

Out in the Cold!

Salisbury's Government Will Ignore the Claims of Ireland.

The Old Methods of Coercion Likely to be Revived.

Gladstone's Sight and Hearing Failing. But His Will Power is Tremendous.

THE NEW COMMANDER.
London, June 30.—In its issue tomorrow the Chronicle will say that it is rumored that the Marquis of Lansdowne, the new Secretary of State for War, intends to make General Lord Roberts commander-in-chief of the army, ignoring Field Marshal Lord Wolseley, whom Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, the late War Minister, intended should have the position.

PLENTY OF MONEY.
London, June 30.—Within the past week the most ample pecuniary resources have been placed at the disposal of Lord Tweedmouth, who manages the electoral purse of the Liberal party. The fact that the Marquis is willing to subscribe to the campaign fund puts heart into the leaders, who are determined to make a good fight in a good cause.

THE G. O. M.
London, June 30.—Mr. Gladstone has remained a few days in London since his return from Kiel. He is closely guarded by his friends, and sees few people. His health is fairly good, but he suffers from imperfect hearing and failing sight. With the help of glasses he can still read, but he recognizes faces with difficulty. Rumors are constantly started that he will stand for Parliament, or at least take some part in the electoral struggle, but these are followed by authoritative denials. His will power is still tremendous, but his retirement from public life is final. Some Liberal journals are urging him to write a farewell address to the electors of Midlothian, if he cannot force himself to do anything more.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.
Berlin, June 30.—A wooden case weighing 25 pounds arrived on Saturday night at the parcel office in Oranienburger-Strasse, this city, from Neustadt. The case was addressed to the chief executive of the police, General Krause. A liquid trucking from the bottom of the case aroused the suspicions of the officials. The bottom was loosened, when it was discovered that the liquid was benzine. The police were summoned, and they found that the case contained five litres of benzine in seven bottles, joined together with lint and connected with an alarm clock set at 10.30 o'clock. There was also in the case a five-chambered loaded revolver, the trigger of which was connected by a cord with the lid of the case and the clock. Thus at 10.30 o'clock, or upon removing the lid, there would have been an explosion. The police are searching for the sender of the infernal machine.

THE HONOR ROLL.
London, June 30.—The list of honors conferred by the Queen on the occasion of the retirement of the Rosebery Government has been published. Lord Houghton, the retiring Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, and Lord Carrington, the retiring Secretary of State for India, are the only ones who have been created barons. The following are created baronets: Sir Brougham Loch, recently Governor of Cape Colony; the Right Hon. Herbert Gardner, M.P., the retiring President of the Board of Agriculture; Mr. Sydney James Stern, M.P., and Mr. James Williamson, M.P.

The baronets include the Lord Mayor of London and Mr. Leyland, an ex-M.P.

THE RIGHT HON. HENRY FOWLER, Secretary of State for India in Lord Rosebery's Cabinet, is made a Knight Grand Commander Order of the Star of India; the Right Hon. H. Campbell-Bannerman, the retiring Secretary of State for War, a Knight Grand Cross Order of the Bath; and Mr. Giffen a Grand Commander of the same order.

OUT IN THE COLD.

Ireland Likely to Have a Poor Chance Under the New Administration.

London, June 30.—At 3.10 o'clock yesterday afternoon Salisbury Cabinet started from Paddington Station for Windsor to receive the seals of office. A large crowd had gathered at the station to witness the departure of the new Ministers and heartily cheered them.

The constitution of the Salisbury Cabinet, with the new Secretary for Ireland excluded, confirms the worst fears of the Irish Parliamentary party that the Government means to ignore the Irish claims and resort to the old methods of coercion. It is conceded that Earl Cadogan, the new Viceroy of Ireland, will be a brilliant society entertainer, but neither his presence nor that of Baron Ashbourne, Lord Chancellor of Ireland, in the Cabinet, can secure the people getting prompt or sufficient hearing from the Government.

Another dispatch says: The Irish party will appear in Parliament further divided, to face a Government more so powerful and compact than the Ministers will be able to treat the Irish vote with indifference.

The appointment of the Right Hon. Sir Matthew White-Ridley as Secretary of State for Home Affairs, succeeds Mr. Wm. Court-Gully in his position of Speaker of the House of Commons. The Liberal plan for the appointment of a committee to direct army affairs will now vanish into thin air. It is certain that with a Unionist Government the Duke of Connaught will be appointed to command-in-chief of the army. The Standard even goes so far as to hint that the retirement of the Duke of Cambridge, the present commander-in-chief, may be reversed.

The New York Tribune's correspondent, Mr. L. N. Ford, cables from London: "The Secretary for Ireland is not known this morning, but he will not be in the Cabinet, whoever he may be. Lord Cadogan and Ashbourne may be responsible for Irish administration and legislation, but the Secretaryship will be degraded by the loss of Cabinet rank, and the Irish members will be irritated by having only one Minister to worry in the Commons."

Harold Frederick cables the New York Times in regard to the elections in Ireland, I think, is all right. The result in Cork is not at all to be taken as showing a great growth in the Parnellite strength. Elsewhere in Ireland there will be Parnellite losses instead of gain, and sanguine Nationalists must not count on at least 55 seats to be won from the Tories and five from the Parnellites. There are also negotiations for a deal between the Nationalists and Parnellites to join in taking St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, away from the Tories. In any case, it seems beyond doubt that the Nationalists will return with increased ranks, and what is infinitely more to the point, it is tolerably certain that Healey will have a majority in that body.

There are eight peers in the Cabinet, and a ninth will be added by the election of Sir Henry James to the peerage. The Unionists certainly are standing by the House of Lords. The Unionists count confidently upon making heavy gains in Scotland and the metropolitan districts, but forecasts are of little value when the registers of the United Kingdom contain the names of over 6,000,000 voters.

The Labor party is very active, and the Liberals are threatened with serious divisions in the industrial centers. Ireland is a ferment of factional warfare. Mr. McCarthy has issued a judicious address and appealed earnestly for financial aid. Mr. Redmond's manifesto is an aggressive proclamation of war against both English parties.

To turn to the other side of the shield, people observe that there have been sixteen persons about in silver—put into the stop-gap Cabinet, but their attention is concentrated on two only—Chamberlain and Salisbury. Of the rest it may be said briefly that they embrace fevered deadheads than Tory Cabinets usually contain. Five of the old gang have been shelved—Rutland, Cranbrook, Knutsford, Matthews and Jackson—and that is some comfort. Balfour is the only one left, something of a cloud, in a popular sense. In troubled times like these he cuts a slender figure at best, beside the burly buccaneering form of his uncle. Moreover, he has just been publicly admonished about his important Tory magnates, and is much humbled. As to Chamberlain, the spectacle of him seated on a high bench in the Tory Cabinet is slowly soaking itself into the popular mind. When the process is completed a permanent change will have been wrought in English politics. A certain small number who followed him out of the Liberal party now decline to do so, and are returning to their allegiance. Others accept the situation dumbly without expressing delight either by gestures, and a great many old Tories are openly indignant at his presence with their Unionist comrades in their Cabinet. That this little band of Whig renegades, who contribute perhaps a twentieth of the votes, should get a quarter of the offices, seems to be playing it very low down.

At the Capital.

Something Definite Regarding Remedial Legislation Expected Tuesday.

(Specially telegraphed by our own Representative.)
Ottawa, June 30.—It is expected that some definite information will be given the House on Tuesday as to what the Government's intentions are regarding remedial legislation. A member of the Cabinet stated today that legislation would be brought down either from the Government benches or by some one on that side of the House. The bill that has been drafted is now in the hands of Mr. Oulmet, and as far as it is possible to learn it is the Ewart bill considerably modified. Major Sam Hughes has taken a determined stand against remedial legislation, and he claims there are enough members in the House holding the same views to make it warm for the Government if they attempt interference this session.

Mr. Weldon, M.P., contends that the Governor-General in Council in hearing and disposing of the appeal of Manitoba acted as a judicial and not as a political body. But when the argument was being heard on the last appeal to the judicial committee of the Privy Council, Lord Watson said: "I apprehend that the appeal to the Governor is an appeal to the Governor's discretion—it is a political, administrative appeal, and not a judicial appeal in any proper sense of the term, and in the same way after he has decided, the same latitude of discretion is given to the Dominion Parliament." Lord Macnaughton also said: "We are a judicial body, and he (the Governor-General) is not sitting as a judicial body."

Late Canadian News.

The Hamilton Cheek-Grabber Still at Large.

A. Cochrane, reeve of West Flamboro, has been appointed county treasurer of Wentworth, in place of John T. Flock, who was short in his accounts.

Mrs. Dick, who resides with Mike Welsh, at 231 Bay street north, Hamilton, was found dead lying in a pool of blood on Saturday night. Foul play is suspected.

Ald. Patrick Kennedy, M. P., member for the center division of Montreal in the Quebec Legislature, died on Sunday morning. Mr. Kennedy was in his 65th year.

A new paper made its appearance on Saturday. This is the Ottawa Post, a Catholic weekly. The publisher is Mr. P. Nolan, who was recently with the Citizen.

An explosion of a lamp at Anderson's boarding house, Waterloo avenue, in Guelph, on Sunday morning, caused about $1,500 damage. The room where the explosion occurred was completely gutted.

The thief who snatched two bank-books containing checks and drafts to the value of $2,489 from Miss Gallagher, stenographer in the office of Chisholm & Loxie, barristers, Hamilton, on Friday afternoon, has not been apprehended yet. Payment of the checks has been stopped.

Robert Rowe, a young man who lives with his parents near Stoney Creek, but who crosses the calls of the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway on Friday. The vigilance of the motorman alone prevented a serious accident. Rowe was arrested, and his mental condition will be inquired into.

T. C. THORNHILL, optician, jeweler, watchmaker, engraver, general repairing. Lawn mowers sharpened and repaired. A call solicited, 402 Talbot street.

Away for the Holiday.

Many of the Soldiers in Camp Leave the City.

Big Crowds Visit the White City on Sunday.

Divine Service Early on the Heights—Dissatisfaction at Being Compelled to Spend Monday Under Canvas.

Sunday in camp was a great day for the civilians. An invading party, thousands strong, from the city, stormed and captured the Heights without the least resistance from the red-coats, who welcomed them cordially and gave them the freedom of the White City. It was the first opportunity many of the citizens had to visit the camp. The heads of households took their wives and families, the future heads of households took their sweethearts, and men came singly and in battalions. By 3 o'clock the visiting tide had reached high water mark, and the volunteers were literally swamped by comparison. The weather was perfect. The civilians were interested in the soldiers and the soldiers were interested in the civilians. It was a good time to inspect camp life. The tents were thrown open and the illustrations of male household-keeping were highly entertaining to the ladies especially. The children found endless delight in the military trappings and accoutrements. Many of the volunteers slept, oblivious to their surroundings, and all were glad of an afternoon's escape from the hard and dull routine of the drill field.

A QUIET HOLIDAY.
Camp will be considerably thinned out today. The Essex battalion and band go to Chatham early; the Waterloo and Bruce bands have already gone to their respective counties to fill engagements; and many privates and officers have returned home for the holiday. There never was a time when the volunteers were so vexed and disappointed as at having to spend Dominion Day under canvas contrary to all expectations and arrangements. After first being called out at an early date and after preparing to spend the holiday at home, the grounds, which were cancelled to take effect a week later, so as to keep the men here on July 1. In the country districts men went to the railway stations at the original date, unaware of the change and they found themselves losing thus a day's time and a day's pay—so sudden, so unexpected and so unusual was the issue of the second order. In some battalions the men naturally rebelled and declined to comply with the necessity to draft a number of young recruits at the last moment in order to fill up the ranks. Under these circumstances it is certain that the camp will be quiet till Tuesday.

DIVINE SERVICES AT CAMP.
Shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning the brigade was called out for church parade. The various battalions were marched to the bluff overlooking the western end of the grounds, where a temporary pulpit had been erected. Around this the soldiers were clustered, and Rev. Canon Richardson, of the Memorial Church, promptly began the beautiful morning service of the Anglican Breviary, for his text, Ecclesiastes, xii, 13—"Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." The discourse was short, but most pointed. First, reverence was made to the necessity for force was made to the necessity for authority, whether in military, civil, or in home life. "In these days," said the preacher, "it sometimes seems as if the word 'duty' had been changed to 'choice'." Then the chaplain pointed out with what readiness the true British soldier always responds to the call of duty, instancing the heroism of Horatio Nelson, of the Six Hundred at Balaklava, and other faithful servants of the nation. A tribute was also paid to the Seventh Battalion which, in 1885, was one of the first bodies of volunteers to offer their services to the Canadian Government. Canon Richardson expressed the belief that that men before him would be equally true to their country and ed upon to defend her interests. There can be no true loyalty unless there is readiness for service. From service to the State, the chaplain turned to service to God, and pointed out that duty to the Creator demands constant war against the world, the flesh, and the devil.

While this portion of the service was in progress, the D. A. G., Col. Smith, ordered that the men be seated on the grass. It was a welcome command, for the men had been astir from early morning. The hymns were very appropriate. "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Old Hundred" being the principal, and many of the volunteers joined in the singing. The Twenty-seventh Battalion Band furnished the instrumental music, and altogether the service was most impressive—the more so because it was bright and cheerful, and not tedious.

Capt. Sicklesteel, of Windsor, commanded the Roman Catholic volunteers in the camp. They marched down Fall Mall to St. Peter's Cathedral in time for High Mass at 10 o'clock.

INSPECTING THE LINES.
After church service, word went around that the D. A. G. would inspect the lines. The task occupied two and a half hours, and he visited every tent on the grounds. Forewarned was forearmed. Every man set to work, and his helmet was as clean, his belt as white, his tunic as spotless, his buttons as bright, his shoes as shiny, his pants as creaseless, his rifle as burnished, his attire as faultless, and his conduct as decorous as pipe-clay, elbow grease and a wholesome fear of the D. A. G. could make them. The youthful recruit shined his shoes until even they reflected his budding mustache. Here and there the practised eye of the D.

A. G. detected a flaw, and the careless one was reprimanded, but on the whole he was well pleased with the spick-and-shine appearance of everything. The showing by the cavalry would have done credit to the regulars of any army.

BUGLE BLASTS.
Though the hour was early not a few civilians attended the church parade. The drill hours are longer this camp than they have ever been before.

The Bruce Battalion Band is in great demand. It went home to honor an engagement at Walkerton today and had to decline a city offer. This is one of the best bands in the country. The field officer of today will be Major Hegler, of the Oxford Rifles. The Oxford band will play today. Next for duty, the Twenty-seventh, Lambton. The Essex men will return from Chatham at midnight tonight. The soldiers are glad there's something going on in the city today, and many will attend the Young Liberal Fleet demonstration.

TODAY'S CORNER-STONE LAYING.
Interesting Ceremony at Dundas Street Center Methodist Church.

The President of the London Conference Preached Yesterday.

Yesterday Rev. Dr. Williams, of Mitchell, who will participate in the ceremony of laying the corner stone of Dundas Street Center Methodist Church at 10 o'clock this morning, preached at both services of the congregation in the Collegiate Institute, being assisted by the Rev. Mr. Lancelley, the pastor. Despite the inconvenience arising from the burning down of their stated place of worship, the Dundas Street Center congregation has kept together loyally, and but the other Sunday the pastor communicated to them the gratifying intelligence that last year, numerically, financially, and in point of church work the church had made a decided advance on all previous years. In money over $11,000 was raised for all church purposes. These facts were especially gratifying to the president of the conference, who had listened to him at both services yesterday very large congregation. In the morning he took for his text Job xxxvi, verse: "Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness." The preacher pointed out that in nature everything is in course of development; only in the grave is there uniformity. Yet there is many a man of whom it could be said: "He came; he stayed; he went." Men are made great alone by struggle. There can be no mental greatness without struggle. Theology has been developing. For eighteen centuries it only took command of God and man, the individual. Thank God it is not so narrow now. It takes in God, man, and man's brother. Theology said: "Build churches." Religion says: "Build men; save men." It rejoices in the church, but the beautiful church you are building will be dedicated not to theology, but to men. In conclusion, Dr. Williams said he rejoiced in the truth as taught by John Wesley, because he held that no creed except a sincere desire to flee from wrath to come was necessary to enter a church. Be earnest, thorough, Scriptural, he added with emphasis, but never be narrow.

Miss Roblin sang the beautiful solo, "Lead Us Home in Safety."

In announcing that the collection was on behalf of the building fund, Rev. Mr. Lancelley said that 25 years ago, when the foundation stone of the burned down church was laid, $400 had been raised, but they were a small body then. Now they were a large and steadily increasing congregation. The Centennial Church was a child of theirs, and at present they have two mission churches in their care. Therefore, the collection should be very much larger.

DISASTROUS FIRE.
Two Members of the Worcester Brigade Killed and Seven Injured.

Worcester, Mass., June 30.—A second alarm was sounded at 5 o'clock this morning for a fire in a three-story frame building in Brackett Court. Hose No. 2 was at work on the third floor when the building collapsed, and the entire company was carried to the first floor, a distance of 30 feet. Deputy Chief Engineer G. S. Coleman and Henry H. Ham, of hose No. 3, clung to a ladder, but broke, and they tumbled to the first floor in the crash.

Lieut. J. J. Boyle and Foreman W. J. Brigham, of hose No. 4, were killed and buried in the debris.

The injured include Deputy Engineer George S. Coleman, Capt. W. N. Avery, hose No. 4; John P. Casey, Fred H. Bassford, Capt. E. N. Sweet, H. H. Sweet, and Lieut. Howick, ladder No. 3. The fire loss will amount to about $10,000.

NORTH OXFORD PATRONS.
Woodstock, June 30.—A joint meeting of the Patrons and prohibition party of North Oxford was held here on Saturday afternoon. J. R. Mayberry, nominee of South Oxford; Rev. Dr. McKay, and Rev. Mr. Stetah, were present, and delivered short addresses. After considerable discussion the nomination of Mr. Hugh McDonald was ratified.

THE HAMILTON SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Hamilton, June 30.—James Will, of the Tremont House, who shot James Neelon on Friday afternoon, during an altercation over the change of a $2 bill, was yesterday remanded for eight days. If Neelon dies in the meantime Will will be charged with murder. Neelon is slightly better, and may recover.

DROWNINGS.
Quebec, June 30.—A very sad drowning accident occurred here last evening by which Maurice Roche, a butcher, lost his life while he was crossing the river in a rowboat. The craft upset.

Lockport, N. S., June 30.—Wm. Bush, aged 20, one of the crew of the schooner Sarah H. Seaton fell overboard Friday night in this harbor and was drowned. He was subject to fits.

Thornbury, Ont., June 30.—Ernest Irwin, the 15-year-old son of James Irwin, cattle buyer, of Redding, was drowned here at noon yesterday while bathing with companions in the Beaver River.

Steamers Arrived.

THE AMERICA'S CUP. A BIG POWER SCHEME

WHY BRITISH YACHTSMEN ARE SO ANXIOUS TO WIN IT.

They Have Already Made Seven Unsuccessful Attempts to Recover It—A Yankee Writer's Reason Why the Prize Should Remain in the United States.

The sporting event par excellence of the year, the one of most importance to Americans, is the contest for the America's cup, which will take place on the ocean course of the New York Yacht Club between the 7th and 14th of next September. The visible prize of this contest is the cup offered by the Queen of England in 1851 for competition among the yachts of all nations. It was valued then at 100 sovereigns. Plate of this character is frequently overvalued. I have no doubt, observes a writer in the Philadelphia Press, that many American silversmiths would be glad to duplicate this "cup" for $250.

Since the cup was won by the yacht America, in the regatta held at Cowes, America, around the Isle of Wight, August 2, 1851, the English have made seven unsuccessful attempts to recover it, and the expense attendant upon these futile efforts has been over $100,000,000. The eighth attempt will be made at the cost to Lord Dunsraven and the other members of his English syndicate of not less than $150,000.

In the attempts to win the cup some 16 races have been sailed, in all kinds of weather, and of these only one was won by the English representative. That one race was taken by the Livonia, in her race against the Columbia, October 19, 1871. The Columbia was beaten her competitor nearly 11 minutes. In the succeeding races of the series the Sappho took the Columbia's place and beat the Livonia with ease.

It is needless to state that the English would not have spent a tithe of the money it had cost them to try to regain the cup merely because of its intrinsic or sentimental value. They are too practical for that. They know that the cup is the visible emblem of naval superiority, and that while it remains in our possession the claim that England is the greatest shipbuilding nation in the world is refuted by the fact that we won the cup from a fleet of the best products of England's most capable naval designers and constructors, and for nearly half a century we have laughed to scorn their attempts to win it back.

If we resist successfully the eighth attempt to wrest the cup from us, which will be made next September, at least half of this money ought to be spent in our ship yards, and doubtless it will. That is why all Americans, regardless of political preferences, should desire the Defender to defeat the English yacht, be she Ailsa or Valkyrie III, or, better still, the Prince of Wales's pet, the Britannia.

Regarding our prospects of retaining the cup, it can be said that they are fairly good, though it must be admitted we have more to fear than ever before.

HE HATED WOMEN.

Bachelor of Vienna Used to Buy Three Seats at the Theatre.

There are so many sham misogynists about in this affectively cynical age that one can hardly help extending a measure of admiration to the thoroughness and consistency of a certain rich old Viennese bachelor, whose death was announced the other day.

In the case of this highly eccentric old gentleman, horror and dread of our unfortunate sex has become a positive mania, for it is recorded of him that whenever he went to a place of public entertainment he took the precaution of booking three seats, in the center one of which he seated himself, leaving those on each side vacant, so as to avoid all risk of being obliged to sit next to a woman.

He even carried his extraordinary ferocity beyond the grave by leaving instructions that no woman was to be buried either to the right or left of him, even if it should be necessary to purchase three graves in order to insure the carrying out of his strange behest.

Perhaps the most curious thing in the whole strange story is the statement that this agreeable old gentleman left behind him a large bundle of letters, which he had grimly indorsed: "Attempts made by my family to put me under the yoke of matrimony."

As he appears to have been a very wealthy man, this alleged action on the part of his relatives seems by no means easy to explain.—Lady's Pictorial.

WHAT THE WELLAND POWER AND SUPPLY CO. PROPOSE TO DO.

Will Establish a System of Irrigation Over the Niagara Fruit District—The Company in No Hurry to Begin Operations.

At the last session of the Dominion Parliament an act was passed incorporating the Welland Power and Supply Company (Limited), the aim and intention of the company being to utilize the waters of the Niagara River for the production of electric or hydraulic power, and to supply water to irrigate the peninsula fruit belt, or for other purposes. The act of incorporation confers remarkable powers upon the company, vesting in it unrestricted liberty to draw unlimited water from the Niagara River. The company is empowered to deepen or widen the Chippawa Creek from its mouth to the point of intersection of the proposed canal, four and one half miles west, and there is nothing in the charter to prevent the company from diverting the course of the Niagara River to Thorold, Ont.

The incorporators of the company were Edward W. Sebben of Denver, Col., Charles A. Hession, St. Catharines, Ont., Charles Y. McClure and Nathan A. Baker of Denver, Col., Walter C. Hadley, Hadley, N. M., John S. Campbell, St. Catharines, Alexander McKay, Hamilton, Ont., and Samuel R. Hession, Stratford, Ont.

Their proposal is to construct a canal and hydraulic raceway from the Welland River, which is navigable for ten miles from the Niagara River, to a point on the Niagara escarpment near the thriving town of Thorold, where a system of turbine wheels and powerful dynamos will be installed for the production of electricity.

To carry off the waste water a canal will be dug following the course of one of four creeks which run directly north and empty into Lake Ontario, one at Thorold, the others farther east. The promoters of the company, it is evident, seek to minimize the first cost of undertaking by taking advantage of the natural waterways wherever practical, and their claim that they will be able to produce their first 10,000 horsepower by this probable birthplace of life, the outlay of $300,000 appears to be demonstrated by facts.

Mr. Charles A. Hession, one of the promoters in the company, is collector of land revenue at St. Catharines. Mr. son is impressed with the feasibility of practicability of the project. "In the place," said he to a Buffalo Express reporter, "our charter is so broad that the long as the Niagara River flows, we have no fear of any variation in our supply of water. Chippawa Creek, which is the river in the interior as the Welland River, is influenced by the Niagara River for 10 miles inland. We take the river through a widened and deepened channel in the month of the Welland River, at a distance of four and one half miles from the Niagara we propose to begin a surface canal 100 feet wide at the bottom, 150 feet wide at the top and fifteen feet deep, and carry by one level open cut through clay to escarpment level of the town of Thorold, a distance of about six and a half miles conveying the water to the brow of the mountain we lose only ten feet from level of Lake Erie, giving us the stupendous available fall of 320 feet above level of Lake Ontario. But we do propose to drop the water in any way whatever, the full height of the escarpment. Such use of the water would involve the construction of heavy machinery, and would be largely of local mental. Instead, we propose to locate first turbines 150 feet below, and carry the water by a series of falls, generating extra power, if need be, open canal or raceway emptying into Ontario, six and a half miles away.

"The Welland River," continued Hession, "is 300 feet wide, varies in from twelve to eighteen feet, and is navigable as far as Port Robinson, about 10 miles from the mouth of the river. Gates would be built at the mouth of our canal so that we would have full control of the water. On the main line at Thorold we will build a canal long enough to feed sixty waterwheels, each of 5,000 horsepower.

"Will you install the same system which has been adopted by the Niagara Falls Power Company?" he was asked.

"In all probability not, although we will certainly adopt features of any other system which experience has demonstrated to be best."

"Where do you expect to find a for such an enormous quantity of power?" he was asked.

"Probably it will surprise you, applied, 'but I have had a verbal application within the past few days for one of 50,000 horse-power for railway purposes in Canada. We have St. Catharines and Welland, and the possibilities which will reasonably the production of cheap power along the line of the Welland Canal. Our gives us the right to convey it through, under, over or along the high ways and public places of any city, or across or along any within the Province of Ontario, we are absolutely unrestricted in respect; but the aim of the project was, and is, to generate for a sale."

At the estimate of cost of 10,000 horse-power for $20,000, we down power at Fort Erie, at the of Buffalo, for not over $8 per horsepower, per annum, one-quarter of the cost of Niagara Falls Power Company, we get some substantial return for the investment of ten times as much before they produced 5,000 horsepower. As the crow flies, the over which we will be obliged to produce of our dynamo to twenty miles. If the Niagara Power Company can convey electricity to the town of Thorold, it will be a great advantage to the town.

The best is what you want when you need it. The Niagara Power Company is the only one that can give you the power you need when you need it. The Niagara Power Company is the only one that can give you the power you need when you need it.

Depew, there is nothing to hinder the Welland Power Company from carrying it to Fort Erie, where the International Bridge will be utilized to carry the cables across the river.

"This company controls the County of Lincoln and proposes to supplement its facilities for the production of electricity, by a system of irrigation which shall extend over the fertile fruit belt lying to the north of the Niagara escarpment. Droughts are the chief enemy of the Niagara horticulturist and a supply of water at the proper time, this season, for instance, would have saved them thousands of dollars' worth of strawberries."

The company is not disposed to hurry the work of construction, believing that there will be great developments in electrical transmission and realizing that the work of digging the open canal and installing the machinery will be a matter of a few months only when active operations are begun.

WHENCE THE BERRIES COME.

It is Found Wild in Various Parts of the Old World.

The genus of plants to which the strawberry belongs is one of the smallest of the earth's flora, numbering, according to some authorities, only three or four, and at the outside only five species. In giving a summary of them we may take the European species of the genus fragaria first, since the culture which now covers hundreds of acres in this continent, as well as in Europe, originated there. The common wild strawberry of Europe, whether known as the wood strawberry of Britain or the Alpine strawberry of the mainland of Europe, bears the specific name of vesca, and is a plant of immense interest, in that it is one of the most widely diffused. It is found wild in the Old World, from Lapland and the Shetland Islands to Madeira, Spain, Sicily and Greece in Europe and in Armenia and Syria in Asia. It is even found in isolated Iceland. It is indigenous in the Northern States and Canada, and extends down the Rocky Mountains and the highlands of Mexico to Quito in South America. It has become naturalized in Jamaica, in the Islands of Mauritius and Bourbon, and in Tasmania and New Zealand. In addition to this, Europe possesses another questionable species known as elatior, which supplies the Hantbury strawberry, so plentiful in Bohemia.

America is rich in having two magnificent species very palatable in their native state. The northern half of the continent produces the Virginian strawberry, with its variety, the Illinois berry. South America has, around Conception, Valdivia and Chiloe the Chile strawberry. The Himalaya Mountains, China and Japan afford species, but it is doubtful whether they are sufficiently distinct from vesca to bear different specific names.

A noteworthy feature connected with the European wild strawberry is the fact that its range extends nearly round the North Pole, omitting Siberia and the basin of the Amoor River. Its existence, its undeniable identity, in the two worlds separated now by the ocean is strong evidence of a connected tract of land in the most northerly regions before ice and snow gained possession. Radiating from this probable birthplace of life, the strawberry advanced in front of the line of extreme cold which was gradually invading the earth and found new habitats instead of its former one, which was becoming too chilly for plant existence. In some of these habitats further adaptation to climatic conditions took place, and thus specific differences arose, accounting for the species which now constitute the genus.

Questa, however, to what may be called its strongest personality, it has succeeded in holding its own at the same time that these "new departures" were in some places and ascending the mountain others has extended its range until it has peopled a large proportion of the temperate zone and even invaded the tropics. It is a marvelous instance of vigor and intensity of purpose in the plant world.

The song of an ass. How it shortened Nasrulla's stay in England.

Shahzada Nasrulla Khan has decided not to take advantage of his father's permission to remain in England until September, and a great sigh of relief has gone up from official and fashionable London, says a cable from that city to the New York Sun.

Rumor has it that Nasrulla's decision is due to an encounter with evil omens, including a wild ass at the Zoological Gardens, which brayed without ceasing at his approach and refused to be comforted.

Anyhow, he is going, and his hosts are too happy to inquire over closely into his motive.

To the Young Liberal Fleet Demonstration Today

In Queen's Park—A Rare Old Time
Promised.

The greatest thing in London today will be the demonstration by the Young Liberal Fleet.

If it isn't a success it will be solely due to the weather. There can be nothing else lacking. The performances will be great, and the crowds will be great, and the indications furnished by "Old Probs." are that the weather will be great, too.

The street parade of the Fleet will be worth seeing. The ships leave the wharf from Simcoe street at 1 o'clock p.m. and will sail by way of Richmond and Dundas streets to the anchorage at Queen's Park. Admiral Wanless will command. He expects every man to do his duty, and every man will,
because he belongs to the Young Liberal Fleet.

There will be two performances—afternoon and evening. At night the arena will be illuminated brilliantly with electric lights. The exhibition will be given simultaneously from three platforms, so that people will get an equally good view in no matter what part of the stands they sit.
Ticket offices on the grounds will be opened an hour before the sports commence. They start at 2 o'clock.

The programme will comprise some capital horse racing by fast animals. The tumbling and acrobatic feats will be worthy of Barnum. The Fleet will execute maneuvers which they have spent weeks in perfecting, under special instruction. No time, no money, no pains, have been spared to prepare an entertainment at once novel, clever, clean and diverting.

Queen's Park is the best place to spend the holiday. Come one, come all—and the Fleet will do you good.

Mrs. Foster, of Kent street, has just recovered from a serious attack of La Grippe.
This is the second siege she has had of this influenza, the first of which attacked Mrs.
Foster about three years ago, and left her with a very troublesome cough, accompanied with chronic bronchitis, and a complication of other diseases, which made it almost impossible for her to attend church without disturbing the congregation by coughing, and, indeed, Mrs. Foster assures us that so bad were the spasms that she often feared she would burst a blood vessel during one of these severe attacks. It was very natural that under such circumstances numerous friends would recommend as many different "cure alls." She tried Cherry Pectoral, Tar, Linseed and other preparations, but was growing generally worse when a friend who had been benefitted
by Barkwell's Bronchial Balm advised her to try that, and in a few days she was out of bed, and the best feature is that she is now entirely freed from all symptoms of the Bronchitis, of which she never hoped to be cured. Mr. Millar, a neighbor, also had a bad cough and was completely cured
by the same preparation. zyx

morrow, at 10 a. m., from the family residence on Central avenue.

—Rev. James and Mrs. Laird, city,
Miss Carmichael, Strathroy; Mrs. Markle, Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, Bismarck, were among the guests at the marriage at Fort St. John, E. F. eldest daughter of the late Mr. Warden Louis B. D. La-pierre, to the Rev. John Stewart, of Salford, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Kettlewell. The bride was charmingly attired in a cream silk crepon, veil and orange blossoms,
and was given away by her uncle, William Lapierre, the bride and groom being unattended.

TOOK A BIG TUMBLE.

The holders of hay on the market on Saturday were not as hilly as they were a week ago. Then without a blush they demanded from $16 to $17 a ton, and in most cases got it. But at that time there was a scarcity in the supply, and hundreds pointed to a very slim crop, on account of the drought. The past week, however, has seen heavy rains in every section of the country, and while the showers were a little late,
they have had a very beneficial effect.
Saturday the hay supply was very large, of a good quality, and was offered at from $11 to $14 a ton. The heavy men drew a sigh of relief and invested all their spare cash, fearing that another advance may occur ere long.

A LONDONER IN GERMANY.

Mr. James Gillan, of this city, now summering at Amherstburg, has received a very interesting letter from Mr.
Charles Wheeler, organist of St. Andrew's Church, who for some time has been pursuing his musical studies in Leipzig, Germany. In the letter, Mr.
Wheeler says he is getting pretty well accustomed to German ways and customs, and things that once seemed so strange are now allowed to pass unnoticed. He expresses great satisfaction at having secured the best teachers in Leipzig, from whom he is taking both conservatory and private lessons.

"This is a great place for students—
both music and university," says Mr.
Wheeler. "We have every opportunity for study. All the great organs are produced here, and at the concerts we hear the best artists in the world. There are very few Canadians here, but at every turn you meet English-speaking students from every quarter of the globe." During his holidays Mr. Wheeler spent a few days in the beautiful city of Dresden, and then went to Saxony, Switzerland, where he considerable climbing among the rocks. He treats comments on the drinking capacities of the German people, and says that water is valued mostly for washing and street watering. Mr. Wheeler starts for home about the end of July, and will greatly regret leaving Leipzig, and the thought of getting back to St. Andrew's Church and meeting his many friends.

BROWN-EDY.

A most interesting event took place at No. 4 Cartwright street on Saturday morning, being the marriage of Mr.
H. W. Brown, B.A., of Petrolia, to Helen, youngest daughter of Wm. D.
Eddy, in the presence of a number of relatives and most intimate friends. Rev. Ira Smith, pastor of the Tallot Street Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. Amidst a sweet strain of the wedding march the bride entered. The bride, supported by her father, was attired in her traveling costume, and carried white roses, whilst the usual offices of bridesmaid and groomsmen were omitted. Afterwards all assembled at a breakfast repast most daintily spread and decked with white roses and smilax. Upon retiring carriages were in readiness, when bride and groom, together with a few guests, were soon conveyed to the G. T. R.
depot, whence Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for Cleveland, Ohio. They will thence proceed on board a private yacht for an extended trip to Mackinac and Du-nagata Falls, where the groom's mother resides, and will afterwards make Pe-trolia their home. Mr. Brown, who is very popular in Niagara and Petrolia, was amongst Toronto University students, and the bride, who enjoys the esteem of many London friends, carry with them the congratulations and good wishes of a large circle of friends for their future welfare and happiness.
