GOOD ADVICE.

It is necessary to always have a bottle of good Brandy at hand.

What Brandy will you buy? The Medicinal Brandy "Sanator" is not a properly so-called medicine, but it has been selected from amongst the best known growths for their effective principles, and it is distilled so as to develop its tonic and digestive qualities. It is really the FAMILY BRANDY, which name the public has, for a long time, bestowed on it.

The celebrated French physician, DR. FIAZZELLE, Inspector-in-chief of the Great Medical Services, says: "The medicinal Brandy "Sanator" is eminently an easy digestive drink, remarkable for its tonifying and reinvigorating properties."

Ask for Medicinal Brandy Sanator from your liquor dealer; he has it.

DIRECTIONS.

Against weakness and bad digestion: a liquor glass at each meal.

Against Cold, Influenza: take as a hot drink, viz: one ounce and a half of Brandy, one ounce of hot water, with a little sugar.

Against summer complaints: use with chopped ice, or cold water.

AGONY ON OPERATING TABLE

Did Not Remove Stone in Bladder GIN PILLS Passed it.

JOLIETTE, P. Q. CANADA.
"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terribly with Stone in the Bladder. He decided on an operation and was assisted by another doctor. They said the calculus was larger than a bean and too hard to crush and they could not take it out."

I returned home suffering greatly and did not know what to do but was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS. I bought a box and found relief from the pain at once. I took a second and third box of GIN PILLS after which I went back to the specialist. He told me the calculus was reduced in size, still he could not relieve me of it although he tried for two and a half hours.

I returned home again and continued to take GIN PILLS as they reduced the pain very much, but I did not expect that they would relieve me of the stone but to my great joy, I passed the stone on October 3rd, and am now a well man and very happy.

I am sending the stone in to you so that you can see for yourself what a great work GIN PILLS did for me. GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did so much for me, I will recommend them all the rest of my life."
I. ALBERT LESSARD.

What glorious news to those who are almost going insane from the pain of Stone in the Bladder! Here is ease and comfort! Here is relief! Here is a certain means of getting rid of the stone without being cut to pieces by the knives of a surgeon. GIN PILLS dissolve Stone or Gravel in Kidneys or Bladder because GIN PILLS are the greatest solvent for uric acid the world has ever known.

If your trouble is like Mr. Lessard's, follow his example and take GIN PILLS. Money refunded if they fail to give relief. At all dealers, 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Sample free if you write us, mentioning this paper.

CHAPTER XVI.
"That will be true anyway," she said.

Vane laughed more freely than he had hoped to laugh that morning.

"Yes; but I'm afraid that will be the only truthful item in the catalogue. Never mind; we must stick to it. It's the only thing to do when you are in a scrape—I mean, when you are in a corner like this. But this isn't all. You have got to remember—and so have I—that you are my cousin Ernest Mortimer. I mustn't treat you with even decent politeness. That's the hard portion of my part. Nor—I mean, Ernest."

She laughed.

"You will soon learn it," she remarked lightly.

"I don't know," he said, shaking his head. "I shall want to open the door for you when you go out of the room, and hand you a chair, and pass things to you and all that."

"And it's I who ought to do these things for you, I suppose?" she said. "I'm so much younger than you, and look younger still in these clothes. I must call you 'sir,' I suppose?"

"Good heavens—no!" he said, quickly. "You must call me 'Vane.'"

She colored—for the first time—and murmured his name, under her breath, almost shyly.

"That won't do!" he commented, energetically. "Try it again, out louder, two or three times."

She managed to make it sound natural and unforced at last, and Vane nodded approvingly, and sat thoughtfully silent for a moment or two. There were so many forms of manner and behaviour to be considered!

"You'll have to learn to lean against things—the mantel-piece and furniture and that," he said, presently, "and stand with your hands in your coat-pockets."

"I know," she said with a smile; "I've learned that. I've seen the boys and men do it. Look!" She got up and assumed the attitude peculiar to youths of her age, and Vane stared at her with surprised approval.

"By George, Nor—confound it!"

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had escaped agonies from falling of womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily; and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organs, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually prove its merit, I hereby offer to send, absolutely free, a box worth 30c, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Enclose 3 stamps, MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

by the handsome, delicately cut face.

Vane laid his hand upon Nora's shoulder in a free-and-easy way.

"This is my cousin, Mr. Ernest Mortimer, Mrs. Porter," he said, carelessly. "He is going to stay with me for a time; but I dare say Porter told you."

"Yes, sir," said Mrs. Porter, with something between a bob and a courtesy. "We'll do our best to make you comfortable, sir."

"Thank you," said Nora, gravely. Mrs. Porter was struck by the musical tones of the voice, but not suspicious; for her all the Tempests had musical voices, and this young lad was a connection of Mr. Vane.

"Send round for the dog-cart," said Vane. "We shall be home to dinner."

The dog-cart came round, and Nora managed to hide her surprise and delight at the beauty of the turnout. Vane sent the groom away, lest a man sitting close behind them should hear him call Nora by her right name, as he was sure to do once or twice at least that morning, and they started.

Nora looked about her with infinite amazement and pleasure.

"How grand, how beautiful it is!" she murmured, softly, as they drove past the park and into Bond Street. "Now I know why people talk of London as something wonderful. And what a beautiful horse! Do you rent that and the carriage, too, Mr. Vane?"

Vane laughed shortly.

"No. They're mine. I'm glad you like them, Ernest. Go on talking about anything, and get used to calling me Vane; and—look here—Nora—confound it!—Ernest, couldn't you manage to make your voice a little more gruff and like a man's?"

"I'll try," she said. "But that young gentleman I saw last night had a voice as soft as mine."

"Wally? Well, so he has," said Vane, slightly confounded. "That's why they call him the Baby—and his girlish looks. By George, you'll cut the Baby out," and he laughed.

He drove to a hosiery—not his own—and ordered a stock of thing sufficient for at least six lads, disregarding her whispered remonstrances; then to a boot-maker's, again not his own, and purchased boot and evening shoes; and lastly, to a ready-made tailor's—he would have taken her to Poole's or Johnson's but dared not risk it—where he purchased a tweed morning suit, and one for evening wear, a velvet smoking-coat, etc., etc. for he couldn't keep his "cousin" shut up in the rooms in Mount Street; he would have to take him about.

"Why, I shall never wear all these things; and they are much too grand and beautiful!" Nora exclaimed, as they got into the dog-cart again. "Besides, they are not fit to work in."

"All right," he said, with a sigh of relief, for the morning's work had not been without danger. "Don't you worry yourself about it, there. A dear girl—I mean, boy. And now I think we'll have a spin through the park. Thank goodness everybody's out of town, and we're not likely to be seen; though I want you to get used to meeting people and talking to them."

She leaned back and looked about her with placid serenity. It was evident that she did not share his anxiety. "Why should she be anxious? Was she not with him, sitting beside him, within sight of his face, within hearing of his voice? Why, she could touch his sleeve by just stretching out her hand, and without his knowing it!"

He glanced at her face presently, and its expression struck him.

"Are you happy, Nor—Ernest?" he asked.

She turned her eyes upon him, and smiled, but said not a word.

In this mood they were nearing the Albert Gate, when suddenly Vane uttered an exclamation of annoyance and anxiety.

Nora looked up at him, and following the direction of his eyes, saw a carriage—a mail phaeton—coming toward them. A lady was driving; a couple of grooms sat behind with folded arms.

The lady had the most beautiful face Nora had ever seen, and she felt her eyes riveted to it; but, not

TWO WOMEN TESTIFY

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Their Health—Their own Statements Follow.

Haliburton, P.E.I.—"I had a doctor examine me and he said I had falling of the womb, so I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a lot of good. All the bearing-down pains have vanished. I have gained ten pounds in weight, the discharge is all gone, and I feel better than I have for a long time. I think any woman is foolish to suffer as I did for the sake of a few dollars."

"You can use my letter as a testimonial. It may encourage other poor women who suffer as I did to use your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEO. COLLIOTT, Haliburton, Lot 7, P.E.I.

Read What This Woman Says: New Moorefield, Ohio.—"I take great pleasure in thanking you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had bearing down pains, was dizzy and weak, had pains in lower back and could not be upon my feet long enough to get a meal. As long as I laid on my back I would feel better, but when I would get up those bearing down pains would come back, and the doctor said I had female trouble. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was the only medicine that helped me and I have been growing stronger ever since I commenced to take it. I hope it will help other suffering women as it has me. You can use this letter."—Mrs. CASSIE LLOYD, New Moorefield, Clark Co., Ohio.

withstanding, she still could see Vane gnawing at his mustache and hear him growling under his breath.

"What is the matter?" she asked, in a low voice.

"Oh! Oh! here comes a friend of mine," he said; "and—and she's about as sharp as they make 'em. Look here; I don't want to make you nervous, but for goodness' sake be careful that's a dear girl. Perhaps she'll turn off to the right, or won't see us; I hope to Heaven she won't!"

But even as he breathed the prayer, Nora saw the lady look their way—saw the exquisitely lovely face, change, lighten, soften, as it were, and a slow, glorious smile brightened in her eyes.

The smile, the transformation of expression, shot through Nora's heart like a dagger stab, though why she could not have told.

"She has seen us," she whispered. Vane nodded.

"Confound it—yes!" Nora burst herself together.

"Don't be frightened," she said, in a low, calm voice. "I will take care. Tell me her name."

Vane had only just time to mutter, "Florence Heathcote!" before Lady Florence brought the splendid bays to a standstill beside the dog-cart.

Colds.

A cold is a hoarse, flammatory ailment which attacks people in bronchial tubing when they are looking the other way. It is the first degree of the flu, and by the time a man has had the thirty-second degree he will have to store his surplus handkerchiefs in the attic.

There are over 9,000 known causes for colds, the most effective of which is to sleep next to a hot air register in a 9 x 9 room with the windows closed. The habit of combing the first frost with low necked ankles and gaiter hose comes next. There is also the practice of cooling off on the back porch in a state of free and untrammelled perspiration. By trying any one of these a man can secure a cold which will be fully up to the plans and specifications.

There are two kinds of colds—hard and soft. The hard cold never indulges in any false motions, such as preliminary sneezes or the admonitory sneeze. The victim of a hard cold will go to bed at night with bright visions of the future and a wide-open respiratory tract, and wake up in the morning with a prolonged reversible whoop and ingrowing pains in the breastbone. This kind of a cold is harder to cure than the habit of making change out of the collection box.

The soft cold is a meek proposition which edges in diffidently and notifies everybody that it is about to do business. Some of these colds become so soft that people are able to cash them in as pneumonia and sting confiding accident insurance companies with great velocity. All that is necessary to cure a soft cold is to go to bed for a week, change hot compresses every four minutes, live on Peruvian quinine and catnip tea, and collect a few blisters from a hot water bag.

Colds have a very stimulating effect upon the eyes and nose, and also impart a pungent nasal twang to the conversation which is highly unmusical. There would be more marriages in this country if fewer men would propose with a cold in the head.

Your Duty.

Nothing to do with the Custom House, good friend. Its only reference just now is to yourself. Let us suppose that you are a man of family, with sufficient of the world's goods to keep them in comfort. Very well. You did not reach this satisfactory state of affairs without care and labour—few men do. Suppose you are awakened some night with shouts of alarm ringing in your ears. To, late then to talk of prudence; too late then to say: "If I had only, etc., etc." That "if" means too much to many forgetful people. Is it not always the duty of a self-respecting citizen to protect his home and thus provide for those within it. Is it any more than his duty to those depending on him to protect them as far as possible? Can you call your property your own when it is not insured? The answer to this argument is to carry insurance with Percie Johnson's agency the most popular office in Newfoundland and the least expensive.

Baby Queen.

There will be a big matinee at Rossley's Theatre at 2.30 to-day, where Baby Queen, immediately after the performance, will hold a reception and present each child with a bag of candy. The ladies attending will receive a P. P. C. of the Marcus Stock Co. Come and see the funny school teacher, Tommy Levene, in a screaming act, "Fun in a Boarding School," also little Mary, the queer one.

Back Was Lame For Two Years

Stomach Troubles and Weakness of Kidneys Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

There is an enormous amount of suffering from liver and kidney derangements and stomach troubles that could easily be avoided by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If you could only realize the scores of everyday ills that arise from a sluggish condition of the kidneys, liver and bowels you would not be long in giving this medicine a trial.

Mrs. Edward Stewart, New Richmond West, Que., writes: "I want to tell you how thankful I am for using your Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for stomach troubles and backache caused by weak kidneys. I was unable to wash any clothes for over two years on account of my back being lame. I read the Almanac and began using these pills. Two boxes made a complete cure. I can do my own washing and other work now, and want to say to lady friends that they do not know how much I appreciate Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. It costs a box all dealers or Geo. Hanson, Bates & Co. Ltd., Toronto."

In Great Straits.

From correspondence received in the city the past few days, it is made very clear that the Tory party are in great straits in Trinity Bay. It is claimed that Capt. Dick Fowlow's own friends will not vote for him, and that the party's prospects throughout the District are very slim indeed. They (the Tories) will hardly poll votes enough to save their nomination fee. In other districts north the same conditions prevail, and it is thought the Liberals will poll the largest vote on record. Harbour Grace and Carbonear are determined to bury Toryism this time, and are only waiting the time to throw out the graball nominees. The people are determined that

Your Biliary And Costive!—Cascarets

Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, mean Liver and Bowels Clogged—Clean up to-night.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Shallow Skin and Miserable Headache come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gasses, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Note From Mr. Thomson.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—I will thank you to contradict the statement made by the employees of the Boot and Shoe Company, who are now out on strike, and would say there was no demand made in me, nor any notice given of the intended strike; the articles in the Trade Review of this morning, as well as the Herald of Wednesday last, are both misleading, and do not state the true facts of the trouble.

I told several of the reporters that interviewed me on the matter that for above reasons I did not wish to discuss the question, pro or con, through the press at present, when the so-called grievances of the employees are submitted to me in the usual way, under similar unfortunate circumstances, I will give the matter my careful consideration, and let right not might prevail.

Thanking you for space in your valuable paper for above insertion.

Yours truly,
C. R. THOMSON,

He Who Laughs Last Laughs Best.

With their usual thoroughness and their aim to reach perfection, Fairbanks Morse have been experimenting for the past few years with the object of successfully changing their gasolene engines into kerosene, and now we are announcing their success.

A few years ago Fairbanks Morse Stationary engines were operated on gasolene, when suddenly they changed to kerosene, the success of which can be verified by any light-house keeper in NEWFOUNDLAND.

Whilst other concerns were vying with one another to be the first to announce that their engines would use kerosene, Fairbanks were carefully experimenting, as they required their attachment to be up to the FAIRBANKS STANDARD OF QUALITY. Their great reputation of quality is fully sustained by their new "kero" invention.

Whilst not making any extravagant claims that it is better than gasolene, they guarantee that their engines will use kerosene with almost as good results, and certainly at much lower cost.

We are not selling gasolene engines this fall but rather FAIRBANKS MORSE QUICK START KEROSENE which will be found to live up to their reputation sustained in NEWFOUNDLAND this year.

ST. JOHN'S, N.F.L., SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1913.

A Devil, and an Ostrich, and an Orphan Child in One.

Yesterday we dealt with the extras under the Branch Railways and showed that Mr. Kent was right in likening it to Kipling's Commissariat Camel, the appetite of which was all devouring. It will be seen from the conclusion at which Mr. Kent arrives, everything which will be put on the Trepassey Branch, Heart's Content Branch and Bonne Bay Branch will have to be paid for as extras, for the Bonavista Branch will itself eat up everything in the class of rolling stock, etc., which the Contractor is called upon to provide under his contract price.

It follows from this that all the rolling stock, &c., which these four branches will require in order to be "completely and effectively equipped" will have to be paid for as extras. And of course, in addition, all the stations, piers, wharves, fences and snow fences along the Trepassey Branch, the Heart's Content Branch, the Fortune Bay Branch and the Bonne Bay Branch will have to be paid for as extras. It follows from this that not only will the two loans raised by Sir Edward Morris be eaten up, but a third loan will be required.

The statements of Sir Edward Morris as to the cost, of the Branch Railways was a cruel piece of deception. He led the House of Assembly and the people throughout the country to believe that $4,000,000 would build and completely and effectively equip them, and that the only burden on the country would be 3 1/2 per cent. interest on this loan. We know he has denied this, but the proof is to be found in the speeches he delivered in the House when he argued that when all the branches were completed the only burden on the country only burden on the country would be the interest at 3 1/2 per cent. on $4,000,000, or $140,000 a year. Yet he has already borrowed $6,000,000, and the interest on this will be $210,000 a year, and it is well recognized that a third loan will be necessary to pay the Contractor for the obligations cast upon the Colony by the Morris Railway Contract.

The same deception was experienced in the matter of the reduction of duties. In his Manifesto five years ago Sir Edward Morris said that a reduction on the heavy taxes then imposed could be easily accomplished. Yet he let the sessions of 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912 go by without making an attempt to deal with the situation. Indeed, his Minister of Finance in 1912 declared against the course, and said that when the reduction came it must be made gradually. This was the only statesmanlike way of going about it, and could have been commenced in 1909, and as the experiment justified it, could have been carried on gradually year by year without upsetting the finances of the country or dislocating its trade. But Morris did not do so. Suddenly in the election year he made a general reduction. Everybody regarded this action as election bait, and the sealers in the spring declared the bait was stale and would not be taken by the Electorate. If it had been gradually enterprised from 1909, it would have been a preventive of the gross extravagance which has been practised since then, and would have saved the Colony hundreds of thousands of dollars of expenditure which has been useless to the public and the working classes, and would have been relieved of inequitable burdens they have been forced to

The $40,000 Agricultural Vote.

AND HOW IT WAS EXPENDED DURING THE YEAR ENDING 30th JUNE, 1912. — FARMERS, A N D FISHERMEN-FARMERS T A K E NOTICE.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir.—The Premier, Sir E. P. Morris, when he entered upon his duties promised to do wonderful things in the way of improving our agricultural conditions. We were to have two blades of grass where only one grew before, our hills were to be white with sheep, while the potato yield was to increase "an hundred-fold."

What has been the result? Are you any better off to-day, agriculturally speaking, than you were before? Do you know any more about the Science of Agriculture than you did before? In short, have the agricultural conditions improved—and if so, to what extent?

What benefit have you derived from the enormous expenditures made for the promotion of agriculture?

What have our agricultural experts, Devereux and Downey, taught you? Have they given value for the large salaries they have been receiving from the Agricultural Grant?

What good could come from money spent in the following manner. The vote was $40,000.00. The amount expended was $41,146.57. This is the way in which it was frittered away:

Exhibitions.....	$4,488.99
Grants to Societies.....	6,911.20
Purchase of Animals.....	5,507.66
Salaries to Downey, Devereux and Secretaries of Societies.....	6,999.00
Feeds and Seeds.....	3,200.00
Travelling expenses.....	1,000.00
Prizes.....	1,911.00
Printing.....	932.18
Peat and Wages.....	2,752.70

The balance being made up in sundry small disbursements for cab hire and other items equally unnecessary and extravagant.

What do you suppose, judging from the foregoing, the expenditure will be for the present year?

What do you think of the indecency of holding agricultural exhibitions in Bonavista, Trinity, Brigus, Harbor Main and Placentia during the Elections. Are these exhibitions being held for the purpose of promoting the best interests of agriculture, or are they being held for the purpose of trying to promote votes in favor of the Government candidates?

Are you prepared to support a Government that will expend your money in this way? If you want this kind of extravagance and recklessness to go on, you will of course vote accordingly, but if you don't, vote for the Bond Candidates and turn the rascals out. Yours truly,
 WEST END FARMER.

Why Bond Can't Lose

The above was clearly demonstrated a few days ago in the British Hall where a sale took place. Two chairs were put up to be bid for. The auctioneer called one a Morris chair and the other a Bond chair. Both articles were of the same make, but curiously enough the chair with the Tory nickname was sold for $3.50 less than what the Bond chair fetched. The affair elicited an amount of laughter from the ladies, who were present and who were heard to exclaim that Bond can't lose and that Morris's day must be done!

had not the slightest conception that he was going to be put in nomination for candidature and he thought he owed the supporters of the Liberal Party a deep debt of gratitude. He said that although fresh getting into harness he felt that in view of facts that he was associated with such invaluable aids as Messrs. Kent and Dwyer and with the party support and co-operation of all the stalwarts present, he felt well prepared to champion the Liberal cause under the guidance of such an able, honest and honourable Statesman as Sir Robert Bond. In conclusion he thanked Mr. Shea for his kind references and expressed his gratitude to one and all for being nominated as a Liberal candidate.

The next speaker was Mr. John Dwyer who was greeted with thunderous applause that lasted for several minutes. Mr. Dwyer, was as usual, unconsciously humorous, but his speech was marked for its effectiveness. He reiterated that what a previous speaker said in effect that the sentiment of Liberalism was stronger than ever throughout the District of St. John's East. He had reason to believe that the Tory opponents who have already begun campaigning are using unfair means. They are scheming and using fake cries in order to catch votes, but he said, despite all the trickery that is being carried on the people will stand by the Farmer and his colleagues and the "Pullet and his young ones will be sent home to roost."

Mr. James M. Kent, B. A., K. C., leader of the ticket for St. John's East, followed. On rising he was cheered to the echo. He was thankful for the enthusiastic reception given himself and colleagues. Yet he said that the meeting although exceeding the most sanguine expectations, and surpassing all previous campaign meetings was not a surprise to him. It was only what he expected from those who had come to carry the Liberal flag, which, despite many a hard battle, since the days of Responsible Government, still stands to-day unblemished and untarnished. In looking around the hall to-night, the speaker continued, he noticed the faces of many heroes of a hundred former fights and young men who are going to vote for the first time. The latter were fulfilling the duty which they owed to themselves, their fathers and to the country they belonged. He regretted, owing to ill-health, the retirement of his former colleague, Mr. Shea, who was a valuable ally and one of the wisest counsellors that the Colony possessed. Our new colleague, Mr. Ryan, is a man of honesty, integrity and worth, with plenty of energy and enterprise and one whom every workman in the country was acquainted with, and citizens of St. John's East will find that he will be faithful to the trust which they place in his hands. Continuing, Mr. Kent in plain, comprehensive, yet forceful language, clearly pointed out the wanton expenditure of public monies and the heavy debt which the Colony is bearing at the present moment.

Two parties, said the speaker, are now appealing to the people for their vote. One is the present Government and the other the party led by the Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Bond the greatest statesman the country has produced. Now to compare the doings of both Governments while they were in power: In looking back through the years no man can count but that Sir Robert Bond's record is one which stands unique in the Colony's history. He has stood more political fights than anyone else in the Colony and the worst his bitterest enemy can say of him is that he is an able, true, honest and honourable statesman. He is a man who has prominently identified himself with the affairs of the country for over thirty years. In consequence of Sir Robert Bond's inability to guide the destinies of the country for the last four years there is every evidence to-day of being in a bankrupt condition. Four years ago, after the Liberal party had spent two terms of office in power, the people thought they would give another man a chance to see what he could do. To-day we find the people in a state of indignation over the way our affairs are being handled. Take Newfoundland with its population of over 240,000. The people are not a wealthy people and consequently are not able to bear heavy burdens of debt. During the past four years the public debt of this country has been increased by over $7,000,000. Everyone throughout the Island has been bearing his share of this heavy debt. The worst part is that the in-

Highest grade beans kept whole and evenly by perfect baking, retaining their full strength. Flavored with delicious sauces. They have no equal. W. Clark, Mfr. Montreal crease arises not from an obligation that has passed, but by contracts for the construction of railways, which we were told would cost $4,000,000 and which really cost the country $6,000,000. Five railways are in course of construction, but neither one is completed. This will mean the borrowing of another $6,000,000. The Bonavista and Ferryland Branches are not yet equipped, while work on the other branches is only in its initial stage. What has the Colony to show for such a wasteful expenditure of public monies. As I stated last year, the Government of Sir Robert Bond, with smaller revenues and less borrowing has produced better results than the present Government. The promises made by Sir Edward Morris in his Manifesto were not carried out. When Sir Robert Bond left he not only left the Colony in a healthy state commercially and financially, but left a million of dollars to its credit. The present Administration have run the Colony heavily in debt and should be discharged, and a Government more in sympathy with the people substituted.

At greater length Mr. Kent showed up the extravagance of the Picnic Government and before resuming his seat was applauded vociferously amid cheers, loud and long, given by the entire assembly, without a dissenting voice, for the Liberal Party.

Mr. A. Cornell followed in a brief but stirring address. He appealed to all, especially to the young voters, not to be hood-winked or bluffed by the scare cries that are being circulated by the Tory organs, but to stand by the Old Liberal Flag for freedom and right. He said that he was an independent Liberal and that the District of St. John's East was going to make this election the Banner Victory for St. John's East. After concluding his address Mr. Cornell was given three hearty cheers and a tiger.

Mr. J. G. Giles was the next speaker, and in his own stirring and captivating manner, reviewed the lavish givings-out of the present Government; the financial state the country was in at the present time and how the public money was being fooled away on fakes, etc., by the unscrupulous gang now in power. Mr. Giles stated that the lowest means conceivable are being used by the Tory gang to catch votes. One cannot walk the streets now without being button-holed by political spies and beasers of the Picnic Party, and as far as he could see most of them were civil servants, getting paid and drawing fat salaries, too, for doing campaign work. Such a condition of affairs, gentlemen, is disgraceful and dishonourable. Mr. Giles impressed upon all to scorn the Tory clique and to bring back from the polls on October 30th, a triumphant victory for the Liberal Party of St. John's East. The speaker then referred to Mr. George Shea, whom he knew well, and regretted his departure, owing to ill-health, but rejoiced at the fact of the acceptance into the Liberal ranks of such an able candidate and campaigner as Councillor Ryan. When Mr. Giles finished thunderous cheers were given for Sir Robert Bond and the three Liberals for St. John's East. Messrs. Kent, Dwyer and Ryan. The Chairman then asked those willing to give voluntary service on the committees to come forward. This request met with a most cordial response as two assistants to Secretary St. John had to be employed and not less than 800 persons signed the roll. That the sentiment of Liberalism is stronger than ever in St. John's East was clearly demonstrated last night and this being so, BOND CAN'T LOSE.

from public life. He emphasized that his reasons were two-fold for retiring. First, his principal reason was that his health was far from satisfactory and he was told this when he had a consultation with physicians when he was abroad a few months ago; secondly, he was of the opinion that the time had arrived when he should withdraw from the political field and let younger blood get into harness and take a trick at the wheel. He again stated emphatically that these were solely his distinct reasons for dropping out of the fight. Some newspapers, in an endeavor to make political capital, the speaker continued, will say that I am getting in out of the rain, before the deluge comes; but Mr. Chairman, in my opinion, never before was the Liberal sentiment as strong as it is at the present time, and I feel sure that when the standard bearers of St. John's East march to the polls with the Liberal flag in October next, that they will return with larger letters of victory inscribed on it than ever before. At this juncture there was an outburst of tumultuous applause. He (Mr. Shea) was glad to know that a respected and esteemed fellow townsman was to take his place in the person of Councillor Charles W. Ryan, who, said the speaker, needs no word of introduction, as he is, I have no doubt, personally acquainted with the majority of those in this assembly to-night. In concluding, Mr. Shea said that his successor was one whose record was before the whole country; a splendid type of citizen, possessing all the attainments that constitute a real and true man and he had much pleasure in proposing Councillor Ryan to be nominated as a Liberal candidate for St. John's East District in the coming election. The motion was seconded by Mr. S. Knight, and on being put by the Chairman, was carried by acclamation.

Mr. Ryan was then introduced and given a most enthusiastic reception. The newly chosen candidate, although partly taken by surprise, made an able address. He sincerely thanked the meeting for the honour conferred on him in selecting him as a colleague of Messrs. Kent and Dwyer in the forthcoming election contest. From all parts of the hall came the slogan "Don't Lose." Mr. Ryan assured the gathering that he

Never before in the history of the oldest elector of this country was there such an enthusiastic political committee meeting, attended by such a vast concourse of people as that which took place in the Mechanics Hall last night, when the campaign for the three Liberal candidates for St. John's East was formally begun, showing conclusively that the reign of the present Government would soon cease and that the picnickers, who placed the Colony heavily in debt, will have to get out. The meeting stands unparalleled in many respects, chiefly because of the loyalty of the standard bearers of the Liberal Party, which is invincible in St. John's East.

The meeting was solely and simply intended to form up committees to begin the campaign. It was not meant as a public or mass meeting, because no announcement of such had been made, but from the time the doors opened until the appointed hour to start the meeting arrived, a tremendous flow of people wended their way to the hall, which was actually chinked. Fully 1,000 stalwart voters were present in the building and hallway while standing room was at a premium and enthusiasm exceeded all bounds.

Punctually at 8 o'clock our venerable friend, Councillor M. W. Myrick, took the chair and business was proceeded with. On motion of Messrs. J. Roper and N. J. Vintcombe, Mr. J. J. St. John, Jr., was appointed Secretary. The chairman then intimated what the meeting was called for, never anticipating to behold such a monstrous gathering, and referred briefly to Mr. Geo. Shea, who he was sorry to say was retiring from public life, and who had represented the District for such a length of time. Chairman Myrick intimated that the meeting was arranged to form up the different committees to begin the campaign work and then called on Mr. Geo. Shea to address the meeting. On rising, Mr. Shea was given quite an ovation. In opening he sincerely thanked them for the loyal and hearty support the Liberals of the District of St. John's East, which he had the honor to represent in the Legislature for thirteen years had given him. He regretted, however, that he was unable to ask the electors for their continued support, owing to his retirement, from public life. He emphasized that his reasons were two-fold for retiring. First, his principal reason was that his health was far from satisfactory and he was told this when he had a consultation with physicians when he was abroad a few months ago; secondly, he was of the opinion that the time had arrived when he should withdraw from the political field and let younger blood get into harness and take a trick at the wheel. He again stated emphatically that these were solely his distinct reasons for dropping out of the fight. Some newspapers, in an endeavor to make political capital, the speaker continued, will say that I am getting in out of the rain, before the deluge comes; but Mr. Chairman, in my opinion, never before was the Liberal sentiment as strong as it is at the present time, and I feel sure that when the standard bearers of St. John's East march to the polls with the Liberal flag in October next, that they will return with larger letters of victory inscribed on it than ever before. At this juncture there was an outburst of tumultuous applause. He (Mr. Shea) was glad to know that a respected and esteemed fellow townsman was to take his place in the person of Councillor Charles W. Ryan, who, said the speaker, needs no word of introduction, as he is, I have no doubt, personally acquainted with the majority of those in this assembly to-night. In concluding, Mr. Shea said that his successor was one whose record was before the whole country; a splendid type of citizen, possessing all the attainments that constitute a real and true man and he had much pleasure in proposing Councillor Ryan to be nominated as a Liberal candidate for St. John's East District in the coming election. The motion was seconded by Mr. S. Knight, and on being put by the Chairman, was carried by acclamation.

Mr. Ryan was then introduced and given a most enthusiastic reception. The newly chosen candidate, although partly taken by surprise, made an able address. He sincerely thanked the meeting for the honour conferred on him in selecting him as a colleague of Messrs. Kent and Dwyer in the forthcoming election contest. From all parts of the hall came the slogan "Don't Lose." Mr. Ryan assured the gathering that he

BIG BLAZE Up North

The Hopes of the People's Party Burnt to a Frazzle.

Special to The Evening Telegram. CATALINA, To-day. Little Catalina is sold for the coalition. Bond and Coaker. Lloyd, Stone and Target had great reception by guns, bunting and hearty greetings of the people. When Bond won in 1904 Little Catalina was nothing like as favourable as to-day. Morris will not get seven votes here. The change against the Government and in favor of the Coalition is extraordinary in magnitude. Last night the candidates and Coaker visited Elliston. They got a great reception. The whole population turned out with band and gave them a demonstration and torchlight procession throughout the harbor. Intense enthusiasm prevailed. Women in the gardens, on the streets and at the doors were even more enthusiastic than the men. The hall was packed so that there was not even standing room. A mighty change has come to this town, and the people universally endorse the coalition with Bond as leader. Coaker, Lloyd and Stone were warmly applauded and the people are moved with fervor. The candidates never saw his like before. If the Peoples Party can get fifty votes in Catalina, Little Catalina and Elliston and the neighboring settlements, they will have their work cut out.

More Political Sops.

Anything and everything is being done these days by the Tory chief in order to keep heelers from grumbling.

Within the past two months not less than a dozen civil servants, who were inclined to talk in a Liberal strain, were given fat increases to their salaries to keep their mouths closed.

Only a few days ago an individual who figures prominently in torchlight processions, was given a raise of $10 a month to his wages, because he was heard talking against Morris in the West End.

But Sir Edward, you're as fat as a pancake in the West End of St. John's and you know it.

Who was told by his right hand man recently that he was down and out in the West? Morris. Therefore, Bond Can't Lose.

COTTONDALE, Ala., To-day. Two boy bandits to-day rifed a mail car and dynamite express safe on the Alabama Great Southern train near this place and escaped with booty estimated at from few thousand to fifty thousand dollars. In a search for the bandits, Sheriff Bonner, of Birmingham, was shot and killed by another posse from Montgomery, who mistook Bonner for one of the robbers.

WASHINGTON, To-day. The tariff bill is completed except for a provision taxing trades cotton futures, after more than two weeks' constant work behind closed doors. The committee late yesterday settled at last their other differences and reached a final decision, but they could not agree at from few thousand to fifty thousand dollars. In a search for the bandits, Sheriff Bonner, of Birmingham, was shot and killed by another posse from Montgomery, who mistook Bonner for one of the robbers.

LONDON, To-day. A cable from Belfast last night Sept. 27th, says the whole question of Home Rule may be settled without resort to resistance and that there are thousands of volunteers in Ulster ready to fight to the uttermost any attempt of Redmond to form a government in Dublin, is unquestionable. The whole of Ulster is ready to spring to arms immediately the bill is passed. Without question Ulster is completely drilled expecting to resist, but on top of all almost confirmed, comes a message from London that Asquith, Lloyd George and Chief Liberal whip H. Hingsworth have been in consultation the whole day. A message has been sent to the Ulster leaders here that may mean dropping the whole bill and throwing overboard Home Rule. The possible trace is not generally known around the city, but whatever happens the whole programme will be carried out Saturday. Ulster will take no chances; she will fight if fighting is necessary. One thing is certain, that is, Ulster will not leave the slightest chance for compromise. To-night developments look as if Ulster had won and civil war predicted in Ireland would not take place. In spite of this thousands will march on Saturday and complete the programme to be carried out. Ulster will not relinquish organization until the bill is withdrawn from the Commons. It is significant, meanwhile, that Bryce, Ambassador, visited the city and who will return for conference is regarded as a possible peacemaker with Liberals. It is quite possible that another week may see the abandonment of the Home Rule Bill.

Laird is reported that Bonar Law sent a message that a conference is being held at Capt. Craig's residence and that the Bill will be dropped. It looks as though Ulster had won.

Wedding Bells.

FOLLY—CAREEN.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the R. G. Cathedral, on Wednesday, September 24th, at 4 p.m., by Rev. Monsignor Roche. The contracting parties were Mr. Patrick Foley, of the Royal Stores, Ltd., and Miss Bride Careen of Great Lance. The bride looked charming in a handsome dress of directorie cream satin with bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms and was attended by Miss Annie Foley, sister of the groom, who wore a very pretty dress of pink silk with hat to match. The groom was ably supported by Mr. T. Rolls, of the Reid Newfoundland Co. After the ceremony all repaired to the residence of the newly married couple where refreshments were served to a large number of friends. The happy couple then left by carriage to join the train at Waterford Bridge for Kelligrews where the honeymoon will be spent. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Foley many years of happiness. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and valuable presents.

At the City Hall.

By whom appointed. If thou dost oppress
Thy people; if, to aggrandize thyself,
Thou tearst them from their homes,
and sendest them
To slaughter, prodigal of misery;
If, when the widow and the orphan groan
In want and wretchedness, thou turnest thee
To hear the music of the flatterer's tongue;
If, when thou hear'st of thousands who have fallen,
Thou say'st, 'I am a king! and fit it is
That these should perish for me'; if thy realm
Should, through the counsels of thy government,
But filled with woe, and in thy streets be heard
The voice of mourning and the feeble cry
Of asking hunger; if, in place of law,
Iniquity prevailed; if avarice grind
The poor; if discipline be utterly
Relaxed, vice chartered, wickedness let loose—
Though in the general ruin all must share,
Each answer for his own peculiar guilt.
Yet at the judgment day, from those to whom
The power was given, the Giver of all power
Will call for righteous and severe account.
Choose thou the better part, and rule
In righteousness. In righteousness thy throne
Shall then be established, not by forged signs,
Shaken, nor by domestic enemies,
But guarded then by loyalty and love,
True hearts, good angels, and all-seeing Heaven."

Girls! Draw Moist Cloth Through Hair
Try This! Hair gets thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful at once—Steps falling out.

OPPORTUNITY SPEAKS.
Yes, I am Opportunity.
But say, young man, Don't wait for me To come to you; Just buckle down To win your crown, And work with heat And heart and hands. As does the man Who understands That of your who wait, Expecting some reward from fate Or luck, to call it so— Sit always in the 'way-back row.

I serve the active mind,
The seeing eye,
The ready hand
That grasps me passing by,
And takes from me
The good I hold
For every spirit
Strong and bold.

He does not wait
On fate
Who seizes me,
For I am fortune,
Luck and fate,
The corner-stone
Of what is great
In man's accomplishment.

But I am none of these
To him who does not seize;
I must be caught,
If any good is wrought
Out of the treasures I possess.

Oh, yes,
I'm Opportunity;
I'm great;
I'm sometimes late,
But do not wait
For me;
Work on,
Watch on,
Good hands good heart,
And some day you will see
Out of your effort rising—
Opportunity.

There is a tide in the affairs of men
Which, taken at the flood, leads on
To fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is bound in shallows, and in miseries.
On such a full sea are we now afloat,
And we must take the current when it serves,
Or lose our ventures.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every article of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

Drinking for 24 Years. A PHYSICAL WRECK CURED By the Gatlin Treatment.

A man who had been drinking steadily for 24 years, came to the Gatlin Institute for Treatment. He was a physical wreck and was so extremely nervous that his hands were always shaking. The habit was broken, the nervousness disappeared, his health improved, and he was even able to shave himself. He left the Institute a new man with confidence in himself, and no more desire for alcoholic drinks. The Gatlin Institute has effected the cure of many men when their friends thought them incurable. No case is too difficult for this treatment, even the most confirmed drunkards. Every privacy is maintained with private room and nurse in attendance. This is the original 3 Day Cure and absolutely reliable. Cure is guaranteed under Written Contract to be satisfactory in every particular, or we refund the fee paid and the treatment costs nothing. For the Home Treatment a trained nurse can be sent to administer treatment, if desired, within a reasonable radius, free of charge. Write to-day for booklet and full particulars.

Enjoying Ill Health.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

There is unquestionably a very such a thing as enjoying ill health. Or perhaps it should be put less harshly, and say, making a vocation of ill health.

If you should use that phrase to the people whose way of living it describes, they would be highly indignant. Oh would some power the giftie give them to listen to themselves, and hear the peculiar gusto with which they speak of "one of my headaches," "my diet," "my rheumatism," "one of those bad attacks I'm subject to," etc. etc.

In all the world there is nothing so joyless as such enjoyment. The people who indulge in it have my profoundest pity.

For they are unhappily caught in a vicious circle. The medicine they most need is a mental effort, and that mental effort, by the very nature of their disease, is peculiarly hard for them to make.

When the doctor says that there is nothing the matter with anyone except nerves, the patient's relatives often take that to mean that there is nothing the matter with her at all. In reality it means that she has a disease which is as difficult to cure as many organic troubles.

When we are told that anyone has the opium or some other drug habit fastened upon him we realize that he has a terrible disease which excites our terrible pity and requires the most careful treatment. Now the habit of enjoying poor health is just as deadly and insistent a disease, and the poor unfortunate who has drifted into this cruel habit deserves just as much pity.

And just as careful treatment. For what he does while under the domination of that habit, for his gloomy ways, his distressing pessimism and his miserable self-centredness, he does not deserve blame, only pity.

The fault committed, if fault there was, lay in letting himself drift into the habit. It is terribly hard to get out of this peculiar state of mind. It is only about one hundredth part as hard, not to get into it. Even as I write, I know hundreds of thousands of women are drifting that way.

You, reader friend, may be one of them. Then don't do it. Whether it's neuritis, or nervous indigestion or sleeplessness, or headache, or queer feelings, or depression, or any one of the innumerable forms which that devil nerves knows how to assume, stop now. Don't be so tense. Relax. Cultivate serenity. Don't hurry, but don't be idle. Have plenty to take up your mind and keep you occupied but don't crowd yourself.

If there is any organic manifestation such as indigestion, treat that with rest, diet and a little medicine as possible. Then attend to the nerves which caused the trouble. But above all things don't get into the habit of watching yourself and your symptoms as a cat watches a mouse. Don't enjoy ill health or make a vocation of it.

People who absolutely cannot afford to have nervous trouble almost never do. Be one of these people. A friend of mine declares that if nerves were a prison offense we should not need any more nerve specialists. I think he's pretty near right, don't you?

Ruth Cameron

Fashions and Fads.

Striking features among the few straight tailored skirts are width of hip and full effects in the upper portion.

Belt and narrow cloth sashes remain favorites and are popular. These are details on many winter coats. Ribbon strapped shoes and brilliant brass buttons remain first favorites in dressy shoes for day and evening wear.

Among the novelties are leather hats. The smartest models are made of suede or kid, combined with velvet, moire or taffeta.

Tailored suits display exceptional variety. One finds very short coats, three-quarter length coats and even long-tailed coats.

The burnt cut plume is new. Every other flue is carefully burned away, which gives an odd and altogether new effect.

Some black velvet hats have brims of black Chantilly lace, and are smartly trimmed with lace, paradise, ostrich or cross egrettes.

Frocks and millinery are trimmed with tulle, and pleatings, ruchings, bows and ornaments of all sorts are fashioned of this material.

Flounced skirts are growing in favour. Some have a finish of narrow pleated frills and others have pointed or rounded scalloped edges.

Corsets are loose and bloused. Original additions are introduced as collars or in shaping of the kimono fashioned shoulder and sleeves.

For little girls' dresses, linen, cotton and other heavy materials will be used, and for very cold days, washable serge and cheviot will be worn. This season's fashionable trappings are handsome buttons of cut steel, jet or enamel, and rich embroidery, and tassels of chenille silk or beads.

A pretty coiffure is a band of narrow black velvet drawn about the head and two long, slender ostrich plumes poised at the side well toward the back.

The long, loose coat for outing wear is of fancy woven material English homespun cloth and tweed being used. Colors are nut brown, beige, gray and chestnut.

Fashionable is the skiff hat of black velvet, with a flexible brim and soft crown, closely following the line of the head. This is trimmed with long, curved quills.

The long redingote for more elegant occasions is in graceful shape, and may be in white or chalk cloth, lined with satin, with large pearl of gold buttons.

Minimize The Loss.
Practically farmers may easily minimize the loss, due to a backward and cold season, by the judicious use of Sulphate of Ammonia as a fertilizer.

Sulphate of Ammonia contains over 20 per cent of nitrogen, as against 15 per cent in Nitrate of Soda, and is therefore more than 25 per cent better than nitrate of soda as a means of quickening and increasing the growth of crops.

The use of Sulphate of Ammonia has increased enormously of late years and it is recognized to be the most valuable fertilizer obtainable. By its judicious use the production of root crops per acre may be doubled, and the growth of late crops stimulated.

We invite the attention of Farmers to our special pamphlet on the best method of using Sulphate, copies of which will be forwarded free to any address on application.

The price of Sulphate is moderate, and our terms are accommodating. ST. JOHN'S GAS LIGHT CO. LTD., Board of Trade Building, St. John's, July 12.

Wanted, a Light!
Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Where was the new caretaker, the latest appointee to the General Post Office, last night? All the lights on the east side of the building were out and box-holders had considerable difficulty in groping their way to the boxes. A subscriber wants to know if Morrisophobia in certain quarters has so affected some Government officials, who are paid by the tax-burdened people of this country for doing nothing, if they cannot stay on the job at least a few hours each day. We would suggest to some of those winged heelers that it would be a wiser course for them to keep warm the easy chairs provided for them by a paternal Government, than to be doing Water Street and attempting to cod the voters of the East and West Ends. We shall have occasion to "get on" to several of these "hot air" men in the near future and administer a dose which ought to cure them forever of their present affliction.

Yours truly,

The sting of a wasp today killed Lady Molesworth, formerly Miss Jane G. Frost, second daughter of Brigadier General Frost, of St. Louis. She was married in 1875 to the late Sir William Molesworth, who died last year. The wasp stung Lady Molesworth in the jugular vein and she passed away within twenty minutes.

LISBON, Sept. 26.
What is believed to have been a skilfully laid plot to assassinate Premier De Costa and the members of his family, was frustrated by the capture by police of five men in the act of hiding bombs, close to the Premier's villa at a seaside resort near Cintra. All the men are notorious syndicalists. Several other syndicalists charged with being implicated, have also been arrested.

ROME, Sept. 26.
The monks of St. Bernard saved the lives of many thousands of birds the other night. During a heavy storm an immense number of migratory birds, mostly swallows, which were going south across the Alps, became exhausted, about the Hospice. Being unable to fly against the violent head wind, they would have perished but for the action of the monks, who opened all the doors and windows. This attracted the birds, who flew within for the night, continuing their flight at day-break.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.
Edward Scully, a foreman in the street cleaning department, sacrificed his life to-day to save a crowd of school children from a runaway horse. The horse, attached to a street cleaning car, headed toward a corner in Brooklyn, occupied by two public schools. On the sidewalk were some three hundred children. Scully seized the animal by the bridle, and brought it to a stop at the curb, but after he had checked the runaway, he lost his grip and fell under the animal's hoofs.

HERE WE PRINT your Bill Heads, Letter Heads, Statements, and Envelopes, and now that the end of the quarter is so near, it would be a good idea to see how many of the above you will need in sending out your bills. Let us have the order, and if you want some in a hurry just say so, and you can have them right away.
—HERE YOU CAN GET anything you want in a Loose Leaf Ledger, Binder or Holder; and
HERE WE CAN Rule, Print and Punch any Loose Leaf Form you use, or would like to use,—for that is our specialty—and we can do it better and at a lower price than the imported article.
HERE YOU SAVE $50.00 to $60.00 on a Typewriter, any Machine you wish. See them on our counter.
