

RECIPES FOR HOUSEKEEPERS

THE RECIPE. The fruit is prepared in the ordinary way; the jars are cleaned and scalded while rubbers and tops are boiling. The fruit is then placed in the jars, in which COLD water is placed. When the jars have been sealed all-right they are placed in a boiler filled with cold water and brought to the boiling point. Berries will do if removed when the boiling point is reached, while large fruits, such as peaches, cherries, plums and apricots, should get twenty to thirty minutes boiling. Keep cover of wash boiler on tight.

RED CROSS.

Fruit for Overseas. We cannot do better than quote from the Bulletin of the Ontario Agricultural College No. 184, under date of Nov. 10, incorporating an address delivered by Mr. J. A. Morton, before the Wingham Women's Institute, at one of their regular monthly meetings, wherein he states the application and employment of heat is a most effective preservative, and the best one, consistent with safety to the user of food.

A question which suggests itself right here is this: Should sugar be used or not? A great many people still cling to the old idea that fruit cannot be kept without the addition of sugar in the process of canning. This is entirely and surely a mistake. Sugar as ordinarily employed, takes no part in the preservation of the fruit from deterioration.

The first thing to do is to see that the jars are perfectly clean, thoroughly sterilized with boiling water, then boil rubber rings and covers, using absolutely new rubber rings of the best quality. All fruits are put in to the clean jars cold and uncooked, when sugar is added in the form of syrup. The jars are filled nearly to the top—not too full—so that as the contents swell, it will not overflow.

The jars must not be too empty, lest the oxygen in the air within the jar give any resting-spores, which may not have been killed by the heat, opportunity to germinate and mould might then result. The glass lid and screw top are then put on the jar and about one turn given to the screw top, thus allowing the gases to get out in the cooking. The filled jars are cooked in the wash boiler, which ordinarily holds from 13 to 15 quart jars. We use a false bottom in the boiler, made of wooden slats. The boiler being put on the stove with the jars standing upright on the wooden bottom, cold water is poured into it until two-thirds of the pounds, to one dozen quart jars; gooseberries and plums, six pounds; peaches and pears, five pounds.

The jar which will be used and accepted is the crown quart jar, with screw top. This is the ordinary round jar, used at the home, known as the gem jar. The method of packing will be one and one-half dozen jars to the case, the inside measurements of which are 15 inches wide, 30 inches long and 10 inches deep, packed solidly with excelsior.

The question of handling the fruit from outside points, to ensure proper inspection and packing, would be far better done at Hamilton. For the event of any jars of fruit showing ¼ teaspoonful allspice, ¼ teaspoonful cinnamon. Boil until thick.

Gooseberry Pie. After having washed and picked over the berries, stew them well in a little water, just enough to cover them, when they burst open and become soft, sweeten them with plenty of sugar, mash them smooth, (some prefer them not mashed); line your pie plates with thin puff paste, fill them and lay strips of paste across the top. Bake in a moderate oven.

Gooseberry Trifle. One quart of gooseberries, sugar to taste, one pint of custard, a glass of whipped cream. Put the gooseberries into a jar with sufficient moist sugar to sweeten them, and boil them until reduced to pulp. Put this pulp at the bottom of a trifle, pour over it a pint of custard, and when cold cover with whipped cream. This dish may be garnished as one desires.

Gooseberry Fool. Stew a quart of ripe gooseberries in just enough water to cover them; when soft rub them through a colander to remove the skins and seeds; mix the hot stew into them a tablespoonful of melted butter and a cupful of sugar. Beat the yolks of three eggs and add that. Whip all together until light. Fill a large glass fruit dish and spread on the top the beaten whites mixed with three tablespoonfuls of sugar.

Gooseberry Jam. Pick the gooseberries just as they begin to turn. Stem, wash and weigh. To four pounds of fruit add half a teaspoonful of water; boil until soft and add four pounds of sugar and boil until clear. If picked at the right stage the jam will be number colored and firm, and very much nicer than if the fruit is preserved when ripe.

Gooseberry Catsup. Ten pounds of fruit gathered just before ripening, five pounds of sugar, one quart of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls each of ground pepper, allspice and cinnamon. Boil the fruit in vinegar until reduced to a pulp, then add sugar and other seasonings. Seal if hot.

Gooseberry Sauce. Ten pounds of fruit gathered just before ripening, five pounds of sugar, one quart of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls each of ground pepper, allspice and cinnamon. Boil the fruit in vinegar until reduced to a pulp, then add sugar and other seasonings. Seal if hot.

way up the jars, the cover is put on the boiler, and the water therein brought to the boiling point. How long it should be kept there depends upon the quality of the fruit being cooked. Keep it boiling long enough so that when the jar is opened the fruit will be palatable without further cooking. Strawberries, raspberries and blackberries will do if removed after five minutes boiling. Take the jars out of the boiler, put the rubber rings on, which have been thoroughly sterilized previously, and fasten down once. If, while cooking, you find the air is getting into the jar, which you will be able to detect by bubbles forming inside the jar, it is caused probably by poor rubber defective top; replace it by a good one, put back the jar into the boiler for a few minutes longer. Larger fruit, such as peaches, pears, plums and the like, should get from twenty-five to thirty minutes boiling; the time depending on the hardness of the fruit. A hard peach requires longer than a mellow one.

The amount of sugar which will be used in the Red Cross Fruit Kitchen of the Niagara District will be as follows: Raspberries and red currants in combination, black currants, four

WHAT IS GOING ON IN GERMANY?

Swiss Papers Are Asking That Most Pertinent Question.

WHAT SOCIALISTS ARE SAYING

People Are Bled Mercilessly and Are Becoming Impoverished.

By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 4 (New York Times cable)—A despatch to the Morning Post from Bern, says: "What is happening in Germany?" is the question placed at the head of numerous articles in the Swiss newspapers during the last few days and the fact that the question is so frequently put shows that the feeling which prevails among the population of Germany is one of serious disquiet.

Speaking at a meeting of the Leipzig City Council on Wednesday last a Socialist councillor said: "The people are being bled so mercilessly, they must not only be impoverished, but also ruined in health. Muller-Meininger is well known that the people will rise in force and that will happen. There is an end to all patience."

According to The Gotha Zeitung, Muller Meininger is a well known leader of the Radical Party, in the Reichstag and has written to Von Batschki a letter in which the following passages occur: "I am continually hearing cries of distress from the whole of Thuringia about the lack of sugar. The discontent increases daily to a most serious extent and only actions will help now. Fine words and visits by high officials are useless unless improvement is quickly made. Noisy gatherings will be heard of also outside the large towns, for the whole German people are of the opinion, and rightly so, that the limit of endurance has been reached. The bureaucracy is utterly bankrupt, and the people already are rising against it and will finally do so with force."

The condemnation of Liebknecht has undoubtedly aggravated the situation. A Socialist manifesto, distributed in thousands, in the industrial districts of Germany before the trial was concluded, contains the following: "Workingmen: The cause of Liebknecht is your cause. In hitting Liebknecht it is you that they wish to hit and reduce to silence in order that this carnage may continue. Will you tolerate it? Let your voice be heard. Prove that there are behind Liebknecht hundreds of thousands of people who think and feel as he does."

Being Fed Dog Meat. Lieut. Glen Gordon Writes That This is Part of His Food in German Prison Camp.

Stratford, July 5.—That dog meat now forms part of his daily food is the information contained in a letter received by Mr. William Gordon, of Mornington street, from his son, Lieut. Glen Gordon, who is a prisoner of war in Germany.

Lieut. Gordon fooled the German censors by putting the information in veiled form.

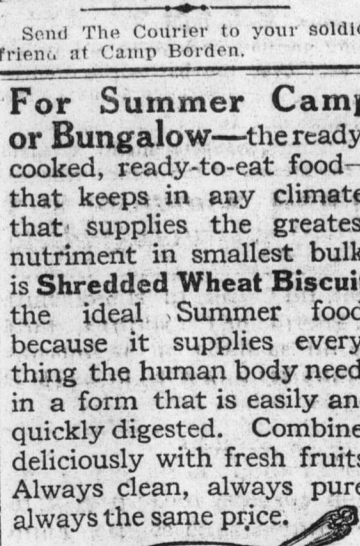

The Lieut. Glen Gordon referred to above is a brother of Mr. Bruce Gordon of this city.

Our duty is to serve, not according to our desires but according to our powers. The power of service for the Niagara Peninsula is in fruit. It is more economical to have the fruit preserved at central points where it is grown, rather than in scattered sections, but the power to serve by these outside districts can best be effected by sending cash contributions to the Canadian Red Cross Society, Fruit Dept., Hamilton, for the Province of Ontario. We hope the ladies of this community will therefore send a liberal donation for this good work.

Earthquakes are Numerous in Italy

Eruption of Stromboli Is Becoming Very Serious

Rome, July 4.—8 p.m.—Via Paris, July 5.—The eruption of Stromboli has become serious. The flow of lava is spreading in the Sparco coast, burning and destroying houses and the population is fleeing to the sea and taking refuge on relief ships sent from Messina. Telephonic communication with Messina has been interrupted.

There are many signs of seismic disturbances throughout Italy. The heat has been intense for the past two days. Earth shocks occurred during the morning at Ancona, Rimini, Bellvedere, Marettimo and other Adriatic districts, but no loss of life has been reported.

"LITTLE CHAPS" ARE FIGHTERS

English War Correspondent Tells of Prowess of the Bantams.

AT FIRST ENEMY DESPISED THEM

But They Were Soon Showed Courage Does Not Always Run to Size.

The following article, taken from the London Chronicle gives a good idea of what a "bantam" do if one puts a uniform on him.

The following remarkable case of little men in battle is penned by Mr. Philip Gibbs, our special correspondent with the British forces in the field. He writes, under date June 17:—

A month or two ago I chanced to be at a port in France when a transport ship came in with some 500 troops. The men filed down gangway, and then formed up on quayside before being entrained, as they did so I rubbed my eyes.

wondered what had happened. These men were somehow different from all the other troops I have seen arriving in France on their way to the battlefields. They were small men. Lord! They were all well standing no more than 5 ft. above their boots, and for the part less than that.

A word gave the clue to the mystery. The Bantams! Why, of course, these were the first draft of the famous British Division of West Lancashire, Warwickshire, and West Lancashire, and beyond the Channel, and beyond the Channel, and now a whole division are in

"I can get you 3,000 of them," said the Mayor of Chester, "and they are very keen to go."

Before long there were 12,000 men, recruited from Cheshire, Lancashire, Warwickshire, and West Lancashire, and beyond the Channel, and beyond the Channel, and now a whole division are in

The Situation.

The French continue to advance in the valley of the Somme, and they have occupied further sections of quite important territory, including the village of Estrees. The British have completed the occupation of La Boisselle, and for the rest are consolidating the positions taken by them. The total of German prisoners thus far in connection with the drive is 14,000. One despatch says that, thanks to the deathless stand of the French at Verdun and the present drive, the Kaiser's western forces have been driven to take formation as five distinct armies.

The fact is deemed to be a most favorable one in connection with the plans of General Joffre.

There is an unofficial despatch that a Russian cavalry patrol has crossed the Carpathians and entered Hungary and is blowing up buildings in which food and munitions are stored. This is important, if true, for the central powers have been figuring on the Hungarian crop as a great help through the winter. Reports from Petrograd announce an entirely fresh offensive taken by the Russians northeast of Baranovichi, with a result of a capture of 2,800 prisoners, a quantity of guns and ammunition. Elsewhere the troops of the Czar also continue to hold their own.

British troops have made a further advance in German East Africa.

THOSE WHO MARCH.

Under the above heading a well-known New York writer says:

It is no little thing, this marching of the first hundreds of our volunteer soldiers. Despite the fact that the crowds that collect disperse, the bands pass and the flags come down again, those days on which our young men go forth to serve must remain forever memorable in our history and in our hearts.

The departure of troops for war even toward war is the most unreal thing in human life. Those who go first are young, proud with the sense of new dignity and duty, glad as youths it is always glad when adventure beckons and the romance of service calls. They march before us, bringing our cheers, perhaps calling forth our tears, too, but it is a spectacle about which there is only that which inspires.

But when they are gone the change comes. Slowly, steadily the realization arrives. Those who marched from us to camp disappear from the camp into the distance, which at the horizon meets the thing we call vaguely "the front." Little by little there come back the veracious chronicles of suffering, of hardship, at last of sacrifice and death. Those who went so willingly and so gladly become in a sense a sacred memory.

It is, indeed, no little thing that is taking place in our lives to-day. Rather it is something so big and so enduring that it must crowd out the common and trivial cares and concerns of our lives. Thousands of men, young, surrounded by all that happiness and comfort can bestow, are willingly, gladly, giving up what life holds of present promise and of future hope, giving up all they have and all they hope to have, because a single word has been spoken, the simple call of duty has come.

The glory of war that is the tinsel and the uniform, the pomp and ceremony, is an empty sham. But the glory of war that is the duty, the sacrifice, the unselfishness, the submission of the individual to the common weal, is an enduring fact. And it is this fact that stands disclosed to us to-day in all its true nobility.

AFTER THE WAR.

It is very generally felt and recognized that matters after the war cannot remain as at present between the Old Land and her great overseas Dominions. The great British Empire has entered upon a new phase, one in connection with which there will have to be quite a lot of readjustment.

The Courier does not believe that this will have to find expression in a new and intricate system, whereby Canada and the rest will be involved in every Imperial move. For instance, Mr. Lionel Curtis, of "Round Table" fame, has just issued a book on "The Problems of a Commonwealth." One of his proposals is the creation of an Imperial Executive, to be composed of members elected from all parts of the Empire, they to have power to deal with international matters; also to levy taxes for Imperial purposes.

on the different portions of the Empire. In this regard he estimates that Canada's share of the initial Imperial budget would be $42,000,000 per annum.

This figure, of course, is purely speculative. In the first place, the truth has to be faced, and faced without blinking, of many and large obligations incurred by every land where the British flag flies in connection with this war.

Take Canada as an example. Our war debt is going to total several hundred million dollars. There will be large annual fixed charges for a very long period to come, and the pension list is going to prove a very heavy annual burden, if indeed the latter word should be used with regard to that which all recognize as a solemn duty.

Preferential trade within the Empire is almost sure to be one of the results of this great struggle, and we all know that the Allies are working towards a common trade end, in the matter of the exclusion of German goods, but to at once establish a tribunal with wide powers (such as suggested by Mr. Curtis) would, of course, be a step requiring the very gravest consideration.

Hitherto the British Empire has got along in a most surprising way in spite of loose ends—many people think because of loose ends—and it took the commencement of the present war to demonstrate that when all seemed slack and disconnected, there was at once a marvellous tightening and dove-tailing of purpose towards a common end.

A seemingly loose rein under which such things can so marvellously and spontaneously occur should not be lightly set aside for a tightening bit and set obligations, which might be apt to gall.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

From this on the majority of the Ontario troops will find their Borden lodgings on the shores of Lake Simcoe.

General Carranza has contracted the note habit to an almost worse extent than Wilson. Meanwhile he continues to do as he darned well pleases.

The Austrians seem to have slipped up on a banana peel alright as far as any further progress into Italy is concerned.

The earnings of the Toronto Street Railway last month exceeded those of June, 1915, by over $16,000. The general public not only had to put up for that, but also stand up for a large part of it.

The eldest son of the German Crown Prince was yesterday enrolled in the army as lieutenant on the occasion of his tenth birthday. The whole blooming Hohenzollern family also threaten to be a bunch of lieutenants before this thing is through.

That Toronto baseball team is heading for the cellar again with the celerity of a note coming due.

The fall fair list is appearing, and summer has done nothing yet but put a dripping umbrella up against the door jamb.

In Pennsylvania plowing has been done at night by artificial light to make up for delay caused by the late coming of spring. There seems to be no reason why such a method should not come into more frequent use. Besides, it would help to lighten the burdens of the agriculturists.

LIBRARY BOARD HELD MEETING

Miss Middlemiss Granted Leave of Absence, and new Janitor Appointed

The regular monthly meeting of the Public Library Board was held last evening, with nearly all the members present. The principal business of the evening was the granting of leave of absence to Miss Essie Middlemiss and the appointing of a new janitor to the library.

Leave was granted by the board to Miss Middlemiss to attend the Library school to be held in Toronto from Sept. 11 to Oct. 10. The retiring janitor, Mr. B. Fulcher, was granted a retiring allowance. Mr. Richard Rowe, 54 Chatham street, was appointed to the position of janitor, it being expected that he will resume his duties on Sept. 10th.

Those present were Rev. G. A. Woodside, chairman, D. J. Waterous, Mayor Bowley, His Honor Judge Harvey, J. E. Quinlan, E. J. Carlin, T. Hendry, F. W. Ryerson and E. D. Henwood, librarian and secretary. The board adjourned, to meet again the first Tuesday in September.

Mrs. Edward Keane, Danfield St., who has been knitting socks for the Red Cross Society, was greatly surprised yesterday at hearing that one of our own Paris boys, Corpl. Earl Barker, who went overseas a year ago, was the lucky one to receive a pair of socks knitted by her. Mrs. Keane put her name in the toe of one pair of socks, on a piece of paper, and it seemed a strange coincidence that Earl should receive them, as he is a neighbor boy, living within a few doors from Mrs. Keane.

A quiet wedding took place at the Congregational parsonage on Saturday, when the Rev. D. A. Armstrong, united in marriage Miss Eva Georgina Wooden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wooden, Dundas street, to Mr. Richard Fraser Norris of St. George. The happy couple left later for a trip to Muskoka Lakes, and on their return will reside in Paris.

Farewell to 125th. Bright and early this morning Paris people were all astir to bid farewell to the boys of the 125th battalion who were leaving for Camp Borden. Shortly after 7 o'clock the crowd all gathered in front of the fire hall, where short speeches were given by Mayor Patterson, Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P., and Mr. T. Scott Davidson, M.P.P. The Mayor presented a $10 bill to 86 of the Paris boys, while Mr. John Harold, President of the Red Cross Society and a number remembered all the men who have been training here. There were 115 men who were presented with a small parcel consisting of 2 pair of socks, handkerchiefs and soap. Later they were called to attention by Mayor Patterson and marched to the station, followed by their wives, sweethearts and friends, who went to say their last farewell. The train was nearly one hour late, owing to an accident at the Junction, and as it pulled out rousing cheers were given the men, and just as heartily returned by the brave fellows.

Mrs. Taylor of Ottawa, is holidaying with friends in town.

Mr. Richard McDonald has returned to Detroit, after a holiday spent with his parents here.

Miss Margaret Tate is holidaying at St. Thomas.

Mr. Matthew Martin, Washington St., was notified yesterday that his son, Pte. Thomas Martin, had been wounded.

AN EVENT OF IMPORTANCE. The attention of our readers is directed to the announcement on Page 6 of this issue, which will give a slight idea of what the firm of E. B. Crompton & Co. Limited, are offering during the Great Crush Down Sale.

In an interview with one of the firm, he stated that this economy essential ever held by the firm. The values without question, are more than usually attractive, and that these offerings have been appreciated by the buying public has been amply attested to by a large number of interested buyers, who have thronged the store from day to day.

Tuesday, Friday and Saturday will perhaps be the best days of the whole sale, as every effort has been made in the way of giving remarkable values.

CROPS ARE LATER THAN LAST YEAR

A Great Deal Will Depend on Freedom From Frost.

Ottawa, Ont., July 5.—A bulletin issued by the department of trade and commerce census and statistics office, states that from reports received from experimental farms and stations in all parts of the country, the prospects for grain crops are excellent throughout the west, but as the crops are about ten days later than last year, much will depend upon freedom from early frosts.

In Quebec abundant rains throughout the month of June have favored the growth, but low-lying lands have suffered. The same reports are made of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, while in Prince Edward Island exceptionally good progress has been made. In Ontario about one third less grain was sown than in previous years and in condition it is uneven, spotted and badly affected by rain. A great deal will not ripen and will be cut for green feed.

Generally speaking the western crops are looking well, with plenty of moisture. In the Medicine Hat region of Alberta, the wheat is very uneven, but the fall wheat is already heading. Yields well up to the average are expected, providing early frosts do not cause damage.

Simcoe, July 4.—Mrs. Homer Pearson and a lady friend, out in Mr. Pearson's new auto for an afternoon spin, narrowly escaped death as the engine and both jumped clear as the pilot drove the driver's door in. The crossing is the same one at which young Mitchell lost his life Christmas morning, 1914, when a cutter which he was a passenger was going the same way over the same crossing and the locomotive was coming from the same direction.

Hydro Power. Farmers in the north of the township are looking forward with interest to the disposal of hydro power to replace wind and gasoline engines, and seem to expect propositions for supply of current from the county seat at Simcoe, or from Waterloo, both of which have hydro already. Up to the present there has been no word of extending the distribution from Simcoe, except of course to supply the L. E. and N. trolley cable to Dover.

AT THE GRAND. "The law of compensation certainly works out in the end and all things even themselves up, somehow or other," remarked John P. Sloum, the other day, as he watched the crowds of people on their way to the Grand Opera House, Thursday evening, July 13.

"For years the managers and producers of farce comedy and drama have had it all over the musical comedy and operatic producer, with their short casts and inexpensive production. But things are different now and the musical producer has by a fair shade the best of it. This has all been brought about by the moving picture. The photographers have taken every farce, drama, novel, story, produced and unproduced play that you can think of, and have for a time at least ruined the financial prospects of the musical comedy and operatic producer. The musical comedy has been bailed. They can't register on the screen the quick action, dance and music of this form of entertainment. It will be years before the public eye, and the ear, will be able to follow the action of the play, and even if they do it will only be mechanical, and the thrill and soul of the play will be lost.

"The really good musical plays are getting all the money there is being spent in the theatre to-day, especially in the out-of-town district. They are at a price that is really absurd, and which I feel will bring about the ultimate financial ruin of that industry. The great stars of the dramatic world have loaned their names and efforts to moving pictures, and as a consequence have cheapened their value to the public eye. If they ever come back it will be a mighty powerful play to accomplish it. Most of the musical comedy stars have been demoted to this new field of endeavor, and it is a very fortunate thing for the managers who put large sums of money into scenery, costumes and plays that they can go to the theatre and pay a dollar and a half, and two dollars for what they can go around any time, to see some concerted action upon their part, to protect themselves from a continuance of the condition.

MEETING HELD OF HOSPITAL BOARD

Grounds Inspected and Report of Superintendent Received

The regular meeting of the Board of Hospital Governors took place yesterday afternoon. Present, G. H. Watrous, President; Wardens, H. H. May, Mayor; Bowly, R. Sanderson, H. J. Symons, Dr. E. R. Secord, J. Sanderson, G. Kippax, G. Watt.

A number of certified accounts were ordered to be paid and matters of a routine nature attended to.

Mr. Geo. Kippax reported that improvements to the laundry had been completed, and that the establishment of a new front drive-way.

The members of the board inspected the grounds with the view to considering the establishment of a new front drive-way.

The work was seen to be of a very difficult nature and it was decided that a good deal of further consideration would be necessary.

Superintendent's Report.

The following are extracts from the June statement of the superintendent: Admissions, 144; discharges, 122; births, 11; deaths, 6; number in isolation—diphtheria 3, scarlet fever 2; number of operations, 95; suits are retained, 84. There were more than 100 patients in the hospital, and so far Dr. Spicer has been most helpful and conscientious in the discharge of his duties.

The mangle has been placed in the laundry, and it is a great temptation to work it overtimes, as the quality of work turned out, is so satisfactory. The washer will be ready for use by July 3rd we hope. With the old washer repaired, the work can be handled more expeditiously. Some necessary changes have been made in the moving and enlarging of tables, etc., for greater convenience in working. Some eighteen months ago the board was given an account of the work turned out by a poorly equipped laundry, and to-day we submit for inspection some of the work done under present up-to-date conditions of the laundry in having a competent woman in charge.

The new survey is indeed a very handsome one, and was well worth waiting for.

Tribute to Earl Kitchener

The following poem, written in tribute to the greatness of the late Earl Kitchener was by a brother of Postmaster W. G. Raymond. The author lives in Hamilton, and is well-known here. The poem has been accepted and published by Toronto papers.

TO HORATIO H. KITCHENER.

Invincible and unperturbed spirit!
If it becomes us now to mourn for thee,
We rather count it joy
That thou wert born and lived
True type of our most noble race.
Thy work was done—and nobly done—
And when 'twas finished
Thou sawest England's need
Indifferent to praise or blame.
Thou knewest thy task
Better than they could tell it thee—
Those little minds that chafe and whine
And are puffed and blown about
By every gust of wind.
Seer-like—tho' not a dreamer—
Thou sawest England's need
In every time of stress,
And spent thyself in her behalf.
That she might still remain on Empire's throne.
Of Right and Freedom, Truth and Equity.
'Twas better far that thou shouldst leave us
By the door thou didst,
Besting one of Neptune's sons—
For such we are,
Immortal spirit! Thou dost watch our course
And lead us by ideals instilled in mind and soul;
Thou liv'st in every British heart to-day,
As long as England lives thy name shall stand
Emblazoned on the scrolls of Time
With other of her fairest sons
Who held her name more dear than life itself.
Nay, count it privilege to sacrifice their all
For life, or death, to further England's cause.
—M. RAYMOND.
Hamilton, June, 1916.

BANTAM OFFICE IS STILL OPEN

Ready to Receive Applications From Small Men To Go Overseas

The recruiting officers left in Brantford for the Bantams still continue to do business at the old stand, 108 Colborne street, actively engaged in recruiting eligible Bantams. They have a list of about thirty names and addresses of men who have promised at least to consider the matter of signing up, but who have not yet reached a decision. These men will be visited next week. It is the hope of Lt. Walsh that his men will secure another such fine lot of men as left on Monday last, when man 5 feet 2 inches and under will do well to call in at 108 Colborne St. and talk the matter over with the men in charge. There is no excuse for the small man now, who is physically fit, and he will receive every courtesy and be given every information at the recruiting depot. If he calls there is no charge for such consultations, no obligation incurred, so no delay should be made in calling. "He who hesitates is lost," and no man wants to be lost. Ft. Maurice left early for Tilsonburg, expecting to bring back two or three recruits.
