THE GAZETTE,

MONTREAL.

This, the leading Newspaper of the City of Montreal, has recently been greatly enlarged, and otherwise improved—being now printed from new type, and presenting, typographically, a most attractive appearance.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT

Is under the charge of able and experienced writers, who have already earned a high reputation in the field of journalism. Editorials are furnished upon all the live topics of the day, by experts in different departments of literature and European, American and Dominion Politics. Public questions are discussed solely in the public interest, and in a tone of fearless and independent criticism.

THE LOCAL DEPARTMENT of THE GAZETTE will comprise a full record of every event of importance occurring in the city, Legal Intelligence, Sporting News, Reports of Meetings, etc., prepared by gentlemen well skilled in the various departments.

THE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

of THE GAZETTE is very full, and includes Special Dispatches from all parts of the Dominion. THE GAZETTE is distinguished for the ablest Editorials, the most authentic Commercial reports, the fullest Telegraphic Dispatches, the best Local News, the most reliable Legal Intelligence, the choicest Literature, affording to the readers each morning a complete synopsis of contemporary events throughout the world.

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM,

THE GAZETTE is immeasurably superior to any other paper in Montreal, having a larger circulation than all the other English morning papers published in this city combined.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Notwithstanding the very great improvements in THE GAZETTE, the price will still remain the same. It will be sent by mail at $6.00 a year, or $5.00 when paid strictly in advance, and will also be furnished in the city, and by News Agents, to whom it is sent by Express, at TEN CENTS A WEEK.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE

Will continue to be mailed to subscribers at $1.00 a year, payable strictly in advance.

After a thorough canvass, and a great deal of hard labor, we now present the County of Middlesex Directory to subscribers generally, and trust it may prove valuable to the public as a source of reference. To those who considered the interests of the county of sufficient importance to warrant a liberal support of the work we are deeply grateful, whilst to those who were not actuated by so worthy a motive we simply express the hope that they may pursue a different course upon some future occasion.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT, $40,000.

POLICIES IN FORCE, 3,500.

The Company continue to Insure Non-Hazardous property only.
Special Rates are made for Rural Risks. One year Risks will be taken on the Cash system.

It will confine its business as heretofore, exclusively to this special class of hazards, and will on no account depart from this determination, being anxious to provide householders with a security in case of loss, untrammelled by the high rates consequent on accepting general or compound risks.

The Mutual system provided for under the General Insurance Act, is now pretty generally understood. No large profits are made to be divided among stockholders living in other countries, but the insured retain all the profits only being called upon to pay what is absolutely necessary to meet the losses and working expenses of the Company; and it will be the constant aim of the Directors to keep those expenses at the lowest possible figure. The rates of premiums are as low as is consistent with undoubted security, and are based on the experience of the best insurance talent of the country. The hard earned lessons of Established Companies, have enabled the Directors of this Company to apply at the outset, the results of that experience to the requirements of the public necessity, and so far, their efforts have been accorded approval and support beyond anticipation.

Applications for insurance will be received by any of the Company's agents. Application for agencies to be addressed to the Secretary.

JAMES JOHNSON,

Nov. 8th, 1870.

Secretary.

INTRODUCTORY.

In compiling a work like the present on the County of Middlesex, it may not be out of place to make a few remarks relative to its history for the benefit of those who may yet seek a home in our midst or may come after us, and in doing so will make the starting point where Sir John Graves Simcoe, the first Governor of Upper Canada, by consent of parliament assembled at York (Toronto) in 1798, proclaimed that the London or Western District should extend from Long Point to Brantford, and from Lake Erie to the Georgian Bay.

In 1803 or 1804 the Hon. Col. Talbot was authorized to settle the Crown Lands in the London District, and he, with great wisdom and forethought, opened up the southern part of the district by cutting out the road since known as the Talbot street, extending from Long Point to St. Thomas; thence on through Kent and Essex to the Detroit River, and by this means prepared the country for settlement, which was then done on the free grant system. From 1793 to 1825 the District Courts were held in the Township of Charlotteville and at Turkey Point. A brick court house had been erected at Vittoria in the mean time, at a cost of $40,000, which was accidentally burned down in 1825, when the court was removed to St. Thomas for a year or two. In 1826 by an Imperial Act passed in the 7th George IV., cap 14, it was enacted that London would be the judicial seat of the district, and in the same year a log jail and a temporary court house were erected.

In 1828 the first bridge spanned the Thames at this point, and an incident is related that the first crime in the annals of the place was committed in connection with the building of the bridge; it consisted in the stealing of an axe from one of the men employed at the works. Although a legally appointed police force was then unknown, the thief was arrested and kept chained all night to a stump. In the morning Judge Lynch presided over the extemporised open air tribunal and after hearing the case decreed that the culprit should receive so many lashes or clear out—never again to make his appearance. The latter alternative was accepted, and public indignation fully appeased.

In 1830 the market was situated on the southeast corner of the Court House Square. The first merchants were Messrs. Goodhue, Lawason, O'Brien and Jennings, and a weekly mail, carried on horse-back, conveyed the intelligence of weal or woe to the people of London and its vicinity. The roads in these days were very difficult to travel, and the merchants sold their goods at extravagant prices; for instance, a pound of butter would pay for a common clay pipe, and a bushel of wheat for a yard of factory cotton.

In 1832 and, 33 London made much progress, owing chiefly to the excessive emigration from the British Isles during that period; and in 1836 the census returns showed a population of 1,037, and the assessed value of real and personal property amounted to $34,380.

In 1838 seven persons were executed at London for participating in McKenzie's rebellion, and a number of others were doomed to penal service, which sentence was carried in effect.

The most important subject to a Christian community is its religion and the influence it exercises on the people. For as "righteousness exalteth a nation" it is the foundation of all national greatness and moral worth. The Wesleyan Methodists—so often the heralds of the Gospel of Peace in new lands and pioneer missionaries of the forest—first established religious worship in London and built a frame church in 1830. The following year the Episcopalians erected a church and organized religious worship. And in three years after, (1834,) the Roman Catholics reared an edifice for divine worship. Now the churches of London are a credit to the liberality and devotional spirit of all denominations.

In 1840 London was incorporated as a village, with a population of 1,716. The population having increased to 3,000 in 1847 it was incorporated as a town and Simeon Morrill, Esq., elected first mayor of it. The Great Western Railway having given more than ordinary impetus to improvements in this section of country during the following years, in 1855 London was incorporated as a city, with 10,000 inhabitants, and Murray Anderson, Esq., elected first city mayor. But while London was thus advancing with such rapid strides the county was keeping pace with it in the onward march of progression; for although the County of Middlesex has been shorn of its territorial grandeur since the time it was legally and generally known as the London District, then extending from the Detroit River to Long Point, yet in point of wealth, enterprise, population and intelligence it is now in excess of the old London District with the extended boundary.

The census of 1861 showed the population then to be 48,697 to which add 11,555 as the population of the City of London, lying within the county, making a total for city and county of 60,234; when the census for 1871 are taken an increase of at least 40 per cent. may be expected and that without a regular soldier within the limits.

The county is traversed by the main line and Sarnia branch of the Great Western Railway, and by the Port Stanley and London branch of the Grand Trunk Roads, with a fair prospect for another road in contemplation to a point on Lake Huron, thereby bringing markets within easy distance of all parts of the county. There are 150 miles of gravel and plank roads built and owned by the county besides those owned by the townships of Biddulph and McGillivray and the Proof Line Road Company which will swell the number of miles of plank and gravel roads within the county to over 200 miles. There is one incorporated town (Strathroy) and one incorporated village (Wardsville) within the county, with a number of villages that could claim the right to be incorporated as separate municipalities. The soil, agricultural facilities, mechanical enterprise, markets, roads, manufactories and water-power of Middlesex will favorably compare with any county in Ontario. This mammoth county, with 17 large municipalities and an assessment roll of over $11,000,000 is becoming too unwieldy for one municipal body to control its destinies, consequently the differences of opinion and of local interests are yearly becoming more and more apparent in the council chamber, so that another division of Middlesex is forcing itself upon those holding the helm of municipal affairs and must take place at no very distant period.

THE CITY OF LONDON, ONTARIO.

WRITTEN EXPRESSLY FOR THIS PUBLICATION BY W. G. MONCRIEFF, ESQ.

If antiquity is any recommendation, it must be confessed, London, like the other cities in the Dominion, entirely fails on that score. Its roots do not go back to the middle ages, nor a tithe of the distance. True, the terrestrial section on which the city stands is as ancient, we suppose, as any other portion of the planet; the sky above—the natural roof, so to speak, may be dated at an earlier period in the pre-historic ages. So that in one sense London is quite as ancient as the proudest antiquarian could desire. But artificially, that is in respect of mansions, manufactories, stores, churches, schools, banks, hotels, cottages, shanties and the like, it is undeniably modern, the procession of structures having started out of forest chaos not half a century ago. Its commencement, A. D. 1827, was very small—a diminutive log hut which was built on a spot near the corner of King and Ridout street. The owner of the little dwelling, not exceeding sixteen feet square, was Peter McGregor, a native of Scotland. Some three or four assisted at the undertaking, cutting down the trees, and forming them into a rude human habitation. Peter's shanty was designed to be a tavern, but as they had no room inside for visitors, a bottle of whiskey and a tumbler used to stand on a stump outside the door, where the thirsty were refreshed on reasonable terms. The clearance for this tavern was the first in the woods, and even when it was complete the tall trees covered it with their branches. So the city was founded, and Peter McGregor has a place henceforth on the historic page. That he anticipated the growth of a city from his humble fabric, we dare not affirm; this thing is certain, however, a city has followed it, and a better location for one could not have been found, whether the salubrity of the location is considered, or the fertility of the district by which it is encompassed. On Dundas street, and nearly opposite the centre front of the Robinson Hall, Abraham Carroll, from Oxford County, reared in the fall of the same year, 1827, famous for McGregor's operation, the second house,—a frame tavern. When nearly finished, it took fire and was reduced to ashes. But not discouraged, the proprietor, of what had been, commenced another structure on the same lot, and by next summer he had fairly commenced business. These taverns pre-supposed inhabitants in the neighborhood, and to account for their erection it has only to be explained that already London Township was well settled; Westminster was thickly peopled along the Commissioner's road and for two concessions back; Dorchester, Nissouri, and Lobo, were each partially inhabited, and fresh arrivals were continually taking place. Supplanting a temporary wooden structure on the same position, the existing Court House and Jail, were erected in 1828, under the architectural superintendency of the deceased Mr. Thomas Parke, of St. Catharines. The county buildings gave an importance to the locality, and a guarantee that a considerable population would gradually cluster around them. The growth of London, however, was slow at first; it began to increase sensibly in 1828, but this became more apparent after the extensive emigration in 1832, five years after it had sprung into existence. Then there was a decent village, composed of English, Scotch, Irish and American settlers. The original Robinson Hall had made its appearance; there was a public market on the south east corner of the Court House Square; stores had been opened by the Messrs. Goodhue, O'Brien, Jennings and Lawrason; Mr. Morrill located himself on the spot in 1830, and commenced the business which he followed till a very recent date from now. The place grew with the Robinson Hall as its nucleus, though, till after the disastrous fire, some eighteen years from its origin; but very few brick buildings could be counted on its streets. In these dawning days the Post Office was kept by Major Scofield, away in the forest, in a small log house on North Street, the site of which now forms part of the Convent property, though the fabric itself but lately disappeared. There was a mail only once a week, which was carried on horseback, and the denizens had to exercise what patience they could in their outlandish situation. London was then called the "Forks," a name suggested by the union of the two branches of the Thames, on the west of the city. The country roads were dreadful, and people visited the village mostly in wagons drawn by oxen; money was scarce, and barter was the ordinary mode of traffic; a hushel of wheat for a yard of factory cotton, is a specimen of the prices. Whatever a residenter or rural settler may now require can readily be obtained, but many in those semi-civilized and struggling times had to deny themselves indulgences which have come to be considered among the necessities of life. Tea was one of those indulgences. A substitute for the refreshing leaf was found in "Plains Tea," which grew on the flats, on the hillside where Eldon House stands, and up along the river side. They would travel long miles to gather the herb, and many are still alive who drank it.

In the early part of the city's history, before Public Schools were established, education was left entirely to private enterprise, and upon the whole the want was tolerably well supplied. The teachers, moreover, were not without a fair return for their labors. At an early date a Grammar School was instituted, showing that the more prosperous families were ambitious for their sons to receive something beyond an ordinary English education, so as to qualify them, if they felt inclined, for entering on a professional career. Since then public schools, conducted with great efficiency, and now attended by thousands of pupils, have come into existence, and render incalculable service to the community, as in all other districts of the country. Taking these into account, and small private seminaries, and the great colleges erected by the energy of Dean Hellmuth, it may be truthfully said that there is no place in Canada that enjoys higher educational advantages.

The Wesleyans, so often the pioneers in the work of evangelization, were the first to establish gospel ordinances in the locality, and in the year 1830 the first church was built, and built by them. Next, in the same year, followed the Episcopal church; they erected first a frame chapel where St. Paul's Cathedral now stands, which was completed in 1846, the original structure having been consumed by fire in the previous year. The third denomination that appeared was the Roman Catholic in 1834. There is now, it may be added in an word, a ample variety of denominations, and many of their chapels are amongst the striking erections of the city, some of them, like the new Scotch church, being ornamented internally with remarkable taste, and at a large outlay of money.

In 1835, having attained a population of 1,000, London was entitled, according to the law as it then stood, to return a representative to Parliament. It had formerly voted with the county, now it was to vote independently, and Mr. Mahlon Burwell, was the successful candidate. In 1838 it, for the first time, became a military post, and with more or less regularity soldiers were stationed in its garrison till the breaking out of the Crimean war. The arrival of the troops gave an impulse to the place, and it continued to increase steadily ever afterwards till the commercial crisis in 1858, thirteen years back. In 1847 it was raised to the position of a town, and in the following year elected Mr. Simeon Morrill as its first Mayor. The census roll having risen above 10,000 in 1855, London was numbered in the list of Canadian cities. Mr. Murray Anderson was the first Mayor after this important change in its history, and when it arrived at this dignity, the late Justice John Wilson was its representative in the Legislative Assembly. It is not easy to tell the exact population at the present moment, but let us say 15,000, and we are not wide of the mark. Slowly, but steadily, manufactories are increasing along its streets, and those are providing employment for orderly and industrious workers. Steam engines, boilers, oil stills, stoves, carriages, furniture, shoes, farming machines and implements, refined oil, salted meats, &c., &c., are sent forth from its hives of industry to add to the wealth and reputation of the producers. Railways start from the city in every direction, facilitating manufacturing operations immensely, and accommodating those who travel on business or pleasure. It is quite true that the manufacturing is not driven with an awful rush, as if the owners were heedless whether they were established or failed in business, provided they only run vigorously, say furiously for a while; but the moderate progress seems to be comfortably remunerative, if we may form our opinion by the prosperity of the producers, and the recent enlargements in their premises.

and from the long experience of the firm, a large quantity of the best quality of work will be turned out by them.

BENT STUFF AND HUB AND SPOKE FACTORIES.

The Middlesex Steam Bending Hub and Spoke Factory is situated on Ridout street, Messrs. Plummer & Pacey, proprietors. It was established in 1843, and gives employment to 25 hands, turning out work to the amount of $20,000 per annum. The main building is a two story brick, 72 x 30 feet. The ground floor is used as a hub and spoke factory, and above it is the bending room. In the rear is a large brick one-story building, 35 x 160 feet, which is used as a wagon and sleigh factory. North of this is a two-story brick building, 16 x 72 feet, used for storage. The works are propelled by a 15 horse-power steam engine.

MR. A. EFNER carries on a bending factory on York street.

BREWRIES.

CITY BREWERY.—This extensive establishment, situated on the corner of Waterloo street and Pall Mall, was first started by Messrs. W. & J. Carling in the year 1843, since which time the original building has been enlarged and improved from year to year, to meet the requirements of the increase of business. The main building, of brick, now measures 240 x 74 feet, with an addition of 74 x 40 feet, used chiefly as the bottling department. The whole building is two storeys high, with a basement. There are two malt kilns, with a capacity of 12,000 bushels each, being about one-half the amount required for the extent of business done. A ten horse-power engine is used, and from 25 to 30 hands kept constantly employed in the manufacture of ale and porter, the superiority of which is well established throughout Canada. The bottling department is kept well stocked with the several past years' manufacture. The cellars are excellently arranged, and well adapted for stock ale and porter.

JOHN LABATT'S BREWERY is situated at the south end of Talbot street, and is built of brick and stone. This is one of the largest and most complete breweries in Canada, and is fitted up with every new improvement adapted to the business. The bottling department is ample and convenient, and the storage cellars (all under ground) large and well suited to the storage requirements of the establishment. The malting houses are spacious, and receive the utmost attention and care. The kilns are now of sufficient capacity to produce all the malt required by the firm. An improved steam pump is here used, which largely economizes labor. It was procured from the United States, and put in working order by Mr. Rogers, plumber, of the city of London. Over two hundred feet of pipes are extended from the brewery to the mill-race from whence the supply of water is obtained and forced to the top of the building by means of the steam pump. There is also a large ice house connected with the establishment.

BUILDERS AND CONTRACTORS.

MESSRS. BRODBENT, OVERELL & Co., successors to the late Alex. Campbell, carry on a large business. Their premises are on Bathurst street, between Richmond and Talbot. They employ 30 hands in the manufacture of doors, sash, mouldings and wood eve troughs of best quality. They are also contractors for and builders of all kinds of edifices.

MESSRS. WRIGHT & DURAND are extensively engaged in the same line of business. They employ 35 hands on buildings of all kinds, planing and matching lumber and making doors sash, blinds, mouldings, scroll work, &c., &c.

MR. PETER WESTON is engaged in wood turning of all kinds. His buildings are frame 60 x 24 feet corner Duke and Richmond. He employs 3 hands.

CABINET WARE AND FURNITURE.

There are several firms in the city engaged in the above line, who manufacture and deal in furniture. Mr. George Moorhead, King street, between Clarence and Richmond, is most extensively engaged in the business. He employs a large number of hands and supplies every thing in the line.

CARRIAGES, WAGONS AND SLEIGHS.

One of the most important branches of the manufactures of London consists in carriage making, there being about a dozen establishments, all vying with each other in the superiority of vehicles turned out. The following are the principal firms:

ABBOTT BROS., on Dundas street, near Wellington, called the Canada Carriage Works, were established in 1864.

The London Carriage Factory, situated on King street, between Talbot and Ridout, was established by Mr. John Campbell in 1852. The main building is 110 x 32 feet, three storeys high, with a blacksmith shop attached, 110 x 50 feet. A spacious show room is located on the first floor. During the past year Mr. Campbell has turned out 100 buggies and carriages, 4 coaches, costing each $700, and 83 pleasure sleighs. Twenty hands are kept constantly employed. This is one of oldest establishments in the Province in this line, and has been attended with unprecedented success.

DOMINION CARRIAGE WORKS.—These works, situated on Dundas street between Wellington and Waterloo, were established by H. H. Dart, in 1854, and are now carried on by his brother, Roger Dart, who employs about twenty hands in the manufacture of all kinds of carriages, buggies, waggons, sleighs, etc. Mr. Dart was awarded the first prize at the several Provincial Fairs held at London.

MR. THOMAS D. HODGINS' Carriage Factory, situated corner of Market and Richmond streets, was established in 1866. Eighteen hands are employed in the manufacture of all descriptions of vehicles, of a superior make and quality. His main building is two stories high, 30 x 40 feet, the ground floor being used as a wood shop, the upper story trimming and paint shop. North of the building is a frame show room 30 x 50 feet, in rear of which is a blacksmith shop, 30 x 50 feet.

MR. JOHN MCKELLAR established a carriage factory in 1861 on Richmond street, opposite the English Cathedral. He employs about 20 hands, and turns out work of a superior character. The premises are commodious, and built of brick.

PAVEY & BROS. factory, situated on King street, was established in 1851.

MESSRS. PLUMMER & PACEY have an establishment on Ridout street, near William street, founded in the year 1843. Their chief business is manufacturing hubs and spokes, but a large number of waggons and sleighs are manufactured at these works.

MESSRS. ROE & JUDD, situated on Wellington, bet King and York streets, established themselves in 1862. Eighteen hands are constantly employed, and a large amount of work is turned out, equal in finish and durability to any house in the city.

MR. THOMPSON, on Dundas street, bet Clarence and Wellington, commenced business in 1867. Eighteen hands are employed, and work turned out to the amount of $10,000 per annum.

CARRIAGE SPRINGS.

MR. R. BRUMMIT, Ridout street, corner Bathurst, manufactures largely carriage and buggy springs. This concern has been six years in operation; giving employment at the present time to six hands.

COOPERS.

There are several cooperages in London, among which may be noticed as the most prominent.

Remember, Grist's stock of Hardware is all New.

THE ONTARIO COOPERAGE is carried on by Mr. Charles Smith on Bathurst street. He established his business in 1866, uses steam power, and employs from 50 to 60 hands in the manufacture of oil, whiskey, and beer barrels and other tight work.

MA. IRWIN NESEITT is engaged in the same line of business. His buildings are on Horton street east. His buildings are frame 100 x 30 feet. He employs 40 hands, and use steam power in the manufacture of oil, whiskey, and beer barrels, and all other descriptions of cooperage.

MR. WM. HOCKIN is extensively engaged in the same business. He carries on the London cooperage, situated on York street, east. His business was established in 1867, and 50 hands are employed in the manufacture of everything in the line.

MR. HUNT, of the City Mills, has also a cooperage attached to his establishment, employing from six to eight hands.

FOUNDERIES AND MACHINE SHOPS.

London is noted for the extent of its excellent foundries and machine shops.

THE PHOENIX FOUNDRY was established by Mr. John Elliott in 1852. It is situated on the corner of Wellington and Bathurst streets, where he manufactures reaping, mowing and threshing machines, of the most improved description, and all kinds of agricultural implements of superior quality. Mr. Elliott has also a branch establishment in the flourishing town of Strathroy, where he supplies the farmers of Lambton and North and West Middlesex.

THE HON. ELIJAH LEONARD OWNS the extensive foundry and machine works situated on York street, between Waterloo and Colborne, where 25 hands are employed and superior work turned out, such as boilers, engines, mill-gearing and agricultural implements of all kinds.

MESSRS. J. & O. MCCLARY carry on the Ontario Stove Works, situated on York Street, near Wellington; 100 men are employed; their building are brick, very extensive. This is the largest stove foundry in Ontario. They manufacture agricultural implements.

THE GLOBE Foundry and Agricultural Works, on Dundas street, East, having changed hands, is now carried on by Crawford & Co., who are second to none in the excellency of the various agricultural implements manufactured by them.

MR. D. DARVIL manufactures all kinds of agricultural implements, using a steam engine of seven horse power, and employ seven hands, on King street, between Ridout and Talbot.

No old stock or rusty Edge Tools at Grist's, Strathroy.

FANNING MILLS AND PUMPS.

MR. JAMES M. COUSINS, on Bathurst st., near Talbot, was established in 1843 in the making of Fanning Mills, of a superior quality. He also carries on Pump Making on an extensive scale, and earned for himself an enviable reputation for the excellence of the work he turns out.

FLOUR MILLS.

THE CITY MILLS, Mr. Charles Hunt, proprietor, contain four run of stones, propelled by water power, and has capacity to dress and pack 123 barrels of flour daily.

NORTH BRANCH, MESSRS. HILLARD & SAUNBY, proprietors, have four run of stones, propelled by water, having capacity to dress and pack 120 barrels of flour daily.

THE BLACKFRIER'S MILLS are carried on by Mr. George Phillips. The building is expected to give place to one of stone and brick, with four run of stones. This mill is supplied with a never failing water power supplied by the Thames. A large quantity of custom work is done at this mill in superior style.

HON. ELIJAH LEONARD'S flour and grist mill is a large brick building on York street, three run of stones are used, and superior merchant and city flour manufactured; also custom work executed with despatch.

EAST END MILLS.—MESSRS. PLEWES & CROW'S mills are frame, 30 x 40 feet, three stories high, with three run of stones. They use water power, and employ six hands. Their average work is 70 barrels of merchant flour, and 75 bushels of custom work per diem.

MESSRS. MUIRHEAD & GREY'S oat meal, split peas, and pot barley mill is frame, 30 x 40 feet, three stories high, situated on the corner of Colborne and Simcoe streets. This is the only mill of this kind in the County of Middlesex, and consequently does a large business in merchant trade and custom work. Steam power is used.

TANNERIES.

MR. E. W. HYMAN carries on two tanneries in the city. The first, which might justly be called the model tannery, is a brick building, situated on Burlington street, corner of Ann, and is used principally for the manufacture of sole leather. It was established in 1867, and is $2\frac{1}{2}$ stories high, 100 x 40 feet, with a beam house attached, of frame, 34 x 60 feet, containing a 30 horse steam engine. The capacity of this tannery amounts to 7,000 sides per annum. There is also a sheepskin factory on Ann street, adjoining, $2\frac{1}{2}$ stories high, 32 x 100 feet, in which 60,000 lbs. of wood are pulled per annum. Mr. Hyman has also another tannery on Talbot street, cor of York, the main building being 100 x 40 feet, with a beam house about 20 x 60 feet. A ten horse power steam engine is used. The principal manufacture here is upper leather.

RICHARD ARSCOTT'S tannery on George street, corner of Talbot, is a large frame, furnished with all the modern improvements for the tannery of sole, upper, and harness leather; kip calf, and sheep skins. He uses steam power, and employs 10 hands.

TOBACCONISTS

MESSES. KELLY & SONS, on Dundas street, are extensively engaged in the cigar manufacturing business. They employ a number of hands.

MESSES. KOHL & ATKINS, Dundas street, are engaged in the same line of business, and carry on a large trade.

WATCHMAKERS.

This branch of business is well represented in the city.

W. D. MCGLOCHLON, Dundas street near Talbot, keeps a first-class stock, and is doing a large business.

J. CAMPBELL, near same place, has a very fine establishment.

P. WYCKOFF, south side Dundas street near Richmond, is watchmaker and working jeweller.

an important post village situated on the town-line of Bosanquet and Warwick, in the County of Lambton, at the distance of one mile from the Middlesex county line, and distant from Sarnia 34 miles; 12 miles from Watford station on the G. W. R., and 7 miles from Widdler on the G. T. R. This village is located in the midst of a fine agricultural section of country, and advances rapidly in mercantile and manufacturing business. Among the latter we may mention the foundry and agricultural works of Champion & Norsworthy, established in 1858, where 12 hands are employed, and an engine of 35 horse-power used in the manufacture of reaping, mowing and threshing machines, plows, cultivators, mill gearing and castings of all kinds. Their building is frame, 100 x 50 feet. The flax mill of Nichol Bros., established this year, is frame, 30 x 40, with large engine-house; they employ 10 hands and dress the product of 300 to 400 acres of flax, and prepare 3,000 bushels of seed annually. This firm carry on the large flax mills at Belmont, in Middlesex. Morningstar & Son's flour and grist mill is built of frame, 75 x 40 feet, two storeys high, with two run of stones propelled by a 25 horse-power engine and capable of dressing 50 barrels of flour daily. A. J. Dickson's woollen mill was established in 1860. Five to ten hands are employed, and a 16 horse-power engine used to drive the machinery. He manufactures full cloths, blankets and shirting, besides custom carding, spinning and cloth dressing.

The flour mills and paint works of George Gunder, on lot 22, 7th concession West Williams, are frame, 60 x 26 feet, three storeys high, with wheel-house attached. This mill has capacity to grind 200 bushels of grain daily. John Hendra's flour and saw mills, situate in this place, are also frame buildings, propelled by steam, and capable of grinding 300 bushels of grain daily, and cutting 300 M. feet of lumber annually. The saw mill of George Eastman; the tannery of John Knisley, and two large cabinet factories may also be noticed.

CHURCHES.—There are four churches. The Wesleyan Methodist a neat frame. The Methodist Episcopal of similar construction. The Baptist Church is of brick, and the Roman Catholic frame.

It is surrounded with an excellent agricultural district, and a large business is done in the exportation of grain, timber, and produce. This is the principal market between London and Goderich—on the old stage line—and its mercantile and manufacturing establishments rival those of much older and larger places.

FOUNDRIES.—The Lucan Foundry was established in 1861. The business is now carried on by John Jackson, in a brick building 115 x 40, two storeys high, with moulding shop 35 x 40 feet; paint shop, 40 x 50 feet; and work shop, 40 x 40 feet. He employs 20 to 30 hands in the manufacture of reapers, mowers, straw cutters, horse powers, and all kinds of agricultural implements. Steam power is used. Galloway & Mason are extensively engaged in the Lucan new foundry and agricultural implement manufacturing business. Their buildings are on main street. They furnish castings and mill gearings of all kinds.

FLOUR MILLS.—The large flour mills of Stanley, Dight & Co. is a frame 52 x 42 feet, four storeys high, with engine house and four run of stones, capable of dressing and packing 100 bbl's of flour per diem. Four to five hands are employed. Their brand is not surpassed in Canada.

RAILWAY STATION.—This is the principal station from St. Mary's to Sarnia. Distant from the former 15 miles, and 55 from the latter. H. Collins, stationmaster.

Goodacre's steam cabinet factory and several other manufacturing establishments are erected in the village.

CHURCHES.—Church of England, brick (Holy Trinity), Rev T. E. Sanders, minister. W. M., frame. Roman Catholic, brick, Rev Father Gerard, priest.

MASONIC.—The Masonic Lodge, "Irving," No. 154, A. F. & A. M., meets on Thursday, on or before the full moon, at their Hall, in Royal Hotel. Jas Sutton, M. D., W. M.; Wm Frank, Secretary.

PARK HILL,

an important and rapidly growing post village and station on the Grand Trunk Railway, 49 miles from London by rail, via St. Mary's, and 30 by the direct stage road. In 1861 this village was scarcely known, it is now the principal station between St. Mary's and Sarnia, and its trade is rapidly increasing in the exportation of timber, lumber, staves, tan-bark and farm produce. No other village in North Middlesex seems to progress at the same ratio which this has done within the past few years. It contains two large flour and grist mills; a steam saw and planing mill and a woollen mill. Hugh C. Baird's foundry and agricultural implement manufactory gives employment to ten hands and turns out reapers, mowers, plows, cultivators and all the necessary and labor saving machines used on the farm. John Harrison's stave cutting machine is a desideratum much needed and is another means of converting material of little value into a merchantable article of commerce.

HOTELS.—There are four hotels. The Hastings House is kept by Sandford Tudor; the Vanwyck House carried on by John Vanwyck; the Victoria Hotel conducted by Thomas Powell, and Mott's Britannia Hotel, are not excelled by those of any village or town in this section of the country.

CHURCHES.—There are four churches, all handsome buildings and favorably located.

MILITARY.—The volunteer force of Park Hill is in a good state of efficiency. A. McKellar, captain.

NEWSPAPER.—The "Park Hill Gazette" has been established and is conducted by Wallace Graham, editor and proprietor.

MASONIC.—Doric Lodge, No. 233, holds its regular communication Tuesdays on or before full moon. John Dawson, W. M.
