Now we are going back. Peel's impulse sent us us a had track, He is a phusible leader, and accused by his party of deserting them. He may only have played a deep game for their good. Quintus Curtius-like, he rude his house, pride and place, into the gulf, and hade it close to save his friends. He found true free trade inevitable, and hit out a mixture, under the name, that would not work, in the hope that the alcekned patient would fall back into the practice of the old pills, and the prescriptions of the old dector. This is one wilsting of his movements, and it may be not less trub than others.

This position brings us to another and it This position brings us to another and important argument for maintaining the empire in its present extent and strength. The people of this country are responsible for a heavy national debt. A large part of the sum has been incurred for the benefit, defence, and maintenance of the colonies. If they are sacrificed, we lose all that money, although we must continue to pay the interest, and finally, perhaps, the principal. The unallocated lands of the colonies may fairly be their import duties on our goods after they are fairly in business for themselves; but who authorized any man to make that statement? The lying spirit that tempted statesmen to believe Mr. Bancroft, and trust in his promises of reciprocity from the United States. The democracies in all ages have done, will yield to the temptation of apparently providing for their own interests, and will protect labour. The only difference between them and our old aristocracy is, that they will not protect game or large estates. In other re-

CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

THE greet and decided success which has attended this institution has induced the Directors to REDUCE the RAYES originally required in British North America to the ordinary European Rates. The result of such Heduction is to emble parties to avait themselves of the important benefits of Life Assurance at much lower Rates of Premium than those of any other Assurance Company transacting business in Canada. The Directors have also resolved to extend to British North America the advantages afforded by the HALP CREDIT RATES of PREMIUM which have been so highly approved and are so generally adoyted by Policy Holders in the United Kingdom. The most liberal conditions are likewise offered to the Assured in the limits to which they may proceed by sea or land, to other parts of North America without affecting their Interest in their respective Policies.
