White Robes, * These are they which come out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb "-(new vis 15).

White, for heaven's infant bands ! Passed they not spotless from the earth away, Pale blussoms lying in the nerveless hands. Fure kisses ingering on the precious clay ? Earth's lily bells transplanted sweet and lowly,

White robes for them, innocence is holy.

And for the young, pure white! Now in the heavenly palaces they awake Celestial music, and palm.branches bearing, utterly unpopular; if you were found preach-They who are worthy walk, white raiment wearing,

With the Great Name ; the heroes, martyrs, sages,-

There venerated bands bloom :

Bent form and furrowed brow hands. And silvered hairs pass not beyond the tomb.

Led by the Master through deep tribulation, White robes await them, -garments of sal. vation. Gathered from orient climes.

And western shores, and tropic forests deep. From polar winters .--- and from ancient times Down to the last fair babe that fell asleep ! By suffering purified, perfected, blest, And gathered in everlasting rest.

O suffering Lord, through thee Whose blood alone can make the crimson white Looking in pity on our striving, see The weight of sin, and make the burden light. Our roves of figureousness are poor

" It is more b'essed to give than to receive." Give prayers : the evening hath begun ; Be earlier than the rising sun ; R-member those who feel the rod ; Remember those who know not God. His hand can boundless blessings give ; Breathe prayers: through them the soul sha live.

Give arms; the needy sink with pain : The orphans mourn, the crushed complain Give freely : boarded gold is crust, A prey to robbers and to rust, Christ, through his poor, a claim doth make; Give gladly, for thy Saviour's sake.

Give books; they live when you are dead ; Light on the darkened mind they shed; Good seed they form from age to age, Through all this mortal pilgrimage, They nurse the germs of holy trust; They wake untired when you are dust.

Give smiles, to cheer the little child. A stranger on this thorny wild ; It bringeth love, its guard to be-It, helpless, asketh love from thee. Howe'er by fortune's gifts unblest, Give smiles to childhood's guileless breast.

Give words, kind words, to those who err: Remorse doth need a comforter. Though in temptation's wiles they fall. Condemn not-we are sinners all, With the sweet charity of speech, Give words that heal, and words that teach.

Give thought, give energy to themes That perish not like folly's dreams. Hark ! from the islands of the sea The missionary cries to thee: To aid him on a heathen soil, Give thought, give energy, give toil.

In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any depend-ence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dan-groux affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent hysicians, whose business is to know; in abort, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irreintably proten that this medicine does curve the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its in-trinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benchi couferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarled, this has gained friend by every trail, conferred
