ZEPELIN'S HARD LOCK CONTINUES

Sixth Big Dirigible Balloon is a Wreck

STRANDS ON ROOF

Men and Women Passengers, Shaken But Not Seriously Injured, Are Rescued By Fire Brigade—Gust of Wind the Cause of the Catastrophe

(Canadian Press) Dusseldorf, Rhenish, Prussia, May 16—After a career of six weeks the Deutsch-Luft, latest of the models of Count Zeppelin's inflated dirigible balloons stranded today on the roof of its shed, a total wreck. The finish of the airship was less spectacular than that of its predecessors, but more complete. Fortunately, the crew and passengers escaped injury.

The accident occurred as the Deutsch-Luft was being released for a passenger trip. Eight passengers—four men and four women—had seated themselves comfortably in the cabin, the crew were at their posts and 200 men on the ground clung to the guide ropes, as the powerful craft slowly emerged from her berth and, under pressure of more than half million cubic feet of gas, struggled to be free.

Just as the airship cleared the shed a violent gust of wind drove her back against the entrance. At the impact, several of the balloons burst and the released gas destroyed her equilibrium. The army of men at the guide ropes clung on desperately, but were powerless against the wind and another gust lifted the airship bodily and dropped it upon the roof of the shed, back broken and hull left dangling over one edge.

In this position the crew and passengers, badly shaken but not seriously, were left helpless until a fire brigade hurriedly summoned to the scene ran their ladders to the top of the balloon shed and pulled the marooned ones out of the wreck.

Today was the sixth serious accident which has befallen the Zeppelin dirigibles. All have come as a result of short-circuits in their engines.

JUSTICE RIDDELL ON MARRIAGE LEGISLATION

Toronto, May 16—(Canadian Press)—"No church has the right to say that a marriage celebrated according to the law is invalid. Do not fear that the civil law of this country will be upset for no church, Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist or the Church of Rome has a right to change the civil law concerning the validity of marriage. If a civil court in Quebec should say that a marriage ceremony is invalid it is not because it is not a marriage, but because the legislature is so."

"With incisive emphasis Justice Riddell made these statements before a large gathering of young men and women at a marriage party given by the St. John's Presbyterian church last night.

Several Homesteads Had Been Burned At Time of Report Sent Here

Fifty Mile Gale Sending Flames on Destructive Path Over Dry Country—Hartland Men Go To Aid of Neighbors, Though There is Alarm For Their Own Town

With several homesteads already swept away, and a terrific wind blowing at the rate of fifty miles an hour, the village of Peel, four miles distant from Hartland, is reported in the grip of a disastrous fire, and grave fears are entertained for the safety of the town of Hartland also.

A telephone message to the Times-Star from the latter place at 10 o'clock, said that the people there were considerably alarmed, and that many of the men had gone to the neighboring village to aid in the work of preserving from total destruction the homes of the unfortunate people.

The message said that the fire had started from the premises of J. C. Cory, about noon, and had rapidly spread, until the eager flames had devoured adjacent farm houses owned by Archibald Hatfield, Earl Campbell, Wm. Macaulay and others. The report also said that it was rumored in Hartland that the house of G. T. P. Officer Pearson had caught.

The high wind which has been prevalent throughout the morning raged more fiercely at noon, and wafted the burning sparks over miles of the surrounding country, over vast areas of dry land, which provided wind fuel, and here it was that the fire-fighters had great difficulty in stamping out the flames.

Batches of dried fens were sited in many sections at once, and the fifty-mile-an-hour gale proved fearfully effective in sweeping the blaze onward, and the path of destruction.

MAINE MATTER IS REFERRED TO ROME

Question of Church Property and Interdiction of Six Catholics By Bishop

(Canadian Press) Boston, May 16—A long standing controversy over church property and certain rights claimed by French-Canadian Catholics, between them and Rev. Louis Rielly, Bishop of Portland, has been referred to Rome by friends of the six prominent French-Canadian Catholics who have sought their aid in attempting to have the legislature take all the church property out of the hands of that prelate.

The petition to the legislature was signed by more than 100 Catholics, and was rejected by that body. The bishop ordered the interdiction. A committee of twenty representing the malcontents, has adopted the following:

"We wish to remind all the French-American citizens of this state that the most elementary principles of honor and loyalty make it incumbent on us all to stand by these officers who have fought our battles and under the circumstances we deem it the most practical way for every French-American citizen, club or organization in this state to send a full delegation to the Biddford convention on June 1, and 8 days they will find here in Biddford brothers who cannot be intimidated in their pursuit of the common welfare by the threats of a weakened and desperate tyrant."

FIVE MONTHS JAIL FOR FIGHTING SAILOR

Member of Crew of the W. E. and W. L. Tuck Made a Serious Trouble Aboard

It is not definitely known whether it was the quantity or quality of liquor in the stomach of the sailor, Christian Bonnell, unduly, which put him in fighting humor yesterday, but it was sufficient to cause a sentence of five months to be imposed upon him by Judge Ritchie this morning, with an option of a $48 fine.

The sailor was a member of the crew of the schooner W. E. and W. L. Tuck, and when he went aboard of the vessel last evening, he made things unpleasant in the fore-cabin, striking another of the crew, Charles McCourt, and breaking a table, stove-pipe, and some dishes, as well as threatening to kill Capt. F. T. Haley with a knife.

Sergeant Baxter was called in, and the sailor's antagonistic mood soon faded away. Hans Johnson was fined $4 for drunkenness, while on the same charge Thomas Hurley, clad in the redcoat and blue trousers of an infantryman, was remanded.

C. P. R. WILL NOT HELP IN NEW BRIDGE PROJECT

Local Government and Street Railway Men Confer This Afternoon—Word Received From Mr. McNicoll of C. P. R.

A meeting is being held this afternoon between representatives of the provincial government and the president and manager of the St. John Railway Co., to consider the matter of building a new bridge across the St. John river at the falls, in place of the suspension bridge, which is declared inadequate for the traffic and is generally considered to be weak.

The C. P. R. will not contribute to the cost of a new structure which would provide accommodation for the two railways as well as general traffic, but Mr. McNicoll, vice-president and general manager of the C. P. R., has notified the government that they will not have anything to do with the project as they consider the present Cantlebridge sufficient for their traffic for some time to come.

BRILLIANT SCENE AT THE UNVEILING

TRESPASSERS ON PROPERTY OF RAILWAY

Commission Secretary Writes Attorney-Generals of Provinces That Magistrates Are too Lenient With Offenders

(Canadian Press) Ottawa, May 16—A note of warning in connection with trespassing on railway company's private rights of way, is sounded in a letter sent out by A. D. Cartwright, secretary of the Railway Commission to the attorney-generals of all the Canadian provinces.

"During the year ending March 31, 1911, one hundred and forty persons were killed and sixty-nine were injured while trespassing on railway property. The commission have been doing their utmost to prevent this unnecessary killing, but when they prosecute, many magistrates look upon the matter as so trivial that they find most difficult to obtain convictions.

"Unless the offenders are punished it will be impossible to lessen this death rate. It is regarded by this board as highly important that magistrates should appreciate the importance of this matter, not only as it affects the companies themselves but also from the public point of view."

SHE GOT WHAT SHE WANTED

This Woman Had to Insist Strongly, but Paid for It

Chicago, Ill. I suffered from a female trouble, and I went to the doctor, but he gave me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but the doctor did not want to let me have it, so I went to the drug store and bought it myself. I got it, and I am glad I did, for it has cured me. I know of so many cases where women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can say to every suffering woman that this medicine does not hurt her, there is nothing that will. —Mrs. JANETTE, 2908 Arch St., Chicago, Ill.
This is the age of auto-education, and women who want a cure should insist upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound just as this woman did, and not accept something else on which the druggist can make a little more profit. Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of these distressing ailments peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

GROWTH OF RUBBER TRADE

(Montreal Gazette)
The Census of Production returns for the United Kingdom for the 1907-1908 period furnish some interesting facts as to the development of the rubber trade, which is so rapidly increasing its importance in the business of the country. Although 1910 was distinctly the year of the rubber boom, evidence of the forward step in the development of the trade was evident three years earlier, when the gross output of the Indian rubber factories reached, according to the Census of Production returns, a total of $8,908,000. The number of persons employed in the trade that year, 1907, was 26,069. How rapidly the development has proceeded since 1901 may be judged from the following figures of the value of raw rubber imports into the United Kingdom:
1907..... $4,824,000
1908..... $7,700,000
1909..... 14,138,254
1910..... 26,066,859
That is, in each of the last three years the value of the imports has come close to doubling the value of imports of the preceding year and between 1907 and 1910 the increase is about 450 per cent. The Census of Production returns of 1907-1908 are of value in indicating clearly the lines along which the development has been proceeding. In Great Britain the demand for rubber for use in the manufacture of automobiles has been steady growth, and the manufacture of rubber tires had become by the year of the returns quoted so profitable an addition to the country's industries that it accounted for the most profitable of the trades reported on in Part 8 of the tables of results. Tires for motor cars, for carriages, cycles and motor vehicles totalled only a little less than a third of the gross output of the year, namely $2,280,000 in pneumatic and $2,613,000 in solid tires, a total of $2,773,000 out of a gross output of $8,908,000. The growth of the trade in other directions is also apparent. Waterproof piece goods, garments, etc., represented a value of $1,611,000; elastic thread and cord, $246,000; sports requisites and toys, $247,000; hose, $298,000; while many other branches were accounted for by the rest of the output. The facts given in these returns show very clearly when taken side by side with the increase of imports from $4,824,000 in 1907 to $29,096,988 in 1910 and with allowance made for the increase in value of the raw material the remarkable development that may be expected in the next census returns. The trade in the United Kingdom has been greatly stimulated by the automobile demands from other countries, particularly in the United States, and this demand is expected to increase considerably with the steady expansion of the motor car industry. Production is increasing rapidly at the sources of supply. The Federated Malay States, which sent out 1,146,269 pounds of rubber in the first three months of 1909, sent out in the same period of 1910 2,960,284 pounds and in the first quarter of the present year 4,736,238 pounds. The figures quoted afford some reason for the speculative excitement of the "rubber boom" of the last few years.

I got it early, got it hard, My peace of mind is greatly marred, All roads to happiness seem barred, I have that tired spring feeling.
When skies are blue and days are fair I simply want to roll on air, And feel no jolting anywhere, I have that tired spring feeling.
When skies are gray and sunlight hid, I do not feel as once I did, I want to walk, I want to skip, I have that tired spring feeling.
I've lost my calm, my equipoise, At oddest times of weep or joy, I want to blow up with a noise, I have that tired spring feeling.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A YOUNG MAN, previously much respected and liked in his community, was convicted of forging a check.
Said the young man's former friend: "I'm not sure that I should have been so kind to him. He was deceived in him. And yet no wonder we were. Look at the care he took of his mother, and how nice he was to his sisters and how courteous to old people and generous to anyone in trouble. And to think, it was all hypocrisy, and that he was like this underneath. Well, it shows you never can tell."

A young woman of excellent standing and good family made a fatal mistake because she loved "not wisely, but too well."
Among her acquaintances the conversation ran like this: "Would you ever have thought it about Elizabeth?"
"No, she's the last person I would ever have believed the of."
"She had such ideas about things and thought so much of people who were really good. It just shows that often times the people who pretend to be so good are much more than other people."
"I believe you. I always mistrusted Elizabeth, anyway."
So the two communities decided that they had been greatly mistaken in seeing good traits in the young man and in Elizabeth, and sadly came to the conclusion that human-kind are much more ungenerous than we realize.
That is, some same to the conclusion sadly, but more with the smirking, smug machineworked, but none the less, keenly felt the wrong which wrong men and women discover faults in those they had feared were better than they.

Remember that when you would decide that you were mistaken in thinking anyone good because he commits some one unwarlike or unparadigmatic. Little attention is paid to the slight weakness of the heart, it is the simple reason that one thinks it all right itself, but there is where the mistake is made. It is only when a violent shock comes that the weakness of the heart becomes apparent.

Could Not Walk Ten Yards Without Resting

WEAK HEART WAS THE CAUSE
Mrs. Robinson Collins, Rogersville, N.B., writes: "I am enjoying the best of health after having used your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was troubled with a weak heart and I was afraid to draw a long breath for fear it would cause me to faint. I could not walk ten yards without resting myself. I cannot speak too highly of your Heart and Nerve Pills, for they are the greatest pill I have ever used and I can recommend them to all sufferers."
Thousands of people go about their daily work on the verge of death and yet do not know it.

THREE FIRES

Yesterday was the quietest day for some time with the members of the fire department, particularly the north and west departments. About 4:30 o'clock the roof of Wm. Crockett's house, Main street, caught fire and the blaze spread to the roof of Miss Carlin's house adjoining. About 4:00 damage was done but it is covered by insurance.
Before this fire had been extinguished, a second alarm was sounded from box 123, for a slight fire in a blacksmith shop owned by the street railway company in the rear of the car sheds.
About 10 o'clock last night an alarm from box 8 was rung for a fire in a wood shed owned by Harris Gilbert in Mill street. It is believed that this fire was started by a couple of boys.
UNKNIND KINDNESS
The servants were abed, and the doctor answered the bell himself. A colored man stood on the steps holding a large package. "Is Miss Matilda, the cook, at home, sah?" asked the man.
"Yes, but she has retired," returned the doctor.
"Can I leeb dis for her, sah?" "Certainly," said the doctor.
He took the bundle from which flowers and books were protruding, and after bidding the man good night, carefully carried it to the kitchen, where he deposited it and all in a pan of water.
The doctor thought nothing more of the matter until he heard Matilda's angry voice raised in conversation with the maid.
"Ef I had de pusion heah," cried the cook, "dat put mah new spring lat in dis er dishpan, I'd scold 'im for sho!"

SET-BACK FOR SOCIALISTS

People of Australia Decline to Let Government Take Sweeping Powers Sought

(Toronto Mail and Empire)
The results of the recent referendum in Australia are deeply interesting to all observers of the working and tendencies of democracy. After that vote the adverse critics of the referendum idea will be less ready to deny that the people will take the trouble to go to the polls to settle questions referred to them.
As the commonwealth has a population of about 4,500,000 and as about 1,130,000 votes were cast on each of the questions, it cannot be said that the people neglected their civic duty in this case. Noteworthy also was the decided preponderance of Conservative opinion, as signified by the voting.
The Socialist-Labor government threw the weight of its influence on the side of the proposed amendments to the constitution, but the total vote against these amendments was greater than that in their favor. One amendment was to give the federal government power over all matters when an emergency exists, the purpose being to facilitate the carrying out of national schemes of socialism. The other amendment was to enable the federal government to acquire any business that parliament might declare to be monopolistic in its nature.
But the people said nay. The government found that it had miscalculated the country was not prepared to put such broad socializing powers in the constitution. The vote is also a victory for the existing tendency under federal systems to oppose the centralization of authority and keep as much as possible in the hands of the component states or provinces.

THE FIRST MARCH OUT

A splendid showing was made last night by the 62nd regiment in their first turnout of the season. Lieut. Col. McAvity, in command, numbering 400 strong, headed by the drum and bugle corps, the regiment marched about the principal streets, while many people watched the parade with interest.
On their return to the shed the men were addressed by Lieut. Col. McAvity, who, after giving the orders for the week, mentioned some of the proposed trip to Boston and requested a full attendance at all the coming drills. He said that all the men were not up to their full strength and in this respect he again reminded the men all recruits would have to be called before Monday evening next.

Another Ferry Hitch

Although the ferry superintendent and the government inspectors reported that the steamer Newport was satisfactory in every way for the service here, the common council yesterday afternoon decided not to purchase the boat. As an expenditure of money was made to purchase the boat, it was necessary. There were fourteen aldermen present and eleven voted for the purchase of the boat. The boat would cost $33,000 landed here. It is probable that another meeting will be held in an effort will be made to get the required two-thirds vote.
Those who voted for the purchase were: Ald. J. B. Jones, Smith, Wigmore, MacLeod, Elkin, Codner, Wilson, Hayes, Kierstead, C. T. Jones and Buchanan against Ald. Christie, Green and Elliott.

THE SANITARIUM

The tuberculosis commission met at River Glade yesterday to look over the sanitarium with a view of making some improvements. Architect Brodie will prepare plans which will be submitted to the commission at a later date. Mrs. J. A. Hon, C. W. Robinson and Dr. McAvity will leave for New England next week to study the mode of running such institutions.

COMMANDMENTS IN TABLOID FORM

Tendency of Time is for Brevity Say Abbreviators—No Change of Spirit

This is the way the ten commandments will read if the suggestion made by the Rev. George B. Williams Douglas is acted upon favorably by the Episcopal church:

1. God spoke these words and said: I am the Lord thy God, thou shalt have no other gods but me.
2. Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image to worship it and serve it.
3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.
4. Remember that thou shalt keep holy the sabbath day. Six days shalt thou labor.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother.
6. Thou shalt do no murder.
7. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
8. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
9. Thou shalt not steal.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbors goods.

The suggestion of the Rev. George B. Williams Douglas, Canon of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, that the ten commandments be shortened, has caused considerable discussion among the clergymen of various denominations in New York. Canon Douglas suggested the change at the annual congress of the Episcopal church held in Washington last week.

"Let us have the courage," said Dr. Douglas, "to restore to our prayer book that form of the Ten Commandments which scholars are pretty well agreed was their original form. Let us follow the example of the Roman and the Anglican churches and drop the judicial clauses."

"The discussion is essentially literary, having to do solely with the form which the Ten Commandments shall be presented," said Bishop Greer. "There seems to be some danger," he continued, "that persons will make the mistake of supposing that it is intended to alter the spirit of the commandments. The doctrine in the minds of worshippers often stands as a moral code, the moral code. I fear the impression will be spread that the church intends to alter the moral code."

"There is no intention of altering the spirit of the Ten Commandments. The only change suggested is the shortening of several commandments to their original form by dropping certain additions which have crept into our English prayer book since it was compiled. If any such change is made it would take at least five years to accomplish it."

Good Enough as They Are

"I would oppose any change in the commandments," said the Rev. Isaac M. Halldeman, pastor of the first Baptist church. "They are written out of thought, literature and theology and any simplification or modification might lead to a questioning of the truth of them all. Remember the Bible, says: 'And if any man shall take away from the word of the book of this prophecy, God shall add unto him his part of the book of life and out of the book of life and out of the things which are written in this book. For 40 years I have studied the Bible, reading the old version and the new, Hebrew, Greek and Latin. We don't use the revised but the authorized version in our church. I see no superfluous words in the Ten Commandments being in use. The King James version is a real classic, rich and genuine, and it stands deep in people's minds. It leaves no question as to the meaning which is the principal thing."

The Rev. Percy S. Grant of the Church of the Ascension was present at the Washington conference when Canon Douglas made the suggested change and was one of those who favored it. "There is a present day demand for brevity in everything," said Mr. Grant, "and a shortening of the church service would be in keeping with the times. My prayer book is stationary and unchangeable, while the present trend of things is toward motion and democracy."

"We're not so much interested in the verbiage of the Ten Commandments, but in the truth set forth," said the Rev. Rufus P. Johnson of Washington's first Baptist church. "As they do not enter into our service, the proposed change wouldn't disturb us."

Strengthening the Third

While the Lutheran church uses a shorter version of the catalogue than any other, it is not so brief as that suggested by Canon Douglas. The Commandments as they appear in the 29th chapter of Exodus are the ones found in Luther's explanation. One change pointed out was that the commandment, which Canon Douglas would have read, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain," while the Lutherans add, "Thou shalt not swear by the Lord's name, thy God, in vain."

"I see no reason for the change," said the Rev. Dr. Julius B. Remondouard, pastor of the St. James Lutheran church. "No official action from the church has given us a shorter catalogue, but we accept it as found in the Book of Exodus. Our church is conservative and would countenance no change not in harmony with the universal church. Personally, I believe that a commandment like the third makes stronger appeal when another clause like 'The Lord will not hold him guiltless,' etc., is added. The Ten Commandments were intended as the basis for instructing youth and the so-called superfluous words help in the exposition."

"I would welcome a briefer form of the Ten Commandments if it would help the people to keep them," said the Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reamer of the Grace Methodist church. "Personally, I don't believe the way they are written makes any difference. The mere wording of anything is not what makes it valuable; it is the heart of the message that we must look for. I don't hold the Ten Commandments as dogmatic declarations, but as instructions which help us on the way to a successful life."

FRUITLESS LESSONS. (Munsey's)

John C. Bell, district attorney of Philadelphia, and Justice John P. Egan, of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, were schoolmates, and the district attorney is inconsiderate enough to tell this tale out of school about the justice:

"John," he says, "was a stubborn youth, makes stronger appeal when another clause like 'The Lord will not hold him guiltless,' etc., is added. The Ten Commandments were intended as the basis for instructing youth and the so-called superfluous words help in the exposition."

"I would welcome a briefer form of the Ten Commandments if it would help the people to keep them," said the Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reamer of the Grace Methodist church. "Personally, I don't believe the way they are written makes any difference. The mere wording of anything is not what makes it valuable; it is the heart of the message that we must look for. I don't hold the Ten Commandments as dogmatic declarations, but as instructions which help us on the way to a successful life."

The maximum length of life of the pine tree is said to be 700 years; that of the silver fir 425 years; the larch lives 275 years, the red beech 245; the aspen 210; the birch 200; the ash 170; the alder 145; the elm 120. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. Of the holly it is said that there is, near Aachenburg, Ger., a specimen 410 years old.

WARREN'S MIDDLE AGE?

When he was about seventeen, signed by the bright binding and the name of the author, I decided to read Mr. Howells' current novel. Was he not a family friend of mine, a guide, however, prominent his qualities as a philosopher and friend. So singularly ignorant was he of terms that he introduced his heroine as "a young girl of twenty"—a laughable error, since even I knew that a young girl's age was from six to sixteen, after which young ladyhood began, to develop about twenty into middle life, and soon thereafter, with the first whitening of hairs about the temples, one was undeniably old. Mr. Howells' novel thus pre-empted my first definite excursion into senility.

No Need to "Knock Canada" Says Spokane Paper—A High Complainant Paid

Spokane, Wash., May 16.—Commenting apparently on remarks by Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway company, at a luncheon in the hall of the Domes here, when it was announced by the former that part of the programme of the Western Development League, recently organized at Helena, Mont., will be an effort to divert the stream of emigration pouring into the Dominion of Canada from the United States and elsewhere to the Pacific slope country, the Spokane Chronicle says:

"It is not necessary to 'knock' Canada to secure settlers for the great states of the northwest. Plenty of good land and abundance of fine opportunities can be found on both sides of the boundary; and there are plenty of people in the crowded districts of the Atlantic coast and in Europe who would make first-class homeseekers if they only knew what they are missing by not coming to the Northwest."

"Don't knock Canada. It is a grand land, and it is occupied by people who make the best kind of neighbors the United States or any other nation need desire. But go after the people who do not know the facts about the great northwest—all the northwest on both sides of the line—and tell them of the opportunities that await them in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana. Do that work thoroughly and the results will be good enough for any state."

It should be mentioned that Nelson W. Durban, former editor-in-chief of the Spokane Spokesman-Review, also a speaker, paid a high compliment to the several governments, the railroads and commercial organizations of Canada on the methods pursued to encourage prospective homeseekers to settle and develop the country districts of the Dominion. Referring especially to what is being accomplished in the western provinces, he said the equal of that work has never been seen elsewhere on this continent or in the civilized world.

Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway company, at a luncheon in the hall of the Domes here, when it was announced by the former that part of the programme of the Western Development League, recently organized at Helena, Mont., will be an effort to divert the stream of emigration pouring into the Dominion of Canada from the United States and elsewhere to the Pacific slope country, the Spokane Chronicle says:

"It is not necessary to 'knock' Canada to secure settlers for the great states of the northwest. Plenty of good land and abundance of fine opportunities can be found on both sides of the boundary; and there are plenty of people in the crowded districts of the Atlantic coast and in Europe who would make first-class homeseekers if they only knew what they are missing by not coming to the Northwest."

"Don't knock Canada. It is a grand land, and it is occupied by people who make the best kind of neighbors the United States or any other nation need desire. But go after the people who do not know the facts about the great northwest—all the northwest on both sides of the line—and tell them of the opportunities that await them in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Montana. Do that work thoroughly and the results will be good enough for any state."

It should be mentioned that Nelson W. Durban, former editor-in-chief of the Spokane Spokesman-Review, also a speaker, paid a high compliment to the several governments, the railroads and commercial organizations of Canada on the methods pursued to encourage prospective homeseekers to settle and develop the country districts of the Dominion. Referring especially to what is being accomplished in the western provinces, he said the equal of that work has never been seen elsewhere on this continent or in the civilized world.

WARREN'S MIDDLE AGE?

When he was about seventeen, signed by the bright binding and the name of the author, I decided to read Mr. Howells' current novel. Was he not a family friend of mine, a guide, however, prominent his qualities as a philosopher and friend. So singularly ignorant was he of terms that he introduced his heroine as "a young girl of twenty"—a laughable error, since even I knew that a young girl's age was from six to sixteen, after which young ladyhood began, to develop about twenty into middle life, and soon thereafter, with the first whitening of hairs about the temples, one was undeniably old. Mr. Howells' novel thus pre-empted my first definite excursion into senility.

THE SECRET

All true success is the outcome of real personal interest and genuine endeavor. You may be designing a battleship or you may be thinking out a bright idea for a 10 cent toy, controlling a commissariat or puzzling and experimenting with fruit and spices in order to perfect a new recipe for the home table, but the real road to success is just the same in one case as in each of the others. It is not what you are doing, but how you are doing your work that really counts.

REPORT ALL OFFENDERS A fine of $2 was imposed on Wm. Hayes and David O'Keefe this morning in the police court for driving too fast across Charlotte street from King Square. Sgt. Hastings told of seeing their horses going at a rate which made it difficult for pedestrians to get out of danger. His Honor said that the police should report all drivers, no matter what their business was, who drove fast around corners.

ADVICE FROM NORTH SHORE The Chatham World, gives the following timely advice on how to guard summer cottages—The summer camps and cottages in the vicinity of St. John have all been broken into and robbed since they were closed for the winter, and in some of these various articles that could not be carried away were destroyed. The owners should buy some old muskets, load them with slugs, and plant them so that the forcing of a door or window would discharge them in the right direction. Only one or two raids on such cottages would be attempted.

DISPUTE OVER ROLL-OFF The Sporting Editor of the Evening Times:

Since the roll off in Commercial League between T. McAvity and I. C. R. teams as the rules of this league call for four points to each game, the I. C. R. team claim that the committee can not change this rule to read each game to call for one point only, in last night's game the I. C. R. team won two out of the three strings rolled, they therefore claim that McAvity did not win and will not play any more under present conditions. Yours truly CHRIS. NICHOLS, Capt. I. C. Bowling Team, St. John, May 16.

BEAUTIFYING THE MARKET SQUARE: WORK IS BEGUN

Likely Comfort Station Will Be Established in Connection With The Project

City workmen commenced this morning to break ground on the Market Square, preparatory to putting a concrete coping around that portion of it which has been set aside for the purposes of the Arboriculture Society. As soon as the work is completed the space will be filled in with earth and grass sown and trees planted. Alderman Jones, who on a number of occasions has advocated the establishment of comfort stations with sanitary conveniences, and who at a recent meeting of the board of works suggested that such a station be established in connection with the new work on Market Square, called on the engineer this morning, on hearing that the work was underway and asked that plans for such a station be prepared, so that it could be considered at the next meeting of the board. As a majority of the aldermen seem to favor the scheme it is probable that arrangements will be made.

BOYS AND JUNKMAN ARE IN THIS CASE

Theft by Lads Leads to Reports by Police Against Samuel Lavigne

Three young fellows, fourteen years of age—John Stanley, Guy McIntyre, and Albert Bennett—were before the juvenile court this morning on a charge of theft, and after having admitted their guilt, were remanded until Thursday afternoon. They were charged with having stolen three hens belonging to David Reid, Prince William street, one hen belonging to Frederick Scott, Duke street, and a rubber boot from Weatherhead's stable in Union street. Deputy Chief Jenkins, who arrested them, also reported a junkman, Samuel Lavigne, for doing a junk business without a license, for buying stolen goods, and for buying junk from minors. Lavigne, who is well up in years, was sent into jail this morning.

It was said in court that the rubber boot had been stolen by Lavigne for ten cents, and each of the boys had shared in the proceeds of the sale. The hens had not been sold, but will be returned to their rightful owners.

The mother of one of the lads said that the cause of much of the trouble by young fellows about the city was due to the fact that men would buy from them what they had taken wrongfully, and thus encourage them.

His Honor seemed to agree in a measure with this statement, as he said there would have to be an example made of some of them. If there were none to buy the stolen property, there would be fewer thieves, he said.

SUMMER TIME TABLE OF THE INTERCOLONIAL

Few Changes From Last Year—Morning Express Will Leave Later

The summer time table of the Intercolonial Railway will go into effect on June 4, which is an earlier date than usual. There are few changes from the schedule of last year, which proved thoroughly satisfactory and convenient to the travelling public.

The only important departure from the schedule of last summer is that the morning express, No. 2, will not leave until 12:20, and in order to allow a connection with the direct boats from Boston of the Eastern S. S. Co. The morning suburban for Hamilton, No. 182, which proved such a convenience last season, will leave at 9 o'clock. No. 4, the "Boston Express," will leave for Point du Clene at 11:30, and as usual carry the through sleeper to be attached to the through Ocean Limited for Montreal, at Moncton, thereby giving St. John passengers the opportunity for a comfortable journey to the metropolis via the only "All Canadian Route," and a daylight view of the scenic beauties of the famed Matapedia Valley.

No. 26, locally and erroneously spoken of as the "P. O. R.," will leave as usual at 12:40, but at Moncton will be merged into No. 200, the Ocean Limited for Halifax.

No. 124, in connection with the Morning Express, will leave as usual at 6:30 p.m., and the time of the night express to Halifax will be identical with the express from Quebec and Montreal, will arrive at 10:40. No. 3, the "Boston Express," is due at 12:30 p.m., carrying the through sleeper from the Ocean Limited from Montreal.
