WAGONS—Double and single, a splendid lot—also carts, etc. for sale at Mr. Alex. Robinson's Factory, St. John St., Chatham.

THE POST OFFICE STEP—Mr. Snowball has been informed by the Department of Public Works, that his request for a new step, in place of the worn-out one at the Chatham Post Office, will be complied with.

THE FRESHET is rising under the prevailing rain and a serious break in the Southwest boom is probably prevented only by a fortunate jam at the head of the boom. Some 400,000 logs came out of a break there on Tuesday and the renewed rain cannot fail to cause a heavy freshet.

SYDNEY MEETING—The meeting of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada, met in St. James Church, Chatham, on Tuesday, the 29th May. The Rev. J. A. Murray and E. Wallace Watts are attending the meeting.

IMPORTANT—Accounts were sent a fortnight ago from this office—some directly and others through the hands of a collector—to a portion of our subscribers and others in Chatham and vicinity. As the response has not been satisfactory, notice is now given that the several amounts, if not paid or arranged before Saturday evening, will on Monday next be collected with costs and interest.

"The Friend of the Tempted." Sir.—In your issue of the 18th inst. I observed a laudable comment of yours bearing indirectly on a momentous subject. The contributor to whose indignation the comment was made manifests that vitality which alone is peculiar to the one whose consummate ignorance of the South Act leads him to maliciously attack a modest person whose conduct would be a fitting paragon of example for him or his followers.

DROWNED—In attempting to cross the river in a canoe from the Belleville wharf to Douglastown, on Tuesday afternoon, Michael Fallon, son of Mr. Patrick Fallon, was drowned. It appears from what his father tells us that his head was injured by the ill usage of some companions on Saturday night and it is supposed that in crossing the river he was seized with dizziness and thereby fell out of the canoe. The young man's father is quite well known as the night-watchman at Mr. Morrison's Mill and much sympathy is felt for the family over the sad affair.

A NEW CANDIDATE—W. A. Parkie, Esq., publishes his name as a candidate for election to the local legislature. Mr. Parkie is an entirely new man in the political field, and a very large number of electors would doubtless, like to know what his principles are and his views on the various subjects of the Government. At one time it was said he intended to come out in opposition to the policy of the Government; now however he is an "independent." Every new candidate ought to declare one way or another. If a man will not tell which side he is on before an election, he cannot be expected to decide honestly afterwards.

THE POLITICAL PROGRESS in the Miramichi County—as in St. John—are of the most cheering description. The Liberal party are united on Mr. Haddow, who has served his County faithfully, while the Conservatives are in a completely demoralized condition. There are several aspirants among the latter party, the names of Messrs. Robert Moffat, John McAllister and Archibald Sinclair being mentioned as probable candidates. Their prospects are not of the brightest kind.

For the Local Legislature, Messrs. Kenny and Barberie will probably form a ticket. Mr. Kenny, at the last session of the House, was friendly to the Government, but he does not view the present Government, as re-constructed, with much favor.—Globe.

THE HARBOR had some bamboo drift in it one day last week and it being ascertained that it came from the S. S. Horden, Harbor Master Johnson preferred a charge against the Master of that vessel before Police Magistrate Blair, Mr. Robt. Murray appearing for the complainant and Mr. R. Adams for the defence. The evidence showed that the bamboo was placed on the shore several feet out of the water, by the Captain's order, and that he had set a good deal of it afloat. It also appeared to be doubtful whether due care that none of the bamboo should get into the river was observed. It was finally agreed that the charge should be dropped, the captain paying costs and agreeing to remove the bamboo from the river. Harbor Master Johnson's promptness in dealing with this matter is very commendable and a great improvement on the policy of ten years ago, when whole cargoes and slabs wharves were allowed to drift from certain milling establishments, without hindrance.

ELECTORS' MEETING! A meeting of electors will be held in Masonic Hall, Chatham, on Monday evening next, for the purpose of giving the several Candidates for the representation of the County of Northumberland, in the House of Assembly, an opportunity to discuss the questions affecting the pending elections for that body.

Candidates only will be admitted. Candidates only, viz., such as shall have published their election cards—will be expected to address the meeting.

The Chair will be taken at half past eight. Although the meeting is called under the auspices of the supporters of Messrs. Hutchison, McAllister, Troy and Burchill—opponents of the Local Government—the other Candidates, who are hereby invited to present and give their political views, will have equal privileges with the others and the meeting will be conducted with every regard to a fair hearing all round.

By order of the Committee, D. T. JOHNSON, Jr., Sec'y.

The S. S. Horden. The Horden, Capt. Fredk. Davies, now at this port loading at Loggie's Mill wharf, is commanded by Messrs. Gay, Ewan & Co., the first steamship that ever came to Chatham for a deal cargo. Capt. Davies deserves great credit for the manner in which he worked his vessel to the port ahead of other steamers which started before him, some of which do not promise to reach here until after the Horden has been loaded and cleared. In fighting the ice the Horden received some damage but it is not of a very serious character, repairs being in fair progress and promising completion in a day or two.

Capt. Davies is a very young-looking man, He has, however, won more than ordinary distinction for bravery. He was a Lieutenant in the British Navy at the time of the War in Afghanistan, and was a member of a surveying party of about forty who were seeking a route for the Army, when they were surprised by Afghans. It was a desperate affair, as Capt. Davies' subalterns were the marks of a pistol shot in one hand shot. The Afghans were routed but Capt. Davies had to be sent to hospital, and for this and other brave services, was afterwards rewarded by the Victoria Cross and placed in the Naval Reserve. He certainly looks none the worse for his experiences and is a fine specimen of the English officer. His cabin shows evidence of his fine taste as a decorative artist. He gave a supper on Monday night to a number of gentlemen, the steamer's saloon being occupied quite fully by the guests. The affair was very enjoyable throughout, and the general feeling was creditable to the ship's captain. The usual loyal and other toasts, brought out the several guests in speeches, some of which were excellent and all conveyed in good taste and spirit. Messrs. J. B. Snowball, Capt. Davies, Hon. M. Adams, W. A. Hickson, Benn, J. L. Stewart, D. G. Smith, R. B. Adams, R. Call, G. A. Blair and Dr. Benson, each delivered speeches—some of them being called up two or three times by toasts rendering that course necessary. The party separated at half past twelve with a feeling of the highest appreciation of Capt. Davies as a host.

As they went away several rocks were sent up from the ship. If all the steamers which come to the port are commanded by such genial and worthy gentlemen as Capt. Davies, the prejudice existing against such tonnage cannot be so deep as it is now. It is to be hoped that some of our people will not be long in its appearing.

"The Friend of the Tempted." Sir.—In your issue of the 18th inst. I observed a laudable comment of yours bearing indirectly on a momentous subject. The contributor to whose indignation the comment was made manifests that vitality which alone is peculiar to the one whose consummate ignorance of the South Act leads him to maliciously attack a modest person whose conduct would be a fitting paragon of example for him or his followers.

Derby, in the past, has always acted her part in the work of reform, but the inferior one which your remarks lead me to draw from his letter, is that she is today in a deplorable condition, and among her resident inhabitants are those, who are so infamously and notoriously bad, that she is fast sinking into the sloughs of wretchedness, drunkenness, misery and woe.

To your many readers, permit me to state, that Derby is still in the ascendancy, and as her population increases so does her traffic. Her people are pre-eminently industrious, and she is today enjoying that peace and prosperity which are only bestowed upon a Christian land.

In conclusion I would challenge "The Friend of the Tempted" to assume the responsibility of the publication of his letter, and if his remarks present Derby in her true colours, then the writer will retract the statement herein contained, viz., his being ungenerously, impatient and effeminate.

Yours, etc. DENBY, May 24th, 1882.

Ingersoll's Mistake of Moses. SYNOPSIS OF LECTURE BY REV. E. W. WATTS, B. A.

Last Wednesday evening, (May 24th) the Rev. E. Wallace Watts delivered a lecture on the "Mistakes of Ingersoll, on the Mistakes of Moses" to a pretty good audience, in the Hall of St. Andrew's Church. The chair was occupied by Daniel Ferguson Esq. The following is a new epitome of the lecture. The lecturer commenced by defining a Free Thinker, as one who does not believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ, and who does not believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ, and who does not believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ.

Mr. Hutchison says it is true that he is willing to join hands with Mr. Adams or any other representative in promoting the interests of the County, but that he is opposed to the present Local Government. As a matter of fact he says that he and Mr. Adams had met and discussed the proposition of the Legislature, and he has neither made nor has he contemplated making the offer which the Advocate credits to "rumor."

A New Local Deal. The St. John Globe says—"After a great many failures the gentlemen who are manipulating the Local Government have formed a ticket, which, it would seem, they intend to run in connection with the Conservative ticket, for the Dominion. The gentlemen they have selected have had very little to say about the matter; they have been moved about as pawns on the chess board. The ticket now put in circulation, is a matter of fact, and the names of four gentlemen are given as having been approached, but hopelessly. Mr. Willis, during several late sessions, strongly opposed the Local Government, and it is as easy to him as putting on his slippers. Mr. Chesley has canvassed the County considerably against the Local Government, but, no doubt, he will get into line easily. The call will now get out to the Conservatives to vote the tickets; perhaps they will be found in an obedient mood, perhaps not."

Everybody who knows the record of Mr. Willis, and is opposed to the Local Government, will be glad to know that he is again where he belongs. His political course is one that would invite the contempt of a weathercock, while he must have about as much political sagacity as a political ass that useful indicator has on the course of the wind.

Sir Leonard Tilley and his Penitents. Whatever else may be said of Sir Leonard Tilley, nobody can deny that "he's a jolly good fellow" to his relatives as shown by the following from the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Globe:—

Sir Leonard Tilley, salary as minister, $7,000; Sir Leonard Tilley, salary as M. P. $1,000. 2. P. Toller, a brother-in-law, in 1881, paid $1,075, advanced over the $1,000. 3. Mr. Street, son-in-law, in 1881, paid $1,000 for the purpose, $2,600. 3. I. E. Hamilton, another brother-in-law, Census Commissioner, $977. 4. Mr. Bedford, brother-in-law in the Land Revenue Department, salary $1,754. 5. Mr. Street, son-in-law, in the office of the Privy Council, $1,100. 7. Mr. Parly, brother of son's wife, Shipping Master at St. John, $800, on an annual salary of $618. 9. W. L. C. Hamilton, son of the above, appearing in his place, salary $700. 10. Charles Girt, cousin, and Dr. Girt, cousin, officiating in the Provincial Hospital New Brunswick, 11. Mr. Carvell, a nephew, promoted to Senate in 1881, $1,000. 12. Sir Leonard's son, Sir Leonard, and family per annum, so far known, $18,495.

Sir Leonard cannot, also, be charged with being backward in promising a wide office for his political relatives. One of these is Mr. Targoon, now displaying great energy in assisting Mr. Burns in his attempt to get Hon. Mr. Argue elected to Parliament. Mr. Targoon states that Sir Leonard made him the offer of an important office if he would retire in favor of Mr. Burns, but as Mr. Targoon is not a family connection, he will not be a candidate for the office before he leaves the field.

she is still a slave to man. On the other hand, I assert, without fear of contradiction, that the Bible honors women. It has raised them from the marks of degradation by the other sex, given them their true rank and order in society, and secured them just and equal rights. It has taken woman from the foot of man, placed her at his side, raised her to his level, and made her his companion. In speaking of the flood, Ingersoll gives the impression that all the water that inundated the earth came out of the clouds in the form of rain. He makes merry over what he calls the "Bib story." He looks upon the priests as the champion bird-eaters of the world. The practice did not exist for hundreds of years after the event which he seeks to ridicule; and then the three priests were multiplied into a tribe. Mr. Ingersoll's references to the clergy disappoint me. He speaks of them as if they were a set of fools. In this he is guilty of the same offense which he condemns in others who can see nothing good in the services of the distinguished Infidel of history. Where are the monuments of this free thought? Has it nothing to show in its behalf, but the absurdities and the errors of those who have been its victims? And has its most distinguished advocate degenerated into a jesting scoffer? Prominent mention is made in the lecture of polygamy in connection with the Jews, and one would like to know, Ingersoll says, that the custom originated with them, and that it was a custom peculiar to them. Now, while the law of Moses did not directly forbid this, it is an address before this community, most abundant, and such as were intended to restrict it within very narrow limits; and as the spirit of the Hebrew religion advanced, the practice more and more came into disuse, until it finally died out; and in the glimpse of Jewish life which the New Testament gives us, there are no traces of it discernible. Polygamy is no part of the Jewish system, why does not the Jewish Rabbi teach it in these days? Real Judaism is not the Old Testament, but that which has come out of it, the result of its growth and the expansion of its inherent force. If any man, in an address before this community, should treat the writings of Voltaire as shabby as Mr. Ingersoll has treated the writings of Moses, he would be writing a bigot and a falsifier.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the lecturer at the close.

Mr. Adams Trying to Save Himself. The Advocate said, yesterday, in referring to the local contest:—

It is well known that in the former House the representatives were divided, Messrs. Adams and Davidson supporting and Messrs. Hutchison and Gillespie opposing the Government. It was rumored a few days ago that two gentlemen last named had offered to join hands with the Surveyor General in the present contest, and that the Government had accepted their offer, and that the gentlemen had fallen in with the proposition, looking upon it as an evidence of their desire to give the Government of which he is a member a fair and reasonable support.

Respecting the above rumor Mr. Hutchison wrote to the World and Advance yesterday, and after quoting the above paragraph, added as follows:—

So far as the above refers to myself, I desire to say that the rumor that I made any offer of support to the present Local Administration is a gross and malicious invention. You are very truly, Yours very truly, W. A. PARKIE.

Mr. Hutchison says it is true that he is willing to join hands with Mr. Adams or any other representative in promoting the interests of the County, but that he is opposed to the present Local Government. As a matter of fact he says that he and Mr. Adams had met and discussed the proposition of the Legislature, and he has neither made nor has he contemplated making the offer which the Advocate credits to "rumor."

A New Local Deal. The St. John Globe says—"After a great many failures the gentlemen who are manipulating the Local Government have formed a ticket, which, it would seem, they intend to run in connection with the Conservative ticket, for the Dominion. "Advance" Scientific Miscellany. Prof. H. E. Roscoe has obtained evidence disproving the existence of the supposed new metal phosphorus.

An Antarctic expedition to Cape Horn is being fitted out by the French Government. It will be furnished supplies for eighteen months.

In several instances, the last in February of the present year, an extraordinary high death-rate has been recorded in London during periods of exceptionally dense fog.

The number of lions and panthers killed in Algeria is diminishing very rapidly every year, and these animals will probably soon disappear entirely from that country.

In some interesting experiments Dr. Liebenberg has shown that the presence of lime in the soil is absolutely necessary for the germination of many plants, while many others do not seem to require it at all.

An English gentleman has exhibited a byacinth which, in consequence of being under a stone, had blossomed six inches below the surface of the ground.

The French physiologist Perrier and Poiret have found that, properly speaking, star-fishes have no blood circulation at all, as what has hitherto been supposed to be the heart in these animals is simply a gland.

A large fortune of several million francs was left by M. Henry Giffard, the eminent engineer, who recently died at his home in Paris, to the French Government for use in promoting the progress of scientific discovery.

It has been noticed that wines, especially in France, are improved in flavor by the passage of an electric current through them.

The electric light was used in a recent search for three persons who had lost their way in an attempt to ascend a peak of the Alps.

The wrecks of vessels on British coasts have shown a steady reduction in number from 1800 for the year ending with June, 1877, to 891 for the year ending with June, 1880.

The tensile strength of glass has been shown to be between 3,000 and 9,000 pounds per square inch, and the crushing strength between 6,000 and 10,000 pounds per square inch.

An examination of dogs after the administration of arsenic showed Dr. E. Ludwig seventeen times as much of the poison in the liver as in the blood.

The Central Bureau of the weather service of France receives daily wireless telegrams from foreign parts, and fifty-two from France.

Dr. Luys is credited with the statement that Brown-Sequard once injected the head of a dog, after being separated from the body, with debrinated and oxygenated blood, and at the moment when the injection of this blood had recalled manifestations of life he spoke the dog's name.

Two microscopes called the "Jumbo" and the "Midget" formed an interesting exhibit at a recent meeting of a London society.

His tribute to the memory of Darwin, Huxley says: "Acute as was his reasoning powers, vast as was his knowledge, marvellous as was his tenacious industry which would have converted nine men out of every ten into stainless invalids; it was not these qualities, great as they were, which impressed those who were admitted to his intimacy with involuntary veneration, but a certain intense and almost passionate honesty by which all his thoughts and actions were irradiated, as by a central fire."

The question of the existence of earth-tides, or oscillations of the earth's crust corresponding to those produced in the sea by the attraction of the moon, is being investigated by a British Commission.

It is proposed to try a novel experiment at Paris by producing a series of scientific dramas on the motion of the theatres, with the object of combining amusement with instruction.

The titles are: "Dante's Poem, or the Invention of Steam"; "Kepler, or Astronomy and the Invention of Printing"; "The Photographic News suggests another subject: 'The Triumvirate—Nepes, Duguerre, Talbot, or the Invention of Photography." The number of such themes capable of furnishing rare material for the dramatist's art would seem to be almost unlimited.

The result of this new dramatic venture will be awaited with interest. Its success may be the inauguration of a new era in science-teaching.

From Broca's tables, including a large number of cranial measurements, the average weight of the brain is about 47 ounces in men and 40 ounces in women.

The greatest weight is attained between the age of thirty and thirty-five among men and a little earlier among women.

After the age of fifty-five the weight rapidly diminishes, and at the age of eighty the average decrease has amounted to one and one-half ounces, although the loss commences much earlier.

More considered form to be of more importance than weight in estimating the comparative intellectual capacity of individuals.

Dreams may be more capable of control than is usually supposed. It is known that brain action causes a rise of cranial temperature, and, reciprocally, M. Delucy finds that an increase of heat in the head stimulates the action of the brain.

Dreams are generally illogical and absurd, but by covering his forehead with a layer of wadding M. Delucy gets sane, intelligent dreams.

He has also experimented on modes of lying in bed which favor the flow of blood to certain parts, increasing the activity of those portions of the brain.

He has observed that dreams while lying on the back are sensual, variegated, luxurious; those experienced when on the right side, are mobile, exaggerated, absurd, and refer to old matters; while those which occur when on the left side are reasonable and intelligent, and pertain to recent matters.

It is claimed that these observations confirm the accepted ideas of the functions of the different parts of the brain.

For a number of years Prof. Milne has made a systematic study of the earthquakes of Japan. By a plan of distributing postal cards to important cities for weekly reports of shocks, he has obtained a record of a large number of earthquakes for a very considerable extent of territory.

These reports are of great value in enabling him to compute the source and extent of earthquakes. His catalogue for Hakodate, in Yezo, shows forty-two earthquakes in the period from 1876 to 1880.

Comparison with the catalogue for another place, showed that ten at least of the Hakodate shocks were felt at Saporu, eighty miles to the northeast in the same island; and it was similarly shown that seven of the shocks were felt at Tokio five hundred miles to the south.

One interesting result of these observations is the discovery that earthquakes seldom pass the barrier of mountain ranges. M. Milne has estimated that a distribution of instruments of ordinary sensitiveness throughout Japan would record at least 1,200 shocks per year, or about three per day, which is a number greater than that obtained by Prof. Hein for the whole world.

Camels live from 40 to 50 years; horses average from 25 to 30; oxen, about 20; sheep, 8 or 9; and dogs, 12 to 14.

Concerning the ages attained by non-domesticated animals only a few isolated facts are known. The East Indians believe that the life-period of the elephant is about 300 years, instances being recorded of these animals having lived 130 years in confinement after capture at an unknown age.

Whales are estimated to reach the age of 400 years. Some reptiles are very long-lived, an instance being furnished by a tortoise which was confined in 1638 and existed until 1753, when it perished by an accident. Birds sometimes reach a great age, the eagle and the swan having been known to live 100 years.

The longevity of fishes is often remarkable. The carp has been known to live 200 years; remon river trout, 50 years; and the pike, 90 years, while General—a Swiss naturalist—relates that a pike caught in 1497 bore a ring recording the capture of the same fish 207 years before.

Insects are very short-lived, usually completing the term of their existence in a few weeks or months. Some even perish within a few hours after emerging from a grub state, and die on the very day of entering upon their new life.

As a general rule, not to be applied too closely, larger types of animals live longer than smaller.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Feltz's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system. I think it is the best medicine I ever used.
