VON HINDENBURG GAINS FOOTING ON PETROGRAD-KOVNO RAILWAY AFTER COSTLY DRIVE AT RUSSIANS

AUSTRIANS ADMIT FORCE OF THE RUSSIAN ARMY'S ATTACKS IN GALICIA

London, Sept. 13, 9.45 p. m.—By one of those battering offensives which, although costly in men and munitions, have invariably been successful, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army has at last set foot on the Kovno-Petrograd railway, between Vilna and Dvinsk. The whole Austro-German force have been striving to gain this railway since the fall of the Polish fortresses.

The offensive which began toward the end of last week was carried on from three directions, upon Dvinsk and the railway on either side of the town, while further south the invaders advanced towards Vilna. The Russians, before superior forces, supplied with the usual mass of artillery, were yesterday forced back to the Lake district, which the railway penetrates, and are now making a stand there.

Simultaneously, the Germans pushed their way eastward towards Serezh and Pinsk, both of which are on roads which join the main railway line, while the Austrians, with whom there are many German units, are fighting hard to reach Kovno, the southern terminus of the line.

With this railway partly in the hands of the Germans it is probable that the Russians will be compelled to make a further retirement, although their offensive in Galicia, which continues, might save them by compelling the Germans to send reinforcements to this region.

There is now doubt of Russian success in this district, as, following the Austrian admission of their retirement, the Germans tonight announced that after repulsing Russian attacks they occupied "a favorable position, situated some kilometers west of our former position."

Fighting in Country Submerged by Heavy Rains.

The conditions under which the troops are fighting in the marshy country in the centre and on the southern end of the line are described by German correspondents as most terrible. The country is practically all under water, through which the Austro-Germans have to advance against well-prepared Russian positions. The eastern bank of the Serezh, from which the Russians are delivering their counter-attacks, is a veritable fortress, from which the Russians energy every time their opponents approach taking a heavy toll of them in killed, wounded and prisoners. According to the Russian accounts nearly 30,000 prisoners have been taken in the fighting along this river.

The operations in the west are marked by the continuance of the great artillery battle from Belgium to the Argonne. A duel between guns of all calibres along the entire front has now been going on for nearly three weeks, and during the week-end has been particularly violent around Argas, in the Argonne and Champagne.

At several points the German infantry, after a heavy bombardment, attempted to storm the advanced trenches of the Allies, but the French reports say that these attacks all failed. Fighting of a somewhat similar character is proceeding along the Austro-Italian front.

The session of the British parliament, which opens Tuesday, will be chiefly occupied with arrangements to finance the war. This will include the levy of new taxes. However, under the British system whereby ministers can be questioned and debates raised, many other matters will be discussed. Compulsory service is certain to come in for consideration, and on this the cabinet is said to be divided.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF CHURCH OF ENGLAND

Toronto, Sept. 13.—The board of management of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada held one of the largest meetings in its history this afternoon in St. James Cathedral parish hall. The Primate, the Archbishop of Rupert's Land presided.

The treasurer's report was for eight months, from January to September, in which he stated while $164,824 was asked for an appropriation, $25,823 had been received to the beginning of September. For Jewish work $13,958 had been asked for, and $5,378 received. An additional $6,440 had been received for special objects.

BULGARIAN PARLIAMENT DIVIDED ON QUESTION OF GIVING HELP TO TURKS

Opposition Party Demands Meeting of Government to Prevent Action Contrary to Country's Centuries Old Traditions.

Sofia, Sept. 13.—An urgent appeal to the nation has been issued by a group of Bulgarian men of note to support the opposition demand for a convocation of the Bulgarian parliament, "with a view to preventing action contrary to the country's centuries old traditions."

The centuries long traditions of the Bulgarians, as of other Balkan nations, have consisted in uncompromising opposition to the Turks as usurpers and tyrants in Europe.

As there have been many evidences of late that the Bulgarian government, presumably under the leadership of King Ferdinand, is leaning strongly to the side of the Germans and Austrians and necessarily, therefore, to the side of the Turks, it would seem that the opposition in parliament, in demanding the convening of the chamber, is opposed to giving any assistance to the Turks.

It is only since the second Balkan war that Bulgaria has become so violently opposed to Greece and Serbia as to almost forget her age-long hatred of the Turk, and it could hardly be said therefore, that the "centuries-old traditions" spoken of refers to this more recent policy of opposition to the other Balkan nations.

RECRUITING TIDE FLOWS IN STEADY STREAM FOR INFANTRY BATTALIONS

Patriotic Spirit of People Has Been Aroused — Grand Meeting Last Night—More Today.

Twenty-nine recruits, the largest number yet signed on in any one day during the recruiting campaign were enrolled yesterday, and a net total of twenty-nine were accepted last evening as a result of a splendid demonstration on King Square. Up to the present time about 120 men have been secured in St. John since Friday, September 4. This is a very creditable showing, and is considered most favorable in view of the fine type of men who are passing the tests.

Col. Campbell, of the 64th, wants none but the highest type of manhood and he is getting them from St. John. There was a large crowd round the recruiting platform, fully 1,000 people being present. The addresses were excellent, and the speakers were repeatedly cheered. The straightforward remarks of Lieut. Hugh Teed recently inhaled from Flanders were well received, and he pointed out that St. John boys at the front were calling, "Come over and help us."

Other speakers were Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, of Main street Baptist church; Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell, of Mount Allison University, and Sergeant Norman Knight. Others on the platform were Senator Daniel and Mr. Justice McKeown. L. P. D. Tilley, M. L. A., acted as chairman, and the 3rd Garrison Artillery Bugle Band rendered musical selections.

The men enrolled last evening were: Cambridge Orr, St. John; Bernard Tobin, Newfoundland; Charles Ferguson, St. John; Arthur Gordon Scott, St. John; George Havelock Morgan, St. John; Charles H. Walton, Port Hope, N. B.; G. Ralph, England; James Ewart, Lorneville, N. B.

Other demonstrations. Two great recruiting demonstrations are planned by the citizens' campaign committee for today. One for women will be held in the Imperial Theatre immediately after the Imperial performance at five o'clock. Lieut.-Col. E. T. Sturdee, chairman of the citizens' committee will preside, and a representative of the committee will be present. The speakers will be Mrs. Netta B. Brown, of Montreal, and she will deal with the various plans which are being undertaken by the women of Canada in aid of recruiting. A lengthy account of the work of Mrs. Brown was given in yesterday's Standard. Local workers in St. John have been awaiting her visit with anticipation and pleasure, and a large attendance should be had this afternoon.

ROUMANIAN TROOPS MOBILIZE ON FRONTIER TO PREVENT SURPRISE ATTACK

Athens, Sept. 13, via Paris, Sept. 14.—It is reported in diplomatic circles here that there has been a heavy mobilization of Roumanian troops, including several regiments of cavalry, to face an unexpected concentration of Austrians, which is directed presumably against Roumania.

Railroad traffic in northwestern Roumania is declared to have been suspended in favor of the troops movements. All horses have been requisitioned. The second series of reserves are now with the colors.

It is asserted that the Austro-German explanation is that the concentration is directed toward the suppression of espionage in Transylvania, but that this statement is not taken seriously.

Denial is given here to the report that the ministers of the Triple Entente powers have made new proposals to Bulgaria. It is stated that the Entente governments are still working with Serbia, with the purpose of obtaining from her a satisfactory answer to their demands that Serbia cede to Bulgaria the territory desired by the latter country. The German military attaché here, Major Baron Von Der Goitz, is leaving his post. He will be replaced by Gen. Von Losow, who formerly was attached to the legation. It is stated that Baron Von Der Goitz is leaving voluntarily.

Evidence of Survivors Given to German Ambassador to Send to His Government.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Conferences today between President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing and between Secretary Lansing and Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, brought the situation growing out of German submarine activities to the following status:

(1)—The German ambassador has been furnished with the evidence of officers and survivors of the Arabic, all agreeing that the liner was proceeding peacefully when torpedoed without warning, and has been advised that the United States desires a disavowal of the attack and reparation for the American lives lost.

(2)—The evidence will be sent by Count Von Bernstorff to the Berlin foreign office, to which it has not been available before, and probably ten days will elapse before Berlin can be heard from, in some quarters it is believed possible that the foreign office, upon examining the evidence, may change its position and disavow the action of the submarine commander, who it was claimed in the last note, sank the liner because he thought she was about to attack him.

(3)—The United States has all information on the case, as it now stands, at hand, and ready to decide upon its course, but action may be delayed until Count Von Bernstorff has had time to exchange communications with his government.

(4)—While the United States will not consent to arbitration of a principle nor of a question involving the safety of American lives, it has accepted Germany's assurances that peaceful liners will not be torpedoed without warning, and if Germany desires to arbitrate the amount of indemnity, the question of whether the Arabic actually attempted to attack the submarine or whether her actions justified the submarine commander in believing he was about to be attacked, that probably would be agreed to.

The President and Secretary Lansing were in conference for nearly an hour, and later Count Von Bernstorff spent half an hour with the secretary. No announcements were made. It was said in well informed quarters, however, that although the American government was not pleased with the Arabic note, the situation was considered far from hopeless.

No word has come from Vienna.

REPARATION FOR LOSS OF AMERICAN LIVES. Probably Ten Days Before Washington Receives Reply, But Officials Hopeful Berlin Will Disavow Attack on Steamer.

NO CHANGE OF COMPROMISE ON CONSCRIPTION. Question Assuming Critical Aspect in Cabinet and Cleavage Distinct and Deep — Lloyd George Converted to Compulsory Service.

London, Sept. 13.—The political correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette says that Mr. Lloyd George has finally ranged himself on the side of those in the cabinet who demand compulsory service.

Mr. Lloyd George's convictions have been tending in this direction, continues the Gazette, and it adds, "there can be no doubt that the question of conscription is assuming a more critical aspect from the cabinet point of view. The cleavage is distinct and deep, and there is no possibility of compromise. That is apparent to the naked eye."

General Moberg suggested to the conference that the various parts of the guns made at different factories and the assembling could be done at a large central factory. It was learned afterwards that this factory might be located at one of the Canadian winter ports and that if it becomes an accomplished fact it might be financed and controlled by the government although the money might be advanced by the banks under government guarantee.

This presupposes that the whole scheme is found to be feasible. General Hughes is confident that it is a good plan and some of the steel men present said that Canada could furnish the nickel steel required for the guns.

Committee Appointed. A committee under the chairmanship of Sir John Gibson was appointed by the conference this morning to go into the question and report upon the question.

The committee holds its first meeting this afternoon and will meet again at the call of Sir John when it is probable that a definite report as to the possibility of the manufacture of guns in Canada will be prepared with details of the scheme if it is considered feasible.

The committee is composed as follows: Sir John Gibson, Frederick Nichols, Robt. Hecox, F. G. Wanklyn, Sir Lyman Melville Jones, Sir William MacKenzie, Senator Edwards, Mr. Blackwell, James Young, G. H. Duggan, George Burn and J. Chaplin.

Sir Robert Borden addressed the gathering today and conveyed a good deal of information he had gathered while in England concerning the development of the manufacture of munitions there.

The meeting was held in private although an official record of the proceedings was taken.

The following attended the conference: Hon. Major General Sir Sam Hughes, president; Sir Robert Borden, General Bertram, Sir John Gibson, J. F. Taylor and Arch Stewart, Algoma Steel Co., Sault Ste. Marie, Col. Noel Marshall John Carew, A. P. P. Lindsay, Col. Woods, Ottawa; Col. Wanklyn, C.P.R., Montreal; James Young of the Jno. Bertram & Sons Co. of Montreal; P. L. Findlay, Montreal; G. H. CANADIAN FACTORIES TO ENGAGE IN MAKING OF BIG GUNS FOR GREAT BRITAIN Important Meeting at Ottawa Yesterday and Plans and Canada's Ability to Handle Big Proposition Discussed—Believed Scheme is Feasible and Premier Borden's Visit to England Will Bring Many Millions of Dollars to Dominion—Big Central Factory at One of the Winter Ports May be Part of Scheme.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Sept. 13.—The Imperial government has intimated that it will place orders here for two thousand to three thousand heavy guns to be delivered within a two-year period if the Canadian manufacturers are able to make them.

General Moberg, who is here from the War Office, conveyed this information to a conference of leading manufacturers and bankers whom General Sir Sam Hughes had invited to Ottawa to consider the question. This conference was one of the most representative gatherings of business men ever held in Canada.

Compared with the making of big guns, the manufacture of shells is simple, but so successful has Canada been in playing her part in the furnishing of shells and other munitions of war which have been entrusted to her that the War Office has decided to invite Canada to produce also the heavier war material. The big guns asked for include field guns, and twelve-inch howitzers, and the Canadian workshops turning out at present the smaller arms and ammunitions would require much new and costly equipment.

Will St. John Get It? General Moberg suggested to the conference that the various parts of the guns made at different factories and the assembling could be done at a large central factory. It was learned afterwards that this factory might be located at one of the Canadian winter ports and that if it becomes an accomplished fact it might be financed and controlled by the government although the money might be advanced by the banks under government guarantee.

With Land Forces and in the Navy Men from Ancient Colony are Doing Splendid Work.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Sept. 13.—All the Newfoundland volunteers for overseas service enlisted as privates. They were all sent to England and it was left to the war office to appoint field officers from the imperial army and to promote them from the ranks.

These were two of the interesting statements made today by S. P. T. McGrath, the well known Newfoundland newspaperman and politician who is in Ottawa.

He stated that all the work of enlisting was done for nothing. The doctors examined the men free and the doctors carried them free. The principal outfitters looked after the equipment and they worked for nothing. The only paid officials were the paymasters. The Newfoundlanders were the first non-Scottish regiment ever allowed to garrison Edinburgh Castle. The first battalion will go from Egypt to the Dardanelles.

Of the 3,000 enlisted 1,200 are sailors, and there is a training ship at St. John's. Two were with Sturdee's squadron, one was with Beatty when the Bleucher was sunk, others are with the Queen Elizabeth in the Dardanelles. Sixty perished in three naval disasters last winter.

Many are being used on trawlers and minesweepers. They are found to be very effective lookouts and for handling small boats. The Admiralty is highly pleased with them and has asked for all Newfoundland can give. There were 102 on the Canadian ship Niobe and they are going on to England.

RECRUITING CAMPAIGN DRAWS MORE MEN

Another meeting will be held this evening in St. Andrew's Rink for both men and women. The speakers will be Mrs. N. Brown and Sergeant N. Knight. The 62nd Regimental Band will also be in attendance.

Rev. Dr. Hutchinson, the first speaker of the evening said he had been present at one of the meetings in St. Andrew's Rink last week and while listening to one of the speakers, the feeling came to him that, if he were a man of eighteen or twenty or thirty, instead of a man of sixty it would be impossible for him to hold back and refuse to give his services to King and country.

"Although a minister of the gospel," said he, "I would go as a chaplain, and falling that I would go as a private. I am exceedingly glad that we already have some ministers who are serving the colors in this way. I am pleased to know that there are men who will stand in the rank and file, and I think there ought to be a goodly number of them in the ranks. If more men of the cloth would enlist it would have an influence and a magnificent effect on the people at large. With regard to the reasons which men give for staying at home, I might say that one is cowardice, or the fear of what the Germans might do to him. I imagine that is keeping many a young man from enlisting. Do you think that is a good reason for not offering their services to King and country? Some from a purely selfish motive are staying at home. This is the time when all thought of pleasure and a good position should be sacrificed for the nation which we love and honor.

"This is a war which involves the whole of the British Empire. Where did German ships sink the Mermaid at the beginning of the war? Ships sailing from our own port and from Halifax were sunk and destroyed. Ships were destroyed off the coasts of China, India and South Africa, all of which involves the British Empire at large. One of our own statesmen has said, 'When England is at war, Canada is at war; when England is at war Australia and New Zealand are at war. We claim to be British subjects. We enjoy freedom under the British flag, and we ought to bear our share of the responsibility. If it is possible for you to get to the front, its your place at the front or else in the detention camp at Amherst.'

Fight For Existence.

"We are fighting for our very existence. We do not realize that. Our own city of St. John is prosperous and its people are living in peaceful happiness. Were it not for the fact that our young men are enlisting, that our soldiers are marching the street, that we are sending men from our ports, we might never know Great Britain was at war. If a German cruiser would sail up the Bay of Fundy and throw a few shells into our fair city, we would soon commence to awake and instead of the mere trickle of men we would have a constant stream. The dropping of bombs on the east coast of England instead of producing a sense of fear in British hearts has developed a courage and brought scores of British sons to the ranks who might not otherwise have gone.

"I look with pride on the members of my own congregation who have gone. Although the number forty of whom ten went with the first contingent. Have they any more right to go than you? Has the nation any more claim on them than you? I wish you girls who have sweethearts would make them each a present of a white feather. I wish you girls would say I will have nothing to do with you unless you don the khaki. My brothers are you physically fit? Are you without incubance? Then if you want to show yourselves men with an interest in your country, enlist in the service of your country."

Rev. Dr. Campbell.

Rev. Dr. G. M. Campbell of Mount Allison University, Sackville, N. B., and formerly a citizen of St. John, was introduced by Chairman L. P. D. Tilly as the second speaker and was given three hearty cheers. He said: "During the present war in all my speaking I have placed emphasis on two distinct notes, the note of danger and the seriousness of the situation in to which we, as a nation, have come. The second is the confident expectation of the final outcome and that victory will rest with the British arms. The message has come to all loyal and true citizens to answer the call, the call which your brothers are sending across the water to you, the call which England sends forth to every corner of the Great British Empire along with the important and grave fact that old England has gone down into a Gethsemane of conflicts. The greatest duty at the present time is to bring the nation into such a position with the sacrifice of your life if need be that all classes of citizens may say, 'we perish not.' This is the work and need of every man, and every woman in the hour of Britain's need."

British Victorious.

"We to every man who hesitates in the hour to strike. I am confident that victory will rest with the British arms and just as sure as the day follows the night, when the consummation comes, when wrongs are righted, when peace is established again, a record will be made stating what contribution every college, factory, store and city made to the great conflict. We have not yet realized the gravity of the situation, we are not yet impressed with the significance of the war. We have always lived with the idea that Great Britain is the world's greatest power, and that no nation in the past or in the future has or will have the right to say, 'what doest thou?' So with those facts we have not realized that Britain is at war for her very existence.

"England's name as the greatest world power, has been questioned and she has been challenged today to defend that title. But, gentlemen, let me say, we are in a defensive war. The men at the front are not there to increase the extent of the Empire. Great Britain's stand was never more respectful. In order to preserve freedom and justice we are engaged in a war for our very existence. Take German South Africa for instance, with the capture of this country, England is able to link the north with the south in one continuous long red route but the territory is not worth the expense in the pouring out of British blood. England's decision lay in the fact that she must defend the weaker nation, to preserve and carry out the policy laid down by treaty and to make it impossible for a military nation to dominate in war. The difficulty with Germany lies in the fact that she wants more territory in Europe and in other parts of the world.

"May I remind you that Germany looks upon your empire as the result of good fortune and finds herself justified in attacking it. For fifty years she has been preparing herself with this end in view and she has challenged your right to one-fifth of the earth and 400,000,000 of its population. In your day and mine Germany has questioned your right, challenged your authority and would say that she is your equal. The coming of the soldiers of the King and the men recruited in St. John constitute Britain's answer to the challenge of Germany. (Cheers)

More Recruits.

"The call is for recruits. Germany has every thing to gain from victory. If peace were declared tomorrow Germany would be victorious. At the present time she possesses 50,000 square miles of territory and holds a dominance in Poland, which she did not have a year ago. But, sons of Britain, although the darkest hour is before the dawn, Britishers in the past have won victory from defeat and what our forefathers did you will do. If Germany wins you will become a dependency of the German nation. This fair land and all that our fathers have accumulated will pass to the list of things forgotten. Besides this, a German victory means the passing of the Anglo-Saxon race, the world's uplifter, and a language which has become the language of literature and art. The Anglo-Saxon race, as a defender of the marriage sacrament and the interpretation of the law lifts the world to God and a German victory would mean the passing of the nation. The tapers of civilization which our forefathers kindled would be diminished and would pass to the hopelessness of an autocratic military power. Your country needs you, men, and has always needed you. Many, regardless of privation and sacrifice, have responded to the call. Canadian sons have flocked to the colors and on Belgium and French soil have proved themselves to be without peer. But the call comes for more men and you, men of St. John, shall old England in this, the hour of crisis, call on you in vain. Many have made the surrender and many a mother and wife have said to their dear ones, 'go,' I say, citizens, if we go on living now as we did eighteen months ago and forgetful of the need of the nation, then we are disloyal and indifferent. Banish forever the thought that England will win this war by a miracle. Only by the hard fighting of her noble sons will victory be accomplished. By the sacrifice of our sons shall the old country remain alive. Not only is virtue calling you, not only is Heaven calling you, not only is God calling you, but your country is calling you and the call of the country is the call of God.

The Call is to You.

"The call is to you and every man without physical disability, with red blood in his veins and with moral courage in his heart should respond. 'Men of St. John, strike until the power of the enemy is shattered, strike for your King and country. The nation has gone down in a death grip with a powerful enemy and all must be cast on the altar that the nation may be saved. All the resources of the city, the country, the bank, the store and the people must be sacrificed in order to win the victory for God and man. Men and women of St. John, there is only one matter before you, fight on, till the victory is won. The day for vengeance on Germany must come before the day of peace. The war will go on until the damage wrought by the Zeppelins, the destruction of the Lusitania and the fearful ravages of the Huns are avenged. Not until every vine in Belgium is replanted and every house rebuilt will the flag of victory be hung up, so cast away your calendars and fight. 'Lloyd George, that magnificent man of Wales, stands in your midst tonight as I quote him: 'What we want is guns and munitions. There is our need. I have read recently that every fifty Germans is supplied with a machine gun and only one gun is allotted to every three hundred men in the British army. We have been fighting German guns with British men. Therefore, I say Canadian guns and Canadian munitions will save Canadian men.' Lord Kitchener in one of his recent speeches at Gullihall, said: 'We want men, more men and still more men.' Men of St. John answer that call and you will be called men."

Lieut. Hugh Teed recently invalided home from the front, and who was in action at Ypres where he suffered from the gas fumes, was next called upon. He wanted to see more New Brunswick men in Europe. The men who represent the province on the other side now are of a splendid type. The 26th has won the admiration of British officers, who declare the battalion to be one of the finest in the British Isles. This is the class of men wanted there.

"At Ypres I saw Major Daval," said Lt. Teed, "and he was a St. John man. I also have seen Major Powers. He and I were on the same brigade staff. He wants more men and I am going to do my very best to get more to relieve him."

"Australia and New Zealand have an army corps at the front. Why can't the Canadians. We are getting all the ammunition we want, but we want men. England can hold them with the men she has got but must have more in order to push on. You don't know how you are needed, so join the colors, the war will not last forever."

Sergeant Knight, already well known to St. John citizens, next spoke. He told of his experience during the day, engaged in getting recruits. Two factories were visited and satisfactory results obtained, although not in the number of recruits obtained, but the impression which the speakers left on the men. He said the recruits today were as good as any that have come forward. They had intellectual ability, moral perfection and physical fitness, no other country men the gathering could compare with them.

Hopewell Cape, Sept. 13—An enthusiastic meeting, held in the Baptist church here tonight in the interests of recruiting. Rev. Captain Parkin, Lieutenant Tingley, who was wounded at the front, and Lieutenant Henry of the 64th Battalion, Rev. Mr. Schurman and Rev. Mr. Elliott all spoke earnestly, urging the men of Albert county to aid in the Empire's cause in the present serious condition of affairs by enlisting for service.

There was a good programme of music and recitations. Miss Pownes and Miss Tingley sang solos and other pleasing features of entertainment characterized the meeting. At the end of the gathering three young men came forward as recruits, and will be ready for medical examination tomorrow morning. They are: William Gordon Bennett, William A. Palmer and George Harold Floyd. Several other men expressed their willingness to enlist. The meeting was most enthusiastic, about 250 people being present, and it compares favorably with any held in the smaller districts of New Brunswick. There will be further meetings in Albert county during the next few days and it is expected that the results will be most encouraging.

BLAMES WEATHER FOR ATTACK ON ORDUNA

CLAIMS CAPTAIN OF "U" BOAT UNABLE TO SEE MARKS ON ORDUNA OWING TO WEATHER

Another Lame Excuse from Berlin for Attack on Cunard Liner which Had 22 Americans Aboard—Explanation Reaches President Wilson.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Germany's explanation of the unsuccessful attempt to destroy the Cunard liner Orduna on July 9 is that the submarine commander violated his instructions which were not to attack any liner, but that because of the weather he was unable to make out the character or the nationality of the Orduna.

The Orduna, bound from Liverpool to New York with some 200 passengers of whom twenty-two were Americans, was attacked by a torpedo, which barely missed her and was shelled by the submarine until she was out of range. The German explanation, which comes in the form of a note, was laid before President Wilson today by Secretary Lansing.

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS SENT TO CAUCASUS

GRAND DUKE NICHOLAS

Grand Duke Nicholas has been transferred to the Caucasus by Emperor Nicholas. The Emperor took this action in the attack by these craft on a small German cruiser off Windau, officially reported yesterday. A statement issued today tells of the attack by several Russian hydroplanes on the cruiser and of their dropping eight bombs, all of which hit the mark, and added:

"One hydroplane was shot down and brought to Windau. Its occupants, two Russian officers, were made prisoners."

RUSSIAN PEOPLE ON THE THRESHOLD OF GREAT AWAKENING

Failure of Army's Defensive Campaign Has Started Avalanche of Criticism of Bureaucrats and Officials Who Crippled Army's Fighting Strength—No Signs of Submission or Thoughts of Defeat, but Indignation and Determination to Remedy Evil and Win Out in the End.

Stockholm, Aug. 14.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The fall of Warsaw, and the failure of the Russian defensive campaign to prevent the German invasion of Poland have had a much more profound effect upon Russian national feeling than is admitted in despatches from Petrograd. The feeling, which has shaken this constitutionally stolid and unemotional country from one end to the other, is not one of discouragement or submission. It has not moved anyone to talk of ultimate defeat or the possibility of Russia's undertaking peace negotiations with Germany.

Russia's reaction is one of intense indignation at the government officials who have been responsible for her tragic shortage of ammunition, necessitating their retreat from one position to another.

The most rigidly-censored press in the world, and a national and inherent inhibition of free comment of any sort, has failed to check the avalanche of criticism and the charges which have been made against the government officials who are held responsible. No attempt is made to conceal this retrospect against the methods of the bureaucrats, who are accused of having crippled Russia's fighting strength and materially delayed the ending of the war.

A prominent member of the Duma said to an American correspondent in Petrograd a few days ago:

Awakening at Hand.

The Russian people are on the threshold of a great awakening. Every one in Russia, officers and civilians, knows why Russia has been compelled to surrender a large part of her territory. They know that they have good officers, and that the fighting strength and spirit of the Russian troops are as high as at the beginning of the war. They know, also, that they have been forced to retreat or stand helpless before the murderous fire of German artillery, while their own guns have been crippled by a shortage of ammunition, and that the fighting strength of the Russian troops are as high as at the beginning of the war. They know, also, that they have been forced to retreat or stand helpless before the murderous fire of German artillery, while their own guns have been crippled by a shortage of ammunition, and that the fighting strength of the Russian troops are as high as at the beginning of the war.

English People Want Reprisals for Zeppelin Raids on London

London, Sept. 13.—(Montreal Gazette Cable)—Since public opinion forced the government to intern the aliens and to declare cotton contraband, public meetings are being organized to demand reprisals on German towns for the Zeppelin raids. It is pointed out that there were no such raids for two months after French aviators bombed and burned Karlsruhe. Law advocates compensation for damage caused by Zeppelins from the enemy aliens' funds now held by the public trustee.

FORMER YARMOUTH MAN DIES IN BOSTON

Special to The Standard.

Yarmouth, N. S., Sept. 13.—George Stanley Brown, a gentleman who has left his record in the history of Yarmouth, is dead in Boston at the age of 88 years. During the middle of the last century no man was more active in the business, social and political life of the county than George S. Brown.

He was born in Yarmouth on Nov. 20, 1825, and on April 27, 1856, married Elizabeth, daughter of the late Hon. James Bond, who died only about two years ago. He received his early education in Yarmouth Academy but in the winter of 1844-45 was under Abbe Goudet of Eel Brook, a learned Frenchman who came here in 1839, afterward going to Harvard University. In 1863 he contested this county against W. H. Townsend, winning by 74. Three years later he resigned his seat, but in 1867 and 1874 again offered, but was defeated on both occasions.

He was heavily interested in shipping and was one of the first board of directors of the Western Counties Railway, now the D.A.R. He was unfortunate in business and during the 70's his property was sold. For over 30 years he has made his home in Boston but has always kept in close touch with Yarmouth. He was the author of a number of historical books treating on Yarmouth and had compiled the complete genealogical trees of all the old Yarmouth families.

He leaves two daughters, Maria Bond Brown, superintendent of the training school for nurses in the Massachusetts General Hospital, and Mrs. Margaret Norris of Ivyton, Conn., and one son Henry T., of the firm of Chase & Seaborn, Chicago. Chas. E. Brown of Halifax is a nephew.

Thin Folks Get Fat On Three Meals A Day

Tells Why Food Does Not Always Produce Flesh And Gain Weight. Should Do What Weigh.

Most people who are thin and underweight eat just as heartily as do folks who are stout and well built but they cannot seem to gain in weight. They finally think it's their nature to be thin and that nothing can make them fat. But this is not necessarily true.

While flesh and fat must of course come from food nourishment it has been proved time and time again that most thin people have defective powers of assimilation and that the bulk of the fat-forming elements of their meals is passing right through their bodies, never reaching the blood at all. Naturally, therefore, they stay thin.

By a simple correction of the assimilative functions this condition rapidly changes and thin people take on new flesh and weight at an amazing rate. A preparation known as Sargol offers a splendid means for accomplishing this purpose. Sargol is an ideal combination of well known assimilative agents. A single concentrated tablet eaten with meals has, according to reports received in many cases within a short time been the means of adding from ten to thirty pounds of solid, healthy flesh. It does not make flesh of itself but its aim is to stop the leakage and waste of fatty nourishment and to prepare the flesh building elements of food into a form which the blood can readily absorb and distribute throughout the body. The effect of this added nourishment in weight increase is remarkable. Thin folks can easily and safely make this test for Sargol is harmless, pleasant to take and inexpensive. Many leading druggists agree to sell it on a positive guarantee of weight increase or money back. This guarantee, plainly printed, is found in every package.

ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1915.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved"—H. M. The King.
TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

THE RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

Yesterday's results in the recruiting campaign were especially gratifying. The number of young men to answer the call to service and enroll in the Empire army was the largest recorded since the effort to fill the ranks of the 64th Battalion was initiated. This is as it should be. At the same time it is well to point out that the need for men has not yet been met. The 64th will be followed by another battalion from this province and Prince Edward Island, and as many more as may be necessary, for, as the Prime Minister of England said last autumn, this war must continue until success unquestionably crowns the arms of the Allies. Then and not until then will it be possible to consider the question of peace.

To achieve such a victory men are required, strong men willing to undergo temporary hardship that freedom may be brought to the world. Those who have enlisted will be privileged to play a part in that glorious result, those who remain deaf to the call must, in the future, rest under the stigma of being content to enjoy the fruits of a freedom they did not help to gain.

Many there are who, through no fault of their own, are prevented from enlisting in service for their country. They are the victims of uncontrollable circumstance and should not be blamed. But there are hundreds of others, the young men of no family ties, the physically fit men, well qualified to pass the requisite medical examinations, who loiter in medical unshamers that others should fight their battles for them. Such men now have the opportunity of proving their manhood. Already the appeal has been made and the need told so plainly that not one man can excuse his indifference on the ground that he did not know. Men who, up to the present, have permitted the opportunity to escape them should at once declare themselves unless they want to be classed with the shirkers. The men who don the King's uniform are fighting for that British freedom which permits their brothers to evade service. So long as there are sufficient volunteers to maintain that freedom the shirkers will not be forced to action. But if it should happen that the Empire's needs cannot be supplied by the free men who offer willingly it may become necessary to adopt a more drastic method.

Conscription in any form is repugnant to every man of British ideals, but it must not be forgotten that the enemy Great Britain is today fighting has built up her armies by compulsion. To meet the result of that system Britain can rely only upon her volunteers. In the past they have not failed her, but if it should become necessary to adopt any method save voluntary enlistment to fill the ranks of the British armies, the chief responsibility will rest with the men who today fail to heed the call or recognize the need.

THE WAR SITUATION

Once more chief interest in the war situation centres on the activities of the Russian front where it now appears the tide of Austro-German progress has at least temporarily halted. The claim is made in Berlin that the Germans have succeeded in capturing a part of the great railway from Kovno to Petrograd, as a result of which it is likely the Russian armies may have to execute another retirement. In Galicia, however, the Muscovite forces are gaining the upper hand. Ensnared in positions where the burden of attack must fall on the enemy, the Czar's soldiers are stubbornly holding their ground, and at the same time taking heavy toll of the advancing Teutons.

Important developments are expected in the Dardanelles and Gallipoli and it is believed by observers that the transfer of Grand Duke Nicholas to the Caucasus indicates a determination on the part of Russia to take a more prominent part in the campaign against the Turks. As Russia stands to gain most from the forcing of the Dardanelles and the capture of the strongholds in the Gallipoli peninsula, the theory that she will bear a larger share of the responsibility of that operation appears plausible. It is also probable that Berlin is familiar with such a development for reports indicate that fresh German troops are being moved in that direction. The Boston Transcript in its summary of the war events of last week referred to that movement as follows:

"There are hints that the Dardanelles situation is exciting the serious attention of the German General Staff, and there are constant reports of the appearance of German troops on the Serbian frontier. There can, of course, be no doubt of the tremendous blow which would be suffered by the Teuton cause were the straits to be penetrated. And unless the Turks have more assistance than has been the case up to the present time there can likewise be no doubt that Gallipoli must fall. In the light of these considerations it is possible to read a great significance in the transfer of the Grand Duke Nicholas to the Caucasian front and the apparent slackening of the German offensive which seems to have followed the action of the Czar. It may be, that Berlin either suspects or knows that the grand duke is to inaugurate a great drive toward Constantinople through Anatolia, and that German troops are now on the way to the edge of the Balkans to protect the line between the central powers and their Turkish ally."

There has been no material change in the situation on the western front, while from the south comes the report that the Italians are steadily eating their way into Austrian territory and have scored minor successes over the enemy. When the full weight of Italy's forces can be placed in a position to strike effectively, progress in that area will be more rapid, but, in the meantime, the Italians are engaging the attention of a large Austrian force and holding whatever gains they make. This in itself is an important achievement as it prepares the way for the general forward movement which must come and which when fairly undertaken will mark the first step toward decisive German defeat.

WHERE NAPOLEON FAILED

If, as Russian reports seem to indicate, the German attempt to advance from Kovno to Vilna should mark a turning point in the eastern campaign, students of history will have another opportunity to trace a parallel between the Teutonic invasion and that of Napoleon. The London Chronicle points out that it was the advance to Vilna that began the wreck of Napoleon's Grand Army; for the vague impression that the mischief was done by the burning of Moscow and the "premature" coming of winter is quite wrong. During that advance thousands of marauders, pillaging the villages and the houses of the nobility, showed how demoralized Napoleon's troops were already becoming. Continuous heavy rains had churned the roads into morasses impassable by supplies and the weaker recruits. Wagon oxen died like flies of disease or had to be killed. In the first few days over 10,000 horses died from eating the rank grass. All mills, granaries and store-houses had been destroyed by the Russians, and even in the Young Guard men died of starvation or blew out their brains in despair.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser dealing with the Liberal contention that an election in war time would be a national disaster says, "We do not see any wrong in holding the election this year, which would be the regular time. The opposition keeps a press campaign going all the time and a platform campaign much of the time. If the people must listen to this sort of thing why should they not have something to say at the polls?"

The Times again hints at "graft in army contracts." Possibly it refers to the graft practiced under Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the time of the South African war, when field dressings were purchased at a price far higher than that at which Mr. Garland was forced to make restitution, and when the most indigestible sort of combination of "sawdust and bran" was foisted on the Canadian troops under the name of emergency rations. That the Times should even hint at its knowledge of such things is encouraging. If it follows its present course it may eventually pick up sufficient courage to tell its readers, all it knows concerning the frauds committed while Sir Wilfrid Laurier was at the helm of the ship of state and for which no restitution was ever asked or made.

Tangible evidence of the value of Sir Robert Borden's visit to Great Britain has been afforded by the arrangements now under consideration for the manufacture of heavy ordnance in Canadian factories. If, as intimated in an Ottawa despatch, the assembling factory for this line of war material is established in St. John or Halifax the people of the Maritime Provinces will receive particular benefit from the added business such an industry will bring. Already the war orders have helped to keep the wheels of Canadian industry in motion and it is likely that as a result of Premier Borden's efforts the pace will not slacken.

The Song of the Zeppelin

(H. D. Sudduth, in New York World.)
By skyeey ways, o'er mountain height,
The dim earth slumbering far below,
I hold my course by compass right,
Like thunderbolts of war and doom,
The glittering constellation burns
Unnumbered in their stellar fires;
Space silent spreads where'er I turn,
And far below are mountain spires!

Onward I speed 'neath moon or star;
Chill grows the night o'er Bulgaria plain;
The skies above all peaceful are
Where Night and Silence hold their reign!

No sentry's warning challenge comes
To halt me in my onward flight,
Like martial music, beat of drums,
My engine heart throbs all the night!

No messenger of love am I,
But like Jove's Eagle swift I go;
I hear through depths of silent sky,
The thunderbolts of war and doom,
My compass points to Dardanelles,
Where mighty hosts opposing stand;
My dragon teeth of shot and shells
I soon will strow upon their strand!

A monarch I of night and air,
I scorn the earth and her attendant;
The things I do, the deeds I dare
Not Homer's self e'er dreamed of sung!

And Ilium's topmost tower vast
To me an idle boast but seems;
The Pretor dims the mighty Past,
For I have scaled the height of dreams!

Lo! in the East the morning star
Now glows o'er lofty Ida's height;
The dawn slow climbs the Orient bar—
'Tis time I fold my wings of night!
For far below, Sophia's dome
Stands guard above the Golden Horn;
Its Star and Crescent signal "Home,"
My freight of death I land at morn!

The Country Editor

Every country editor will recognize himself in the following editorial from the New York Sun, not that they are dead ones, but that in their lives they serve their communities in so many ways. In fact, this tribute to an editor of a country journal might be duplicated almost without limit as a tribute to individuals who are still of the living.

"To the memory of Edwin D. Holfish, lately deceased," says the Sun we beg leave to pay our tribute of profound respect and at the same time extend to the people of Owensville, Ind., an expression of sympathy with them in the loss they have suffered by the extinction of a life so valuable to their community.

"The late Mr. Holfish gave Owensville its first newspaper some 50 years ago, and for close to half a century fully merited and amply received that respect and admiration which in all well poised American villages is accorded to the Editor.

"And his talents were so marvellously diversified! He was, for instance, by all odds the best shoemaker in town, or in all Gibson county for that matter. As for his skill as a sign painter, it is fully authenticated that one of those brilliant beings, a Chicago drummer, once said that barring a slight 'jay' atmosphere easily eliminated, one of the editor's hand-painted signs would be an ornament to Washburn avenue itself. He had perhaps even a defter and more delicately artistic touch when it came to carriage painting.

KING COLE TEA Superlative Quality plus the money-back guarantee WHEN KING COLE TEA first issued its protective guarantee to the purchaser, three years ago, offering to refund the whole of the purchase money for any package of KING COLE returned, there was a very good reason for this radical departure from usual sales methods. We greatly desired a very general trial of KING COLE TEA. Our faith in its quality was unbounded, for we knew the constant care given to its preparation, but we realized the possible doubt the public might have of a TEA then comparatively new, and so we decided to assume the risk of every trial, and pay back the full purchase price of every package of KING COLE that failed to please. No stronger surty of our good faith could be offered, and we felt confident because of the quality of KING COLE TEA that practically every trial would bring us a permanent customer. Things have turned out just as we expected. Not one package has been returned. We have never had a request for "Money Back"—we have never heard of a complaint of "King Cole" quality, while "King Cole" sales have been growing steadily larger year by year. Only exceptional quality could have made such a record, and to-day with more confidence than ever, we invite you to give this tea a test. The "Money Back" offer is still open; every package is sold on that understanding. What better assurance of Tea value could you have, and what better encouragement to buy your first package of KING COLE TEA? G. E. BARBOUR & CO. LIMITED ST. JOHN, N. B.

THE EFFECTS OF FALLING EXCHANGE

Many foreign owned stocks held on Wall St. awaiting favorable opportunity for sale.

The problem of exchange continues as a live subject. On the Stock Exchange its main interest is that low exchange induces sales from abroad. Many foreign-owned stocks are held here awaiting favorable opportunity for sale. Low exchange furnishes this opportunity as much as advancing prices.

To the merchants who have contracted to receive payment for war orders by drawing against foreign centers, lowering rates make considerable difference in profits. On the other hand, if payments are contracted in dollars, this difference goes against the foreign purchaser. The English Government's purchases are evidently being paid for, at least in part, by shipments of gold direct from London. That these can be continued to an enormous amount there is little doubt. The London correspondent of the Evening Post says that conferences have been had in the last two weeks between the Treasury, the Bank of England and the open money market; that they have established close cooperation and that the Bank and the market have declared the amount of gold that they can and will put up at a moment's notice. The English Treasury and France have also arranged for the amount which that country is prepared to pay with, and a similar conference is taking place with Russia. The amount which this correspondent estimates will, if needed, be placed at our disposal by the four allies is between now and the end of the year is $2,000,000,000 in gold.

Benefit of Making Foreign Loans. It would indeed be exceedingly unfortunate if any considerable part of this vast sum should be paid us. There is every reason to believe that the better plan of a large loan will be arranged through the visit of the Allied commission.

As far as the war is concerned, declining exchange, it is to be concluded, can have no important effect. No one believes that the extra expense of exchange at low figures would stop the purchase of munitions. But to our own people (in the last effect upon the farmer), it would have a very important bearing. It is by no means one of the possibilities to have our sales of commodities, grain and cotton especially, seriously interfered with and curtailed; because England can buy these in countries to whom London exchange is as good as gold. It is certainly to our advantage to have the exchange problem solved, and having the commodities and a great basis for credit, we as certainly have the power to arrange the method of solution.—Bache's Review.

MARKET DEVELOPED STRENGTH IN FINAL HOUR AFTER A DULL DAY

News that Washington agrees to submit main points of Arabic incident to arbitration cheered traders in closing hour—U.S. Steel the day's feature.

New York, Sept. 13.—Wall Street's absorbing interest in the diplomatic situation and the outcome of the impending foreign exchange negotiations was reflected in the dullness of today's trading. The market was in a state of suspended animation for the greater part of the session, but became active and strong in the final hour, on reports that Washington and Berlin had agreed to submit the main points of the Arabic incident to arbitration.

Another favorable factor was the announcement of the placing of additional large orders for steel and iron by foreign interests. These orders, it was declared, are likely to be considerably augmented should a large Anglo-French war loan be made by our bankers. Metal stocks also made decided improvement, their advance being associated with a better inquiry for refined copper.

The uncertainty attending credit conditions between this centre and London was seen in the unsettled state of demand sterling, which fluctuated between 4.64 3/4 and 4.67 1/4, closing at 4.66 1/2.

Bonds were irregular, a condition ascribed to further foreign offerings. Total sales, par value, $7,470,000.

CLOSING LETTER OF N.Y. MARKET BY E. & C. RANDOLPH

New York, Sept. 13.—Following the termination of the conference between Secretary Lansing and the German Ambassador, intimations were sent out from Washington that the exchange of views between the representatives of the German government and the head of our State department was satisfactory and that there were no serious points of difference or insurmountable obstacles in the way of a complete understanding. This news imparted increased strength to the stock exchange although after a moderate advance there was evidence once more of a desire to await complete information and the trading relaxed into dullness at the end. The preferred shares of the Erie issues were among the day's features, and the strength in them was due to the increased earnings of the road. United States Steel was a leader in the afternoon's advance and other steels showed strength particularly Bethlehem and Crucible Steels, 862,000. Bonds, $75,000.

IMPERIAL CROWDS SEE REMARKABLE BILL

Big Musical Act, The Goddess; Kathryn Williams and Weekly - Jack Lounon's The Sea Wolf to-morrow.

Crowded houses greeted the Imperial's new programme yesterday, especially in the evening. The afternoon patrons were disappointed in not hearing The Hughes Trio, who were late in arriving from Sydney, but the night crowds were delighted with these clever people. The new Vitagraph serial story "The Goddess" was another budget of charming surprises and Kathryn Williams, Wheeler Oakman and other "Spellers" favorites in the three-part drama "The Ebb Tide," presented a powerful play. The animated Weekly contained ten interesting subjects.

It would not be exaggeration to say that The Hughes Trio (a lady and two gentlemen) act as can be found on any stage, that is, in its own particular line—musical novelties. In the first place the players are genuine artists, not tricksters, and their selections and the way they played them evidence careful study and hard practice. Their trappings were rich and new, and they were appropriately staged. Encore after encore greeted the act which lasted over a quarter of an hour. The programme put on by The Hughes Trio was as follows:

1. Trumpet trio, (a) "Idea of My Dreams," (b) "When My Ship Comes In";
2. Banjo trio, Medley of Popular Airs;
3. Violin solo, "Gipsy Airs," Saratoga;
4. Novelty bells, "Rag Time Temple Bells," Chin Chin;
5. Saxophone trio, (a) "Old Mill Stream," (b) "Bird of Paradise";
6. "The Goddess," The Standard-Imperial serial photoplay, produced by the Vitagraph Co., and written by Gouverneur Morris, is already a huge success as was proven by the rapt attention and favorable comments of yesterday's crowds. There were no high-power melodramas to stir the people into excitement, no inconsistent situations, but a sweet and most unusual thread of incidents following upon the escape of Celestia from the remote state of Irref. Stilletter, Tommy Barclay (Earle Williams) takes it upon himself to protect the angel-like maiden, but her wistful innocence and ignorance of the conventions of proper society, so-called, make it difficult for him to convey her beyond the reach of the evil-doing Stilletter. The chapter is full of laughs and thrills, natural and exhilarating. Anita Stewart as Celestia the Goddess is a charmingly sweet bit of portraiture. She has become so imbued with the spirit of "The Goddess" that she is enveloped in an atmosphere of such divine beauty and inspiration that to gaze on her is to be lifted and changed yourself. Her rendition of Gouverneur Morris' great creation will become more marvellous to you as you read his great story and follow the girl on the screen through her classic struggle with the forces of evil, meeting with earthly love and directing the world to a renaissance of beauty.

Tomorrow the Keith house is going to put on another of the big stories of current issue, "The Sea Wolf." The very essence of Jack London's charm and fascination have been transferred from the book to his remarkable motion picture. The scenes of the picture are laid almost entirely on ship board, the exception being the island on which the fleeing couple are marooned until they are miraculously rescued by the ship "Ghost," which aimlessly drifted to the island's shore. The first picture is a reproduction of the collision which occurred in San Francisco Bay some ten years ago between the ferriesboats "Martinez" and "Sausalito." This is conceded by motion picture experts to be the most realistic scene ever enacted before a camera.

"STOP THIEF", THE HIT OF THEATRE SEASON

Klark-Urban Co. Added Another Success to Long List—See the Play.

The Klark-Urban Co. scored another hit, in the Opera House last night, in the presentation of "Stop Thief," a three-act farce comedy by Carlyle Moore.

"Stop Thief" is a "Cohan and Harris" success, and comes to St. John with the stamp of a "hit" placed upon it by audiences in New York, where it enjoyed nearly a year of phenomenal success. It abounds in surprises and thrills, and is certainly one of the best laugh getters seen in this city in a long time.

The efforts of the company met with the hearty approval of a capacity house, and the applause accorded the production throughout, showed the keen appreciation of a happy audience.

Harden Clark, as James Cluey, the groom, handled his part with his usual ability, and those who have seen Mr. Clark in previous productions know that this is the highest tribute that can be paid him.

Of Maisie Cecil, as Nell, the maid, need be said, she has already won for herself a warm spot in the hearts of St. John playgoers, and last night she had added to her laurels.

Jack Doogan, the thief, portrayed by Albert Patterson, provoked spasms of merriment throughout the entire bill, by his dexterity in secreting purloined articles on the persons of assembled guests, causing much embarrassment to the persons so honored.

The other members of the cast, by their able support, assisted in making the play one that will be remembered as a distinct success by those who were fortunate enough to witness it.

The bill will be repeated tonight and Wednesday and at matinees daily.

The specialties between the acts were of a high order and received merited appreciation.

The cast is as follows:

- Joan Carr, the bride's sister, ... Auralee Clarke
- Mrs. Carr, the bride's mother ... Lillian Dean
- Mrs. Carr, the bride ... Marion Allen
- Nell, the new maid ... Maisie Cecil
- Wm. Carr, forgetful but honest ... Frank Urban
- James Cluey, the groom ... Harden Klark
- James Cluey, a business acquaintance ... Thomas Brower
- Dr. Willoughby, a friend of the family ... Billy Webb
- Rev. Mr. Spelvin, the minister ... A. E. Tenne
- Jack Doogan, the thief ... Albert Patterson
- Joseph Thompson, a "good" detective ... LeRoy Kenneth
- Sergeant of police ... Chas. E. Mills
- Policeman Clancy ... Curtis Short
- Chauffeur ... Harry Forbes

that the doctors had decided that an operation was unnecessary. Sergt. Theall left with the 6th C. M. R., now stationed at Shorncliffe, England.

Farmers of Bloomfield and vicinity are about through haying and report an excellent crop.

FAMOUS PICTURES
 "Rivals" like Picture No. 1—has to do with the masterly transcendent triumph of "Tractions" in 1912.
 As the train alone had previously crossed the continent so now "The Master Tire," with the greatest of all tire achievements to its credit, is a rival of the "Iron Monster."
 And, on the other hand, as "Tractions" have shown their unmatched ability in the Halifax to Vancouver triumph, they now recognize no rival but the train.
 The "V's" stand for complete road resistance, exceptional mileage, non-varying safety—absolute ability to get the motorist to his destination on any road, or in any weather, without the aid of chains.
 On no other tire is there an anti-skid surface with individual corrugations as wide or as deep.
 $100 in gold for the best stories about this and the other "Famous Pictures." The stories to be written by Canadian-born children, under fifteen, whose parents, brothers, sisters or relatives own auto, motorcycle, or bicycles equipped with one or more Dunlop Tractions Tread Tires.
