Mr and Mrs Gordon Rappell of Buffalo, N. Y. are spending a month with friends here and in Brockville.

Remember the date of the concert to be given by the village schools in the town hall Thursday, Dec. 7.

—Accommodation for roomers and boarders at reasonable rates—Mrs G. O. Evans, Athens.

At the Revere House, Brockville, last Friday evening Warden Sander son was honored at a banquet by members of the counties council. An address to the Warden was read by Mr. M. B. Holmes and the presentation of a gold-headed cane was made by Councillor Hunter.

A note from the township of Crosby South where a campaign is in progress says: We have secured two hundred names out of a possible five hundred and the petitions have been presented to the township clerk. I think by a hard pull and a pull all together we will succeed in obtaining the required three-fifths this time.

Inspiring missionary addresses were delivered in the Methodist church on Sunday by Mr. W. H. Goodwin of Montreal. He is an enthusiast in this work and his sermons were most forceful and convincing. A splendid song service was rendered by the choir. The contributions of Athens and the Glen Elsie appointment, where service was held in the afternoon, amounted to $456.00.

Mr and Mrs Wm. Rathwell, Brockville, lost their baby boy in a peculiar manner on Monday afternoon. The baby was lying in a cradle, and in the absence of the mother her little daughter, aged two years, placed a bicarbonate of mercury tablet in the baby's mouth. On discovering what had happened, the mother summoned a physician but on the way to the hospital the little one died. The little girl thought the tablet was taffy.

At the last meeting of the High School Board, Mr. B. O. White, mathematical master, tendered his resignation, to take effect at Christmas. The loss of Mr. White's services is greatly regretted by the Board, by the members of the teaching staff, by the students, and by all interested in the welfare of the school. Mr. White has been appointed to the office of Inspector of schools in Nipissing District, a position he is well qualified to fill, as his teaching experience embraces both public and high school work. While regretting Mr. White's removal, we compliment the Educational Department on the wise selection made.

Our Splendid Arrangement.

We have a splendid arrangement with the different typewriting agencies that they will place all our graduates. This they do, grading them according to test which they give them. It has been a great source of satisfaction to us to learn that our graduates give such a good account of themselves as to be placed in the highest grade positions. We shall be enrolling new students every week until next June. Send for our catalogue, New Term Jan. 2nd.

Institute Meeting.

Owing to some misunderstanding in arranging for the high school hall, the Women's Institute held their meeting at the home of Mrs. H. H. Arnold on Saturday, Nov. 25th. The programme was as follows:

Solo by Miss Jessie Percival, Miss Lulu McLean accompanist.

A few remarks from Mrs. J. Frye, president of the Delta Institute, also from Mrs. W. Frye.

Business of the Institute discussed. Solo by Miss Lulu McLean, Miss Nellie Earl accompanist.

Exhibition of Xmas gifts. Instrumental solo by Miss Lulu McLean.

A general exchange of recipes for Xmas cakes and puddings, some of which are to be printed in the local paper.

COMMENCEMENT CONCERT

Town Hall, Athens—Thursday December 7.

In a spirit of commendable loyalty to Athens' educational institutions, the students and teachers of the High and Model schools have combined in an effort to present a good local entertainment with a view to improving the library equipment of the two schools. The event takes place on the evening of Thursday next, Dec. 7, and is worthy of unanimous support and patronage by the people of Athens and Rear Yonge and Escott. And the sphere of influence of these schools is so wide; read that the same might be said of the country for many miles around. The hopes of all enterprising people of the district should centre in these schools, and any movement to increase their efficiency should be warmly seconded.

The programme for the evening will include:

The popular play, "The Optimistic Club" by Model students.

Debate by H. S. students.

Choruses

Recitations

Cornet Duets

Flag Drills

Drum-bell Drill

Quartettes

Popula: prices will prevail. Tickets for adults, 25c; for pupils and children 15c; children under six years admitted free.

The students will afford citizens an opportunity of buying tickets before the night of the entertainment.

VILLAGE COUNCIL

The adjourned meeting of the village council was held on Monday evening. All the members present except Mr. Gordon.

A by-law to repeal the Local Option by-law was introduced and given two readings. It was then, on motion, referred to the electors for their assent, and the clerk was directed to make all necessary arrangements for conducting the poll.

On motion, an order was passed in favor of the High School Board for $136, and advance on the requisition for 1911-12.

Council adjourned sine die.

ATHENS POULTRY FAIR

This week bills are being sent out announcing Athens' annual poultry fair. The date has been fixed for Friday, Dec. 8, and it is expected that the offering will excel the great fair of a year ago. As usual, preparations will be made to comfortably accommodate all buyers and sellers.

The high prices always paid here will be fully maintained, as the fair will be attended by both American and Canadian buyers. In addition to a good market, the managers offer attractive prizes.

Consult bills for directions as to dressing and be careful and not to scald the birds as when treated in this way they will be bought only at a reduced price.

A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

An investment that guarantees good returns in a years subscription to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal. The Family Herald and Weekly Star for a whole year and the beautiful picture "Home Again" all for one dollar is the very best dollar's worth that can be had. The picture "Home Again" is certainly a beauty. Such a value has never before been offered in Canada. The Family Herald and Weekly Star is a most wonderful combination. It appeals to all classes, all ages, and brings pleasure and profit to every home it reaches.

On Friday, Dec. 8, Stewart Bros. will sell at the farm of James Arnold, Jasper, 30 head of grade Holsteins, D. C. Healy, auctioneer.

Cured of Shingles and Eczema

Mr. J. H. Jarvis, Kingston
By Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Chest Raw, Bleeding and Itchy.

"Just want to say a good word for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In November, 1906, I had what the doctors call shingles and eczema. My chest was raw and bleeding and itchy. I was that way all winter. It was not so bad in the summer. In September it got worse. I had the best doctors treating me, but did me no good, and I was all run down in health. In November, 1910, it got worse again. I sent you for a sample case of Cuticura Soap. You sent it to me and I got a box of Cuticura Ointment. I have used two boxes and on the third one it has cured me of shingles and eczema. I am delighted with them and do feel pleased to think I have confidence in them. Should anyone be suffering as I did, I hope they will do as I did, and I am sure of the result. I am recommending them from experience." (Signed) J. H. Jarvis, 7 Ann St., Kingston, Ont., May 30, 1911.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the speediest and most economical treatment for itching, burning, scaly, scaling skin and scalp humors, of young and old. Cuticura is often sufficient. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, but to those who have suffered much, lost hope and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each with our Cuticura Ointment will be mailed free, on application. LESSON X.—DEC. 3, 1911.

Nehemiah Rebuilds the Wall of Jerusalem.—Neh. 4: 1-23.

Commentary.—I. Enemies scoff at the Jews (vs. 1-6). 1-5. There are enemies to oppose every good work. Jerusalem had lain in ruins for nearly a century and a half and had been a prey to surrounding nations. When the people around about saw an effort being made to rebuild the walls they ridiculed the attempt, declaring that the Jews were too feeble for so great an undertaking. The words of Sauballat and Tobiah in vs. 3, 4 express the estimate which they placed upon the Jews' ability to restore Jerusalem and the nation. They flattered themselves into believing that the thing which they did not want done was impossible of accomplishment. As an offset to this derision Nehemiah took himself again to prayer, committing the entire case to Jehovah, yet used his utmost diligence to carry forward the work already begun. 6. So built we the wall.—The entire wall was apportioned to forty-four different companies, and they worked so faithfully that the breaches were all closed in fifty-two days (ch. 2: 15), building "every one over against his own house" (ch. 3: 28). All the wall was joined into the half there. The entire wall was built up to one-half its former height. It is estimated that the original height was two hundred feet. A mind to work.—The hundreders of the people explained the rapidity of the work. Nehemiah disclaims any credit to himself.—Cam. Bible.

H. A conspiracy formed (vs. 7-12). 7. Sauballat.—An officer of the Persian government, who had authority in Samaria. He is chiefly noted for his hostility to the Jews. He is called "the Horonathite" (ch. 2: 10), probably from Horonath, a city in Moab. Tobiah.—He was an Ammonite (ch. 2: 10). The Moabites and the Ammonites were enemies of the Jews, and this fact may account for their hostility to the plan of rebuilding the walls. Arabians.—Wandering tribes of the desert, probably under the leadership of Geshem (ch. 2: 10). Ammonites.—A people having their home to the east of the Jordan. Ashdodites.—The inhabitants of Ashdod, a city of the Philistines, near the Mediterranean Sea. Were very wroth.—They were angry when they heard of the Jews' purpose to rebuild the walls, and their anger increased when they knew that the work was actually being done. They constructed the act of the Jews in fortifying the city as an attempt to thwart the Persian yoke, but the real cause of their anger seems to have been a jealousy because of the increasing power and prosperity of the Jews, and, moreover, Jerusalem fortified would no longer be an open field for plunder.

8. Conspired... together.—Literally, "breathed together in sin." The hostility of each of these people toward the Jews was great enough for the plan being to unite them in their opposition of the Jews, and moreover, Nehemiah There is no account of their having put their conspiracy into action.

being to unite them in their opposition of the Jews, and moreover, Nehemiah There is no account of their having put their conspiracy into action.

9. We made our prayer unto our God.—Nehemiah was a man of prayer; his prayers had thus far brought success in his important undertakings, and he believed the Lord would not fail him at this critical moment. And set a watch.—The strongest confidence in the protection and favor of God does not preclude the use of all or any of the means of self-preservation and defence, which His providence has put in our power.—Clarke. Watching and prayer are brought together in their proper relation. On the part of the enemies of the Jews there were ridicule, hatred and conspiracy; but on the part of the Jews, prayer, watching, and concentration of purpose to carry out the divinely appointed plan.

10. Judah said... we are not able.—Nehemiah met opposition, not only from without, but even from his own people, who harbored a spirit of discouragement. There was a great amount of rubbish, which must be removed to find a foundation and to secure building material, and it was a great height to which stones must be raised to build the walls. This formidable task had discouraged the workers, and their strength was giving way.

11. Our adversaries said, etc.—The plan of the enemy was to make a sudden and secret attack upon the Jews, with the purpose of utterly routing them and permanently hindering the work of repairing the walls. 12. The Jews which dwell by them.—The Jews in scattered communities, dwelling among the Samaritans and other enemies. Said unto us ten times... we must return (R. V.).—These scattered Jews felt that their enemies were so hostile that their lives were in danger, therefore they sent "ten times," again and again, for the members of their families in Jerusalem to return to them to protect them. Thus another difficulty presented itself to Nehemiah.

13. Nehemiah's defense (vs. 13-18). 13. In the lowest parts... in the open places (R. V.).—Nehemiah placed guards behind the workers in the exposed places where the walls were not yet raised high enough for protection. After their families—Probably defending the portion of the wall upon which they were at work.—Cam. Bible. Both the defenders and those working upon the walls at any given place belonged to the same family.

14. Be not ye afraid of them.—It was known that an attack was likely to be made by the Jews' enemies. Nehemiah had one his best in organizing the workers and the defenders, he had prayed earnestly to the Lord, and with confidence he could encourage his people to be brave and strong. Fight for your brethren, etc.—The strongest incentives were placed before them. "To the Jews the contest must be for their very existence as a people."

15. When our enemies heard.—The enemies expected to keep secret the plans of their attack, but it became known to the Jews, and God "brought their counsel to nought." 16. The half of my servants.—Reference is probably made to Nehemiah's band of personal servants. They were divided into two companies, one-half working at rebuilding walls and the other guarding against the enemies. Habergeons.—Coats of metal or coarse leather, the work behind. They took their position behind the workers to direct the work of building, and to direct the defense in case an attack should be made. 17. Bare burdens.—The burdens-bearing needed both one hand for their work, so they were free to use the other for defense. 18. His sword.—The builders carried their swords in their girdles, where they could be grasped quickly, if needed.

19. The builders at work (vs. 19-23). "Our God shall fight for us."—20. comes fittingly from the lips of the man who had made use of his own skill in pushing forward the work and in guarding the workmen, and had prayed in faith for the success of the undertaking which he was certain was divinely directed. The energy with which the work was advanced appears from the fact that the workmen were busy from daylight until dark, and even at night they were to be ready at a moment's warning to defend themselves and the city.

Questions.—Who was Nehemiah? Why had he gone to Jerusalem? What did he do first? How did the people receive his plan? How were they opposed? How did Nehemiah meet their opposition? What complaint did the men of Judah make? Why? How did Nehemiah bear the plan of his enemies? How did he arrange to meet their foe? What appeal did Nehemiah make to the people? How did his plan affect his enemies? How did he arrange to complete the work? What was the need of a trumpet?

19. The builders at work (vs. 19-23). "Our God shall fight for us."—20. comes fittingly from the lips of the man who had made use of his own skill in pushing forward the work and in guarding the workmen, and had prayed in faith for the success of the undertaking which he was certain was divinely directed. The energy with which the work was advanced appears from the fact that the workmen were busy from daylight until dark, and even at night they were to be ready at a moment's warning to defend themselves and the city.

WHAT A COW IS WORTH
It is noteworthy that these figures agree with those which have been given out by close students of dairy conditions. The same investigation showed that the average cost of producing a pound of butter fat was as high as 21 cents. The price received was only 18 cents. This means that the farmer is losing 3 cents on every pound of butter fat. The cost of raising a cow for a year is approximately $60. The cost can be kept at a minimum through economy in feeding and in the care of the animal, and by handling the product.

SHE WAS SURPRISED
When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint
Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings. "I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness was a daily source of trial to me. Every day I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away. Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great. From the very first I experienced relief. Continuing with them I found my troubles, and before long I was again what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."
Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure Bowel and Kidney as well as Liver troubles, and keep you healthy. 25c a box at your dealer's.

duced on the farm. Labor includes both man and horse labor at the current rates of wages for the month and year, combined with the labor performed for such cases as the stock raising, and other enterprises of which the dairy is one.

COST VARIES EACH YEAR
With these items included, the annual cost of maintaining a cow in the vicinity of Northfield, Minnesota, was as follows: In 1906, $44.47; 1907, $54.84; 1908, $42.32; 1909, $68.82; the average cost from 1905 to 1909 being about $50. In 1910, the cost was $53.10; 1911, $48.94; 1912, $47.87; with an average cost of about $46. The average cost for 1913 is estimated to be $48.50. Commenting up on these statistics, the investigators say: "Increasing cost of maintenance has become an important matter in the future of dairy farming, and is clearly shown on all routes—the result of increasing cost of food, labor and so forth. In sections where important markets and centres of population, the cost of maintenance is enormously increased. The cost of feed, for example, averaging $5 a ton or less, and grain feeds less than one cent a pound, the farmer in the rural districts of the Central West have a decided advantage over those localities where grain is one and one-half to two cents a pound, and roughage $15 to $20 a ton. In the latter case a cow cannot be maintained on less than $70 a year. From the figures it is safe to say that the average cost of maintaining a cow in the vicinity of Northfield is approximately $50. The cost can be kept at a minimum through economy in feeding and in the care of the animal, and by handling the product."

CANADIAN APPLES IN BRITAIN.
London—Barrailed apples, heavy supply, but steady demand. Rates are a point higher for most varieties of Nova Scotia, although prices still below normal for this season. Canadian apples now available are: Greenings at 15 shillings per barrel for the week ending November 10th; Ben Davis, 18 to 16 for No. 1 and 14 for No. 2; Golden Russets, 18 to 20 for No. 1 and 16 to 18 for No. 2 per barrel. Liverpool—Canadian Baldwins, 18 to 20 for No. 1 and 16 to 18 for No. 2; Ben Davis, 18 to 16 for No. 1 and 14 for No. 2.

MONTEAL LIVE STOCK.
Montreal—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending November 10th, were: 2,200 cattle, 3,500 sheep and lambs, 2,500 hogs, and 600 calves, while the offerings at the market this morning, were: 2,200 cattle, 2,500 sheep and lambs, 2,500 hogs, and 600 calves. On account of the heavy rain of cattle, which consisted of common and medium stock, principally a weaker feeling developed in the market for stock, and prices as compared with Monday's show a decline of 1 to 2 cents per pound, but owing to the limited supply of good choice steers, values show very little change. At the above price there was an active demand from local buyers for supplies, and a brisk trade was done. There was also a good demand from packers for carrying lots of steers, and as the offerings were such were 100 in excess of the requirements, values were steady. A good trade continues to be done in which cows and prices are well maintained, as supplies of the top grades are plentiful. A stronger feeling prevailed in the market for sheep and lambs, and prices advanced 20 per cent, notwithstanding the fact that the supply was much larger, for which there was a less demand from buyers and packers, and a brisk trade was done. There was no change in calves, for which the demand was good, and prices advanced 10 to 15 per cent. The tone of the market for hogs was weaker, and prices declined 10 to 15 per cent. The market for all grades of pigs was good, and sales of selected lots were made at

Here will be found the picture of an old man. Around his head and shoulders are concealed the faces of his seven daughters. Can you find these seven faces? If so, mark the faces with an X. Cut out the picture and send it to the publisher, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words "I have found the seven faces and marked them."
Write the above words plainly and neatly, as in case of words, both writing and neatness will be considered in this contest.
Should you not happen to be a neat writer, show this advertisement to some friend or your schoolmate, who will write for you. First, agree with the publisher to do the writing, that you are to receive any prize money or prize that may be awarded.
This may take up a little of your time, but there is TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash and ONE THOUSAND premiums given away, it is worth your time to take a little trouble over this matter.

We do not ask you to Spend One Cent of Your Money in order to enter this Contest

Send your name at once, as will be by return mail, and we will send you a complete list of names and addresses of the prize-winners of the contests. WHO AM I ANYHOW?

I married a widow who had a daughter. My father visited the house frequently, fell in love and married my step-daughter. Thus my father became my son-in-law, and my step-daughter my mother, because she was my father's wife. My step-daughter had a son, he was, of course, my brother and at the same time my grandchild, for he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother, because she was my mother's mother. I was my wife's husband and grandchild at the same time, and as the husband of a person's grand mother is his grandfather, I must be my own grandfather.

Wrong End of the Stick.
One morning while trade was slack and he had settled himself in the store chair for a few minutes a north side grocer was interrupted by the entering of a very small daughter of Africa, who, bracing herself in the middle of the store, said, "Mam wants some scam milk," whereupon she received the asked for amount of skimmed milk.
The grocer had just settled himself for another rest when he was again interrupted by that selfsame bottle of ink: "Mam don't want this. She want that what's scammed off the top."—Indianapolis News.

John on Literary Matters.
A Holton, Eng., literary club recently indulged in a spirited discussion of Ibsen and his writings. After the case had been argued "pro and con" each way, as the distinguished Mr. Jettis used to say, a sister confessed that she didn't know anything about Ibsen, but said she wanted to learn, and asked if some member would lend her a copy of the noted author's "plays." It then developed that there is not a set of Ibsen's plays in the town of Holton.

The Boy and the Apples.
Here is the latest from Dr. Macnamara's budget of schoolboy stories. When he was Parliamentary Secretary of the British Board of Trade he visited a school and asked a boy, who was learning vulgar fractions, which he would prefer—the fifteenth or sixteenth part of an apple. Thinking, perhaps, that it sounded more, the boy replied the sixteenth part. "I looked pained," said Dr. Macnamara, "and the boy hastened to add, 'But, I don't like apples.'"

Stormed Church to See a Wedding.
The wedding held by Lord Grand-grand, whose marriage to Miss Beatrice Mills, daughter of Mr. Ogden Mills, and niece of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, has taken place, dates back to 1648. But there was a barony in the family long before this, for Sir Alexander Forbes, who married a granddaughter of the Scotch King, Robert III., was created Lord Forbes by King James II., of Scotland, in 1448. Lord Grand-grand saw active service with the Scots Guards in South Africa. Miss Beatrice Mills is one of the wealthiest heiresses in New York. She is a good rider, and fond of outdoor pursuits, and is a splendid singer. As is only natural, the wedding was looked forward to with considerable interest, and in this connection one is reminded that a ceremony of such importance is sometimes the cause of a regrettable lack of manners among ardent persons eager to be present. On one occasion, a determined woman headed a number of others equally determined, all of whom asserted that they would, at any cost, "get in" to the church where an English nobleman was to marry an American heiress. They succeeded in carrying out their threat, but the leader of the band was roughly handled, and her clothes were in tatters. Not in the least daunted at this, however, she went up to the bride's mother and said: "Mrs. ———, you see I've got right here, and I heartily congratulate you and your daughter and son-in-law." But owing to her dishevelled appearance the congratulations were received in stony silence.

Versatility of Lord Tankerville.
The Earl of Tankerville, whose name has figured in an interesting case in the Chancery Division lately, is one of the most philanthropic and versatile members of the Upper House. He is a noted athlete and sportsman, as well as a painter of much talent and a good musician. He also numbers orchid-growing amongst his hobbies, and not the least interesting fact concerning both he and his wife is that they are keenly interested in evangelical movements. As Lord Bennet he was for a long time the intimate friend and co-worker of Messrs. Moody and Sankey, and they have frequently presided over mission meetings in Shropshire. One of the most picturesque gatherings ever held in the county was an open-air service which they conducted a short time ago. Lady Tankerville, however, is not, as is commonly reported, "a Salvation lass"; "no," she says, "have I ever taken part in any outdoor religious meeting in New York, as I have often seen stated."

A Remarkable Benefactor.
A curious and interesting story is told concerning Mr. Benn Wolfe Levy, the noted English public benefactor who died recently. Some years ago he was visiting the London Hospital, and, seeing men in red flannel dressing-gowns, he asked Mr. Sydney Holland why they were so dressed. Mr. Holland told him that they were prepared for operation, but, owing to the fact that there was only one operating theatre, it was doubtful whether there would be time to do all the operations. The crucial moment of preparing men for operations with all the anxiety involved to the patient, and then having to postpone them, appealed to Mr. Levy, and he at once drew a check for $65,000, which he was told would build five theatres, and ultimately increased the amount to $75,000.

Smallest Burial-Ground.
In connection with the scheme for a new railway station at Worthing, England, the land purchased for the purpose includes what is believed to be the smallest burial-ground in the United Kingdom. This miniature "God's acre" is only six yards square and contains but four bodies. As soon as these have been transferred to the cemetery at Broadwater the work of converting the land into the site for the new station will be commenced.

FELL AMONG THIEVES.

And the Old Man Didn't Know Which Set Was the Worst.
An old man from rural England with his wife was on a holiday in London and decided on an evening at a theater. He looked up the advertisements in the papers and selected a house where "All Baba and the Forty Thieves" was being played. It was a "cheap" house, the price of stalls being given as two-and-sixpence. The farmer was surprised, however, on arriving at the box office to be met with a demand for 6 shillings for the two tickets. The extra sixpence per seat, it was explained, was for booking. Then he was called upon to pay sixpence for a program, and the female attendant who showed him to the seats also asked for sixpence, in addition to which there was a shilling to be paid for hats and coats being taken care of in spite of his protest that they could take care of them themselves. A footstool was brought for his wife and was accepted without suspicion that it would be charged for, but the attendant who brought it demanded another sixpence, and finally opera glasses were handed to them and payment of another sixpence requested. Then the farmer went in search of the manager and, finding him, said in a tone of deepest disgust: "You may do what you like with these tickets. There are so many thieves in front of the house that we don't think we want to see the forty on the stage!"—London Answers.

THUNDERSTORMS.

They Kill Over 300 Persons a Year in Madagascar.
Thunderstorms never occur in the arctic regions, and even the north of Scotland very seldom suffers from such a visitation. The nearer you get to the equator the more frequent and severe are the electric manifestations. In parts of Central Africa the average of thunderous days rises to the astonishing total of 250 per annum.
Yet there are curious exceptions. In Java and Sumatra, both intensely hot climates, there are but ninety-two storms yearly, and in Borneo only fifty.
The Gold coast of Africa has only sixty a year, which is less than occur in Florida, though the latter country is outside the tropics.
In Jamaica there is a thunderstorm every day during the rainy season, which lasts for five months. These storms almost always occur between midday and 3 in the afternoon.
Perhaps the most astonishing fact with regard to thunderstorms is that the island of Mauritius, which is only 550 miles east of Madagascar, has, on an average, only one thunderstorm in eighty years. Yet in Madagascar the lightning is more destructive than anywhere else in the world, the annual death roll being over 800.—Pearson's Weekly.

Costly Privacy.
Although a waiter, he was very human, so when he perceived that the young couple who had been assigned to his table had many matters tender and confidential under consideration he retreated to a respectful distance and stared at the opposite wall. The restaurant proprietor disapproved of that humanitarian attitude.
"Don't stand away back there," he said. "Go up and hang over that fellow's chair back for awhile."
"Oh, no," expostulated the human waiter. "They want to talk."
"Of course they do," the proprietor retorted. "That is why I want you to butt in. Every time you come near they will send you to the kitchen for a fresh order to get you out of the way."—New York Times.

Grim Retailer.
A prison sale is held annually in Paris. The articles offered for sale are the clothes of murdered people, the instruments with which the crimes have been committed and the effects which have belonged to the deceased prisoners. Articles which have been taken to the prefecture of police and have not been claimed are also sold. The proceeds go to the Paris almshouse. Unclaimed jewelry is usually bought by ordinary brokers, but the articles which have belonged to criminals, especially those who are notorious, are bought at high prices.

Dodging a Difficulty.
"Are you going to send the Sparkler girl a wedding present?"
"No, old Sparkler and I had a squabble yesterday?"
"That's too bad. What was the cause?"
"I really can't afford his friendship. He has five marriageable daughters."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Fast Talker.
The orator spoke about the things he had not said, the things he did not believe and the things he would not do.
"That fellow," observed the sailor, "is talking at the rate of about thirty pots an hour."—Judge.

A Faithful Likeness.
Sapleigh—I really don't think the photographer caught my expression, do you? Miss Keen (looking at photo)—I don't see any.—Boston Transcript.

A Strong Player.
Mother—What do you think you will make out of my daughter's talent? Professor—About a dollar a lesson, if the piano holds out.

His Monopoly.
"He has unbounded faith in himself."
"In other words, he has a monopoly of the faith in himself, eh?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

IT IS UP TO YOU

To protect your family from the ravages of disease and infection; and the rigors of winter; to make your home the abode of Health and Happiness.

Statistics tell us that there were over 250,000 deaths in North America last year from fever and pneumonia; over 90 per cent of these cases were traceable to out-door closets, and all the result of insanitary conditions.

Are you going to allow this terrible death rate to continue? Why not insure health by installing a "Parkyte" Sanitary Chemical Closet.

Absolutely sanitary and odorless; carries the endorsement of Physicians and health Officials, and our own iron-clad guarantee. Requires no expensive water system, no plumbing, no sewage. Can be installed in any part of your home at the cost of a few minutes of your spare time. Lasts a life-time and costs less than a cent a day.

"Parkyte" Chemical has been proven by bacteriological test to be the most powerful Disinfectant, Deodorant and Germicide known to Science.

The "Parkyte" Sanitary Chemical Closet is sold by KARLEY & PURCELL, Athens, Ont.

COUNTIES COUNCIL NOTES

The November session of the counties council opened on Tuesday last with nearly all members present.
The report of the House of Industry committee as usual showed everything to be satisfactory in connection with that institution. They had accepted the tenders of Joseph Thompson for rolled oats at $2.85 per sack of 90 pounds and the tender of N. G. Scott for bread at 16 cents per pan.
The report of the Good Roads Commissioners says: The yearly report to the Department of Public Works will show approximately 55 miles metalled,
and of which 38 miles have been rolled,
and also that eleven new bridges have been constructed and three others improved throughout the counties. The estimate of the cost of the roads and bridges built throughout the counties is now being made by the county engineer in his report to the Department of Public Works and will be ready in a short time.

From the first, this Good Roads undertaking has been strongly opposed by a large section of the council and the expenditures in connection therewith are closely watched. An interesting discussion followed the presentation of the following motion:
Moved by Mr Ferguson seconded by Mr Stevens, that the majority of the members of this council are of the opinion that the present system of construction re country roads is costing more than the original estimate and that unless some change is made at once the appropriation will be exhausted before our allotted mileage is completed, and we are also of the opinion that the cost of procuring material can be materially lessened
by letting all contracts by tender.

In support of his motion, Mr Ferguson, maintained that the cost of the road constructed in Rear Yonge and Escott was excessive and quoted figures to substantiate his assertion. He said the 1 1/2 mile of road running north from Athens had cost $2,667, a rate per mile of $1,750. Lyndhurst road, 2 1/2 mile, had cost $5,150. Neither of these roads had yet been rolled. He wanted to know if a ratepayer has not a right to tender for any county work.
He deprecated that any commissioner should take the work himself. He felt that tenders should have been called for and the public where stone supplies are available should have a chance to tender for the work. If tenders were called he believed that it would lessen the cost of construction.

Dr. Preston said that while the cost was above the estimate, it ought to be considered that labor is very high.
He thought that the Commissioners
should be allowed to use discretion.
He cited cases to uphold his contention.
With printed copies of the County
Engineer's report in their possession, the councillors will next session be able to deal with this matter in a more tangible and conclusive manner.
A complaint was made by Mr R.
J. Campo that the stream passing his mill was polluted with sewerage from the House of Industry. This matter is to be investigated and whatever nuisance exists will be abated.

OPENING MEETING.

Several newspapers have been referring to the lack of interest manifested in this political campaign, and some argue that this is due to the people being satisfied with the government's record. Assuming this conclusion to be correct, then Mr Donovan's meeting in the town hall on Monday evening goes to show that this neck of the woods is a notable exception. The enthusiasm didn't reach the cheering stage, however, and an attempt to greet the candidate with "He's a jolly good fellow" was hardly a melodious success.

Mr Thos. Bernev presided and the speakers were Mr H. Stewart, K. C.
the candidate, Mr A. E. Donovan, and Rev. S. J. Robins. With a trio of such excellent speakers, it followed as a natural consequence that the record of the government was presented in the best possible light.

Two subjects of vital interest to the people of the province, and particularly to this community, were presented by the speakers, viz.: Education and Temperance Legislation. As to the famous three-fifths clause, Mr Donovan declared it to be able salvation of the Temperance party, so there is no doubt as to where he stands on that issue.
In attempting to explain just how the present educational policy was going to work out to the benefit of the people
the speakers were not particularly successful.

This was the opening meeting of Mr Donovan's campaign and he and his associate speakers have every reason to be satisfied with the respectful, attentive hearing they received.

MY CHOICE

There's a little old log cabin in a hidden flowery vale;
O'er the weather-beaten roof-top the clinging creepers trail;
From the doorway in the twilight I can watch the rippling stream,
Where the beauties of the sun-set
through the leafy tree-tops gleam.
And my heart feels not the worries of an over-burdened mind,
From Nature's ways I've learned the lesson that her soul is good and kind
On the wild lawns of the forest I am known and welcomed there,
But my name is never flaunted and I've never shouldered Care.

Yes, I might have been a someone, I had every chance, God know;
But I shunned it in my man-hood and boy-like, this is the life I chose.
When a lad at school they whispered I would have a name some day,
But in my heart I know I'm happy in my own secluded way.
I know that I'm called a failure by the ones I left at home,
But I couldn't still the longing and my boyish love to roam.
Perhaps I might have had a fortune
had I slaved like other men,
But I chose the gifts of Nature and this cabin in the glen.

When the sun set spreads a glory o'er
these old familiar hills,
And the silence of the wood-land is echoed from the rills;
When the wild life of the forest thrills
the bush with rapturous song,
And the twilight of the evening o'er
the calm lake lingers long;
When the fingers of the sun-set wave
their last and fond farewell,
And the glistening pearls of Nature
sway the dainty wood-land bells, Then I know that I have chosen the best that life could give.
And though stranger to your cities I have learned at least to live.

Athens, Ont. L. Glenn Earl.

A STEP BACKWARD!

Mr Editor
These are days of progress. In the scientific realm new inventions are following each other rapidly. In the political world the masses are asserting themselves against the injustice of the privileged few, as in England and China. And in the moral and spiritual world great evils are being overthrown and world-wide movements for the Christianizing of the nations are in full swing.

Among the evils that are being overthrown is the traffic in intoxicating liquors. Definite and far-reaching progress in this has been made within the last few years. Medical men of national reputation now condemn the use of alcoholics, not only as food and beverages, but also as medicine. The councils of the nation are making more stringent laws against its sale. A desperate attempt to overthrow prohibition in the state of Maine has failed.
Bans are being closed up every year in Ontario. But world-wide victory is not attained yet. There is a vast amount of working and fighting and struggling to be done before the serpent of alcohol is killed. And every now and again there is an attempt made by the forces of selfishness to retake positions which have been won by the army of progress. To our shame be it said, such an attempt is to be made in this village of Athens.
Seventy-four people have asked the council to make possible to have the bars reopened right in our midst.
And the council, though not legally bound, have decided by a majority of one to submit the question to the resident electors next January. Some reasons for doing so expressed by one of the councillors at one of its meetings are these: The open bar would promote the cause of sobriety; it would increase the revenue of the council; it would promote business. If there are people who regard these arguments as serious they will be dealt with at a later stage. Nothing however was said of those who want certain property to increase in value as it would do if the bars were reopened, nor of those who would be glad to get liquor more easily than they do at present. Selfish reasons are generally kept in the background. What will the verdict be next January? At the last municipal election it was possible to bring on repeal contests in 342 places; of these 44
did so, and only 4 went back to liquor.
These figures talk. Let Athens not only refuse to join the four, but make the verdict so decisive that the question shall forever be settled and thus be seen to be on the side of "the other fellow" and of right, which is the side of God.

Yours truly,
Wm. Westell.

THE COMSTOCK LODE

A "Strike" That Was Destined to Increase the World's Finances.
"You've struck it boys!" Thus said
Henry Paige Comstock to Peter O'Leary and Patrick McLoughlin, who were his fellow prospectors in a search for gold in Six Mile canyon, near the present Virginia City, then capital of Nevada. The date was June 10, 1863.
In that remote spot in the American wilderness by these three obscure men was made on that day a discovery destined to affect the current of American politics for a score of years and to have for long a disturbing influence on the world's finances.
The thing which was "struck" on that June day of 1863 was the vein covering what came to be known as the Comstock lode, in which were hidden the richest deposits of silver ever found anywhere on the globe. Their development years afterward simultaneously with that of the silver mines
of Colorado started the downward slide in the price of silver which broke the old ratio between the money metal, changed the monetary system of the leading nations from the double to the single gold standard, incited the movement, beginning in 1877 under the leadership of Richard P. Bland, for the reopening of the mints to silver on the same terms as to gold, led hence to the passing of the Bland-Allison limited silver coinage law of 1876 and to that of the Sherman silver bullion deposit act of 1890 and was the issue which split the two great parties and made havoc among the small ones in 1896, resulting in the act of 1900 which gave statutory recognition to the gold standard in the United States.—Atlantic.

THE EARTH'S CHANGES.

What the Fossil Remains of Plants
and Animals Tell Us.
There was a time when even the polar regions bloomed with many of the splendid and varied forms of life
that now adorn the tropics.
The fossil remains of these ancient forms preserved in the bosom of the rocks carry us back perhaps millions of years in the earth's history and show clearly what wonderful revolutions the surface of the globe has undergone since the first plants and the first animals appeared upon it.
Who would think of meeting a rhinoceros nowadays on the prairies of northwestern Canada unless perhaps a traveling manager should pass that way? Yet at one time, as discoveries of recent years prove, a creature closely resembling the rhinoceros of India and Africa dwelt in that now comparatively cold, snowy and barren region.
Remains of these extinct ancestors
of an animal that in our day thrives only in the tangled tropical forests and under the hot equatorial sun have been found buried in the Canadian rocks,
where now the cold blasts of winter
blow over treeless plains and sweep
the flanks of ice incusted mountains.
The rhinoceros of that remote age was no less formidable a beast than its descendants, for the skull of one of the skeletons discovered is three feet long, while some of its teeth are four inches across.
The fossil remains of many other forms of animals have been found in the same region within recent years.—
Harper's Weekly.

Charms of Labrador.

People are not apt to think of Labrador as a particularly delightful and to dwell in. No tourist thinks of going there for a summer vacation. Yet if Mr. H. H. Pritchard's impressions, gathered while hunting big game, are to be accepted, Labrador possesses charms of scenery that it would be difficult to match elsewhere in the world.
The words that he quotes from Saltatha, a "Yellowknife Indian," best indicate the nature of these scenes:
"You say the kingdom of heaven is good, my father, but tell me, is it better than the land of the musk ox in summer, when the lakes are sometimes misty and sometimes blue, and the loons cry often? That is good, my father, and if heaven is better I shall be willing to dwell there until I am very, very old."—Youth's Companion.

One Man Overcomes a Nation.
Jean Angot, who died in 1651, was a French merchant in the African and East Indian trade. When some of his ships had been taken by the Portuguese he fitted out an armed fleet that kept Lisbon blockaded until the government of Portugal indemnified him for his losses. At one time he was immensely wealthy, but he lost in speculations and in money lent to the king of France, and the closing years of his life were passed in destitution.

The Truthful Milkman.
Mr. Youngwed—We never get any cream on the milk. Why is it?
Mrs. Youngwed—It's all right, dear.
I've spoken to the milkman about it,
and he explained that they fill the bottles so full with milk there's no room left for any cream on top.—London Telegraph.

No Hope.
"Well, how are you getting on with your admirer, Alice?"
"Oh, I have given up all hope now.
We got stuck in a lift for three hours yesterday, and even that didn't make him propose."—Flicking Blatter.

The Penalty.
"There seems to be a penalty provided for everything but stealing a man's daughter."
"There's a penalty for that too."
"I'd like to know what it is."
"Hard labor for life."—Houston Post.

MRS. MARY LEIGH

Got Two Months Without Option of Fine.

Lady Lytton and Lady Sybil Got Option.

London, Nov. 27.—Lady Constance Lytton and Lady Sybil Smith, both of whom have been prominent in the suffragette movement, were charged at the Bow Street Police Court to-day with smashing windows during the demonstrations of Tuesday last. They were sentenced respectively to a fortnight and a week in jail in default of the payment of fines.

Mrs. Mary Leigh, who has been seven times previously convicted, and whom the police described as the "most troublesome suffragette" they had had to deal with, was sentenced to two months in jail without the option of a fine. The magistrate warned Mrs. Leigh that if she were again convicted she would be sent to jail for a term at hard labor.

Mrs. Leigh, on the occasion of one of her previous convictions in 1908, told the magistrate, "The next time we come out you can expect bombs." She brought an unsuccessful suit against the Government in 1909, claiming damages because she had been forcibly fed during her imprisonment.

The remaining 139 cases were adjourned until next Monday.

GAS JET OPEN

Stratford Father and Son Suffocated.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Peter Paul and his son Clifford were found dead in their room this morning. Gas was found flowing from an open jet that had been connected with a heater. Paul had been out of work for several months and at first Coroner Killip suspected that he had turned on the gas and killed himself and son. Young Paul had concluded to enlist in the American navy, and had brought home the papers for his father to sign.

Two brothers of Peter Paul came to Rochester this evening and claimed the remains of the dead man and his son. The Pauls live in Stratford, Ont., and will take both bodies to that city for burial. Peter Paul was 40 years of age, and his son 18 years old.

EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Regina, Sask., Nov. 27.—An express package, said to contain about $5,000, was stolen from the office of the Canadian Northern Express Company about 3:30 a. m.

The night clerk, a man named Cameron, was absent from the office but a few seconds, when he returned to find the package gone. Nothing else was disturbed, and the only person about was a brakeman, who was sitting on a chair near the safe. The Mounted Police and the city police were both informed. No arrests have been made.

PRICE BROS. & COMPANY

OF QUEBEC, CANADA

Manufacturers of Paper, Pulp and Timber

First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Due November 1st, 1940 Interest Payable Half-Yearly

PRICE TO YIELD 6% ON THE INVESTMENT

We consider that these Bonds present an exceptional opportunity for absolutely safe and most remunerative investment on account of the strong features following:

- First—The convertible nature of the Company's assets, consisting of 6,000 square miles of pulp and timber lands distributed throughout the Province of Quebec. These properties could to-day be subdivided and sold in the open market for almost twice the amount of the First Mortgage Bonds. The timber limits are fully insured with Lloyds of London, England, against loss through forest fires.
- Second—The net earnings from the Company's present business are equal to approximately twice the amount required for payment of interest on the First Mortgage Bonds. The new paper and pulp mills now in course of construction will double this earning power.
- Third—The First Mortgage Bonds can to-day be purchased at a substantial discount price and they are retired by a Sinking Fund capable of redeeming practically the entire issue at 102½ and interest by yearly drawings.
- Fourth—Price Bros. & Company is the largest industry in the Province of Quebec, where they have been in business for over one hundred years. Their First Mortgage Bonds have been purchased by the most conservative investors in England and Canada, among whom are many of our strongest Banks and Insurance Companies.

Complete particulars will be forwarded on request.

BOTH ACQUITTED

J.R. Stratton and J. J. Warren in Court.

Farmers Bank Suit Dismissed by Judge.

Toronto despatch: Messrs. J. R. Stratton and J. J. Warren are not guilty of conspiring, together with others, to represent to the treasury board that a sum not less than $250,000 had been bona fide paid by subscribers to the capital stock of the Farmers Bank, with intent to unlawfully obtain a certificate permitting them to do business.

This is the finding of Judge Winchester, in his judgment handed out yesterday, following the trial of Messrs. Stratton and Warren before him last week. There is still an indictment against these two men in the High Court, which will be disposed of at the next sitting of the criminal assizes, when the presiding judge will have to decide whether this acquittal by Judge Winchester is equivalent to an acquittal on the standing indictment.

Summing up the case, Judge Winchester says in his judgment:

"The crown produced evidence in support of this charge, the main witness being W. R. Travers, formerly manager of the Farmers Bank. In his evidence he stated that he had applied to Mr. Warren, then manager of the Farmers & Guarantee Company, for a personal loan of $80,000, and, with the authority of the provisional directors of the Farmers Bank, who endorsed without recourse, certain promissory notes given by subscribers for shares in the bank, he offered a number of these notes as security for such advance. Subsequently he found that he required $20,000 more, and he offered Mr. Warren additional security for such a loan; that these were personal loans; that, upon the cheques being made out for the amounts thus borrowed, he, Travers, directed the same to be paid to the Bank of Montreal, so that they could be utilized for the purpose of depositing it with the Finance Minister, in making up the deposit of $250,000 required by the Bank Act."

"He stated that there was no agreement with Mr. Warren or with Mr. Stratton as to any unlawful act, or had they any knowledge of any wrongdoing in connection with these deposits; that so far as they were concerned, it was a pure matter of business, with them, for which they received interest and a bonus. This bonus apparently was divided up with the Manufacturers' Loan Association, who advanced $55,000 of the $80,000, and received 55-80ths of the interest and bonus. He stated that Mr. Warren and Mr. Stratton had acted in the utmost good faith in the transaction and had no knowledge of the improper use that was made subsequently by him with the moneys received from the Farmers & Guarantee Company, and with the subscription list.

"At the conclusion of the hearing of the trial the evidence was insufficient to warrant a conviction under the charge before me, but, in consequence of counsel for the crown referring me to a number of cases to support his contention, I reserved judgment for the purpose of considering the same. I have since then considered not only these but a number of other cases bearing upon the question at issue."

Judge Winchester cited the case of Rex vs. Bratford, 75 L. J. K. B. 61, and the case of Dominion Salvage & Wrecking Company vs. the Attorney-General of Canada, 21 C. C. R. 72, but concluded that the evidence in the pending case was entirely different from that given in the cases cited.

"While the cases cited showed a wrongdoing with intent to commit an offence," the judge before me shows no intent on the part of the defendants to do an unlawful act. I, therefore, find the defendants not guilty of the charge against them upon the evidence produced before me."

DROPPED DEAD

To Have Been Joined by Friend at Hamilton.

Toronto despatch: The C. P. R. train had scarcely pulled out of the Union station at 7:30 this morning when a passenger, Mr. G. H. Reekie, of Montreal, dropped dead.

At Sunnyside station the body was removed and taken to Narman Craig's undertaking establishment. Coroner Adam Lind decided that an inquest was unnecessary, heart failure being the cause.

Mr. Reekie was 78 years of age. His son-in-law, Mr. R. J. Leroy, of the Leroy Business College, Montreal, was accompanying him. Their destination was to have been Woodland, and they were to have been joined by a friend at Hamilton.

Ran Into a Gale Lasting Twenty-Four Hours.

New York, Nov. 27.—Through giant seas that tossed her about like a cork, the liner Lusitania made port to-day, hours behind her scheduled time, and at a speed 25 per cent below normal. Passengers and officers declared that they ran into a gale on Wednesday which lasted for twenty-four hours. Many were hurled from their berths and few slept through the night, while mountainous waves swept the entire length of the promenade deck. Many of the crew slept only after lashing themselves to their bunks.

ONTARIO CROPS

Nov. Bulletin by Department of Agriculture.

Yield of Grain Was Light—Quality Fair.

The November crop bulletin of the Ontario Department of Agriculture is not an optimistic document. The yield and quality of the grain crops were at best not above average and in some cases decidedly poor. The root crops were disappointing, fruit did only fairly well and live stock suffered from the drought.

Summarized, the report states that the quality of fall wheat was fair to good with the yield considerably below average. The new crop of corn was a good deal better than the old crop, but was an average crop.

The yield of potatoes was light but they were of excellent quality, being free from the rust that has seriously affected the crop for several years. Drought and frost in the late fields caused considerable loss. Practically all root crops suffered from the drought. Turnips were a light crop but of good quality, though rather small. Mangels are regarded as the best crop of the season, though not up to usual size.

The yield of clover seed was light but the quality was excellent. A small surplus of apples is reported, together with a fair yield of peaches, plums and pears. Grapes did well. Much fruit was destroyed by the wind.

Live stock suffered from poor pastures. Cattle were rather thin but healthy. Sheep were in excellent condition but not plentiful. The supply of swine at the beginning of the month was large but the high cost of feed and the low price of pork will, according to a number of correspondents of the Department, result in the sale of brood sows.

A general improvement in the quality of poultry is recorded. More hens, geese and ducks are being raised, but a scarcity of turkeys is predicted.

The dairying season was a fairly good one. The output of cheese was small, owing to the shortage of milk, but prices were high.

Threshing was completed early and fall plowing was well advanced at the beginning of the month. Fodder is scarce in the western half of the Province, but in the east and north the supply is considered sufficient.

It is probable that in order to ease the situation in the west the farmers

The new Holiness Movement church at Newboro will be opened on Tuesday, Dec. 12th. The services will continue to the following Sunday and be conducted by Rev. Bishop R. C. Horner, B. O. Ottawa, assisted by a returned missionary from Africa and other prominent preachers.

Shortly before 8 on Sunday evening all buildings served with gas from the central plant went dark, the carbide in the generator having become clogged. Service in the churches was about over when the illuminant failed.

Just received, a splendid assortment of umbrellas, fitted with detachable handles. The covers are extra quality silk mixture, handles gold filled and sterling silver trimmed, very attractive —just the thing for a presentation or Xmas gift to lady or gentleman. Priced from $2.00 up.—H. R. Knowlton.

Many enquiries are being received as to Athens poultry fair, and it is expected that there will be a large offering of fowl. The presence of American buyers at Athens fair has always had a wholesome effect on prices, assuring poultry-raisers that the highest market price was being paid. The date is Friday, Dec. 8.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in Brockville's annual Turkey fair, which takes place next Wednesday, the 6th. A big list of prizes is offered for the biggest loads, the best dressed turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens. A large number of prominent buyers have written the committee that they will attend and high prices are assured. Write the secretary, A. M. Patterson, Brockville for a prize list.

Farm and Dairy and the Athens Reporter will be sent one year to any address in Canada for $1.50.

—The Reporter until end of 1912 for $1.00.

The East End Grocery
Greeting:
Since moving to Athens and taking over the Grocery of Mr A. M. Eaton, we have received such a warm welcome and have been awarded such a liberal patronage that we take this means of expressing our appreciation.

We are constantly adding to our stock and the quick turn over we effect keeps our goods always fresh. We buy only standard goods that can be relied upon and fair prices have been placed on everything.

We take farm produce in exchange, and we respectfully invite the trade of both village and country.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
Who pays the enormous expense of those show-rooms in our towns and cities? Is it not the people who buy pianos there?
Why buy from them when you can get just as good, and in many cases better, from me, delivered free from the factory to your door? This is one of the reasons I can sell you a piano for less money than you pay at any show-room.
All kinds of instruments taken in exchange. We defy competition for the money in all grades. Get my prices before purchasing, for they are certainly very low for strictly high grade pianos.
Also agent for Raymond, New Will iams, and New Home Sewing Machines.
P. S.—Pianos sold on instalment plan when wished.
