the new recruits, Carter, Carmichael, Stewart, Fitzgerald and Lantz.

Why the way if Fitzgerald is like his Toronto friends, who are now in Toronto, he will do.

Secretary Hall of the C.I.A. is very enthusiastic about the juvenile series, which will be formed of Burlington, Dundas and Hamilton, with two teams in the latter city, while Beeton is the only club to say they are forming a district club this year.

The C.I.A. district committee meet Thursday at 8 o'clock to make the final draft for the season. Clubs please bear this in mind.

Jack McGill, a young home player of Montreal, will be given a trial by the Torontos. He reports May 1.

Harry Murton of the Torontos left last night for Regina, while Shea and Gorman, the Ottawa men, leave to-day.

Nothing has been heard since the C.I.A. convention as to who would form the new district.

Secret Notes. Royal Hearts will practice to-night at 8:30 on east side of Don Plaza. A full turnout of players is requested to get into shape for Saturday's game with the Eskimos at Diamond Park.

The Friends will practice every Tuesday evening at Stanley Park at 8:30 sharp. Every member is requested to turn out. On Thursday evening all members are asked to attend the school club at 8 o'clock at 8 Widmer-street at 8 o'clock.

The Parkdale Cricket Club. The Parkdale Cricket Club would like to arrange matches with the club. Those desiring games please Dr. A. C. Bennett, Parkdale 178.

The Davies players were given light work and practice. They will get a workout later in the week.

Grays Bunch Hits on Rudolph Mullen is Out of the Game

Rochester, Newark and Baltimore the Other Winners Getting Ready For Opening Games.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 3.—(Special.)—By bunching hits on Rudolph in the fifth and seventh innings of to-day's game, the locals scored two runs in each session and defeated the Torontos by a score of 4 to 0. The youthful pitcher of the Leafs was in fine form, and in all but these two sessions held the hard-hitting Grays safe at all stations.

Seven of the nine hits corralled by the home team came in these innings. Lavender, the recruit from the Holyoke team of Connecticut League, pitched a splendid game and well earned the shut-out. The hits corralled by the visitors, three, were the merest scratches. Both teams fielded sharply, the exhibition being the best of the season here. Manager Kelley shook up his team considerably. Mullen injured his leg at Rocky Point and will be out of the game for several days.

Phelan opened the fourth with a single and stole second. Arndt's out at first put him on third and he crossed the plate on Hoffman's single. Shaw singled and sending Lavender over the fence. In the seventh Blackburn was first up and beat out a sacrifice fly. Lavender grounded out. Blackburn scored on Phelan's out at first.

Visitors had a great chance to tally in the fifth, when they got the bases full, but Lavender was steady as a rock. He walked out. Trippe walked, Mitchell struck out. Rudolph hit cleanly past Blackburn and Goode went down on balls. Mishling made a fine bid for a hit, but put up a fly to Phelan.

In the eighth Mishling and Grimshaw hit for singles in succession with nobody out, but the next three could not get the ball over the fence. In the ninth Rudolph was hit and Goode doubled, but Mishling fouled to Fitzgerald.

Baltimore 12, Buffalo 5. BALTIMORE, May 3.—(Sun Special.)—To-day's game between Baltimore and Buffalo was a comedy of errors. The Orioles won by swatting all three of the Blon pitchers hard. Score: Baltimore, 12; Buffalo, 5.

GREAT WEEK FOR SHRINERS

Louisville Has Arranged a Gorgeous Program of Events.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2.—(Special.)—Elaborate plans have been worked out for the entertainment of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of America, who will gather in Louisville June 7 to 10.

Over thirty-two patrols or Shrine drill teams from as many different temples have already engaged accommodations in Louisville and will participate in a great night pageant of the Shriners, in the exhibition drills and in the grand review.

The Louisville committee, under the chairmanship of Frank Fehr, and citizens have together spent upwards of $75,000 in preparation for the event. The sum has been expended exclusively into illuminations and decorations and the Kentucky metropolis will be a veritable fairyland of lights.

St. Peter's will play a practice game on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week. The game will be held at 8:30 p.m. as usual.

BOTH SIDES WIN

Government Get Technical Victory Over the Railroads.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—It has been many months since the decision of the Supreme court of the United States has been received with so much interest as was manifested to-day in the decision on the construction of the clause of the Hepburn rate law, which prohibits interstate railroads from carrying commodities manufactured, mined or produced directly or indirectly by the roads, was declared unconstitutional. When there was a reversal to-day instead of an affirmation, the interest was much magnified. What again it was found that the reversal was based on technical grounds and that the effect was really favorable to the railroads, sentiment took another turn.

Analyzed, Justice White's decision in the Hepburn case, it is not surprising that the construction of the clause of the Hepburn rate law, which prohibits interstate railroads from carrying commodities manufactured, mined or produced directly or indirectly by the roads, was declared unconstitutional. When there was a reversal to-day instead of an affirmation, the interest was much magnified. What again it was found that the reversal was based on technical grounds and that the effect was really favorable to the railroads, sentiment took another turn.

Ovillie L. Ladow of New York, one of the passengers, is at the King Edward. According to his story every car left the track, the tender was tipped over and the baggage car was left at right angles to the track. Funeral of China's Emperor. PEKIN, May 3.—The funeral march to the tomb of the body of the late emperor will take four days, and the entire route is to be over the great highway especially constructed for the procession. The coffin is massive and heavy. The inside is lined with cypress wood; then comes a covering of catpaw wood, which in turn is encased in rhinoceros hide. The whole is covered with a stout shield made from the hide of the water buffalo.

The widow of the late emperor will travel to the tomb by rail, leaving here on May 3. The imperial tombs will not be completed for two years, and the actual interment of the body of Kuang Hsu will have to be deferred for this length of time. They will cost, when completed, considerably more than $1,000,000.

The company offered $35,000 in Grand Valley bonds, which were not accepted by the city, thus nullifying the agreement.

AMBROSE KENT & SONS, LIMITED

156 YONGE ST. TORONTO

ESTABLISHED 1888

OBITUARY.

Wm. Lightfoot, one of the oldest and best known market gardeners in Toronto, died at his home, 102 Dundas-st. west, yesterday of pneumonia. He was in his 74th year and has been a resident in Toronto for 40 years, having come from Devonshire, England, a number of years he was chief gardener of the Horticultural Gardens, and three of his sons are prominently engaged in a like pursuit in the city.

William is at present superintendent of High Park; Charles is in the market gardening business on Brock-avenue, and Thomas is prominently known as one of the leading vegetable merchants of the St. Lawrence market. Three other sons, James, Arthur and Howard, are all well-known citizens of Toronto. Deceased is also survived by a widow and three daughters.

Mr. Lightfoot was a member of the Masonic Order and the St. George's Society.

At Asheville, N.S.—Dr. Sheldon Jackson, the noted missionary of the Presbyterian Church, following two operations, aged 75. He was a member of the National Geographical, educational, and statist and about 40 other societies, religious, scientific and philanthropic.

At Brockville—James Pills, aged 72, a resident for 37 years.

At Cincinnati, Ohio—George Melvor, head of the fire department; a native of Millbrook, Ont.

At Aberdeen, Scotland—The very Rev. John Marshall Lang, clerk of the house of commons, England, and principal of Aberdeen University, aged 75.

At Brockville, N.Y.—Poster Udell, known as the apple king, Mr. Udell's orchards were famous. He had been a student of the law for over six years and probably planted more apple trees than any other man in the world.

The death occurred on Sunday at the King Edward Sanitarium, Weston, Ont. He was a prominent citizen of Toronto for the past 11 years. He was born at Cobobank in 1878. He is survived by his parents, one sister and four brothers.

Thomas Moore, aged 70, of 517 Markham-st., passed away at his residence from paralysis last night. His son Thomas of the Royal Grenadiers was shot in the Riel rebellion in 1885.

He was a nelder in College-st. Baptist Church and was past president of the Trades and Labor Council. He was a member of Robeson Masonic Lodge.

Rev. Andrew Imrie, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Brantford, has accepted a position with the Toronto Bible Training School. Rev. W. E. Gibby, Congregational, of Brantford, has been appointed pastor of the church.

John McKane, the millionaire mining man of New Brunswick, who some time ago bought the St. John Telegraph and Times, has died at his residence in Montreal, and later sold to George McAvity and John E. Moore, has now sold his extensive milling property on the Miramichi to William and Edward Sinclair.

The governor-general of the Villages has given the Rev. William E. Chambers, a missionary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, a guard to accompany him to Hadjin.

Oscar S. Straus, former secretary of commerce and labor, has been selected for U. S. ambassador to Turkey and W. W. Rockhill for ambassador to Russia.

Reassurance. A magic wand hath touched the sleeping earth. And at its summons, lo, a glorious dawn! To countless joys rock, field and hill give birth. And myriads triumph in a breath are born.

Old winter's woe, like mist, hath rolled away. And over a rose-bud splendor glows; Love, pleasure, hope—as flowers—adorn the day; A ecstatic peace in every streamlet flows.

Sweet spring is here! The Easter of our souls! O'erlaid with promise; burdened with duty; and with a purpose in each hour that rolls: A precious treasure in each moment's flight.

O magic wand! O faithful hand and true! Give these frail and grateful hearts for this— Thy touch hath quickened blood and brain anew. And a thrill of bliss with fresh-filled cup of lips.

—Lurana W. Sheldon, in Metropolitan Magazine.

Florence Kinrade Tells of Her Nomadic Life in the South

"Under salary?" "I understood so." "And was that church in Manchester?" "I couldn't just say where it was."

"How long did you sing in that church?" "I can't remember." "Give me an idea."

"There was a very long pause. Finally Miss Kinrade whispered: 'I can't just remember.'"

"Well, months?" "Not as long as months." "Weeks, then?" "Perhaps three or four."

"Who paid you your salary?" "It was sent to me."

"After you left?" "Yes." "Was it a white church or a colored church?" "A white church."

"Where were you when you received the salary?" "In Portsmouth."

"And what was the amount that you received?" "About $20."

"By cheque or in bills—or what?" "In bills."

"And how many bills?" "Do you remember the name of the church in which she sang, nor the number of Sundays she sang?"

"Where She Got Letters." "Witness could not give the name of the street the church was on, or of its minister, nor the address of her residence. Finally she said she lived at Virginia Beach."

"But," objected Mr. Blackstock, "that is eighty miles from Richmond. Did you receive a letter at the Manchester postoffice?"

"I don't think so." Later she couldn't remember if she had or not.

"Mr. Blackstock: 'Now, Miss Kinrade, I am instructed that for a period of several weeks you called every day at your mother's home, and that you left a written direction to forward your mail to Virginia Beach. Are these statements true?'"

"They may be." "Now, I'm instructed that in those days you came across the bridge that spans the James River, and got out at postoffice, went in and got your mail, and returned to Richmond in the same way?"

"I am instructed that you did that for week after week for several weeks. Is that statement true?" "I can't remember."

"I am instructed that you never sang in any church in the south, and I will ask you now if you can name the church. I shall give you a chance to do so. If you can't name it, why, she couldn't remember."

The Trip South. "Do you know by what route she went to Richmond?" "I don't remember." "She went to Buffalo, and I understood that she went to Richmond."

"And any other place that you know of?" "I was not in a condition to pay much attention to what was going on."

"She hadn't known much about the church or the salary, Florence was going to, all being left in Mr. Kinrade's hands?"

"I didn't take so much interest as I would have, because I didn't just approve of her going," witness added in explanation after some questioning. She understood Florence had supported herself on the salary received, however.

"You do know of any money being sent to her on the first occasion, when she was in the south, by you or any other member of the family?" "She had money of her own."

"What I was asking you was, how you knew your daughter had any money when she was in the south?" "Because she told me."

"Before she went?" "Yes." "You say she had money of her own when she was in the south?" "Yes, she had a salary for singing at Mechanics Church." "Pressed to name an amount that Florence may have had, she said no."

Asked about a bracelet Florence had received, ostensibly from the choir she refused to say she hadn't examined it.

Mr. Blackstock then asked about letters, but Mrs. Kinrade could give no answer.

"Could you gather anything from the letters that you got from her in the south, that would lead you to suspect that she was singing in the church?"

"No." "Mrs. Kinrade, who had shown signs of weakness, complained: 'You are hurting my head.' Mr. Blackstock offered to let her rest awhile, but she had no sooner determined to go on than she collapsed and was carried away in a fainting condition."

Florence Kinrade again, Mr. Blackstock called, and was escorted to the stand by Montrose Wright.

She said she had been singing in Mechanics Presbyterian Church. The minister's name she couldn't remember; the choirleader was a Mr. Foster.

Thos. Hobson, one of defence counsel, at this point objected to any questions that might tend to incriminate the witness.

"So far as the protection of the witness is concerned," continued Mr. Blackstock, "the witness has a right to refuse to answer any question on the ground that her answers would incriminate her; and that question can not be asked."

"Under salary?" "I understood so." "And was that church in Manchester?" "I couldn't just say where it was."

"How long did you sing in that church?" "I can't remember." "Give me an idea."

"There was a very long pause. Finally Miss Kinrade whispered: 'I can't just remember.'"

"Well, months?" "Not as long as months." "Weeks, then?" "Perhaps three or four."

"Who paid you your salary?" "It was sent to me."

"After you left?" "Yes." "Was it a white church or a colored church?" "A white church."

"Where were you when you received the salary?" "In Portsmouth."

"And what was the amount that you received?" "About $20."

"By cheque or in bills—or what?" "In bills."

"And how many bills?" "Do you remember the name of the church in which she sang, nor the number of Sundays she sang?"

"Where She Got Letters." "Witness could not give the name of the street the church was on, or of its minister, nor the address of her residence. Finally she said she lived at Virginia Beach."

"But," objected Mr. Blackstock, "that is eighty miles from Richmond. Did you receive a letter at the Manchester postoffice?"

"I don't think so." Later she couldn't remember if she had or not.

"Mr. Blackstock: 'Now, Miss Kinrade, I am instructed that for a period of several weeks you called every day at your mother's home, and that you left a written direction to forward your mail to Virginia Beach. Are these statements true?'"

"They may be." "Now, I'm instructed that in those days you came across the bridge that spans the James River, and got out at postoffice, went in and got your mail, and returned to Richmond in the same way?"

"I am instructed that you did that for week after week for several weeks. Is that statement true?" "I can't remember."

"I am instructed that you never sang in any church in the south, and I will ask you now if you can name the church. I shall give you a chance to do so. If you can't name it, why, she couldn't remember."

The Trip South. "Do you know by what route she went to Richmond?" "I don't remember." "She went to Buffalo, and I understood that she went to Richmond."

"And any other place that you know of?" "I was not in a condition to pay much attention to what was going on."

"She hadn't known much about the church or the salary, Florence was going to, all being left in Mr. Kinrade's hands?"

"I didn't take so much interest as I would have, because I didn't just approve of her going," witness added in explanation after some questioning. She understood Florence had supported herself on the salary received, however.

"You do know of any money being sent to her on the first occasion, when she was in the south, by you or any other member of the family?" "She had money of her own."

"What I was asking you was, how you knew your daughter had any money when she was in the south?" "Because she told me."

"Before she went?" "Yes." "You say she had money of her own when she was in the south?" "Yes, she had a salary for singing at Mechanics Church." "Pressed to name an amount that Florence may have had, she said no."

"So far as the protection of the witness is concerned," continued Mr. Blackstock, "the witness has a right to refuse to answer any question on the ground that her answers would incriminate her; and that question can not be asked."

you met at Mrs. Kenneth Brown's in Syracuse?" "No."

"That is another Mr. Foster?" "Yes." "I ask you the question again. Would it be truthful to say that the choir-master of this southern Presbyterian church was introduced to you at Mrs. Kenneth Brown's in Syracuse?" "I could not say."

"Did you live there all the time that you were singing at this church at Manchester?" "No, I did not."

"How long did you stay in that house?" "I can't remember."

"Days or weeks?" "Days, I think."

"And you can't tell us the street of the number, as you've already said?" "No."

FLORENCE KINRADE TELLS OF HER ROMANTIC LIFE

conducted a "dime museum," that there was a young Canadian girl, Miss Kinrade, there. "It may have been that way," she agreed. She went to Portsmouth, N.H., "Did you ever answer any matrimonial advertisements?" Miss Kinrade shook her head and smiled. After a colloquy with Detective Rogers, Mr. Blackstock repeated his question. "It was not exactly that," she said. "Just a little fun."

"It was an advertisement inserted by whom?" "Some gentleman. I don't remember his name," replied witness, who said she thought it was in Ithaca, N.Y. She saw the advertisement and replied to it. She identified a letter produced as in her handwriting.

Mr. Lynch-Staunton protested, saying: "Surely there is a limit. You're trying to make a fool of the girl." Mr. Blackstock ought to be ashamed of himself. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself," retorted Mr. Blackstock. Mr. Lynch-Staunton again protested, and was told by the coroner that he must desist.

Mr. Blackstock said that the letter bore the date of March 1907, or that a year before she went south, and reminded her that she had said that she hadn't heard the name before her southern trip. "My sister wrote also," she volunteered.

She was questioned as to her stay in Portsmouth. Mr. Blackstock said Mrs. Butler said she went over to Norfolk four or five times a week and Mr. Butler did not say a word and Mrs. Butler to accompany her. "That isn't true," answered Miss Kinrade, who said she just went for the trip, not to see anyone.

Shortly after reaching Portsmouth, Mr. Butler introduced her to Mrs. Butler. He was to instruct her how to act. He wrote a sketch, in which she chased him with a knife. She did not say why she received a revolver at him without his knowledge. "I tried to, but it wouldn't go off," replied Florence, who said this was the only occasion of the kind. She received money from home, but whether once or more she could not say. She left home with $50 or $60. "While in Portsmouth did you tell Baum you had been married?" "I may have."

"I will swear that I don't remember." Asked whether she did not tell Mr. and Mrs. Butler in July she would have to leave, as the man was persecuting her, she said, "That wasn't it," and also denied having said the man (her husband) had strange power over her. Miss Kinrade then said she thought she told the Butlers that her aunt, as she called Miss Elliott, did not like her being on the stage.

Mr. Blackstock asked whether she had not gone walking with a large blonde woman. She could not remember. As to Col. Warburton, she could not remember what his business was or when she met him. She understood he had come out from England. He found fault with her being on the stage, she volunteered.

Her Friendship With Baum. Questioned about her second trip south last October, Miss Kinrade said she returned because her mother objected to Baum's attentions, although they were "only a joke." There was no serious intention on her part. When she left Portsmouth Baum saw her off on the boat. "You had not promised to marry him?" "No," replied Florence, who said she might at some time have done so in a joke.

"It would be erroneous to represent that you told Baum you would tell Mr. Wright you were engaged to him?" "No," she said. "I was never engaged to him," she declared. Asked whether when at Virginia she wrote to her sister Ethel, she said she wrote several letters. Mr. Blackstock asked whether she was engaged to a gentleman whom she now loved and knew her own heart.

Mr. Blackstock asked whether her family had not discovered her affair with Baum by intercepting a letter, and she admitted this. "You said in a letter that if they knew the truth there would be trouble?" "They would object," she replied. "I guess she knew." "I guess she knew," she replied. "I may have kept it up for a little while."

At 10:20 p.m. Mr. Blackstock said he was willing to adjourn as he understood there had been some criticism. "The jury are willing to go on until 12," assured the coroner. Blackstock asked Miss Kinrade whether she would prefer to continue, and after some little hesitation she said she would rather go on.

Mr. Blackstock pointed out that there was a discrepancy between this last statement and what she had testified, and that he had been instructed Miss Elliott was not with her at the hotel, as the letter indicated, and that the choir-master and officers of the Manchester Presbyterian Church said she had never sung there, and that the letter was a "tissue of falsehood."

There was a reception, but she could not remember at whose house. Mr. Blackstock said the other people alluded to as present said the whole thing was false.

A Letter to Daddy. Detective Pender then read a letter written from Norfolk, June 14, 1908, by Florence to her father, whom she addressed as "Dear Daddy." It acknowledged receipt of a cheque from him and rambled on with a sketchy description of her surroundings. It was couched in affectionate terms. It alluded to her fiancé, C. Montrose Wright, having taken honors in church history exams, and passed on to speak of a reception soon to be given by Mrs. Wells in honor of herself, and also that Mr. Foster, the choir leader, had congratulated her on her good solo work "for the last two months." As in the other letter, it told of her hopes and ambitions as a vocalist. Also it spoke of "Aunt Marion" as footing all her bills. "I love you in the same old way, daddy," it concluded.

Mr. Blackstock said he was instructed she never sang in any church from May 15 to the end of July. "You deceived your father," he said. "I did at first; I did not let them know I was singing in a theatre. I didn't want them to know. They were not altogether falsehoods," said the witness, who admitted not singing in the choir after May 15, under salary, but she returned to singing. "I am instructed you weren't out of Portsmouth one solitary Sunday after May 15."

"That's a falsehood," said witness, who admitted that she wasn't away more than one Sunday. Baum Letter Not Read. Mr. Blackstock submitted some more letters, which she identified as her own. They were letters to Baum after her return home in December last. Mr. Blackstock asked if she desired to have the letters read. She replied "No." He said he didn't want to have to read them; and that if she desired to prevent them being read, to admit the facts resulting from them.

"Do you admit the facts?" Witness nodded. Asked again whether she did not tell Baum she would tell Mr. Wright she was engaged to the former, she said she might have done so in fun. "Did you write Baum that you would tell Mr. Wright of your relationship with him?" "Yes, that was keeping up the joke."

"She said she got a letter from Baum saying he would send her a Xmas present, and admitted writing him later that if he had sent one it must have been intercepted by her people at home. Mr. Washington read a letter from Mrs. Kinrade to Baum, Jan. 13, 1909, informing the latter of Florence's engagement and alluding to a present being returned. "Your mother and Ethel told you later on?" "Yes."

"They were very angry?" "Yes." Asked whether she had not later written Baum asking him to write her under the name of Mildred Dale to the Hamilton postoffice she admitted having proposed the plan. "You mother and Ethel told you what they had discovered and there was a family row?" "Ethel did not intercept the letter?" "Not that I know of."

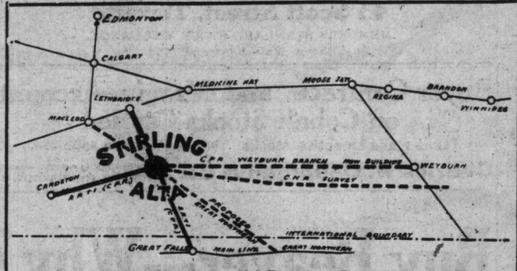

"You continued your correspondence with Baum till your family forced you to break it off?" "I did it myself," returned Miss Kinrade. Mr. Blackstock asked whether she did not continue to write to Baum until Feb. 10 last. She admitted it. "In one of your letters you say you think you will go crazy with your troubles?" "Yes."

"They were troubles over the question of what I should do," said witness, who said Baum wanted her to marry him and go upon the stage. Mr. Blackstock asked whether she would desire to have the letter read. She said "Yes."

Broke News to Baum. "I began," "Dear Jack" and was written from the King Edward Hotel, Toronto. "It referred to Baum as having been ill and said the news she had to give might not assist his recovery. She said she had become engaged to a gentleman whom she now loved and knew her own heart. "Your correspondence must end," it ran. It spoke of her family as having moved to Niagara Falls. This she acknowledged to Mr. Blackstock to be untrue.

"It was just two weeks after that the tragedy occurred?" "Yes." Blackstock asked whether her family had not discovered her affair with Baum by intercepting a letter, and she admitted this. "You said in a letter that if they knew the truth there would be trouble?" "They would object," she replied. "I guess she knew." "I guess she knew," she replied. "I may have kept it up for a little while."

Baum met her with a blonde lady. She did not know who she was. Miss Elliott used to take her about the city. She was shown in a newspaper. It did not look like Miss Elliott witness swore. It did not look like Miss Elliott, she had no photograph of her, but had asked her for one. She did not defray expenses after witness went to Virginia Beach. The Warburtons disappeared.

A Question of Veracity. Mr. Blackstock: "I suppose you know it is important in the matter we are investigating that we should know what amount of reliance we can place upon your statements?" "Yes." "Can you tell us the address of anyone of four people?" "No." "At any time?" "I am just thinking. No, I have no definite recollection."

Then here are four people with whom you have lived on terms of intimacy and corresponded with two of them, and you cannot give me their names at any time?" "No." "I am instructed that there is no person of the name of Foster in any church in Manchester. Can you give me any clue?" "Yes, it could not be definitely."

About Claude Elliott. "Do you know whose remains she had to accompany when she could not meet you when you went to Philadelphia?" "She said it was a cousin or something. She didn't tell me much." She had stated that the flowers might have been delivered from Claude Elliott when she was in the south. "Yes."

He had gone to England in the summer of 1907, she asserted. She had met him sometime before, perhaps the summer she went to Goderich. He was aged 25 and was a student. She forgot the college. It might have been Queen's. This was in the summer of 1907. What was there to make her expect a box of flowers from him. Miss Elliott had said that her brother was coming. She first time she met him was at Mrs. Robinson's at Goderich. Yes, she had stayed at the Bedford Hotel for a week. Why had she not told him before she was asked that she had stayed at the Bedford Hotel? The witness answered confusedly. She went on first and left on the eighth, and slept in the hotel every night. She did not remember whether any one stayed with her.

The Execution of Scott. MONTREAL, May 3.—(Special.)—The Quebec papers are publishing a letter from Father Lestanc, an Oblate, written to Archbishop Langevin of St. Boniface, on the execution of Thomas Scott by Louis Riel.

Riel had previously, at his behest, pardoned an Englishman, Boulton, and a French-Canadian, who had been condemned. The above letter is written, so the papers declare, because of the persistence of the anti-Catholic press in affirming that the Roman Catholic missionaries had counseled the execution of Scott.

Labor Troubles at Victoria. VANCOUVER, B. C., May 3.—(Special.)—There are rumors of coming labor troubles along several lines in the building trades. The outcome is uncertain, as neither contractors nor journeymen are willing to speak freely on the matter.

Back to Hoboken. Joseph McPherson, alias George Wilson, alias Thomas Johnson, arrested Friday as a drunk, was yesterday turned over to Detective Quinn of Hoboken, N. J., where he is wanted for theft of a 2300 diamond pin in 1908 from the then mayor of that city.

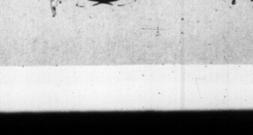

The typewriter which most people use is the best typewriter to buy. There are more Underwoods used in this city, and in this Province, and in this Dominion, than all other makes combined.

It is better to have bought an Underwood than to wish you had. During the past four years the public has thrown away thousands upon thousands of dollars by purchasing experimental imitations of the Underwood Typewriter and in a short time exchanging them at a fraction of their cost, for the original, genuine article. The Underwood passed the experimental stage ten years ago.

In the purchase of a typewriter it is wiser to let the other fellow do the experimenting—and cheaper.

Mining Markets Are Firm New York Comes to the Fore

Low Priced Issues in Evidence—Shipments Satisfactory—Traders Are Looking for Higher Prices.

World Office,
Monday Evening, May 3.
Mining stocks were on the up grade to-day. Brokers were kept busy thru-out both sessions and report an increase in outside interest. There seems little doubt that the principal support at present forthcoming for Cobalt and the newer mining issues, emanates from New York. La Rose still keeps very firm, at the new high record, at this centre and Kerr Lake is wonderfully strong at $1-16. A much more active demand and an increase in buying orders is reported from New York than has been the case for some weeks now.

The low-priced issues were again much in evidence, Beaver selling at 23-3/8 late in the afternoon, and closing string at 20 bid. Pete Lake was active, the closing 1-5-8 down from Saturday. Green-Meehan lost a point and the rest of the list was steady.

The higher priced stocks were not much in evidence locally. Temiskaming gained a point, but trading was on the small side.

Shipments from the camp last week were satisfactory, being 507 tons divided between nine mines. The price of silver was steady with an upward tendency.

The market closed on the strong side, offerings being well taken. There was a good deal of in and out trading, but not such as to influence prices to any great extent, traders being of the opinion that higher prices are in sight.

Ice is Breaking Up.

ELK LAKE, Ont., May 3.—Ice on the Montreal River and Elk Lake now broken up in a day or two at the most in places, and is impossible to cross except by bridge. Bear River practically clear of ice. Weather quite mild, but spring making itself felt. No fire here.

P. W. BALL.

KERR LAKE ADVANCES.

An advance of 50 points in Kerr Lake in two days, from $7.50 to $8.00, was one of the prominent features in the Cobalt market. The steadily increasing asset value of this property, owing to the fact that it is blocking out three tons of ore for every one ton shipped, creates a strong undertone in its stock. Any reaction is followed by a sharp rally and advances to new high levels are made nearly every month.

Hargrave, which adjoins the Kerr Lake Mine and which is working on the same vein as the Kerr Lake Company, is making splendid progress. The main shaft on the "Jacob" or No. 3 vein of Kerr Lake, is now down 220 feet. It is now only a matter of a short time when the workings will reach the level parallel with the sixth level of the Kerr Lake. It is known for a certainty that the bonanza bed at one in Kerr Lake's sixth level extends across the Hargrave line and into the Hargrave property. Once the Hargrave taps this bed of ore a rapid rise in Hargrave stock similar to that which took place in Kerr Lake stock is expected. When Kerr Lake ran into this very rich bed of ore its stock was quoted at 47 1/2. It shortly after began to advance, and rapidly climbed 350 points to 82 1/2. Notwithstanding the recent general decline in Kerr Lake stock, strong at $90. When Hargrave taps this bed of ore a quick rise in its stock to about $90 is expected. Hargrave is now quoted at 82 1/2.

The shares of the Ophir-Cobalt Mines, Limited, will be listed on both the Toronto and Standard Mining Exchanges on Tuesday. Active dealing was reported in the shares yesterday at prices ranging from 52 1/2 to 54 1/2.

GOWGANDA New York Now a Strong Buyer of the Mining Shares--ELK LAKE

Hawthorne Mining Syndicate Out for Honest Development

The World a short time ago published an article giving as far as could be found out the operations of the Hawthorne Syndicate in New Ontario.

This syndicate (composed of wealthy Americans) has been operating in the Montreal River district since last summer and has spent much money in locating claims and opening up this country.

The Canadian Mining Journal, incensed by the article, presumably because the World gave first-hand information, made a bitter and apparently unwarranted attack upon the syndicate, which by the way is spending its own money, in unearthing the mineral wealth of Ontario.

Mr. Julian Hawthorne, the active member of the syndicate, writes The World as follows in regard to the matter and incidentally confirms the original statement made thru these columns.

Dear Sir—It seems evident that The Journal people do not love The World, and even permit their animosity to prompt them to hit at you over my shoulders.

Of course, I cannot presume to participate in a newspaper controversy as such, and I am also satisfied that you are well able to take care of yourself. But the insinuations of The Journal against the company of which I am president gives me a look-in in the matter.

I will say, for one thing, that the article in your paper about our operations in the Shelving Tree and Welcome Lake districts was accurate in all respects, and so was what was said about our Temagami-Cobalt and our James Township properties. No one has ever undertaken to deny that the facts which we state are the truth, nor can anyone do so except by drawing upon their imagination for their ammunition.

Anybody, of course, may cry "fake," but anybody who attempts to convict us of faking, either upon concrete evidence or abstract suspicion, will find himself in an unpleasant predicament. Nothing has ever been promulgated from this office which was not fully warranted by the condition of our properties; none of our subscribers has ever become such without being fully informed that a mining project is not a mine; that our directors own two-thirds of the stock and have pooled it for five years; and that our stock is sold exclusively for development of our properties, and not for stock-jobbing purposes.

Every intending subscriber who will consent to go to Ontario and make a personal examination of what we are doing, before forestalling us, has been given every facility for doing so, and has, moreover, invested after making his examination.

We have never owed anybody a dollar, and we hold all our properties absolutely, without heirs or conditions of any kind. We have kept a large force of men constantly at work, stripping veins and sinking shafts; we have built accommodations, laid in provisions for a year ahead, and have just installed the best sort of machinery on all our properties. We are now going down on veins, the character of which, as regards their silver bearing qualities, is perfectly satisfactory to us, and will be so to our stockholders long before the summer is over.

This is not the work nor the ways of fakirs. As your article justly says, we are in Ontario to make mines and to take part in the legitimate development of the country. No form of attack on us or on our methods has an honest leg to stand on; any attack will certainly react upon those who make it. We have, as you say, conducted our operations as quietly as we could, because it is necessary, in order to secure good holdings without extravagant cost, to get in ahead of others, and make our bargains before the rush comes. But, except in this respect, we have nothing to conceal, much less anything to be ashamed of. There are no locked doors in Ontario, and anyone who is wide awake enough may see what is being done, and anyone active and enterprising enough may do it themselves before we do.

So much I will say on behalf of our company. As for the remarks personal to myself in which The Journal indulges, I do not need to say anything. My past and my present record alike make them ridiculous.

Sincerely yours,
Julian Hawthorne.

SIX MINE CONCENTRATORS AND TWO CUSTOM MILLS

Low Grade Milling Ore Will Shortly Add Much to Cobalt's Output.

COBALT, May 1.—(From the Man on the Spot.)—In another month Cobalt camp will have six mine concentrators and two custom mills treating low grade ore.

Public attention has hitherto been chiefly centred on the sensational shipments of high grade ore from Cobalt mines, but the tonnage of low grade milling ore in the mines that are regular shippers to-day is a source of future dividends that is already being worked.

There are many properties lying idle to-day that will come into the future pay dividends on their low grade ore bodies.

In some mines every stricker is worth following. Huge bodies of wall rock are infested with stringers that make good milling ore, and these stringers frequently run into width of sensational richness.

The mills now in operation are on the following properties: The Big Pete, owned by the Cobalt Central Co. The concentrator here treats 90 tons of ore daily, the mill's present capacity. The rock carries on an average 50 ounces of silver to the ton, and the silver savings are 87 per cent. Concentrates average 2000 ounces and 2500 ounces of silver in alternate carloads. Two cars of concentrates are now being shipped monthly, or 50 tons monthly, and sent to Copper Cliff smelter for treatment.

Large ore bodies in mine broken for mill supply: Rolls and Harding Conical Pebble mill, used for fine grinding. McKinley-Darragh—Mill's capacity 90 tons per diem, and now treating 80 tons daily. Stamps are used for fine grinding and savings are over 86 per cent. Sufficient ore is broken in mine to keep mill running for a long time. This ore will average over 50 ounces to the ton, and heavy shipments of high grade ore will also be made from this mine.

Buffalo—Capacity of mill 100 tons per diem, and mill kept running at full capacity. Superintendent Jones states that capacity will shortly be increased to 250 tons daily. Ore carries average silver values of 50 ounces to the ton and savings amount to 88 per cent. A cyanide process has now been installed and a saving of 94 per cent is claimed for this process. Sufficient ore is broken down in the mine to keep mill running for two years at present capacity. Sixty tons of 2000 ounce concentrates are being shipped monthly to Copper Cliff smelter.

Cobalt—Treating 80 tons daily, having average value of 50 ounces of silver to the ton. Silver savings amount to 87 per cent. Thirty stamps in operation. Ore bodies in mine over 30 feet wide that will average 100 ounces of silver to the ton. Ore broken in mine to supply mill for a year. Sixty tons of 2000 ounces of concentrates shipped monthly to the company's smelter at Thorold, Ont.

Muggins concentrator (custom)—Treats 70 tons of ore daily. Stamps used for fine grinding and silver savings amount to 85 per cent. The mill has treated ore from the dumps of Silver Queen, Townsley, City of Cobalt, Trethewey, Right of Way mine and has just finished treating experimentally ore from the various La Rose dumps. A car of concentrates has been sent to the smelters this week for La Rose. They will probably average 1800 ounces of silver to the ton.

O'Brien—Building completed and plant is now being installed. It will have a capacity of and will treat 100 tons daily. The ore will be transported from the different shafts to the mill by an electric railway. Stamps and Harding Conical Pebble mill will be used for fine grinding. The concentrator will be shipped to the O'Brien smelter at Deloro for treatment. Superintendent M. T. Culbert will have one of the largest and most complete concentrating plants in Cobalt camp.

Temiskaming will erect this summer a mill with capacity of at least 100 tons daily.

King Edward—Treats 25 tons daily with 10 stamps. The mill ore carries 150 ounces silver to the ton. The ore is broken in the mine and on dumps. The diabase wall-rock is heavily impregnated with leaf and sheet silver. The mill was only built experimentally. A much larger one will be erected.

Colorado—Only ore bodies located as yet on this property are low grade, but an ideal milling proposition. A concentrator will be erected almost immediately.

Nipissing custom mill (no connection with the Nipissing mines, but is located on one corner of Nip property)—This mill was designed on four mill principles. The idea was ridiculed by Cobalt mine superintendents, but an attempt was made by the old company to treat under the four mill process. A new system is now being installed and a new company has charge.

Five Story Denied.—In reference to a Cobalt despatch that Elk Lake has had a disastrous fire, The World's man on the spot writes from Cobalt: "A heavily impregnated telephone office has been talking with English and Charlton. They have heard from Elk City and are very absolutely. Telegraph wires between Charlton and Elk City are down."

ASquare Deal

That is the inducement offered by the FAIRPLAY MINING COMPANY which is to-day asking for the attention and co-operation of mining investors. This Company owns 160 ACRES OF MINING LANDS in the heart of the wonderful Silver Districts of Gowganda and the Montreal River.

The public to-day has learned to discriminate between promotions which aim to realize profits out of organization and those which have in view only the profits that will come from working of mines which nature has enriched.

Here is the situation briefly from beginning to end: This company found itself face to face with the opportunity of acquiring rich mineral lands in Gowganda and James Township--80 acres, or two properties in each district. It was an opportunity such as these experienced mining men could not ignore. The properties were acquired. Investigation proved the mineralization to be even more extensive than had been represented in the original report secured before the properties were taken over. It was ascertained that the mines at Gowganda were on the same ridge of diabase as all the wonderful discoveries at that camp. It was noted that the properties were close to Gowganda City, terminal of the proposed railroad and government wagon road now being surveyed. The location of these mines clearly had great economic advantages for future mining operations.

The James Township group were found to have adjoining them a mining company which was bagging silver ore. The impression, following a personal investigation, was most favorable.

The gentlemen identified with the company estimated carefully the amount of money required for its purposes, and decided to place the capitalization low. It was placed at $500,000, par value shares of one dollar each. The price of this stock was placed at

Twenty-five Cents Per Share

The Company also decided that the potentialities of its capital should not be discounted in any way and no commission is paid for the sale of stock. Hence there are two distinct advantages in this company's plan:

Low Capitalization---No Brokerage on the Sale of Stock.

The Story of the Silver Fields.

The Company has issued a booklet that is conceded to be one of the best pieces of descriptive mining literature ever issued free of charge. This booklet tells the fascinating history of the great silver camps of Gowganda and the Montreal River. It will be sent on request free to any reader of The World, along with prospectus and maps, showing location of the Company's properties, official reports and so forth.

ENDORSE CENTENNIAL

Board of Trade supports movement to commemorate Selkirk.

Resolved that the council of the Board of Trade of the City of Toronto heartily endorses the proposed Selkirk centennial to be held in the City of Winnipeg in the year 1912, and earnestly requests that the Dominion Government give the project its generous support by granting such assistance as may ensure that the project will be carried out on a scale worthy of the Dominion.

The above resolution was carried at a meeting held in the board of trade building yesterday afternoon.

Five prominent veteran business men, H. M. Belcher, president of the Winnipeg Board of Trade; C. N. Bell, secretary Winnipeg Board of Trade; D. E. Sprague, and F. O. Fowler of Winnipeg, and John Fleming of Brandon, who are on their way to Ottawa and Montreal, spoke at the meeting, explaining the project.

The deputation will visit the Montreal Board of Trade and the French Chamber of Commerce.

They will ask the general approval and support of these boards.

The centennial will commemorate the arrival in the Red River settlement of the Scotch settlers, brought to Canada by Lord Selkirk, which was the commencement of settlement in the interior of Canada.

The idea is to secure increased immigration and to increase the investment of foreign capital.

The intention is to organize and carry on the exposition on similar lines to the Lewis and Clarke expedition.

The committee will be in Ottawa to-day to interview the Dominion Government.

REV. DR. ORR'S VISIT

"If we understood these things aright we would have no more of the sort of stuff that Orr is coming out here to talk, and nobody knows where he stands on these questions, but it pays some people to talk that way. But I'm sorry these days and I will say no more."

WANT FARES CUT

Niagara Falls People Think Ten Cent Rate Too High.

A motion was made yesterday before the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board by J. M. Ferguson on behalf of the Board of Trade of Niagara Falls, asking for a revision of the passenger tariff of the International Railway.

At present the railway charges ten cents for three miles, and Niagara Falls people wish it reduced to five cents, as is charged by other electric roads.

A. W. Fraser of Niagara Falls appeared for the railway and questioned the jurisdiction of the board. The railways, he contended, came under the exception provided in the act, and its rates are subject to the Niagara Falls Park Commission. This commission had approved of the rates. An order in council had also been passed approving of them. Mr. Fraser stated that the park commission alone had control of the railway under the Park Act, and later by agreement which had been confirmed by the legislature.

Sir Aemilius Irving, K.C., who appeared for the Niagara Falls Park Commission did not question the jurisdiction of the board. But if the board decided it had not power to order a reduction in rates the commission would be willing to take the matter up.

Judgment will be handed out later.
