GENERAL RETIREMENT OF GERMANS EAST OF PARIS STILL CONTINUES

British Troops Yesterday Captured Several Guns and 1,500 Prisoners—Enemy in Some Places Driven Back 50 Miles

A general retirement of the Germans east of Paris continues, according to a statement this afternoon, by the war information bureau in London.

The French embassy at Washington has received reports from Bordeaux of marked advances against the German right wing.

AUSTRIANS 'HOPELESSLY BEATEN'

London, Sept. 11.—A despatch to the Times from Petrograd says: "Although some of the Austrian army corps in the province of Lublin probably make good their retreat, official despatches describe the rest of General Dankl and Von Auffenberg in Shaway, as to warrant the inference that the enemy is hopelessly beaten."

MADE GERMAN PAY FOR CROSSING MARNE

London, Sept. 11.—The Paris correspondent of the Express quotes a message from the front, stating that the allies at last have got into their stride.

"The passage of the Marne, has cost the Germans dear," the message says. "They fought their way step by step, tired as they were, but at Marne the 7th French army got in. The German pontons were no sooner erected than they were swept away by the French artillery fire."

The British army was not so heavily engaged during the day. There are apparently approximately 1,600,000 men in the allies' fighting line.

TROOP TRAIN IN SOUTH AFRICA DERAILED. London, Sept. 11.—A Capetown despatch to Reuters says that a troop train with 600 soldiers on their way to the coast for Europe, was derailed in Cape Colony.

WAR NOTES. Some sharp fighting has occurred between the German and British forces in Africa. A force of 400 Germans entering British Central Africa was driven back though they greatly outnumbered the English defenders.

British Nurse Shot. Paris, via London, Sept. 11.—The Journal says that among the wounded arriving in Paris was a young British nurse who had been struck by a German bullet as she was attending a wounded German soldier.

Naval Officers Take Charge. London, Sept. 11.—The Naval Gazette announces that naval officers have been appointed to the command of the Allan, Canadian Pacific and Cunard Line steamers, which the government requisitioned, indicating that they are likely to be used for more beligerent purposes.

To Raise $100,000. Chicago, Ill., Sept. 11.—A fund of $100,000 to aid widows and orphans of British soldiers killed in the present European war, will be raised by the British Empire Association of Chicago.

March on Capital of Bosnia. London, Sept. 11.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Nish dated Friday, says the Montenegrins have captured Foca and effected a junction with the Serbians operating near Visegrad.

Russians Hold Austrian Towns. Rotterdam, Sept. 11.—It is announced that Russian troops hold the Austrian towns of Suczawa and Hatna, 50 miles south of Czernowitz the capital of the Austrian province of Bukovina.

Austrian Officers Flew. Rome, Sept. 11.—According to the Triuma an Austrian torpedo boat has been blown up near Faenza, fifty-two miles south of Trieste, in Istria, after striking a mine.

Wounded Austrians, who are arriving at Trieste, say that during the battle of Lemberg, all the Austrian officers of the Austro-Hungarian army were killed.

GALLANT WORK SAVING LIVES ON THE OCEANIC

Trawler Captain Tells of Perilous Rescue

A DANGEROUS COAST

White Star Liner's Distress Signals Seen by Fisherman and the Hundreds on Board Are Saved With Difficulty

London, Sept. 11.—Captain Armour of the Aberdeen trawler Glenovill tells the following story of the rescue of the crew of the White Star liner Oceanic.—"It was misty and very dark on Tuesday morning off the north coast of Scotland when our attention was attracted, on our homeward way, by signals of distress in the direction of the coast."

"It required skillful seamanship, which would have been impossible to a larger boat than ours, to bring the Glenovill near enough to discover the Oceanic on the rocks of this dangerous coast."

"Finally, after a long and hard tussle in the nasty sea, we brought ourselves alongside. Ropes and ladders were lowered over the side of the liner and down them the crew scrambled and tumbled to the deck of our boat."

"In a short time practically every available inch of our space was occupied by men from the big boat. We got 400 of them, and then steamed off—we could hold no more—and emptied them on a larger steamer which was standing off in the distance unable to get any nearer without herself running on the rocks of this dangerous coast."

"After transferring our human freight we returned quickly but cautiously and took off the remainder of the crew, which was transferred to the boat in the offing. The rescue was attended with great risk on account of the heavy sea and darkness, and the dangerous reefs all about. The captain of the Oceanic was the last to leave his ship. He paid us a high compliment and thanked us warmly."

MORE ST. JOHN OFFICERS AMONG THOSE HONORED

Major Powers and Lieut. Leavitt Get Commands at Valcartier—Appointment of Major Magee Definitely Announced

That the officers from St. John are well represented in the honor rolls in appointments with the army is shown by a letter received in the city today announcing that, besides the selections previously announced, the following are more local officers, Major T. E. Powers and Lieut. Allan Leavitt had been given most satisfactory commands. It was also definitely stated that Major Magee had been appointed to the command of the heavy brigade, this being the first authentic announcement of this pleasing news.

The friends here will be glad to learn that Major Powers has been chosen for the command of the signaling detachment from Canada, and that Lieut. Leavitt has been selected as second in command. Both are expert signallers and have an extensive experience in their branch of the service. Major Powers has been in charge of the St. John signalling unit for some years, meeting with much success, and more recently was appointed signalling officer for the eastern provinces. Lieut. Leavitt, while young in years, is an expert in his work, having been in the militia since he was in his teens. He was with the first contingent in the Transvaal, where he took part in many fights which made the world ring with the heroism of the boys from Canada. He was also selected as one of the dominion contingent at the command of King Edward. About three years ago he was gazetted a lieutenant, having previously been sergeant instructor with the local signalling unit.

Inspecting Local Defence. A visitor to Partridge Island today was Quartermaster Inspector Goguel of the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery of Halifax, who came here to look into the defence facilities here. His experience in the militia will enable him to make suggestions in the way of improvement, if it be found that such a course is necessary, although other two officials who have visited the island have said that what has been done by the 8th Regiment battery under Col. B. R. Armstrong thus far has been very satisfactory. The 8th regiment intends recruiting further and soon will begin drilling twice a week in the armory thus giving an opportunity to any citizens who desire to enroll in the service of their country.

More for Halifax. Another company of volunteers from the 71st regiment, from Woodstock, is expected to pass through the city this evening on their way to Halifax for garrison service there.

British Cruiser Captures German Liner and Tows Prize into Kingston

London, Sept. 11.—A despatch from Kingston, J. A., says that the Hamburg-American line steamer Bethania has been towed into the harbor there as a prize by a British cruiser. She has on board 400 Germans who have been taken prisoners.

The Bethania left Genoa, on July 25 for the west coast of South America. She is a steamer of 4,847 tons.

London, Sept. 11.—The admiralty reports that most of the prisoners aboard the Bethania are from the crew of the

DISHONORABLE IN DIPLOMACY AS IN THE WAR

British Writer Shows up German Scheme to Poison Minds of Neutral Peoples

New York, N. Y., Sept. 11.—A London cable to the Tribune says that the Standard will publish on Saturday an editorial by Sydney Low, in which he says: "Efforts which the German government is making to influence opinion in neutral countries are growing more persistent, and even desperate, as the war goes on. They suggest that the Kaiser and his courtiers are keenly conscious of the weakness, both of their cause and their case. The Prussian Camarilla know well enough that, however prolonged and stubborn the struggle may be, they will sooner or later be defeated. In the end the resources of two great empires and a republic must prevail even against the terrible war machine which the German general staff uses with such ruthless effect. It looks very much as if Germany foresaw the inevitable result and was preparing for it by endeavoring to arouse sympathy for herself and create prejudice against her opponents in those countries which are standing out of the contest."

"The undertaking is pursued by German diplomacy with the same disregard for the laws of honor which their strategists have shown for the laws of war. People who burn open towns and lay waste to the land are not to be scrupulous in a controversy. The German campaign abroad will be conducted with immense industry, and the same ingenuity of Germany in opening a ready means of communication."

Some critics say that even if Maubeuge falls, that route will not become available for at least two days, and the battle may be decided before it can be of any practical use, except as a way out in case of disaster.

The latter contingency is not counted on so much as it is hoped for by Paris, but the undoubted reverse of the German left wing, has given the people here immense courage.

It is pointed out that in a forced retirement, the Germans would find the fortified places at Rheims in their path, and this must give them considerable trouble, while in a pursuit the cavalry of the allies has shown itself to be terribly effective.

On the other hand, it is considered that if the invaders do not retrieve their fortunes rapidly, they will have to get out of France.

TURKISH CROWN PRINCE SAID TO HAVE KILLED THE FOREIGN MINISTER

Violent Quarrel Over the Political Policy of Turkey—Prince Wounded

Paris, Sept. 11.—A despatch to the Hay Agency from Rome says: "A telegram from Athens to the newspaper Vita says a violent discussion arose between the Crown Prince of Turkey and Enver Pasha, the Turkish minister of war, on the subject of the political policy of Turkey."

"Enver Pasha, becoming greatly excited, fired two shots from a revolver at the prince, who was slightly wounded. The prince then shot Enver Pasha in the leg. According to reports Enver Pasha has since died."

TOO ANXIOUS TO SEND WOUNDED BACK TO FIRING LINE AGAIN

French Surgeons Released After Capture by Germans, Tell of Experiences

Rotterdam, Sept. 11.—Eight French medical officers who were captured by the Germans in Namur, but who later were released and are here on their way back to France by way of England, gave some interesting sidelights on the situation in the field from their standpoint as surgeons.

"We were obliged to work with the Germans," one of them said. "Most of the wounded were anxious to return to the fight as soon as possible. We saw no evidence of men wounded by dum-dum bullets on either side. We found the medical services of both the Germans and the allies excellent, but we regret that the German wounded often were discharged from the hospitals too early. In some cases, their wounds had not sufficiently healed, and after their discharge the wounds would open again and complications set in."

FATHER AND SON GO. C. A. Lowe, late traveling auditor of the I. C. R. has gone to join yacht "Albacore" as second engineer. The Albacore is the yacht owned by J. K. L. Ross, of Montreal, to the British navy, and is now in service at Halifax. Mr. Lowe's son Charles has been first engineer on this vessel since she was launched in May of this year.

In consequence of the stagnation in emigration, Mr. Oliver, London, representative of Saskatchewan, has received instructions to close the office temporarily and return to Regina.

PARIS CHEERY AS THE ENEMY IS GIVING WAY

Lively Satisfaction at Situation Is Expressed by Papers

DEMORALIZE GERMANS

Battle Not Yet Won But Gain of 40 Miles Has Placed Kaiser's Troops in Jeopardy—Change Soon or Must Quit France

Paris, Sept. 11.—The tone of comment in the morning papers on the result of the four days' fighting in the great battle of Champagne, is one of lively satisfaction. The success, it is admitted, does not mean that the battle has been won, but the gain of forty miles on the German left increases the jeopardy of their line of communication and must, it is considered, a demoralization of the enemy's tired forces.

As yet there is no indication that the German army on the Lorraine frontier will be able to get through to the main force as last accounts reported that Maubeuge was still holding out, though several forts had been placed hors de combat. The fall of this place must have a great bearing on the result of the battle in opening a ready means of communication.

Some critics say that even if Maubeuge falls, that route will not become available for at least two days, and the battle may be decided before it can be of any practical use, except as a way out in case of disaster.

The latter contingency is not counted on so much as it is hoped for by Paris, but the undoubted reverse of the German left wing, has given the people here immense courage.

It is pointed out that in a forced retirement, the Germans would find the fortified places at Rheims in their path, and this must give them considerable trouble, while in a pursuit the cavalry of the allies has shown itself to be terribly effective.

On the other hand, it is considered that if the invaders do not retrieve their fortunes rapidly, they will have to get out of France.

BALKAN STATES AND GREECE TO KEEP TURKEY FROM JOINING GERMANY

London, Sept. 11.—Telegraphing from Rome, a correspondent of the Daily Telegraph declares he has learned from diplomatic sources, that Roumania, Greece and Bulgaria have signed an agreement which may be regarded as a final alliance under the terms of which these three nations engage to interfere whenever necessary in order to prevent Turkey adding Germany and Austria in the present war. If Turkey remains neutral, however, these three states will do the same.

It is reported in Rome, the correspondent continues, that Berlin has become resigned to the idea of Italian neutrality, but she is determined that Italy at least shall remain neutral until the end.

London, Sept. 11.—A despatch from Athens to the Exchange Telegraph Company states that foreign minister Pallas has resigned his resignation. It has not been decided whether or not it will be accepted.

FRENCH HAVE RECAPTURED MUELHAUSEN; BELGIANS AGAIN ARE IN TERMONDE

King Albert's Soldiers Are Taking Offensive and Givng Germans Plenty To Do

London, Sept. 11.—Despatches from Basle, Switzerland, state that the French have recaptured Muelhausen.

London, Sept. 11.—An Amsterdam despatch to the Chronicle says that the Belgians are back again in Termonde, which town is like an empty shell after the destruction caused by the Germans when the residents were unable to raise a contribution of $200,000.

The Belgians continue a vigorous offensive throughout the province of Antwerp, according to the despatch and in East Flanders they have driven the Germans from the vicinity of Aerschoot and Diest.

Rotterdam, Sept. 11.—The Courant's Belgian correspondent says the Germans are fortifying themselves in Ninove, Alvest, Maires and Aerschoot in Belgium. They are not making any real efforts against Antwerp and most of their attacks on the Belgians of recent dates were merely feints to keep the Belgians occupied. Monday's fighting at Melle, five miles southeast of Ghent, was indecisive.

Dominions Royal Commission

London, Sept. 11.—At the first meeting of the Dominion Royal Commission after its return from Canada, it was decided to compile another interim report within the next two months. This, however, will not cover the Canadian visit, as it was felt that the dominion should be viewed as a whole.

The visit to Newfoundland will be dealt with in the report. It has been decided that Sir George E. Foster has been invited to come and join in the compilation of the report. Beyond this, the commission has formed no further plans.

German Turning Movement Fails

Day of Allies' Revenge Seems at Hand—Desperate Fighting With Victory Promising if All Goes on as at Present

London, Sept. 11.—The correspondent of the Times at Bordeaux sends the following:

"It is now beyond doubt that the German turning movement to the southeast of Paris, has been defeated and there is a dawning hope that the allies' left, which has borne a rain of the enemy's blows since the fighting at Mons began, is now about to take revenge."

"The Germans have been fighting desperately to guard their line of communication, which is in considerable danger from the allies' left. They have been forced to retreat before the onslaught of the British and the withdrawal of the German right is bound to assist the French in forcing back the centre unless the Germans desire again to find themselves obliged to follow the imperial chancellor's advice and "hack" their way through."

"The German check in front of the Meaux and Verdun line, has had its echo throughout the field of operations. On the extreme French right the enemy's division bearing down upon Nancy, has been thrown back behind the forest of Champanouev."

ONLY KEEP IT UP. London, Sept. 11.—A despatch to the Times from Bordeaux, dated Thursday says:

"Since Sunday, when the enemy's sweep southeast of Paris, was checked on the Grande Lorraine, the German war machine has been showing signs of wear and each fresh day of battle has closed with the allies in a more favorable position."

"On Sunday there was ferocious fighting along the Grande Morin, which continued at Laferge-Gauches, throughout the night and on Monday morning, the enemy began a retreat upon their next line along the Petit Morin. Here they were allowed no rest, for the allied forces were tasting the rare joy of offensive and wished to taste it to the full."

"On Tuesday the German command first became apprehensive for the safety of its communication and saw looming in its right flank a possibility of destruction."

"North of Paris the French found ample room for assembling a large army and while the British were slipping from the northeast of Paris, to the east with the Germans, the place of glory was taken by a strong French force which moved up the River Ourcq, and became a very serious menace to the enemy's retreating movement."

"The Ourcq formed the upper blade of a pair of shears of which, as they were gradually closed, the Grand Morin, the Petit Morin and the River Marne, formed the lower blade."

"Immediately the German staff realized this situation, it endeavored to extricate itself from between the blades by a rapid retreat and by a series of futile but fruitless onslaughts upon the French holding the right bank of the Ourcq."

FIGHTING DESPERATE. "The fighting here has been of a very desperate character, which is shown by the fact of two standards captured, one, that of the 36th infantry regiment of Magdeburg, was torn from the hands of its bearer by a French infantry reservist."

"The French, however, stand firm along the Ourcq, while the British have crossed the Marne and driven the enemy a distance of twenty-five miles."

"The Germans apparently are suffering from lack of ammunition and it would seem that their difficulties in obtaining supplies from their base, have only begun. If all their plans succeed as they have done during the last few days, the allies should be well on their way to victory."

BRITAIN TO STRIKE HARD AT GERMAN TRADE

Parliament to Make Heavy Penalty For Doing Business With The Enemy

London, Sept. 11.—The British parliament is about to strike another blow against German trade by passing the "Trading with the Enemy" bill. "Punish such trading by a fine of $2,500 and twelve months' imprisonment on summary conviction, or penal servitude of from three to seven years, on conviction on indictment," is one of the terms. The bill deals a heavy blow at companies financed by German capital, but registered in England, many of which have been supplying Germany with foodstuffs and other commodities, via Holland.

London, Sept. 11.—The Austrian government has offered to remit money for the payment of the coupons of the Hungarian loan of 1914, but as this would involve a transaction with an enemy government, the London firm of Rothschilds has declined to accept the offer.

KAISER AT LUXEMBURG?

London, Sept. 11.—A Reuter's despatch from Amsterdam quotes the Nieuws Van Den Dag as saying that it learns that the German general staff and Emperor William are now at Luxembourg, where the Uhlans are camping in 700 tents. The general staff is quartered in the house of the German legation.

"During the night," the despatch continues, "the legation is guarded by aeroplanes with searchlights to prevent hostile aeroplanes from approaching the town unobserved."

"French or Belgian aeroplanes succeeded in dropping four bombs without doing any serious damage. The railroad lines at several places have been destroyed."

A late report says that in the South Africa train wreck, reported elsewhere, thirteen soldiers were killed.

THIS BELGIAN BOY SCOUT ONE OF THE WONDERS OF THE WAR

Paris, Sept. 11.—The hero of Belgium today is Boy Scout "Leyden," who has been decorated by King Albert for valor and devotion to his country. This young man, who was born in Liege, is described by the Figaro as of almost uncanny sharpness, with senses and perceptions as keen as a savage. He was able to find his way through the woods and pass the sentinels of the enemy with unerring accuracy.

Leyden made his way through the German lines from Antwerp for the tenth time on last Sunday, carrying despatches to secret representatives of the Belgian government in Brussels. He has discovered and denounced eleven German spies in Belgium, and performed a variety of other services, and all without impairing his boyish simplicity.

Paris, Sept. 11.—The Figaro this morning prints a statement to the effect that there are about 20,000 priests serving in the ranks of the French army.

EXPECTS MANY OF THE BRITISH MISSING TO BE BACK ON FIRING LINE

Eleventh Hussars Not Annihilated—Sixty Stragglers Catch Germans in a Trap

London, Sept. 11.—The Rouen correspondent of the Daily Mail has great hopes that many of the British numbered in General Sir John French's list of casualties will turn up again. He has every reason for expecting, he says, to see 4,000 or more of these men soon back in the firing line.

"For the last two days," he says, "I have been informed while on a journey towards Paris, that the 11th Hussars no longer exist, yet it is certain that half of the 700 will soon reappear."

At nightfall of September 2, the 11th Hussars, exhausted after four days of fighting, stacked their arms near Compiègne. They had experienced ill-luck early in the day when taking fifty Uhlans prisoners. They expected to get some mounts, but the Germans were worse off than they.

The 11th were to have a night's rest, screened by 10,000 fresher troops, but at five o'clock in the morning shells burst over them, and their horses stampeded. To say the regiment was annihilated would be stretching the imagination.

Meanwhile many hundreds straggling are giving good accounts of themselves. At Chantilly, sixty of them, of all regiments, laid a quick firing trap for a patrol of Germans. The enemy was allowed to pass one maxin concealed in a hedge and to ride on to the muzzles of two others ahead. They were caught between the two fires, and the British mowed them down. The survivors were taken prisoners.

Is Buried in Geneva. Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 11.—The funeral of Sir John Heniker Heaton was held today in the little English church here. About eighty persons were present. Sympathetic messages from all parts of the world were received by Lady Heaton. She was unable to attend the funeral.

Attendance at Fair Beyond Expectations

Exhibition Has Already Proved Its Success—Features Today Include Parade of Prize Winning Live Stock—Results of Judging

There can now be no doubt of the wisdom of the directors of the Exhibition Association in holding the 1914 exhibition in spite of war conditions. The attendance up to date has been in excess of the expectations of the management and with good weather today and tomorrow the gate figures should be highly satisfactory. The fact that the exhibition has been so successful is a splendid tribute to the soundness of business conditions in the province. While the people of New Brunswick are doing their share for the defence of the empire those who are staying at home are also doing their share by carrying on business in the usual way. There can be no cry of hard times around this part of the province while the people have so much money to spend as has been in circulation since the exhibition opened.

The programme for today contains all the regular features and, in addition, the grand parade of all the prize-winning live stock in front of the grand stand during the afternoon performance. The band concert will be given by the Sons of England Band which will alternate with the ladies' orchestra on the grounds and in the main building both afternoon and evening.

The tea room in the women's department will be in charge of the St. John Women's Suffrage Association today.

This morning was one of the quietest on the grounds since the fair opened but the visitors began to arrive by mid-day and soon after noon the various attractions were galvanized into activity and the scene again assumed a lively appearance.

At the Free Kindergarten both Kewpie Kaddies are now offered to the visitors, a consignment having been received to be sold for the benefit of the kindergartens. There is a brisk sale of baskets at the playgrounds booth, where interested crowds watch the children making them.

Canada In The War

Newsy Notes of Activities in Many Parts of Dominion

The Halifax city council yesterday voted $25,000 to the patriotic fund. Brigade exercises will be begun next week at Valcartier, showing the rapid advance made by the volunteer troops mustered there.

It has been proposed to organize an Imperial Legion in St. John, the object of which will be to enroll all those who cannot join the army but who will volunteer to aid in the support of sick and wounded soldiers and the mothers, wives and children of the soldiers, the idea being to make some sacrifice, however small or large, to save money for the fund.

BELGIAN NATIONAL ANTHEM

Fled the years of servile shame! Belgium, 'tis thine hour at last. Wear again thy glorious name. Spread thy banner on the blast. Sovereign people in thy might, Sheafst yet and valiant be, On thine ancient standard write: King, and Law and Liberty.

Strive, nor seek discharge at length. Hold thy courage as thy crown, God, Who keeps thee in His strength On thy labors smelted down. Over all thy fruitful land. Labor's prize is full and free. On thine arts enthroned stand, King and Law, and Liberty.

Foes, that our friends of old, Are returned to love at last. All the free we prize as gold. Praying that our strife be past. Belgians and Batavians, friends, Knit in brotherhood shall be. With one voice the shout we send, King, and Law, and Liberty.

Belgium, Mother, thus we vow Never shall our love abate. Thou our hope, our safety thou. Hearts and blood are consecrate. Give, we pray, upon thy shield. This device eternally. Weal or woe, at home, afield, King, and Law, and Liberty.

NOT GOING AS EXPECTED

High German Officer's Admission in Letter.

London, Sept. 11.—A Post correspondent writing from a point not given in the despatch, has seen a letter from a high German officer invalided home, in which he states:

"The war is not going quite as well as we expected and the resistance of the allied forces is extraordinary. We are beginning to feel nervous as to results. The German losses are terrible, so terrible that the Emperor has forbidden their disclosure. Our generals have been wondrously wasteful with our men, who have been mowed down in thousands. While it is impossible to say what our losses are, I estimate them at between 850,000 and 400,000. If they continue at this rate we shall be quite unable to meet Russia with any hope of success."

DETERMINED TO GO

Ottawa Officer Had Offending Appendix Removed.

Ottawa, Sept. 11.—So anxious to go to the front that he had his appendix removed so as to obviate the only objection raised to his enlistment, Lieut. H. N. Bate, of Ottawa, is now convalescing in a local hospital. Lieut. Bate, who is the son of F. C. Bate, an Ottawa business man and sportsman, went to Valcartier to enlist, but was rejected because he had at that time been troubled with appendicitis. Lieut. Bate promptly returned to Ottawa and had the offending organ removed. When recovered he will go to the front.

THE SANJAK OF NOVIBAZAR

(Olin L. Lyman in New York Sun)

A despatch from Kragayevats recently stated that the Austrians had evacuated the Sanjak of Novibazar.

The Sanjak of Novibazar! It sounds like a drink at the bar. Or the yell of a lynx. With the willies, methinks; It sounds like the name of a star, Shining far. Or the scree on a Pullman car.

The Sanjak of Novibazar! It sounds like a Japanese tar. Or the ooliphen theme. Or mad heroin dreams. Or the growl of a uksaing Caar. When they are at grapples in Novibazar.

The Sanjak of Novibazar! It sounds like a family jar. Or the catamount screech. Or a Bill Sulzer speech; No wonder the Austrians are Hiking far. From the Sanjak of Novibazar!

ASK FOR INQUIRY INTO STRANDING OF SHENANDOAH

The board of trade council in session this morning with the president, J. M. Robinson, in the chair, discussed several matters of interest to the development of trade, and the promotion of the welfare of the port. It was decided to request Hon. J. D. Hazen to hold an inquiry into the stranding of the steamer Shenandoah. Those present at the meeting besides the chairman and Secretary R. E. Armstrong, were J. A. Lacey, A. E. Massie, Senator Thorne, W. F. Burditt, W. B. Banford, J. H. White, Allan Schofield and C. S. Philips.

MRS. AMELIA WOODS IS DEAD IN ROXBURY, MASS.

Many St. John people will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. Amelia Woods, wife of Richard Woods, which occurred at her home in Roxbury, Mass. on Thursday, September 10, after a lengthy illness. She was born on Kennebecasis Island, Kings county, and was a daughter of the late William and Elizabeth Keith. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. J. Frazz of Roxbury, Mass., and Mrs. John Mills of Tracy Station; also three sisters, Mrs. Charlotte Craig, of Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. David White, of St. John and Mrs. John Morrow, of Kennebecasis Island, and two brothers, Joseph of Boston and Robert, of St. John. She also leaves several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

SHANNON-CODY

In St. Rose's church, Fairville, an interesting nuptial event was solemnized on Wednesday morning by Rev. Charles Collins, when Miss Mary Frances Cody, James Cody, of Kingsville, was married to William E. Shannon, of Milford. Miss Lena Cody, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and the bridegroom was supported by his brother, Francis Shannon. The bride was dressed in old rose silk with bridal veil trimmed with orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid wore purple and gold shot silk. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon will reside in Kingsville.

Edward Gipple of Los Angeles was locked in cage and given a free ride through the streets of that city. Placards called attention to the fact that he was recently married, and friends, who followed explained to the crowds that Gipple was paying the penalty for secretly marrying the stenographer employed in the same firm with them all.

A three days sale of the Duke of Sutherland's (Shropshire) estate of 2,900 acres at a rental of £1510 was concluded at Wellington Salop decently. All the lots but one farm were sold, the total for the three days being £116,486. Three farms of between 320 and 400 acres realized £16,000 each, the tenant being the purchaser in each case.

On the highway leading to success very few keep to the right.

SON KILLED, TOO

German Prince Ernest Dies at Maugebe; Father Killed at Namur

London, Sept. 11.—A despatch to Reuters from Meiningen via Amsterdam, states that Emperor William has wired the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen of the death of Prince Ernest of Saxe-Meiningen. He was buried with military honors at Maugebe.

The prince was seriously wounded in the fighting around Maugebe, France. He was a son of Prince Frederick of Saxe-Meiningen, who was killed at Namur on August 28. Prince Ernest was born in 1895.

LONG TIME CAB DRIVER

Isaac Webber, reported for driving on the wrong side of the street, was fined $4 by Magistrate Ritchie this morning. Alexander Cairns was called as a witness by Police-man O'Neill. He said he was born in St. John when the place was only a village, and had been a cab driver for fifty-five years. He corroborated the statement of the policeman that Webber was driving on the wrong side of Pond street. His evidence satisfied the court and a fine was struck against Webber. J. MacMillan Trueeman represented the defendant.

THE WAR NEWS.

There is still an undertone of caution in the official communications concerning the condition of affairs at the seat of war in France. Evidently it is felt that the great German armies which accomplished the march almost to the gates of Paris in such a remarkably short time have still a tremendous striking power, despite the fact that they have turned eastward from Paris and have in their turn fallen back before the advance of the allied armies.

It is nevertheless perfectly clear that the difficulties encountered by the Germans have completely upset their plans, and while it was their original intention to bring up fresh troops, while the pressure from the east must soon make it necessary to withdraw some of the German soldiers from French soil to meet the advancing Russians.

From London comes news that the British fleet swept the North Sea for two days, penetrating into the Bight of Heligoland, without discovering a single German vessel.

Another half million men are to be enrolled in the British army, increasing its strength to nearly a million and a quarter. Since it is necessary for the Mother Country to take this step it is necessary for Canada to make immediate preparation to send a second contingent.

It is announced that when the British government's plans are completed the British army for the continent and home service will total 1,854,000. It is not necessary for the British Empire to resort to conscription to get men to fight for the flag.

That was a notable meeting in Toronto last night when His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir George Foster addressed seven thousand people at a meeting under the auspices of American citizens in Toronto, who have organized an aid society for the benefit of the families of Canadians who have gone to the front.

The sympathy of the people of the United States, with the exception of a portion of the German element, is with Britain in this war.

It is announced that when the British government's plans are completed the British army for the continent and home service will total 1,854,000. It is not necessary for the British Empire to resort to conscription to get men to fight for the flag.

THE EXHIBITION.

The exhibition this week has brought very large numbers of visitors to the city, and the streets have presented a very animated appearance. It is a week of universal enjoyment, and the exhibition bids fair to prove more successful than many had thought would be the case. The fact is very encouraging. It shows that the people of the city and province, while willing to contribute men and money to the defence of the Empire in this great crisis, believe it to be their duty to go about their usual business as cheerfully as possible, and thus sustain public confidence in a time of severe trial.

Molly wrote a neat reply to Irish Paddy O' saying: "Mike Maloney wants to marry me and so leave the Strand and Picedilly, or you'll be to blame. For love has fairly drove me silly, hoping you're the same."

Tommy's Adopted Marching Song

"It's a Long Way to Tipperary" has become the marching song of the British army, according to London despatches. The words are:

Up to mighty London came an Irishman one day As the streets are paved with gold, sure every one was gay. Singing songs of Piccadilly, Strand and Leicester Square. Till Paddy got excited, then he shouted to them there:

Chorus. It's a lang way to Tipperary, It's a lang way to go; It's a lang way to Tipperary, To the sweetest girl I know, Good-bye Piccadilly, farewell Leicester Square, But my heart's right there.

Paddy wrote a letter to his Irish Molly O' saying: "Should you not receive it, write and let me know; If I make a mistake in spelling, Molly dear," said he, "Remember, it's the pen that's bad, don't lay the blame on me."

Molly wrote a neat reply to Irish Paddy O' saying: "Mike Maloney wants to marry me and so leave the Strand and Picedilly, or you'll be to blame. For love has fairly drove me silly, hoping you're the same."

LIGHTER VEIN. Might Be a New Drink "Say, Bill, what's a mixed metaphor?" "Dat's a new one on me. Let's go over an' ask de bartender."

We All Make Mistakes "Doctor, a year ago you predicted that I wouldn't live three months. You see you were wrong." "O, well, better luck next time."

THE USE OF TWO MATERIALS.

Although the most fashionable costumes for autumn wear combine two and three different materials, it is not to be presumed that they were picked up at bargain sales.

Silk ratine and plain black satin are used for this model, the trimming being of narrow braid. The waist also makes a charming model for separate wear, so that today's lesson will deal especially with its construction. For the entire suit a yard of 44-inch ratine and 2 yards of 38-inch satin are required, with 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch lining.

The outerfront and vest (H) are cut on an open fold of the material; also the sleeve. The revers, back and collar are laid on a fold of the goods. The lining is first made by hemming the front and closing under-arm and shoulder seams. Now the braid is adjusted to position on right front and back, centers and edges even. This may be of lace if desired. The lining is faced around the armhole neck.

The sleeve is then closed and gathered at the top as perforated; then eased into the armhole.

For the outside of the waist first close under-arm seam as notched; then close shoulder seam. Center-front in-

Effective costume in Serb brown ratine and black satin, trimmed with braid and a dainty collar of hemstitching and lines.

KIPLING'S SPEECH
Failure Inconceivable, He Says—
Would Mean Extinction Of Freedom's Lights

The Times made reference the other day to a speech by Rudyard Kipling at a meeting in Brighton in support of Lord Kitchener's crusade for recruits. Here is a more extended report—

"It is not conceivable that we should fall," he said, "if we do fall the lights of freedom go out over the whole world."

"Through no fault nor wish of ours we are at war with Germany, the Power which owes its existence to three well-thought-out wars; the power which for the last twenty years, has devoted itself to organizing and preparing for this war; the power which is now fighting to conquer the civilized world."

"For the last two generations the Germans in their books, lectures, speeches and schools, have been carefully taught that nothing less than this world-conquest was the object of their preparations and their sacrifices. They have prepared carefully and sacrificed greatly. "We must have men and men and men, if we, with our allies, are to check the onrush of organized barbarism."

"Have no illusions. We are dealing with a strong and magnificently equipped enemy, whose avowed aim is our complete destruction."

"Germany's real objective, as she has always told us, is England and England's wealth, trade and world-wide possessions."

"If you assume for instance that that attack will be successful, England will not be reduced, as some people say, to the rank of a second rate power, but we shall cease to exist as a nation. We shall become an outlying province of Germany, to be administered with what severity German safety and interest require."

"We arm against such a fate. We enter into a new life in which all the facts of war that we had put behind us or forgotten for the past hundred years have returned to the front and test us as they tested our fathers. It will be a long and hard road, beset with difficulties and discouragements, but we tread it together and we will tread it together to the end."

TAILOR'S FASHIONS
COLOR FABRICS

One of the Highest Authorities on Men's Dress Reviews the Modes for Men for the Season.

Discussing styles, fabrics, in their varying shades, colors and weaves, the Chief Designer of Semi-ready tailoring says that the basic color for the fall and winter season is brownish green, and that there never was such an array of fabrics so pleasing in their warmth and gaiety. There will be plenty of color in this order; worsteds, chevots, tweeds and cashmeres.

There are some beautiful Scotch tweeds of various weaves, including homespun, plaids, checks and over-plaids, stripes in all the seven colors of the rainbow and in multitudinous combinations.

The keynote of brownish green is evident in all the newer fabric weaves.

Autumn styles show the trim and dapper designs, with the quality and refinement which have made Semi-ready clothes so distinctive and popular.

The new styles possess the shapeliness and grace and bring out in marked degree the best lines of the masculine figure. Trousers are of narrower width, coats a bit shorter, and showing the waist line. The younger set will find coats which may almost suggest a corset under the coat, while waistcoats are cut to give a cheery effect.

Yet while the clothes are closer fitting and the colors are gay, the art of the designer and weaver achieve so well that there is nothing flashy about them.

There is tons, which is another way of saying they are in good taste. And we are growing in culture and in appreciation of the details of fashion which go to make up good dress. The primitive creature who wears strange and fantastic checks and flashy colors only creates a ripple of amusement.

"More than any year in the history of Semi-ready tailoring do I believe that men will study the economy and efficiency of our wholesale tailoring methods. A five or ten dollar bill saved nowadays will be worth treble when international affairs straighten out," said John P. Condon, of the Semi-ready store on King street.

"We know fashions and have intimate knowledge of the men who are leaders and creators of style, but our mission in life is to keep good tailoring down to its standard value. That is why we put the price in the pocket—whether it be $15 or $30 value."

BRITISH TAKE TRENCHES AT POINT OF BAYONET

Paris, Sept. 8.—The British are doing great execution. The wounded arriving here declare that the British are relying on their bayonet charges to gain ground. After shelling the German position and then sweeping them with rifle fire, the British regulars charge against the Germans and continually force them to evacuate their entrenchments and fall back on others.

It is said that the French are co-operating splendidly with the British, and are showing a better spirit than at any time since the fighting in the north commenced.

Temperance Wins in Stanstead.

Sherbrooke, Que., Sept. 11.—The recount in the Stanstead County prohibition vote leaves the majority for no license at $26. The temperance people, however, made a net loss on the recount.

Calgary Bond Sale

Calgary, Alberta, Sept. 10.—A modification of the baby bond method of financing municipal improvement works is proposed in Calgary. Local people who have money are to be asked to purchase city debentures in denominations of $1,000, drawing interest at a somewhat higher rate than the three or four per cent usually paid overseas investors when the money market is normal.

CITY WILL ISSUE $125,000 BONDS

Small Investors Will Have Opportunity — Commissioners Assist Travelers' Aid Society—North End Fountain — Tenders For Street Work

The mayor gave notice at yesterday's council meeting that at the next meeting he would apply for the issue of $500 debentures in three accounts of $15,000, $82,000, and $11,000, for certain improvements (including a motor fire appliance, $20,000), repayable in five, twenty and ten years.

The Travelers' Aid Society, a body doing good work at the railway station among girls traveling alone, etc., asked for aid as its funds are inadequate and it feared the work could not go on. It was stated no aid was possible at present from public funds, but the council members subscribed and agreed to raise privately a sum to carry on the work temporarily.

The contractor for the Indiantown fountain asked the council to go halves on his loss of $400 on the contract, but the council declined to set a precedent.

The mayor voted against granting a Canterbury street 5m permission to have a trap door under the sidewalk, as he held that the city would be liable for any accident to persons in the street. By a majority the permission was given.

A number of tenders were then opened and dealt with prior to acceptance. They were from Moses, French and Sims; A. R. C. Clarke & Sons; Ernest W. Green and Tobias, Corey and Stevens for improvements on the north side of Queen square. Peter Ferris, A. R. C. Clarke & Sons, W. E. Green, and Moses, French and Sims for a retaining wall and sidewalk on Tower street.

The commissioner of water and sewerage was authorized to purchase $500 feet of piping for mains in Adelaide, Kennedy, Orange, Charlotte and Broad streets.

In reply to a letter from the Trades and Labor Council asking for a civic representative to be present at their big dominion convention, Commissioner Potts was selected with the understanding that if the mayor is in the city he will be present also.

AROOSTOOK EXPERIMENTS
Prof. Peacock of Philadelphia Seeks to Make Mill Waste and Sawdust Profitable

Prof. Probyn Peacock of Philadelphia, who has been working in Aroostook county, Me., for some months in the effort to devise ways and means to work up sawdust and mill waste into merchantable products, has returned home and will start in a few days for Cleveland, O., where he has entered into an engagement with "certain capitalists" in the effort to formulate some processes of manufacture whereby dyes that are now burnt out of this country by the foreign war can be manufactured of products of America and in this country.

Professor Peacock says he has done well in his efforts during the summer with mill waste and feels that with proper financial support the stuff can be turned to profitable account. He does not undertake to tell in so many words just what he has discovered, but says that if his plans are fully carried out considerable of the war trouble will disappear here and now. Inasmuch as potash is one of the things that war has shut off and inasmuch as potash is one of the products of mill waste, people can draw their own conclusions. It may be stated that Prof. Peacock went after acetate, carbolic acid, potash, ethyl alcohol and whatever else he might run across.

It is understood that his present job is to be in the nature of pure experimental work with no definite idea as to how he is coming out. The great superiority of German dye stuffs over those that are insoluble in acid as well as in ordinary liquids. If an American chemist can find some way to fix the colors permanently, then it will be, as the boys say "good night" to the foreign dye business, for no man will ever again rely on anything coming from over seas if he can get the same thing or something perhaps not quite so good, every particular, right here at home.

WOUNDED SOLDIER WELL KNOWN HERE
 Boy Scouts throughout Canada will hear with great interest the story of the wounded soldier, Captain Francis Grenfell, Ninth Lancers, both of whose legs were shot off in Belgium. With his brother, Captain Arthur and Mr. Vivian, he extended the greatest hospitality at his disposal to the Canadian Boy Scouts contingent which attended the present king's coronation. His reputation as a polo player is known throughout the empire. The hospitality always extended at Roxhampton House to Canadians will be long remembered.

WAR WILL INCREASE ANGLO-AMERICAN TRADE
 New York, Sept. 11.—British merchants are anxious to build up trade connections in America to replace those which they have had with Germany, according to Percy G. McDonald, representing a London syndicate of builders' hardware merchants, who arrived in New York seeking new sources of supply. Heretofore, he said, most of the hardware imported to England has come from Germany and Belgium, which are now closed by the war.

THE MAD WAR LORD.
 Petrograd, Sept. 11.—(Delayed)—German prisoners of the front were ordered by Emperor William to the troops on their departure for the front was of a character which the press is forbidden to reproduce. His text appears to have been as follows:

"Remember that the German people are the chosen of God. On me as Emperor, the spirit of God has descended. I am his weapon, his sword and his vice-regent. Woe to the disobedient—death to cowards and unbelievers."

Russian newspapers remark that this speech goes far to prove that the German Emperor is suffering from a familiar form of insanity known as "manic-depressive."

NATIONAL CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE

Why Newspapers Have Been Asked to Withhold Publication of Some War News—Some Cases in Point

Perhaps one of the most striking things about the war so far has been the veil of secrecy thrown over the operations of the campaign, thanks to official censorship and the co-operation of the press, says the Canadian war press bureau. In no country has the silence been more significant or more useful than in Great Britain.

The supreme usefulness of this national silence was so apparent in connection with the despatch of the expeditionary force to France that the recent efforts in some quarters to secure a relaxation of the regulations respecting the publication of war news would cause surprise and even irritation were it not for the circumstances of the case taken into consideration.

The British public, more than most communities in the world, jealous of the least infringement upon the liberties of the press and has grown up to rely absolutely upon the press for its daily news. At such a time of stress and excitement as that now existing this reliance and the hunger for news are intensified many fold. The fact must be in mind that the British Empire has not been engaged in a great European war for such a great number of years that the public has become accustomed to the news supplied to it by the press. And the public has been accustomed to news that is not only true, but also interesting and varied. At the event, the wonderful progress in means of communication, railways, telegraphs, telephones and wireless, having enabled newspapers and news agencies to publish such prompt news as would never have been dreamt of a century ago. It has to be remembered that the facilities in the way of communication, under normal conditions, serve the press so well are open to the spies of the enemy when they wish to communicate with their papers, and consequently the precautions to be taken to prevent news of advantage to the enemy will have to be much greater and more careful and more rapid in their effects.

Undoubtedly the numerous small wars in which Great Britain has been engaged since the Crimean campaign are in some respect responsible for the impatience manifested in certain quarters over strict censorship of news being enforced in the mother country. While Great Britain was engaged in campaigns against Afghans, Abyssinians, Afrikaners, Boers, Ashanti, Hottentots and others there was no object in closely censoring news, even that transmitted from the front by newspaper correspondents. The enemy had no facilities for getting any useful intelligence which might have been published back from the points of publication in the way of news, and if they had obtained it, its value from military point of view would have been more or less limited.

Different Now
 The situation in the present war is different from that which existed during any one of the previous wars of the last century. The enemy is especially alive to the value of military intelligence, one that has reaped inestimable benefits from its possession in past campaigns; and that by the establishment and careful maintenance, regardless of the cost, of elaborate intelligence and spy systems in every corner of the world, he equipped itself promptly to gather in every scrap of news calculated to be of use to him.

It is a well-known and universally admitted military axiom that the success of a nation which appeals to arms depends to a great extent upon the concealment of its plans and its operations.

On the other hand, ample and accurate information about the enemy is the best guarantee for success and an absolute necessity to security. Napoleon said that a general who was ignorant of the movements of the enemy was like a blind man leading a blind man.

Information is essential to the success of both strategy and tactics. The acquisition of accurate information is one of the most difficult tasks of the headquarters staff as well as of the commander in the field. The need of accurate information of the disposition, the movements, the numbers, the dispositions and the intentions of the enemy are so vital to the success of a campaign that they are often called "the fog of war." An obscurity which the opposing headquarters staff and general endeavor by every artifice to keep from the eyes of the commander.

Newspapers are among the sources of information most carefully watched by the military intelligence authorities, the German cavalry, for instance being specially instructed that spies, patrols and outposts are to keep their eyes open for copies or fragments of an enemy's newspapers found anywhere and forward them at once to the nearest intelligence officer.

Cases in Point
 There are many instances of news which had been published in newspapers having led to disaster in the field.

Sir Henry Hozier in "Lloyd's" General Report mentioned a case in point. He wrote "In the War of 1866 (Germany versus Austria) I was with Prince Frederick Charles of Russia, who had to advance on Vienna, and his great duty was to hold the Austrian Army on the Bistritz, in order to allow the development of the attack of the crown prince on its flank and rear. It was of the utmost importance to Prince Frederick to know what Austrian force was in front of him, since, unless the whole force was held in check, he would be liable to a general attack. On the morning of the battle he could not find out what the force was, but about 10 a. m. a telegram reached him from London, announcing that morning an official intimation had appeared in a Vienna newspaper stating that the whole Austrian force was concentrated under Field Marshal Benedek on the Bistritz. The telegram had been sent from Vienna to the German Embassy in London, and at once despatched from London to Prince Frederick Charles in Bohemia, and within half an hour his army attacked all along the line. The result of that day's campaign was the loss to Austria of the leadership of Germany and the ultimate establishment of the present German Empire under the Prussian Emperor."

During the Franco-German war of 1870, after the decisive defeat of MacMahon at Metz, the French telegrams gathered together his shattered forces, and retreated westward in the direction of Châlons, as it was thought, with the intention of falling further back on Paris. The Germans pursued on a frontage of forty miles, but through supplies, or otherwise, of their cavalry divisions, they lost touch with MacMahon, and, as a matter of fact, at least

ENGLISH CARE OF PRISONERS

Six Thousand of Them In Eight Camps TREATED EXCELLENTLY

Men Divided Into Squads With Captain Over Them—Furnished Rooms For Officers Who Are Captured

London, Sept. 11.—There are at the present time about 6000 German soldiers and prisoners of war in the concentration camps of Great Britain. These camps are at Aldershot, Newbury, Dorchester, Queensferry, Lancaster, Dyfrin Hall, which is near Chester, Edinburgh, and Templemore, Ire. The Aldershot camp is at Frith Hill. At Dorchester the men are in barracks. The Newbury camp is on the famous race course, and two idle factories being used at Queensferry, and similar accommodations have been secured at Lancaster.

The Irish station at Templemore is using the military barracks for housing these prisoners and Edinburgh has a large camp in the open. Dyfrin Hall is a large country mansion, and has been given over to the use of officers. If another camp is needed it probably will be at Salisbury Plain.

Life in Aldershot Camp
 The Aldershot camp, like others in the open, is surrounded by a barbed wire fence 10 feet high, around which and at a distance of about 20 feet there is a ring of wire entanglements five feet broad. The prisoners here are 200 men who would be serving in the German Army if they could get out of the country, together with men suspected of spying. They are all housed in tents with board floors.

The men cook their own meals and keep their tents in order. They are divided into squads of twenty each, and each squad elects its own captain, who is responsible for the good behaviour of his men and the tidiness of their section of the camp. All needed clothing is supplied by the commandant, who has orders to buy what is necessary from local shops.

The men sleep on straw mattresses and are supplied with blankets. This is better treatment in the matter of sleeping facilities, than the British soldier receives; he has to sleep on bare boards. The English troops on guard at the camp have no floor to their tents, as have the prisoners. The prisoners are allowed to amuse themselves as they please.

Camp Lighted at Night
 They get candles, soap and towels and must answer a daily rollcall. The camps are brightly lighted with electricity at night to prevent escape, and are at all times surrounded by armed guards. If the prisoners do special work they are paid for it.

Every camp is supplied with a resident medical officer and an interpreter. Any money or other property taken from a prisoner is carefully labelled, to be returned to him at the end of the war, or when he may be set at liberty.

The authorities are now bringing in books and games in order to make the time of the prisoners pass as pleasantly as possible.

The Navy and The Army

Public opinion in Great Britain is beginning to realize the enormous value of the services rendered already in the war by the British Navy. The Naval and Military Record remarks on the fearful anticipations which, in the few days since the war began, were entertained in the United Kingdom that British shipping would be ruined and supplies of food and raw materials cut off.

"The most careful enquiry," said the Naval and Military Record, tended to confirm this anticipation. It was felt that we were not so great were the risks—the national safety in the months immediately preceding the outbreak of hostilities a sub-committee of the Committee of Imperial Defence considered in every detail the problem of how the people of the United Kingdom were to be fed during war time. With the most expert evidence at their command they came to the conclusion that the peril was a real one, and that the government ought to take precautionary measures in order to minimize it.

One of the first acts of Mr. Asquith's administration, when war was inevitable, was to announce that the government itself would take 80 per cent of the risk which shipping would run under the war conditions which were then developing. The government was to immediately opened and a rate of five per cent. Duly by day followed, and though it was known that several German cruisers were still at large, no news of any loss was received.

Gradually the confidence of ship-owners and shippers was re-established. Private firms showed no hesitation in undertaking war risks at a lower rate than the government office. Within a few days the premium fell from five to four guineas, and eventually it was brought down to three guineas. Even at this figure underwriters were prepared to underwrite the government office. British shipping, which was at first disorganized by the dramatic circumstances under which war occurred, has since been re-organizing the government office. The Brigands Must Be Destroyed

(From La Patrie)
 The German soldiers, officers and men rob, pillage and then burn down the villages against which they were wont to shoot men, women and children to suppress witnesses. It is an army of wild beasts against which the world is armed and it is necessary once for all that it shall be exterminated. Whatever may be the various phases of the war, the fate is sealed. Great Britain, France and Russia have solemnly bound themselves not to make peace until it is destroyed.

French Soldiers on the Firing Line--A Battle Scene Picture From Alsace, Where the French for a Time Had the Germans Beaten

Germans Still Fall Back Before Advance of Allies

While the latest official statements give few details of the great battle which is being waged in France and in which three million men are engaged, it seems apparent that the German forces are still falling back, from the announcement that the Allies have gained about thirty-seven miles of territory in their advance, an increase of twelve in the operations during the past twenty-four hours.

Both British and French troops have crossed the River Marne, the British capturing men and guns. The action of greatest severity is being fought between Mailly and Vitry Le Francois.

In an engagement between British and Germans in Nyssaland, British Central Africa, the Germans, according to the British official press bureau, were driven back to the river Songwe, which is part of the frontier between the British and German protectorates.

Prince Oachim Albrecht, of Prussia, son of the late Prince Frederick Albert, Regent of Brunswick, and a second cousin of the German emperor, has been wounded in battle.

BRITISH WIN IMPORTANT SUCCESSES.

Paris, Sept. 10--11.22 p. m.--The following official communication was issued tonight:

"On the left wing the British and French troops have crossed the Marne, between La Ferte-Sous-Jouarre, Charly and Chateau Thierry, pursuing the enemy who is in retreat. During the course of their advance, the British forces took a number of prisoners and captured Mitrailleuses.

"During the four days' battle the allied armies have, in that section of the theatre of operations, gained more than sixty kilometres. "Between Chateau Thierry and Vitry Le Francois the Prussian guard has been thrown back.

"The action continues with great severity in the region between Camp De Mailly and Vitry Le Francois.

"In the center and on the right wing there is no change in the situation.

"In the Ornaix and in the Argonne districts the two opposing forces are maintaining their positions. In the region of Nancy the enemy has made slight progress on the Chateau Salins road. On the other hand, we have gained ground in the forest of Champenoux.

"The losses have been considerable on both sides, but the morale and health of our troops remain excellent.

"There is no confirmation of the news published in the German newspapers of the fall of Maubeuge."

GERMAN RAGE AGAINST ENGLISH, FRENCH AND RUSSIANS

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Berlin, Aug. 21--One of the accompaniments of the European war which would, under less serious conditions, be a fair subject for amused comment, is the sudden rage that has manifested itself against everything English, French and Russian. This feeling has reached such a pitch that French and English pictures have been withdrawn from public view at the Berlin museums. In the Kaiser Friedrich Museum, priceless old books with wood engravings by Gustave Dore have been withdrawn.

On the days following the declaration of war by Great Britain, groups paraded the main streets and made demonstrations before shops with offending signs. Many American firms, which advertised branches in Paris and London, suffered. At the corner of Leipziger and Friedrich streets stands the Equitable Life Insurance Company's building. Its first two floors sheltered the Equitable Cafe, but this became the "Zielka Cafe" on August 5.

The Berlin Messenger-Boy Company, whose English name had long given offense to sturdy patriots, is now the "Berliner Boten-Junge-Gesellschaft," and the messengers have been equipped with new headgear to replace the tiny Tommy Atkins hat which they formerly wore on the side of their head.

The movement is being carried to such ridiculous lengths that prominent newspapers are now declaring the Germans should stop saying "adieu" upon parting.

a salutation that has been in use since the eighteenth century.

FOOD FACTS.

What An M. D. Learned.

A physician went through a food experience which he makes public. "It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful builder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients gain very rapidly, just as I did in strength and weight."

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains, but two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts food and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Trial 10 days of Grape-Nuts, with regular food does not seem to sustain the body, works wonders. "There's a reason." Look in pks. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

STOOD TERRIBLE ORDEAL AT NAMUR

Belgians Lost Some 14,000 Men There

BATTERED BY GERMANS

Ten Hours of Bombardment With Great Siege Guns--Cutting Way Through the Foe But at Terrible Cost

Ostend, Belgium, via London, Sept. 11--The romantic of Namur captured has arrived here, bringing a story which explains to some extent why a stronghold so nearly impregnable fell.

Of 26,000 men in the forts in the environs of Namur, 12,000 escaped, making the Belgian loss at Namur in killed, wounded and missing, 14,000.

It seems that under cover of the fog, the Germans finally got their new siege guns into position from which they could concentrate their fire on a single point of the Namur defences of three miles from the Belgian trenches and consequently outanged the Belgian guns.

"Without troubling about the forts," said one of the survivors, "the Germans first centered their rain of steel upon our entrenchments. For ten hours our brave young fellows stood the terrible ordeal, unable to fire a shot in return. Any man raising his head above the fire-swept ramparts had it blown off. Lying flat on our stomachs all we could do was to wait for the firing to end. Whole regiments were being decimated. The loss among our officers was terrible.

"Meanwhile many German guns had been turned on the forts, especially Maizeret and Marchevotte. The men in them, armed with guns of much smaller caliber than the Germans, could offer but feeble resistance. Maizeret, in fact, fired only about ten shots while receiving no fewer than 1,200 shells at the rate of twenty a minute.

"At Marchevotte seventy-five men perished at the batteries and both forts soon surrendered. The other works, however, were still holding out when the army left town. So much confidence had been placed in Gen. Michel and his staff's ability to hold the fortress that the eventual retirement of the forces from it had in no way been provided for and as a result the greatest confusion ensued.

"No provision had been made for the destruction of the stores, and all of them, together with the fortress artillery and most of the field artillery fell into the hands of the enemy. At the Cadet School alone was a store of 8,000,000 rations.

"The Ambulance Corps was a heavy sufferer through lack of organization, losing 150 out of 600 men. Many of our sick and wounded were left behind in Namur, but such as could be moved were got through to the French lines and eventually were transferred to French hospitals.

"On the retreat the narrow road was choked with men, horses and vehicles. Of our enormous park of motor cars only two were saved, for the Germans entered the town close on our heels.

"Doomed to Disappointment." "We were doomed to disappointment and disappointment. The French had been obliged to fall back and could only send us two regiments. These bravely fought their way to us, joining us in greatly reduced numbers not far from Namur. Our generals had believed that the destruction of the bridge at Jambes would cover our retreat, but the Germans, moving more rapidly, cut our retreat near Bois de Villers, six miles from Namur, where their machine guns made a clean sweep of several motors filled with Belgian officers. At last we cut our way through, but at a terrible loss. "Here the 8th and 18th Regiments especially distinguished themselves. They lost nearly all of their officers. One of our commissariat trains fell into the hands of the enemy.

"Our troops continued their retreat, ever pursued, ever harassed. Moreover, we tumbled right into the path of the French retreat from Chateau, and it was not until we got to Philippville that our troops were pulled together again and reformed.

"The next day and thereafter our retreat was executed in good order. Everywhere we were received with open arms, the inhabitants of towns vying with one another to give us shelter."

PARISIANS HONOR BRAVE BELGIAN KING

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, Aug. 23--A drawing of Alsace, a handsome maiden, flying joyfully into the arms of a French soldier, is the most popular drawing of the war so far and it is being reproduced in all sizes, including postcards. The war seems to have paralyzed the artists. There are many indescribably coarse postal cards, picturing the German Emperor as a pig or sausage or worse. King Albert is the hero of the war up to date and his photographs are for sale everywhere.

Flags are worn on lapels, borne on taxicabs, and displayed over the door of almost every home and shop. There are many more British flags in Paris than there are French flags in London.

All Paris newspapers are printed on one sheet only. The supply of paper is limited, most of the staffs have gone to the front and nobody cares for anything but war news. The police have forbidden vendors to cry out anything but the names of papers so there are no shouts about big battles and big losses.

One of the notable aspects of the war is the paralysis of the commercial life of Paris. The detestable "Wish a guide, mister?" is no longer poured into the ears of the pedestrians in the Place des Opera. The tables in front of the boulevard restaurants are but sparsely surrounded. Even the better cafes are two-thirds closed and the few remaining waiters are sorry that they are too old to be with the troops.

A white marble monument, a full size figure of Christ, has been erected in Aldershot Military Cemetery in memory of Colonel S. F. Cody, the aviator who was killed while flying over Laffan's Plain in August, 1913.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Thickness

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our Grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark sheen of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

PAYING THE TOLL OF WAR

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, Aug. 26--Already women and children in black are growing more and more numerous on the streets of Paris. Today the official communique declares that "while our losses (in a certain engagement) were heavy those of the enemy were far greater." The inevitable toll of the war is being paid.

A tear-stained, trembling mignonette told today how she heard of the death of her only brother yesterday. He had sent her no word since he went north with his regiment on the second day of mobilization. There are no official lists of the killed and wounded. For five days she went to the ministry of war, seeking news. On Friday they seemed to be preparing for the worst. "Come tomorrow and we will have news of your brother. On the morrow she was told simply "He is dead." All further inquiries were in vain. Where and how he died she could not learn or whether his body would be brought home. Simply "It is mort."

THIS HOTEL MAN MAKES A CUT IN THE RATES

Calgary, Alta, Sept. 10--Instead of advancing rates in conformity with increasing prices for foodstuffs, the proprietor of one of the largest hotels in Calgary announces a reduction, notwithstanding that the service will be fully up to the standard. Believing it to be the duty of all citizens to do their share towards meeting the unprecedented conditions brought about by the European struggle, the management has cut the cost of living of its guests and will be satisfied with a smaller profit until peace is declared.

CHANGES IN QUEEN'S STAFF

Kingston, Sept. 11--Two changes in the staff of Queen's University are announced. T. J. Hedman, of Chicago, has been appointed lecturer in German. He is a native of Sweden, Arthur J. Mann, a graduate of Oxford University, has been appointed a lecturer in French.

WILD WAR STORIES PUT IN CIRCULATION

(Associated Press Correspondence) The Hague, Aug. 21--It is learned on good authority that the publication of sensational stories which appeared in German newspapers during the first days of the war, such as the report of a French physician trying to infect a well in Alsace with typhoid bacilli, were secured by the German army officials with a view of bestirring the people to watchfulness.

Stories like that of the infected well were widely published. Lakes all over the country were being poisoned. Russian automobiles carrying a great quantity of gold were trying to cross Germany from France. The whole country was swarming with spies.

The effect that these stories had for they were generally believed, led to the shooting of many innocent persons, including one German army captain, and great interruptions to the progress of high military personages on important missions. The chief of police in Stuttgart issued the following official statement to his men, showing the effect of these sensational stories.

"The populace is beginning to become crazy. The streets are full of old women of both sexes who conduct themselves in an unworthy manner. Everyone sees in his neighbor a French or Russian or French spy, and considers it his duty to beat him, together with the policeman who tries to protect him, or at least, to cause a tremendous crowd to collect and hand the supposed spy over to the police. Clouds are mistaken for airplanes, stars for airplanes, bicycle pumps for bombs. Telephone and telegraph wires in the middle of the city are believed to have been cut, bridges blown up, ships shot and the water supply poisoned. It is impossible to predict what form these extravagances will assume when the situation becomes really more earnest. As a matter of fact, not a single suspicious thing has thus far occurred in Stuttgart."

"The police should continue cool. Be men, and not old women, do not let yourselves be duped, but keep your eyes open, as it is your duty to do."

There is a good deal of hypocrisy over hot weather. Most people pretend to like it, and very few people really do like it, says a critic.

NOTED LONDON WORKER HERE

Rev. Mr. Jameson Missionary Among Submerged of East End

SPEAKS OF WAR CONDITIONS Fine Spirit Prevades England—In Mile Square, Where His Work Lies, Are Half Million People—It Was There That "Jack the Ripper" Terrorized Community

An interesting visitor in the city at the present time is the Rev. John Jameson, of Tower Bridge church, London, England, also closely connected for years with the missionary work among the submerged classes in the East End of the great metropolis. Mr. Jameson is making a tour of Canada, chiefly of a holiday nature, and expects to spend eight or nine weeks in the Dominion. In conversation with a Times reporter this morning Mr. Jameson said that his work was very strenuous, and just before the outbreak in Europe he was planning for a few months relief by 2000 of his trip across the Atlantic. His departure was delayed by the war, as there were thousands of people under his care that had to be provided for in the breadwinners of the family rallied to the call of the empire. Speaking of the European situation, he said: "This awful war has dislocated vast industries, destroyed the civilizing agencies for which central European nations stood, checking for the time being all economic progress. Every nation stands to lose by the war, and lose not only material wealth but also the hope of progress. England strove and strove with might and main to stop the threatened disaster. Sir Edward Grey exerted his great powers to make the cabinets of Europe realize that none could gain by war. England, against her will and with great repugnance, has been forced into this conflict.

In true British spirit, the men of England have responded to the call to arms and all classes and parties are as one. All differences are laid aside, and even the militant suffragette has been pacified. England is fighting so, by the blessing of God, she will stand firm and the ceaseless threat against peace that has disturbed Europe for the last twenty years. For this reason this campaign must be waged so as to place our action for an indefinite period all well wishers of peace of nations and all incentives to war. The mother country is thrilled with admiration at the expressed loyalty and love of the Dominion of Canada and she is proud of her sons. Mr. Jameson said that his district was but a mile square, yet there were 500,000 people residing in that area. About 5,000 children were perpetually under his supervision, and just before leaving he was feeding 500 of these, left without means by the departure of father or brother for the front, or by being thrown out of employment. He arranged before leaving that this work should be carried on in his absence. The section in which Mr. Jameson is stationed in that which was terrorized some years ago by what was known as the work of Jack the Ripper. So prevalent was crime at that time that even the sturdy policemen of London feared to enter some of the alleys and lanes in the East End. On account of my work among the children," said Mr. Jameson, "I was known all over the section, and could go any place without being molested."

THE BEST COLLIE There was an error in the prize list in the Times last evening in the award for collies at the exhibition. The silver cup for the best collie in the whole show was won by Mr. B. R. Humprey of Humprey (not by Mr. Sterling) of Jubilee, N. B. Mr. Humprey is an enthusiastic lover of collies and says that if all farmers kept them and no others there would be no complaint about sheep being destroyed by dogs.

AN UNNECESSARY CALL The ringing of box 113 last evening about seven o'clock called out the west side fire department, but on their arrival at the place from which the alarm was sent in they found no sign of fire and the author of the alarm was also missing. Instead of breaking the glass to get the key, the miscreant removed it intact by sliding it down through the slot used for replacing glasses.

McFARLAND-ADAMS A pretty wedding took place last evening at the residence of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Wellington Camp, D. D., of Leinster street Baptist church, when William McFarland, formerly of Glasville, Carleton county, but now of St. John, was united in marriage to Miss Myrtle Ivy Adams, a native of Shropshire, England, now residing in this city. The bride wore a very pretty costume of white serge and white felt hat with ostrich mount. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland will reside in St. John.

FOR THE RED CROSS FUND The ladies of Nauwigawauk, Jubilee, and French Village, the latter comprising the upper section of Robesay parish, held an entertainment for the benefit of the Red Cross Fund in the hall at Nauwigawauk last Friday evening. It was very enjoyable and netted $88 for the fund. A lady in her eightieth year who could not attend visited the home of the president and expressed her regret, and gave a personal contribution of a dollar to the fund.

Buying Clothing Should Be A Profitable Investment, Mr. Man September 11, 1914. You want to get all that's coming to you when you spend your money, don't you? But do you get it? If you buy your clothing anywhere outside of Oak Hall we emphatically say you do NOT. Now a man spends considerable for clothing in the course of a year, and a saving of five dollars or ten dollars on a purchase is too important a thing to be side stepped in these days of the increasing cost of living. And you are side-stepping just such savings when you fail to buy your clothing at Oak Hall. Of course you know that when you buy of us you buy of the makers. You thus SAVE the middleman's profit, which profit you must pay at other stores. You see, therefore, the reason for the difference between our prices and other stores' prices. And besides saving money you will get clothing that has no superior in quality, style and durability. MEN'S SUITS $6.50 to $40.00 KING STREET COR. How They Sell Helos in New York The New York Telephone Company is a large and aggressive newspaper advertiser. It advertises its service; it preaches courtesy; it shows new ways of using the telephone. Now it has taken another step and linked the store windows of the retailers to the newspaper advertising. Attractive window forms have been gotten up which impress the advantage of ordering by telephone. The stores are showing the displays, the newspaper advertising is going on, and the business of the telephone is increasing. The co-operation in this campaign is a striking example of the way the retailer is impressed by advertising in his home newspaper and how he wants to assist in selling the goods.
