CHAUTAQUA CLOSED, GRAND SUCCESS

Every Ticket Holder Highly Pleased and All Delighted that Contract is Signed for Next Year

The big event of the year for Hartland is over. Chautauqua week is a thing of the past, except that the memory lingers, the uplift remains, the good influence is still with us, and the newly kindled community spirit is alive. It was a rare treat to the people in the town and surrounding country, particularly to those lovers of good music and instructive discourse who are prevented from enjoying these things by reason of their isolation. Surely it was a big and splendid thing to bring to remote places the fine things in the musical and literary world that city people have access to all the time.

It would not be possible to say which of the days' programs were the best, as that is a matter of individual taste. It is a fact that "The Bohemian Girl," "It Pays to Advertise" and the Hawaiian drew the largest crowds, but this may be due to the fact that these attractions came last, and the crowds kept growing larger each day.

One of the brightest and altogether most delightful features of Chautauqua was the part of the juniors, the little children of the town. It was a glorious week for them. The brilliant young woman, the Junior superintendent, was very ably chosen for the work, and won the hearts of the little ones the very first day. The Children's Pageant on Saturday was to many the most delightful feature of the week. It was indeed a revelation that in so short a time the youngsters could be trained to carry through their program so thoroughly well.

Every one seems pleased that a contract has been signed for a return of Chautauqua next year. On Friday evening President Keith of the local organization asked all who wanted Chautauqua next year to stand. It would seem that the audience arose, in mass. Then guarantors were asked for and on the spot 48 names were signed. Later this was increased to 64. The guarantors undertake to sell tickets aggregating $1800, or to make up any sum short of that. The season ticket next year will be $3.

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"

The homely "It Pays to Advertise" played by Chautauqua talent last week presented more fact than fiction, and numerous types of "fishes" in the audience—business men who neglect that open door to more business, persistent advertising—were visibly impressed. "It Pays to Advertise" is not merely a slogan, nor is the phrase a joke by a big jug. In the play the statistics given out as the amounts spent in advertising well known products were absolutely correct and not fanciful. Strange as it may seem, the biggest advertiser in America today is a chap named Wright, who has made his name and that of "Spearmin" famous. It has cost millions to do it, but think how wisely known are the words "Gold Dust Twins," "Unesco," "The Watch that made the Dollar Famous," "Old Dutch," "Sun-Kid," while everybody believes that "Royal" is the only really good baking powder—just because countless thousands of dollars have been spent in advertising it. "Eventually" every business man will be a constant advertiser. He will advertise or go out of business—and the only way that advertising DOES pay is by its constant, everlasting, never-ending, perpetual, persistent repetition, "teaching aversantly" at it.

Just a few days prior to the opening of Hartland's Chautauqua there were those declared that the guarantors were going to be badly "stuck," and there were some who suggested that an effort be made to call the affair off. But these people did not reckon on the power of advertising. For weeks the people all through the county had been reading up on Chautauqua; they were compelled to give attention, they could not turn to any page of the local paper, they could not look in a store window or at a telephone pole or a fence without being impressed with the merits of Chautauqua. What was the result? Close to a thousand people in the town twice a day. Those who went forth in the last days to sell tickets found that advertising had already sold the tickets and the only remaining work to do was to deliver them.

The Observer, a weekly visitor in practically every home in two counties, is a medium that can put your business "over the top" and keep it in the front rank. The advertising space costs money, and, to get the money out, the space requires constant attention, truthful statements backed by well-posted and gentle salespeople. Buying advertising space and neglecting it is throwing money away; buying space and cultivating it as you would your garden will bring a handsome return on the investment as sure as Tanlac made its owner rich.

ELOPING COUPLES AT WOODSTOCK

Maine Parents Searching for Young Girls

Two eloping couples from August 2nd to 10th, made their homes with Mr. and Mrs. Alex. S. Ives, of Lower Woodstock.

During the month of July, J. Fred Noyes, aged 45 years, was arrested for kidnapping Alida B. Bennock, the 15-year-old daughter of Charles P. Bennock, of Greene Lake, Me. The girl was returned to her parents and Noyes was given a hearing before the Ellsworth Municipal Court, and sent up for trial at the October term of the Supreme Court. He was let out on bail for $1,000, the bail being furnished by a brother of Noyes and Hiram Patton. One of the witnesses was Ralph Hamilton, aged 22.

On the afternoon of Aug. 2, a six-cylinder Reo, No. 29,322, containing Hamilton and Alida and Arvilla Bennock, aged 16, stopped at the residence of Mr. Ives and engaged rooms. They were joined by Noyes, who arrived on the night train. While at Woodstock new tires were purchased for the auto and on Aug. 10th, they left for parts unknown, after Hamilton paid for the rooms.

Some garments were missing from the rooms, and from information he had received, Mr. Ives wrote to the mother of the girls, a reply having been received on Aug. 19th, stating that every effort was being made to find the eloping couple.

Aug. 24.—A search for the two pairs of alleged elopers which has been carried on in several counties of this province and Maine for a week or more, has ended with the arrest of the male members of the escapade. The girls in the case were found at Grand Falls and taken to their homes in Green Lake village, Me. The men were arrested in Hancock county, Me. The joy riding of the party in a motor car through Aroostook, Victoria, Carleton and Washington and other counties lasted for three weeks.

The girls in the case are Alida and Arvilla Bennock, sisters, and their respective companions were J. Fred Noyes, aged forty-five, and Ralph Hamilton, twenty-three years old. The girls are fifteen and sixteen years of age, respectively. In court at Ellsworth yesterday Hamilton and Noyes were arraigned on a charge of kidnapping. Noyes had nothing to say, but Hamilton said that he took Arvilla Bennock away from home by motor car because she was not being treated well there.

The men were held in $1,000 bonds on the charge for trial next October. They were taken to jail.

According to the story of the girls, the two couples left Greene Lake in the touring car of Noyes on July 27, and headed for Canada, stopping at several places and finally at Lower Woodstock, where they found work. They had rooms until Aug. 10, then went to Ashland, in Aroostook county. They said they were getting along well there and working, when they saw a piece in a newspaper to the effect that warrants were out for the men and, becoming alarmed, they came across the line again to Grand Falls.

The father of the girls, Charles P. Bennock, received word that the girls were there and he went after them, succeeding in inducing them to go home with him. Hamilton, who was with them, returned voluntarily. It appears that Noyes had left them at times and was not there. Sheriff Westcott started a search and Noyes was located at Crystal, where he was working, arrested and taken to Patten and then to Ellsworth.

Noyes was already under $1,000 bonds on the charge of kidnapping Alida on July 5 last, taking her to his former home in Berry's Mills, Franklin county, Me.

Noyes was arrested for kidnapping the fifteen-year-old girl. The girl was returned to her parents and Noyes was given a hearing before the Ellsworth municipal court, and sent up for trial at the October term of the supreme court. He was let out on bail for $1,000, the bail being furnished by a brother of Noyes and Hiram Patton. One of the witnesses was Ralph Hamilton.

CLOVERDALE MAN ALLEGED MOONSHINER

Fined in York County and Friend Enables His Relief

[Cloverdale is the latest to furnish a sensation in this home brew business and the following despatches from St. John papers will interest Observer readers.]

An information was formally lodged yesterday by Walter T. Dawes, special enforcement agent for New Brunswick of the inland revenue department, against James Lindsay, of Cloverdale, York County, charging him with having had intoxicating liquor in his possession which was illegally manufactured.

Lindsay is at present in the York County jail where he was lodged to spend two months when he failed to pay a fine of $200 imposed by Police Magistrate Limerick after Chief Inspector Hawthorne and members of his prohibition enforcement staff had seized parts of a home-made still for making home brew liquor as well as some of its product at his home.

A warrant has been issued for Lindsay's arrest, but it will not be served until he has either completed his term of two months or secured his release from jail by payment of a fine. Penalties under the inland revenue act provide for fines of from $200 to $500.

While Officer Dawes was in Sunbury county some good Samaritan appeared at the York county jail and paid the $200 fine necessary to obtain the release of Lindsay, who had commenced to serve his sentence of six months rather than pay the fine imposed for having parts of a home-made still in his possession when prohibition inspectors visited his home recently. On Friday the inland revenue enforcement officer had formally preferred a charge against Lindsay under the inland revenue act and had applied to Police Magistrate Limerick for the issue of a warrant. Then he went away to Sunbury county without actually getting out the warrant, and by the time he returned, as previously set forth, his bird had flown.

SUSPECTED MURDERER ARRESTED IN HARTLAND

Yesterday George Lavigne of St. John was arrested here by Sheriff Foster as the suspected murderer of the little McAdley girl, and taken to Woodstock where he is held in jail until authorities come today from St. John to take him back to that city. He disappeared from St. John shortly after the crime was perpetrated.

PATRONIZE THE NEW TRAINS

The morning and evening express trains seem to be gaining in popularity as more and more the public finds out the convenience they afford the traveller. On Monday morning the Chautauqua outfit was despatched by this train and reached Waltham, Mass., the evening of the same day, opening their engagement there on Tuesday. This would not have been possible under the former time tables. Travellers to St. John, St. Stephen, or to any distant points, find this train a great convenience. The winter time table is being arranged and the continuance of the double express service here depends altogether upon the train the trains get on the present schedule. The new train will be even a greater convenience during the winter months, since in the summer a large proportion of commercial travellers go by automobiles, as does most of the local travel of every class.

THIS WOMAN'S MISERY

Ended by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Remarkable Recovery of Mrs. Church.

Smiths Falls, Ont.—"I suffered with failing of my organs, pains around my heart and in my bowels, and down my legs, terrible sinking feeling. I felt that I could not live and would fix my house in order every night so there would be no trouble if I dropped off in the night. My husband went to the drugstore to get the best remedy he had and he gave him Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles and felt a lot better. I will always recommend the Vegetable Compound, and you can use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. O. Church, Box 345, Smiths Falls, Ont.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from nervous prostration, displacements, inflammation, ulcers, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and dizziness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills. If there are any complications about which you need advice write in confidence to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

THE OSTRICH—AND YOU

There's something almost human about the ostrich. Rather than face trouble he buries his head in the sand, and thus exposes himself, rather recklessly, to whatever may happen. Is not that just like the fellow who ducks under the sheets the minute the furniture creaks? Lots of Hartland people shut their eyes when they need them most. In the matter of buying something, for instance, they shut their eyes to the importance of getting the most for a hard-earned dollar. It is possible to get. And who gets the most for his money? The man who buys blindly, or the fellow who reads advertisements and discovers the things he really wants and needs? There is no denying the great value of advertising to those who read it. It protects you against fraud and inferiority. It tells you what is new and good, making you a wise buyer. It saves you money by pointing out your consideration only the best products. Don't be an ostrich—read the advertisements.

PRESENTATION TO POPULAR PRIEST AT GRAND FALLS

Grand Falls, Aug. 18.—Rev. Father Cyr, who has been in charge of this parish since the death of Father Joyner, left on Sunday to take up his new duties as curate at Rogersville. After mass on Sunday Father Cyr was presented with an address and a purse. The address was read in English by William Emmett McMonagle, and in French by Dr. Guy. Little Misses Burgess and Martin presented the purse in a silver basket decorated with flowers. The purse contained over $300. During his stay here Father Cyr has become very popular, both with his own people and of others outside his congregation. He carries with him the best wishes of all for his future success. Rev. Father Albert, late of Shippegan, who is to take charge of the parish, is expected this week.

TAKING HIS MEDICINE

If every class of men in this country had been hit as hard during the past twelve months as the farmers we would have had a panic without equal in the nation's history. For when it comes to standing up and "taking the gaff" the farmer is in a class by himself.

And still there are people who think that the frequent reference to the stability of the farmer comes from those who only seek to win favors from him. Yet they must admit, if they will consider prices and conditions in this country, that if there is a set of men capable of coming up smiling in the face of hard luck, the farmer composes that set. They have taken their losses and plunged in to produce more to fight their way out.

It is not surprising when a calf brings 6c on the farm and 60c on the restaurant table that the farmer is taking steps to see what can be done toward improving the marketing of things he raises; to try to reduce the wide gap between himself and the ultimate consumer of his products. No other business-man can point to as wide a margin between that which he turns out at his factory and the price the consumer has to pay for it. That's why we say the farmer, in refusing to quit and let the country starve to death, is setting an example which other citizens might find well worthy of emulation.

BEATRICE BULL KILLED BY AUTO

Fredericton, Aug. 21.—Beatrice Bull, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lebaron Bull of this city was killed about 11.30 yesterday morning. She was playing on a bicycle in the street when a car belonging to Estey & Curtis, druggists, and driven by Herbert Rogers crashed into her.

Rogers declares that he was traveling about five or six miles per hour at the time.

The child was caught under the left front mud guard and dragged about thirty feet before the car was stopped. The left front wheel passed over her shoulder, it is said, and she may have received a fractured skull.

The girl arose when the car was stopped, walked about thirty feet back. When she reached the sidewalk in front of her home she dropped and died a few moments afterwards.

The driver of the car and Donald Rogers, his 14-year-old brother, remained at the place. The driver willingly gave his version of the accident to the chief of the police coroner, who questioned him. Rogers is a native of Woodstock, and although not a licensed chauffeur, according to the records of the public works department, had evidently been in the habit of driving the car and was apparently an experienced and capable driver.

An inquest will be held next Wednesday evening.

Thistle of Hartland is a nephew. Mr. Thistle was the first druggist to locate in Hartland, opening a store in 1890 and continuing in business here until 1898. He was a progressive citizen, a good neighbor and generous to a fault. There will be many in Carleton county, which was his home for so many years, who will learn of his death with regret.

SOME SMILES

Absolutely!

"Hereafter there will be absolutely no smoking in barracks at any time," bellowed a captain in Hartland, New Jersey, after a fire caused by a forgotten butt had been quelled. "Absolutely! Not at any time!" Then he paused and added as an afterthought in a louder bellow even than before: "Especially at night!"—American Legion Weekly.

The Grand Essential.

"What is the plot of your new play?"

"We haven't begun to think about that," replied the producing manager. "But you say you have a sure winner."

"We certainly have. We thought up a risqué title that'll bring the people in as soon as they read the billboards."

Spelling the Show.

"I understand the magician's performance was broken up in disorder."

"Yes. While he was levitating Princess Oompa, a careless stage hand left a door open and exposed her to a strong draft."

"Well?"

"She began to swing, and a ribald patron in the gallery shouted: 'Book-a-By, baby!'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

An Ingenious Thing.

Mrs. Mason, who had just had installed an electric cooking stove, asked her maid, Nora, what she thought of it.

"To me, mum," said Nora, "it seems like a great invention. When you and Mr. Mason were away for over Sunday, mum, I burned it all the time, mum, and there seems to be plenty of electricity still left!"

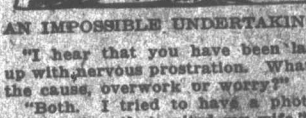

Light-Headed.

The lights were very low, and stillness reigned in the back parlor. Presently a female voice was heard: "Freddie, dear!"

"Yes, angel."

"Does my head seem heavy on your shoulder?"

"No, darling. It is very light, indeed!"

An Impossible Undertaking.

"I hear that you have been laid up with nervous prostration. What's the cause, overwork or worry?"

"Both. I tried to have a photograph taken that suited my wife."

Best Way Out.

When Gracie hints that he is short and starts the same old song, he is short. But just remark, "So long!"

Place to Park Cars.

Styles—I see that pawnbroker on the next block has started an automobile department in connection with his business.

Myself—I understand so. Do you expect to park your car there about?"

Saw His Mouth.

Belle—Did his face express any emotions while I was singing?

Bessie—Really, I don't know. "Why, couldn't you see his face from where you sat?"

"No," he was yawning.

MINISTER DISCUSSES HIS WIFE'S TROUBLES

Rev. A.H. Sykes, former pastor of the Watkins Park Presbyterian church, Nashville, Tenn., says:

"After seeing what Tanlac has accomplished in my wife's case, I am convinced that it is a medicine of great power and extraordinary merit. I do not think I have seen anything give such prompt results. Mrs. Sykes has been in delicate health for ten months, suffering from stomach trouble and nervous breakdown.

"I frequently sought medical advice but Tanlac is the only thing that gave her any relief. After taking the medicine only a short time, she was able to sit up and help with the household duties. I think it only a short time until her health will be fully restored."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Tedford was the principle speaker, telling us of similar organizations in the west, how they were managed, etc. The talk was certainly good, an inspiration to press on, not only in our worldly affairs, but also not to neglect the spiritual side which by far the most important. The next meeting will be at C. P. Wasson's.

KELLY-ANDERSON

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place on Wednesday, August 17, at high noon, when Beulah Isabel, only daughter of the late Wm. Anderson, and Mrs. Nellie Anderson, was united in marriage with Burton Kelly at the home of the bride, by the Rev. Mr. Flemmington, in the presence of about 75 invited guests. The bridal party entered the parlor, which had been decorated with hydrangea sweet peas and golden rod, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. B. C. Palmer, and took their places under a beautiful arch of evergreen, intermingled with crimson hollyhocks, nasturtiums and scarlet runners. First came the best man, Walter Riddle, then the groom, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Mary Davidson, then came the bride leaning on the arm of her uncle, John McNair. The bride looked charming in a handsome travelling suit of copper brown, with feathered hat to match. She carried a lovely shower bouquet of sweet peas. The bridesmaid also looked pretty in a dainty gown of Copenhagen blue, with a white collar. The groom wore the convention black, and the best man, a suit of brown. Immediately after congratulations a sumptuous dinner was served, the Misses Lillian Larlee, Christine, Annie and Grace Anderson, made dainty waitresses. After a few minutes of social chat, the happy couple left in an auto which had been decorated with flowers, tin cans, bells, and various inscriptions, for the depot, where amidst a shower of confetti, they left on the down-express for Woodstock and other points, for a brief honeymoon, after which they will return home. Miss Emma Palmer opened the door, and Miss Lillian Larlee, ushered the guests. The presents, were both beautiful and costly, and included furniture, linen, pyrex ware, aluminum, silver and cash.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace, to the bridesmaid an onyx ring, and the best man, a watch chain. The bride, who is one of our most popular young ladies, has been the very efficient stenographer for G. B. McLaughlin for the past two years. The groom, who was formerly of Woodstock, is the obliging druggist at the Regal Pharmacy. Both he and the best man took part in the Great War.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly have a host of friends who wish them a long and prosperous voyage over the Matrimonial Sea. Among those coming from a distance to attend the wedding were: Miss Smith, Fredericton; Mrs. D. Cluff, Mrs. Henderson, Woodstock; Mrs. Howard, Riley Brook; Mr. and Mrs. John McNair, Wapke; Mrs. E. Craig, Miss Alma Craig, Hillside; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Anderson and family, Kintore; Miss Hafford, Arthurville, and Mrs. Herbert Dionne of Gladwyn.

FAITHFUL UNTO DEATH.

Mike McGinnis and Jerry McGinnis, nationally unknown, had been buddies in the rock-blasting gang.
Owing to a premature explosion, Jerry got blasted with the rock, and Mike, in a quandary, wired for instructions. He was told to ship the remains to the nearest undertaker.
Mike scrupulously gathered up all McGinnis's belongings, even to the broken clay pipe, and sent them to the undertaker with this telegram:
"As per orders of the boss I ship
you the remains of Jerry McGinnis.
But what will I do with the body?"

A Memory of Youth.
"Your little party last night was splendid," said an intimate friend of Mr. Wadleigh.
"Thank you," replied Mr. Wadleigh.
"I don't mind telling you as an old acquaintance that it cost me in the neighborhood of $10,000, and I didn't enjoy myself half as much as I did the first time I ever spent a whole dollar on a girl."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Egotist.
"I understand you have barred
Three-Finger Sam from the poker game."
"Yes," answered Cactus Joe, "for his egotism."
"How do you mean, 'egotism'?"
"He got an idea he had some kind of a divine right that prevented anybody from ever holdin' four aces except himself."

IT CAN BE DONE.
"A man should never talk about what he does not understand."
"Well, sometimes he can get away with it, if he's sure his audience doesn't understand it either."

Pleasant Neighbors.
When the scrapple begins
They have quite a bout,
For he never gives in
And she never gives out.

Relative Rank.
"And do you think I would prove a satisfactory mate with whom to sail
the sea of life?" he asked softly.
"Oh, so-so," the maiden responded coolly. "You'd do pretty well as a mate, I guess, if you clearly understood who was captain."—Country Gentleman.

One Way of Argument.
Gibson—I must have convinced Partridge.
Benjamin—Why do you think that?
Why he held opposite views to me at first, but later he readily agreed with me."
"Perhaps you only tired him."

No Blues There.
"Pa, if we were living in the center of the earth, we'd have lots of fun, wouldn't we?"
"Why should we, my son?"
"Cause my geography says everything there loses its gravity."—Boston Transcript.

Her Experience.
"Now, girls."
"Yes."
"If you refuse to let a man kiss you he'll think you are worth running after."
"Maybe so. But many of the men are easily scared off."

never cries as much in summer as in winter.

Stated Financially.
"Edith is one of those girls whose interest in a man is governed by his wealth."
"I see; the greater the principal, the greater the interest."—Boston Transcript.

HOME PRODUCT

"I wonder if she wrote her graduating exercise herself?"
"I don't know about that, but I'm money. Does yours?"

"No; the people she buys things from do that."—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Color Match.
"What makes Richard so fearfully jealous of his blue-eyed fiancée?"
"I guess it is the green-eyed mo-star."

eyes and think. "How about the nights are getting! Yet it's certainly daylight. Well, just one darned day after another!" Nights are short. The touching innocence of the hen victimizes it to the extent of getting only six hours' sleep a night. Night-hour day! Why, the chicken works as long as the farmer!—The Nation's Business.

—next at home.

I was busy cleaning my gas stove when the door bell rang. I was just about to open the door when I saw it was our pastor. So I stood back behind the door and told my little son, Louis, to open the door and tell him I was at the store.

But he pushed the door so far back that my toes stuck out from under the door—and when Louis told him I was out, he laughed and said: "All right, sonny, but the next time your mamma goes out, tell her to take her feet with her."

I have a chain on the door now—Exchange.

Genuine coral may be red, pink, white, blue, yellow, green or black, the last being the rarest and most highly prized. The next valuable is the red coral, which is susceptible to a high polish and is much in use for jewelry, being the coral of commerce.

Coral is roughly classed under two heads, the horny corals and the lime or stone corals. To the former belong the red and black forms and the white to the latter. Red coral is chiefly found in the Mediterranean. The corals found on the Atlantic coast of Florida are the lime, or stone corals, which are the reef-building forms.

Good Reason.

"You needn't be alarmed about women running for office, now so many of them can vote."

"I'm not. They couldn't do it in the present style of dress."

KNIFE ENDED ALL SQUAWKING

Pets of Clemenceau No Longer Granted Disturbance After Undergoing a Slight Operation.

M. Clemenceau's love of pets, of which much has appeared in the press since his recent visit to London, once involved him in trouble with his neighbors. Twelve years ago, during his first term as premier, he had a number of peacocks and storks installed in the gardens attached to the ministry of the interior. There are no trees in these gardens, only lawn and flower beds, which in M. Clemenceau's opinion lack animation—hence the peacocks. But other people living in the Place Beauvau complained that these birds were too animated, their cries being so persistent as to render sleep impossible.

Things reached such a pass that the prefect of police was asked to inflict his official superior for disturbing the peace of his neighbors, who were all the more indignant because M. Clemenceau was home every night to sleep at his flat in the Rue Franklin, far out of the range of the peacocks' cries. However a scandal was averted by the premier allowing a slight operation to be performed on the vocal chords of his pets, which, without otherwise injuring them, rendered them incapable of squawking.

And Still Eggs Are High!

The hens need a walking delegate. Grinding the peaks of the poor unprotected fowls seems to be the modern poultier's long suit. Witness the modern working day of an unhappy hen on an up-to-date chicken farm, where as many as 18,000 eggs are hatched at one time.

Electric light has done it. The lights burn steadily until 10 p. m. At 4 a. m. they are turned on gradually until their full glare wakes the hens. The poultry then sit up and rub their eyes and think. "How about the nights are getting! Yet it's certainly daylight. Well, just one darned day after another!" Nights are short. The touching innocence of the hen victimizes it to the extent of getting only six hours' sleep a night. Night-hour day! Why, the chicken works as long as the farmer!—The Nation's Business.

Genuine coral may be red, pink, white, blue, yellow, green or black, the last being the rarest and most highly prized. The next valuable is the red coral, which is susceptible to a high polish and is much in use for jewelry, being the coral of commerce.

Coral is roughly classed under two heads, the horny corals and the lime or stone corals. To the former belong the red and black forms and the white to the latter. Red coral is chiefly found in the Mediterranean. The corals found on the Atlantic coast of Florida are the lime, or stone corals, which are the reef-building forms.
