WINNIPEG, Man.

Capital of the province of Manitoba, situated at the junction of the Assiniboine and Red Rivers, 40 miles south of Lake Winnipeg, 65 miles from St. Vincent, 1424 miles from Montreal via Can. Pac Ry., or 1843 miles via Chicago and St. Paul. Prior to 1870 Winnipeg was nothing more than a chief trading post of the Hudson Bay Company, whose headquarters have been and are still at Fort Garry. At that date the population was estimated at 300 souls. The growth of the city since has been marvellous, and a source of astonishment to citizens as well as strangers. In the interim Manitoba was constituted a Province of the Dominion confederation, with Winnipeg as the Provincial capital. This gave a metropolitan character to the place, and brought the elements of political autonomy in its train, making it the headquarters of the Provincial Government, where the residence of the Lieutenant-Governor and all the public departments of the Province are located, as well as the superior courts and court house and jail. The city was incorporated in November, 1873, when its population numbered only some 2,000. There are 10 banks in the city, all doing a good business, and also 1 private bank. The Provincial Board of Education holds its sittings here, and the city is also the seat of the University of Manitoba, to which is affiliated St. John's College, one of the oldest here; St. Boniface College, which has erected a magnificent building, Manitoba College, a younger but also a flourishing institution; St. John's Ladies' School, and St. Mary's Academy, a handsome structure on Notre Dame street. In addition to these higher seats of learning there are the public and separate schools which are well attended. There are 48 church edifices, divided as follows: 6 Baptist, 9 Episcopal, 3 Congregational, 8 Methodist, 7 Presbyterian, 2 Roman Catholic, 2 Synagogues, 4 Icelandic and 7 miscellaneous.

The city has 3 daily 11 weekly, 1 semi-monthly and 11 monthly papers. It is also the headquarters of the Western division of the C. P. R., and contains the offices and repair shops of this division. Pop. in 1880, 14,000: in 1890, 22,802; in 1891, 25,639; in 1893, 32,[illegible] in 1895, 38,199 estimated.

WOODSTOCK, N.B.

An incorporated town of New Brunswick, capital of Carleton co., on the left bank of the River St. John, and on the Can. Pac. Ry., 94 miles north of St. Andrews, and at the western terminus of a branch of the Can. Pac. Ry., 63 miles north-west of Fredericton, 130 miles (via Fredericton) from and 120 miles (via Fredericton) from St. John. It contains 8 churches, several primary or advanced schools, 1 grammar school, 3 printing offices, 3 banks, about 100 stores, several hotels and mills, telegraph and express offices, and manufactories of iron castings, mill machinery, agricultural implements, leather, furniture, doors, sash and blinds, carriages and sleighs, etc. Extensive deposits of red hematite iron ore are found a short distance above the town, along the banks of the works at Upper Woodstock, near its entrance into the St. John. The ore is of a very superior quality, and though so highly charged with manganese as to make white cast iron resembling antimony in its fractured surface, it also furnishes the very toughest bar iron, suited to the manufacture of the finest cast steel. Large quantities of this iron have been exported to England, where it has been used in the plating of heavy armored ships. Copper ore is also found in the vicinity of the town. Woodstock is a port of entry. Pop. 3288.

CAMPBELLTON, N.B.

A seaport town of Restigouche co., is situated on the south bank of the Restigouche, 15 miles from Dalhousie, where the mouth of the river is. The river has been dredged during the last few years, admitting ships of large tonnage to Campbellton wharves. The new railway called the Restigouche & Victoria Colonization Ry. is now building from here and will connect near Grand Falls on the St. John, thus opening up a short and direct route to Boston markets. It is the northernmost town in the province; it contains 1 express office, 1 telegraph office, 5 churches, a number of stores, several hotels, several lumber and grist mills, 2 factories, 1 printing office, and has considerable trade in fish, especially salmon. During season of navigation a steamer runs twice a week between here and Gaspe. Pop. 3500.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C.

The erstwhile capital of British Columbia, in New Westminster district, is beautifully situated on the north bank of the Fraser River, 75 miles from Victoria, 16 miles from the Gulf of Georgia. Sea-going ships load at the wharves with lumber and canned salmon. It contains 6 churches, Episcopal, Reformed Episcopal, Roman Catholic, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist, and Salvation Army. Most of these have two or three church buildings. The residences of Episcopal and Roman Catholic bishops are here also, Columbian Methodist college, Central Public school, also Roman Catholic convent and college, and some private schools, as well as the Provincial Asylum for Insane and Dominion Penitentiary. The public and business buildings are of brick. The city owns its electric light system, which is self-supporting. The city also owns waterworks with a supply by gravitation from a mountain lake, giving in business district 170 to 190 pounds pressure. There is communication with river and Vancouver Island ports, daily or oftener, by steamer. A station of the Can. Pac. Ry. is in the city, and of the Great Northern Ry., immediately opposite, on the south bank of the river. There are 2 newspapers, electric street cars, saw mills, iron foundries, carriage and furniture factories, wood working establishments, feed mill, tannery, etc., etc. New Westminster is the headquarters of the salmon-canning and agricultural interests of Fraser Valley, and the distributing point for the river trade. The streets are well kept, with good sidewalks. The climate is mild and equable. The taxation is 15 mills, net. Improvements are assessed at half value. Pop. 6678.

OWEN SOUND, Ont.

An incorporated town and port of entry, capital of Grey co., Ont., situated on Georgian Bay, at the outlet of the River Sydenham, and the northern terminus of the main line of the Can. Pac. Ry., and on Grand Trunk Ry., 122 miles north-west of Toronto. It is pleasantly situated on a small plain surrounded on three sides with wood crowned heights, and contains manufactories of mill machinery, turbine water wheels, agricultural implements and engines, sewing machines, leather, woodenware of all descriptions, Canadian tweed and other woolen cloths, etc., also 2 breweries, 2 brickfields, flour and saw mills, 5 large grain warehouses and elevators, and various smaller works. Here are 9 pretty churches, agencies of the Merchants' and Molson's Banks and Bank of Hamilton, several insurance companies, about 100 fine stores, 1 telegraph office, 1 large chair factory, 13 good hotels, 1 commodious town hall, 1 court house, 1 jail and registry office and 5 printing offices, from 3 of which are issued 2 weekly, 2 semi-weekly and 1 monthly newspaper. The harbor of Owen Sound is the best on Lake Huron. It is 12 miles long from the town to its mouth, where it is 5 miles wide, and throughout its entire length it is completely sheltered on both sides. It has good anchorage ground and considerable depth of water, and is navigable for vessels of the largest capacity on the lake. A large number of vessels are engaged in the grain and lumber trade. Pop. 7500.

VANCOUVER, B.C.

Is situated at the western terminus of the Can. Pac. Ry., 15 miles north of the mouth of the Fraser River. The principal part of the city occupies a peninsula, bounded on the north by the waters of Burrard Inlet, south by a small indentation called False Creek, and west by English Bay, of which the other two are arms. The city is extending to the east, and to the south across False Creek.

The site of Vancouver could scarcely have been better chosen for a large city. Burrard Inlet is always safely navigable for the deepest draft vessels, and is one of the finest harbors in the world.

It was incorporated under the name "Vancouver" on April 6th, 1886, the population being about 600. The name is in honor of Capt. Geo. Vancouver, R.N., who, one hundred years ago, discovered, explored and named Burrard Inlet.

Ten years ago, nine-tenths of the present area of the city was a dense unbroken forest of high firs, with but a single street and a few rough logging roads leading into the forest; one of these to New Westminster. On the completion in May, 1887, of the Can. Pac. Ry. into Vancouver, and the arrival of the first through train from Montreal, an impetus was given the growth of the city, and the advancement made is marvellous.

In January, 1886, the population was 600; January, 1887, 2000; January, 1888, 6000; January, 1889, 10,000; in 1891, 13,709; in 1896, ——

The climate is temperate, the thermometer seldom registering above 90 degrees in the summer, and lower than 10 degrees in winter. The rainy season may be considered from November till March. The driest months in the year are June, July, August and September.

The city is laid out on a magnificent scale, and is being built up in a style fully in accordance with the plan. Nearly all the streets are graded, the more important business ones being planked. Electric street cars are in operation this year, and the streets are well lighted with electric arc lights.

The several churches are represented as follows:—Episcopalians, 2; Roman Catholic; Presbyterian, 2; Methodist, 2; Baptist, Congregational and Chinese mission. It has 3 daily papers, the News Advertiser (morning), the World (evening) and Daily Telegram (evening).

The city has fine water works. The elevation of the reservoir on Capilano River across the inlet is over 400 feet above high water mark, the average height of the city being about 100 feet, extreme height south of False Creek (Mt. Pleasant), 200 feet.

The fire department has two stations, each of which contains a steam fire engine and hose reels.

Stanley Park, a peninsula of 950 acres, almost surrounded by water, is encircled by a beautiful 10 mile driv-

VICTORIA, B.C.

The capital of British Columbia, is one of the beautiful cities of the Pacific coast, and is situated on the south-east part of Vancouver Island, about an irregular indenture from the Strait of Juan de Fuca on the south. The city is built on moderately undulating ground, and contains an area of about 4 square miles. The nearest mainland is about 20 miles distant south to Port Angeles, Wash. The nearest Canadian mainland is about 65 miles north-westward by the main route of travel. Vancouver is 84 miles, San Francisco 750 miles and Tacoma 127 miles. Vancouver Island extends some 40 miles farther south than the 49th parallel, so Victoria faces United States territory to the south and east.

It is the commercial metropolis and social centre. Shipping from all parts of the world enters the harbor, making it an important port of the Pacific seaboard.

Victoria is increasing in size and importance from the force of its own momentum. The larger it grows the more rapid is its advancement. No limit is known to the scope for industrial development on the island, which is three hundred miles in length north-west and south-east, an area of about twelve thousand miles, which territory may be considered as tributary to Victoria, and from the smaller islands of the adjoining waters and from the mainland much business flows to the capital city.

The Victoria Custom house ranks as fifth port of the Dominion.

There is a gas works, also an electric light company, which furnishes the "Ball Electric Arc Light," as well as incandescent light. An efficient paid fire department with the latest improved equipment gives ample fire protection.

The north arm of the harbor, which forms a gorge about a mile from the city, is a favorite resort for boating parties.

Esquimalt is also one of the prominent resorts of the vicinity, the government works and naval equipments adding to the attractions which the scenery affords.

Esquimalt (virtually a part of Victoria) is esteemed of such importance by the British Government (by whom this station is maintained), that they have erected strong fortifications in addition to the former means of defence.

Esquimalt harbor, about three miles to the westward of Victoria, is the site of the British naval station. It is probably the best one on the shores of Vancouver Island. A dry dock 450 feet long and 27 feet deep, with an entrance 55 feet wide, was constructed at a cost of about $900 000. The arsenal contains large quantities of stores and ordnance supplies of all descriptions. The Royal Naval Hospital and Cemetery are located there.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Co.'s boats call at Victoria direct from San Francisco, distant 750 miles, every five days, carrying the Canadian and United States mails. During the fruit season these ships bring the first supply for the Province of Victoria, and from here it is distributed. A. C. P. N. Co. steamer makes tri-weekly coasting trips to New Westminster, and another monthly steamer for all points up the northern coast. The Alaskan steamers of the P. C. SS. Co. make Victoria their clearing port northbound, and entry port southbound.

The city is amply provided with educational facilities, both public and private. There are 5 ward schools, besides the large central and high schools. There is also 1 Ladies' college (Anglican) and the large St Ann's convent, besides 2 primary schools, maintained by churches.

The city has a free public library of about ten thousand volumes.

There are 15 churches, 3 Episcopal, 1 Roman Catholic, 3 Methodist, 3 Presbyterian, 2 Baptist, 1 Reformed Episcopal, 1 Jewish Synagogue and 1 Chinese Joss house.

The Royal Jubilee hospital, built in the outskirts of the city, cost $100,000. There is also the St Joseph's hospital, a private Roman Catholic institution. The press is represented by 2 dailies; 2 weekly newspapers are published.

The Esquimalt & Nanaimo Ry. was the first railroad having a track into the city. Construction was begun in October, 1884, and the road was completed in August, 1886. This line extends up the eastern coast of the island, a distance of some 70 miles to the city of Nanaimo, or rather to Wellington. The first 25 miles from Victoria, the road is built through a rough country, and an elevation of nearly 1,000 feet is attained. There are several high trestles and a tunnel on this section. The Victoria and Sydney traverses the Saanich Peninsula and has connection by steamer with the islands distant in the Gulf of Georgia. Victoria is a metropolitan city, and betrays it to the eye of the least practical observer. Its position is such that it will always be the distributing point for a large amount of territory, and its numerous banking corporations have given it a prestige as a financial centre.

The population of the city has been increasing steadily. In 1874 there was a population of 4,674; in 1876, 5,293; in 1882, 5,925; in 1884, 10,000; in 1888, 12,000; in 1891, 16,841; in 1896, ——
