"NO ORDER" IN SCHOOL TAX ANNEX FIGHT

Dismisses Wenige Charge Against City Engineer

GRAYDON FINDS TERM USED NOT BLASPHEMOUS

Mayor Wilson Also Sits On Bench While Abusive Language Charge Probed.

BRAZIER ONLY WITNESS

City Council Proper Place To Deal With Matter, Magistrate Decides.

Calling another citizen the "biggest —— fool in London" is apparently permissible. Magistrate Graydon holding that there was nothing blasphemous in the expression when he was called to decide upon the case of abusive language brought by Ex-Ald G. A. Wenige against City Engineer H. A. Brazier, in police court, Wednesday morning.

Mayor Cameron Wilson sat on the bench with the magistrate, while the case was being tried. It was the first time for a number of years that a mayor of the city has occupied a seat on the magistrate's bench.

"If any ordinary citizen came down here and charged a neighbor with using the language that Mr. Brazier admits using, I don't think that I would convict the man," declared Mr. Graydon.

"There would be a great many citizens summoned to this court if that expression constituted an offence," continued the court. "I wouldn't have the slightest hesitation in refusing an information. The city council is the proper place to deal with this matter. I don't see any justification for convicting Mr. Brazier. I think it would be harsh treatment.

"It seems like vindictiveness to bring this matter to court before the council disposes of it. I'll dismiss this case," concluded the magistrate.

After the court had read the charge "that H. A. Brazier had made use of grossly insulting language toward G. A. Wenige on April 18," J. M. Donahue, counsel for Mr. Wenige, called Mr. Brazier to the witness-box.

Counsel Appreciates Fact.

"Don't you think this is rather unusual?" asked the court. "You are making Mr. Brazier your witness."

"I appreciate that fact, your worship," replied Mr. Donahue.

"Mr. Brazier, you are the city engineer?" questioned counsel.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Do you recollect having a meeting with Mr. Wenige on Easter Monday?"

"Yes, it was not an appointment exactly. Wenige called me on the 'phone and I told him if he wanted to continue the conversation in that strain he better come and see me at the office," said the city engineer.

"On arrival at the office, Wenige was shown directly to me and he laid a complaint about earth washing away on Erie avenue," continued witness.

"I told him that the matter would be attended to, but it apparently was not satisfactory to him. He wanted to know if the work would be done in the usual inefficient manner.

"I expressed the opinion that he was a —fool. I told him he was the biggest —— fool in London."

"He's the best in his class," interjected W. B. Henderson, counsel for Mr. Brazier. The remark passed unnoticed by the bench.

Mr. Brazier said that the conversation started in his private office and finished in the general office.

Cross-examined by W. B. Henderson, Mr. Brazier stated "that he had had considerable trouble in the past

GENOA POLICE HOLD RUSSIANS

Arrested Men Had Plan of Russian Soviet Delegation Hotel.

Allied Powers Determined To Give Russia Another Chance.

London, April 26.—Five Russians, including Kerensky's former secretary, Boris Savinkoff, were arrested in Genoa by the Italian police on Sunday, says a dispatch to the Daily Herald. Savinkoff arrived in Genoa under a false name and with a forged passport, and the police found he and his companions had a plan of the hotel at which the Russian soviet delegation is staying.

The correspondent says that Savinkoff, since the Bolshevist revolution in Russia, has been the chief link between the French government and the succession of anti-bolshevist military leaders and that a month or two ago he was in London in close consultation with Premier Lloyd George and Viscount Curzon, the foreign minister.

General Boris Savinkoff was acting minister of war and military commander of Petrograd under the Kerensky regime.

M. Banffy, premier and foreign minister, and member of the Hungarian delegation to the Genoa conference, denied yesterday that the Hungarians are negotiating a treaty with Russia.

There have been so many thrills in rapid succession at the Genoa conference that everybody, delegates and laymen alike, today were wondering what would come next. The Italian statesmen, as sponsors of the conference, were joined by Mr. Lloyd George, M. Barthou, M. Theunys and the leaders of the lesser states in fervently hoping that the sensations had come to an end and that something might really be done about Russia, the supreme remaining subject for discussion.

Wants Accord.

To that, of course, should be added Lloyd George's ambition for the birth of an all-European accord that the nations shall not attack one another or commit any aggression which would excite attack. The allied and neutral powers seem determined to give the Russians another chance to come to terms, and there is hope that the crisis brought on by the soviet's latest demands will pass.

Mr. Lloyd George, particularly, appreciates the difficulties in the way of the Russians relinquishing the practical doctrine of the nationalization of property, which incarnates the very fundamentals of the Bolshevist preachings, and efforts may be made to settle the question of the status of private property in Rusisa so that the communist leaders may "save their faces" on their pet principle.

Genoa's population has lost none of its gaiety and none of its lively interest in the sessions of the conference. The complete absence of disorder has calmed the apprehensions of the authorities, and no longer are heavy bodies of troops to be seen in the streets, although reserves are conveniently near at hand, being stationed on troop ships moored at the waterfront.

On the main thoroughfares Italy's imposing carabineers stand guard, one every 15 feet. Marble busts of Lloyd George, Premier Facta, M. Barthou, and the other conference luminaries fill the windows of the art shops, while literature, photographs

Prisoner Nonchalantly Admits He Has $14,000 In Bank

In Jail a Week.

GEORGE PRICE, the ancient resident of Emery City, Michigan, who was brought to the police station a week ago because he did not have enough money to pay for any more board at the Morkin House, calmly informed Magistrate Graydon in police court Wednesday morning that he had "about $14,000 in the bank" at Emery City. He just wasn't quite sure as to the exact sum to a dollar or two, but it was around $14,000.

Mr. Price was remanded to jail for another week, and Chief Birrell will try to ascertain in the meantime if Mr. Price really has the price to get back to the old home town.

When the old man appeared in court last week he told the magistrate that he had come to London to look for his wife, who was sick. He could not remember the address and had been just wandering round the streets looking for her.

Mr. Price is rather hard of hearing, so to expedite matters Chief Birrell boomed out the magistrate's questions from a range of two feet.

"Where do you want to go?" asked the court.

"Emery City," said Price.

"How far is that?"

"Thirty miles from Port Huron," replied the old man.

"How can he get there? I can't turn this old man out," said the court.

"I should have heard from his friends by this time," replied Chief Birrell. "I wrote them immediately. He says he has a sister there by the name of Mrs. Paisley.

"The police have handed me a bank book with some entries in it. Can you tell me how much money you have got?" questioned Mr. Graydon.

This question brought the careless statement that he had $14,000 in the bank.

Another effort will be made to get in touch with Price's relatives.

Big Oldsmobile and Ford Go One Fast Round To Draw Decision

A LARGE Oldsmobile and a Ford coupe tested noses at the corner of Waterloo street and Queen's avenue, at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Both cars came out of the test somewhat smashed up, but both drivers escaped injury, other than a bad shaking up.

N. Griffith was driving south on Waterloo street in his Oldsmobile and Mr. Hawkshaw was coming west on Queen's avenue in a Ford coupe. They met with a crash. The larger car came to a standstill, partly wound around a telegraph pole and with a rear wheel off. The Ford halted, after turning turtle, badly broken up. Mr. Griffith was badly shaken up, but is all right today. Mr. Hawkshaw is unscratched.

WANTS FORMER SECRET SERVICE MAN TO SPEAK

Chamber of Commerce Trying To Obtain Sir Paul Dukes.

Officials of the Chamber of Commerce are endeavoring to bring to London next week, Sir Paul Dukes, former member of the British secret service, now conducting a lecture tour throughout the United States.

Sir Paul Dukes was knighted for his services during the late war, and is heralded as one whose intimate knowledge of the Bolshevik affairs cannot be surpassed. He was in Russia when the Lenine-Trotsky regime became established and disguised as a Bolshevik, he remained in the country, subsequently actually becoming a soviet official. He also spent months in the recently-created smaller nations, adjoining the Bolshevik domains, where he studied Bolshevism from another angle.

The former secret service man will be in Ann Arbor early next week, and it is hoped to have him in London for a week from Thursday to lecture on "Red Russia."

TRUSTEES MAKE RADICAL MOVE

At Secret Parley Plan To Take Action On Bi-Weekly Meetings.

Aims At Greater Facility in Passing Accounts.

As the first move toward a radical change in the board of education's general procedure of business, members of that body gathered in special conference Wednesday morning, giving the question earnest consideration.

The session was called at the instigation of Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board, and those in attendance were Trustee A. N. Udy, chairman of No. 1 committee; Trustee J. B. Wright, chairman of the technical committee; Trustee William Clark, chairman of the audit committee, as well as Trustees Thomas Rowe and Bryden Campbell. The meeting was declared of a strict private nature, the press being denied entrance.

It was subsequently reported, however, that another meeting of this special committee will be held before the regular session of the board Tuesday next when the members will take definite action, based upon their consideration Wednesday.

It is officially stated, however, that the regular meeting will witness the introduction of a notice of motion, probably by the chairman of No. 1 committee, for a complete revision in their procedure of business, notably the proposal that the board shall meet regularly twice a month in lieu of once a month as at present.

Discussing the latter suggestion Wednesday the trustees, it is announced viewed the same with undoubted approval as a fitting measure to better expedite their business. It is practically assured at this moment that the board will ultimately amend its rules and regulations to that effect.

This undertaking involves principally the passing of accounts, as Trustee Smith contended at the last meeting of the board that such changes in procedure should be attempted as would tend to simplify the work of the department. The chairman holds that too long a period elapses when communications and recommendations are bandied about from one committee to another, to the board and back again.

He stresses his contention also that in order that certain creditors be enabled to receive prompt payment of bills he, as board chairman, has often in the past, signed checks for immediate payment that were subsequently paid before actually authorized by the board as a body.

This policy he recently declined to follow, thus precipitating the present move for amendments in the rules and regulations.

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS DECLINE

Ottawa, April 26.—(By Canadian Press).—A decline in total liabilities and total assets of Canadian banks during the month of March is shown by the statement issued through the department of finance today. At the end of February assets of Canadian banks stood at $2,645,614,035 and liabilities at $2,370,542,898. On March 31, the former totalled $2,622,756,500 and the latter $2,348,670,764. Savings deposits remain at practically the same figure as at the end of February, while current loans in Canada show a slight decrease.

CHARGE SOCIAL SERVICE ERR IN GUIDING HOUSE

1922 BUDGET ADOPTED

Orders 10,000 Copies of Bishop's Charge For Diocese Use.

So impressed were the members of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron, in session here, with the charge of Right Rev. David Williams, Bishop of Huron, that 10,000 copies of the charge have been ordered printed for distribution throughout the diocese.

The assembly was particularly impressed with the bishop's treatment of the separate school question, and it was even suggested that a copy of the charge should be forwarded to every member of the provincial house to guide them in their disposal of the Roman Catholics' request for an increased share in the taxes of the province.

Dean L. N. Tucker read the report of the special committee, which had taken the report under consideration.

Consolidate Estimates.

In view of the urgent needs of the church in 1922, he said, every clergyman and every layman must do his part to raise the total amount of the budget. He recommended that all estimates be consolidated into one budget each year and offered to the annual vestry meeting.

The report recommended that a special committee be appointed to investigate the general synod's pension scheme, and to report back to the next meeting of the synod.

Although it was known that the people of Ontario were overwhelmingly opposed to granting further tax concessions to the Roman Catholics, it was suggested that the people should use every means to let their feelings be known, and to show in an emphatic manner that they do not wish the provincial house to take any action without first submitting it to the people, for fear that party politics would influence the decision of the government, said the report.

Subsequent to a report on social service committee, given by Dean Tucker, Ven. Archdeacon Fotheringham led an attack against the actions of the social service department, in using its influence to induce the legislative assembly in its dying moments last year to pass legislation giving the child of the unmarried mother the priority over the children of the widow in sharing in the estate of the father. He also attacked the system of permitting the father of the illegitimate child of meeting his responsibility in money.

Women Are Opposed.

He claimed that he did not introduce the subject for discussion, but because of dissatisfaction expressed by three women organizations of Brantford. Despite this claim, however, the matter was discussed, and in the end the bishop announced that a motion of protest to the Dominion organization, to which the social service committee of the Church of England is affiliated, was quite in order.

Archdeacon Fotheringham claimed that the bill was rushed through the house at the instigation of the social service. He also accused the Anglican committee of lacking positive force, and of being too willing

ASSERTS HOME TRAINING POOR

Dr. Gibson of Hamilton Discusses Religious Education at Presbyterian Synod.

Declares Work Should Be Carried On in Public Schools.

Resolutions dealing with a number of questions which are pre-eminent in the work of the church at the present time were brought forward at the closing session of the Presbyterian Synod of London and Hamilton, which has been held in the First Presbyterian Church.

The advisability of religious education in the schools was widely discussed. Dr. Gibson of Hamilton, in a preamble to a resolution concerning the question, declared that the home had fallen down to a great extent in providing the proper amount of religious knowledge, that the Sunday school was not capable of coping in an entirely efficient manner with the problem, and that for those reasons, the work should be carried on in the public schools, in order to impress children at the proper age and lay the foundations of religious knowledge upon which could be built the moral structure of later life. An element of doubt entered the discussion as to whether or not the establishing of a definite amount of religious education in the schools would not give Roman Catholics an excuse for further pleas on the behalf of their separate schools. This opinion was not, however, entertained by the majority, and the following resolution was adopted: "That this synod indorse the principles of Biblical knowledge in public schools, and refer the matter to the committee on religious education for consideration."

Dr. Gibson expressed himself as desirous of teaching along these lines, which should not be dogmatical or denominational, but rather give definite instruction concerning the Bible. "It is lamentable," he stated, "that the most remarkable piece of literature in our tongue should be so overlooked in our schools."

J. K. McDonald, the convener of the assembly committee on the fund for aged and infirm ministers and for pensions for widows and orphans, was present at the meeting to explain in detail the working out of the system which it is proposed to lay before the session of the general assembly in June and which will effect radical changes in the system, one of the most important of which would be the lowering of the age of retirement from 70 to 65.

Dr. Banks Nelson, of Hamilton, submitted a resolution concerning the right of a minister to vote on certain bylaws, a resolution which threatened to give rise to much discussion, which had, however, to be curtailed owing to the fact that the hour of adjournment had arrived. The resolution was as follows: "Resolved, that a committee consisting of Rev. Jameson, the moderator and the clerk of synod, be appointed a committee to seek to remove any legal disabilities which may prevent ministers occupying taxable manses from voting on municipal bylaws."

Dr. Gibson, convener of the committee on foreign missions, submitted the following resolutions, which were accepted: (1) That Presbyterians be urged to have a conference once a year on foreign missions, and oftener than that if it can be made possible; (2) that presbyteries be again requested to facilitate a general exchange of pulpits in the interests of foreign missions; (3) that the attention of ministers and elders of the synod be called to the literature provided by the general assembly board for foreign missions, and that they be requested to arrange

COUNTY JUDGE RULES LACK OF JURISDICTION

Declares Decision Will Not Prejudice Ashplant in Carrying Appeal Further.

GIVES LETTER APPROVAL

Alderman Will Take Steps Soon To Obtain Writ of Mandamus.

Judge Talbot Macbeth declines to make an order for the redistribution of the 1922 school taxes of the city on the roll, to the end that industries located in the annex should pay a larger tax than at present.

This was his decision in the appeal of Ald. H. B. Ashplant from the decision of the court of revision, in regard to the alderman's letter of complaint to the city clerk, in which he contended that he was being discriminated against and unjustly taxed.

The basis of the judge's "no order" finding was lack of jurisdiction. He declared that his ruling would not prejudice the alderman in carrying his case farther.

In leading up to his ruling the judge was a little critical of City Clerk Baker, and in this regard Ald. Ashplant might be said to have achieved a technical victory.

The judge held that the matter at stake was one of taxes, not assessment. The court of revision and he, himself, had jurisdiction only in matters of assessment.

He held that the complaint of Ald. Ashplant was quite a proper one for him to make to the clerk, but was not a proper one for the clerk to lay before the court of revision.

"I don't think he had the right to take the matter to the court of revision," said the judge in discussing the clerk's action.

The judge stated that the letter of the aldermen to the clerk was in quite proper terms and in the clearest form. He said that the question was very important, and he hoped that the aldermen would press it to an issue.

Ald. Ashplant stated that he had disagreed with the clerk when that official decided to take the matter to the court of revision, the alderman having contended that the matter was one which involved the clerk only.

As matters now stand, the next move in the annex taxes dispute is for Ald. Ashplant to go to the courts for a writ of mandamus to instruct the clerk to carry out his duties and to instruct the clerk what his duties are on the point at issue.

Such an action will really lead to a judicial interpretation of the annex agreement.

Ald. Ashplant says that he will take steps in the very near future to secure a writ.

DON'T NEGLECT BRONCHITIS

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a cough which is dry, harsh and hacking, accompanied with rapid wheezing, and a feeling of tightness through the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning after rising from bed. This phlegm is at first of a light color, but as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

In

you will find a remedy that will stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and help nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Mr. John H. Root, 40 Maple avenue, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with bronchitis and had a very bad cough. I had it so long I was beginning to get afraid of other developments. I tried all kinds of cough remedies without relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I got a bottle, and it convinced me to believe that I had at last gotten the right medicine. I used several bottles and am practically well. I have recommended it to others since, and good results followed."

Freckles and Blotches Are Easily Peeled Off

If you are bothered with any cutaneous blemish, it's a poor plan to use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, red blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is actually peeled off, a little each day, until the clear, soft, young and healthy skin beneath it brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water.

Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results. It transforms even the most unsightly complexion into one of irresistible beauty.—Advt.

MAGNESIA FINE FOR ACID STOMACH

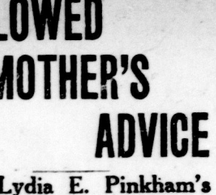

Quickly Neutralizes Acidity. Stops Fermentation, Sweetens the Stomach.

Nine people in ten, when food upsets the stomach causing distress, think they have indigestion. In reality they are suffering from "acid stomach." An excess of acid in the stomach causes gas, heartburn, bloating and sourness.

To have a strong healthy stomach capable of easily and normally digesting three hearty meals a day you simply must keep these stomach acids neutralized and the stomach contents sweet. No artificial digestents are necessary. Just get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any good drug store and take a teaspoonful of the powder or two tablets in a half glass of water right after eating or whenever the slightest pain is felt. The result is amazing and you will be delighted with the almost instant relief it brings. This famous stomach sweetener combines Magnesia and Bismuth in desirable proportions and is not only splendidly effective but perfectly harmless. Its regular use keeps the stomach sweet, strong and healthy all the time.

Bisurated Magnesia is well known to druggists everywhere and is used annually by more than a half million people who now eat as they please, in reason with no more fear of indigestion. —Advt.

CLAIMS COLOR FACTOR IN LIFE

A. H. Robson, Noted Art Director, Delivers Practical Talk To London Ad Club.

Advocates Use of Permanent Trade Name in Advertising.

"Color is a big factor in life," declared A. H. Robson, art director of Rous & Mann, Toronto, in a practical talk and demonstration regarding its relation to advertising before the Advertising and Sales Club of London at the Tecumseh House, Tuesday night. "It acts on the mind. It is consistently before the eye; in fact, as soon as the eyes are opened."

Different ranges of color give different sensations, Mr. Robson explained. If one were telling a ghost story, the best effect could be obtained by turning out the lights.

Appropriate Color Scheme.

In order to sell an article a color scheme appropriate to the product placed on the market should be used in the advertising campaign.

The scheme had to be tasteful, the speaker remarked, in order to perform its intended duty, for color schemes tasteful to the eye, attracted attention.

Various colors had their places. For instance, such schemes as used on circus banners would not be suitable for dainty window displays.

Mr. Robson favored refined colors in advertising. By various devices, such as cardboard windmills, the speaker was able to demonstrate the effect of one color on another and the ability of different colors to blend one with the other.

The speaker also touched on designing, using lantern slides to illustrate his points.

He advocated a firm choosing one character of letter and sticking to it, for when a trade name or firm name were displayed in advertisements in various mediums in different types of letters, there was confusion. The buyer or consumer was likely to get the idea that the advertising was being done by various firms instead of by only one.

Urges Use of Lines.

Lines, he said, had much to do with advertising. Straight lines were often used lengthwise to make a package or advertisement appear longer, and sidewise to give the article width.

Lines, too, were followed by the eye easier than anything else.

Wavy lines gave action to anything on which they were used.

He advised advertisers to apply the same rule to designs as to letters, namely, to stick to one and one only after it had been chosen.

It was announced that the annual meeting of the club, when the election of officers and other business will be transacted, will be held May 8.

FEARS PROFOUND PEACE NOT YET WITHIN REACH

Sir Henry Wilson Urges Unity of Ideals Throughout Empire.

LONDON, England, April 25.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—Speaking today at the Anzac Day luncheon at the Hotel Cecil, Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson said no reflecting person, seeing the present state of the world, could believe that "we are in for a long period of profound peace; but if the rulers of Great Britain were not afraid to use the magnificent power of the British Empire then there would be no great war in the future."

There were at present, Sir Henry said, a great many people who were determined to wreck the British Empire if they could, but if members of the empire had implicit faith in themselves and their future they could laugh at those who wanted to ruin them.

"Let us not be afraid of our enormous responsibility," he added. "Let us be national, based on the British Empire and before we internationalize ourselves let us develop ourselves to the utmost possible in order that we may carry out the great mission of our empire, namely, forbidding great wars."

OVER-SUBSCRIBE CANADIAN LOAN

OTTAWA, April 25.—(By Canadian Press).—In the House of Commons this afternoon Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, announced that the $100,000,000 loan, floated through J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., New York, had been oversubscribed and the books closed.

Sir Henry Drayton asked the minister what the commission paid the bankers amounted to.

Mr. Fielding: "The government received the net price of 97½. The bankers were free to place the loan on the market at any price, not exceeding par. They placed it at par, and that leaves the bankers and brokers concerned 2½ per cent for their services."

Sir Henry asked Mr. Fielding if the loan was not too generous in favor of the American investor, the finance minister replying that he would discuss the question at a later date.

FEAR P. SOUND MEN LOST ON LAKE

PARRY SOUND, April 25.—This town will be severly hit if the rumor that the government tug Lambton has been lost in Lake Superior proves correct, for seven of the Lambton's crew have their homes here. They are: Andrew Valyear, Harold and Andrew Christemson, Fred Cole, Fred Hayes, Charles Virgo and another.

Passing vessels report having seen smoke behind Caribou Island and a tug, with wireless equipment, has gone to investigate. The tug should reach Caribou Island this evening.

CONFIRMED IN APPOINTMENT.

WORLD NEWS CUT SHORT

ADVERTISER SERVICE

BERLIN, April 25.—A German-Finnish agreement was signed here yesterday, regulating urgent economic questions between the two countries, according to a semi-official announcement. The agreement pledges both parties to early negotiations for an economic convention on a broader basis.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25. — Twenty-five thousand Russian Moslems scattered in the famine districts of Russia will be transferred to the under-populated provinces of Eastern Anatolia. Negotiations with this object in view have been concluded with the Soviet government.

ROME, April 25.—The Congress of the Amsterdam Internationale yesterday adopted a resolution urging European reconstruction by the reciprocal cancellation of national debts; cessation of the present economic policy along national lines and the substitution of one for international needs; the abolition of all national monopolies on raw material and creation of a tariff policy which will permit buying nations to buy and selling nations to sell.

CAIRO, April 25.—On the ground that the price of Egyptian cotton in the Alexandria market was unduly low, the cabinet today authorized the minister of finance to try to bull the market by government purchases of the staple. This action has been unfavorably received by commercial houses in Egypt, whose members argue that artificial stimulation is likely to keep buyers out of the market till economically sound quotations are resumed.

The action of the cabinet was due to continuous pressure from Egyptian cultivators.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 25. — The reply of the Angora government to the recent proposals of the Entente powers for an armistice between the Turkish Nationalists and the Greeks has just been received here. It explains at length the desire for peace in Turkey. It insists on the immediate evacuation of Asia Minor, offers all sorts of guarantees to the minorities and also gives assurance that there will be no occupation by the Nationalists of the evacuated area for a certain period of time.

The reply will be communicated to the allied authorities today.

MILAN, April 25.—A Montenegrin insurrection against the Jugoslavs is expected at any moment, according to the Rome Tribuna. Information received by the paper from Scutari is to the effect that the Jugoslav government has been advised that an insurrectionary movement is imminent and is accordingly attempting to prevent any such movement by arresting all the "intellectual" leaders and those suspected of being concerned in action against the Jugoslav regime.

The prisons at Pogdoritza are said to be filled to overflowing, while many people are taking to the hills in fear of reprisals. The insurrectionists are said to be encamped on favorable ground and to be merely waiting the upshot of events to decide whether they will fight or submit.

VIENNA, April 25.—Vienna's self-appointed censors of morals have opened a new campaign against "Reigen," Arthur Schnitzler's famous play, which several times has occasioned disorders here and also in Berlin and Munich. Strong police protection under which the play has been presented to crowded audiences every evening, made a direct assault on the theatre impossible, so the opponents have now commenced a propaganda designed to arouse public opinion.

In a violently worded proclamation they have called upon the people to attend an open air demonstration and demand that the government shall abolish "immoral so-called art, imposed upon German men and women in Vienna by a foreign rabble." The whole thing is really part of a Pan-German and anti-semitic agency organized by the so-called German-Austrian Offensive and Defensive Alliance.

SAYS DISCIPLINE BETTER TODAY

Inspector Greer, Addressing Ryerson Mothers' Club, Lauds Modern Systems.

Three H's—Head, Hand and Heart—Displaces Three R's.

"In the matter of discipline, the child of today is superior to the child of the past generation," stated Inspector V. K. Greer during his address at the meeting of the Ryerson School Mothers' Club Tuesday evening, at which the St. George's and Broughdale clubs were guests.

The subject chosen by the speaker was "Are Our Schools of Today Measuring Up to the Schools of the Past?" in which he proved they were. "In the old days the mechanical side was emphasized more particularly," he stated. "The three R's were emphasized then, but today it is the three H's; the head, the heart and the hand. Our boys and girls are quite the equal, age for age, with anything in the past." For proof of this statement he told of a test a school trustee had made with examination papers used some years ago, in which the children of the present day made a higher standing.

Fads and Frills.

The inspector went on to say: "We hear a great deal of the present fads and frills, but we should consider the question very carefully." He then traced the history of education from the early days of the Romans to the present time. "In ancient days little children went to school for the morning only, but these children were of the wealthy class, and the lower classes remained ignorant." Through the middle ages, educational training was not of a very high order, but in the latter part of the middle ages it began to improve, through the influence of the churches, but the churches kept their authority a little too long."

He then spoke of the school system in England. For years the charity schools were used in England, which gave tremendously to the children who were not favorably situated. "The study of the Bible, writing and arithmetic were the only subjects taught for some years, then a society called the S. P. G., which was organized to spread the Gospel, was formed." The influence of this society spread to this continent, and was tried here until the time the Americans received their independence. Following this a new school system was formed." The speaker emphasized the fact that teaching was purely mechanical, and this type of teaching was kept up for the first 25 years of the nineteenth century.

"In 1807 the government passed an act dividing Ontario into eight districts, and in each district was placed a grammar school, and London received one of these schools." He then traced our schools system to the present time, including the great work done by Bishop Strachan and Ryerson.

Added Subjects.

"Today we have added various subjects to our curriculum, and we believe we have good reasons for the same. Art and manual training are among them. We also defend the study of hygiene, as children should have a practical knowledge of the laws of health. Organized play is also necessary, for the early life of the child should be play.

"We cannot compare the children of today with those of yesterday," concluded Inspector Greer, "as their experiences are so much bigger and larger, but I do know in the matter of discipline the present-day child is superior."

During the business part of the meeting a sale of home-made cooking was planned to be held the day Ryerson school holds its Empire Day activities. Mrs. C. K. Bluett, the president, was appointed representative of the nominating committee of the Union Mothers' Club, also representative at the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women. A charming program concluded the evening, consisting of solos by Mrs. Ernest Tremeer, and reading by Master Howard Clark.

Former Londoner Receives Theological Degree From South

REV. HERBERT MOULE, a former London boy, and son of the late Robert Moule of this city, who has been attending the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky, has received the degree of doctor of theology.

Dr. Moule succeeded in completing the two-year course in one year, receiving the splendid average of 97 per cent in his examinations.

LAY OFF CARSHOP MEN THREE DAYS

The local Grand Trunk car shops closed on Wednesday night and will remain closed until May 1. Instructions to this effect were received by Master Car Builder J. Messerole from Montreal on Tuesday, April 26.

More than 600 employees will be affected by the three-day lay-off. Operations in the Montreal and Stratford shops will also be suspended.

Mr. Messerole stated that this lay-off was probably due to the coal strike, but said that it was only temporary and would not have any serious effect.

The employees of the local car shops were laid off one week nearly every month last year, and the officials of the union are endeavoring to have the trouble, whatever it may be, remedied.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

LIFE is to be considered happy, not in warding off evil, but in the acquision of good: and this we should seek for by some form of employment or by reflection.—Cicero.

TOMORROW'S DOINGS.

THURSDAY—Public utilities meets at Public Utilities Building, 3:30 o'clock.

Hospital Trust meets at Victoria Hospital, 4:30 o'clock.

No. 2 committee, city council, meets at city hall, 8 o'clock.

Boys' national athletic meet opens in Armories.

THE FACT THAT Thomas Hines was out of work all winter was all that saved him from being fined in police court Wednesday morning for not having a chauffeur's license. Mr. Hines stated he has made arrangements for securing the necessary document.

ALTHOUGH THE regular meeting of the public utilities commission, postponed from last week, has been set for Thursday, it is now probable that a further postponement will be necessary. Commissioner Philip Pocock will be in Hamilton, while Commissioner Fred Mitchell is reported ill at home again.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT made a run to the sheds at the rear of the First Methodist Church, Wellington street, Tuesday afternoon. The roof had become ignited from a spark. The damage was small. A short time later they were called to extinguish a blaze in a dump at the rear of Dennis's Wire and Iron Works, Dundas street. No damage resulted.

THE TUXIS BOYS of the city held their closing supper at "Y" on Tuesday evening, after finishing a very successful season. The ladies who had looked after the weekly "spreads" of the boys were each presented with a box of chocolates. The feature of the program was the campaign speeches of Jack Hutchinson, Claude Gunther, Wilfred McLaren and Harley Wilson, who are seeking election on the Boys Council for the ensuing year. At the close of the banquet the groups adjourned to their various classes.

DUNDAS CENTRE CHOIR GIVES ANNUAL CONCERT

Large Audience Appreciates Numbers Directed by J. Parnell Morris.

Dundas Centre Church Tuesday evening was well filled with an appreciative audience to hear the annual choir concert given under the able direction of J. Parnell Morris. The choir was at its best, and gave very fine renderings of their different numbers.

In the chorus "The Lord is King" (Stevenson) E. N. Harding and Mrs. Wortman were the soloists, adding much to its effectiveness. The unaccompanied work showed the choir to advantage—the voices of good quality, the parts well balanced and the attacks and releases well taken care of.

Mrs. Clara Salisbury-Baker, reader, is an artist of ability, and Tuesday night added largely to the number of friends made in her former appearances in this city. "The Famine" (Longfellow) was her most exacting number, and was given a fine rendering. "The Charwoman" and "On a Local Train," sketches by Mrs. Baker, created much amusement.

F. L. Willgoose, violinist, gave a most delightful rendering of Handel's "Sonata" for violin and piano, ably assisted by J. Parnell Morris at the piano. This is a splendid number, composed of four movements, all played with much sympathy and beauty of tone. His two lighter numbers were most pleasing, and encores were demanded and graciously responded to.

EXPLAINS METHOD OF TREATING IRON

H. Lamont, McClary Chemist, Addresses C. of C. Science and Industry Committee.

FILMS SHOW COKE MADE

D. H. McDermaid Thinks Lecture Series Will Make Work Interesting to Employees.

Taking as his subject "Chemistry As Applied to the Iron and Steel Industry," H. Lamont, a chemist of the McClary Manufacturing Company, explained to a large gathering in the McClary dining-room on Tuesday evening how the different elements were united with iron to make it suitable for commercial purposes, and also how steel and vanadium steel were manufactured.

Mr. Lamont pointed out that iron, steel, and its various alloys were combinations of iron and carbon in different proportions. He also enumerated the impurities in iron, how they were extracted, and how and what they were used for, commercially. Some of the impurities, which were found in iron when it is mined, were carbon silica, phosphorus and sulphur. The difference in such alloys as steel and grey steel, he said, was in the percentages of carbon these minerals contained.

In reply to a question asked as to whether absolutely pure iron was manufactured, Mr. Lamont replied, that such a product would be somewhat of a curiosity, as it was almost impossible to extract every trace of carbon from the iron. He stated that pure iron could not be used to a great extent for commercial purposes as it was not hard enough.

Considerable experimenting had been necessary, he said, before an iron composition had been found suitable for a casting.

Films were also shown illustrating the manufacture of coke, iron and steel, and how old rails were rolled into bars for reinforcing concrete.

In the manufacture of coke, the films showed how the coal dross was pressed into moulds, and how these moulds were driven into the coke ovens. The doors of the ovens were made air-tight. After being closed 36 hours they were opened, the by-products were separated from the coke and the coke was driven out by machinery. Mr. Lamont said, that formerly it had been necessary to leave the coke 72 hours in the oven, and pointed out that in time it would not be necessary to leave it in the oven, even for 36 hours.

D. H. McDermid, in a short talk said, that it was the object of these lectures, which were being put on under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, to get the manufacturers and the employees in the iron and steel industry interested in the different processes used in the manufacture of iron and steel.

"If we can get them to understand the processes their work will become more interesting," concluded Mr. McDernaid.

FALLS TO DEATH INTO TRAPDOOR

Falling through a trapdoor Tuesday night into the cellar in a house to which the family had removed only a week ago, Mrs. Martha Pudney, wife of Edmund Pudney, 379 Ontario street, was so seriously injured that she failed to recover consciousness and died several hours later in Victoria Hospital. She was attended by Drs. Schram, Seaborn and Lindsay.

Mrs. Pudney formerly lived on Wyatt street in West London. Being unaccustomed to her new home is supposed to have been the cause for her forgetfully stepping into the trapdoor opening.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Miss Pearl, at home, and three sons, Edmund of Waterloo street and John and Harold at home.

Bird Bulletin

Issued by the MacIlwraith Ornithological Club.

The advance guard of the Chimney Swift army some fifteen strong arrived at the Coves Monday evening, April 24.

These birds, though not related to the Swallow family, are sometimes called Chimney Swallows. They are, like the swallows, strictly insectivorous, feeding entirely on the wing. Very few of us have ever seen a Chimney Swift at rest. To do so we would have to look into the unused chimney or on the inside wall of a barn up at the gable, where their nests are built. They sit woodpecker-like against the wall, their sharp-pointed tail feathers helping to support their light bodies.

Their nests are little hollow platforms built against the wall of small twigs glued together with a salivary secretion, and are very strongly built.

In the fall of the year, just before migrating, they gather in vast flocks and spend their nights in unused chimneys. It is quite a sight to see them at these times pouring, as if through a large funnel, into their favorite chimney. The large chimney at Hunt Bros.' old mill, razed a few years ago, used to be a favorite rendezvous. Another favorite gathering place in the fall is the large chimney at the Ontario Hospital.

The cool mornings of the past week are not the kind of mornings to tempt the field men out at sunrise. We are probably missing something good by not going out. However, one of these nights there will be a warm rain, the weather will be finer, and the migrants, many of whom are behind their average dates, will be coming in with a rush.

Blind Baggage Fare Comes Higher Than Cushions, Prisoner Finds

Charles Shawkey was caught stealing a ride on the blind baggage of C. P. R. train No. 29 at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning by a C. P. R. constable. He was fined $10 or 10 days in jail when he appeared in police court a few hours later.

Shawkey stated that he was trying to get home, when he was apprehended.

"It is a wrong thing for you to expose yourself and the public to danger," said the court. "You lay yourself open to the suspicion of being a thief.

"I have just received a circular from the attorney-general's office in reference to this matter, and cases of this kind should not be lightly dealt with."

Shawkey stated that he was a switchman by profession and that his wife and child were in Toronto.

"Give me a chance and let me go. I'll walk it," pleaded the prisoner.

"Ten dollars and costs or 10 days," decreed the court. "You better get in touch with your friends in Toronto."

FINDS CITY STREET PLAN HAPHAZARD

Thomas Adams, Town Planner, Makes Several Suggestions to C. of C. Directors.

CONSIDER NEW PIER

Public Works Assure Board Consideration Being Given Port Stanley Project.

Addressing the regular weekly gathering of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday afternoon, Thomas Adams, federal town planning consultant, explained that he is conducting a general survey of the city for the city planning commission with a view toward preparing plans for London's future development.

These he will not submit until next year, however, when he trusts that the citizens will have had plenty of his several suggestions for improvement to familiarize themselves with.

He stressed the point that London's street system has declined during recent years, not being developed upon any pre-conceived plan. He points out that west and south entrances to the city can be made only in an indirect way, no consideration having been given to those traveling in or out.

Messrs. Beemer and Wesley, on behalf of the "boys' week central committee," appeared before the meeting and were assured co-operation as well as a grant of $100 to help defray expenses.

A communication was received from the deputy minister of public works, explaining that consideration was being given the request to place in the estimates sufficient to cover the reconstruction of the west pier at Port Stanley.

At the request of the directors, Frank White, M. P., for London, is endeavoring, he reports, to see what can be accomplished toward the establishment of a Canadian Scientific Research Institute, as approved last year by the House of Commons, but subsequently rejected by the Dominion Senate.

CLEVELAND ORCHESTRA TO VISIT CITY THURSDAY

Will Give Afternoon and Evening Concerts at Winter Gardens.

The Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, this week touring Ontario, will give two concerts at the Winter Gardens Thursday afternoon and evening.

The Mail and Empire this morning says of their concert in Massey Hall last night:

"Mr. Sokolloff has built up a remarkably sensitive instrument, and one which, under the influence of his own dynamic personality, is capable of interpreting spirited music in stirring fashion. He gave a thrilling rendering of the Rakoczy March (Berlioz) last night, working up to as exciting a climax as anyone could desire. He had to repeat the jolly arrangement made by Percy Grainger of 'Shepherd's Hey.' This selection brought the conductor something like an ovation, as it did when he presented it at the Elgar choir concerts in Hamilton. It is a clever piece of music, built especially for bringing an audience to its feet with a tickled feeling at the unexpected finish."

These numbers appear on the London programs, and will provide the audiences with some new musical sensations.

PERMIT FOR HALL WILL BE REFUSED

The Coursey dance hall will not be built again.

Building Inspector A. M. Piper and Fire Chief John Aitken have decided that the southeast portion of the city can thrive without this hitherto popular rendezvous of many and sundry.

Their decision means that no building permit for the rebuilding of the dance hall will be issued. An application for a permit has been made.

"The only permit that will issue will be one to clean up the site of the old hall," said Mr. Piper.

"It's not a proper place for a dance hall," said the fire chief.

TALKS ON BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

"Books Our Children Should Read" was the subject of an address delivered by Miss Loveless of the public library staff at the April meeting Tuesday evening of the Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club.

The club decided to fall in line with others of the city in doing sewing for the War Memorial Children's Hospital. Musical numbers, which added interest to the program, included a solo by Mrs. A. E. Chapman, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Smith; violin number, Mrs. Fralick, accompanied by A. B. Stein, and a piano solo by Mrs. Frank Smith.

THINKS TRUSTEES' ACT IS ILLEGAL

Rowe Says School Debenture Cut Should Have Been On Notice of Motion.

IS JOINT PARLEY RESULT

Dean of Board Not At Meeting Because of Its Irregularity.

School Trustee Thomas Rowe, "dean of the board of education," questions frankly the legality of the action of that body at the special session attended by Mayor Cameron Wilson and the finance committee of the city council when the estimates for the proposed construction of a public school at Dakin and Price streets were reduced from $90,000 to $45,000.

"In my opinion," states Trustee Rowe, "the entire affair was decidedly irregular. A regular meeting of the board had already approved of a request for debentures for $90,000. Then the mayor and his councillors attend a joint gathering. I was not present, because I felt that such a session was usurping the powers of the so-called civic commission then created.

"In the apparent fullness of their heart the trustees agree to do this and that, and accordingly reduce the proposed debenture issue. Such an undertaking was not strictly legal. We cannot at a special meeting nullify the action of the board at a former regular meeting. It is proper that a notice of motion be made in the regular manner before the matter is re-considered. This was never done that I am aware of."

VOTE ON UNION OF 2 LABOR PARTIES WITHIN FEW DAYS

J. F. Thompson Only One of I. L. P. Locally Not in Favor of Merger.

Within a few days local members of the Independent Labor Party will vote upon the proposal from their headquarters that they become an integral part of the Canadian Labor Party. This referendum will be taken throughout the country wherever I. L. P. branches are located.

It appears that J. F. Thompson, secretary of the local body, is the only one opposed to the move. "I am steadfastly opposed to it." He declared Tuesday: "The I. L. P. and the C. L. P. have two distinct functions. The former is a propagandist party, while the latter is a political body. The former by its education of the masses tends to makee the latter possible."

Possibly through a misunderstanding, the secretary was the only member of the I. L. P. to appear for a regular session. Consequently, he deemed it advisable to adjourn the gathering until a later date.

MACHINE GUNNERS COMMENCE DRILL

No. 1 Company, 2nd Canadian Machine Gun Brigade, resumed training last night at the armories.

Uniforms were issued to a good number, and two recruits were taken on.

During May, drills will be held once or twice each week, and during the summer months, whether the brigade goes to camp or not, outings, which will include sport as well as shooting at the Cove ranges, are on a tentative program, which has been mapped out.

It is expected that machine gun firing may be undertaken on the ranges this summer.

A. E. MACKENZIE of London has issued a supreme court writ through W. C. BATTLE PICTURES EXHIBIT OPENS

Is Being Held in Aid of War Memorial Children's Hospital Funds.

TELL GRIPPING STORY

From Sailing of First Contingent to Rhine March, Exhibit Is Complete.

From Canada's answer to the call of empire and civilization, with the sailing of the first contingent to the last telegram of the war, and the following of the Canadians to the Rhine, the story is grippingly told in photographic form of Canada's part in the great war, in the exhibition of war memorial pictures, which opened Wednesday morning and continues this week in the former Nordheimer store, two stores west of the Majestic Theatre on Dundas street.

In aid of the War Memorial Children's Hospital, and held under the convenership of the Nicholas Wilson Chapter, I. O. D. E., keen interest has been awakened for some weeks past in the exhibit of a thousand photographs and reproductions of war memorial paintings. Against the neutral background of creamy grey of the walls, the pictures stand out in striking relief, arranged as far as possible in chronological order.

Many Colored Tinted.

Many of the photographs, taken by the most skilled operators obtainable for the Canadian government records, have been tinted in oil colors, while the reproductions of paintings by distinguished Canadian artists show the hues of the originals.

The men and women who served overseas, the families of those who took active part in the great conflict, have a very special interest in the collection. At any moment they may discover a familiar face or figure. A few days ago in Windsor an ex-service man promptly recognized himself in the celebrating group of Canadians which rode into Mons on a tank.

The famous 18th Battalion, pride of the heart of Londoners, was photographed crossing a bridge at Bonn, Germany.

The very backs of the officers and men who bowed their heads in thanksgiving at a service in Albert Cathedral in November, 1918, have a familiar Canadian look, and undoubtedly might be recognized by their friends.

Two Reproductions.

The exception to the "All-Canadian" pictures are two valuable ones secured from the British government, reproductions of official paintings by Sir John Lavery, the first showing the surrender of the German fleet, the arrival at night of the German delegation on the flagship, Queen Elizabeth. The companion picture eloquently tells the story of the conference in the fore cabin next morning with Admiral Beatty dominating the situation.

An overflow of photographs and reproductions for which the walls lacked space is to be found in albums and scattered about singly on tables. Among these is the reproduction of the last official telegram of the war, dated Nov. 11, which reads, "Shortly before dawn this morning Canadian troops of the first army (General Horne) entered Mons."

The temporary art gallery is immediately recognizable from the street by the immense flag which drapes the window.

LACK OF VENERATION OF CHILDREN TRACED TO HOME

Principal McQueen Gives Address At Opening Meeting of Victoria School Mothers' Club.

The initial meeting of the Victoria Mothers' Club held in the new school took the form of a reception Tuesday evening in honor of the Riverview Mothers' Club members and the sub-executive of the Union Mothers' Club. Mr. A. McQueen, principal of the Ryerson School, opened the program with an interesting address on the children in the home, speaking chiefly of the laxity of respect in children towards their elders. "I wonder sometimes if this disrespect does not originate in the home," stated the speaker. "If the parents themselves are not to blame for the manner in which the children act towards them. They should make their children respect the rights of others."

Principal Newhouse of Riverview School gave a brief address, impressing upon the mothers the necessity of making their children honest and truthful in the home, even in the smallest ways. A pleasing program followed, with the following artists taking part: Wilfred Chalcroft, Sybil Higman, Miss Gibson, and the Brunswick trio. In the absence of Mrs. A. Cress, the president, Mrs. Oliver Brady presided. The evening was concluded by a dainty supper served by the members of the club.

LABOR PARTY TO COMMENCE DRIVE

In special session at the Labor Temple Tuesday night, members of the executive of the London Labor party considered plans for a membership drive in London.

It is now possible for individuals to identify themselves with the party, and as many applications for membership have been received, a request for another charter has been sent to the headquarters of the organization.

It is expected that the same will arrive within a few days when open mass meetings will be held and the drive commenced in earnest.

THE MEMBERS of the public speaking class which has been conducted by Dr. Hill in the Y. M. C. A. for the past six weeks wrote their examinations on Tuesday evening. The results will not be known until May 9 as the papers have to be sent to New York to be corrected.

Sells His Cows As Best Method of Keeping Stable Clean

PHILIP WINDLING has solved the problem of how to keep his cow stable clean by selling the cows, his counsel, Frank Curran, informing Magistrate Graydon that the cattle were sold by auction Tuesday afternoon.

Windling was summoned to court about a month ago and charged under the health act by Inspector Richard Sanders, and the case has been postponed from time to time. Mr. Windling promising to comply with any wishes of Mr. Sanders. The case was finally wiped off the police court blotter Wednesday. Mr. Curran promising that his client would pay the costs of the case.

ST. JAMES' BOYS WILL STAGE PLAY

A humorous one-act play, entitled, "The Anybody Family on Sunday Morning," will be staged by the Maple Leaf boys' class of St. James church in the parish hall at Askin street and Wortley road on Wednesday evening.

Slides, depicting a trip through England, will also be shown. They will include pictures of York, Whitby, Manchester, and other cities in Yorkshire, glimpses of Cornish scenery, and also views of Kent.

A sketch, "A Romance in Porcelain," will be another feature of the program. A special performance for the children of the Sunday school will be given on Thursday evening, April 27.

The members of the cast have spent considerable time in preparing this excellent program and a large attendance is expected.

PRIVATE BILLS COMMITTEE IS GIVEN RAKING

Aldermen Attack High-Handed Methods At Provincial House.

RAILMEN TO MEET

Choose Member For Conciliation Board At Wednesday Night Session.

Members of the executive of the Street Railwaymen's Union meet in special session Wednesday night to select their representative to sit on the federal board of conciliation called to arbitrate wage conditions between themselves and their employers, the London Street Railway Company.

Officials of the latter corporation explain that their delegate, while not yet selected, will be chosen within the time limit set by the department of labor at Ottawa.

Touching briefly upon the result of the company's private bill before the committee of the Legislative Assembly Tuesday, the company officers admitted that the prospect for the future appeared bright. Asked pointblank, however, if the ultimate authority of Parliament to elevate fares to five cents straight, would mean eventually that the three-cent wage reduction effective since March 1 would be annulled, they replied:

"That would be difficult to answer at this moment. It's a little too soon to say anything pertaining to that. In any event, our bill has yet to pass the house. Still we are hopeful of its success."

Officers of the union seemed inclined, however, to view the situation with certain hope for a final understanding relative to wages.

"I shouldn't think that the company would have any real argument now for a reduction in wages," Lewis Parker, secretary of the union, commented briefly.

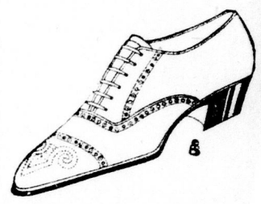

John Colbert, president of the same organization contends further that the company had no substantial argument in the first place, and less now.

Members of the city council who returned to the city Tuesday night from Toronto, after witnessing the initial success of the London Street Railway Company's private bill for a flat 5-cent fare before the private bills committee of the Legislative Assembly, expressed keen disgust that "four or five persons up in Toronto could do as they pleased in the matter despite the direct wishes of the people of London."

"A great fight was put up," explained Alderman Dr. Douglass, "but to no avail. It seems a shame that a committee should vote contrary to the wishes of the citizens, their sitting member, as well as their mayor, councillors and city solicitor. We are certainly getting a 'raw' deal."

Alderman Henry B. Ashplant was likewise obviously discouraged as to the result. "It seems unfortunate," he said, "that seemingly four or five of them can do as they please in the matter. And they have referred the City Gas Company's bill back again. I would not be at all surprised now to see the citizens lose that case as well, now that such a spirit seems to prevail at the provincial capital."

MURDER VICTIM CUT IN PIECES

Dent, Man Arrested, Says, "Why, That's Pete." When Shown Head.

Seen Throwing Suitcase, Containing Parts of Body, into Canal.

Brantford, April 26.—Brantford was shocked last night to hear of the brutal murder of a local Armenian, Peter Yeghiazarian, 148 Darling street. His body, hacked to pieces, was found after dark, part of it in the canal to the south of the city at a point where the Grand Trunk Railway bridge crosses, and part of it at the victim's house on Darling street in a room occupied by the family of one of Yeghiazarian's tenants, Harry Dent, also an Armenian. Dent was arrested shortly after 11:30 last night, and today formal charges of murder have been laid against him and his wife.

He was apprehended on Colborne street, near the G. T. R. tracks, and after being escorted to the police station by policemen it was found that a suitcase which he was carrying held a large portion of the murdered man's body, including his feet, legs and thighs. It is believed that the crime was committed yesterday afternoon.

Dent, who is being held under guard in the police cells, maintained his innocence under a severe cross-examination last night by W. M. Charlton, K.C., crown attorney, Chief Slemin and members of the police force, said that he was trying to get rid of the body at the request of a friend who came to Brantford from Toronto. On being shown the remains of the murdered men he stated that he was not able to see or identify him.

"The place is dark," he commented when asked by one of the constables who the murdered man was. A match was struck and placed near the face of the murdered man, and at once the face of the suspect lit up as he said: "Why that's Pete."

As late as 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Dent declares, he, the Toronto visitor, and the murdered man were all sitting out on a veranda of the Yeghiazarian house on Darling street. It was about 9:30 p.m., when P. G. Knight, a watchman at the G. T. R. crossing near the canal, and his brother-in-law, Al. Christie, saw Dent walk out on the bridge carrying a huge pail. Dent threw this into the deepest part of the canal, but the bucket would not sink, and it was pulled ashore by the two watchers who made the gruesome discovery of a man's head, arms and fingers.

In a room at the Dent flat the torso was discovered by the police. The internal organs and part of the legs were missing up to an early hour this morning.

An inquest was opened today by Dr. C. C. Fissette, coroner. One of the first things the police did following Dent's arrest, and with it the discovery of part of the dismembered body of the boarding house "boss" in the suit case, which the soldier (Dent) was carrying, was to thoroughly search the murdered man's house.

Here was found the chest and torso. It was discovered in the rear part of the house, wrapped up in clothes and paper, and nearby the police found a small, short handled axe with marks of blood along its edge. However, search though they might, no blood stains or traces of murder could be found, either upstairs or down, or in any part of the house, although the police turned things upside dwn in the hope of finding some clue.

Dent's Ross rifle and its bayonet, the latter sharpened to the keenness of a razor, were taken along by the police. His picture, painted on an enlargement in colors, showed the suspect in his uniform as sergeant-cook of the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles. The photograph was taken in England. Dent was wounded, apparently in France, for in the room adjoining the washroom at the rear of the house, a Canadian army tunic lay on the floor, a gold bit of braid on the cuff of the left sleeve.

The Dent apartments were fairly clean and tidy when the officers began their search. The family lived simply judging by appearances. Dent's wife and other members of families, living in the house, are being examined this morning through an interpreter.

WRONG MARKERS BRING $10 FINE

Gordon Harris was charged with having another man's markers on his motor truck, in police court Wednesday.

"I had to have my car weighed before I could get a license," said Harris.

"You had it last year, why wasn't it weighed then," demanded Magistrate Graydon.

"It was a motor car then, I just had it made over into a truck, was the reply.

Mr. Harris admitted that he had been con veying milk to the city with the car.

"This is aserious offence, using anther man's number, and I must fine you $10 and costs," said the court.

WESTERN'S C.O.T.C. ENDS TRAINING

The Canadian Officers' Training Corps of Western University held its last drill for this season in the Armories on Tuesday evening. From the raw recruits which joined the C. O. T. C., M. O. Blake, physical director of the Western University, with the aid of the military authorities, has rounded his men into fine shape and now they drill like veterans. The excellent progress which has been made is due to the splendid enthusiasm risplayed by the boys, said Dean Fox today. Every member of the unit is eagerly looking forward to October when they will resume their training.

CHARGE SOCIAL SERVICE ERRS

to follow the lead of other organizations in securing prohibitive legislation.

W. F. Cockshutt, ex-M.P. of Brantford, also made a spirited attack on the actions of the social service. He claimed, that although the Anglican Society was perhaps not directly interested in having this piece of legislation passed, it nevertheless, was affiliated with the Dominion body and so was in a way responsible.

Archdeacon Fotheringham was right, he said, in his contentions. The social service, he said, had misguided the provincial house. The society could see only one thing at the time and did not see what the consequences of any act might be. In doing a little right in securing the legislation it had done a great wrong.

Dean Tucker explained that the Anglican Society had nothing to do with the piece of legislation in question. That it had been promoted by the provincial body alone.

A second discussion on the report of the social service, with Mr. Cockshutt participating, took place, when the dean read a clause on law observance.

Spread of Lawlessness.

The dean explained that it had been found in England that a widespread lawlessness was due to the effects of the war, on people. He charged every class, the world over, with breaking laws. The upper ten, he said, had not been guiltless, and the lower classes had talked in labor conventions of taking the law in its own hands if their idea of justice could not be secured in any other way.

If the laws were at fault, he believed that they should be set right by constitutional means. There was not a law, he said, which could not be rescinded or withdrawn.

It was the duty of the upper classes to see that laws were properly observed, so that their actions would be an example to others.

Mr. Cockshutt took strong exception to any reference to class distinction in the report, and was backed up by the bishop.

It was true, said Mr. Cockshutt, that the laws of the country were never so badly administered as they have been during the past five years. The war is blamed. But it is time that people were taking some of the responsibility. Hundreds of people everywhere are committing crime who never saw the war, and who made more money during the war years than at any time in their career.

"We have too many laws. When I was in the Federal house I tried more to keep bad laws from going on the books than putting good ones there. In the United States they say that not nine tenths of the 70,000 laws are observed, and I believe that somewhat the same conditions prevail in Canada. We make laws for every conceivable purpose, and many which are not so conceivable, and they are never enforced.

Ban Class Reference.

"I do not believe that there should be any reference to class in the report, for who is to say what is the lower class. Every man who is willing to earn his living by the sweat of his brow who is law-abiding is of the better class."

As the result of his protests the report was amended to read in part: "The Word of God is most emphatic in enforcing obedience to constituted authority. And those communities and states have enjoyed the greatest freedom and stability which have paid the highest honor to the teachings of the Bible. The law-abiding spirit is one of the most noble attributes of the British race, and has been one of the chief elements in the foundation and extension of the British empire. It is surely one of the most ominous signs of the times that there is in our midst a widespread and growing disregard of law. Thus perished Rome. Thus also fell the French monarchy. It behooves all men of goodwill to mark these signs of the times and by word and deed to stem the tide that, if unimpeded, will assuredly lead to disaster.

"It is a mere truism to say that the future of the world depends largely on the condition of the children of today. In all civilized and Christian countries there is felt to be a criminal loss of child life and a ruinous lowering of human vitality, and that mainly from preventable causes. Experience has shown that much of the evil is traceable to unfavorable living condiions, and that effective remedies lie within our reach. A worldwide campaign is, in consequence, being waged on behalf of child welfare, which includes simple instruction in the care of infants, exhibits, clinics and pure food, and branches out into the related subjects of good housing, widows' allowances, the unmarried mother, home desertion, intemperance and venereal disease. The church should not lag behind in this most commendable and necessary effort to save child life and promote human efficiency; more especially as, in this matter, moral and material considerations are inseparably bound up together.

Diocesan Organizations.

"It would thus appear that in the diocese there are at least 70 branches of the A. Y. P. A. and 30 more places where such might be formed; 6 chapters of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood and 19 possibilities; 6 branches of the Girls' Friendly Society and 9 possibilities; 22 Men's Clubs and 18 possibilities; 20 Boys' Clubs and 7 possibilities; 23 troops of Boy Scouts and 13 possibilities; 33 Community Halls, 37 Parish Halls used for community work; 34 places where an organized effort is made to relieve the poor, 11 the unemployed, 26 the immigrant and stranger; 55 the sick; there are reported 16 supervised playgrounds, 51 skating rinks, 47 places where community games are encouraged and 31 community singing; 14 places where folk dancing is practised and 52 the more modern dance; 5 places reached by the juvenile court; very few places where hopeful methods are used to reclaim delinquent boys and girls and to deal with the unmarried mother; the state generally provides for the aged and infirm, and the G. W. V. A. for the returned soldier; classes for the study of social questions are almost non-existent and almost universally the church is co-operating with other organizations, both secular and religious, in social service work; and to the question "are letters of transfer given to people leaving the parish?" practically every answer was in the affirmative.

Rev. Professor Anderson read the report of Huron College and the diocesan library, urging that a larger staff was needed at the college owing to a great increase in the number of students promised in the fall.

Financial Report.

The financial report was:

The statement of last May showed a nominal deficit of $2.03. Since that time the effect of several important events has placed the college in a much more satisfactory financial position which will appear in the financial statement to be appended by the permission of the synod to this report, and printed in the appendix of the Synod Journal. It will show (1) a full year's interest from the A.F.M. endowment, (2) a half year's interest from the Gustavus Adolphus Hamilton memorial legacy. By the will of the late Mr. Hamilton the Synod of Huron and the college share equally as residuary legatees in the bafance of this estate. The exact figures are not available, but the total capital sum receivable by the college will be in the neighborhood of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000). The additional income thus received, combined with certain reduced expenditures, will show a favorable balance, larger than any in the previous history of the college, and sufficient to justify the hope that the college has at last emerged from a long period of straitened circumstances which put a heavy burden on the staff and tended to force measures of economy which were not consistent with true efficiency.

By unanimous vote it was decided to recommend that system of religious instructions in the public schools of London be adopted throughout the whole diocese. Copies of booklets, explaining the system, will be supplied to all delegates.

The recommendation in part was as follows:

"County councils (e.g. York and Middlesex) boards of education, teachers' Institutes and public school inspectors have during the past year passed resolutions or made pronouncements recommending additional instruction of a non-sectarian character in the public schools of Ontario.

"In the city of London a course of scriptural passages for memorization has been prepared by the London Teachers' Institute and indorsed by the London school board.

"In addition to the biblical selections read each morning in accordance with the school regulations, six memory passages are given for each of the eight grades of the public schools. In this way each pupil memorizes each year six passages of Holy Scripture, consisting of from half a dozen to fifteen verses. If the teacher in any grade so directs about twelve additional individual verses selected from specified passages may be required to be committed to memory.

"This course was adopted in all the London schools on Monday, Feb. 13, 1922, and is reported by teachers and inspectors to be working most satisfactorily.

"In accordance with claue (C) of the recommendations of the general synod held in October, 1921, your committee would recommend the London plan for the consideration of this synod with a view to the adoption of this or a like scheme in the public school areas of this diocese."

A committee composed of Archdeacon Doherty, the rural deans, Sheriff Johnston, and chairmen of the lay committees, was appointed to carry on the work of the forward movement in the diocese after the closing of the central office in Toronto. A subcommittee will be formed.

CHANGES IN CANONS.

Changes in three canons of the Anglican Church in the Diocese of Huron, one of which provides for the establishment of a widows' and orphans' fund out of the proceeds of the Forward Movement of the Church of England, were effected, and the budget for 1922 was adopted at Tuesday's session of the 65th assembly of the Synod of the Diocese of Huron.

Perhaps no motion ever passed at a synod convention was ever more welcome than that which brought into being the new fund for widows and orphans of clergymen, which will go into effect June 1.

Hitherto a fund bearing the same name has been in existence, but it was maintained largely through contributions from clergymen themselves. Under the new arrangements, income from an invested fund derived from the Forward Movement will care for all dependents after the death of a clergyman without that clergyman having first provided for them during his lifetime. The establishment of the fund was termed by Archdeacon Fotheringham as the first fruit of the Forward Movement.

Consists of $50,000.

The fund will consist of the sum of $50,000 out of the proceeds of the Forward movement, diocesan local needs allocated to the fund by the synod in 1921, and the sum of $25,000 now appropriated out of the excess contributions above the diocesan allotment in the Forward Movement. The fund may be increased by legacies, donations and appropriations from time to time.

The income of the fund, howsoever derived, shall be used for the relief of widows and orphans of the bishops of the dioceses, clergymen duly licensed to recognized charges, clergymen performing diocesan work with the bishop's sanction, and superannuated clergy. No clergyman 60 years of age at the time of his coming into the diocese will be eligible under the canon.

On the death of any clergyman of the diocese while on active service the widow will receive $500 from the Gustave Hamilton bequest, independent of the annuity she will receive from the fund. As each child attains the age of 16 the annuity in respect to the child will be increased $100 a year until the child reaches the age of 19.

Other Canons Altered.

Two other canons were changed to read as follows:

"Hereafter in case of the resignation, or removal by reason of age or infirmity, of any dignitary from his parish or from performing diocesan work with the bishop's sanction, he shall also retire from his office as dignitary, but he shall be entitled to retain his rank as emeritus, and the bishop may forthwith appoint a successor to his office and dignity."

"In the case of a retired or other clergyman from another diocese residing within this diocese, the bishop may, provided that he is canonically in good standing, issue to him a general permit by which he will be enabled to officiate occasionally in parishes in this diocese at the request of the incumbent or of the bishop, and such permit shall entitle him to it in the synod, but not to vote, nor shall he be eligible to participate in any of the beneficiary funds of this diocese."

A great portion of the afternoon session was devoted to the discussion of the budget for the year, which amounts to $71,900, divided as follows: M. S. C. C., $30,000; Diocesan Mission Fund including Indian Mission Fund, $16,500; Widows' and Orphans' Fund, $7,000; General Purposes Fund, $7,000; Auxiliary Superannuation, $3,000; traveling expenses of the executive committee and boards of General Synod, $1,000; Social Service, $1,250; Gravenhurst Chaplain, $250; G. B. R. E., $1,900; Sunday school inspectors, $100; expenses of General Synod, $700; expenses of Provincial Synod, $200; Huron College, $2,000; Contingent Fund, $1,000.

Fund Paid in Full.

The estimates of the year show a decrease of $5,400 over the previous year. This was due largely to the fact that the total of the budget in 1921 was estimated higher than the actual needs so that certain items could be provided for in full regardless of the fact that the total of the budget was not reached. Of the estimates in 1921 only 68 per cent was raised or a total of $53,746.84, but yet the M. S. C. C. fund was paid in full.

To provide for the first six items of the budget for 1922 in full in case the total was not reached, the committee in charge put them in a special class as objects to be paid in full, while the eight other items considered of less importance were placed in a pro ratio class.

The fact that Huron College was placed in the second class opened the first hostilities on the budget, to be followed by an onslaught led by Dean L. N. Tucker on the principle of establishing a preferred class. Dean Tucker maintained that the work of the social service and that of the G. B. R. E. was equal in importance to the M. C. C. C. He felt that the diocese synod could not place any part of the program of the general synod in places of minor importance.

MISSIONS BOARD OPENS SESSIONS

Sixteen Congregational Bands Circles and Auxiliaries From District Assemble.

Election of Officers Results in Return of Old Executive.

Ten auxiliaries and five or six mission bands and circles were represented at the annual meeting of the London branch of the Canadian Congregational Women's Board of Missions, which opened the first session at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the First Congregational Church. Delegates were present from the two London churches, First and Southern; ten came from Brantford, and a number from Embro, Listowel, Forest, Watford, Frome and Wingham.

The treasurer, Miss Blanche Kemp of Stratford, in her report for the year announced that the total givings amounted to $1,015. The special work of the branch is supporting a missionary, Miss Elizageth Mackenzie, daughter of Rev. George Mackenzie and Mrs. Mackenzie of Stratford, in Angola, Portugese, West Africa.

Extending a warm welcome to the delegates, the branch president, Miss E. Tapscott, London, declared that London was honored in a fourfold way in entertaining, for the first time in several years, the annual meeting. In the first place, the branch was honored by the presence of the president of the Canadian board, Mrs. T. H. Hill; in the second place, by having as a guest the secretary of the general board, Miss Effie Jamieson of Toronto, and in the third place, by being in a position to entertain the mother of the branch's own missionary, Mrs. George Mackenzie of Stratford.

Reference was also made to the fact that the honorary president, Miss F. B. Rawlings, of Forest, has been able to gratify a wish of many years in paying a visit to the mission stations of the church in Africa and, while there, at her own expense, is fitting in, rendering service wherever it is needed.

Listowel Band Initiated.

One new mission band recently organized was initiaed into the branch, namely, Listowel.

In addition to the encouraging reports from auxiliaries, an inspiring address was given by the president of the Canadian board, Mrs. T. H. Hill, in which she urged the importance of harnessing up unused power among the church members in the work for the extension of God's kingdom. Mrs. Livingstone, Forest, read a paper prepared by Mrs. J. H. Daley on the place of devoion in the life of the auxiliaries. Miss L. M. Claris, branch secretary, gave an illuminating talk on mission bands.

The Bible reading was given by Mrs. George Mackenzie, and a pleasing feature was a chorus by the Mission Band of the Southern Church.

The election of officers resulted in the return of the present executive as follows:

Honorary president, Miss F. B. Rawlings, in Africa; president, Miss E. Tapscott, London; secretary, Mrs. E. J. Cody, Embro; treasurer, Miss Blanche Kemp, Stratford. Superintendents—Monthly Leaflet, Mrs. Jepson, London; systematic giving, Miss Hyde, Stratford; mission bands, Miss L. M. Claris, London; associate members, Miss Marwick, Watford; missionary supplies, Miss Parry, London; Labrador supplies, Miss May S. Cody, Embro.

Hold Devotional Service.

A short devotional service as held in the forenoon for those ho had arrived, and at 1 o'clock a luncheon as served by the ladies of the First Congregational Church, under the convenerhip of Mrs. S. Jepson.

Among those who registered previous to the afternoon session were the following:

Stratford—Mesdames J. B. Waugh, A. Creasy, George Mackenzie, J. M. Hyde, Misses B. Kemp, Linnie Gilbert, Vera Lakeman, Florence Kilgore, Alice Norris.

Listowel—Mrs. J. W. Witmer and Miss Tindall.

Forest—Mrs. J. D. Livingston, Miss Livingston.

Embro—Mrs. E. J. Cody, Mrs. D. J. Matheson.

Frome—Mrs. L. McLean, Miss Grace Olsen, Miss Mabel Boyd.

Watford—Mrs. J. D. Brown, Mrs. T. de C. Rayner, Mrs. Harrower.

A mission exhibit which attracted much attention included samples of work given aut as supplies to be made by the native girls in the mission schools in Africa.

Earl Dodd pleaded guilty to providing a minor with cigarettes when his case was called in police court Wednesday.

"I didn't sell the cigarettes, I gave them to the boy as a favor," declared Dodd.

"I must fine you $10 young man, there is nothing else for me to do. It was very foolish of you to provide this boy with cigarettes. I appreciate the fact that there was no gain as far as you were concerned."

Press Comments.

The probable early breakdown of the Genoa conference is more than hinted at in some of the London newspaper editorials this morning. The Northcliffe papers, which have always opposed the conference, and Mr. Lloyd George's advocacy thereof, declare the meeting a failure. The Times says: "It is daily becoming clearer that the splendid visions which the world was asked to expect as a result of the conference are fading away and it is childish of the premier to try to cover his mistakes and hide his disappointment by casting the blame for his failures upon the press, whose only fault is that it has been too clear-sighted."

The Daily Mail says the only important thing that has happened at the conference is the conclusion of a treaty by the Russians and Germans behind Lloyd George's back.

"The conference is ending in failure," it declares. "The policy of shaking hands with murder has broken down, and no tears need be shed over that result."

Premier Poincare's speech at Bar Le Duc is hailed by these newspapers as "tonic for overstrained nerves," and proof that "France recognizes that we live in a real world, not in a conjurer's paradise."

The Westminster Gazette, although disagreeing with the French attitude, regards it as the result of honest conviction. The newspaper interprets M. Poincare's speech as "the plainest possible declaration that the French government thinks the conference has lasted quite long enough and adds: "Clearly it ends the Genoa conference as far as France is concerned."

Assuming that France is determined to invade the Ruhr Valley, to the end that she may enforce her demands upon Germany, the newspaper foresees "fresh disaster for Europe, which Great Britain will be almost powerless to avert." It is confident, however, that the British public is unanimous against renewal of warfare, and declares, "If Poincare's address is France's last word, it marks the parting of the ways for the French and British peoples."

The Daily Chronicle on the other hand adopts a hopeful view and thinks the conference has resisted so many crises that "it has become almost crises proof." It believes there is a strong undercurrent at the conference in favor of an eventual agreement which justifies the doubt whether "either France or Russia ultimately will find it worth while to kick over the traces of the Genoa peace chariot."

(4) That the synod convenor be authorized to call a meeting of his committee in the fall to make arrangements for further work.

James Mitchell presented the report of the Historical Society and urged that every effort be made to gather data in order that complete history of the synod might be compiled.

Rev. Prof. Anderson and Sherrif Johnson of Sarnia, were introduced to the synod by Rev. W. R. McIntosh as delegates bearing the greetings of the synod of the Diocese of Huron, which was meeting in St. Paul's Cathedral, at the same time. Prof. Anderson, in a brief address, spoke of the increasing spirit of unity between Anglicans and Presbyterians. "The line dividing us is very faint," he said, "and we have arrived at a full understanding of the fact that our aims, our ambitions, and our object is the same, that of spreading the Kingdom of God."

The resolutions read and submitted at the Tuesday afternoon session by Rev. W. R. McIntosh and concerning the need of extra emphasis on the call of young people for life service in the church were adopted.

The following were appointed a committee to consiler the question of the union of the synods of London and Hamilton and Toronto and Kingston: Dr. Beattie, Dr. Gibson, Rev. N. A. Campbell, Rev. High McPhail and Prof. Patterson.

Resolutions Passed.

In connection with resolutions submitted to the Tuesday night session discussion arose concerning the moral issues of the present age, the influence of legalized race track gambling and other institutions which were proclaimed to be pernicious in their effects.

The resolutions were as follows: That the committee of the home mission and social service, believing that the greatest need of the church at the present time is a more vital religious life, would recommend that the synod should take steps to promote evangelistic effort in every presbytery to stimulate a religious awakening throughout the church and nation; that the Presbyterian Church be asked to continue its efforts towards bringing up as many congregations as possible to the new minimum stipend; that whereas there is at the present time a deplorable moral condition resulting from legalized race-track gambling, we, the synod of Hamilton and London, favor the enactment of such legislation as will prohibit race-track gambling, and commend the government of Ontario for its activity in enforcing the Ontario temperance act.

Sees Vital Issues.

Dr. Banks Nelson was of the opinion that there were more vital issues at stake than the mere scoring of race-track gambling, and rose to question the advisability of singling out race-track gambling any more than any other sin which was prevalent in modern civilization.

"Is it within the province of the home mission board," he asked, "to deal with evils of this nature? If so, we should draw up a list of evils, commencing with the greatest, and amongst these would be the continued violation of acts concerning the sanctity of the Lord's Day.

"We continue to watch our prominent citizens continually setting a bad example to the younger generation by playing golf and other games on the Sabbath Day, and I claim that it is equally as great a sin as race-track gambling."

The opinion of Dr. Gibson of Woodstock that the church was overstepping its privileges in attempting to legislate for great masses of peoples outside its bounds was roundly scored by Dr. Melville of Walkerville, who vehemently asked "Have the people outside the church any right to impose restrictions on us?" It is not the duty of the church to exert a proper influence for good. Even in Windsor, a racing centre, the question of race-track gambling is to be submitted to the will of the people.

To deepen the spiritual life, it must register itself in demanding greater moral good for peoples both inside and outside of the church. Let an influence of this sort permeate the life of the smaller villages and towns, and moral corruption is certain."

Dr. Colin Young presented in a splendid address the menace which threatened the Dominion from immigrants who had come to take up a new life here, immigrants who on their first arrival here had brought with them a religious fervor, but who living here unnoticed by the church and deprived of spiritual leadership, had relegated religion to the rear ranks of their interests in life. The need of taking steps to win these peoples and of setting before them a vivid example of Christianity was forcefully emphasized by the speaker.

Had Been Converted.

Dr. Young's address was followed by an equally-forceful address by James Graham, a returned missionary from India, which vividly represented the need of reclaiming the Hindoo from the wretched customs of the native religion, and to enlist their natural religious enthusiasm in the cause of Christ. He told graphically the story of a Hindoo high priest who had been converted to the Christian faith.

Missionary activity in China, as effected by the late famine, was the subject of an address by Rev. Dr. Loughead, recently returned from China. The thanks of the synod were tendered to those who spoke in such an enlightening manner on subjects of vital importance in the missionary endeavors of the church.

General discussion and the reports of the committees affecting various departments of church work occupied the greater part of the afternoon session. Rev. W. R. McIntosh, Dr. Banks Nelson of Hamilton, and Major McConnel dealt with the subject of life service in the church. Mr. McIntosh, convener of the committee, introduced the subject as an entirely new department of church work, and following introductory remarks concerning the need of workers and the great necessity of providing opportunity for young men and women to enlist in the cause of the church, summed up his discussion in the following resolutions:

1. That special emphasis be given by all ministers and leaders in religious education to the distinctive Christian doctrine that all life callings of whatever sort be under control of Christian ideals.

2. That all appeals for life service keep in the foreground the challenge to leadership and skill in social righteousness, and in the Divine human enterprise of establishing Christian comradeship among men in every department of life.

3. That in view of the present awakening and reconstruction, both at home and in foreign fields, bringing with it a new demand for tolerance, good understanding, racial and religious respect, that our mission and college boards be asked to give very careful attention in selecting and training of candidates for the ministry, and the mission fields to their intellectual outlook and spiritual impetus as well as their Christian zeal.

4. That the assembly committee be asked to consider the advisability of preparing a national course of training for part-time workers, literature setting forth the kind of training required for prospective candidates for various church callings, and to canvass the possibilities of opening more opportunities for young people desiring to give whole-time service to the church.

Presents Questionnaire.

Dr. G. A. Wodehouse presented a questionnaire sent out by the general interests board of Canada, to which answers revealing much of the progress, as well as the problems confronting Presbyterian life in Canada, were given by the following men: Rev. J. S. Hardy of Maitland Presbytery, Rev. John McKay of Dorchester, in the London Presbytery, Rev. John Currie of Bruce Presbytery, Rev. Geo. Telford of Huron Presbytery, Rev. G. N. Atkinson of Stratford Presbytery, Rev. J. A. Shaver of the Sarnia Presbytery, and Rev. Geo. Beveridge of the Chatham Presbytery.

Following the afternoon session, the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church, assisted by the ladies of the other Presbyterian Churches of the city in procuring supplies, provided a supper at which practically all those attending the synod gathering sat down. The speaker on this occasion was Col. Brown, executive head of Western University, who spoke in a lucid and effective manner of the work being carried on by that university.

Col. Brown pointed out that Western was the only university in the Dominion possessing a separate faculty for the department of public health, and emphasized the important work done throughout the community by the extension lecture department of Western University. Another striking feature in connection with the university life emphasized by Col. Brown was the fact that classes were so limited that individual attention and care could be given to each student. "We have arbitrarily decided," stated Col. Brown, "that our classes shall be limited in order that our practice may be carried out of assembling the staff periodically to discuss the individual characteristics in connection with the work of each student, and provide for freshmen getting properly started in the different courses, carrying neither too heavy or too light a load. It is also our ambition to organize a workers' educational association, so that our extension work may be carried out more successfully and reach the smaller towns and villages so the primary purpose of education, that of helping a man to learn more of the men among whom he lives, may be carried out."

Col. Brown also pointed out that there was a great disparity between the number in attendance in the public schools and those who went on to high schools and universities, and stressed strongly the need for Canada, standing as she does a new country in a strategical position in the development of the work, should conserve her brain power, a necessity which is aa great as that of conserving natural resources.

A Big Problem.

UNEMPLOYMENT was considered in the Canadian House of Parliament, on a motion brought up by JAMES S. WOODSWORTH of Winnipeg, who sought to lay the whole matter at the door of the Dominion, in a resolution that stated: "The federal government should devise some means of dealing effectively with the situation."

It is a patent fact that the federal government of this or any other country, with a view to permanency, cannot "devise some means of dealing effectively with the situation."

It has been proved beyond doubt by the experience of almost every municipality in Canada—particularly the larger ones—that relief work does not accomplish any lasting purpose, and that the best-planned efforts result only in measures that are temporary at best.

Relief work has been looked after by four agencies, viz., private individuals or private individuals banded together, by municipal, provincial and federal governments. The claim is made by Ottawa that relief work, and the solution of the unemployment problem is not part of the work that should be attended to by the federal government. For such a claim there is some justification, but it must be qualified. On the platform in the last election it was mentioned many times by speakers on all sides, and the claim was made that the adoption of certain policies would result in better industrial conditions. Ottawa can hardly shift responsibility in the matter, and yet it is hard to see where Ottawa can deal effectively with the problem.

The member from Winnipeg who brought up the matter pointed out that building houses and starting factories would help to do away with the unemployment we have at present. Very true, but it is a fact that factories do not run primarily for the sake of putting people at work. They run because there is a market for the article they manufacture, and if they depart very far from that principle they will have to close their doors in a very short time.

No government wants the problem of solving the question of unemployment brought and placed against its door, and this refers to the government of the Dominion or of the province or of any of the municipalities. It is so great that the ability or powers of any one body to compass it seem woefully insufficient. The fact that it is so serious a matter is good reason why all the governments should come together and see whether, by the better development of some of our basic sources of wealth, particularly agriculture, some useful suggestion can be found that will place the burden where it will rest the lightest.

The question of unemployment becomes all the more serious when we find the season when outside work should be plentiful, fairly well advanced, and yet no great improvement can be noticed in employment conditions. Estimates have it that right now there are 200,000 out of work in Canada. From this number can be taken those who are out of work because of strikes, because they are drawing strike pay. If many of these people, especially in cities where outside work is counted on to give a large number of people employment, do not get a start soon they are going to be in poor shape to go through the coming winter, and if there is no improvement the municipalities and the provincial and federal governments are going to face exactly the same problem they had to deal with last winter and the winter before.

It is well that the governments—all of them—should sit in at a discussion where this matter can be considered. Frankly, we do not expect any great results from any such conference beyond devising ways of handing out relief work when the occasion demands. The whole question has so many sides that it would take days for the presentation and consideration of them all before any committee. The question of the relative value of wages in a market where rents and the prices of commodities are over the head of the small wage earner would rightly come within the scope of such a consideration, because it is undoubtedly these conditions that drive many homes to seek relief when the winter months set in. They are not able, even by the greatest care, to have anything ahead for the added expenses that come in the cold months when fuel bills are added to the family expenses.

The Genoa Tangle.

IT REQUIRES a man with a great deal of credulity in his make-up to watch events at Genoa during the last few days and experience no sense of dizziness at the rapidity with which the complexion of things changes there.

A few days ago we had Russia and Germany in a secret treaty, signed, sealed and delivered, which was to reinstate Germany in Russia. Then came some indecision about this move, and today we are told that Russia is willing to recognize the pre-war debts of that country, that Lenine calls a conference of financiers to see if a crash can be averted, and private property is to be restored in Russia.

* * *

IT DOES not take much reading between the lines to see that there is some difference of opinion between the French and British representatives. It is noticed that some British correspondents seldom lose an opportunity to have their little fling at the expense of the French. Just today the editor of The Economic Journal, London, who is attending the conference, writes: "Meanwhile, the French, who were very quite as long as the conference seemed to be going badly, are seeking to make trouble at every opportunity. They are reported to be much excited, but for no reason I can ascertain except that the conference has taken a decided turn for the better." This same note can be seen now and then in many British papers, and there are sections of the French press that seem determined to reciprocate in full. This was not the spirit that kept the German flag from flying over Paris, or that prevented Germans mounting guns on the French coast where they could have dominated the channel.

* * *

LLOYD GEORGE is playing a tremendous game, in which there are great hazards and great chances. He realizes what any man can see, viz., that as long as Russia and Central Europe is sick, and desperately sick at that, there can be no great or sustained measure of health in the rest of Europe.

He realizes also that if there is one way to deal with Russia it is to get her out into the open and do away with hole-in-the-wall diplomacy and cellar-signed understandings which would tend to make Europe the hotbed of plottings and the stamping ground of intrigue.

In this he may succeed and he may fail. He is dealing with a people who have been busy for the past few years putting the boots into all that is decent in the way of national life; discarding obligations, and making it next to impossible for her own people to live decently, or, in fact, to live at all. It is well to remember also that before the days of the war Germany had sprawled her trade, her espionage and her influence all over that great stretch of country labeled Russia, and that Germany is doing the same thing again, and is in a position to do so because her people turned around the day after the war was over and went to work harder than they had ever worked before the war.

So it will be seen that LLOYD GEORGE is dealing with unknown quantities in an unknown atmosphere, and out of this is trying to produce known results.

The British premier knows the currents and the cross-currents of Europe as few men know them, and if there is anything to be done in the way of making the road for a better Europe to travel onto a better destiny, LLOYD GEORGE can probably build as carefully and yet as daringly as any man in the world today. It's a real man's job, and the British nation is prepared to accept the chances of success along with the possibilities of failure.

London St. Railway.

THE London Street Railway has apparently been successful in its appeal to the Ontario House for power to increase its rates to 5 cents.

There can be no doubt that the rate charged in London has been too small at the present time to enable any transportation company to do business on the basis of seven and nine tickets for a quarter.

The increasing of the fares is not going to guarantee to the citizens of London the one thing most necessary, and that is a good street car service.

The increased rates will not enable the company to go into the money markets and secure the capital necessary to put on more rolling stock, and put the present lines in proper shape. So, unless we are very much out in our view of the case, the people are going to get pretty much the same service, only paying more for it.

It is only a makeshift agreement. The proper course is for the city and the company to get together and find out, if possible, whether the date of the expiration of the franchise, 1925, cannot be anticipated and dealt with now.

The charging of the extra fare does not solve the matter at all.

The annual examinations of probationers and candidates for the ministry were held in Petrolea and closed last evening. The following constitute the board of examiners: Revs. Geo. Jackson (president), C. T. Scott, B.A. (secretary); W. Williams, D.D.; J. W. Holmes, J. R. Gundy, A. L. Russell, M.A., B.D.; S. Bond, A. Cunningham, J. Wilson, M.A.; W. J. Ford, LL.B., and J. Philp, B.A.

The following appointments, promotions and retirements have been sanctioned by the minister of militia:

Twenty-seventh Battalion—No. 1 Company, Provisional Lieutenant Gilbert S. Pitkin is permitted to retire.

Thirtieth Wellington Battalion—Surgeon Capt. John Mennie, having left limits, his name is removed from the list of officers of the active militia. To be surgeon-lieutenant, Gerald O'Reilly, M.D., vice Mennie retired.

Thirty-first Grey Battalion—No. 4 Company, Capt. Samuel J. McGirr is permitted to resign his commission and to retain the rank of captain on retirement. To be captain, Second Lieutenant Harry Alexander Hunter, vice McGirr retired.

Thirty-third Huron Battalion—No. 7 Company, to be second lieutenant provisionally, Andrew Wells, vice Beacon retired.

St. Thomas Collegiate Cadet Corps—To act as captain, Harold Grant Wallace, vice Honsinger, left school; to act as lieutenant, Clyde Harvey Dunbar, vice Leslie, left school; to act as second lieutenant, John Alexander Fraser, vice Jones, left school.

Rev. George Gilmore delighted a large audience at Chalmers Presbyterian Church last night by his lecture on "Legendary Ireland," which was an historical and literary treat. It was supplemented by a pleasant program, comprising vocal solos by Mr. Collins and Mr. Wilkins; a violin solo by Mr. Winslade, and an Irish reading by Mrs. Gauld. Rev. Walter Moffatt, the pastor, presided.

The Wide Awake Baseball Club of Thorndale has organized with the following officers: W. F. McGuffin, president; John Taylor, vice-president; Thos Logan, secretary; G. W. Lankin, treasurer; T. W. Harrison, captain.

The reading public may get the idea that a slight reduction in the price of white paper means cheaper papers right away. While this reduction has been made it is simply a drop in the bucket, and there are many other charges that soon eat up this bit of relief. A well-edited weekly paper is worth $2 if it is worth anything at all.

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is EXACERBATE.

It's pronounced — eg-zas-er-bayt, with accent on the second syllable.

It means—to irritate, to annoy, to make bitter, to exasperate.

It comes from — Latin "exacerbare," to irritate.

Companion word—exacerbation.

It's used like this—"Service men were exacerbated when they returned home and found themselves jobless."

LITTLE 'TISERS

Things seem to be getting back to normal, although some people seemed to think they never would. For instance, it is still young in the year and the fruit crop in St. Catharines district has been ruined twice. And we've always noticed that after the peach crop has been ruined three times in one season the growers generally make a pretty good showing when it comes to the harvest.

It is open to question if there is not the need for a juvenile court with a wide range of territory. Here is a case in a small town not far from London where two boys stole some pieces of harness and sold them to another lad. The result is they are landed in Chatham jail because there was no one to put up bail. Being put behind jail doors is a serious thing for a boy. It is punishment, but not correction.

The publishers of weekly papers in the counties of Essex and Kent, at their annual session a few days ago, decided to retain their price of $2 per year for their papers. In this they have made a wise move, as there is nothing in sight that would guarantee them from a severe loss were they to reduce prices. Publication costs are not coming down.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE.

DYSPEPSIA

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

LOOK out for appendicitis if you are often a victim of dyspepsia. Chronic appendicitis often causes gastric pain and dyspepsia.

Dyspepsia is the most common ailment in this country. It is the price we often pay for hustle and bustle.

The chief cause of the ailment and the one most easily prevented, is lack of sufficient mastication of food. We too often don't take the time necessary to chew our food thoroughly, and hence swallow it in masses which the stomach cannot take care of.

But even then there would be a whole lot less indigestion were it not for the fact that we live under such high pressure that we do not give the digestive organs time and strength sufficient to take care of the food that is put into them, for digestion depends upon the presence of good pure blood.

Such a blood supply is not present when we use that blood for active muscular exercise, or for solving business problems.

To be sure that the blood supply gets a chance to get down into the digestive organs we should always relax both mentally and physically while eating and shortly thereafter.

Good digestion demands freedom from care and worry. Any emotional disturbances have a bad effect on your digestion. Hence you complain of dyspepsia.

The stomach is always easily disturbed by relax action from other organs. For instance eye strain is apt to give you chronic dyspepsia, through its effect on the gastric secretions.

EDITED BY CABR

HIS DOG. By Albert Payson Terhune. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. $1.50.

MANY people who do and who do not love dogs have admired Mr. Terhune's stories about them. But some readers feel in his books a certain lack. He writes with sympathy, but hardly with imagination; he tells us a great deal about what dogs think, but not enough about what they feel.

One reason why the Jungle Books are fascinating lies in Mr. Kipling's gift of making us feel things as animals do. We steal down with the other wild things during the Jungle drought to the feeble stream; we lope through the forest with the Black Panther, and we call Good Hunting like a wolf.

To those who have tramped over frosty morning roads, accompanied by four dancing little feet and an ecstatic bark, or felt in the hollow of their palm the cool upthrust of an inquiring nose, there is a certain coldness about Mr. Terhune's work. It is the laboratory method against that of the poet. But, on the other hand, he is never guilty of the "pathetic fallacy," and his dogs stand firm on their own feet as animals, with no mawkishness of human sentiment.

"His Dog" is the story of a rather worthless man who wins self-respect and happiness through the influence of a splendid dog. The animal is a singularly intelligent and heroic specimen, and no one who loves dogs will admit that any of his achievements are improbable. Chum is a fine collie, a thorough gentleman, if a bit of a Philistine, and it is no wonder that Link Ferris pulls himself up out of the mire in order to be worthy the devotion of such a creature.

DUNDAS CENTER M. C.

The Easter meeting of the Dundas Center Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Heber Gibson, Princess avenue, last week, with a good attendance. Miss Barter gave the Bible reading, and the Easter solos by Mrs. W. B. Wortman and Miss Judd were very much enjoyed.

The dolls given to Mrs. Wellwood, missionary, on furlough from China, were on exhibition and will no doubt delight the hearts of the little folks who are very fond of Canadian dolls.

Mrs. (Rev.) Deacon gave an inspiring talk on "April, the Resurrection Month." Miss Isabel Tanton gave the chapter from the Study Book on South America. The treasurer reported that the Easter offering amounted to $90.55.

The meeting closed with a social half-hour, and a dainty supper was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held shortly and the election of officers for the coming year will take place.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

(By Digby Phillips.)

NO. 198—LARGE CAPITALS.

Of considerable importance in judging character by handwriting is the manner in which the writer makes his capital letters.

When they are large it is significant, and the larger they are in proportion to his other letters the more significant. If they are ornamented by flourishes the significance is greatest.

The large capital letter, habitually made with a flourish, is a betrayal of egotism, conceit, affectation, pride and love of display. To get at the real importance of such a writer in the general scheme of the world, you have only to take his own opinion of himself and reverse it, and you'll come pretty close to the real state of affairs.

Still, you must be cautious in judging the over-large, and even the ornate, capital. If it is associated with writing which otherwise is normal, neat and modest, you must discount considerably the significance of the capitals, for then you have a case of conflicting traits of character pretty well in balance, and all of our characters are, after all, made up of conflicting traits. Where the capitals are merely large, without being ornate, and the rest of the writing not "flashy," you may take it that what would otherwise be a fault has been turned into a virtue, and you are looking at the writing of a person merely self-reliant, courageous, and in a general way rather strong and dominating.

SIDE LIGHTS AT OTTAWA

By JOHN J. McLELLAN.
Advertiser Staff Correspondent.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa, April 25.—Andrew McMaster of Brome, when his resolution on the question of cabinet ministers holding directorships in public utility companies came forward, appeared especially dressed for the occasion. He had on the attire of statesmanship, frock coat, etc.

This topic, which seems to be one of considerable interest, was not accorded "a full house" in the galleries, at least in the afternoon.

A visitor at Ottawa must take pot luck on interesting debates. He may arrive at a time when interest is very tense and the debate heated, or again he may be rewarded with nothing for his attention better than some interminable discourse on some obscure subject, such as hog cholera.

Sometimes a convention comes to the Capital to hold its sittings, and adjourns on one of the convention days to visit Parliament. Great is the disgust of the delegates if they arrive at a time when a French member is speaking.

The resolution of McMaster removes from the order paper one of two resolutions that are of unusual interest.

The second one is that of Tommy Church of Toronto, and concerns the report of the international joint commission of the St. Lawrence River Waterway.

It is the wish of the Toronto member that the government should make an agreement with the government of the United States for the carrying out of the St. Lawrence waterway scheme. When this question comes up it is likely that something will be said by a number of the members from Montreal and from Toronto, the two rival cities, the first named of which is opposed to the waterway scheme.

These are the only two bright spots on a rather meagre order paper, and now that the discussion of the first is on, the remaining resolutions will come in any order whatsoever.

It was noticeable that all other resolutions other than that of McMaster were allowed to stand with the exception of that of J. S. Woodsworth.

* * *

THERE is still the current topic of the budget to keep the ball of conversation rolling in the lobbies and corridors. Conversation and talk of some order must be kept up at all cost, since, if it dropped, Conservative members might take to their rooms to do some thinking. The results would be too terrible to contemplate.

No one knows just when the budget will be brought down, and they are not likely to know with Hon. W. S. Fielding in control. It would be a tactical error, unworthy of the present minister of finance, and Sir Henry Drayton, chief financial critic of the opposition, try as he might the other day to draw the man who sits on the right of the premier into a statement, could not draw forth anything but silencing remarks.

It has been said that Sir Henry looks like a schoolboy who has just put one over on teacher, most of the time, when he sits with his ever-present grin.

* * *

HON. W. C. KENNEDY is seen more in the house these days than formerly, at the beginning of the session that is. Then deputations lay in wait for him at every turn, and in between he was forced to engage himself with a labyrinth of figures that made up his statement on the railways. Now, while he is still undoubtedly one of the busiest men in Canada, he appears more often in the house.

On his appearance the minister of railways is most meticulously careful, and is probably the neatest dressed man on the government benches. He seldom ever interjects any remarks during the debates unless it touches on the subject of railways. Of course, it is not usual for a minister to say much on many matters unless it touches his department, but if you scan Hansard you will find remarks here and there by many of the front benchers.

WANTS BONDS RETURNED

Hamilton Mayor Would Break Relations With Hydro Commission.

HAMILTON, April 25.—At a meeting of the board of control this morning Mayor Coppley stated that before the city entered into any furhter negotiations with the Provincial Hydro Commission, the commission must return the $6,000 bonds that Hamilton had given to the commission as a guarantee.

A motion to that effect was sent to the city council, which will meet this evening.

FIELDING HEARS TANNERS

Receives Deputation Opposing Change in Footwear Tariff.

OTTAWA, April 25.—(By Canadian Press.)—A delegation representing tanners and shoe manufacturers of Canada waited on Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, this morning to place before him its views on tariff matters.

The delegation, which arrived shortly after noon, urged that no changes in the tariff be made on boots and shoes, etc., when the budget comes down.

Mr. Fielding announced some days ago that he would be unable to receive tariff delegations after April 22, but it is understood that this is a postponed appointment from an earlier date.

PLOWING WELL ADVANCED.

WINNIPEG, April 25.—Plowing and seeding will be general in the three Prairie Provinces by May 1, providing there is a continuance of existing favorable weather, according to the second weekly crop bulletin for this year, issued today at the local offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"Close-Up" Student Addresses Women's Canadian Club On Oriental Supremacy.

SCORES REPUBLIC

Thinks Canada Would Profit by Encouraging Chinese Students To Come Here.

Three forces have been responsible r the awakening in China of the st 50 years, the recent rapid evotion after the lethargy of centuries, the opinion of a "close-up" stunt and keen observer for several ars past, Rev. A. W. Lochead, misonary on furlough from Honan, hina, who, on Tuesday afternoon, ve an illuminating lecture before e Woman's Canadian Club in the ollegiate auditorium on the subject, Supremacy in the Orient."

The three forces he named as the fluence of Christian missions, new ntact with outside civilization and ade, and in the third place, the rce of war.

Previous to this, for two or three ousand years, he pointed out, the rly great civilization had come wn through two or three thousd years with very little change in rm, and no change in ideas or eals.

With regard to this civilization, the eaker had this to say: "China as practically an island, cut off om contact with the rest of the orld. Her great civilization was veloped without reference to the tside world, without borrowing ything from the western world, and ry little from India. Her written aracters are distinctive: her literure, vaster than that of Greece or me, contains classics of real value. "Like the Greeks, the Chinese were great original race, unlike the Japese, who have borrowed practically erything.

"The Chinese early civilization was great that it dwarfed all afterevelopment. The Chinese thought impossible to equal their early ilosophers and poets. The Chinese ere delighted with their civilization, tisfied, conservative."

Notwithstanding this fact, however, stated the lecturer, China passd through periodic spasms of revotion, chaos and breaks down, so r as authority was concerned. ristianity had touched the counry in the early centuries, introduced the Franciscans. There were cords of three or four archbishops Pekin, and a famous Nestorian blet is left as proof. But, the 10,- 0 or 20,000 Christians were blotd out by the Mohammedans, and bsequently, the Jesuit missions, tablished at the time Jesuit fathers ruggled among the Hurons in Can-a, perished by persecution.

Travels Far.

To illustrate how far China has aveled in half a century, the story as told by the lecturer of twelve iles of railway built out of Shangi in 1879, laid with great difficulty avoid the graves of ancestors. The atmen saw their trade gone if the ilway was allowed to operate—the rrowmen, their means of livelihood. They set themselves in front of the engine, calling to have it run over them if they were to be deprived of a means of keeping alive. The result was the engine was thrown into the river, the rails scrapped.

"The good beating" by the Japanese in 94-95 was the big bolt which served as a real awakening, resulting in the dividing of the country into two political camps.

"One wing wanted to cut off all communication with the outside world, build higher walls than ever," said the speaker. "The other wanted to get into contact with international affairs."

The fact was recalled that the ruling emperor was of the reform wing and issued a number of reform edicts, "ill conceived, not properly digested," if well-meaning, that resulted in the Empress Dowager with her reactionary ideas taking the helm of state and imprisoning her son.

The ironical humor of the situation a few years later was to be found in the fact that in 1902 the empress dowager herself set about carrying out those very reforms, and the process has gone steadily on.

"In 1905," said Mr. Lochead, "China cut definitely with the past, doing away with the whole educational system that had come down from the seventh century, and a million young men were cut adrift."

This period, the beginning of the intellectual renaissance in China, was compared by the speaker to the renaissance of learning 500 years ago in Europe, when those seeking knowledge flocked to Rome or Oxford to steep themselves in Greek learning and culture. The Chinese sought English, going for it to Japanese universities, to England and to European countries. "It is hard," said the speaker, "to overemphasize the importance of English in China."

At this point compliment was paid to the Americans for returning to China their surplus of Boxer indemnity, and the subsequent establishing with it of scholarships in American universities for Chinese students, thereby attracting a large body of Chinese intellectuals to the United States, and strengthening to a marked degree the prestige of the United States in China.

Is Canada Right?

While Canada is the next-door neighbor to China, the Canadian missionary commented that Canada has not one Chinese student so, far as he knows in her universities. There is a reason, and Mr. Lochead does not consider the reason reflects credit on the good judgment of Canada. His statement was: "Canada has bungled as badly as any nation could with respect to the capitation tax of $500 on Chinese students. Canada, however, made terms with the rebel government in the south, and 'got it in the eye.'"

Chinese gentlemen of standing and culture, paying a visit to Canada, if their papers were not quite in order were subject to indignities from petty officials that naturally prejudiced them against the country. Mr. Lochead recognized, to be sure, the problems of the country with regard to the Oriental question, and that certain restrictions were necessary. Nevertheless, he considered it would be an advantage to have Chinese students coming here as they are doing to the United States, Great Britain and Europe, and voiced the hope some way might be opened up following the universities conference to be held in Winnipeg this summer. With regard to the present form of government (or non-government) in China, the republican, the speaker characterized it as unfortunate, entirely unsuitable, established as it was among a people, 90 to 95 per cent of whom were unfitted for it, a western form of government "literally pitchforked at them."

Dealing with the unsettled conditions, "The idea has been impressed upon me," said the speaker, "that unless you get something to supersede the family idea, China will not make great progress.

Need National Ideals.

"She must get the type of man who has something more than the desire to develop the family. Anything that has an analogy to the family does wonderfully well. Beyond this it breaks down. What is needed is a sense of the responsibility of the individual soul towards God. Until China gets that there is not much hope politically or religiously."

Recognizing the value of the family idea and ideal to a certain point as it exists in China, the speaker pointed out the defects and weakness when exaggerated, as it is there where a great deal of evil is done in the political world to build up the home. Family patriotism, he stated, is very strong; provincial, fairly strong, but for the country as a whole it is practically non-existent. "There is a great deal of talk about national patriotism among the students," he said, "a great deal of turmoil and ferment, but it is not whole-hearted."

The one good word Mr. Lochead considered that could be said for the republic was that it had brought disappointment and disillusionment. This would always exist, he maintained, until the Chinese got the idea of individual responsibility towards God and right. Western civilization's debt to China could only be discharged in giving to the people Christian ideas and ideals that are the basis of Christian civilization.

Graphic pictures were presented of outstanding personalities in Chinese affairs, the president, Hsush Chang, Chang Tsoa Lin, governor of Manchuria, persona grata to the Japanese, with Manchurian troops at his back, nothing more nor less than a brigand chief; Wu Pei Fu, the young man opposing him, known to the Chinese as "Devil Hard To Catch," and Sun Yat Sen in the south, worst of the lot, socialist, Marxian, entirely misguided, "a rascal, nominally a Christian, but a polygamist, wild with the enthusiasm of his own ideas, the lunatic of the renaissance." Should such a thing happen as an election in China, according to the lecturer, the new president would be Wong Cheng Ting, son of a Christian pastor.

"The influence of the Christians is out of all proportion to their numbers," he stated in closing. Including only about 1 per cent of the population, he pointed to their prominence at the Paris parley, at Washington, and at places of prestige they hold in China.

THEY DO NOT ENVY MISS M'PHAIL, M.P.

Delegates to Provincial Presbyterian W. M. S. Visit House of Commons.

GET NICE SURPRISE

Happy Over Missionary Outlook—Opening Two Hospitals This Year.

"We do not envy Miss Agnes MacPhail," is the refrain of the four officers of the London Presbyterial W. M. S., Mrs. W. R. McIntosh, vice-president; Mrs. John M. McEvoy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jared Vining, recording secretary, and Mrs. M. McEachern, treasurer, who have just returned home from Ottawa after attending the annual meeting of the Ontario Provincial Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. While in the capital they naturally availed themselves of the opportunity to see Canada's law-makers in action.

Concerning the visit to the House of Commons, Mrs. J. M. McEvoy said to the Women's Department of The Advertiser: "Two hours of one day of the convention were spent in the house listening to debates.

"We went, 500 strong, women electors of the province, to see how our national business was being transacted. Members of the provincial board had particularly good seats in the front of the gallery, right across from the Speaker's throne, so I got an excellent view.

"Did we meet Canada's first woman M. P.? No. And she didn't take the slightest notice of us. After seeing her at her desk on the floor of the house I came to the conclusion her position was not an enviable one among so many men. We would have liked to hear her say something, but missed that privilege.

"We were in for the debate on daylight saving, with a great many arguments both for and against it. Church, for so many times mayor of Toronto, was speaking while we were present."

With regard to the business which took the London church and mission workers to Ottawa, "the annual meeting was a most encouraging one in every way," stated Mrs. McEvoy. "In the first place there was large increases in both givings and membership, about 25 per cent increase over the previous year in membership, indicating a live and growing interest.

"We had a pleasant surprise with regard to the deficit of the general council, of which a good deal has been heard. We found it was about $20,000 less than we had understood. The point should be made clear that this deficit has not been due to any decrease in givings, but largely to the exorbitant foreign exchange rates of the past few years. The givings, indeed, have steadily increased. Under the circumstances, however, we have been marking time in our provincial society so far as initiating new activities is concerned. Notwithstanding this, however, we have the satisfaction of opening a new hospital in Matheson, in Northern Ontario, in June, and a new hospital is assured for Hearst, to be opened later in June, thanks to the generous donation of $8,000 from St. Paul's Church, Ottawa. Both of these will be under the jurisdiction of the W. M. S.

WITH THE BRIDES

CORNINATE—DEHART.

A pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Marie DeHart, daughter of Mrs. M. DeHart of Princess avenue, was married to Paul Corninate, formerly of Ottawa, now of London. High mass was sung, with Monsignor McKeon officiating. The bride wore a gown of white American Beauty cloth, with a net veil caught with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Perrone acted as matron of honor and best-man, Mrs. Perrone wearing a pretty frock of pink and a large hat to match. The bride's little nieces, in pretty white frocks, acted as flower girls, carrying tiny baskets of roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served, the guests numbering over 60. The house was effectively decorated with spring flowers, which were also used on the table, and during the reception delightful music was supplied by an orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Corninate left on a honeymoon, which will be spent in Detroit, the bride traveling in a blue suit and a smart hat to match.

WAGNER—GEORGE.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred George of Arran Township on April 12, when their eldest daughter, Isabella Jennie, became the bride of Leslie Clarke Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner, Rev. W. Cook of Arkwright officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing-room to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," played by Miss Mabel Wagner, sister of the groom. The bride, who was unattended, was daintily attired in a gown of duchess satin with bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms and pearls, and carried a sheaf of carnations and sweet peas. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold necklace set with pearls, and to the pianist a pearl crescent. After the signing of the register the bride led the way to the dining-room, where dinner was served. Following a pleasant evening of music and games the happy couple left, amid showers of confetti, for Owen Sound and Thornbury, on their honeymoon, the bride traveling in a suit of navy tricotine, trimmed with seal, with a hat of visca braid to match. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Wagner will reside on the groom's farm on the 12th concession, Elderslie.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

VALLEY OF PUPPY-DOGS

[By Olive Roberts Barton.]

Nick lifted it carefully, and there six of the loveliest little brown puppies.

THE dove again flew ahead of the Twins and soon they came to the fourth one of the Seven Valleys, the Valley-of-Puppy-Dogs.

"All I can say is—come as soon as you can," said the dove. "You have a long journey ahead and Twelve Toes and his wicked relatives have put everything they can in your path to delay you."

This sounded very alarming — not that the Twins were afraid of dogs—they loved them—but what could the bird mean by his words?

Away flew the dove to wait for them on the other side of the valley.

Nancy's quick ears caught a faint crying. "It's under the basket!" she said, pointing to an old bushel measure.

Nick lifted it carefully, and there were six of the loveliest little brown puppies that any little girl or boy could wish to see.

"You darlings!" cried Nancy, cuddling them all at once. "Oh, Nick, aren't they dear! Don't you wish we could take them along?"

"Yes," answered Nick. "I wonder where the mother is and if she'd care. I'll go and look for her."

In a moment he called back: "Nancy, come here! Quick!"

Away flew Nancy only to discover that Nick had found another basket of little white fluffy poodles no bigger than mice, which came in for their turn of petting, you may be sure.

After that they discovered baskets of puppy-dogs everywhere—hundreds of them, each more interesting than the last—black dogs with short hair, white dogs with long hair, brown dogs with no hair. Bulldog puppies, airedale puppies, collie puppies and greyhound puppies; pom dogs, peke dogs, chow dogs, Boston dogs. Dogs of every kind and description.

You may imagine that a little boy and girl sent on an errand wouldn't get very far.

Eena Meena, the old magician, saw them from his star, and telephoned the news to Haloo Hallo. Haloo Hallo telephoned it to Tricky Trixo and Tricky Trixo telephoned it to Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer.

Twelve Toes was tickled most to death. "They'll never get to the Kingdom of Korsknotts," he cackled. "Those Twins will stay with those pups forever."

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

DESSERTS

THE daily question, "What shall we have for dessert?" is always the cook's hardest problem. Many details must be considered. Fruit is always proper to serve with fish or fat meats. Either fresh or stewed fruit may be used. But if a fruit dessert is chosen the salad should not be of fruit nor should a fruit cup be served at the beginning of the meal. A rich, heavy dessert should never follow a rich, heavy meal. A fruit ice or a gelatine dessert served with a delicate cake is the most satisfactory finish for a long-course dinner.

These rules are for every-day desserts that will supply the average dinner with the needed sweet.

Stewed Figs.

One pound figs, ¾ cup sugar, juice 1 lemon, 2 cups water.

Choose the whole figs for stewing. Wash well through several waters. Bring the water to the boiling point and add washed figs.

Simmer over a slow fire closely covered for half an hour. Add sugar and lemon juice and simmer uncovered for an hour. Let cool in the syrup. Serve cold with boiled custard or whipped cream.

Rhubarb and Prune Pie.

Three cups diced rhubarb, 11 prunes, 2 eggs, 1¾ cups sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons sugar.

Wash prunes and soak in cold water to cover for an hour. Put prunes, water and rhubarb in a stewpan and cook until prunes are tender. Skim prunes from mixture and remove stones. Chop prune pulp and return to rhubarb.

Add sugar, salt and the yolks of the eggs slightly beaten. Stir and cook over a slow fire till mixture thickens. Turn into a baked pie shell. Cover with the whites of the eggs beaten till stiff and dry with four tablespoons sugar and put in a hot oven for eight minutes to brown.

Dried Apricot Jelly.

One cup dried apricots, 1 cup sugar, 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 1½ cups boiling water.

Wash apricots through several waters. Let stand in cold water for four hours, changing the water every half hour. Drain and pour boiling water over fruit. Let stand five minutes and drain. Put in a stew pan with boiling water to cover and simmer till tender.

It will take about two hours. Rub through a sieve and measure. Add enough boiling water to make three cups. Add sugar. Soften gelatine in cold water. Bring apricot mixture to the boiling point and stir in gelatine. Add juice of lemon and turn into a mold to chill and become firm. Serve with whipped cream or boiled custard.

Boiled Custard for Pudding Sauce.

Two cups milk, 5 tablespoons sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 3 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons heavy cream.

Scald milk in double boiler. Mix sugar and salt with yolks of eggs. Pour scalded milk on egg mixture, stirring constantly to dissolve sugar.

Return to double boiler and cook over hot water till custard coats the spoon. Stir in the cream and cook one minute longer. Remove from hot water and put in a pan of cold water to cool quickly. When cool add vanilla.

Spring Festival Proves Inviting

The spring festival Tuesday evening in St. Andrew's Hall, given under the auspices of the B. S. C. and St. Andrew's Club, was a picturesque affair. The color scheme, lavender and yellow, was effectively carried out in the spring flowers and the lavender candles with yellow shades, which were used on the various tables, including the home-cooking and candy tables. The coffee room, where Mrs. D. C. McGregor presided at a pretty table centered with daffodils, proved a popular corner of the festival, and the young girls, wearing blue skirts and middies, with the B. S. C. colors, blue, white and gold, on their sleeves, made attractive assistants. A charming program had been arranged, with the following artists taking part: Mrs. W. H. R. Smith, Miss Kathleen Gibson and Miss Sybil Higgman. Miss Ruth Stephenson and Mr. Gordon Marr were joint conveners, responsible for the excellent arrangements, and were ably assisted by the following committees: Mrs. J. T. Parkinson, Miss Madeline Grant, Miss Mabel Thomas, Miss Wilemena Darch, Miss Marjorie Malloch and Misses McLaughlin, McDonald, McLelland and Pettypiece; Dr. Frank Giffin, and Messrs. Alex. Fate had seen fit to mold the life of

BARRY HOUSTON into tragic molds. Tried for the murder of his cousin,

TOM LANGDON, and acquitted because of favorable testimony of AGNES JIERDON, Houston's father dies without regaining faith in his son. He leaves Barry timber holdings in Tabernacle only on condition that a high output be maintained.

Mysterious accidents in the mill have prevented this and Houston, living from Boston, finds that he has been betrayed by his mill superintendent,

FRED THAYER. Houston discharges Thayer. First the mill is burned down and then Houston is deprived, by a forged lease, of the rights to his timber lands. With the aid of

BA'TISTE RENAUD, an accentric French-Canadian, whose life has been saddened by the double tragedy of his son's death in France and the unsolved murder of his wife, Houston continues the fight. During his stay in Tabernacle, Houston has been attracted by MEDAINE ROBINETTE, owner of neighboring timber lands. He tells her that Thayer's statement that he was accused of murder is true.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

A slight gasp traveled over the lips of Medaine, still by the window. Ba'tiste, his features old and lined, reached out with one big hand and patted the man on the shoulder. Then for a long time, there was silence.

"Eet is the lie, eh?"

"Ba'tiste," Houston turned appealingly to him, "as I live, that's all I know. I never saw Langdon after he took that mallet from me. Only one shred of evidence was presented in my behalf. It was by a woman who had worked for about six months for my father—Miss Jierdon. She testified to having passed in a taxicab just at the end of our quarrel, and that Langdon had the mallet."

"Miss Jierdon is the same one who is out here?"

"Yes."

"She testified in your behalf?"

"Yes. And Miss Robinette, if you'll only talk to her—if you'll only ask her about it, she'll tell you the story exactly as I've told it. She trusted me; she was the only bright spot in all the blackness. I may not be able to convince you—but she could, Miss Robinette. If you'll only—"

"Would you guarantee the truth of anything she should tell me?"

"Absolutely."

"I'm—I'm sorry." She turned again to the window. Houston went forward.

"Sorry? Why? There's nothing—"

"Miss Jierdon has told me," came in a strained voice, "that she did pass as you were struggling. That she saw the blow struck—and that it was you who struck it."

"Miss Robinette!"

"That further, you confessed to her and told her why you had killed Langdon—because he had discovered something in your own father's life that would serve as blackmail. That you loved you. And that because she loved you, she went on the stand and perjured herself to save you from a conviction of murder—when she knew in her heart that you were guilty!"

CHAPTER XI.

IT was a blow greater, far greater than one that could have been struck in mere physical contact. Houston reeled with the effect of it; he gasped, he struggled aimlessly, futilely, for words to answer it. Vaguely, dizzily, Houston started to the door, only to be pulled back in the gigantic grip of Ba'tiste Renaud.

"No! No! You shall not go! You tell Medaine that is a lie!"

"It is," Houston heard his voice as though coming from far away, "but I don't know how to answer it. Where is Miss Jierdon?"

"Miss Jierdon," Medaine Robinette answered with an effort, "went back to camp last night."

They drove on in silence.

Ten minutes later, Houston leaped from the buggy and knocked at the door of the cottage.

"I want to see Miss Jierdon," he told the cook who had opened the door.

The cook bustled back into the house, to return with a sealed envelope addressed to Houston.

"Dearest Barry:

"Hate awfully to run away like this without seeing you, but it can't be helped. Have an offer of a position in St. Louis that I can't very well refuse. Will write you from there.

"Love and kisses.

"AGNES."

Ba'tiste slapped the reins on the horse's back.

"She is like the Judas, eh?" he asked quietly, as they went back to the cottage. Ba'tiste soon went forth into the night. Later came a scratch on the door. It was Colemar, followed a moment later by a grinning, twinkling-eyed Ba'tiste.

"Bon! Good!" he exclaimed. "Now—alert, mon ami! The pencil and the paper!"

He slumped into a chair and dived into a pocket of his red shirt, to bring forth a mass of scribbled sheets, to stare at them, striving studiously to make out the writing.

"Eet is—the copy of the bid!"

"The copy? The bid?"

"From the Blackburn mill. There is no one aroun.' Ba'teese, he go through a window. M'sieu Houston, he too will bid. But he will make it lower."

"But what with, Ba'tiste? We haven't a mill to saw the stuff, in the first place. This thing we're setting now couldn't even begin to turn out the ties alone."

"Ah, oui! But the man who is drowning, he will, what-you-say, grab at a haystack."

And together they settled to the making of a bid that ran into the millions, an overture for a contract for which they had neither mill, nor timber, nor flume, nor resources to complete!

CHAPTER XII.

TIME dragged after that. Once the bid was on its way to Chicago, there was nothing to do but wait.

December came. February and then—

"Eet is come! Eet is come!" Ba'tiste, waving his arms wildly, in spite of the stuffiness of his heavy mackinaw. "Eet is come! I have open eet—I can not wait. Eet say we shall have the contract! Ah, oui! oui! oui! oui!"

"Eet say five thousand dollars cosh, and the rest in a bond!" came enthusiastically, from Ba'tiste. "Ba'teese, he have the friend in Denver who will make the bond."

"But how about the machinery; we'll need a hundred-thousand-dollar plant before we're through, Ba'tiste."

"Ah!" The old French-Canadian's jaw dropped. "Ba'teese have not think of that."

"Tomorrow morning we take the train to Denver, and from there I'll go on to Boston. I'll raise the money some way."

They went on to Denver, there to seek out the few friends Ba'tiste possessed, to argue one of them into a loan of ten thousand dollars on the land and trustworthy qualities which formed the total of Ba'tiste's resources, to gain from the other the necessary bond to cover the contract—a contract which Barry Houston knew only too well might never be fulfilled.

Came Chicago and the technicalities of ironing out the final details of the contract. Then, dealer in millions and the possessor of nothing, Houston went onward toward Boston.

He wandered the aisle of the sleeper, entered the smoking compartment and slumped into a seat in a far corner, smoking in a detached manner, often pulling on his cigar long after lengthy minutes of reflection had allowed its ashes to cool.

THE COOK BUSTLED BACK INTO THE HOUSE TO RETURN WITH A SEALED ENVELOPE ADDRESSED TO HOUSTON.

About him the usual conversation raged. With sudden interest, Houston forgot his own problems to listen.

"Speaking of gruesome things," the talker had said, "reminds me. I'm a doctor, former interne in Bellstrand Hospital in New York.

"They've a big room on the fifth floor where somebody is always dissecting. One Sunday night I happened to look in and saw a man in there, murdering another one with a wooden mallet."

"Murdering him?" The doctor laughed.

"Well, I should have said, acting out a murder. You can't very well murder a dead man. The fellow he was killing already was a corpse.

"You mean—"

"Just what I'm saying. Pretty big doctors, I learned, all from Boston. They had taken a cadaver from the refrigerator and stood it in a certain position. Then the one man had struck it on the head with the mallet with all the force he could summon. Of course, it knocked the corpse down—I'm telling you, it was gruesome, even to an interne! The last I saw of them, the doctors were working with their microscopes—evidently to see what effect the blow had produced."

"What was the idea?"

"Never found out. You see, opposite sides in a trial are always carrying out experiments and trying to keep the other fellow from knowing what's going on."

"You — you don't know who the men were?" Houston, forcing himself to be casual, had asked the question. The young doctor shook his head.

"No—except that they were from Boston. I suppose the other man was a district attorney."

"You never learned with what murder case it was connected?"

"No."

"Pardon me for asking. I—I—come from Boston and was trying to recall such a case. You don't remember what time of the year it was, or how long ago?"

"Yes, I do. It was in the summer, along about two or two and a half years ago."

Houston slumped back into his corner.

But once in his berth, the picture continued to rise before him: of a man "killing" another with a mallet. Had it been Worthington, the determined, over-zealous district attorney, who had struggled to send him to the penitentiary for life? Yet—if that had been Worthington, if those experts had found evidence against him—

Why had this damning evidence not been used against him?

Radio Radiations

BY THE RADIO EDITOR.

Amateurs are requested to make their queries as brief as possible to facilitate the publication and answering of the questions. Address your communications to the Radio Editor, The London Advertiser.

BUILD your own radio receiving station.

In response to the renewed demands of dozens of readers in Western Ontario for complete plans for building a simple radio set, I am today publishing the following article, which deals very clearly with a simple "hook up," which may be built complete at a cost of $15 to $20.

This set can receive concerts and messages from transmitting stations within the city and from high-powered broadcasting stations up to 25 miles away. At night, and when the atmosphere is clear and cool, even greater distances may be covered. The apparatus can receive wave lengths ranging from 200 to 600 meters.

Essential Parts.

Essential parts of the stations are the antenna, lightning switch, ground connections, receiving set and "phone." The received signals come into the receiving set through the antenna and ground connection. The signals are converted into an electric current in the receiving set and the sound is produced in the "phone." Either one telephone receiver or a pair is used.

The lightning switch protects the receiving set from damage by lightning. It connects the antenna directly to ground when the receiving station is not in use. When the antenna and the connection to the ground are properly made and the lightning switch is closed, the antenna acts as a lightning rod and is a protection to the building.

The principal part of the station is the receiving set. The set described here is subdivided into two parts, the tuner and the detector. In more complicated sets other elements are added.

The Antenna.

The antenna is a wire suspended between two elevated points. It should not be less than 30 feet above ground and its length should be about 75 feet. Figure 1 indicates a horizontal antenna, but it is not important that the antenna be strictly horizontal.

The "lead-in" wire from the antenna should run as directly as possible to the lightning switch. If the position of the adjoining building or trees is such that the distance between them is greater than about 85 feet, the antenna can still be held to a 75-foot distance between the insulators by increasing the length of the rope (D) to which the far end of the antenna is attached.

The rope (H) tying the antenna insulator to the house should not be lengthened to overcome this difficulty, because by so doing the antenna "lead-in" (J) would be lengthened.

Details of Parts.

The parts will be mentioned here by reference to the letters appearing in Figures 1 and 2.

A and I are screw eyes sufficiently strong to anchor the antenna at the ends.

B and H are pieces of 1-4 or 3-8 inch rope, long enough to allow the antenna to swing clear of the two supports.

D is a piece of 1-4 or 3-8 inch rope sufficiently long to make the distance between E and G about 75 feet.

C is a single-block pulley. The pulley should not allow the rope to catch.

E and G are insulators which may be constructed of any dry hard wood of sufficient strength to withstand the strain of the antenna. Blocks about 3-4 by 1 by 10 inches will serve. The holes should be drilled sufficiently far from the ends to give proper strength.

If wood is used the insulators should be boiled in paraffin. Precautions in melting the paraffin are given under "accessories."

Porcelain wiring cleats may be substituted for the wood insulators.

Outside Connections.

F is the antenna about 75 feet long between the insulators E and G. The wire may be No. 14 or 16 copper wire, either bare or insulated. The end of the antenna farther from the receiving set may be secured to the insulator (E) by any satisfactory method, but care should be taken not to kink the wire. Draw the other end of the antenna wire through the insulator (G) to a point where the two insulators are separated by about 75 feet and twist the insulator (G) so as to form an anchor. The remainder of the antenna wire (J), which now constitutes the "lead-in" should be long enough to reach the lightning switch.

K is the lightning switch. For the purpose of a small antenna this switch may be the ordinary porcelain-base, 30-ampere, single-pole double-throw battery switch. The "lead-in" wire (J) is attached to this switch at the middle point. The switch blade should be thrown to the lower clip when the receiving set is not being used, and to the upper clip when it is desired to receive signals.

L is the ground wire for the lightning switch. The ground wire may be of the same size as used in the antenna, and should be of sufficient length to reach from the lower clip of the lightning switch (K) to the clamp on the ground rod (M).

M is a piece of iron pipe or rod driven 3 to 6 feet into the ground, preferably where the ground is moist, and extending a sufficient distance above the ground so that the ground clamp may be fastened to it. Care should be taken to see that the pipe is clean and bright where the ground clamp is connected.

N is a wire leading from the upper clip of the lightning switch through the porcelain tube (O) to the receiving set binding post marked "antenna."

O is a porcelain tube of sufficient length to reach through the window casing or wall. This tube should be mounted in the casing or wall so that it slopes down toward the outside of the building. This is done to keep the rain from following the tube through the wall to the interior.

Inside Set.

P is the receiving set which is described in detail below.

N is the wire leading from the "antenna" binding post of the receiving set through the porcelain tube to the upper clip of the lightning switch. This wire, as well as the wire shown at Q, should be insulated and flexible. Unbraided lamp cord will serve for these two leads.

Q is a flexible wire leading from the receiving set binding post marked "ground" to a water pipe, heating system or some other metallic conductor to the ground. If there are no water pipes or radiators in the room in which the receiving set is located, the wire should be run out of doors and connected to a special "ground" below the window. The ground for the lightning switch should not be used for this purpose.

It is essential that for the best operation of the receiving set this ground be of the very best type. If the soil near the house is dry, it will be necessary to drive one or more pipes or rods sufficiently deep to encounter moist earth. The distance between the pipes will ordinarily not exceed 6 feet. Where clay soil is encountered the distance may be 3 feet; in sandy soil it may be 10 feet. Some other metallic conductor, such as the casing of a drilled well, not far from the window, will be a satisfacory "ground."

Tuning Coil.

This is a length of cardboard tubing with copper wire wound around it. The cardboard tubing may be an oatmeal box. Its construction will be described in detail. A cylinder of wood or other non-metallic substance may also be used.

Crystal Detector.

The crystal detector (see Figure 3) may be of very simple construction. The crystal as it is ordinarily purchased, may be unmounted or mounted in a small block of metal. It is important that a good tested crystal be used. A galena crystal will be satisfactory. Through binding post (4) is a nail with a wood knob or cork on its point and a 2½-inch piece of No. 24 bare wire attached below the head and bent so as to rest on the crystal.

The crystal detector is made up of a tested crystal, three wood screws, a short piece of copper wire, a nail, a set screw type binding post, and a wood knob or cork. The crystal is held in position on the wood base by three brass wood screws as shown in Figure 3. A bare copper wire is wrapped tightly around the three brass screws for connection. The assembling of the rest of the crystal detector is shown in Figure 3.

Telephone Receivers.

It is desirable to use a pair of telephone receivers connected by a head band, usually called a double telephone headset. The telephone receivers may be any of the standard commercial makes having a resistance of between 2,000 and 3,000 ohms.

The double telephone receivers may cost more than all the other parts of the station combined, but it is desirable to get them, especially if it is planned to improve the receiving set later. A single 1,000-ohm telephone receiver with a head band may be used but with less satisfactory results.

Accessories.

Under the heading of accessory equipment may be listed binding posts, switch arms, switch contacts, test-buzzer, dry battery, and boards on which to mount the complete apparatus.

The binding posts, switch arms and switch contacts may be purchased from dealers who handle such goods or they may be readily improvised at home. The pieces of wood on which the equipment is mounted may be obtained from a dry packing-box, and covered with paraffin to keep out moisture.

Care should be taken in melting the paraffin not to get it too hot. For this reason it is a good plan to melt it in a pan set in boiling water. When the paraffin just begins to smoke it is at the proper temperature.

When the wood parts have been drilled and cut to size, the paraffin should be applied quickly with a small brush. When cold, the excess paraffin must be carefully scraped off, with a straight piece of metal such as the brass strip in the edge of a ruler.

Construction.

Following is a description of the method of winding the tuning coil and the construction of the wood panels:

TUNING COIL—(See Figure 3)—The cardboard tubing is 4 inches in diameter by 4½ inches long. One end of the tube should have the cardboard cover glued securely to it. About 2 ounces of No. 24 (or No. 26) double cotton-covered copper wire is used for winding the coil.

Punch two holes in the tube about half an inch from one end. Weave the wire through these holes in such a way that the end of the wire will be firmly anchored, leaving about 12 inches of the wire free for connecting.

Start with the remainder of the wire to wind the turns in a single layer about the tube, tightly and closely together. After ten complete turns have been wound on the tube hold these turns tight and take off a tap. This tap is made by twisting a 6-inch loop of the wire together at such a place that it will be slightly staggered from the first connection. This method of taking off taps is shown clearly in figure 3.

Proceed in this manner until seven twisted taps have been taken off—one at every ten turns. After these first seventy turns have been wound on the tube, take off a 6-inch twisted tap for every succeeding single turn until ten additional turns have been wound on the tube. After winding the last turn of wire, anchor the end by weaving it through two holes punched in the tube as at the start, leaving about 12 inches of wire free for connecting.

It is to be understood that each of the 18 taps is slightly staggered from one just above, so that the taps will not be bunched along one line on the cardboard tube.

It might be advisable, after winding the tuning coil, to dip the tuner in hot paraffin. This will help to exclude moisture. It is important to have the paraffin heated until it just begins to smoke, as previously explained, so that when the tuner is removed it will have only a very thin coat of paraffin.

Panel and Base.

Having completed the tuning coil, set it aside and construct the upright panel shown in figure 4. This panel may be a piece of wood approximately ½ inch thick, 4½ inches wide and 7½ inches long.

The position of the several holes for the binding posts, switch arms and switch contacts may first be laid out and drilled. The antenna and ground binding posts may be ordinary 8-32 brass bolts about 1½ inches long with three nuts and two washers. The first nut binds the bolt to the panel, the second nut holds one of the short pieces of stiff wire, while the third nut holds the antenna or ground wire as the case may be. The switch arm with knob shown in figure 3 may be purchased in the assembled form or it may be constructed from a ⅜ inch slice cut from a broom handle and a bolt of sufficient length equipped with four nuts and two washers, and a strip of thin brass somewhat as shown.

The end of the switch arm should be wide enough so that it will not drop between the contact point but not so wide that it cannot be set to touch only a single contact.

The switch contacts may be of the regular type furnished for this purpose or they may be 6-32 brass bolts with one nut and one washer each. They may even be brass nails driven through the panel with the individual tap fastened under the head or soldered to the projection of the nail through the panel.

The base is of wood approximately ¾ inch thick, 5½ inches wide and 10½ inches long.

Wiring.

After the several parts mentioned have been constructed and (with the exception of the tuning coil) mounted on the wood base, the wires may be connected to the switch arms and binding posts and the taps may be connected to the switch contacts.

A wire is connected to the back of the left-hand switch-arm bolt, twisted into a spiral of one or two turns, like a clock-spring, and then led to the back of the binding post marked "ground." Connection is made to the binding post by removing the insulation from the wire and clamping between the nut and washer.

The same wire is now passed through a small hole and run underneath the base to the left-hand binding post marked "phone." A wire is then run from underneath the right-hand binding post marked "phone" to underneath the binding post which is part of the crystal detector. The copper wire, which was wrapped tightly about the three brass wood screws that hold the crystal in place, is led underneath the base, up through a small hole, and is then connected to the back of the binding post marked "antenna." Another wire is connected to the back of the right-hand switch arm bolt, twisted into a spiral of one or two turns like a clock-spring and then connected to the back of the antenna binding post.

Wrap one end of a piece of No. 24 bare copper wire tightly around a nail, near the head, insert the nail in the crystal detector binding post, and adjust the wire until it rests on the crystal as shown. The detector is completed by pushing a cork or wood knob on the pointed end of the nail.

The taps leading from the tuner should now be connected to the switch contacts. Scrape the cotton insulation from the loop ends of the sixteen twisted taps as well as from the ends of the two single wire taps coming from the first and last turns. Fasten the bare ends of these wires to the proper switch contacts as shown by the corresponding numbers in figure 3.

Be careful not to cut or break any of the looped taps. The connecting wires may be fastened to the switch contacts by binding them between the washer and the nut. After all the wires from the tuner have been connected, the tuner should be fastened to the base by two or three small screws passing through the cardboard end. The screws should be provided with washers.

Operation.

After all the parts of this crystal-detector radio receiving set have been constructed and assembled the first essential operation is to adjust the fine wire which rests on the crystal to a sensitive point. This may be accomplished in several ways; one method is to use a buzzer transmitter.

Assuming that the most sensitive point on the crystal has been found by the method described in the paragraph "The Test Buzzer," the rest of the operation is to adjust the radio receiving set to resonance or in tune with the station from which the messages are sent.

The tuning of the receiving set is accomplished by adjusting the inductance of the tuner. That is, one or both of the switch arms are rotated until the proper number of turns of wire of the tuner are made a part of the metallic circuit between the antenna and ground, so that together with the capacity of the antenna the receiving circuit is in resonance with the particular transmitting station.

It will be remembered that there are ten turns of wire between adjacent contacts of the 8-point switch and only one turn of wire between adjacent contacts of the 10-point switch. The tuning of the receiving set is best accomplished by setting the right-hand switch arm on contact (1) and rotating the left-hand switch arm over its contacts. If the desired signals are not heard, move the right-hand switch arm to contact (2) and again rotate the left-hand switch arm throughout its range. Proceed in this manner until the desired signals are heard.

It will be advantageous to know the wave lengths used by the radio transmitting stations in the immediate vicinity. A greater wave length requires more turns of the coil.

The Test Buzzer.

The more sensitive spots on the crystal can be found by using a test buzzer. The test buzzer is used as a miniature local transmitting set. This is shown in Figure 3. The buzzer dry battery, and switch may be mounted on the table or a separate board. The binding post marked "ground" may be one terminal of the dry cell connected to the binding post marked "ground" on the receiving set.

The current produced by the buzzer will be converted into sound by the telephone receivers and the crystal, the loudness of the sound depending on what part of the crystal is in contact with the fine wire.

To find the most sensitive spot, connect the test buzzer to the receiving set, close the switch and if necessary adjust the buzzer so that a clear note is emitted. Set the right switch arm on contact point No. 8 and connect the telephone receivers to the binding posts.

Loosen the set screw of the crystal detector binding post slightly and change the position of the fine wire to several positions of contact with the crystal until the loudest sound is heard in the phone. Then slightly tighten the binding post set screw.

The following list shows the parts used in constructing this receiving station. The total cost will depend largely on the kind of apparatus purchased and number of parts made at home.

THE BEANPOLE FIGURE

HOW is your silhouette this season?

Of course, you understand that you may wear a loose one-piece frock by day and look as shapeless as a potato sack. But the ltaest word from Paris is that the long, straight and very slim silhouette is the invariable rule for evening, and you might as well make your figure understand this at once.

The interesting thing noted during the past fortnight is that in every collection from Paris there are a few draped gowns, forerunners of what may be a strong revival of draped effects.

One of the nicest things about the draped gown is that, if the drapery is skillfully handled, even a stoutish figure is made slimmer looking by it. And a slim figure is ravishing beyond words!

Thus far the drapery noted is mainly caught up at one side of the low waist line, and at this point the only ornamentation of the entire costume may be placed—a jewelled or beaded ornament, a lovely flower, or even a little bunch of fruits.

So utterly simple are the newest evening gowns that they depend for their effect upon the beauty of their materials and the smartness of the accessories worn with them.

The crepes are perhaps most popular just now, though satin is always liked. Moire—a lovely new moire, supple, soft and as light as a thin silk—is also creeping to the front this spring, and may be worn more and more, even into the summer, though chiffon always has its best season then.

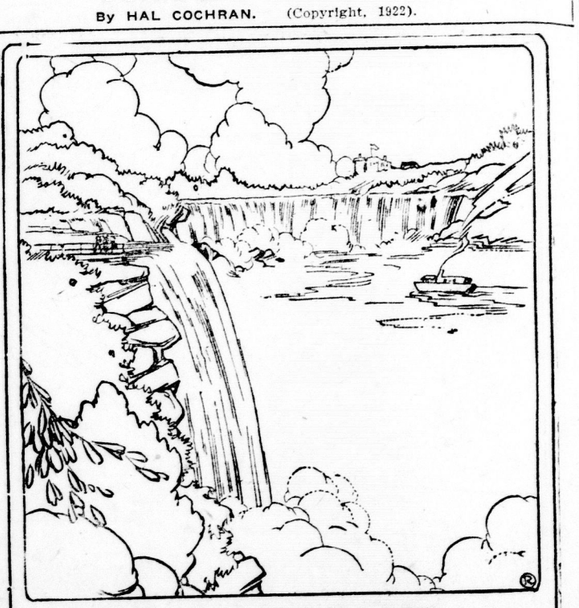

For warm weather nothing could be daintier than the new organdy fans, delicately painted in pale colors and mounted, usually, on sticks of imitation ivory. These are particularly summery looking and quite inexpensive.

DECIDE ON MAY 20 FOR THIRD SCHOLASTIC MEET

W. O. S. S. A. Executive Preparing Details of Event Which Will Bring Year's Program To Close.

The success of the Western Ontario Secondary Schools' Association this year has been beyond the most sanguine hopes of the executive committee. This has been due to the splendid co-operation of the thirty schools who are now members of the association, and to the assistance which the committee has received from the various school boards, the newspapers, clubs and other organizations, and private individuals. The enthusiasm shown by the schools in all the competitions is ample evidence of the value of such an organization in the promotion of inter-school activities. The chief function of the Western Ontario Secondary Schools' Association is the development of a clean, healthy sportsmanship among the pupils of the secondary schools of Western Ontario, and the stimulation of all literary and athletic endeavors now being carried on in these schools.

Those who have followed closely the activities of the association during the past winter can have no doubt as to the efficiency with which these aims were carried out. The boys' and girls' oratorical contests were of extremely high order, and the competition was very keen. The hockey series, demanded by the schools about the middle of January, was carried to a successful conclusion. The girls' basketball tournament was an inovation in girls' athletics, and created an unusual amount of interest. The boys' basketball tournament surpassed that of last year in the closeness of the games, and showed clearly what careful training and handling may accomplish in any team.

Ends Year.

The activities of the Western Ontario Secondary Schools' Association will be concluded for the year by the third annual track meet at Queen's Park, London, on May 20, 1922. The executive committee are sparing no efforts to make this the most successful meet ever held in London. Those who were present last year will realize that the executive have a very high standard to surpass, but they believe that they can do this if they receive the support of the citizens of London. This meet is probably one of the most efficient means of advertising the City of London among the cities, towns and villages of Western Ontario, and as such, should be "boosted" by every man, women and child in London.

The board of governors of Western University have promised their assistance in this work, and the Western University Athletic Association will give their usual hearty co-operation. Without the support of these two bodies it would be impossible to carry out the extensive program that has been undertaken. Last year there was considerable valuable assistance given by private individuals, who donated the individual championship shields, and the gold medals which were presented for breaking the records of the previous year. There will be two shields and at least five gold medals required this year. The committee would appreciate similar co-operation from those who are interested this year.

New Classification.

This year there will be junior and senior championship events, and the old classification of lower and upper schools will be eliminated. This change will give the small boy and the small school a better chance in the events. In previous years there were two senior championships. This year we hope to have the juniors receive some recognition. It has been decided to use weight as a basis of classification. A junior must not weigh over 125 pounds. Scales will be provided and all juniors will be weighed before the meet commences. It has been accepted that no student who has reached his twentieth birthday on or before May 20 shall be allowed to compete. A junior may be entered in the senior events, but in such case he is not eligible to compete in any junior event; that is no student who ranks as a junior on the basis of weight may be entered in both junior and senior events, but he may be entered as a senior.

Already several schools have commenced training, and many inquiries have been made. Circulars and entry blanks are being prepared and will be ready for distribution next week. These will be forwarded to the various schools in Western Ontario. Schools who are not members of the association may compete in this meet upon the payment of the membership fee on or before May 15, when the entries close. Schools becoming members of the association on or before this date will be allowed to compete in all activities of the association during 1922-23. Professor N. C. Hart, Western University, is looking after the details of the meet and will be pleased to receive offers of assistance and suggestions.

BILL REGAN REPORTS TO BEAVER TRAINING SQUAD

Irwin Lets Five Rookies Take Air, Including Kane of Last Year.

KITCHENER, April 25.—Five more men have been released by Manager Tex Irwin of the Kitchener Ball Club, which cuts the personnel of the team down to 22. The latest to be handed their tickets are Barry, the outfielder, who played here last year for a while under the name of Kane; McCarthy, a first baseman; M. K. Regan, a catcher; Mamnix, an outfielder, and Ott, an infielder.

Bill Regan, the Beaver shortstop, arrived in town this morning. He would have been here two weeks ago, but he did not get his notice to report until yesterday, and then he hustled right along. He is in pretty fair shape, having been working out quite a bit in Pittsburg.

WHEN YOU SCORE A BALL GAME

REMEMBER—

IF the catcher drops a third strike and his failure to hold the ball enables the batsman to reach first base, the catcher shall be charged with an error. The pitcher is credited with a strike-out despite the failure to retire the batsman.

TECS READY TO TRECK FOR NORTH

Only Two More Days to Spend in Ohio Training Camp.

DONNELLY GOES BACK

DELAWARE, Ohio, April 25.—Continued rain throughout the day kept the Tecumsehs in the shelter today, but they all had a workout when Buzz took them to the padded track for some relay races. The pitchers and Catcher Mackey worked out in the cages this morning and again this afternoon.

First Baseman Cross went home today, still suffering with a strained tendon in his leg. If he is able to get about on Saturday morning he will join the club at Lima and proceed north with the outfit. He is the choice first sacker of Wetzel, and the old man is hoping nothing serious results from the injury.

First Baseman Donnelly went back home today in New York. He believes he can make money at the semi-pro game, and he chose to take his chances in that field. This leaves Boyle here on the initial sack, but Wetzel is banking on Cross to return.

A number of the gang went home to say farewell to the fireside folks before entraining for Canada. They will all join at Lima.

When the tribe makes its appearance in the home field, the London fans will see practically an entire new club. With the exception of Carmen, Vandyke and Malmquest, the outfit is composed of new faces, three of these all rookies but with a world of stuff. The eighteen-year-old kid, Marquardt, from Toledo high school will cavort around short while the youthful Brown will be stationed at third, and Rookie Cross will hold down the first sack.

A seven-round game with the university team Wednesday and a general workout Thursday evening will complete the training of the club, and on Friday morning they will pack their duds and hop off for Lima and thence to Kitchener.

The pitchers worked their soreness off today, and Buzz was feeling good tonight as he came from the lockers. He is anxious to pry the lid off the schedule and get his youngsters under way in the pennant race.

LITTLE DRIBBLES

The schedule for the St. Thomas City Soccer League was announced last night at a meeting which was attended by practically all the London clubs. The schedule practically means alternate dates with the local league, and will mean from five to eight games each week.

* * *

Every local team is in except Army and Navy and St. Georges, the latter a new club in London.

* * *

There is a possibility of St. John's Rovers appearing here with 1st W.O.R. at Tecumseh Park on Saturday. Definite announcement will be made Wednesday night.

* * *

St. Andrews meet Grank Trunks Thursday night at the Heights. This is St. Andrews' home game scheduled for Saturday, but changed by mutual consent.

* * *

The Scots will have to try out some more new material, owing to the injuries to regulars, and claim the new talent won't disappoint the fans.

* * *

The team will be chosen from among the following players: Adamson, Wilson, Knight, Russell, Croal, Whitelaw, Peebles, MacIntosh, MacFarlane, Morgan, Owen, H. Johnston, Bill Lewis, Lance.

* * *

DEPLORE CUT IN BISLEY TEAM

LONDON, April 25.—The decision to reduce the number of competitors in the Canadian rifle team for the Bisley competition this year has been received among riflemen here with considerable disappointment, although many of them will sympathetically understand some of the reasons which led to this step being taken. This year will be the jubilee of Canada's participation in the national rifle meeting. Canada is the only dominion which has consistently entered a team annually for the Bisley competitions, the distance from Australia and South Africa to England, of course, making it practically out of the question for either of these to participate.

TILLSONBURG NET CLUB ORGANIZES

TILLSONBURG, April 24.—The annual meeting of the Tillsonburg Lawn Tennis Club was held in the council chambers today, and was largely attended. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one, and with a large number of new players in town since last season, the club is assured of a successful season. Work will start at once on the courts, and an opening day will be held early in May.

Following the regular business, the following officers were elected for the season: President, W. S. McDonald; secretary, Victor P. Tillson; treasurer, G. Conna; grounds committee, A. E. Raynes, C. E. Parlow, L. Blackwood, C. V. Thomson.

ST. MARYS CHAMPS PLAY INGERSOLL

INGERSOLL, April 25. — In connection with the sports program for the Victoria Day celebration, announcement was made today that the St. Marys lacrosse team, last season's intermediate champions of the O. A. L. A., will play an exhibition game here. This should prove to be a strong attraction. Ingersoll material will be developed as rapidly as possible, and although inexperienced for the most part, the boys will doubtless make a creditable showing.

REVIVE CRICKET IN WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, April 25.—The Oxford Cricket Club has been reorganized after many years of inactivity, and cricket will this summer figure on the list of Woodstock's outdoor sports. Splendid financial support has been secured, and a complete outfit of equipment has been ordered. The first practice of the season will be held on Saturday of this week, and the first game has been arranged for May 24 between teams selected by the president and vice-president.

LALONGE LAYS AXE ON SHELF

Brants' Pilot Going to Carry Present Squad Into May.

BRANTFORD, April 25.—The Brants continued their limbering up this morning with a two-hour practice. The majority of the pitching staff were sent to the mound, and served them up without restraint. Dickinson, King, Miller and Willis took turns on the slab, and they all showed up nicely, Dickinson especially. Those who are expected to be regulars when the teams start away on May 2 did the batting and schooled themselves in signals. Guy Zinn, Anderson, MacGuire and Jack Smith were hitting them far and wide, and gave the rookie pitchers a merry chase in the rolling outfield of the upper diamond. This afternoon Mickey took his squad onto the regular field to let them get accustomed to it before the season opens.

The regulars played a ten-inning game with the "yanigans," the regulars winning 6 to 0. Manager Mickey announced that it was hardly likely that he would prune his staff any further until early in the playing season. There will be no more cuts, as Mickey plans to hold his staff just as it is at present. Of course, if the occasion arises for any exceptional reason the axe may fall, but it isn't likely until the middle of next month at any rate.

FIGHTER DIES FROM KNOCKOUT BLOW

NEW YORK, April 25.—Lew Brody, a lightweight pugilist, died in a Brooklyn hospital early today, following a knockout at the hands of Frankie Pitcher, a local boy, whom he met last night. Physicians declared the cause of Brody's death was cerebral hemorrhage. Officials of the district attorney's office today began an investigation of the case. Reports from the ringside stated Brodie was floored twice in the ninth round. He gamely struggled to his feet after going down the second time, and Pitcher landed heavily on his face and jaw. Brody again fell, and Referee McGovern awarded Pitcher the decision. Brody was carried to his corner unconscious, and the usual methods of restoration were used. His attendants became alarmed when he did not revive, and a physician was called, and after an examination had Brody removed to a hospital. Four hours later he died.

WITH AMATEUR NINES

Last night the players' certificates were distributed to the teams of the Inter-Club League by President Martin, so the old ink will fly in amateur ball circles the next few days.

* * *

The live wire executive of the league is planning something in the way of a novelty for their opening day.

* * *

One enthusiastic fan who watched some of the playgrounds teams in action last summer says that some of the inter-club and Manufacturers League managers ought to seek this field for some talent, especially in the former's initial year in the O. B. A.

* * *

It sounds like good horse sense. If London doesn't get a title the first year out, there won't be many disappointed, because it's a big order, and much bigger than local amateur fans realize. Therefore this is the season the pilots in the inter-club ought to be getting out, even if they keep them warming the benches all season while they develop them.

* * *

It is whispered that that astute manager, Ted Braund, has been tipped off to this source of material and has a couple of youngsters who performed well last year in the playgrounds league under his wing.

* * *

Hermits are coming out in the open spaces with a vengeance this week. Three workouts are announced.

Wednesday night the squad will work out on the small diamond at Queen's Park, Friday evening they do another at Springbank Park, and on Saturday night they'll get the aches out at the Thames Park diamond.

* * *

If any of the dopesters wants to get a line on the Hermits they'd better rubber-sole it around to the workout locations.

* * *

The North Wellingtons are just about two weeks too late in their expressed wishes to take in London on their circuit. Direct affiliation with the parent body will, however, work out to the better interests of the local league than connection with the North Wellingtons would have.

WILLIAMS HITS 6TH HOME IN FOUR DAYS

Beats Ruth's Record for This Time Last Year, and Browns Win.

ST. LOUIS, April 25. — Hitting his sixth home-run in four days, Kenneth Williams today surpassed "Babe" Ruth's record at this time last season, and with three hits out of three times at the plate, enabled St. Louis to defeat Detroit 5 to 3.

St. Louis	300 100 10x	—5	9 0

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Washington knocked two Boston pitchers out of the box today and won 10 to 0. The Red Sox were held to four scattered hits by Phillips, a recruit from New Orleans.

The score—			R.H.E.
Boston	000 000 000	—0	4 4
Washington	413 100 10x	—10	10 0

PARIS FORMS NEW ATHLETIC BODY

PARIS, April 25.—At a well-attended meeting of the citizens, at which business, professional and sportsmen were present, it was decided to form the Paris Amateur Athletic Association. While as yet its scope will be limited, next year it will be able to develop all branches of sport.

Owing to the kindness of the Ontario Gypsum Company, a new arena is available for skating and hockey purposes. There are prospects of a good intermediate team as well as two junior teams, one in the O. H. A., and the other in the N. H. L. A meeting will be held on May 12 for the election of officers.

GIANTS FIND PHILLIES EASY

Shinners, Rookie, Struck by Pitched Ball, Had to Retire.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25. — New York easily defeated Philadelphia today 9 to 3. George Smith relieved Meadows in the third inning, and the first ball he pitched struck Shinners, the Indianapolis recruit fielder, on the head. The blow so affected the youngster that he was forced later to retire from the game.

The score—			R.H.
Philadelphia	200 001 000	—3	7 2

Shead, Jennard and Snyder; Meadows, G. Smith and Henline.

RUETHER IS GOOD.

BOSTON, April 25. — Ruether's pitching and hitting were largely responsible for Brooklyn's victory over Boston 5 to 2 today. He made a single in the second, when his team scored three runs off the veteran Rudolph, and knocked the ball into the right field bleachers on the fly for a home-run in the fourth.

The score—			R.H.E.
Brooklyn	030 100 100	—5	11 2
Boston	002 000 000	—2	9 1

Ruether and Miller; Rudolph, Watson, Oeschger and Gowdy.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

Here's Your Decision

IF with first base occupied and less than two men out, the third strike be called by the umpire, the batsman is automatically out whether the catcher completes the play or not.

KITCHENER MAY LOSE NET MINDER

KITCHENER, April 25. — Kitchener hockey is in danger of losing one of its best players, and one whom Kitchener fans believe is destined to be a star for the next few years, in the person of Fernie Zuber. Zuber, the crack goaltender of the intermediate champs, is at present out of work, and has been offered a position in Stratford.

He stated that the groupings will be made Wednesday night and published Thursday.

C-H-A-T-T-E-R

NEW YORK, April 25.—Kenneth Williams, left fielder of the St. Louis Browns, carved himself a niche in Babe Ruth's hitherto exclusive hall of fame yesterday when he clouted out his fifth home run in three days, and tied the record made by the Babe last year. Williams hit three homers Saturday and one each Sunday and yesterday.

This wallop with another homer by Jacobson, aided the Browns in downing Detroit and maintaining a tie with Cleveland for second place.

Wally Pipp also was in a home-run mood, his sock in the 11th with one on base giving the Yankee a decision over the athletics, and their sixth straight victory. One big inning, in which Shinner's timely hit brought home the winning tallies, enabled the Giants to nose out the Phillies 3 to 2, while Cincinnati, although outhitting St. Louis, fielded poorly and dropped its seventh straight. Vic Aldridge tamed the fast-going Pittsburg Pirates, and drove in the Cubs' winning runs with a triple. The Boston Braves gave Brooklyn another set back in a free-hitting contest 8-7.

39 SOFTBALL TEAMS ENTERED

KITCHENER, April 25.—Thirty-nine teams are now entered in the newly-formed Twin City Softball Federation, comprising the old clubs and the industrial sections of last year. The Daily Record of Kitchener will present the league with a cup, which will be similar to the cup donated by the Record to the City Hockey League.

SUSPECTS FIRE WAS OF INCENDIARY ORIGIN

Deputy Marshal Investigates Blaze Near St. Thomas.

Special to London Advertiser.

ST. THOMAS, April 25.—Incendiarism is suspected to be the cause of the fire early this month on the Kelly or Doyle homestead just east of the city, and Deputy Fire Marshal R. J. Marsh of Toronto conducted an inquiry Tuesday afternoon at the court house here.

The barn was completely burned, and the horses and machinery belonging to Percy Walling, a locomotive fireman, were destroyed. Mr. Walling has only had possession a short time and carried no insurance on his property. His loss is estimated at $1,000. The barn was not heavily insured, according to reports.

No clue to the origin of the fire was discovered, but it is alleged that remarks of a threatening nature had been made by a man whose identity has not been revealed.

The inquiry on Tuesday afternoon was private, and Mr. Marsh has not made his findings public as yet.

LIVER TROUBLE

BAD BILIOUS ATTACKS

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach foul and sick, and bilious spells occur on account of the liver holding back the bile which is so essential to promote the movements of the bowels, and the bile gets into the blood, instead of passing out through the usual channel.

The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the nasty bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the griping, weakening and sickening effects of the old-fashioned purgatives.

Mr. John S. Caron, Donavon, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with my liver and had severe bilious attacks. A friend advised me to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, so I took two vials and I have had no more attacks."

PASSERBY SAVES CHILD

Enters Burning House and Suffers Cuts From Falling Glass in Making Rescue.

WINDSOR, April 25.—Started by a mysterious explosion in a garage on Arthur street, near Glengarry avenue at 1:03 o'clock this morning, the fire which resulted spread in less than one minute to a residence at 414 Arthur street, forcing four adults to flee to the street in scanty attire.

A daring rescue of the remaining occupant, 7-year-old Vincent Henderson, was made by Mitchell Starchuk, 119 Albert street. He entered the house when he heard that a child was still inside, and brought the boy out safely, although the rescuer was cut by falling glass and slightly burned when his clothing took fire.

Total damage will not exceed $6,000, Chief Defields stated this morning.

Pedestrians who were in the vicinity at the time of the outbreak claim that the explosion preceded the fire at the garage. They saw debris thrown high into the air. The detonation shook the neighborhood and wakened many residents from their sleep. In less than a minute flames were shooting in the air from the garage.

They leaped across a 20-foot alley and fired the home of George McKee, 414 Arthur street. This house, a frame structure, also burned rapidly, but was not completely destroyed.

The garage, conducted by E. Richardson, housed four automobiles.

MOVE TO SLASH MILLION FROM ARMY EXPENSES

Liberal Members Oppose Spending of $1,400,000 For Annual Drill.

VOTE IS POSTPONED

Minister of Militia Insists Training is Imperative.

OTTAWA, April 25.—(By Canadian Press).—A motion to reduce a government vote, presented by a Liberal and seconded by a Liberal, came as a climax to an exciting day in the House of Commons. Interest aroused by the keen battling of Monday had brought the public in crowds.

The clash came on the militia estimates. From the outset there were criticisms that while Liberals had moved to reduce the militia estimates last year, this year a Liberal government was asking for almost the same sums.

L. H. Martell, a Liberal of Hants, N. S., complained that the militia was a gold-lace show. Roch Lanctot of LaPrairie-Napierville, also a Liberal, thought the money could be spent in better ways.

Miss Agnes MacPhail exclaimed that the people were sick of war talk and voting money for war expenditure.

The vote at issue was one for $1,400,000 for annual militia drill. G. G. Power (Liberal, Quebec South) seconded by Roch Lanctot, moved that it be reduced by $1,100,000, bringing it down to $300,000.

Mr. Power took as his grounds:

1. That the country had no money, if statements made in the house were correct.

2. That such training as was proposed would be useless.

3. That there was no necessity for it.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who was minister of militia in the late Conservative government, held that the militia estimates could not further be reduced if Canada was to maintain a militia force.

Vote Is Deferred.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of militia in the present administration, heatedly declared that the Power amendment would revert Canada to the status of 150 years ago. He cited an opinion from the chief of the general staff to show that it would be disastrous to drop militia training for a year. He challenged members to name a single country which did not maintain a militia.

"If the amendment is adopted," he added, "it is equivalent to saying to the young men: 'We don't want you.'"

It would mean smothering their ambitions, harming their manhood, and denying them physical training.

The house did not come to a vote on the amendment.

It was still under consideration when progress from committee of supply was reported, and will further be discussed at a later date.

Upon the first item of $120,000 for active militia, the minister, Hon. George P. Graham, made a brief statement of the position of the department. The estimates, he said, had been pared down as far as was practicable. As a matter of historical policy Canada had assumed responsibility for her own defence, and in 1904 the last British garrison, that at Halifax, had been removed. This responsibility assumed by the Dominion implied a corresponding duty in the maintenance of a military force. Even if there were no external dangers it was necessary to have a force to maintain internal order. For this the Government depended largely on the permanent force, which was now about 4,000 strong.

Efficiency Not Affected.

Colonel Arthurs (Conservative, Parry Sound) asked why the largest reduction in the estimates, $755,000, had been made in the vote for the permanent force.

Mr. Graham replied that the reduction in the estimates would not seriously affect, he was assured by the officers in charge, the efficiency of the permanent force. Canada could not afford to let it go abroad throughout the world that her militia was ineffective, her mounted police reduced, her navy of little account and her air force not what it ought to be. If this occurred, Canada would become a Mecca for thugs and undesirables.

"If we accept the status of a sound nation we must accept the responsibilities," the war minister declared.

Mr. Martel (Hants) asked if Mr. Graham meant that he was increasing the militia when the people were seeking peace. The minister replied that the militia estimates were less than in 1913, and on a comparative basis less than in 1911 and 1912.

J. T. Shaw (Progressive, Calgary West) said that the reduction was not sufficient in view of the fact that the estimates for other government departments and covering basic industries were lower.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie declared that if Canada was going to maintain a militia force the estimates could not be further reduced. Those who criticized should study the militia estimates of other countries. They would find that Canada was a long way below any civilized or uncivilized country in the world. "So far below, in fact, that one is almost afraid to make a comparison," Mr. Guthrie added. The figures to which Mr. Guthrie referred were prepared at the instance of the League of Nations, and were accurate.

Mr. Martel contended that other public services were being starved and agricultural exhibitions could not get any assistance, while the country was to spend over ten millions on the militia, which was nothing but a gold-lace show. The minister was taking too much advice from his officials instead of from the house. While there was so much unemployment and children were crying for bread and shoes the country should not think of such expenditures as this.

R. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sunbury) suggested that if Mr. Martel were sincere in what he had said, he should remove to reduce the vote.

Questions Need of Army.

"I will vote for it if you will move it," called out Mr. Martel, upon which there were exclamations of "What courage!" and laughter. A brief discussion followed on the advisability of having a general debate on the militia estimates as a whole, and it was decided to allow it by general consent.

J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg Centre) then raised the question of the principle underlying the whole subject, and questioned whether the maintenance of a militia force was necessary to constitute Canada as a nation. The way to arrive at international disarmament, in his view, was by national disarmament. Canada had had a hundred years of peace on the Great Lakes, and the same principle should apply to armed forces on land. There was a widespread idea in the country that as the great war was fought to end war, the country should now get back to a real peace basis.

It was said that we must maintain a force to protect ourselves against internal unrest. There was in Canada no subordinate race and no classes were dangerous. A great many of our forefathers had come to Canada to escape military service.

W. C. Good (Progressive, Brant) called attention to the fact that a dollar went a good deal further this year than last. In the light of that fact he thought that possibly comparisons between the estimates for the two years would not be as attractive as they might seem. Canada was spending too much money on this particular kind of activity. The militia headquarters ran rather too much to gold braid, fuss and feathers, rather than to anything in the nature of protection. There was a lurking idea abroad in some quarters that the militia were needed to keep down agitators. His own view was that if $5,000 were diverted from this vote to unemployment the country would get a happier solution of the problem. He did believe, however, in having sufficient police to maintain law and order.

He suggested that it would be desirable if a reduction could be made in the total vote for the department, leaving to the militia authorities to decide as to what particular items should be reduced.

Church Scores Critics.

T. L. Church (Conservative, Toronto North) was surprised to hear so much carping criticism of the item. He knew that officers of the militia frequently had to contribute from their own pockets in order to help out the unit to which they belonged.

"God forbid that the day should ever come when we have not a militia in Canada," declared Mr. Church. He was opposed to cutting a cent from the vote.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter (Conservative, St. John) deprecated the references to "gold lace." Not a cent of the amount in this item was for gold lace, which officers today paid out of their own pockets. This vote, he said, included provision for taking care of rifles and other equipment which the country now owned, and the loss of which would amount to many times the amount of the vote.

Commanding officers of rural regiments were required to care for rifles, uniforms, etc., with very little compensation.

William Irvine (Labor, Calgary East) thought it might be better to burn the rifles and old clothes and save $120,000. He would favor reducing the total militia estimates by $5,000,000. Hon. G. P. Graham retorted that in such a case there would be no militia. Mr. Irvine expressed the opinion that such a reduction might hurry reorganization. The $120,000 item carried.

Real Canadian Force.

On the vote of $1,400,000 for annual drill, Mr. Graham declared that the reduction of $100,000 for last year brought the annual drill estimates down to the pre-war basis. The money was for skeleton training. If full training were given many times the amount would be necessary. The charge that officers wore gold lace and lived on the fat of the land was altogether false.

Hon. S. C. Mewburn said that in the city corps not one cent of the money paid to officers, non-commissioned officers or men went into their pockets, but was contributed to maintain the efficiency of the regiments. The first Canadan contingent was made up of 98 per cent of Canadian militiamen.

Premier King said that the reason there had been opposition to this vote was that the Government was also asking for a large sum for demobilization. Money was being expended to bring men from overseas, and it was felt that additional large sums should not be spent for annual drill.

Mr. Guthrie denied that the demobilization vote for the last two years had been for the purpose of bringing back the soldiers. Practically all the troops were back in Canada more than two years ago. The demobilization vote was for the purpose of paying war claims, and the present Government was asking for a similar vote today.

Woodstock Businessmen Claim Police Unfair To Motorists.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, April 25.—The businessmen of the city are up in arms against the police. They claim that motorists are being fined in this city for the most trivial offenses under the motor vehicles act. At a protest meeting this morning many of the merchants aired their grievances and claimed that the actions of the police were hurting business in the city.

Many motorists have been fined in the city during the past two months, and the persistent work of the police has resulted, so the merchants claim, in signs being posted in some outside cities warning tourists to keep away from Woodstock.

SEVENTEEN DIE IN TEXAS FLOOD

Trinity River At Fort Worth Bursts Through Levees.

Hundreds of Persons Are Homeless in Inundated Sections.

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 25.—At least seventeen are dead, hundreds are homeless and 50 houses are covered with water in Sycamore Heights today as the result of a storm which flooded parts of Fort Worth.

Unofficial reports said 17 persons were believed drowned here. The baseball park was under 15 feet of water. Near Trinity Park, where the water is 15 feet deep, two women were reported drowned.

Telephone linemen said they saw a man, woman and three children dashed into the water from a house-top they were riding. They were declared to have been drowned.

Police and firemen, who rescued men, women and children from tree-tops, continued searching the ruins of scores of homes for about 25 persons they said were unaccounted for. Two women who had taken refuge in a tree-top were drowned when the tree was swept away.

Lights and signals of distress flashed from windows of houses the rescuers were unable to reach.

River Bursts Levees.

The Trinity River, flooded by seven and one-half inches of rain here and heavy rains west, broke levees and threatened others which workers frantically tried to make hold.

The river, rising 26 feet in waves, stood at 31 feet and was still rising.

Fire has broken out in the William Cameron lumberyard on the west side, according to reports to the fire department.

The fire department was unable to respond to the call because flood waters rushing through the streets prevented fire apparatus moving There was no danger of the blaze spreading, however, it was declared.

Flee in Night Clothes.

Dozens of those rescued were in their night clothes. While police nad firemen worked frantically men and women in night attire, drenched by the deluge, paced the water line begging the workers to search more diligently for their loved ones. Boats were unable to reach one frail house, the home of an aged cripple, from which lights flashed for help. Shortly after dawn the light disappeared.

A small creek went wild on the south side shortly before daybreak and moved all houses in the vicinity from the blocks. The streets everywhere are covered with heavy debris.

GRAND TRUNK MAKES FINE RECORD.

A summary of the operations of passenger trains for month of March, 1922, on the Grand Trunk Railway system east of the St. Clair and Detroit rivers, shows out of 9,000 trains 94.2 per cent reached the terminal station on time. This is a very gratifying record, and one that is regarded as evidence of the efficiency with which the passenger service of the Grand Trunk is being operated.

Forecasts Big Drop in Freight Rates.

WINNIPEG, April 25.—Reduction of freight rates to the 1919 level has been effected and will be operative before the 1922 crop is moved, Hon. T. C. Norris, premier of Manitoba, announced at the opening of his speech before the Liberal convention here today.

Mr. Norris intimated that the reduction had been assured him by Hon W. L. Mackenzie King while he was in Ottawa, and that the premier had assured him that steps would be taken to make the rates effective July 7. A saving of $10,000,000 will be effected for farmers of the West as a result.

DISCUSS MARKING ACT WITH BUREAU

Ottawa, April 26.—A delegation, representing printers and lithographers of cities from Quebec to Vancouver, waited on Jacques Bureau, minister of customs yesterday to discuss the marking act as applied to certain specified printed and lithograph products. W. S. Campbell, Montreal, president of the Canadian Lithographers' Association, acted as spokesman and outlined the many disabilities under which Canadian printers and lithographers are working. The minister expressed appreciation of the representation and promised the delegates early consideration of the matter.

STUDY TOUR FOR BOYS.

About the best thing a father can do for his boys is to encourage them to travel and see something of the world before they become too keenly engrossed in commercial life. Travel is a great educator—it enriches the mind and fits the youth to better fill his place in life. A normal boy is observant—he assimilates and retains knowledge. Travel gives him his opportunity—it fits him for every phase in life.

A tour of Europe is at present being organized under the personal supervision of Mr. T. H. Matthews, M.A. (Oxon), assistant professor of mathematics, McGill University, and late instructor-lieutenant, royal navy. In addition, local guides will be secured to conduct excursions and give lectures on the artistic, historic, literary and economic significance of the sights seen and the places visited.

A most carefully planned and interesting itinerary has been arranged, including visits to Montreal, Liverpool, Chester, Stratford-on-Avon, Oxford, London, Paris, Versailles, Fontainebleau, Rheims, Lyons, Marseilles, Cannes, Nice, Monaco, Mentone, Genoa, Pisa, Rome, Naples, Sorrento, Capri, Pompeii, Vesuvius, Florence, Venice, Trent, Innsbruck, Munich, the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Nuremberg, Mayence, the Rhine, Cologne, Brussels, Louvain and Ostend, returning through London and Liverpool.

This exceptional tour starts from Montreal on Saturday, June 24, calling at Quebec, by the splendid White Star Line steamship Canopic (12,100 tons). A period of approximately two months will be occupied by the tour, as by the itinerary the return trip is made from Liverpool by the fine steamship Regina (16,500 tons), arriving at Montreal on Aug. 26.

The arrangements for this tour are most complete, and the charge, which is a minimum one, covers everything in the way of transportation, hotel accommodation with three meals a day, transfers, sight-seeing fees, in brief, all necessary traveling expenses for the entire tour.

The Simplex Is Really Two Stoves in One!

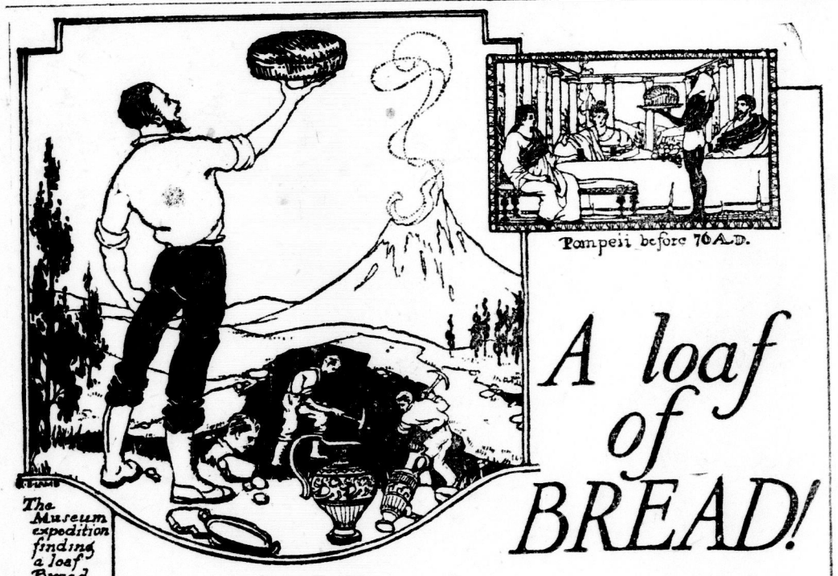

It combines a complete six-hole coal range, with a complete four-burner gas range. All in the space usually taken by a single-purpose range. The oven is heated by either coal or gas or a combination of the two.

Both the top and the oven can, if desired, be used with either fuel at the same time. When the coal fire is low use the gas, and there's no complicated parts to exchange. A twist of the wrist is all that is necessary to change from coal to gas.

HIGHER FARES REVIVE GHOST

Think Whole Affair Cut and Dried in Committee.

"The street railway said that it could not give a proper service or do its share of the paving without increased fares. The increased fares are now in sight and it remains to be seen if they will live up to this agreement."

The above was Mayor Wilson's statement in regard to the action of the private bills committee of the Legislature, which on Tuesday approved of the application of the London Street Railway to charge a straight five-cent fare in London.

The mayor's review of the situation is about the same as that of the aldermen.

The majority of the aldermen take the view that the company will have to immediately improve its service and catch up to the city on its paving program.

Several of them admitted that they were a little hazy as to where the company will get the money to do anything until the fares start to pile up.

"The worst feature which I see about the whole matter is that it increases the car fare of the workingman 100 per cent," said Ald. Douglass.

Ald. H. B. Ashplant took the same stand. He said that the city could not expect much better treatment from the government in Toronto, in view of the severe attacks which were made upon the government by members of the present council. "You cannot kick a man and then expect that he will turn around and kiss you the next minute, I warned those fellows to be careful a few meetings ago," said the alderman.

Ald. Ashplant was somewhat critical of the stand of the chamber of commerce, which while representing the industrial interests of the city and with much at stake, seems to have shown no interest in the value of low transportation rates from the city's industrial centers. He thought that low transportation costs would be a big factor in building up the city industrially. London should be known for its low transportation rates, rather than its high. It was as important as the dividends to the industrial leaders which seem to be the first and only consideration nowadays.

Ald. John May believes that the street railway situation is in a worse muddle now than it was before. He cannot see daylight. He hopes that ultimately there will be an improved service.

Ald. W. J. Ashton expressed the opinion that the Street Railway Company will leave the men's wages as they were before the cut was put into force. He believed that if President C. W. Currie does this, and he thinks he will, it will improve the position of the railway with the city council. There are many matters on which the company will have to come to the council on, mostly in regard to paving and track improvement.

Ald. Douglass says that he intends to ask that the engineer enforce by-law 916 from now on. The company has the increased fares and what benefits are coming to the people they should have as soon as possible.

Practically all the members of the city's deputation to Toronto express the opinion that most of the members had their minds made up on the matter and the council was powerless to change them. "Everything was cut and dried," was the opinion they formed, they state.

INTERFERENCE WITH FIRE DEPARTMENT TO BE AIRED

Conflict of Authority Has Resulted From Council Action on Staff Reduction.

The present chaotic condition of the fire department and conflict of authority will likely be aired at tonight's meeting of the finance committee of the council. Some of the aldermen are warming up some hot shots over the interference with Fire Chief John Aitken in the matter of dismissals and reductions in his force.

Mayor Wilson and some of the aldermen recently laid down the principle that the aldermen had no right to interfere with the city engineer in the matter of dismissals.

The aldermen thus rebuked are now wondering how the mayor and his committee came to not only deal with fire department dismissals, but to also call in the fire captains to have a say in the matter.

In fact, it comes to light that the last meeting which the mayor and his committee had with the chief and his men was arranged by the men without the knowledge of the chief. It was only a short time before the meeting that the chief knew of it, and it was the assistant chief who informed him of the meeting and its hour.

Chief Aitken stated that he alone is held responsible for the efficiency of his force, and he alone does the hiring of the men.

EXUBERANT QUARTET OF YOUTHS ALLOWED TO GO

Four boys were making so much noise on their way home at 1:15 last Sunday morning that their names were taken by Constable McMaster, and they were summoned to court Wednesday morning.

McMaster admitted that the boys were all civil in giving him their names.

All the youths stated that it was their first appearance in court.

"It was not very sensible to be raising a row at that time of the morning," said the magistrate.

"They didn't realize what they were doing, your worship," said the chief, casting a benevolent look in the direction of the four abashed young men who were just past the "sweet sixteen" stage of existence.

"Youthful exuberance," observed the magistrate. "It would be a shame to spoil their good record with a conviction. I'll dismiss the case. You boys must not act that way again."

DISMISS WENIGE CHARGES IN COURT

with Mr. Wenige. The telephone conversation on the morning in question opened up in an offensive manner," witness declared.

"Wenige referred over the phone to inefficiency before mentioning the complaint," declared the city engineer. "It was quite evident that he intended using all the aggravation possible."

"There has been considerable ill-feeling?" questioned Mr. Henderson.

Has Ignored Wenige.

"Yes, on his part," replied Mr. Brazier. "For my part I have ignored the man."

"I don't think that it makes any difference if there was any ill-will between these men," interjected the magistrate, Mr. Henderson desisting from his examination for the time being.

"I don't want this case to be made an advertising medium," said Mr. Donahue.

"You brought the case," reminded the court. "I would have advised that no information be laid."

Continuing his evidence, Mr. Brazier stated that Mr. Wenige laid 43 charges against his department and himself last year. The charges were dealt with by a special committee of the city council.

"One charge was proven, but it was not a case of inefficiency," said witness.

"I'll just read this report," stated Mr. Henderson.

"Mr. Henderson, I don't think that my time should be wasted," objected Mr. Graydon.

Mr. Brazier went on to say that there had been some water lying on the York street bridge. This was the charge proved against the department.

"Mr. Wenige said that the department had been whitewashed by the committee," said Mr. Brazier.

"That meant that he was right and the committee wrong?" asked Mr. Henderson.

"Yes," was the reply.

Questioned by the magistrate, Mr. Brazier stated that the charge of abusive language was already before No. 2 committee of the city council. He could not say what action would be taken regarding the complaint.

"The defendant admits using the expression," declared Mr. Donahue.

"Do you think that it comes under the bylaw?" asked the court.

"I do," said counsel for Mr. Wenige.

"I wouldn't have declined to take an information if I had been here at the time," stated Mr. Graydon. Sometimes in similar cases neighbors come here demanding action in cases where the language is a good deal more lurid.

"There is nothing blasphemous about it. A complaint has been made to the city council, and before that has been settled another charge has been laid in court. It looks like crowding the mourners' bench," concluded the magistrate.

Mr. Brazier was the only witness called, Mr. Wenige not being asked to give any evidence.

REPERTOIRE OF LARK IS LARGE

W. E. Saunders Addresses C. of C. On Birds and Flowers.

Warns Against Blue Jay and Grackel As Marauders.

Lovers of nature study who attended the noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday were accorded a real treat by W. E. Saunders, who delivered an address on "Birds and Flowers." Mr. Saunders, whose chief hobby is the study of this subject, presented an interesting address, and augmented his remarks by demonstrations of several stuffed birds and their respective calls.

He first described and exhibited the meadow lark, with its yellow breast, surmounted by a black V and white tail. He characterized it as "a bird with a repertoire," mentioning the fact that the western meadow lark sings at least nineteen different tunes.

"Nearly every bird sings the same thing," he declared. "For instance, the peewee never varies. The meadow lark in our district sings eight songs, so it is not far behind the western fellow, after all."

Difficult to Distinguish.

He explained that the blue jay and red shouldered hawk are difficult to distinguish by their notes, and stated that the yellow-bellied woodpecker is going through London at present. It is commonly known as the sap sucker.

"It is easy to think that the woodpecker might get something interesting from sap," commented Mr. Saunders. "Apple and birch are his favorites with not much maple sap. In Victoria Park he has done the strangest thing. If you look on the long-leafed Austrian pine there you will see him at work, although I do not think pine sap is good for a bird to eat.

"This pine is the first in the southwest corner of the park. Look at it, and you will see it covered with a resinous exudate due to that bird. I do not think he drinks this exudate, and what he does with it I do not know. The holes are in the trunk in rows, and if you want to see these birds the place to look is in that tree.

"You can identify a bird more by what it does than what it looks like," continued the speaker.

He asserted that the cardinal, first came to London fifteen years ago, and since then has become numerous.

"When you go to Springbank keep your ears open," he urged. "It does not cost you anything to enjoy the musical entertainment. "I have seen the phoebe wag his tail for fifty years, but just last week I found out how he does it

A Few Marauders.

"There are a couple of birds which are not very well behaved, and while pretty, we cannot afford to have many of them. They are the Blue Jay and the Bronze Grackel. They eat every young fledgeling or nestling they can get, and also eat the eggs. It is up to you to decide if you can afford to have them around your place.

"We cannot afford to have the Cowbird because it lays eggs in other birds' nests. The young hatch in less time and grow bigger, getting the best start. It has a bigger mouth and gets most to eat, eventually starving the other birds, which are usually the Song Sparrow. The price we pay is about four Song Sparrows for every Cowbird, and while they are not a bad bird, they are not worth it. Cowbirds are all over the city just now.

"The white-throated sparrow is the bird nearly everybody hears," he concluded. In his opening remarks, Mr. Saunders spoke on flowers briefly pointing out that the primrose is a pretty plant which is not well known to the average amateur florist. He also characterized the Siberian squill as a pretty weed which might interest lovers of flowers.

There was a large attendance of Chamber of Commerce members to hear Mr. Saunders, and by special request he prolonged his address. James Gray presided at the luncheon.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, April 26.—Declines were more pronounced than advances in listed stocks on the Toronto exchange this morning. Trading did not reach a great volume in any particular issue, but activity prevailed throughout the entire list. C. P. R. headed the downward movement, with a net loss of 1¾ from yesterday, with the close at 144¼. Atlantic Sugar lost ⅞ at 21⅝. Brazilian and Steamships preferred lost ½ each at 44½ and 50 respectively on the close. Gains of from ½ to 1⅛ wer made by Toronto Railway, Bell Telephone, Barcelona and Mackay. After one day of brisk trading the bond market relapsed into its former state of quietness, and very little business was done in this department today. Imperial Oil and Mexican Petroleum, unlisted stocks, were quite active and strong, the former closing at 112, a 5-point gain, and the latter at 21¾, a gain of 2¼.

Life and Character Reading.

APRIL 25.

The governing sign of this date is Taurus and the governing planet is Venus. The birthstone is a moss agate and the astral colors are lemon-yellow and red.

The most dangerous and violent types of the animal Taurus and the animal man Taurus have been subjugated by the spirit of love. Valuable bulls, which nothing could subdue have been instantly soothed and led captive by children who love them, and in whom they have confidence, and so with the animal man.

The most congenial wives for men of this birthdate are those born under Capricorn or Libra. These marriages usually turn out harmoniously, but other signs do not mix well.

GOES TO JAIL FOR WEEK

Wallacetown Man Also Fined $200 on Liquor Charge.

WOODSTOCK, April 25.—A bottle of whiskey, part of which he had in the car with him when arrested, drew Frank Callahan of Wallacetown a seven-day term in jail here this morning on a charge of being drunk in charge of an automobile, and a $200 fine for having liquor in a place other than his own residence.

Callahan was on his way from Wallacetown to Tillsonburg when he ran amuck in his car here last night. He wrecked another car when he collided with it directly in front of police headquarters.

Day's Legislative Doings at Ottawa

TODAY IN PARLIAMENT.

In the Commons.

Public bills.

Hon. W. S. Fielding's resolution respecting the silver and nickel currency, and his resolution respecting the penny banks.

Resumption of the discussion of third estimate department of militia and defence.

In the Senate.

The Senate sits at 3 o'clock.

YESTERDAY IN PARLIAMENT.

In the Commons.

Hon. W. S. Fielding announced that the $100,000,000 loan floated through J. P. Morgan & Co., New York, was subscribed by noon Tuesday.

House in supply approved the civil government estimates of the department of railways and canals, salaries $191,970; contingencies, $29,500.

Introduction of main estimates of the department of militia and defence brought out severe criticism of militia, from the Progressives and section of the Liberals. Finally C. G. Power (Liberal) Quebec South, moved to reduce the amount for annual drills from $1,400,000 to $300,000.

This brought on heated debate in which Mon. W. L. Mackenzie King revived his charges that the late government brought shells into the country after the war and when they were not needed. Hon. Hugh Guthrie declared that the importation of the shells was merely an adjustment between Great Britain and Canada. Progressives and some Liberals criticized the militia vote as useless. The minister was supported by the Conservatives. The House adjourned with the Power amendment still to be voted on.

In the Senate.

Hon. F. E. Pardee introduced.

Senator Casgrain gave notice that he would discuss the St. Lawrence ship canal on Thursday.

BURNABY RESIGNS AS HEAD OF U.F.O.

TORONTO, April 25.—It was announced today that R. W. E. Burnaby, president of the United Farmers of Ontario, has placed his resignation in the hands of the executive. Pressure of business is given as the reason.

It's "Tchitcherin," But Sneeze 2nd Syllable.

GENOA, April 25.—In view of differences over the name of the Russian minister of foreign affairs, who is here as head of the Russian delegation, inquiry has been made as to whether it is "Tchitcherin" or "Chicherin."

The minister himself prefers to have his name spelled "Tchitcherin" when it is to be read by English-speaking people, with the accent on the second syllable.

In the official documents of the Genoa conference the minister's name has been spelled "Chicherin," "Tchitcherin" and "Cicerin," the last being the Italian spelling.

CLAIMS DECREASE IN RUM-RUNNING

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Contracts have been let for a fleet of fast motorboats to be operated on the Detroit River in a concentrated drive against Canadian border liquor smuggling, Commissioner Haynes announced today.

Mr. Haynes has just returned from Detroit, where he said he spent several hours on the Detroit River on a patrol boat and became thoroughly convinced that there has been a very appreciable decrease in smuggling from Canada.

Glenisle Finishes First Round Trip From Buffalo To Fort William

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, April 25.—Completing the first round trip of the season from Buffalo to Fort William and return, the freight steamer Glenisle, of the Canada Steamship Lines passed here this morning, downbound, with a cargo of Canadian wheat from an Upper Lake port. In making her trip the Glenisle was forced to break her way through icefields in Lake Superior.

Large additions have been made to the fleet of Canadian craft now on the lake routes, the Canada Steamship Lines now operate nearly as many boats as the Pittsburg fleet, which owns 108 vessels at the present time, most of these will be in operation this summer judging from the assignments of officers to the craft so far this season. The Northern Navigation Company added two steamers to its fleet two years ago when the Detroit-Chatham and Detroit-Wallaceburg routes were inaugurated by the company as excursion routes. The company also owns a number of package freighters in addition to the three large passenger craft now lying at the Sarnia dock, the Hamonic, Huronic and Noronic.

MAY LIMIT ALL LIQUOR SHIPPING TO RAIL ROUTES

Raney Amendment To O. T. A. Intended To Check Rum-Running.

WOULD BAN "MOONSHINE"

Additional Penalties Proposed For Vendors of "Swamp" Whiskey.

TORONTO, April 25.—Two bills which make considerable changes in regard to temperance legislation were introduced by Attorney-General Raney in the Ontario Legislature this afternoon.

One is designed to prevent the transportation of liquor along the highways of the province. The attorney-general explained that it was to meet the danger of liquor taken from distilleries, ostensibly to be shipped out of the province later being switched with some point in Ontario as its destination.

Any person found guilty of carrying liquor along the roads of the province will be liable to a fine of not less than $200 and not more than $2,000, and in addition may, at the discretion of the magistrate, be imprisoned for a period not exceeding three months. In the case of a second offence, the fine will remain within the same limits, but the imprisonment will be not less than three months and not more than six months.

The bill provides, however, that the license board may grant special permission to transport liquor over the highways.

The attorney-general explained that henceforth liquor shipped from distilleries must go by rail and in this way it would be easier to ascertain if the shipment is switched. The bill will come into effect as soon as it gets royal assent.

Penalties for Adulterations.

The other bill amends the Ontario temperance act, making additional punishments for the sale of adulterated or illegally manufactured liquor and also additional penalties where persons engaged in the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act are themselves found guilty of breaking it or persuading other persons to break it. It also lightens the penalty for first offenders of having liquor in a public place.

It provides that there shall be additional penalties to those applying generally in the act for the sale of "swamp" or other illegally-manufactured whiskey or for adulterated whiskey. This additional penalty will not be less than three months in jail.

It also makes it an offence to use false labels on any bottle or other package of liquor. The clause in the Ontario temperance act which provides that a person "found drunk or disorderly" in a public place, may be imprisoned if it is the third offence within three months, is changed to read: "intoxicated," instead of "drunk and disorderly."

The bill lessens the penalty for second offenders by providing that they shall be fined the same amount as for a first offence, and in addition shall be imprisoned for a minimum of two months instead of the former penalty of six months in jail.

Awaits Royal Assent.

Any person employed in the enforcement of the Ontario temperance act will henceforth be liable to an additional one month or more in jail if found breaking the law which he is engaged to enforce. Any person who counsels or aids another to break the act will be liable to the same penalties as the person who actually commits the offence.

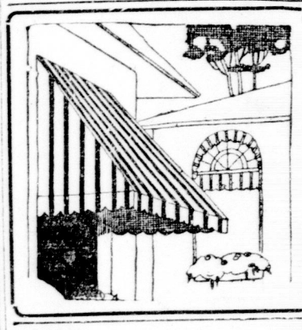

Changes are made in the provisions for appeal from a magistrate's finding, including the deposit of $100 shall be made in the courts at the time the notice of appeal is filed.

The minimum fine for first offenders of having liquor in a public place is reduced from $200 to $100.

The changes to the Ontario temperance act will also come into force as soon as the bill receives royal assent.

Port Lambton Garage Man Severely Injured by Automobile Chain.

Special to London Advertiser.

PORT LAMBTON, April 25. — An unfortunate accident happened to Russel Plummer, a local garage man, on Monday, while repairing an automobile, which resulted in the loss of an eye.

He was working on a chain, which was held in a vice, using the screwdriver as a pry, the chain gave way causing the screwdriver to spring upward, penetrating the ball of the left eye.
