RAT PORTAGE, Ont.

An incorporated town in Algoma dist., at the head of the Lake of the Woods, on the main line of the C. P. R., 133 miles from Winnipeg. It contains important public buildings, about 50 stores, 5 hotels, 6 churches, 2 branch banks, and is likely to develop into a manufacturing and industrial centre, owing to the utilization of the enormous water power of the lake, the works for which, now in progress, have been undertaken by the Keewatin Power Co., a corporation of local and other Canadian capitalists, with a subscribed capital of $1,000 000. The district bids fair, also, to become one of the most important gold mining centres on the continent. Development in this direction has been delayed for many years by the impossibility of obtaining titles to land, owing to the long continued disputes between Ontario and Manitoba, and subsequently between the Ontario and Dominion Governments, as to the jurisdiction over the province and the ownership of the lands, all of which questions have now been settled in favor of Ontario. The specimens of gold and silver taken from different sections of this district have been pronounced equal to any from California, Colorado or elsewhere, and several of the mines now being worked, notably the Sultana mine, are giving extremely gratifyng results. Flour milling and lumbering form important industries of the locality The fishing industry of the lake, hitherto principally conducted by American firms from the American side, is, under the new regulations, now being largely developed by Canadian fishermen. Pop. 8000.

RENFREW, Ont.

A prosperous town in Renfrew co., about 9 miles from the junction of the Bonnechere with the Ottawa River, and 58 miles from Ottawa. It is fast becoming the railway centre of Eastern Ontario. The main line of the C. P. R. passes through it, the A. & N. W. branch of the C. P. R. starts here, and the O. A. & P. S. and Kingston & Pembroke Rys. centre here, whilst the Renfrew & Pontiac Ry. is arranged to connect Renfrew with the Ottawa River and the Province of Quebec. It was incorporated as a village in 1858, with a survey of 2400 acres, and erected into a town in 1895. It is the centre of a fine agricultural district. The wheat grown is said to equal "Manitoba Hard." A woollen mill, 2 flour mills, 3 planing and saw mills, are among the prominent industries, whilst a creamery, capable of producing 10,000 pounds of butter daily, bears the distinction of being the largest and best equipped creamery in America, probably the second in the world. It contains 5 churches, 5 hotels, public, high, separate and convent schools, branch bank, 2 weekly newspapers and about 70 stores. Several massive business blocks give solid and substantial appearance to the town. A public park, the Lansdowne, situate on the west side of the river, includes about 15 acres of prettily wooded land. Pop. 3300.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.

An incorporated town and port of entry of Ontario, capital of Algoma district, on the St. Mary River, by the rapids of the same name, about 10 miles east of where the river issues from Lake Superior, and 60 miles from where it empties into Lake Huron. The St. Mary rapids have a descent of 22 feet in less than a mile, and form the natural limit of navigation. A canal has been in use on the American side past the rapids since about 1860, the one now used having been opened about 1883. It consists of one lock, the finest in the world it was said, until surpassed by the lock of the new Canadian Canal, which was opened for traffic in September, 1895. A second canal is building on the American side, which consists of one lock also, still larger than the lock of the Canadian Canal. The Algoma branch of the C. P. Ry. from Sudbury connects the town with the east, and the international bridge over the St. Mary River opens up railway communication with the west. The town is also the terminus of the route for several local lines of boats, and also a port of call for through boats. It is pleasantly situated in the midst of a territory limited somewhat in its agricultural possibilities, but of great mineral and timber resources. A water power canal, built by the town, is now owned by an American syndicate, who have erected an immense pulp mill, which is now in operation. 2 other large pulp mills and a paper mill are to follow. There are over 50 stores, saw mills, planing mills, machine shop, fine public and separate school buildings and 5 churches, Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopalian, Roman Catholic and Baptist, and the seat of the see of Bishop Sullivan of the Episcopalian church. The town is well lighted by electric light, and supplied with water from the river. Pop. 3500.

SOREL, Que.

An incorporated city, capital of Richelieu co., on the right bank of the River Richelieu, at its mouth in Lake St Peter, and on the Montreal & Sorel Ry., 45 miles north-east of Montreal and 33 miles from St. Hilaire. It occupies the site of a fort built in 1665 by M. de Tracy, a French officer, and was for many years the summer residence of the Governors of Canada. H. R. H. the Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria, at one time resided here. Sorel contains water works, a court of justice and a prison, 2 markets, manufactories of engines, mill machinery, stoves, ploughs, leather, bricks, etc., several saw and grist mills, 1 printing office issuing semi-weekly newspapers, 2 branch banks, several hotels, 2 churches, telegraph and express offices and a number of stores. This is the winter quarters of nearly all the steamboats and craft plying between Montreal and Quebec. Shipbuilding, for which there are excellent facilities, is largely engaged in. It is the terminus of the Montreal & Sorel Ry. Pop. 6069.

It is conveniently situated for commerce, and especially for the fishing trade. The harbor is entered by two passes leading from the mouth of the River Schoodiac, and has a depth sufficient for vessels of any size. The town is well and regularly laid out, and the streets well built upon. It contains besides the county buildings, churches of 5 denominations, 1 grammar school, superior school, U. S. consulate, custom house, iron foundry, 4 hotels, 30 stores, 1 telegraph office and 1 printing office issuing a weekly newspaper. St Andrews has become famous as a sea-bathing and summer resort. Has numerous large and fine hotels, good markets and well equipped livery stables. Magnificent yachting privileges and the finest kind of fresh water and deep sea fishing. It is the Atlantic terminus of the C. P. R., having one of the finest and safest deep water harbors on the entire Atlantic coast, and unrivalled facilities for shipping. It is absolutely free from ice in winter, and perfectly safe and commodious at all seasons of the year. Pop. 1891.

ST HENRI DE MONTREAL, Que.

(Incorporated in 1876), an incorporated city of Quebec, near Montreal, extending from Atwater av on the east, to Coteau St Pierre and Petit Village Turcot on the west, and from Lachine Canal to Cote St Antoine. The Town of St Henry is situated in the seigniory of Montreal, Hochelaga co., district of Montreal. Signal stations of the G. T. R. are situated here at the junctions where the roads branch off east and west, and to Montreal and Lachine. The G. T. R. Co., with the aid of the council of the town, has erected a splendid station at the curve, near the Notre Dame street bridge. The municipality of St Henri is governed by a mayor and corporation, and a separate permanent fire and police force is maintained. It contains 1 new Roman Catholic college and convent, 4 churches, 2 Roman Catholic, Methodist and Church of England, 1 branch bank, 62 stores, 14 hotels, telegraph and express offices, and several important industries, amongst others an extensive tannery, boot and shoe and sewing machine factories, brickyards, a cotton manufacturing company, one of the finest in the Dominion, large foundry, 1 rolling mill, 1 powder mill, 1 rock drill factory, and 1 public abattoir and stock yard company. The council has built a very fine town hall, fire and police station at the corner of Notre Dame and St James streets, at a cost of $25,000. Building is being prosecuted briskly, and the city bids fair to rise into some importance, having fire and police system of alarm telegraph. The city is now lighted with electricity. Distance from Bonaventure station 2½ miles, from Lachine 6 miles. Pop. in 1896, 17,500.

ST JOHN, N.B.

A city and seaport of New Brunswick, the commercial metropolis of the Province, and capital of St. John co., is picturesquely situated at the mouth of a river of its own name, on a rocky peninsula projecting into the harbor, 190 miles north-west of Halifax, via Annapolis, or 276 miles via Intercolonial Railway, and 761 miles south-east of Montreal.

The business portion of the city was almost completely destroyed by fire in 1877, but was rebuilt in a short time in a more handsome manner. Many of the old landmarks have passed away, but in their place have arisen buildings in which the best architectural skill has been displayed.

These buildings are chiefly of brick and stone, and many of the public edifices have an elegant appearance. The principal ones are the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception (R.C.), Trinity church, Lunatic asylum, City hospital, Court house and gaol, Custom house, Post office, Centenary Methodist church, Germain Street Baptist church, Victoria school.

There are 32 places of worship in St. John, viz: Church of England, 8; Roman Catholic, 5; Presbyterian, 5; Wesleyan Methodist, 5; Baptist, 6; Congregational, 1; Unitarian, 1, and Bible Christian, 1.

The educational institutions comprise the Victoria school, and several other fine structures belonging to the free school system, and a number of private schools.

St. John has a number of religious and charitable societies, 1 free public library, 5 banks, 1 savings bank, an efficient fire brigade, fire alarm telegraph, 5 daily and several weekly newspapers, and a number of first-class hotels.

The thriving suburb of Carleton, on the opposite side of the harbor, is included within the city corporation.

The harbor of St. John is capacious, safe and never obstructed by ice. Its entrance, about 2 miles south of the city, is protected by Partridge Island, on which are a quarantine hospital and a lighthouse, the lantern 166 feet above the level of the sea. The passage west of the island has in it 10 feet of water, that to the east 18 feet, and abreast of the city there are from 8 to 22 fathoms. About 3-4 of a mile north of the lighthouse is a vertical beacon, fixed on the edge of a rocky ledge which forms the west side of the channel and has a deep water close to it. On the east side of the channel, below the town, a breakwater has been constructed to intercept the violence of the waves, occasioned by southerly gales. The entrance of the River St John into the harbor is through a rocky gorge between 300 and 400 feet wide and 400 yards long, occasioning very remarkable falls. The ordinary rise of the tide in the harbor is 21 feet; at the vernal equinox it rises 25 feet. At low water the waters of the river are about 15 feet higher than those of the harbor, at high water the waters of the harbor are 5 feet higher than those of the river, hence the phenomena of a fall outwards and inwards at every tide. Above the falls the tide seldom rises more than 4 feet. When the waters of the harbor are on a level vessels can pass the falls, and this can be effected only during a period of 15 or 20 minutes at each ebb and flow of the tide. At times of great freshets, occasioned by the sudden melting of the snow, the tides do not rise to the level of the river, and consequently it is not possible for vessels to ascend the fall. The depth of the fall is about 17 feet. Spanning the rocky gorge about 70 feet above low water, is a magnificent suspension bridge 640 feet in length.

St. John has manufactories of iron castings, steam engines, machinery, edge tools, nails, cotton and woollen goods, boots and shoes, leather, woodenware, soap and candles, carriages, locomotives, agricultural im-

ST. STEPHEN, N.B.

A seaport town in Charlotte co., at the head of navigation on the St. Croix River, opposite Calais, Me., with which it is connected by a steel and granite piers bridge. It is 80 miles west of St. John, at the terminus of the C. P. R. and Shore Line Ry. Its chief industry is lumber, but the attention of the inhabitants has lately been directed to manufactures; the waterpower on the river being unsurpassed on any part of the continent. The trade of the town is comparatively large and its prospects highly encouraging. Merchants here have stores also in Calais, where they do an extensive business. The town is lighted by electricity. There are 6 churches in St. Stephen, Church of England, Episcopal, Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, Roman Catholic, 3 handsome school buildings, in which 9 graded schools are taught, 2 banks, 1 newspaper office, telephone and telegraph offices, and a large number of stores; there is an electric car belt line through St. Stephen, Milltown and Calais, Me., making a distance of 7 miles. It is a port of entry, the southwest terminus of the Central Ry. of New-Brunswick, and the western terminus of the Grand Southern. The Frontier Steamboat Co. runs a steamer daily in summer and triweekly in winter to Eastport, Me., to connect with the Intercolonial Steamship Co.'s boats calling at Robbinstone, Me., and St Andrews, N.B. A steamer also makes weekly trips between St. Stephen and Grand Manan, calling at St. Andrews, Deer Island, Campo Bello and Eastport. Pop. 3900.

TORONTO, Ont.

Capital of Ontario and one of the most flourishing cities in the Dominion, is situated on a beautiful circular bay, on the north-west shore of Lake Ontario, in York co., 333 miles west-south-west of Montreal, 161 miles from Kingston, 39 miles north by east of Hamilton, and 500 miles north-west of Washington.

The bay is entered from the west by a narrow channel, and is separated from the lake by a low peninsula about 6 miles long, enclosing a beautiful basin 1 1-2 miles in diameter, forming a safe and well sheltered harbor, capable of containing a large number of vessels. The peninsula of late years has been cut in two by the action of the waters of the bay and lake, the western portion now forming an island which has become a favorite resort of the citizens during the summer months. A commodious hostelry (Hanlon's hotel) is now built on the island, with many summer residences, a number of steam ferries connecting those with the city. Gibraltar Point is the name given to the south-western angle of the island, on which there is an excellent lighthouse, and about 400 yards south of the island is the intake marked by a bell buoy, from which the city is supplied with its drinking water from the lake. Mansergh, the well-known English hydraulic engineer, recently reported on the water supply of Toronto, fully approving of the existing system, with some additions he suggested, for which he received a fee of $15,000.

The site of the city is low, but rises gently from the water's edge,—the observatory being 108 feet above the lake. The streets generally cross each other at right angles, most of them running parallel with the bay, and intersected by others which have a north and south direction, inclining slightly to the west, the whole forming nearly a parallelogram.

The principal streets running east and west in the denser portions of the city are Front, Wellington, King, Adelaide, Richmond and Queen streets; and of the cross streets, Jarvis, Church, Yonge, Bay, York and Simcoe streets. King, Queen and Yonge streets are the thoroughfares, and contain the largest number of retail stores, Front and Wellington streets being occupied by the wholesale houses.

The street railway system is unsurpassed, there are 86 miles of track all operated by electric power. The cars are lighted, heated and moved by the electric current, with which the streets and buildings are lighted, by arc and incandescent lights. The street railway's receipts amount to about one million dollars a year, and annually carry 23,353,000 passengers.

The city generally is built of a light colored brick, of a soft, pleasing tint, though, of recent years, many handsome edifices have been erected of stone, with elaborate cuttings and rich ornamentation.

The public buildings of the city are substantial in workmanship, and of beautiful architectural design. Many of the stores, especially the wholesale ones, and private dwellings, are quite palatial in their outward aspect and interior structure. Toronto is the seat of Law and Provincial Government, and the headquarters of the Educational Department of Ontario. Osgoode Hall is a fine classic structure, containing all the Superior Law Courts of the Province. The old Parliament buildings, of poor exterior, have given place to a structure in keeping with the wealth and importance of the Province, with handsomely decorated and furnished legislative chamber, and well-equipped residence, an elegant mansion; the Normal school buildings, of Italian design, contain offices of the Bureau of Education, a Normal and Model school and educational museum. The new city and county buildings being the City Hall and Court Houses combined, costing about a million dollars, and occupying a square bounded by Queen, Terauley, Albert and James streets, are approaching completion, and will be opened in 1897. There are about a score of elegant, commodious, and well-equipped public school buildings, 3 edifices (the Collegiate Institutes) devoted to High School instruction. In connection with higher education there is the University of Toronto, one of the finest buildings on the continent of America, and reckoned second to none on this side of the Atlantic as a seat of learning. It is of Norman architecture in its principal features, with massive tower and richly sculptured doorway for its main entrance. It is beautifully situated at the western side of the Queen's Park, a fine sylvan retreat for the recreation of the citizens, approached by spacious avenues ornamented with rows of stately trees. It was partially burned some years ago. In other portions of the Park are the Baptist College and the School of Practical Science, the Victoria College (Methodist), while on the east of the Park is St. Basil's College (Catholic), and on the west Knox College (Presbyterian), all in affiliation with Toronto University, and at a short distance from the University there is a monument, erected in honor of those Toronto Volunteers who sacrificed their lives in defence of their country during the first attempted invasion of Canada by the Fenian miscreants (1866). Trinity College, at the west end of Queen street, is another educational institution in connection with the Episcopalian church; and there is also Knox College at the head of Spadina avenue, for the theological training of students in connection with the Canada Presbyterian Church. The Upper Canada College has been removed from the old site on King street to a commanding position overlooking the city a mile outside of the city limits, where large and commodious premises have been erected. per Canada College has been one of the leading educational establishments in the province, as a grammar school and boarding school for boys. There are two schools of medicine in Toronto, each having an efficient staff of professors. There are also an ably conducted Veterinary College, schools of dentistry, and 1 college of Pharmacy.

The public institutions are numerous, and many of the buildings appropriated for their purposes have striking features of architectural beauty. Amongst these may be enumerated the Custom House, the Post Office, the Union Station, the Central Prison, the Mercer Reformatory, the Lunatic Asylum, the Exhibition Buildings, for holding the Provincial Agricultural Exhibitions, the Boys' Home, the Girls' Home, the House of Providence, the Protestant Orphans' Home, the Home for Incurables, besides the hotels, banks and Opera Houses, erected by private enterprise.

The manufacturing interests of Toronto are varied. There are several extensive iron foundries and engineering establishments, railway car building shops, several breweries and a mammoth distillery, carriage factories, tanneries, soap works, spice mills, cabinet factories, car wheel works, machine shops of all kinds, pork-packing establishments one of these in appliances and arrangements for killing and curing being modelled after the best Chicago houses—sewing machine, sash and door, and boot and shoe factories on an extensive scale. Besides these, many other varieties of manufacture and trade are carried on.

Banking is well represented, there being 14 banks in the city, 7 of which have sprung out of the enterprise of Toronto merchants, and are doing a profitable business. These are the Bank of Toronto, the Imperial Bank, the Ontario Bank, the Bank of Commerce, the Dominion Bank, the Standard Bank and the Traders' Bank. The other 7 have their head offices elsewhere, and are branches of the Bank of Montreal, the Merchants' Bank, the Bank of British North America, the Quebec Bank, Molsons Bank, Union Bank and Bank of Hamilton.

Insurance offices and Building and Loan Associations are numerous and their business extensive.

The principal public halls are the Massey Music Hall, seating capacity 4,000, presented to the city by the late Hart A. Massey; the Pavillion, seating 1,600, owned by the city, and situated in the Horticultural gardens, Shaftesbury Hall, now called the Auditorium, St. Andrew's, St. Lawrence and St. Paul's halls, these three also owned by the city; Association Hall owned by the Y. M. C. A., Temperance Hall and many smaller ones. There is a fine public library and reading room owned by the city. There are 4 theatres; the Princess, Grand and Toronto, each having a seating capacity of about 1,800, and a smaller one the Crystal. The Canadian Institute has a building of its own with a museum and library.

Toronto contains 3 synagogues and about 175 churches, of which 42 are Episcopal, 13 Roman Catholic, 41 Methodist, 32 Presbyterian, 18 Baptist, 11 Congregationalist, 2 Reformed Episcopal, 1 Unitarian, 1 Catholic Apostolic, 2 New Jerusalem and 12 miscellaneous churches. Among the churches most deserving of notice for their architectural merits are St. James' Cathedral (Church of England), St. Michael's Cathedral (Roman Catholic), St. Andrew's (Presbyterian), St. James' square (Presbyterian), Jarvis street (Baptist), Bond street (Congregational), and Church of the Ascension (Episcopal).

There are in the vicinity of the city 4 burying grounds, being Mount Pleasant, containing 16 acres; the Toronto Necropolis, with 15 acres; St. James' Cemetery, with 65 acres—the latter 2 at the north-east extremity of the city, and the former north of Yonge street; and the Roman Catholic cemetery, in Power street.

One of the attractions of the city is the beautiful Athletic Club House, standing on College street, right in the centre of the city, upon 1 1-2 acres of lawns laid out for bowling and tennis, and with a bicycle track. This club has over 1,200 members. It is 6 stories high, and, besides a swimming bath 80 by 24 feet, and bowling alleys, it has billiard, smoking and card rooms, a dining room capable of seating 400 members, fencing and boxing rooms and a gymnasium 92 by 86 feet, and 30 feet high. The Toronto Bicycle Club and the Toronto Fencing Club both have their own quarters in this building, and are large flourishing corporations.

There are, besides, 3 Club Houses, having elegant buildings and handsomely furnished suites of rooms. These are the Toronto Club on York street, the Albany Club on Colborne street, and the National Club on Bay street. The Royal Canadian Yacht Club have a boat house and dining saloon on one of the wharves. The Masonic, Temperance and National Societies have each their lodge rooms and places of assembly.

About 50 newspapers and periodicals are published in Toronto, viz., 6 daily, 18 weekly, 3 semi-monthly, 12 monthly, 1 quarterly and 6 annually.

The city is well supplied with water and is lighted with gas and electric light, and has an efficient fire brigade.

Its fine harbor affords great facilities for an extensive traffic. Lines of steamers run daily during navigation to all the lake ports and ports on the River St. Lawrence.

Two lines of railway run through the city—the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Railways. These railways connect at all seasons of the year with all places of importance on this continent.

The value of real and personal property in Toronto for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872 was respectively, 1870,

Toronto was founded by Governor Simcoe in 1794. Parliament buildings were erected and the Legislature assembled there for the first time in 1797. In 1813, it was captured by the Americans, under General Pike, who was killed in storming the fort, but it was held only for a few days. Since that period the place has made steady progress, and has assumed considerable importance as a mart of trade and commerce. In 1834 it was incorporated a city, and its name changed from York to Toronto.

TORONTO JUNCTION

Formerly known as Glenside, is a suburban town adjoining Toronto on the north-west, and situated in the county and township of York. It derives its present name from embracing the junction of the O. & Q., C. V., and T. G. & B. (owned by the C. P. R.), and G. T. R. main lines. It is bounded on the east by the Northern R. R., G. T. R. main line, and Toronto, on the south by the O. & Q. R. R. and Bloor street, the western boundary being 120 feet west of Jane street, from Bloor to Annette streets, and thence by Elizabeth to its northerly limits which are bounded by York township, of which it geographically forms part. It contains 2 Episcopalian, 1 Roman Catholic, 2 Methodist, 1 Presbyterian, 1 Congregational, 1 Baptist and 1 Disciples of Christ churches, a model and 5 public schools representing an investment of over $100,000, 10 extensive manufacturing establishments, besides several smaller ones, 2 branch banks, 2 public music halls, and has electric lighting and water works owned by the town, possesses a superior sewerage system and an efficient fire brigade and fire extinguishing appliances. The "Leader and Recorder" and "York Tribune" are published weekly. The C. P. R. car shops are located here, and afford occupation to 400 or 500 men. The valuation of real and personal property has diminished seriously during the last six years, having dropped from over $6,000,000 to $4,508,538 according to the assessment of Dec., 1895, which latter value will be reduced by at least 1-3 on the revised valuation now (April, 1896), being estimated. The bonded indebtedness amounts to $356,400. Rate of taxation the last 2 years 16 mills will probably exceed 20 mills this year owing to decrease in valuation. Mail morning and evening. Telegraphs G. N. W. and C. P. R., telephone connection with Toronto. Express: Dominion and Canadian. Population 4369.

WHITBY, Ont.

An incorporated town of Ontario, and capital of Ontario co., on Lake Ontario, and on the Grand Trunk Railway, 29½ miles north-east of Toronto. It is a port of entry and the southern terminus of the Whitby and Lindsay branch of the Midland Ry., and an important market town. The harbor is one of the best on the lake. This town was originally laid out by Mr. John Scadding, the first patentee of 1,000 acres here. It appears as Windsor on the earlier maps of Upper Canada, on which the Bay is also marked Windsor Bay, and sometimes Big Bay. Mr. Scadding called the place Windsor, not from the famous royal city on the Thames, but from a small landed estate of that name, possessed by him and his "forebears" for some generations, at Luppit, in Devonshire. The name was altered to Whitby in later years, confusion in the post office and elsewhere having arisen, through the existence of another Canadian Windsor in the West. If the modesty of the first projector of Whitby had not finally forbade the adoption of the suggested "Scaddington" or "Scaddingfield" as the title of the infant town, it is probable that such would have been at this day the name of the place. Mr. John Scadding died in 1824 on his farm on the Don, near York (Toronto), leaving three sons, John, Charles, and Henry, after each of whom a street in Windsor was named. The town contains, besides the county buildings, churches of 6 denominations, 2 branch banks, 1 collegiate institute, model school, and several public schools, 2 printing offices issuing weekly newspapers, several assurance and insurance agencies, 2 telegraph and express agencies, a number of stores and manufactories of iron castings, mill machinery, agricultural implements, carriage factory, leather. The town is supplied with efficient fire appliances, and is lighted by electricity. Pop. 2,600.

WINDSOR, Ont.

A city of Essex co., on the Detroit River, directly opposite the city of Detroit, 18 miles from the town of Amherstburg, 50 miles from Chatham, 110 miles from London and 223 miles from Toronto. The southern division G. T. R. terminus is within the corporation, as also is the western terminus of the Can. Pac. Railway, while the Michigan Central main line crosses here. The passenger and freight trains of all three roads are taken across the river, where connections with western roads are made on immense transfer boats, seven of them being in constant use, thousands of cars being transported every day. These railroad ferries are so powerful that they can cross the river the year around, the thickest ice which forms on the river being no barrier. Constant communication with Detroit is kept up by means of international ferries, which cross every 10 minutes, winter or summer. The city has 7 churches, a convent, collegiate institute, model school, 8 excellent public schools, 3 branch chartered banks, a private bank, 2 telegraph and 3 express companies, telephone, 1 daily and 4 weekly newspapers, a brewery and 5 cigar manufactories. The typograph is made here by the Dominion Typograph Co., and a factory is being equipped for the manufacture of bicycles. Windsor has an excellent water supply, at a cost of $250,000, and a first class fire department; owns its own electric lighting plant; has an excellent public library and a new hospital. The principal fuel used is natural gas, brought by pipes a distance of 30 miles from the Kingsville district, on the shore of Lake Erie. An electric railway crosses the principal streets making connection with all the railroads, and running to Walkerville and the Sandwich mineral springs. Windsor is in the midst of a fruit country, and with good roads is the centre of trade for the entire county. The best salt in Canada is made here by the vacuum process. A large elevator is just completed. Three lines of steamers for the upper lakes have headquarters here; direct boat connection is had with Mackinaw, Cleveland, Fort William and Duluth. With the excellent railway and water facilities, cheap fuel and an enterprising people, Windsor will soon rival the larger Canadian cities in point of importance and wealth. Pop. 11,549.
