ANTWERP WILL NOT FALL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.-The armies of the world could not capment came after a despatch was received from Washington, to the effect that the Belgian minister had information from his government supporting the disbelief.

Antwerp, it was said, has the most modern of fortifications. They guard the entire city, forming a circle practically immune against seizure. On the east, the west, the north and the south are forts, and on the extreme north section of the city are dykes which can be opened if the German army approaches from that direction. Antwerp, Namur and Liege are the only well-fortified cities in Belgium, it was said, the others being but slightly protected by forts of less modern construction and but lightly armed. "The Belgian field army, being based on Antwerp, has failen back in that direction in order to cover its communication with that fortress. In anticipation that this might become necessary, the seat of government had already been transferred from Brussels to Antwerp. This new trimming will be combined only with gowns of chiffon, laces, nets or other diaphanous materials, for, of course, they would be quite ridiculous with a dignified gown "en traine." Heavy chains, embroidered nets or beaded bands are no companions of this new feather trimming. It belongs rather to costumes which are a veritable cloud of elusive drapery and dainty flower trim-

It unfolded a tale of woe, on reading which one might imagine that the annexation of Todmorden would be as deadly to Toronto as the defeat of the allies in Belgium would be to the British Empire. Emphasis is laid upon what appears to be a misunderstanding of Alderman Wickett, who fears that the proposal of the Davies interests to give a strip of boulevard land in consideration of being left out of the present annexation, means the exclusion of the Davies property from the city in perpetuity. The Ontario Municipal and Railway Board may be trusted not to accept such an interpretation of the proposal, and this is the only point which is offered against the annexation. Even as this is written a harvest of death is being reaped. Remember our tragic case.' Europe is full of a joyless tragic case.' Europe is full of a joyless determination to end this evil for-ever as she plunges grimly and sadly into the cruel monstrosities of war. Assuredly there will be little shouting for the victors whichever side may win. At the end we do most firmly believe that there will be established a win. At the end we do most nrms believe that there will be established a new Europe—a Europe ridden of rank-ling oppression, with a free Poland and a free Finland, a free Germany and in the Balkans those little nations settled in safety and peace.

What Will the U.S. Do? And it is of supreme importance

And it is of supreme importance we should ask you now what you are go-ing to do thruout the struggle and what you will do at the end? One thing we are told you mean to do, a thing which has moved me to this ap-peal. For it is not only a strange thing in itself but it may presently be fol-lowed by other similar ideas. Come what may, all the liberal forces in England and France are resolved to respect the freedom of Holland. But the position of Holland is a very pe-culiar one in this war. The Rhine runs along the rear of the long Ger-many line as if it were a canal to serve that line with supplies; then it passes into Holland and so by way of Rotterdam to the sea. Rotterdam to the sea.

Where They Come In

So it is possible for any neutral power. You have already come to the stage when a certain magnanimity becomes you in your relation to European af-fairs. Fortunate Position Now while you, because of your for-trunate position and the same brotherip relations that have become a fixed tradition along your northern boun-dary—and we English had a share in securing that—while you live free of the burden of military preparations, free as it seems forever. Europe has for more than a half century bent more and more wearily under the perpetual-ly increasing burden of armament. For many years Europe has been an armed camp, with millions of meri ontinually under arms; with the fear of war universal poisoning its lifer with education impoverished, social development retarded, with everything

These considerations are present to the mind of every thoughtful man in Ontario, and as we have already said, there has been much disappointment that the province has not spoken out in a definite way about what it is prepared to do for the imperial forces. By all means let us wrap up our offer in all the necessary red tape. There is no lack of it, and it is all ready. The point is to get the offer ready also ; and not to have more red tape than we have gift. The Times thinks that "the contribution of a battleship partakes of the nature of a national impulse." It would be highly indecorous, perhaps, to partake in a national impulse, but we think The Times has some hearty feeling under its jacket after all for it concludes:

It would be perfectly proper, and Altogether a fine idea, for Ontario to strengthen the hands of the Dominion Government in its efforts to render national naval assistance to the empire, and the battle-ship might very appropriately be named "Ontario," but such a con-

Let us not attempt to deny the greatness of Germany and Ger-many's contributions to science, art and literature, and all that is good in human life. We ask you not to be too cynical about the czar's promises and to be for treaties and pledges so that all Europe has been uneasy and in fear. That the efforts put forth by Miss Percy Haswell during the campaign to raise funds for the Canadian Women's Hospital Ship were appreciated, is evidenced by a letter which she received yesterday morning. On behalf of the executive committee having the matter in charge, Mrs. John Bruce has extended to Miss Haswell the thanks of the Canadian women. Yesterday Miss Haswell received a receipt from the committee, which was certified to by the Dominion Bank for the sum of $609.35. This repre-sents the receipts from the benefit concert given recently. It does not in-clude, however, the amounts personally collected by Miss Haswell, which it is estimated would bring the amount up to or closely approaching $1000. A resolution of thanks, which was unanimously adopted, was sent to Miss Haswell in acknowledgment of the
