NO INSINUATION AS TOO MEAN FOR USE

British Cabinet Ministers Who Bought American Marconi Stock Are Being Saved From Suffering by Unscrupulous Rancor of Opponents' Criticism.

Special Cable to The World. LONDON, April 11.—(Copyright).—The true story of how Attorney-General Isaacs came to take 10,000 shares of the American Marconi Co.'s stocks has not been told.

He took them as an act of friendship to his brother Godfrey, the managing director of the Marconi Company, who had 100,000 shares on his hands and was having great difficulty in placing them. Having assured himself that the American company had no interest in the contract with the British Government, Sir Rufus went to the brother's rescue.

His and Lloyd George's political opponents are now pressing the enquiry with such unrelenting malice—also all the circumstances have been thoroughly investigated with the aid of their bank pass-books, their brokers' books and every document bearing on the transaction—that the falsely accused ministers are becoming objects of general public sympathy.

The proceedings of the committee afford a repellent object lesson in unfairness and spitefulness carried to their utmost limit.

Mean Insinuations.

No insinuation has been too mean, no innuendo too unjustified to be used again and again in the face of repeated disproof. Undoubtedly it is felt that these ministers acted with unardonable indiscretion in touching anything in the name of Marconi, and if their Unionist accusers had acted with decent moderation the government and the Liberal party would suffer seriously. But they are being saved by the unscrupulous rancor of their opponents.

Clifford Chesterton, who recently left The Daily News staff, is now vying with his brother Cecil, the editor of The Eye-Witness, who is awaiting trial for criminal libel, in attacking Lloyd George and the government generally. If Attorney-General Isaacs fails to get a verdict against Cecil Chesterton it will place him in an awkward position, and in view of the impression created by the American Marconi purchases this is quite possible.

The opposition leaders are now pressing for a debate on the Marconi question, but Lloyd George is determined to have one as the best means of clearing the air.

GIVE CONTROLLERS NO MONEY WHO REFUSE RESPONSIBILITY

City Council Will Be Asked at Next Meeting to Discontinue Forthwith the Salaries of the Members of the Board of Control Who Refuse to Carry Out Instructions.

"I will move in next meeting of the city council that those controllers who refuse to carry out the instructions of the council shall have their salaries discontinued forthwith," said Ald. Spence yesterday.

"The council has instructed the board of control to become better informed upon the work of the several departments, each member of the board specializing on one branch of departmental business. At present the organization of the board of control prevents the required information about departments being given to the council.

"Three of the controllers have refused most positively to carry out the instructions of the council to specialize on departmental work. They will not provide the council with the required information, and they will not let their colleagues carry out the instructions of the council. The council has the power to withdraw their salaries of $2500 each and it is very likely that the obstreperous controllers will find themselves deprived of salaries unless they attend to the duties for which they are being paid.

MORE WORK, MORE PAY.

"Now that the board of control has approved a resolution of the council that the chairman of committees give council the required information upon departmental work, it naturally follows that the chairman should be paid for the extra work they would do, and that the balking controllers be not paid for the work they should do and refuse to do."

Ald. Dunn said that he is now putting in nearly all of his time at the city hall in looking after the works committee business.

Ald. Weston said that he will not do any more work for the city unless he is paid for it. "I put in a great deal of my time at civic work now," he said, "and if I do the work of any controller I will demand that the salary of that controller be not paid."

"I am sparing all the time to city affairs that my business will allow," said Ald. Anderson. "Controllers who will not attend to the business they are paid to look after will find themselves without their salaries, if my voice and vote counts for anything in the council."

J. MALLON, J.P. PROF. COLEMAN DIED YESTERDAY GOES TO QUEEN'S

Was Retired Merchant and Former Alderman in Old Brockton Council and the City Council.

John Mallon, J.P., one of the pioneer business men and public spirited citizens of Brockton, and of Toronto, passed away yesterday at his residence, 694 Dundas street. Mr. Mallon was in business at the market as a provision merchant for many years. He retired about five years ago. He was a native of Ireland and came to Canada when a lad. In addition to his energy and activity as a business man he took a keen interest in municipal and general politics and was an ardent Liberal. He was a member of the Brockton Council and afterwards an alderman in the Toronto City Council.

He is survived by three sons and six daughters. The sons are James W. John S. and Edward M. P. The daughters are Mrs. Scully, of North Bay, and five at home.

The funeral will take place to St. Helen's Church on Monday morning at 9 o'clock. The interment will be at St. Michael's cemetery.

POPE RECEIVES PILGRIM BISHOPS PATHETIC INCIDENT IN SICK ROOM

ROME, April 11.—(Can. Press).—Despite the injunctions of his physicians and the remonstrances of his attendants, Pope Pius this afternoon received in audience three bishops who had headed a pilgrimage to Rome to visit him, and bestowed upon them the papal blessing.

Tonight he fell into a deep sleep immediately after his physicians had made their customary call.

The meeting between the pontiff and three aged bishops was pathetic. As they entered the sick room they threw themselves at the feet of the Pope, who was sitting in his arm chair. The Pope smiled, and lifting his hands above their heads bestowed his blessing. The bishops, who had been warned to make the audience as short as possible, left the papal bedroom with their eyes brimming with tears.

ATLANTIC FLIGHT GERMAN BOOKIES' TO START IN FEW DAYS TREMENDOUS BUSINESS

Joseph Brucker Will Leave Canary Islands Next Week in His Dirigible in an Attempt to Fly to America—He Is Absolutely Sure of Success.

Special Cable to The World. PARIS, April 11.—(Copyright).—Officials of the Aero Club of France have received word from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, that Joseph Brucker has arrived there safely with his dirigible balloon Suohard II, and is scheduled to start April 20, 21 or 22 on his attempted flight across the Atlantic to America.

With Mr. Brucker are Dr. Alt and two machinists from the Austrian steamship Columbus. The doctor cables that the party feel absolutely sure of success.

The Portuguese Government, it is understood, is helping in the preliminaries.

The Suohard II was to have started from Las Palmas tomorrow, but a delay has been caused by the Spanish provincial authorities, who object to Brucker inflating his balloon on the military reservation. It is not a proper place to set out from, they say. Mr. Brucker is now trying to get the necessary authorization from the Spanish home government at Madrid.

A Long Flight.

It is 1550 miles from Las Palmas, which is sixty miles off the coast of Africa, to the nearest point of the United States. It is calculated the balloon may be able to reach Florida or Cuba in an eighty-day journey. Mr. Brucker is an Austrian, but he lived long in the United States, and was editor of the Illinois Staats Zeitung of Chicago and was commissioner to Germany for the St. Louis World's Fair. The Suohard II is the second largest balloon in the world. It has a basket which can be used as a boat. There is a sprinkler for cooling the gas bag.

DANCE AT AGINCOURT.

The engineering staff of the C.P.R. grade separation work between Lesaids and Agincourt celebrated the near completion of the undertaking by a barn dance at Agincourt last night. Between four and five hundred were present at the gathering, which was a pronounced success.

THREE HUNDRED MILE RAILWAY TO COLONIZE NORTH ONTARIO WILL SPEND THREE MILLIONS

Company Agrees to Bring Out Four Thousand Settlers in Ten Years, Build Schools, Roads, Bridges, Pulp and Lumber Mills—Crown Will Enforce Rigid Conditions in Return For Charter and Cheap Land.

In an extensive colonization scheme provided for in a bill introduced in the legislature yesterday by Hon. W. H. Hearst, minister of lands, forests and mines, the Lake Huron and Northern Ontario Railway Co. agrees to construct a colonization road 325 miles long in the next four years in New Ontario and bring out about 4000 settlers within the next ten years. The railway company in return for its charter must also put up schools in the settled districts, build the necessary highways and bridges and expend within three years an amount not less than $5,000,000 on plants to manufacture the lumber cut by the settlers. The company is now known as the Bruce Mines and Algoma Railway, but henceforth will be known as the Lake Huron and Northern Ontario Railway. In explaining the bill Mr. Hearst stated that the line would run from the present terminus at Rock Lake Station to a junction with the Northern Transcontinental Railway, midway between Hearst and Cochrane, and that 17 miles was already built.

As a reward for the colonization work to be done by the railway the bill proposes to authorize the company to purchase from the crown, land not exceeding 4000 acres for each mile of the main line, at the price of 25 cents per acre for the first 8000 acres per mile and 50 cents per acre thereafter up to 4000 acres per mile—amounting to approximately 1,300,000 acres.

Purchase Conditions.

The right to purchase is made upon the following conditions:

1. That lands must be purchased within five years and selected by the minister. The crown will reserve each alternate section on the line of the road.
2. All red and white pine timber shall be reserved to the crown.
3. All the ore, mines and minerals and the rights and other advantages pertaining thereto shall be reserved to the crown.
4. There shall be reserved to the crown a right over a strip of land 140 feet wide in any and all lots of 25 acres or more for the purpose of the construction of an electric transmission line.
5. All water power and all other advantages necessarily for the development of the power shall be reserved to the crown.
6. Work on the construction of the railway shall be commenced within six months of the passage of the act.
7. For five years the company shall place 250 settlers a year on the land and for the next five years shall place 500 settlers a year on the land.
8. In the erection of sawmill plants the company shall spend $3,500,000 within three years.
9. The company shall improve the lands and offer them for sale at a price to be fixed by the minister.
10. The Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway and any other railway owned by the province shall have running rights over the railway, subject to the terms of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board.
11. The company shall make precautions against bush fires due to the railway.
12. In order to have settlement work commence and manufacturing plants constructed without delay, the minister may, if he deems it advisable, issue patents to the company for portions of the land up to the amount of 2500 acres on the construction, upon the payment of the sums agreed to.

BODY OF MORGAN LIES IN LIBRARY

Casket Borne in Hearse From Steamer by Sailors in Drenching Rain.

NEW YORK, April 11.—(Can. Press).—The body of J. P. Morgan lies tonight among the art treasures of his private library. It reached New York on the steamer France in a driving rain this afternoon and at dusk was taken from the ship's mortuary chapel, sombre in heavy velvet and resplendent in silver and gold, to a motor hearse, which conveyed it from the pier to the library. Hundreds braved the drenching rain and stood in the streets to watch it pass. Among the rare bronzes, costly paintings and other art objects which he brought here from Europe, the dead financier was laid in state till Monday morning, when the funeral services will be held in St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church.

The France came into the harbor with her flag at half-mast. A heavy rain fell and the streets were drenched. The body was taken from its resting place in the mortuary chapel to the hearse.

Sailors Carried Casket.

When all other passengers had left the vessel the crew of the France were assembled in the mortuary chapel to follow the body to the hearse. Ten uniformed sailors of the France's crew carried the heavy casket. Across it was draped a great American flag—the same flag which the United States government gave to the France to commemorate her maiden voyage as the largest ship which the French had ever sent over to America.

Attendants bearing some floral offerings followed the hearse. A wreath of wheat wrought in solid silver from the town of Agincourt was the beneficiary of Mr. Morgan's generosity.

LOOKS TO SENATE TO REJECT BILL

German's Predictions Handful of Ministers Hear Dreary Speeches.

OTTAWA, April 11.—To a slim house and to galleries entirely deserted, the Liberal members addressed themselves this afternoon and evening in speeches against closure. No dilatory motion was made and the debate was promptly resumed by Judge MacKenzie of Cape Breton and Victoria. His main argument was that the Liberals had a right to obstruct the naval bill because it was unconstitutional.

It was followed by Mr. German of Welland, who created a mild sensation by announcing that the senate would throw out the naval bill; an announcement that was greeted by applause from opposition members, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Nesbitt (N. Oxford) and Mr. Sinclair (Guyaboro) also spoke, the latter complaining bitterly of the small attendance. It was in his opinion the result of "machine politics" introduced into parliament.

Fifteen Liberals Present.

As a matter of fact at the time there were thirty-two members in their seats, of whom seventeen were Conservatives. A large portion of the remaining one hundred and eighty-nine members were engaged in the banking and commerce committee. At the evening sitting, Mr. Bolvin (Shefford) spoke considerable length upon the rights of minorities. "We are a country of minorities," he said, "the only class in the majority being the farmers, who are treated as if they were a small minority."

Hon. Frank Oliver adjourned the debate, which will be resumed on Monday. It is expected that a vote will be reached next Thursday.

FREE WHEAT'S GRYE MILLERS

National Federation in Convention at Chicago Denounces Restrictions in New Tariff Bill.

CHICAGO, April 11.—(Can. Press).—The proposed tariff on wheat and flour was denounced in resolutions adopted today at the annual convention of the Millers' National Federation, which do not want any tariff protection whatever, but urged that if a tariff be placed on wheat that an equalizing tariff be placed on the products of wheat, and that if the products of wheat be admitted free that wheat also be admitted free of duty.

"The duty on wheat," said the chairman of the resolutions committee, "according to bills introduced in the house of representatives on April 7, will be 10 cents a bushel, the duty on flour 10 per cent ad valorem, except when imported from a country which does not impose a tariff on American flour, in which case it is to be admitted free."

"This means that flour from Canada, Germany and other countries which maintain a tariff on flour will have to pay a duty until they see it to their advantage to change the laws, but flour from Great Britain will have free access to American markets, and in meeting British competition American millers will be handicapped by a duty on their raw material of ten cents a bushel. The duties on wheat and flour should be specific. If the duty on wheat is to be 10 cents a bushel, the tariff on flour should be fifty cents a barrel, a change in the letter but not in the spirit of the proposed law. If congress will make the wheat duty on flour simply on the flour admitted to this country, millers will still be handicapped by the free admission of by-products."

ONTARIO EDUCATION SYSTEM UNDER FIRE IN LEGISLATURE

Hon. Dr. Pyne Says the Salary Question Is the One Which Causes Most of the Trouble — Mr. Rowell Suggested Many Reforms Which Should Be Adopted.

The educational matters of the province came to the fore in the attention of the house yesterday afternoon, the discussion arising out of the resolution from the committee of supply that a sum of $14,000,000 be placed in supplementary estimate in the administration of the education department.

The appearance of the motion provided an opening for T. Marshall, of Monck, who has become the educational critic of the opposition, and he immediately opposed it by a resolution based on the wretched condition of affairs in the schools today and its direct tracing to the inadequacy of the minister. He claimed that an appalling condition existed in several portions of Ontario and that the little children who came were treated in many cases to a mockery of education, that not only proved a matter of great expense to parents, but graduated the students little better learned than when they entered.

One great cause of this inefficiency was because of the construction of the curriculum. It was overloaded and it ordained the instruction of the youngsters in matters that were far too deep for them. To prove his case he pulled a pamphlet from his pocket which contained the instructions for the years and the grades and read it for the edification of the house, declaring that the great majority of the references therein were very foreign to the intelligence of them.

One part of the historical teaching was along the line of the progress of the Christian kingdoms, and another required a full knowledge of the Renaissance and the life work of Charles the Great.

"You can imagine how pupils of 15 years could deal with matters of this kind," he said. "Every one of them asked to pass an intelligent examination, but in doing so he gets an extreme dislike of his subject, gets into the habit of careless reading and falls a victim to overloaded curriculum."

Frightened Away.
"Boys are actually being frightened away from the teaching profession in this way," he said, "and the chief reason is because of the autocratic methods of the department. When are local boards consulted or representatives allowed to speak on these matters?"

Regulations should be elastic and few rather than many and rigid, as today, and the teachers realized this, also they could not count on fear of losing their positions.

Hon. Dr. Pyne in reply pointed out that in many ways the opposition critic was a tyrant, but that he realized the difficulty in connection with the teacher supply. Nevertheless, he would say that in the whole Dominion there were only two provinces which could show less unqualified teachers than Ontario and the percentage here was away ahead of that in the United States.

"The quality of our teachers has greatly improved in the last few years," he declared, "and figures at my hand show that the number of temporary certificates has decreased to a very large extent."

The Salary Problem.
By March 31, in 1912, the number of such certificates was 1290, but this had been cut down at the same date the following term to 760, a matter which reflected great credit on the work of the department. Regardless of this, however, he wished to point out that perhaps the greatest reason of the dearth of available teachers was the salary problem. "There have been many callings which offered more remuneration than it was difficult to hold good officials."

"Our policy further has been to turn out instructors better qualified," he continued. "When the present government took hold there were only three normal schools, but this has been increased by four as soon as possible."

The charge that the curriculum was overloaded was due, he thought, merely to a desire to express individual feelings on the subject. Some wanted more, and some less subjects used. In industrial education, too, where they had been criticized, they were doing their best to place it on a good footing in the province and could point to some results.

Another opposition member, Wm. Macdonald of Bruce, rose, and after stating that at one time he became rattled on speaking, but that such day had gone, began to lash the government on an inefficient administration.

"The present model school system is a sham and a humbug," he stated. "Moreover, it is driving out of the province an honor graduate should be demanded as an inspector. He is taken from a high school where he has been out of touch with the schools altogether and brought in to his new position with no experience whatever."

Messrs. Allan Stucholme and O. Racine added a few words of the same nature, calculated to show that the poor man's son was being a hard row in most sections of the province, and that something was wrong that it should be so.

Reform Suggested.
Altho the intention of the opposition was to allow the motion to go through without serious protest, Mr. Rowell felt called upon to add his explanation of the educational situation in the province and suggested means of reform. In doing so, he traced the history of the teaching profession in Ontario from the early days and pointed out the establishment of a teaching because of greater rewards elsewhere, and every male teacher practically was using the profession as a stepping stone to something else.

He would think that some measure like that of the civil servants which would insure a retiring allowance might go a long way in holding them. Medical Inspection.
Medical inspection in schools and the compulsory attendance of pupils who were of school age were other things that should demand the special attention of the government, and he was glad to learn that further steps in these lines as well as the establishment of more technical institutions were under the consideration of the authorities.

The amendment, having served its purpose, was allowed to die on a snap division.

The next motion from supply, relating to an expenditure of $16,000 for similar fashion, Wm. Proudfoot routing out the old contention that the statute revision commission was slow in reporting.

The attorney-general made the welcome announcement that the commission was rapidly completing its work and that the revision he hoped would be issued by proclamation shortly after the session closed. They would then be put into operation at the new year. He also reported in that connection that the work had been very capably performed and that the judges working had shown great zeal in their work.

To Protect Children.
Clause 16 of Hon. W. J. Hanna's bill for the protection of neglected children was passed yesterday. The bill was being discussed in committee of the whole.

Regulations should be elastic and few rather than many and rigid, as today, and the teachers realized this, also they could not count on fear of losing their positions.

Hon. Dr. Pyne in reply pointed out that in many ways the opposition critic was a tyrant, but that he realized the difficulty in connection with the teacher supply. Nevertheless, he would say that in the whole Dominion there were only two provinces which could show less unqualified teachers than Ontario and the percentage here was away ahead of that in the United States.

Transatlantic Flight in Balloon.

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands, April 11.—(Can. Press)—The Spanish Government has granted permission to a transatlantic flight in a balloon which was scheduled for tomorrow. The flight is being organized by a Spanish military officer, and is being raised by the military authorities. Brucker has selected a site for his balloon within the military zone as he thought it was best suited for the start of his journey, but the military authorities refuse to grant him permission to use it.

TO DISCUSS SALE OF OLD LIBRARY

Board Will Hold a Special Meeting on Monday Afternoon.

The public library board held its monthly meeting last night. The report for March read by Chief Librarian G. H. Locke, was the only business of the evening. The report showed a very satisfactory month in the circulation of books in spite of the library being closed three days at Easter. Church street and College street show a decrease of 2000 and 400 respectively. Birchwood holds its own. Deer Park increased by 500. Yorkville increased 1000. Riverdale 700. Queen and Lisgar 175. Western 60. Especially worthy of notice is the increase in children's work—300 in College, 300 in Yorkville and 250 in Riverdale.

Discussion was held on the sale of the Church street property. Owing to Mr. Justice King's absence, a special meeting of the board was called for next Monday afternoon at Osgoode Hall, when the matter will be settled.

CONFIRMATION LECTURE.

The Rev. Dr. W. H. Griffith-Thomas will give the third confirmation lecture at the evening service tomorrow in Trinity East Church. All interested in the subject are cordially invited.

ZAM-BUK IN THE HOME

Zam-Buk's strongest point is its effectiveness in all kinds of skin diseases and injuries. Just note how excellent it proved it proved in widely different directions.

Sore Heel.—Mrs. C. A. Campbell of Powassan, Ont., writes: "One of my feet was very badly blistered by a pair of new shoes, and the poisonous dye from my stockings got into it and made a bad sore. For a week I could not put on a shoe, and suffered great pain. I applied Zam-Buk, and in a few days it drew the poison out and healed the wound."

Bad Cut.—Mr. J. Virgin of Onondaga, Ont., writes: "Zam-Buk healed a bad cut which I sustained. I was hurrying across my yard one day when I slipped and fell heavily, my knee striking a sharp stone. At the moment I did not realize how badly I was hurt, but I found I had a bad cut about two inches long, very jagged and very deep. I bathed the cut and applied Zam-Buk. This stopped the smarting very quickly, and in a few days it had healed the wound—without any scarring and bruises Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy."

Eczema Cured.—Mrs. Antonia Arce of Toronto, writes: "I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to any person suffering from eczema. I had this disease and was under doctor's treatment for two years, without any good results. I then tried Zam-Buk, and in the end it cured me."

GRAY HAIR TURNS ITS NATURAL COLOR AFTER APPLYING SAGE TEA

Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Beautifully and Takes Off Dandruff.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents.

Some druggists make their own, but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You scrub a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application the color is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.

BOIL THE WATER

At noon on Saturday, April 12th inst., we shall commence clearing the sand from the Waterworks Tunnel, deriving the supply thereafter via two pipes laid on the bay floor, the condition of which is uncertain. From the hour herebefore mentioned it will be absolutely imperative for all water used for drinking and domestic purposes to be thoroughly boiled, in order to avoid disease.

It will also be necessary for every individual to observe the most stringent economy in the use of water, in order that the greatly restricted supply during tunnel cleaning operations may suffice for the needs of the City.

This warning must be strictly observed until further notice through the newspapers, by the undersigned.

A FAMOUS PLAY AT THE PRINCESS

George Arliss in "Disraeli"
Dramatic Event of the Season.

SOUTHERN-MARLOWE

Ethel Barrymore at Shea's on Monday and "Spring Maid" For the Grand.

The first appearance in Toronto of Geo. Arliss in Louis N. Parker's comedy, "Disraeli," at the Princess Theatre next Monday evening, under the management of the Liebler Company, promises one of the most interesting dramatic engagements of the season. Louis N. Parker's "Disraeli" might not have been written had not the only actor then available whose art, technique and personality fitted its titular role. It was the personality of this actor, too, that determined the period of Disraeli's life dealt with in the play. In writing the play for Mr. Arliss, it is the bland, unassuming Machiavelli of the Conservative party, the Disraeli of late life, that is dealt with. The dramatic purposes some liberties have been taken up with the historic incidents of events. Parker has given the leading Lady Beaconsfield three more years of life, that his home-life at Rushmore might be offered in delightful contrast with the atmosphere of suspicion and intrigue that pervaded even his private office in the city. The love story, too, has its place, and the shrewd statesman is shown, much like Richelieu in Bulwer-Lytton's play, making a man of a young aristocrat that he may be worthy of the heart and hand of a true English damsel. The production is said to be elaborate scenically, and the costumes of the period early 70's and the play's unique qualities. Mr. Arliss' company includes Margaret Dale, Marguerite St. John, Violet Fleming, Oscar Adye, Arthur Edwards, Alexander Calvert and others. Mr. Arliss' supporting cast is almost identically the same that appeared with him during the premiere engagement of "Disraeli" at Montreal two years ago last January. In all the time that has elapsed since that event "Disraeli" has been seen in but a half dozen of the larger American cities, having accomplished the run of a full year at Wallack's Theatre, New York. A Primrose Matinee of "Disraeli" will be given on Saturday, the 19th inst., at the Princess Theatre, as that day is Primrose Day and is observed throughout Great Britain in honor of the memory of the great prime minister. Appropriate souvenirs will be given to every lady attending that performance.

Southern-Marlowe Soon. "Much Ado About Nothing," which E. S. Southern and Julia Marlowe dropped from their repertoire seven years ago, to make way for new material, has been revived by them this season in a fashion which has already forced it into position as one of the most attractive offerings in their series of the Shakespearean plays. That it is one of the finest of the poet's comedies is well known, and that its two principal roles, Benedick and Beatrice, make brilliant material for the art of Mr. Southern and Miss Marlowe may readily be imagined. The production, scenically and in the way of handsome costumes, is up to the customary high standard which the generous stars have set in their repertoire. The outlay for the revival reached $35,000, which has been the average cost of the various plays in the Southern-Marlowe repertoire, with the exception of the "Macbeth" production, which reached almost double that figure. When it is recalled that Mr. Southern and Miss Marlowe are now doing eight plays, it will be seen that it takes quite a bit of money to present Shakespeare properly. The sale of seats for this engagement will open on Wednesday morning next. The repertoire for the week will include the following plays: Monday night, "Romeo and Juliet"; Tuesday night, "The Merchant of Venice"; Wednesday night, "Much Ado About Nothing"; Thursday night, "Twelfth Night"; Friday night, "The Merchant of Venice"; Saturday matinee, "As You Like It"; Saturday night, "Hamlet"; "The Spring Maid."

"The Spring Maid," the prettiest of Viennese operettas from which harmonious ripples have been spreading over the country since its music and merriment were heard in New York last year, comes to the Grand next week. "The Spring Maid" is considered to have provided a return to the sparkling, saucy sentiment, fun and adroit musical accompaniment that made theatregoers long for the day of Offenbach, Audran and Strauss to come again. Two steps supplied by Heinrich Reinhardt they admit the demand has been answered. Like the best of its class this operetta is carried to an assured success by a story of fascination in itself. The comedy that varies from the coquetish mischief of the rival spring maids to the lively drollery of the strolling band of actors is of human beings doing things with the spirit of romance as the guiding power. The prince flirts, she may teach her princely suitor who would not be denied, a much needed lesson, and the love duet is sufficient in itself to hold the attention of an audience even without the dreamy beauty of "Day Dreams," the mischief-making little of "Two Little Love Birds," and the rollicking "How I Love a Pretty Face," that are embodied in the struggle between man and woman, each for an expression of affection from the other.

"The Quaker Girl." The very quintessence of musical comedy, embracing a score that is catchy without being vulgar, and a plot, and a dainty plot, are summed up in the world-famous musical delight, "The Quaker Girl," which is being given in engagement at the Princess on Monday evening, April 21. "The Quaker Girl" comes to Toronto after a triumph in New York City, where it more than duplicated its previous triumphs in London and Paris. It is headed by Victor Morley, and includes many other famous players. The score, which is composed of songs and dances, is headed by Victor Morley, and includes many other famous players. The score, which is composed of songs and dances, is headed by Victor Morley, and includes many other famous players.

Ethel Barrymore at Shea's Next Week. Ethel Barrymore is the latest of the great stars to appear at Shea's. Manager Shea is one of the first vaudeville managers to secure Miss Barrymore for his theatre. She is known this clever star. Her ascent to the top of the ladder of fame has been watched with delight, and as the daughter of the delightful George Drew and Maurice Barrymore, she has surely come into her own. Miss Barrymore's appearance in Toronto is made by arrangement with Charles Frohman and her medium, The Twelve Pound Looker. Miss Barrymore is worthy her many splendid talents. Miss Barrymore's appearance at Shea's will be one of the important engagements of the season. A clever company will be seen in support of the star. The special extra attraction on the bill for the week is Wellington Cross and Lois Josephine, late features of Blanche Irving's "Wall Street." Cross and Josephine are well-known to Shea's and on this visit will present a new line of travesty music, songs and dance trappings. Cross and Josephine possess that untiring youth which is impossible to counterfeit. Their work is full of a delightful abandon. They are original at all times and are sure to be favorites with the Shea audience. The greatest Thomas A. Edison invention, talking moving pictures, will again find a place as a feature on the bill for the program this week. The two subjects chosen for the week are The Politician, a comedy number, and Dick, the Highwayman. Gordon Eldred and his company will present for the first time in several seasons the comedy skit, Won by a Leg. The Max Wilson Troupe are European novelty gymnasts. Edna Eddie Ross with his African harp will find a warm welcome. He is always merry, and his hands are full of things to sing. Phine and Her Picks have a new act with songs and dances. Kichi Asaki is a wiry little Jap on roller skates. He does some water juggling.

"The World of Pleasure." Cliff Gordon and Bobby North's "World of Pleasure" Company, which will be a week's engagement at the Gaiety Theatre Monday afternoon, comes here with a reputation for being one of the best shows appearing on the circuit this season. Among the principals are: Will Fox, Harry Marks, Harry T. Egan, Mar. Harry Yost, Fay Tunis, Ed. Gillespie, Lanier DeWolfe, Eddie Dwyer, Jas. Hall, and a company of forty others. Monte Carlo Girls. The Empire Circuit has a new one to offer this season. The Monte Carlo girls, who come to the Star Theatre next week. The promise is made that it is quite the snappiest and liveliest, that its vocal features are exceptional, and that its comedy is especially strong. Two skits of musical comedy nature are staged. "The Honey-moon Inn" and "Cafe Berere." Harry Welsh, Billy Inman & Co., Zella Clayton, Eva Sullivan and the Big Four Quartet make up the personnel. The Star will this season show all games on the Paragon score board played by the Toronto ball team, starting next Wednesday, with the game played at Newark. Two attractions for one admission.

M'CORMACK SINGS TWICE NEXT WEEK

Famous Irish Tenor in Two Concerts at Massey Hall.

A NEW TENOR SOLOIST

James C. Black Engaged For Metropolitan Church—Paulist Choristers Coming.

Today the ticket clerks at Massey Hall will be busily engaged filling the mail orders which have been received for the McCormack concerts, and on Monday the seat-plan will be open to the public. Altho still a young man, the fame of this Irish artist is world-wide. Born in Athlone, in 1884, in 1902 he won the gold medal for singing at the National Irish Festival in Dublin. In 1903 he became a member of the choir of the Dublin Catholic Cathedral, and in 1904, with that choir sang at the St. Louis Exhibition. In 1906 he went to Milan and received instruction in singing. On Feb. 17, 1907, he sang at a Sunday League concert in London, and on March 1, 1907, appeared at a London ballad concert, when he sang with such success that Messrs. Boosey engaged him for the remaining concerts of the season. On Oct. 5 of the same year he made a very successful debut at Covent Garden as Turiddu, in "Cavalleria Rusticana." He confirmed his success the same season as Don Otavio and as the Duke in "Rigoletto," and has been engaged each season since at Covent Garden.

In the spring of 1909 McCormack sang at the San Carlo Opera House at Naples, and in the autumn of the same year came to America as a member of the Manhattan Opera Co. Under Mr. Hammerstein's management the Irish tenor became one of the most popular artists in the musical world, and his many successes with that organization, which were equally shared with Tezzazzini, are well known. In preparing his programs for his Toronto concerts, to be given in Massey Hall next Thursday and Friday, Mr. McCormack has been most liberal. In addition to giving selections from Mozart, Laio, Leoncavallo and Puccini, he has included a number of those beautiful old "songs that mother used to sing," some 20 in all. It is in this part of his repertoire that his wonderful silver tones enthrall his audiences. The amazing amount of interest that is being taken in the first visit of the Irish tenor to Toronto has seldom been equaled here. The indications are that Massey Hall will be packed at both concerts.

James C. Black Coming. Perhaps the most important engagement made for many years in connection with Toronto's church choir soloists has just been completed by the music committee of the Metropolitan Church, who have engaged Mr. James Cuyler Black as tenor soloist and who comes to Toronto direct from Europe with the best possible credentials as an artist and master of vocalization. During the past three weeks Mr. Black has been in Toronto at the invitation of friends desirous of having him locate here, during which time he has sung to quite a number of private audiences of most prominent musical people. The verdict of Mr. Black's singing is beyond expression in their enthusiasm of his artistry. For the past six years Mr. Black has been in Europe, during which time he has studied with the celebrated master, Antonio Cotogni, at Rome, besides studying with the best teachers of operatic and dramatic art in Germany.

The Metropolitan Church are to be congratulated on securing Mr. Black's services and Toronto should feel proud of its position in the musical world to attract such an artist. Mr. Black will accept engagements for concert and oratorio and also open a studio, where he will accept a limited number of pupils, definite announcement of which he will make later. Paulist Choristers of Chicago. The Paulist Choristers, who give a concert here on May 3, are the only choral society of boys and men in the concert arena of America. They are made up of 75 boys, sopranos and altos, and 50 adults, tenors and basses. The union of the boys' voices and the men's produces a mystical effect quite unusual and impossible with choral societies of a different personnel, and the employment of the boys and men, provided, of course, they are trained according to scientific ideals, makes possible a style of singing that is apprehensible to all audiences, whether musical or not. These choristers have had the prerogative of exploiting ideals and traditions that had almost been forgotten. The enconiums heaped on this society by the critics of America will restore your strength. It will give back the old vigor of youth. The loss of your health causes Kidney Trouble, Rheumatism and Stomach ailments. You know it's a loss of vital power and affects every organ of the body. Most of the ailments from which you suffer can be traced to it. I have cured thousands who have squandered the savings of years in useless doctoring. My Belt is easy to use; put it on when you go to bed; feel the glow of heat from it (no sting or burn, as in the old-style belts), and you feel the nerves light with the new life flowing into them. You get up in the morning feeling like a two-year-old. What ails you? Write and tell me, and no matter where you are I think I can give you the address of someone in your town that I have cured. I've cured thousands, and every one of them is a walking advertisement for my Belt. Those who have used it recommend it because it is honest. It does great work, and those whom I have cured are the more grateful because the cure costs so little.

Dear Sir,—I received the Belt O.K., and am perfectly satisfied with it. My back does not bother me the way it used to. To-day I finished up three shifts—two nights and one day, and I feel all right. I had to fire a locomotive twelve hours of that time. If I should have had to do that six weeks ago, I would have been played out.

SCOTLAND'S BEST

There's many a good thing comes from the land of the Heather, and in the line of Scotch Whiskies. Whyte & Mackay "Special" is deemed the best by men who know. Note its delicate flavor, its smoothness to the palate. "WHYTE & MACKAY" is so good because it is fully aged and matured, skillfully blended and absolutely pure. Call for it by name next time. All hotels and liquor stores sell "WHYTE & MACKAY."

WITH THE HORSES AT DUFFERIN PARK

Out at Dufferin Park the trainers were congratulating themselves upon having a good track to work their horses over until the heavy rains of Wednesday and Thursday made the footing deep with mud, and Friday, the regular work-day, was a day to dry out quickly, and a day or two of favorable weather will bring it back into good condition. H. C. Aikman, the largest stable of thoroughbreds at the track and the two head that compose his lot look well. Moderate exercise will give the horses, but they will be let step along in the paddock until the weather improves. In D. Scott's charge are: Dr. Holberg, Miss Dull and Mrs. Lally. Light House, Bertmont and two 2-year-olds. The "Striker" lot are: Boana, Lady Maxim, Court Belle, Penning, Chess, Casanova, Ontario and Phyllis. Another division of Striker's horses are now in the paddock.

SHOE MACHINERY IS ON FREE LIST

Democratic Caucus Thinks 25 Per Cent. Cut Isn't Enough.

PLANTERS E M BATTLED

Cane and Beet Sugar Interests Want the Duty Retained.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(Can. Press).—Shoe machinery, now taxed 45 per cent. and on which a reduction to 25 per cent. was proposed by the tariff revision bill, was ordered transferred to the free list by the Democratic caucus of the house today. It was the first real break of the Democrats from the ways and means committee rates.

For three days there had been a great deal of speech-making from members with and without grievances, but all amendments proposed had been steadily voted down, with majorities satisfactory to the Democratic leaders.

The shoe machinery amendment, proposed by Representative Borah of Missouri and carried by a viva voce vote without substantial opposition from the members of the committee, followed a lively discussion, in which Representative Oglesby of New York, a new member, arraigned the so-called United Shoe Machinery Trust and urged that the free list be an opportunity to let it competition.

Agreed on Wool Schedule.
The wool schedule was quickly disposed of by the caucus. An amendment by Representative Baker of California, to transfer paving posts, railroad ties and telephone, telegraph and other poles to the free list in place of the proposed ten per cent. duty, was voted down.

PARALYZE AND COULD NOT WALK

"Fruit-a-tives" Completely Restored New Brunswick Merchant to Health.

BRISTOL, N. B., July 25, 1911.—"I am unable to say enough in favor of "Fruit-a-tives," as it saved my life and restored me to health, when I had given up all hope, and when the doctors had failed to do anything more for me. I had a stroke of paralysis in March, 1910, and this left me unable to walk or help myself, and the constipation of the bowels was terrible. Nothing did me any good, and I was wretched in every way. Finally, I took "Fruit-a-tives" for the constipation, and it not only cured me of that trouble, but gradually this fruit medicine toned up the nerves and actually cured the paralysis. Under the use of "Fruit-a-tives" I grew stronger and stronger, until all the palsy and weakness left me. I am now well again and attend my store every day and all day.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy in the world that is made of fruit juices and tonics.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. At dealers, or on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FIRED GRAND STAND AT CRICKET GROUNDS

LONDON, April 1.—(Can. Press).—Militant suffragettes started on their work of destruction at a very early hour this morning, when they set fire to the grand-stand of the great Cricket Ground at Tunbridge Wells. They left behind them a photograph of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst as an indication that the members of the league means of protesting against her imprisonment in Holloway jail.

The fire started in the dressing-rooms of the members' pavilion, which large quantities of tarred netting used in cricket practice was stored.

The building was extensively damaged and the loss caused by the fire amounted to several thousand dollars.

WERE TRIED AND STOOD THE TEST

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MAKING A REPUTATION IN THE WEST.

Saskatchewan Man Tells How They Cured Him, After Four Months Suffering from Backache and Other Forms of Kidney Disease.

ST. PHILIPS, Sask., April 11.—(Special).—In new country, where changes of climate and impure water are among the difficulties to be surmounted, kidney trouble is prevalent. It is the kidneys, the organs of the blood, that first feel any undue strain on the body. Consequently, kidney pills have been tried and tested in this neighborhood.

They have stood the test. Many settlers tell of backache, rheumatism and urinary troubles cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Otto Oshewski is one of these. In speaking of his cure he says:

"I suffered from kidney disease for four months. My back ached, I had heart flutterings, and was always tired and nervous. My skin had a harsh, dry feeling; my limbs were heavy; and I had a dragging sensation across the loins.

"I consulted a doctor, but as I did not appear to improve, I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I used six boxes, and now I am all right." Dodd's Kidney Pills always stand the test. Ask your neighbors.

BRANTFORD, April 11.—(Special). Following his arrest on the charge, Birch alleges that his finger prints and measurements were taken and that he was forced to ride in a patrol wagon handcuffed to another prisoner. On the ground that he had not been proven guilty of any charge he will sue for damages for alleged indignities.

EXPRESS REGRET AT AMENDMENTS

Ontario Alliance Keenly Disappointed in Liquor Law Changes.

DON'T GO FAR ENOUGH
But They Are All Right as Far as They Go, Said Executive.

Hon. W. J. Hanna's proposed restrictions of the liquor traffic are disappointing to the executive committee of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance, which held a meeting yesterday. A resolution was passed after a lengthy discussion expressing regret at the meagreness of the amendments to the law. It follows:

"That in view of the declaration of the government of a desire to promote the temperance cause, and to further restrict the liquor traffic, and the crying evils connected with that traffic demanding legislative remedies, this meeting expresses its disappointment and regret at the meagreness of the license law amendments proposed by Hon. W. J. Hanna in the legislature Wednesday evening, which, while of a desirable character, utterly fails to meet the necessities of the case, and the public demand for effective and progressive legislation.

The main discussion centred round the advisability of inaugurating campaigns for the carrying of the Canada Temperance Act in different counties throughout the province. The whole question was thoroughly discussed.

Finally by a unanimous vote, it was decided that two teams of the counties of the province are considering the advisability of bringing into force the second part of the Canada Temperance Act in their respective counties, it is therefore desirable that there should be prepared a statement containing full and accurate information as to the provisions of the said act, and as to the relation of the Liquor License Act of the province to the same, also that our friends be recommended to consider carefully the relative merits of the two acts in their application to local conditions."

Student Campaigners.
It was decided that two teams of student campaigners should be engaged for work in New Ontario during the coming summer. The men composing these teams will be: Lloyd Smith, B.A., Victoria University; E. H. Smiley, B.A., Knox College; Rev. J. Lyman Cotton, B.A., Wycliffe College; Wesley Spencer, McMaster University and A. H. Walker, B.A., of Wycliffe College. The first work of the students will be to arrange for conventions of temperance workers in the Districts of Algoma, Sudbury and Parry Sound.

Resolutions were made in regard to the work of the alliance staff by which Rev. William Kettlewell becomes assistant secretary and Rev. John Muir, M. A., his field secretary.

It was decided to change the form of the Pioneer, the official organ, to an eight-page four column paper, also to issue two handbooks, one relating to campaign work and the other to law enforcement. The legal forms for use in conducting the various option contests will be supplied by the alliance to workers throughout the province.

Members were present from all parts of the province, among them in attendance were: Rev. Canon R. W. E. Green, provincial president; Fred Mann, Brantford; D. H. Garner, Welland; Rev. Dr. J. G. Shaver, Rev. D. C. McGregor, Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, Rev. E. D. Sisco, Rev. S. E. Grigg, into Dr. J. Clinton, Rev. F. S. Spence, Toronto; Joseph Gibson, Ingersoll; Alex. Mills, Toronto; George H. Lees, Hamilton; Rev. J. B. Kennedy, Toronto; W. H. Orr, Toronto; J. Austin, J. S. Robertson, W. F. Lawrence, Toronto; Tieron Gibson, Rev. Dr. H. Abraham, Rev. William Kettlewell, Rev. R. H. Hamilton, Rev. D. C. Vance, Mrs. Owen Hitchcock, Rev. Dr. W. S. MacFavisa, William Hamilton, R. D. Warren, L. G. Peake, W. A. McDermid, W. E. Roney, K. C. D. A. McDermid, F. W. Duggan, N. F. Baby's Food

The first few weeks after the baby is born, it may appear as tho the mother's milk were insufficient. It is a trying period, however, and conditions are not the best, often the milk supply increases when the mother is living her normal, natural life again.

Of course, if there is a continuous loss in weight artificial feeding should be attempted sooner. In fact, continuous loss of weight at any period of the baby's life is sufficient reason either to stop the nursing or to add bottle feedings as well.

If it is finally decided that the baby must be weaned, this decision is reached if there is excessive vomiting, accompanied by loss of weight or stationary weight extending over a period of two weeks or more, bad diarrhoea accompanied by loss of weight extending over a period of two weeks or more; progressive loss of weight even while the digestion seems normal.

The proper food must be selected and baby must be taught to take his nourishment from the bottle. The bottle should always be used for a baby under nine months, but if the mother's milk is not altogether, he cannot get sufficient nourishment from a cup or spoon.

It is always a struggle to persuade a baby that bottle meals are all right. If one is persistent, however, and will not give in to the determined young person, giving nourishment in no other way, the baby soon learns what is expected of him.

The hole in the nipple should be large at first, so that the milk runs freely, afterwards use another nipple with smaller opening.

The best way to prevent this bottle-struggle is to accustom the baby to drinking boiled water from a bottle several times a day from birth.

The question naturally arises: if the baby is to be weaned entirely, what food shall be substituted?

Cow's milk properly modified comes nearest to mother's milk. The milk must be fresh and clean, and to make it suitable for baby water or gruel and sugar are added.

SHE HIT SOMEBODY ANYWAY.

LONDON, April 11.—(Can. Press).—As the editor of The Evening Standard, an anti-suffrage newspaper, was leaving his office tonight a woman of about 40 years of age, who was lying in wait, threw a stone at him. The missile missed its mark, but crashed through the window of an adjoining office and injured the night watchman. The woman who threw the stone escaped.

POP-OVERS.

Breakfast is the influential meal of the day; it is at the breakfast table that the family meet together for a few moments before the parting of the ways. Within an hour they will separate to their duties not to meet again, perhaps until night fall.

Who can estimate how far the good cheer inspired by a wholesome breakfast may follow an indifferently prepared morning meal? The American breakfast menu is ideal. It consists of fruit, eggs, bacon, toast, or hot breads, and coffee. With the coffee clear and fragrant, the eggs like Caesar's wife, and the fruit in season, it only remains to decide whether toast, wheat cakes or biscuits are the best accompaniments.

A very good decision is to have a variety, and a pleasant surprise to interchange with the usual breakfast breads are "pop-overs."

The woman who knows the secret of making them will say there is nothing else so quickly prepared for the table; others who have made them and had them refuse to "pop" will disagree with the statement. The trouble is with the average recipe book and not with the jolly bun.

A correct recipe for pop-overs should read: Two cups of flour, three eggs, two cups of milk and one teaspoon of salt. It is not enough to know only the ingredients; you must know how to put them together and how to bake them after they are mixed.

Beat the yolks and whites of the eggs separately until both are very light, because the mixture depends upon the air incorporated in it through the eggs, no baking powder being used to lighten it.

Sift the salt and flour into a bowl. Pour the eggs and the milk together; add the liquid to the dry ingredients gradually, stirring briskly all the while. If you add milk too rapidly, the mixture will not be smooth and you will have to pour it thru a sieve.

The gem pans should be well greased and heating in the oven. Remove them and fill each cup a little more than half full. Return at once to the oven, which should be only moderately hot. Most cookery books direct minutes. Allow twenty minutes for the baking and reckon the time as for a sponge cake, or a soufflé or any article that is lightened with eggs. The next five minutes will "set" the air cells and the last portion of the time allotted will brown them.

If the oven is intensely hot, a crust will form over the top of the pop-overs and they will not pop. Iron gem pans are the best to use. The little cakes should swell for four times their height and be wonderfully light.

SUFFRAGETTES AFRAID THEY'LL BE DEPORTED

LONDON, April 11.—(Can. Press) It is understood that a member of the house of commons who is friendly to the cause of woman suffrage intends to ask Reginald McKenna, home secretary, next week whether he is contemplating a plan whereby Miss Zelle Emerson of Jackson, Mich., and other foreign militant suffragettes guilty of breaking English laws will be deported as undesirable aliens.

Under the English law Mr. McKenna would be acting within his legal rights in doing this. Therefore the report that he intends to do so has caused consternation among the American women here who have jail records as well as among those whose affiliation with the women's social and political union, the militant suffrage organization, might lead to their being sentenced to a term of prison.

FASHIONS AND THE HOUSEHOLD

Peonies: Their History and Their Culture

By RACHAEL R. TODD, M.D.

In these days of specialized activities, when many of the everyday professions have climbed to the dignified positions formerly only accorded to the arts, the peonist has been cultivated so assiduously, and with such admirable results, that it should no longer be ranked among the mere hobbies.

Many amateur gardeners devote their time, and all their available space almost entirely to the production and cultivation of the old-fashioned flowers, claiming that their permanency makes for success in a much truer sense of the word, than can be expected from any other class of plants.

"Paeonia" is the ancient Greek name of the genus known by the Romans, and by present-day gardeners. This magnificent race of flowering perennials, whose primitive forms have been in constant cultivation in Asia and in Europe for thousands of years, is one of the three oldest flowers known in history.

The Spaniards, who call the royal rose of the mountain, claim, in an old tradition, that an ancient monarch planted a certain precious clump at the door of the tomb of his beloved wife, and forever afterwards during his life, repaired daily to the spot for the sole purpose of watering the roots with his tears and with so many drops of his own life-blood.

One other tradition is interesting. Pliny, the ancient naturalist of centuries ago, speaks of the peony, a physician, who used the juices extracted from the wounds received by Pluto, god of the underworld, in his conflict with mighty Hercules.

Aside from these various traditions mentioned it is easy to believe that man, coming out of barbarism, cultivated plants because of their various medicinal properties, and not alone on account of their beauty of flower and leaf.

What, then, more natural than that this great glorious crimson head with heavy with divine healing powers? Indeed, the ancient belief in the medicinal virtues of the peony continued down even through the Middle Ages, when it was supposed at that time to have supernatural powers to drive away evil spirits, avert storms, and to protect the shape of the leaf was supposed to give a hint of the virtues possessed by the plant in question.

Is it any wonder, then, that we find the old-fashioned gardens of our grandmothers' times still cherishing age-old roots, hidden away in mossy corners, or brightening the doorways of modestly summer houses?

It is a well known fact that the grand specimens which grace present-day gardens, in May and June, are the products of the gardeners' art, gained by a long, difficult course of cultivation. As a result of hybridization and selection, the present garden race has been produced in the making of Europe and this country, must surely number over a thousand named varieties.

How, now, were all these thousands and more varieties achieved? Into the making of these peonies three species have largely contributed: the double red, called peonia officinalis; the single white, named peonia albifolia; and peonia moutans, a woody species known to the Chinese and Japanese. This latter is the only woody species in the world and is called the tree peony.

By crossing the different varieties of peonia albifolia with peonia officinalis, a group of salmon pink to lemon yellow and an intense tawny red. Imagine the furor that swept thru the ranks of florists. Imagine the joys they saw before them. These mountains of trees peonies, came in countless forms and colors. Nor were they uncertain stocks. No! Being their stretched hundreds of years officials, a magnificent race of double flowers from pure white to deepest crimson has been obtained. And in this work of crossing the tree peony was also used. These tree peonies were first brought here about 1790, and their vivid coloring, ranging from pure white and flesh tints, ran thru a marvelous range of colors.

The white flowered peony is a hardy child of the northlands, originally from the wind-swept steppes of Siberia. This is the P. albifolia, mentioned above, and is one of the parent forms. Delightfully fragrant, pure white, eight or ten petaled, four to five inches in diameter, cup-shaped, with a cluster of bright yellow stamens, there is no more graceful blossom blooming under the sun.

Enough, well nourished. Interesting too it be. When an observant person stops to think about the peony he must acknowledge that twisting in and out, extending deep into the earth, often quite two feet from the surface, great storehouses of life and energy, the secret would be more than usually hardy, as a matter of fact they are very easily destroyed. But, of this later.

In choosing stock, buy from the most reliable florist, and buy the best roots possible. Do not expect to have a couple or three dollars for one root. It will pay in the end. The end, unfortunately, is sometimes a long way off. You cannot expect to have flowers from new stock before three years. It takes all of that time for peonies to get settled in new quarters. If a sign of blossom was seen, never buy less than a three or five crown root. This means a three year old root.

Where to Plant Them. In choosing the spot for the future home of your plants select a location, sunny, well-drained, roomy, and where no necessity for removal will arise. Dig out the earth to a depth of one foot, and a half, and a half, spread old, well-rotted horse or cow manure, to a depth of one foot; on top of this spread a layer of straw cuttings, or some such material as will lighten the earth, rendering it well opened to currents of air, and allowing for drainage; a good six inches of warm sand should come next; fill up now with fairly good loam, mixed with a little ordinary clay to give firmness; bring the bed up some six or eight inches above the level of the surrounding earth. This affords a rich feeding ground for the plants, which must absolutely be left undisturbed for some years.

Peonies bear transplanting only with the greatest care, and even then, the set-back of the most careful moving will prevent bloom for often two seasons. As soon as the shoots appear in the early spring, a careful watch must be given to the roots. Those dark red-brown nubs (looking so much like inebriated noses, I always think) contain the flower buds. To injure one means to lose a blossom.

If the leaf stalks from the preceding season were left during the winter, and this is often done for greater protection—care should be taken not to jerk out these old stalks in the spring. So doing will invariably bring up "nubs" attached to the dead stalk. This means a flower is pulled up!

For Protection. If the clumps are of a good age, say ten or more years, there will be from twenty to forty stalks come up. When they are about a foot or so high, a good plan is to slip a large sized barbed hoop over the heads; fasten this hoop to three stakes driven with great care, into the ground. The hoop will keep the bush tidy, and prevent that loose appearance so often seen when the heavy leaves and flowers fall down on the ground, often especially after a rain. It often happens that a splendid showing of healthy fat buds appear—but they come to nothing. For years I have blamed the slight condition of the buds to the swarms of ants that for some reason or other, haunt the plant. But, the real reason is the presence of an almost invisible blight, a sort of fungus growth, that spells death to the buds. The only medicated spray that is efficacious is one called the "Bordeaux Mixture." This blight should be sprayed over the leaves and buds early in the season as a preventative, almost as soon as the weeb buds show. An ounce of prevention—you know.

Most peonies usually set three or more buds to each stem. They should be pinched off excepting the terminal or largest bud on each stem, if fresh specimens of bloom are wanted. It stands to reason that more than one flower of the huge size attained by peonies can not come to maturity on one frail stem. If the buds are not removed sooner or later they will die of themselves, so the best plan is to assist Nature in her work by pinching in advance.

The best time for planting peonies is always under dispute. Many gardeners follow the plan of putting in all new roots in the fall. They will then make growth thru the fall before winter sets in. But these people always expect bloom the following spring. They will not get it, however, because as a rule no matter how healthy the new roots are, it takes more than one season for them to recover from the moving. I am sure it must be clear to all that the spring is by far the best time to plant new stock. Then thru the coming summer and fall the plants may be watched daily and their growing needs supplied, as can not be done if they are put in in the fall season.

There is no plant that will thrive, increasing in strength and beauty year by year, with so little extra looking after, as these same plants. By the third year after planting a fine well-foliated bush should be looked for. Every fall, after the ground has become hardened by the first frost, cut off the leaves to within three inches of the soil, and leaves this debris on top of the clumps to help as a top dressing. Later on, a heavy mulch of thick stable manure must be spread liberally over all.

I have found that it is most dangerous to attempt to work in any extra mulching above the roots. Invariably mischief is done because the roots are easily destroyed. To provide fresh food, I follow the plan of digging deeply outside the clump, quite two or three feet away from the roots, removing the earth, and filling it in with straw manure. This plan does away with the danger of exposing the roots to the air. Do not uncover the crowns too early in the spring. Go slowly and thus save your buds. Even until the dark red "noses" are four inches above ground, it is safe to leave a light sprinkling of loose straw about.

Plenty of Water. Water plentifully throughout season of drought, even if the blooming season is over. Growth is always going on below, remember. Do not, under any condition, allow god natured kindness lead you to give away places of a beautiful plant, peony lovers will, of course, have a clump of the old double red, also a clump of the single white.

The following are some reliable and beautiful stock to put in. All peony lovers will, of course, have a clump of the old double red, also a clump of the single white. Festiva maxima is one of the most superb plants that one could possibly admire. It is a late flowering variety, coming along about the end of August. Rich, glowing, blood-red, like a crown of rubies. One would declare that the flower was lighted up from within by a brilliant candle.

Blooming ten days or two weeks before these special varieties named are the old-fashioned peonies with very full, double, and often fragrant flowers. P. rubra, darkest crimson known, blooms the earliest of all giving an abundance of great flowers. P. rosea, salmon pink, fragrant as a cabbage rose, blooms a day or so later, and is a never-fading joy to the eye.

Peonies moutans, the tree peonies, are most satisfactory plants to possess. The shrubby stems are not killed back by the winter as the ordinary herbaceous kind are. In time they reach five or six feet high, and are covered with bloom. These forms are quite distinct from the ordinary bush plants, open quite two weeks earlier, and are surpassingly beautiful. No garden should be without at least a couple of these tree plants.

P. M. Van Houtte, a lilac rose, is extremely hardy, and rivals in appearance anything ever seen in the shrub line. P. M. Elizabeth is the dark red variety. Imagine a small tree, five feet high, covered with large full blossoms, each like a peony, and every passer-by cannot say anything more just now at these peonies. To learn, one must experiment. But enough has been said to give sufficient aid to those starting out to have a bed of these flowers. One cannot have successful plants unless one works amongst them, and in the case of peonies, it is no task, but a joy and never-fading pleasure.

RESOLUTION TO COUNCIL

Aldermen May Take Over Jobs Allotted to "Balking Trio."

When the board of control tackled the resolution of the council that a temporary committee of aldermen and sympathetic controllers frame a policy of civic work for this year, Mayor Hocken insisted that the intent of the resolution is that certain aldermen should inform themselves upon the work of the several civic departments that they will be in a position to give the council all required information about the departments.

"It is an insult to the board, and a combine of some aldermen to reflect upon the capability of the board," Controller Church declared. "This is meant to hamper the board," said Controller O'Neill.

"If the aldermen think they can lay down a policy, let them have the responsibility," said Controller Foster. A special committee on transportation was appointed and what has it done?"

"Has Aid. Wickert asked your permission to declare at public meetings that the board of control is incapable?" Controller Church asked Mayor Hocken.

"It is perfectly reasonable that the council should charge chairmen of committees with giving information about their departments," Mayor Hocken contended. "Aid. Wickert's motion is to that effect."

"Send on the motion to the council," said Controller O'Neill. "Not unless we instruct the committee on the policy of civic work to be formulated," said Controller Foster.

"Are you prepared to admit that the board is incapable?" Mayor Hocken asked Controller Foster. "I'll vote against sending the motion on," said Controller Church.

The others voted to send on to the council the motion that Aid. Wickert supply the council with information upon the works department, Aid. Anderson upon the parks and exhibitions department, and Aid. Weston upon the property department. This leaves the board to give the council information upon legal, financial and assessment affairs.

Will Sell Property. "The city has considerable property on leading streets that is an injury to adjoining property because it is held in an unimproved condition," said Controller McCarthy. "We should sell these properties as quickly as possible, with restrictions only according to the building by-law." This policy was concurred in.

An 18-foot overhead subway at Yonge street was decided upon, with a width to suit the proposed widening of Yonge street, the matter of the proportioning of the $500,000 cost being left for future settlement. The appeal is to be pressed.

Aid. Dunlop's motion for details of office expense of the harbor commission was sent on to the commission. A grant of $250 was made to assist the forces outside the city to take part in the experiment of brigading city and outside companies on May 5 and 6 in the city.

A conference will be held with the corporation counsel this morning upon the report of the transportation experts. Toronto, is their statement. They also assert, "If many people get treated at other places the same as we did at Hamilton Canada will soon get a bad name."

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W. 65, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child; the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

Special Cable to The World.

DEFRAUD BANKS OF HUGE SUMS

False Invoices on Shipments of Human Hair Medium of Extensive Swindles.

NEW YORK, April 11.—(Gen. Press)—Philip Musica, accused with his two brothers and their aged father of defrauding banks here and abroad of several hundred thousand dollars thru false invoices on shipments of human hair, has confessed to District Attorney Whitman that official announced tonight.

The young man told his story shortly after pleading not guilty in court today. Arthur and George, the brothers, made the same plea. Old Antonio Musica, the father, lay ill in the Tombs and was not arraigned.
"Philip Musica made a lengthy confession," Mr. Whitman said, "and in it he did not attempt to shield his father or either of his brothers."
Philip's disclosures were not ended today, however. Tomorrow he will go on with his story. Whether his confession involved persons outside the Musica family Mr. Whitman would not say.

The prosecutor declared the aggregate amount of the swindles was nearly $800,000, according to Philip Musica's statements. The latter were made voluntarily, Mr. Whitman added, no promise of leniency being held out to their author.

RAILWAY SUBSIDY TO BE ADVOCATED

Glenarry and Stormont Line Appears to Have Good Backing.

CORNWALL, April 11.—(Special.)—C. L. Harvey, C.B. Montreal, was in town this week and had a conference with members of the town council and the special committee of the board of trade appointed to co-operate with any delegation that may go to Ottawa to interview the government in the interest of the Glenarry and Stormont Railway. A large deputation from the municipalities interested will go to Ottawa shortly to impress upon the government their belief that great benefit will be derived from the construction of the proposed railway, and to support the claim of the company to the regular Dominion subsidy. The preliminary survey, it is asserted, has demonstrated the feasibility of the scheme and the road will give one of the oldest and best farming districts in Ontario, which, although it has been settled more than 125 years, is still without convenient railroad facilities.

At a regular meeting of the Charlottetown Township Council, the following gentlemen were appointed a deputation to represent the municipality in conjunction with the Cornwall committee, and committees from other municipalities: D. D. McDonald, reeve; Green Valley; Geo. E. Clark, councillor; Martintown; G. A. Watson, township clerk; Williamstown; A. McDonald, ex-reeve; Summersdown; Ewan Dignall, ex-reeve; Williamstown, and Maj. H. A. Cameron, ex-reeve, and ex-warden of the United Counties.

Before adjournment a whole sheaf of motions for the attendance of officers of different work was produced, and the opposition will ask a commission of the house to enforce the attendance of Messrs. Sothman and DeMural.

CORBETT'S 3 STAR IRISH WHISKEY

There is a fascinating mildness about Corbett's Three Star Whiskey which will please you. It has none of that pronounced flavour identified with many Irish Whiskeys, but is a Whiskey thoroughly well-balanced and matured, breaking an air of purity and charm that cannot fail to appeal. Every bottle of Corbett's Three Star has the "Veritor" guarantee of excellence which proceeds from inferior brands.

Our incoming consignments of horses for this big sale are of the very best quality, and also very numerous. Our shippers have been in the country for the past couple of weeks, and have been very fortunate in securing their present offerings. They report that prices are retaining the low trend of the last month or so, and the trade appears to have eased up a bit. Unequaled buying opportunities are being offered to you daily. Do not overlook this great sale if you need or can handle horses of any class. At the present time we are receiving some fine drivers, and an occasional complete driving outfit consigned for unreserved sale.

THURSDAY APRIL 17TH AT 11 A.M.

Our offerings for this sale will also be right up to the mark in quantity and quality. In addition to our regular consignments we also sell a number of serviceably sound workers and drivers consigned to us by city people who have no further use for them; also a number of sets of harness, second hand harness, and vehicles of every description. We are considerably overstocked with fur robes and horse blankets, and have reduced our prices on these greatly to enable us to cut down our stock. We offer exceptional bargains in these lines.

McKee, to be sold without reserve in order that the estate may be settled up. The horses are of the very best stock, Clydesdales, Hackneys, Saddle Horses and Hunters, all in the pink of condition. CANADIAN LOANS IN LONDON MARKET

LONDON, April 11.—New loan City of Regina, $558,000 five per cent, at 101 has been today underwritten. The City of Edmonton has succeeded in placing two million five per cent debentures at 95. The loan is of a size which, we believe, was never previously attempted by any Dominion city.

RUSSIAN STOCKS SMALL

NICOLAIEFF, April 11.—British consul at Nicolaieff states that in Russia the stocks are very small, barley fair. The quality of the wheat is poor. Prospects for the new wheat crop at the present time are good.
Stocks wheat at principal Russian markets on Feb. 12, and Jan. 13, 1913: Wheat 14,785,000 bushels, against 15,588,000 bushels. Total in 1912, 22,650,000 bushels, against 26,225,000 bushels. Total in 1911, 51,578,000, 35,325,000.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN EXCHANGE

LIVERPOOL, April 11.—The market opened steady, the weaker American cables were offset here by the comparative firmness in Winnipeg and the strength in Buenos Ayres, and prices were about unchanged to 3/4 higher. May shorts covered owing to the fact that over 50 per cent of the Argentine shipments this week were destined to the continent. During the morning there was moderate realising and market declined on the consensus of glooming reports regarding the American winter outlook, less enquiry for cargoes and larger Plate offerings. The decline, however, was checked by the receipt of lighter world's shipments this week and continued reports of light stocks in Russia.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET

DULUTH, April 11.—Close: Wheat—No. 1 hard, 85c; No. 1 northern, 87c; No. 2 do., 84c; May, 88c bid; July, 89c; Sept., 90c bid.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET

WINNIPEG, April 11.—On the wheat market trading in options was fairly active and prices generally steady on the steady Liverpool cables and good export demand. The market opened unchanged to 3/4 lower, and held steady until near closing when there was an advance caused by shorts covering. Closing prices were 3/4 to 1/2 higher.
Cash demand was quiet generally, although there was an exceptional demand for nearby stuff for April shipment. Prices were 3/4 to 1/2 higher for contract grades. Cash wheat quiet and prices steady, while flex options were traded in on a wide spread. Cash oats closed 3/4 higher and flex 1/2 lower to 3/4 higher.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE FOR WEAK MEN

Send Name and Address To-day— You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.
I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural diets, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own home—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and verity, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for it.
This prescription comes from a physician who has had a special study of men, and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure, ever put together.
I think I owe it to my fellow men to send them a copy in confidence, so that any man, anywhere, who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest acting restorative, unobtainable elsewhere, and cure himself at home quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. P. Robinson, 353 Lusk Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. I charge nothing for the enclosed charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely I send it entirely free.
