SOME RECENT BOOKS ABOUT CANADA. Messrs. Dawson Brothers, the well-known Montreal publishers, have sent us through Mr. Piddington, bookseller, of Toronto several books of considerable interest to Canadian readers. Conspicuous among them is a " Life of Sir William E. Logan, by Bernard J. Harrington, professor of mining in McGill university, Montreal. Sir William enjoyed a world. wide reputation as one of the most eminent geologists of his time, and Canada may fully claim him as her own, for he was a Canadian by birth and early education, and it was in conducting Canadian enterprises that the most import ant work of his life was accomplished. Do frauds and subterfuges among traders date from the year of grace '80, the abolition of the insolvent act of '75 ? We imagined them to be of very respectable antiquity. Have we not had many insolvent laws? Have they not been repealed and amended, amended and repealed, because of frauds and subterfuges? Why did parliament abolish the act of '75 and its amendments? Was it not for fraud and subterfuge? If our friend, the Monetary Times, could show that now there are greater frauds practiced than is '80, and that the proposed insolvent law would, probably, do away with these, its argument for a new act intered are veritable fossils; everything might have much force.

From Tuesday's New York Journal The county court house was crowded yesterday with members of the puglistic fraternity. The cause of the appearance of the "short-haired" gang was that an examination was expected in the case of Jem Mace against Richard K. Fox to recover $5000 forfeiture on contract, and $2035 division on earnings under the combination system. Mace claimed that according to the agreement entered into, his protege Slade, was for ains months to give exhibitions in sparring in connection with theatrical combinations. The route was to be selected by Mr. Fox. who was to pay all the expenses and receive one-half the receipts. The contract bound either party to pay $5000 in case of failure. While at Reading, Penn, it is claimed that Mr. Fox violated his agreement by refusing to pay any further expenses or have anything more to do with the combination. Mace and his friend the Macri immediately returned to this city An action was immediately instituted in the superior court to recover the $5000 forfeiture and the $2035 claimed to be due on receipts In his answer Mr. Fox claimed that the Macri was to act in convection with any Maori was to act in connection with any theatrical troupe he named, and that he refused to appear when the Black Diamond and Black Sam were advertised on the list. In fact he charges that Slade was too high toned to appear with colored people. The case was not called yesterday before Judge O'Gorman, but instead an order of discontinuance was entered. It was an astonishment to the fraternity, and phrases anything but angelic resounded through the rotunds. It was finally explained that Richard K. Fox had paid $1500 to settle

Trouble Between the Union and The

There is trouble between the Plasterers pnion and the Master plasterers' associa tion, and a strike of the men employed by members of the association is imminent. A ion man told the story of the trouble to The World last night, Mr. Ward discharged two union men on the ground that their work was of an inferior nature. He paid the Hamilton fair was given to the light-running Wanzer MC" and F machines, over them off at the rate of fifteen cents an hour, The World last night, Mr. Ward discharged them off at the rate of fifteen cents an hour, the union rate being twenty-five cents. The case was reported to the union, which ordered a strike in Ward's shop unless he paid the men the balance of ten cents an nour. This Ward refused to do, and all hour. This Ward refused to do, and all the men in his shop were cong sequently called out. The Masters association thereupon held a meeting and passed a resolution imposing a fine of $25 on any member who employed the men who had left Mr. Ward. On the strength of this two of the strikers, who had in the meantime found work elsewhere, were sacked. The association forwarded a copy of the resolution to the union, which took action on it Tuesday night, when a motion was passed asking the association to rescind its resolution, otherwise a general strike would ensue. The union's motion was forwarded to the masters with a request forwarded to the maters with a reque that an answer be returned within twent that an answer be returned within twentyfour hours. The union met last night to receive an answer, but none came.

Those men who work for members of the association were ordered to strike at 7 o'c'cock this morning.
The union has a membership of 116, but only about half of these work for members of the association. The others are employed by outside bosses, and the order to strike does not extend to them. The association also met last night and confirmed its previous action. From present appearprevious action. From present appearances it looks as if both parties will stand their ground, the result being a strike of about 55 plasterers to-day.

A LUTHER FESTIVAL.

To Be Celebrated in Toronto—All the Pro-testant Churches to Join. The executive committee for the celebra tion of the Luther festival in Toronto met in the German Lutheran church yesterday evening. It was decided to invite all the protestant congregations in the city through their pastors to hold services commemors tive of Luther and the reformation in their own churches on Sunday, November 11, and also in addition to the festival proper in the Horticultural pavilion on Monday evening, the 12th, to hold an afternoon meeting on Saturday, the 10th, the actual day of Luther's birth, at which papers Germain Luther's birth, at which papers Germain to the subject should be read and discussed, and short addresses delivered by the clergy of the different denominations. The must-cal program for the festival will be under the direction of Mr. Torrington, and will consist of the singing of the great reformation hymn by the chorus and audience conjointly, also the rendering of the finale of Meinardus' oratorio, Luther at Worms, sandlof Handel's Hallelujah chorus by a large trained choir with orchestral accompaniment, with perhaps an additional chorale. In order to cover expenses a small charge In order to cover expenses a small charg-of 25 cents will be made for admission. There will be special services in the German Lutheran church on the Sunday. At the Saturday afternoon meeting by the kindness of Dr. Soadding, there will be ex hibited a number of Luther bibles and other books pertaining to the reformation, on which a paper will be read by the rev-erend doctor. Any person having books or prints of similar interest are requested to communicate with Mr. W. H. Vander-Smissen, University college. man Lutheran church on the Sunday.

The New Church.

"The doctrines of the New Church" Swedenborgian) published by Claxton & Co., Philadelphia. So much attention has been drawn to Swedenborg and his theological works of late years it may interest many to find comprised thus in about 250 pages a very complete synopsis of new church doctrine and its points of variance with prevalent doctrine in the evangelical churches. Its author, the R.v. B. F. Bar rett has caught and demonstrated most clearly the broad and catholic point of the Swedish seer. The unnecessary and unreal sphere of "mysticism" with which some of his followers surround Swedenborg's teaching, disappears entirely before Mr. Barrett's clear and forcible exposition. The Rev. Mr. Barrett's volume will well repay perusal, since in this age no thinker's education is complete without some insight int Swedenborg's doctrinal works.

Coal on Fire at Brockville.

The Times says that at about 5 o'clock Monday night the immense heap of coal in the Grand Trunk yard on William street was discovered to be on fire. Immediate alarm was given, and a gang of men were set to work to shovel the coal off the northeast corner of the pile, near where the fire originated, into cars, whence it was carried lown towards the west end of the pile There were 10,000 tons of coal stored there, and as the work of moving the coal was going on cart load after cart load arrived from the docks and was dumped over on the other side.

Valedictory of Le Temps.

Le Temps in Monday's issue announce that it is compelled to suspend its publication owing to the apathy of the liberal party in the district of Montreal. In his valedictory the editor says: If our friends wish to maintain our paper they must make the necessary sacrifices; they must under-stand that when our adversaries need government money to keep up their organs, when they levy large amounts on all public contractors in order to defend their political nisdeeds in a salaried press, we on our side can rely only on the generosity of those who, sympathizing with us, aim at the destruction of the present regime in order to bring honest men into power.
