FIGURES DO LIE.

Prices are only Relative

REGAL ENGINES are the highest priced engines, yet they are the cheapest.

They are the highest priced engines because they cost more to build. They are the cheapest engines, because they will last twice as long as any other engine.

They are also the cheapest engines because they save your time, and "Time is money."

If you shut your eyes to this real bargain in engines, you will be the sorriest fisherman who ever signed an order.

You will lose more money than you can afford to lose, and your oil bills will be twice as large.

REGAL ENGINES use less oil, have more power, run with less trouble and give more genuine satisfaction than any other engine on the market.

We are, in the near future, going to ask all cash for REGAL ENGINES, so buy one before we make this change, as we intend to make them the "Hall Mark" engines of Newfoundland.

We ship REGAL ENGINES complete, with full book of instructions, and when once installed in your boat, any child can run one.

REGAL ENGINES are higher priced than other engines, but are the cheapest in the long run, because they run the longest.

375th Day of the War

LATEST From the Front.

Messages Received Previous to 9 A.M.

OFFICIAL.

LONDON, Aug. 13. The Governor, Newfoundland: The auxiliary cruiser India was torpedoed and sunk while patrolling in the North Sea. Twenty-two officers and 119 men were saved. Two Zeppelins raided the East Coast dropping incendiary and explosive bombs. Four men and two women were killed and twenty-three injured. All were civilians. Fourteen houses were damaged. The Zeppelins were engaged at some points, and one was probably damaged by our mobile aircraft.

The French Government report enemy attacks in Argonne repulsed. Part of a trench was lost near Vierne Le Chateau but was recovered. The Russian Government report German attacks repulsed near Kovno. Persistent attacks between the Narva and Bug and the Wierp and Bug. The latter were repulsed with heavy losses.

BONAR LAW.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

PARIS, Aug. 13. The French War Office this afternoon gave out a report as follows: In the Artois district a German attack last night to the north of the Chateau de Caruel was easily checked. In Argonne the Germans late yesterday afternoon renewed their attacks in the section between the road from Binarville to Vierne Le Chateau and the Ravine of Le Houlette. They were repulsed after a very spirited fight in which hand grenades and bombs were used. Nothing to report from the remainder of the front.

ZEPPELIN RAIDS.

LONDON, Aug. 13. Two Zeppelins visited the east coast last night between 9.30 and 1.15 a.m., dropping incendiary and explosive bombs at various places, resulting in the following casualties: Dead, four men and two women; injured, three men, eleven women and nine children. All were civilians. Fourteen houses were seriously damaged. The Zeppelins were engaged at some points, but succeeded in getting away from our aircraft patrols. One Zeppelin was probably damaged by the mobile anti-aircraft section. On Monday night Zeppelins flew over the English coast, and with their bombs killed 14 persons and wounded 43 others. These raids mark a renewal of Zeppelin attacks on England after an interval of several weeks. The last raid, with the exception of a minor attack on Harwich, early in July, was on June 18, when 16 persons were killed and 40 injured. In all there have been nearly a score of these attacks resulting in the death of more than one hundred persons.

THE RUSSIAN SITUATION.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 13. The Russian armies have steadily retreated themselves from Warsaw in which the Germans tried to enclose them, and are now stubbornly opposing the German advance toward

T. J. EDENS, Duckworth St. and Military Road.

Bielostok on a line seventy miles east of Warsaw, on both sides of the railroad between the Polish capital and Bielostok. The Baltic German campaign appears to be at a standstill with the Russians astride the highway between Vitkomir and Poniewesch, threatening communications between the invaders' armies. The Germans are approaching nearer to Kovno. They are pounding the position with their heavy artillery guns, to which Russian artillery is replying frequently.

SMALL PERCENTAGE OF LOSS.

LONDON, Aug. 13. The Press Bureau announces that during the week ending August 11th, German submarines sank two merchant ships of a total tonnage of 5,371, seventeen fishing vessels, totaling 1,270 tons. During that period 1,396 vessels arrived at or sailed from British ports.

BRITISH AND NORWEGIAN STEAMERS SUNK.

LONDON, Aug. 13. An announcement was made to-day of the sinking of the British steamers

Osprey and Summerfield, and the Norwegian steamer Aura. The chief engineer, mate and mate's wife of the Summerfield were drowned. All others on board the three vessels were landed.

ANOTHER STEAMER SUNK.

LONDON, Aug. 13. The British steamer Jacana, 3,000 tons, engaged in trans-atlantic trade, has been sunk. The captain and nine members of the crew were rescued.

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE SUNK.

ROME, Aug. 13. The Minister of Marine to-night made public the following official statement: Yesterday morning in the Lower Adriatic, the Austrian submarine U-3 was sunk. The second officer and eleven members of the crew were saved and made prisoners.

STEAMER ANSHORE.

LONDON, Aug. 13. The Swedish steamer Kiruna, from Philadelphia to Stockholm, is ashore at Skerries Island, sixty miles west of Liverpool. Despatches to Lloyd's said that in all probability she would be a total loss.

THE AMERICAN NOTE.

BERLIN, Aug. 14. The American note to Germany concerning the sinking of the American ship Wm. P. Frye, by a German commerce destroyer, has been received by the American ambassador, and will be presented to the German Foreign Office to-morrow.

GERMANS DRIVEN BACK.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 14. An official communication says: In the region southeast of Mitau, the Germans have been driven back by our troops beyond the River. In the course of the enemy's retreat we made prisoners. In the direction of Jacobstadt, Dvinsk and Vitkomir we have also continued to press the enemy overcoming his desperate resistance.

ASSURANCES TO SERBIA.

ROME, Aug. 14. It is learned here to-day on good authority that representatives of Britain, France, Italy and Russia are exerting further pressure upon Serbia in the hope of inducing her to make concessions to Bulgaria. Serbia has been reminded of the support which she has received since the beginning of her difficulties with Austria last year. Assurances have been given Serbia that the Allies will assist her at any time of peace, provided she now yields to their desires.

RUSSIANS STILL RESISTING.

LONDON, Aug. 14. Field Marshal Von Hindenburg has personally taken command of the German army attacking Kovno, according to the latest German official report, and made further progress in the fighting against Russians in that region. The selection of Germany's national hero for the duty of capturing the fortress of Kovno, which stands between the Germans and Vilna-Petrograd railway, is an indication of the importance which the German General Staff attaches to this operation. The work of the Russians has commenced to evacuate Kovno, as well as Vilna, led to the belief in many quarters that the Russians either had decided to give them up or had been driven from them. Now, however, they are fighting hard to retain both cities, and the latest official report from Petrograd claims the Russians repulsed the German attacks, except at one point, where a desperate artillery engagement is in progress. Further north, between Poniewesch and Dvinsk, where General Von Below a week ago was advancing rapidly toward the railway, the Germans apparently have suffered a setback, for the Russians now speak of pressing them, and declare they have recaptured the town of Tonny, which is considerably west of the point to which the Germans had penetrated. South of Riga also the Germans are said to be no more than holding their own so that the task of advancing towards Petrograd seems to be developing very slowly. On the other hand the Germans continue to drive the Russians northeast and east of Warsaw, with the capture of Sciedlic within short distance of the Bug River, one of the main supports of the Brest Litovsk line where it was believed the Russians originally intended to hold, but which the German offensive in the northeast may prevent.

Field Marshal Von Mackenzon, who commands the Germans in the southeast, is reported to have been held up by Russian counter-attacks. Military circles declare that he is not farther south than he was a week ago, he certainly is not farther north than he was a week ago. Grand Duke Nicholas will try to hold the Brest-Litovsk front.

The German Crown Prince continues his attempts to pierce the main line in the forest of Argonne. Negotiations between the Balkan States are proceeding, but thus far there is no sign of any agreement.

SIXTON'S LODGE.

The Committee in charge of Sixton's Lodge have been notified that the Civic Commission approves of the plan for the proposed dwelling for the sexton. All the city regulations have been complied with and work on the new lodge will begin shortly.

PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Latest Fishery News.

The following reports of the fishery are now posted at the Board of Trade Rooms:—

Aug. 7th. From Geo. Vey, (Fortune to Carmel)—The traps have all been taken in but 74 dories are still fishing. The catch to date is 1,630 qts. with 49 for last week. The schooners Helen C. Morse and Rostand have arrived with 400 and 850 qts., respectively. Cod is scarce and the weather too rough for dories to venture out. There is no bait of any kind.

Aug. 7th. From P. Fahey, (Western Bay to Great Cove)—The catch to date is 38,000 qts. and for last week 3,000. Two hundred traps and 450 dories and skiffs are fishing, but many of the former were wrecked in the storm and won't go out again. Some caplin is obtainable for bait.

Aug. 7th. From A. J. Hoffe, (Change Islands to Gander Bay)—Five boats and 40 dories and skiffs are fishing but only 4 traps since the breeze. One schooner has returned from Little Fogo Island with 100 qts. and two from the Gray Islands, the Laura M. B. and Ping Pong, with 560 and 200 qts., respectively. The total catch is 7,000 qts. with 1,000 for last week. Prospects are good for jiggers and there is little caplin yet. There would be no hooking but for dog-fish which are so abundant that as much as two punt loads have been taken from one salmon net. The N. E. gale did much damage to traps which have been taken ashore. The Laura M. B. reports two Change Islands schooners at the Gray Islands with 500 and 400 qts. and the Margaret K. at Little Fogo Islands hauls for 400.

Aug. 7th. From F. Cox, (Eddy's Cove to Anchor Pt.)—Prospects are poor but there is a fair supply of bait. Most of the fishing this week was done by jiggers, the trawling being very little. No traps and only 40 boats are fishing. The catch to date is 4,955 qts. and for last week 220.

Mothers' Sons.

Orison Sweet Marden declared in "Success" that it is a strange fact that our mothers, the mothers of the world, should get so little credit and should be so seldom mentioned among the great benefactors of the world. He sees only the successful son; the mother is but a round in the ladder's spool which is never seen in the papers; only her son is lauded and held up to the world as an example. Yet we sweat pathetic face in the background that made his success possible.

"All that I am or hope to be," said Lincoln, after he had become President, "I owe to my angel mother."

"My mother was the making of me," said Thomas A. Edison, recently. "She was so true, so sure of me; and I never had a doubt in my mind for someone I must not disappoint."

"All that I have ever accomplished in life," declared Dwight L. Moody, a great evangelist, "I owe to my mother."

"To the man who has had a mother, all women are sacred for her sake," said Jean Paul Richter. "A kiss from my mother made me a painter," said Benjamin West.—The Standard.

CONSTIPATIENS

Read This—

It must be remembered that the bowels should move freely once a day to ensure perfect health. When such is not the case the bowels are constipated, and the material is absorbed into the system, thus producing a self blood poisoning. The causes of Constipation are many and varied. Among the more common may be mentioned poor stomach digestion, a deficiency of bile in the intestine, causes a flow from the bowels, and a want of the natural muscular contraction of the intestines from above downward.

Albee's Efferescent Salt, sold everywhere at 25c and 60c, stimulates and restores the stomach digestion, increases the flow of bile into the intestine, causes a flow from the intestinal glands, and restores the natural downward action of the intestines, rendering it easy to secure a free action of the bowels, which is one of the most important requisites to health.

Sold everywhere.

Costumes for the races and country clubs are so brilliant that one imagines one is gazing on a poster.

Little girls' dresses may be severely plain, except for little ruffled vests and collars of finest batiste and lace.

It is actually prophesied that some of the new coats will fall several inches below the hem of the dress.

The best white shirtwaists for common wear are those in which the only ornamentation is hemstitching on tucks.

A curious novelty is the transparent hat with pressed flowers between the tulle layers forming its wide brim.

For the Front Soon.

This morning a message was received in town from Aldershot, stating that the Newfoundland Regiment would be going abroad shortly. Last evening Mr. John Jackson also received a message stating that the Newfoundland Regiment had been recently reviewed by Lord Kitchener that they were all well and would be off to the Dardanelles soon. The movements of the Newfoundland Contingent has not lacked variety. Our volunteers commenced their training by camping at Pleasantville. This was broken by a voyage to the old land, which led to camp life on Salisbury Plain. This was changed to barracks life at Fort George and later at Edinburgh Castle. Then came the move to Stob's Camp, where they had training work with a brigade, and the last move was to Aldershot, the great training ground for army manoeuvres. Here they are learning to take their part in divisional movements. Now comes the news that they are to be moved abroad, and the destination is said to be the Dardanelles. In a few weeks we shall hear of them being somewhere at the front, and when they get there, we know that they will continue to earn the good will and merit the high esteem they have won at their various training camps. We wish them God Speed, an honourable record, and a triumphant return.

Feeding the Huns' Victims.

According to William Edgar, editor of "The Northwestern Miller," who has been investigating independently what is being done to relieve the destitute civilians in Belgium, the expenditure is running to $1,200,000 a month for food supplies and $300,000 more transportation. On March 6th, the Commission looking after the relief work had incurred liabilities amounting to $1,400,000 in excess of its cash resources. Although the whole trouble has been brought about by Germany, they are apparently doing nothing even for humanity's sake to obviate the consequences of their own misdeeds, and apparently consider it a virtue in themselves to allow the people of other nations to feed the victims of their crime and to refrain from seizing relief food for military purposes. In face of the destruction of the resources of Belgium and the humiliation, we have the Peace at any Price advocating that the Allies should not seek the humiliation of Germany. If there is a country which would be benefited by humiliation it is Germany. Her overweening arrogance is the cause of the Great War, and the only way to insure safety for the future is to shatter for ever that arrogance.

Mapleton's Peanut Butter is made in England. When you buy it you will know its value. When the children get it on their bread they know its quality. Cheap nourishment these strenuous times. The proof of the pudding is the eating of it.

Baltimore Pastor Rebuffs Strict Neutrality Women.

Answering Request to Sign Petition Against Exports of Arms, Rev. Dr. Hugh Johnston Tells Them They Are as Un-American, Unneutral and Pro-German as Can Be.

When Miss N. L. Miller, president of the Organization of American Women for Strict Neutrality, sent a circular letter to the Rev. Dr. Hugh Johnston requesting him to sign the petition of the organization against the exportation of arms she aroused a Tartar.

The letter states that "only a comparatively few of our people are benefited by the sale of these things (the things which kill), while the majority in many lines of legitimate business are suffering from non-employment. Much of this trouble will be overcome if the war is stopped," and in another paragraph states that "the Lusitania catastrophe gravely emphasizes the necessity of an immediate embargo on arms." The letter includes:

"Will you sign our petition yourself and secure signatures of friends, men and women, who will also not only sign it, but in turn secure signatures from as many other friends and acquaintances as possible and place before churches, clubs, societies, factories, stores, &c., asking these to continue to do the same on the plan of the endless chain? It is possible to make a house to house canvass. Please to for the sake of the suffering in our own country and that across the sea, also to vindicate the honor of our own country and to restore a clear national conscience."

Dr. Johnson's Letter.

This is what the Rev. Dr. Johnston wrote instead of signing the petition: 3910 N. Calvert Street, Baltimore, July 27th, 1915. Miss N. L. Miller, Roland Av., Roland Park, City.

Dear Madam:—Your letter with petition of your organization, which you asked me to circulate in the church, is to hand. Allow me to inform you that as a minister and "honest American citizen" I highly resent such a barefaced and partisan request. Your Organization of American Women for "Strict Neutrality" is an un-American, unneutral and pro-German as any organization can be, and of this and as resident you must be fully aware. It is the very same organization that has had posted in our cities great handbills with a lie on their face yesterday at Swedish Waters themselves. "Hold up the hands of our President" by so and so, and when you know that you were striking at the clear and settled policy of our government and doing all in your power to embarrass and weaken the hands of the President.

Your view of "strict neutrality" is something that will either benefit Germany or inflict injury on the Allies. Your reference to the Lusitania infamy, a murderous crime which has awakened the horror of the civilized world, is a most unbecoming attempt to palliate an offence against humanity, a crime which no one can excuse without mental degradation. The right of belligerents to buy arms wherever they can get them is universally recognized. The sale of such supplies is a policy that Germany, as well as the Allies, has always pursued. Our declaration of neutrality prevents us from departing from this policy, as well as other considerations of our national welfare.

I fear that your organization is a part of that inspired and pernicious propaganda which is manifesting itself in explosions, fires, bombs and murders and destruction of all kinds. Baltimore is a most interesting nation which have led to the arrest of the head of the International Information Bureau. Your reference is not only an attempt to deceive honest American manhood, but very impolitic and perilous. How much more honorable it would be for American women, instead of stirring up strife and antagonizing the Government, to give their loyal support to our noble pure-minded President as he is seeking to vindicate our national honor and preserve our national ideals! Yours very truly.—Hugh Johnston.

BRITISH THEATRE.

As anticipated, the programme at the British yesterday proved itself to be one of the most enjoyable entertainments as yet given at that popular house. The singing of Madame Olive Timmons was of a quality which could not be surpassed. She sang "The Heart of a Rose" and the famous old Scotch ballad "Loch Lomond" as well as the other songs, which earned applause and highly praiseworthy criticism. There will be the usual extra pictures for the children this afternoon and Madame Timmons will sing at 3.30, 8.30 and 10.

ROMANIA'S REPLY.

LONDON, To-day. The Daily Telegraph has received from Bucharest the following despatch: Rumania has replied to German threats of prohibition of Rumanian imports by removing all Rumanian restrictions on export of grain and reducing export duties. Prompt action to stimulate exports was made necessary by the fact that it was impossible to find storage for the new crops on account of the unexpected balance of last year's harvest. Unless Germany's threatened boycott is carried out, it is hoped the exports will proceed henceforth at the rate of six hundred cargoes a day. There is no indication of Rumania yielding to the German demands for transit on munitions.

NO EXPLANATION OF CANCELLING ORDERS.

LONDON, To-day. No explanation of the reported cancellation of orders of wheat from America by the Entente Allies so far has been obtainable here. Persons connected with wheat receiving professions ignorant of the subject. It was suggested by those in touch with the market that the report, if correct, might be connected with the fact that the India wheat crop was much larger and of better quality than anticipated.

WANTS TREATY ANNULLED.

SOBIA, To-day. The newspaper Echr de Bulgarie in an editorial on the anniversary of the treaty of Bucharest which the paper has been disastrous not only to Bulgaria but to all Balkan States, declares that until the stabilizing block is removed from the path of the Balkan people there will be neither peace, tranquility or security in the Peninsula. The paper speaking of the conditions for joining the Entente Allies holds that no Balkan entente is possible unless this treaty which it asserts violates racial and national interests of interested nations is annulled.

GERMAN ARMY WILL STOP ADVANCING.

BUDAPEST, To-day. All signs indicate that the Austro-German armies will not follow up their advantages any further than the second line of Russian defences after the fall of the Russian fortresses, but will reorganize themselves behind the defences behind them. This theory is not only borne out by the fact that further advance would be regarded as suicidal, but also by the statement of General Marwitz, commander of the tenth German army corps, who is undergoing a cure in Hungary at present.

VIOLATED NORWEGIAN TERRITORY.

LONDON, To-day. The Reuter's Telegram Co. has received the following despatch from Christiania: The British auxiliary cruiser India was sunk by a German submarine in Norwegian territorial waters, according to the contention of the Norwegian Government. Officially it is announced that just as Norway previously stated that Westfjord in its entirety is Norwegian territorial waters, the Government has on the occasion of the torpedoing of the India informed Germany that Westfjord from time immemorial has been regarded as belonging to Norwegian sea territory. This was officially said as to the part of the Fjord where the India was attacked.

DUTCH ORDERING SUPPLIES.

NEW YORK, To-day. Reports are current here that an enormous war order for Holland has been placed in this country through the banking house of Harvey Fish & Sons. Coupled with this report was another that Holland is preparing to enter the European conflict and soon will cast her lot with the Allies.

DISSENSIONS IN TURKISH STAFF.

NEW YORK, To-day. A cable to the Tribune from Lugano says the wife and family of Von der Goltz Pasha, the reorganizer of the Turkish army, passed through Bucharest on Tuesday from Constantinople bound for Berlin. This is considered a sign that he believes the position of the Turks is desperate. The substitution of Grand Duke of Mecklenburg for Liman Von Sanders as commander in chief of the troops at Gallipoli is held another proof of dissensions in the German staff at Constantinople.

Knife and Bomb Warfare.

(By G. Valentine Williams.)

General Headquarters, British Expeditionary Force.—New and old are most strangely blended in the siege warfare into which the present war has developed. The Germans speak of "the war of positions," as contrasted with "the war of movement," those days that seem so far off now when they were rushing onward through Belgium towards Paris.

It is indeed a war of positions, a great game of chess in which, generally speaking, the Germans are forever manoeuvring for the best defensive positions, while the Allies seek to gain positions which will give them the advantage of the offensive. We stand on the threshold of the epoch of war by machinery, yet in this strange warfare in Flanders are blended methods of primitive fighting, hand-to-hand grappling with knives, and the methods of the Peninsular War, the bomb and sap, which had all but passed out of our military knowledge.

The war on this front is practically a succession of sieges along a tremendously long line. Every line of trenches is in itself a series of defence works. As in the siege of a fortress the only weapon that will prevail in the first instance against these deep and well-constructed earthworks is the heavy gun firing high explosive shell, and in the same way the shortest cut to success is a tremendous concentration of heavy fire on one particular sector to blast a path through.

This is, however, only the first stage of the operation. When the wedge has been driven in and the way cleared by the cutting of the enemy's barbed wire entanglements, the smashing in of his parapets and the annihilation of the defenders and their machine guns, the attacking artillery has to make a curtain of fire over the approaches to the bombarded trenches to prevent the enemy from rushing in reinforcements before the assaulting infantry can occupy the position.

Under cover of this "tir de barrage" (curtain of fire) the infantry massed in readiness for an attack rush forward into the breach and despatch or capture the enemy survivors. This is the second stage of the operation.

The Critical Stage. The third stage is perhaps the most important; it is certainly the most difficult. It is the moment in the fight when in the past some notable successes have been lost to us when they were practically in our grasp. The captured position has to be consolidated, that is to say, the German trench has to be faced the other way round, the parapet heightened and the back of the parapet lowered, machine guns set up and stores of bombs and ammunition brought up and placed ready for use. This work has to be done under heavy enemy bombardment and under fire from machine guns installed in emplacements previously noted as commanding trenches in the event of their being captured.

It is here that the automatic rifle would be invaluable. The machine gun is heavy and rather bulky, and the men bearing it swiftly forward to support troops holding out an invariably bombarded position are invariably picked off by the enemy. The automatic rifle, on the other hand, is light and inconspicuous, and a company armed with a dozen of these should be able to silence any machine gun and hold off enemy bombers attempting to crawl down communication trenches and recapture the lost position.

Fads and Fashions.

The fashion of the smock has been charmingly adapted to young girls' dresses. Almost every morning frock and skirt this summer boasts one or more outside pockets.

Report says that autumn skirts are to be full and no longer than the ankle. The softest of chiffon velvet will, to a great extent, take the place of taffeta for evening wraps.

Germans Seize American Ships Going to Sweden

The Wico, which reported sinking a submarine last May, and the Llana—both laden with cargoes of oil, are taken into Swinemunde.

Malmo, Aug. 6th, via London.—The American steamships Llana and Wico, bound from America to Stockholm laden with petroleum, have been seized by the Germans and taken into Swinemunde. The Llana was seized on August 4 near Littlegrundet and the Wico on the following day near Oere Sund.

Both steamships had been held up prior to this voyage by the British authorities. The Llana was detained at Kirkwall on April 6 while on her way to Copenhagen, but was released.

Mme Carton De Wiart Wouldn't Give Up Home.

Refusal of German Demand a Possible Reason for Subsequent Punishment.

Zurich, Aug. 7.—(Despatch to the London Daily Chronicle)—The full story of the treatment of Mme. Carton de Wiart, wife of the Belgian Minister of Justice, by the Germans is published in the Gazette de Lausanne from the pen of her intimate friend. It seems that Mme. Carton de Wiart, who had risked unpopularity by befriending distressed German women stranded in Brussels at the outbreak of the war, came into conflict with the German authorities at a very early date. Some German officers declared their intention of taking up their residence at the Minister of Justice, whereupon Mme. Carton de Wiart replied that it was her home, and that physical force would be required to eject her.

The Germans shrank from the idea of brutal expulsion and contented themselves with occupying the basement of the house with a force of thirty men and placing sentinels at the entrances to scrutinize all visitors closely. In spite of many vexatious restrictions and insults, Mme. Carton de Wiart proceeded with her work of charity and encouragement until she was arrested at the end of last year. For seven hours and a half she underwent in the Senate Chamber a cross-examination from her military judges. Replying always with perfect calm and sauntily to their questions, she admitted frankly that she had given news to Belgian mothers of their sons serving in the Belgian army, and that a more serious offense in the eyes of her judges—she had distributed copies of Cardinal Mercier's pastoral letter.

Condemned to three months and a half imprisonment, she was snatched from her young children, and sent to Berlin. Baron Von Bissing, the German Governor of Brussels, then moved into the house whose legitimate occupier had, by his orders, been sent to the prison of Moabit, near Berlin.

Having imprisoned the mother, the Germans began to harass the children. Two of them, girls hardly in their teens, were summoned before the Kommandantur and severely reprimanded for having displayed small medallion portraits of the King and Queen of Belgium. Other Belgian children, in protest against this incident, at once began to wear similar medallions, the sequel being that the Governor of the various towns issued us recently as last week a proclamation in which all Belgians were forbidden to buy, sell, carry or display Belgian colors, portraits of members of the Royal Family, or patriotic or political inscriptions. A fine of 5,000 marks ($1,250) or imprisonment for five years is the maximum penalty for a breach of this regulation.

THE THOUGH

A SENSELESS PROCEEDING
I witnessed a senseless proceeding the other day in the actions of two of the Council's men who were clearing up one of the principal streets of the city. The day was hot and bright but these two were brushing up dust from the street in an endeavor to collect it and cart it away. Can you imagine what happened? The dust, as soon as it was dislodged, was caught up by the wind, and in quite a respectable thick cloud, was carried into all the open doors and windows to the disgust of the householders.

Now I daresay any of the boys would have been glad to furnish a bucket or so of water to sprinkle, dust before it was swept up, and in any case how easy it would have been for a watering cart to go down the street and lay the dust. The proceeding seemed the result, not of any thought, but of want of thought, which is, of the two, the worse thing.

THE WAR.
It does us no harm to remind ourselves just where we stand at the close of one year's war. Many of us have devoted attention to the question: "Are we winning?"

He starts with the comforting assurance that the original plans of German staff have entirely miscarried, but then roughly brings us to face with the fact that Germany possesses the whole of Belgium, a slight and almost insignificant exception; a good slice of industry France. She has obtained a success from which she can organize a marine raid; she possesses a fleet of uncertain dimensions, means of which she can seek to terrorize Great Britain; her ships war are for the most part uninvaded. So much for the Western Front. On the Eastern side she has regained practically the whole of Galicia; the menace to Hungary involved in the capture of Carpatia passes in now disappearing; Austria has recovered the exceedingly valuable whole of German territory existed before the war is still in while German armies in both areas the war are invading the foe's, defending their own territory, compared with those gains the conquests of the Allies are small indeed.

The Eater-Up.

By RUTH CAMERON.

My doctor friend was telling me of the breakdown of a hard-working little mother who is his cherished friend as well as his patient. "It's nerves and indigestion a tangled up together," he explained. "And do you want to know one thing that caused that indigestion in the first place? Because she's an eater-up."

I took my cue and expressed my desire for an explanation.

"An eater-up," pursued my doctor friend, well pleased at this opportunity to expound his theory, "is a person, almost invariably a mother, who eats up all the little left-over messes that the rest of the family don't want. She always takes the unappetizing crust of day before yesterday's bread. When the rest of the family have some nice fresh steak she's probably eating up a warmed over mess of yesterday's mackerel or the few last scraps of cold lamb from Sunday's roast."

"The family doesn't fancy some pudding she makes for them, so she makes it her dessert for the rest of the week."

"She Doesn't Want to be Criticized."

"She doesn't want to throw anything away and she doesn't want to bring fault finding and criticism down on her head by serving things too many times or by offering anyone the left-overs and so she solves the problem by eating up all the unappetizing things herself."

"All the other members of the family are particular about what they eat. They don't like this or they don't feel like that, but the mother likes everything. She has to. And half the time it means she doesn't have a real appetite for anything.

"I know 'em," finished the doctor indignantly, "these fool women that think they can abuse themselves all they want. She wasn't the only one. I've been treating them for thirty years."

The Sense of Mothers.

The doctor paused to meditate darkly on the sins of mothers and I ventured to ask the elucidation of one point. It was plain enough to me that eating up left-overs would be a disagreeable task, but why should it be harmful? Weren't left-overs nourishing?

I hastily admitted they were not.

A Good Sign When Your Mouth Waters.

"Then," said the doctor, "they're not nourishing, at least not as nourishing as they should be. Don't you know that food that you eat without any appetite for it doesn't digest as well as food you enjoy? When your mouth waters for anything that means that the digestive juices are ready to digest it. If you eat unappetizing food all the time your mouth never waters and your food isn't properly digested."

"What would you have done with left-overs then?"

The doctor fairly snorted. "I'd have them divided among the whole family. There wouldn't be enough to hurt anyone that way. I'd have children trained so that they wouldn't be turning up their noses and finding fault all the time, and scaring their mothers into thinking they must eat up all the unappetizing messes. I suppose children don't mean so badly," concluded my doctor friend more gently, "they just don't realize. It's the fault of their confoundedly unselfish mothers after all—God bless 'em."

At the City Hall.

In the absence of the Chairman, Mr. Harris presided at last night's meeting of the Civic Commission, and the other members present were Messrs. Ayre, McNamara, Bradshaw, Morris, Anderson and Withers.

Mr. H. Rennie, Manager of the Gas Co., informed the Board of the proposed extension of service on Circular and Monkstown Roads and Church Hill, and advised that the company would comply with all the city regulations in the installation of same.

R. Adey, A. Carnell and others of the Sanitary Staff, complained of alleged overcharges for water rates. The scale of rates have been fixed by the Board and the Board has no power to alter the same.

Applications for reinstatement from two employees recently discharged from the Sanitary Staff, were referred to the Inspector for report.

Jonas Barter, on behalf of the Truckmen's Union, asked for a further distribution of patronage re road work. This work is being done under contract, and Mr. Barter will be so informed. In reply to a letter from the Board re the damages done the streets by the cauks in the shoes of truck horses, Mr. Barter explained that the cauks were absolutely necessary for horses that have to haul heavy loads. The explanation was accepted.

A contract for plumbing under the Small Homes Act, was awarded to A. Mills.

John, re the unfenced field off Barter's Hill. A copy of the same will be sent to the owners of the property. An application from E. Carbery to repair house on Forest Road was referred to the Engineer, as was also an application from S. Noseworthy to repair house on Murray Street.

Plans of proposed erection for A. Sutton, William Street were approved, and plans of W. Cormack, Southside, were referred to the Engineer.

T. Hallett, Walsh's Square, was given permission to raise the roof of an extension kitchen at rear of dwelling.

The Engineer reported that 7,410 feet of new water mains had been laid to date.

With the adoption of the other reports and passing of pay rolls, the meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Station Agent at Shelbourne Killed.

Met His Death While attempting to Remove a Colored Youth From a Train.

Shelbourne, Aug. 9.—D. R. McLellan, station agent on the Halifax and South Western Railway here, was killed today and Arthur Davis, a negro, is held in connection with his death. For some time boys have been in the habit of jumping on the train pulling out from the station. To-day Davis jumped on the express from Halifax as it was leaving the station. Mr. McLellan ran out and grabbed hold of him. Then the colored lad seized Mr. McLellan and the latter fell back, his head striking the platform fracturing his skull. He was carried into the station and lived but a short time. Mr. McLellan was about fifty years of age and leaves a widow and five children.

The deceased had been station master at Shelbourne since the opening of the road in 1907, and was justly popular with the town people and travelling public alike. Mr. McLellan had had a long railway experience. He was formerly with the I.C.R. and was one time station master for the D.N.R. at Yarmouth. His sudden death had greatly shocked the community, the circumstances regarding it being so unfortunate.

THE THOUGHTS OF THEOBALD.

A SENSELESS PROCEEDING.

I witnessed a senseless proceeding the other day in the actions of two of the Council's men who were cleaning up one of the principal streets of the city. The day was hot and windy, but these two were brushing up the dust from the street in an endeavour to collect it and cart it away. You can imagine what happened. The dust, as soon as it was disturbed, was caught up by the wind, and made quite a respectable thick cloud, and was carried into all the open doors and windows to the disgust of the householders.

Now I daresay any of the houses would have been glad to furnish a bucket or so of water to sprinkle the dust before it was swept up, and in any case how easy it would have been for a watering cart to go down the street and lay the dust. The proceeding seemed the result, not of wrong thought, but of want of thought, which is, of the two, the worse failing.

THE WAR.

It does us no harm to remind ourselves just where we stand at the close of one year's war. Many writers have devoted attention to the question: "Are we winning?" "Outs" in the Fortnightly Review answers the question, counting the gains and the probable issue.

He starts with the comforting assurance that the original plans of the German staff have entirely miscarried, but then roughly brings us face to face with the fact that Germany possesses the whole of Belgium with a slight and almost insignificant exception; a good slice of industrial France. She has obtained a sea coast from which she can organise submarine raids; she possesses a Zeppelin fleet of uncertain dimensions by means of which she can seek to terrorise Great Britain; her ships of war are for the most part untouched. So much for the Western side. On the Eastern side she has recently regained practically the whole of Galicia; the menace to Hungary involved in the capture of Carpathian passes is now disappearing; Austria has recovered the exceedingly valuable whole of German territory as it existed before the war is still intact, while German armies in both areas of the war are invading the foe's, not defending their own, territory. As compared with these gains the conquests of the Allies are small indeed.

As against this the Allies have secured the valuable adhesion of Italy and the supremacy of the British Navy, has suppressed Germany's sea-borne commerce, and her Colonies are in the possession of the Allies. And while perhaps Germany is suffering little yet from internal economic elements, (because for one thing, petrol, of which she was getting short, will once more become available owing to the Austrian recapture of her Gallician oilfields), yet the stress of war must tell upon her in the long run much more than it is likely to do on the Allies. And now the capture of Warsaw and the wonderful if unsuccessful enveloping movement of the Germans are to be added to the tale.

The Allies have time on their side, but something must soon take place on the fields of Flanders before any vestige of victory can appear in sight. We have to conquer in the West, and it would seem as if it might take all the resources of men, factories, and money to beat down the obstinate resistance of the enemy.

MIGHT OR RIGHT.

Think as you will, the war is going to be won by Might. Our thoughts, our actions, and preparations, our munition problems, all point to the fact that we cannot and do not rely upon the righteousness of our cause per se to obtain the victory. It is the might of our arms that will give us the victory. The victory which Right is bound to bring is not brought by force of arms. It is the slower evolution but perhaps a far more lasting victory. Right is won by example, by influence. Might gains its ends, but makes enemies and unwilling servants.

We can only trust that this war will clear the atmosphere of the world's thinking, and that the ordinary individuals of all lands will realize how wasteful, unnecessary, and led it is to play such a killing game, and resolve not to be influenced by any Kaiser-like whims of conquest.

SILVER BULLETS.

It may be well to preach economy to the daily wage earner, that is, if he can get any closer to Mr. Economy than he is now, but there are those in the scale higher up, who merit much more advice on the spending of money. If the silver bullet is one of our most powerful Allies, then why do we not see more of them being offered for machine guns. Why be satisfied with a moderate subscription in the hope that the Fund will be completed by the twenty cent pieces of the poor?

It is a question that I cannot get over. The Empire calls for able-bodied men to fight—she also calls for money and munitions. Most people look with surprise if they see a young man, unattached, and able to fight, who does not volunteer. But there are men of means who never think that they owe their money to the Empire just as a volunteer feels that his duty to the Empire is to enlist. And if you get right down to bed rock, why should it be necessary to offer any man interest on his subscription to the war loan? Is his money worth more than the life of a volunteer? If the war, as it must be, is for his interest, should he not be willing to help the Empire freely and fully? I would like some answer to these questions. I know that some subscriptions are large but they represent no sacrifice, and inconvenience the donors not one bit.

What can one think of the man, who, in order to escape the death duty tax, gave away all his money before he died? When you think of the imperative need of machine guns in this war, the mere suggestion should have brought the thirty thousand dollars in a couple of hours. Why should our wealthy men wait to see what other men give?

A QUESTION OF EFFICIENCY.

The question of drink or abstinence from drink is essentially one of efficiency, physical, mental, and moral. When people really begin to realise that the use of alcoholic beverages invariably and under all circumstances limits efficiency and makes them less fit for the daily task, whatever it may be, they will undoubtedly turn from it. The navy going to his work in the street, the miner going to the bowels of the earth, the mason, the carpenter, the engine driver, the tram conductor, and the professional man, whether he is a doctor, lawyer, or clergyman, one and all reduce in measurable degree their efficiency for their particular duties by indulging in strong drink. Vitality is diminished, physical endurance is limited, and alertness of the mind, the power of concentration and memory, are all weakened by imbibing the alcoholic poison just in proportion to the quantity taken. . . . How long are we going to allow this state of affairs to exist. The insignificant measures that have already been taken against the use of intoxicants have miserably failed and there is only one possible solution, and that is total prohibition of intoxicants, at least for the period of the war. The problem is far more urgent and vital than the man in the street recognizes, and therefore we say again that the time has come for the Government to take a bold stand and to call for total prohibition. We have no doubt as to the answer to such a call, for we believe the people of this nation are ready and willing to make any reasonable sacrifice in order to better themselves and support the hundreds of thousands of heroic men at the front who are daily risking their lives for King and country. We believe the country is ready for the sacrifice and that it only waits a strong and courageous lead on the part of the Government.—Good Health.

BRANCH RAILWAYS.

The Branch Railways, so the Morris Government said parrot-like to all criticism, were built on a mandate from the people. They were built by the people's money and the idea was that they should serve the people's interest by carrying their freight and taking them as passengers. They have been built, the people's money has been spent, the Reid Company has been paid their arbitration fees, and the people have been duly taxed to pay the interest on it all. After long waits some of the Branches have been put in running order, but Bay de Verde Branch still is unopened. The Heart's Content line is running but I understand that the cars on that branch are about the oldest in the service. In any other country the system would not be permitted. The Railway Company should be forced to put decent accommodation on every Branch, for no railway is going to pay that does not cater to its customers. There is plenty work to be done for the branch lines in the way of rolling stock, as well as for the main line and there is no excuse for the wholesale reduction of men and time that has taken place of late months. I know of men who work now only 7 hours a day and only about 35 hours in some weeks. Is this patriotism? Is this good enough?

Prohibition in Alberta.

(From the Presbyterian Witness.)

The reform party has won a great triumph in Alberta and has set a high example for the rest of the Dominion. By a vote of nearly two to one the people have decided to put an end to the legal sale of intoxicating liquor. All the cities, with the exception of Lethbridge, went dry. Edmonton showing a majority of 3,690 and Calgary about 3,200. By this decision, the act prohibiting the sale of liquor throughout the province will come into operation on the first day of July, 1916. The struggle for deliverance from this great evil has been a keen one. The liquor interests fought hard to retain a hold in the province, but the people were deeply in earnest and cast their votes with a full understanding of the seriousness of the step they were taking. The vote was polled under the newly adopted system of direct legislation, so that the voters were not merely expressing an opinion but enacting a law; and it is significant that the first fruits of this new system should be legislation for the moral reform and uplift of the province in which it is enacted.

A HORRIBLE SPECTACLE.

There was something horrible in the spectacle of these old men dilating in Parliament, like commercial travellers paid for the job on the special virtues of the varieties of alcohol produced in Ireland, and declaring if there was any limitation in the drink traffic that there would be an end of the Irish nation. We had ultimatums of the Irish publicans warning the representatives of the nation who it was supported them and kept them in power. We had meetings all over the country, with wreath-carrying like the Mayor of Limerick telling the young men of Ireland that if they would fight and die the cause of alcohol in Ireland was the noblest cause of any Island of saints and heroes, of fighters for lost causes in every clime, the last cause your children are asked to die for is the right to be drunken as publicans can make them. The Press very violence has given up whole pages to dipsomania grown lyrical, while it could hardly devote a column to the far more important problem of food production and the increase of tillage in Ireland. It is the counter demonstration of the Devil to the action of thousands of grave and silent men who during the last few months have shown that they regard the triumph of right in the world as of more importance than their own lives. These disgusting attempts to identify religion and Irish nationality with drink very violence than harm. The demonstration of the Devil to the politicians to obey the cracking of their whip, they will have appeared in such a light in Ireland, they will have made so clear the power they have, that it will be the beginning of their end. We are told if there is any restriction on drink national revenue will suffer and the State become bankrupt. Does revenue only arise from the vice of men as mushrooms rise out of manure? We recommend those alcoholically anxious about Irish revenue to read Mr. Gladstone's scornful retort to the representatives of drink who waited on him to tell him how much national revenue would suffer if he carried out his policy: "Gentlemen, you need not give yourselves any trouble about the revenue. With a sober population not wasting their earnings, I shall know where to obtain the revenue." In a country which can afford to spend fourteen millions on alcohol every year, there is ample margin to provide for any depreciation.—The Irish Homestead.

The same fine show will be repeated to-day with extra pictures at this afternoon's matinee.

WEEK'S END. How sweet to rest serenely in the gloaming, the week's work done, your princely wages drawn; to rest and read, the winds your sideboards combing, and watch the children play upon the lawn. I tell you this, my grouchily friend and neighbor, there's naught on earth more soothing to the soul, than rest that follows days of earnest labor, the toil that brings a small but honest roll. The pride of wealth, the pride of birth or beauty, the pride that swells the chests of heau and belle, seems shoddy stuff to him who does his duty, who does his tasks, and strives to do them well. Beneath his vine the workingman is sitting, his bills are paid, some roubles put away; upon the porch his smiling wife is knitting around his feet the tow-haired kiddies play. For pomp and he wastes no time in sighing, he knows how oft such longings lives have queried; and past his home the motor cars go flying, by men in debt and divers bankrupts steered. A cottage home that's yours and fully paid for, a happy frun, a sense of duty done; that pleasant lot a millionaire might trade for, and get big value for his heaps of mon.

Association Football.

Championship Decided.—Collegians are Victors—Defeated St. Bon's Last Evening by Three Goals to One—A Player Broke His Leg. The Collegians won a decided victory over the St. Bon's last evening, thus they are the proud possessors of the championship cup and the gold medalists as well for 1915. Before the match started speculation was rife as to the result, as the Collegians and B. I. S. were virtually running a dead heat for first place, hence if the new champions had to lose, the other aspiring team mentioned would fall in for the much coveted honours, whereas if the St. Bon's tied with the Collegians, the latter would again have to meet the B. I. S. to have supremacy proven. However, matters turned out differently, and was an ideal evening for football and a large gathering of on-lookers surrounded the arena. Throughout the match enthusiasm and excitement was manifest amongst the fans. The teams comprised: Collegians—Goal, Wornell; backs, Quick, Halfyard; halves, Pike, Barnes, Pike; forwards, Coultas, Ellis, Kendrick, Heath, Gault, and Wilson. St. Bon's—Goal, Knight; backs, Power, Higgins; halves, Keegan, McGrath, Crawford; forwards, R. Callahan, Kelly, Smith, W. Callahan, Devine. Referee.—Mr. W. J. Higgins.

The play opened with the Collegians on the aggressive and made a couple of vigorous, though ineffectual, attacks. The St. Bon's put up a stubborn defence. After a while the St. Bon's stirred themselves a bit. Higgins found out the dimensions of an opponent's footwear and had to retire. During his absence the Collegians scored their first goal through Heath. After going through the First Aid process Higgins resumed playing. No further scoring was done for the rest of the first period.

In the next period better football was seen than in the first. Within a minute from the opening the St. Bon's managed to register the equalizing goal, Callahan doing the needful. Play then became more furious, both sides trying to gain the mastery. Darkness set in and made combination impossible. The St. Bon's seemed to get the advantage and for a few minutes confined play to Collegians territory. The back division defended well and kept the ball clear of danger zone. The game was well advanced when Gear came down the right wing at a fast clip. One of the St. Bon's backs thought the ball was going out of play, but Gear gave it a splendid hook and a little bit of "side" brought the leather behind Knight and the second goal for the Collegians was recorded. Continuing a strenuous attack the Collegians secured a corner, which was neatly executed and Gear again sent the St. Bon's goal keeper notching up the third and winning goal for his team. Just as the ball was re-centered full time was announced and at the same time Smith, of the St. Bon's, broke his leg. He was removed from the field on a stretcher, thence taken to his home on LeMarchant Road.

The proceeds of last evening's game amounted to $40, the highest for the season. The final game of the League series will be played between the Star and C. E. I.-Feldians, but this does not affect the championship. The gate receipts for the entire season is expected to be in the vicinity of $800 which will be devoted to the Patriotic Fund. We unite with our many friends and admirers in extending our cordial congratulations to the Collegians and every individual member of that team on their hard earned and well merited success. Out of the six games they played in the series they lost only one, giving them a total of 10 points. The B. I. S. are the next high liners with 9 points.

Chapter of Accidents. There was a chapter of accidents at last evening's football game. The first to be put out of commission was J. Higgins. Next E. Crawford came in contact with an opponent and got his arm wrenched, and just as the referee blew the "last call" at the close of the game, N. Smith accidentally got his leg broken. Referee Higgins, H. Barnes and J. Taylor rendered "first aid," after which the broken bone was set by Dr. Roberts, who was summoned. The victim was then driven to his home on LeMarchant Road.

Buying Back Our Army

(By Arthur Mee, in 'My Magazine'.)

We talk of our Army and Navy with admiration now, but look back not many years. None of us would have taken into our homes the average soldier at Waterloo. Fourteen years after Waterloo the Duke of Wellington said of the man who enlisted in the British Army that he was generally the worst drunkard and probably the worst workman in his town, and less than fifty years ago the Minister for War told the House of Commons that it had come to be a question whether the British Army should collapse or not. We could not get men. We never could get enough men for our last war in Europe. Why? Let us see.

Too Good for the Men Who Won Waterloo.

After the French were over, when huge sums of money were being voted to Wellington and the officers, it was proposed to reward the men, too, and what do you think was to be their reward for Waterloo? It was proposed to reward them by limiting their flogging to a hundred lashes. The flogging of soldiers for all sorts of offences was so bad that the floggers would take it in shifts, and a doctor stood by to say how much a man could stand without dying. Well, you may not believe it, but it is true that Lord Palmerston opposed this concession to the men who beat Napoleon. It was rejected, and the flogging went on, sometimes a man would get a thousand lashes.

At last, when the Victorian Era was well on its way, a soldier was flogged to death, and Parliament then reduced the flogging to fifty lashes. And when do you think this barbarism was stopped by the Mother of Parliaments? With a woman on the throne such things could hardly last long. Well, I am not forty years old, and I was a boy at school when the British Government proposed to abolish this flogging of soldiers.

Through all the years till then the men of our Army were treated like dogs, or worse than the law would allow any man to treat his dog now. Yet, when the end of this cruelty came, Queen Victoria, wrote to Mr. Gladstone earnestly begging him not to stop flogging, as it would deprive the officers of the only power they had of keeping young troops in order. It is to the everlasting honor of the British Government that it replied to Queen Victoria by abolishing flogging, and the abolition was followed by a

How Parliament Saved the Army.

Only nine years before, again in the teeth of Queen Victoria and the House of Lords, the Government had jeoparded rich men of the control of the Army by abolishing the purchase of commissions. "The Nation," said Mr. Gladstone, "must buy back its own Army from its own officers." But for this Sir John French could never have been the commander of our troops in France. Queen Victoria was not allowed to flog our soldiers or to sell commissions, and to this, more than to any other single thing, we owe the Army which has changed the meaning of the word "contemptible" in the Kaiser's dictionary.

Two out of three men ran away from the Navy in Nelson's wars. Most captains fogged the men continually with cat-o'-nine-tails, and his mates would generally make a man drunk before the fogging—as the doctor makes a man unconscious before an operation.

Steel Clad Troops.

Armour at the Front—Ancient Ideas in New Form.

One of the many curious and unforeseen results of trench warfare on a gigantic scale has been the reintroduction of armour for the soldier. The French and the Russians have both to a considerable extent adopted helmets and breastplates of thin steel, with a large measure of success.

Such plates were first tried in modern war by the Japanese at the siege of Port Arthur, where the conditions resembled those of the trench struggle of to-day. On the eve of the assaults of September 1904, upon the Port Arthur forts, Japanese engineers were sent out to cut the wire entanglements, "with metal shields reaching as far down as the legs strapped in front of their bodies." Again in the mine warfare against the Russian forts the Japanese working parties pushed steel plates before them. The Germans tried similar devices at Ypres. On the Yser in February one of our special correspondents in the north of France wrote that the Germans had many large concave steel plates, each capable of sheltering four men. Of the four two carried the shield—one on the right and the other on the left. The third, armed with a rifle, fired through a special opening in the shield. The fourth, walking behind the third, hurled grenades. These shields proved very troublesome, though in some cases our soldiers succeeded in putting shots through the loophole and in other cases hit the legs of the men who were carrying the appliance, bringing it down with a crash. In the French army a steel skull cap and steel breastplate are constantly worn by the infantry when delivering attacks with hand grenades. They are light and proof to bullets from rifle or shrapnel and protect the vitals. Many of these shields have been for months on sale at Calais, and they have been widely bought by the French officers and soldiers.

So far back as October the manufacture of them by the Government for the French troops in the Argonne began. In June it was announced that the French Ministry of War had adopted a light steel helmet, suggesting in design the headpieces worn by men-at-arms six centuries ago. These helmets are painted grey-blue, harmonizing with the French uniform. They give protection against spent bullets and shrapnel fragments, which inflict numerous wounds in the head in trench fighting. These helmets have now been practically tested, and a report as to their great value from Dr. Devraigne appears in the Lancet. He examined 55 cases of wounds in the head in which 42 of the wounded wore no helmet and 13 were protected with it. Twenty-three of the 42 suffered fracture of the skull and most of them died. The other 19 only suffered scalp wounds. Of the 13 with helmets none died, 5 had only scratches, and 8 suffered from "cerebral shock." There was not a single fracture of the skull among the protected men.

What the Germans are doing in this matter of helmets is not known, but it is believed that they too are busy experimenting with armour for the heads of their snipers and bombardiers. The German Staff is so alert that it never neglects a mechanical contrivance. German officers studied the steel breastplate which Sir Hiram Maxim produced twenty years ago, and Krupp has for years been experimenting with light, hard steels suitable for the equipment of pioneers and infantry with armour.

With regard to the British Army no information is forthcoming, but the large number of head wounds among our men points to the importance of giving them this protection. The weight of armour might be a grave disadvantage if the fighting were in the open field. But where the two armies are a few hundred feet apart weight is no consideration whatever.

Col. Nelson's Will.

The will of the late W. R. Nelson, founder of the Kansas City "Star," is one of the most interesting filed in any section of the United States. His fortune is estimated to be between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000, and this immense wealth after the death of his wife and daughter is to go back in beneficial ways among the people who contributed most largely to his highly successful newspaper career. The farmers and stockmen are provided with an immense and fully equipped experimental farm through which they may profit by study and scientific methods, and this privilege is to endure for the next thirty years. Upon the death of Mrs. W. R. Nelson and her daughter, in case there be no children to the latter, the great estate will be used for erecting and maintaining such features of educational pleasure as will profit directly men, women and children in all paths of life. These will include art galleries, parks, displays of statuary, paintings, tapestries, etc. In case children are born to the daughter, now married, they are to receive $1,000,000 each upon arrival at legal age. Upon the death of Mrs. Nelson and her daughter the remainder of the large estate will be used in perpetuity of the plans outlined above.

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kept up my work and now I am over the change and that is all I took. It was better for me than all the doctor's medicines I tried. Many people have no faith in patent medicines but I know this is good."—Mrs. E. J. RICKETS, 354 8th Avenue, West, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, back-aches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Sivash." Domestic science is the art of preserving husbands. It is a comparatively new invention. Up to a few years ago, young brides treated their husbands with heartless cruelty. For many years humane societies protested against vivisection while allowing sweet young wives to make granite biscuits and feed them to husbands in order to find out whether or not they were edible. Many an innocent husband has come to a sad end by eating insubstantial pancakes and Harveized cake fed to him with loving words by a wife who had too much faith in a cook book or a fluffy memory.

In domestic science the young woman does not use a husband for experimenting purposes. She goes to a college and learns to make cake out of a chemistry text book in a bomb proof laboratory. When the cake is finished it is examined by fearless experts with great care. Sometimes a domestic science student will waste two barrels of flour before she can produce an innocuous cake, but nobody cares. Owing to the scarcity and general skittishness of men nowadays it is considered better to waste flour than to get too prodigal with husbands.

When the domestic science student has spent a year of hard work with scales, test tubes, microscopes and other engineering instruments she is given a pile of raw material and is allowed to erect a meal. If the meal looks edible when finished it is fed to the board of trustees. If there are no vacancies to be filled on the board next day she is given a degree. There are three degrees in domestic science based on the result of the graduating meal. These are D. D. (Didn't Die), A.M. (Asked for More), and M.D. (Made a Date). The last is considered of the greatest achievement.

Since domestic science has become popular much of the terror has gone out of early matrimony and our young men are beginning once more to rush more fearlessly into marriage. There is no more effective way of making a fixture out of a husband than to feed him highly nutritious food which can be eaten with an entire absence of effort.

Cable Laying in Quidi Vidi Lake.

For the past week Quidi Vidi Lake has been the scene of submarine cable operations rarely seen inland. Several boats from the cable ship "Mackay-Bennett" which is at present moored at Shea's wharf have been placed on the lake with a cable laying gear, and the officers and crew of the ship are engaged in laying submarine cables in the lake to connect with the Commercial Cable Company's trans-atlantic cables landing at Cuckhold's Cove with the Company's underground cables to the new building which is being erected on Water Street.

The underground and lake cables were manufactured by the Okonite Company of New York. The underground cable is lead covered about an inch in diameter and is being laid in three inch wrought iron pipes under the direction of the Okonite Company's engineer, Mr. L. G. Martin. The lake cable is of heavier construction sheathed with galvanized iron wires and weighs about 14 tons per mile. This cable is being laid under the direction of F. H. Larnder, Commander of the Commercial Cable Company's cable repairing ship "Mackay-Bennett." These operations are very interesting. It is necessary in laying this cable to use the utmost care to avoid injuring it. It would be manifestly impossible to drag the cable across the bottom of the lake from one end to the other, hence barrels are placed on the cable twenty feet apart to keep it buoyed as it is drawn across the lake.

The laying of one cable has been completed to-day and the laying of the other cables will be commenced on Monday. Mr. Geo. G. Ward, Vice-President and General Manager of the Commercial Cable Company is in St. John's to see that the work is carried out in accordance with the company's plans.

Captain Deserted So That He Could Fight

Left India to Become Private in France Under Assumed Name and Died in Battle.

London, August 7.—How a captain of the British army in India left his regiment and under an assumed name joined the British force in France as a private and died bravely in battle is related in a statement issued to-day by the British Press Bureau. The captain was H. S. Smart, of the 53rd Sikhs. On June 4 he was removed from the service because of his unexplained absence from India. The statement says:

"It has been ascertained that his action was due to his strong desire to join the force in France. He came to this country and enlisted as Thomas Hardy in the Royal West Surrey Regiment, and was killed in action on May 17 at Festubert, where he displayed such gallantry that he would have been granted the medal for distinguished conduct had he survived." Smart, though dead, has been restored to his captivity.

Canada Has Sent Eighty Thousand Men.

Expect to Have Four Divisions at the Front.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Upwards of 80,000 Canadian soldiers have already been dispatched abroad for service in the war. Of these nearly 13,000 have appeared in the casualty lists, so that there are still about 67,000 men in England and in France. This comprises two divisions for service, one of which has already received its baptism of fire and has been reorganized, and reinforced at least twice, and the other of which has been in training at Shorncliffe and will soon be ready for service at the front. In addition the 67,000 will provide a large number of reinforcements when needed. In Canada it is estimated that there are between sixty and sixty-five thousand men in the various camps, many of whom are already in a high state of efficiency. CIVIC COLLECTIONS.—The total Municipal collections for the week just closed amounted to $4,021.80, as compared with $1,466.95 for the corresponding period last year.
