It can be truly said that nothing could enlighten one's views and enlarge one's understandings more materially than an evening with Mr. Kihl. His music, with evening with Mr. Kihl. His music, with its beautiful strains of limpid feeling, touches of sweet tenderness and images of innocent happiness, seems to penetrate those sacred recesses of the soul, where music is born and nourished and inhales immortal vigor and wings itself for its heavenward flight.

Next Wednesday evening Mr. Kihl is to play numbers by Schumann and Liszt.

The Joyousness of the New Spring Modes

Today, after weeks and months of preparation, we announce opening spring display and summon all who appreciate fine distinctions in tashions to view these latest authoritative modes.

Paris has "perked up" and is again casting the influence of its fashion artistry across the ocean. The radiance, richness and refinement reveal an unrestrained note of nations at peace and prepared for the production of things of pleasure and beauty.

In our suits, gowns, frocks, millinery and other contributions to women's fashion and finery, we have adapted styles that are most appealing to Canadian women of discrimination. We've modified the extremes and moderated the expense in a manner you will appreciate when you view this opening spring display.

Sam echinsky Is Dismissed in Police Court Today.

Sam Lechinsky, 554 South street, was n police court this morning on a charge of selling groceries Sunday, but was dismissed.

On Sunday evening Police Constables Gavin Monahan and William Gow were lishment and operation of air harbors must be carried out by responsible authorities. Further all registered or licensed air harbors, aircraft and aviators automatically come under the direct control of the Government if and when required for national defence.

This makes it practically certain that airharbors, aerodromes or landing grounds must be established and maintained by municipalities and public corporations.

It is pointed out that the development of commercial aviation will be very serithe sugar for 18 cents from Lechinsky. In the witness box she said she ha been sent to the store on Saturday night for several parcels, and that she had forgotten the sugar until Sunday. The reason that she told the other stories to the constables was that she was frightened.

Magistrate Graydon warned the defendant to be very careful as to what he did, as he had been appearing in police court too frequently of late.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

THE VAUDEVILLE ISSUE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
The evening papers carry a story in regard to questionable vaudeville acts, which, I, as manager of the Grand Opera House, feel requires some explanation. Mrs. John Gemmil, president of the Mothers' Clubs, informed our representative that the name of the Grand Opera House was not mentioned by any of the ladies in the discussion which took place at the meeting of the clubs on the subject of vaudeville acts. This house presents Keith's vaudeville for the entertainment of its patrons. This, in itself, is guarantee of quality, but no bill is presented to an audience in the Grand without first being rehearsed so that any objectionable features may be eliminated by the management. And, in addition, the Keith people keep a man constantly on the road watching the various acts, so that salacious and indecent "turns" shall not have a place on a Keith bill.

The Grand Opera House stands on its record of many years in London, and I am confident that your sense of

OPPOSES PROHIBITION

(Canadian Press.)
OTTAWA, March 3.—W. F. Cock-shutt (Conservative-Unionist, Brantford), in the debate on the address in the House this afternoon, expressed the opinion that a large part of the prevalent unrest was attributable to the fact that peace was not really here. He drew attention to the situation in the United States, saying that our neighbors to the south should be told that they had no right to involve the other nations of the world in chaos, while they fought out their political battles. Up to the present, he said. he had seen no proclamation from any of the great nations which would indi-cate that peace was really here. He thought that the peace treaty and League of Nations should have been kept separate. After the peace had been signed, sealed and delivered, the League of Nations might have been

COCKSHUTT DECLARES the Hon. Mackenzie King in reference to unrest and Bolshevism, Mr. King had blamed the war for all the unrest. That was the general tendency today, However, Mr. Cockshutt thought there were other causes. You could not remove the unrest by overthrowing this or that government. It was due to the fact that the people were straying away from the ideas which their fathers had held. Empty churches and unopened Bibles had a great deal to do with the present frame of mind in Canada. The removal of the Government would not prove a panacea. A change had been effected in Ontarlo, yet there had been little, if any, decrease in the amount of unrest in the FARMERS' MOVE IS A

Conservative-Unionist Mem-

The Brantford Representative

Mr. Cockshutt thought the governorgeneral would smile when he read the amendment which Mr. King would make in the address, particularly it he remembered what had happened in the last election. The speaker wondered if Mr. King would seek election himself in Ontario. He warned the Opposition leader that the Ontario people were still in that frame of mind where they would ask, "What did you do in the war?" In the face of this situation, the member for Brantford thought Mr. King would be wise to avoid election contests as long as possible. Give Partial Account. Give Partial Account.
Sir George Foster had given a partial account of what the Union Government had accomplished. Mr. Cockshutt quoted from a special issue of the Montreal Gazette in reference to the prosperity in Canada and the growth in both home and foreign trade.

Mr. Cockshutt praised the Governtrade.

Mr. Cockshutt praised the Government for its policy on railways, and believed that the Government-owned roads would show a substantial balance on the right side. As to labor, no workmen in the world today had better pay or working conditions no workmen in the world today had better pay or working conditions.

"The agrarian movement, I believe is a dangerous movement," said Mr. Cockshutt, referring to the farmers' movement. They had a chance to see what an agrarian government could do in Ontario. It might be all right as a test, but he would hate to see an agrarian government in control at Ottawa. He described the agrarian movement as directed toward class legislation, and he would sooner have the party system restored than the introduction of any class system.

Prefers Party System. Were Other Causes.

AGAINST INFLUENZA

The 'flu has again made its appearance and every home should safeguard its inmates against the epidemic. The initial symptoms of the disease are practically the same as those of a cold in the head. Consequently no appearance of such complaint should be neglected.

As soon as the first sign of a coldas neeze, a sniffle, running of the nose, etc.—appears, the sufferer should start taking Grip-Fix. This preparation is composed of ingredients which meet.

The add and depraved as the old party system may be, I would sooner see my honorable friend opposite leading a government in this House than to see any one class in control," he said, adding: "If my honorable friend from Marquette, who is said to be alming at the next premiership of Canada comes here at the head of an agrarian party I hope he will not forget the little chaps outside such a party."

Turning to prohibition, Mr. Cockshutt said he believed it had not justified the expectations of its friends. He was vary disappointed to read that a great wave of crime had swept over this and other countries during the past year, although he could not ascribe that to prohibition. He still believed that more good could be done by moral suasion and the propounding of right doctrines than by legislation forcing a man to be good against his own will.

Justified Existence.

Justified Existence.

The Government, Mr. Cockshutt thought, had justified its existence, but unionist principles could not be expected to flourish if "we remain still unionist principles could not be expected to flourish if "we remain still in the House of Commons and let the other fellows do all the talking."

Dr. Fontaine of Hull said that by endeavoring to settle labor troubles in the United States, Mr. King had done more to win the war than all the votes which Mr. Cockshutt had cast for his friends.

Mr. Davis Neppays the relationship of the control of friends.

Mr. Davis, Neepawa, thought Mr. King would not find many western members supporting his demand for a general election. The West would prefer to wait until the redistribution following the next census gave it the expected additional seats. He advocated increased taxation as a remedy for the present inflation of the currency which had risen from $2 to $30 per head of the population.

the population.

Mr. Turgeon of Gloucester, N.B., was the last speaker of the day.

Mr. H. P. Whidden of Brandon moved the adjournment at 5:45 p.m.

Trahan Continues Debate.

Arthur Trahan of Nicolet continued the debate. He reviewed the attitude of Quebec towards the Government's policy since the outbreak of war. When war was declared, he said, there was unanimimty of opinion that it was the duty of Canada to help Great Britain and her allies and to insure the triumph of their cause.

nomic patriotism."

An infernal Law.

Mr. Trahan characterized the military service act as an infernal law which had been used to win the last election. He declared that a campaign of prejudice against Quebec, during which citizens of that province were dubbed "slackers" and "cowards," had been conducted at the time of the election because they asked for a referendum on the question of conscription. We referred to the Government as a "Tory, Imperialist, Unionist Government." The administration, he said had broken faith with the farmer in the matter of conscription. When a delegation of farmers came to Ottawa to protest, the door was slammed in their faces.

Mr. Trahan, to the amusement of French members, described Mr. Burnham as having risen with "a gesture of heroic comedy" to demand if Mr. Gauthier's words of yesterday were intended as a threat.

No Idea of Revenge.

rended as a threat.

No Idea of Revenge.

"We have no interest in discussing with people who want a conference."

Mr. Trahan went on, "without saying with what motives they want it."

Mr. Trahan proceeded that Mr. Gauthier had not made the statement with any idea of revenge. It reflected the unanimous opinion of Quebec. "It is our personal dignity," Mr. Trahan proceeded: "it is our pride of conscience which declines to accept these courtesies from the West and from Ontario to divide us in order that we may be the better controlled."

Mr. Trahan claimed that if there were threats of social upheaval in Canada, the fault was not entirely that of the Government. So-called friends of the farmer, like Mr. Crerar and Dr. Clark, were responsible for having associated themselves with racial cries and with attacks on a province which associated themselves with racial cries and with attacks on a province which had always done—its duty, and which in toleration was an example to other Condemns Centralization.

Mr. Trahan quoted the resolution from the National Liberal convention held here in August last condemning the policy of centralization of the empire in London. He then proceeded to deal with a mass of great naval plans and militarism. Shipbuilding profiteers were making much money when more economical uses might have been found for it. When the country was half-bankrupt it was no time for branch-Condemns Centralization. for it. When the country was hair-bankrupt it was no time for branch-ing out with military and naval plans, it would be well to resist such plans as were put forward in London and outlined by Lord Jellicoe. Tax-free Victory Loans were for the benefit of the capitalists against the poor people. One and a half million persons had escaped paying income

Mr. Trahan vigorously, condemned state ownership, which, he said, had been strongly opposed by such men as Lloyd George and Asquith in Great Britain, and Premier Millerand of France. State ownership minimized initiative and materialized rather than intellectualized the workers.

Greater Production. Greater Production.

Speaking of the eight-hour day, Mr.

Trahan urged the necessity for greater production in order that the national debt might be reduced. The eight-hour day, he said, would still further discriminate between city and country

Reasons Why This Company Deserves the Confidence of Investors

This Company has two aims—first, to make money, and second, to make itself useful in the production of those natural resources which are so urgently needed in every branch of industry.

Why We Took Up Oil First

There are two reasons why. The first reason, we frankly confess, is because Oil offers the quickest and surest way of amassing big profits. There is no honest way known among men that turns a moderate investment into such tremendously rich dividends so rapidly and with such certainty as real oil wells. The other reason is because a remarkable opportunity came to us. By a fortunate chance we got into touch with parties who had gathered together one of the most valuable strips of oil land leases to be found in one holding on the Burkburnett oil field. These leases contro, 4,518 acres of land in a strip right through the proven oil-producing area. There is scarcely any of this land that will not produce oil. An eminent geologist pronounces that he considers only 3 per cent of this land likely to be unproductive. We secured 60 per cent of this acreage for $230,000 cash.

What Are These Leases Worth?

Not far from us 36 acres sold for $1,000,000 cash, and right adjoining one of our lots one acre sold for $25,000. Our leases could be sold right now for several million dollars' profit. Why don't we sell? Because there is more money in operating oil wells than there is in quick turns on leases, and, besides, there is not another chance in the world of securing such a location and such a large acreage as we now hold in the wonderful Burkburnett Field. We are, extremely satisfied with what we have, and expect a series of wells will be drilling in a very short time.

It Takes Money To Make Oil Wells Profitable

Some have asked why we sell our stock. "If it's good, why don't you keep it?" For the same reasons that, at this very moment the Standard Oil constituent companies are seeking more capital; the Royal Dutch Company is seeking more capital; the Texas Company, the Sinclair Consolidated, and, in fact, scores of big prosperous oil concerns are seeking more capital. It takes big capital to make big profits. These shares are not offered at par, but at a considerable premium, which emphasizes the value of being shareholders before the prices advance. No individuals with business sense have idle money enough to finance these demands, and, if a person were to sell securities to provide cash for these enterprises, it would upset the security market. No; the only feasible way is to have public support and to give the public a chance to welp finance the project and share in the profits.

Will You Join Us In This Attractive Enterprise?

We want Canadians to have a chance to get some portion of the millions and millions of money that are being made every month in the Texas Oil Fields. We have a dominating acreage in the choicest locality with a cash value in excess of the entire capitalization of the operating company yet to be formed with a capital of $5,000,000.00. Shares in Canadian-American Resources, Limited, participate in this company 60 per cent, holdings in the subsidiary companies, which will give an immediate valuable asset to all out-

We Will Soon Start Drilling, and When the Oil Flows the Shares Will Advance in Price

Arrangements are now being considered for a prompt start at drilling. Our Superintendent, Mr. Scarborough, who has spent his life in Texas, and has been in the oil fields from the beginning, and who is interested in our company, will soon have deliveries of materials on the ground for erecting Derricks and putting down holes. He expects to strike oil in nine out of ten holes, and at a depth of not more than 2,200 feet. This makes economical drilling, and reduces the first cost and increases the margin of profit.

The Burkburnett Oil Field Extracts from the Official Publication of the Forth Worth, Texas, Chamber of Commerce:

N the latter part of July, 1912, a well on the S. L. Fowler farm on the northern edge of the Burkburnett town in Wichita County, was brought in. It had been drilled by a stock company organized by Fowler and his neighbors and capitalized for only $12,000.00. A production rivalling that of some of the biggest wells was carried at a depth of 1.744 feet. A wild stampede for acreage followed the bringing in of the Fowler well. A well can be drilled at a cost of $8,000 to $12,000. Derricks went up like magic. Small companies capitalized at from $12,000 to $100,000 flourished in the Burkburnett field. In the most part, stock in these companies was bought by the small investors, many of whom reaped a rich harvest. During the last year, companies operating in the Burkburnett field and its extension have paid dividends of $3,880,660, an average of 274% on the entire amount of their capitalization. In several instances investors received from $10 to $33 for every $1.00 invested.

Wichita County, in which the Burkburnett, Electra and Iowa Park fields are located, produced a new sensation about Nov. 1st. 1919, when a well said to be good for 500 to 1,000 barrels was prought in, about 20 miles southwest of Burkburnett. Stock in this company rose from $1.00 to $2,500 per share in three days. Immediately afterwards, two wells in the Red River Bottom, northwest of the Northwest Burkburnett field, were brought in proving conclusively that the limit of this field has not yet been found. The magnitude of the operations and of the ocean of oil underneath in the North Texas Oil Field is indicated by the fact that on Nov. 1st, 1919, there were 2,259 drilling wells in the new North Texas field. This number exceeds the wells in the Oklahoma fields and in the Kansas fields, showing that the North Texas field has outdistanced them all "in the quantity of its production and the confidence of capitalists. It has been conservatively estimated that $1,000,000,000.00 (one billion dollars), has been invested in oil leases in Texas." Scarcely a week has passed since the first discovery without one or another of the fields being extended or a new pool being discovered. There are eight refineries in Fort Worth City alone, five more under construction, and seven more projected, which when completed will give a daily capacity of 106,500 barrels. The price of crude oil is rising. In November it was $2.50 per barrel. Since November, crude oil rose to $2.75, then $3, and Feb. 1st, 1620, was bringing $3.25. Reliable authorities predict $4 per barrel in a very short time. This means that at the time these figures were collected, November. 1919, the value of the oil production in the New Texas fields was more than $250,000,000 per year. Of all the pools in Texas, the largest producing field is Burkburnett, with a monthly production of 26,865,757 barrels. Immediately afterwards, two wells in the Red River Bottom, OMORROW and days following will mark the advent of the charming new spring creations at Fashion Headquarters. Keeping pace with the ever-increasing patronage accorded us, we have made many changes in our establishment, providing larger departments, consequently larger stocks, affording a diversity of styles and materials. Our suit department has been enlarged, our dress department has been moved to the second floor-a daylight floor, where milady can revel in the beauty and splendor of the late arrivals amidst a charming atmosphere of comfort. Milady will find our new and improved shop a delightful spot in which to view and select the season's smartest apparel,

Our tuyers have been covering the markets of the country for the past three months—the results of their efforts are reflected in the beautiful new creations now on our floors. Tomorrow will afford you an initial showing of the new arrivals.

The very smartest of the new arrivals are lavishly trimmed-and almost invariably of the ever-popular standard serges and tricotines that have been so thoroughly practical and serviceable in other years.

Moderately priced from $29.75 to $125.00

Party-Line Consideration

two-party line is a single circuit, shared in common by two subscribers. It is not reserved for a single user, and should be used on the share-and-share-alike basis.

On a two-party line it is possible for both users to try to talk out on the same circuit at the same time. There is also the liability of both being wanted at the same time to receive incom-

Therefore there are special considerations which we urge a party-line user to keep in mind:

- 1. Long conversations prevent the use of the line by the other subscriber; therefore, party-line talks should be as brief as possible.
- 2. Whenever another party-line subscriber requests the use of the line for an emergency, courtesy should prompt the first user temporarily to give up the use of the line.
- 3. Whenever a party-line subscriber takes the receiver from the hook and finds the line in use, the receiver should be replaced at once in a careful manner.
- 4. At the end of a conversation the receiver should be replaced upon the hook immediately; otherwise the other subscriber cannot

ITALIANS GROWING

BITTER BECAUSE OF

Says Hard Work and Moder ation Are His Country's Slogans.

Rome, March 4.—The Giornale d'Italia, commenting today on the exchange of communications between President Wilson and the allied premiers with regard to the Adriatic controversy, says the discussion is "producing a painful impression on the Italians, owing to the sour opposition of the American president to Italy's aspirations, which are founded both on right and on sentiment." and on sentiment."
"He does not take into account," the newspaper continues, "the help given by Italy to the cause of human freedom. He depicts Italy as desirous for dominion and greedy for territory insisting on the fable of Italian imperialism, while the Jugo-Slavs have annexed Bulgarians, Rumanians, Magyars, Austrians, Italians, Albanians and Montenegrins more numerous that the 400,000 Slavs whom we would annex to obtain a softentiar. to obtain a safe frontier. "President Wilson depicts the Jugo "President Wilson depicts the Jugo-Slavs as the victims and the Italians as the oppressors. This artificial manoguvre proves the injustice of his attitude, the animosity of which natu-rally is not realized by the Americans. How can President Wilson speak of Italian imperialism when he allowed Czecho-Slovakia to annex 3,000,000 Germans?"

PREMIER NITTI SEES DANGER OF EUROPE LOSING POSITION

London, March 4 .- Europe is in dan ger of permanently losing the position she held in the world before the out-break of the world war, says Premier Nitti of Italy, th an interview printed by the Manchester Guardian today. He Mayor MacBride has intimated that points out that Europe is no longer a creditor, but is on the debit side of the edger.
Public order in Italy is good, says the premier, and if that country could get er minimum requirements in coal foodstuffs and raw materials, she would be able to reconstitute herself econom-"No attention must be paid to rumors about bolshevism," he continues. "Hard work and moderation are the slogans of Italy at the present moment." Only brief allusion to the Adriatic problem is made in the interview. "We shall find a way out," says the premier, "and we and the Jugo-Slavs will be friends. Feeling naturally exists over Fiume, because the future of some Italians is immediately concerned but these are really questions of statistics and not of wild ambitions.

"What, after all, is Italy demanding in the Adriatic? She wants strips of territory the population of which is less than the Italian casualties in the war. Do not confuse issues by talking of secret treaties.

omit flowers. IN MEMORIAM. KEOWN—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, George, who passed away fourteen years ago, March 4, 1906;

The moon and stars are shining On a lone and silent grave, Where sleeping without dreaming Lies one we could not save. In dreams we see his dear, sweet face,

And kiss his cold brow.
And whisper as we loved to then,
We love your memory now.
—Loving Wife and Daughter. ROSS—In loving memory of Fred L. V. Ross, who passed away three years ago today, March 4, 1917; What peaceful hours we once enjoyed, How sweet their memory still, But they have left an aching void

The world can never fill.

--Wife and Family. CARD OF THANKS. Mr. and Mrs. Fleetwood Knowlys and family wish to extend a word of thanks to friends and relatives for the kind sympathy and floral tributes extended in their recent sad bereavement in the loss of their daughter. Mrs. Harry Baillie (formerly Viola Knowlys).

KATHARINE MACDONALD AT LOEW'S FOR REST OF THE WEEK. Katharine McDonald, known as the most beautiful woman on the screen, will be seen in her latest screen success, "The Thunderbolt," today, Friday and Saturday. It is a heart interest story of the strangest marriage on re-cord. On their wedding night he said "you shall never be a mother—never know the touch of a baby's hand. I married you, not because I love you, but, because I hate you and all your familier." Imagine the husband of lamily." Imagine the husband of a beautiful woman starting his married life that way—but no man is a match for a clever woman who loves. See "The Thunderbolt."

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT. GRAND TONIGHT.

With its delightful, pure and appealing sentiment, the greatest of all comedy-dramas, Denman Thompson's The Old Homestead," will be presented at the Grand tonight only at 8:15.

"The Old Homestead" teils the story of the Whitcomb family, who owned a little farm near Swanzey, New Hampshire. They were kind-hearted folks, who made the world a great deal better for their having lived in it. Uncle Joshua was a quaint character full of who made the world a great deal better for their having lived in it. Uncle Joshua was a quaint character full of wise sayings and the Poor Richard of that part of the country. This lovable character is now portrayed by William Lawrence and made famous by the late Denman Thompson. Before his death Mr. Thompson told Mr. Lawrence that he hoped that he would continue as "Uncle Josh," as the play would outlive him and run on indefinitely. His prediction has been true, as the play is now on its thirty-third annual tour. Augustus Pitou Inc. are presenting the only authorized version with all the famous features of years ago. "LISTEN LESTER" AT THE GRAND TOMORROW AND SATURDAY. Coming from a year's run at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, "Listen Lester," John Cort's musical comedy success by Harry L. Cort, Geo. E. Stoddard and Harold Orlob, will be presented at the Carolina and th resented at the Grand tomorrow and Saturday evenings at 8:15, and Saturday matinee at 2:30, with the entire New York cast, chorus, production and a special company orchestra. Though, to be exact, one should call it a dance instead of a run for from the instead of a run, for from the moment the curtain rises in the first scene, everything dances to a happy and dancy ending wherein an important packet of letters, which is in itself the danciest and most elusive thing in the play is returned to its rightful owner, meanwhile the feet, and what is more important, the hearts of the spectators are dancing merrily along in time to the music, and all personal troubles are forgotten. The atom is the blue of the music and all personal troubles are the music, and all personal troubles are forgotten. The story is jolly and entertaining, and the lyrics are rythmic and full of swing, and the music tinkly and tuneful. The scenery is artistic, the costuming is effective, and the chorus is the daintiest, danciest that ever took an audience by storm. The excellent cast with Mayme Gehrue, Mirlam Folger, Jean Thomas, Cecil Williams, Virginia Watson, Florence De Barr, Frances, Anderson, Florida, Bellaire, Irving Brooks, Joseph Mack, Jean Leoni, Gus Shy, John L. Lyons, Murray Hart, Mark Thompson, Andrew Leigh, is of superior excellence. Seats now on sale.

THEATRE TODAY. An excellent double feature program is presented by the Allen Theatre to-day, tomorrow and Saturday, headed by a special adaptation of one of Mark Twain's famous boy stories, 'Tom Sawyer," played by Jack Pickford and Huckleberry Fina by Robert Goldon This picture of the two famous boys, whose adventures nearly everyone has pored over in books in their young days, is a picture for the entire family, a photoplay that both father and con will enjoy seeing together, a screen story which will help the entire family understand each other better. You will thoroughly enjoy this tale of boyhood mischievousness and the high adventures which they encountered in their wanderings around the old Mississippi. Tom Moore's new picture, "Toby's Bow," is a classic of romance and sparkling comedy of the South; the tale of a young New Yorker, who seeks his bride amongst the beautiful women his bride amongst the beautiful women of South Carolina's old families. An exceptional cast supports your favorite star, and his new leading lady is a perfect dream of loveliness.

Be sure you secure an opportunity of seeing the most sensational and startingly daring picture which has everyet passed the censors, "The Eyes of Youth," which plays the Allen Theatre Monday. This is one of the most larger by the service of the service

The humorous work on the evening's program will be carried by Billy Murray and Monroe Silver, both of whom have been before the public for years, and both of whom have won repeated successes. Murray will sing some of the songs which have made him famous, such as "You'd Be Surprised," and "Wait Till You Get Them Up in the Air, Boys." And Silver, who is probably best known for his "Cohen on the Telephone" stories, will tell several of nis Jewish dialect stories and sing some original parodies.

An inspection of an engine was necessary when the whole set of flues were replaced, but not when only one flue was put in. Patches on the boiler or any other repair serious enough to indicate the possibility of danger from steam pressure would from steam pressure would have to be examined by a Government inspector. These examinations were made at the expense of the engine owner, who had to pay all the expenses of the inspector, besides a fee of $5.
