EDITORIAL

On behalf of the Brunswickan Editorial Board and Staff I would like to welcome all freshmen to UNB and wish you luck in your first year. As first year students you may not be familiar with The Brunswickan, it is a paper produced by students for students. You can be sure to see it on the stands every Friday once classes start.

I strongly encourage anybody who is interested in getting involved to come and see us, there's always a job to do no matter how little experience you have. Besides, the more staff we have the less work I have to do and that puts me that much further from the dreaded nervous breakdown that I am expecting.

Its time to get good, Marks

INTRO: Here is the propaganda piece you asked for so that you'd get more staff - more writers ... like me, (heh! heh!)

by Steven Marks

The sun rose optimistically over the red brick campus as another frosh week dawned over the majestic institution of higher learning and uh ... partying?

It was about this time last year that I first ventured warily into the offices of the Brunswickan, Canada's oldest official student publication.

I didn't know what to expect. Now look at me:

I'm the president of a country, I've been on free trips to Chicago, Belize, Toronto, Montreal, Rwanda, Siberia (Calgary), Moscow, and more. Unbelievable eh?!

Plus ... I started a revolution, stopped one, played in the NFL, uncovered government secrets, was taken hostage, had people try to kill me, bought several helicopters, crashed a plane, played for the Montreal Canadiens, went in the Olympics, and lots more things too numerous to mention.

And all because of the Bruns. Oh yeah! I also learned about journalistic integrity, good writing skills ... and stuff ...

Now that I'm a senior reporter, with a little experience under my belt, I might get better stories.

THE END

The Freshman's Guide to UNB Orientation

Toga! Toga! Toga!

Where: McConnell Hall
When: September 6
9pm - 1am

Take a sheet, any sheet, and wrap it around yourself, covering only what is necessary, and come on out to the first event of the most exciting two weeks of your life!

Yes, that's right! An Ancient Roman Toga Party will begin the Orientation festivities. Be creative and ingenious and design the most unique, the most daring, the tackiest or the sexiest toga on the face of the earth! There is no right way to make a toga so don't worry about wrapping that sheet around yourself "properly." Just wear it so it feels comfortable and you'll fit right in. If you've got a flag hanging in your room, wear that, or if your mom sent you to university with lovely new flowered sheets, wear them! The wackier, the better.

If you're really into "dressing up" maybe you could win

Orientation's most coveted prize: be Antony (if you're a guy) or Cleopatra (if you're a girl) for the evening. Antony and Cleopatra sit on thrones and feed each other grapes and other goodies. They also win lots of fabulous prizes!

Obviously, the Toga Party is an event you cannot miss. So don't!

Adventure Day

Where: Buchanan Field
(bottom of the hill)
When: September 7
1pm - 4:30pm

If you happen to walk by UNB's Buchanan Field on the afternoon of Wednesday, September 7, you will see a multitude of people scurrying about! No, they are not psychotic students... it's another fabulous Orientation event. It's Adventure Day, complete with a water balloon toss, an inner tube slalom, and a jello jump!

What could be more fun than an afternoon of goofy games and rowdy races? Don't worry if you're not athletically inclined, you only need to have an open mind and a sense of adventure and imagination. Take the earth-ball game, for example. Last year one team was so intent on winning, they developed an intricate strategy - pulling down the opposition's shorts!

You will compete with your Frosh group against other groups and their group leaders. Each team comes to Adventure Day dressed differently: some paint their group number on their faces, some wear matching T-shirts, etc.

The whole day will be topped off with a free Adventure Day bar-b-que! Hamburgers, hotdogs, chicken and salad will satisfy the big appetites you will work up during the afternoon. Sound like a good time? It definitely is, but pray that it doesn't rain!!!

Test your luck at Casino Night

Where: SUB cafeteria
When: September 7
9pm - 1am

Step right up and place your bets! Don't be shy, bet high! That is the cry of Orientation's Casino Night dealers encouraging Frosh to gamble away their play money.

Casino Night is a glamorous evening of splendour for gamblers, dancers and socialites alike. For all of you hot-blooded gamblers there will be blackjack tables, betting wheels and dice games to test your luck. With the money you win, you can purchase fabulous prizes at the Casino Shop. Also, two grand prizes will be auctioned off as the finale of this exciting soiree, so you may want to save your bucks to bid!

For those of you who find gambling "not to your taste," there will be dancing to keep you entertained. Quasi-formal attire is a must . . . wear something black!!

So, if you've always wanted to be a Monte Carlo millionaire or a Las Vegas entrepreneur, the Orientation Casino Night is the chance of a lifetime!

Outdoor concert will Rock!

Where: SUB lawn
When: September 8
8pm - Midnight

You are about to witness the highest of the highlights of orientation week. This is the event where you can take it easy, lay back, and enjoy some great tunes in the great outdoors. Every year we try to provide you with a hot new act who are certain to be a top bill of the future. In recent years we have had "The Box", "Spoons", "Haywire", and last year a band called "Drama", who will be making some noise around Canada for years to come.

This year's entertainment will be provided by "Endless Summer" with a tribute to the Beach Boys, an appropriate finale to a very "beachy" summer! So be ready for some good times with all the friends you've made during Orientation week. Don't plan on hitting the sack early, because we want you out there rocking and talking up a storm (minus the rain, of course). Whatever your musical taste, come out and join the party in front of the Student Union Building.

Student Activity Night

Where: The SUB ballroom
(top floor)

When: September 13 & 14
12 noon - 9pm

Student Activity Night, STAN for short, is actually a two-day event that takes place during the first week of classes. It allows university and Fredericton area clubs and organizations the opportunity to display what they have to offer. The participating clubs include faculty societies, sports clubs, the campus newspaper (The Brunswickan) and radio station (CHSR), Orientation, the Fredericton Volunteer Bureau, and many more.

STAN gives both freshmen and upperclassmen a chance to sign up for clubs that interest them. Its main objective is to ensure that all students realize what UNB has to offer in respect to extra-curricular activities. It also helps the clubs on campus attain a larger membership.

This year's Student Activity Night proves to be even bigger and better than last year's, with a growing number of organizations becoming involved. Whether you are "into" drama, soccer or student politics, STAN is your key to making the year an unforgettable one!

Mexican Pinata Party

Where: McConnell Hall
When: September 9th
9am - 1pm

There is no need to save all your pesos to get into this amazing fiesta, just flash your frosh bracelets for the shrottest route to Mexico! This event promises to be the "taco" the town.

Throughout the evening we will present pinatas. Pinatas are decorated containers made of paper mache and filled with all kinds of surprise items. You will have a turn at trying to break the pinatas that are hanging from the roof. Sounds easy? Wrong! It's quite difficult when you're blindfolded! When a pinata does break - be ready, it's finders -keepers!

Proper attire for this fiesta begins with a Mexican sombrero for the hat dances. Tassles dangling from your beannies are even better! For the rest of your costume just think Mexico. Dress in a poncho, a full Spanish skirt, a bullfighter's suit, or your summer shorts! Just make sure that whatever you wear is bright and colourful.

Believe me seniors and senioritas, this is one party you don't want to seista through!!

Frosh Ball

Where: SUB ballroom
When: September 17
9pm - 1am

This event tops off your entire Orientation experience. It gives you, the Freshman class of 1988, a chance to be together in a semi-formal style. The fun and excitement of Orientation 1988 will reach it's peak at this "posh" affair!

If you've never been to a "ball" before, here's what to expect: a live band playing great music, fabulous decorations, refreshments and dancing, dancing, dancing!! The music for this event will be supplied by EXCEL, this band has played UNB events before and has always left us wanting more.

The Frosh King and Queen will be crowned during this special evening and they will receive many fantastic prizes. In addition, the Frosh group that has the highest attendance percentage at all the Orientation events will be announced and rewarded handsomely for it's efforts!

You will also get the chance to see your group leaders in something other than their red committee shirts (if you've ever worn the same shirt for a week you'll know why). They will join in the festivities and dress to the hilt!

Don't miss Orientation '88's last bash! It will be an evening to remember, GUARANTEED!!

Rise and shine to help fight cystic fibrosis

Picture this. Hundreds of UNB freshmen swarming the streets of Fredericton, stopping cars, pedestrians and bicyclists to shine their shoes. Sounds a little crazy doesn't it?! It's not, it's Shinerama.

Shinerama is Canada's largest single charity event among post-secondary students. Organized and executed by students, Shinerama is a nation-wide fundraising drive for Cystic Fibrosis research, and has become an integral part of most orientation programs across the country. How does it work, you ask? Like this: upperclassmen and freshmen canvass the city, shining shoes in return for a donation. UNB Orientation has been a proud participant of Shinerama for 15 years and last year we raised almost $17,000, the largest amount per capita of all participating institutions.

This year Shinerama will be held on Saturday, Sept. 10. The day begins at 7:00 am with a free Shinerama breakfast at the SUB cafeteria. There you will meet all sorts of important people including UNB's CF child, Todd Burgess. And the breakfast is delicious: eggs, bacon, sausage, pancakes and much more! After the breakfast you will be bused to your shining spot along with the rest of your Frosh group to begin campaigning. At noon Orientation leaders will be bringing around free lunches. The campaign continues until 4:00 pm and at that time you will be picked up and brought back to campus for a free bar-b-que! It's an Orientation event you won't want to miss. You will have loads of fun while raising money for a worthwhile and needy cause, Cystic Fibrosis.

CF takes the lives of more Canadian children than any other hereditary disease and at present it is incurable. The disease affects the body's exocrine glands - those secreting tears, sweat, saliva and mucus. The involvement of the respiratory and digestive systems can lead to serious complications. For example, thick glue-like mucus can develop in the lungs, making breathing difficult and creating an ideal environment for infections that often lead to respiratory failure. In the digestive system the thick mucus blocks the flow of pancreatic enzymes necessary for normal digestion, thus causing severe abdominal pains and slowing normal growth. As a result those living with CF must undergo rigorous treatment programs every day just to stay alive. The average lifespan of a CF child is 25 years.

So on Saturday, Sept. 10, give the Breath of Life.

Support Cystic Fibrosis research by joining the Shinerama team.

Become a Shiner!

Support Campaign

When Shinerama first began at UNB, it was a one day program, now 16 years later the program has been expanded to include other events. Not only do students shine shoes on Shinerama Saturday, they also hold car washes. In addition, there are three other Shinerama events you will want to attend: the First Annual Shinerama "Catch the Spirit" Sports Celebration, the Shinerama Extravaganza, and the Second Annual Shinerama Bucket Bonanza.

The Shinerama "Catch the Spirit" Sports Celebration will take place on Sunday, Sept. 11. This is a new event—a soccer game between UNB and Mount Allison University to be held at Chapman Field. But, it will not be a run-of-the-mill soccer game. It will be a huge celebration with a marching band, cheerleaders, parachute jumpers at half-time, door-prizes, contests, and much more! Freshmen, it's your first chance to catch the UNB school spirit!

The Second Annual Shinerama Bucket Bonanza will be held at the Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium on Sunday, Sept. 25. This event is a fundraising basketball foul shooting contest, and all residences are encouraged to enter teams, as are many Fredericton businesses. There will be prizes and free refreshments!

Now, even if you're not 19 years of age you'll be able to attend the Shinerama Extravaganza in the Student Union Building. This event is one of the year's major parties. Four musical acts will be performing: "Weddings, Parties, Anything", "Basic English", "Fear of Flying" and "Edgar T". With a lineup like this there's bound to be something to suit anyone's fancy. There will also be lots of give-aways, prizes and you have the chance to win a TV!

As you can see there are many ways that you can support the Shinerama Campaign, from shining shoes to having fun at a soccer game. Attend all of the events and join in the fight against Cystic Fibrosis!

Problems? Here's help:

by
Alice J. Pitre

Get ready! Get set! Go!

No, this isn't a race. This may just be the most important treasure hunt of all your university days. And the treasure can be as big or small as you like. As they say, "Take what you need, and leave the rest."

I could draw you a map, but that would spoil the fun. Instead, I'll give you directions. So listen carefully.

Let's start at the SUB. Now, down the hill, do you see the little building with a clock on top? Great! Forward march, and off you go, past the clock, and straight on down between all the men's residences. Then a left turn at McConnell Hall. (By the way, that's where you eat if you live on campus).

Okay, so you've turned left. Follow the sidewalk a wee bit until across the street to the right you see the Alumni Memorial Building.

Next clue: Go inside and down the stairs. Take two lefts, and proceed through the door at the end of the hall. (If you took two rights, it would be a short cut to the gym.)

At this point, present the attached coupon for a free cup of coffee, and make yourself at home. You've been successful. You have found the Counselling Centre.

So why have I brought you here? Because, if you are anything like me, right about now you are very confused and probably even a little intimidated. And you may be far, far from home for the very first time. Lonely? Homesick? Worried about those courses?

Counselling Services can help.

They can help with a lot of other things too, like depression, alcohol and drug abuse, eating disorders, sweetheart troubles, and sexuality. They are willing to listen to tales of abuse, rape, incest, anything at all. All you have to do is make an appointment. Just give them a call at 453-4820 from 8:30 a.m. to noon, or from 1:15 - 5:00 p.m.

Now shh! I'm going to tell you a secret: Even when the Counselling Centre is closed, you can reach these wonderful people. For after hour emergencies, get in touch with them through Security at 453-4830.

But that's not all you'll find at the Counselling Centre. Don't wait until a month before graduation to plan for the future. Right now, at the beginning of the term, is a fantastic time for a session with the career counsellor, or a browse through the Career Library. These days, university is far too expensive to spend a year or two making up your mind about what you want to do. So there are files here on just about any career you can think of, and scads of university calendars.

Now a little advice from an experienced person - me. I used to think it was a terrible thing even to have a problem, let alone tell someone about it. I thought no one ever had problems like mine, and so there was little choice but to handle it all on my own. If I had known what a treasure the Counselling Centre is, I might not be back here now, starting all over again, at the ripe old age of thirty-one.

So take my advice. Even if you don't have a problem, stop in for your free coffee, relax in the lounge, and say hello.

(P.S. If by some chance you lose the coupon, just tell them Alice sent you, and the coffee's yours.)

FROZEN GHOST

By Nadine Murray

Frozen Ghost is a Canadian band comprised of lyricist, Arnold Lanni, and bassist, Wolf Hassel. Arnold and Wolf were previously band-mates in a group called Sheriff which dissolved in 1986 after Arnold's departure. Arnold and Wolf reformed a band and released their first self-titled album in 1987 on the WEA Canada label, and, consequently, picked up a Juno for being the most-promising group that year.

They are currently touring North America to promote their newest album "A Nice Place to Visit." In an interview with Wolf Hassel, he explained the title as "just sort of a kind of playful idea." Imagine, if you will, the creators of the universe "... probably up, wherever they sort of hand out, kind of laughing at us, maybe going, 'Look at this, I give these people paradise; look what they do to it'."

Frozen Ghost is not a sex, drugs and rock and roll band. The lyrics on "A Nice Place to Visit" are quite spiritual and almost verge on the religious. There seems to be a central thread running through most of the songs that may be construed as religious. Frozen Ghost uses such words as paradise, salvation, damnation, bibles, sin, miracle, sanctuary, devil, heaven, hell and contritition.

Basic English

See Basic English opening for Weddings, Parties, Anything at the Shinerama Extravaganza.

The guitar edged band that is BASIC ENGLISH consists of Tim Armour (lead vocals, guitar, harmonica), John Davis (guitar, vocals), Roger Whyte (drums), and Sean Ryan (bass, vocals).

BASIC ENGLISH originally hails from Halifax, and has been together under different amalgamations for ten years. Tim, John, and Roger moved from Halifax, and hooked up with Sean (via London, Ontario) about two years ago to form the current line up.

The 60's influences of icons Bob Dylan and Leonard Cohen can be found in the songwriting nucleus of Tim Armour and John Davis form BASIC ENGLISH'S rock roots sound reminiscent of R.E.M. and the Georgia Satellites. BASIC ENGLISH has been described as a "cross between Bob Dylan, Leonard Cohen, and early Rolling Stones".

During the last year this sound has enabled the band to accomplish some impressive feats. BASIC ENGLISH were chosen among 750 entrants as finalists in the 1987 Q-107 HomeGrown contest and then went on to win the contest. In addition, the band was the homegrown prizes, BASIC ENGLISH recorded their first single and filmed their first video for the song "Images Of Love", now being aired on radio and shown on Much Music.

Recently, BASIC ENGLISH has been added to The Artist Consulting Team (Blue Rodeo) for management and Trick Or Treat Entertainment Booking Agency for live engagements. BASIC ENGLISH will be touring across Canada for the remainder of 1988 and will be heading into the recording studio in late '88/early '89.

"Yeah, going through the lyrics you do get that. I suppose what Arn (who writes the lyrics) is saying in his lyrics is there is a spirituality that exists over and above anything that you may see on TV. Or over and above what may be the kind of things ... like any kind of organized religion.

Literally, the kind of stuff we delve into is stuff that, basically, everyone is concerned with. The kind of things like 'be responsible for your own actions' ... 'fear of death' and this kind of stuff. The whole permeating theme throughout all of that is that they are more like observations; nobody is pointing the finger. It's not a very didactic way of looking at things... they are observations .... with a sense of humour."

Wolf says that about 80% of the letters they got after the release of their first album had some kind of reference to the lyrics.

"It's kind of a neat feeling to know that there are people who actually read the lyrics and try to derive something out of them."

He pointed out that they received letters from soldiers in British Honduras who responded to the lyrics of "Soldiers Cry."

But he feels, too, that the music works by itself and that their songs can be taken on several different levels; as dance music, or as something deeper than that.

"Frozen Ghost," he says, "has a positive, uplifting view of life" and they want to have fun while performing and recording. They perform an internationally flavoured polks/jig/reel (for lack of a better description) consisting of French, Greek, German and Celtic music in honour of the national origins of the members of their backing band. It is fun to listen to, and fun to play.

"It cuts through a lot of the pretense of what a rock and roll show is supposed to include. It's an absolute riot to play that."

According to Wolf, the new album differs from the first album by the addition of a larger horn section as opposed to a solitary saxophone; there's a different type of production and a different feel to the lyrics.

"It has more of an edge. It's got a bit more toughness to it. It has a bit more of a raw quality. But they're similar because we're the same guys."

He feels that the WEA label has been a great company to Frozen Ghost and he says that they are "unusually lucky" to be able to create when they want to create without intervention and to have the enthusiastic support and backing of WEA.

The recording process begins with Arnold playing around on the piano and tossing around ideas. He and Wolf fine-tune these ideas into songs, which they put on cassette. Then they arrange the songs before they are ready to record them in the studio.

In the studio, they begin by programming the drums. Things have to be jostled around as the bed tracks, the drums and bass, are created and changed.

Then acoustic and rhythm guitars are added, which leads to more jostling of tone and beats. Then come the keyboards and backing vocals.

"And then you go over to England and you mix it," Wolf added in blase tones.

Only, not every band goes to England. The first album was recorded in Arnold's basement. They've since moved their recording studio into a larger "industrial unit."

Frozen Ghost chose not to produce their next record themselves, but decided, instead, to work with Steven Taylor at The Farmyard in England.

"His whole sonic sense is very close to ours. He can put the icing on the cake. He just takes what's there and magically puts them in the right places sonically, and he's very good at it."

While they were in England, they had the pleasure of seeing Ozzy Osborne's gate and driveway, and video taping "some of that spontaneous footage that may end up in a video somewhere." And the chance to feel the excitement of walking on Abbey Road.

"It sounds really weird, but it was incredibly exciting to walk on ... that same Abbey Road. It's weird, a grown man saying that, but I get shivers for some reason."

So after their record was mixed in England, mastered, pressed and sold, the promotion began.

"That's when you get to say to people, 'Buy this album because we worked so hard making it.'"

Frozen Ghost loves touring and they had a chance to be the opening act on the Howard Jones tour in the United States last year.

"It was actually the first time we played live. Sometimes, if you open up for a band, it can be either a really great experience or it can be the absolute pits. In this situation, it was great because Howard Jones is just an amazing guy ... everybody that was affiliated with him were just phenomenal people, and they were really helpful to us."

Frozen Ghost will be playing in the SUB Cafeteria on Sept. 9 as part of Saint Thomas University's Frosh Orientation activities. I'll be there I'll be the one wearing the polka shoes.

JOIN SPORTS

There are all kinds of sports offered at UNB; hockey, soccer, basketball, field hockey, and volleyball. (No football, talk to the administration about that one). All of these sports happen throughout the year. You can follow all the teams and the week's schedule of varsity games in the sports pages of the Bruns and the Moosehead Sports Calendar.

If you are an avid sports freak (guy or girl), we need you. We are looking for keen freshmen to become sports writers for all sports. We also need writers for the Rowing and Rugby Clubs.

If you are interested in being a writer, call the Bruns at 453-4983 and ask for the Sports Editor or drop by our office in the SUB, room 35. NO EXPERIENCE NEEDED, we will give you lessons on how to write sports articles.

If you do not want to write but would like to be a sports photographer instead, phone 453-4983 and ask for the Photo

Editor or drop by the office. You do not need a camera, no experience is required, but is very helpful. We have our own dark room and there are photo assignments every week throughout the year.

As a writer/photographer you get to meet the players on the teams and see how the varsity programs/Phys Ed departments are run. There are special events in Fredericton you could cover as well as road trips (ie. Scotts Canadian Curling Championship, Canada vs. Cuba Volleyball Challenge, Globe Trotters, N.H.L. Old Timers, Grey Cup, UNB Varsity Road Trips to UPEI, Dal, SMU, St.FX, The Atlantic Bowl, which is CIAU Football). On the road trips we sometimes go with CHSR (student radio) and you can learn how the station works.

If you should become a writer/photographer for a sport you would be responsible for articles and interviews pertaining to the team. Also, if that team should be going to an AUAA and/or a CIAU meet, you (if possible due to class load) would go along with the team to cover the event.

Being a sports writer permits you to see and meet a lot of interesting people plus allows you to integrate into the university and see how the newspaper, radio station, student union and administration work.

Do not feel because you are freshmen, that you will be shunned away or ignored. We would be glad to answer your questions and help you with ideas, so drop by and get involved, it's a lot of fun.

THE TEAMS

HOCKEY - The team had a tough time last year. They almost made the playoffs, but were beaten out by STU. Hopefully, Coach Nickelchok won't lose too many players this year. Given their record of last year, they (hopefully) will improve, and bring competitive hockey back to UNB.

SOCCER - Coach Brown got the team to the C.I.A.U. finals last year. Although he is losing some key players, he will still have a strong team that will have to be reckoned with.

FIELD HOCKEY - The Red Sticks had a great year last year with an undefeated regular season, but had tough luck at the National Finals, but still ended up fifth in Canada. With a lot of returning players, the team might well be even stronger this year.

RAIDERS - The Basketball Raiders had a tough season last year, but the new coach might spark the team to perform better. The new coach is the old assistant coach, Phil Wright.

BLOOMERS - The ladies basketball team had a good regular season but faced tough competition in the playoffs at UPEI. With many players leaving the team, Coach Mitton has a big job ahead of her.

BLOOMERS LADIES BASKETBALL

REDS - The Reds played well last year even with 90 % of the team being first year students. With a whole year of experience playing together, they should do even better this year.

REBELS - The Rebels did well last year, but with nationally ranked Dalhousie in the conference, the competition was quite tough. The team will likely do well this year even though some of the players are leaving.

BLACK BEARS - the Black Bears Wrestling team had another outstanding year with their members placing in every category, but even after such a good showing they were one point short of Mt. A for the

WRESTLING

A.U.A.A. team championship, thus breaking a two year string. The team also sent three wrestlers to the C.I.A.U.'s last year. With many returning wrestlers, the team should have another good year.

SWIMMING - The swim team also had a good year with alot of individual achievements and this year looks to be even better.

Something for you Something foreveryone

Softball, Volleyball, Squash, Football, Hockey, Fitness, Swimming, Tennis, etc. Leagues, tournaments, unstructured activities, clubs, and instruction for men women and co-ed groups.

Our motto is "SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE -- SOMETHING FOR YOU". The Physical Recreation and Intramural Program offers a wide variety of activities to serve the needs and interests of ALL STUDENTS on campus. There is a place for you if you want to meet new people, get some healthy exercise, learn a new skill, play your favourite sport, earn some spending money, and HAVE FUN.

The Recreation Program is organized in four units: Intramural Sports, Sport Clubs, Non-Credit Instruction and Informal Recreation. Each provides a different type of recreational experience.

Intramural Sports includes leagues and tournaments in a wide variety of sports for men and women, and co-ed teams. Both team and individual registrations are accepted at the Recreation Office. Individual entries will be placed on a team. This program depends on students to help in organizing leagues and tournaments and to officiate all games. Let us know if you are interested in becoming involved in this way by completing an application form in the recreation office. No experience is necessary -- training is provided.

Twenty-two different Sport Clubs will operate this year providing opportunities for individuals to participate in particular activities on an ongoing basis. Each club is a student run organization offering a varied program including instructional and social activities. All clubs welcome new members. Names and phone numbers for contact persons will be available from the Recreation office.

In the Non-Credit Instruction unit classes are offered in a variety of activities to help you improve your fitness level and learn new or improve existing sport skills. Quality instruction is available for a modest fee. Fall classes include fitness, tennis, squash, racketball, swimming, and weight training. Anyone interested in instructing should apply at the Recreation Office.

The recreational facilities are available for you to use for Informal Recreation when they are not scheduled for classes, practices, competitions, etc. Take advantage of the opportunity to go for a swim, play a game of tennis, shoot some baskets, or work out in the weight room. Available hours are posted in the L.B. Gym.

Interested in earning some spending money? Students are hired to serve as convenors, officials, supervisors, lifeguards, and instructors. Renumeration is based on qualifications and experience. Applications are available at the Recreation Office.

Further information about all aspects of the Recreation Program is available in the green Physical and Recreation and Intramural Program handbook included in your Freshman Orientation pack. Please visit us at our booth at Student Activity Nights, Sept. 13 & 14 or drop in at the Recreation Office located in room A121 L.B. Gym at any time. We welcome your questions and suggestions.

What you do in your free time is important. Make it count. Get involved.
