SRC Proposes Changes in Student Insurance

Deficiencies in the present Group Insurance scheme in force at the University of New Brunswick were discussed at the Student Representative Council Meeting on Wednesday evening. It was revealed that under the present system there is no coverage for sickness nor for "catastrophe cases". Representing the London Life Insurance company at the meeting were Mr. Hansen and Mr. Swetnam. They suggested that adjustments could be made in the policies to cover the points in question at a higher premium or alternatively that the University in conjunction with the SRC might establish a contingency fund out of which these special cases might be settled without unduly increasing the premiums. It was decided that SRC representatives confer with the University and that a letter be drafted containing the views and that this be forwarded to the Company.

Liberal Club Representative

Joan Proudfoot, third year Arts student, attends the Liberal National Convention in Ottawa this week as the U.N.B. Liberal Club's sole representative. Out of three voting delegates and three alternates selected from the University Miss Proudfoot was finally the only one able to attend. As daughter of a Liberal M.P. she will have access to the heart of the convention. Many UNB students saw her locally on TV on Tuesday.

Carnival Notes

An open Badminton Tournament to include all interested students will get underway Friday, January 31. Registration will be held at 9:00 a.m. Friday. Play will last into Saturday with prizes for all winners.

All interested SNOW-SHOERS. Apply to Bob Whitman or Tom Doyle (Box W or D Arts Building). Events Scheduled for 2 p.m. Friday January 31 with Prizes for the Winners.

The question of whether the President and the Vice-President of the Drama Society be reinstated was discussed at some length. Recommendation that the election be disallowed was presented by the Students Discipline Committee. With the approval of the Council it was decided that the election of Michael Gordon and Bill Pollock be declared void.

A report on the SRC dances on Saturday nights was given and a financial loss of approximately $95 was revealed. In spite of the financial difficulty it was decided to continue the dances for the time and suggestions were made as to ways of improving publicity and attendance.

Constitutions of the Motorcycle Club, Christian Alterst party and the Radio Club were submitted and approved.

Meet Caps Mon.

The UNB Red Devils, who will play an intersquad game tonight at 7:30, are to meet the Fredericton Capitals Monday, Jan. 20, at 8:30 p.m. in an attempt to break the apparent supremacy of the latter. General skating will follow the game Monday night.

Drama Group To Sackville

At the last meeting of the U.N.B. Drama Society, Michael Gordon and Bill Pollock were elected by members of the Society to fill the vacant positions of President and Vice-President respectively.

The Business Manager, Mr. Iain Barr reported that the Society was in dire need of finances to make the trip to Sackville for the New Brunswick Regional Drama Festival. Mr. Gordon stated that an all out ticket sales campaign would have to be launched for The Seven Year Itch which will be produced March 22, 24, 25. In the meantime a "ways and means" committee was set up to look into the possibility of making some money outside of ticket sales.

The cast of Journey's End leaves on Monday, Jan. 20 for the Regional Drama Festival to be held in Sackville. Casting for the Seven Year Itch will take place shortly after the Festival.

RED FALCONS MEET MAINE

The Varsity Ski Team, Red Falcons, will be in Bangor this weekend for their first meet with the University of Maine this season.

The first races of the season, attended by about 100 skiers, were held at the Royal Road Hill last Sunday, Jan. 12, under excellent skiing conditions. The downhill course proved very fast; the Slalom course was set up by Fred Spinney, team coach. R. Houde, President of the Ski Club, won both Downhill and slalom events, closely followed in both races by Norm Crutchfield, a freshman engineer.

Dal Tonight — FKNS Tomorrow

The Lady Beaverbrook Gymnasium will be the scene of no less than four basketball games in the next two days. Tonight the University of New Brunswick Red Raiders will take on the black and gold clad hoopsters of Dalhousie University and on Saturday the Red Men will meet Fort Kent Normal School in a regularly scheduled Northeastern College Conference contest. In a preliminary game on Friday the UNB Junior Varsity will play Saint John High School while on the following evening the Red Bloomers face a contingent of girls from Saint Stephen High School.

The big game will come when the Raiders meet the Dal squad tonight. The Tigers, who regularly compete in the Nova Scotia Interscholastic Basketball League with Saint Francis Xavier, Acadia, Saint Mary's and Nova Scotia Tech, are currently on an exhibition swing through the Maritime provinces and into the state of Maine. The Dalhousie five lost their first game of the season, after three straight wins, when they dropped a regular league tilt to the always powerful X-Men from Antigonish by fourteen points.

Engineering Week Plans Finalized

"Paper is a vehicle of culture", Mr. J. Mackay Limerick, Research Director of Bathurst Pulp and Paper told the Engineering Society on Monday evening. Mr. Limerick emphasized the fact that the future of the pulp and paper industry was excellent and due to the need for pulp products the future of the industry was assured.

During the meeting the Engineering Week schedule of events was finalized. To mark its beginning a Wassail will be held at the Kent Inn, Friday, February 8. The following Monday, February 10 the annual Hockey game between the Engineers and the Foresters will take place at the Lady Beaverbrook Rink. On Tuesday evening a Social will be held in the Student Centre.

Wednesday evening February 12 at 7:30 the Engineers will hear Dr. Heartz, President of Shawinigan Engineering speak in the new Auditorium of the Chemistry Building. Following his address the film "Leonardo da Vinci" will be shown.

Highlighting the week will be the Engineering Formal on Friday, February 14 at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel.

A Last Chance

"If there is not enough interest for the coming Saturday night's dance the experiment will be discontinued" SRC President Bill Ray stated in a short interview with the Brunswickian. "The last dances have resulted in a loss for the SRC due to lack of interest on behalf of the students."

It seems that once more UNB students are outstanding in their display of apathy. If there are no dances there is general discontent, while if dances are organized not enough people show up to make it a financially sound project. Let us show that we, the students, are appreciative of the SRC's efforts, and come to the Students' Centre on Saturday night for an evening of pleasant, collegiate dancing to the rhythms of Paul Stewart's Collegians. G.B.

The Red Raiders, with a chance to test their power against that of the Nova Scotia league, will be at full strength with the exception of one player. He is Bobby Porter, who will be out of action until at least Wednesday of next week as the result of a severe ankle sprain, suffered in last week's game at Washington State.

On Saturday the opponents of the boys from "Up the Hill" will be a squad of future teachers from Fort Kent, Maine. FKNS has in the last two years been the weak sister of the Conference, but a large number of returnees from last season could make the teachers a definite threat. They played their first league game of the current campaign last Wednesday against Husson, at present, the Conference leaders. UNB must win their games with Fort Kent if they hope to gain a berth in the tournament to be played in Bangor late in February.

The Junior Varsity should have strong opposition from Saint John High, who have just returned from a holiday tour of Massachusetts where they played several US high school teams. The UNB Co-eds have already defeated the Saint Stephen girls in a game played at the border town and should be favourites to win the Saturday tilt. Both basketball evenings get underway at 7:00 P.M.

The Dalhousie lineup lists six players from Halifax, guards Bill White, Nick Weatherston, and Bob Schurman and forwards Ernie Nickerson, Ted Wickwire, and Wayne Beaton. Other forwards are Dave Matheson from Montreal and Wayne MacGibbon, while Cameron Smith of Sudbury completes the backcourt men. Fred Nickolson is the captain of the team and a center. He hails from St. Stephen, while John Wellman, the team's other center, is from Victoria, B.C.

Would You Like To Go To — YUGOSLAVIA —

For the ninth time since its inception in 1948 students from universities throughout Canada will have the chance to go on a summer study tour in a foreign country. This tour and seminar, sponsored by the World University Service of Canada, will be held in Yugoslavia during July-August of this year. Thirty-five students and five professors from 25 universities and colleges are expected to represent Canada, and will be selected during January by specially appointed Selection Boards at each university or college.

Although final arrangements still have to be made the plans in rough outline are as follows:

The Canadian Delegation will leave in mid-June for England for a six-day Orientation Session at which lectures, reading periods and discussions will help to introduce the participants to Yugoslavia. At the end of the Session, the Delegation will fly from London to Belgrade where a two-day stopover will be followed by two weeks of study tours. During this period the participants will travel in three carefully-planned but not over-organized groups, the different areas of Yugoslavia to gain some personal experience of the country, its people, and its problems. The Canadian delegates will then assemble, along with about sixty other participants from some twenty countries, for the two-week Seminar which will be held at a site on the Dalmatian Coast.

The theme of the Seminar will be "YUGOSLAVIA — THE STATE AND THE INTERNATIONAL ORDER". Lectures and discussion groups will enable the participants to study Yugoslavia's historical past, system of government, and foreign policy. Commissions will make it possible for students and professors to carry out specialized studies in their respective disciplines or field of interest. At the end of the Seminar the Canadian participants will have about two weeks of free time before they return to Canada.

Undergraduate or graduate students, currently enrolled in a recognized course of study and in full-time attendance at the University of New Brunswick may apply if they are Canadian citizens by birth or naturalization. They must be returning to the same university the following session for at least one more year. Student participants will be selected on the basis of academic ability, maturity and qualities of leadership.

The total cost per participant is $950, of which the Local Committee at the University of New Brunswick raises $750, and the scholar selected provides the remaining $200. This covers all expenses of travel, and board and lodging for the duration of the programme. Application forms and further information can be obtained from Mr. Barry Yoell, room #201, Lady Beaverbrook Residence; the Registrar's Office or direct from the WUSC National Office, 43 St. George Street, Toronto 5.

All completed application forms must be returned to Mr. Barry Yoell on or before Tuesday, January 21. Announcement of awards will be made in late February. Do not let this chance go by. This is a tremendous opportunity for a worthy student to make a trip that will remain in his memory for many years to come. The successful applicant is expected to make some public appearances in the fall of 1958, and to give some public lectures on his experiences and observations for the students of U.N.B.

Look at the notice boards for further information and announcements.

UNB Festival of the Arts

On Saturday, January 25, the sixth annual Festival of the Arts will be officially opened in the newly located Arts' Centre. The event, which in the past only lasted for a few days, will this year be extended to a full eighteen days and will be closed on February 11.

The Festival, which originated at UNB six years ago is a unique movement towards the understanding of the fine arts, in whatever form these exist at U.N.B. It is a realistic opportunity for both the faculty and students to display some of their own creative work. Exhibited will be creations in the fields of literature, painting, sculpture, handicrafts and photography. The exhibition will be open to the public daily and during the evenings for the duration of the festival.

Final arrangements still have to be made, but a number of highly interesting events are in the offing. The highlight of the opening day of the festival is a rehearsed reading of Ibsen's play "The Master Builder" starting at 8:00 P.M. Ibsen has often been called the most influential playwright of the 19th century. S. F. J. Fay commented:

"The Master Builder is one of the better examples of neo-realism which was to be the foremost theatrical movement of an era, characterized by Ibsen, Chekoff, Shaw, Hauptmann and later Eugene O'Neill."

Another highlight of the Festival will be an evening dedicated to music. Paul Stewart's popular "Collegians" will again be featured with a jazz and jam session, an event that was extremely well received in the 1957 Festival.

Although this is primarily a university function, with university students and faculty participating, some exhibition space will be given to the children of Fred-ericton.

MILLICENT and MAGOO

'Tis with deepest regret that we announce the loss of our senior partner but with much pleasure that we welcome the newest of the 'Goo's' to our welcome.

We consider ourselves "average" college types (?) but along with John Roderick Winters we completely missed the bus in Mr. Stickerbath's - or whatever his name is - column.

Journalists are supposed to stick together but it seems most inane to have three write-ups on forthcoming activities in one issue. We may be wrong but can't some other method of arousing student interest before reverting to extensive brainwashing?

Now on the national scene. Congratulations to Mr. Blink for his article "Canadians Adolescent". Do we dare hope that we are three of the broad-minded Canadians who consider neither the Englishmen reverted nor the Americans perverted?

Not mentioned in the last "Brunswickan" was one forthcoming event of momentous importance — CO-ED WEEK. Need more be said, except that it is rumoured that on Tuesday night films of last year's Winter Carnival and Red 'n' Black will be shown and a few Red 'n' Black tapes may be played. If you've never participated in one of these events or would like a look at yourself — oh glory — or your friends, drop in at the Students' Centre.

Speaking of girls, keep tuned to the Maggie Jean-Moscow Mollie broadcasts. They can be heard regularly and it is rumoured that a bloodless (we hope) revolution is at hand. The first steps taken by the Politburo was

The Busting Boom?

The "Roaring Twenties" it was called. An era of jazz, and good fun; of the Black Bottom and the Charleston; of prohibition and bathtub gin. Mirrored in the writings of Fitzgerald and Smith, this happy decade is only history to the youngsters of today. When we do think about it, which is not often, it is because of an old re-release LP we chance to hear on the radio (historical jazz — isn't it quaint!) or perhaps its through the realization that our parents were "children of the twenties" and presumably would have lived it. The poor dears. They try so hard to tell us that they were wild then. But we know... A quick snatch of rickety-tick music, names like Al Smith and Lindbergh, the Ziegfield Follies and George White — that's all that left of the twenties today. Furthermore even that is not too interesting. You see, the younger people today are different. We're not so irresponsible, we don't get excited over ideas or books. We don't share all that silly enthusiasm for discovery (we have discovered everything) and as for politics — well who ever heard of discussing things like communism or fascism. It isn't done, you know.

Yes. We are different.

But in one way we are very similar. You see, the youngsters of the twenties believed in fairy-tale prosperity just as we do. They thought that all their troubles were behind them and nothing was ahead but a good time, progress and wealth a-plenty. It was a nice dream.

We are children of prosperity. All our lives the standard of living has been flying up by leaps and bounds. And most of us see no reason why it should not continue to do so. But wait. Lets look at a couple of things first. Afterwards, we can all crawl into our shells of self-complacency, put on our rose-tinted glasses and go back to sleep.

War fathered our prosperity, science aided it and we intend to reap its rewards. Well and good. Lets look at them.

This year, several companies have served notice that they are cancelling recruiting trips to UNB. At McGill, at Toronto and in Vancouver colleges are receiving similar communications. A small thing, perhaps, but consider what would happen if a majority of Canadian companies served notice that they had no more jobs. College students would be out of jobs. Doesn't it sound preposterous!

The Aluminum Company of Canada, one of the largest companies in the world and one of Canada's chief exporters, has announced stoppage of construction at Kitimat, because the demand for their product is falling off. Gaspé Copper Mines, closed last summer by a strike, was relieved to cease operations because the price of copper had fallen so low that it was hardly economical to produce it. Stock piles at Arvida have grown to a new high.

Right here in New Brunswick, which could hardly be expected to evidence any more depression, we have another example. Inventories of the pulp and paper industry have grown so large that serious cut-offs in men followed last fall.

The Steel industry in the United States, whose fluctuations are generally considered to be a reflection of the country's stability, is running at only 70% production.

Seemingly isolated incidents across two countries which enjoy the highest standard of living in the world. Yet it is precisely because we enjoy such a high standard that we should be carefully critical of the growth of our country. Economics is not sufficiently perfect nor technically advanced to offer us any guide. We are dealing in unknown quantities and a careless turning now could spell disaster later.

We believe our brand of enterprise and commercialism to be the best. It therefore becomes the duty of the younger generation to appraise our system, discarding what should be discarded and strengthening what is valuable. Believing without acting, trusting

Solving Engineering Problems

UNIQUE SEAWAY PROJECT is the permanent raising of the southern end of Jacques Cartier bridge, Montreal, and the replacement of one span without interrupting vehicular traffic. This will provide a minimum clearance of 120 feet for shipping in the seaway canal.

MODERN TREND IN BOILERS. Newly developed Dominion Bridge water tube package unit boilers are shop assembled and shipped complete to the site ready for connection to electrical, water and steam lines.

17-STORY ADDITION. The Royal York Hotel, Toronto. The largest in the Commonwealth, this structure is being further expanded by a 17-storey 400-room addition shown at right. Altogether some 20,000 tons of steel have been fabricated and erected by Dominion Bridge for this project.

EXPANSION brings diversified engineering problems as in these recent examples.

In every Province and in every major industry, Dominion Bridge engineers are making important contributions to Canada's phenomenal growth.

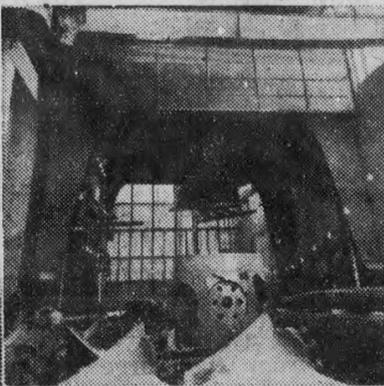

To help Canada's expansion, Dominion Bridge has embarked on its own four year expansion programme which will have the effect of increasing the Company's overall capacity by 40%.

There are always openings at Dominion Bridge Company for enterprising graduates who are planning a career in steel construction.

MODERN TREND IN CRANES. Completely enclosed 300-ton gantry crane—the largest ever built in Canada—was designed and fabricated by Dominion Bridge for the Canadian half of the St. Lawrence Power Project.

CANTILEVER BRIDGE IN THE WEST. The Second Narrows bridge over Burrard Inlet at Vancouver. 16,600 tons of steelwork will be required for this new 6-lane bridge. With its centre span of 1100 feet, it will be the second longest cantilever bridge in Canada.
