Dr. Hanna and Morrison Win Elections

Pickpockets Busy in Christmas Crowds---800 Rebels Killed at Tampico---Germany May Favor Naval Holiday

SOUTH LANARK AND MACDONALD SAFELY IN CONSERVATIVE FOLD HANNA PRESSED BY BALDERSON

Faction Fight in Lanark Re- sulted in Regular Nomi- nee's Return by 135, While Hawkes Polled Only 70 Votes—Balloting Was Fair- ly Heavy.

PERTH, Dec. 14.—(Can. Press).—Dr. A. E. Hanna, of Perth, was elected Saturday to represent the riding of South Lanark in the Dominion house of commons. The fight was a three- cornered one. Col. J. M. Balderston, Perth, an independent Conservative, and Arthur Hawkes, of Toronto, "Ca- nada First," entering the contest with the nominee of the Conservative As- sociation. Dr. Hanna ran 135 votes ahead of Col. Balderston. Mr. Hawkes only received 70 votes in the whole riding and loses his deposit.

The vote by townships stood:

Township	Hanna	Balderston	Hawkes
Bathurst	239	206	7
Beckwith	114	146	12
North Burgess	91	36	3
Drummond	212	204	3
North Elmley	113	74	4
Montagu	140	219	1
Perth	356	242	9
South Sherbrooke	73	88	5
Smith's Falls	504	542	19
Totals	1907	1772	70

Fairly Heavy Vote.

The total vote polled yesterday was 3749 out of a possible 4685, which is considerably larger than at the last general election, when it was 3300, the Liberal candidate at that time losing his deposit.

The riding has been Conservative since Confederation. Hon. John Hag- art representing it from 1872 until the time of his death, early in the summer of this year. Hon. Alex. Mor- ris represented it from 1867 until his death in 1872.

Morrison Elected in Mani- toba Constituency by In- creased Majority, Vote Pol- led Being Larger—One Man Arrested Charged With Per- jury—Election Quiet.

(Special to The Toronto World). WINNIPEG, Dec. 14.—Alexander Morrison (Conservative) was re-elected in Macdonald on Saturday by a majority of nearly 200 in excess of that by which he was returned a year ago. With only one small poll to hear from, Mr. Morrison has a lead of 211 over Dr. A. W. Myles, the eleventh-hour Liberal candidate, who is understood to have entered the field at the behest of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Frank Oliver. During the campaign just closed, Hon. Robert Rogers made repeated use of the assertion that the Liberals had failed to offer proof of a single case wherein Mr. Morrison's work- ers had been guilty of corruption, and emphasized that the judicial decision annulling the election was based on a minor technicality. He also asserted that his political opponents in nominating Dr. Myles had been guilty of a breach of faith, declaring that there had been a clear understanding that the riding would not be con- tested.

Little interest was taken in the result, it having been conceded that Dr. Myles had no chance to be returned a winner, but the size of the majority given Morrison is hailed with keen satisfaction by Conservatives.

In the previous election R. L. Richardson, proprietor of The Winni- peg Free Press, ran as an Independ- ent Liberal and was defeated by 734. A heavier vote was polled than at the previous election, when Mr. Morrison was elected and later unseated on petition. Several polls in the Winnipeg subur- ban up the increased majority, showing an advance of 186 over the former ma- jority they gave the Conservative candi- date.

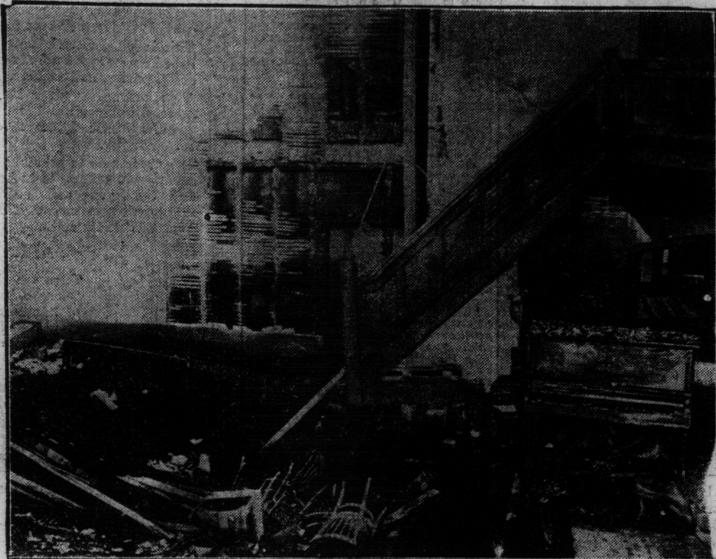

Walter Burnside was arrested in St. James, charged with perjury, as a result from this incident the election was quiet.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(Can. Press).—It is announced that under the will of the late Sir Julius Charles Wernher, who was a member of the firm of Wernher, Beit and Co., dia- mond merchants, King Ed- ward's Hospital fund will soon receive £1,225,000 and an ad- ditional $1,000,000 later.

SPANISH PRIESTS WERE ROBBED BY REBELS

Villa's Troops Plundered Free- ly at Chihuahua and De- manded Exorbitant Sums From Priests and Nuns, Say Spaniards Banished From Mexico—Protest to Wash- ington.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 13.—(Can. Press).—Stories of wholesale looting by Gen. Francisco Villa's rebel army on its entrance into Chihuahua, of the despoiling of church treasures, of the robbery of Spanish priests and nuns, of the confiscation of property and de- mands for exorbitant sums of money, were brought here today with the ar- rival of 478 citizens of Spain, who had been banished from Mexico by the rebels.

Eighteen Catholic priests and nuns of Spanish origin were among the refugees. They joined with the other exiled Spaniards in sending to the Spanish ambassador at Washington and to the minister of foreign relations at Madrid a protest against what they asserted was an outrage of their rights.

The priests said Villa had demanded $5,000 from each of them, and after they had given all they possessed, Villa's army looted the cathedral and churches and convent of all the gold and jeweled chalices and sacred vestments. One priest said he paid the rebels $25, which was all he had; another said he gave $150, and the nuns gave all but their personal be- longings.

Vouched for by Priests.

Among the priests who vouched for the story of church looting were Father Superior Jose Morales of the Community of the Holy Family, Father Manuel de Francisco and the Mother Superior of a sister of the order of the Virgin Mary.

Other Spaniards reported that in addition to threatening them with (Special to The Toronto World). GODERICH, Ont., Dec. 14.—A com- prehensive finding was returned Saturday a terton by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Thomas Stone and other seamen whose bodies came ashore after the great storm of Nov. 9. The document lays stress up- on the fact that information in the possession of the meteorological office at Toronto on the night of Nov. 8, in- dicated the approach of a storm of unusual velocity, was not sent out as a warning to mariners, and continues: "Considering the appalling loss of life and property on that occasion, and that Goderich is nominally a harbor of refuge, and the only available harbor as such on the east side of the lake, to which vessels can have re- course in stress of weather, and that if completed and equipped as a harbor of refuge—as all such harbors are in American ports—some of the said ves- sels might have found safety in it. Considering the vast amount of lake traffic along this part of Lake Huron, and that Goderich is the second largest grain-receiving port on the upper lakes, and considering all the circum- stances appearing before us, we strongly recommend that the government should, without delay, and at any cost, complete and equip Goderich as a real harbor of refuge, first, by fully com- pleting the breakwall now begun, second, by installing up-to-date lights and a fog signal at the entrance of the breakwall; third, by dredging the necessary depth in the outside narrows by the breakwall so that ships may have some sea room after the stress of entering to manoeuvre and steady themselves before trying to enter the piers.

No Real Harbor.

"Without these necessary additions Goderich harbor will, notwithstanding the expenditure on it already made as a harbor of refuge, continue to be no real harbor of refuge affording neces- sary shelter to shipping, while it is shown by the evidence of most ex- perperienced and able seamen that, in case of a severe gale, the vessels are, in fact, in a harbor of refuge on the American side are, Goderich will be a harbor avail- able for shipping in any ordinary heavy weather from which vessels are ac- customed to seek shelter.

Wireless Equipment.

"We also recommend that had there been wireless telegraph equip- ment on the vessels and on land, in- cluding the heights of Goderich, this being the highest point on this shore of Lake Huron, news of the approach- ing storm, known to the weather bureau at 10.30 p.m. on Nov. 8, could, according to the evidence, have been sent to vessels, whether on lake or in harbor, and enabled them to have either remained in harbor or sought shelter in time to save them from destruction, with the accompanying and most lamentable loss of life.

"We would recommend that the government be asked to issue a com- mission of enquiry to include the above matters, also the questions of construction, power, equipment, in- spection, loading, manning and life- saving appliances of lake freighters.

Means of Identification.

"We regret that it is so difficult in disasters of this nature to identify the bodies of the lost, and we recommend that a more efficient and stringent method be adopted by vessel owners to keep a proper list of all persons on vessels."

The witnesses were Capt. Reg. Bussell (recalled), Capt. F. D. Mc- Carthy of the Turret Cape, Capt. Ed. Robinson of the G. R. Crowe, Capt. Frank Johnston of the S. N. Parent, and C. L. Parsons, superintendent of the Goderich Elevator Company (recalled).

The master mariners recommended the further extension of the outside break waters at Goderich harbor, the dredging of the inner basin, the im- provement of lights and the proper placing of a modern fog whistle. With the improvements suggested, Goderich harbor, they said, would be a good and useful one. Superintendent Par- sons said that eleven million bushels of grain were transhipped at this harbor last season, beating the record of any other grain receiving port on the upper lakes, except Titus.

NAVAL HOLIDAY IDEA IS GAINING

U. S. Proposal Received in Germany With Consider- able More Favor Than That of Churchill.

BERLIN, Dec. 14.—(Can. Press).—The large majority by which the "naval holiday" resolution passed the American house of representatives has attracted interest and favorable comment from peace lovers in Germany, and the attitude of the United States on the proposal that international naval construction be discontinued for one year is regarded as one of possible far-reaching influence.

U-like the proposals to this end put forward by Great Britain, the suggestion from a neutral nation to discon- tinue the building of battleships for twelve months would be open to no suspicion of hostile intent. Addressed to all nations, it would avoid one of the main objections to the British plan, which is that neither Great Britain and Germany nor any other two na- tions can afford to stop building bat- tleships if other countries continue their naval program.

No "Jokers" Possible.

It need contain no "jokers," such as the exception allowing England to build battleships for Mediterranean service and to accept three Canadian battleships or their equivalent while other nations were observing the naval truce. The American proposal, if made, should be worded so closely as to leave no room for evasion by di- verting funds saved on battleships to the construction of cruisers, torpedo boats, submarines or alrships or by providing for accelerated construction in following years.

REBELS DEFEATED ABANDON SIEGE OF TAMPICO

Eight Hundred Insurrectos Re- ported Dead as Result of Heavy Federal Bombard- ment—Rebels Withdrew in Good Order With Com- manded Locomotives

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 14.—(Can. Press).—The rebels have fallen in their attack on Tampico and have with- drawn some distance from the city.

Unofficial messages reaching here today fully corroborate the war office report of the rebel defeat yesterday as a result of a heavy and sustained bombardment by two federal gunboats and federal field artillery. They do not, however, bear out the idea of a rout.

In possession of the railroad yards through the battle, the rebels, when they were driven off, remained suffi- ciently cool in the face of the furious fire to take away with them every locomotive and most of the rolling stock.

That the rebel loss was very great is also emphasized in these advices, which add that the buzzards which inhabit the Mexican coast and which for generations have been protected by law, floated today over the battle- fields in numbers so great as to pre- sent the appearance of low lying black clouds.

According to the federal report eight hundred rebels were killed before they could get out of range, and this would mean many other hundreds wounded and probably left behind.

VANDALS BROKE ALL FURNITURE

Entered Dundas Street Office and Demolished Every- thing in Sight, But Stole Nothing.

Seemingly with no other intention than that of destroying as much of the fine office furnishings as they could, unknown marauders broke into the offices of the General Fire Extinguisher Company at 1200 Dundas street between 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

Gaining entrance thru a cellar win- dow, the vandals made their way up- stairs where they proceeded to pry open the desks, either destroy or scatter their contents over the floor, and smash up anything break- able they happened to run across. A cheque for $50 which Manager Ander- son had left lying on his desk was gone when the burglary was discover- ed, but a number of valuable appli- ances which were in the office were left untouched.

The police were communicated with and are endeavoring to locate the culprits.

OPENING SERVICE WAS DELAYED BY FIRE

Simpson Ave. Methodist Sun- day School, Completed Sat- urday, Took Fire Sunday Morning and Interior Was Damaged So Badly That It Will Have to Be Rebuilt.

On the eve of the dedication service for its opening, the new $42,000 Sun- day school of Simpson Avenue Metho- dist Church was gutted by fire which did damage to the extent of $10,000 at 2.30 Sunday morning. The Sunday school building was the second largest in the city, and but for a fireproof wall between the main church building and the annex the whole of the church building would have been destroyed. The insurance it is believed, will cover the loss.

Commencing in the basement, and thought to have been due to defective electric wiring, the fire worked up thru the floor and destroyed all the fine

Church in Canada Will Be Asked to Give $25,000 This Year for Indore Building.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(Can. Press).—The British and Indian Governments are very seriously concerned over recent occurrences in South Africa arising out of what the East Indians con- sider discriminatory legislation against them. An effort is being made to minimize the seriousness of the situation which was accompanied by a general strike of thousands of East Indians in Natal, and riots in which several were killed. The influence of the government has been sufficient to induce the press of the country to print nothing but favorable news and com- ments, while a very careful supervision of news in regard to the suppression of disturbances in South Africa is made before its appearance in the Indian papers.

REWARD OFFERED FOR YOUNG GIRL

Countrymen of Anna Jojimen Will Pay $500 for Recov- ery Following Her Sus- pected Abduction.

Two hundred members of the Swed- ish societies, indignant at the disap- pearance of Anna Jojimen, a young Swedish domestic who was abducted while walking north along Spadina avenue, in the vicinity of Bloor street, met last evening and decided to offer a reward of $500, which will be given to the person who can offer information leading to the discovery of the young woman's whereabouts. The alleged abduction took place on Dec. 4 at about 11 o'clock in the evening, just after the missing girl and a girl friend had parted after getting off a Bloor car at the corner of Spadina and Bloor. The girl was on her way to Annesley Hall, the Victoria College ladies' residence, where she was employed, and it is sus- pected that some unknown persons have spirited her away.

STOLE "MONA LISA" WITHOUT ANY AID

Perugia's Cool Nerve Prevented Detection When Authorities Questioned Him.

PATRIOT, HE INSISTS

Painting Will Be on View Today in Historic Uffizi Gallery.

FLORENCE, Dec. 13.—(Can. Press).—Vincenzo Perugia, from whom Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece, "Mona Lisa" was recovered yesterday, declared absolutely to the police today that he had no accomplices, either direct or indirect, in the theft of the painting from the Louvre. Nobody knew of his plan before its execution; nobody saw him when he abstracted the picture, and nobody knew that he had the picture in his possession.

"I did not take the painting thru a desire for gain," he said, "but wished to accomplish a good and holy work by returning to my country one of the many treasures stolen from it."

While working in the Louvre, he continued, he was overheard with shame on hearing visitors indicated the best works as Italian. One day he took this oath: "I will be unworthy of Italy if I do not return to her one of these masterpieces."

An Irresistible Impulse. The idea obsessed him, and the "Mona Lisa" was ever before him. When he could delay no longer he found that he could accomplish his purpose without great difficulty, as he was already known by those employed about the building. After the theft he was interrogated by the police, but his frankness and his request that they search his room disarmed suspicion.

Similarly when he crossed the French frontier, he so readily opened his workbox for the authorities that they neglected to search it. Apparently it contained only a few rags and his tools.

Perugia declared that he did not intend to sell the picture to the government, but he thought he ought to have adequate compensation for "the great service rendered Italy."

The antiquary, Geri, will claim the rewards offered by the French government and the Paris newspapers for the recovery of the picture.

On View to Public. The "Mona Lisa" has been placed temporarily in the Uffizi gallery, where it reposed 400 years ago. By permission of the French Government, and in response to requests received from hundreds of Florentines, Dr. Corrado Ricci, director-general of the department of fine arts, has decided to exhibit it for a day or two, declaring that this gallery is "its legitimate place."

Tomorrow the public will be admitted. When Dr. Ricci was again asked today if he was absolutely certain that this was the genuine "Mona Lisa" he replied: "I only wish that the French experts would consider it a copy, then it would remain in Italy."

death if they remained in Chihuahua any longer than ten days. Gen. Villa demanded from merchants $1,500,000 in gold as a tribute to the revolution in return for which he would pay them in so-called constitutionalist currency.

Appealed to Carranza. U. S. Consul Marlet Letcher was appealed to in vain, the refugees said, because Mr. Letcher was denied the privilege of forwarding a code message to the American Government.

Gen. Villa's attitude toward Spaniards was regarded as so grave that other rebel leaders after a meeting in Juarez today, telegraphed to Gen. Carranza, now at Hermosillo, requesting him to go at once to Chihuahua and advise with Gen. Villa. Thomas D. Edwards, U. S. consul at Juarez, attempted to telegraph to Chihuahua, but was told the wires were not working. Mr. Edwards finally arranged to send a messenger by automobile.

Made Serious Threats. "Before the rebel army entered the city we thought at least the children of God would be safe," Father Morales said. "Yet the rebels had not long been in possession, when we at the cathedral were visited by an agent of rebel leader Villa. He informed us that a general tribute was to be exacted for the revolutionary cause, and that each of the priests would be expected to pay $5000. He said if the money was not paid within two days there would be serious consequences. We told him that we could not do it; that we did not have the money. At the expiration of two days Villa's agent returned, and said that our worldly possessions. We were told we would have to leave the country with the other Spaniards. We asked to be allowed to take with us all our sacred church vessels, but were told that this would be impossible, for the church property in the future would belong to the rebels."

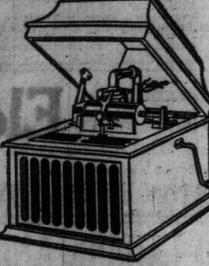

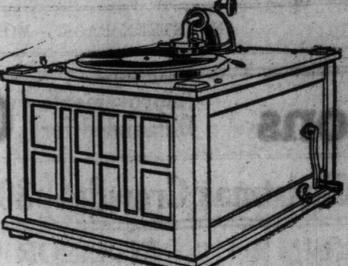

SYDNEY.

(Special Correspondent.) December 13, 1913.—Wherever miner's gold is discovered the result is a vast invasion of prospectors and promoters to exploit the newly found riches. That is the case in Ontario and the west, but how little have been the attempts to exploit the wealth of Nova Scotia. It seems incredible, but it is true that vast sections of the island of Cape Breton remain as they were when first discovered. Over a century ago the French mined coal in Cape Breton and the first British ships sent crews ashore to pry the fuel from the open seams along the cliffs. Coal is mined on the island today by means of modern machinery and up-to-date methods, but still only a small section of the total carboniferous deposit is being worked. Perhaps it is part of the scheme of nature's economy that Cape Breton is so geographically situated that its coal seams are thus being conserved for the future, or is it from the lack of railway facilities that more capital is invested in bringing to the surface the wealth that is concealed beneath the surface of the island?

The Intercolonial Railway runs thru the centre of Cape Breton from Point Tupper to the Sydney, crossing from Mulgrave on the Strait of Bras d'Or Lake, over a steel drawbridge between Grand Narrows and Iona. From Point Tupper the Inverness Railway runs to Inverness and the Cape Breton Railway goes as far as St. Peters. From Sydney, the Sydney and Louisburg Railway goes to Louisburg. This then there are large sections to the north of the intercolonial, and also to the south that as yet have no railway communication. The Bras d'Or Lakes with an area of 100 square miles afford water transport to many places not on the line of the railway, but there are many square miles of territory not yet opened up for development, and only sparsely settled. Geological surveys show that mineral wealth abounds in Cape Breton. There are large coal areas held in option, but as yet unworked, because of the cost of getting the output to a suitable point of transshipment. Gypsum is found in plenty on the island, and could be marketed cheaply were the country opened up. At Lake Ainslie there are assured indications of petroleum, but the methods of boring are not sufficiently aggressive as yet to bring about profitable results. A brylites plant is being operated at Lake Ainslie also, and the product is carried by steamer to a spur line of the intercolonial Railway at Strathmore station, and carried to the intercolonial thru line, compelling a high rate of freight to the large centres, where this mineral is greatly in demand. "No one knows," said a Cape Breton man to the writer recently, "how great is the undiscovered mineral wealth of Cape Breton, and particularly of Inverness County. They delve energetically in other parts, but we have here untold riches only waiting capital to exploit them."

There are agricultural opportunities too in many parts. The Cape Bretoner is not generally speaking, a scientific farmer. Many are tilling the soil as did their forefathers, and too many are content with a bare living, without any aspirations for improvements that will benefit themselves and their children. The result is that the boys do not stay on the farms, but seek industrial centres, and the girls also grow weary of the monotony, and seek the cities also for employment. The extension of the intercolonial some twenty years ago to the Sydney made possible the great industrial growth there. Will the extension of the other lines to the north and south open up a rich country for development and make Cape Breton populous and prosperous? The island is a land of scenic loveliness. Land and sea combine to give it a charm that thousands of tourists have delighted in. Should not a land so blessed by nature and endowed with her riches be better opened for cultivation and prospect?

Warm Time at Regular Meeting of North Toronto Ratepayers.

There was something happening every minute at the ratepayers' meeting in North Toronto on Saturday night...

The first squall came when the executive's recommendation that the railway franchise be taken from discussion was read out.

Mr. McBrade, who is a candidate for the board of control, gave a short talk on civic affairs, expressing his great satisfaction that the council had adopted his own suggestion to use mechanical filters in place of the slow sand method.

Mr. McBrade dealt very fully with North Toronto improvements, which had been passed by the council during the year, such as Duplex avenue, the widening of Yonge street, and the cemetery road.

Mr. Noble spoke at some length regarding the hospital by-law, emphasizing the necessity for the new buildings, and urging the electors to vote for it in January.

Mr. Meredith also spoke briefly, but was rather late to get a fair hearing.

Finally Ald. McBrade said that he meant to say "continguous" instead of "contiguous" mean, but the Alderman tried to pass it off.

Dr. Noble spoke at some length regarding the hospital by-law, emphasizing the necessity for the new buildings, and urging the electors to vote for it in January.

HELD FOR FRAUD ON PHONE COMPANY

On a charge of defrauding the Bell Telephone Co. out of a small sum of money, John Longeway of 215 Gladstone avenue, was arrested at his home Saturday evening by Detective Miller.

Longeway's alleged operations were in plugging phone pay boxes with stolen Canadian coppers for quarters and American coppers for ten-cent pieces.

Longeway stated to The World last evening that he could prove his innocence without difficulty, and that he did not put the plug in phone boxes.

Exceptionally well dressed and of a most pleasing manner, William Aldous, aged 32, of 12 Mutual street, was arrested by Detective Black Saturday afternoon charged with picking pockets in Eaton's store.

According to the police Aldous' alleged operations were the smoothest they had been permitted to look upon for some time.

The money was found on him in the detective office, and according to the police he has a long record for the same kind of offences.

Charged with picking a chatelaine on the arm of Jennie Rock of 326 West Richmond street, in Woolworth's store Saturday evening, Shie Hodess, 75 William street, was arrested by Detective Guthrie in that store Saturday evening.

For over an hour the detective watched his man going from counter to counter and cleverly opening ladies' purses. Eventually he saw him actually take money from the complainant's purse and he arrested him.

Radical Changes to Be Made in Well-Known Jewelry Firm

John Wanless & Co., Toronto's oldest jewelers, contemplate radical changes in their business. These consist in the formation of a new company under the management of George E. Holt, so long known and highly regarded in Toronto; the disposal of their fine stock "en bloc" or at retail at prices considerably below values and the vacation of the present building. The sale of the stock is now proceeding and many are taking advantage of the opportunity.

INDIA IS ON VERGE OF REVOLT AS RESULT OF HOSTILE STAND OF CANADA AND SOUTH AFRICA

Governments of Britain and India Realize That "White Man's Country" Attitude of Dominions Has Fanned Flame to Dangerous Extent—Solution Difficult.

has tried to pour oil on the troubled waters by expressing his sympathy with the East Indians in South Africa and asking for thorough investigation by the imperial authorities, and the Marquis of Crewe, secretary of state for India, in reply to a deputation of Indians, has likewise expressed himself in favor of investigation.

All this, however, has not had much effect on the Indians, or at any rate, those living in the British Isles. They are thoroughly aroused, and are demanding equal treatment for their fellow subjects in all of the British Dominions, practically all of which have adopted or contemplate adopting laws to keep the Indians out of their respective countries.

The difficulties of the imperial government are twofold. It is pointed out that it cannot dictate to the dominions as to what immigrants they shall admit without arousing particular in South Africa, a storm that might lead to a demand for separation from the empire; and in India it is realized by the authorities that it would not take a great deal to fan the flames of rebellion among the resources of the empire to put down a rebellion in India under any circumstances, but there is the added difficulty now that Hindus and Mohammedans are united in demanding what they consider is just to the Indian subjects of his majesty, it is not often that the two sects join to Another matter irritating the Indians is that they have found out that some of the men who professed to be heart and soul in their campaign for redress were in the pay of the Imperial Government. One very prominent Indian, whose speeches at some of the meetings were very close upon sedition, has been found to have been in the pay of the Indian Government for years, and he is now receiving police protection for fear of assassination.

The news that Canada, at the instigation of British Columbia, has been in negotiation with the imperial authorities with a view to further legislation to restrict the immigration of Indians to the Pacific coast, has also caused a great deal of alarm among those who know the seriousness of the situation. For in this case, although the proposal is in the extent any steps by the Imperial Government to prevent such a move would arouse hostility in Canada and might jeopardize the proposals for assistance from the Dominion in the matter of naval defence.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance, too, is proving a thorn in the side of the British Empire now that the various dominions are being urged to stand by all parts of the world. Australia, New Zealand and Canada, or at any event, the western provinces of Canada, have declared for a "white man's country," and their laws aim at the exclusion of all orientals, whether British subjects, as the Indians are, or Japanese, the subjects of her ally.

Crowds Used St. Clair Cars Yesterday—News of the Churches.

A meeting of the Earls Court District Voters' Association executive committee took place in the Dominion Bank Chambers on Friday evening, President Holmes presiding. The secretary was instructed to write the district freight agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Ryding, to enquire as to the boundaries of the Earls Court district. The section for which deliveries are required will take in the Dufferin section, the eastern boundary being the west side of Dufferin street to Ascot avenue, and west to the Prospect Cemetery, also pointing out that during last summer 28 streets were tied up for improvements and at the present time are all completed, making deliveries possible all over the district. Arrangements were also made for the general meeting of the association, which will take place at an early date.

MRS. PANKHURST AGAIN ARRESTED

Detectives Made Capture Soon After Train Had Left Dover.

FRIENDS OUTWITTED

Proud Boast Proved Rash One—Serenaded at Holloway Jail.

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(Can. Press).—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the suffragette leader, who returned from Paris, where she has been visiting her daughter, Miss Christobel Pankhurst, was rearrested this evening by Scotland Yard detectives shortly after the train left Dover. The action of the police was so unexpected by the militants that they had made no preparations to safeguard their leader by a detachment from the recently organized suffragette army.

It was only on Sunday night that "Gen." Mrs. Flora Drummond, speaking at a suffragette meeting, exclaimed: "Here and now we swear that never again will the government get Mrs. Pankhurst."

Prior to her departure from Paris, Mrs. Pankhurst said that she did not expect to be arrested before Monday, as the license under which she had been released did not expire until then, and she announced her intention of addressing a big meeting on that day in London. The change on which she was taken into custody was "having left the country without giving the 24 hour notice of change of address as required by her license."

Back to Holloway. At Victoria station a large force of police was on hand to prevent any attempt at rescue. On the arrival of the train, and before any of the militants present realized what had happened, she was hurried into a motor car and driven to Holloway jail.

Soon after she was incarcerated groups of suffragettes drove up in taxis and started a concert outside the jail. Mrs. Dacre-Fox declared that the premature arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst was due to fear of what her body-guard would do if the police had attempted to arrest her at Monday's meeting. She added: "The government evidently is in absolute terror of the Women's Social and Political Union."

WAR TIME SONGS

Songs That Deserve a Place in History.

The songs that were sung during the great civil war of the United States—that had their origin directly from the hearts of the people while the fierce four-years' struggle was going on—these songs deserve a place in history. They served to soothe the fears and allay the anxious moments of many a crisis when the humming wires might flash the message that meant the destruction of the union and the birth of two hostile Anglo-Saxon nations. They calmed and comforted the women who were left at home—with grief and suffering paramount in each of the days that dragged out their weary length. They served as the outpouring of that silent agony which must find utterance or break the heart. They were audible and visible supplications of millions that could only watch and pray—while the gallant boys in blue and gray fought the battles at the front.

The music and the words of these war songs cannot be reproduced to-day. It needs the inspiration of a momentous war to produce their like. And it is eminently fitting that they should be gathered into one volume such as "Heart Songs."

This unique book, offered by this paper, almost as a gift to its readers, contains nearly every song, either of the north or south, that brought solace to the dear ones at home or the gallant boys in the ranks during the thrilling days of the greatest war ever fought. We consider that we are fortunate in being able to offer this treasury of song on such terms that every home into which this paper goes can own at least one copy. The coupon printed elsewhere in this issue explains fully how the reader can procure the book.

Afternoon Tea Service

AFTER the sandwiches are made and the little cakes baked for afternoon callers the problem of what beverage to serve usually claims attention. Tea is oftenest decided upon, for it is not troublesome to make, and in serving it one has opportunity to display one's fine china and dainty tea service accessories.

Chief of all contrivances for afternoon tea is the tea-wagon; this is a wicker tray mounted on two wheels with a handle at one end. It holds the alcohol lamp, tea kettle, salver, tea caddy and other things used in tea making. To accompany this is a "muffin stand," sometimes called a curator; this is also of wicker, very light in weight. Its several shelves hold the napkins, extra china and spoons and the cakes, sandwiches and hot rolls. The old style tea box, tea table and big silver tea tray is preferred by those who use a specially imported tea and enjoy brewing it frequently. These boxes are often very costly, being made from inlaid teak wood or silver-mounted mahogany.

They contain a silver tea caddy and measuring cup, a tea-ball, small kettle and lamp. Elaborate ones include the cups and silver. These boxes are so compact, convenient and handsome that they make practical gifts. When a tea-ball is used it should be but half-filled with tea leaves to allow them to swell when the water is poured over it. The ball is dipped up and down in the cup of boiling water until the beverage looks to be of the right strength. This method insures freshly brewed tea, as the little ball is frequently emptied and replenished, but it is a slow way and not practical if many are to be served.

Milk should never be served with tea, but cream is always offered by Canadian hostesses who like to please their guests rather than Dame Grundy. Lemon juice is preferred in afternoon tea, and there is a reason for this; the acid of the citrus fruit neutralizes the tannic acid of the tea. In southern countries a slice of pineapple is used in place of the lemon and this is a pleasant change. A fine orange-peel tea needs no additions, but rock candy in place of sugar, a chip of cinnamon bark, or a whole clove, or a half a marshmallow are just a few of the unnecessary but very good flavors people who have experimented tell me they like in their tea.

For a party of 75 persons one pound of black tea and four gallons of water will be needed. Do not make up the entire quantity in one utensil, but brew one-fourth, and when half of that is served brew a second lot. In this way no one will have stale, strong tea, but all will be served alike.

One pound of Oolong and gunpowder tea will make four gallons of "green" tea. The quality of tea, like that of coffee, seldom remains uniform from one purchasing time to another; this is the fault of the wholesaler, the importer and the grower and cannot be remedied. The best way to insure continuous good tea is to buy a few ounces of different blends and when you have found just the flavor you enjoy, lay in a supply of it. You can do this safely, as tea does not deteriorate as fast as coffee.

Chinese curio shops usually carry excellent teas and are very reasonable in their prices.

The Toronto City Mission

Editor World: For more than 25 years the Toronto City Mission has endeavored to provide all needy and struggling families known to its missionaries and workers with material for a comfortable Christmas dinner, to be prepared by themselves and enjoyed in the privacy of their own homes.

With our five missionaries visiting day after day in these overcrowded districts we find many sad cases of need, where they cannot even secure the barest comforts of life for themselves and their children. These we try to relieve as need requires, and at Christmas to bring some little joy into their lives by supplying the Christmas dinner. Last year, thru the kindness of friends, we provided for 1160 persons in this way, and this year we will require to provide for more than that number. A number of donations have been received, but much more is required to meet our list of needy ones.

Donations should be sent at once, and will be duly acknowledged by

A DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

Emey Lou

(By Virginia Vale.)

Once upon a time there was a little girl, a very little girl, and she lived in a small house. The house was so small that there were only three rooms in it. She didn't have a great deal to eat or many things to wear, but often she saw other children wearing pretty things and with dolls in their arms. Oh, if she could only have a doll, a real doll!

Of course, she had "Emey Lou," and she loved her so much, but "Emey Lou" was just a clothespin with a paper face and a scarlet dress. She took her in her arms and said, "Now 'Emey Lou,' I love you more than anyone, but I want a real doll. You are my friend, and, of course, you want a doll, too. We would have such good times together."

Now, what do you think happened? Her father came home one night and tossed a bundle to her, saying, "Here's something you have wanted for a long time."

She took off the paper, and there was a doll with eyes and arms that could move, and a lovely blue silk dress. It was a little soiled, but that didn't matter. It was a doll.

"Oh, I must show it to 'Emey Lou,'" she will be so glad I have a doll." But Emey Lou didn't seem a bit glad. Instead she seemed rather sad and just fell over on her back and lay quite still.

"Now, Emey Lou, please come and play with me and our new doll," said the little girl. "We will have such fun! What will we name her?" "I think Daisy is a good name, so we will call her that," said the girl. Now, do you know that Emey Lou

Thoughts for Mothers

Whilst there is no proper government in a household unless the "no" is final; just because it is final it should be most carefully considered before it is spoken. Trivial as the matter may seem to you, it is often of momentous importance to the little one waiting your decision; and if, realizing this, after the denial has been given, you yield the point you weaken your authority, and the quick-witted boy soon learns that mother can be teased into acquiescence with his wishes.

The child's first ideas of prayer come to him when an infant by the mother kneeling beside the crib in silent prayer, her bowed head and kneeling body tell of submission to and reverence for a power greater than herself; her tone of voice when she speaks of sacred things is far more effectual with the little listener than the words she says. Soft, low, sacred music, some beautiful picture of a Madonna-like mother watching over her baby, flood his little soul with reverence.—Froebel.

The longing for sympathy is one of the strongest instincts of the human nature. It halves the sorrows of the child and doubles its joys. There are many parents who give love to their children where there is one who gives sympathy.

Sympathy with a child does not mean that you are to try lifting the child up to your plane of observation, but that you are to adjust yourself to his and see things as he sees them. Instead of from your grown-up altitude. There is no stronger bond of union between a parent and a child, no other ground upon which they can come so closely together and the child be helped by the parent's superior strength. Wherever else sympathy may be an acquired habit, surely between a mother and her child there ought to be the tenderest and deepest sympathy.

The Care of House Ferns.

There are several good varieties of ferns that will do well in the house. To the average person a fern appears to be a very easy plant to grow. But, when one notices the unhappy specimens in too many homes, one must then come to the inevitable conclusion that ferns are not easy plants to manage.

Let us first take a look at the native atmospheric and soil conditions under which the ordinary outdoor ferns grow.

As a rule the choicest varieties are to be found in shaded ravines or hollows, either at the bottoms of the slopes, or along the lower reaches of the slopes. In such situations, a suitable amount of moisture, not necessarily of a swampy character, is able to reach the roots. Also, very little direct sunlight, indeed, often not a single ray of sunlight, is received by the most desirable plants. Again, the air is not only cool, but it is also moist. And lastly there are no strong draughts to chill the long waving fronds.

These conditions can be very easily duplicated in the ordinary house with a little thought and planning. The trouble with most of the specimens of house ferns is, lack of moisture in the air, too much direct sunlight, too much heat, and an occasional draught. And do not forget that a variable temperature is detrimental to the well-being of all plants.

Before going more deeply into the special needs of one or two varieties, let us give a few general rules about potting, and later care.

The soil should be loose, porous and rich. No manure. Perfect drainage is essential to fern roots. Therefore place plenty of loose material in the pot. Hunt in your woodpile, if you have one, for bits of soft, decaying wood, fragments of old bark (to be crumbled as fine as possible), or an occasional piece of moss.

Let the root crown be well above the level of the soil, and never pushed out of sight, else rotting may take place. Keep the soil always wet, but not so wet that it will become sour. The point is that the soil must never be allowed to become dry out.

Keep the fronds dry, save for an occasional washing once a week, so frequently advocated in this department.

Use water from which the chill has been removed, in preference to water direct from the cold-water tap.

Never put your ferns out in a pouring rain, unless you wish to see the fronds beaten to the ground. A slow, gentle, light rain, on the other hand, will be most beneficial to them. Remember that ferns, in the woods do not generally receive the full benefit of a heavy rain on account of their sheltered position.

Regarding light, choose a northern light in preference to that from the south. Never place the pots in the direct sun, most certainly never, if that same sun pours thru the glass of the window.

In winter, house ferns should be given a temperature of under sixty-five. As spring approaches, this temperature may be allowed to rise slowly, so that by June, the plants will be able to bear about seventy degrees. To Be Continued.

Fancies of Fashion

Women's Ears Again Peep Out Beneath Hair

By Madge Marvel.

EARs are again being worn by fashionable women. That is one of the fashion lessons resulting from the opening of the opera season. On the opening night the decided change in the appearance of the feminine head was most noticeable. Instead of the soft coil at the nape of the neck, and the hair being pulled forward in loose loops, quite obliterating the ears, there was positive signs of at least half portion of auricular appendages on many beautifully coiffed heads. And a few were bold enough to show the entire ear.

The newest hairdressing is unlike any recent mode. It brings the waved effect into prominence from brow to crown in a way somewhat reminiscent of the long favored marcel. The utter absence of extra hair is another feature—or, at any rate, if it is used it is made to appear quite one's own. The natural shape of the head is most zealously followed, but it is an alteration of the shape to which the recent close manner of arrangement has accustomed us.

To begin with, the hair is dressed semi-high. The waves are drawn from the forehead to the crown of the head and the ends of the hair are tucked away in a marvelous manner, with not the least sign of a knot or roll. Still there is the effect of the modified cascade. The lobes of the ears are brought into evidence.

In front of the ears are tiny curls. Sometimes they are wee ringlets, two or three in a cluster, nestling coquettishly at the side of the face with the pink shell of the ear peeping out from behind them. Again, they are plain little half-curls, such as our mothers knew as montagues. These are more effective when the hair is dark. The ringlets seem to belong more to blondes. The style is becoming to many faces.

It is an interesting fact that some of the most beautiful women in New York society have never attempted innovations in hair dressing. Three who have clung persistently to the full soft pompadour are Mrs. Phil Lydie, Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt and Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay. It suits their particular style and they are far too clever to change to a less personal, even if more popular, mode. Mrs. John Astor usually wears her beautiful hair in a loose pompadour and drawn into a soft knot at the crown of the head. She occasionally varies this with a slight one-sided part, but with the fairness retained.

The new hair dressing makes the forehead no less prominent. If anything, the hair is brought even lower, and some of the young women at the opera wore the waves almost touching the eyebrows. Another impressive point was the absence of head ornamentation. Of course, there was Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt's diamond tiara, and an exquisite diamond tiara, and an exquisite diamond tiara, and an exquisite diamond tiara. Occasionally there were few bejeweled and befeathered heads. The use of diamonds and pearls, and bands of tulle and brilliants, and bands of tulle and brilliants, and bands of tulle and brilliants.

And speaking of rhinestones, they are used so persistently that the eyes rest on a scintillation whichever way one looks. It is a close race between fur and rhinestones as adornment for the fashionable evening gown and dress. Rhinestones, and often all rivalry is obliterated and they snuggle together on the same garment.

On dancing frocks, especially for the debutante, rhinestones are much used for edging the trunks of tulle, which are part of every other gown. This is a feature of all Callot models.

Right Diet for the Plump

By Maggie Teyte.

MAGGIE TEYTE.

THE stout woman who wishes to reduce faces the problem of diet as well as of exercise. She must be nourished, but with an elimination of all fat-producing foods. It is almost impossible for one to lay down a hard and fast rule for reduction. Persons vary in their physical make-up, and what reduces one has little effect on others. In the exercises recommended I have tried to give those which I know to be of value to everyone, in giving strength as well as taking off flesh and improving the general health.

Personally I am of the opinion that when a woman has been stout a long time, she should have expert advice from her family physician before she begins a course of reduction. That is, unless she is one of the rapidly increasing army of women who have themselves in hand and know the common sense rules of life, which will restrain them from overdoing any undertaking.

It is the general impression of all obesity experts that fat is an over-supply of some food. It is an unnatural condition. It is an uncontrollable. The thing to find is the right method of control. Some persons of my acquaintance have had excellent results in reducing simply by cutting in half all food supply. Others omit all sweets, starches, a cohol beverages, and fat-forming products. The body, taking in no fats turns for needed fuel to that which is already stored up. One of the most important rules to remember is to take no liquid at meal time. Thoroughly masticate your food and the need for liquid will be lessened. Drink all the pure fresh water you can during the day, only limit the fluids to at least an hour before or an hour after eating.

Hot water and lemon juice is endorsed by all obesity specialists. They also seem to agree in the taking of some effervescent mineral water the first thing in the morning—preferably vichy.

If the desire for food is felt between meals, a well-known trainer of athletes advises a spoonful or so of jelly made from any of the gelatine products, unsweetened, flavored with lemon.

Dieting does not mean going hungry. It is generally agreed that we all eat too much. In reducing, the main thing is to eat only what food is needed. A general rule to follow is to omit all soups, all vegetables that grow under the ground with the exception of carrots, parsnips and onions; all cereals except oatmeal; all sweets, starches, milk and cream.

There is the skim milk diet as a means of reduction, but it is taken instead of food and is strenuous. Some persons complain that the elimination of bread from their diet is a hardship. Gluten bread is permitted. So is crisp dry toast. When you see the fat vanishing and the figure growing lovely and the fine, clear outlines of the face emerging from the fat you'll forget to ask for forbidden foods.

For Your Scrap Book

The unfortunate individual who has had to sleep with an alarm clock alongside his bed or who has been roused from slumber morning after morning just when the sleeping was good, will appreciate these verses.

Sleep Enough.

O H. I hate this gitten 'up, gitten 'up, gitten 'up—
Oh, I hate this gitten 'up wuzn' dirt!
I would like to lie in bed till the evenin' sun was red,
An' if folks would think I'm dead 't wouldn't hurt.

I've been a-gitten 'up, gitten 'up, gitten 'up.
I've been a-gitten 'up forty years. Since I used to live at home, an' my father used to come,
With his finger an' his thumb on my ear.

I've been a-gitten 'up, as I'm bound, as I'm bound,
For I reckonise the fact I am bound,
Gitten 'up before the fowls, with my eyes like hooter owls,
When the voice of duty yowls, "Hustle round!"

I have hustled round an' sparred, an' hustled round, hustled round!
I have scratched and fit and tore an' hustled round,
Till I'd like to git a berth in the cemetery earth,
An' just sleep for all I'm worth under ground.

I will go to Angel Gabe, Angel Gabe, Angel Gabe,
I will go to Angel Gabe an' I'll say:

"Don't you go for to salute! I'm a common kind of coot!"

Just a ornery galoot, plain as hay!
"You don't need to make no show; make no show! make no show!"

You don't need to put on style, not for me!
I don't want no harr nor crown, nor no shinin' golden gown,
For my taste is all low down, like I be.

"You just pat me anywhere, anywhere, anywhere!
So it's somewhere I can sleep, sleep to stay!
Any shakedown you kin fix, where it's allus half-past 6,
Where it gits to that an' sticks all the day!"

"An' jest send a nigger kid, nigger kid, nigger kid—
(If there's colored angels here, as I s'pose)—
Send him twice a day to shake at my shoulder till I wake,
An' bid me make a break for my clothes."

"Then I'll sort o' groan an' yawn, groan an' yawn, groan an' yawn,
An' I'll roll upon my back half a turn!
Then remember pretty soon, reckonise the octocoon,
An' I'll tell that angel coon: "You be durn!"

"Then I'll hear him crawl away, crawl away, crawl away!
An' he'll tell me as he goes: "Don't you stit!"
Then I'll snuggle down just so, where it's sleepy warm below,
An' I'll murmur as I go: "Thank you, sir."

About The Bodies We Live In

With Gray Eyes You Have Poise and Power

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg, A.B., M.A., M.D. (Johns Hopkins)

Copyright, 1913, by L. K. Hirschberg.

THE eye is an Aladdin's cavern, which leads to the dearest treasures of the mind and heart. It is scintillating in its eloquence, twin-born of thought, and it outstrips the human voice in truth, is swifter than the nimble lightning's flash, and reflects the motives better far than muscular action. When you gaze into the glittering gray orbs of Psyche or Minerva, you bow before the microscopic power that discerns the electrons in an atom or molecule of dew. If liberties may be taken with Avon's bard, it may be written that doctrines are derived from grayish eyes. They belch forth Promethean fires. They are the best books of the very universities that nourish all the world.

Gray eyes are the outward signs of an inheritance of thought, poise and power. Almost any sort of temperamental susceptibility, sentiment, romance, passion, and ephemeral emotions are undrinkable behind a cold gray eye. Where you see gray eyes of this particular sort, there you will find caution, reserve, calm deliberation, persistent purpose, indomitable insistence and steadfast conviction.

Gray Eyes Denote Energy.

Men with gray eyes are likely to have a curious, bent keenness. They are energetic, austere, cold and seemingly unsympathetic, yet in times of trouble they rise to all emergencies. Even their benevolences, carried on quietly, are usually extensive and well disposed of. Roguish eyes are more often brown than gray, while the "black eye sparkles" spells mystery and mischief. True enough, there are rare exceptions to this physiological truth, but they are indeed few and far between. Personally, I have in an extensive and world-wide acquaintanceship met not one emotional individual equipped with gray eyes.

Health seems not so firmly linked with gray eyes as with brown and black eyes. Dr. William Osler, of chloroform and pellagra fame—you may recall he jocosely suggested that the aged be chloroformed, and seriously that there was no pellagra in the United States—has said that if two individuals have consumption it will go worse with the one who has gray orbs.

Osler perhaps anticipated Dr. Oster when he wrote that the fine part of the human constitution, the eye, is as much the receptacle and seat of our passions, appetites, inclinations, as the mind and body are. It is at least the outward portal that introduces them to the house within; or, rather, the common thoroughfare to let our affections pass in and out. Love, anger, pride, and avarice all visibly move in those little semi-globes.

Dark Eyes More Dangerous.

Is it not curious how most girls fall victims to the blandishments of a dark eye, yet feel themselves safe and clad in the armor of the Lord before gray eyes? This is not a psychological curiosity, but a physiological condition allied with the mating instinct as well as a motherly

Finally, sane, vigorous exercise and the avoidance of all food after 8 o'clock at night will eliminate much of your too abundant flesh.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday morning from the family residence at 156 Booth avenue, to St. Ann's Church, thence to St. Michael's Cemetery.

NORDHEIMER RECITAL

An audience that filled Nordheimer Hall and overflowed into the rooms adjacent, listened to the piano and vocal recital of Herr Hugo Kihl and the Meise Amour and Kemp on Friday evening.

Mr. Kihl displayed all the perfection of technique with which musical Toronto is so familiar. "Thirty-Two Variations in C Minor" (Bach) was interpreted in all the variety of its demands, and the "Andante in F Minor" by the same composer, was given with exquisite tenderness and appreciation of melody. In the second group, from Chopin, Mr. Kihl showed that strength as well as delicacy of touch and tenderness of expression are features of his artistry. Applause and many recalls were given the talented pianist.

Miss Amour sang three selections—"Elsa's Dream" (Lohengrin), "Morgen" (Strauss), and "Cancille." The singer gave evidence that she possesses a clear, ringing voice, and her vocal delivery attracted applause and several bouquets were accorded her performance. "Fair Jessie," a number calling for tremendous delivery and a good deal of vocalization of expression, was sung by Miss Kemp to excellent effect. Her program, including a solo by Miss H. Ethel Stephens, was accompanied by Miss Dana who was able to present the music of Miss Denton Dr. Dana's number on the program, but owing to a cold Miss Dana was unable to be present.

SUNDERLAND WINS THE BRIDGEN CUP

Captured Trophy by Beating Devonians in Final—Kenyon Cup Also Theirs.

Sunderland again demonstrated that they have a championship team when they defeated Devonians on Saturday at Rosedale by the score of 2 to 1. In the final of the Bridgen Cup series. This is the second championship that the red and white have won this year, having annexed the Kenyon Charity Cup earlier in the season. At half time the score was tied one to one, but the Devonians failed to tally in the last half, while Sunderland netted the winning goal. At the close of the game Mr. Bridgen, the donor of the cup, presented the trophy to the captain of the team, William Simmons.

Devonians won the toss and elected to play with the strong sun at their backs. Griffiths kicked off and play settled down in midfield. Leonard was playing well, his passes being perfect. Devonians got down and from a pass by Burns, Leonard sent a good shot outside. Sunderland were playing good combination, but the Devonians developed cup-tie tactics and had the best of the first quarter of an hour's play. Hopper twice put in good shots and from one day exceeded his space limit and the referee awarded a free, which was cleared.

The Devonians' goal had a narrow escape immediately after Moffitt centering right across the goal, but nobody was there. Norman and Sturch, who were in some pretty passing, but could do nothing with the resolute defence put up by Swift and McKennie. Another exciting movement took place in the Devonians' goal, Moffitt heading just over the bar. From a free against Sunderland Hopper notched the first point for Devonians, heading the ball in the net quite out of Day's reach. Spurred by this reverse Sunderland immediately got down and from a pass by Moffitt scored, giving Hunt no chance with a swift low shot.

It was not long before the Devonians were back again and Hopper tested Day with a good shot. Hunt saved marvellously from Day a minute later, putting the ball round the post. The ensuing corner went outside. Hopper was repeatedly breaking away and Day had his work cut out to save his shots.

Half-time came with the Devonians leading. Score: Devonians 1, Sunderland 1.

Resuming, Sunderland took up the aggressive, but outside spoiled their chances. Sunderland kept up the pressure, and after heading the halves, May put in a shot from the side, which completely beat Hunt, and went in the far corner of the goal.

Collett was playing a fine game at back, repeatedly coming in at the nick of time. Hopper, who had been playing a promising movement to a close, and from the free Devonians attacked. Stewart came to the rescue with a kick. Again, Sunderland, with the passing, had the Devonians' goal in jeopardy, but Norman put just outside. Devonians seemed to have lost their forcefulness since the second goal, and could do nothing with the opposing defence. Hopper, with his individual runs, was one of the best forwards on the field. At the last the Devonians got going, and Hamilton forced a corner, but from the melee which ensued the ball was ballooned over the bar by Collett. Sunderland got going, and shots were rained in on Hunt, but no score resulted.

Full-time score: Sunderland 2, Devonians 1.

University Settlement players defeated East Toronto 2 to 0 in the Boys' Union Intermediate soccer final on Saturday afternoon on Don Park. This gives the chivalry Settlement the boys' team championship, and as they have won the cup for three successive years they will now retain it for good.

Each member will also receive a gold medal for this season's win.

The game brought out a good crowd of supporters for both sides. In the opening stages the play was even, but University Settlement soon secured and a perfect centre from the right was beautifully converted by Ives. University Settlement made it two to nothing shortly after this, when Ives again scored a clean one.

In the second half East Toronto lived up considerably, but failed to score, although they managed to keep their opponents from increasing their lead, and the score remained 2 to 0 at the finish.

Herpes Causes Upset Saturday at Juarez

JUAREZ, Mexico, Dec. 13.—Panzarata, the crack Texas filly, carrying 126 lbs., equaled her own record for five and one-half furlongs when she beat a small field of sprinters in the Tampico Handicap, and raced the distance in 1:04.5 this afternoon.

Panzarata was a hot favorite. She went to the front at the start, and, showing the way thruout, withstood the challenge of U. See It in the final furlong, and won handsily.

Panzarata and Sir Alveo were the only choices to reward the form players. The chief upset came by the opening race, in which Herpes, at 45 to 1, out-footed Gital, the favorite, all the way.

Herpes will be racing next Monday and every Monday thereafter during the meeting.

FIRST RACE—Purse $300, 3-year-olds and up, selling, 5 1/2 furlongs: 1. Herpes, 107 (Feeny), 10 to 1, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1. 2. Gital, 112 (Gross), 8 to 5, 4 to 5 and 1 to 4. 3. Bob Lynch, 112 (Gentry), 5 to 2, even and 1 to 2. 4. Time 1:02.45. Tobby, Eva Padwick, Tilly Wofarth, Marsand, Halberg, San Bernito, Top Note, Island Queen and Hox also ran.

SECOND RACE—Selling, 2-year-olds, 5 1/2 furlongs: 1. Theodorita, 107 (Stevens), 4 to 1, 2 to 1 and 1 to 1. 2. Muiy Bueha, 108 (Riddle), 20 to 1, 5 to 1 and 2 1/2 to 1. 3. Old Goch, 105 (Ramsey), 8 to 1, 3 to 1 and 3 to 1. 4. Time 1:06.25. General Warren, Barbara Lane, Little Bit, Leford, Alabama, Bam, Ortyx, Ada Kennedy, Art Rick, Ceos, Colonel McDougall also ran.

THIRD RACE—Selling, 3-year-olds and up, mares and geldings, one mile: 1. Crown Queen, 107 (Bennett), 5 to 1, 3 to 1 and 2 to 1. 2. Belle of Bryn Mawr, 94 (Stevens), 2 to 1, 3 to 5 and 1 to 3. 3. Little Marchmont, 112 (McCarthy), 3 to 1, 4 to 5 and 1 to 5. 4. Time 1:39. Clinton, Bluebeard, Chanticleer, Bellefite, Lord Elam and Winifred D. also ran.

FOURTH RACE—All ages, Tampico Handicap, 5 1/2 furlongs: 1. Panzarata, 126 (Kirschbaum), 4 to 5, 1 to 4, out. 2. U. See It, 105 (Gentry), 2 to 1, 1 to 3, 1 to 4. 3. GIL MARTIN BEATEN

THURSDAY BY B. WEEKS. VANCOUVER, Dec. 13.—There is a saying of the fistic game that once a boxer beats another one he always has the other fellow's number and that saying was aptly illustrated in the Stevenson Arena when Billy Weeks for the third time won from Gil Martin. The local middleweight boxer clashed in a scheduled fifteen-round bout for the Canadian middleweight championship, but Weeks disposed of his rival after only a minute and twenty seconds of the third round had elapsed.

My Old Kentucky Home S.C. Forman. Musical notation and lyrics for the song.

400 Songs selected by 20,000 People all over the World Four Years to Complete the Collection 500 Pages of World-Wide Music

Imagine an old Kentucky blue grass plantation "befo de wah!" The month is June—queen of all the months. The grass is at its greenest—long, lush and wavy—caressed into ripples now and then by some wandering zephyr.

The mocking bird is trilling his marvelous notes—bubbling over with ecstasy. His rivals and neighbors are stirred into song likewise—and the scene, indeed, is a place

"where music dwells Lingering and wandering on as loth to die."

The gently sighing trees, the rustling corn, the brook winding in and out, through grass, leaf and flower—and over all, the marvelous blue depths of a southern sky—ah! what a scene for a painter, a poet or a musician.

NOW, imagine the best type of the old, slave-time plantation negro, forced by the failing fortunes of his master to be sold into a distant land. Parted from his Black Dinah and their little, shining pickaninnies—and carried to the cane-fields of Louisiana—so unlike his old home—we can picture his loneliness—his desolation—his intense longing, as "the days go by like a shadow o'er the heart"—till the grave seems near and welcome; only a "few more days for to tote the weary load."

Foster expresses all this in his "Old Kentucky Home." The ineffable sadness of the music—the heartbreak in the words—the divine inspiration of both—that only comes to genius—have made this song one of the genuine treasures of American music.
