ILLNESS DROVE HUGHES TO ATTEMPT SUICIDE.
Well Known North End Man, Despondent, Cut His Throat This Morning With Razor---He May Recover.

Despondent after months of severe illness John Hughes, aged 42 years, attempted suicide at his home, No. 11 Hill-yard street, North End, early this morning and now lies in the General Public Hospital in a critical condition.

Mr. Hughes is a caulker by trade, and one of the best known residents in the North End. Since December last he has been unable to work, having an attack of pleurisy, and since early spring he has not had the use of his right arm. Medical attendance since the commencement of his ailment and constant care have not made a cure, and with the incessant pains and the thoughts of his case being incurable, the strain has been entirely too much for him. He has been greatly despondent for some time past, and it is said that he has threatened to take his life on different occasions.

His family have found it necessary to keep a sharp watch on him for some time past, fearing that he would make good his threat. Any instrument that he might use to end his life was thought to have been kept out of his reach, and his family were not only shocked but greatly surprised when they discovered that he had cut his throat with a razor which he had in some manner obtained without any of the household ever suspecting it.

Last night Mr. Hughes seemed to be in better spirits and much better in health than usual. His wife, who for months has been an untiring attendant, was with him until after four o'clock this morning, when her husband told her she might as well go and lie down and rest, as he was all right. Mrs. Hughes then went to another room to rest, and shortly after five o'clock she heard such heavy breathing coming from her husband's room that she investigated, and on entering the room was horrified to see Mr. Hughes lying on the bed with a deep gash across his throat. She had lost considerable blood, and the pillow and bedding was saturated. Mrs. Hughes immediately alarmed the household, and Dr. Chas. M. Pratt, Main street, was summoned to the scene, and attended to the wounded man. Dr. Pratt found the cut a deep one just above the larynx, about four or five inches long. The razor had almost severed the windpipe, but had not cut the jugular vein.

Dr. Sheffield, who had not been attending Mr. Hughes for his illness, was also summoned and assisted Dr. Pratt in dressing the wound. The wound he said was sent in the ambulance to the hospital about ten o'clock this morning for treatment.

Although the man is in a critical condition his chance for recovery is considered good. Mr. Hughes, besides his wife, has a family of two sons and two daughters. He is well known about the city and the news of the attempt on his life spread quickly and was heard with regret by many friends.

At the time of going to press the hospital reported that the patient was doing very well and that there was every indication that he would recover.

CHAMBERLAIN WILL WIN SAYS PARKER.
Sir Gilbert Talks Preferential Tariff to Yankees.
Tells Them That Chamberlain's Victory Means the Beginning of a System of International Reciprocity.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—In discussing the political conditions prevalent in Great Britain, Sir Gilbert Parker, M. P., who is now in this city, said last night that the most important question is Joseph Chamberlain's policy of preferential tariff.

"We have taken a small leap out of a large American book," he went on, "I hardly think the question will be settled at the next election. Just as it would be impossible to convert the United States to free trade in ten years so I don't anticipate it will be possible to convert Great Britain to the policy of imperial reciprocity and of tariff reform in that short space of time. The important part of the policy must be given to Canadian wheat. Twenty years from now I believe that America will export no wheat. She will need it all for herself. In the meantime we must build up a trade with Canada by artificial means.

"This will not affect the relations between American and England. Any profit we may give to Canada will be shared by all good Americans as perfectly legitimate. Americans have a great respect for people who like themselves are able to do good business for themselves.

"In actual fact, the moment that England adopts the policy of international reciprocity will be at hand and not until then. Business is a bloodless American war, but it is a war, and peace can only be attained when one nation is strong enough to win. It is not by the use of equal weapons.

"There never was a time in the history of the world when the policy of reciprocity feeling was so strong as it is at present in England. It is a great and absolute administration of energy, power and intellect. The day of jealousy on the part of England has gone for ever."

Sir Gilbert declared annexation is a dead issue in Canada.

SHORE LINE RAILWAY WILL PARALLEL C. P. R.
Russel Sage Determined to Make a Through Connection With Boston and It Is Now Up to Manager McNicol.

David McNicol, vice-president of the C. P. R. has visited St. John and is now looking over the branch roads and will probably spend the night in Woodstock in company with Wm. Downie, the general superintendent of the Atlantic division of the road.

Mr. McNicol yesterday made a trip over the New Brunswick Southern and expressed himself as surprised at the great amount of repair work that has been done during the past few months. This was Mr. McNicol's first official trip over the road and much importance was attached to it in consequence of the persistent reports that Russel Sage is anxious to sell out to the C. P. R. Mr. McNicol denies positively that the C. P. R. people have any idea of buying the road and said that his trip over it was made at the request of Col. McLean, the manager of the company, who wished him to see exactly what had been done.

There is further significance to Mr. McNicol's trip, as it is known that the N. B. Southern people are in communication with the C. P. R. as to an arrangement by which they may use the C. P. R. line from St. Stephen to Milltown, where they desire to cross the St. Croix river and join the Washington Counties railroad, making a through road to Boston.

If the C. P. R. will not agree to this, the N. B. Southern people will at the next session of the local legislature ask for power to parallel the C. P. R. line at the point at Milltown, Mr. McNicol is desirous to reach.

Col. McLean says that it is the intention of his company to make the road the equal of any running into St. John. The new bridges have done much as an improvement, and when the terminal facilities are so arranged as to allow the trains to come into the Union depot and the connection is made at Milltown the line should prove a popular one to Boston.

This morning Mr. McNicol, with Supt. Downie and other C. P. R. officials, made a tour of inspection of the terminal facilities, visiting Sand Point, the L. C. R. warehouses and other points of interest.

When seen this morning the vice-president had very little to say. He said that no arrangements had been made for the use of the L. C. R. warehouses and elevator, but that if any agreement was reached it would probably be made by the local officials here. The West End facilities are most inadequate and have been so for the last two years, and as the business this year is likely to be larger than ever, the shipping will probably be a good cramped.

Mr. McNicol expressed the opinion that St. John should have a good pier. All over the railway, he said, all over Canada, the country is growing in population, and places like St. John should become great industrial centres. Accompanied by Mr. Downie, Mr. McNicol left today for Edmonston.

SPLENDID BEGINNING OF FREDERICTON FAIR.

(Special to the Star.)
FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 21.—Today opened fine and clear, and the first day of Fredericton's exhibition is in every sense most successful. The morning trains and the river boats Springfield and Majestic brought a good crowd to the city. The Majestic's passengers, including the river boat, that he had cut his throat with a razor which he had in some manner obtained without any of the household ever suspecting it.

Last night Mr. Hughes seemed to be in better spirits and much better in health than usual. His wife, who for months has been an untiring attendant, was with him until after four o'clock this morning, when her husband told her she might as well go and lie down and rest, as he was all right. She had lost considerable blood, and the pillow and bedding was saturated. Mrs. Hughes immediately alarmed the household, and Dr. Chas. M. The razor had almost severed the windpipe, but had not cut the jugular vein.

22 JAPANESE PAPERS CLOSED FOR PROTESTING.

TOKIO, Sept. 21, 10.30 a. m.—The expressions of dissatisfaction over the terms of the treaty of commerce and navigation of the Japanese papers are not so frequent as they were some time ago. The list of papers suspended included nine published in Tokio and thirteen published elsewhere, five of which were re-suspended.

N. Y. POLICE ON TRAIL OF WOMAN'S SLAYER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Not for many a day have the police of New York been so busy as they are now working to find Joseph Girard, suspect of the murder of Augusta Pfeiffer, who was shot in Westchester road on Wednesday night.

More than fifty false clues have been run out within forty-eight hours. Men resembling the fugitive have been seen in Bridgeport, Hartford and Greenwich, Conn.; Boston, Newark, N. J.; Philadelphia and a score of places in New York State, and in a dozen localities in Manhattan and the Bronx. The detectives have investigated all of these reports, only to meet defeat.

Captain Bureford and Coroner Gorman now agree that Augusta Pfeiffer arrived at a point fifty yards from the spot where her body was found about half-past eight Wednesday night, which is proved by witnesses; that Gerard was seen there about that time, that the girl was slain in a rage because she bit the man's finger in her struggles; that Gerard told Mrs. Donovan, with whom he boarded, that a horse bit the little finger of his left hand and this accounted for the stains on his clothing; that the body of the girl was dragged by one man to the place where it was found, and that it was then hidden; that death occurred between half-past eight and ten o'clock Wednesday night, the cool weather and damp ground preserving the body, and that Gerard left his haunts and was last seen at half-past seven Thursday morning.

(Special to the Star.)
WINNIPEG, Sept. 21.—Fire early this morning destroyed the Rat Portage Lumber Company's planing mill at Norman, Man., on the C. P. R., fifty miles east of Winnipeg. The loss is $50,000. The town of Norman was saved by the timely arrival of the Rat Portage fire brigade, but several houses were burned. The loss is serious as the mill's output was badly needed for new settlers.

DEFINITE PLANS FOR A PROGRAMME

Autumn Carnival Committee Settled Down to Work.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the board of trade room to further matters pertaining to the autumn carnival.

The chairman, Mr. Macaulay, said he was assured the railway rates will be as usual for such carnivals, and the steamboat people would follow suit.

The question of posters and other carnival matters was finally referred to a committee of T. H. Estabrooks, R. O'Brien, R. B. Emerson and A. O. Skinner.

The railway will put up posters in all the railway stations advertising their rates.

The fair of nations and the Irish Guards band are two assured features of the carnival.

The idea of an afternoon procession and sports was considered a very good feature.

Mr. Skinner suggested a parade of all societies.

It was considered that this would make too much of a general holiday of the day.

R. O'Brien said they might endorse the idea of sports and if possible give a donation to the firemen.

The chairman said a collecting committee should be appointed.

A horse parade could also be worked up, said the chairman.

Mr. Estabrooks thought the fair of nations, Irish band and firemen's sports, together with cheap rates to the city, would ensure the success of the week.

A committee of Col. Markham, A. O. Skinner and R. T. Hayes was appointed to confer with the firemen in regard to sports.

SPENT NIGHT OUTSIDE THE HARBOR.

Prince Louis of Battenberg Delayed by Thick Weather—Will go in Today.

HALIFAX, Sept. 20.—Prince Louis of Battenburg on his flagship Drake, commanding the second cruiser squadron, with the cruisers Bedford and Cumberland, is spending tonight at sea at the entrance of this harbor.

This is because of the very thick weather which prevailed today and continues tonight, his highness evidently preferring daylight and clear weather, if he can get these conditions, to come ashore in the morning. He will be at Government House at 11 o'clock.

The Essex, one of the squadron, came in this afternoon. The Warwick and Cornwall have been here since Saturday. At noon tomorrow Prince Battenburg will be presented with a civic address, and in the afternoon he will attend the provincial fair.

Did you ever have your range grates burn out? If you did you will know what that means in common ranges—it means plumbers, delay, muss and big bills—because common ranges are built that way.

As range grates must some time burn out you are certain to have that kind of trouble if yours is a common range.

If you have the Pandora you won't have any trouble, because you can take out the old grates and put in the new ones in ten minutes, and a ten cent piece for a screw-driver does it easier in the Pandora than a whole kit of plumbers' tools will do it in common ranges.

FATALITY AT GIBSON. George Jewett Killed in Sawmill—Was Sewall the Well Known Lumberman Died Yesterday.

FREDERICTON, Sept. 20.—A telegram received from St. Valiers, Quebec, last evening, announced the death of William Sewall, of Lincoln, a well known lumberman. Mr. Sewall, who was 65 years of age, had spent most of his life in lumber operations.

For a number of years he was engaged with the Cushing Co. and later with R. A. Escey. During the summer he worked as foreman for Glaston & Sons, and had accepted a similar position for the coming winter with John A. Morrison. No particulars are given of his sudden death. The deceased leaves six daughters, two sisters and a brother.

The remains are expected to arrive here tomorrow and the funeral will probably take place on Friday.

George E. Jewett of Gibson was fatally injured while at work this morning in the York and Sunbury Company's saw mill at that place. When the accident occurred Jewett and two other men were at work in the basement, making some repairs to the saw-dust chute. Jewett lost his balance and fell against a large belt which connects the engine with the main driving wheel.

His skull was broken by the blow and the fall to the floor unconscious. Drs. Mullin and Crockett were quickly upon the scene in response to a telephone message, and summoning the ambulance, had the injured man removed to the Victoria hospital. An examination disclosed an ugly wound on the side of his head, through which a portion of the brain had oozed out. The patient's left side was found to be paralyzed, and it seemed to be gradually extending to the remaining parts of his body.

He died at nine o'clock this evening at Victoria Hospital, having never regained consciousness.

The unfortunate man was about thirty-six years of age, and had a wife and large family of small children depending on him for support. He was well known to the community, and the news of the severe accident was a painful loss.

NEW STEAMER BOUGHT FOR BATTLE LINE.

Another addition has been made to the Battle Line. William Thomson & Company have bought the British steamship Bardistan, and she will enter the service of the navy. The Bardistan is a vessel of 1,600 tons net register and is seven years old. Her name is the name of the late Lord Bardistan, who was first officer of the ship. The purchase has been carried through by David North, who two or three months ago went to England to look for a steamer for the navy. The purchase was made by the Admiralty, upon which insurance amounting to two hundred thousand dollars was received. The shareholders of the Bardistan line company decided to secure another vessel to replace the lost one, but at the same time they believed that they would be able to purchase a suitable steamer at a price much lower than that of the Bardistan. So Mr. North was sent to the old country to look after the matter, and was advised not to be in any hurry, but to look around and buy the most suitable steamer he could find. In his mission he has evidently been successful.

SARDINE FISHING IN ST. JOHN HARBOR.

The sardine fishing does not seem to be very profitable in the harbor this season. Although the fish seem to be quite plentiful the buyers are few. The herring have apparently struck farther down shore than last year, and there is now but one small Eastport schooner in this harbor for sardines, where there were last year a fleet of from thirty to forty schooners from Eastport and Lubec. These fishermen have found it much more convenient to fish down around Point Lepreau, and the supply there is ample to detain them for the season. The lobster boat is also purchased this season farther down shore, so that thus far St. John fishermen have been practically shut out from the profit of this trade. The Eastport schooner which arrived Tuesday evening has taken on only about eighteen hogsheads of herring.

AMHERST, N. S., Sept. 20.—The marriage took place this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Christina Davidson, Havlock street, of Miss C. Davidson, her daughter, to Wm. F. Holmes, of D. A. Morrison & Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hooper in the presence of a few friends, and Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson left on the C. P. R. on a trip to Boston.

A summer girl in a gown of blue, whose eyes were of a similar hue, coldly turned the young man down—and his feelings matched her eyes and gown.

The Hon. H. L. Dawes, in his young manhood was an indifferent speaker. Participating in a law case son after his admission to the Bar before North Andover Justice of the peace, Dawes was opposed by an older attorney, whose eloquence attracted a large crowd that packed the court room.

"The justice was freely perspiring, and drawing off his coat in the midst of the lawyer's eloquent address," he said: "Mr. Attorney, supposing you sit down and let Dawes begin to speak, I want to thin out this crowd!"

At the sixth Miss Pheep got over the edge of the bunker and lay on the other side with a hanging lid. She topped her second, but Miss Thomson missed the putt and the hole was halved. Both drove well for the seventh, and Miss Pheep made a grand second, but was unfortunate on her third dropping into a brook, and being penalized one for this. Miss Thomson made a splendid approach, and Miss Pheep gave up the hole. At the upper brook Miss Thomson drove under the ridge of the bank and took three to get clear. Miss Pheep secured a fine tee shot, was short on her second and took the hole in four. Both got off well for the ninth. Miss Pheep fooled her brassie, while Miss Thomson cleared the bunker to right with a nice malleable stroke, though her direction wasn't very good. Miss Pheep made a gallant attempt to gobble the hole and failed, the hole being halved in five. Thus at all squares the match was one up in favor of Miss Thomson. Both made good drives tee shots for the tenth. Miss Thomson's second was miserable, and afterwards she missed the putt. Miss Pheep played up carefully and won in five, making the match all even. Three succeeding holes were halved in four, five, and five respectively. A missed putt lost Miss Pheep the twelfth, and at thirteenth she again lost on the green, though here Miss Thomson made a fine recovery. The fourteenth went to Miss Thomson, who was over the bunker in three, while Miss Pheep was short. At the short fifteenth, Miss Thomson was down in a well played three, while Miss Thomson took an extra stroke, making it all squares once again. Whopping drives and fine second hole to each at the sixteenth, and it was halved after each had missed a chance to run down in four. With two to get and the match even, the gallery was visibly interested and every movement was watched with keen interest. Indeed it was in the eighth because it was known the match was close, while one behind would even. Both players crossed the track nicely and each had good seconds, but Miss Thomson retrieved herself in her putt, winning at the hole, and won in five, making the match a dormie one. Nice play characterized the struggle for the eighteenth hole, but the best Miss Pheep could do was to halve, consequently Miss Thomson won, one up.

THE RING

DIXON KNOCKED OUT. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—George Dixon, the former feather weight champion, was knocked out in the second round of what was to have been a six-round bout, by Tommy Murphy of New York, at the National Athletic Club. The contest was spirited while it lasted, although it could be seen that Murphy was master of the situation from the start. The first round was a sparring contest, but in the second and third rounds Dixon was aggressive and succeeded in flooring Dixon early in the round. Later after an exchange of blows, Murphy drove a left to the solar plexus and Dixon went down and out.

GOLF

MISS THOMSON WINS. MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—Exciting finishes were the rule this afternoon in the second round of the ladies' golf championship at Dixie. Only one match failed to go to the 18th hole, while one ran to the 19th before the winner was declared. The successful contestants were: Miss Young, Royal, Montreal; Miss Greene, Royal, Montreal; Miss McAnulty, Victoria; Miss Thomson, St. John. In consolation cup the games and results follow: Miss Linton beat Miss Melton, 5 up and 4 to play. Mrs. Albert Mussen beat Miss Cassin, 5 up and 4 to play. Mrs. Robertson beat Miss Mona Thomson, 3 up and 1 to play. Miss Young beat Mrs. Laing, 3 up and 1 to play. Pairings for today's matches follow: Championship semi-final: Miss Young v. Miss Greene. Miss Mabel Thomson v. Miss McAnulty. Consolation semi-final: Miss Linton v. Mrs. Albert Mussen. Mrs. Robertson v. Miss Thomson. The driving competition had been on the programme for this morning, but the heavy rain so seriously interfered with the comfort of the ladies that it was decided to postpone the event until tomorrow. The champion lasted the bitterness of defeat, going down to Miss Greene after a stiff match. Miss Thomson will make a big effort to regain the possession of the title. Miss Thomson had to play a stiff game today to win, a missed putt saving the contest for her. As the St. John player meets Miss McAnulty tomorrow, there is naturally much interest in this match, it being regarded as likely that the champion will be found the winner of the game. Miss Thomson defeated Miss McAnulty in 1903, but that was the Victoria player's first tournament, and in experience and in golfing ability. Judging from today's tests, neither player will show any decided superiority in a long game, so that the contest will be decided upon the judgment and execution approaching and putting strokes. The gallery today elected to follow Miss Thomson and Miss Thomson and was rewarded by a ding-dong struggle, though, as a matter of fact, the same might be said of any of the contests. Miss Thomson drove first in six, Miss Pheep taking one more. Miss Pheep made a poor approach shot and each missed the putt. The second also fell to Miss Thomson, this time in seven. Both drove well, but each had a poor brassie. Miss Thomson carried the bunker nicely, and a fine putt won the hole for her. The third was halved in four, despite poor iron work by Miss Thomson. The fourth proved a Waterloo for Miss Thomson. She topped the brassie and ran close to bunker, then attempted to clear with another brassie and was bunkered, taking five additional strokes to clear, and eventually surrendered the hole, making the hole one up in her favor. Miss Pheep was short of the ditch on her second, going to a highway hope, while Miss Thomson carried it following Monday. Doubtless large numbers will take advantage of this low rate and take in the Provincial Exhibition.

CHINESE EXCLUSION ACT CONDEMNED BY COURT. WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Yesterday, in the United States court, Judge Dayton discharged from custody Yih Gee You, a Chinese laundryman of this city, who had been indicted for violating the Chinese exclusion act. It was shown that he was a merchant in Boston before coming here and not a laborer. In giving his decision, Judge Dayton, who was recently appointed to the bench after serving ten years in congress, said: "It was largely a question of political expediency, and to meet the demand of the western country to shut out the Chinese that the exclusion laws were passed. We might as well admit that some had legislation gets upon the state books enacted by congress as well as by our state legislatures. There cannot be any question, there never was any question in my mind, about the propriety, and I always felt the necessity of passing laws restricting certain classes of foreign immigrants, but I never could understand why that restriction should be placed upon the Chinese and not upon Italians, Slavs, Hungarian and South of Europe laborers, just as disastrous to this country as the Chinese."

PANIC IN GRAND CENTRAL STATION. Explosion of Gasolene Alarms Hundreds of Persons, Causing a Mad Rush For Exits. NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Started by a loud explosion, which shook the entire building, hundreds of persons tumbled over one another in their eagerness to get out of the Grand Central Station yesterday afternoon. Some thoughtless person shouted "Dynamite!" and that added to the panic. Then blue flames and dense clouds of smoke shot out of the basement windows on the Vanderbilt avenue side, and several thousand persons surrounded the building in a few minutes. Next, fire engines came clanging in from all directions, policemen advanced and pushed the crowds back and a degree of excitement to fit a first grade disaster prevailed throughout that part of the city. Half an hour later when the fire apparatus withdrew and calmness was restored, it was learned that the explosion had been caused by a store-room of the station, but that no one was injured and very little damage done. How it happened was not explained, except that a workman went into the cellar to fill a lantern and followed immediately. Those in the waiting room of the station had no way of knowing what had happened, and for ten or fifteen minutes trains, baggage and schedules were utterly forgotten. In the wild scramble to get out of the building many dresses were torn and several women fainted. Scores of passengers missed their trams and for two hours there was a lively search for hand baggage that had been dropped and forgotten. Following so closely upon the accident in the Park avenue tunnel on Monday, many believed that a locomotive had blown up or that a train had been wrecked, and it was not until the cause of the explosion was known before the more nervous ones in the station could be convinced that nothing serious had happened.

WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER

Or, The Love Story of Charles Brandon and Mary Tudor, the King's Sister, and Happening in the Reign of His August Majesty King Henry the Eighth

By EDWIN CASKODEN [CHARLES MAJOR]

"I am waiting to see the king," said she. "Little Castor's friend, Brandon, has been arrested for a brawl of some sort over in London, and Sir Edwin and Lady Jane have importuned me to obtain his release, which I have promised to do. Perhaps your grace will allow me to petition you in place of carrying my request to the king. You are quite as powerful as his majesty in London, and I should like to ask you to obtain for Master Brandon his liberty at once. I shall hold myself infinitely obliged for your lordship will do this for me." She smiled upon him her sweetest smile and assumed an indifference that would have deceived any one but Buckingham. Upon him under the circumstances it was worse than wasted. Buckingham at once consented and said that notwithstanding the fact that he did not like Brandon, to oblige her highness he would undertake to bestow a much more disagreeable person.

What is this? cried Henry.

Henry and Buckingham were intensely indignant at the conduct of the scurvy burghers, and an immense amount of self importance was displayed and shamefully wasted. This manifestation was at its highest when the messenger from Newgate arrived with Mary's poor little note as intended by the duke. The note was handed to Henry, who read aloud as follows: To Master Charles Brandon, greeting: You who are at liberty, perhaps are not to your hand. Surely would I not believe you long in prison. I have at once, there to live in the hope that I may see you again. "What is this?" cried Henry. "My sister writing to Brandon? God's death! My Lord of Buckingham, the suspicious you who are in my ear may have some truth. We will let this follow remain in Newgate and allow our own people of London to take their own course. Buckingham went to Windsor next day and told Mary that arrangements had been made the night before for Brandon's escape and that he had heard that Brandon had left for New Spain. Mary thanked the duke, but had no smiles for any one. Her supply was exhausted. She remained at Windsor nursing her love for the sake of the very part it brought her and dreading the battle for more than life itself which she knew she should soon be called upon to fight. At times she would fall into one of her old fits of anger because Brandon had not come to see her before he left, but when she was alone she would weep and the tears brought a sort of joy when she thought that he had run away from her because he loved her. After Brandon's defense of her in Billingsgate Mary had begun to see the whole situation differently, and everything was changed. She still saw a great distance between them as before, but with this difference, she was being up now. Before the event he had been plain Charles Brandon and she the Princess Mary. She was the princess still, but he was a demigod. So Mary remained at Windsor and grieved and wept and dreamed and longed that she might see across the miles of billowy ocean to her love, her love, her love! Meanwhile Brandon had his trial in secret down in London and had been condemned to be hanged, drawn and quartered for having saved her more than life itself. "Put not your trust in princes!"

CHAPTER X. JUSTICE, O KING! SOUCH was the state of affairs when I returned from France. How I hated myself because I had not faced the king's displeasure and had not refused to go until Brandon was safely out of my hands. The selfishness turned me against all womankind. I did not daily this time. I trusted to no Lady Jane or Lady Mary. I determined to go to the king at once and tell him all. I did not care if the wretched Mary and Jane both had to marry the French king of the devil himself. I did not care if they and all the host of their perfidious sisterhood went to the nether side of the universe, there to remain forever. I would break my faith in so far as it was retrievable and save Brandon, who was worth them all put together. I would tell Mary and Jane what I thought of them, and that should end matters between us. I felt as I did toward them not only because of their treatment of Brandon, but because they had made me guilty of a heinous fault, for which I should never so long as I lived forgive myself. I determined to go to the king, and go I did within five minutes of the time I heard that Brandon was yet in prison. I found the king sitting alone at public dinner and, of course, was denied speech with him. I was in no humor to be balked, so I thrust aside the guards and, much to their grief, rage and despair and showed in every feature, rushed to the king and fell upon my knees. "O king!" I cried, and all the courtiers heard. "Justice, O king, for the worst used man and the bravest, truest and most devoted of your subjects. Here the tears began to stream down my face and my voice choked in my throat. "I am your friend, lies in a loathsome, rayless dungeon, condemned to death, as your majesty may know, for the killing of the king in Billingsgate ward. I will tell you all. I should be thrust out for the society of decent men for not having met with worse than death had not I trusted it to another who has proved false. I will tell you all. Your sister, the Lady Mary, and Lady Jane Bellingham, were returning alone after dark from a visit to the soothsayer Grouche, of whom your majesty has heard. I had been notified of the Lady Mary's intended visit to him, although she had enjoined absolute secrecy upon my informant. I could not go, being detained upon your majesty's service. It was the night of the ball to the ambassadors—and I asked Brandon to follow them, which he did without the knowledge of the princess. "Upon returning the ladies were attacked by four ruffians and would have met with worse than death had not the bravest heart and the best sword in England defended them victoriously against such fearful odds. He left Brandon at Bridewell without hurt or injury, though covered with wounds himself. This man is condemned to be hanged, drawn and quartered, but I am not at once reprieved and richly rewarded. Think, my king! He saved the royal honors of your majesty, who is so dear to you and has suffered so terribly for his loyalty and bravery. The day I left so hurriedly for France, the Lady Mary promised to write to me and to all I liberate this man who had so nobly saved her, but she is a woman and was born to betray. The king laughed a little at my vehemence. "What is this you are telling me, Sir Edwin? I know of Brandon's death. I regret it. I regret it. I cannot interfere with the justice of our good people of London for the murder of two knights in their streets. If Brandon committed such a crime, and I understand he does not deny it, I cannot help him, however much should like to do so. He is a man of my sister! It cannot be true. It must be trumped up out of your lust in order to save your sword. Have a care, good master, how you say such a thing. If it were true, would not Brandon have told it at his trial?" "It is not true, my king! My sister, the Lady Mary and Lady Jane, did not bear me out in every word I have said, let my life pay the forfeit. It is not true, my king, my honor is for killing the man, fearing to compromise the honor of those whom he had saved, for, as you are great enough to stock a Gollath, I believe you are telling the truth. I will go at once to liberate Brandon, and that little hussey, my sister, shall go to France and enjoy life as best she can with her old beauty, King Louis. I know of no greater punishment to inflict upon her. This determines me. She shall come out of it no longer. Sir Thomas Brandon, have my horses ready, and I will go to the lord mayor, then to my lord bishop of Lincoln and arrange to close this French treaty at once. Let everybody know that the Princess Mary, who is the true and the queen of France." This was said to the courtiers and was all over London before night. It followed closely in the wake of the king, though uninvited, for I had determined to trust to no one, not even his majesty, until Brandon should be freed. I was not to be deterred by the lord mayor and then to Wolsey, but after we crossed the bridge he passed down Lower Thames street and turned up Fish street hill into Grace Church street toward Bishopsgate. He said he would stop at Mistress Cornwalls', and have a pudding and then on to Wolsey, who at that time lodged in a house near the wall beyond Bishopsgate.

ST. JOHN STAR, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1905.

PEOPLE IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

MISS GERTRUDE ROOSEVELT, a cousin of President Roosevelt, will make her vaudeville debut at Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre on May 11 in a short sketch called "Kitty Clive."

CONGRESSMAN RICHARD BARTHOLDT, of Missouri, frames of a model arbitration treaty, submitted to the Inter-parliamentary Congress at Brussels.

STEAMER VIKING BROKE PISTON ROD.

Laid Information Against Parties Who Broke His Windows—Curlew at St. Andrews.

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Sept. 20.—As the steamer Viking was leaving her wharf this noon on the trip to St. Stephen she broke her piston rod and pump. The steamer is laid up at the wharf disabled and it will take two days to effect repairs.

DIVERS EXAMINE STEAMER BREMEN.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 20.—The German steamer Bremen may be able to sail for her destination this day, but it may be the end of next week before she will get away. Divers examined the Bremen's entangled propeller today. They found that the propeller was broken some twenty feet from its end, and that in falling back about two feet its propeller blades had come into contact with the blades of the starboard propeller, which now overlap each other several inches.

ROADS AND BRIDGES IN BAD CONDITION.

MONCTON, Sept. 20.—The condition of the roads and bridges under the new highway act continues to grow worse instead of better. Nearly every highway bridge leading out of Moncton is now in a tumble-down condition, and at Notre Dame, Kent county, the conditions became so bad that the residents of that section raised money by private subscription to replace a dangerous structure. After waiting two years for the government to carry out its promise, after the work had been commenced the highway commissioner attempted to stop it, but the people defied the commissioner and proceeded with the work. Now the commissioner is said to be looking for law. Notre Dame is quite an important place, with a saw mill and a large store, and one hundred teams cross the bridge daily.

OSCAR SILBERSTEIN SUSPENDS PAYMENT.

The announcement that Oscar Silberstein, the King street tobacco merchant, had suspended payment caused considerable comment around the streets yesterday, as it was generally considered that the "genial Oscar" was doing a good business. Rumor first gave it that an assignment had been made to Abraham Isaac, cigar maker, the chief creditor. This was, however, denied last night by Mr. Isaac, who stated that no assignment had been made to any one; that Mr. Silberstein had simply suspended payment and would resume business as soon as affairs were straightened out.

SACKVILLE TEACHER ASSAULTED.

Had Punished Child and Incurred Anger of Father—Town Excited Over the Case.

SACKVILLE, N. B., Sept. 20.—A very regrettable accident occurred here last afternoon, when a few rods from the school house, a young boy, named Baisley, was assaulted by Leonard Baisley, who had a grievance. One of his children, it seems, was punished this morning by the school. As it was near school time, the boy told Baisley that he had no time to talk to him, and he would talk to him after school. When the boy returned to school, he was followed by Leonard Baisley, who struck him on the face and head, knocking out two teeth, drawing blood and causing painful injuries. The boy was taken to the hospital, and the father of the boy, who is a carpenter, has been arrested and is now in the jail.

In 216 cities we have the eight hour day now, or to become effective on January 1. In 46 of these cities where strikes have been declared or threatened, all of the offices where the men had been employed have signed the new contract."

The Valley of Fear

Searchers for Gold Who Have Perished of Heat and Terror.

(Allen Kelly in N. Y. Post.) During the months of June and July of this year, 1905, more men have perished of heat and thirst on the desert between Colorado river and the southern end of the Sierra Nevada than were lost in that dreadful land during the preceding half century. The desert has swarmed with prospectors ever since the opening of the Salt Lake railroad in May, all of them hoping to strike leads as rich as those uncovered in Goldfields and Bullfrog, and too eager in their hunt for gold to wait until the winter rains have restored the floor of the infrequent springs, filled the dried waterholes, and banished the infernal heat.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE CONGRESS IN SESSION.

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 20.—The universal peace congress held a full session in the theatre of the Kurhaus today, in the course of which Benjamin Trublood of Boston, in behalf of the American delegation, delivered an address on the progress of the peace movement in the United States. He eulogized the efforts of President Roosevelt to bring about a second peace conference at The Hague and also his achievement in effecting the cessation of the Russo-Japanese war. However, added the speaker, without minimizing the honor due the president, the natural oyster growers of this section practically ruined the entire set of this year, estimated to be worth a million dollars.

ST. JOHN RIVER CASE FOR SUPREME COURT.

Counsel Will Agree Upon a Case to be Presented to Full Bench—Evidence Yesterday.

The case of the Attorney General vs. St. John Lumber Company, came up again yesterday afternoon. One witness for the defence, Ira Randall, was called. Dr. Pugsley objected to the evidence regarding other rivers as irrelevant. Mr. Powell said he wished to prove three propositions: 1. That in driving logs on the St. John river, the logs of different owners became mixed. 2. That there is no possible way for the St. John Lumber Co. to get their logs but by gathering their logs in booms and sorting them the way they have been doing. 3. That the sorting work of the defendants is similar in principle to those on other rivers in Canada and the United States.

TRAIN CHANGES EFFECT MANY TRAIN HANDS.

Conductors and Drivers Particularly Affected—Cancellation of Trains Causes a Good Deal of Shaking Up.

There is a good deal of shaking-up and many changes among the I. C. R. train crews as the result of the recent cancellations of the I. C. R. summer trains and many crews are affected.

Among the conductors and drivers who will be affected by the cancellation are the following: Con. John Berry, who ran on the Ocean Limited, goes back on the Maritime between Moncton and Halifax. Con. Edward Thompson, of the Maritime, transferred to night express Nos. 9 and 10, between St. John and Halifax.

Daly, who is now running on the night express between St. John and Halifax, will go on the Maritime express between St. John and Point du Chene in place of Conductor Hunter, who takes Wellington place on the Maritime express between St. John and Point du Chene in place of Conductor Hunter.

POLICE COURT.

Prisoner Violently Resisted Policeman Simple and Suffered Considerably in the Process—Remanded.

Acting Magistrate Henderson at the police court this morning fined three drunks four dollars each and remanded Wm. Kilpatrick on the charge of using profane language, assaulting Officer Semple and resisting arrest.

Both the policeman and the prisoner showed signs of the conflict when they appeared in court this morning. Policeman Semple's face is considerably scratched and bruised, while Kilpatrick is pretty badly used up. He limped about the court room and continually held his hands to his bandaged head, which had come in contact with the policeman's baton, and not without the usual results in bruises and cuts.

Kilpatrick is a large, strong man, and when the policeman placed him under arrest yesterday afternoon in Maher's blacksmith shop, on the Marsh Road, for using profane language, he resisted and assaulted the policeman quite badly before he was subdued with the baton. Dr. D. E. Berryman went to the police station last evening and dressed the wound on the prisoner's head. The case will probably be tried tomorrow morning.
