For the first time during Old Boys' Week London's streets echoed to the rhythm of jazz last night, when some of the brethren from Windsor and Detroit, together with their good ladies, tripped the light fantastic outside the Public Utilities Building on the corner of Dundas and Wellamp, aided by the two 3,000-candlepower lamps hanging over the road at this corner, produced the right atmosphere for the carnival spirit, and the dancers, though relying only on the melody of a mouth-organ, kept up the good work into the wee small ours of the morning, nothing daunted The freaks are genuine and worth by the hard, unyielding floor or the

All the shows at the park made a night of it and the visitors had the opportunity of seeing everything from a Hawaiian village to a world's championship wrestling match be-tween Hans Anderson, the terrible Swede, and Romanoff Minofski, the biting Bolshevik, which after some hours of blood and sand terminated in a mutual draw, and will probably be fought to a finish tonight. Large crowds watched this thrilling whirlwind of legs and arms, following each new hold with bated breath, and criticizing every move with the en-thusiasm of the real fan.

Now is the psychological moment for Mayor Wenige and his associates to act, and to act quickly. The people of London only want to be fair in this matter, and they would only desire that the company should receive just treatment. The company professes a similar honesty of purpose.

There is but little doubt that the people will vote purchase the road if a fair and decent price is submitted, and, with his valuable experience at his command, it would only appear logical that Sir Adam Beck yould be able to secure that price.

Now is the time for the council to get busy. Even Sir Adam's most bitter political opponents acknowledge that his practical knowledge of railway affairs should be applied in this instance, and this is one time when the members of the London city council should bury the political hatchet and work out a solution of the city's transportation problems.

There is an indication, possibly more than that, that the thought in the mind of the German financial ministers is the repudiation of a liability largely domestic in order that they may be in a better position to meet pressing international obligations, and thus in time restore something like order out of the existing chaos. But it is bad policy to repudiate the account of one neighbor who may have quick means of collection.

Modern Education.

How far, then, is the present system of education justified? Is it worth while trying to make a poor banker or a poor doctor out of a thoroughly good mechanic? After all, the chief need of this country today is not professional men but farm and factory immigration authorities have to cope with.

THE ASSEMBLY AND CHURCH

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Sir,-As the Presbyterian Assembly's recent action affects not only the thing mis-called "union," but the wider question of religious liberty in Canada will you kindly permit word, first to all the churches and then to Presbyterians. First-to all the churches. A majority of that assembly resolved asking parliament as follows: To create by civil law a new church; to coerce into that new church by civil law the unwilling Presbyterians; to confiscate and transfer to that new church by civil law all trust funds given to the Presbyterian Church for work; and, by civil law, to blot out forever the present Presbyterian Church, so that none of those thus out of her could ever again return to her as a church home. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Auger of Aylmer Are Celebrating Diamond Wedding.

Anger, of this place, will celebrate their 60th (diamond) wedding an-niversary. At noon a family reunion will be held at the home of their son James L. Anger, Clarence street, and from 4 to 6 o'clock the many friends of the bride and groom of 60 years ago are invited to call. No doubt many will take this opportunity of congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Anger who are among Aylmer's oldest residents and highly respected by all. Leonard Anger was born in August, 1839, at what is known as the Anger school house corner la Malahide; while Mrs. Anger was born in February, 1840, in the township of West-minster, and was a daughter of the late Thomas Matthews. The couple were married August 9, 1863, at Luton, by Rev. Phillips, who was then pastor of the Malahide circuit. After their marriage they resided in Malahide township, coming to Aylmer 48 years ago, where they have resided continuously at their home on Clarence street.
Mr. Anger followed the occupation of carpenter until some five years ago, when he was forced to give up his work on account of ill-health. Mrs. Anger is still hale and hearty, does her own housework, keeps a large and weedless garden, and is as active as many women half her age. She has always been an energetic member of St Paul's Methodist Church, and was the member of the Ladies' Aid who made the tea and coffee for the supper when the present church was built, almost half century ago.

Two sons were born to this union. Alva Anger, who died at Bayham, just ten years ago, and James L. Anger of the postoffice staff, Aylmer. Five From Wolves and Tackle Leading Saginaw Aces Four Out

Delman Loses His First Mix; McCaffrey Wins Short Game

Latter Beaten Twice By Glynn In Close Games, Lays Jinx.

The Tecs, by dividing with the Wolves in yesterday's farewell double bill, took in yesterday's farewell double bill, took four out of five games from the exleague leaders, and take on Buzz Wetzel's Aces today. Having helped to elevate the Aces to their present lofty perch, the Tecs may playfully put the skids under them. There is no team the local crew would rather beat than the saginaw crowd, and on the season they've been as bothersome to the title aspirants as any team in the loop.

The locals' win streak stopped at the first game yesterday which the pack grabbed, 8—1, but they came back and started out all over again on a new streak by taking the abbreviated pastime, 3—2. grabbed, 8—1, but they came back and started out all over again on a new streak by taking the abbreviated pastime, 3—2.

Delman, who looked like the best pitching bet of the series from a local angle, was taken out in the fifth of the first game, with two out, two runs in and two on the paths. Harris greeted Haines with a smash which Beatty let go, thinking it was going foul, but which went for three bases instead, scoring Hughes and Tomer with two more tallies.

Had Started In Fourth.

The Wolves had gathered four counters in the preceding frame, Ashley starting off with a single to right. Ziegler sacrificed him, and Hegedorn singled, and Hughes and Mizeur both doubled, three rans scoring. Mizeur came in on Connolly's smash at deep short. Haines had little trouble with the Wolves after that except in the seventh when errors by Barbelon and Getsie and a couple of choices, made it seem like a crowd of Wolves on the bases.

Until the sixth when Beattle lammed a liner to right, Ziegler was all set for Had Started In Fourth. Woives on the bases.
Until the sixth when Beattie lammed a liner to right, Ziegler was all set for a no-hit effort. Tomer's error, a walk and a hit batsman had filled the bases with two gone in the second, but Deiman struck out. Getsie was on through a walk when Batty's single came in the sixth, and he advanced to third on a wild pitch, but Schaefer lined into a double play at first, and Ziegler whifted Mackey. With two gone in the seventh Churry and Haines both singled, but Ziegler pulled out by striking out Ruane. Getsie was gone in the eighth when Geatty doubled to the left field fence. Schaefer singled, Beatty only taking third from where he scored when Mackey forced Schaefer at becond. Barbelon singled, and he and Mackey pulled a double steal to make the threat strong, but Coogan grounded out,

McCaffrey Breaks Streak.

In the second game, McCaffrey, who has been heaten twice by Marty Glynn, laid the Irish ghost, and as well hung up his first win since joining the Tecs. The pack were the first to score. In the third Glynn started, but with a single. Hegedorn sacrificed. Hughes was a flyout. Mizeur worked a walk. Tomer singled to right, Glynn scoring, but Tomer made the third out trying to reach second on the hit. The locals telied with a brace of tallies in their half. Coogan singled to centre, and Coogan, holding third, finally dashed for the plate when he saw Hughes' peggo wide to the plate, Riane taking third on the error. Getsie walked. Beatty singled to centre, scoring Ruane. In the fourth, one gone, Connolly was on through an error and Prysock with a hit, when Ashlev hit into an odd and sambling double play. Beatty to Barbelon to Beatty. In the fifth the pack howled again. Hegedorn singled, stole second and scored on Hughes' liner to right, tieing up the count. The Tecs McCaffrey Breaks Streak. right, tieing up the count. The unravelled the knot in their half the when Ruane and Getsie both sin when Ruane and Getsie both singled, the former scoring on Beatty's high sacrifice fly.

Down the Line In All Sports OTTAWA SHOT WON

The official handbook of the A. A. U. of C. in paragraph 2, section 9 of its general rules for the athletic meetings and competitions says: "An athlete who fails to compete after entering an event in a bona fide way and according to rules shall be required to furnish a satisfactory explanation for so doing or render himself liable to censure or suspension by the local registration committee."

If Secretary A. T. Taylor and the whole of the local committee are to suspended it looks as if the athletes who were so unsporting as to withdraw should be dealt with with as much despatch.

The athletes who withdrew had recourse to protest, and at no time were they threatened by the Ontario branch officials with suspension if

Toronto Star:

"The Ontario branch of the A. A. U. of Canada intends that Ontario athletic championships shall be won by Ontario athletes. This is the correct stand to take. The rules are plain; all competing athletes must be resident of a branch for at least two months prior to the holding of a championship meet. The London officials made a mistake in accepting entries from U. S. athletes, and the evidence shows they had been officially notified not to do so. The whole thing is a most unfortunate affair, as the championship meet was intended to stimulate interest in athletics in that part of the province, but as it turns out the contrary is the result."

There! That's the Toronto viewpoint. Shelac!

ALL-CANUCK LACROSSE TEAM WOULD BE WELCOMED

Canadian Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Aug. 8.—"Canadians are looked upon as part of the family," said Capt. Frederick L. L. Neylan of the Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team, now in the city to meet a local team, "and the Lacrosse Association of England, while it always welcomes American teams, would be very glad to see an all-Canadian team go ovar to the old country to play a series of games," added the captain. He said that it was due to some spirit that he, though an Irish-Canadian born, was captaining the combined team on this tour. Capt. Neylan said that Canadians enter into university life quite quickly when they get over to the old land.
Captain Neylan was loud in praise of the treatment the members of the team had received on this side.

Moffatt Miraculously Escaped Death-New Five-Mile Record Made.

5:46 IS LOCAL MARK

Three minor accidents punctuated tense afternoon of motorcycle races at Queen's Park yesterday. None of them resulted seriously, although nothing but great good fortune saved the riders from great good fortune saved the riders from greater injury.

Moffatt, the former speed cop from Galt, was in second place in the 5-mile standing start, stock side-car event, and was taking the lead when his machine overturned. He was thrown into the air in a series of somersaults, but suffered only minor bruises. After having his injuries attended to, he gamely announced that he would enter in the five-mile open. And he later won the event. The other two spills were also suffered on the turns, but aside from the fact that the riders were forced from the race with damaged machines, the results were not serious.

that the inters were forced from the race with damaged machines, the results were not serious.

Bud Byles, a Toronto rider, won the 5-mile standing start, stock side-car event, doing the ten laps in 5:29. The time is a track record, and is believed to be a Canadian record for the distance on a half-mile track.

Moffatt whirred off the miles in the 5-mile light machine event, in the lead all the way, except for a stretch in the eighth lap, when Butler, in a beautiful spurt, passed him. The game speed cop regardless of danger on the same turn in which he suffered mishap in his other start, "stepped on" his pet, and quickly ate up Butler's lead. Moffat was ahead on the ninth lap, and flashed under the wire several yards in the lead, finishing in 5 minutes and 46 seconds.

lead, finishing in 5 minutes and 46 seconds.

Arnold O'Donnell, the ex-Canadian champion, was well up in the chances until he spilled, shortly after finishing his seventh lap. At the time he was attempting to pass Moffatt and Butler.

Butler furnished a surprise in the 10-mile open stock machine event. After being in the lead just once in the race, and that in the 15th lap, he sprinted past both O'Donnell, the ex-champ, and Moffatt, who had alternated in the lead, and won by scant feet. His time was 12:24. Moffatt did an exhibition mile in one

Moffatt did an exhibition mile in one minute, 8 seconds. He constantly complained about his wrist, wrenched in his tumble, and except for his accident would in all probability have greatly bettered that mark.

Coville was the only man to finish the 10-mile side-car event. He completed the distance in 15:26. Millett, Toronto rider, went out in the third lap, with a flat rear tire, and Kennedy, after losing a lap and a half in the fourth mile, due to a flooded piston, was forced to withdraw. There were only three riders entered.

Anyway he will be required to weigh in at the middle wgight limit for Johnny Wilson, and it is doubtful if he will have that consideration extended to him which has been accorded Benny Leonard in the past.

All in all, therefore, it would appear to be up to Greb to do some really hard training in the two weeks he has alloted for work at Mahasset. It is difficult to say how this fight will appeal to the customers. There are so many bouts of high-sounding character these days that the fan of fairly limited means hardly knows how to pick and choose. But the flight, so far at least as Greb is concerned, ought to be a corker. Whether or not Wilson's body punching can stand him off is a question.

Question as to Greb weight brings to mind the fact that the classes are battling for the masses these days in a way to make the scientist sick. In fact most of the contestants are going out of their classes and covering up that fact through matches made at catchweights, refusals to weigh in and objections to having newspapermen witness the ceremony when they do step on the scales.

The question whether or not two boxers are so matched in size, weight and ability to make an interesting battle is entirely lost to sight, provided their reputations suffice to draw a crowd to the box office. As a result the fighters so-called, earn plenty of money and the fans are force as a result the fighter of the sort of plays in which their favorites as theatrical crowds go to theatres to see their favorite stars perform. But sooner or later the time is coming when the fight enthusiasts are going to begin to develop some fussiness as to the sort of plays in which their favorites are appearing. Then will come the time when promoters, managers and fighters will have to do shrewder thinking than has yet been demanded of them.

Brantford Council To Enact Law To Stop Serious Menace.

Special to The Advertiser. Brantford, Aug. 8.-At the next meeting of the city council amendments will be made to the city fire bylaw, which will make it an offence for motorists to run in front of the fire trucks en route to a fire or come within one block of the fire. A measure of this nature has been deemed advisable owing to the persistence of some motorists in in-advertently hampering the fire brigade while making their way to see the fire at close range. The thoughtless action of a motorist brought matters to red heat yesterday, when he took up his position between the two trucks of the main fire-hall while on their way to a blaze, greatly retarding the move-ments of the second machine.

Use Three Pitchers, Noonan Figuring In Sixth Straight Game.

Special to Tne Advertiser.

Hamilton, Aug. 8.—Hamilton took the last game of the series from Saginaw here today, "Buck" Winters weakening in the tenth after an error started the Hams on their way with two out and walked three men in a row, forcing in the winning run. Winters was accorded poor support in pinches and held the Hams to six hits. Kane was put out of the game for disputing a decision of Umpire Murphy's, and a shift was necessary, Dunn going to short and Horne playing second. Hamilton pitchers again fared badly, three of them being used, it being the sixth straight game in which Johnny Noonan has figured. Walter Milier was recalled by Terre Haute today, and Andy Miller was given his unconditional release, so that the Hamilton pitching staff is two short. Sam Robertson, president of the Buffalo International League team, witnessed today's game, and may negotiate with Saginaw for Winters.

Following the game at Woodstock Monday, William Paton, a scout for the Cleveland Indians, held a con-ference, and it was reported this afernoon that he raised the amount to $500 a month if he would consider the proposition. Paton declared here that McPhee would make good in the

He thought that Danny would be able to break right into the big leagues without further training, and predicted that he would be one of the sensations of the 1923 season. Everything In Readiness For Wrangel Expedition To Rescue Party on Island

Harold Noice, Stefansson's Lieutenant, Makes Final Preparations For Dash Over Icy Wastes To Liberate Marooned Explorers.

Exclusive rights to the first hand story of one of the most dramatic escue dashes in the history of the Arctic have been secured by this paper. Harold Noice, lieutenant of Viljhamur Stefansson, celebrated explorer, has outfitted the 72-foot motor ship Donaldson at Nome for a dash to Wrangel Island, off Siberia, where four white men and an Eskimo seam-siress, under Stefansson's orders, established a colony in 1921 and ran up the British flag. Whether they are still alive is not known; their supplies were scanty. Wrangel Island is accessible only three weeks of the year because of ice, and the rescue expedition of a year ago was driven men, Loren Knight, Frederick Maurer and Milton Gall were Americans. The leader, Crawford, scarcely 21 years of age, was given command, chiefly because he was a Canadian subject, but it was understood that he was to be guided by Knight and Maurer, who were both of considerable experience in polar exploration. Knight, in fact, was one of many train mates on the Canadian Arctic

Landed On Wrangel The Crawford party arrived in 921, where they purchased their suproice that they intended to secure a considerable portion of their food by bunting, for they took with them nly enough provisions for one year's sojourn and ammunition for two years' hunting. Upon arrival in Nome they secured a dog team and after engaging an Eskimo woman, Ada Blackjack, as seamstress, chartered the power schooner Silver Wave, in command of Captain Hammer, to land them on Wrangel Isalnd. The season 1921 was an exceptionally open one. Although they were

Now another year has passed and we have no news from Wrangel.

No Sign of Party.

We thought for a while that if the party had found it impossible to train mates on the Canadian Arctic would make the capedition in 1916 and was well versed in every phase of polar work, versed in every phase of the crew of natives. Captain Hammer of the Silvage managed to get out and secure a living on the island they while Maurer as one of the crew of the wrecked Stefansson steamer Karver Wave, managed to get out and return to Nome a few days ago. He that he has heard nothing from the natives of Siberia to indicate anyone had crossed over from Wrangel during the winter.

There is possibility that the Wrangel party made the attempt to cross and failed, for according to Captain Bartlett, the only white man who ever made this trip, the crossing is an exceedingly dangerous one, due even in midwinter. But I am optimistic enough to expect to find that nothing serious has happened to the Wrangel Island party. I believe they have been able to make their living off the country, but after carefully checking over their invoices I am convinced that they will have little or no ammunition left by the end of the present season of navigation. Therefore I have spared no effort to insure the present relief expedition against any possible failure.

Upon arrival at Nome, on July 14, found but two ships with hulls of sufficient strength to buck through the ice packs. One of these, the Gladiator, was hauled up on the beach, and after a thorough examina-tion it was found she could not be repaired in time. The other one, the Donaldson, a very staunch craft of 74 tons burden, had only a 4 horsepowe engine, which would not furnish suf-ficient power, so I had one engine replaced by a new 65 Acme engine.

Eskimos Fear Venture. Yesterday, after the engineers had finished tuning up the engines, the Donaldson, on a trial trip, made a speed of ten knots per hour. I have engaged Ludwin Hanson, who has sailed the Arctic seas for the last 40 years, as captain, and Hans Olsen, pioneer Arctic whaler, as mate; C. H. Wells of Nome, second mate, and Joseph Earl and Jack Williams, experienced mechanics, for engineers. I have had considerable difficulty in securing a crew of Eskimos, as mer fear that we will be caught or crushed in the ice and carried off by the pack, and to make matters worse, that night, while loading cargo from the lighter to the Donaldson, two of my Eskimos were disabled, one with a smashed foot, the other with a sprained wrist. Whereupon the entire Eskimo crew refused to sail. However, as I had already made arrangements with others to cover such a contingency, this has not seriously affected my plans.

The London Times of England, known in newspaper tradition as the mos, influential journal in the world, had, in 1848, a Canadian namesake that measured close to the high standard of journalism set by the great British daily.

Critics who deplore the amount of verbiage expended in the Canadian houses of parliament will be aggrieved to lear hat one of the big questions of 1848 was in connection with the "longwindedness" of Canadian statesmen.

A two-column editorial adorns the front page of the Times denouncing rigorously the practice of making

Wars and worries of every variety ssailed the people of the earth at that time. Germany was in a state of siege in 1848; the Mormon Church was the subject of bitter controversy; ireland was said to be starving, and cholera afflicted many parts of Europe. About the only big local "story" was the death of the provincial parliament carpenter in London. He fell off a scaffolding and apparently broke his neck. This was considered a most unfortunate occur rence and the ministers talked of poroguing parliament for a time. Letters to "ye editor" were numer-ous, and most of them were written in the verbose, so-called "cultured" English of the time. Sheriff notices occupied three columns of the front page and advertisements for rags were legion. One interesting "ad" calls to notice the publication of "Dombey & Son" by Charles Dickens, then at the height of his fame. The advertisement said the book was hot most complete and last volume. Port Stanley mills always inserted flour advertisement, and in one Mr Beecher announced that the property belonging to the Earl of Mount Cashel, called the Lobo farm, was available to rent. Robert Jones opened a stock broker's office on King street, opposite the Great Western Railroad office, and solicited the patronage of local investors. News a Month Old. The Times was evidently strong for giving the Mormons fair play. It ran a long vindication of the Mormon

E. E. Reid's home stands at the top of Talbot street overlooking the river in the direction of the setting sun. Mr. Reid is a hospitable citizen and his home knows many a guest. But are few, compared with the guests who invade his tennis courts below on the flats. For Mr. Reid has made tennis his hobby.

Not only has he two splendid cinder and clay courts located here, but near at the river's edge is the finest little brown shingle tennis house equipped with showers and dressing

The property, of course, is private, but so generous has Mr. Reid been that during the past ten years his courts have been the rendezvous of many of the best tennis players in the city, not to mention numbers of beginners, who received their first lessons in the game there. Indeed, some of London's finest tennis players of today were educated in game on Mr. Reid's courts, which championship game during the las

It was Mr. Puddicombe who enthused him and helped him build his courts. And they actually built them by their own physical effort. He believes that the way to get most enjoyment out of a game of tennis is to follow it up with a shower and change of clothing. Before he began to play tennis ten years ago, Mr. Reid admits that he used to complain about the heat of the summer. Now that he plays tennis he no longer feels the heat, and he has become a believer in the saying—the hotter the day the it up with a shower and change of the saying-the hotter the day the

REVIEW AND OUTLOOK.

The outstanding incidents in the financial situation today were the active buying in the best grade of investment railway bonds, another extraordinary showing in the weekly figures on freight car loadings, and the heavy reduction of unfilled orders reported for the last month by the United States Steel Corporation.

More interest was taken in these occurrences than in the stock market, which was a dull and listless affair, or in the commodity markets, where grain prices changed very little, and where a further moderate reaction took place in cotton.

All records were once more broken.

All records were once more broken week ending July 28 the total was 1,041,044 cars, which exceeded by 18 per cent the previous high of the week preceding. That the movement of treight over the railroads is the largest to the history of the country is unmistreignt over the railroads is the largest in the history of the country is unmis-takably the most reassuring fact in the present business situation. It is the hardest thing of all for the pessimist thing of all lot to explain.

The American Railway Association alled attention to the fact that the increase in the last week of June was not due to the fact of a larger grain traffic, but a larger traffic in merchan-lise and manufactured products as well. Precisely the same thing was said about the third week in July as compared with the second. The conclusion about the third week in July as com-pared with the second. The conclusion follows that general business as measfollows that general business than died by the amount of freight handled by the carriers has been increasing steadily since the middle of last month. by the carriers has been increasing steadily since the middle of last month. The Steel Corporation figures were in line with expectations. The reduction of 475,398 tons in unfilled orders during July compared with a decrease of 355,090 in June. To some slight extent the smaller last month was due to smaller shipments from the mills, but more largely it represented the picking up in new business. Some disappointment was experssed because the report did not show this revival in incoming orders to be greater. But the improvement did not really set in until the last week in July and hence had no chance to be shown much in the tonnage record. The probability is that a further falling off will occur this month, but that it will be much less than for the two months preceding. September, there is reason to expect, will show new bookings again raised to the level of current production.

Although trade was dull, and prices were unchanged to slightly lower, it is probable that everything but 200 or 300 common cattle, mostly westerns, will be cleaned up. There is a steady demand for choice butcher cattle at $6.50 to $7, and some of the common cattle were bought at $3 to $4.50 for stockers and feeders, but buyers do not want them, and the price may be yet lower.

There were only 35 calves in the market today, and they sold steady at about $10.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—With but 150 cattle, eight sheep and lambs, 486 hogs and 108 calves for sale on the two markets this morning most sales were made in small lots at prices level with earlier in the week. Very few cattle were weighed up before 10 o'clock. Common to medium dairy type cows were quoted at from $2.25 to $3.50; common thin bulls from $2.25 up. Calves sold steady, and $8.50 was paid for one lot of good quality milk-fed veals of good weights. Other medium to fairly good weights. Other medium to fairly good weals were quoted at from $7 to $7.75, and common calves around $6. Grassers were from $3 to $3.50, with heavier ones a shade better. The few sheep and lambs sold at yesterday's level and straight lots of lightweight selects and shop hogs, mixed, sold to local butchers at from $10 to $10.25. Packers quoted prices up to $10 for which smooths and $11 for selects.

Nature's Own Power for Industry

That the economical development of our vast natural resources depends largely upon the harnessing of our water powers has been amply demonstrated. The splendid success achieved by Hydro-Electric Companies shows conclusively that they have met a great national need, and their steady growth in volume of business and carnings makes their Securities particularly attractive from an Investment standpoint.

Water Power Companies' Securities Offer all the Elements of a Sound Investment

No business rests upon a more secure foundation than a favorably located Water Power Company. There is no coal to mine, no long hauls of fuel, it requires less labor to operate; the product is sold upon practically a cash basis, and there is always dependable demand whether times be good feeling"! And she is spreading it, too.

We have prepared an interesting Booklet on Hydro-Electric Securities. A copy will be mailed on request.

Do as she does. Every morning tip into your breakfast cup of coffee or tea a pinch of Kruschen Salts—just enough of the magic powder to cover a 10 cent piece. Kruschen contains just the six salts your body needs to keep it healthy. If you lived an ideal life in the open air, getting plenty of exercise and avoiding all errors of diet, never knowing what worry or overwork meant, you would naturally extract the Kruschen less, depressed.

You owe it to yourself to start the Kruschen habit of health at once. Start taking that tasteless little dose in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea every morning, and you will soon feel a different person. The colour will return to your cheeks, the brightness to your eyes; you will be healthier and happier in every way.

Every day you take Kruschen Salts is a cheery day gained. Start the habit now.

WANT AD TIPS

Your Friends---The Boys and Girls If 'you visit a neighborhood grocery store often, a fact likely to force itself on your attention is the large number of purchases made by boys and girls. Mother needs something suddenly. The neighborhood store is handy, and so is a youngster. An opportune combination! Mother knows from experience that Son or Daughter will be well treated at the

Good neighborhood grocers realize what a help in their business the boys and girls are. They give no one better

I know of many Want advertisers who, by treating youngsters unusually well, make the latter very valuable in

A certain shoe repair man puts in his Want Ad: "Free candy for boys and girls who bring shoes." His is a popular cobbler shop! During the fruit season, nearly any close-in orchardist can turn to advantage the boy and girl labor of the community. Every town is full of families eager to save money. In some of these families, the older ones are too busy to visit the orchard themselves. This in a Want Ad: "Send the boys and girls-they will be treated well' is a hint that many will heed.

Selling fruit on the vine or the tree, the customer doing the picking, is a fast-spreading Want Ad plan. The orchardist saves cost of picking labor and cost of containers, while customers make big savings, too. Children are excellent pickers. Best prospects for sales are families with growing children. So expressions like this in Want Ads: "Nice, clean picking for children' -will help the advertiser to success. . And there is still another angle to this subject of boys and girls-your own youngsters. Many Want Ad users have their children deliyer to customers for them. (All Rights Reserved)

BLACK KNIGHTS PLAN

Trip to Sarnia On Monday.

Next Sunday is Derry Day, the aniversary of the raising of the siege of the old city in the north of Ireland by the troops under the Prince of Orange. Aug. 12 is the day which is always commemorated by the Royal Black Knights of the Orange Order, in contrast to the celebration of July 12 by the order in general. On Sunday next the Black Preceptories of London and the County of Middlesex will attend a great church parade at Cronyn Memorial Church

The four city preceptories of the order, Covenant, Inniskilling, King Solomon and Langemarck, together solomon and Langemarck; together with the ten county preceptories, will join in the procession. On Monday following they will go to Sarnia to take part in the Western Ontario gathering, and are expecting to have just as enjoyable a day as the full order had when they went to Chat-ham on July 12. The times are thrill-ing ones in the affairs of the Orange order all the world over. The great triennial council just held in Winnipeg, at which J. W. Carson, the county master, was the district representative, was the most important in all the long history of these councils, and gave new life and energy to the work of Orangemen throughout the country.

Derry Day on Sunday is the last opportunity in 1923 for the order to parade, and a large turnout of the Black Knights is expected. The full comparements for the day and for the arrangements for the day and for the service have not yet been completed, but will be announced in the course of the next two days. The Sarnia trip on Monday is the culmination of a long year of hard work by the officers of the order in the district.

ALD. HAYDEN MAY RUN MOONLIGHT AQUATICS

Swords With Ald. W. A. Wilson.

It would appear that Ald. William A. Wilson deplores the passing of the days of 1921, when he was chairman of the board of works and "every manjack" of that committee was a real live alderman. Ald. Wilson doesn't think much of the 1923 squad. What has been done this year?" he thunders. "This is the poorest board of works the city ever knew."
"But what has Ald. Wilson ever done?" is the query today from Ald. Edmund Hayden, member of that committee. "I understand that in 1921, when he was chairman of the works committee, he moved that the city engineer's salary be increased $1,000. Has he ever done anything else but raise disturbances? I've had a look through the minutes and I fail to note any outstanding achieve-ments chalked up to Ald. Wilson's

Ald. Hayden regrets that Ald. Wilson does not run in wand four, where, he says, he would receive a real trim-ming next December if he allows his name to go before the electors.
"The people of ward two may be quite satisfied with Ald. Wilson, but his vote in ward four wouldn't represent, a corporal's guard," concluded Ald. Hayden, adding that he may even feel impelled to run in ward two himself at the next election
