"We are writing 'his' on the old volume of European history and are beginning a new one. MACLAREN WENT WHEN COMPELLED TO GIVE UP FLIGHT

British Flier, Now in B. C., Gives Details of His Long Trip.

WILL NOT TRY AGAIN

Appreciation is Expressed for Assistance Given by Canadian Govt.

Prince Rupert, B. C., Aug. 18.—When Major Stuart MacLaren, British world flight commander, realized that his plane had been hopelessly damaged after a lighting in the strait at Nikolai of Siberia and that his attempt to glide the world had been frustrated, he decided to give up the flight. His companions on the flight were also bitterly disappointed. This was stated here by Major MacLaren, in telling in detail the story of the flight, the outstanding incidents of which are already known.

MACLAREN THINKS IT UNLIKELY HE WILL AGAIN ATTEMPT TO ENCIRELE THE GLOBE BY AIRPLANE

Major MacLaren paid high tribute to the sportsman-like conduct of the American in aiding him to continue his journey after his crash in Burma when they rushed a spare plane from Japan and hoped to put it together. This action he regarded as a fine illustration of true sportsmanship. "We encountered most appalling weather conditions as soon as we left Japan," he said. "The friendly attitude of the British party commander, however, after leaving Tokyo. To the Kurile Islands the flight was just a series of short hops, smirmer on the sea in the fog. He did not, MacLaren said, contemplate another attempt to fly around the world. Referring to the efforts of the U. S. Government to help him to hop from Iceland to Greenland, he said, no one hoped more earnestly than he that the world fliers of the Americans would turn out successful. Assistance Appreciated. The British airmen are greatly impressed by the co-operation and assistance given by the Canadian Government. The Thiepval had given valuable assistance. Without the doubt, Major MacLaren stated it was vexatious if the flight could have proceeded beyond Indo-China. Canada, he said, had done more to help the flight than any other country in the world, the scope of aid being all the way from Tokyo, Japan, to Newfoundland, nearly half the distance round the world. The friendly attitude of the Russian officials and citizens of both Petropavlovsk and Mikorok was commented on by the flier. Hospitality and kindness was showered on them and they attended an informal dinner given in their honor at the Soviet headquarters. Pilot is Commended. Major MacLaren expressed great admiration for the work of Flight Lieutenant Penderleith, whom he described as the best pilot in the British air force. He had handled the plane single-handed without making a bad landing, in all sorts of weather. Referring to the attempted flight of Lieutenant Zanni, Major MacLaren said he doubted very much if the Argentine aviator would succeed in crossing the North Pacific at this season, although much depended on the make of his plane. Sergeant-Mechanic Andrews continues ill. There were times on the flight when his temperature went by 105 and he had to be lifted from the plane, but he showed wonderful pluck at all times. The party left for Vancouver last night aboard the Thiepval.

German Envoy at Parley

Negotiations between Allied Countries and German Representatives over Evacuation of the Ruhr have caused the gathering in London of several European premiers and statesmen. Here, Saturday, it was learned that the foreign office where the discussions are being held.

Prospects are Favorable for Adoption of Plan by the French and Germans.

TO SIGN AUGUST 30

British Press Generally Satisfied With Result of Conference.

London, Aug. 18.—August 15, 1925, is the date finally agreed upon for the evacuation of the Ruhr.

The French and Belgians also agree to evacuate all other towns and points outside of the Ruhr which are not in the district they are occupying under the Treaty of Versailles. The programme for launching the Dawes reparations plan, initiated by the delegates to the international conference which closed here Saturday, now goes before the French Parliament and the German Reichstag for ratification. Prospects are favorable for its adoption by both bodies, according to despatches from the two capitals. Nationalists Oppose. The Nationalists in Germany, as was expected, are leading the opposition to the programme, but it is declared they will scarcely go so far as to adopt a parliamentary attitude which would result in a defeat of the government, dissolution of the Reichstag and new elections, in which they could not hope to better their position. Paris advises that the French Parliament has practically decided to sustain the foreign policy of Premier Herriot, for the time being. There is likely to be an extensive debate, with pointed interpellations, but no determined drive against the foreign policy in the London agreement is expected. Meet Again Aug. 30. It is hoped that the ratifications will be forthcoming within the next fortnight so the representatives of all the interested powers can reassemble here on August 30, for formal signature of the agreement. On leaving for Paris this morning Premier Herriot gave out a message to the British people in which he expressed gratitude for the welcome accorded the French delegates and said he hoped the conference would mark a renewal of the Entente cordiale. "We must continue to work for the peace of Europe and for friendship between the peoples of the world," he added. "France and Great Britain must be united to settle the problems which are still outstanding." Press Comment. London, Aug. 18.—The results of the London conference are criticized favorably by most of the London morning papers, as the beginning of the process of restoring order in Europe. As the Westminster Gazette puts it, "An ugly corner has been turned with perhaps sufficient impetus and a sufficient margin of safety to carry the European nations through the difficult years of readjustment." With the exception of the Labor Party's organ, The Herald, the papers withheld from Ramsay MacDonald personal credit for the successful outcome, but it is generally acknowledged that his position and that of his party have been greatly strengthened. There is a tone of great optimism for the future expressed partly because of the interest shown by the U. S. in the London meeting. Mail is Skeptical. The only disquieting note is sounded by the Daily Mail which under the heading "No more surrenders" expresses skepticism as to the advisability of the allies pledging a loan to Germany. It asserts that the Germans, who are said to have hoards of money outside Germany, should be called upon to provide the funds for the loan. The newspaper sees John Bull as a poor business man when it comes to loans. It points out that the proposed loan to Russia, together with the German loan, will take the available money of investors to build up the resources of dangerous commercial rivals. The Westminster Gazette says the London agreement is vastly more significant than any of the post-war agreements, "since it associates the U. S. (Continued on page 2, fourth column)

Aged German Revives His Fight For Possession of $110,000,000 Fortune

Berlin, Aug. 18.—Considerable public interest has been awakened in Leipzig by the revival of the claim to a fortune by a laborer named Goetz, now 79 years of age, who is obliged to support himself and his wife from an old-age pension of six shillings a week.

He learned years ago that he is the sole heir to a fortune of $110,000,000 said to be still deposited in the Bank of England.

The first news that he had inherited this fortune was received in 1867, through the will of Johanna Goetz, the heir of Christopher Goetz, who died in South Africa in 1831, leaving this fortune to his near relatives in Germany.

At one time the Government of Saxony interested itself in the recovery of the money, but without success, and since 1911, 30 citizens of Leipzig, in a company called the "Goetz Company, Limited," have been trying to get possession of the fortune for Goetz on condition that if successful they may retain 10 per cent.

EVACUATE 2 TOWNS

French Troops Due to Leave Offenbourg and Appenweier Today.

Paris, Aug. 18.—The French troops will leave the Baden towns of Offenbourg and Appenweier today, official announcement of the evacuation does not connect it with the London conference, but says the determination of the French and Belgians to carry it out is due to the recent resumption of international train service between Paris and Warsaw, and Paris and Brussels, the evacuation of which on the German sections of the line caused the occupation in February 1923 as a penalty.

END OF CHICAGO TRIAL IS IN SIGHT

Last of State Witnesses Called Today—Suicide Rumor Denied.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—The end of the hearing before Judge John E. Caverly, in which the State demands the lives of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, for kidnaping and killing Robert Franks, while the defense seeks mitigation of punishment, is in sight. State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe plans to call Dr. William O. Korn to the stand today as a state witness and the last of the state's witnesses. The defense then may call one or two rebuttal witnesses, "gland experts" to offset the testimony of Dr. R. T. Woodruff, who said in effect that nobody knows much about glands and their psychiatric influence. An assistant state's attorney said he believed the entire case, including the final arguments, might be given to Judge Caverly on Thursday or Friday. Yesterday a baseless but persistent rumor that Leopold committed suicide brought crowds of curious people to the county jail. Warden Westbrook ridiculed the possibility, although he admitted that the guard had been doubled. Every 10 minutes the guard reports on the actions of the prisoners, what they do, whom they talk to, what they said and their apparent mental condition.

HIS COLLAR BONE BROKEN IN FALL

Harry W. Heans, of the pensions department of the local office of the D.S.C.R., suffered a fractured collar bone when he stumbled and fell on the Westfield Golf links on Saturday afternoon. The fracture is not a very serious one and he was reported last night to be resting comfortably at his summer home in Westfield. Mr. Heans was jumping across a ditch which lay on the links and landed on a rock which swayed with his weight. He was thrown forward falling on his left shoulder and the collar bone was fractured.

As the result of a wound suffered in the world war Mr. Heans had part of one arm amputated, so that in this case, he was unable to break the force of his fall. Medical care was given on the links by Dr. William Warwick and Dr. H. L. Abramson and Mr. Heans was rushed to the General Public Hospital for an X-ray examination. The X-ray plate showed the fracture to be no cause for alarm. While Mr. Heans will be laid up for some little while, his many friends are relieved to learn that his injury is not of a very grave nature.

WEDDINGS

Masten-Myles.

On Saturday evening, Aug. 16, at the Queen Square Methodist parsonage Mrs. Elizabeth E. Myles, widow of Robert Myles, was united in marriage with Charles W. Masten, of 109 Metcalf extension. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Nell MacLaughlin in the presence of a few friends of the bride and groom. Hearty good wishes have been extended to Mr. and Mrs. Masten, who will take up residence at 109 Metcalf extension.

DEATHS

Mrs. S. E. Crawford.

The death of Annie J., wife of S. E. Crawford, occurred on Sunday at her home in St. Martins and will be heard of with regret by many friends. Mrs. Crawford was a daughter of the late Thomas and Anne Hoyt, of Hoyt Station, and leaves, besides her husband, four sons and three daughters. The sons are James C. Arthur and Stanley McCracken, all of Fredericton Junction, and William McCracken, of Mill Settlement. The daughters are Lillian, wife of C. S. Christie, of St. John; Ethel, wife of D. C. Purdy, Halifax, and Florence, wife of Herbert W. Caverhill, of Caverhill, N. B. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 8:30 at the Blissville Baptist church.

Miss Nell Keefe.

The death of Miss Nell Keefe, daughter of the late Thomas and Ellen Keefe, former of St. John, occurred on Saturday in New York and will be heard of with regret by many friends in New Brunswick. The body was taken to St. John for interment arriving in the city at noon today. Miss Keefe is survived by two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Keefe and Mrs. Samuel McLaughlin, both of St. John.

A. M. McLellan.

A. M. McLellan died suddenly in Moncton on Friday night. He had followed the business of insurance agent for many years. Surviving are two brothers, Rogers W. McLellan and W. A. McLellan, of Fredericton, and two sisters, Mrs. Russell of Newcastle and Mrs. Weeks of Millerton.

NEW MINISTER IS COMING TO ST. JOHN

Rev. George W. Hunter in the Prince Edward street church yesterday preached sermons of much power which made a deep impression on his congregations. His morning theme was "The Valley of Achor Transformed," his text being taken from Joshua 7:26. In the evening his subject was "The Gullit of Not Knowing," and the text was found in St. Luke 23:26. Mr. Hunter is supplying in the Prince Edward street church during August. He is a Congregational minister and recently has had charge of the Western Congregational church in Toronto.

Besides being an able preacher, Mr. Hunter is a talented singer and at the after meeting last night he sang with feeling and most acceptably "Come Unto Me and I Will Give You Rest" and "To Become Pastor."

The congregation has called Archibald Gibson, of Toronto, and Mr. Gibson will arrive in St. John in September to take up his pastoral duties. He was acting as supply minister during July and had held a very successful mission in the church in February. He is known as "The Scotch Preacher" in Toronto and that name followed him to St. John and is his familiar title here also. Mr. Gibson succeeds Rev. O. P. Brown, who resigned the pastorate about one year ago and is now acting as supply for a Presbyterian church in Calgary.

CHURCH WOMEN NEAR DONE.

The Stella Maris church lawn party on the Foley grounds in East St. John was carried on to a very successful conclusion on Saturday evening. During Saturday afternoon and evening large crowds of patrons were in attendance and the proceeds were advanced in a very satisfactory manner. The excellent supper served by the ladies was done amply justice and netted a good sum for the fund for the new church. Rev. F. F. Walker, parish priest, said last night that the exterior work of the church would be complete in about four or five weeks and that work would probably be stopped for a time after the exterior was finished. It was likely that the interior would not be touched during the winter. The basement will be used for services throughout the winter.

FORMER PASTOR HERE.

Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, minister of the Presbyterian church in Chatham, conducted the morning service for the combined congregations of Knox and St. Matthews church yesterday and in the evening exchanged pulpits with Rev. W. M. Townshend, of Fairville. Mr. Townshend was in St. Matthews church at night when the text of his sermon was "Ye must be born again." Mr. Anderson had for his text in the evening Proverbs 27: 7, "As a man thinks in his heart so is he." He made a strong protest against sham and hypocrisy and extolled sincerity. He spoke of the development of child life in the realm of government under which heading he placed the home, the school and the state. Mr. Anderson was formerly minister of the old St. John's church here which is now the Y. W. C. A. Recreation Centre. The true sable of Siberia is blackish and has a very valuable fur.

Chief Justice Speaks of Bar Sessions—Laughs at Political Story.

That the results of the international bar convention in London recently will be most beneficial to the already friendly relations between England, United States and Canada was the opinion expressed by Chief Justice Sir Douglas Hazen, who attended the meetings and who was back to his duties this morning. "Already," said Sir Douglas, "members of the United States bar are talking about a return convention in the United States but they all say that there is not any place in their country which possesses the facilities and historic charm for a meeting as London."

About 1,500 members of the American bar attended the meetings with members of the British and Canadian bars acting as joint hosts. Some 300 Canadian lawyers attended, many being accompanied by their wives and members of their families. Lady Hazen and Miss Althea Hazen accompanied Sir Douglas. Lady Hazen returned home but Miss Hazen remained in England to spend a few months with her sister, Mrs. Malcolm McAvity.

The various functions, Sir Douglas relates, were splendid in character and as three most of the great state trials were conducted. There Charles I was tried, also the seven bishops and Warren Hastings.

The hall, which accommodates many thousands of people, was crowded to the doors and the procession of judges, headed by the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Chief Justice, the Attorney-General, and the Master of the Rolls was most impressive. Addresses were made by prominent members of the British bench and replies were given by Sir James Aiken, president of the Canadian Bar Association, and Hon. Charles E. Hughes, Secretary of State for the United States. "All speeches," says Sir Douglas, "breathed a spirit of amity and goodwill and of the necessity and importance of cementing the relations between the British Empire and the United States. Sentiments expressed on both sides were warmly received, making a strong appeal to everyone present."

The Chief Justice was a guest at a dinner in the Mansion House, given by the Lord Mayor of London and Judges of the British bench. Other functions also were held. Sir Douglas was the recipient of many private entertainments, one of them a dinner by Lord Chancellor Haldane, Lord Cave and Lord Mersey. He was also guest at luncheon given by members of the judicial committee of the Privy Council at Downing street.

In Memory of Pitt.

Sir Douglas spoke at the meeting of the Pitt Club. He was the guest of honor of the club which exists for the keeping alive of the memory of William Pitt, the "Great Commoner." It is limited to 100 members, who must be peers or sons of peers, Privy Counsellors, members of the Carlton Club and officers of either the army or navy. He discussed the relations between Canada and Great Britain and the United States at the meeting. Sir Douglas also spoke at a meeting of the Middle Temple and was congratulated by the close Secretary of State, Hughes, Ambassador Haldane, Lord Cave and others. Sir Douglas said that Dr. Baxter spoke to members of the Inner Temple and said he had heard Dr. Baxter's address spoken in terms of warm praise.

Proud of Wembley.

Respecting the empire exhibit at Wembley, the Chief Justice declared that Canadians should be proud of Canada's section. Speaking of conditions generally in England, he said that there still was considerable unemployment but that it was not noticeable to the visitor. London, he said, was crowded with sightseers and the people who thronged the amusements and race tracks appeared to have plenty of money to spend. He presumed, however, that unemployment was large in the manufacturing districts in the northern part of England.

Political.

Sir Douglas declined to discuss the political situation in England and laughed at a suggestion which appeared in one of the Canadian papers during his absence that he was to become leader of the Conservative party in Canada in place of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.

The Chief Justice expressed keen regret over the deaths of Hon. Frank B. Carvell, Dr. M. G. Fred K. C., and Hon. John Morrissey. He referred to all in terms of praise. Speaking of Mr. Morrissey, Sir Douglas said that no man in politics ever had a more loyal, faithful friend.

"I had a wonderful time abroad," said Sir Douglas, in conclusion, "but I am glad to be in Canada again and once more at home in St. John."

Two Men in Police Court After Mecklenburg St. Incident.

Charged with not giving a satisfactory account of themselves and with using obscene language in Mecklenburg street John Hazen McCormick and Louis R. Doyle appeared before Magistrate Henderson this morning and were adjudged guilty and fined $10 each.

Detective Saunders told of receiving a telephone call that two men were creating a disturbance in Mecklenburg street a little after 1 o'clock on Sunday morning. He and Detective Kilpatrick went to the scene. They saw two men and when they went to question them they ran away. Later as a result of information received they arrested the two defendants.

Alexander Morrison said he had been awakened by hearing his name called. He went out and saw the patrol wagon. Previously he had heard some cursing and swearing. He had accompanied the detectives and told about finding the two defendants.

Doyle said he did not think there was much bad language used. He said he wanted to make out a charge against Morrison for assault and battery, saying that the witness had attacked him with a military rifle and had injured his side. Magistrate Henderson said that a man was privileged to defend his property and apparently no sustained any serious injury. As this concluded the case the defendants were adjudged guilty and the fine struck.
