LANGEVIN SHOWS DISAPPOINTMENT

In Published Circular the Archbishop of St. Boniface alleges Canadian Roman Catholics Have Been Most Shamefully Treated.

Winnipeg, April 22--(Special)--Archbishop Langevin has broken his silence on the Northwest school question. The Northwest Review, Roman Catholic, in its issue of today says: "The following momentous pronouncement occurs in a recent published circular to the clergy by the Archbishop of St. Boniface. Just as we are committing to press this circular, we learn with unspeakable sorrow that the educational clause destined to be inserted in the autonomy bill of the two new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan will not restore us to the position we held in 1878, when the northwest territories were organized by virtue of the British North America Act, but that this clause will consecrate the spoliation of our school rights by the ordinance of 1892 and will sanction all the ordinances passed up to 1901."

The Crimson Slipper.

BY DORA LANGLOIS.

Author of "A Bolt From the Blue," "The Red-headed Woman," "The Kiss of Judah," "The Secret's Daughter," "Victoria's Dream," etc.

(Continued) I followed Herman's injunction, and a moment or two later he joined me, behind the trees, just as a man of a cycle rounded the bend. As the cyclist approached us, Herman gave a whistle, and in an instant, the newcomer was off his machine and coming in our direction. "Is that you Clarkson?" he demanded, the query proving that Herman had correctly mistaken the whistle he had heard once before that night. "He has been to the police-station," Herman said in a low voice. "Yes, yes," retorted the newcomer. "I've had him in view the whole time. Markham's cycle has broken down; the car's ahead, isn't it? Good Heaven! Who are you?" "My name is Herman," my friend replied, "and Mr. Duncan is here also. We wanted to have a few words with you."

can only prove our bona fides by accompanying him with what grace we may. We are sacrificing something to let him do his duty according to his lights. Come, let us go to the cart!" I turned, and Herman followed me in dog-like silence. I need not say that the position was galling, but the thought that the situation could only be saved by him kept us helpless. I don't want to boast, but I think I may say with truth that to face the "imminent deadly breach" for the old country's sake would not have taxed our resolution or cost either of us so much as it cost us to keep our hands off the man and do his bidding. Of the drive I can say nothing; I was not out to admire the scenery. Little Bob did his duty, and jogged on at his best pace. Our companion soon showed that he was not a good cyclist; the road was hilly and there was a head wind. Once I offered to take his cycle and give him a seat in the trap but he declined rather ungraciously. Still, I suppose he thought it his duty to take no risk of getting separated from one of the other of us; and it is true enough that I might have cycled off, leaving him to settle with Herman before he could pursue me. We got to H—at last, and requesting us to come into the office with him he despatched a long cipher wire from the post-office. Outside he turned to me and said more graciously, "You—ah—I daresay know this hole of a place better than I do," he said. "Is there some hotel where they keep a night porter where we could put up for a few hours?" "There may be," I answered; "but—"

"Eat Plenty of Fruit."

That's what the Doctors say when one is constipated. Because fruit acts on the liver, causing it to excrete bile which aids digestion and increases the peristaltic action of the bowels, thus preventing constipation. But eating fresh fruit alone, won't CURE. The laxative principle is too weak and in too small quantity.

Fruit-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets are the tonic and laxative virtues of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, many times intensified—by our secret process of combining the juices—and made into tablets. "Fruit-tives" act gently and naturally—tone up the liver—greatly increase the flow of bile—effectively cure Indigestion, Biliousness, Headache and Constipation—build up and strengthen the whole system. my soul, would say to her, "You are my prisoner." I could not bear the thought. In spite of what she had done it seemed a desecration. In these moments of inaction, strive as I would, I could not separate the real Mary from the woman still held in heart and soul. My trouble pressed on me, stifled me. The room of the house itself, seemed too small to hold me, and my mystery, so, throwing the window open, I passed out on to the lawn. Here on this spot only yesterday Herman had spoken jestingly of the blight on the ill-tended flowers. He was right, there was a blight upon the place indeed. I moved towards the tall hollyhocks he had praised for their bright colours, and as I did so a massing of I forgot that with a dilapidated billycock bobbed down behind the hedge. In an instant my blood was up and running at an invigorating rate through veins in which it seemed only to have stagnated since last night. Who was this new spy, who was on the track of one who had given his best to his country, and so far received only a dog's thanks? I forgot that the man was little and my hand was a sledge-hammer, meant that he should feel its weight, as King, Kaiser, or plenipotentiary would assuredly have felt it had such a one crossed me then. I was over the hedge in an instant, and came down on the soft line of dew with the crown of an ox; then I struck out and hit the man. For answer I got a blow, which, though not heavy, was remarkably well directed, and the following spring he adopted a scientific attitude of defence, and began to parry. "I'm sure I beg your pardon, sir, for looking over into your garden," he said, "but I don't see what you wanted to strike me for all that."

CHAPTER X.

I let Herman have his way, and a few stones thrown at the window having brought Minton down in sleepy delirium we entered the room. It was Sunday morning now, but I was not really in a forgiving or generous mood, when I proposed to feed my enemy; the simple fact was that for me the barrier between loved and hated was overthrown, and the red drew between friend and foe was expunged; most men, and all women, were false, and therefore I was in the great class. The man against whom Herman shut the door might for aught I cared, sit at my board and eat with me, but I would not let him do so. I had no objection, but I doubt whether, at that moment I would have given myself the trouble of arguing with Herman to feed a starving friend. So we went to breakfast and bed. But though I promised my friend to follow his lead, and turn in, I struggled in the breakfast-room, when he had gone up stairs, and fell to working out a useless calculation. It was now nearly seven a. m. at ten, the night before Mary Densell had been in this very room. Nine hours had passed; the trouble and cares of years seemed to have gone over my head since then, yet to the rest of the world they were nine ordinary hours capable of holding only so much human activity. Presuming that the fugitives had caught that train from Santrigg to York, and there again taken the first possible train for London, they could not fall to reach town in time to get across to Cannon-street or Charing Cross for the Continental mail at nine a. m. If they had escaped at York, it was only to be trapped later. There were men in blue waiting for her now; enemies my hand had raised crowding every exit, barring her way at every turn. At nine o'clock at latest, some man would lay his hand upon her shoulder, and looking into those beautiful eyes, in which I had lost

Mr. Hyde Issues a Counter Blast in Which He Makes Serious Charges Against the Rival Faction.

Albany, N. Y., April 21.—The crisis in the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Co. was laid before Governor Higgins at the executive chamber this afternoon by the committee of 30 of the managing agents of the society, who earlier in the day, by unanimous vote, had made the same appeal for mutualization of the society, to Superintendent Francis Hendricks, of the State Insurance Department. The committee also presented to the governor the resolutions adopted earlier in the week by the agents' convention in New York city.

Henry Clews' Letter Deals With the Week in Wall Street—Pronounced Fluctuations Not Unexpected—Money Continues Easy.

New York, April 20.—The serenity of the stock market has been considerably disturbed by recent events, and pronounced optimism received some rather rude shocks from a series of internal developments. Outside conditions continue quiet, as promising as at any time during the last six months.

TROUBLE BREEDERS.

The morning papers devote considerable space to the question of the appointment of Mr. H. G. Hunter as resident engineer for the water-works extension. These journals appear to take more seriously than it deserves a rather foolish effort of the St. John Star to pose as the organ and friend of labor. The Star's seeming interest with scare headlines is an assertion by an alleged labor leader that if a "Yankee" engineer were engaged the alien labor law would be invoked. The name of this labor leader was not given. He may have been an imaginary personage.

Touching the reported resignation of M. DeLesse, French minister of foreign affairs, a London cable today says: "It is a long time since the fate of any foreign minister has been watched with such keen attention in Great Britain as is M. DeLesse's today. Part author of the Anglo-French entente, M. DeLesse, by his long and skilful conduct of foreign affairs, has come to be regarded here as the embodiment of the new era of stability in French policy, which has raised France to a position of great influence in Europe. It is unanimously admitted that his downfall would be a great victory for the German emperor, and the strongest hopes are expressed that M. DeLesse will consent to reconsider his intention to retire from the French cabinet at this time, when so many delicate questions of policy are requiring the ablest men at the helm."

MAKING HISTORY.

The following soothing and cheering news from the wild west was received in last night's despatches from Glenwood Springs, Col.: "In the epic of the fact that he rode 25 miles from the President's camp yesterday, Secretary Loeb spent several hours in the saddle today after disposing of an unusually heavy mail. Preparations are under way to give President Roosevelt a royal welcome on May 14, when he will arrive from Redstone to spend the night before returning to Washington. The gift of the bear killed by the President is being prepared as a rug. The skull is to be added to the collection of C. Hart Merriam, biologist of the department of agriculture. Future generations will remember with pride, as they gaze upon the skull of the Roosevelt bear, that Secretary Loeb spent several hours in the saddle after disposing of an unusually heavy mail. His devotion and endurance have few parallels in the history of Colorado."

RUBBER CULTURE.

An article on the Uvero Plantation which appeared in this paper on Thursday has been interpreted by a gentleman who is interested in the subject as implying that the cultivation of rubber is impracticable. Such was not, however, the intention of the article. Rubber is being cultivated successfully in Mexico, and has passed the experimental stage in Ceylon. It is native to Mexico, but not to Ceylon, and therefore the success of Ceylon planters proves the possibilities of the industry. A Ceylon planter, writing to The India Rubber World in November last said: "I am having a very good year here, and shall get very nearly two pounds of dry rubber per tree, and an averaging five shillings net, so shall show a clear profit of £80 sterling (about $390) per acre." A gentleman who is claimed to be the best authority in America, says that Mexico has as bright prospects as Ceylon. There are rubber plantations in Mexico, that are yielding rubber, and others coming along toward maturity. George Cullen Pearson, himself a Mexican plantation owner, in an article to the India Rubber World, writes: "Rubber culture has no need of false encouragement based on exaggerated estimates as to result. The actual facts as proven by those who have expended much time, care and capital in developing this industry warrant a firm belief in its sure and lasting success." The Times quotes these statements merely to show that rubber culture has been shown to be possible and profitable. The article of Thursday showed that what is possible and profitable as a legitimate enterprise may be made a trap for the unwary. The like is true of gold mines, industrial enterprises and many others that are perfectly safe under proper conditions and proper management. The distinction between the false and the true must be discerned by the investor himself. That it is not always made is proved by the history of the Uvero plantation.

A FRIEND OF BRITAIN.

Touching the reported resignation of M. DeLesse, French minister of foreign affairs, a London cable today says: "It is a long time since the fate of any foreign minister has been watched with such keen attention in Great Britain as is M. DeLesse's today. Part author of the Anglo-French entente, M. DeLesse, by his long and skilful conduct of foreign affairs, has come to be regarded here as the embodiment of the new era of stability in French policy, which has raised France to a position of great influence in Europe. It is unanimously admitted that his downfall would be a great victory for the German emperor, and the strongest hopes are expressed that M. DeLesse will consent to reconsider his intention to retire from the French cabinet at this time, when so many delicate questions of policy are requiring the ablest men at the helm."

THE DE VONDE CO.

Very few if any of the road attractions can hope to compete with "The Chester De Vonde Stock Co." in the matter of scenic equipment. Mr. Chester De Vonde, under whose direction the plays have been staged, has always prided himself on a proper scenic environment for each and every one of his numerous plays. A manager who might be conservative to a fault might say that Mr. De Vonde went much further than was necessary, in supplying his attractions with scenery. An immense amount is carried and it may be noticed that on the day of the company's appearance here the local transfer company will be more than busy the greater portion of the day in transporting the scenery from the station to the theatre. Absolutely not a single square inch of the stock scenery in the theatre will be used, it could not be, and the proper atmosphere of the plays maintained. Five distinct sets of scenery are carried by the company, together with every electrical device known that could possibly enhance the beauty of the plays. Besides a force of stage carpenters and electricians with the company, it is always necessary to greatly augment the regular working force of the theatre where "The De Vonde Co." plays, to facilitate the handling of the scenery and properties the dramas call for. They will indeed be productions on a most elaborate scale.

Geo. D. Lyon and a Partner Beaten in a Four Ball Game Yesterday.

New York, April 22.—A most interesting four-ball match was played at Garden City L. Lyon, the Canadian champion, who won the Olympic championship at St. Louis last fall, when he defeated H. Chandler Egan, champion of the U. S. Golf association, in the final round, were pitted against Willie Anderson, open champion of the U. S., and R. C. Watson, Jr., one of the most promising of the younger class of players.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

(Montreal Witness.) Andrew Carnegie sent this message to the newly-elected Mayor of Chicago: "Tell Judge Dunne not to stop till every public utility that can be made the subject of private monopoly has been placed under the control and operation of the city." There is no man in America who knows more of the numerous workings of corporations than the great ironmaster of Pittsburgh. Though he never was an operator in public franchises, he thoroughly understands the value of the privilege of taxing the public by being able to fix the price of articles in general use. He knows how a cent or two, which seems a mere nothing to the individual, means millions to the monopolist and, consequently, a franchise which confers the power to tax the public in the minutest way has in it power its most valuable asset. Hence it is that every public franchise company capitalizing this privilege and making the necessities of the public and the period of its contract tangible property worth so many millions, on which dividends have to be paid. In this way the public is not only made to pay for the service rendered, more than it is worth, but is also taxed heavy interest or an enormous asset which it has given away for nothing. This considerably more than Mr. Carnegie was able to do in his iron trade under the operation of a protective tariff. His support of public ownership of public utilities will help to educate the people to an understanding of the fact that it is their own fault if they make their servants their masters by giving them the power to tax the public.

MARINE NOTES. British steamship Checkade, left Boston yesterday for Monquash, to load coal for United Kingdom. Bark Guilport sailed from Guilport last Monday for this port.

Ship Saxona arrived at Buenos Ayres from St. John N. B. The steamer St. Helena, which was libelled by the crew last winter while in Halifax, arrived in New York a week ago from the Canary Islands. On her arrival at New York she was again libelled for $3,000 at the instance of her former master, Captain Mason.

The steamer Dominion, Capt. Henry Dawson, B. N. R., arrived at Liverpool on Monday night from Gibraltar, after a very good passage of a little over fourteen days. The Dominion left Halifax two months ago, with cargo of naval stores from the dockyard for Gibraltar. Although the latter part of the voyage across was attended with bad weather, still the steamer made an excellent run. Captain Dawson, is the commodore, so to speak of the fleet of Bowring steamers under charter with the Dominion Coal Co. The Dominion is now loading a cargo of round coal for Boston. After which she will come to Halifax to dry dock.

Pipe-Smokers Should Know. That a big package of Rainbow cut plug smoking tobacco costs only 10c., and the quality is wonderfully good.

WINTER PORT NOTES. Three more steamships to arrive, will end the winter port business. All in line Tunisian now on her way from Halifax, the Lake Manitoba due today from Liverpool with 1,200 immigrants and the Bowring line steamer Concordia from Glasgow also due today or Sunday.

The South African Orana will probably sail this evening or tomorrow for Cape Town. C. P. R. steamship Lake Erie, is ready for sea, and will go away tonight or Sunday.

Was Blinded By Eczema.

Suffered Intensely For Three Years and Was Horribly Disfigured.

Skin Now as Smooth as a Baby's. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Such cures as the one described below are what have given Dr. Chase's Ointment a world-wide reputation as the standard ointment and the most satisfactory treatment ever devised as a cure for itching skin diseases.

"For three years my daughter, Fanny, was afflicted with eczema in an intense and persistent form, and for nine days she was totally blind. The excruciating itching and disfigurement were horrible, her entire face being completely raw for months, and the distress so great that she could not sleep.

"The best efforts of two eminent physicians failed to even mitigate her awful suffering. One day when I was low-spirited over my daughter's condition Dr. Chase's Ointment was recommended to me and to our surprise Fanny was helped with the first box and she has since been entirely cured by this treatment.

"Her face is now as smooth as a baby's and she is in splendid health. The credit for this cure is entirely due to Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I cheerfully give you permission to state my daughter's case, hoping that it will lead many others to secure the same good results."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is recommended and sold by all dealers at 60 cents a box, or sent post paid on receipt of price by Edmondson, Bates & Company, Toronto.

A SHIP OF DEATH.

San Francisco, April 20.—The American bark Minerva, which reached Lunenburg, N. B., just before the transport Sherman sailed from Lunenburg, had been given up for lost, as she was 70 days in making the voyage from Saigon.

The crew were down with small pox, and ber-beri and many lay dead on the deck when the vessel reached the Borneo port. After very rough weather smallpox and ber-beri broke out and soon, from the captain down, all were helpless. A course was laid for Labuan and the vessel sailed before the vessel reached the Borneo port.

The Minerva was, indeed, a phantom ship. In front of us on the main hatch, one of the sailors was lying among oil and grease, half unconscious, and also unable to move. In the fore-cabin, another dead sailor was lying down, there another helpless beside him. The two sailors had died during the night. On deck, beside the fore-cabin, a group of sailors huddled together, quite helpless and about the deck here was lying among oil and grease, half unconscious, all unable to walk, and all in a horribly dirty condition. Every one had been three days without food."

THE FACTORY GIRL. In spite of the storm last evening a large house greeted the Sholey-Toung Company, when they presented The Factory Girl. The play went smoothly, and the audience showed their appreciation by generous applause.

The stamping room scene in act three, pleased the audience, and the curtain was called up three times on it.

The Factory Girl will be repeated for the last time, this evening.

Big League Games Yesterday—Coakley's Wildness Almost Lost the Game For Philadelphia—Thunder Storm Spoils Game.

St. John fans should witness some of the best baseball seen here in many years this season. It was decided yesterday afternoon, to form a principal league and three teams have signified their intention of being in it. They are the Tartars of Fredericton, Portlands, and Joe Page's, St. John's. Those present at the meeting were J. Douglas, director, Col. H. Montgomery Campbell, J. C. Prescott, S. H. White, H. R. McMonagle and James Lamb. Last year a large expenditure was made on the improvement of the track, stables and fences. The stockholders advised the managing committee to build an improved grandstand, which will be done the coming year. NOTES OF SPORT

Lawrence, Mass., April 20.—John Graham, for many years holder of the world's record in the 100-yard dash, died here today of pneumonia, aged 53 years. He was the first man to run 100 yards in ten seconds and was widely known as runner and trainer.

The Moncton lacrosse players had their first practice game yesterday, showing up very well. Moncton has some excellent material for lacrosse, which only needs developing.

The directors of the Fredericton park at a meeting last evening practically decided to hold a race meeting on July 12. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday to prepare a programme.

Ralph Rose, the Michigan athlete, broke the world's indoor record for putting the 16-pound shot at Buffalo, Mo. He made a put of 47 1/2 feet. The former record was 46 feet 10 inches.

TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE.

What a Montreal Organization is Doing—A Great Congress.

(Montreal Witness.) A meeting of the committee of management of the Tuberculosis League for the St. Lawrence Valley, held at the Hotel de Ville, Montreal, on April 21, was presided over by Mr. Archer, Dr. Leachapell, Mr. Lang, Dr. Hurlingham, Dr. Kennedy, Mr. Holden, Mrs. Wheeler, Lady Hingston, Dr. Ross, Senator Beique, Mr. Birka and Dr. Harding. The first business to come up before the meeting was the advisability of keeping the dispensary open every day instead of three times a week, as at present. After some discussion it was decided that the work had progressed so far that this should be done, each of the attending doctors taking two days a week, and if necessary an assistant will be appointed. This will take effect on the first of May, when the dispensary will be open every week day at 11 a. m. The report of the work of the dispensary showed that this was steadily progressing, and as it was becoming better known the attendance was becoming larger. It was decided that a thousand copies of the annual report should be printed in French. The forming of a ladies' committee to assist in carrying on the relief work among the patients who are attending the dispensary was discussed. The matter was left to a special meeting of the ladies' committee. A committee was appointed to:

Boston 'Americans' Beaten.

Boston, (American), April 21.—In the presence of more than 15,000 people today, Boston lost the opening game in this city. The visitors, after apparently losing the game through errors, and Coakley's wildness, batted out five earned runs and won the game in the eighth inning. Up to that time Gibson was victorious, holding Philadelphia to a lone hit and striking out 11 men.

New Industry Projected For Port Williams, N. S.—Personal News.

Kings County, N. S., April 20.—A company has been lately organized at Port Williams for the establishment of a canning factory, which will manufacture evaporated apples, etc. The capital of the company is to be about $100,000, of which some $40,000 is down in cash for the present needs. A large number of the fruit-growers are interested in the scheme and the idea is supposed to have been brought to a climax because of the low prices the fruit has brought this season. The factory will be erected at Port Williams during the summer, and it is expected that the balance of the stock to be issued, will be taken up, and the permanent organization of the company completed in a few weeks. The Academy at Kentville, has been closed during this week, as Principal Robinson, Misses Kaulbeck, McDonnell, Fasal and Webster are attending the Teachers' Institute which is in session at Hantsport. ITALIAN STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED.

Rome, April 21.—The strike may be considered to have ended. A committee of specialists has obtained from Premier Fortis a promise to study a scheme for application to be adopted in the case of differences between railroad men and the government. In future the letter will designate the representatives of the railroad organizations with the view of ascertaining their requirements and proposals. It was also agreed that if the strike ceased promptly there will be no suspension, transfer or other punishment of strikers. This understanding with the government after telegrams were sent to the railroad men throughout Italy, and they are ready to resume their former employment.

A committee of specialists has obtained from Premier Fortis a promise to study a scheme for application to be adopted in the case of differences between railroad men and the government. POLICE COURT.

Fourteen Prisoners Before the Magistrate After Good Friday. A long line of prisoners—fourteen in number—faced the magistrate at this morning's session of the police court. They were a sleepy looking crowd, the offences were somewhat varied, and at times the proceedings elicited laughter.

"Wandering boys," and both were treated with the same medicine. Fred Thomas, was found wandering about Mill street, at the night at the police station. He is a hotel until his money gave out, and was obliged to spend Wednesday night at the police headquarters. The official told him that he had better spend Thursday at the jail, Thomas said he was hungry, and said he was going to buy a chowder. The officer cents to call his own and "juggo" him. Thomas informed the court that he could not find employment, and wanted to get out of the city, but was afraid that if he went he would starve to death.

"Well," said his honor, "you must be lazy. We can give you all the work you want. You'll be fined $8 or two months with hard labor." Robert McCourt, the second wanderer, belonged to Fairville and was picked up on King street. He was also fined $8 or two months with hard labor. "Just as hard as you can give it to him," said the magistrate.

Six common drunks were fined $4, or ten days each, and $8 or two months with hard labor was meted out to three others, charged with similar offences. Patrick Madden, when called upon to answer a charge of wilfully destroying property in the Union Hotel, responded promptly: "I'm here."

He had but little to say for himself, and was remanded, till Monday morning at ten o'clock. The charge was preferred by Sarah Kerrigan, of Chapel street, who claimed that Curry slapped her face. Curry denied the charge, and stated that the Kerrigan woman had struck him twice with a stick, and at the time was Robert McDonald. His honor said they must settle the matter between them.

SOME STRAIGHT TALK

About the Condition of the Streets of the City. Magistrate Ritchie referred this morning to the disgraceful condition of the streets, particularly of Charlotte, Waterloo and Union, as far as Peter street. He instructed the police to keep a sharp lookout for all persons who transgressed the law by throwing paper and sweepings into the street. This he thought must have been done at night.

He read the law governing such matters, and drew attention to the fact that complaints had been made of the condition of Charlotte street by people who attended Trinity church, especially at the junction of Paradise Row, Mill and Main streets. He hoped that all would do their duty in the matter of keeping the streets clear of such rubbish.

WILL GRANT A RE-HEARING

In the Matter of the Liquor Licenses of Fred Munde and James Nixon. There will be a re-hearing by the liquor license commissioners at an early date to consider the applications of Fred Munde, King Square, and James Nixon, Brunsell St., in refusing to grant licenses at the regular meeting, and it is proposed to give them a hearing, in answer to their protest.

Col. Blaine, when seen this morning, declined to give any further information, than that a meeting would be held. As to the reasons of the commissioners for refusing a license, he declined to say anything as a complete surprise. I was the only one on the square that there was no protest against.

Mr. Munde has consulted some of the lawyers on the subject, and they have expressed the opinion that he should have an injunction put on the police station, to keep the boys from loitering others in his vicinity.

IN COURT TODAY

The Women Charged With Abandoning a Helpless Babe. Mrs. Mary Best with her five-months-old baby boy, and Minnie Robinson, were in court this morning. One witness was examined and the case was resumed this afternoon. Father, mother and child, were brought face to face with one another. The babe was tenderly lifted from the arms of the mother, who must answer a serious charge, and given a moment to the father, who bestowed affectionate kisses on the tiny face, and seemed to feel the situation keenly.

James W. Smith was the only witness examined, and testified that he was out of town one Sunday last, and when returning from St. Martins met the woman referred to, about midday. The baby he said, was not with them. The younger woman told him that she and Mrs. Best were going to St. Martins where the latter had friends, and that they had come from Boston on the noon train. The oldest woman was not inclined to be talkative and said merely that she was going to stay at St. Martins, near Kennedy's, when witness asked her intended to stay. Mrs. Best said she would not know if she told them. About two miles further on he met young Conlon, and told him of meeting the women. In consequence of the conversation he had with Conlon, he felt some uncertainty as to the fate of the little one, and searched for foot prints in the woods but without success. He told the story when he reached Barker's and spoke of it to several persons on his arrival in the city.

Daniel Mullin, K. C., stated that Mr. Best denied the reports that he had ill-treated his wife and expressed his willingness to provide for the child. After the hearing of evidence Mr. and Mrs. Best and Minnie Robinson held a conversation with the magistrate in police chief Henderson's office.

"Do thoughts that came to you in the long ago, ever return?" asked the orator of silly questions. "Not unless I receive stamps," answered the literary party.
