POOR MARKSMANSHIP ALONE PREVENTED THE ORDER OF WOMEN

Pithy Comment in London Papers on the Torpedoing of the Hesperian—Soldier to Whom Shock Restored Sight is Nova Scotian

London, Sept. 6.—Struck by a German torpedo, so far as is known without warning, the steamer Hesperian, Allan liner, was sunk off Queenstown about twilight on last Saturday, and it is believed that of her 800 passengers and crew, all but about twenty escaped death. The big steamer was on her way from Liverpool to Montreal. Some Canadian soldiers on their way home to recuperate were on board. The sternship remained afloat for about thirty-four hours, during all of which time her master, Capt. Main, remained upon her. Efforts were being made to tow her into Queenstown, but she sank early this morning. The captain and crew were landed safely. So far as is known there was no Americans on board, except two of the crew, who were saved. Among those known to be dead is Miss Carberry of St. John's, Nfld.

Queenstown, Sept. 7.—Wesley Frost, American consul here, has obtained a joint statement from the officers of the Hesperian. It does not throw any new light on the question whether the ship was warned or whether a submarine was sighted. Survivors assert that a submarine in the day of the disaster that the Hesperian kept a zig zag course. Some passengers pray, however, that if a submarine were sighted they are unable to understand why more elaborate preparations were not made to place lifebelts and lifeboats in readiness.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Ambassador Page, at London, cabled the State Department today that the British Admiralty had informed that the Hesperian was sailing as an ordinary passenger vessel and had never been in the government service since the war began.

Paris, Sept. 7.—Great prominence is given by the morning papers to the torpedoing of the Hesperian, but all declare themselves at a loss to find a theory to account for such a proceeding by a German submarine six days after Ambassador Von Bernstorff's solemn assurances to the United States that no liners would be torpedoed, unless the

More than thirty men have responded to the call for volunteers since Friday. When placed among his fellow prisoners he boasted that he would soon be free again.

CHATHAM PICNIC MAKES $2,500 FOR THE PATRIOTIC FUND

GOL. GUTHRIE SPEAKS OF THOSE WHO WILL NOT GO TO FIGHT

Lieut.-Col. Guthrie writes to Rev. Canon Cowie: "The Medical Board, when I reach England, are almost certain to send me to Canada to convalesce, so I am looking forward to spending a little time at home. Many of my friends have been trying to impress upon me that I have done a bit and should not mind missing them in the first contingent. However, that one's bit is not done while the war lasts, and the cause of freedom is in the balance. Canada has nobly responded to the call of the Empire, and is supporting the issues involved in this war, though has not been done. There are many 'slackers' in the British Isles of whom complaint is being made, and of whom we are ashamed, but the slackers who are in our midst, and of my own acquaintance, many of whom I thought would surely join the second contingent when it sailed, seem to me to be far more of a disgrace to their country than those who are in our midst. What excuse can they give their friends, and how they argue with their own conscience is beyond my imagination. I think the meanest feeling a man can have is to feel in his own heart that he is a coward, and a slacker must surely have that feeling."

Fortunately it was a holiday, and there were plenty of men about. E. Hoyt explained the fire fighters, and did it with great success. There is talk of a prosecution growing out of the case.

NO TRENCH WORK FOR ME, NO SIR!

To the Editor Evening Times—

Sir—Standing among the crowd which surrounded the recruiting tent at the great patriotic meeting on last Friday night in King Square, I overheard a young man say, "No trench work for me, No Sir! That may be all right for fellows who are no good for anything else, but not for me."

Now, Sir, today I have three sons doing their duty for king and country, and I couldn't help thinking that it was a huge pity that my boys had esteemed it their duty to give up good situations to go to fight, perchance to die, for such contemptible calls. Surely, Sir, if a man is too much of a coward himself to fight he might at least have the grace to speak with respect of the men who are fighting for him. Truly the "Loyalist City" has little cause to be proud of some of her sons.

These immortal lines from the pen of the great Lord Macaulay have no meaning for such dead souls—

"Then out spoke bold Horatius, the keeper of the gate—
"To every man upon this earth death comes, soon or late;
"And how can man die better than facing fearful odds,
"For the ashes of his fathers, and the temples of his gods?"

Yours, etc.
HOPE A. THOMSON.

THE BABY.

(Ethel M. Kelley, in St. Nicholas.)

I use to be the baby
'Fore the other baby came,
I didn't know that maybe
I'd have to change my name;
But now I'm only "Brother,"
He's "mother's precious pet."
(I guess she's stayed my mother,
But I haven't ast her yet.)

I thought, though he was tiny
And he looked so very queer,
He'd get over being whiny.
When he found that I was here,
I thought before we knew it
We'd be chummy as could be;
But I ain't a-goin' to do it,
'Cause he ain't nice to me.

I mustn't even hold him
Lest he drops onto the floor,
It would be a funny joke;
It just starts him in to roar,
I ain't goin' to so. I
And I go to bed alone;
But I wish he'd stayed in heaven
'Till he'd got a little grown.

"P'raps some day there'll come another,
It would be a funny joke;
Then he'd have to be the brother.
An' he'd tell his "mose was broke."
It would start him yellin' maybe,
But I'd tell him just the same,
That he couldn't be the baby
When the other baby came.

THE HESPERIAN

The destruction of the steamer Hesperian, when on her way out from England, and when there could be no excuse for sinking her without first ensuring the safety of those on board, adds another to the list of German crimes. Better marksmanship would have accomplished what Germany desired.

Despite the loss of many British and neutral ships, German submarine warfare has been a failure. The British navy and the British merchant fleet are stronger now than when the war broke out, and it is that navy and that merchant fleet which avenge for the property of Canada today and its immunity from direct attack.

THE RECRUITING CAMPAIGN

The response to the latest call for recruits in St. John has been so disappointing as almost to justify a demand for conscription. If the most earnest appeals, based on the indisputable fact that Canada stands today in the very shadow of German conquest, and that Canada is really fighting for her existence, have no effect upon the young men, then we are drawing nearer the time when conscription will be necessary.

Yet it is utterly humiliating to be following the police to German Kultur. On September 1 four German aeroplanes came to bombard Lunenburg, an open town, where there is absolutely no military installation to destroy. Our enemies brought refinement to the point where they clearly aimed at the popular sections, and selected for the execution of their operations the day and the hour of the market. As a consequence the victims, unfortunately, were too numerous, and were, for the most part, women and children.

The London Daily Express thus explains why peace is at present impossible: "Germany has had enough of the war. She will fight on desperately and determinedly if she is forced to fight, and she will not be beaten without many more months of fearful struggle and endurance. Her successes have been considerable, but she fears her power to hold on to them. The German general staff knows that she has passed the zenith of her strength, and that neither Great Britain nor Russia have reached theirs. Germany never neglects anything that might make her to her advantage. Peace now would necessarily leave her some of the spoils, and would enable her to prepare for another attempt to plant her jackboots on Europe. Peace now would, therefore, be a betrayal of the cause of freedom and democracy, and would make all the suffering and sacrifice of the last twelve months absolutely useless."

Germany has been deprived of nearly all her colonies. Turkish territory has been invaded and part of the Gallipoli Peninsula is now occupied by Allied Forces, and it is only a matter of time and sacrifice till Constantinople will fall into our hands.

Since the declaration of war all classes of criminals in England have shown a remarkable decline except pocket-picking. Its increase is said to coincide with the prohibition of racing.

Up to the present time the industrial life insurance companies in Great Britain have paid out nearly $4,000,000 on policies held by 42,000 soldiers and sailors killed in the war.

The sacrifice of bird life at lighthouses takes place only upon nights when no stars are visible; when the sky is clear the birds never approach the lantern.

HE SEES NO HOPE

From Premier Clarke's own county of Charlotte comes a protest which should prompt him to sit up and take notice. The editor of the St. Andrews Beacon is a strong Conservative, but this is what he hands out in this week's issue to the Premier:—

"In a speech much lauded by the newspapers supporting the present provincial administration, Premier Clarke last week stated to the representatives of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities in session at Fredericton, that there was 'too much politics.' Surely Premier Clarke is the last person in the province to cry out against the 'good thing' that has put him where he is.

"Not a single step in his preferment has been made otherwise than by means of the 'politics' with which he now professes to be surfeited. That politics need lifting to a plane of greater dignity throughout Canada is apparent in Manitoba today, was apparent in New Brunswick a few months ago (perhaps it still appears to those who know); and if there is a single province in the dominion where professional politicians are regarded as other than self-seeking opportunist and party bagmen, the fact ought to be disclosed. Those who have looked to Premier Clarke to raise the tone of political life in this province must extend their vision somewhat further, or fall back on that faith which is the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen."

All St. John joins in the cheering message sent to the 9th Battalion. All reports indicate that they will give an excellent account of themselves at the front.

China appears to have decided to remain as a republic in name, but to have in reality a kind of benevolent despotism. The people are not yet ready for self-government.

More glorious weather than has prevailed in the country since Friday last could not have been wished by those who spent the last three days in the suburban districts. Never was there greater pleasure in an outing along the river at this season of the year.

Sir Sam Hughes says there are 37,000 Canadians in the trenches, and 40,000 in England. The number in the trenches is being increased as the battalions in England complete their period of training. Therefore more and more men must be sent from Canada to England.

The French official report says the German Kultur. On September 1 four German aeroplanes came to bombard Lunenburg, an open town, where there is absolutely no military installation to destroy. Our enemies brought refinement to the point where they clearly aimed at the popular sections, and selected for the execution of their operations the day and the hour of the market. ENFORCED ECONOMY.

Government Caused Girl to Be Economical in Spite of Herself.

The girl who was born under the star of extravagance, whatever that is, was praised for her unnatural economy.

"Just think," her people said, "of having all that money over there in Paris, and not spending it."

"Don't blame me," the girl protested with unblinking candor. "It was not my fault. I wanted to spend it, but I couldn't get it. In spite of the economy of the French government."

"At the beginning of the war I solved all the business problems by making my trunk my banker. What money I had was drawn out of the bank and deposited in my trunk. That seemed a pretty safe place, so most of my money was left there when I went to London on a visit."

"I had made my home in Paris with an old school friend. While I was in London her husband died."

"When I came back it was as much as I could do to get into the house. The government had been in and had clapped red seals, fastened to the ends of a piece of tape, across everything about the place."

"My own trunk had not escaped. Right across the lock was a band of tape with these seals of 'Liberty, Equality, Fraternity' above and below. They did not represent much liberty for me; they came nearer to representing captivity, for I had run up debts, and the only money I had to pay them with was in that trunk."

"Then came such a bargain sale. It consisted of lace and feathers and jewelry that had belonged to a very fine lady and were going cheap. They were sold at private sale and I was offered first pick of anything I wanted."

"For three months, while all the terrifying entanglements of French law were being unraveled, my money was imprisoned. When my friend's affairs were finally settled and the seals removed, the bargains I coveted had been sold elsewhere, so I had saved my money."—New York Times.

LADY OF GRACE OF THE ORDER OF ST. JOHN OF JERUSALEM

Madame Thibaudon, honored for her work on behalf of the wounded and for other charitable endeavors. For many years, Madame Thibaudon was president of the Notre Dame Hospital, and was always identified with philanthropic movements in Montreal. Since the beginning of the war, she has been president of the patriotic fund, "Aide a la France." Madame Thibaudon and Madame Desautels, wife of Senator Desautels, are the only two French-Canadian women who have thus been honored by the Order of St. John of Jerusalem.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN OF CANADA

The following open letter to the women of Canada concerning the need for fighting men has been issued by the National Committee of Women for Patriotic Service. The officers of the Committee include H. R. H. the Duchess of Connaught, H. R. H. the Princess Patricia, Lady Laurier and Lady Borden.

A year ago the thunderbolt of war fell upon us out of a clear sky! After the first moment of surprise and confusion had passed, we asked, "How can we help?"

During the year that has passed, that question has found many answers. The trained nurse quickly proved her value. Other women were called upon to organize and direct Red Cross and St. John Ambulance work or Patriotic Societies, while all gave time or money or personal service in preparing supplies.

To comparatively few came the need for the supreme sacrifice—the sending forth of husbands, sons or brothers to the fight. The first appeal for volunteers was limited and did not appear very urgent. All honor to those who heard and obeyed the earliest call of Empire and whose women sent them forth with pride to fight in the front ranks of the Canadian forces.

Today the situation has changed. We have learnt, after a year of war, that our task is harder, our danger more real, than we thought a year ago. We have "given" gladly now we are called to "give-up," and service must fill itself in sacrifice. Most urgent of all today is the call to give up ungrudgingly our husbands, sons and brothers. We are called to create in our homes such an atmosphere of self-devotion that our men and boys may feel their resolution to offer themselves in their country's service is simply what we expect of them.

This does not mean that women should be constantly urging their men to enlist, for it is doubtful if the patriotic persistence of a wife or mother would produce anything but a reluctant and resentful recruit. The men of Canada have not shown themselves less patriotic than their women; but it is for us, the women of Canada, to ask ourselves whether our self-sacrifice is falling short of the supreme test.

ARE WE MAKING IT HARD OR EASY FOR OUR MEN TO OBEY THEIR COUNTRY'S CALL TO SERVICE?

Why is the call so urgent now?

The answer is simple: it is because our existence as an Empire is at stake. WE WENT INTO THE WAR TO KEEP OUR SOLEMN PLEDGES TO OUR ALLIES; AND THIS REASON STILL HOLDS GOOD.

But there are now other reasons which did not exist a year ago. Belgium with her ravaged land and exiled people cries aloud for justice. What do Canadian women say to the appeals of her outraged women and mutilated children? They have suffered for us: what are we willing to suffer for them?

The women of France and Russia and the United Kingdom have long heard the appeal to give up their men, and have responded nobly. What will Canadian women do?

Beyond the keeping of our pledged word, the woes of Belgium, and the example of our Allies, there comes to us today the knowledge that we are called on to fight our own battles; not to send help to Belgium or France or even England, but to fight for our own national existence.

We are told by the men who know that we cannot win in this war without more men.

If we hold back our men we are courting defeat; and defeat means, not a vague misfortune to the Empire at large, but the very practical result of a Canada governed by Germans.

Do we want to know what that would mean? Then let us look at Belgium, and learn how the yoke of the conqueror galls the neck of a freedom-loving people. Defeat would mean for us a period of bitterest shame and discontent, and then—another war. Can we risk it? We are risking it if we do not make the path of service easy for our men.

But the most compelling call for sacrifice rings out from the graves of those who on the fields of Flanders, at Langemarck, and Ypres, and Festubert, have blazed the trail to glory with their life blood.

CAN WE MAKE THEIR SELF-SURRENDER OF NO AVAIL BY HOLDING BACK THE MEN WHO WOULD TAKE UP AND COMPLETE THEIR SPLENDID TASK?

There is a saving which is losing; it is worth "losing" our men from death if we lose their respect! There is a loss which is gain: even though we learn to face "Desperate tides of the whole great world's anguish, forced through the channels of a single heart."

We are called to scale the gleaming peaks of self-sacrifice, in the company of our brave sisters of the Allied nations.

BRITISH TRAWLER GROUNDS AT CAPE TORMENTINE

Floted After Cargo of Fish and Fuel Had Been Removed—Large Catches of Fish Made

(Sackville Tribune)

Few of our readers are perhaps aware that there are British fishermen dragging the waters of the Northumberland Straits and adjoining waters for fish. Nevertheless such is the case and the fishermen from the old land are making some excellent hauls. Recently two trawlers from the other side were seen near Cape Tormentine and those residing at that point of Westmorland county have on different occasions visited the men on board.

An occasional Tribune correspondent paid a visit to the fishing vessel and had an interesting interview with the captain of the craft. The captain said that he left Grimby, England, the nearest point in that country to Germany, the day the Lusitania was sunk. He took his course round the north of Scotland and sailed for these parts. While off the north coast of Scotland he saw a British steamer torpedoed about three or four miles away.

The trip was made in sixteen days. He was asked how long his crew had been fishing and he said about two weeks, during which time more than 285,000 pounds of fish had been caught and 125,000 pounds of the total had been taken from the water in five days. The daily catch of the five days averaged 91,000 pounds or 15 1/2 tons.

This trawler came to grief on Thursday morning when she came too close to the land and tried to cross a very dangerous reef off Cape Germain light. Another trawler passed safely over the reef and put out to sea, but the stranded vessel had to discharge her fuel as well as her fish and other ballast before she could be floated. The vessel was not damaged and proceeded on her way on Friday morning when the tide was at its height.

The captain said that it was a most hazardous occupation fishing in the North Sea and for that reason he chose the waters of the Canadian seacoast in preference to the troubled waters on their own fishing grounds.

Oatmeal or wheatmeal porridge is quite sufficient for breakfast, with milk, bread and butter to follow, and lettuce or stewed rhubarb.

FIRST PHOTOS OF WARSAW FORTS DESTROYED BY GERMANS

THE BIGGEST GAME THERE IS

Private Knight of Gordon Highlanders Who Spoke in King Square Last Night

You can tell the fellows for me that there is a good time at the front and lots of fun. It is a game and you have to pay, but this is the biggest game there is and a man has to reckon with himself whether he is big enough to go in to it.

These remains of the once powerful forts which protected Warsaw show the great destructive work of the 42 centimetre German siege guns, which smashed to bits the forts of Namur in Belgium early in the war.

A Glimpse of The British Navy

London, Sept. 6.—For the first time the veil of secrecy over the British naval operations has been lifted. During the past week the correspondent visited the grand fleet and the great bases.

During his visit to the British fleet in the past week the correspondent after boarding all of the more important ships, witnessed magnificent spectacles—that of the whole force putting to sea.

FIRST BIRTHDAY GIFTS UNDER S. C. MATTHEWS' PLAN ARE RECEIVED

Eleven Responses at Hampton Patriotic Fair—Event Expected to Realize $550

At a patriotic fair in Hampton yesterday, S. C. Matthews launched his scheme for getting continuous contributions for the Patriotic Fund by having each individual on his or her birthday give as many cents as there are years in their lives. He made his appeal to those present whose birthday was yesterday, and eleven persons responded, with sums ranging from eight cents to fifty cents, the total from the eleven being $2.68. The first to contribute was Miss H. Barnes, whose brother is a lieutenant in the 6th C. M. R. at Digby Camp, and whose father resigned a captaincy the other day to enlist as a private in the ranks.

This fine method of raising funds has been brought to the attention of Sir Herbert Ames, and if adopted all over Canada would be most effective in keeping up the Patriotic Fund.

It is expected the total receipts from the great fair at Hampton yesterday will be about $550.

Patriotic Auction Offices Opened This Morning — The Auto Owners

With the opening of the executive offices for the direction of the $50,000 Patriotic Auction this morning, at 181 Prince Wm. street, it may well be said that the big movement in aid of the patriotic fund was set in motion. In charge of H. A. Porter as manager, and with a staff of helpers, with members of the various societies promoting the campaign also aiding, the headquarters were established this morning, and from now until within a short time the dates of the event, October 4 to 9, the development of the auction will be directed from there.

Queries have been made by automobile owners as to what is to be expected of them in connection with the canvassing. They are to be asked to lend their cars for from one to three days for visits to the rural sections, not for the purpose of collecting or delivering donations, but simply to carry the solicitors in quest of contributions. Where desired, the owner can send his own chauffeur in charge of his car. Already several encouraging offers for the use of automobiles to aid in the movement have been received.

DIED IN CAMBRIDGE

Frank Townsend was Well Known Milford and Fairville Resident

Word was received this morning by relatives in Fairville today of the death of Frank Townsend in Cambridge, Mass., after quite a long illness. Mr. Townsend lived for years in Milford, and later moved to Fairville, which place he left for the States.

Besides his immediate family residing in Cambridge, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Armstrong, Mrs. Chas. Armstrong of Butte, Montana, and Mrs. Walter Cooper, Fairville also two brothers, Sumner Townsend, Milford, and Chester of Maine.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family, which is so well known in Lancaster. A son, Kenneth, died only a couple of months ago, which makes the circumstance all the more sad.

FOUR DAYS AND NIGHTS ROUTE MARCH FOR 26TH

Sergt. Cooper Sends Interesting Letter—Soldiers' Ball League in France, St. John Men Playing

Writing from East Sandling Camp H. B. Cooper of the 26th Battalion says:—"I read about the field kitchen which James F. Robertson has so kindly donated and we surely need them, as we are the only battalion without them."

"I wish you could have seen the ball game between the 26th and 28th battalions this afternoon. It was good; we won 11 to 0. Some class to the 26th in baseball and in drill and discipline no other battalion has shown us. The 26th team has trimmed every battalion in the 6th brigade and they play the champions up to the present, losing only one in Folkestone."

"Next week we go out for four days and nights on a route march. The boys are used to them that they don't bother looking up at them. I wonder what you would do in St. John if you saw fourteen of them at once."

"I have not been to London yet. George Saul and I are going the last of this month. R. Smith has just got back; his father is over here now, and he was up to see him. I have seen J. Knight; he is going to France pretty soon."

Soldiers' Ball League.

Charles Humphrey, 1st Canadian Division Signalling Corps, telling of how they observed the anniversary of the declaration of war, writes:

"On August 4, the anniversary of the European war, the first Canadian contingent opened a baseball league consisting of five teams, 1st Field Ambulance, 1st and 2nd field company engineers, the divisional headquarters, the team in which I play myself. We have played four games up to the present, losing only one. I had the honor of pitching two of the games. But the worst is yet to come. Sunday we play the team that defeated us before; they have yet to lose their first game. If we win on Sunday we have a good chance for first place. I am looked to pitch Sunday's game, worse luck. Our managers gave us a banquet last night to show his appreciation of the team."

St. John Boys' Champions.

Sergeant D. K. Graham of the 26th Battalion, writing to the Sporting Editor of the Times, wishes to let his friends know that the St. John boys are a name for themselves as baseball players. They have defeated every baseball organization in the 6th brigade and are looked upon as the champions about Sandling Camp, England. The line-up of the team follows: K. Keman, catcher; J. Butler, pitcher; H. Baker, 1st base; F. Maher, 2nd base; K. Garnett, 3rd base; "Dandy" Lee, shortstop; W. Campbell, centre field; C. Hartin, left field; F. Belyea, right field.

HERE IS CHANCE TO DO SOMETHING FOR ARMY SERVICE CORPS

No. 5 Company Men Need Many Things and St. John's Generosity Can Supply Them

Friends of No. 5 Co. Canadian Army Service Corps—would you like to send them something which would be of use to them in their going to the front? They are almost entirely St. John boys. They are commanded for the most part by St. John men as officers. Their names stand for remembrance of the excellent record they enjoyed as soldiers while quartered here last winter, and the reputation they sustained as a body of volunteers of which any city might well be proud.

Soon they will be going to the front. It is not known when. It may be this week or next. It may not be for a month or two, but the certainty is that they are going. While the men are well and it is recognized that their rations do not include the dainties and delicacies to which they have been accustomed at home, nor are they supplied with various other articles which are not in the class of luxuries, but practically amount to necessities. These are expected to be secured elsewhere than from the government, if the men want them, and that they do want them, need them, was impressed upon the women of St. John last week by Mrs. Arnold, Canadian Field Comforts Commissioner, in her address before the Women's Canadian Club.

Socks and tobacco head the list of articles in the soldiers' comfort category, followed by sweets, cakes, cocoa, wax candles, writing paper, pencils, foot-cases, insect powder, soap, towels, vaseline, ointments, and a variety of other things, including wristlets with thumbs, which Miss Arnold says are very useful articles and badly needed. It is planned to send forward to Major McKenna, through the Soldiers' Comfort Commission, any contributions of such articles as mentioned for the use of the men when they go to the front, the shipment being planned for about November 1. Citizens desiring to help in making a generous gift of comforts for the men of No. 5 Co. can send their donations to Mrs. D. B. Pilson, at her apartments, 12 Chipman Hill.

The appeal being made for comforts for these volunteers comes entirely from their friends at home. They have made no criticism upon their fare overseas, being content with the soldier's lot, but those at home feel that the men in the uniform of that corps would feel themselves more in the midst and heart of those left behind if some such action as suggested could be successfully executed, and it is their belief that it will find hearty support.

New Ideas, New Colors, New Patterns in Men's New Autumn Suits

Sept. 7, 1915.

There is certainly a greater variety of color than in other years, and with a deal more color in each.

They are not louder, but richer.

Incidentally it does seem stranger than man has become such a colorless person in the matter of clothes as compared with the "female of the species."

It was not always so, and this year, at least, it is less so than it has been.

No man, least of all a man actually "getting on in years," likes to look old.

These new Oak Hall Suits will make him look as youthful as a healthy man wants to feel.

When a young fellow puts on one of the young men's suits he is still in appearance the youth that he wants to be in appearance and in fact. He is not the manikin that he would hate to be in either sense.

Every day brings new variety, new richness, new styles, and no day finds the old-time dependability missing.

Prices unaffected by prevailing adverse conditions.

When You Return From the Country

And open up your town house, your rugs and carpets will need a thorough cleaning. It takes many hours of extremely hard work to do this in the old fashioned way, with a broom, but with our "SOVEREIGN" COMBINATION VACUUM CLEANER and SWEEPER it will be easy, and you will be surprised at the results. With its triple bellows it extracts every bit of dust from all through the rug (not merely the surface dirt as when a broom or ordinary sweeper is used), while the sweeper brush gathers up all the loose threads, lint, etc., leaving the carpet cleaner than if taken up and beaten.

We will be glad to send you one on trial, and you need not purchase it until convinced that it is the best cleaner you have ever used.
