MONDAY'S BREAK IN THE NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Some of the Causes Considered--The Weakness Was General Dull Times on London, Paris and Berlin Stock Exchanges.

(N. Y. Journal of Commerce, Tuesday.) What precipitated yesterday's demoralization? Various known causes contributed to create a feeling of depression, but all these combined scarcely warranted the excitement manifested by the sellers, and it is not sufficient to opine that impending new issues of securities were responsible. It may be that a failure of importance is to be announced, but that the Street has no knowledge. The principal known developments that contributed to bring about the break yesterday were these: Extreme unpropitious weather in Kansas, Nebraska, Michigan and in parts of Canada; a moderately important failure on the London Stock Exchange on the eve of the fortnightly settlement; an advance of 3c in wheat here during the forenoon; the announcement of a gold shipment to Paris involving $200,000,000, along with intimations that other shipments will be made on Thursday; a break in copper metal here and in London; heavy selling by foreign houses; and reports that Secretary Cortelyou will withdraw a large sum from the banks. No attention was paid to an excellent April return by the Atchafalaya, to a material reaction in the grain markets later in the day, to the adjournment of the Supreme Court until October, or to fairly definite statements that President Roosevelt will make a "reassuring" statement at Indianapolis on Memorial Day. Wall Street, in a word, was in the doldrums and anxious wanted to sell rather than to buy securities. This weakness was so general that it is not easy to single out exceptional cases. The influx of bargain hunters that characterized the culmination of the last slump was not in evidence yesterday, and the volume of business sufficient to lead commission houses to believe that the worst had passed; a downward swing usually terminates in a frenzied outburst of liquidation, and though yesterday's market was demoralized it was not quite of this character. It will be interesting to watch what attitude the public will now adopt. Since they were last in the market agricultural conditions have passed through a trying period and trade in general has not, to say the least, improved, while the railroads have disclosed that they may be able to maintain their dividends. It is the fear of an impending era of lower dividends that is causing many investors to act cautiously, while, of course, the proximity of a Presidential election does not make for confidence in the stability of securities. Last week it was London that complained of no business on the stock exchange; this week Paris and Berlin join the international wall first set up here. A despatch from London says: "Business on the Paris Bourse is almost as stagnant as it is in London." In addition to the generally unsatisfactory political situation, there is a great deal of unplaced stock which has to be carried on borrowed money, largely consisting of bonds of the governments of Southeastern Europe, securities which are not known here, but which have been brought out in considerable amounts in Paris and a very material proportion of which has been left on the hands of the issuing banks and houses. Of course money has also been invested largely in American issues of various kinds. Upon the whole, therefore, there is a good deal of stock which has yet to be digested. The result is, firstly, that speculation is checked; and, secondly, that money is scarcer and dearer than it is in London—a most unusual thing, and, strange to say, it has continued longer than anybody anticipated. Farly, no doubt, the comparative dearth of money is due to the desire of all the banks to keep large reserves because of the uneasy political situation, but partly it is the result of the large issues to which we have been referring, and to somewhat unwise speculation, especially in copper and diamond securities. On the Berlin Bourse likewise business is very stagnant.

Sleep in Peace.

No matter the name—the uniform—the regiment. No matter whether death came in the valley, on the hillside, or with the pitying hospital murmur—beside him. No matter whether the grave is in the home cemetery, where mother, widow and children have wept over it, or in the cities of the dead beyond the Potomac. The bondsmen may bear his name and the day of his death, or it may bear that lonely legend, given to so many thousands—"Unknown." It is enough that he was a soldier and braved the death that was his. For almost half a century he has slumbered as only the dead can slumber. The drum beats of war have not reached him, and the tears of grief he has not felt. Today we approach the spot with step and uncovered head. We feel a reverence for the dust beneath the grassy mound, we lay out flags and flowers on the turf and forgive our enemies and wish for peace and good will over all the earth. At the last great day the known and the unknown will spring into life again to be judged by God, and it is with tears in our eyes that each one of us whispers to himself: "And may he be merciful in his judgment." "Sacred to the memory of"—a hero! JOE KERR

THEATRES

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

There was a very large audience last night at the Opera House when the Lyceum-Stock Company supporting N. L. Jelenko presented Richard Mansfield's version of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Mr. Jelenko was especially strong in the dual role of Dr. Henry Jekyll and Edward Hyde. That his efforts were appreciated is shown by the fact that there were enthusiastic curtain calls at the end of each act with a double one at the finale. Mr. Jelenko was very ably supported by the company who each seemed to enter into the spirit of the play and the result was a great success. The company will be absent from the stage today and Friday, returning for Saturday's matinee and evening performances. On Saturday night, Dr. Jekyll will again appear, and will be the bill when a bumper house is assured.

AT THE NICKEL

This afternoon the Nickel programme will be entirely changed and from today until Saturday night, regular patrons of the popular resort, and the public generally can be assured of the most interesting, varied and instructive list yet shown. For instance, such a range of subjects as Tracked by Bloodhounds, Burglars and Policemen, Scenes in Burma, Football Games and When Friends Meet presents enough of diversion to suit the particular tastes and individual "likes" of most everybody. There will be excitement and comedy, ludicrous situations and construction work of all kinds; a taste of stirring athletic and no end of really educational views, making the show the biggest nickel's worth ever given in St. John. Furthermore the musical comedy, Never Seemed So Far Apart Before, is fresh from that great source of all song-hits, merry New York, and will be accompanied by a couple of dozen exquisitely colored slides; record business at the Nickel the next three days.

GEORGE F. HALL IN "THE GIBSON GIRL"

This season's vehicle, "The Gibson Girl," in which Frank W. Mason is exploiting George F. Hall and in which he will open at the Opera House Monday next, June 3rd, is entirely different from anything that Mr. Hall has before been seen here in. It is a musical comedy, simple and simple, entailing the services of a large company of principals, aided and abetted by a pony ballet of eight young girls who make no less than twelve changes of costume during the performance. Some of the songs in the piece are "Holding Hands," "The Jackies of the A. S. A.," "Joe Miller," "The Gibson

RUN DOWN BY STEAMER, TWO SAILORS DROWN

SAUNDERTOWN, N. I., May 28—Word reached here tonight that two members of the crew of the Nova Scotia bark Lakeside, bound from Turku's Island for Providence, were drowned off Jamestown today, as a result of the small ship's being struck by the steamer Narragansett. Second Mate W. Lovely and Seaman J. A. Andrews had accompanied Pilot John King and another member of the crew to Jamestown, where King was put ashore. The three sailors started to row back to their vessel, when in some way they got into the Narragansett, which was unable to avert a collision. The two sailors were drowned while the other sailor was rescued by the Narragansett. The Narragansett is a small steamer plying between Saundertown and Jamestown. The bark Lakeside is owned at Yarmouth, N. S. by W. L. Lovett, and is in command of Captain Fawcett. She had a crew of Nova Scotians with her.

THE WATER WORKS

Chairman Frink of the water and sewerage board evidently anticipates no end of trouble due to the bursting of old mains when the new water pressure from Loch Lomond is turned on.

There is the question of contractors' claims for extras, and a great number of land and riparian damages will have to be adjusted.

LIFE INSURANCE

Would people invest in life insurance if they were not convinced by agents to take that step? This question may be answered by an experiment in the state of Massachusetts.

It is thought that the bill pending in the Massachusetts legislature, which authorizes savings banks to establish industrial life insurance departments, will become a law.

Reference was made yesterday to Prof. Goldwin Smith who is hale and hearty and still delivering lectures at eighty-five, but our own Dr. William Bayard, at ninety-five, is still in medical practice.

A London cable says: "The Berlin-Hamburg-Amerika Line intends establishing a direct weekly freight and passenger service to Canada as soon as the pending tariff negotiations between Germany and the Dominion take a satisfactory course."

In Campbellford, Ont., a by-law has been carried by a majority of 35, authorizing the town to grant a bonus of fifteen thousand dollars in the way of a loan to a firm of bridge manufacturers, for the purpose of extending their works.

Three persons, two men and a woman, committed suicide in New York on Wednesday. The pace of life was too swift and these fell by the way.

there will still be plenty of business for the man who canvasses for it, on behalf of a strong and apparently well-conducted insurance company.

INDUSTRIAL MUSEUM OF EMPIRE'S PRODUCTS

(Chicago Record Herald.)
 The Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack floated side by side at the Great Northern hotel last night while members of the British Empire association celebrated the birthday of Queen Victoria and drank multitudinous toasts to the entente cordiale between the two nations.
 Speakers were wildly cheered when they dwelt on the possibility of a coalition between the two countries that would "control the destinies of the human race," and when announcement was made that Alexander Fyfe, British consul, had started a new movement for cementing the trade and commerce of Chicago with that of the colonies of Great Britain, the members almost went wild in an excess of jubilation.
 The innovation introduced by Consul Fyfe contemplated the establishment of an industrial museum in which may be displayed all the products of the British Empire for the enlightenment of Chicago merchants. Within the last week or two rooms at the consulate in the Pullman building have been filled with an assortment of products from the Barbados, some of the commodities displayed being hitherto almost unknown to the Chicago commerce.
 There is a liquid asphalt, and manjak, a form of asphalt adaptable for use in paints, both of which have never been seen in the west before. Duffin wax is expected to be added, and within a short period Australia, New Zealand and other British colonies will have specimens of all the goods they produce on display in Chicago.
 It is all in line with the idea of making Chicago the market of the whole world, and after Mr. Fyfe's museum has demonstrated its success, the example is expected to be followed by Germany, France, Japan, and other nations.
 The announcement of the departure in commercial methods was preceded by a programme of toasts that left the Anglo-Americans in a patriotic and happy frame of mind.

LIFE SAVED BY HALF A DOLLAR

Bullet Fired at John Dunn Stopped by 50 cent Piece.

MERIDEN, Conn., May 30.—John Dunn is alive today because he was fortunate enough to have a half dollar in his waistcoat pocket when Clark Howes tried to shoot him.
 One of five bullets fired by Howes struck the cold iron and what undoubtedly would have been a fatal wound. Another entered Dunn's left leg at the knee and lamed him so he could not run to the Hartford Hospital. Howes is in jail on a charge of attempted murder, and all Tollard county is excited about the shooting, which was of the frontier character.
 Dunn had accused Howes of insulting his wife by too prominent statements in the street, and the two men met in the post office, Howes drew a revolver and fired repeatedly. Several women who were in the post office followed the man, but Miss H. Eveline West, a teacher, who was the first to regain her composure, urged the men to leave Dunn alone and to go to the hospital. They rushed upon Howes in a body and held him until policemen arrived.
 After the shooting Howes gave Howes three days in which to leave town or stand prosecution.

REV. A. M. HUBLY AND HIS SON

Former Sussex Pastor and His Son Both Elected to Office in R. E. Church Synod.

The sixteenth council of the first synod of the Reformed Episcopal church in Canada opened in Emmanuel church, Belleville, last Saturday morning, Bishop Falgout presiding.
 Bishop Falgout presented his pleasant report, which commented on the excellent conditions existing over the diocese, and among other things stated that he had communicated with different Canadian parishes in regard to the appointment of a resident Canadian bishop. The plan was abandoned there being many objections, chief among which was Hon. Sir James Gowan, of Harris, who insisted that the United States should not be disturbed, though the desire of the veteran statesman is to see when conditions warrant, a Canadian episcopate provided for by a resident bishop. The idea has been dropped for the present, but will be reported on by a committee in 1908.
 The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Bishop Falgout; Vice-president, Rev. A. M. Hubly, Belleville, Ont.; treasurer, George Coles, Barre, Ont.; secretary, Rev. A. M. Hubly, Montreal.
 Standing committee—Rev. J. E. Brown, Moncton, N. B.; A. M. Hubly, Belleville, Dr. Witten, Barre; A. D. Cousins, Ottawa; laymen—Samuel Steen, Toronto; William Cairns, Ottawa; A. H. Power, Toronto; W. M. Lockhart, Alliston; J. W. Barlow, Belleville.
 At the service on Friday evening three deacons were ordained to the presbyterate, namely: Rev. J. B. Donaldson, Dr. Edward C. Russell, Ottawa. They were ordained by Bishop Falgout, the ordination sermon being preached by Rev. Dr. Witten, of Barre.
 (Rev. A. M. Hubly was for some years pastor of the Reformed Episcopal church at Sussex Corner, Kings Co., N. B.)

CRUSHED BY A TRAIN

NEW YORK, May 29—A Sixth avenue elevated train, loaded with passengers, struck and killed Thomas Gallagher, a track walker, near the Bleecker street curve, today, derauling the front trucks of the first car and tying up the line for one hour or more.
 Gallagher's body was badly crushed and was stalled as far back as 86th street, while the car was lifted to the rails again. Most of the passengers left the stalled train and walked to nearby streets. The motorman, Edward Clark, was arrested.

ROOSEVELT TO THE BOYS

Manly Lads Extolled and Cowardly Oppressors of Weak Youngsters Excoriated in Address to Boys.

President Roosevelt delivered an address the other night at the annual presentation exercises of the Friends' Select School, in Washington, at which Archie, his son, is a student. His subject was "The American Boy."
 "I see the boy enjoy himself," said the president. "The boy at play sometimes exhibits those qualities which determine the kind of man he will make. If he dislikes his work, if he shirks his studies, he will develop into a great failure in everything else. If he hasn't character to study he won't have character to play."
 "Play hard while you play and work hard while you work. Right here there is a great lesson to be learned as for the younger ones. I want to see you brave and strong and gentle and kind. Those are the qualities that make up good citizenship. I want to see you so conduct yourselves that among your fathers and mothers there will be a feeling of regret, not of relief, when you are away from home."
 "When you are out among your playmates don't be afraid of the little boy who happens to be rude to you. The boy who is too nice to hold his own is not the boy who will grow up to be the best citizen. When you are out among your playmates I want to see you put up with the weaker boy or an animal is one of the meanest boys in the world. I want to see you protecting those who are weak against those who would oppress the weak. Such a boy when he becomes a citizen will be strong enough to abhor and despite the betrayal of a trust and strong enough to stand for the right. You will find a certain number of boys who have strength and who have misused it by oppressing the boy or girl who is weak. That kind of a boy has a mean streak in him and has not in him the real strength or the real courage that makes for character. I abhor the boy who uses his strength against those who cannot help themselves."
 The president concluded with advice to parents regarding their responsibility in the proper training of children.
