

APPEAL TO PEOPLE FULLY JUSTIFIED

Hon. Robert Rogers Attacks Liberal Opposition for Attitude to Government.

MEASURES HELD UP

Senate's Unreasonableness Made Position of Sir Robert Borden Intolerable.

Special to The Toronto World.

MONTREAL, May 3.—A demonstration of the Liberal press and the Liberal opposition for its truculent attitude towards the government in general and its war measure in particular was the feature of the day here.

Responsibility of Premier. In opening his address Mr. Rogers said: "No prime minister in Canada ever had placed upon his shoulders the heavy responsibility that our leader, Sir Robert Borden, has been called upon to carry."

Duty of Sir Robert. Continuing, Mr. Rogers said: "The Canadian people have had a Sir John Macdonald to perform the great task of confederation with British connection, and the Canadian people have had Sir Robert Borden today, in this great hour of trial and test, to have a Sir Robert Borden to perform the still greater task that confronts him."

Liberal Press Scored. "But the fact that he has so honestly and so honorably discharged these great responsibilities is not to be taken as a certain horde of designing Liberal graters and simpletons; graters that are strong and powerful by reason of the wide and various fields in their field of operations during the 15 years of Liberal reign. For example, who deny the strength of the press of Canada today that represents Liberal graft, Liberal loot and Liberal plunder?"

When the present government took office they were pledged to the Canadian people to adopt a policy that would have for its main object the closer bonds of union our Dominion with the mother country. With this purpose in view, Sir Robert and several of his colleagues at the first available opportunity proceeded to England to consult with the government of Great Britain and the admiralty as to what means could be employed to give effect to such policy.

Small, But Speedy. As she drew nearer to shore it was seen that the visitor was a type of war craft strange to American eyes. She came on with great speed, steam rising from her funnels and a light armored cruiser, the former flying what appeared to be a flag of the Caronia, southeast of Scotland.

BATTLE AT YPRES

Kingston Soldier Describes Fight for Possession of Hill Sixty.

LIKE HELL LET LOOSE

Allies Will Win, But Victory Will Cost Great Number of Lives.

Special to The Toronto World. KINGSTON, Ont., May 3.—The story of the great fight at Hill 60, near Ypres, Belgium, was described by James McDermott, of the Canadian Trench Transport, who was in the fight with the British took Hill No. 60 from the Germans on April 21, and he was also in the fight when the Germans made their drive a couple of days later.

They decided to attack the German position. All that night and part of next morning a singular hot let loose. The British had had on which the Germans were strongly entrenched, and which they fired the mines and which they used the signal to start. At 7:30 p.m. they opened up, and they expected to see anything more thrilling if it were possible.

Ypres is pretty well demolished. The British are to the last, stick there, selling their lives as dearly as they can. Our boys were on the thick of it, but as yet I do not know the number of casualties, although the statistics are coming in.

CANADIAN LOSSES 6,000

OFFICIAL ADMISSION

FOE NUMBERED 100,000

Fear Expressed That Highlanders Were Practically Annihilated--Heroic Resistance at Langemarck One of Finest in History.

OTTAWA, May 3.—Further light is shed on the heroism of the Canadian forces at Langemarck by a report issued by the minister of militia today. Word was as to the extent of the losses as confirmed, as the casualties admitted amount six thousand. The attacking German host is estimated to have had at least 100,000. The Canadians, who fairly overwhelmed numerically, made one of the finest stands in the annals of war. Lacking reinforcements exposed to unceasing fire and poisonous fumes, they repulsed attack after attack and only ceased ground under the irresistible pressure of the bus assaulting force. Whether the Highland Brigade (13th and 14th battalions) was annihilated is not definitely known. It is believed that after being cut off, the foe fought as long as a cartridge remained. Hughes' Statement.

Gen. Hughes' statement follows: From authentic data, it appears that on April 22 the Canadians held 5000 yards of trenches near Ypres. They were the extreme left of the British line. Next to them were the French troops, and next them the Belgians. This has always been regarded, being a very flat country, as the weakest part of the British line; that is, the most difficult to hold.

Held by Two Brigades.

The Canadian position was held by two of the three brigades. On the right the second under Brig-Gen. Currie (made up of the Fifth Battalion, Col. Tuxford, from the Plains; the seventh, Col. Hart MacHardy of Vancouver, B.C.; the eighth, Col. Lipsett of Winnipeg; and the tenth, Col. Boyd of Calgary and Manitoba). On their left were the Highland Brigade, made up of the 13th (Fifth Royal Grenadiers of Montreal, Col. Loomis), the 14th (the Montreal Regiment, made up from the Victoria Rifles, the Grenadier Guards, the 65th and other corps in that city, under Col. Frank McNeill, with Col. Burland as second in command), the 15th (the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, and the 91st of Hamilton, including large numbers from the region of Sudary, North Bay and Haldimand, and under Col. John Currie, M.P.), and the 16th Canadian Highlanders (made up of the 6th Gordon Highlanders of Toronto, the 7th Seaforth of Vancouver B.C., and the 9th Cameron Highlanders of Winnipeg, under command of Col. Leckie of Vancouver).

The second brigade was under command of Gen. A. W. Currie of Victoria, B.C., with Major Herbert Kemmler Betty of the headquarters of the brigade, as brigadier. The third, or the Highland Brigade, was under command of Gen. R. E. V. Turner, V.C., D.S.O., of Quebec, with the assistance of the minister of militia, as brigadier major. The first brigade in reserve. The first brigade advanced some miles in rear. It was commanded by the Gen. Malcolm S. Mercer of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, with Major Robert Boyd as second in command. It included the First Battalion (made up of western Ontario, under Col. Hill of Niagara Falls, with Major Robert Boyd as second in command), the second Battalion (made up of eastern Ontario, under command of Col. D. Watson of the Eighth Royal Rifles of Quebec, with Col. C. H. Rogers of Northumberland County and Col. Frank A. Howard of Bradford assisting him); the third Battalion (under command of Col. Rennie of Toronto); and the Fourth Battalion (made up of central Ontario, north and northwest of Toronto, under command of Col. Leckie of Hamilton, and Col. W. S. Buell of Brockville).

ENEMY'S LOSS AT YPREES ENORMOUS

Some Estimates Place German Casualties at Forty Thousand.

LONDON, May 3.—That the German losses in the battles of Ypres reach 12,000 killed and many more wounded, is the unofficial count here; some correspondents place the total German casualties at 40,000.

The night at Ypres has now come down to an artillery duel covering the movement of troops.

Attacks on Zebrugge from the sea have so worried the Germans that they are building iron sluices of great strength and height at Fort Lapin on the outskirts of Bruges to stem the floods should the big water gates at Zebrugge be destroyed by the bombardment.

Ten German Divisions.

Immediately thereafter the whole German force made up. It is estimated of upwards of ten divisions advanced.

The French and Belgians, over a front of five thousand yards, or upwards of five miles, gave way completely prostrated and incapable of action. This portion of the line fell back beyond the canal, in some cases a distance of ten or fifteen miles, or about 6 miles. By the sudden retirement of the French the heavy Canadian guns in their rear had not time to get away, and consequently for the time being, fell into the hands of the enemy.

Highlanders Hard Pressed.

Meantime, the Highlanders being left with only protection on their left flank. General Turner extended his force for about two thousand five hundred yards, at right angles to his original front position, as far as possible, the German divisions, which were pouring in an overwhelming

VARSIY STUDENTS AT NIAGARA CAMP

Seven Hundred Men From Toronto, Six Hundred From McGill Arrive.

MANY ENLIST FOR WAR

Company Being Formed for Service With Princess Pat's Light Infantry.

By a Staff Reporter.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Ont., May 3.—From the dusty hall of old Varsity, where intellectual highbrows perform croquet work for the greater part of the college year, there have sallied forth 700 students to join the McGill University contingent in the Canadian Officers' Training Corps camp.

Since Sunday the tented city sprung up as if by magic, until with the camp hardly a day old everything is in full running order, and the men are settling down to the routine of camp life. The McGill students, 500 strong, arrived in camp on Sunday afternoon and the Toronto Varsity undergraduates, with a parate state of 670, arrived there yesterday afternoon.

Never before in the history of Canada have so large a number of students gathered for such a purpose. Fresh from the examination halls, the college men have come to gain greater proficiency in the stern game of war. They are most enthusiastic about their work, and by the way they have done well in their training. The Toronto Varsity advance party, consisting of three officers, 20 non-commissioned officers and 48 men, arrived on the scene Friday night, and so thoroughly have they done their work that the body had practically everything ready for them.

The Varsity were raised almost immediately and the Niagara camp was opened for one of the busiest years since its inception. With arrangements practically completed to have the third contingent receive part of their training here the camp will continue indefinitely.

Pte. McCamus Has Mishap.

The accident happened when Pte. William McCamus, a member of the Varsity College, fell from the lower deck of the Dalhousie City just before the steamer reached the pier. What might have been a drowning accident averted by the prompt action of the crew in throwing out a rope. The Varsity men, under the leadership of McCamus, the first Toronto man to be sent to the camp hospital.

Not all the students will go back to their Alma Mater in October to proceed with their studies. The call to enlist has been too strong for a large percentage of the collegians, and with an additional opportunity given them, it is probable that a number of them will go to the front.

Resides the fact that an entire company of the Varsity students is being recruited, which will go as a reinforcement to the Princess Pat's Light Infantry, the company will be commanded by Captain George C. McDonald of the McGill Contingent, with Capt. Percival Molson, also of McGill, as second in command. It was thought desirable to put the Varsity men in the front line, with the keeness with which the McGill men responded to the call to form the first contingent.

Many Enlist in Company.

Already 95 men have enlisted. The opportunity is extended to students from Ontario and McGill, but also the graduates and undergraduates of any Canadian university, who are in a position to come from Vancouver last night, to join the new unit. A batch of 20 will arrive from the City of Vancouver, with Capt. J. F. Fitzgerald, assistant professor of hygiene at the University of Toronto, in charge of this contingent, assisted by Lieut. Ballantyne.

Musketry Training.

Particular attention will be paid to musketry training. In addition to the 20 service targets in regular use, 75 gal- lery targets have been installed. Every man will have his full share of rifle practice. The same principle applies to the men who get their elementary training at the gallery range, and when their sufficient ability will be transferred to the service range.

The signalling corps will be in charge of Lieut. A. Pearce. An extensive program has been mapped out. The 31 quarters of the Varsity students, along with the McGill men will have all varieties of signalling under various conditions and will be severely tested at the sham fight.

The camp officers are: Camp commandant, Col. W. G. MacDonough, orderly officer, Lieut. L. M. Rathburn; administrative staff, camp adjutant, Major M. R. Currie; quartermaster, Major Currie; general staff, general staff officer, Major H. C. Bickford, assistant staff officer, L. H. Sitwell; captain, W. E. Howard.

BOYS MADE CAPTIVES

In Order That King Peter Should Remain Without Soldiers.

Special to The Toronto World.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Serbian agricultural relief committee, of which Dr. Charles W. Eliot is president, in a statement tonight charges that atrocities of the most shocking character have been committed by the Austrians in Serbia. The statement says:

"In our campaign to secure relief for starving Serbia we have refrained from giving out any information that would tend to color sentiment against the enemy of Serbia. We make public the official report of Austrian atrocities during the last invasion of Serbia at this time merely to explain what caused the non-combatants to flee to the concentration camps in the south when the second invasion began. It is in these camps that typhus fever is taking its frightful toll. The incidents given below are selected at random from the report, and are by no means the greatest of the horrors perpetrated, as much of the report is unprintable.

"Four cities and 41 towns and villages have been completely or in part destroyed. They have not been plundered in the ordinary sense of the word; they have been totally devastated. The Austrians have destroyed everything they couldn't carry away. They have poisoned the wells, have taken out all money and paper of value in the banks and destroyed the books and registers, and have destroyed all material for teaching in the schools. Churches and monasteries have been the particular objects of hatred. The church at Yarebitza was turned into a stable. Young girls were dragged into this church and violated.

"Innumerable assassinations among the civil population were committed. In Szeckovitch were found masses of mere women and children with their throats cut, or burned alive. In a ravine lay 27 bodies of men. In one house six sisters were executed.

"In Prelov the inhabitants were forced, at the point of the bayonet, into their houses and the houses were set on fire. Fifty charred bodies were taken out of the house of Milan Miloutovitch.

HIGHLANDERS IN BELGIAN CITY

Sgt. L. D. Anderson of the Highlanders Describes His Brigade's Move North.

MADE TRIP IN BUSES

Writer Has Since Been Wounded in Battle of Ypres.

The World last night received the following letter from Sergeant L. D. Anderson of the 48th Highlanders, who, in the last list of casualties is reported wounded, left Anderson at 10 p.m. of April 27, 1915, in the morning.

Belgium, April, 1915.

Editor World: In my last letter I related to you the details of the Battle of Smith-Dorrien's address to the Third Brigade, C.B.F., delivered to us in the vicinity of the French camp and several days later our division began to move, and as you see we are in Belgium now.

The march was made easier for our brigade thru the modernized means of warfare. It was after a slight march of three or four miles that we were told London buses would pick us up at that point in half an hour. "Each four packs, and rest and get general clothing." "The motors will be along in half an hour. Have a snack while you wait, too," he said. "If you are not ready in 10 minutes, you will be left behind from our shoulders, might I say to think that we had not seen the last of our good friends of happy days, the London buses. Along they came after a while and proceeded to our bivouac. "Willie Green," "Willie Green" and "familiar London names. One I remember had been newly painted "Thru to Lerville." We all had good laughs, but I noticed that

As the procession of our London buses moved along we got many cheers from the French and British soldiers. "Good chance," "Au revoir, Canada," they called to us. I saw General Joffre in one of the official French cars and several say the Prince of Wales passed as well while we rolled along.

After another short march, following our leaving the buses, we stopped and had soup from our traveling kitchens and then proceeded to our bivouac. "So we are now in the City of Ypres, in Belgium. Our billet was a four-story brick building, but, however, owing to the heavy shelling and danger. From the top storey windows I looked that afternoon and during the following morning to see the whole thing, as we had entered the city by a roundabout way, avoiding the largest and most hostile air craft cannot view us.

I spent three hours going over the city. The streets are full of rubble. The disaster or even the path of destruction caused by our big Toronto fire some years ago can easily be formulated. To estimate the number of shells that were dropped and the damage they did I feel sure that the severest earthquake ever experienced could not work greater havoc than the shells did in the city. The cathedral of St. Martin and the magnificent cathedral of St. Martin and the great city blocks and all that now remains is a mass of uneven, shell-crushed crazy masonry, with a tower surmounting the scene.

As I had a coffee across the road a Belgian sent me the enemy's letters. I held on to that block for fourteen days, and then pointed to the ceiling to show the railway and the telephone wires, tearing chunks out of the plaster.

As I extended over the city, I saw the same scenes of destruction were to be witnessed. The Germans seemed to have their eye on the buildings. They were for their malicious vengeance, rather than destroying the military stores. The unfortunate men who were killed never raised their hand against a German, had had his world wrecked, and no doubt many injuries were being perpetrated, and which the world knows nothing.

Our regiment goes into the trenches today, relieving the 2nd Canadian Battalion. The activity of our artillery at the front, which we are going to mention, was the most striking feature of the last two nights' attacks. We captured a number of trenches and real elevated positions of great strategic importance to the enemy.

The artillery fairly shook the buildings and the reports and flashes from our heavy guns were heard by the enemy. The enemy replied to our artillery, shooting a favorite spot for the shells necessary and the enemy being unprepared for the attack.

Late yesterday counted six of our aeroplanes flying over the enemy's lines making observations. These were vigorously shelled by the enemy, but all escaped. Shortly afterwards the aeroplanes started, and all thru the night the guns flashed and the noise was deafening. One could think of the picture which was rolling in his head as we were ordered to stand by and be ready to support the battalions engaged.

The morning of the 27th was a busy one in one of the attacks many of our men were wounded and killed, the enemy firing on our men while they were in the trenches, when they would either run or throw down their arms and plead for mercy. I told you I was engaged on a car yesterday, a Yorkshire man of the Duke of Wellington's Own, who could not find room in the ambulance and was walking to the hospital. He had been wounded in the arm, just above the elbow, and he was lying on a stretcher. The back of his head, I tried to get his story out of him, but he was too badly hurt. It was not until he had been carried to the hospital, and he was lying on a stretcher, that he was able to speak. He was very much shocked and was advanced over a big piece of dead ground when the signal was given. Here the most dangerous work was to be done, but our men continued to advance, took nine trenches and captured a number of prisoners. The fellow's face and mannerisms showed complete collapse from nerves. I had to help him, as he was hardly understandable, and after five minutes we urged him along to the hospital. It was a terrible picture as we watched them waiting to get across the market square, dozens of Red Cross ambulances carrying the wounded and the wounded were covered with soldiers, English, French, Belgian and Canadian officers, of all ranks and men. Beautifully dressed women coming from church gave the picture a little life, but we saw few if any men of the fighting age not in uniform.

FOUR MORE SHIPS SUNK BY GERMANS

Three Norwegian and One Swedish Ship Were Torpedoed.

CREWS ALL ESCAPED

Act of Piracy in Each Case Carried Out in North Sea.

LONDON, May 3.—The sinking of three Norwegian and one Swedish steamer by German submarines is reported today. Apparently no lives were lost.

The Norwegian steamer Baldwin was sunk by a German submarine in the North Sea on Sunday. The members of the crew, numbering 17 men, were rescued within two hours. The Baldwin was of 698 tons, registered in Liverpool, and was owned by the Norwegian Steamship Co. of Trondheim, Norway.

A Newcastle despatch says: The Norwegian steamer America was torpedoed in the North Sea on Saturday. The crew of the America, consisting of 39 men, was picked up thirteen hours later by the Norwegian in the North Sea. The America was owned by Det Selskerke Rederi of Trondheim, Norway.

The America left Sunderland Saturday morning for Bergen.

The steamer America was larger than most of the vessels which have been sunk by German submarines. She was of 2000 tons, and engaged in the transatlantic trade, and departed from Philadelphia, March 23 on her last trip from Philadelphia to London.

Copenhagen reports that the Norwegian steamer Lalla was sunk in the North Sea on Friday by a German submarine. Her crew was landed at Copenhagen today by the steamer Anna, which was sent to the rescue and was landed at Newcastle today.

Another Swedish steamer, the Edla, is reported in a despatch which was taken to have been torpedoed by a German submarine in the North Sea. The vessel, which was lumber-laden, sank in less than five minutes. The sixteen men and two women aboard escaped.

DEPLORABLE SITUATION HAS ARISEN AT LAST

LONDON Paper Calls on the United States to Carry Out Threats Used in Note.

LONDON, May 3.—The Chronicle in an editorial on the torpedoing of the Guinness quotes the passage from the American note to Germany last February, wherein it was announced that the United States Government would be constrained to hold the German Government to strict accountability should German vessels of war destroy American vessels or lives of American citizens. The Chronicle adds:

"The 'deplorable situation' having now arisen, we shall see what 'strict accountability' means, but Americans will notice that the outrage of which their citizens have been victims is in one isolated one. It merely is one very small sample of an inhuman atrocity systematically practiced, by which all neutral states and non-combatant members of belligerent nations are alike wickedly threatened. They would do well to consider the practice as well as the example of it."

British Admiralty Urge Liquor Traffic's Curbing

Official White Paper Urges Government to Adopt Total Prohibition or Restrictions of Sale--Strong Testimony Given.

LONDON, May 2, 8.45 p.m.—The serious effect that drink is having on the repairs to the warship and transport services and in the output of munitions is disclosed in reports from firms and officers throughout the country, which were published tonight in the form of a white paper.

From Vice-Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe, commander-in-chief of the home fleets, down, the officers responsible for the navy are of the opinion that the short hours worked by the men in private yards is due to drink. They describe conditions as deplorable and urge on the government the necessity of adopting the total prohibition of alcoholic drinks or restrictions on the sale of them.

Condemn Sunday Work.

The slackness of men, it is alleged, is due to the fact that they are earning more money than usual, and that while they have any to spend they will not work. Sunday work is condemned, as it is contended that the double wages earned that day lead the men to lay off two days during the week.

Rear Admiral Frederick C. Tudor, third sea lord, supplies a statement showing the effect on the output of munitions of the output of work as regards shipbuilding, repairs and munitions of war, which is being carried out by contract to the Admiralty.

Doing Less Work.

Admiral Tudor says: "Briefly the position is that, while the country is at war, the men are doing less work than would be regarded as an ordinary week's work under normal peacetime conditions. The problem is not how to get the workmen to increase their normal pace output, but how to get them to do an ordinary week's work of 51 or 52 hours.

"The reason for the loss of time are various, but it is clear that the most potent reason is the facilities which exist for the men to obtain beer and spirits with a high rate of wages and abundance of employment. Opinion on this point is practically unanimous. Letters received from shipbuilders and officers superintending work for the admiralty are quoted by Admiral Tudor. These complain of the drinking habits of the men and urge either total prohibition, martial law or the restriction of the hours in which drink may be obtained.

"During four weeks, the report concludes, 870,000 hours' work was avoidably lost in the shipyards.

RETAIL DEALERS PROTEST.

LONDON, May 3.—All the retail liquor dealers in London, thru their trade organization, have united in a protest against the proposed increase of taxation on spirits, wines and beer. They fear that since the war begun drunkenness has decreased in London and declare that "it would be an act of the grossest injustice to penalize the industry of innkeepers because of some distant parts of the country, the conduct of a few workers is complained of."

LONDON, May 3.—There was given out today a British official statement dated May 2, and reading as follows: "At 7 p.m., May 1, the Germans attacked Hill 60, southeast of Ypres, and yesterday evening they attacked in the neighborhood of St. Julien. These attacks were both repulsed. We lost no ground, and we inflicted heavy casualties on the enemy, in spite of the fact that he again used poisonous gases emitted both from tubes in the trenches and from specially manufactured shells.

"A German aeroplane yesterday afternoon was chased by one of our machines to within rifle range of our trenches, and then brought down by our fire.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

RETURN OF EARLY VICTORIAN STYLES

Short Puff Sleeves With Long Gloves or Mittens Are Very Popular.

Long gloves will of necessity be extensively popular this summer for, in spite of the early statement that long sleeves would prevail, the early Victorian styles have made an impression and the short puff sleeves will be worn by youthful devotees, who will be faultlessly gloved in the very latest. And to carry out the effect of these quaint silk frocks—trimmed with their generous quota of narrow velvet ribbon—there are the most alluring little lace and silk mittens—just like those worn by our demure little grandmothers. These mittens have half fingers "that only extend to the first knuckle, joints, others only cover the hand to the knuckles. The backs and wrists are embroidered in a variety of lovely patterns and many of the most attractive ones are open work. Silk gloves, too, made to reach well above the elbow, will replace kid gloves on many occasions and are embroidered in colors, gold or silver thread motifs also being featured.

RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT Editor World: Is there any means of employing the numbers of idle men met in Toronto? If things indicate the future winter will be the worst on record, as never was there less work to be had at this time of year. Of course, men won't work for low wages while everything costs so much, and farmers won't give sufficient encouragement by giving better terms to their help. I think it is up to the state to protect its interests for the coming season by compelling employer and employe to come to some understanding.

NURSERY CONDUCTED BY Elvira Murray The Daily Bumps

Another example of the power of suggestion is found in the treatment you give the daily falls and bumps. When mother kisses the bumps and declares: "There, that is quite well!" the little chap goes back to his play convinced that it is well. On the other hand, a thoughtless parent jumps up excitedly, grabs the child, and kisses and cuddles him until he is sure he is much in need of such sympathy, and cries louder and longer. One little fellow was taught that when the fell he should get up at once, rub the bump and say: "That didn't hurt." All thru his career he met the bumps and hardships with the same plucky strength. This early training in meeting small obstacles and hurts lasts thruout the lifetime. The behavior of the man or woman in the face of difficulty and discouragement is foreshadowed by the attitude of the child toward his trials and bumps. You will find story telling an excellent method of training children. The boy or girl in the story can be all that you care to make them, and the positive suggestions thus conveyed are very powerful. When God gives a child it is not only that we may teach him, but that the little one may teach us. Wise parents command the Gospel company. The other officers will be: Lieut. D. McD. Northcombe, Galt; Lieut. G. O'Grady, Toronto; Lieut. MEMORIAL PARADE ON EMPIRE DAY

Militia Veterans Will Pay Floral Tributes to All Fallen Soldiers.

ON EXTENSIVE SCALE

Lieut. Governor and Many Other Prominent Men Expected to Be Present.

It has become the annual custom of the several Veteran Volunteers' Associations in Toronto to decorate the soldiers' monuments in Queen's Park on the 24th of May of each year with wreaths, flowers and garlands as loving tributes to the memory of departed comrades who gave up their lives in defence of our country in days gone by.

At a recent meeting of the Grand Council of Canadian Militia Veterans (representing the Veterans of 1866 Association, the Veterans of 1885 Association, and the South African War Veterans' Association), it was decided to hold a memorial service, which would not only include memories of departed comrades of former campaigns, but also those who have fallen in the great conflict in which our nation is at present engaged.

Heroes of Present War.

The bravery and heroism of our Canadian soldiers in recent battles in Europe has been marked with sad losses, and many of our bravest and best sons have fallen gloriously on hard-fought fields in defence of our flag and empire.

A suitable program is being prepared, consisting of invocations, addresses, vocal and instrumental music, etc., in which several prominent speakers and divines, a military band and a full choir of fifty vocalists will take part.

Members of the various Veterans' Associations will muster at the armories at 9 o'clock sharp and parade to Queen's Park, laden with their floral offerings for decorating the several monuments with the customary wreaths, etc., at 10:30 the column will proceed to the band stand in Queen's Park north of the parliament buildings where the memorial exercises will take place.

Many invited. The lieutenant-governor and ministers of the provincial government, the mayor and city council, the board of education and other public bodies will be invited to participate in the service, and also all of the different regiments and military units in the city. It is also anticipated that the memorial proceedings will be of a most impressive and dignified character, and the program will be arranged along these lines. Further announcements will be given on later dates.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of E. Cairns, president; A. M. Stretton, secretary; Captain Wm. Fahay, Captain John A. MacDonald and Lieut.-Colonel A. E. Belcher.

FIRST NIGHTS AT TORONTO THEATRES

HASWELL COMPANY REVIVES OLD PLAY

'East Lynne' Well Played at Royal Alexandra Theatre Last Night.

A GRACIOUS HEARING

Drawing Power of Old-Time Plays Reflected in Audience.

'East Lynne' will never die. It will never grow so old that it will lose its power to move audiences. Last night, at the Royal Alexandra, for perhaps the millionth time in its ancient and honorable history, the old play was the tribute of the sympathetic tear from a crowded house. Of late years the productions of 'East Lynne' in this part of the country have been chiefly confined to barnstorming companies playing the small towns.

Edward Hayes literally 'ate up' the villainous role of Capt. Leveson, and the only reason why there were no hisses to seal the seal of approval on his performance was because there was no curtain parade after each and every act, which the fine old traditions of melodrama call for.

'DADDY LONG-LEGS' PLAY OF SUNSHINE

Jean Webster's Play is a Delightfully Humorous Comedy.

A SPLENDID COMPANY

Renee Kelly Scored Triumph at Princess Theatre Last Night.

'Daddy Long-Legs' deserves all the praise that has been bestowed upon it, and the performance at the Princess last night added another to the list of delightful dramatic memories which the old play-gover treasures among the choicest things of his life. Plays so delicate, so whimsical, so delightfully humorous with the comedy that only occasionally bursts into open laughter, but always progresses in a sunshine of smiles, require dramatic ability of the first rank to give them adequate presentation, and the flawless production by Henry Miller's company was in that respect representative of an excessively proud family, 'Full of ancestors,' as Judy Abbott writes in the last act.

Judy is a part taken with remarkable cleverness and versatility by Renee Kelly, who will be remembered by her audience as 'Mother Superior' two years ago. She does her work with such intensity, such spontaneity, such ease and power, that it is in vain to say that she depends upon it. Good acting conceals hard study, reversing the literary result at which she aims, a result so entirely satisfactory to her audience. The outburst in the orphan home, not quite appreciated at first by the surprised hearers, but it struck a note of earnestness in her feeling that brings back the tears to the orphans who are not so fortunate as Judy, after the play is over and she has disappeared into the wings.

SERVANT IN HOUSE A PERFECT PLAY

Famous Production Draws Large Audience to Grand Opera House.

STRIKING STAGE STORY

Phillips-Shaw Players Given Splendid Reception at Opening Performance.

When Charles Rann Kennedy wrote 'The Servant in the House,' he gave to the stage one of the most beautiful of dramas—a pictorial sermon that will long be remembered by those fortunate to see the theatrical production. In order to bring out in a vivid manner the lesson of the story, the various characters must be impersonated by exceptionally able people. The presentation of this wonderful drama at the Grand Opera House last night reflects the greatest credit on Mr. Albert Phillips and his entire company, and the large audience that witnessed the opening performance testified in no uncertain manner their hearty appreciation of the production. The play is of special interest to literary people and students of the history of literature, showing in an interesting and instructive way how easily the heads of the church can unthinkingly become worldly in their desires and ambitions, while the lay brother is in his own way a spiritual warrior. It is a remarkable drama, because it interests all classes and makes one feel the better for having witnessed the performance. Mr. Phillips gave a splendid interpretation of Robert Smith, the drain man. His characterization of the difficult role was carried out with a skill and subtlety that showed in an interesting and instructive way how easily the heads of the church can unthinkingly become worldly in their desires and ambitions, while the lay brother is in his own way a spiritual warrior.

SPLENDID TENOR AT SHEA'S HIPPODROME

William O'Clare With 'Six Shamrock Girls' Heads the Bill.

A singing act of exceptional merit heads the bill at the Hippodrome this evening. The tenor voice of unusual richness and quality, and is assisted by a capable chorus of six Shamrock Girls. The setting is typically Irish, and the program is excellent, including 'Mother McCree.' Some true 'big numbers' by one of the 21st Sisters were popular and well received, and offering a bright program of songs and dances. 'The Lost Boy' is a humorous sketch of the adventurous country youth who has the 'wanderlust' habit, and is also on the bill for a wealthy wife, Virginia Holme, who adds interest to her part by wearing several pretty frocks.

DISHONOR IS MUCH WORSE THAN DEATH

Capt. Sparks Addressed Men at Hundred and Ninth Regiment Parade.

Over six hundred members of the 109th Regiment, including the brass and bugle bands, turned out last night for parade at their armories on Pearl street with Lieut.-Col. W. T. Stewart in command. After parade the chaplain, Capt. Sparks, addressed the regiment, saying a few words of tribute to the Canadians who fell in the recent actions in Flanders. 'There is one thing worse than death,' he said, 'and that is dishonor. But the Canadian men who carried themselves so gallantly in the operations with the allies have more than upheld Canada's honor, and their names will ever live in the records of heroism and devotion to the cause of civilization.'

At the close of the chaplain's remarks, the band played an elaborate arrangement of 'Nearer My God to Thee,' as a tribute to the fallen Canadians, while the regiment stood at attention. Before dismissing the men, the colonel read a request from military authorities for effect that 100 men from the 109th were required for active service with the 25th Battalion.

DALE CHOIR CONCERT. Interesting Program Was Furnished by Excellent Company. Dale Choir gave their annual concert at their church last night, corner Queen and Bellwoods, and it was a very successful affair, both from a financial standpoint and as a musical treat. The choir itself, with A. W. Grant as organist, showed the result of careful training in the numbers that it rendered. Eddie Piggett was there with his usual good character songs; Duncan R. Cowan featuring his 'The Song of the Soldier' and 'The Soldier's Song'; and John Kelly with his ventriloquism sketches. There were also some excellent numbers given by the members of the choir.

Totally Discouraged by Nervous Prostration

After Many Weeks of Doctoring a Friend Recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and She Was Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than Nervous Prostration. Because of the exhausted condition of the nervous system, weakness and helplessness take possession of the body. The faculties of the mind as well as those of the body are affected and hope and courage disappear. The patient, often appearing well, has little sympathy, and few doctors understand diseases of the nerves well enough to treat nervous prostration intelligently. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is founded on the prescription of a great nerve specialist, and hence its wonderful success in curing ailments of this nature. Mrs. Edith May Williams, Tillamook, Ont., R.R. 3, writes: 'I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I suffered for years with my nerves, and at one time I was confined to my bed with nervous prostration for several weeks. I cannot just explain my feelings, but I was weak and Helpless and so discouraged and dependent that I thought I would lose my mind. I doctored with several doctors and received but little benefit. I became very much discouraged and thought I would never get better. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before I had finished the first box I knew that it was helping me. It took several boxes of the Nerve Food to make me well and I can truly say that it is a wonderful builder-up of the nervous system. It is only wise to prevent such dreaded diseases as Nervous Prostration, Paralysis and Locomotor Ataxia by keeping the nervous system in good condition at all times. When you cannot sleep well, have headaches and indigestion, be warned of approaching dangers and restore the nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 26 cents a box, all dealers or Edman, Bates & Company, Limited, Toronto.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 4.

Langemarc

When our Canadian troops left for the front they fully understood that it was no picnic expedition upon which they had entered.

There is no fatalism about this. When a man undertakes a high and responsible duty in which his life may be required, he would be wise to think back.

In the face of the tremendous list of casualties this, perhaps, is the first and most necessary consideration. We are happily unaccustomed to war in Canada.

All these months there has come to us the tale of men wounded, dead, missing. The men in the ranks understood what it meant.

There may be other fights in this war which will need as heroic courage, as cool daring and as clear-eyed grappling with an emergency.

They fought from Thursday till Sunday, with little support, with little food or drink with precious supplies of war, and with an overwhelming force before in flank and behind them.

brigade was well to the rear, and four heavy guns were posted to the rear of the Canadian and French lines, and the French gave way and left the Canadian left flank open.

Then the 10th Battalion and the 16th Canadian Highlanders came up and attacked the Germans and recaptured the four guns which had been lost behind the French lines.

On Saturday and Sunday, reinforced by three British brigades, the fighting continued, and the new lines were established, cutting the Germans from their objective, the much coveted Ypres, the first step to Calais.

They did what was necessary to be done. They did it without hesitation. They did it effectively. They did it with a headlong valor which equals the traditions of British courage in campaigns that are historic.

CONTRACT FOR SALE OF LAND VOIDED

Alexander Kennedy and Others Awarded Damages by Justice Middleton.

CASE MUST PROCEED

Mr. Justice Lennox Will Not Allow Delay in Nerlich Trial.

Mr. Justice Middleton gave judgment at Osgoode Hall yesterday in the action of Alexander Kennedy and nine others to have a contract made in Ontario with J. P. Martin, H. L. Martin and Tritex Limited, respecting the purchase of land in British Columbia, rescinded.

The plaintiff, Kennedy, is a farmer, and E. Martin is a real estate agent of London. It was alleged that the Tritex Company acquired on October 3, 1912, twenty-one acres of property in Lunenburg municipality, British Columbia, for $30,000.

On November 7, the plaintiff agreed to form a syndicate and purchase the land for $45,000. They paid $25,511.32, and the defendant stated that the money was obtained by fraud.

His lordship ordered that the contract be rescinded and that the Tritex company repay $22,500; also that E. L. Martin pay $4,000 damages and the same amount against J. P. Martin, joint recovery from both.

Canadian Preliminary Notes. His lordship also gave judgment in the action of Alfred Trepanier, Alfred Chiller, Noe Casanov, Chas. Laporte, Laurent Lerezeque, Dominik Lajoie and Eugene Benguet against J. E. Lalonde, Hector Dubuque, Maxime St. Denis, La Banque Provinciale, Cie Jas. Guilloteau and J. A. Guilloteau.

Lalonde and Dubuque were the promoters of a company for the purchase of land in Dorval and the plaintiffs each gave promissory notes for $1,000 which were not to be used. The defendants placed the notes in the bank, but they were discounted and returned to the plaintiffs.

His lordship gives judgment cancelling the notes and directing costs against the defendants.

Nerlich Must Prepare. In refusing for the time being to have the charge of treason preferred against Emil Nerlich traversed till the next assizes in October, on the ground that there was an appeal pending on behalf of Nerlich, Justice Lennox in the assizes yesterday said:

"I am not at all impressed with the idea that all the expedition that could have been used in this case has been used, and as far as I am concerned this case will not be traversed by me unless it seems quite manifest that it would be an injustice to others. It is in the public interest that this matter should be expeditiously tried and not wait till the termination of the war before disposing of the matter."

Nothing has been shown to me that would justify me in traversing this trial, and at the present time my mind is very strongly against it. I think it would be even better to prolong this case for three or four weeks or two and have the case disposed of rather than have it go over till October. The accused must get ready for his trial if he is not now ready.

The crown prosecutor, W. C. Mikell, K.C., will arrange a date for the trial. Chief Justice Munkin in a stated case to be decided by the appellate division has asked the court to decide eleven questions which he has submitted. He asks:

COL. LANGTON NOT TO BE FIRE CHIEF

Board of Control Lost But Little Time in Refusing His Appointment.

LIVELY DISCUSSION

High Words Were Used in Committee Before Question Finally Settled.

In less time than it takes to tell the story did council dispose of the name of Col. J. P. Langton, nominated for the position as head of the fire department by the board of control.

When the item in the report was reached, Ald. Yeomans sprang to his feet and moved that it be struck out, and without any discussion whatever council voted almost unanimously in favor of the motion.

But this was not the end. When the committee of the whole had risen and the adoption of the board of control's report was in order a motion was immediately put to have the clause nominating Col. Langton reinstated, whereat the cloud broke and the storm of oratory lasted for a full two hours.

Ald. Roden spoke of some length in a eulogistic strain of Col. Langton.

The storm became fiercer when Ald. McBride got to his feet and Col. Langton and the enterprises he had been connected with came in for some scorching criticism.

The alderman described one business with which the colonel had been connected as a disreputable one, and he stated that if council desired a man at the head of the fire department who had been a failure in the past.

Completed Ald. McBride's speech when he replied to Ald McBride's remarks that he has shown since council began his business this year.

Ald. McBride took the new ground, saying every question," said the controller. "It seems that Ald. McBride has got hold of the council. It looks to me that there is a dear round-up on this case. I will say more, that Ald. McBride is trying to bend and warp this council as much as he can, and I give him credit for being able to get them into line as he does."

He took strong exception to the drastic criticism of Ald. McBride, and had several letters of recommendation for Col. Langton, and when the controller stated that Ald. McBride had a lot of information that was not in the report, he said that he demanded that the statement be taken back. On a number of occasions the mayor had to call these two to order, but they were so wroth that it was some time before peace was restored.

Controller Thompson brought the discussion to a close by saying that the Ald. McBride's tactics, "if the Apostle Paul applied for the position the alderman would go down into ancient history and bring up the fact that he held the clothing of the men who stoned Stephen." He referred to Ald. McBride as being the only man in council that he could not be thrown at. The controller had a sheaf of telegrams and letters from prominent military men setting out the sterling qualities of Col. Langton, but these were not in-pulped to pieces by Ald. Singer, on the ground that military men did not know the requirements of a fire department, and, therefore, their recommendations were worth little.

Controller Postler and Ald. Cameron were for appointing a chief from the present staff.

Ald. Wickert had made extensive enquiries regarding Langton's fitness for the position, and believed that council would make no mistake in appointing him. Ald. Ramaden thought that the alderman was a first-class man, while Ald. Maguire spoke at some length in favor of promotion, and would give a man already in the brigade the position, and would hold promotion up to these men if we are to have an efficient fire-fighting department," said the alderman.

Controller Spence made a strenuous effort to prevent McBride from replying at the close of the debate, but was unsuccessful, and after another trade, in which McBride pulled to pieces the arguments of the aldermen in favor of

ACCEPT OFFER TO INSURE SOLDIERS

Men of Second and Third Battalions Will Be Insured for Thousand Dollars.

The city council yesterday decided to accept the offer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. to insure 3700 soldiers, the balance of the Toronto men in the second and third overseas contingents.

Each man will be insured for $1000, and the premium will be $17.09, which is the regular charge, plus $25 as a war premium, making the total premium the first year $42.09.

To date the City of Toronto has insured 9860 who are either at the front or enlisted with the Canadian contingents. The total insurance amounts to $9,050,000, on which $385,450 will be paid in premiums the first year. This insurance is made up as follows:

Four thousand men in the first contingent insured in the Metropolitan Company at $43 each; total premium, $172,000; total insurance, $4,000,000.

The second contingent men are insured in two companies. The Aetna Life has issued 1100 policies at $43 each and the State Life 250 policies at $43.

The balance of the second contingent and the third contingent are included in the offer of the Metropolitan Company, accepted by council yesterday.

There are still 900 names to be dealt with and these will be taken care of by the Metropolitan as soon as the names are handed in. The company has also promised to issue policies for 2000 more men.

At a well attended meeting of the secretaries of the courts of the Ancient Order of Foresters in Toronto, held in the Orange Hall, Euclid avenue and College street, plans were discussed for enthralling the city membership, which now amounts to over four thousand, and is increasing rapidly.

The farms in connection with the provincial institutions are profiting by the early spring. Seeding has been completed in nearly all quarters, and at Burwash and Port William the work is fully two weeks ahead of last year.

Farm Director Todd is very optimistic as to the outcome because of the excellent start secured. It is reported also that the fall wheat crops are in good condition, having weathered the winter unusually well.

U.S. WAR SCARE AFFECTS STOCKS

All-Round Declines Were Registered in New York Market.

MILLION SHARE DAY

C.P.R. Was Under Particular Pressure — Bears Renew Active Operations.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A succession of substantial declines with some slight recovery towards the close accompanied the course of today's trading in the stock market. Dealings were once more over the million share mark, but half a dozen issues, chiefly U. S. Steel, contributed more than 50 per cent. of the volume.

MONTREAL STOCKS INCLINED TO REACT

Early Strength Was Soon Lost — Dominion Bridge Again Prominent.

MONTREAL, May 3.—Following a brisk demand for the stock of the business group at the opening, when Dominion Bridge jumped quickly to a new high record price of 152 1/2, the market was high for the movement of 69, and Steel of Canada and Dominion Steel Corporation started off with substantial gains from the week-end, the market developed a reactionary tendency. Bridge sold off to 130 1/2, or nearly 3 from the early high and finished 1 lower on the day. Steel of Canada declined 3 from the best of 66 and finished with a loss of 3. Steel of Canada declined from 16 to 15 and also finished at the low with a loss of 1/2. A nominal gain of 1/4 at 23 1/2 in the final dealings, against an early high of 30, but closing quotations were virtually unchanged at 29 bid, 29 1/2 asked. Car, but nominally unchanged at 74 after selling at 75 at the opening, but stock was offered at 74 at the close. Locomotive sold at 2 to 2 1/2 and closed offered at 2. Dulness more than actual weakness was shown throughout the session.

LONDON MARKET WAITING BUDGET

Does Not Expect Big Income Tax Increase, But is Prepared.

LONDON, May 3.—Money and discount rates were easy today. Tomorrow's budget statement is awaited with interest on the stock exchange. The market does not expect an increase in income tax, but is prepared to accept philosophically further taxation in other directions to assure the government.

DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED

Nutar Bletich settled a suit that he brought against A. W. Wagstaff alleging damages of $5000 for injuries received at the Wagstaff brick works last June. The case was started in the assize court before Mr. Justice Britton, but shortly after it opened a settlement was effected for $1000.

QUOTATIONS DECLINED

Corn and Oats Also Had Heavy Tone at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Prospects of a bountiful and early harvest turned out to be too much of a handicap today for supporters of wheat. In consequence, the market, notwithstanding a display of power to rally, closed heavy at 1/2 to 1 1/2 net decline. Corn finished 1/2 to 1 1/2 down, oats off 1/4 to 1/2, and provisions unchanged to 1/2 lower.

MONTREAL CATTLE PRICES ARE FIRM

Supplies Scarce and Demand Good—Yesterday's Range of Quotations.

MONTREAL, May 3.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, west end market, prices were 25c per 100 pounds higher, owing to the shortage of supplies and increased demand. The quality of the cattle offered was much better than usual at this season of the year, and an active trade was done.

MONTREAL GRAIN MARKET.

MONTREAL, May 3.—There was no improvement in the demand from foreign buyers for wheat today, and business was quiet. The demand for car lots was steady and prices were unchanged. Trade in flour continues quiet for both local and export account. Mill-fees are fairly steady. Butter steady with prices unchanged. Cheese firm. Eggs in good demand.

NO DAMAGES AWARDED.

George Brimstin was given a verdict of negligence against E. W. Goulding in the jury assize court yesterday. Brimstin was riding a wheel on Victoria Ave., May 24, 1914, when Goulding, who was driving a motor car, ran into him and broke his ankle. He asked for damages of $3000, but the court would not allow any.
