

ST. JOHN STAR, FRIDAY, AUGUST 18, 1905.

TO FR. CARLETON.
Y. M. S. of St. Joseph
Present Him With an Address.

The farewell reception tendered by the Y. M. S. of St. Joseph to Rev. Fr. Carleton on the eve of his departure from the city to take charge of the Petrusville parish, was largely attended by members of the society last evening.

The proceedings opened with President Condon making a short address, expressing his personal regret and that of the members at the loss of the society's chaplain.

The following interesting programme was carried out: Orchestra, selection; solo, James Daley; reading, James McCarthy; address and presentation of purse to Fr. Carleton; piano solo, Arthur Godwin; orchestra, selection. Each of the numbers was heartily enjoyed.

The address, which was accompanied by a purse of one hundred dollars, and which was read by the president, P. G. Condon, was as follows:

The Young Men's Society of St. Joseph to their Chaplain, Rev. Charles P. J. Carleton:

Reverend Father—News of your appointment to the important charge of Petrusville was pleasing to us, the members of the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph, inasmuch as it evidenced His Lordship Bishop Casey's early recognition of your worth, but pleasure gave way to sadness with the thought that His Lordship's call removes you from our midst.

If this society has, during the past two years, prospered beyond the most sanguine expectations, yours is largely the credit. With the interest of St. John's Catholic youth supreme in your mind, and with the zeal that signifies success, you threw yourself into every suggested movement which could make for the social and religious advancement of our young men. You have had the gratification of seeing the fruits of these fervent efforts, for we proudly assert that today the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph stands on a higher plane than at any other time in its history.

Father, to your new field you take the vigor of youth and the ardor of the faithful priest; you take also the love of some three hundred young men to whom you have especially endeared yourself.

As a small token of that affection we beg to offer you the accompanying purse. May your pastorate be long and happy.

Signed on behalf of the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph:
F. G. CONDON,
P. G. MORAN,
H. O. MCINERNEY,
Committee.

St. Malachi's Hall, St. John, N. B., Aug. 17, 1905.
Add Farewell to Fr. Carleton.
Father Carleton made a suitable reply.

YAWL KITTIE SEIZED BY CUSTOMS OFFICERS.
DIGBY, Aug. 17.—Last evening Inspector of Customs Fred L. Jones detailed Officer Thorne of the customs at Digby to go off and put the broad "R" on the yawl Kittie. Mr. Thorne had two men with him, and at about midnight the yawl was brought to the wharf of Syds & Cousins, and is now on detention by the customs. It seems that this vessel is from New York, arriving at Weymouth, N. S., early in the season, and now hails from that port, but it appears that the duty has not been paid, also that she is carrying passengers on Digby harbor without having been inspected and licensed. This yawl has auxiliary power, having a gasoline engine. So far as known, the master has no certificate, nor has he a certified engineer.

A WEALTHY WIDOW.
The Career of Goldie Mohr Wood
Whose Husband's Death Leaves
Her a Fortune.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Goldie Lillian Mohr, who as Mrs. Alan W. Wood was as much envied by the girls she left behind in the chorus as if she had put on her dainty head a diadem of old England, is now of her own right a millionaire.

Never before has a Gaiety Girl or one from Weber and Fields' line had so much money as she has. A. W. Wood, who made a great fortune in the manufacture of steel, died Tuesday morning in Roosevelt hospital and his wealth, it is expected, will go to his widow.

This transformation from chorus girl to woman of millions is a twentieth century fairy tale. Other girls with pretty faces and shapely limbs and golden tresses have captured the hearts of dukes and earls and quit the stage and the chorus to reign over palaces and castles rich in medieval story, but wearily lacking in the golden coin that goes so far in rounding out the romance of these materialistic days.

Goldie Lillian Mohr has repaid the golden harvest, and if her castles are modern, they are luxurious, and she need not even dream of more.

Goldie Lillian was a charming girl, prettiest of all the chorus, and she had full red lips and face, which was sweetest itself, brought the "Johnny" to the score to the stage entrance, but Goldie Lillian was a proud beauty, and not every one did she allow to kneel at her feet.

Young sons of million-dollar families sought her smiles in vain, and the wonder grew as to Goldie's mental condition which caused her to throw away so many golden opportunities.

Then it began to be noticed that wherever she appeared, whether in New York or Pittsburgh, or elsewhere, Alan W. Wood was always present in the theatre, and after a little while it was discovered that after the performance Goldie slipped away and had supper with the millionaire.

He was in the fifties, and "temporary infatuation" was the sneering remark of the younger men who envied the favor in which he was held by the bewitching Goldie.

A year, two years, and more passed, but the "infatuation" remained, and Goldie it was evident was becoming more and more devoted to her middle-aged admirer. And then in February came a bombshell from among the younger ones when it was announced that Wood had married Goldie almost a year before. In St. Paul's Episcopal church, Yonkers, on March 5, 1904, A. W. Wood, the millionaire, and Goldie Mohr, the chorus girl, became husband and wife.

The body of Mr. Wood will be removed to Mount Kisco where it will be held until the will is read.

What is the Meaning of "Well Balanced" Flour.

A perfectly "balanced" flour is one which contains the greatest amount of nutriment in its most easily digestible form. No single variety of wheat will produce "well balanced" flour. It requires the careful selection of different kinds.

The makers of ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR have more than a hundred elevators, scattered throughout the greatest wheat growing country in the world, which enables them to secure the very pick of the wheat that will yield perfectly, balanced flour.

—The kind of flour that produces the best, the largest and the strongest loaf—
—The loaf which contains the greatest amount of bone, muscle and brain-making protein and the lowest percentage of waste.

ROYAL HOUSEHOLD makes bread which reduces the labor of digestion—and gives greatest nutrition for least stomach effort.

It's the "balance" in flour that makes bread easier to digest and gives it many other qualities which are usually attributed to other causes.

LIGHT KEEPER REWARDED BY GOVERNMENT.
HALIFAX, Aug. 17.—The Dominion Iron and Steel Co. awarded a contract today for the erection of a new laboratory building to cost about $5,000. The building will be two stories high and of brick.

There will be about 200 leave on the harvesters' excursion train from Sydney tomorrow. Nearly all of these will be from Sydney and the mining districts.

The Dominion government has presented Roderick McLeod, lightkeeper on St. Paul's Island, with a gold watch in recognition of his services in assisting the crew of steamer Turret Bay, which was wrecked on that island this year.

SKIPPED WITH FIVE THOUSAND.
CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—W. P. Kraft, the transfer clerk of the Equitable Trust Company, is missing and it said by the officials of the company that he has taken about $5,000 of the company's money. It is asserted that the Trust Company will not lose as brokers through whom the stock was sold by Kraft will be forced to refund to the company the value of the shares taken by Kraft and sold to them.

FROM LIVERPOOL TO QUEBEC IN 7 DAYS.
Fast Trip of the Dominion Liner
Ottawa.

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—The Dominion liner Ottawa, formerly the Germanic of the White Star line, has made one of the fastest passages in the Canadian trans-Atlantic Belle Isle route. She left Liverpool last Thursday at 5:30 p. m., was at Belle Isle at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday and at Fame Point at 4:30 a. m. today. She is due in Quebec before six this evening, so that, as in the case of the Virginian, her passengers who dined in Liverpool last Thursday will be able to do so in Quebec this evening. Exact comparisons with former passages are impossible inasmuch as mail steamers always have to call at Merville and suffer detention at Rimouski. This direct trip of the Ottawa, however, means Liverpool to Quebec in about seven days.

HAD HARD LUCK.
How He Lost Race at Fort Fairfield
—Fredericton News.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 17.—John Devine was again remanded this morning until Saturday for sentence. Rev. Mr. Montgomery states that the receipts of the Kinsler bazaar yesterday amounted to $250.

This city will be represented by the following in the provincial tennis tournament, which opens at St. John next Wednesday: Messrs. H. G. Chestnut, C. H. Allen, R. W. Winslow and S. W. Babbitt; Mrs. Ward and Miss Nellie Babbitt.

McDuff, the speedy pacer, owned by Recorder Colver of this city, went up against hard luck in the races at Fort Fairfield yesterday. With Harvey McCoy holding the ribbons, he captured the first heat in 2:24, and the second in the remarkably fast time of 2:20. In the third heat one of his boots came off, and he finished second in 2:28. In the fourth heat the tire of one of the sulky wheels got punctured, resulting in McDuff being distanced. Of course, this lost him the heat and the race.

AND CONSOLIDATION.

Whole Question Will Be Considered
By Board of Education—Personal
News From Hampton.

HAMPTON, N. B., Aug. 17.—Dr. J. R. Inch, chief superintendent of education, came here today and held a consultation with a number of persons interested in the question of the consolidation of school districts, both for and against, with the conclusion the board of education at its meeting next month will have the whole matter laid before its members, and action one way or the other decided on. Meanwhile the Village trustees are expected to stay proceedings in regard to building, etc. The newspapers of Bedfords school district, where there has been no school for a quarter of a century, are opposed to being brought in to the union with the Village and Station, finding it cheaper and more convenient to send the few pupils they have to the Station and Passeseking schools, according to location, and pay the fees demanded for the privilege.

Miss Belle Donald has arrived home from the Station and Passeseking schools, according to location, and pay the fees demanded for the privilege. Miss Belle Donald has arrived home from the Station and Passeseking schools, according to location, and pay the fees demanded for the privilege. She was seriously injured, and was accompanied by Mrs. Grant, wife of Mrs. Donald's physician, who is staying here awaiting the arrival of Dr. Grant, who leaves Durham for St. John tomorrow, where he will probably remain over Sunday.

THE PROVINCE.

Hon. L. P. Farris Says They Are Generally Good But Weather Has Been Too Dry.

Hon. L. P. Farris is in the city on return to his home from Wolfville, where he has been attending the wedding of his son. Mr. Farris in speaking to the Sun last evening, said that his department of provincial work did not usually get crop reports from the various districts until late in the fall, but from other sources he has been able to form a fair idea of the prospects for the season.

On the whole, the crops, he says, are good. Hay has been much above the average. In some parts of Queens Co. the grass was light, but in nearly every other portion of the province the farmers appear to be satisfied.

The country has been suffering from lack of rain. This is true of all portions excepting the North Shore counties, and up there the root crops are excellent, while in Madawaska, Carleton, Charlotte and the lower river counties the crops will not be as good as usual.

In the Carleton Co. district the oat crop is also light, but elsewhere grain is holding its own and there is no good ground for complaint. The fruit crop is very poor. Apples are much below the standard, plums are almost unknown, and cherries scarcely heard of, though of plums and cherries very few are grown in New Brunswick.

UNION OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES

Favored by the Board of Trade Resolution Moved by W. S. Fisher Passed With a Large Majority at Yesterday's Session.

YARMOUTH, N. S., Aug. 17.—The Maritime Board of Trade continued their session today.

On behalf of the West Prince board, John Agnew introduced the subject of steamship service for the northern ports of Prince Edward Island. At present a few schooners do the trade, but a good steamship would be most beneficial. He moved "that the resolution passed at Moncton last year with reference to steamship communication between Sydney, northern ports of P. E. Island and the Magdalen Islands and Miramichi be and is hereby reaffirmed."

In the absence of Mr. Day of Parrsboro, E. B. Elderkin introduced the resolution of the Parrsboro board re the I. C. R. At present the road from Moncton to Truro was overtaxed. A loop by Parrsboro would be only slightly longer and the grades less steep. Either the present road would have to be double tracked, or a new loop be built. The former alternative was not a wise one.

J. E. DeWolfe suggested a brief resolution asking the government to consider a commission for the I. C. R. W. S. Fisher was absent, and suggested passing it over. Agreed to.

A. M. Bell brought forward a resolution on inland fisheries. He believed Nova Scotia was the natural nursery for fish being one-fifth covered with water. He understood the government had appointed a large number of inspectors at small salaries, who did not do their work properly. There should be proper protection. If the fisheries were only protected, sportmen would come to the provinces and spend their money there.

Several speakers discussed the motion, which was unanimously carried. H. C. Tilley of St. John moved a resolution advocating coinage by the government of worn and mutilated silver coins. Almost universal objection was practiced by the people in passing mutilated coins. If the government were to redeem these coins, as is done in England and the United States, a great deal of this kind of minor fraud would disappear. Mr. Tilley's resolution was seconded by W. S. Fisher, who argued that the government should redeem mutilated and worn coins because they issued it, it was not the idea to ask the government to redeem coins cut or punched but only those damaged by legitimate use.

C. Jamieson of Digby moved that the government be asked to deport the Newfoundland twenty-cent pieces which are flooding the country. This was supported by J. R. DeWolfe of Halifax and was incorporated with Mr. Tilley's resolution, which passed unanimously.

W. S. Fisher, St. John, reported on behalf of the committee appointed to consider the report on maritime union. What would be aimed at in the case of such a union would be, he said, economic consolidation and the strengthening of administration and the strength of consolidation. The report was presented not as a final conclusion, but rather as a suggestion to be taken up for discussion in the country. In union, said Mr. Fisher, there is strength, and we down here would thereby be able to bring our influence to bear to secure many things that the whole country owes to the eastern provinces. The resolution was seconded by A. M. Bell of Halifax in a vigorous speech.

That in the opinion of this meeting the time has arrived for a union of the three provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. Island, and that a memorial to this effect be forwarded to each of the governments, and that they be urged to meet for a meeting of representatives from each government at an early date.

Pon. Wm. Ross was in favor of maritime union, and he thought that the first thing to do was to educate public opinion. Nova Scotia is not so anxious now for such union as in years gone, when her resources were less. He suggested a conference of the premiers of the provinces. With these agreed, the people are enlightened enough to endorse the project. Capt. Reid of Summerside doubted if the people of P. E. Island were at present in favor of maritime union. There would need to be much education. The construction of the tunnel would be a factor in favor of union. A desultory discussion followed in which E. B. Elderkin, J. R. DeWolfe, E. H. Armstrong, J. D. Dewolfe and others took part, when the vote was taken, resulting in its adoption by a large majority. A resolution favoring the union of Canada and the British West Indies was adopted. Also a resolution suggesting that the provincial governments make grants to assist in the carrying on of tourist work. This was carried on a motion following a good speech made by Coun. A. W. Kentville. Amherst was selected as the next place of meeting.

Suppose you do like the tea you are using. How do you know it is the best tea you can get for the money?

MANY were satisfied with the tea they were using before they tried Red Rose Tea. When they tried Red Rose Tea they found it had that "rich fruity flavor," found it was strong—that it requires less to make a cup of good tea than the brand of Ceylon alone they had been using. Now, why not be sure you are getting the best tea to be had. You cannot be sure till you try Red Rose Tea.

THE NEW I. C. R. ROUNDHOUSE Was Opened For Use Last Evening

The I. C. R. round house, which was completed early in 1904 by Messrs. Flood and Dates at a contract price of $72,000, was last night finally entered by the intercolonial locomotives, and put to the uses for which it was constructed.

Today the minister of railways and deputy minister will formally inspect the building. The engine house is circular in form and divided into three sections, each containing six engine stalls. Facing these are sixteen engine pits, the latter rests upon a concrete pier, supported on twenty-five piles. The concrete walls are five and one-half feet at the bottom and fifteen inches at the top. The turntable was supplied and set in position by the Hamilton Bridge Company of Hamilton, Ont.

The buildings driven upon red pine foundations rest twenty-one feet on the hard pan, and topped with concrete. Of concrete also are the outside walls. These rise twelve feet brick, and are topped with brick work to the roof, which is about twenty-five feet above the floor level.

The engine house is drained by a 12 inch vitrified clay pipe, which empties into the Main sewer in the front area formed by seventeen iron columns, the former being seventeen feet high and twelve feet four inches wide. The roof is formed of one and three-eighths tongued and grooved spruce roofing, and has tar paper and gravel above.

There are eighteen engine pits, 60 feet by 4 feet, two of which are connected with the drop pit. There are fifty-six piles to every pit. The concrete walls of the pits is a covering of southern hard pine 6x12, and on this the rails are laid.

A trolley track runs to and end of the engine house, and gives opportunity to take wheels or other parts to any of the engines in for repairs.

Adjoining the engine house is the machine shop, and is divided into machine shop, boiler room, coal room, fan room and electrical plant. This building is fifty feet wide and one hundred feet long.

The electrical plant will furnish all the lighting for the round house and the adjoining buildings. There are now two arc lights outside, and it is intended to string these well into the yard.

The offices and stores department, an oblong two story brick building behind the round house, and is heated from the engine house.

Between the engine house and the offices is the water tank, from which comes the water supply for the entire plant. The city water pipes are tapped on the marsh, the water conveyed under the creek and up seventy-five feet into the immense tank. This holds 100,000 gallons, and is a commodious store for many ships.

While the tank was under construction the workmen used to take a daily bath in it, but now the whole is closed in.

The tank rests on a steel frame of twelve piles, and under each pier are nine piles.

The hot well, for the purpose of taking water from the engines and returning it heated, is outside the machine shop, and is ten and one-half feet deep, with sides forty-four by fourteen. Henry Crawford placed in position the three enamelled latrines, 7 1/2 feet long, with automatic doors. Syphon lipped urinals are also in position.

A NEW PROFESSOR. Principal Riddell Gets a Man For Alberta College.

Principal J. H. Riddell of the Alberta College at Edmonton is not letting the grass grow under his feet while on his visit to the east. He wanted for the college a professor for the science department, and last evening he secured one. William Newson, son of John Newson, a prominent furniture dealer of Charlottetown, will be the addition to the staff of the western college.

Mr. Newson came over from Charlottetown on Wednesday to meet Principal Riddell, and having completed arrangements will return today. Prof. Riddell crossed to St. John in the Prince Rupert and took the six o'clock train for Frederiction. He and Mr. Newson had arranged to meet for the hour in which Prof. Riddell would be in St. John.

Mr. Newson is a young man, about twenty-six or twenty-seven years of age, and has had a brilliant record as a student. He went through Prince of Wales College in Charlottetown and from there took the B. A. degree in McGill. Later he went back and got his M. Sc. degree in a post graduate course, and returning to Charlottetown became principal of West Kent street school, which position he but recently resigned. He had intended going to Chicago to take a further course in science, but received word from McGill that Prof. Riddell had applied to the college for a science man and that he had been recommended.

Mr. Newson will, in Alberta College, be instructor in physics, chemistry and physical geography, with arithmetic possibly added. The college is affiliated with McGill. Mr. Newson will begin his work in the west on Sept. 30th.

NO ONE REFUSED EXTRA INDEMNITY.

Entire $213,000 Paid Out by Check—Lumber Dealers' Association.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17.—"Unanimously accepted" is the endorsement that may with propriety be made upon extra seasonal indemnity. The draft books have been closed in the accountant's office in the house of commons. The entire $213,000 has been paid out by check, and not a dollar of it has been returned, for all the outcry in the country against the so-called "grab" and protestations of some highly conscientious M. P.'s that the increase was either forced upon the lumber dealer through their absence.

At this afternoon's session of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association of the United States a committee was appointed to lay before the Interstate commission a complaint against being obliged by the railways to furnish stake tracking for lumber cars, which is said to cost $6 per car. Tonight representatives and guests to the number of three hundred were banquetted at the Russell house.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS DINE.

Yesterday afternoon about forty delegates went out to Fernhill and inspected the grounds. The visitors were much impressed with Fernhill's beauty and returned about six o'clock. The members of the Maritime Funeral Directors' Association, together with their lady friends and invited guests to the number of sixty, sat down to a banquet last evening prepared by Proprietor Danery of the Park hotel. The tables were decorated with flowers, and the large dining hall presented a fine appearance.

The president of the association, John Snow, occupied the head of the table, and vice-chairs were taken by Geo. A. Chamberlain, and D. L. McKinnon of P. E. I.

Rev. C. W. Hamilton offered a short prayer, and at the conclusion the first course was served. The menu card was a neat specimen of the printer's art, and on one side contained an appropriate out of a casket.

The menu was as follows: Soup—Mock Turtle, Cream Sauce, Celery, Radishes. Fish—Boiled Salmon, Cucumber Sauce. Boiled—Boiled Ham, Ox Tongue. Roasts—Ribs of Western Beef, Dish Gravy; Roast Chicken. Entrées—Mashed Potatoes, Green Peas, String Beans. Relishes—Pickled Onions, Worcester-shire Sauce, Tomato Sauce, Mushroom Sauce, Olives, Lipton's Pickles, Pepper Relish.

Pastry—Blueberry Pie, Apple Pie, English Plum Fudding, Cognac Sauce. Dessert—English Walnuts, Almond Nuts, Filberts, Castanias, Layer Raisins, Crackers and Cheese, Fruit. Ice Cream, Tea, Coffee. Toasts and speeches occupied the gathering until the small hours of the morning.

JOSEPH FINLEY Badly Hurt While Driving in the Park.

It appears that automobiles are allowed in Rockwood Park after all, and the first accident caused by one of them occurred last evening. Joseph Finley was so badly hurt that he will be confined to his bed for some time. Mr. Finley, accompanied by Mrs. Finley and child, and Mrs. Simms and child, were driving in the park shortly before five o'clock. The new touring automobile was seen approaching and Mr. Finley jumped out of the carriage in order to hold by the head his horse, which was rather nervous. He quieted the animal until the automobile had passed and then turned to get into the carriage. But the horse had not got over its fright. It jumped suddenly and Mr. Finley was struck by the wheel. He was thrown to the ground and the carriage passed over him. The horse continued to run, but Mrs. Simms at once seized the reins and after a time succeeded in getting control of the animal. Mr. Finley was picked up and taken to the tea house in the park. Dr. Murray MacLaren, who was summoned, attended him there for a couple of hours later, or about seven o'clock. Mr. Finley was brought in a coach to his home on Leinster street. It was found that one of his ribs on the left side was broken and that he was most painfully bruised on other parts of the body. It was impossible to tell whether or not he sustained internal injuries, but he was at a late hour last night reported to be suffering a great deal, and unable to move a limb without causing pain. Mrs. Finley and her sister, Mrs. Simms, were not in any way injured, though they were rather upset by the fright they received.

Monster Beetles Of the Tropics

By Alberta Platt

VERY interesting order of the insect kingdom are the beetles. All insects are invertebrates. An invertebrate is a creature having no backbone. Some boys and girls and even grown people do not appear to have any backbones to their characters, however large may be the one in their bodies. Though beetles have no spinal column, they are well provided otherwise, having two pairs of wings and no less than three pairs of legs. The beautiful shining blue insects you see flying about among plants and flowers in summer are beetles. So is the pretty little red creature to which whenever children in the country see it they always call out: "Ladybug, ladybug, fly away home; Your house is safe, your children are alone!"

In our country the ball rolling beetle is one of the most common of all. Children in the country see it every May and June trundling its ball, often larger than itself, through the fields and along roads. It does not build and trundle this ball for pure amusement, however, or merely for its health. The big ball contains the beetle's eggs. It deposits them therein, then rolls the ball to the place where the beetle makes its burrow. You would never imagine a common tumblebug could have so much sense as this creature displays. After shoving the ball to where it is wanted the beetle digs a tolerably deep hole in the ground, then rolls the ball into it. After that it covers the whole with earth and leaves the eggs to hatch in due time.

Beetles pass through three stages of existence. First a worm, called a grub, is hatched. It remains in this state for a considerable time, then turns into what is called the pupa. In this stage it looks much like the full grown beetle, but cannot fly or even move about. Next, after a considerable time has passed, the pupa turns into the perfect beetle. Some beetles require four or five years to pass from egg to perfect insect.

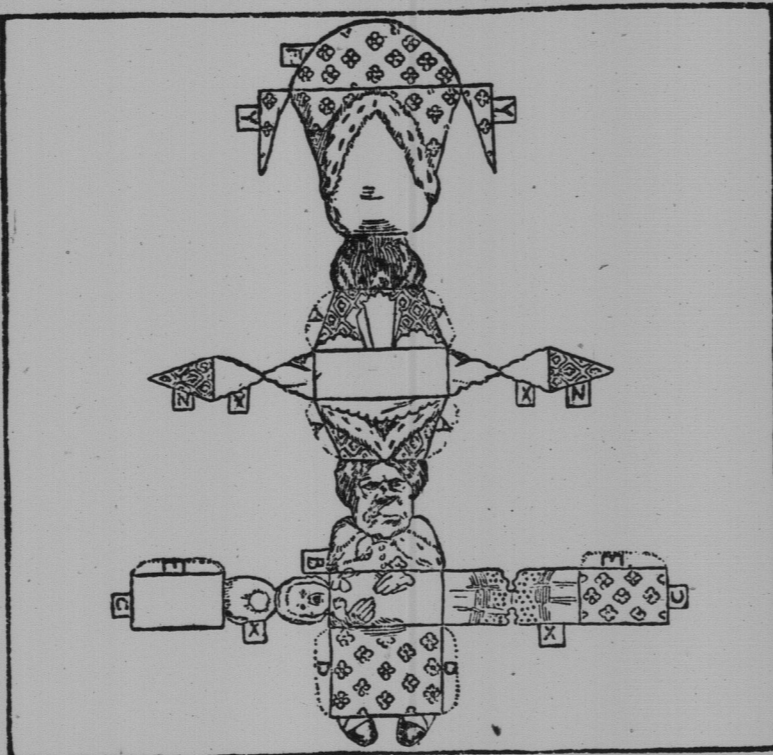

In tropical countries are beetles of immense size. They feed upon the decayed wood of trees, and since there are so many trees and so many rotting trunks and branches in hot, moist countries the beetles get plenty of food to grow on.

A large beetle found in the West Indies is the Hercules, which from the tip of its horn to the end of its body is five inches long. You see this odd creature in the picture. You would naturally suppose the long, projecting horn to be the beetle's upper jaw and its mouth to be directly beneath. This is not the case, however. The big horn is quite above the head and apart from it. The projection springs from what would be the beetle's shoulders, if it had any. The second horn, the small one turning upward in the picture, projects from the top of Mr. Hercules' real head, and his eyes are at each side of it, near his front legs. Only the male Hercules has the projecting horns.

In tropical Africa is found the Goliath, the largest of all this tribe, for a beetle a veritable monster. It is seven inches long. In the picture you see a Goliath with its wings spread to fly.

Why is a little dog's tail like the heart of a tree? Because it is farthest from the bark. Why is a man twice married like a ship's captain? Because he has a second mate.

A CUT OUT OF THE DUCHESS.

All of you children who have read "Alice in Wonderland" will remember the duchess. If you want to know how the duchess really looked you may cut her out and paste her up, and there she will be. All you have to do is to observe the following directions: Cut out the duchess and paste every section X on the reverse of the neighboring section of the same shape. Fold back the sections Y and paste them where they naturally fall on the reverse of the back view. Fold down the front and back of the crown and paste the sides of the crown Z to the tabs A. Paste the back and front of the duchess together as far as the lines B. Fold her lap out and her skirt down, folding the feet out at right angles to the skirt. Paste the sections C to the tabs D and the tabs E to the back view. Fold down the lappets of the crown, fold the baby's head upward and its skirt downward and fold the train F out at right angles to the back.

This huge beetle contains so much animal substance that travelers say it is used for food by African natives. They cook it into soups and stews and seem to consider it a great delicacy. Queer taste some people have.

One great tropical beetle is a curious creature, very beautifully colored. Because of its varied tints it is named the harlequin. It is striped and flecked with red, yellow and black. Its six legs are black with red rings around the upper part. The body of the harlequin beetle is not so large as that of some of the rest of the tribe, but its front pair of legs, considering its own size, are tremendous in length. When they are stretched out forward full length the harlequin, legs and all, is nearly a foot long.

In the picture the harlequin's legs protrude ahead of it. The threadlike appendages that turn backward around its body and come close together in a sort of oval shape are its antennae, or feelers. With the antennae it touches objects to examine what they are like. When the harlequin beetle crawls along the ground it is an awkward creature, the great fore legs being in its way.

with this little blossom's arrival. Once upon a time this flower was a snow maiden and lived in a beautiful snow palace. In a dark dungeon was imprisoned a noble knight named Galanthis, who was only an earth child. He wore a shining armor which was greenish in tint and very beautiful. One day the snow maiden found him in his awful dungeon, and after that she went each day to see him. On one of these occasions the walls of the palace suddenly fell. This happened because the south wind was melting them away. The snow maiden wept bitterly, and Galanthis rushed over to where she was, took her in his arms, and together they sank down into Mother Earth. The snow maiden was so sorry to leave her companions that Mother Earth promised that every now and then she should come back to the snow country and see them. So, according to this promise, the little snowdrop peeps out now and then to see her friends. The snow maiden has to wait for this season is that she needs the aid of Galanthis to help her up to earth, and this knight requires the entire winter to make his way earthward. The sorrowful part of the story is that the snow child arrives here late each year to see her snow friends, but as she is very fond of Galanthis she is happy to go back with him to his home in the earth.

The Napkin Ring Trick. Insert the two forefingers into a napkin ring from different sides and turn the fingers around each other slowly, letting the direction be away from the body. Close the fingers and thumb of each hand around the ring and bring the tips of the four together. Open them and drop the ring. This sounds simple, but if you succeed in a half dozen attempts it is astonishing. When the tips of the fingers and thumb are brought together the tips of the fingers of the right hand must rest on the thumb of the left, and vice versa. In opening keep the fingers and thumbs joined together, perfectly still, and the ring will at once be free.

Riddles. Why is a little dog's tail like the heart of a tree? Because it is farthest from the bark. Why is a man twice married like a ship's captain? Because he has a second mate.

RACING HOBBYHORSES.

No doubt you once had a hobbyhorse, and rode it too, rocking backward and forward, trotting, galloping and even jumping fences and dashing madly across country—all in imagination. Suppose you really could race on a hobbyhorse against some one else mounted in the same way. Well, you can, and your hobbyhorse will prance, kick up, buck, stumble and do a lot of very horsey things. This hobbyhorse has tall, kickable legs, four of them, no real all, but to make up for it two lively heads. It can go at several gaits and is kind and gentle. It will never run away, and it will always go just as fast or as slow as you desire. It is useless to describe the construction of the hobbyhorse, for the picture shows exactly how it is made. The riders get astride of it, as the picture shows, with knees above the crossbar and elbows beneath it, grasping the body of the horse with their hands. They may gallop or pace or trot. Make a hobbyhorse; get two of your friends to make one and have a race. It is no end of fun, and two boys may become so expert in the sport that they may defeat with ease any novices who may race against them.

Fifty Catching In Japan. In Japan there are firms of seventy dealers, each employing sixty or seventy catchers and exporting their "catch," chiefly to the large cities, where fireflies are used at all grades of social festivity, from the private garden parties of nobles to an evening at a cheap tea garden. Sometimes they are kept caged, sometimes released in swarms in the presence of guests. The firefly hunter starts forth at sunset with a long bamboo pole and a bag of mosquito netting. On reaching a suitable growth of willows he makes ready his net and strikes the branches with his pole. This jars the insects to the ground, where they are easily gathered up.

A New Kind of Picture. Little Harry's father, who was a photographer, one night as the lightning was very beautiful took a picture of a flash. When Harry saw the picture the next morning he looked up and asked wonderingly: "Papa, what kind of a picture would thunder make?"

APRIL.

My father's the sun and my mother the moon, My courtiers, the daffodils, after me crowd. My voice is the lark's voice, my pace is the wind's; I waken the fire cones that in their rough finds. Sleep dreaming of summer and skies full of birds. And lilacs leap upward to hearken my words. Dark alters behold me and lighten their faces. The rebels surge upward the broken between. I am Wren am youth, I am all that is dear And fragile and swift in the sweet of the year. I am hence, I am gone ere earth says "She is here." Blow, daffodil trumpet, blow long and loud— I am April, the child of the sun and the cloud. —Nora Chesson.

Heir to the Russian Throne. The baby whose picture you see is Alexis Nicholaievitch, who, if the tottering throne of his father, the czar, is saved, will one day take his place as ruler of the Russian people. This baby was born on the 12th of last August, and his christening was a wonderful ceremony. He owns caps, cloaks and robes of gold and precious stones. One of his caps is ornamented with forty-two large gems. In the imperial nursery where he will play, attended by a number of nurses, he will be surrounded by dwarfs, the descendants, so tradition says, of the midwives whom a great ancestor of his employed as spirit turners in the imperial kitchen. At the poles there is but one day and one night throughout the year.

A Story of the Ejection of an Unwelcome Visitor

THAT PESKY B'AR

By LLOYD ROBERTS

WHEN Sarah Ann Johnson and Mary Ann returned from the hayfield to "bile" a cup of tea and to heat up a mess of beans for pa and Andy Ginnis, the "help," they were "mighty took aback" to find a black bear, big as life and twice as natural, sitting on their kitchen floor and peacefully licking the last remnants of the anticipated dinner from off his clumsy paws. Now, Sarah Ann was not "skereed," though it did "fetch her sort of sudden-like"—not she. "Sis just up and thought of all the mean, low down things that blamed critter had been a-doin' about property—killin' sheep, uppsettin' her bee houses, tearin' down the grapevines and land knows what all besides," while a great rage welled up in her usually gentle heart, and it seemed as if a vengeance swift and terrible was about to descend upon this innocent, sleepy looking creature. Like a flash she sprang to a low wash basin in both hands and flung a gallon of soapy water full in the animal's face. Spluttering and growling, the bear retreated into a back room, and Mrs. Johnsey hastily slammed the door upon her unwelcome visitor, effectually cutting off his means of escape. This accomplished, she turned to Mary Ann, who had been standing at one side watching the performance with staring eyes and serious face, and spoke to her sharply: "Now, jest yer look here, Mary Ann, and mind what I'm a-sayin' to yer. Sit right down there on that stoop, and don't yer move till I git back and don't yer let no one come in, for there's a awful growled up in that back room that would jest love to eat sech as you. I'm a-goin' to git yer pa to come and kill it dead. Now, mind what I tell yer!" And, with a parting glance at the parlor door, she climbed a snake fence and hurried across a field of stubble, disappearing behind a low hill. When they had all collected in the kitchen Jabez suddenly grabbed his head, with a queer expression spread over his honest countenance. "Sarah Ann Johnsey, if yer ain't the big headedest, all around stupidest female being that ever milked a cow! Do you know what yer gone and done? I've scooped up the b'ar right along in the same room as my gun, and then yer call that I'm a-goin' ter shoot him. If that ain't the women folk fer yer!" Sarah Ann looked blank. "If we only hed known in time we could 'a' got a-lead of Joe Sansen's gun, but I reckon as how he took it along when he went away." "The ain't that!" He ain't that! He's up and cleared out, I tell yer!" Sarah Ann turned with fury on Mary Ann. "What have yer gone and done with that there b'ar, Mary Ann Johnsey, that I left yer so careful-like ter keep yer eye on when I was a-fetchin' yer pa? Now, none of yer 'yin' ter me, but speak up quick!" And she grabbed her by the arm and shook her vigorously. "I didn't do nuffin'—I didn't—I didn't—I didn't!" Mary Ann wailed in a pleading voice. And the last wall was sent the move as the others entered the house for a closer investigation.

NEAR AND FAR.

In New York city 175,571 persons were placed under arrest in 1903. Of these 84,501 were foreigners, in a city where but 28 per cent of the population is foreign and in which live 350,000 Jews, who furnish comparatively few of the lawless element. The tongues of some animals are dangerous weapons. A lion could speedily kill a man by merely licking him with his tongue. The tongues of all members of the cat family are covered with curious recurring spines formed of tough cartilage. An eminent scientist has estimated that the average man's eyelids open and shut 4,000,000 times during the year. An after dinner bore's defense league is suggested in view of the innovation made at a recent dinner in London, when the speeches were presented in souvenir booklet form and "taken as read." Jacob H. Schiff has given $100,000 to Columbia university for the endowment of a chair of social work. The new department will be filled by Edward T. Devine, general secretary of the Charity Organization society. A sixty inch telescope is being mounted at Harvard university which was recently purchased in England and is the largest of its kind in the world. It will be the only telescope operated entirely by electricity, and the observer can carry on his investigations in the coldest weather unexposed. Superintendent Maunder of the solar department of the Greenwich observatory recently announced that prolonged investigations had shown a connection between the magnetic disturbances of the mariner's compass and the sun's spots. He finds that the rotary motion of the sun causes a stream of electrically charged particles to assume the spiral form, reaching out to and surrounding the earth. Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs, is planning to make the Indian school at Carlisle, Pa., a training school for Indian soldiers. His plan will be to pick out the most capable boys from the various tribes and give them a course in military training, etc.

"HOLY POKERS, SARAH! OPEN THE DOOR QUICK!"

had forgot to close it after her last descent. Anyway, there hung the gun above the mantelpiece, and she vigorously thrust her husband into the room. "Land alive! Hurry up, pa, and drive the varmint out of thee or he'll have 't up all the winter's butter! Oh, he's gone and done it now!" she shrieked as a loud crash sounded from below. "I know he would!" Jabez coughed bravely forward and was just reaching down the old-fashioned muzzle loader when the bear emerged from the trap and ambled swiftly for the open door.

It bruin thought that he was going to escape so easily, with the weight of all his sins upon his head, he was vastly mistaken. Sarah Ann leaped out and slammed the door in his face. A man, a bear and a gun shut together in a space eight feet square! It looked very much as if something ought to happen. Jabez looked so to. "Holy pokers, Sarah; open that door quick!" he shouted. "I'm no blamed b'ar hunter, and I ain't a-goin' to be neither!" And then, as this seemed ineffectual, a bright inspiration flashed through his brain. "Do yer want blood and b'ar's grease messed all over yer parlor floor, Sarah, for there will be if yer don't look out quick!" The door flew open on the instant, while Mrs. Johnsey, having removed herself to one side, piped up in another tone: "Don't yer hit him—don't yer hit him, Jabez! Let him git out the house first!" But the bear in the meantime had changed his mind and instead of "gittin' out" sat in the doorway growling and making faces at poor old Johnsey, whose gun was drawing invisible hieroglyphics in the air. Now, when the bear had been his appearance from below the valiant Andy had squeezed in between the hot stove and the wall and seated himself in a large earthen dish of dough which Sarah Ann had put there to "raise." The good woman suddenly spied a pitchfork and a perspiring red face above the water kettle, and she hurried an appeal to the "help." "My land, Andy, git and drive the b'ar out of there before pa messes his dirty carcass all over my clean floor!" But pa had taken his loving wife's advice and was now in the cellar, with the trapdoor clapped to behind him. With some difficulty Mr. Johnsey was extricated from his retreat by means of a very narrow window that led into the parlor window "to get a squirt at the pesky brute," only to discover that the room was empty. He rushed back with wild excitement. "Jabe, Jabe!" he shouted. "The ain't that! He ain't that! He's up and cleared out, I tell yer!" Sarah Ann turned with fury on Mary Ann. "What have yer gone and done with that there b'ar, Mary Ann Johnsey, that I left yer so careful-like ter keep yer eye on when I was a-fetchin' yer pa? Now, none of yer 'yin' ter me, but speak up quick!" And she grabbed her by the arm and shook her vigorously. "I didn't do nuffin'—I didn't—I didn't—I didn't!" Mary Ann wailed in a pleading voice. And the last wall was sent the move as the others entered the house for a closer investigation.

DASHED BETWEEN HIS OUTSTRETCHED LEGS.

house contained many good things in the line of jams and jellies which the thrifty housewife had bottled for the winter, to say nothing of cakes and pies and apples, and it seemed afterward as if his delicate snout had brought to light everything that a bear might love in kitchen, pantry or cellar. They all stood glowering in silence—that is, with the exception of Mary Ann. Suddenly the old farmer struck up, while a broad grin rolled around his face, and he clapped his hand on his leg. "I've been a-thinkin' and a-thinkin' and I 'low as somethin' has to be done, and that real smart, and I reckon as I can do it. Come along o' me, Andy." And he turned and strode off in the direction of the barn. "At this point poor little Mary Ann set up a dismal howling. 'I want a cookie—I want a drink of milk—I want somethin' to eat! Boo-oo!' It was getting along near sundown, and still the bear showed no signs of evacuating his position. He knew a good thing when he smelt it, and the the Atlantic coast the phenomenon will begin early in the morning, in some places before sunrise. In the United States there are 200,000,000 apple trees in bearing, from which 250,000,000 bushels of fruit are annually harvested. In ten years these trees will give a yield of 400,000,000 bushels. At the present time the apple consumption of the United States is eighty pounds per head of the population per year.

SAN TOY A HIT.

Witnessed Last Evening by a Large and Fashionable Audience—Thoroughly Enjoyed by All.

A large and fashionable audience assembled at the Opera House last evening to witness the first performance of the ever popular musical comedy San Toy as given by John C. Fisher's company. It was a great success and reflected the greatest credit on all concerned to the Opera House management for the enterprise shown in bringing such artistic productions to St. John and to the performers themselves as being an all round clever company. To those who have been fortunate enough to witness the performance in London or New York the production compared very favorably, and had the stage been larger the artists would have been able to give a better account of themselves, especially in the dancing.

Of course Li was the lion of the evening, and it is no lie to say that he did not lose the nice things which have been said and written of him. His topical allusions were a great hit. Mr. Mack is an actor and an artiste, which is rather a rare combination in St. John. Florence Smith, as San Toy is good, and has an excellent voice which was heard to advantage in "Somebody."

Harry R. Burcher, as Hobby Preston, has a nice baritone voice, but his somewhat mechanical actions in the scenes, rather spoiled the effects of the popular number. Edward Begley, as the Mandarin Yen How, looked, sang and acted well, as did Noel Jones and James Hughes, as Sir Bingo Preston and Lt. Tucker. The ladies were all good, whilst the scenery and chorus were in keeping with the whole production—far above the average. San Toy will be repeated this evening.

I. C. R. POLICE MAKE IMPORTANT ARREST.

MONCTON, Aug. 17.—The I. C. R. police made an important arrest near 25th Street, a day or two ago in connection with the burning of a tool house and hand car at that place. Louis Moran and James Ossels were arrested, and it is said they have committed many burglaries between Gaspere and Cross Point. When arrested they were armed with Winchester rifles and revolvers. They were handed over to the Quebec authorities. The I. C. R. police will forward a bill of particulars as to the various offences committed in this province.

FOREST FIRES.

Residents of the suburban towns along the I. C. R. have had the closest of the forest fires which are raging in parts of Kings and St. John counties. The smell of smoke is always in the air and the sunsets, from the dust particles in the air, are magnificent. During the past few days the inhabitants of Norton have had fires almost encircling their villages. Owing to the winds which have prevailed the flames have not come as yet within half a mile or so of Norton. The school house at Teakies Corner, two or three farms and some valuable woodland belonging to D. O. Langley have been destroyed. On Monday and Tuesday the people of Norton turned out in large numbers and helped fight the fire. Horns could be heard sounding for help in all directions, and the people were running from one place to another, on the lookout for the most imminent danger.

A SWIFT NEW MOTOR BOAT.

A new canoe-shaped motor boat was given its trial spin off Millidgeville last evening and proved to be a flyer. The newcomer is the property of F. Jones, a prominent establishment, and is possessed of a 6-horse power gasoline motor, which is expected will give her a mean speed of fully eight and a half miles or nine miles an hour. This is about as swift as any of the boats can go, and with a little careful handling the craft may show clear water between her and her nearest rival. Her peculiar cigar shape is based upon a ship's motor model. The hull was built by Mr. Golden, of Millidgeville.

The cable was laid from Canso and if she completes the cable within a month it will break all records at cable laying.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

TANYARD GANG—TROUBLESOME. To the Editor of the Star: Sir,—I would like to draw the attention of the police to the fact that the famous tanyard gang is in full swing again. Every night the residents are compelled to listen to language of the filthiest and most profane that can be uttered. The gang consists of young, idle blackguards, whose ages range from 10 to 18 years, or perhaps over. One day last week a man under the influence of liquor happened to stray into this trap. He was decoyed to an obscure cover and would have been forced of his money had not a neighbor woman called out to the thieves, who ran away. A certain number are there all day, but the evenings and Sundays seem to be the worst of all. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for space, I remain, A RESIDENT. St. John, Aug. 18, 1905.

CHINESE REQUEST REFUSED.

HONG KONG, Aug. 18.—The application of the Chinese commercial union in this city to meet and discuss the anti-American boycott has been refused by Sir Matthew Nathan, Governor of the colony.
