NO LAW EXISTS TO COMPEL LOW RATE, RAILWAY CLAIMS

Seven-and-Nine Legislation Was Fare Inquiry Never Restored, L. S. R. Counsel Argues.

CITY DISPUTES POINT

Low Fares Automatically Recalled in 1924, Says Meredith.

Judgment was reserved by the Ontario railway and municipal board following hearing given the city's case against the London street railway at the county court house this morning.

Pleading "not guilty" to the city's charge that a five-cent rate of fare is illegal, E. B. Ryckman, K.C., chief counsel for the street railway company, contended that the defendants had both a lawful and a moral right to charge five-cent fares. The company entered no defence of the charge that five-cent fares been in vogue since March nad been in vogue since March 8, 1925, when their franchise expired, but argued that there was at present no law compelling them to sell tickets at a rate of seven and nine for 25 cents.

"We are in the same position as if we had been charged under the witchcraft act," counsel for the L. S. R. contended. "We contend that there has been no case proven. We therefore say that we are not guilty. We would ask that the case be dismissed with costs."

Interest in today's hearing lay in the defence of the company. The city's protest and method of procedure in proving charges had already been broadly intimated. Presence of Sir Adam Beck, M.L.A. was hoped for by council supporters of the lower rate of fares, but Sir Adam Beck was reported to be stilf confined to his home through illness. No particular advantage from the one month's delay in hearing was claimed by either side. Bridges and claimed by either side. Dramatic Scenes.

The election of Dr. Pidgeon pro ied one of the most dramatic ments that the deliberations of vided one council has so far produced. Earlier in the day it had been agreed that there was to be a ballot but no nominations, each member balloting for his own choice for moderator. When Dr. W. H. Boys Like Best the Average Girl Who Is Not Too Pretty or Too Well Dressed.

A club of young girls asks: "What sort of a girl do boys like?" That depends upon the boy. There are many men of many minds and Victoria Club Holds Successful every man has a different mind about women. Some men like 'em tall some like

'em short. Some are crazy about baby dolls, and others alore the members of the Victoria mothers' terboxes, while others prefer girls club yesterday, when, with their who are gifted listeners. Some men children and friends, they journeyed like girls with brains, while others some men, while others only fall for the old-fashioned girl. It is all a matter of taste, as you can see by looking about you and observing that no one p.rt!cular arranged on the greens adjacent to type of femininity has a monopol on mesculine attention, or has cor nered the matrimonial market. In fact, homely women and living pic-tures, blondes and brunettes, short-

> Generally speaking, however, the average young man is attracted by what you might call the average girl—that is, the girl who is not ultra in any way -not too-too much anything, if you get what I mean.

For instance, he likes a girl who is pretty rather than beau-tiful. He likes her to be easy on the eyes, but not pulchritudinous enough to ston traffic. It is significant that the best-looking girl in any circle is rarely the most popular or the one who has the most attentions from men. And she seldom makes the Theoretically, men are the slaves of beauty, but they are content to worship it from afar, and when it comes to marrying they are far more likely to pick out a chromo to hang on their walls than they are a living picture.

Similarly, they like the girl who is intelligent, but not too intelligent. They pass up the girl who is beautiful but dumb, but they flee from the high-brow as from the plague. They like girl who has a good, peppy line of conversation and who aoesn't force a chap to work like a coal heaver to entertain her: but wild horses couldn't drag them a second time to see a girl who discoursed on intellectual tonics and was one of our really serious thinkers.

Also they like a girl who dresses well, but not extravagantly. They like to be seen out with a girl who looks smart, and well groomed, and up to the minute, and who knows attending from this city and various how to wear her hair, and fix her other points were Mr. and Mrs. complexion, and pick out a hat. No human rag bags or last year's birds' nests for them.

> But nothing scares a man off quicker than for a girl to dress like a daily hint from Paris. He begins figuring on the cost of all of that glad raiment, and it gives him cold feet. He isn't looking for a wife whose shoe bill would be more than twice what he earns a month.

A boy likes a girl who does things, provided she doesn't do them too well. No man is looking out for a clinging vine in these days. Neither s he seeking for a female to substitute for him as the sturdy oak.

He wants a girl to be athletic, but he does not want one who is stronger than he is and who can outwalk him or outswim him. He likes a giri to be able to play a good game of tennis and golf, but he doesn't want one who can give him a handicap and then beat him at it. The popular girls are those who are content just to string along and play second fiddle to men.

When he takes her to some place of amusement he likes her to show that she appreciates his courtesy, and that she is grate-ful for the good time he gave her; but he doesn't want her to run after him and pester him with attentions. And nothing disgusts him so-quickly as for her to be always calling him up on the telephone, and trying to ma e dates with him. It makes him feel as if she were badgering him to come to see her when he doesn't want to do it, and that she is setting a trap for him and will get him if he doesn't watch

When it comes to what men like in girls, it is just about the stand-ardized line of charms and virtues that the average girl carries.

MOTHERS WANT

Ask Utilities For Accommodation To Care For Infants.

The Mothers' club of the city are united in the opinion that there should be some sort of accommodation at Springbank for mothers with young babies.

The matter came before a recent Tanner presided, with the result that a letter has been forwarded to the public utilities commission asking Among the delegates and visitors to the Eastern Star convention, which is taking place in this city next week, are the following, with their London hostesses: From Toronto: Mrs. E. Mothers with infants, who go to Springbank for a day's fresh air, or even for an hour day's fresh air, or even for an nour or so outing, are able to find no place in which to care for them.

To meet this need temporarily, the Union Mothers' club suggests that a tent be erected at Springbank this summer. If it proves by large pat-ronage that it is needed, permanent quarters might be erected next year. The mothers suggests a large square tent with a woden flor for the best service.

Why is that occasionally a dubb player gets an excellent shot? BY WILLIE OGG England Professional and Massachusetts Open Champion

ROSS SOMERVILLE ENTERS ONTARIO AMATEUR, Ross (Sandy) Somerville will tee off among the big field which has entered for the Ontario amateur title, play for which commences at the Summit course tomorrow. The young London golfer, who made a splendid showing up to the dominion events last year, should have even a better year, with more experience of tournament play behind him. In the interval between the Ontario and the dominion, which opens the end of June at Ottawa, the local man will join Varsity's golf team in a series of inter

London came very close to being the home of a lightweight champion of the world-at least one of the sort that the New York Boxing commission picks out every once in a while. Jimmy Goodrich, who meets a Chilean in the final bout to declare a successor to Benny Leonard, once stated in a local ring that he was about to settle down in London. Goodrich fought Eber here that night and won a decision over the clever Canadian bantamweight champion. Just why it was announced that he was to become a citizen of London was never definitely established. It probably was a ruse on the part of an out-of-town promoter to supply local interest. The house was not large for that particular show, and it is probable that Goodrich may have thought he would have to stay here until he could rake car fare

PERSONAL INTEREST.

With Ross Somerville entered in the Ontario amateur golf competition, which starts tomorrow, and Kermi Marsh and Charles Nixon, professionals at the London Hunt and Highland clubs, respectively, entered in the Ontario open, which commences Monday at the Summit club, Toronto, London's increasing colony of golfers will personal interest in the Ontario titles.

The Ontario ladies' championships each year have attracted a big contingent from London, but this city has so far failed to have adequate representation in the men's events.

It is considered that all three entered in the Ontario have an excellent chance of finishing well in the Summit battles, and with London's growth to a possible four-course size, another year should find more than three competing from the Forest City. The Ontario amateur last year was featured by the sensational playing of Arthur Dorman, a Hamilton player, who reached the finals, where he succumbed to W. J. Thompson, after he had defeated brother Frank in the semi-finals.

KNOTTY'S CANADIAN LEAGUE.

A class "C" professional league embracing Kitchener, Hamilton and London, of the Mint league, and adding other cities which have in the past been associated with professional baseball, is a dream that is steadily approaching nearer.

One thing that is bringing it nearer realization is the growing dislike of the customers to pseudo amateurism. Customers have been heard to ask where the admissions, at prices but slightly lower than professional rates, find their way. One team within long distance call of London is supposed to have handled last year something like $19,000. As there was no actual investment involved, or very little more than any juvenile team faces for equipment, this represents an immense amount of money going somewhere, for very few games. When it is considered that very few of the amateurs play more than twice a week, and not always that, $19,000 is a big sum for the public to lay out for the entertainment given in return.

$19,000 as an approximate figure, or even a good deal less, would give a class "C" league, operating west of Hamilton, and taking in Knotty's suggested cities, a very comfortable feeling. It would give fans a class of ball with which the highest class of amateur baseball could not begin to compare. What is true of baseball is also true of other sports where the element of high and mysterious finance has entered.

* * * * PIONEERS OF A COMING SPORT.

Baseball owes it eminence in sport to writing. The game, attractive as it is itself, would never maintain its position on the athlete heights were it not for the manner in which it is written up. The best writing talent is employed to retail the doings of the game and its players. The tremendous strides that golf has made as a competitor of baseball is also due to the fact that many of the best American sport writers have become golf specialists. Grantland Rice was one of the first to see the possibilities of the game. Numerous others have followed. Tennis is swinging into line, though still afflicted with the player-writer idea. That is, however, one of the growing pains incidental to a thriving game. The idea that a good player in any sport should be a good writer is as fallacious as the conception that a good writer should be a good player. Tennis and golf are great and growing games. In small centres, particularly, they are crowding the noiser sports gradually out of the There isn't any doubt about their status. The much appreciated efforts of present-day tennis writers are part of the tradition of the game now

A general shake-up has been made in the team. Francis Ward of the St. Martins Holy Name team will take Hall's place at short while Paul Mascari of the Marconi Holy Name nine will replace Southeout at second. Ward is a neat little fielder and Mascari is a heavyweight with the sidow. With these two additions, the Orients may soon become the pace-makers in the circuit.

With four victories already under their belts the local McCormick intermediates are cout to make their hold on first place in the Oxford-Middlesex league more secure by winning from St. Marys at Queen's Park here this Saturday afternoon. The McCormick team has taken a leaf from the book of the Orient intermediates and strengthened up with players from the Holy Name league at Sunshine Park. Gardner. Bernie Fitzmaurice. Bert Howard and McGuire, all of the St. Mary's C. A. A. nine, champions of the north end loop last year, are now with the biscuit builders, and, from the showing they made in Ingersoll last Saturday, should tolster up the McCormick outfit considerably. Gardner and Howard are rated as the best catcher and first baseman, respectively, in the north end league, and both are hitters.

Harry Coursey, who held Ingersoll to three hits in the last six Innings in the Cheese Town last Saturday, will likely start in the box for the local intermediates in this week's mingle.

Bakermen Open Home Stay LONDON DOUBLES With Saginaw Here Today

The Bakermen bring the Aces here with them today after profiting one game in the Saginaw series. They are holding the five-game gap between the Hams and themselves closed up, thanks to the gallant week they made of it against the Wetzelmen.

The race has tightened up now to such an extent that relative positions are not liable to change much until some team breaks badly. Hamilton they played here as they've tooked all season, but they made a quick recovery when they got back to the home lot just when it looked as though Michael and his merry men had the Rockefellers on the run.

Had the locals not run into an erratic streak against Kitchener they would be have had the gap with Hamilton closed up to at least three games. The Colts may win a pennant yet—for somebody up to at least three games. The Colts may win a pennant yet—for somebody to the expensive the sentirely due to their sustained winning streak at the expense of the Colts.

The Aces should be a good attraction, the pace they are setting now.

Totals

The K. of P. softball team was beaten last evening by the C. N. R. by a score of 19 to 7. The game was a good exhibition of softball until the fifth inning. It was then that the C. N. R. who are leaders of group three in the city softball league, broke loose and scored most of their runs. The Kaypees, who would lead the league if it were turned upside down, played a plucky game even when luck seemed to be with the C. N. R. The brilliant playing of Warwick saved the Kaypees from utter rout.

Judgin' Babies

Ned Whiskers says that he is through, today he's spillin' out his woe; no more, says Ned, will he go forth a-judgin' at a baby show.

My friend Ned Whiskers, seems to me, he gets in trouble every day, if trouble don't come chasin' him he roots it out some other way I met Ned Whiskers just last night and listened to his tale of woe, for Ned had been a judge, he said, presidin' at a baby show.

"I never thought when I went there just what a job like that would mean. I'm tellin' you it ain't by half the simple job that it

"I felt quite proud to have them come and say as how they'd picked on me, me thinkin' how a chore like that was simple as a thing could be. But when I'd finished of the job I found that folks was seein' red, and friends I'd knowed for twenty years they snubbed me cold and cut me dead.

"There was two prizes to be give, and when they lined up for the show, they had just twenty-seven babes a-sittin' in a single row. The mothers they were all there too, a-holdin' up a child to view. I reckoned then to pick the best it was no easy thing to do

"And all the fathers stood around, they all was former friends of mine, I'd knowed these lads, their fathers too, for back a goodly length of time.

"Well, Lem, he was the other judge, we started in along the line, a-lookin' at each youngster there a-sittin' in that long-strung line. And some they howled, and others crowed, and one just busted in a grin when I come 'long and took my fist and tickled her beneath the chin.

"I guess it was that smile got me, for I just made a note right there, as how that youngster be the best a-showin' in the baby

"Well when they gave the prize to her a chap he comes and says to me, as how a lunatic like me should not be out and runnin' free. Says he 'Our baby should have won, a blinded man could tell you that, she had four teeth at six months old, she's dimpled up in butter fat.'

"And then another come," says Ned, "with fire sunk deep within her eye, and lookin' much as though she be most ready to bust up and cry. She told me how her folks and ours had been such friends for thirty years, and I could see as how she was just primed for spillin' out the tears, and her child it had such big blue eyes and flaxen curls as well galore, and it had dimples in its chin that I had never seen before.

"If I go out there any more I'll sit beneath a shady tree, for I'm in heaps of trouble now because one baby smiled at me."

Ottawa, June 16 .- As anticipated, ectional claims are taking the ascendancy in the consideration being given the House of Commons to the the government's freight rates bill, and now it looks as if prorogation may be considerably delayed in consequence. Evidently the representatives of the several geographical sections of the dominion are disposed to insist on statutory recognition of their demands than to trust to equalizaion and justice at the hands of the railway commission. Today, British Columbia claimed precedence for the resentation of its protests, and the oill offered by the minister of railways to confirm the recent order-incouncil, was assailed by Conservative nembers from the Sunset province. Progressives from the prairies were likewise dissatisfied. The voices of Ontario and Quebec were also raised.

The government in its effort to compromise the claims and rights of all parts of the dominion, without prejudice to any, is finding that com-promise is not one of the ambitions of the House of Commons. It was in ecognition of the conflicting acter of interests concerned in freight rates, however, that the government determined on the middle course, and he divergent demands now being voiced seem well calculated to demonstrate the wisdom of its policy.
The debate is showing the impossibility of satisfying any one section by statutory enactment without arousing the displeasure of other sec-

Extraordinary Results Important to Every Woman

Over Quarter of a Million Favorable Reports from Women Purchasers of Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A circular is now enclosed with each bottle of our medicine asking "Have you received benefit from taking-Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

So far answers have been received from over 250,000 women.

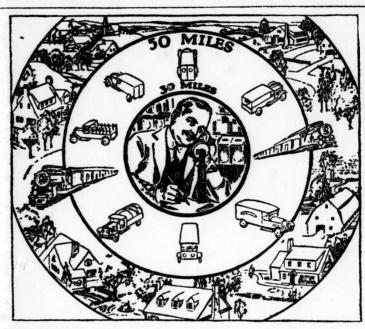

Ninety-eight per cent say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. Think of it-only two women out of 100 received no benefit-98 successes out of a possible 100.

We always knew that our medicine benefited most of the women who took it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It proves that this medicine made for women's ills by the most scientific process, from a combination of roots and herbs. does more good than any other medicine for the purpose. We have been making and improving this medicine for 50 years until it is now so perfect and well adapted to women's needs that it actually benefits 98 out of every 100 women who take it. It is sold in almost every country in the world-over 4.000,000 bottles each year.

Every woman suffering from ailments peculiar to her sex should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be one of the 98 benefited.

San Francisco, June 17.-A scien tist and a minister held a public argument on the truth of the evolutionary theory here Saturday night and the minister won. Grain Markets WINNIPEG Canadian Press Despatch.

Winnipeg. June 16. - An indifferent foreign demand and continued favorable crop reports from all sections of the crop reports from all sections of the country was the contributing factors in lower prices on the wheat market here today. After an erratic session, July closed 4½c down at $1.61½, and October 1%c lower at $1.34½.

Drastic recessions were recorded during the first hour of training in July, with prices dropping to $1.60½ when a rush of selling was reported. Finally the market settled and remained around the $1.63 mark until the last hour, when further weakness developed. The October future held relatively steady, the feature being the narrowing of the spread between that month and July.

Chicago, June 17.—Wheat scored a sharp early advance today, influenced by an unexpected upturn in quotations at Liverpool and by indications that a hot wave was spreading northward. Blames Hamilton.

The Kitchener pilot contends that the Mint league teams cannot compete with a club like Hamilton, which he ilkes to think is somewhat over the salary limit. In a recent press despatch he was quoted as saying that the Hamilton club was "buying" a pennant, and that its salary lies was nearer to $4,000 than the stipulated $2,800. One outside the club certainly has no means of knowing whether or not this is true. It's a certainty that "Buzz" Wetzel has a gathering of good ball players about him, but those close in touch with the club are inclined to credit this to Wetzel's native shrewdness and not to any outstanding financial considerations.

Little attention can be paid to a cry of this nature. If Lee had had the opportunity of selecting a team during the winter and early spring, such as Wetzel had, and had not been obliged to throw a team together in a hurry when the decision of the league to admit Kitchener to take the place of Port Huron was made in a hurry, then possibly he would not have been obliged to take the best available, with little regard to his own wishes.

In the meantime, however, there is every indication that the Mint loop will be fought to a bitter end. The race is opposed to pinch-hitting, except when the decision of the league to admit kitechener to take the place of Port Huron was made in a hurry then possibly he would not have been obliged to take the best available, with little regard to his own wishes.

Roses in profusion were showered upon Miss Isabel L. Mortimore and Miss Edna M. Winter, who appeared in graduation recital at Wesley hall last night. But as a greater tribute than baskets of flowers came the sincere applause of an audience delighted with the program which they presented, prepared by Miss Gwendolen C. Member of Mine Workers' Executive Will Speak On Strike Situation.

The British Empire Steel Corporation has forced unequalled hardships upon more than 60,000 persons in the Nova Scotia coal mine areas by using its power to postpone federal intervention in the attempt to reduce wages by ten per cent. This is the claim made by William Hayes, miner, who arrived in the city yesterday to give a return address before

Mr. Hayes, who is a member of the nternational executive of the United Mine Workers of America, will speak tonight on the Nova Scotia situation at a meeting to be sponsored by the trades and labor council. Born in the Maritimes and closely allied with coal mining since he was thirteen years old, Mr. Hayes has lived through many troublesome times. The present state of the 15,-000 miners and their families is piti-able in the extreme, he declares, and he lays the entire blame upon the corporation. For years the officials have been striving to break the United Mine Workers to give them a pastor of Trinity United church at Wallaceburg, who has been trans-ferred to Listowel United church, and fancied upper hand that could not be put down, he claims.

"The true story of the latest dispute with its resultant tragedles has been told" the upper official. pute with its resultant tragedles has never been told," the union official asserted. "The people of Canada have no idea of the hardships thou-sands have suffered for months. The international grants that area $10,000 a week for relief purpose, but that has been wholly inadequate. "Hundreds of women and children have gone to bed hungry for days at a time and with no hope of better conditions. It is pitiable." Hayes, who bears marks of injuries received in "bumps," miner's slang for blasts, during his 24 years of pit work, ridicules the sending of the minister of highways to probe the N.S. situation as was done a few weeks ago. That action typfies the the Ontario railway and municipal board decided that, under existing conditions, they could not accept the application of the commissioners of reports of conditions but their findings were repressed. He cites the case of one federal officer who visited the strike area recently. After taking him through outlying territory, the miner escort announced that the party would visit the real T. H. Hedley, chairman, John H. Hardship area.

"For God's sakes, don't show me
