

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC SERVICES
FOR PASTOR OF ST. ANDREW'S

Funeral of Dr. Ross Will Be Held Friday Afternoon With Burial at Woodland Cemetery—Clergymen From All Denominations Will Take Part in the Ceremony—Remains Arrived From New York Today.

The funeral of Rev. Dr. Ross will be held on Friday afternoon. The remains were brought to the city this morning by Dr. A. O. Jeffery, who accompanied Dr. Ross to New York. The 11:42 train was met at the depot by a large representation of the congregation, session and managers of St. Andrew's Church, and many of the Presbyterian clergy of the city, and the remains were taken to the manse, from where the funeral will be held Friday to Woodland Cemetery.

Public Service.
A private service will be conducted at the manse by Rev. Dr. Neil, of Westminster Church, Toronto, at one o'clock. It will be followed by a public service in St. Andrew's Church at two o'clock, at which Rev. J. G. Stuart will preside. Rev. Dr. Murdoch McKenzie, moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, will be present, and will speak on behalf of Dr. Ross' own denomination. Bishop Williams will represent the Anglican Church, and other clergymen will speak from all the denominations represented in the city. Among those on the platform will be Rev. Dr. Robert Johnston, of the American Church, Montreal, formerly pastor of St. Andrew's Church. The choir selections will include Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," and the "Dead March in Saul."

The Pallbearers.
The pallbearers chosen two each from the managers, session and congregation of St. Andrew's Church, will be Messrs. John Lochhead, Thomas H. Purdon, John Marr, A. E. Cooper, Alex. C. Leck, and C. R. Somerville.

Miss Marjorie Ross, daughter of the late Dr. Ross, arrived home from Toronto Wednesday, and his son, Dr. Daniel Ross, arrived this morning. Another son, Dr. Allan Ross, of Hillcrest, Alta., is on his way home, but will not arrive until Sunday.

The clergymen of the city of all denominations and the members of the London Presbytery will meet at the Y. M. C. A. at 1:30 o'clock and will march in a body to the church.

Story of the Accident.
Dr. Jeffery, on arriving in the city, stated that it was not very certain how Dr. Ross happened to be struck by the auto driven by Leon Stowe. He had left Dr. Ross an hour or more previous in the neighborhood of Madison Square Presbyterian Church. Dr. Ross said he wished to visit some bookstores in that vicinity, and would meet Dr. and Mrs. Jeffery at dinner in the Grand Union Hotel. Fourth avenue is not a particularly busy thoroughfare, but it was in crossing that avenue that Dr. Ross was struck. He was walking down Twenty-third street, on which street traffic is much greater. Until after the inquest, which was to be held today or Friday, it will not be known for certain how the accident happened.

Dr. Jeffery was awaiting the arrival of Dr. Ross at the hotel, and had delayed for some time going to dinner on that account, when a message came from Bellevue Hospital. Dr. Ross' name had been found on a card in his pocket, along with a card from the Grand Union Hotel. At the hotel Dr. Jeffery had registered immediately after Dr. Ross, and this being observed he was informed of the accident at once, and hurried to the hospital. Until his arrival, Dr. Ross' identity was not known for a certainty.

Telegrams of Congratulation Poured In On Sir Wilfrid

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier walked down to his office today with a spring in his step which gave the lie to his years. The flood of messages which are pouring in from east, west, north and south give the world's decision as to who is the really great Canadian.

The world and the Empire recalling the many years in which Sir Wilfrid has been a most outstanding figure in great affairs, is today remembering and congratulating.

Early in the morning the messengers began to arrive with the yellow envelopes containing wire-borne messages of congratulations. All day the boys have kept coming. Among those who today remembered Sir Wilfrid and his birthday were His Majesty King George, His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, Lord Strathcona, Premier Asquith, Earl Grey, Bonar Law, ex-Premier Fisher of Australia, the Premiers of Africa and New Zealand, and in Canada leading public men, members and senators of every province, the most distant being Dr. Alfred Thompson, the Conservative member for the Yukon.

All Three Brothers
Escaped Unharmed

Miss Nora M. Ferguson, of Bayfield, writes The Advertiser as follows:

For the benefit of the many friends who have read the Saturday Advertiser and have already sent expressions of sympathy, will you kindly say in your paper that the body found on the beach near Bayfield is not that of my brother, Charles S. Ferguson. The mistake was made by a striking resemblance the poor fellow bore to my brother, and without waiting to have the body positively identified by those who would know, the rumor spread.

Charlie is first mate on the Charles Weston, reported passing Detroit on Sunday morning at 5:30, bound up. Another brother, Capt. John A. Ferguson, of the steamer Cordelia, sent a dispatch, telling us of the safety of the three brothers.

FRUIT FIRM DUPE

Orders Shipment, Posing as a Well-Known Merchant of Glencoe.

THEN BORROWS CASH
Detectives Hard On Trail of the Slick Individual and Arrest Expected Shortly.

A smooth swindle game was worked on a wholesale fruit merchant Wednesday afternoon by a man who, representing himself as a merchant of Glencoe, gave a large order for fruit to be shipped to the latter place, and then borrowed some money.

The man walked into the store late in the afternoon, and after inquiring for the proprietor, said he was J. E. Roome, of Glencoe.

The proprietor had never seen Mr. Roome, but as the stranger seemed to be familiar with fruit and the prices, he thought he was all right, and took the order, promising to ship the goods this morning. Before leaving the store the stranger said he had lost all his money and asked for a small loan, promising to send the money with his payment for the fruit. He received the money and went out of the store. Before closing time the dealer became suspicious, and knowing that if he shipped the goods to a man who did not want them he would be put to considerable loss, he called Mr. Roome on long distance, and learned that the latter had never been out of the town on Wednesday, and that the man who gave the order was a swindler.

The police were notified, and will probably arrest the man this afternoon.

GOMPERS WILL BE ELECTED HEAD OF
LABOR FEDERATION

Big Organization Plans Great Reforms To Benefit All Humanity.

ASK BETTER CONDITIONS
Would Prevent Any Immigrants Coming In Who Lower the National Standard.

[Canadian Press.]
Seattle, Nov. 20.—The American Federation of Labor, holding its thirty-third annual convention here, is showing an intense interest in the welfare of all the men, women and children in the nation—an interest not sublimated at all by interest in its own personal welfare.

Most of the time of the convention so far, indeed, has been utilized in listening to speeches on how best to raise the standard of humanity throughout this country.

Just how far the delegates representing 2,500,000 workers in this country are going in their efforts for the betterment of the nation is shown by the resolutions which have been brought before it.

Those who think organized labor is a force bent on stirring up strife and discontent will do well to ponder over this list of 92 resolutions introduced thus far. For 41 of them are for better conditions.

Important Resolutions.
Here are some of the most important:

"Secure uniform textbooks for the schools in all states."

"Increase the supply of teachers so that present system of overcrowding classes can be avoided and so more individual attention may be given to each pupil."

"Enable public school trustees to borrow money on school bonds direct from postal savings bank trustees without paying a commission to stock brokers, as under the present system."

"Prevent insertion of 'jokers' into laws calling for recall, initiative and referendum."

"Prevent accidents in loading and unloading of ships."

"Secure data on which to base a plan for the prevention of industrial accidents and diseases."

"Prohibit the importation of convict-made goods into the United States."

"Secure the passage of the seamen's bill containing the provisions for protection of life and property at sea."

Would Amend Laws.
"Amend the election laws so as to give the people a chance to vote for or against all of the great national questions which agitate the nation from time to time."

"Secure collective ownership of and democratic management of all mines, railroads and all other utilities upon which people in common depend."

"Prevent the building of naval vessels at the Government yards."

"Prevent immigration into country of people who would tend to lower the (Continued on Page Eleven.)"

CHRISTIAN GUARDIAN ON E. MIDDLESEX FIGHT

Temperance Party Congratulated on Selection of Mr. Laidlaw as Candidate.

The Christian Guardian comments as follows on the East Middlesex election campaign:

On Nov. 27 the electors of East Middlesex will again be asked to elect a member of the Ontario Legislature, to the late Mr. Geo. W. Neely, M. P. P. In this election the temperance issue is being given more prominence.

So far as we understand it, the Conservative candidate is a straight supporter of the Hon. Mr. Whitney's policy, and does not favor the abolition of the bar nor any advanced temperance legislation. His opponent, Mr. John W. Laidlaw, was nominated as a temperance candidate by the Temperance Alliance, and has been accepted also by the Liberal party as its candidate. Mr. Laidlaw's candidacy is so satisfactory from the temperance standpoint that the Dominion Alliance is assisting him in the campaign. He pledges himself, as we believe every temperance man should, to support advanced temperance legislation in the House, no matter by which party it may be introduced, and there is this very satisfactory feature of his candidacy, that he has been, we understand, a lifelong temperance advocate. We congratulate the East Middlesex electors upon the choice of such a man. It simplifies the issue greatly when the temperance candidate has also a consistent temperance record. We cannot, of course, foretell the result of the election, but we do know that if the policy of nominating men like Mr. Laidlaw is adopted, it will not be long before the temperance question will become a very, very live question. There is reason to believe that we can see the staunchest Conservative candidate should not be free to vote as he wishes upon this question, and the time is surely near when temperance reform will refuse to be held back in temperance reform by any party ties. Party loyalty may lead men to do strange things, but we venture to say that it cannot long restrain temperance voters in Ontario from demanding greatly advanced temperance legislation. We wish our temperance friends in East Middlesex all success in their struggle.

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER
FOR FARMS OF ONTARIO

Motion for That Purpose Moved by Liberals Which Was Voted Down by the Amendments—Silly Charge Refuted.

The best answer to the charge that the Ontario Opposition opposed the extension of hydro-electric energy to the farms is furnished by this resolution, moved by Mr. Marshall, M. P. P. for Monck, at the last session of the Legislature:

"1. This House approves of the policy of the province retaining control over the water powers of the province, in order to thereby assist in securing the benefits of cheap electric power for all sections of the province."

"2. That the conditions of farm life would be substantially improved if the farmers of the province could secure the benefits of cheap electric light and power in connection with the operation of their farms on a satisfactory financial basis, and that it is the duty of the Government to promote, so far as practicable, the extension of power and light services throughout the rural sections of the province by rendering assistance to rural as well as urban municipalities which desire to secure cheap power."

"3. That cheap and convenient electric railway transportation facilities are one of the most urgent needs of many rural sections and towns of the province, and it is the duty of the Government to assist, so far as practicable, in the development of these transportation facilities. That this House will view with satisfaction, prompt and vigorous prosecution of these objects by the Government and the hydro-electric power commission of this province."

This resolution, moved by a Liberal, was supported by all the Liberals, but was voted down by amendments from the Government benches.

Family Has to Give Back Insurance Money When Dead Man Returns.

MOURNING ALL ORDERED

[Canadian Press.]
Hamilton, Nov. 20.—The body of the unknown man, mangled by the Thompson family, John street north, as the son, whom they thought had been drowned in the great gale on the lakes until the real John Thompson turned up last night and walked into the house where his relatives were weeping around the casket, still remains unidentified and will probably be taken charge of by the Canadian Marine Association.

Today Thompson's mother and sisters, who all purchased black clothes, returned most of the mourning to the merchants and got their money back. A lot had been purchased in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery and a grave dug. The family, who are in rather poor circumstances, now want the money back from the cemetery board.

Thompson's 14-year-old sister is almost stone blind. A benefit concert, which had been arranged for her, the funds to be devoted to a last effort to restore her sight, was cancelled when the news of Thompson's death was received. Today it was decided to proceed with the original arrangement and hold the concert.

An insurance company paid over $176 to Thompson's mother. The money will be returned.

BUILDING PERMITS ARE OVER $70,000

Building permits for November have gone up to $70,000 and over. Wednesday a permit for $12,500 was issued to Walter Burridge for a two-story brick store and warehouse at 359 Talbot street. Two permits were issued to the Canadian Pacific Railway for $800 and $400 respectively. They are for the construction of blacksmith shops and sheds at the Quebec street yards of the company.

Paris, Nov. 20.—The plans of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain have been upset owing to the illness of her majesty, who is suffering from a severe attack of influenza. King Alfonso is considering whether to leave for Austria alone or to await the Queen's recovery.

BRIDE OF BUT A FEW MONTHS
FINDS HUSBAND AMONG DEAD

Mrs. Thomas Neilson, of Buffalo, Has a Harrowing Experience in Looking Over Bodies of Lost Sailors at Kincardine.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kincardine, Nov. 19.—A scene that stands out among the host of pathetic incidents that have occurred here, following the lake disaster, took place this afternoon, when the body of Thomas Neilson, of Buffalo, was buried by his wife, who is a bride of only a few months.

Mrs. Neilson, who resides at 161 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, came here on Tuesday night for the purpose of identifying a body thought to be that of her husband.

The man was wearing Mr. Neilson's coat, but that was all, and Mrs. Neilson then asked to see the other bodies. She had only looked a few moments when she found her husband. How the other man came to be wearing Neilson's coat will never be known.

Buried at Kincardine.

Mrs. Neilson said she would like the funeral to be held in Kincardine Cemetery, and she attended it this afternoon.

The body first thought to be that of Neilson's, but since positively identified as that of Mike Radtke, also of Buffalo, will be shipped to that city tomorrow. He had a pass-book belonging to Neilson in his pocket, and this led to the confusion as to the bodies.

A Brave Deed.

Officials here of the marine interests and others who have examined the bodies, and the condition in which they were found, are quite convinced of the correctness of their theory that Captain Paul Gutch, of the Argus, gave his life-belt to Mrs. Walker, the stewardess, whose body drifted ashore near here. She had a lifebelt marked "Captain," and a man's coat now known to be that of William La Mere, one of the crew. There was no lifebelt on Captain Gutch's body, also recovered and identified here. Both the captain and Mrs. Walker were from Cleveland.

Mr. McMillan, of Midland, called to see the corpses lying at Morrison & McPhail's undertaking establishment last night, after a long muddy drive from Goderich, to see if his boy was amongst those awaiting identification. As no corpses came here except those from the Argus and the Carruthers, the body was not found.

MEXICAN CONGRESS BY A LIB. MEMBER

President Huerta's Message Contains Significant Prophecy of His Possible Elimination.

A FINANCIAL BLOCKADE

United States May Rely on This Plan and Exert Diplomatic Pressure.

[Canadian Press.]
Mexico City, Nov. 20.—The Provisional President Huerta, after having gone through the ratification of the new congress, relieved himself from the danger of being called to account for his acts by some future administration, might be brought to the point of self-elimination through the efforts of the foreign powers supporting the United States Government.

The provisional president is said by those believed to be in a position to know to have been persuaded that he must resign, and to have named Manuel Gálvez, former minister of the interior, as the man he desired to succeed him, when the insistence of John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, upon the abolition of the new congress, caused him to change his attitude and reject the idea of resigning.

WASHINGTON WAITING.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The eyes of official Washington were turned today on the Mexican congress and Huerta's message on his recent assumption of dictatorial power. The possibility that the new congress might act on concessions discredited in advance by the United States, was in many quarters to be a pivot on which the next move by the United States Government might turn.

Those who have been of the opinion that Huerta would retire after his acts had been ratified by the congress, continued on Page Eleven.

Depressions exist over the Western Provinces and in Eastern Canada, while pressure remains highest in the South Atlantic States.

Rain has fallen heavily from the Georgian Bay region to the Maritime Provinces.

BODIES FROM THE ARGUS PASSED THROUGH CITY

The great storm tragedy was brought back to those on duty at the Grand Trunk station this morning, when the train from Goderich arrived. It brought the bodies of Capt. Paul Gutch and Leo Gardner, mate of the ill-fated steamer Argus. The remains are en route respectively for Cleveland and Buffalo, where they will be interred.

The rumor spread that the "Bruce" was bringing the bodies to this city, and a curious though silent crowd gathered at the station and witnessed the transference of the bodies to the Buffalo express eastbound.

TWO QUESTIONS WHICH ARE STILL UNANSWERED

Here are two questions which Mr. Lucas declined to answer at Dorchester, and which should be put to every cabinet minister who speaks in East Middlesex:

1. Why did the Government refuse at the last session to carry out its pledge to introduce anti-treating legislation?

2. Does the Government intend introducing anti-treating legislation at the next session?

The second question at least can be answered by a plain yes or no. Temperance Conservatives should make it their business to interrogate visiting ministers, and should demand straightforward replies.

[By Staff Reporter.]
Glanworth, Nov. 19.—Mr. Thomas

Mr. J. C. Elliott, M. P. for West

tion from the electors of Westminster in the I. O. O. F. hall here tonight, when they appeared in the interests of the fusion candidate, Mr. John W.

Both speakers dwelt at some length on the paramount issue of the cam-

they also spent some time in explain-

of this province.

A keen interest was taken by those present in both addresses, and at the close of the meeting three rousing cheers were given for the King, Mr.
Newton W. Rowell and his policy, and the candidate, Mr. John W. Laidlaw.

The enthusiasm of the farmers in this district is evidenced by the fact that they waited until 9:40 for the speakers to appear, they being detained in the city and on the road, and also that not one man left the hall, although the meeting lasted until nearly midnight.

After the meeting both Mr. Urquhart and Mr. Elliott remarked that never before had they had such an appreciative audience.

Mr. Robert Elliott was chosen chairman, and in a few brief remarks introduced the subject of the abolition of the bar, and the speakers of the evening. He was tendered a vote of thanks for his services, as were the speakers.

In summing up, the chairman pointed out that although the voters of Westminster had decided to abolish the bar in that township, their duties
did not end there, and that it was up to the electors to return Mr. Laidlaw a victor, and to help the rest of Ontario in its fight against the curse of drink.

In opening his speech Mr. Urquhart said that it was a great pleasure for him to take part in the present contest. "It is so long since I took any part in a political contest that I feel kind of out of place," said he. "But when this great and moral issue of the abolishment of the bar came up I felt that it was my duty to come out and give all the assistance I could."

"The Conservative party is trying to draw a red herring across the trail, and trying to make hydro-electric the main issue in this contest," he continued. "Let me tell you, gentlemen, that while I esteem Hon. Adam Beck, for the stand he has taken and the work
he has done on the power commission, it was the Liberal party which first introduced the question of power for the province, and it is the Liberal party that should get the credit for it.

I admire Adam Beck very much. At one time he had his back up against the wall and was fighting for hydroelectric; but who was it he was fighting? Not the Liberals, but the members of his own party, headed by the Hon. J. P. Whitney. In a genesis of hydro-electric printed when there was no talk of an election, we find that the first step towards its consummation was taken in Toronto on the 25th of April, 1900, at a meeting of the Masonic, a strong Liberal, was chairman of a committee at that time. Then at a meeting of municipalities held some time later Ald. F. S. Spence, also a Liberal, was elected mayor of the city. In 1902 a committee was appointed to go into the question, and one of the members was Ald. Spence.

On Feb. 17, 1903, a meeting was held in Berlin. I was one of the representatives, being elected mayor in Toronto in January of the same year,
and I moved a resolution asking the Government to take up the work of providing the province with electric energy."

They are saying today that if you vote for Mr. Laidlaw you are voting against Hon. Adam Beck and hydroelectric, but such is not the case. The Liberals were the first to get behind hydro-electric, and they are behind it today, and I hope, gentlemen, that you will not allow an issue of that sort to distract from the real issue, the abolition of the bar. You have in Mr. Laidlaw a tried and true candidate for temperance, and it is every man's duty to vote for him regardless of politics.

Personally, I think the accommodation of the public is one of the finest things a man could be interested in,
but why should the sale of liquor be tied up with it?

In dealing with the abolition of the bar we will just look at a few figures.
The drink bill of Canada last year was $1,000,000,000. That is, it amounts to $22,000,000. If any Government would say we are going to spend that much money in good roads or in living the farmers cheap power the people would stand against it; yet the people of this province spend that amount annually in poison, which they take into their systems. Take the loss in labor, in time, and in wages. Statistics compiled in Great Britain and the United States show that about 10 per cent of time is lost through whiskey.

Well, we will not go that far in Canada; we will take it on a 5 per cent basis, and we find that it amounts to $68,000,000. Then take the loss of life.
We find that 5,000 people die annually through the use of liquor. The Government values an immigrant at something like $1,000 each. Allow $500 for each person that dies from the use of liquor, and what does it amount to?
Figure in also the costs of our hospitals and jails, and then you will find that the cost of the bar is enormous.

What are we going to do about it?
Are we going to stand aside and see this great and awful waste? I do not think so. I think the people of this country are going to stand up and in their wrath drive out this curse, and save their boys. The great curse of social life is this curse of whiskey.

Poverty, crime and a great deal of sickness is caused by drink, and the open bar is the cause of the drinking habit.

"While a great many of the hotel-keepers of the country are lawless, men there are a number who are lawless. The London Free Press of Sept.
17, tells of many Indians being drunk
during fair week, and of a man selling

"What are the politics of the liquor party? The trade itself is their politics. They have none but the carrying of their trade. Have the Government and Mr. Whitney allied themselves with the liquor party? I think they have. Sir James Whitney has a tremendous majority and could wipe out the liquor system if he wanted to,
but he does not do it. The people should see that the bar is put out of politics, and the only way to do it is to abolish the bar, and if necessary to abolish the Government that supports it."

wish of the people that the liquor traffic be abolished Sir James Whitney has refused to do so.

In 1902 Mr. Rowell asked Sir James to have both parties join hands and wipe out this curse of the bar, but he has not done so.

Mr. Urquhart then spoke on agricultural questions, railway taxation and several other questions and closed by making an eloquent appeal for the electors of Westminster to support Mr.
Laidlaw on the 27th of November. His speech was greeted by prolonged applause and many cheers.

Mr. J. C. Elliott.
In opening his speech Mr. J. C. Elliott complimented the electors for the fine turnout on such a night, and their perseverance in waiting so long for the speakers to appear.

He dealt intelligently with all the questions before the people at present, and pointed out many glaring cases of inconsistency on the part of the present Government.

"It is a pleasure for Liberals to feel that there are still some townships that remain true to Liberalism," said
he. "The good old township of Westminster has always stood true to Liberalism, and when this by-election is over I feel sure that you will have one of the finest and truest candidates representing you in the House in the person of Mr. Laidlaw."

Mr. Urquhart, who has just finished addressing you, is a Liberal, and I and others have often wondered how he ever secured three terms as mayor defeating the Hon. G. E. Foster for member for one of the Toronto's, and I am glad to see that men of his type the T. Eaton Company, which charges the price for printing them, and an advertisement on the books, which would cost them thousands of dol-

Continuing, he told of the inception of Mr. Rowell's policy of the abolition of the bar, and asked the electors to convince the Government at the coming by-election that the sentiment of the people of East Middlesex is for the abolition of the bar.

"If you do that," he concluded, "you will have done something for your fellowmen, and will have started the ball rolling for a better and bigger future for the Province of Ontario."

The close of Mr. Elliott's speech was also greeted with loud applause and cheers.

"The agriculturists in Ontario today realize that they are not receiving the consideration due them, and that the manufacturer and merchant in the city are receiving far more consid-

"Why do the things you have in

A MYSTERY STORY OF NEW YORK

By WILL IRWIN

Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

"The law!" exclaimed Rosalie. "That for your law! Golly, I could carry a 'Votes for Women' banner when I think about it! You men have been making the law all these years. And you're run it on rules—nothing but rules; diagrams. Did he do it? All right, hang him. You can't look at things except on the outside. I wish you did have a few women to look at 'em inside and out. Once in a while one of your cussed juries uses its common sense and lets a man go when the police evidence is against him. But they don't do it themselves. No, sir! It's their mothers in 'em—"

"That will do," snarled McGee. "This suffragette-dope has nothing to do with the case. Where's Perez?"

"Now this Perez," pursued Rosalie, treating the inspector's anger as though it had not been, "was a darn fool—worst fool I ever saw—as those cute little men generally are. But what was he doing when Hanska died? Getting his own property from a crook, the property that belonged to him, in the only way he knew. Suppose it's true he killed Captain Hanska—did you ever see a man that deserved killing more? Besides, he didn't."

"You aren't swallowing that yarn about

"Oh, you've talked to him, then?"

"That'll come in later—if you're still listening to me. Well, before he knew what I knew, this Estrilla told me that Captain Hanska after he fell, was bleeding at the nose. I'd seen that, too—when I came into the house ahead of the doctor. Now, here's the thing to do," she added. "You call up that Dr. Cleary right now. You see if he didn't notice it and just walk away from it."

Inspector McGee, with the air of one who punctures bubbles, opened his telephone.

"Spring Double O," he said; and then to Rosalie, "You can listen on the extension if you want to." His voice was formal, and he averted his eyes.

While they waited for the police central to get the number, neither spoke. Rosalie, however, regarded him with an expression whereof the main tint was anxiety and the undertone soft mischief.

"Dr. Cleary?" inquired the inspector.

"Inspector McGee. Doctor, have you your notes on the Hanska case? The autopsy, I mean. In your pocketbook? Well, just one little thing. Did you find any blood in the nostrils?"

"Here's the record," came back Dr. Cleary's voice, after a half minute; "slight bleeding from the nostrils, caused probably by the fall."

"That will do," said McGee. "Wait a second—you didn't perform any autopsy on his head? You didn't look into his brain?"

"What was the use?" came back Dr. Cleary's voice, a little defiantly. "He was stabbed in the heart, wasn't he?"

"Now, who's lying?" said Rosalie. Le Grange, as he hung up the telephone.

But there was still a snarl in McGee's voice as he spoke:

"You think you can monkey with the law. You think you can set crooks loose just as you please and get away with it? It's all very well for you, but look at the fix you're leaving for me. The Hanska case is cleared up. Wade is innocent. We've had the wrong man all the time. That's joke enough on us. But when we find the right one he gives us the slip."

The big commissioner will get roasted by the papers and hand it to the deputy commissioner, and the deputy will pass the buck down to me, and I'll have to report how it happened. Yes, and I will, too!" he burst out. "I'll tell all right! Convinced at escape! You know what that means?"

"Is it a felony or a misdemeanor?" asked Rosalie. "I sort of forgot which it was at the time I committed it."

"You'd better worry!" replied McGee. "I'm going to do my duty by you."

"Your duty? Yes, I forgot that. You always do your duty. When a cop's involved for instance. When Leroy went blind drunk and beat in the head of that boy—you did your duty in his case, like a little man. That's how it comes Leroy is living on Staten Island this day, without once seeing the inside of a state prison. Talk to me about duty!"

"Look here," said McGee, "you can't bluff me."

"I know I can't," said Rosalie, "and you can't me, either."

"Come, out with it, then—what have you done, and why did you do it?"

"As for what I've done," said Rosalie, "telling you would be spoiling it. Why did I do it? I've answered that. I couldn't trust you or any man alive to let that poor boy off. Apoplexy? You snorted when his sister said it, and you'd be snorting now if you had him here in front of you. They'd laugh him out of court on such a plea. They'd laugh him to the chair. I've saved you the necessity of killing an innocent man. And I ought to be thanked, not kicked."

"You'll get worse," said Martin McGee. "You'll go up—that's what will happen to you."

"Now, will I?" mocked Rosalie, breaking out her dimples, full-blazon, for the first time in two days. "What an awful trick on a lady! You're the only witness—the only person who knows that I promised to deliver Estrilla. You're the only person that's heard me confess I let him get away. So you'll be put on the witness stand, and then I'll be put on the stand. And I'll testify how the New York police were baffled with the real criminals passing right under their noses twenty times a day, and how a poor boarding-house keeper that used to be a medium—just a plain, good old soul—look a hairpin and a thumbful of common sense and got a confession and made you all fools. My lawyer'll get it in; and if he don't, the papers will, because I'll tell 'em. I'll be at home in my cell to every reporter in New York. There's a lot of 'em would like it right now. But, of course," she added, flashing her dimples, "I won't try to bluff you. No, indeed. You can't be bluffed."

"Marty McGee," she added, "let's get down to cases. You can't do a thing to me that'll help your position at all. I'll go to jail for life and never tell where Juan Perez has gone. But if you'll listen, I'll show you just how to fix this without trouble for anybody."

Inspector McGee was now playing with a flexible paper knife, his downcast eyes fixed upon it as he twisted it back and forth.

"How?" he asked, in a voice from which the bluster had gone. Nothing could have better proved the logic in Rosalie's combination of woman wit and common sense. Rosalie established herself comfortably in her chair.

"Well, it's a funny thing for us to do—you and me—tell the truth. Not quite the truth, either; the truth fixed up a little, which is the best kind of a lie that the bluster had gone. Nothing could have better proved the logic in Rosalie's combination of woman wit and common sense. Rosalie established herself comfortably in her chair.

NATIONAL MOVEMENT IS PLANNED FOR IRELAND

Ulster Protestants To Be Led by Casement and James White.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Nov. 20.—A Dublin cable to the Tribune says:

The world will soon see the formation of an Irish national movement, which will have for its object the organization of a citizens' force ready to uphold the authority of the crown and government in Ireland. This is a natural development of the situation in Ulster, where Unionists have been drilling and organizing themselves to resist oppression and attacks upon their liberties, and the example thus afforded is to be followed by the Nationalists in other parts of the country. They also have determined to put themselves in a position to be able to resist oppression and attacks upon their liberties.

Like many other Irish movements of a national character, this one has taken its origin among Ulster Protestants. Its two leaders are Sir Roger Casement and Captain James Robert White, both of whom took part in the Ulster Protestant home rule meeting some days ago. Captain White is a son of the late Field Marshal Sir George White. It is his intention to make common cause with the men now on strike in Dublin.

WILD CHASE TO LOCATE BURNS MANUSCRIPTS

Precious Relics of the Great Scottish Poet Eagerly Sought.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Nov. 20.—A London cable to the Tribune says:

Just now the liveliest interest is being taken by the admirers of Robert Burns in the fate of the Glen Riddell manuscripts and letters formerly in possession of the Liverpool Athenaeum. Headed by the Lord Provost of Glasgow many Scottish citizens recently combined for the purpose of purchasing and securing relics for Scotland, in spite of the fact that they are now in America.

Some months ago the trustees of the Liverpool Athenaeum sent them to Sotheby's for sale by private negotiation. Joseph Hornstein, a well known book collector, paid Sotheby's a satisfactory sum, and in due course dispatched the relics to his agent in New York, having in mind a particular client interested in the famous Burns' manuscripts, but on being approached by the Lord Provost of Glasgow, Mr. Hornstein cabled his agent to withdraw the offer of the manuscripts, and when he found the situation rendered all the more difficult from the fact that the agent had sent an emissary with the relics to find the client, who was away from New York—in fact, in the far west—he sent out a special representative from England. In the meantime the New York agent had dispatched a man in pursuit of the bearer of the precious relics.

Seen yesterday, Mr. Hornstein expressed hopefulness of the ultimate success in the chase. At the same time he pointed out that as his client was on a wandering expedition the tracks of pursuers and pursued would be bewildering, and that even weeks might elapse before definite tidings could reach him.

THE CORPORATION LAWYER CRY.

The local mouthpiece of the Ontario Government repeatedly calls Mr. Rowell a corporation lawyer.

Mr. Rowell's record in the Legislature is the best answer to the insinuation that there is any conflict between his public and professional duties.

He personally led in a protest against abandoning the proceedings against the combines, which were under investigation and prosecution by Mr. Curry, K. C., crown attorney, of Toronto, at the date of his resignation. In this case, not only Mr. Curry advised that these combines were acting in disregard of the provisions of the criminal code, unduly limiting competition and unduly enhancing the prices of their commodities to consumers, but the police magistrate of Toronto had committed a number of them for trial, and the grand jury had found a true bill against several of them. Yet in the face of all this the Government, in the interest of these combines, withdrew all the prosecutions and abandoned them.

Compare the records of the two parties on a few matters. The Liberals in the House continually protested against the Government's subservience to corporate influence. They opposed the 2,000,000-acre land grant to the Canadian Northern Railway Company before Mr. Rowell entered the House, and opposed its renewal last session under his leadership, unless accompanied by satisfactory conditions of settlement, which would insure the opening up and settlement of Northern Ontario. The Government voted them down in the interest of the corporations.

Last session the Liberals opposed the alienation of 1,000,000 acres of land to another railway corporation at 33 1/2 cents an acre. Again they were voted down for the advantage of the big corporation.

The Liberals under Mr. Rowell urged that railway corporations be taxed on the same basis as private concerns holding property. The Government has failed to give effect to this demand.

The Liberals under Mr. Rowell demanded that corporations be brought under more effective control of the laws, and prohibited from giving campaign contributions, in order to put an end as far as practicable to their unfair influence over legislation and administration. It is the Government which up to date has not taken action.

The cry of "corporation lawyer" raised unjustly against Mr. Rowell can scarcely tickle the ears of Mr. Hanna, the guide, philosopher and attorney of the Standard Oil Company and other big interests. It is, of course, raised only to try to divert attention from the main issue, the abolition of the bar.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CHIEF.

Today the Liberal chieftain reaches his seventy-second birthday. Congratulations are due him, and will reach him from all over the wide Dominion. For many men such a date in life's progress means decrepitude and decay. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier meets it like another great leader of olden time, with his eye not dimmed, nor his natural force abated. With a physical vigor beyond that of most of his contemporaries, with a mind as alert as ever, with an experience unprecedented among the statesmen of Canada, with an eloquence whose charm and power remains unaffected by age, with a cheerful courage that no defeat can sour, he still remains the ideal leader whose men will follow him to the end.

With all the elements of greatness possessed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, there has never been a public man less inclined to press forward into the limelight, or seek his own personal advancement. We all know how modestly he tried to escape the honors and responsibilities of leadership that his party placed upon him when they turned to him as the successor of Edward Blake. We know how ready and anxious he was to give place to some younger man when reverses came in 1911, and yet how cheerfully he remained at his post when his party refused to take another leader, ready to serve in the day of adversity as well as in prosperity. Ever, with him, the place has sought the man, and not the man the place.

The voice of such a leader is a clarion call to the rank and file to press on to victory even though a temporary defeat has halted their onward march. Loved as no Liberal leader has ever been loved by his followers, respected and admired by his opponents, his party is proud today of its standard-bearer, and will close up the ranks behind him. Whether in victory or defeat its loyalty remains true to the old chief whose white plume it has followed with enthusiasm in the past, and with undaunted courage still follows.

Congratulations to Sir Wilfrid. May his days be long in his native land, and his return to power speedy, if not for his own sake, for the sake of the country for which he lived, and whose interests he can best promote.

A MATTER OF RECORD.

Speaking at Lambeth Mr. N. W. Rowell recalled the fact that in 1903 and 1904 the Liberal party in Ontario declined to take advanced ground on temperance, and that many men within the party were forced to vote against them; so many, in fact, that the Liberal party went out of power.

There is no record that at any time or in any place Mr. Rowell showed the least independence in this darkest day that temperance ever knew in Ontario. He was ready to back the party that flirted with the temperance issue, just as today he and his party are flirting with that same issue in provincial politics. Is he any different today?—London Free Press.

The least advanced legislation proposed by the Liberals was vastly in advance of any legislation proposed by the Conservatives, but as a matter of fact and record Mr. Rowell did protest at the Liberal convention in 1904 against the resolution adopted by the convention. He sought to persuade the convention to take more advanced ground. In this he failed, but his attitude on that occasion puts the stamp of untruth on the local Government's organ's attacks.

LONDON TOWNSHIP AND LOCAL OPTION.

In January, 1910, the electors of London Township voted on a local option bylaw as follows:

Against the bars..... 1,170
For the bars..... 790

Majority against..... 380
Thanks to the three-fifths clause the bars remained open.

In January, 1913, the electors of the same township (excepting Ealing and Pottersburg, lately annexed to the city) voted again on the same issue, the poll being:

Against the bars..... 858
For the bars..... 567

Majority against..... 291
The validity of three or four of the votes was challenged successfully in the courts. Thanks again to the three-fifths clause the bars in London Township were saved.

This is what the Whitney Government has done for temperance in East Middlesex.

Huerta may have his good points, but the virtue of resignation is not one of them.

By the way, no cabinet minister talks now of "making it a thousand" in East Middlesex.

The American Federation of Labor has decided not to form a new party. The Republicans think there is one too many now.

A vote for McFarlane is a vote for the barroom. A vote for Laidlaw is a vote against the barroom. That's the situation in East Middlesex. It is as plain as a pikestaff.

"Big jump in Canadian trade with the States," says a headline in a Conservative newspaper which proved to its own satisfaction two years ago that there could be no such jump in any circumstances.

The agricultural exports of Canada last month were $21,520,000 higher than in October, 1912, thanks partly to good crops and mainly to the lowering of the American tariff wall. Canadian farmers can be no longer humbugged by the cry that the American market is useless. They have arguments to the contrary in their pockets.

There is usually an element of paradox in an Irish situation. Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, is not an Ulster man, and was a home ruler in his early public life. The so-called Ulster loyalists are raising an army to oppose decrees of Parliament, while the Nationalists, denounced as rebels, are raising another to uphold parliamentary authority.

"The reason that Mr. Rowell and his alliance friends offer is that they want the hotel bar abolished. But Sir James Whitney had already provided a means for this, and the result of his policy has been the abolition of one thousand bars in eight years. That is practical temperance work."—London Free Press.

Here is a distinct assertion that the present Government is the author of local option. The Government found the local option law on the statute book and merely attached to it the three-fifths clause, as a handicap on the temperance forces.

WILL RAISE $50,000.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—Howard Park Methodist Church, Toronto, is raising $50,000 for a new building fund, by sale of bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest. The bonds are being well taken up.

BRALEY'S POEM TODAY

THE CRIMINAL'S APOLOGY

Oh, yes, I'm guilty, right enough:
It ain't no use to throw a bluff,
An' yet, I guess, Society
Kin share the guilt along o' me!
I ain't the kind to weep an' whine,
But, say—wot chance, wot chance was mine?

Born in a dirty, reeking slum
Where decent sunlight never come,
An' starved for food an' starved for air
Through all my years of boyhood there,
While evil things an' evil like blokes
Was new; all the life I seen,
Of course, I grew to be a tough,
A hoodlum and a bad young rough!

But even then I might uv been
Reformed to be some use to men
If every time I left the trail
They didn't slam me into jail
Where thieves an' all that rotten crew
Would teach me worse than all I knew.

Oh, yes, I'm guilty; that is clear,
But every guy who's listenin' here
An' all you swells an' goodly folks
Who sniffs at me an' speak like blokes
Is guilty, too—along o' me
An' will be till the world is free
Of stinkin' slums an' rotten holes
That poison people's hearts an' souls
An' cheats 'em from their very birth
From any decent chance on earth,
I ain't the kind to weep an' whine,
But, say—wot chance—wot chance was mine?
—BERTON BRALEY.

OBEDIENT THE INJUNCTION.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

"You should mend your ways," said the good man, addressing the "light-fingered gent" who had been caught at it. "Why don't you try to conduct yourself in accordance with biblical teachings?"

"I do. I never let my left hand know whose pocket my right hand is picking."

THE LONG RUN IS UNPOPULAR.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

"Honestly always wins in the long run."

"Yes, I know; but a man is likely to be regarded as an old fogey or a weakling if he doesn't take the short cut nowadays."

THE WOMEN OF THE SAILORS.

[Edgar A. Guest, in Detroit Free Press.]

The women of the sailors, unto them, oh God, be kind!
They never hear the breaking waves,
They never hear the wind,
But that their hearts are anguish-tossed, and every thought's a fear.

For the women of the sailors it's the bitter time of year.

The women of the sailors, unto them, oh God, be good!

'Tis they who know and understand how frail are steel and wood;
'Tis they who never see the spray upon a rock-bound coast.

But what they breathe is prayer upon a rock-bound coast.
Thee for those that love them most.

The women of the sailors, unto them, oh God, be kind!

They never hear the hurricane but that it means a sigh;
They never hear the tempest, but that they pray to Thee.

For the safety of their loved ones who are battling with the sea.

THE WAYS OF PRINCES.

[Greenwood (B. C.) Ledger.]

Todayism to titillate is seen in Canada by the putting of the word prince before the names of towns. Few princes have done much for the world. Most of them is absorbed in looking wise, dressing up for court occasions, drawing their salaries and eating mush with a silver spoon.

FORESIGHT OR FOLLY.

[Puck.]

"No, my man, this is not mine. It was a twenty-dollar bill I lost."

"But it was a twenty-dollar bill before I got it changed, sor."

"What did you get it changed for?"

"Och, sure, so the owner could conveniently reward me, sor."

THE LAST GOW.

[Belleville, Ontario.]

We have read with amusement an article by Peter MacArthur, the well-known writer, in which he describes a visit to a rural fair in the village of Moraviantown. At the fair there were five hundred automobiles, more or less, and only one lonely, lonesome, cow.

Agriculture and the dairy industry have not reached any such stage of inanition in our Bay of Quinte district as Mr. MacArthur's description would indicate to be the case in the County of Kent.

But it is open to question if the automobile is as valuable an asset to Ontario as was the gentle, patient, honest, old, brindie or spotted cow. Let us have the automobiles if we can afford them, but let us do all that we may to foster and preserve the bovine race as the foundation of the most valuable industry

A HEEDLESS HUSBAND.

[Kansas City Journal.]

"They say that marriage is a community of interests, but my husband has no consideration for me. Yesterday he lugged a total stranger home for dinner. Not a word of warning. Is that any way to treat a wife?"

"Oh, that wasn't so reprehensible. You could easily rustle up something for dinner."

Disheartening Effect of Piles

It is not only the itching and stinging of piles that is to be dreaded, but also the depressing and debilitating effect on the whole system. The victim of piles cannot do efficient work. There is an uneasiness and discomfort by day, and at night the distress from the itching prevents sleep and rest, and undermines the general health.

From almost the first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment you get relief from the annoying itching and burning, and gradually the ulcers are healed up and the disease thoroughly cured. Do not make the mistake of discontinuing treatment as soon as relief is obtained. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a proven cure, but it depends on you to apply it persistently until a cure is effected.

Even the most severe cases of long standing yield to the soothing, healing influence of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Surgical operations are no longer necessary, for, as a matter of fact, Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured cases that were not cured by operations. No sufferer from piles can afford to delay the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

[Puck.]

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was."

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P. E. I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

BOYS UNDER AGE GOT INTO THEATRE

Doorman Fined Fifty Dollars and Costs By Police Magistrate.

William Brockenshire, doorman at the Princess Theatre, was found guilty by Police Magistrate Judd this morning of allowing three boys under 15 years of age to enter the theatre unaccompanied by elders, and was fined $50 and $1.35 costs.

The offence occurred on the night of Nov. 12, and each of the three boys swore that they purchased tickets and got into the theatre without being questioned as to their age. The doorman swore that he always questioned boys, and when in doubt turned them away.

The charge was laid by P. C. Fulcher. He was on duty on Dundas street and saw the three boys walking along the street. He questioned them as to where they had been, telling them they were guilty of a breach of the law passed recently, which prohibits children under 15 from being on

Here is the first specially posed photograph of Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, whom Vincent Astor will marry. This photograph of the fiancée of the richest man in the world was made on the porch of her home just after the engagement was announced.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

Listen for New Home.
Dear Miss Grey—Would you please answer the following questions:
1. How to clean a white woolen aviation cap?
2. Could you tell me how to clean tan kid gloves?
3. How to clean a cream net waist, without having to wash it?
4. Would you please give a list of supplies for a girl to take to her future home? I noticed in the paper recently a list you had given, but I missed it, so if it would trouble you too much, it would please me if you would name them again. Just a good supply for a home, and not too extravagant.
5. Which would be most suitable to wear with a white or cream silk dress—white or black slippers, when being married at a country manse?
6. Where would be the proper place for a girl to change her wedding dress to travelling suit, when going from the manse to the station?
7. How to bring back the curl in ostrich plumes?
8. Could you give a recipe for peanut salad and peanut butter?
9. What are the flowers for January and October, and their language?
Hoping this won't take up too much space, and would like to see it in print soon. Thanks in advance.
A READER.
Answer—1. Wash it carefully in a bath of lukewarm water and white soap; rinse twice through tepid soft water; squeeze between the folds of a bath towel until much of the moisture is absorbed; then dry quickly in a current of warm air, pulling often with the hands to restore the shape.
2. To pull the gloves on the hands and wash them in a basin of gasoline is the best method known to amateurs. Be absolutely sure not to have a fire in the room or a light, especially a kerosene lamp. Leave the gloves on until they dry.
3. Put it in a cotton sack with a quantity of flour and wheat meal; leave the sack in the sack for two or three days, rubbing it about between the hands frequently. Then remove and brush out the powder. The silk should be pretty well removed.
4. Table linen: Four cloths, one large and three ordinary size; three dozen napkins; two five o'clock tea squares; four tray cloths; several doilies and centre pieces.
5. Bed linen: Six pairs cotton sheets; two pairs flannellette blouses; two pairs woolen blankets; four quilts, a comforter and white spread for each bed; eight pairs

Years of Suffering

A Desperate Case of Catarrh in the Head.

"My father had catarrh in the head for a long time." It was such a desperate case that he didn't know what to do, but one of his friends recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. He got a bottle immediately, and as soon as he commenced taking it he felt relief and after the use of two other bottles he was completely cured. He was so well pleased he has ever since recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. "Delle Allins Begin, Lewis, P. Q. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold at all druggists everywhere."

engaged? My friend says yes, and I say no. Which one do you favor?
Please give us a real good "sermon," and decide this matter for a whole lot of us shy maidens. Yours,
SHYNESS.

A.—I quite agree with you, Shyness, that it is much better and wiser to reserve your kisses until you are engaged. Even though you are very good friends with a man this does not, or should not, entitle him to such a privilege. Girls who allow themselves to be kissed often, are apt to be held in light esteem, even by the one who claims the privilege.

Questions Galore.

Dear Miss Grey: Would you please answer the following questions:
1. Is it a young man's place to ask to call again, after seeing a young lady home, or should she extend an invitation to him to call again?

2. When a young man resides out of the city, in which place a girl has met him for the first time, should she, if she likes him, invite him to come to her city to visit her? And if she does, and he accepts, should he stay at a hotel, or should she ask him to stay at her home?

3. I have been going with a young man for nearly two weeks, and his birthday is next week. Should I send him a gift or just a remembrance card?

4. When a young girl and fellow have met for the first time, and they are parting, is it proper to say, "I was pleased to make your acquaintance"? Is it the girl's or boy's place to say that, and what should the other say in reply?

5. I want to send congratulations to a friend of mine, who has just had a little babe brought into her home. How should I do it? If I should send her a card, what should I put on it? Should I address it to Mr. and Mrs., or just put her name on it?

6. Is it a girl's place to invite a boy in, no matter how late it is, when he brings her home?

7. Would you please tell me what a young girl should have to wear for the summer and early fall, including everything a young girl needs? I work in a drygoods store and intend to spend perhaps a couple of weeks at a summer resort next summer, so am asking at this time, that I may prepare a few things during my spare time this winter.

8. Is it proper for a working girl to have cards with her name printed on them? When you are made acquainted with people, should you always present your card to them?

9. A young girl friend of mine has worked in an office a little over two years, and at Christmas time her employer gives her a gift of $10. She wishes to know what it is proper for her to send his wife or children a little gift at Christmas. They have two children, but she has never sent anything before, because she did not know if it would be in order. Or should she just accept the gift from her employer with "Thank you"?

Hoping to see this in print at your convenience, and that I have not troubled you too much, I remain, VALENTINE.

A.—1. Either is in perfect propriety. If the young man does not ask permission to visit, it is his duty to do so. He would be glad to have him call again.
2. Unless the young man is known to other members of her family it would seem rather forward for a girl to ask almost a total stranger to come to visit her, no matter how much she likes him. If, however, the young man is a friend of the family, whom she meets for the first time, and an invitation is given, he should be asked to stay at her home during the visit, not at a hotel.

3. A card would be in much better taste.

4. Is it for the young man to express his pleasure at meeting her. She may

Patroness at the Hermitage Dance For Preventorium

MRS. JOHN STEVELY.

Mrs. John Stevely, of this city, president of the Women's Sanatorium Aid Society, which is interested in raising funds for the erection of a preventorium for tuberculous children at Byron Sanatorium. Mrs. Stevely is one of the patronesses at the Hermitage Club dance being given tomorrow (Friday) night in the new Masonic Temple, the proceeds of which are to go to the preventorium.

say "Thank you." It is all that is necessary to ask him inside.

5. Send a note of congratulation, addressing it to the mother for the child. Say that you have just heard the joyful news, and rejoice to hear of the happy event, that you hope to call and see the dear babe for yourself, and to congratulate father and mother in person.

6. If the hour is late it is not necessary to ask him inside.

7. Well, this is quite a contract. Some girls' idea of what they "need" is rather alarming. However, I make some suggestions that may be altered as you see fit. It is wise, first of all, to consider the "underneath." You will need long-sleeved vests for cool days in early autumn, four summer vests, four pairs cotton drawers, two combinations (undershirt and petticoat), one black or colored water-repellent blouse, one cloth suit with silk blouse to match, one separate skirt to wear with white shirtwaists, two wash dresses, either a sweater coat or raincoat, four pairs stockings, two dozen handkerchiefs, one pair kid and one pair long silk gloves. Of course, a girl may get along with less than this, and again, she may desire more. I have given you a list, an average list.

8. It is quite possible to get along without cards, but it is very nice for a girl to have her own bits of pasted boards upon occasion. Cards are never presented upon receiving an introduction, but are left when making calls.

If You Value Your Instep, Avoid the Flat-Heeled Shoe

Somehow or other, last spring the very low-heeled buttoned boot obtained a passing favor with women on the lookout for extreme effects in dress. The fad was taken up, and bootmakers began to turn out these flat-heeled boots by the score; and under the names "Baby Doll" Footwear and "Mary Jane" Boot, they obtained favor with young women valuing sensationalism more than good taste. And in the meantime the initial wearers of the Baby Doll style, finding that their insteps were being ruined, abandoned the flat-heeled boot and now will have none of it. They also found that this new boot makes the foot look about two sizes larger, and is undeniably clumsy and ungainly with the draped, narrow skirts of the moment. It is a physiological fact, known to intelligent makers of footwear that the feminine foot requires a higher and more rounded arch than that of man. So the woman who adopts a flat-heeled boot for walking, day in and day out, not only makes a mistake from a style standpoint and a beauty standpoint, but also runs the risk of losing her instep and the pains in her feet which invariably follow prolonged walking in such a shoe, will tell the story of the injury that is being done.

The picture shows the dangerous flat-heeled boot and also a conventional afternoon boot of the moment, correct for wear with street or indoor costumes. This boot has a moderate curved heel, and a buttoned top of light kid in the approved style.

and sometimes inclosed in a gift package. I do not think it is expected that she give a gift in return. If the children are small she might buy them some little thing at Christmas, such as a doll, picture book or toy, but any expensive gift would look very much out of place.

Help For "Art."
A.—Dear man, I am not publishing your letter, partly because space is overflowing already, and partly because it might be embarrassing for you.

Yours is certainly a peculiar case, and I realize that it would indeed be well-nigh impossible to pull up stakes and trek elsewhere. Could you not take the young lady's mother into your confidence? Seek an audience with her, and tell her manfully and emphatically that there is absolutely no foundation for the report. Explain it all carefully to her, as you have to me, only giving fuller particulars about your personal life, relatives, etc. Ask her to use her influence in contradicting the report among the people she knows. And then tell her why you wish the story denied, that you care for her daughter. Since the mother is already friends with you, I feel sure she will favor your suit and lend her aid.

From Toronto Reader.

Dear Miss Grey—Would you please answer the following questions:

1. What would be suitable for a winter coat for a middle-aged lady?
2. I am 14 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall, rather slight, have blue eyes, light brown hair, fit complexion, what kind of material would you advise me to get for a winter dress for church or evening wear?

3. Would you suggest some nice ways to make it?
4. Please suggest some nice way to do my hair other than rolled at the sides or pomped and hanging in one braid at the back?

5. I wear my dresses within an inch of my shoulders. Are they too long?
6. Am I too tall for my age?

7. About how much should I weigh? Thinking you very much in advance and hoping I have not tired you with my troublesome questions, I remain,
A TORONTO READER.

A.—1. A good-weight blanket-cloth or boucle in dark blue, black or gray, would be suitable.

2. A pretty shade of brown whipcord, with cream lace yoke, and touches of bright plaid silk that harmonizes with the brown would make a pretty dress.

3. I really have not the space. You must consult a fashion book.

4. I must confess I don't know any other ways.

5. No.

6. No.

7. About 96 pounds.

The mail-box has become so filled to overflowing that I am obliged to keep some folks waiting for an answer. So please do not get impatient, I'm doing my very best to "catch up."

Music Club Hear a Pleasing Paper on Wagner's Life

Interesting Program Rendered at Fortnightly Recital.

A paper on the life and works of Richard Wagner, by Miss Olive Weid, was the outstanding feature of the regular fortnightly recital of the Woman's Music Club, held yesterday afternoon in the Normal School.

Much praise was heard on all sides for the violin selections given by Miss Marjorie Miller, a young student, who presented well. The entire program was excellent, and quite up to the high standard aimed at by the Woman's Music Club. The closing quartet, Wagner's "Overture to Rienzi," was rendered most delightfully.

Following is a copy of the program, which was arranged by Mrs. Innes Carling:

1. A paper on Richard Wagner .... Miss Olive Weid.
2. (a) From Grief I Cannot Measure ..... Robert Franz
(b) Sunshine Song ..... Edward Grieg
Miss Odette Simcox.
3. Sonata G Minor, Op. 10, No. 3 ..... Beethoven
Miss Jack McAlpine.
4. Nocturne, Op. 21 ..... Schumann
Miss Irene McDougall.
5. (a) The Maria ..... Franz Schubert
(b) Minuet ..... Beethoven
Miss Marjorie Miller.
6. O Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star ..... Richard Wagner
Mr. Elmer Haynes.
7. Quartet—Overture to Rienzi ..... Richard Wagner
Mrs. A. E. Jordan, Mrs. Grant-Harris, Miss Agnes Burwell, Miss Irene Burns.

God Save the King.

Y.W.C.T.U. Classes Well Attended by London Girls

Work is Progressing Nicely—"Y" Members to Hold Sale of Work on Friday.

It would do the average person a deal of good to go around to the Y. W. C. T. U. hall at 432 Park avenue some evening, when the girls' classes are in progress, and see the eager, busy roomful of girls gathered there for instruction in millinery, English, music or dressmaking.

That the working girls of this city are eager for advancement, and appreciate any efforts made in that direction, is surely evidenced by the hearty response to the invitation to join the classes given a month ago by the Y. W. C. T. U. Over 70 have become members of one class or another, and it would be indeed difficult to estimate the value of the work being done by the young business women of London by this organization.

On Tuesdays the classes in millinery and music assemble, and on Thursdays the branches taught are dressmaking and English. It is interesting to note that six members in the latter class are foreign girls who are eager to learn the English language correctly.

Holding a Sale.

For their first lessons the millinery class has been making some very attractive dolls' hats. They are fashioned of silk and velvet, trimmed quite à la mode with flowers and feathers. These hats will be available for purchase at the sale

:: Little Christmas Gift Ideas ::

A BOX OF FANCY PINS, pasted into circles of white or any color wool cloth desired, and on the edges of the wool pin all sizes in safety pins makes an acceptable gift for a girl who works in an office, and who often has a hard time to find a pin. A pair of dainty garters—the old-fashioned round kind with the bows on the side—would be more than appreciated by the woman who rests without her corset, and consequently her stocking supporters are missing.

A YARD OF SHADOW LACE, one-eighth of a yard wide will make a pretty boudoir cap. Sew together and allow the lace edge to form the outer edge of the cap. If lace with eyelets is purchased, all one has to do is to run the elastic through these eyelets. If not, sew a heading an inch from the lace edge on the under side. Run elastic in and sew to fit the head. At the centre of cap run four or five neat shirrings, draw up neatly and fasten. A dainty bow and the cap is complete.

A DOZEN LITTLE SILK BAGS made of all shades of lavender to purple ribbons, filled with dried sweet lavender, may be surely acceptable to a new housekeeper. Any colors may be used for the bags, but the prettiest I saw were in shades of purple. There are so many places in one's house these little thoughtful gifts may go and be a comfort.

FOR THE GIRL FRIEND who uses a chasing dish, make a ribbon belt, using elastic about one and one-half inches wide. Cover with ribbon shirred full, and a little edge left on the top and bottom. To this hang two pretty bright holders on narrow ribbon the same shade as the belt.

A BAG FOR POWDER PUFFS is made by covering a piece of cardboard, six inches square, with any color silk desired. Crochet around with same color in a single crochet stitch. Do not full any. Next row use double crochet with three chain stitches between, putting the double crochet into every fourth stitch. Crochet to the depth of five inches, and finish with dainty scalloped, and draw ribbon in at the third row below the edge. Take cotton batting and roll into a roll about an inch and a half thick. Cut into pieces three inches long. Wind one end of batting with silk or ribbon the color of the bag down one-half the length, and tie with bow. Fill the whole bag with the cotton puffs and a little sachet powder.

work to be held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. T. U. on Friday (tomorrow) afternoon from 2 to 6. There will also be many articles, both plain and fancy, and anyone desiring to purchase Christmas gifts should not fail to attend and purchase some of the dainty things made by the members. One table will be devoted to the sale of home cooking. It is requested that anyone making donations for the sale will kindly send them before or by noon on Friday, so that they may be ticketed.

Love is the life-history of a woman; it is an episode for a man. Reputation, honor, dignity—all depend on a woman's behavior in this one respect, while the moral law itself appears, in the view of this just world, to be in abeyance in regard to the relations of men to women—Mme. de Staël.

Six-Team League for Canadian Next Year

Frank Shaughnessy Says Guelph and Berlin Should Be Dropped and Other Six Clubs Would Form Compact Circuit.

OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—If the Ottawa Baseball Club has its way there will be a six-team circuit in the Canadian League for next season. Manager Frank Shaughnessy stated yesterday that such a series embracing Ottawa, Hamilton, London, St. Thomas, Brantford and Peterborough would just be his ideal. He likes the idea of Erie and other towns in New York state, but doubts if they will be ready in time. Erie has been given until Jan. 1 in which to organize, and the Canadian League's composition will not be known until after that date. "Shag," thinks that St. Thomas, Brantford and Peterborough can be developed into first-class ball towns, and is also of the opinion that it would be a good move to drop both Guelph and Berlin. The question will be threshed out at the annual meeting, which is to be held next month at Toronto. With a six-team circuit, as suggested by the Ottawa, the clubs would probably be far better off. It would mean additional visits to the capital of the strong teams like London and Hamilton, and the others could also strengthen. It would be a better financial proposition as well, as Guelph and Berlin have not only been poor drawing cards on the road but they seldom draw crowds of any proportions when at home. St. Thomas and Brantford, with good teams, would do exceptionally well, and Peterborough has already shown its qualifications for a permanent berth in the league. Peterborough really had the best-balanced club in the league last year, and with proper management they would have won the pennant. They had a first-class pitching staff and some of the hardest hitters in the Canadian. Next year Peterborough will certainly be heard from.

The Click of the Steel Shoe

Clinton will have an Intermediate O. H. A. team in their new rink.

Chas. Lavery, who formerly played with Teddy Martini's Junior Skimmers, is now living at Whitby, and will play with the Intermediates of that town this winter.

Walter Fair, the good cover of last year's Ottawa Juniors, and who played on the Junior All-Star team last winter, has since joined the ranks of the beneficiaries. Fair is over age this year, and will play with the Intermediates, who expect to put a formidable seven on the ice.

Ernie Johnston will again play on the defence for the New Westminster team, which Hugh Lehman will manage. Kenny Malien will be on the forward line.

Kingston will have a Senior O. H. A. team, two Junior O. H. A. teams, two Senior Intercollegiate, one Intermediate College and four Junior College teams.

Frank Patrick's proposed offside rule for ice hockey will be tested at Victoria in two weeks, when the Vancouver and Victoria professional teams will play an exhibition game. Frank Patrick is away on the States on a business trip, but a dispatch from Victoria states that Lester Patrick has announced Friday, Nov. 28, as the date of the test match.

The rink at Strathroy has been pronounced unsafe, and that town may not be represented in the O. H. A. this year.

Bob Armstrong, counted on as a star for Woodstock College O. H. A. team, has been called home to Fort William and will not return.

MANUFACTURERS STILL NEED A SIXTH TEAM

Only Five Teams Represented at Meeting Held in Y. M. C. A. Last Evening.

A meeting of the Manufacturers' Hockey League was held last night in the Y. M. C. A., when several matters pertaining to the coming season were dealt with. Five clubs were represented at the meeting, and four of them announced the colors under which their teams will play this winter. They were as follows: D. S. Perrins—Blue and white; Green-Swifts—Green and white; McCormicks—Brown and white; Lawson & Jones—Purple and white.

The McClary management has not yet decided what colors its team will have.

A Sixth Team Needed.

The league is still in need of a sixth team, but it is expected no trouble will be experienced in obtaining one. Secretary Gill is in communication with several firms who are considering placing a team in the league, and it is believed the new team will be represented at the next meeting.

The arrangements for a rink were left with President Lawson and Secretary Gill to deal with, while the protest, consisting of Messrs. Kompass, Rhodes and Perry, was appointed to deal with all disputes or protested games.

The new constitution of the league has been drawn up, and the secretary instructed to have copies of it made. The new clauses were gone over at last night's meeting and found to be satisfactory.

JACK JOHNSON WILL MEET FRANK MORAN

Bout for Heavyweight Title Will Be Fought in Paris in January.

Paris, Nov. 19.—Jack Johnson was matched today to fight Frank Moran in the second week in January at Paris for the heavyweight championship of the world. Two clubs, the Nouveau Cirque and Wonderland Francaise, are now bidding for the fight. The Nouveau Cirque, which would hold the bout at the dome of the Eiffel tower, has offered Johnson 50 per cent of the gross gate receipts, and Moran 25. The Wonderland club, which is under the control of Theodore Vienne, the biggest French fight promoter, submits its bid tomorrow.

Johnson is willing to fight Moran and defend his title on account of the recent action of the International Boxing Union declaring the heavyweight title vacant. Dan McKettrick, Moran's manager, said the reports that Johnson's finances require his re-entrance to the ring are both he and Johnson prefer Vienne's club, which is worth $100,000, and have taken a $100 per month apartment in Paris, after buying a new motor. McKettrick also says both he and John prefer Mr. Vienne's club to get the fight, which would then be held in Luna Park, Paris, where they can draw a big society house.

A DAY IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SIDE LIGHTS ON

JOHNNY COULON, bantamweight champion of the world, who was in London for a short time Wednesday morning on his way to Chicago. He was reported drowned in the recent lake disasters.

JOHNNY COULON
PASSED THROUGH

Famous Bantamweight Champion Was in London Short Time Wednesday.

HE LIKED THE HUNTING
Was Reported Lost While He Was in Parry Sound District—Shot a Big Buck.

Johnny Coulon, bantam weight champion of the world, passed through London on Wednesday morning on his way to Chicago. He did not stop off here any length of time, as his train was a through train and only hesitated here for about fifteen minutes. The famous little fighter had a change to take a squirt at the city, or as much of it as can be seen from the Grand Trunk station platform and Richmond street, and he was favorably impressed. He met a couple of Londoners on the train on the way down from Toronto, and during the conversation stated that he had paid a visit to this city some years ago, before he had entered the boxing game.

Was Reported Drowned.
Coulon at one time lived in Toronto, or at least he claims that rather doubtful distinction. However, he learned the boxing game in the States, and has met with all his success in that country. Last week it was feared that he had been drowned during the big storm that swept the lakes, as he had gone up on one of the boats for a hunting trip. However, where he had some of the finest hunting in his life, according to what he told the local men, "I intend to go back here every fall," he stated.

Will Be Kept Busy.
He intends to resume fighting again this winter, but it is not likely he will step into the ring before the first of the year. He says that he has been busy in the Parry Sound district, and he proudly produced a photograph to prove the assertion. It was a picture of Coulon could talk little else but hunting after that.

M'GRAW SAYS HE WILL HAVE GOOD TEAM IN 1914

Refused to Make Any Statement Concerning Probable Changes, However.

[Canadian Press.]
Victoria, B. C., Nov. 20.—Prophecy- ing a greater team than ever next year, but refusing to make any statement as to probable changes, Mugsy McGraw sailed for the Orient last night on the Empress of Japan, together with other members of the Giants and White Sox party. There are over thirty baseball players and over half a hundred are making the jaunt, including the wives of some of the players and a score or more real fans.

Among the critics who regard the chances as even it is pointed out that while Harvard has shown itself consistently in form all season, the system of play has become such a thing of habit among the crimson men that they might easily be surprised by Yale formations, many of which it is said have recently been dug up out of old style of play—old enough, perhaps, to be new again and prove effective, as old players have done against the new in several games this season.

WOULD COUGH SO HARD
WOULD TURN BLACK
IN THE FACE.

A cough cold is one of the most dangerous kind. It leaves the throat or lungs, and sometimes both, affected if not taken care of immediately.

Obstinate coughs and colds yield to the grateful soothing action of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, containing as it does all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree.

Mrs. C. J. Selig, Dartmouth, N.S., writes:—"My little boy, six years old, had a dreadful, hard cough. At night time he would cough so hard he would turn black in the face, and at times he would cough nearly an hour before he would stop. I tried different cough syrups, but they did him no good. The little fellow was wasting away, as he could not eat or sleep, the cough troubled him so. I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and it did him so much good I got another. Now I am only too glad to be able to write this to tell how thankful I am, and to tell every mother to use nothing else."

Price, 25 and 50 cents.

Be sure you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. See the trade mark; the three pine trees.

HEAVY DAMAGE DONE
IN NORTHERN FORESTS

Storm Wrecked Thousands of Dollars Worth of Splendid Timber.

[Canadian Press.]
Thessalon, Nov. 20.—Woodsmen and hunters now coming out of the timber country in and adjacent to the Missis-sauga forest reserve report that a vast amount of damage had been caused by the recent great storm to the standing timber. While there is a difference of opinion as to the extent of the damage done all who have been in the back townships admit that it is tremendous. One man estimates the amount of fallen timber at no less than 40 per cent.

Not only will the loss from fallen timber be great, but it greatly increases the danger from fire during the next season, and for summers to come unless steps are taken to prevent it. Lumbermen in the limits bordering on the reserve will have much extra work in clearing roads, which have been badly obstructed. One lumberman reports that 70 per cent of his particular limit is now down. The Ontario Government will do well to take immediate steps to investigate the extent of the damage and decide what should be done to eliminate as far as possible the fire risk.

NEW SEWERS NEEDED

Engineers Are Working Out Details of Ingersoll System.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Nov. 20.—Attention is still being bestowed upon the sewerage question. Yesterday Consulting Engineer Weston, of Boston, arrived with Engineer Thorold, of Toronto, to go over the plans prepared by the latter. The object of engaging Mr. Weston was to ascertain definitely if the system recommended by Mr. Thorold is the very best for the requirements of the town.

The council and citizens as well recognize the fact that this is a big problem, and the feeling is general that it should receive close scrutiny before any definite step has been taken in the direction of establishing the system.

It has been felt for several years by a number of citizens that the town should have a sewerage system, and the agitation will doubtless culminate in work being proceeded with at a very early date.

SIX BADLY HURT

Head-on Collision Between Express Trains in South.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—One passenger was probably fatally hurt, and five others slightly injured in a head-on collision early today at Barton, S. C., on the Southern Railway, according to advices to headquarters of the company here. The passenger who is not expected to live is T. A. Lloyd. His home address is not known here.

The engines and express cars of both trains were derailed. An investigation has been ordered.

HUNTERS ARE BACK.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Nov. 20.—A party of nine deer hunters arrived here at noon yesterday, bringing with them eleven deer, including one of the finest bucks that has ever been seen here. There were eleven members of the party.

CORONER'S JURY CLEAR THE CREW IN KERR INQUEST

Find They Did Not Receive Proper Instructions as to Speed.

COULDN'T SEE AHEAD

Engineer and Fireman of Number Three Did Not Know
They Had Struck Man

"We, the jurors empaneled to inquire into the cause of death of Mr. James Kerr, who was killed on the Grand Trunk Railway, at Lobo station, on the 19th of November, 1913, find the employees of passenger train No. 3, on the said railroad and at the said date, did not receive proper instructions as to the meaning of order given to the words 'caution,' as to how many miles per hour constitute 'caution.'"

"The engineer, Mr. Crawford, of said passenger train No. 3, stated in his evidence he thought the speed of his train was about 35 to 38 miles per hour. Owing to the great storm he could not see ahead at the said station mentioned only about two car lengths. We exonerate the crew from blame."

A Prolonged Sitting.
In the above verdict the jury which at the county building Wednesday evening inquired into the cause of death of Mr. Kerr, who was struck and instantly killed in a blinding snowstorm on the morning of Nov. 19, near Lobo, expressed its opinion as to the cause of the accident. The sitting, over which Coroner Dr. C. C. Ross, of Hyde Park, presided, was a prolonged one, and the verdict was not rendered until after midnight, the jury being out for nearly two hours.

The number of witnesses heard was somewhat larger than usual, but none could shed much light on the actual occurrence, as nobody saw the dispatcher struck.

R. M. McLeod, conductor on the extra train No. 534, was the first witness called.

This train was carrying men to repair telegraph wires between Hyde Park Junction and Strathroy. The train was out at night, and Mr. Kerr, who was between the diamond near Komoka and London, and in searching for this they came to Lobo.

They only reached Lobo station about half a minute when the accident happened. The witness got off the train before it stopped and stepped into a shanty nearby to get certain tools for the engine, when No. 2 went past.

The snow prevented a clear view of the track for more than three or four car lengths. The train was going about 35 miles an hour. He did not see Kerr until he saw Mr. McDougal and the section man throw themselves down, and thought they were hit. Kerr was a few feet further down the track and out of his view.

Couldn't Hear Train.
The witness heard no bell or whistle, nor did he hear the rumble of the train. "In a snowstorm," he said, "a train just goes along as though it was on a carpet."

Mr. J. Mulholland, engineer on engine 954, then took the stand. He left London Sunday night and went to Hyde Park, where he was taken on, and they proceeded to Strathroy, repairing lines as they went. Arriving at Lobo, conductor got off the caboose. Two section men and Mr. Kerr also got off. He corroborated the evidence of the previous witness as to getting the tools. He saw Mr. Kerr walk past the engine, but could not tell where he went. Two section men were on the track in front of the approaching express, and he shouted to them, and they jumped.

One of them, McDougal, fell to his knees, and when he reached him he found that he had been struck on the hip but not seriously injured. A moment later he came across the body of Mr. Kerr lying near the engine. He was dead when he reached him.

The witness stated that Mr. Kerr would have to cross the westbound track to repair the wires.

Line Man's Story.
Frank Doe, a line man, who was assisting in the work, told practically the same story as the engineer in regard to the finding of the body. He did not see the express until it had passed him. He could not see two car-lengths, owing to the driving snow, and heard neither bell or whistle. The train he judged to be travelling at about 40 miles an hour, and passed so close to him that it brushed

A WONDERFUL CASE

Three Months in Hospital and Came Out Uncured

Zam-Buk Cured Him in Few Weeks.

Mr. Fred Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrews, N. B., says: "I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. When the knee got warm, it burned worse, and the itching and burning and smarting were almost unbearable. I tried various remedies, but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave up. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial."

"Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk, the itching and the smarting, irritation, I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was quite cured. "Since then," Zam-Buk has cured blood poison in my finger, and at a time when my finger was in such a terrible condition that I feared it would have to be amputated."

For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose ulcers, bad leg, cold sores, chapped hands, eczema, eruptions, and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal.

his arm. Had he been on the track he would also have been killed without the slightest warning.

How narrow an escape the others had was well shown in the evidence of Mr. D. A. McDougal, the section man, who was knocked down by the passing train. He knew nothing of the approach of the train, although he was looking for it. He heard a shout from the engineer and jumped, but not in time to prevent being struck by the bumper beam of the engine. He was thrown down, and the train went past so quickly that he did not see it at all. Kerr was ahead of him on the track a few feet, but he could not see him on account of the snow. He must have been struck a second later, and without the slightest warning.

Wm. Martinson said that on reaching Lobo they got on the caboose, and Mr. Kerr said "Come on, boys, and we'll have another crack at it."

Jumped Just in Time.
Kerr started off up the track, the two

PRAISES MR. LADLAW FOR STAND HE HAS TAKEN ON THE TEMPERANCE ISSUES

Liberal Candidate Was Given a Splendid Reception at Meeting of the Thorndale Electors—Positive Policy Is Backed by Leading Workers.

[By Our Own Man.]

Thorndale, Nov. 19.—Notwithstanding extremely adverse weather and almost impassable roads, there was a good-sized audience who listened to convincing addresses in Harding Hall tonight by Mr. Fred W. Daly, B. A., of London; Mr. Ben T. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Temperance Alliance, Toronto; and Mr. John W. Laidlaw, the temperance candidate in East Middlesex, contesting the provincial by-election.

Rev. Mr. Hannan, President.
Rev. A. E. Hannan, of West Nisour Presbyterian Church, presided, and in his opening remarks styled himself "one of the old fighters" in the temperance cause. The attendance, in view of the state of the weather and the condition of the roads, was encouraging, and sooner or later, he said, success was always assured for a good cause. The liquor traffic, he declared, sets its roots into every phase of home, social and national life, and there was nothing too sacred about the home for the traffic to ruin and devastate it. He himself had been assaulted and seriously threatened on different occasions, because of his efforts against the traffic.

Mr. Daly said that he, as a temperance man, was well satisfied with the stand taken by Mr. Laidlaw on the temperance issue.

Two Great Evils.
There were two great evils, he stated, which he hoped to see abolished during his lifetime, the evil of war and the evil of intemperance. He referred to the great amounts of capital devoted to war, which might, with so much more advantage to the welfare of humanity, be devoted to industries and means of social and public betterment. The economic waste of the liquor traffic was also appalling. Ontario had made considerable progress in the struggle against the bar, but much yet remained to be done. Mr. Laidlaw had come out squarely against the traffic. It was time the Government itself should do something to curb the drink evil. The people, by means of local option, had done a great deal, but the time was yet for more aggressive measures.

Mr. Laidlaw's Positive Policy.
Mr. Laidlaw's policy was a positive one. Mr. McFarlane's was a negative one. Mr. Laidlaw said, "I will do something to bring the liquor traffic to a halt. I will cross no bridge till I come to it. No one would go back to the time when there were more than 6,000 licensed bars in the province, said Mr. Daly. But there was still a remnant of these left. The bar was not necessary to twentieth century civilization, and the way to abolish it was to vote for a man who promised definitely to work against it."

An effort was being made in the riding to draw a red herring across the trail, figuratively speaking, the Conservative party trying to make Mr. Laidlaw appear opposed to hydro power. Mr. Laidlaw was not opposed to it. Hydro power had come to stay. It was an agency of progress, and neither Mr. Laidlaw nor any other progressive man was opposed to its extension and success.

Only Issue Before Electors.
"So far as he could see," said Mr. Daly, "there was only one issue in East Middlesex. Mr. Laidlaw was in favor of abolishing the bar. Those who agreed with him should vote for him. Those who wished to preserve the bar should vote against him."

Political parties, Mr. Daly stated, meant very little to him, except in what they were pledged to do.

Not a Party Meeting.
Mr. Spence pointed out that the meeting was not a party meeting, but a temperance meeting. If it were a party meeting, he would not be there speaking. He was present, he reminded the audience, as secretary of the Dominion Temperance Alliance, not as a political speaker or in a personal capacity.

He sketched the growth of the temperance movement in the last seven years until now. There were 502 prohibition and 333 licensed municipalities in Ontario.

Replied to Hon. Mr. Lucas.
Hon. Mr. Lucas, at Dorchester, had claimed the credit of this for the Government. Mr. Spence was inclined to think that the temperance people themselves had had a little to do with the present Government, 123 more municipalities would have been carried for local option.

By means of diagrams Mr. Spence showed how the fighting grounds of local option was narrowing down to a small number of municipalities, and then that line, public sentiment in Ontario was growing very strong against intemperance, and the question was what next step should be taken.

Not For, But With O.
The temperance people had never admitted that they were working for local option, but rather with local option, for the wider aim of provincial-wide prohibition. Local option could no longer be a temperance platform, provincially. The fact that license pre-men following, when suddenly they heard a shout and jumped just in the nick of time to save their lives. Both were carried off their feet by the rush of the train, which crept upon them without the slightest sound, the falling snow deadening every noise.

The fireman on engine 554, Mr. S. F. Faulkner, could shed no light on the tragedy. Engineer Crawford's testimony involved considerable reference to special orders issued, regarding the operation of the train during the blizzard. A number of the jurymen required minute information as to these, with the result that much irrelevant matter was introduced and the proceedings greatly lengthened. The sum of his testimony amounted to his having passed several trains on the road that morning, and he had paid no particular attention to the one at Komoka, and did not know that he had struck anyone.

The fireman, Mr. G. Firth, was also unaware of any unusual occurrence.

he had already signified his willingness to allow his name to go before the Liberal convention, and he could not go back on his word. He had made clear to both the Temperance Alliance and the Liberal convention that if elected he would hold himself free to support the most advanced measure of temperance legislation brought forward by either side of the House.

Bartenders Must Be Temperate.
When hotelkeepers advertised for bartenders they almost always stipulated that applicants must be temperate men, showing that they realized how the evil of liquor unfitted men for business and work. The bar had not a single redeeming feature to be advanced in its favor.

Rev. Mr. Hannan, before closing the meeting, expressed his personal complete satisfaction with the straightforward position taken by Mr. Laidlaw.

ANOTHER MEETING AT THORNDALE.

Close on to one hundred people, including a number of ladies, were present at the meeting. Many Conservatives were in the audience, which was an unusually attentive one. Some of those present evinced a desire to be informed relative to the respective powers of the Provincial and Federal Governments in restricting the liquor traffic in its various branches, and their questions along these and other lines were apparently quite satisfactorily answered by Mr. Spence.

Another temperance meeting will be held at Thorndale in Harding Hall on Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, when Rev. John Coburn, of Toronto, will speak, and Mr. H. Ruthven McDonald will sing.

Hamilton, Nov. 20.—Perhaps the most extraordinary incident in connection with the disaster recorded on the Great Lakes within the last week occurred here last evening. One of the supposed victims of the marine tragedy was John Thompson, son of Thomas Thompson, 442 John street, north of this city. On Monday last a telegram was received by Mrs. Mary Ward, of Sarnia, to the effect that his son John had gone down on the J. J. Carruthers.

Identified by Father.
Learning that the bodies of a number of the crew of the ill-fated steamship had been cast ashore at Kettle Point, near Goderich, Mr. Thomas Thompson hastened to the shore Monday evening to see if he could identify the remains of his son. He arrived at Goderich at midnight, and after a nerve-wrecking drive he reached the place on the lake shore where the bodies had been carefully and tenderly laid away for the purposes of identification. Among the number was that of a young man which corresponded so closely to that of John Thompson that the bereaved father acknowledged it as that of his son.

Toes Were Crossed.
There were two toes on the right foot that were crossed in a peculiar manner that Mr. Thompson remembered as tallying exactly with two injured toes on his son's foot. There was a "J. T." tattooed on the right arm of the body, and other tattoo marks which corresponded exactly with tattoo marks which he knew his son carried. To make the identification even more sure there were teeth missing in the mouth just as in the case of his son John. The body was prepared for burial and sent here to be interred. The only difference Mr. Thompson saw was in the color of the hair, being of the opinion that his son's hair was lighter than that on the head of the corpse.

A Reasonable Explanation.
On mentioning this fact to the undertaker in this city, the latter, who was personally acquainted with the son, said the fact that the body had been in the water so long might account for the difference. The undertaker himself was satisfied there was no doubt as to the identity of the remains. Preparations for the funeral were proceeded with. Flowers were

Mr. Laidlaw, after declaring himself firmly for the policy of the temperance alliance, said he had not entered the contest from any personal interest or desire. ## THE ROAD TO THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE met at least one of those few good old souls, who are constantly getting the worst of it when shopping, who don't believe in advertising. A hundred disappointing and instructive experiences have failed to teach him their plain lesson.

When he bought his first watch he was beguiled into buying one without a known name or a trustworthy guarantee. That watch—a poor timekeeper—cost him dearly by reason of missed appointments and missed trains, and for frequent repairs. Yet he paid the price of a good watch.

It is the same story with regard to his underwear, his shoes, and his fountain pen.

This good old soul's case is not unique. Many of us, if the truth be confessed, resemble him; we allow ourselves to be sold merchandise with an unknown brand or trade mark instead of buying merchandise which is well known to us through the medium of advertising. In slang language, we get "stung" pretty often.

In most of these cases we have ourselves to blame, for "the road to the right" thing to buy has been made plain by advertising.

There is no good reason for passing by the known thing, soundly guaranteed, to buy a dubious article, which, quality for quality, cannot be cheaper than the known, branded article.

"It is better to be sure
than sorry."

sent by sorrowing friends and relatives, and a wake was to be held last night. The funeral was to take place today.

In Walked Thompson.
About 6 o'clock this evening there was a knock at the door, and as no one went to answer, the door opened and in walked young John Thompson, alive and well, and strode across the room to take a look at the man in the casket. The scene that ensued can be imagined. The father and sisters were simply terrified out of their wits as the apparition of the dead brother, as they believed, appeared before them. The mother was at the undertaker's at the time completing the arrangements for the funeral.

Sent For Mother.
When quiet had been restored and the family was assured that some strange mistake had been made, messengers were sent to the mother to break the news to her. It was some time before the import of the intelligence dawned on her, and she was a pathetic mope between son and mother. In the meantime the corpse of the unknown occupied a place in the casket in the parlor of the late home. The undertaker was summoned and he took the remains back to his chapel, where they were to be interred. But there will be no funeral tomorrow.

Did Not Ship on Boat.
Young Thompson's story is to this effect: He left here on Nov. 4, but did not go on the J. J. Carruthers as was expected. He left here on the Merchants' Mutual steamship the Maple, and went to Montreal. He was there at the time of the storm, and was totally unconscious of the fears his family were suffering on his account. Yesterday he arrived in Toronto, and late last night he read in a newspaper of the finding of his body at Goderich and the preparations for his funeral. He reached Hamilton this afternoon, and on his way to the house called to see his friend, Edward Duffy, of the Northern Hotel. Mr. Duffy almost collapsed when he saw him, as he had heard of the sad happening and had made arrangements to attend the funeral.

Another remarkable coincidence in connection with this remarkable case is that there was a J. Thompson enrolled among the crew of the James A. Carruthers.

This Will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save $2 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes 16 ounces of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite, and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, croup, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Food Prices Highest In the Past 23 Years

Retail Cost of Staple Articles Was 66.1 Per Cent. Higher Than Prices Averaged Between 1890 and 1899—Meat Prices Show Tremendous Jump.

[Canadian Press.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Retail prices of food were higher Aug. 15 than they had been at any other time during the last 23 years, according to figures of the bureau of labor statistics issued today.

Retail prices of the principal articles of food in 40 important industrial cities, gathered and compiled by experts, show that during the year 12 of the 15 articles advanced in price, while only 3 declined.

Comparison of retail prices on Aug. 15, 1913, with prices on the same date in 1912, shows potatoes advanced 20 per cent., bacon 18.8, smoked ham 17.6, eggs 12.6, round steak 11.5, sirloin steak 10.2, pork 9.3, hens 8.7, and milk 8.1, rib roast 7.9, butter 5.7, and milk 2.7.

When the prices of each of the fifteen articles of food were weighted according to average consumption in the workingmen's families, retail prices on Aug. 15, 1913, were 66.1 per cent above the average price for the ten-year period 1890 to 1899; 3.0 above the price on Aug. 15, 1912, and 14.9 per cent above the price on Aug. 15, 1911.

2.7. Sugar declined 7.9 per cent, wheat flour 5.5, and cornmeal 2.7. Compared with average prices for the ten-year period, 1890 to 1899, every article for which prices were noted, with the exception of sugar, advanced. ## RISKED FIVE-YEAR TERM TO HELP HIS SON ESCAPE

Father's Sacrifice Was Unavailing, and Now the Wayward Youth Faces Life Imprisonment for Holdup and Attempt To Shoot.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Nov. 19.—Wm. Reynolds, charged with helping a prisoner to escape, appeared before Magistrate Gerns yesterday. The penalty for the offence is five years. The court, however, took into consideration the extenuating circumstances involved, and commuted the sentence to a fine and costs.

The case is an unusual one. Wm. Reynolds is the proprietor of a harness shop on Christina street, and an old citizen of Sarnia. The convict whom he helped to escape was his own son Arthur. Last summer the wayward boy was sent to the prison farm at Guelph to serve a year's sentence. During a drunken brawl he had struck a companion over the head with a bottle and inflicted serious injuries.

About a month ago, in company with two other convicts, he escaped from the prison farm at Guelph and fled to Sarnia, where one of his father's friends, Reynolds, went to his father for aid. The officers were hot on his tracks. The father, who feared for his son's life, took him down the river, where it is believed the young man succeeded in getting across.

About two weeks ago two hold-up men, armed with revolvers, entered a cafe in Detroit and fired upon the frightened proprietor when he attempted to escape. They were caught and arrested. One of the men was Arthur Reynolds, the other Newman, who escaped from the prison farm with him. The penalty for the offence with which they are charged is life imprisonment.

DR. ROSS IMPRESSED SYNOD WITH ELOQUENT ADDRESS

Canon Hague Writes of the Visit Made to the Anglican Convention.

In a letter to a Toronto paper, commenting on the death of Rev. Dr. Ross, Canon Dyson Hague, former rector of Cronyn Memorial Church, refers to the late pastor of St. Andrew's Church as follows:

The lamentable death of Dr. Ross, of London has not only removed a prince and a great man in the laity of the Presbyterian Church, but taken from the religious life of Canada one of its outstanding leaders. As the pastor of St. Andrew's church, Dr. Ross was ever a commanding figure in the world of charity, his forceful scholarship, and his practical altruism gave him an influence in the community and the country far wider than that of a mere denomination. His life was a noble example to relate many instances of his kindly and influential character from the standpoint of a neighbor-minister, who rose before my mind in a never-to-be-forgotten scene. It was when our general synod met in London about two years ago, and a deputation from the Presbyterian Church, with friendly greetings, was received upon the floor of the house. The archbishops and bishops, in their robes of office, came in upon the platform and seated themselves before the synod in expectation of the presentation of the deputation. Presently the archbishops and three men, two Presbyterian, clergymen and a Presbyterian layman, appeared. The whole assembly instantly rose to its feet, and the archbishops and bishops and representative clergy and laymen of the Church of England stood while Dr. Ross and his fellow Presbyterians came forward to the dais. The prime, in dignified and kindly manner, received them with evident sincerity of fraternal recognition, and then on behalf of the church he represented Dr. Ross addressed the synod. It was a really remarkable piece of religious eloquence; deliberate, dignified, quivering with intensity of emotion, and a perfect reply to the gravity of matter, and compactness of style. The tone of charity and the longing for Christian unity was conspicuous throughout, and evoked from the prime-archbishop a reply that was instinct with the spirit of Christ: "We are being drawn together," said he, "not by external influence, but by the spirit of God."

A new generation is rising fast. One by one the older men are being promoted, and pass on to the higher ranks. The Cavens, and Greggs, and Grant, and MacVicar have left their work to be carried on by younger men. And now Dr. Ross has gone. With him, we are sure, sudden death was sudden glory, and our hope is that his example of Christian charity and kindly sympathy and earnest longings for the unity of all God's people will be an inspiration to all who believe in the desire of Him who prayed "That they all may be one; as Thou, Father, art in Me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us."

STEAMER HANNA WILL BE A COMPLETE LOSS

Underwriters To Try and Sell Wrecked Freighter as She Is.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Sarnia, Nov. 20.—The steamer Hanna, aground on the rocks at Point Aux Barques has been given up by the underwriters as a total loss. They will try to sell her as she is. The boat is in a bad condition.

Not only is she broken in two, but she is split in places, and her decks are all cracked open. The machinery and the 8,000-ton cargo of coal are being taken out. The rest is all junk. Capt. Tom Reid does not believe that the underwriters have sent two divers to Port Huron to make an examination of the ill-fated ship, resting on the bottom of Lake Huron eight miles from this town.

Capt. Reid is also of the opinion that the bow of the ship is not more than fifteen feet under water. He says that it ought not to be a hard job to right and raise her, as proper manipulation of her air tanks will do most of the work.

GEN. BOOTH HOPES TO SEE HIS BROTHER

New York, Nov. 20.—General Bramwell Booth, head of the Salvation Army, arrived here last night from Chicago, accompanied by his sister, Commander Eva Booth; his private secretary, Col. Theodore H. Kitching, and Commissioner Thomas Estlin, in charge of the department of the west.

Speaking for the general, Col. Kitching said the Salvation Army's leader was hopeful of meeting his brother, General Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America. The two separated seventeen years ago, when Ballington Booth organized a separate body after quitting his father, General William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. There is a report that the two organizations will consolidate. This is largely dependent upon the attitude of mind of General Ballington Booth, said Col. Kitching.

WANT HEAVIER FINES FOR CONVICTED DRUNKS

Temperance Workers of Ingersoll Will Wait Upon the Hon. W. J. Hanna Shortly.

Temperance workers of Ingersoll and the adjoining townships of Oxford are arranging to wait upon a deputation to Toronto to wait upon the provincial secretary, Hon. Mr. Hanna, asking that municipalities without license be placed on the same footing as those with licenses with regard to arrests for intoxication.

There are no licenses in North and West Oxford, but it is said that mobsters who get their liquors in Woodstock and other nearby centres, get off the train in Oxford townships and have high old times, greatly to the annoyance of the residents.

The township councils are behind the request to have the penalty for drunkenness in municipalities in which license have been abandoned made equally as severe as in municipalities which have voted licenses. Other municipalities similarly situated will likely join in sending deputations to Toronto.

Londoners in Delegation Which Seeks Better Control for Fraternal Societies

Received Favorable Attention From Govt.

Attorney-General Declares the Matter Will Receive Careful Attention From Govt.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, Nov. 20.—J. A. Patterson, K.C., of Toronto; J. B. McKillop, K.C., of London; Lyman Lee, K.C., of Hamilton; and E. Esery, K.C., of London, and others, waited on the Ontario cabinet today and asked for legislation for the better control of fraternal insurance societies.

They asked that each society be compelled every three or five years to make a valuation of its assets, as in cases where they fall below the amount required on an actuarial basis for the redemption of claims, that they be compelled to meet the deficit by easy additions to the rates collected.

Where the deficit is 50 per cent, the amount asked to be, is 5 per cent, or half the deficit, which is to be raised within three years, and the following 5 per cent, within the next three or five years.

This will obviate the necessity of fraternal societies adopting drastic methods of increasing their rates. The legislation asked for has been adopted in 16 states. The deputation represented a membership of 415,000 people in general societies.

Hon. J. F. Poy, attorney-general, replying, stated that this matter was a serious one, and would be given close attention by the Government. Any objections to the proposition would also have to be heard and considered.

Announces Reduction in the Hydro Rates

Announcement of the reduced hydro lighting and power charges, made this morning from Toronto, were explained by General Manager H. J. Gault, of the local hydro department, at a press conference.

"It means that the lighting bills will go down 15 per cent," he said to the Advertiser. "The surplus for this year in the existing hydro rates for London is $45,000. This means 11 per cent on the capital investment without taking into consideration the profits from the sales department. We therefore are in a position to make a reduction."

"This reduction will give us the same rate as Toronto for lighting, even though we have to pay transmission charges on 100 miles further than that city. The new rates that will go into effect in London will be a service charge of four cents per 100 square feet of dwelling space and three cents per kilowatt hour for lighting. Both will have a 25 per cent reduction for prompt payment. Worked out on a floor scale basis similar to the one that is to go into effect here, the existing hydro rates for London would be equivalent to a four cents per 100 feet charge, three cents for kilowatt hour meter charges less a 10 per cent reduction.

"As to power contracts, the reduction there will be 18 per cent, though I think we can work it down to 20."

Referring to the street railway contract, the general manager declared the reduction in the price paid by the local department for power, would affect it.

Significant Prophecy.

The closing feature of Huerta's message, in which, after prophesying the sanction of congress, he added that if this was withheld and authority entrusted to another he and his ministry would advance to accept such a result, was regarded with some significance as indicating that Huerta himself was at last recognizing the possibilities of his own elimination.

Some officials declared there was no new move in prospect for the immediate future. It was also said that no instructions of final character had gone forth to Chargé O'Heareness.

WALL SETTLED BEHIND DUNDAS STREET STORE

Prompt Action of the Laborers Prevents Destruction of Stock.

Thousands of dollars' worth of drugs narrowly escaped destruction Tuesday afternoon when a rear wall in the Anderson & Neilsen drug store settled about two feet.

The building adjacent is being torn down to make room for the addition to the Metropolitan Hotel, and when several supports were loosened, the wall of the drug store at the rear settled. The drugs were on shelves along the wall, and had it not been for the prompt action of a number of laborers, who rushed in and rescued the stock as the wall started to settle, the bottles would have been thrown to the floor and in all probability smashed.

It is the intention to have the back part of the store entirely rebuilt and remodelled. The wall was safely shored up, and a policeman has been on watch the past two nights to prevent any of the goods being stolen.

At least 100 sat down and enjoyed the keynote of the evening. An excellent musical program and toast list, with dancing later in the evening, added to the entertainment of the guests. The chair was occupied by Dr. W. J. Nesbitt. Those who responded to the toast list were: Dr. W. F. Tamblin, Professor Patterson, President Roy Kingswood, Dr. James, Mr. Edgar Westby, Mr. V. Macdonald, Miss D. Sabine, and Mr. R. Crouch. Splendid music was provided by the Cortese Orchestra.

Pretty Wedding at the Bride's Home
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ridgeway, Nov. 20.—A very quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Shea, Main street west, when their eldest daughter, Miss Shea, became the wife of Mr. Clifford Wright, of 4 Howard. Rev. C. R. Jones officiated. Only the most intimate friends of the contracting parties were present, and after a sumptuous supper had been served the happy young couple left for their future home on the groom's fine farm near Botolph.

The Double Work
of the Blood

The circulation of the blood is one of the most perfect pieces of mechanism in the universe. Besides carrying nourishment to every part of the body, the blood collects the waste products and passes through the kidneys in order that these poisons may be eliminated.

Hence you see the tremendous importance of keeping the kidneys in healthful working order so that they free the blood from these impurities before they find lodgment in some weak spot and set up serious disease. Aching back and aching head, troubles with the digestion, deposits in the urine, constipation and biliousness—such are the symptoms which indicate the need of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The liver is awakened to action, the bowels regulated, and the kidneys made vigorous in their work of purifying the blood.

In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are kept at hand for use in just such cases. They save many doctor bills, and by keeping the digestive and excretory systems in health do much to prolong life and bring comfort in old age.

WORK ON SEWER PLANS
TO BEGIN AT ONCE

An Expert From Toronto Has Been Retained To Prepare the Blue-Prints.

Work on the plans for the storm sewer system, the east end disposal plant, and the extensions to the existing sanitary sewer system will be started immediately. An engineer, acting under Consulting Engineer Willis Chapman, of Toronto, who has been retained by the city to prepare the plans, is expected in London within a few days, and it is expected by City Engineer W. N. Ashplant, that the surveys for the new east end disposal plant, as well as surveys for parts of the storm water system will be completed before the weather tightens up and winter sets in in earnest.

Weather conditions at present are such that the engineer would be enabled to get in several weeks of outside survey work, and have the sewage disposal plant plans ready for submission to the provincial board of health so that they may be approved and work started immediately the spring opens. According to the new board of health regulations it is unnecessary to secure the ratification of the ratepayers for any extensions of the existing sanitary sewer systems. The only approval necessary is that of the provincial board of health, but to secure this full working plans and surveys have to be submitted for that organization's acceptance.

HEARTS STIRRED
BY TRAGIC DEATH
OF REV. DR. ROSS

Appreciative Sketch by an Old College Friend of the St. Andrew's Pastor.

A MAN OF MANY GIFTS

Brought Harmony to Congregation Rent Asunder by the "Organ Question."

"The startling news of the sudden death of Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, of this city, has not only stirred the hearts of our people with great sorrow but fills us with the deepest sympathy for his afflicted family in their bereavement, and for the congregation that has lost their pastor," said the Rev. J. G. Stuart this morning.

"As an old college friend, I wish to present my appreciation of the worth and sterling character of the man whom we all respected and honored in the classroom and in the ministry in after years. His diligence as a student commended him to the professors at Queen's University with whom he took his classes and his genial temperament and rugged honesty and uprightness of character won for him the goodwill and admiration of students and professors alike. He entered upon his first charge under difficult circumstances. It had been rent asunder by the 'Organ Question,' and had been dealt with by the presbytery, synods and assembly, and finally by a commission of the general assembly, but no settlement of the dispute had been reached.

Brought About Harmony.

"I, as a young minister, was finally appointed a moderator of the session, and immediately proposed that the congregation call Rev. James Ross, R.D., who was then a pastor, on his reputation as a scholar and a man. I was satisfied that his splendid judgment and Scotch caution, combined with his loyal gifts, would weld together the opposing factions and settle their difficulties. As an evidence that I was not disappointed in my expectations, a fortnight afterward I had the pleasure of attending and taking part in the opening of the enlarged church in which an organ was used and perfect harmony prevailed in that large congregation. So hearty and devoted were the members of his congregation that he refused a call from the metropolitan Church of St. Andrew's, Ottawa, preferring to remain with his loyal people to whom he ministered until called to be a professor in Montreal Presbyterian College. During his career at the college, his pulpit ministrations in the city of Montreal were greatly appreciated, and he was in demand continually to preach to our leading congregations there. His return to the special work of the ministry was hailed with delight by his many friends, as they felt assured that in that field was his strongest influence, and a sphere for the exercise of his greatest gifts.

Rev. Dr. McCrae.

In a brief interview with The Advertiser, Rev. Dr. McCrae, of the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, spoke of his profound sorrow at the tragic death of Rev. Dr. Ross, and his sympathy with the bereaved family, and St. Andrew's Church. Dr. McCrae said he had known Dr. Ross intimately since 1892, when he was appointed to a professorship in the Presbyterian College, Montreal. "I was," said Dr. McCrae, "on the staff of the college at that time, and had given two years to increasing the endowment. We wanted a new chair of homiletics and practical theology. Lord Strathcona, then Sir Donald A. Smith, agreed to pay the salary of the new professor, and we started out to get the man. The late Principal Grant strongly recommended to me Rev. James Ross, who had had a distinguished career as minister of Knox Church, Perth, and lecturer in Queen's College. I suggested his name to the late Principal MacVicar and the late Dr. Warden. That year he was appointed to the chair. He was a good professor, but his friends always felt that he was pre-eminent as a preacher. In 1904 when St. Andrew's Church here was vacant I mentioned his name to Mr. A. S. Macgregor, the representative elder of the congregation. He preached in St. Andrew's the same year, and was unanimously called. Of his work in this city I need say nothing. It speaks for itself. There were few men in Canada who could on any public occasion give such beautiful, appropriate and finished addresses. His co-presbytery in the London Presbytery had hoped to make him moderator of the general assembly next year. His death is a great loss to the Presbyterian Church, to the whole city of London, and to Canada.

LEGAL QUERIES
TRUTH-SEEKER.—A woman born in England, was raised and married in Canada. Twenty years after her husband had left her, she goes to United States, obtains a decree of divorce, returns to Canada, marries another man, her first husband still living in Canada. Can he or any other person lay a charge against the woman for breaking Canadian laws? A.—Yes; result, probably nominal sentence, or suspended sentence.
If the same woman married a Canadian in the States and came to Canada to live, is such a marriage legal in Canada? A.—No.

Aunt Sally's Advice
to Beauty Seekers
Red Nose.—The nose is a more delicate organ than most people imagine. It should be touched as little as possible. For undue redness the treatment recommended in following paragraphs will be found effective. Apply without rubbing.
Muddy Skin.—The sanest, safest and surest method of giving a clear, healthy, transparent appearance to the complexion is to apply ordinary mercerized wax every night for from one to two weeks. This wax, obtainable at any drug store (one ounce is sufficient), actually takes off the bad complexion by gently and gradually absorbing the thin veil of surface skin. The new skin then in evidence is as fresh and velvety as a young girl's. The wax is applied like cold-cream and washed off mornings.
Wrinkles.—A harmless lotion, made as follows, has been found very effective in cases of wrinkles and crowfeet: Powdered sassafras, 1 ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, half pint. Bathe the face in this daily for a while.—Woman's Realm.

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE

Following a meeting of the Methodist ministers of the city in Wesley Hall Wednesday afternoon, a letter of condolence to the widow and family of the late Dr. Ross was forwarded by the secretary, Rev. D. N. McCannus. Similar action was taken at a meeting of the Baptist clergymen at the Y. M. C. A. parlors.
