RECALLS RACE OF 50 YEARS AGO

Moncton Man Speaks of it, and Others and Mentions Celebrated N. B. Oarsmen.

(Moncton Transcript, Monday.)
Tomorrow (Tuesday) is the fiftieth anniversary of the famous Renforth race in which the Tyne and Paris crews figured. A. W. Belyea of this city recalls many of the incidents of that race and other races before the after. In conversation with The Transcript, Mr. Belyea was asked for a story of his reminiscences on aquatic sports, and stated: "The first boat race I remember of was those in which the Indian town of the Indians Association figured. These were races run off for fun, more or less, between aspirants who knew how to handle a boat, and their work led to greater enthusiasm and finally the sport led on to such a stage that Sheriff James A. Harding, now deceased, arranged a race between what was then known as the Thetic crew and the Paris crew. The former crew was composed of Dimmack Davis, stroke; James Kirk, third position; Mat Hamon, second; and James Gorham, bow. They rowed in a scull initiated the 'I. T. R. A.' Later the Tyne crew and Paris crew met. The Tyne crew was composed of James Renforth, stroke; Harry Kelly, number two; Jason Bright, number three, and Harry Ferry, bow. The Paris crew was composed of Robert Fulton, stroke; Elijah Ross, number three; Samuel Hulton, number two; Geo. Price, bow, and Robert McLaren, spare. This race was held on August 23, 1871. I remember it quite vividly.

In the Thetic-Tyne race the latter crew won. This race was held previous to the Paris-Tyne race. The Paris crew rowed so hard in this race that he went stone blind, and James Gorham lost the sight of one eye. I did not carry and I remember in which he was conveyed to his home. After this race the Paris crew went to Paris, France, where they met many of the best French and English scullers. They won in every race and they were in excellent shape and they were in a scull with two lags and a shell bottom, this scull having been erected by James Coyne of West St. John. Renforth figures in Memorable Race. The Paris crew returned to America in 1870, and were matched with the St. John, who was an oarsman of no mean ability, challenged Brayley on his return to St. John. (Ross was working for Mr. Brickley, a ship builder, and the race was for the championship of New Brunswick. Ross won. He was matched to meet Ed Hanlan for the world's championship, as Hanlan held the single scull championship. The race was rowed on Toronto Bay. Hanlan won in twenty-two minutes flat, the course being three miles. Ross on this race the water was very rough and the challengers won, the Paris crew not being able to man their scull properly in rough water.

On August 23, 1871, the memorable Paris and Tyne race was held at Renforth, N. B., near St. John. The late Hon. Thomas R. Jones was referee, and the late Senator Donville was clerk of the course. It took place at 7 a. m., when the Kennebecs river resembled a looking-glass as it lay so still and peaceful. Renforth danced the "Highland Fling" previous to entering his scull and he and his team sculled in the best of spirits. The Paris crew took a lead and as they increased the gap, Harry Kelly, a member of the crew, later stated at Renforth's request that Renforth said: "Give her a dozen," this referring to a certain stroke they were using in the Tyne crew. Kelly said Renforth made that remark near Appleby's wharf, and immediately afterwards collapsed in his boat, succumbing some time later when medical attention proved of no avail. The Paris crew won, the six-mile course being rowed in "thirty-nine minutes and forty seconds, a cord made on August 23, 1871, and still unbroken." Thus ended that noted race. It claimed the life of Renforth.

The Mortuary Race.
In closing, Mr. Belyea added: "Another race which I remember was the Mortuary race, which raced in Halifax harbor in 1868. The Mortuary crew was a number of Irishmen, who on coming out to America settled near St. John. They took to rowing near Glen Cove, and so adept did they become in the rat that they challenged a Halifax four-oared crew. When the race was being run a warship in the harbor dropped its lifeboat directly in the course of the Mortuary crew, but they rowed out of their course around the bows and won in spite of the handicap placed in their way."

In closing, I may remark that the late James Belyea, the father of Hilton Belyea, lies today peacefully at rest in the Cedar Hill cemetery, St. John. So much I have given you. At another date I may be able to tell you more about the early sports in and around St. John.

MORE EVIDENCE IN THE SOLDIERS' EXCHANGE CASE

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Continuing the investigation of soldiers' fraud upon the government by soldiers who cashed English money at par on the pretence that it represented army pay and allowances only, the commission this afternoon heard Major Ernest H. Greenwood, a first contingent man, who cashed £1,300 at different dates. Greenwood estimated that only about £100 of this was pay and allowances. He had made some profitable investments in England.

"It looks to me as if you owe the government the exchange of £200," declared J. W. Godfrey, K. C., acting for the government, and Major Greenwood replied that he was willing to repay the amount.

W. J. Dixon also consented to pay the exchange on $1,070 he had received after it was shown that this sum came from a

ELOPEMENT ENDS AT GRAND FALLS
A search for two pairs of alleged elopers which has been carried on in several counties of this province and Maine for a week or more, has ended with the arrest of the male members of the escape. The girls in the case were found at Grand Falls and taken to their homes in Green Lake village (Me.).

The men were arrested in Hancock county (Me.) in a motor car through Aroostook, Victoria, Carleton and Washington and other counties listed for three weeks.

The girls in the case are Alida and Arvilla Bennoch, sisters, and their respective companions were J. Fred Noyes, aged forty-five, and Ralph Hamilton, twenty-three years old. The girls are fifteen and sixteen years of age, respectively. In court at Ellsworth yesterday Hamilton and Noyes were arraigned on a charge of kidnaping. Noyes had nothing to say, but Hamilton said that he took Arvilla Bennoch away from home by motor car because she was not being treated well there. The men were held in $1,000 bonds in the charge for trial next October. They were taken to jail.

Mr. McIntyre was an interested spectator at the Renforth regatta yesterday.

Recent reports received by the Board of Health from Dr. H. L. Abramson, chief of the laboratories of the General Public Hospital, of tests of city water taken from the taps at the hospital, show a slight variation in the number of bacteria. As a whole the tests are fairly satisfactory, there being an improvement over former tests. Members of the board say that it is still necessary to boil all water before drinking.

that his enthusiasm and talents had full play. All Canada stood more or less dumbfounded when her minister of militia cabled the mother country promising a contingent of 35,000 soldiers within two months. This truly remarkable feat of mobilizing, training, equipping and despatching the "orange-brown" strong, was accomplished, however, largely through the unconquerable and dominating influence of Hon. Sam Hughes, minister of militia. This was done at the famous Valcartier encampment, and was a feat pronounced by the late Lord Roberts to be without a parallel in the military history of the world.

From August, 1914, until November, 1916, General Hughes worked with dynamic energy in carrying out Canada's share in the great war. During that time of excitement and tumult, much controversy raged over questions of policy, but the great services rendered by the dead soldier are abundantly attested by his having raised and equipped during that time an army of more than 400,000 men out of Canada's total population of between seven million and eight millions. It was in recognition of his services as Canadian minister of war that he was in June, 1915, created by His Majesty a Knight Commander of the Bath.

Sir Sam Hughes was born in Darlington, Durham county, Ontario, on January 8, 1853. He went through the public and high schools and the Toronto University, being a brilliant student, and also famous as a lacrosse player. He chose the profession of teaching and became a lecturer at the Toronto Collegiate Institute. All agreed that he had a marked talent for teaching, but he was ambitious to enter public life, and in 1885 moved to Lindsay, Ontario, where he became the owner and editor of the Lindsay Warrier.

In 1890 he was the Conservative candidate at the general election for North Victoria, but was defeated. A year later he was returned at a by-election (later Victoria-Halliburton) in the dominion house for the balance of his life. In the house he became prominent as a consistent, thorough-going imperialist, and an outspoken leader of the Orange Order, and an ardent exponent on military preparedness. Although a strong Conservative, he differed from his party on the issue of the Ross rifle, which he had recommended as president of the standing small arms committee. He stood by his views on this subject after becoming minister of militia and contended to the last that the rifle was an effective and serviceable weapon. The issue raised by the use of the Ross rifle was one of the many controversies which raged about Sir Sam during his service as minister of militia, and in most of which he actively participated. No one denies that he brought to voluntary recruiting a spirit and enthusiasm which never flagged throughout the country until the summer of 1916. Sir Sam himself always insisted that conscription would have been unnecessary had he been given a free hand in raising the men by voluntary methods. However, he earnestly supported the Military Service Act of 1917, and was returned at his last parliamentary election as a supporter of the Union government. As to the facts leading up to his resignation as minister of militia, there is still much controversy. He took the opportunity on more than one occasion to state his own position in the House of Commons, and after retiring from office sometimes criticized the government's administration of military affairs. During one of his trips to Europe as minister of militia, he was more or less attacked in connection with the contracts for the manufacture of fuses. He at once returned to Ottawa and demanded an investigation and was completely exonerated by a royal commission, consisting of Sir William Meredith and Mr. Justice Duff of the Supreme Court of Canada.

Sir Sam always insisted that Canada should take part in the wars of the empire and offered to raise battalions for service in the Egyptian, Soudanese and African campaigns. He was enthusiastic in supporting the empire during the great world struggle, but contended always that the Canadian army should not be a mere corps of the British army, but should occupy the position of an allied force. After his resignation as minister of militia, he strongly insisted upon this view and severely criticized the course of Sir Arthur Currie, Canadian commander-in-chief in the closing days of the war. He appeared in the House of Commons on one occasion to protest against the outside service being under the civil service commission and strongly urged a return to the so-called "patronage system." This was the occasion for a great oration, in which all the members of the house participated. The views he expressed at the time were bold, and by some considered reactionary, but they received considerable support.

GOOD PUBLICITY FOR THE PROVINCE

Bangor Automobile Club Tells of New Brunswick's Charms and How to See Them.

The following is a bulletin, issued by the Bangor Automobile Club to tell motorists of the charms of New Brunswick and how to see them—

When citizens of the United States find the climate of their country too hot for them in the summer, they can always leap into their autos and strike out for New Brunswick, where they can assure themselves of finding the most delightful weather; good, healthy living and sleeping conditions; pure air and water, good roads and the most inspiring and allusive scenery, with opportunities for fishing in spots that are most congenial. Two doors are open for entrance into the province. They are never closed. The latch-string is always out. One of these entrances is at St. Stephen, on the St. Croix, opposite Calais, Me. The other is on the border between Hamilton and Woodstock.

The Calais-St. Stephen entrance possesses many attractions. If the visitor chooses to remain a day or two at St. Stephen he can indulge in a very pleasurable ride down the St. Croix river to the sea, or he may go up river to lakes and streams where the fishing is good, may inspect the fertile farm lands and other attractions that are to be had immediately outside that province town. J. M. Mewelling, the secretary of the St. Stephen board of trade, as well as the customs collector (of whom he must call upon) and every other town official, will be pleased to supply the visitor with any information he may desire.

From St. Stephen there is a run of twenty-one miles to St. Andrews, the famous Canadian summer resort, over one of the finest roads in the country. The greater part of this run is along the banks of the St. Croix river, where the views are very beautiful. He can also get a glimpse of that historic Pointe-du-Beaufort Island—where Champlain and his French companions landed in 1604.

At St. Andrews the visitor will find splendid hotels, a golf links that has no equal in Canada, good bathing and fishing facilities as well as opportunities near by for lake and stream fishing. The scenery in that section is unrivaled. No visitor should leave St. Andrews until he has crossed the bar to Minister's Island, where the late Sir William Van Horne has provided a most attractive drive way for the public. If beautiful scenery interests him he should visit the quiet run through the late Senator McKay's property, which is also open to the public, and from the heights which may be seen one of the most inspiring views of Passamaquoddy Bay, the beautiful Quoddy Islands are just across the bay.

When he has finished his inspection of St. Andrews, he can proceed over a very pleasant, though somewhat hilly road to St. George, a distance of two-thirds mile. Adjacent to this highway are the Chamcook lakes, noted for their and-locked salmon; Chamcook mountain; Beaubien river and cove; and Digby-quash river and delta beyond. Some very pleasing glimpses of Passamaquoddy Bay are obtainable along this route. The road is winding and hilly in spots, but it is in good order.

St. George is worthy a stop. There are the famous Magaguadavic Falls, which provide power for pulp and stone works, and other industries. All around the town there are attractive drives, including short runs to Letete harbor, Buck Bay, Beaver Harbor, Black's Harbor (the home of the Condors sardine factory), L'Etang harbor and other points on the Bay of Fundy coast. Lake Utopia, a magnificent trout lake, is within sight of St. George and is well worth a visit.

From St. George to St. John, a distance of about forty-eight or fifty miles, there are portions of the road that are in splendid condition for auto driving. There are other portions where extensive improvements are in progress, and where it will be necessary for the chauffeur to exercise some care. This area extends between Lepreau and Musquash, a distance of several miles. The chauffeur leaving St. George and St. John makes a detour to the right when he reaches the Penfield road, about a mile from the town. A few miles farther on, indicated by notices on posts, he strikes to the left and continues to follow this road through Penfield, Lepreau and Musquash to St. John. There are many autos travelling over this new section, so that the stranger has little to fear. He will get glimpses of Musquash, Spruce Lake and other points of water areas that are very attractive.

Upon reaching St. John the tourist should visit the Tourist Association office on Germain street, a few doors from King street, where he can secure details as to the very many local opportunities that are open for the pleasure of the tourist. CROWDS DELIGHTED WITH THEATRE AND ITS PROGRAMME

Many people took advantage of the half holiday to attend the evening performance of the Opera House vaudeville season yesterday afternoon, and many were the favorable comments on the tasteful decorations and artistic treatment of the color scheme throughout the lobby, halls and theatre proper. Hundreds that were present showed in no uncertain manner that they welcomed vaudeville back to St. John, and the programme itself was a rare treat.

As a unique classic and unusual feature of the programme, Gino Frasers—a slender smiling blonde chap, steps out on the stage amidst a beautiful setting of silk draperies; after a few words to the audience, he immediately does a series of daring and thrilling adventures that brings the audience to sharp and admiring attention, and brought great applause for his dazing work. Spencer and Rose contribute to the success of the entertainment with an ideal combination of wit, witly songs and clever dances, two particular clever claps, in gentlemanly tuxedo suits, introduce some novel steps that meet with popular approval and make of the boys one of the hits of the show. Brown and DeMont, two colored entertainers, have a very refined and smart dialogue as well as fine voices, Lillian Brown has made some popular records for the Emerson Phonograph Company and demonstrates her ability by singing a particularly fine solo number.

Gordon and Kenney are really introduced by Miss Kenney who announces that the "Duke" will be presented tonight, which causes the appearance of Mr. Gordon and his acrobatic tumbles and remarkable trampoline offerings. Weller and Russell, two dainty girls, charmingly gowned, add to the entertainment with a splendid voice and a fine pianiste. This week's chapter of the "Avening Arrow" abounds with thrills, while the added attraction by way of a really comical comedy had the audiences in screams of hearty laughter, "The Tourists" by name, but what's in a name? This review would be incomplete without adding that Mr. Casson and his orchestra did credit to the picture and the vaudeville with their fine musical scores, and A. D. Callan, the manager of the Opera House, displays at once the popular and sane judgment that is necessary for the success of any theatre by keeping the entertainment at a high standard of cleanliness both in the auditorium and in the performance. The bill is splendid and will undoubtedly attract large audiences afternoon and evening for Wednesday and Thursday, while Friday the usual change of programme will take effect.

PREMIER MASSEY IN CANADA SOON

Given a Farewell Dinner in London as He Leaves for New Zealand Home.

London, Aug. 24.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Premier W. F. Massey, who will sail on Thursday for Canada en route to New Zealand, was given a farewell dinner last night by the New Zealand community in London. Lord Milnes said that amid many things which were going wrong, the imperial conference went distinctly right. He paid a tribute to the work of the dominion premiers. He considered, however, that an imperial constitution was necessary, and he believed a constitution in some form would become absolutely inevitable. It might not be a written constitution, but it would certainly be something more tangible than the present arrangement.

Premier Massey declared the conference had laid the foundations of a great imperial structure which would be a blessing to millions yet unborn. He declared the conference constituted a definite partnership of the British nations with the king as the common head. The decisions of the conference had been so framed that they could be put into operation only by the king.

SEES NO ONE ABLE TO OUST LLOYD GEORGE

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 24.—Lloyd George is stronger than ever, in fact, the strongest man in British public life. Senator John S. MacLennan, who recently spent some time in London yesterday told the members of the Sydney Rotary Club, before whom he lectured on "Impressions of the British Parliament." Senator MacLennan gave personal reminiscences of the British premier and expressed emphatically the opinion that there is yet in sight no politician capable of ousting him from his place of power.

Tired and Nervous—from the Lack of Sleep? Do You Know the Reason Why?

Sleep time is the time when the reconstructive processes in your body are busiest—turning food into blood, and nerve tissue, and living cells.

That's the reason why lack of sleep makes you irritable, inefficient and nervous; and why you lack "punch" when you don't get a proper amount of the right kind of sleep.

It has been the experience of many that the cup of tea or coffee, taken at meal-time, robs them of sleep.

In Gould and Pyle's Cyclopedia of Medicine and Surgery you'll find that "caffeine is a rapidly acting stimulant to the brain and spinal cord, quickens the action of the heart, and raises blood pressure."

This makes it a very good medicine if prescribed by a doctor for cases of collapse, when a patient needs to have his system abnormally forced into activity. But caffeine is not good for people whose systems don't need to be drugged.

So if you don't get your proper sleep at night, it may be because you are being kept awake by tea or coffee.

Stop tea and coffee for awhile and drink Postum—the delicious cereal beverage.

Postum is a pure cereal product, and contains no harmful element whatsoever. Your first taste of Postum will surprise and please you. Many prefer the flavor of Postum to that of coffee.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for ten days, and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

A New Awakening.

(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.) Perry's "opening" of Japan in 1854 was one of the great events of modern history. It was the act that stirred a great and powerful people from mediocrity to modernity. It was all that was needed to set Japan on the path to a position of world importance.

Evening.

(Walter De La Mare.) While the small mouse streamling sits, All this has been conceded by Japan's most eminent statesman. At a recent dinner of nobles at Tokio it was admitted that the journey of the crown prince marks a Japanese awakening almost as significant as the awakening of 1854.

Arson Unpunished. (Honolulu Advertiser) A chicken set fire to a family house belonging to Manuel Correa, Kaimuki, Sunday, by carrying a lighted cigarette butt underneath the building. This was the explanation Correa gave the fire department after the flames had been extinguished, according to Chief Thurston. Correa said that he threw the butt out of the window and the chicken picked it up and took it under the house. Then Chief Thurston the chicken was not arrested. Small talk has generated many big troubles.

Wonderful Day On The Kennebecasis

Regatta on Renforth Anniversary a Pronounced Success—Great Crowds on Shore and in Boats—The Results of Races.

Rippling water, wooded hillsides, boats from racing shells to steamers, long lines of automobiles, and from ten to fifteen thousand people combined to make up a picture unique in this part of the country yesterday at Renforth. From early morning the people began to arrive and by two o'clock in the afternoon standing room was at a premium. A double line of motor cars stretched from the lower end of Renforth to the entrance of the Riverside Golf Club and the hillsides down to the water's edge were covered with people, the vari-colored garments of the ladies, mingling with the more conservative colors of the clothing of the men and making a picture never to be forgotten.

The occasion was the fiftieth anniversary of the victory of the world-champion Paris crew who defeated the Tyne-side crew in a six mile race for the championship of the world. It was in this race that James Renforth, stroke oar of the Tyne crew, lost his life. It was very fitting that his name should live and that on the fiftieth anniversary of his death a great regatta should have been held at a place named in honor of his memory. The vast crowds were well handled and, on the whole, good order prevailed. The arrangements for the parking of automobiles were well carried out and not a fender was scratched. Traffic was efficiently directed and everything went off smoothly. At the request of Mayor Schofield the citizens and the woman attacked the young man with her umbrella. He came back with his fists and seized the weapon whereupon she slapped his face. He swung the umbrella to strike her and as he did so he struck a man on the head with it. By this time general excitement reigned and order was restored finally when some men seized the young man and level heads prevailed on the woman to abandon the offensive. It is incidents such as this that rob a day of its pleasure. This was the only untoward incident recorded.

The suburban train was followed soon after by the special at 10:30 the Truro train brought the last of those depending on the C. N. R. for transportation. The houses did a good business all day. At 8:30 a dance was held in the clubhouse to which all were invited and a general good time was held. Every feature of the arrangements tended to make up a day that will be remembered by those who have at heart the promotion of good healthy sport and the development of many men.

The work of the oarsmen representing the St. Mary's Amateur Athletic Club, of Halifax, was an outstanding feature of the day so far as the sculling contests were concerned and it was around these contests that the interest of the thousands was chiefly concentrated. St. Mary's men won the senior foar-board event; they took first and second in the junior singles; took second and third in the Ross memorial cup race and also pulled home ahead of the rest of the field in the junior four in the fastest race of the day but were disqualified for finishing outside the flag buoy instead of between the flag buoys which marked the finish line.

St. John's, too, distinctly vindicated its claim to consideration as the home of expert oarsmen. Harry Giggey, of the Millidgeville Summer Club, won the most coveted distinction of the day most coveted, distinction of the day when he came across the line victorious in the Ross Memorial Cup race thus becoming the first holder of the most magnificent trophy that ever has been donated for an athletic event in St. John. If not indeed in the whole Dominion. Giggey also won the intermediate singles. Hilton Belyea, maritime, New England and Canadian national champion, was an easy victor in the senior single sculls and the West End Improvement League crew rowed across the finish line victorious in the four oared event for boys under eighteen.

The interest manifested in the various rowing races was intense and from the time the contestants appeared from the boat house until the winners had been determined, a look of eager expectancy was discernible on every face. The showing of the St. John representatives was all that could be desired under the circumstances, when it was taken into consideration that they were competing against clubs their senior by many years, who had every opportunity to develop their style and stroke under the vigilant eye of professional trainers. There was nothing to mar the event, as fortunately no accidents happened, and although hundreds of boats lined the course only a few persisted in the scullers. The four-oared junior and senior races were feature events and although Halifax clubs took home the honors, their victory was clean-cut and commendation for their style and all around ability.

A big event on the programme was the single scull race, not because of any anticipated keen competition, but because Hilton Belyea, National and New England champion and rowing idol of St. John, was to take part. When he appeared from the boat house the air was filled by the shrill blasts of the whistles on the tugs and steamers and the prolonged cheering of thousands of admirers. That he would win was a foregone conclusion, but to watch him manipulate his shell was the ambition of many who had never seen him in action. As he rowed home a winner he was greeted with cheers and as he went to the club house he was literally showered with compliments. The special race for the Ross Memorial trophy was another event watched with keen interest and Harry Giggey, the youthful winner, was accorded a flattering ovation.

WONDERFUL DAY ON KENNEBECCASIS

Two Crews Disqualified. At a meeting of the Maritime Provinces Amateur Oarsmen's Association held in the Union Club, last evening, with R. T. MacCreith presiding, it was decided to disqualify the junior four-oared crew representing St. Mary's A. C. of Halifax.

Young McCavour shot into the lead and a third of the way down the course he had a length on the three other contenders who were about on even terms.

O'Connell and Power pulled up on McCavour.

Having negotiated the turn, the boys started for home rowing much better courses than they did on the trip out.

A quarter mile from the finish Giggery had about two lengths on O'Connell and Power while McCavour was two lengths in the rear of the Halifax boys.

During the last quarter Giggery, rowing with the long powerful, Belya-like stroke, further widened the gap behind him while at the same time O'Connell pulled away from Power.

Giggery crossed the line a winner by 1-1/2 lengths ahead of O'Connell who came in second with Power third only half a length behind him.

McCavour was quite a way behind. The time was 11:47-1/2.

ON HAPPY VISIT
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bell, of Hamilton, Ont., arrived in the city on the 2 o'clock train from Montreal today. Mr. and Mrs. Bell were recently married in Hamilton. The bride is a niece of Rev. George Scott. The groom saw service overseas and is now with the T. H. & R. Hallway in Hamilton. They are visiting their aunt, Mrs. George Scott, 4 Queen street.

BURIED TODAY.
The funeral of Urban J. Sweeney took place this morning from his late residence, 37 St. David street, to the Cathedral for high mass of requiem, celebrated by Rev. H. Ramage, with Rev. A. P. Allen deacon, and Rev. R. McCarthy sub-deacon. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers were members of St. John's Council, No. 897, Knights of Columbus. Other members of this lodge and members of the St. John Law Society attended the service. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

SON OF REV. AND MRS. R. T. McKIM.
Heartfelt sympathy goes out to Rev. and Mrs. R. Taylor McKim of St. Mary's church, in the death of their young son, Robert Philip Gilchrist, which occurred suddenly at Sherbrooke yesterday evening at six o'clock, where Mrs. McKim and her two children were summering. Rev. Mr. McKim had just returned to Sherbrooke after taking a course of study in the United States. The little boy was seven months old. One sister, two years old, and the parents survive. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's rectory, 202 Waterloo street, on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

BY-LAW CASES.
Roy Porter, reported for allowing his horse to stand in Union street, West End, unattended, was fined $10.00 for the same on last Saturday, was before the court this morning and pleaded guilty. He said he was driving for J. W. Metcalf, a wood and coal merchant of the West Side. The magistrate imposed the usual fine prescribed by the law.
The case against a man named McCann, charged with cruelty to a horse, was before the court this morning. D. C. Clinch, on behalf of the S. P. C., laid the complaint. No evidence was taken and the case was postponed until next Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock.

At St. Patrick's church, Ottawa, on August 22, with nuptial mass, Miss Evelyn McGill, daughter of Josephine and the late R. M. McGill (formerly of St. John), and Alphonse J. Belier, of the C. P. Mr. and Mrs. Belier left on a wedding trip to Boston and New York, and on their return they will reside at the Rockdale apartments, Cooper street, Ottawa.

UTILITIES BOARD IN SESSION HERE
Order Relative to Application of N. B. Telephone Co.

There were no new applications before the board of public utilities, which met this morning in the government rooms. An order was made some time ago permitting the N. B. Telephone Co. to issue $994,000 additional stock. This was a reduction from the original request of the company for permission to issue $996,000, which reduction was made up of allowances by the board and its expert of a working capital of $170,000 to cover a period of two months arrangements in telephone charges which before measured service came into use was, to a large extent, collected in advance. The company asked for $192,000 to cover the average cost of the plant on hand, but the board thought that, in view of lower prices and other things, $150,000 should be ample. These two amounts total $320,000, and the balance of $674,000 was required to restore that part of the depreciation fund which had been used for capital purposes.
Some consideration was given by the board to the preparation of its annual report.

UNEASY OVER SITUATION IN COAL FIELDS
Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Mother Jones, a leader among the miners, left here this morning for Marmet, where approximately 3,500 miners are on strike against maintenance of martial law in the Mingo county coal fields. Mother Jones was to address the men.
While recognizing the gravity of the situation occasioned by the presence of so large a body of men within striking distance of the capital, public officials and prominent citizens here expressed the opinion that, under proper leadership the incident would be closed without serious results. It was recognized, however, that the situation still contained elements of danger.

HOW RENFORTH LOST CHANCE

Scull Shipped Water in Four-oared Race — St. Mary's Trainer Talks of Events.

A great deal of surprise was manifested that the Renforth sculler four did not make a better showing in its race yesterday. The general public did not learn the reason. It was that after the crew had made the turn and was in a good position to give St. Mary's a hard race, the shell encountered a heavy swell, evidently caused by one of the motor boats which refused to stay off the course, and shipped water. The stroke oar was sitting in water all the rest of the way home, and this unfortunate incident spoiled the chances of the Renforth crew. Renforth today is once more the quiet residential suburb and it is hard to realize that within the short space of twenty-four hours such a marked contrast could take place. Yesterday afternoon thousands of people lined the shores, while the river for three-quarters of a mile was black with steamers, tug, motor boats, yachts, dinghies, and row boats which were teeming with humanity.

The majority of the Halifax oarsmen and enthusiasts who accompanied them, left for their homes last night on the late train, while others left this morning on the C. P. R. steamer Empress for Halifax via Digby. On the train last night a special baggage car was attached to convey the shells of the North West Arm Club and the St. Mary's shells were shipped on the Empress this morning. All that remains now is the memory of a memorable day.
Captain Martin, trainer of St. Mary's oarsmen in discussing the outcome of yesterday's events, expressed gratification at the complete victory of his two four oared crews, in spite of the technical violation which disqualified the junior four. He said they were wonderfully treated both by the officials at Halifax and those in charge of the regatta in general. He considers the course and the arrangements for the regatta in general. He expressed a wish that a crew from St. John would go to Halifax in connection with Regatta Week, to start next Saturday and be continued for the week with aquatic evening daily. He said that St. Mary's recently purchased a handsome villa on the North West Arm, which is in reality a club house hotel, containing every modern convenience and a cafeteria. He said if a St. John crew would go over the club would give them every accommodation as personal guests.

Speaking of the single shell race, he said he much regretted the absence of John Power, whom he felt confident would have won the Ross Memorial Trophy event.
He also suggested that since St. John had revived rowing to such a praiseworthy extent, it would be a great boon to the sport to have alternate regattas here and at Halifax.
Captain Martin was pleased, while here, to meet Lieut. Colonel A. H. H. Powell, D. S. O., A. A. G., and Q. M. G., M. D. No. 7, who was his commander in Siberia. He regretted not being able to see Colonel H. Spelling, who was also in Siberia. While there Captain Martin was in charge of a tug-boat team, which won the championship. Officials of the St. Mary's Rowing Club, Halifax, last evening expressed strong disapproval of the disqualification of their junior crew on a technicality after they had won the four oar event in yesterday's Renforth regatta. They said they were accustomed to use the shore line as one boundary of the course, and yesterday was their first experience in using two buoys as the finish line. They said they had no notice of the meeting of the M. P. A. O., which was held last evening at which they were disqualified, and therefore had no representation, to which they said they were entitled, and they intend to register a protest against the decision.
A guest of Mayor Schofield on the Neptune yesterday was A. R. Coffin of the Truro News.
Moving pictures of yesterday's events were taken by W. G. MacLaughlan, of the Pathe Company, Halifax.

NOW EASIER TO GET A HOUSE IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 24.—Although it is expected that the census will show that Greater Vancouver has added nearly 20,000 to its population in the last twelve months, there has been, within the same period, a remarkable drop in the demand for houses to rent. A couple of years ago it was almost impossible to get a vacant house on any terms, but today the prospective tenant can pick and choose.
One of the largest apartment blocks in the west and recently cut all rents twenty per cent.
