any reason why his views should excite him from a Baptist pastorate. We suspect that most Baptists will be of a similar opinion.
THE GRANT INCIDENT.
George D. Grant, Liberal M. P. for North Ontario, has given out an interview at Ottawa, that is a severe criticism of the Laurier government. It may be said, on behalf of the government, that Mr. Grant is sore over his claims unrecognized, or that he was unduly excited; that matters less than whether he says is true.
He says that Sir William Mulock's denials are regretted by many Liberals; that other members of the ministry (Cartwright and Patterson) from Ontario ought to make way for younger men; that the government is needlessly running up the expenses; that it is not listening to the demands of the farmers for tariff reduction; and that, as one of his party's whips for the province, he knows of 15 Liberal M. Ps. who are more or less disgraced.

C-B: "These, I think, are the fiscal weapons we agreed upon?"
A-B: "Quite so, quite so; but I'd rather a fancy for this old thing which I found up my sleeve." (Aside) "Does a lot of damage—if it doesn't miss fire."
London Punch.

DEMOCRACY IS MARCHING—NOT A TRADE THEORY.
English parliamentary institutions are passing through a revolution. As the London Daily Mail said, the house of commons has come to an end "as the first club of Europe" to be succeeded, the same paper hopes, by the first house of business in the world.
It is almost impossible to appreciate the full import of the revolution. A workman has broken his way into the cabinet, and 20 of his kind have seats in the commons. The supremacy that land and aristocratic family influence have up to now wielded in the so-called popular chamber has been shattered. John Burns becomes a greater than Arthur Balfour—Burns is in it, the other has been rejected.
There are fewer men in the new cabinet on account of social connections than ever before; more are therefore likely to be in an ability or devotion to the commonwealth.

Our excellent friends, the William Davies company, do protest too much. With becoming humility, the World ventures to protest a little, just a little. The company took the unusual course of replying to two newspapers by writing to a third. Afterwards they wrote to The World, offering a full and free conference between themselves and a committee, to include the minister ex-minister of agriculture. The World heartily accepted the invitation, and yesterday's papers reported that the committee had met with a view to fixing the conference. It could not be done sooner, owing first, to the absence of the ex-minister from the city; secondly, to the absence of the minister. Meantime, nothing, as far as we are concerned, has been said to prejudice the issue. As keenly as the Wm. Davies Co. we desire the prosperity of the industry. So far as there were serious differences, they are suspended until the parties concerned could get together and try to find some understanding by which the future could be more agreeable to farmer and packer alike, because, after all, the interests at stake are far greater than can be served by a mere policy of reformation, as between the Wm. Davies Co. and newspapers which seem to have got upon their nerves.

should be. Conscription he abandons as useless when soldiers are required for service abroad. For that purpose the country must have a paid army of high quality, not necessarily of great numbers, for service abroad with a corresponding position at home. It must be one part of the great army organization of the nation, and in this connection he emphasized the utilization of the militia and the volunteers. Mr. Forster's treatment of the latter force was not freely acknowledged. Mr. Haldane's references to it were marked by sympathy and will give a much-needed impetus to a movement well fitted to encourage the best and truest manifestations of a living patriotism.
"WE ARE SEVEN."—Joe Chamberlain.
Those whole-boggers in Britain seemed to be the right sort.
After a hard winter, this January thaw is, of course, to be expected.
"C. B." London: "Ha-ha-ho-ho! It's almost unanimous here, too."—J. Piny.
Will George Grant, M. P., demand a salary as leader of the opposition to the bureaucrats?
The right man in the West Elgin ballot box business is not Mr. Wright, it is declared by St. Thomas politicians.

Public opinion, the public opinion of the people, will hereafter take the place of that public opinion that one great newspaper or one man manufactured for consumption rather than reflected.
A great wave of democracy is sweeping over England; surprising everybody.
If Campbell-Bannerman thinks it is free trade that is sweeping England—and that is what he is saying—he does not read the times.
Democracy is the thing, and the reign of democracy is opening up on big lines of England to-day. The British house of commons that means so much immediately, will be the greatest democratic assembly in the world. Washington and Ottawa are mosquitoes compared with it. The voice of the people will be heard and men will fight with the vigor of crusaders for the common right.

It would surely have been better to defer publication of such a letter as that which appeared in yesterday's Globe until after the pending conference had taken place. Newspapers give the farmers credit for intelligence, independence and knowledge of their own business. The Wm. Davies Co. seems to think that the farmer regards the newspaper as a business guide, philosopher and friend, to be implicitly followed.
Listen to this description of the effect of newspaper criticisms: "A great industry is jeopardized, the value of large packing houses and companies threatened, work people distressed through shortness of work, and interests which should work in harmony are estranged, while farmers are told that the packer is their enemy, seeking only to reduce them to being mere hewers of wood and drawers of water for his benefit."
Such an appalling indictment as this will not affect the genial calm with which The World will go into conference.

After a hard winter, this January thaw is, of course, to be expected.
"C. B." London: "Ha-ha-ho-ho! It's almost unanimous here, too."—J. Piny.
Will George Grant, M. P., demand a salary as leader of the opposition to the bureaucrats?
The right man in the West Elgin ballot box business is not Mr. Wright, it is declared by St. Thomas politicians.
Canada begs leave to propose Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain as leader of the rejuvenated Conservative party in Britain.
Mr. Ganey said at Kingston he controlled more patronage under the old government than he has since Whitney came into power.
Citizen (boarding trolley at King and Yonge) to conductor: "Is there a sleeper on this train? I'm going thru to Dovercourt-road."
George Grant, M. P., ought to understand that if he does not tip-toe into the ministers' rooms he might wake some of the old ladies up.
Dr. Torrey is finding that, "the fear of hell's the hangman's whip, to the wretch in order," it is not the best means for securing converts.

STREET RAILWAY DIFFERENCES.
Whatever apparent foundation there may have been for the suspicion prevailing in the city that the street railway company had been in the street railway service in connection with the restoration of the stops was actuated more by resentment and irritation than occasioned by their greater frequency, the company has at least had grace enough to disavow any such objectionable motives. Without cavilling over the fact that the company, at least in this at least is evident, that the employees were satisfied the officials responsible would not have been altogether displeased if the public had been made to realize that the schedule objected to was more in the interest of passengers than the street railway, as the one which succeeded it. The company now says the orders were mis-constructed by the motormen, and that every effort will be made to meet the requirements of the traveling public. Naturally the best proof of this will be the fact that the street railway, as the original service did not allow anything like the same volume of complaint which followed the cutting-off order, there is no reason whatever why they should not be supplied at least as satisfactorily as before.

MR. HALDANE AND THE BRITISH ARMY.
R. B. Haldane, the new secretary for war in Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's ministry, is regarded as one of the strong men of the British cabinet. Certainly none but a statesman of confidence would venture upon a post which has already been the grave of five reputations as South Africa was of military. The war office of recent years has been the grave of dropped schemes for the re-organization of the army. Now was Arthur Forster, the penultimate war secretary, more fortunate than his predecessors? Mr. Haldane testifies that he had worked hard, but there was no unanimity in the late cabinet about army reform.
Mr. Haldane's views appear to be founded on a clear recognition of the situation and necessities of the United Kingdom. This gives him a sound basis to start from, and he also holds, what is equally essential for a successful and continuous policy, that party considerations ought not to be introduced into questions of the army and navy. "Open penitence was secretary, more fortunate than his predecessors? Mr. Haldane testifies that he had worked hard, but there was no unanimity in the late cabinet about army reform.

THE USE OF MALT EXTRACT IN FOOD.
Cooked Wheat Treated With It and Then Baked.
It is Highly Nutritious and Delicious to the Taste.
A great deal has been written recently about the wonderful food value of the malt extract known as Malt-Vita. Its nourishing, strengthening and builds up human system. All of this information is of interest to those readers of this journal who appreciate the importance of good food. Malt-Vita is a new feature of vital interest to those who are interested in the health of their families. It is a food which is highly nutritious and delicious to the taste.
The process of treating the steamed and cooked wheat with Malt-Vita is covered by patents and conducted exclusively by the Malt-Vita factories at Battle Creek, Mich., and Toronto, Canada. Every man and woman who reads this paper should realize just what this Malt-Vita process means to them and their children. For above all, it means health and strength.
In the preparation of Malt-Vita we have these two factors—(a) the whole wheat, steamed and cooked in absolute cleanliness and containing, according to all scientific and physiological authorities, every element necessary to the sustenance of the human body; (b) pure malt extract made by the Malt-Vita Company and of excellent strength, containing all the nutrition of best selected barley in a readily digestible form of high quality, and containing vitamins and strengthening that physicians recommend it for the weak or run-down.

THE HOUNDS OF HERESY.
The heresy hunter is on the trail. The horseman case would probably be the religious dog of the month in Toronto if Dr. Torrey can be blown away as only Dr. Torrey can blow.
The pastor of the Walden-road Baptist Church, in a statement to his flock, has rehearsed the main articles of his belief, and has simultaneously tendered his resignation. A committee of divines and deacons is considering the statement, upon which, a final decision will be taken as to whether the Baptist Church is wide enough to hold a man of Mr. Horseman's modernity. Mr. Horseman has repeatedly submitted his views to his deacons, a majority of whom think that Walden-road is no place for the propagation of what they regard as offences against orthodoxy.

MINER'S FIGHT FOR HIS SUNDAY.

Alfred Saul, a Cornish miner, brought action in the Truro county court to recover £2 from Messrs. Tugwell & Sons, contractors, Liverpool. Saul stated that towards the end of last year he accepted an offer from Messrs. Tugwell to proceed to Mysore, India, to sink a mine shaft. He signed an agreement to work three shifts a day, six days a week. After a time he was requested to work on Sundays. He protested, but as he had no money to return to England he carried out the work. When, however, he had saved sufficient money he refused to work any longer on the Sunday. He was told to leave, and Saul stated that he was not allowed to take his money with him. He was awarded the full sum claimed, which included £20 in wages in lieu of three months' notice, £20 paid therefor, and £20 in lieu of his conduct money.

REFORM IN CIVIC GOV. CONNOISSEURS PREFER

City Clerk Would Find Difficulty in Clearing Lists—Aldermen Have Suggestions.

That the civic elections were held at an inopportune time, that polls were overcrowded, and that lady voters were subject to an unpleasant ordeal, were claims made at the meeting of the civic, legislative and reception committee yesterday.

It was stated by Ald. McBride that there is a feeling among the voters, having the holiday season broken in upon by an election campaign, and the view Ald. Keeler expressed, that the city should have a suitable election month. It was said by Ald. Harrison and Ald. Cnismom that the city should have a holiday on a holiday, such as New Year's, and that the elections were to be held earlier the work of assessment must be begun at least a month earlier than March 15, as at present, the city clerk Littlejohn, there was scant time for getting the finally revised voters lists ready for distribution.

Overcrowding at the polls was complained of by Ald. Church, who had motion to increase the number of polling places. Controller Jones said there had been many grievances along the line.

Ald. Keeler made a display of gallantry by protesting against the annoyance of the voters, and he suggested that the city should have a uniform system of polling places, and that the city should have a uniform system of polling places, and that the city should have a uniform system of polling places.

As to overcrowding, he said he had received notice of only one such case, that of Bolton-avenue school, where the voters were crowded out of the school building, and he suggested that the city should have a uniform system of polling places, and that the city should have a uniform system of polling places.

Mr. Littlejohn offered the idea that the supplementary voters list should be done away with. This list covers persons who have moved from their homes, and he suggested that the city should have a uniform system of polling places, and that the city should have a uniform system of polling places.

It should be made a practice, he declared, of Ald. Church, referring to the holding out of election notices to voters within or without polling booths. The committee agreed that this practice should be frowned upon, and that the city should have a uniform system of polling places, and that the city should have a uniform system of polling places.

DETECTIVES FOR HOTEL

LAW MUST BE ENFORCED

Government by Announcement Approves of This Method to Catch Lawbreakers, if There Are Any.

The Ontario government strongly approves of the employment of special detectives to assist in the enforcement of the liquor law, as will be seen by the following official announcement made by Hon. Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary, yesterday.

The enforcement of the act," said Mr. Hanna, "is entrusted to the local inspectors and special officers of the department. Inspectors frequently complain that licensees have spotters out in front of their hotels to warn the hotelmen of the officers' approach and that as a result when they reach the hotels they find the spotters in front of the hotel and the hotelmen are violating it, and in this way securing trade they would not otherwise obtain."

Whenever the officers of the department find it necessary to employ special men to reach the men who are determined to see the law at defiance, the department will support them in doing so. Men employed to enforce the law are especially instructed that they must not use force, but that they must use persuasion and that they must not use force, but that they must use persuasion and that they must not use force, but that they must use persuasion.
