Bombers Swamp Swamp Rats

By Willie Davies

Bomber fullback Logie.....

The U.N.B. Red bombers finally got revenge on Gus MacFarlane's Mount A Mounties in the first home game of the 1964 football season. College Field was crowded to capacity as the Red Bombers rolled over the overrated Mounties.

PALOV ROMPS

Early in the first quarter, Dan Palov split the Mounties defense on an 82 yard romp to score the Bomber's first major. Cote's convert attempt went wide. Throughout the remainder of the quarter both teams played conservative ground games.

Mount Allison came back strong in the second quarter with James bulling over from the three to culminate a short drive. Again the convert attempt was wide. U.N.B. again scored as Labbe barreled into the end zone to rouge Glen. The Mounties came back with a strong genial attack ending in a 22 yard pass from Norcott to McLernon for a major. The Mounties second convert attempted was wide. At half time the Mounties led 12-7.

BEGAN TO CRACK

On the first sequence of plays in the third quarter the Bombers drove into paydirt only to have the touchdown nullified by a technicality involving sweater numbers Mt. "A" took over and moved the ball downfield where they were forced to give up the ball on downs. U.N.B. mounting a good ground offensive drove steadily downfield scoring again as Palov scampered over from the five. Cote booted the convert to give the Bombers a 14-12 lead.

TAKE COMMAND

After an exchange of punts the Bomber's again took over the ball and with the inside running of Logie and Lynch moved the ball to the Mount (Continued on Page 5)

FROSH WEEK COSTS $2000

Frosh Week cost U. N. B. students almost $2,000.00, 1st V.P. Gord Betts told the S.R.C. Monday night. Exact figures are not yet available, but Mr. Betts put the costs at roughly $2800 for Stan Wilson $2900 for Handbook, beanies, buttons and other expenses. Income included $2000 from the sale of FroshKits, and $1700 from Stan Wilson tickets. Even though the program was bigger and more elaborate than ever, the cost figure is comparable to last year's he said. Both he and Mr. Jeremy Gadd, President of the Sophomore Class, received Council's official thanks for their work, as did Handbook Editor's Brian Malone and Peggy Blair, Entertainment Chairman Brian Copeland, and the Honour Society.

Presidential Power Push

The Brunswickan editor was informed to-day of the resignation of Valerie Marchant, editor of the Argosy at Mount Allison University, Sackville, due to administrative interference on the part of Dr. Cragg, President of the University.

Two editorials appeared in the first 1964 edition of the Argosy. One was Miss Marchant's resignation. The other entitled, "The Argosy As It May Have Been" stated the paper's policy for the forthcoming year, and included the resignation of the remainder of the editor board. This editorial was signed by the editors involved.

Miss Marchant said that pressures by the Administration, however subtle, were responsible for her resignation. Dr. David Cook, the Faculty Advisor, has been instructed to read all copy before it went to the President.

The issue which forced Miss

Marchant's action involved direct censorship by Dr. Cragg of a posthumous tribute to be printed in the Argosy to Marjorie Young Bell, late wife of Mount Allison Chancellor, Dr. Bell. Dr. Cragg felt that the tribute jeopardized a 5 1/2 million dollar gift to the university on the part of Dr. Bell in memory of his wife. Dr. Cragg completely oversaw the revision of the printed copy.

Dr. Cragg has refuted all accusations, but some sources claim that he stated that the Argosy should be a "University paper rather than a student paper," thus becoming an organ of the administration.

To-day the Argosy is dead. Until the issue can be straightened out, the Mount Allison students are without a newspaper.

MERIDETH

LAGOS, Nigeria (CUP-CPS)--James Meredith, the U. S. Negro who two years ago broke the colour bar at the University of Mississippi, has started a three year graduate program at Ibadan University here.

Meredith hopes to complete a book dealing with his experiences at "Ole Miss" before leaving Nigeria.

Frosh Queen

A 17 year-old co-ed from Mount Royal, Que., Miss Susan Kinnear, was crowned Queen of the Freshman Class at the University of New Brunswick in ceremonies Thursday night.

Her coronation at the Freshman Ball followed the annual freshman banquet there, marking the end of orientation week for new students 'up the hill'.

Miss Joan Kelly of Kingston, Ont., last year's reigning queen, placed the sparkling crown on the head of her successor. Miss Kinnear, who is in physical education at UNB, is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. E. F. C. Kinnear, 563 Aigonquin Ave., Mount Royal. She is a graduate of Netherwood School.

Budget Notice

The proposed Budget meeting of the S.R.C. for the fall term will be held at 1:00 p.m. Sunday, October 4, in the Tartan Room of the Student Centre. All persons applying for funds must have a representative at this meeting if their budget is to be considered.

Treasurer.

REGINA CHARGES

REGINA (CUP) -- Students Council at the University of Saskatchewan, Regina campus, has accused a Conservative MP of attempting to interfere with the university's academic freedom.

In a statement released Thursday, (September 24) the Regina council took issue with Kenneth More MP for Regina City, for calling on the federal government to give assurances that a Russian professor lecturing at the Regina Campus would not spread communist ideology.

The Regina council statement concluded, "In an age when Canada is trying to promote international understanding and peace such reactionary fears about people from foreign countries which go as far as questioning their freedom are most unfortunate and regrettable.

A representative of the World University Service of Canada, to which Council gave over $2000 last year, spoke to the meeting about WUSC activities. These include a scholarship program (UNB has the only WUSC scholars in the Maritimes), and aid to student organizations in other countries. The Treasure Van grossed $2300 here in 63-64, with profits helping to pay administrative costs of WSUC programs.

Details of SRC co-operation with the Student Government of St. Thomas remain unsettled. Informal discussions held last year did not result in any definite agreement. While St. Thomas wants to participate in UNB campus activities, they have not agreed either to contribute any fixed amount to the SRC Budget, or to pay the $10.00 Student Building Levy which the UNB students for the first time this year. The Council asked President Preston Thom to look into the matter and report back.

Students at UNB paid more than $60,000. in SRC fees this year (including $20,000 for the Student Building). Council will start the work of dividing this record sum at the Preliminary Fall Budget Meeting, this Sunday afternoon at 1:00 p.m. in the Tartan Room of the Student Centre. The proposed Budget will appear in next week's Brunswickian, then be debated again by the SRC. All meetings are open to any UNB student.

FAMINE LIFTS AT COLLEGE FIELD

The cheerleaders cheered. The students yelled. The goat ate grass unconcerned.
 The Swampies watched, wept, and went.
 Gus ate his cigar.
 As the sun set over College Field the litter of programs blew aimlessly across the coliseum.
 The Bombers had swamped the Mounties for the first time in five years. The score was 28-13.
 This tribute is to a great football effort. The U.N.B. team looked as though they might collapse after a touchdown was called back in the third quarter. They did not. They were hungry... hungrier than their opponents. They won.
 They not only won... they established themselves as a fighting football team.
 The students are proud and happy. The team is happier. They deserve to be happy. They won a great victory with a great effort.

PERFORMER HAILED

Stan Wilson came to town. Then he left. In the meantime he made many friends, and captured the hearts of all who had the privilege of hearing him.
 The prospects looked bleak. Ticket sales were slow. Then the Frosh heard him. They spread the good word... ticket sales soared.
 Stan sang... and sang... and sang. The audience applauded. Then they rose to applaud. UNB's adopted son had taken the campus into his arms, and pampered them with one of the most alluring displays of folk singing to be heard in many years.
 The applause rose about as high for Lenin Castro who accompanied Stan with his guitar; adding his own flamenco solo. A superb performance.

HONOUR SOCIETY

Honour Society, where are you? When are you? Why are you?
 Or is it called Corona?
 Last year a committee of students and professors chose a group of people to represent the student body, or something. Little was known about what the Honour kids were supposed to be doing... less is known now.
 Let's go, Council... how about Corona at the first meeting. Or is it Honour Society?
 We will have a reporter there.

FILIBUSTER MEETINGS

The select few who have made it to the meetings of our Council could be the last to witness the sit-a-thons.
 If you thought Ben Hur was a little much to sit through, past council meetings could create rump-blisters that Old Ben never dreamed possible. And they don't even sell pop-corn in the Tartan Room.
 Council has perhaps found a solution to this problem by appointing a chairman. Ross Webster will be the man on the throne.

"A Co-ed's Conversation"

"Darling, now that everyone has left, we can go to bed."
 "That's the nice thing about moving into the apartment... we're going to have so much more privacy and freedom than we had before. We've known each other an awfully long time, and it's going to be better for us now. I don't know what I would do if I didn't have you to talk to, and to hold in my arms when I want you."
 "You know, a lot of people wouldn't understand our relationship. I've heard some snide comments to the effect that my feelings for you are immature... some joke, eh? What really burned me up, though, was a crack about your colour... as if it made any difference..."
 "My mother didn't mind about us at all in the beginning... but lately she's been hinting that it has gone on too long. She would far rather I spend more time with some competitors for my favours... which leads me to doubt whether a mother's wisdom is what it's cracked up to be. Besides, if it boils down to a matter of preference, I'd rather curl up in my bed with you than any one of them."

MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

P. C. Kelly, Director of Athletics

On behalf of members of the athletics department allow me to welcome you to take part in some phase of our program. We at the University of New Brunswick are blessed with a fine athletic plant; much of which was made possible through the thoughtfulness and generosity of our late Chancellor, Lord Beaverbrook.

We trust you will find time to support your varsity teams by attending a number of these events, but above all we hope and strongly advise you take part in one or more of our intramural or recreational activities. Your time should be carefully budgetted with consideration given your physical well being.

Our fall program must start immediately to take advantage of the fine weather for our outdoor activities, so make it a point to enter your name immediately in an activity of your choice. Your class and residence has an athletic representative, so make it a point to advise him of your interest. Information on the various activities will be found elsewhere on these pages. Should further information be required please contact the athletics department in the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium.

With the increased numbers on our campus the facilities will at times be taxed beyond their capacity, particularly during the winter season. Tight scheduling will be experienced, but do not let this discourage you from participating. Plans for increasing our plant are now being considered and it is hoped they will be realized in the near future.

Best wishes for a happy and successful year.

"We've spent a good many nights together, but this is the first time that we've had a place we could really call our own. I really am a lucky girl. And a little bit relieved, too... Some of the girls last year would have tried to take you away from me if they had had half a chance. Let them take care of themselves. I've got you and I'm going to keep you. And I'm not ashamed of you, either... like some of them are. I'm not going to advertise it about us, mind you, but if I want you with me that's that and why should I be ashamed."

"Well, I think it's about time we hit the hay... it's been a long day. I want to take a bath first, though... why don't you come sit and watch. Say, do you know that you're losing an ear? Just a minute until I get a needle and thread..."

DAN SCANS

TO TELL THE TRUTH
 by DAN MERSICH

Much speculation, but surprisingly little research has gone into the humorous, if not intriguing question of just how long it takes a young lady to prepare for a social engagement. Clearly then, this should, and now has been done. The women who volunteered are three U.N.B. co-eds, who pooled their dressing routines to give a reasonable cross section of what is involved. For my own part, I was simply an observer, as it were.

The format of the experiment was very simple. How does one prepare for a date with (a) the man of her life (b) an excuse to be seen, the former of which was dealt with first.

- Time in minutes
- 0 mins. hang up phone
 - 12 cigarette to calm nerves
 - 20 put hair up in curlers
 - 15 bath, and apply deodorant
 - 5 removal of nicotine stains from fingers
 - 10 search for pair of nylons with no runs below the knees
 - 15 considerable thought as to attire, marked by mad rummaging through closet
 - 20 lingerie experimentation - "which girdle pulls in the most, and which bra pushes up and out the most" enquire
 - 15 make up
 - 15 dress
 - (a) 3 "girdle struggle"
 - (b) 2 "bra struggle"
 - (c) 8 put on nylons; test for smoothness; remove nylons; shave legs; replace nylons
 - (d) 2 remove curlers; perfume behind ears, on wrists and behind knees.
 - 10 hair-do
 - 5 whisk clothes and wait with eager anticipation.

147 minutes.

Having dealt with preparations for the "heart-throb" we now move on to the "excuse".

- Time in minutes
- 0 hang up the phone
 - 5 bath
 - 5 dress in previous day's class apparel and apply cologne behind the ears.

Needless to say, the difference is obvious; however a curious male is able to assess his position with complete accuracy to the fact that in the first case perfume is applied behind the knees, whereas this is not so in the second case; but it is not the purpose of this article to suggest how one is able to determine whether or not his fairest is sporting perfume behind her knees. The author only wishes to get the facts and report them to the reader.

Help Wanted

The TARGPR research program which is intended to provide assistance to Canada's thalidomide victims and to amputees and paraplegics generally, is dependant upon voluntary participation by student subjects. During the past two years the enthusiastic cooperation of some fifty UNB students and several student nurses from VPH has been responsible for considerable progress. This year, due to the lack of space, the project has been forced to move off campus. Also, the experimental work is more involved. Consequently, subjects must be available for at least three consecutive hours each week.

If YOU have a free morning or afternoon, please give serious consideration to this appeal for help. Those interested should telephone or visit Professor Scott, Room 221, Engineering Building at once - the work is scheduled to begin October 5th.

R. N. Scott,
President.

COMPUTERS & EDUCATION

K-Computers and Education ITHICA, N.Y. (CUP-CPS) - . . . The computer may soon make dramatic changes in the mechanics of university education.

Dial - a - lecture, a service which will allow students to dial by telephone lectures they missed or want to hear again, will begin next year at Ithica College.

Beginning in September '65, all lectures to 30 or more students will be tape recorded and filed at the college's electronics communication centre. A student wishing to hear the lecture will dial the code number on the telephone linking his dormitory room with the centre.

At Michigan State University, a computer is involved in the student counseling service.

The machine is programmed to scan the records of some 14,000 freshmen and sophomores to find those who might be headed for academic difficulty. Students selected by the computer are called in for a session with a member of the counseling staff.

In a matter of hours, the computer can obtain academic profiles that formerly employed secretaries for weeks.

Look, Look. Stan is smiling. Lenin is smiling. Smile, smile. The students smiled. They applauded. Stan and Len were great.

STAN WILSON RECEIVES OVATION

It was a third victory for folk-singer Stan Wilson when he performed for U.N.B. students last weekend. Stan and his partner Lenin Castro performed on both Friday and Saturday nights with a varied repertoire of western, calypso and contemporary folk music including such songs as "Jane, Jane, Jane" which was composed by Stan Wilson, "The Wreck of the John B." and "High Noon". On his Saturday night performances he sang several U.N.B. favorites like "Kitch", "John Henry" and "Mariah".

Stan, who wins his followers as much by his warm personality and humour as by his magnificent voice, lived up to his reputation without a doubt. Lenin Castro proved himself much more than a fine accompanist with several flamenco guitar solos, a new listening experience for many, but remarkably received.

It is easy to see why Stan and his partner find such a ready reception in university, for they are performers who reach their audience on a personal level. A dynamic performer with a relaxed air, Stan can present original material in a familiar way or familiar material in an original way. A Stan Wilson original which brought much laughter was "K T 22", an epic of his one and only skiing adventure on the famous Squaw Valley slope. In a similar vein, he delighted his audience Saturday night with "Monana", a comic look at U.N.B. If this performance is any indication of the others planned by the Entertainment Committee of the S.R.C., it should be a red-letter year for U.N.B.

INTERVIEW WITH CANTOR

Paul Cantor was in a position which some of us will find ourselves in the near future. He had a B.A. from the University of Alberta, and a new job in managerial training with Eaton's of Canada in Toronto. However, he never started the job.

The Saturday before his first week was to have begun, he received a call asking him to take the position of an Assistant Secretary to the General Secretary of the World University Service of Canada, with which he had been associated in his undergraduate days. He started on Sunday, and has been on the go for five months since.

Paul believes in the World University Service. The organization has branches in more than fifty countries with the Central Secretariat in Geneva. The General Assembly meets annually. Since it is well organized, projects can be administered efficiently.

The motto of W. U. S. C., which is "to promote more university solidarity", is not an inconcrete ideal, but is being actively followed. Monetary assistance is given when needed, to help set up student clinics; repair university buildings; and start student supply co-operatives. For example, W. U. S. C., in conjunction with other organizations, sponsors many travelling scholars. These plans, cannot help but make the student feel more that he is a member of an international university community, and therefore he acts accordingly.

This is Paul's first visit to the Maritimes, and he thinks that on the whole, students do not feel disassociated from events concerning other countries as do their counterparts in Western Canada. He thinks that Dave Tilson, W. U. S. C. chairman at U.N.B. has many new and practical ideas, and with support from students and faculty could help the organization and ourselves as students a great deal.

At the present time, Paul's

GORDON ANSWERS LOAN PLAN CHARGES

OTTAWA (CUP) -A charge that the interest on loans acquired under the Canada Student Loan Act would amount to more than the advertised 5% per cent, was denied in the House of Commons Thursday (September 24) by Finance Minister Walter Gordon.

Mr. Gordon was asked by the opposition to explain an article in the Toronto Globe and Mail which claimed that according to examples in the government loan plan brochure, interest on loans would range from 7.6 to 10.4 per cent.

The writer of the article, a student at the University of Toronto, accused the government of setting up the plan so that the banks could charge interest on the entire amount of the loan until it was finally repaid. The writer quoted a university official as saying the student loan plan "will bonanza to the banks: ncmfwy b student loan plan "will be a bonanza to the banks."

Mr. Gordon told the commons that the accusations in the article were based on an misunderstanding of the terms of repayment. One example in the brochure shows a loan of $1,000 repayable at $21 a month over five years. But he pointed out, the five years does not include 60 monthly payments. Under the terms of the plan, as they are explained in the brochure, the student need not begin repayment until six months following graduation. As a result, 54 monthly payments not 60 would be required in the five year period. Fifty-four payments of $21 works out to exactly 5% per cent interest.

Former Conservative agricultural minister Alvin Hamilton asked Mr. Gordon to comment on charges that students who do not need financial assistance are using the student loan money for other purposes.

Mr. Gordon said that the administration of the plan is in provincial hands. It is the responsibility of the provincial authorities to determine the financial need of applicants. He admitted that the plan was instituted in a hurry and that perhaps the forms were not as complete as they might be.

The government has been in continual communication with the provinces concerning the administration of the plan, he said.

The writer of the article in the Globe and Mail criticized the Pearson government for not fulfilling its 1962 campaign promise to offer 10,000 $1,000 scholarships a year to Canadian university students.

A spokesman in Mr. Gordon's office said Thursday, Sept. 24, that the promise of scholarships had been only one of three campaign pledges in the field of aid to education. He said two have been fulfilled; the student loan plan, and the extension of family allowances for children 16 to 17 years old.

He said the government promised to take these measures during the life of the current parliament.

"That parliament is not yet over", he said.

RED STICKS HOST MONCTON SATURDAY

The U.N.B. Redsticks, defending Maritime Intercollegiate Field Hockey Champions, began practice sessions last week at College Field with twenty-eight hopeful coeds seeking berths on the team. Coach Lorraine Gardiner is putting the girls through a stiff conditioning program, along with training in the basic fundamentals of the game in order to get the team in shape for the Maritime Trials to be held at Mount Allison University on October 3rd. At these trials, a team will be chosen to represent the Maritimes in competition with teams from other parts of Canada.

Nine returns are out practicing - Elden Shapiro, Pat Martin, Anthea Allen, Alexa LeCris, Claire Gray, Joanne Taylor, Janet Skelton, Sandy Phinney, and Janet Hepburn. Along with about twelve enthusiastic freshettes and six or seven upper classmen, they will give Miss Gardiner a fine group from which to select a fairly strong team.

U.N.B. students will have their first chance to see the Redsticks in action when they host the Moncton High School girls on Tuesday afternoon, October 6, at 5:30 P.M. Their first Intercollegiate games are on Saturday, October 10, when the University of Kings College is here at 10:30 A.M.; and on Monday, October 12, when they play host to the powerful Mount Allison University team at 3:30 P.M.

REDSHIRTS SHOW POTENTIAL

The U.N.B. "Red Shirts", the Men's Varsity Soccer team, have nine payers back on Campus this year: Sam Gachie, Son Searles, Francis Wanjecki, Gary Dupereault, Andy MacDonald, Billy Greenough, Ray Mambert, Jack Drover and goalie Bob Sherry. Brian Bunner having played his four years of Varsity is taking the role of Manager of this year's team. Dennis Furlong, starry outside left of the Red Shirts is back but might not try out because of a leg injury suffered in summer-time action.

Twenty-five to thirty candidates have been turning out with the team and rumour has it that we will have a fast and experienced squad representing the college.

TENNIS HOPES BRIGHT

Early results in the U. N. B. intramural tennis tournament tend to indicate U. N. B. will again be hard to beat in M. I. A. A. championships. Former M. I. A. A. champion Bill Redden has made a sweep of his seven matches to date. Austin Duquette, who last year teamed-up with Bob Piers to take the M. I. A. A. doubles championship, won six straight matches before dropping a 9 - 5 decision to Redden. Third place thus far in the tournament belongs to Gord Campbell with a 5 - 2 record. Newcomer Levell Huggen of Charlottetown is next in line with 4 wins and 3 losses. Other players include Stan Kilbride 3 and 4, Eric Delisle of St. Thomas 1 - 5; Rich Lindo 1 - 5, and John Egan 0 - 6.

SWAMP RATS

Bomber touchdown. Cote's onversion gave U.N.B. a 21-12 lead. Mount Allison's neat drive was again stalled but Cunningham was rouged on Doyle's kick for a single. Late in the fourth quarter, rookie

SWIM TEAM BEGINS PRACTICES

Despite a good record the UNB swim team must look to a bleak future unless we can recruit swimmers, male and female, to fill the gaps left by last years graduates. With three, possibly four meets, before Christmas, we need swimmers.

This is a sport that demands a minimum of time but offers a maximum of reward. We would also like to stress that experience in competitive swimming is not required.

If you are interested please contact one of the following people:

Coach - Amy Legere, GYM
Men's Team Captain - Bob Jack, 311 LBR
Ladies' Team Captain - Janet Skelton, 341 LDH
Post-Grad Team Captain - Don Sawyer, 116 Aitken

quarterback Paul Courtice led the Bombers to their final major, scoring himself from the two yard line. The convert was again good to make the final score U.N.B. 28, Mount "A" 13.

Summary

The Bombers showed their best football in years during Saturday's game. The running backs performed extremely well complemented by a strong charging line. The defensive line and secondary had a very good afternoon holding the Mounties to short yardage. For the Bombers there were many stars but standout performances were turned in by Palov, Lajeunesse, Labbe and Malnerich.

The Mounties displayed a fine roll out passing game to aid their faltering ground attack. Top ground gainers for Mount "A" were Campbell and James. Norcott threw fairly effectively with Dave McLernon his main receiver.

CARLOS MONTOYA IN CONCERT

Even if you're not a gypsy, an evening with Carlos Montoya is a memorable experience.

The UNB Creative Arts Committee is bringing the world's foremost flamenco guitarist to the campus Tuesday, October 6, and every student is admitted free.

Montoya will play Tuesday, Oct. 6, beginning at 8:15 p.m. in the Playhouse. Tickets will be available at Dean Grant's Office, McConnell Hall, Thursday, Oct. 1, and after. This performance is public and attracts the largest student body ever on campus, so pick up your tickets early.

When Montoya played in Ottawa a short time ago, chairs had to be placed on the stage, surrounding the artist, to take care of the overflow audience. Seats are expected to be just as scarce in Fredericton.
