A COUGH

is a symptom of many diseases, including inflammation of the Lungs and Pharynx. Often a cough is neglected, the patient believing it to be only a trifling ailment, but when it once takes hold of the Lungs, how difficult to cure.

OFTEN

you hear the patient say, "Oh, it's only a cough, I'll soon be over it," and so he lets it run until he can't be cured, and then his career is an early one, all caused by simple neglect or refusal to take the proper remedies and thus many a life that might have been prolonged but for carelessness. Don't neglect a cough; it is time and money can be saved by attending to it at once. Physicians now agree that Col. Lower Oil is the best remedy to use in all pulmonary diseases, and it is prescribed extensively; but they often find that the patient cannot take it, as the stomach refuses to retain it. Eaton's Col. Lower Oil can be retained by the most delicate stomach, as it is as pleasant as milk. Try it. All druggists sell it.

MEHITABLE SANKS.

The Rev. Mr. Shaw contrasted greatly with his surroundings—his spindly figure, his clear-cut, Grecian features, and dark, wavy hair thrown back with careless grace from his smooth brow.

He was visiting one of those wretched tenement houses, used by the very poor, and before him was a forlorn group.

A widow who had just buried her husband; she had five helpless children—the eldest six, the youngest a nursing baby, and a pair of twins among them.

The rags, and worst of all, the dirt of poverty everywhere apparent.

An expression of almost sublime pity rested on the countenance of the minister.

FIRE AT GIBSON.

Special to Globe.
FREDERICTON, April 16.—The entire business portion of the village of Gibson was destroyed by fire about midnight. The fire caught in Close's barn and made great headway before it was discovered. The fire department from St. Mary's was soon on hand and by great efforts succeeded in saving the village from destruction. The stores and dwellings of Benj. Close, Jas. R. Garden, and James Boyd were burned to the ground, and the stock, &c., nearly all lost. Close's trifling losses "Dominion Boy" and a cow were burned. The fire is supposed to have been started by a tramp sleeping in the barn. The worst case of vandalism witnessed in the vicinity in some time marked the fire. Everything taken from the buildings was stolen. Mr. Close's stock was insured for $2,000, the buildings for $2,000, and the furniture for $500 in the Imperial, Hartford, & City of London. Mr. Garden's stock and buildings were insured for $1,000 in the Northern. Mr. Boyd was insured for $2,000. Mr. Albert Edgemoor, while assisting at the fire, lost a valuable diamond ring. He found it this morning in the ashes injured.

James Parkyn, a good Liberal, says the Hamilton Spectator, has just returned from an extended trip to the Northwest in the interests of James Turner & Co. of this city. He reports business generally quiet, as is to be expected at this season of the year; but all look forward to a good spring and summer trade. Mr. Parkyn, who has had twenty-three years' experience in the grain trade, says it is marvellous the way the Canadian Pacific railway has handled so much of last season's grain crop considering all the difficulties the company have had to contend with. The great cause of the delay in getting cars through is the unusually heavy snowfall this winter north of Lake Superior. For some 900 miles along the railway the snow is from four to six feet deep on the level and the "oldest inhabitants" declare that they have not seen the like for twelve years. Another cause of complaint is the failure of the grain dealers to provide storage as so to take proper care of the grain as it is brought to market. At one station alone, where there are no elevators, the Canadian Pacific railway has this winter provided cars for nearly 750,000 bushels of grain. In the early days of the Grand Trunk, Mr. Parkyn states that there was one winter where the grain dealers of St. Mary's to Sarnia were two months without cars. Mr. Parkyn hits the mark when he states the trouble is that Providence sent a larger crop than either the farmer, grain dealer or Canadian Pacific railway expected or were prepared for.

WINNIPEG, April 8.—Four colonist trains consisting of 55 cars of immigrants and stock arrived to-day. In all 1,300 immigrants arrived during the past week. All speak in the highest terms of their treatment on the Canadian Pacific. One hundred and three cars of stock have arrived so far this year against 150 during the whole of '87. Mr. Graham, Dominion Government immigration agent, reports that he cannot remember in the history of Manitoba any season when labor was so much in demand or wages better than during the past year. He reports among the immigrants of this year a number of arrivals from Europe, and gives favorable reports of the Scandinavian, Icelandic, German and Hungarian settlements already formed in the province.

MONTREAL, April 13.—The river has been rising ever since Wednesday and there are great fears of a flood at Point St. Charles. The lake St. Louis ice is coming down in large quantities, but at Victoria Bridge there appears to be a blockade and immense blocks of ice are disappearing below the surface. There can be no doubt but that at this place there is a decided jam. The south shore channel is entirely closed. There is not the slightest indication of a shove. The water, however, is not rising much but this does not allay the fears of a flood. It is thought in the harbor commission's office that a shove is not likely to occur until about the 25th of the month. Pumps are now all in readiness and are said to be in good working order. The protection the dike will afford is looked upon as doubtful.

The issue of the voting on the Scott Act repeal petition in the united counties of Dundas, Stormont and Glenargy is regarded as somewhat doubtful. A gentleman well acquainted in Glenargy with facilities for gauging the drift of public sentiment, looks for a majority against the law in that county and thinks that the Dundas and Stormont go strongly for the measure it will fail. Strong supporters at the last contest have become partly indifferent through the impression that liquor is largely sold in the county, and that the strongest efforts of the law officials are not equal to the task of suppressing the traffic. At Morrisburg, in Dundas county on the other hand, the impression appears to be that a majority of the electors will be found to oppose the petition for repeal.

WINNIPEG, April 10.—The Call to-day strongly condemns the rumored action of the Liberals at Ottawa as to opposing the terms of settlement between the Government and the C. P. R. It says the proposed settlement is extraordinary in its moderation. The public certainly expected the country would be called on to pay from five to ten millions cash for the alienation of the clause. Now they are astonished at the arrangement arrived at by which not one cent is added to the public indebtedness. Legislation to carry this into effect should go through Parliament by unanimous consent. The people will look out for the miserable party hacks who attempt to impede it, and who by their action will plainly show their regret that the source of agitation is removed.

Dominion Parliament.

the treaty, point by point, showing Davies either could not have read the treaty, or did not understand it. He concluded a short but exceedingly lively speech by claiming that the policy of the government had been consistent throughout and that Davies' only objection to it, in which he was candid, was that they still persisted in retaining their seats conformably to the wishes of the people of Canada.

Jones, of Halifax, moved the adjournment of the debate.

To-day, after routine, Mr. Laurier moved his resolution declaring the dissolution of the speaker of the House of Commons to be illegal and beyond the power of the speaker. He spoke at length in support of his motion, followed by Hon. Mr. Chapleau in defence of the speaker's action.

Mills moved in amendment to Laurier's motion that the speaker's action was not only illegal but was unfair since other translators who had used equally violent language had not been dismissed. This led to the debate taking a general turn, and at six o'clock it was still in progress.

The debate on the Laurier motion was resumed after recess and continued until nearly two o'clock in the morning, when Sir John moved in amendment to the amendment that the speaker's action was perfectly legal and proper.

A division was taken, resulting in the adoption of Sir John's motion, 113 for, 61 against; majority 52.

To-day when the house met considerable time was wasted in questions of privilege of one kind and another. Among other Mr. Laurier complained of the government supporters indulging in cat-calls and other sounds when certain members of the opposition voted. The complaint was understood to have reference to the manner in which McMillen's vote is generally received. Sir Hector Langevin in reply reminded Mr. Laurier of the manner in which Mr. Baird was treated by the opposition last season, and said that if those manifestations were calculated to create ill feelings in the house the opposition were not to blame for their ill feeling, but the government supporters. After some further discussion it was generally conceded that hereafter there should be no more insulting manifestations of this kind.

The bill for the suppression of the bucket shops, passed by the senate, was read a first time.

Hon. Mr. Foster introduced a bill for the better inspection of steamboats. The government were waited on to-day by a large deputation from Quebec asking assistance to bridge the St. Lawrence at that point. They ask two million and a half of dollars subsidy or a guarantee of interest on four millions. Sir John indicated that the government might agree to assist such a project to some extent, but not to the extent asked for.

The government have received advice from Newfoundland that they will arrange for the admission of that colony into the union will arrive here in June. Mr. Thompson gave notice to-day of his bill regarding judicial salaries. Under the provisions of this bill the various chief justices in Ontario and Quebec receive seven thousand dollars each. In Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba and British Columbia chief justices receive six thousand dollars each and puisne judges five thousand, and in P. E. the chief justice receives five thousand dollars and the puisne judges four thousand. Those judges in Quebec with fixed residences outside of the cities of Quebec and Montreal receive four thousand five hundred each, this is in addition to usual travelling allowance.

After recess the house continued the consideration of bills and adjourned at eleven o'clock.

OTTAWA, April 12.—To-day after routine, Mr. Jones, of Halifax, resumed the debate on the fisheries treaty.

Mr. Kenny of Halifax followed. He regarded this as the most important question that had ever come before parliament since he had a seat in it. It was especially important to Nova Scotia in view of the large interest in the fisheries were in that province. It proposed to settle a number of disputes of long standing and to settle them in such a way as to give satisfaction to all parties. He was not responsible for these disputes. They had been settled by the treaty of 1874 and by the treaty 1871, both of which had been torn up by the congress of the United States. (Cheers.) Again, in 1883, our government had made a valuable concession to the fishermen of the United States in order to induce that country to negotiate a settlement, but the congress of the United States refused to act on the recommendation of the president, and there was nothing left for Canada but to enforce the treaty of 1871. This she did, not because she wanted to but because she had to in self-defence. Still, when an opportunity presented itself, to make a settlement, to arrange an understanding satisfactory to both parties, we were only doing what we had always shown our willingness to do in making a treaty with them. Regarding the terms of the treaty he believed them to be equitable. Points had been conceded, and that was always the case where nations submitted their disputes to arbitrators or commissioners to settle. So long as the treaty conceded nothing that would injure our fishermen he felt that the house would be acting wisely in supporting it. In answer to Mr. Jones, respecting bait, he quoted the Halifax Convention in denunciation of the treaty because it did not concede the right to buy bait. (Cheers.) As to the headlands, Mr. Jones had denounced the treaty because it did not concede the right to settle the headlands dispute, while now he was found opposing this treaty because it did. For his own part he would vote for the treaty, as he felt he would be best representing the wishes of his constituents by doing so. (Cheers.) Mr. Eisenhauer followed and argued that the treaty would injure the deep sea fishermen by raising the price of bait. Under the Washington treaty bait was five or six dollars a barrel. At present it was not more than half that price, and the difference went into the pocket of the deep sea fishermen. If the Americans were allowed to come in again it would put up the price of bait once more to the old figures. This might be some advantage to the in-shore fishermen who caught the bait, but the fishermen of Lunenburg were deep sea men and it was not in their interests.

AFTER RECESS General Laurier resumed the debate, and in a clear and concise speech gave his reasons for supporting the treaty. He commenced by alluding to the fact that in the protection of the fisheries Canada had shown that she was more than a nation on paper. Though the cost of that protection was very considerable, no man in parliament, and so far as he knew, no man in Canada had complained of that expense. Indeed, this only complaint made was that the government were not doing enough. In conclusion he said that he had advised from his country, from those of both political parties, to the effect that the general opinion there among those interested in fishing was that the treaty should be ratified. For this reason, because it commended itself to his own judgment, he would support it.

Peter Mitchell, in rising, said the treaty was a complete giveaway so far as Canada was concerned, but that he was nothing for it but to ratify it. (Ironical cheers.) He commenced to abuse the British government for having failed to support Canada in her past extreme contentions. He continued speaking for two hours, reading despatches to show how the whole case had been given away by the British government. He wound up with the statement that in view of the way we had been treated, he found his loyalty oozing out of him and that hereafter he would not consider himself under any obligation to respect British opinion or British interests.

Hon. Mr. Foster followed in a speech of an hour and a half's duration refuting the charges made against the manner in which the fishery protection service had been performed, and correcting Mr. Mitchell's statements that Great Britain had not stood at our back. As far as his (Foster's) experience went it was wholly false.

Kirk moved the adjournment of the debate, whereupon Mr. Mitchell rose and commenced an attack on Foster. The debate was by agreement adjourned till Monday evening, the bill then to be advanced two stages.

The finance minister said he hoped to make his budget speech on Friday next.
