The race is dying out so fast, and the opportunity of counting a cannibal among your acquaintance is growing so rare, that my impression of them may not be without interest. During a trip through the Northern Island of New Zealand Her white hands clasped in nervous dread, in 1880, I met in the vicinity of the beautiful Bay of Islands, the old Maori chief, Te Hemera. At this time he was approaching 80 years of age, but his intellect was bright and his memory apparently unimpaired. In his younger days he must have been a man paign of magnificent physique. He well remember-ed the arrival of the first white settlers and many and wonderful were the yarns he told about them. On the subject of cannibalism he spoke as an expert, having partaken of many a human joint. From him I learned that the Maori never indulged in cannibalism except in the case of enemies killed or taken prisoner in battle. The Dominion election for Carleton Ontario, rendered necessary by Sir John's resignation to sit for Kingston, is being held to-day. The candidates are Dickenson and Powell, both Conservatives, the Grit party not caring to risk a candidate in such a strong government constituency.

The recount and scrutiny in the county of Haldimand, Ontario, are concluded, and Dr. Montague holds the seat. Mr. Colter's hopes of sitting in Parliament during the present term are therefore crushed. A long array of charges were brought against Dr. Montague, but investigation in the elec tion court showed them to be ground less, and the petition was dismissed with costs. The scrutiny, however, reduced Dr. Montague's majority to another was only revealed by the Maritime Bank crash. The fallacy of dependence has been shown clearly and to-day there are more firms in the city standing upon their own bottom than there have been in the past ten years. A keen, prudent and suc-cessful merchant said yesterday, "Living beyond ther means has caused the failure of many merchants in St. John the past year.

An amusing decision has been rendered by the County Court of Webster, Georgia. Elijah Carnes was selling out for the purpose of moving to Texas, and among his stock was a fine herd of cattle. Mr. Carnes owed considerable to the merchants of Preston and one of them attached the cattle. It was here that Mrs. Carnes appeared as the claimant of the cattle. She stated that while Mr. Carnes was paying ourt to her, he was not able to present her with an engagement ring, and in lieu thereof he presented her with a yearling heiter. The engagement offering grew and multiplied and the result is the herd of cattle which is the bone of contention. The udge awarded the cattle to the lady.

If instead of spending $5,000 and making $3,000 they had lived upon $2,000 and save the remainder they could have stood the financial break; but it's eat, drink and be merry and to-morrow you fail."

When society interfers with business it loses its hold upon the public. Social gatherings are indispensible; but the patient hen-pecked man who, after a hard day's work follows his wife or best girl to a dance or whatever it may he, to observe her flirt with another fellow, has rebelled against the fashionable mandates which request his company at an "At Home from 4 to 7." he saw that the woman's mind was as broken and weak as her body, and she thought it was a matter which would come right of itself by and by. She rang the bell as directed, and a servant answered it almost immediately. Madam motioned her to approac and still speaking in a whisper, said :

"This lady, Eliza, is Miss Melfert. have engaged her to come here and take She bent and softly kissed her, more charge of the house and care for Miss Amy, until—until I am able to be about again"—this last with a doubtful sigh I desire," she added, "that you make everything as comfortable and easy as possible for her. Show her to the west hamber, and then bring me my gruel and beef tea," Pearle followed the girl from the com to the one designated for her use, seling more and more interested in this forlorn family, with which there seemed to be connected so strange a mystery. That night as she lay down to sleep she was haunted by the face of the young and beautiful mother of Amv. She had seen her picture—taken when a girl of eighteen, apparently—hanging in the pretty parlor below.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medient Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleaness the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever causa arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys and other exerctory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both fiesh and strength. In malarini districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.
