SERIOUS FIRES
IN NOVA SCOTIA

Heavy Losses in Lunenburg and Liverpool.

Loss of $175,000 in One and About $100,000 in the Other—Parrsboro Also Has a Blaze—Destruction in Winnipeg.

(Canadian Press) Lunenburg, N. S., Jan. 25.—Fire last night and this morning destroyed the fish storerooms of Angus and Knicker, on the Lunenburg waterfront, and 17,000 quanta of codfish in the building, with a loss estimated by the firm at $175,000. The fire broke out at nine o'clock last night and, after being brought under control at 2:30 this morning, became serious again at five o'clock with renewed danger to adjoining buildings. The flames were prevented from spreading, however. A vessel moored nearby had a narrow escape.

The firemen of Lunenburg were aided by the departments from Bridgewater and Mahone Bay, the three forces fighting all night in below zero weather.

Liverpool, N. S., Jan. 25.—Four large buildings valued at upwards of $100,000 were destroyed by fire here early this morning. Two families were forced to flee from their homes and four business establishments were wiped out.

The buildings burned were on the south side of Main street and were known as the Hendry Block, Schman building, Hendry buildings and Robin block.

Parrsboro, N. S., Jan. 25.—Helen Victory, of Schneck's, a student nurse at the Good Shepherd Hospital here, is confined to a bed in that institution with a fractured vertebrae, suffered while combing her hair Saturday night. She had her head in an inclined position and while passing the comb through her hair twisted a vertebrae in her neck out of position.

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—Loss estimated at between $500,000 and $600,000, most of which is covered, was caused early yesterday by a fire of unknown origin which attacked a Fortage machine business block. The fire was fought under the handicap of a twenty below temperature.

Will Ask Repeal of the Dog Tax

Decision Arrived at by Kings County Municipal Council—Matters in Connection With Municipal Home Discussed.

(Special to The Times.) Hampton, Jan. 25.—The Kings County Municipal Council resumed its session here this morning. The finance committee reported that at the July meeting payments of bills to the amount of $1,947.65 were ordered. This was approved.

Councillor Walton and Councillor Sear seconded a resolution that in the opinion of the council the law placing a tax on dogs should be repealed and a memorial to this effect sent to the government in spite of strenuous opposition the motion carried 10 to 5.

Dr. Gilchrist of Norton, chairman of a committee which went to Fredericton regarding a bill fixing the term of councillors at four years, reported that the government would not pass such a bill, as no other county had applied for it, but would pass it as a memorial to the government.

Regarding the finishing of the rooms, he said that two tenders were received but the specifications were not satisfactory and the tenders were too high for the amount of work mentioned. He and Mr. King were authorized to look after the finishing, which was done by day's work. The reason the cost was more than the amount of the tenders, he said, was because there was more work to be done than was anticipated.

On motion of Councillor McKenna it was decided to ask the General Public Hospital, St. John, to notify the secretary-treasurer of the county more promptly and give fuller details of cases sent from the county to the hospital.

BANK STATEMENT FOR DECEMBER
Ottawa, Jan. 25.—(Canadian Press)—A reduction of more than $77,000,000 in the total assets of Canadian banks for December 1921, as compared with the previous month, together with a corresponding reduction of more than $80,000,000 in the total liabilities is shown by the monthly bank statement covering December, issued today by the department of finance.

Total liabilities of Canadian banks in December 1921 were $2,472,250,424, against $2,541,336,278 in November 1921, and $2,778,208,547 in December 1920. December 1921 assets were $2,746,732,606 as compared with $2,824,139,507 in November 1921 and $3,056,959,469 in October of the previous year.

Liverpool, N. S., Jan. 25.—The Gloucester schooner Corinthian arrived here this morning and reported the drowning of James Gardner of Dorchester, Mass., and Avery Goodwin, Publico, N. S., two members of her crew. They were drowned when their dory overturned while they were fishing on the Brown's Bank.

FRACTURED VERTEBRAE COMBING HAIR

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 25.—Helen Victory, of Schneck's, a student nurse at the Good Shepherd Hospital here, is confined to a bed in that institution with a fractured vertebrae, suffered while combing her hair Saturday night. She had her head in an inclined position and while passing the comb through her hair twisted a vertebrae in her neck out of position.

DOWN NOW TO LESSER PROBLEMS

Arms Conference is Nearing the End.
Final Adjournment Within a Week Possible—Some Important Matters were Cleared Away Yesterday.

(Canadian Press.) Washington, Jan. 25.—The word of the arms conference appeared to be moving rapidly toward conclusion today as the Paris East committee having disposed of the Siberian question at the same time that a virtual agreement was being reached on the sole remaining issue of the naval reduction plan, met again to begin the final wind-up of lesser problems.

Yesterday's high speed developments were regarded by some of the delegates today as having cleared the way for final adjournment of the conference possibly within a week.

Satisfaction was expressed in both Japanese and American quarters today over the outcome of the Siberian discussion which ended by adoption in the Paris East committee yesterday, of a brief resolution, proposed by Secretary Hughes, providing that the Japanese troops from Siberia be withdrawn.

The secretary expressed "special gratification" with the Japanese pledge against territorial designs in Russia, while reiterating the hope of his government that Japan would find it possible to carry out "in the near future" her expressed intention of withdrawing troops from Siberia.

Settlement of the Pacific fortification question by substituting for the British plan of defining a latitude and longitude boundary for the status quo zone the Japanese suggestion that the islands to which the prohibition against future fortification is to apply, be specifically listed, left only its formal approval in text by the Japanese government needed to finally complete the naval treaty.

EQUIVALENT OF WHISKEY IN CIGARETTES?
Toronto, Jan. 25.—A Globe special from Chicago says: "Furfural is the new wall-paper in cigarettes, says Lucy Page Gaston. She says an analysis shows there is sufficient furfural in one cigarette to deliver a jolt equal to two ounces of whiskey."

Because of this furfural with its attendant and pleasant punch, the use of cigarettes is increasing at an alarming rate, even among girls in small country towns.

The introduction of this poison may express the passion for the cigarettes.

TWO MEMBERS OF CREW OF GLOUCESTER FISHING VESSEL DROWN
Liverpool, N. S., Jan. 25.—The Gloucester schooner Corinthian arrived here this morning and reported the drowning of James Gardner of Dorchester, Mass., and Avery Goodwin, Publico, N. S., two members of her crew. They were drowned when their dory overturned while they were fishing on the Brown's Bank.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbush, "now that all the other countries seem to agree that China should be given a free hand to work out her own salvation, as Sir Robert Gordon says, what do you suppose would happen if she said she didn't want any more missionaries?"

"Well," said Hiram, "I suppose that as far as China's concerned, 'well' is the word. But think of the hundreds of millions in heathen darkness," said the reporter.

"Yes—that's so," said Hiram, "but maybe they'd send some missionaries to us as a special privilege. But the one thing—Mister—if we couldn't send no missionaries by China it might help some right here in this country. I kin pick out lots of heathen without going across the Pacific Ocean."

"But," said Hiram, "I kin pick out lots of heathen without going across the Pacific Ocean."

CHICAGO HAS A NIGHT OF CRIME

Shooting, Burglary, Hold-ups and Many Minor Offences Against Law.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Chicago's criminal record yesterday and last night showed the first serious wave of 1922. One man shot and wounded, probably fatally, two jewelry stores burglarized, twenty-eight hold-ups and more than a score of minor crimes were reported. The criminals escaped virtually unscathed.

Early in the evening M. Hughes, chief of detectives, ordered every available police motor car and squad to the streets.

The most serious crime of the evening was perpetrated by four negro bandits, who in the last two months have gained the name "the four black knights" and whose loot in more than one hundred hold-ups is estimated at exceeding $25,000.

They invaded the drug store of E. L. McKicken and shot him down when he resisted. They fled without obtaining anything.

John Gill Dead
Crier of Court at Fredericton Under Six Chief Justices.

Fredericton, N. B., Jan. 25.—John Gill, for more than half a century crier of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick since this morning of pneumonia at his home at Lower St. Mary's.

He was seventy-four years old and was born at Lower St. Mary's, where he resided in a stone house built by his grandfather, who was a lieutenant in the Imperial army at the time of the American revolution and had been granted the land by the crown. Mr. Gill had served under six chief justices.

JURORS TAKE A CHANCE AND DRINK
Taste the Evidence in Prohibition Case in New York, and Grin.

New York, Jan. 25.—Undeterred by the warning of the prohibition Commissioner Hayes here yesterday against drinking strange liquor, ten federal jurors took a chance on a bottle of supposed whiskey yesterday and survived.

They were hearing evidence against four alleged bootleggers. When the prosecutor suggested calling a chemist to testify as to the contents of the bottles, Judge Howe countered with a suggestion that the jurors looked as if they were competent to decide for themselves, and ordered a bottle opened. Only two declined to sample the evidence. The rest smacked their lips and grinned.

SECRET ON THE TELEPHONE
Washington, Jan. 25.—The "super-phone," an apparently simple attachment for telephones, which is said to secure absolute secrecy of communication and security from interruption and to make possible multiple telephony, was demonstrated yesterday in the office of the chief signal officer of the army. It was shown that one telephone line to which super-phones were attached could be used for several conversations simultaneously and that no pair of speakers could hear or interrupt the other pair.

AGAIN 12 BELOW
The cold spell showed no signs of abating this morning and the thermometer registered twelve points below zero from three until nine o'clock, when it went up two points. The mercury was below the zero mark since Monday morning, which is the longest period since the winter of 1919-1920.

WANT MONEY FOR QUEBENS.
Toronto, Jan. 25.—W. F. Nickle, representing the board of Queen's University, waited on Hon. R. H. Grant, minister of education, yesterday morning with a list of the university's requirements. He stressed the necessity of a government grant of $150,000 for a new library.

General Suspension of Amateur Cards in Maritime Provinces

SENSATION ANNOUNCED TODAY IN ATHLETIC CIRCLES

Affidavits to be Required From All Next Month—Hardly an Athletic Association in the Three Provinces Left Unaffected by "List."

(Canadian Press.) Amherst, N. S., Jan. 25.—A general suspension of amateur cards in the maritime provinces will be ordered early in February. Suspended athletes will be given permission to continue athletic activities for a period of ten or fifteen days, but within that period they must take a bona fide affidavit to the effect that they are simon pure. This is a statement made by R. N. Ross of the Amherst Daily News in an exclusive story of an "evidence" meeting, with A. W. Covey at Moncton last evening.

The president of the maritime branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada said that it was the only known method by which the amateur situation could be cleared up. As he said, the method was drastic, but in no other way could maritime sport be removed from the position of suspicion that it now occupies.

The reasons for the extreme step were made evident at a meeting held in the Brunswick Hotel, when Mr. Covey conferred with prominent sport promoters, amateur and independent, together with a large number of well-known maritime athletes. Scores of affidavits were produced and taken and an overwhelming mass of evidence secured against maritime clubs and maritime players.

Hardly an athletic association in the three provinces will be left unaffected by the "list" that will be put into effect within a few weeks. Athletes stepped forward last night and took affidavits that implicated club after club and team after team from Campbellton to Sydney.

"With such a colossal turn over in sight, Mr. Covey made the decision that only one step could be taken—a general suspension of cards, and an affidavit from every applicant. Those who cannot take the affidavit will be come under the amateur ban."

Action will not be taken until after the meeting in Halifax. This meeting is slated for January 26, will not be held until February 8, or even later. Mr. Covey has made plans to visit the island of Cape Breton and investigate conditions in Sydney, Glace Bay, North Sydney and other island centres.

Meanwhile the foreign cardinals continue to arrive for the conclave of the Sacred College at which the new Pontiff will be elected. Cardinal Mercier of Belgium, who is looked upon as something of a "dark horse" in the election, is expected in time for the funeral. It is acknowledged on all sides that he is certain to poll more votes on the first ballot than any foreign cardinal.

Interest in the election centres greatly upon its possible effect on the relations between the Vatican and the Italian government. Cardinal Maffi is reported as being supported by the group favoring a rapprochement, while Cardinal Gasparri, now acting head of the Church, favors continuance of Benedict's policy of tolerance without recognition. Cardinal Merry del Val, also mentioned as a possible choice, is supported by the faction favoring absolute separation. A two-thirds vote, however, is necessary for election.

Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, arrived this morning from England and visited St. Peter's, where he rendered homage to the dead Pope. The statement has appeared in several newspapers that Crown Prince Humbert visited the cathedral yesterday to view the body. This is semi-officially denied.

San Francisco, Jan. 25.—The defense in the case of Roscoe Arbuckle had the floor at his trial today. The prosecution rested case yesterday but reserved the right to examine witnesses in impeachment of testimony by Zey Provost, a show girl.

Evidence concerning finger prints upon a door of the Arbuckle suite in the Hotel St. Francis, declared by the prosecution as those of the defendant and Miss Kappie made during a struggle, her to escape him, constituted yesterday's main evidence.

TALK OF GREY AS NEXT PREMIER

Lord Robert Cecil Would Support Him.

Viscount Returns to Public Life "to Restore Wholesome and Straightforward Policies" by Reviving the Liberal Party.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, Jan. 25.—An illustration of the chaotic conditions of the political parties of the United Kingdom is afforded by a statement of Lord Robert Cecil, who still styles himself a Conservative although he was elected as a Coalitionist in the last general elections, but subsequently developed strong antipathy to the economic and foreign policies of the government.

In a speech yesterday he declared that any government with Viscount Grey as premier would be bound to be composed of honest men with an honest, straight forward policy, and whatever it was called he was prepared to support it if formed.

In a speech delivered at a Liberal demonstration on Monday, Viscount Grey was given an ovation when he said his reason for returning to public life was that he felt it absolutely essential to restore wholesome and straight-forward policies in this country by reviving the liberal party.

FUNERAL OF POPE TO BE TOMORROW

People Pouring Into Rome—Cardinals Arriving—Some Names That are Prominent.

Rome, Jan. 25.—With Pope Benedict's funeral set for Thursday, pilgrims continued to arrive from all parts of Italy, camping in the open air before St. Peter's in the hope of getting a glimpse of the body. More than a half million persons have filed past the catafalque in the two days on which the body has been exposed, the crowds, though orderly taxing the gardeners charged with keeping them in line.

Meanwhile the foreign cardinals continue to arrive for the conclave of the Sacred College at which the new Pontiff will be elected. Cardinal Mercier of Belgium, who is looked upon as something of a "dark horse" in the election, is expected in time for the funeral. It is acknowledged on all sides that he is certain to poll more votes on the first ballot than any foreign cardinal.

THE MILIE AND 440 EVENTS TODAY

Ice and Weather at Plattsburg Good—Late News of Sport Events.

(Canadian Press.) Plattsburg, N. Y., Jan. 25.—The two big events today on the programme for the second day of the national outdoor slating championships here are the 500 yard race and the 440 yard events which will bring together the fastest amateurs in this country and Canada.

Admiral J. C. Moore of New York and Russell Wheeler of Montreal, neither of whom were top winners yesterday afternoon, attracted upwards of a collision, predicted they would be dangerous contenders. Charles Jewtraw of Lake Placid and Gray McWhirter of Chicago, who divided honors with 40 points each, were also entered in the ice and weather conditions were excellent.

The press despatch does not refer to Charlie Gorman, holder of the 440 yards amateur record, but this is no reason to assume that he will not be in the race. He is getting ready for Saturday's Chicago, Jan. 25.—Participation in meets at Montreal, Toronto and Boston planned for the Chicago school boy tournament which is to be held here next month is announced today.

The Toronto Globe says: "After years of constant effort the friends of speed skating in this city appear to be getting results. Saturday's schoolboy and schoolgirl meet at the University of Toronto rink on Saturday afternoon attracted upwards of two hundred entries and all of the schools were not canvassed at that." The finals were held on Saturday night and the meet of the same kind will be held before the season closes. Fred Robson, expected to be a contender, had another run of the meet in good time. Among the many young skaters who appeared were a score or more of former champions of developing into genuine speedsters."

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Club owners of the American Association will meet in special session here today to consider the acceptance of the new draft proposal made by the baseball advisory board. The proposal carries a price of $7,500 for every player drafted from the organization, an increase of $2,500 over the former price. The action of the Pacific Coast League in refusing to submit to the draft will be taken under consideration at today's meeting. The International League has not voted on the subject and probably will not take any action until after decision is made by the American Association.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—Canadians are here for an N. H. L. game with St. Pat's, and "Newy" Lalonde, who left the flying Friscoian two weeks ago, will be back at center. The Irish are not taking any stock in a report from Montreal that Sprague and his team had been shipped from the game down on Saturday when St. Pat's pulled out a victory. Floyd Andrews, Niagara Falls star, whom St. Pat's signed last week, will get his first taste of pro hockey tonight.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Johnny Myers of Chicago and John Kilonis of Norfolk will meet here tonight in a match for the middleweight wrestling championship of the world. Thursday night and Friday night will be held in the Monument National on Friday evening under the auspices of the Ottawa A. C. Silas Green, Montreal, light heavyweight colored boxer, will meet Tex McEwen of Ottawa in a ten-round battle, and Dennis Critch, another colored man, will meet Jack Meech. Two other bouts are promised by the promoters. Louie E. Marsh of Toronto will be referee.

Acting Premier of China.
Peking, Jan. 25.—President Hsu Shih Chang today announced that he had granted a leave of absence to Premier Liang Shih Yi, and appointed Dr. Yen, the foreign minister, as acting premier.

"FLU" IS TIGHTENING ITS HOLD ON GREATER NEW YORK
New York, Jan. 25.—City health officials were today taking steps to block the further progress of a threatened influenza and pneumonia epidemic which was indicated, they said, by the rapid growing number of cases in Greater New York since the first of the year.

Doctor Copeland, city health commissioner, said today that 123 cases of "flu" and 102 of pneumonia had been reported in Greater New York in the previous twenty-four hours. On Sunday and Monday last but sixty-four "flu" cases were reported in the whole city. Deaths from both "flu" and pneumonia, he reported, showed a steady increase since the first of the year.

JOHN S. ARMSTRONG SEVERELY BURNED

Taken Unconscious from His Duke Street Home as Fire Grips the Structure.

John S. Armstrong, an aged resident of the city, was painfully burned in a fire which occurred at his home, 174 Duke street, this afternoon and is now lying in a serious condition at the General Hospital. Soon after the fire was discovered, Mr. Armstrong was missed by some of his friends. It could not be ascertained whether he had left the house or not, and was not until he was found by Harry McBeth, Little, Chief George Blake and Detective Saunders that it was ascertained he had become of him. The four men were in the dining room with a hose fighting the blaze. Mr. Little was breaking a window when he heard heavy breathing and calling the others, discovered Armstrong lying near the stove, where he had apparently fallen, overcome by smoke while attempting to escape through the window. He was rushed to the street and, unconscious, taken in the Salvage Corps motor car to the hospital. He was revived with oxygen and the task of removing his clothes begun.

Alice Terry, who plays the leading feminine role in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" which will be the attraction at the Opera House starting Monday, had only a year's experience in pictures prior to making her sensational success in the remarkable screen version of this gripping novel by Vicente Blasco Ibañez. She supported Alice Lake in "Shore Acres" and was featured in "Hearts Are Trumps," the spectacular melodrama by Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton. "The Four Horsemen" is the first picture to visualize the real South American gaucho on the screen. Several of the characters seen in the early scenes are the same as in the actual South American. Each scene will be reserved for this engagement for evening performances. First sale now open.

British Leader Also Fires a Shot at Minister of Agriculture. London, Jan. 25.—(Canadian Press)—Right Hon. John R. Clynes, British labor leader, speaking before a gathering of London commercial men yesterday declared that the parliamentary labor party was often misunderstood through industrial and trade disputes for which the party was in no way responsible. He personally believed that some trade union rule acted to the detriment of work people. Any labor government would descend to the greatest folly if it attempted to check wholesome enterprise.

The Joy of a Well Furnished Home. Every bride begins married life with a firmly fixed idea of what her home is to be—"some day." But how many of them realize their ideal? Brides' homes are generally furnished more or less temporarily. Odd pieces of furniture are added from time to time as necessity arises. But the years go by. Other expenses come along, Habit accustoms the family to things as they are, and ideals fade. It is one of the great mistakes of married life to allow the ideals and hopeful aspirations of youth to fade away unrealized. We can aid you to "Realize Your Ideal." J. general convener. Black's orchestra gave several selections and the scholars contributed to an excellent musical and lit-

Mrs. Vincent spoke of her recent European trip. She spent some time in Switzerland, France, Scotland and Ireland. Her address was illustrated with illustrate an address on St. John 100 years ago which is to be given by W. C.

Milner.

There were two fires in the city yesterday afternoon and evening. The first was run in from Box 183, and proved to be some rubbish burning in a box car near the Union depot. The second alarm was run in from Box 23 and was in the printing establishment of Fred Doig, Ltd. The firemen broke into several other offices in the building but found only some papers. The loss is estimated at $1,000. Both building and plant were insured.

STILL THE WEST

The Times yesterday referred to the anxiety of the Toronto Globe to remove causes of disaffection in the western provinces. The Toronto Mail and Empire is quite as eager to placate a good customer. It says:

"The west has good friends in the east, friends who have confidence in the west and who have a desire to do everything possible to tide its people through their troubles. How heartbreaking those troubles are to many fine people in the west on this side of the great lakes imagine. The east must be the strong helper of the west, its nourisher in time of trouble. Canada can be built up into the great country of our high expectations if west and east co-operate in the national spirit that is becoming to them."

Ontario must understand that there is an east as well as a west—and that the east does not eat at the lakes or Montreal. This farther east is not as badly off at the present moment as the west is said to be, but it has never found the central provinces "a nourisher in time of trouble." On the contrary, they have snuffed out its industries, absorbed its financial institutions, and regarded it as an excellent market for surplus stocks. They have not seriously considered its transportation grievances; the development of its ports, or the national plea that Canadian trade should flow through Canadian channels in winter as well as in summer. There is a west, to be sure—but there is also a maritime east—and it should profit by the example of the west. New Brunswick, for example, is the key province of Canada. Without it there would be no all-Canadian route to the Atlantic in the winter season. If our people were half as united and vigorous as those of the west, they would not be suffering under disabilities due to a general violation of the spirit of confederation.

TRADE RELATIONS

"Will drastic tariff regulations wreck our Canadian trade?"

With this question Mr. Morrison Marsh in the New York Journal of Commerce begins an article in which the American people are warned to think twice before they erect a permanent high tariff wall against so good a customer as Canada. To emphasize the very outset the seriousness of the situation from the United States point of view, Mr. Marsh says:

"During the seven months ending last October, Canada's total trade with the United States dropped $405,000,000, as compared with the same period the year before. Significant reductions in some of our most important imports were recorded. Our imports of vegetable products were cut in half, dropping from $22,000,000 to $10,000,000. Only slightly less important, our imports of animal products fell from $45,000,000 to $23,000,000. Most of the new imports used in America comes from the Dominion. During the period under review we only imported $22,000,000 worth of newspaper and other wood and paper products as against $14,000,000 in the same months the year before. Our imports of wheat fell 70 per cent. in the three months ending last November. The reduction in trade, as expressed in dollars, does not take into consideration the fall of prices, but this factor may be considered apart from the tariff question."

FREE KINDERGARTENS

The regular meeting of the Free Kindergarten Association was held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. A. F. Robinson reported that the five schools had regular sessions, and attendance was much reduced by sickness. Four of the teachers and assistants were absent through illness. She told of clothing distributed among the children and of the work of the L. O. D. E. and church societies.

Upon the receipt of the statement of the treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Flewelling, which told of $66.57 being all that remained on hand the matter of tag day was taken up. Mrs. H. H. Pickett reported that Mayor Schofield had given consent to the association arranging for a tag day and it was thought that February 14, St. Valentine's Day, would be a convenient time.

Conveners were appointed as follows: Publicity, Mrs. A. G. McAvity, Mrs. Jack McGowan, and Mrs. H. L. Spangler; tags, Mrs. F. E. Holman; motors, Miss Gunn; refreshments, Mrs. J. H. Bullock, Mrs. Harvey Colver, and Mrs. D. Chajstic; banks, Mrs. H. H. Pickett and Miss Grace E. Estey; finance, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flewelling; general conveners, Mrs. A. W. Estey, and general conveners, Mrs. F. E. Holman. Details in connection with tag day were discussed and preliminary arrangements made. The appointments on the committee were made subject to the consent of some members who were not present.

AT EAST END BOYS CLUB

Scoutmaster Welmore, of Knox church troop, took his twelve performers, "The Black Diamonds," to the East End Boys Club last night, where they put on a programme that the boys heartily enjoyed. There were about 100 of the boys of the club present and they were slow in showing their appreciation of a good entertainment. The boys recently organized and elected officers and they are now in the process of raising money to visit the club on the night when the boys give their circus programme. Welmore, in his first appearance as president, filled his office with much success.

SCOTLAND

Fair land of fame and freedom; land of song.
The land of Wallace, Bruce, of Burns and Scott;
Thy children mix with every race and tongue,
But ah! their heart's true home is ne'er forgot.

Land of my birth, though oceans roll between
Thy shores and this—my dear adopted home,
Yet, fairest country eye hath ever seen,
I, roaming, call thee "Mother" as I roam.

I'll sing thy praises wherever I go,
Time's misty mists obscure thy glorious past;
Nor dim thy fame, while tides shall ebb and flow,
And "Scotland" is my toast, while life shall last.

HOPE A. THOMSON.

CORPUS CHRISTI HIS LITTLE JOKE

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Jan. 24.—The seventeenth annual convention of the Texas Passenger and Freight Association held here last week selected El Paso for its next meeting. Among the speakers were Roy Miller, representing the City State Railway Commission, Baltimore, and Col. Geo. H. Ham of Montreal. The latter in a characteristic and an associate member of the association, who is a native of the United States but who did not know whether Canada was being Americanized or the United States was being Canadianized. Col. Ham also spoke of Canada's illimitable possibilities and suggested the development of the Canadian west, which looked very lonesome in Staten Island, to Mount Royal, where with outstretched arms she could welcome her fellow countrymen and give them a rattling good time without fear of being pinched or a headache next morning. He promised a warm welcome to the scores of railroad workers who will visit Canada next autumn. Col. Ham, who is an associate member of the association, and E. L. Sheehan, St. Louis, represented the C. P. R. and were cordially greeted by delegates.

STORY ABOUT SAXE

A neglect of Mr. Tuckor, who as a boy served a brief apprenticeship at the Old Corner, recalls with interest his boyhood experiences in the frequent visits to this popular resort. It was his duty to reach the store at seven a. m., before the necessary sweeping had been done. The other boys, then did the dusting, so that by seven-thirty Mr. Tuckor appeared, all was in readiness.

Among the literary habits were some "early birds" who were at this favorite rendezvous even before the arrival of the head of the house. In this category was the delightful and eccentric poet, John G. Saxe, who often put in an appearance by seven a. m., much to the surprise of the other boys who would be spouting the drollest verses. At the back of the office was a huge pocket-table, upon which it was Mr. Saxe's custom to stretch himself at full length; placing a pile of books under his head, he would read himself comfortably according to his taste, after which he proceeded to recite poems to the enchanted boys, who rapt about him, with open mouths and idle sters. Saxe would be there composing and reciting one amusing verse after another, and while the boys would cast stealthy glances out of the window to see if the head of the house was coming, as soon as they caught sight of his erect form briskly approaching the cry went up: "Here comes the boss!" and the poet came to an abrupt end; the poet bestirred himself from his recumbent pose, and the neglected dusting was hastily completed.—Hawthorne and His Publisher, Caroline Ticknor.

RACES OF NEW YORK

(Halifax Recorder).

Ancient Rome, being the capital of the one great empire of the time, was naturally the gathering place of adventurers and fortune seekers of every race. So it is in the modern world, and the city was one of a hundred tongues. But Rome at its greatest probably went little beyond three millions in population. New York today is at least twice as populous as the ancient city of the Tiber and the city today has a population of 10,750,000, of which 10,750,000 belong to the genuine class of the white race. Negroes fall a little below 200,000. The native Red Man is represented by 2,000, and the Chinese pass this by two thousand, while the Japanese are less than three thousand. When it comes to nationalities, practically every country is present. Among the leaders are English, 138,000; French, 92,000; German, 90,000; Irish, 285,000; Italian, 545,000; Polish, 248,000; and Russian, 550,000. Everyone of these is ample for a city of considerable magnitude alone. The Jew pass the million mark and there are more in New York city today than were ever found in Jerusalem in any period of its history. The literacy of the state is quite creditable considering the heterogeneous population and the constant influx of new peoples found from some countries without a school system at all. The illiterate per cent. 42.60 or a little over five per cent. The state however, has a splendid educational system, both common and higher, and the success with which it has grappled with the unparalleled problems presented to it may be judged by the surprisingly low percentage of illiteracy.

WHAT HAS BEEN DONE IN HALIFAX

G. F. Pearson, Chairman of the Massachusetts Health Commission, Presents Report to Committee in Boston.

A meeting of great interest to citizens of Massachusetts, and particularly to those who, by family ties, by birth, or through business relations, are watching the rehabilitation of war stricken Halifax was held in Boston on Thursday afternoon.

It will be remembered that following the great ship disaster on December 6, 1917, citizens of Boston and Eastern Massachusetts sprang to the assistance of Halifax. A relief committee, formed in Boston, with Henry B. Endicott, chairman, and James J. Phelan, vice-chairman, immediately sent a relief train in charge of A. C. Butchesky, carrying physicians, nurses and material supplies, and following this relief, as so many of the terrible consequences of the disaster was known, the same committee supplemented it with train and ship loads of food, supplies and clothing.

Boston contributions of money made to the committee reached three-quarters of a million dollars, and magnanimously contributed for the only American city suffering severely during the war.

The Canadian government determined to take over all relief work in a big way and on a practical compensation basis for damage to life, limb or property, the sum of $250,000 of Massachusetts money remained unexpended. The Massachusetts committee later ordered this substantial balance to be spent in a campaign of preventive medicine to offset the effects of that invariably follow such catastrophes.

What Has Been Accomplished

Thursday afternoon at 2.15, the Massachusetts Health Commission met in the office of Hornblower and Weeks, under the chairmanship of James J. Phelan, to listen to the report of what has been accomplished in Halifax by G. F. Pearson, chairman of the Massachusetts-Halifax Commission in Nova Scotia, superintending the preventive medicine campaign of which Dr. B. Franklin Royce, State health officer in Halifax, is in charge.

At the meeting those of the local committee attending were James J. Phelan, chairman; Robert Winslow, George H. Lyman, J. Frank O'Hara, and Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, and Dr. Victor G. Heiser, the International Health Commission, and the adviser to the local committee. From Halifax G. F. Pearson and Doctor Royce. All listened with interest to the reports of the splendid work in Halifax.

In the best health centre yet organized on the American continent, at Old Admiralty House, the commission is establishing methods of health teaching and ready showing activities throughout the stricken community and radiating widely throughout the entire province. Health teaching by nurses trained in public health is now actively going on in 140 families. More than 2,500 persons, in addition, are receiving medical, dental or health instruction in the baby, child welfare clinic in the care, nose, throat and eye clinics; in posture and dental clinics; in the psychiatric clinic for explosion injured; and in the tuberculosis and genitourinary clinics. An altogether unique pre-school clinic and dental service of far-reaching importance, greatly interested the Boston committee. The results of this clinic were also reported by request to the Harvard Odontological Society at their monthly meeting last evening. Six hundred and sixty-one children, of ages from six months to six years, are being given dental supervision with two special clinics four times a year.

A garden connected with this first health centre is assigned in plots to necessary families under guidance of the health nurses, where they are taught to raise vegetables suitable to family need and led to seek homes with a garden plot adjacent.

Reviewed the Work.

A second health centre, including most of these services, is now engaged in educational work in the Dartmouth area, which was badly damaged in the same disaster.

Mr. Pearson, in summarizing the work accomplished by his commission, said that "in part at least, as the result of the health work made possible by Massachusetts funds, the city of Halifax had increased its annual appropriations for health work in the most thorough and complete manner possible."

Province of Nova Scotia its health department fourfold.

At present, in the explosion area, we have two well-organized health centres, thirteen specially trained public health nurses with two assistants and two secretaries; a medical and dental staff of fifteen, three of these being full time workers.

The city has begun continuous chemical treatment of its water supply. A full time veterinarian has been made inspector of the milk supply.

"The commission's forces and health authorities joined with the Red Cross and assisted Dalhousie University in establishing a course in public health nursing. Sixteen of these nurses are now at work in the counties of Nova Scotia."

"Largely as the result of the commission's influence, a tuberculosis hospital is now operating in a centrally located section of Halifax."

"The sum of $25,000 has been added to sums accumulating through other sources to provide permanently for the education, entertainment and employment of those who are partially blinded by the explosion."

Dr. Royce, in conclusion, said: "The Massachusetts contributions of this fund will be gratified to know that already death rates are apparently less than prior to the disaster. For the year 1920 the rate was below the average for the years 1914, 1915 and 1916, while for 1921 the rate was 3.4 per thousand below the rate was 3.4 per thousand below the rate of the three earlier years.

If the death rate of these three years had obtained during the latter years, more than 200 additional lives would have been lost. The good results of this campaign of preventive medicine are being highly appreciated by the Halifax citizenship generally, who are co-operating and assisting in every way possible. The team work is showing results."

Mr. Phelan's committee and Dr. Heiser all spoke in high praise of the results secured by the work of rehabilitating health conditions in Halifax.

During the months of January, February and March our stores will close at one o'clock on Saturday.

WOMAN SMUGGLER DIED IN PULLMAN

Physician Attributed Death to Dose of Undiluted Heroin—Companion in Hospital.

(Special to The Montreal Gazette).
New York, Jan. 22—Hundreds of American and Canadian girls, enslaved by narcotic drugs, are being used by a Canadian band to smuggle drugs across the border. This became known last night through the confession of Mrs. William Bruce, twenty-four years old, who was Frances Lebrun, of Staten Island, before marriage.

The confession reveals the workings of the so-called "million-dollar drug ring" and is said to account for four recent Chinese hatchet murders and the death from an overdose of drugs yesterday of Mrs. Bruce's chum, Dorothea Wardwell, whose address was given variously as Boston, New York and Windsor Hotel, Montreal.

The confession is in possession of Special Deputy Police Commissioner Dr. Cretton Simon, head of the narcotic division, and was taken six o'clock last night at Bellevue Hospital, where Mrs. Bruce is near death from heroin poison.

Girl Dies From Drugs.

The records at Police Headquarters, Dr. Simon says, show that on December 2, while wearing $38,000 worth of diamonds and carrying thirty-six bottles of Canadian whiskey and a quantity of drugs in two suit cases, Dorothea Wardwell, a Thibault beauty, was arrested in Syracuse. She was fined and paid $200 in Federal court on conviction of violating the Volstead law. The girl lay dead in the New York City morgue last night, a victim of an overdose of the drug to which she was addicted.

The two girls were found unconscious on a Montreal express just outside New York City, yesterday morning by Solomon Stearns, a Pullman porter. On the arrival of the train in New York, Charles Uppenberg, the conductor, sent them to the dispensary in Grand Central Terminal. They received emergency treatment, and were rushed to Bellevue. The Wardwell girl died on the way to the hospital. Mrs. Bruce had recovered sufficiently last night to tell her story to Commissioner Simon.

Mrs. Bruce Tells Story.

Mrs. Bruce, who has been using the name of Doris Pembroke in her drug smuggling operations, and who carried cards bearing that name and the address 841 Eighth Avenue, New York City, is a pretty brunette, with bobbed hair and brown eyes. She says she was born on Staten Island and gave the name of her married sister, still living on Staten Island.

"I have known Dorothea Wardwell for about eighteen months," Commissioner Simon quoted Mrs. Bruce as saying. "She and I fell into the hands of a crowd of bootleggers and drug smugglers in New York and Montreal who got us under their control with drugs and used us for their own purposes. Dorothea had a friend in a hotel in Canada who claimed to be in love with her. She made money for him in the smuggling game.

"They never caught me, but Dorothea has been caught twice, once in Utica and once in Syracuse. We both carried drugs and whiskey in suit cases between Montreal and Boston, and made much money for the men. Dorothea's man let her wear his diamonds sometimes. He is very rich.

"I was coming to New York from Montreal to be assigned a new route where I was not so well known, when they thrust on the train at House's Point. She said she had been deported and ordered not to come back into Canada. We both had a small supply of heroin, which we carried in our hats. We decided to come to New York together to get things fixed up so we could work.

"It was easy to get the stuff over the border. If the inspectors would start to look into our suitcases we'd just say 'Oh, go along, sweetie. I haven't got anything in there,' and the inspectors would move along.

"I was raised in a good family and was a good girl until I separated from my husband and fell into the hands of friends. They made us do whatever they said on pain of having us arrested, and we knew we would not get any drugs and would suffer, so we had to do as we were told.

"Dorothea had some pure heroin yesterday. We were used to taking diluted heroin, and when we took the usual dose of the pure drug it was too much for us and knocked us both out."

Accused Men Named.

The above confession was given to Dr. Simon on his promise, he said, to defend the girls give her a cure and help her to win her way back to respectability. She named the men engaged in the traffic, some of whom were already known to Commissioner Simon. These men are in Canada and their whereabouts were unknown until Mrs. Bruce specified the hotels in Montreal where they could be found. Commissioner Simon has moved to cause their arrest.

The girl in her confession admitted that some of the drug smugglers were carrying suitcases of opium into New York for Chinese dealers in drugs who had gained power over them by drug enslavement. This was not new information for Commissioner Simon.

Dr. Simon said the police had seized the baggage of both women, and that an examination of it should reveal much of the case, both in this city and in Canada.

Both Dr. Simon and Federal Narcotic Director Ralph H. Oyler, head of the Government Narcotic Division, had information two weeks ago that the habit of Chinese in employing white girls to smuggle drugs was causing them to be murdered by their own countrymen.

There have been two of these murders in New York where men in one apartment were hacked to death with cleavers. One of these men is known to have had a 19-year-old white wife, a beautiful girl, according to witnesses.

After hearing Mrs. Bruce's story, Commissioner Simon sent a squad of police to a West Side rooming house, where 800 empty vials were found in quarters said to have been maintained by the women.

Mrs. Bruce was arrested at the hospital on a charge of possessing narcotics.

ANGRY WOMEN A PERIL TO BUS CONDUCTORS

One Kicked a Man on the Shins and Another Threatened to Use Hatpin—Rendered Aid in Getting On.

How a minority of uncivil passengers of the Fifth Avenue buses mistreat conductors, despite the efforts of the civility campaign, was told yesterday in a pamphlet announcing an essay contest on civility for both bus riders and operators, says the New York Times. The pamphlet lists the following cases of "violence," pointing out that they have been "thoroughly investigated and verified."

"A woman boarded a bus at 110th Street, fished around for several minutes in her handbag, then offered the conductor a dirty, crumpled transfer four days old. The conductor politely called attention to the date of the transfer, and refused to accept it. The woman kicked him in the shins so violently that he suffered from the effects for several days.

"A prominent business man, 'passing down Broadway in a bus, wanted to alight at Sixty-fifth Street. He did not ring the bell until actually in the middle of that cross street. When he saw the bus passing his corner, he angrily struck the conductor on the jaw. The force of the blow knocked the conductor down and he fell behind the stairs. The company prosecuted the conductor's case vigorously; the business man went to the conductor's home and apologized, besides making other restitution.

"Complaint was received that one of our oldest conductors, a man noted for his courtesy even before the company ran its campaign, had used indecent and insulting language when the young daughter of a prominent minister asked him a civil question.

"Investigation verified the complaint, but it also brought out the possibly mitigating fact that the conductor had been abused by passengers no less than seven times that day, three of the attacks occurring on the same trip as that in which he turned, somewhat like a friendly dog, goodnaturedly to madness, on the cultured, inoffensive girl.

The pamphlet says that one woman wrote the company, 'threatening to use a hatpin on every woman' who presumed to touch her arm or glove in assisting her off or on a bus.

"Our drivers and conductors are subjected now and then to almost unbelievable vilification and abuse 'from a few—fortunately, very few—riders,' continues the pamphlet, 'who apparently belong to those classes in which false

"Brings Happiness!"

How Prohibition Is Working
An Acute Observer's Survey and Forecast

(By Chester T. Crowell in the Independent and the Weekly Review.)
During the last twelve months there have been in all but nine or ten of the States, and as prohibition and the lack of it are the principal topics of conversation in all of the States, one comes into possession of a certain amount of information, well diluted with gossip and rumor. Sifting this carefully, I come to these conclusions:
(1) This country still has local opinion because there are large parts of the most populous States where the people do not desire prohibition and public sentiment is not adequate to make its enforcement possible.
(2) Taking the country as a whole, progress made towards actual enforcement of prohibition is certainly as slow as a snail's pace.
(3) Intoxicants can be obtained in any State in the Union and in larger cities with comparative ease.
(4) It is still too early to predict whether the general tendency is "dry" or "wet." In some places it appears to be "wet"—in others "dry."
(5) Efforts to launch campaigns for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment have received very little support. However, in this connection one must consider that the traditional American system for repealing a law is not through legislative action, but majority consent to violate it. If all the laws on our statute books were enforced with severity, the country would be in chaos.
Many of the claims made for prohibition by those who advocated it on the stump and in the press during the last quarter of a century have been realized. It does result in fewer industrial accidents; it does result in fewer deaths from alcoholism; it does result in fewer charity cases; it does result in better clothed and better fed children. The loss of the saloon has not wrecked any city, either in the days of local option or under national prohibition. The effect of prohibition in industrial centres is quite notable. There is less disorder, fewer misdemeanors, but probably no decrease in crime. The workers are more regular. The effect in factories where automatic or semi-automatic machinery is used cannot be overlooked. I can illustrate this point best, perhaps, by telling of a test that I made. Some years ago a court reporter of my acquaintance offered to make a bet with me that after drinking one glass of beer I could not write the typewriter as rapidly or accurately as I could before drinking the one glass of beer. I thought it was absurd. I tried it very sincerely and discovered to my astonishment that he was right. He had just tried it himself. I could not write so rapidly and while I made only one error on the first page, I made four errors on one page after drinking one glass of beer. The importance of this fact in industrial plants is obvious.
Workers Want Beer
There is another side to this story, however. Many of these industrial workers live in very unattractive sections. They lead dreary lives. After a day's work they do not feel like reading Shakespeare or listening away to grand opera. They want rest and beer. They miss their beer and they are discontented. They are giving a great deal more thought than usual to economic theories. Having very little education along these lines, some of them arrive at the most remarkable, weird and fantastic conclusions. If it were not for the motion picture theatre, which has to a large extent filled the void, I am inclined to have been thrown mad perhaps some time ago. This is especially true among the foreign born. Many of these people simply fail to get the idea of prohibition. These are the men that it was put in to force by executive decree of President Wilson. I have heard them talk about it for hours and advocate a twenty-four hour national strike in protest, believing that thus they can force President Harding to rescind the decree. People of this type who are otherwise law-abiding and patriotic and well intentioned, protect themselves and otherwise violate the Volstead act with the same faith in the justice of their actions that a group of Middle Western Americans would have in evading a law that prohibited them from planting corn.
Among the workers there is much resentment because they believe that every man with money has an enormous wine cellar. This, of course, is not true. They believe it, quite naturally, because they had plenty of money they would have well-fitted wine-cellar. They know that the boot-legging industry is well organized and successful and that large stocks of liquor find their way to the consumers who are able to buy. Personally I think that these very workers are still the principal consumers.
If the lack of a drink is severely felt by the workers, however, it is also more keenly felt at social gatherings and in clubs and at the dinner table.
Chemists Make Good Liquor
The chemist is contributing his little mite toward the overthrow of the Volstead act. It is astonishingly easy to manufacture a good whiskey and good gin, and carpets being shipped abroad and, at first, they were confined to antique and special designs require the supervision of a competent man on the ground who, with the exception of one firm in Peking, do not carry on correspondence in English and are, consequently, unable to deal directly with foreigners. It is generally recognized that rugs made in special designs require the supervision of a competent man on the ground who, with the exception of one firm in Peking, do not carry on correspondence in English and are, consequently, unable to deal directly with foreigners.

THE MOST HUMAN STORY.
Montreal Gazette:—The story of Cinderella is the most human story in the world, and so it is universally loved the best. We have met it in a thousand different disguises; in the popular novellette when the mill girl marries her employer's eldest son—there the Cinderella motif is easily recognized. In history we are fascinated by the story of Nell Gwynne and Madame Sans-Gene—two orange girls and the other a washer-woman. They both ended at court. Indeed, the story of Napoleon himself is only Dick Whittington on a larger scale and what is Whittington but Cinderella in doublet and hose. "From rags to fortune"—it is a popular dream. It may happen at any moment. Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith may be truthfully added to the list of "possibles."

MILK
as pure, as rich in cream, as nourishing, as if just from the cow

Yes, even richer than it comes from the cow, for most of the natural moisture has been removed from St. Charles Milk which makes it so creamy. Always fresh, pure and sweet, St. Charles Milk should be used every day for every cooking and table use. It is the finest milk you can buy. Depend upon it—absolutely—for the name St. Charles is our good name. It always stands for the best—the highest quality. With a few tins of St. Charles on your pantry shelf you are always assured of a plentiful supply of rich, pure milk to use as you need it. Your grocer will gladly supply you.

Recipes worth saving
ONE EGG CAKE—1/4 cupful St. Charles Milk diluted with 1/4 cupful cold water; 1/4 cupful vegetable cooking oil, sweet; 3/4 cupful sugar; 1 egg; 1/4 teaspoonful salt; 1 1/4 teaspoonfuls baking powder; 1 cupful baking flour; 1/4 cupful cornstarch; 1/4 teaspoonful vanilla; 1/2 teaspoonful lemon extract.
Beat the egg light and cream it with the sugar, salt, and flavorings. Combine the milk, diluted, with the cooking oil. Sift together the dry ingredients and add them alternately to the first mixture with the milk. Beat thoroughly, turn into a lined, medium-sized pan and sprinkle nut meats, chopped raisins or coconut over the top. Bake in a moderate oven, for forty-five minutes.

CHINESE RUG PURCHASES.
U. S. Has Recently Been Taking the Bulk of Them.
There has been a steady increase in the export of carpets and rugs from China, and the United States particularly has made much better purchases. In fact, according to figures from the Chinese Maritime Customs forwarded by Consul General Stuart J. Fuller at Peking, American buying accounted in 1920 for all but a small part of the purchases. reckoned in bulk, on customs, taels, which were quoted at $1.14 in the closing quarter of 1920, the United States took 1,883,987 of the total of 1,484,237. Chinese carpets and rugs destined for this country were valued at 134,037 taels in 1918, and 294,853 taels in 1919.

real estate which will be left by the hill

real estate which will be left by the hill when it's gone, Rio will gain sixty city blocks by getting rid of the Morro do Castello. At its greatest width the strip of bay along the waterfront that we are going to fill in measures 1,000 feet. "There are 4,000 native laborers at work on the hill now, being sent to the summit of the Morro do Castello is the tomb of Estacio de Sa, Portuguese military commander, who being sent to expel the French, landed at Rio in 1565. His death, in 1567, was tragic. He was struck in the forehead by an arrow of an Indian fighting with the French, and his cousin Mem de Sa, third governor general of Brazil, caused his tomb to be erected on a hill when he decided to found a new city there. The federal government at that time was at Bahia. Mem de Sa transferred it to this Port of Rio. So it may be said that Dom Estacio founded the city, while Mem de Sa made it the capital.

Three pumps driven by powerful motors

Three pumps driven by powerful motors throw the water from the bay upon the hill, wearing it down inch by inch. For hard work, the stream of water rushes through a nozzle twelve inches in diameter with a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch. So much for the present condition of the historic hill which after three centuries of use are still going strong. Payment 40 per cent cash, balance spread over ten months. Apply to the Victoria Garage Co., 92 Duke street. Phone Main 410. 11-9-T.F.

Water Against Land

Water Against Land is a colossal operation. American engineers have done such things before. Once we took a hill out of a street in Seattle," said Leonard Kennedy. "But there the obstruction was largely of rock. In Rio it will simply be a case of water fighting earth, except for one rock formation which we shall have to remove with dynamite. "We started work in December, and hope to finish the contract in a little over a year. This demonstration of hydraulics will be one of the sights at Brazil's centennial celebration next September. They would like to build some of the exposition buildings on parts of the bay that we are going to make into dry land with the earth taken from the hill, carried down by a flume.

after the expiration of their permit

after the expiration of their permit to import had expired, either directly or in accordance with departmental letter of August 19, 1921, which contained specific mention of certain importers and a list of others coming under the general terms of this letter, but not specifically mentioned therein as above shown as follows:

Whiskey, barrels ..... 31,000
Champagne, cases ..... 5,279
Wine, barrels ..... 11,694
Wine, barrels ..... 1,546
Wine, casks ..... 1,116
Wine, sixcentims ..... 638
Wine, octaves ..... 871
Wine, fifths ..... 66
Wine, sixcentims ..... 115
Alcohol, barrels ..... 115

"The shortcomings or failure to stop these importations," the report says, "does not lie solely at the door of the customs officials, whose duty it is to permit entry of all goods under certain conditions or their rejection where importation is not permissible. In numerous instances the prohibition director of New York had O. K'd the importation of illegal entries and permitted the withdrawal of whiskey and wine and alcohol on 1419's where the party making the withdrawal had only an importer's permit. The collector of customs has demonstrated to me that he has at all times co-operated to the fullest extent in carrying out the provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment and the laws subsequent thereto.

"I feel absolutely certain that customs officials will seize whatever whiskey, or wine that may now be in bonded warehouses where they are made such importations. This being true, I am certain that each of the importations set out above should be checked carefully with the records as found in the prohibition director's office in New York, and where illegal entries have been found to have been made and where the importer has such goods now in customs bonded warehouses, or even a part of such goods, I would recommend that the customs officials be requested to seize such goods as still remain in their possession.

"The quantity of illegally imported liquors at the New York port alone, as will be seen by the above and foregoing, will amount to some $3,500,000 of liquor and wine at retail prices! at all other ports of entry in the United States there should be half as much more."

Children under ten years of age will not be allowed to work in the carpet-making establishments of Kerman, Persia, and the eight-hour working day will be made effective there as a result of protests addressed to the Persian government by the International Labor Office of the League of Nations, according to a report found in the Official Bulletin of the Labor Office issued in Geneva on December 21 last.

"Having received many complaints that women and children employed in the Persian industrial establishments were being compelled to work long hours for sanitary conditions, especially in the Kerman district, where the uncomfortable position they were obliged to assume in making carpets resulted in strophitis of the arms and legs and other disorders, the International Labor Office sent a protest to the Persian minister for foreign affairs through Prince Arfa-Adolbeh, first Persian delegate to the Second Assembly of the League of Nations. After a few weeks, the Labor Office received a letter from the Persian minister in Switzerland, in which the latter voiced his pleasure at being able to enclose the following copy of a message, dated Teheran, December 7, 1921, since coming into office being willing to co-operate to the fullest extent in carrying out the provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment and the laws subsequent thereto.

"I feel absolutely certain that customs officials will seize whatever whiskey, or wine that may now be in bonded warehouses where they are made such importations. This being true, I am certain that each of the importations set out above should be checked carefully with the records as found in the prohibition director's office in New York, and where illegal entries have been found to have been made and where the importer has such goods now in customs bonded warehouses, or even a part of such goods, I would recommend that the customs officials be requested to seize such goods as still remain in their possession.

Gorman Takes Second in 220.

Charles Gorman of this city won twenty points at the United States National championship meet at Plattsburg yesterday in the 220 yard event, by taking second honors. In the three-quarter mile Gorman was among the leaders in his heat when he fell and was eliminated.

In the junior events William Logan was eliminated in his trial heat after a plucky fight. Tom Tebo qualified in his trial heat, but did not start in the final. RING.

Defoe Is Winner.

New York, Jan. 24—Billy Defoe, of St. Paul, was awarded the judges' decision over Oliver Baird, of Seattle (Wa.) after their twelve-round bout at the Pioneer Sporting Club tonight. Defoe was too fast and clever for Baird, outpointing him all the way.

Frankie Mack, Hartford (Conn.), featherweight, took the decision from Johnny Cooney, of New York, at the end of eight rounds. Tarsan Larkin, Minnesota heavyweight, battered down Jack Douglas in the last session of their eight-round fight, and the fight was stopped.

NEWS NOTES ABOUT PROMINENT BAPTISTS

(Maritime Baptist)

Rev. Ira Dwight Little, whose health compelled him to relinquish pastoral work about a year ago, has since been residing at Clementsport, N. S. Mr. Little writes that he is improving in physical condition and hopes, in the near future, to be able to serve some church. At present he feels drawn to evangelistic work and is available for such work or for pulpits supply.

We have received a very gracious letter from Rev. Benjamin H. Nobles, who is now in San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Nobles was for many years a very useful minister of the gospel among our churches, having been pastor at Victoria street, St. John, for fifteen years. He writes that he has been confined to his porch since June last. His wife and boys have also been sick.

Rev. A. J. Vincent, who has entered on his fifth year at Sackville, was agreeably surprised a few evenings ago, when he and his family were invited to a neighbor's house, to find a large number of his congregation assembled to express their appreciation by a "shower" consisting of $50 in money to him and an appropriate gift to each member of his family, including with many other useful articles, a gold-tipped fountain pen to Mrs. Vincent from the members of the W. W. G., and a pleasing memento to her invalid mother, Mrs. Sweet, who is spending the winter with her daughter.

The "man in the iron mask" would not have attracted more attention than the "man in the block of ice" known to his customers at Second-story Morry and to his bank as Morris Goldman, of Fifth avenue and Wood street, in Pittsburgh. Being made of ice, the advertisement naturally was short-lived, lasting nearly two days, but it was as effective in drawing the crowds and boosting the sale of clothing as it was unique.

The figure frozen in the ice was nothing more than a colored cardboard cut-out of the proprietor of the establishment, and it boosted the sale of lighter weight clothing during the warm days of early fall.

THE TEMPTATION

'You have a genius for forgery,' said the tempter, a famous international crook, to the young bank clerk. 'You can waste your life struggling with poverty or you can do my bidding and gain love, riches, everything the world has to offer.' And Jim the Penman was dazzled with the splendor of the world at his feet and took the step from which there is no turning back.

ROMMEL THINKS SALARY IS TOO SMALL; WILL APPEAL TO LANDIS

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 24—Pitcher Ed Rommel of the Philadelphia Athletics announced that he is not satisfied with the contract sent him by Manager Connie Mack and that he will appeal his case to Baseball Commissioner Landis. The pitcher declared that he is tired of drawing a minor league salary with a major league club, and that it would please him if Mack were to sell or trade him. Mack wrote Rommel that 'the Board of Directors and myself have gone over all contracts carefully and have gone to the very limit in regard to salaries and find that it will be absolutely necessary for our club to play better ball if we are to meet with financial success the coming year.' Any player not satisfied with his contract can submit his complaint to Judge Landis, Mack added.

Sussex-St. John Game Off. The hockey game between Sussex and St. John, scheduled for last night in Sussex, was postponed several days ago at the request of the Sussex team owing to their impending trip to Nova Scotia to play off for the Morton-Thompson trophy for the championship of the maritime provinces for 1921. Later Sussex requested that the game be played but the local players were unable to get together on short notice and the game was cancelled indefinitely. Lalonde Reinstated. ### COULD NOT COME TO AGREEMENT Effort at Settlement in Matter of Disputes of Miners and B. E. S. Corporation.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 25.—Since the closing of the hearing of evidence by the Gillen committee, representatives of the opposing parties have been brought together again with a view to settling their differences. They have announced, however, that they were unable to reach an agreement. The conciliation board is expected to give a finding at the end of this week or the first of next.

During the sittings of the board the miners are understood to have made offers to accept "without prejudice" seven per cent. increase in contract rates, and the B. E. S. Corporation has refused. They later modified this it is said, to read ten per cent. increase over the five per cent. of 1921, to represent an improved standard of living, plus the difference in the cost of living between 1921 and 1922.

"BEAUTY POWDER" WAS STRYCHNINE

Young Toronto Law Student Died a Few Minutes After Taking It.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—That "beauty powder" which Anderson Buchanan, a young Toronto law student, swallowed on the morning of the 18th inst. just before sitting down to breakfast in his home, was strychnine, J. J. Rogers, government assayer, testified last night at the coroner's inquest.

Marjory Buchanan, his sister, a school girl of fourteen years, as well as her mother, testified that Anderson straightened out on the floor and died within fifteen minutes after taking what he evidently believed was a curative for face blemishes.

Dr. Rogers said he found a full grain of strychnine in the intestines. Members of the family testified that the poison came in a small envelope. After reading the directions, Mr. Buchanan poured the powder into a cup and threw the accompanying sheet into the fire. The witnesses agreed that the envelope bore a postmark and also a postage stamp, indicating that it had been dropped through the letter slot by the postman. The inquest was adjourned until Monday next.

RACE MEET SPREAD NAME OF ST. JOHN; AN INSTANCE

If the recent national speed skating championships at Lily Lake did nothing else, they at least carried a breath of the winter air into districts where it is very rare for a press despatch from St. John to reach and it is certain that many a former St. John skater will take pride in the unqualified success of the big meet. A way out in the middle western states is a small town, the name of which is hardly known to more than a dozen people in the city, but there a St. John man has made his new home. He was able to point with pride to a paragraph published in the local paper there, in which it was announced that 20,000 people turned out to witness the Canadian championships here. He sent a clipping of the story to friends here.

So the prediction that the fame of St. John would be spread broadcast over the United States and Canada, which was made by a West St. John man after the event, looks as if it might to a great extent come true.

SENT BELOW FOR IMPERTINENCE

Fitzgerald's Remark Displeasing to the Magistrate—Axtell Committed for Trial.

John Fitzgerald of St. John's, Nfld., was before the police magistrate today on a charge of causing a disturbance in the Seaman's Institute last night and assaulting Charles Owens.

The latter gave evidence that he was leaving the Institute when the accused kicked him on the hip and battered him with his head. Leo O'Neill was called, but knew nothing about the affair.

Walter Brindle told of hearing a disturbance and seeing the defendant butt Owens with his head. Fitzgerald, he said, had been drinking lemon extract. He was very well behaved when he was sober.

The magistrate warned the accused that he was liable to eleven months' imprisonment. Fitzgerald said to add another make it an even year, upon which the magistrate had him sent below to the dark cell for impertinence to the court.

Joseph Axtell was committed for trial on a charge of stealing a gold watch, valued at $38, from James Woods' shop on Carmarthen street, and of having escaped from the Boys' Industrial Home, his former place of employment, on the 26th, but not guilty to the escape.

A. J. Parker, superintendent of the Boys' Industrial Home, said the accused had been admitted to the home on August 15, 1921, on a commitment for incorrigibility in the Municipal Home. He said he escaped three times, on August 29, September 22 and October 26. Since his last time he had not seen Axtell until this morning.

Detective Biddiscombe told of arresting the accused on a report of the theft and a description. Axtell asked for a jury trial the other day, so the magistrate sent him up for trial.

The case against George Galbraith, charged with having liquor in his possession, resumed this morning. Inspector Henderson said he understood the accused and George Pries were partners running the Empress Hotel. He said he saw the accused take the pitcher out to a back room. There was a strong smell of liquor near the sink in this room. The case was postponed until this afternoon, when Inspector Killen's evidence will be taken.

BOY SHOT AS HE LAY IN BED

Brothers Had a Rifle Down Stairs, It was Discharged, and Bullet Went Through Ceiling.

A strange accident befell the ten-year old son of Leonard Hayward, of Campbell Settlement Road, near Norton on last Sunday evening. He was in bed in his father's home and his two brothers were downstairs working with a rifle. The rifle was discharged, the bullet striking a beam which deflected it through the ceiling. It passed through the mattress on the bed on which the boy was lying, striking him in the back. Fortunately the blow was a glancing one and after passing under the skin for about six inches the bullet dropped into the bed. Dr. Gilchrist of Norton extracted nearly a handful of shrapnel from the wound, whence it had been carried by the bullet. He found that there was no serious injury and the lad was reported as resting comfortably last night.

ESTIMATES AGAIN BEFORE COUNCIL

Further consideration of the water and sewerage department estimates for 1922 was given by the common council in committee this morning.

S. A. Sewell, superintendent of the department, explained some of the items. The matter will be continued this afternoon.

Mr. Sewell said the work now being done was renewals. He said the amount of $4,000 for maintenance would be required almost entirely for repairs to catch basins.

Mr. Jones agreed to bring in a report of the estimated revenue for the new west side pipe line.

Regarding the expenditures for gasoline and oil and parts, Commissioner Jones said he was getting a full report of details. He would also report further on coal expenditures.

Commissioner Jones' estimate of $14,000 for supplies for water maintenance, the mayor said, might be cut down some $2,500, as there were several items purchased last year which would not be required this year.

Regarding $2,940 for gasoline in water department cars, Mr. Sewell explained that this was used in seven trucks and cars. The amount required for sewerage for gasoline was $720.

Re $4,000 expended for parts, Mr. Sewell said that some of the cars were overhauled twice.

With reference to the coal bill, Mr. Sewell said it took thirty-five tons of hard coal to heat the water and sewerage building. Soft coal was used for boilers, etc.

Regarding the estimates for labor, Mr. Sewell said that he would bring in a detailed report.

Mr. Bullock asked if the cost of supplies for sewerage maintenance should not be cut down by the emergency work now being done.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.
In Chancery this morning argument of counsel was heard in the matter of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association vs. the executor of the estate of H. A. Myers a Kings county case. W. H. Harrison appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Fowler and Freeze for the defendant. Judgment was reserved.
