IN PERILOUS PLACE. While many watched with quickening pulses from the street below, a chimney sweeper coolly and deliberately labored about the top of the high chimney of the St. John Railway Company in Union street this morning, apparently unaware that he was exciting so much attention. There were not many amongst those who were watching who would willingly have exchanged places with him.

POLICE REPORTS. William McKewan has been reported by Policeman Clark for carrying a loaded revolver without a license. Hartley C. Vanwart has been reported for putting a roman window in his house at Durham street. O. S. Dykeman has been reported for erecting a pair of "stains in High street, in such a way as to encumber the sidewalk.

THE VALLEY RAILWAY. The council of the Board of Trade is meeting this afternoon to discuss the Valley Railway crossing on the Kennebecasis River. The board strongly favors the crossing at Goudville Point instead of Perry's Point as shown on the plans. Information has been given that the government will take no action in the matter until the next session of the legislature, but the members of the board are determined to have their plans and arguments ready in good time.

HAS DONE WELL. After a pleasant visit to his old home here, Frederick McDewitt left on Saturday on his return to the home in Boston. He was accompanied by L. Dower, postmaster at Eastport. Mr. McDewitt was warmly greeted by old friends. He left here about twelve years ago and has met with success in the Hub, where he is now superintendent of the Maverick Cotton Mills. He is a former member of the City Council Board, and was heartily greeted by many of the older members of that organization.

Craigton, of the Canadian Express Company, was united in marriage to Miss Frances Evelyn Campbell, daughter of Mrs. C. W. Campbell, of St. John. Mr. Craigton received a telegram here yesterday telling of the marriage and saying that his son and bride were leaving for Vancouver on a honeymoon trip. The groom is a former member of the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was also in the employ of T. Eaton & Co., and is now on the editorial staff of the Winnipeg Telegram. He has been in the west about five years.

WILLING TO OFFER ULSTER ANY GUARANTEE IN REASON

Wm. O'Brien Suggests That Canadians Might Act as Arbitrators

(Times' Special Cable)

London, Sept. 23—The following is a special message from Wm. O'Brien, Nationalist M. P.

Oak, Sept. 23—The troubles in Ulster are of the same character as the racial conflicts which once divided Canada and South Africa. They can be cured only by the same methods of mutual concession and conciliation. The Ulster demonstrations are largely exploited by politicians for their own purposes but undoubtedly they have a substratum of genuine apprehension which deserves respectful consideration. The dangers to the property or civil or religious liberties of our Protestant fellow countrymen we Nationalists know to be entirely imaginary. They spring from the artificial divisions which have so long kept the two races from knowing one another. Bigotry is absolutely alien to the Irish nature. Our Protestant patriots are as much beloved as O'Connell.

The substantial interests of the two races, once antagonistic, are now identical. For these reasons we of the All-Ireland League, representing a national peace movement composed of home rulers of all shades and classes would gladly assent to any arrangements of a temporary and experimental character that would give Ulster a guarantee of the most watchful imperial control against any possibility of injustice.

The partition of Ireland is almost the only compromise which we would not be ready to discuss. If it were the means of securing a settlement by consent the separation of Ulster from Ireland would be for Irish Protestants as well as Catholics unthinkable as the separation of Ontario and Quebec would be for Canadians. The two Canadian parties, Liberal and Conservative, would be doing a noble service to the empire if they consented to arbitrate as to the guarantee, and this ought to satisfy every nationalist in Ireland.

ULSTER DAY PLANS

The General Home Rule Session as it Presents itself Today

London, Sept. 23—On Saturday next the Unionists of the northern counties of Ireland propose to register their formal dissent from the Home Rule bill. The registration will take place in halls and market places, even in churches, the men of Ulster will sign a covenant, pledging themselves never to submit to any government from Dublin which may be imposed upon the country by the Asquith-Redmond home rule bill passed in the House of Commons.

BORDEN LIKELY TO OFFER MONEY

This is Belief in Ottawa as to Naval Policy—Session to be a Busy One

Ottawa, Sept. 23—The decision of the government to call parliament in November instead of waiting until January has had been contemplated up to last week, probably means that the naval question is to be dealt with before Christmas, thus gaining at least two or three months in the giving of the "immediate and direct aid," which Premier Borden has promised to the mother country.

It is believed likely, an emergency contribution is to be proposed, the reasons against any available delay from political, national and imperial standpoints, are manifest. It is probable that the greater part of the time up to Christmas adjournment will be taken up with the discussion of the naval question. It is hoped that the whole matter will be disposed of, so far as this session is concerned, before the recess.

He was fifty-seven years of age, and is survived by his wife, one son, Walter, at home and two daughters, Mrs. Bedford Allen, of Murray Corner, and Mrs. Hazel Milson, at Bayfield.

ANOTHER APARTMENT HOUSE IS PLANNED

Harry E. Beyer Buys Lancaster Property—Elliott Row Transaction

Plans for a new apartment house on a large scale in Lancaster are under consideration and this may be the next development in the building situation in that section. A section of land, 100 by 100 feet, comprising five lots, has been purchased by Harry E. Beyer, secretary-treasurer of F. J. Daniel & Co., Ltd., of this city. This was originally part of the Sharkey property.

Representatives of the European and Canadian Land Company of Montreal have been in the city for the last few days seeking opportunities for investment in local real estate.

The Times is informed that the price first paid for the Oak Hill corner and the two properties in Charlotte street, opposite the Dufferin, was $105,000, and the sale made last week brought about $120,000. This is a good illustration of the growing interest in real estate, and the increase in value.

NO REPORT YET ON RECLAMATION SCHEME

The project for the reclaiming of the area to the south of the ballast wharf is lying dormant for the present pending the presentation of a report on the cost of the scheme. When proposals were taken up by the board of trade the matter was referred to the Norton Griffiths & Co., engineers for a more exact estimate of the cost. Since then the engineers of the company have been so busy with their own work that it has been impossible to deal with the scheme.

PRAYER FOR MERCY

W. H. Wildes Left Note Saying He Could Bear it no Longer—Hoped Children's Life Would Be Better Than His

"May God have mercy on my soul. I can't bear the agony of this place any longer. Bless and take care of my dear children and may their life be far smoother than my past has been. Good-bye to all. (Signed) W. H. WILLES.

This was the contents of a note found this morning in a room in the Western House, Carleton, beside the dead body of the writer, W. H. Wildes, a resident of Lower Derby, N. S., who was at the recent Greater St. John Exhibition displaying some clever bird work which he had done himself. Lying across his bed with a bullet wound through his temple he was found more than three hours after he had committed the act.

The unfortunate man had been drinking. He had met with fair success at the exhibition where his display had attracted considerable attention, but he had not gone home since the fair closed. He had been boarding at the Western House, in Carleton, and there, as at the fair, his pleasant, genial manner won him many friends.

About nine o'clock this morning he was called and answered that he would get up soon, but did not do so, and at one o'clock he was again called but this time there was no answer. A carpenter at work on the house looking through the bedroom window saw his lifeless body stretched across the bed, and Coroner F. L. Kenney was summoned. It was found that he had died from a shot through the temple. The note had probably been scrawled in the hours before his death.

NORTH END FIREMAN TAKES WIFE TODAY

A pretty wedding ceremony took place today in the Emmons street parsonage, when Rev. W. W. Brewer, pastor, united in marriage Sanford Spight, of North End, to Miss Emma McCluskey, daughter of William McCluskey, of Brussels street. The wedding took place about six o'clock, and was followed by a tempting breakfast at the home of the bride, after which Mr. and Mrs. Spight left on a honeymoon trip through the eastern states. Mr. Spight was supported by F. W. Mitchell as groomsmen, while Miss Bertha F. McCluskey, her sister, supported the bride. The groom is a member of the North End fire department. Both he and his bride have many friends who wish them happiness.

THE PROVINCIAL W. C. T. U.

Last Thursday evening's session of the annual meeting of the New Brunswick W. C. T. U., in Campbellton, was held in the Methodist church with the provincial president in the chair. The meeting was opened with the singing of "For God and Home and Native Land." The president read a scripture lesson, and Rev. Mr. Drum led in prayer. Some Glad Day was nicely sung by the choir.

Mrs. Livingston gave her last address, reading on social conditions. She said the liquor traffic was the greatest barrier to the child receiving an education. In the conservation of the public health the liquor traffic also had to be considered. Ninety-three per cent. of the crime in the United States was due to the liquor business and nine-tenths of all the poverty there could also indirectly be attributed to it. The white slave traffic was doubly related to the liquor traffic and ninety-nine out of 100 dance halls in New York had a saloon attached.

Mrs. Livingston spoke for an hour, and held her audience deeply interested. She was the recipient of a pretty bouquet presented on behalf of the W. C. T. U. by the little daughter of Mrs. Perry, of E. Island and there was also a bouquet for the provincial president. Miss Etta Mowatt sang a solo very acceptably during the evening. Miss Mowatt, organist, was very faithful in her attendance at all the sessions of the provincial union.

HEALTH CONGRESS

IS OPENED TODAY

Sanitary Authorities of the World Gather in Washington Convention

Washington, D. C. Sept. 23—With thirty-two governments and forty-eight states pouring their wealth of knowledge to improve public welfare and to prolong human life into one common fund for the world's use, the Fifteenth International Congress on Hygiene and Demography opened this week's session here this morning. Four hundred and fifty of the foremost sanitary authorities in the world, in formal addresses will contribute the latest discoveries and methods in preventive countries in the realm of adding comfort and years to human life. It is expected that the attendance at the nine sessions into which the congress is divided will number 5,000 including many of the national, state and city health officials of this country.

While the object of the congress is to extend the knowledge and improve the practice of hygiene and public health in all the countries which participate, it is believed these benefits will accrue in largest measure to the country which is for the time being the host of the congress. That the state and municipal public health officials of this country attending the congress will have support outside of immediate sanitary circles in seeking to put into effect various health reforms that will be suggested by the congress, is indicated by the fact that many of the enterprises in being represented at the proceedings. Among these is the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, which is represented by its general counsel.

Part of the work of the congress will deal with the control of contagious diseases, including typhoid fever, diphtheria, cerebro spinal meningitis, and cholera, with the sanitary aspects of public water supplies, including the sanitary control of wells, the purification of surface water, storage, water purification in Europe by biological methods; water sterilization by chemical methods and with disposal of sewage and wastes by the various processes now carried on in the European countries.

Wherever knowledge as to improved methods is obtained it is the intention of the life insurance industry to systematically aid constituted authorities in applying these methods to conditions in the country. In this way, it is hoped to improve the mortality experience among life insurance policyholders.

It has been contended for some time by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University that the practical application of all the reforms now being urged by the congress would add fifteen years to the span of life in the United States.

LET'S HAVE A REVIVAL The Sackville Post asks the citizens of that town if they "ever stop to think that if the town of Sackville were situated somewhere out in the great Canadian west, they would likely hear a great deal of its advantages—its excellent marsh lands, its shipping facilities by rail and water, its educational advantages and so on."

percent government makes a change it must be called to account by the people of Canada. The C. P. R. must have more office room at West St. John and more yard room at Fairville. In other words its business at this port is steadily growing.

There is no doubt at all that serious trouble is brewing in Ulster. It is never difficult to kindle the fire of fanaticism to the point of fierce resistance. It is their knowledge of this fact that encourages the political intriguers to appeal to prejudices that should long since have been buried. A savage intolerance is being developed, but there is no reason to believe that the Home Rule policy will be abandoned by the British government.

It is said that Sir Edward Carson had a narrow escape from injury during the rioting at Londonderry. No doubt nothing would please Sir Edward more than to be given the opportunity to pose as a martyr. If the friends of home rule are well advised, however, they will permit this freedom to pursue his course unmolested until such time as it may be necessary for the government to exercise a restraining influence.

The American ambassador at Paris has sent a report to Washington recommending the adoption by the United States of the system of agricultural co-operative credit societies. It is explained that by this system farmers are enabled to buy raw materials on their collective credit at a low rate of interest. It has been very great benefit to the farmers of Germany and France. The system in these two countries is not quite the same, and it is the German system which is recommended to the United States.

Premier Borden announces that parliament will meet in November, and that a plan of action in connection with the navy will be submitted by the government. There is no intimation that his pledge and that of Mr. Hazen, to submit their naval policy to the people, will be carried out. At the banquet in Montreal on Saturday evening Mr. Borden claimed great credit for his government for the legislation of last session, although a careful review of the record will hardly convince anybody but Mr. Borden himself that very much was accomplished.

What has been accepted for a good many years as the Canadian flag is receiving some hard knocks of late. We are told that the red design is not intended for use on land, and that the proper flag is the Union Jack. All of which indicates, says the Canadian Courier, that Canada is a flagless country and thus behind Australia and New Zealand. These countries use blue designs with the Southern Cross in the field. It is not suggested that the people of Australia and New Zealand are not loyal. As a matter of fact, they do less talking and contribute more to imperial defence than Canada. There is too much flagtalk and not enough practical patriotism in this country under tory rule.

THE TWO PARTIES Canada continues to enjoy great prosperity, as a result of Liberal policy. The Conservatives have been wise enough not to attempt any change of general policy, and have been content to reap the benefits of the wise policy of their Liberal predecessors. They have spent money lavishly, having it provided for them, and they have given much attention to such matters as turning Liberal office-holders out in order to provide places for hangers-on who were clamorous in their demand for a share of the spoils.

But the fact must not be overlooked that the country would have been more prosperous had the Liberal policy of reciprocity not been rejected. It was not defeated on its merits, and, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier clearly points out, the question of wider markets has not been solved. Yet it cannot be put aside. It confronts us, and demands a solution.

For the present the tories are reaping where they have not sown, and are trying to convince themselves that the general property of the country will make the people indifferent to the question of which party is in power. But when the people ask themselves whose policy led to this prosperity, and what the Conservatives have done in their year in office, it is perfectly clear that the Liberal policy of progress should be replaced by power. The country is prosperous, but it wants still greater prosperity. Moreover, it wants unity in place of discord, and to that end the great unifier Sir Wilfrid Laurier should be made once more the premier of Canada.

MORNING LOCALS The buildings in King and Germain streets, occupied by Scott Bros. & Co., and the two buildings in Charlotte street, opposite the Dufferin Hotel, formerly owned by the Prescott estate, have been sold by A. NEW FISHING SCHOONERS A fine new fishing schooner was launched on Wednesday last from the shipyard of Joseph McGill, at Shelburne. She was named the "A. Hubley" and was built for Captain Aimley Hubley, and others of Margaret's Bay, and The North Atlantic Fisheries Company of Halifax. She is 90 feet over all, 20.6 feet beam, 9 feet draft, and registers 69 tons. She was specially designed by McManus of Boston. Captain Hubley will command her. Mr. McGill has also in construction a fishing schooner for a local company, headed by Captain John T. McKenzie, of Leclercport.

FAIR WAGES CLAUSE The recent meeting of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada a resolution moved by John Scott of St. John was adopted advocating the appointment of a special officer in each province to enforce the provisions of the fair wages clauses in government contracts and also urging the fair wage clause apply to government jobs which are done by days work as well as to those which are done by contract.

BORDEN ANNOUNCES MEETING OF PARLIAMENT IN NOVEMBER

Naval Policy Then—Detailed Information From England, He Says, This Week

Montreal, Sept. 21.—That definite and detailed information regarding the naval situation, which had been expected for some time, and which would be in his hands by the end of next week, and that this information would be a plan of action in connection with the navy question drawn up, which plan would be submitted to the cabinet and to the Canadian parliament, which will be called together in November, was the announcement made by Premier Borden tonight at the banquet tendered him at the Windsor Hotel to celebrate his return from Great Britain and the visit of his party a year ago.

Other speakers included Hon. Robert Rogers, who declared that there was an increasing sentiment in favor of reciprocity in the west and delivered a virulent attack upon the Liberals, and the Liberal leaders of the west, who he declared were continually stirring up race hatred, and religious and sectarian animosities for their own ends.

George Drummond urged that the Canadian manufacturers establish themselves in the western provinces so that the needs and views of east and west might become more similar. Hon. Mr. Monk, dealt with the prosperity of the country and predicted its future with emphasis and especially settlement of the questions which his party has to handle.

TOO OLD TO HOLD JOB; DIES FOR WIFE'S SAKE

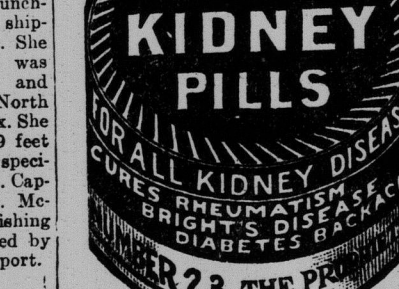

New York, Sept. 23.—"I have lost my position and am sick and tired of it all. I can work no more. I am too old to hold my job. You will find my body in some cheap lodging house."

This pathetic letter, written by an old man who had lost his job because of his age, and telling of his intention to sacrifice his own life so that his wife might not suffer in her declining years, has caused the police to redouble their efforts to find the author before he takes his own life.

The man is Samuel Mix. He was seventy years old and a cabinetmaker. With his wife, a few years his junior, he lived at No. 328 Kosciuszko street, Brooklyn. He disappeared last Tuesday. His wife, heart-broken, wife received the letter. It was followed a few hours later by an order for her to collect $15, his last week's wages. She had just sold a pair of young black foxes for the sum of $200.

RECENT DEATHS

William McLean, a well-known resident of the city, passed away early Saturday evening at the home of his son-in-law, William Charlton, 7 Short street. He was in the 60th year of his age and had been ailing for only a few days. He was, perhaps, the first man who grew vegetables in a hot house here, and sold them in the city market. He was born in St. John, but for many years conducted a green house at Ashburn. Later he went into the florist business there where he remained for twenty-two years. About eight years ago he came to this city and went into partnership with his son-in-law in Short street, where he has remained ever since. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William Charlton and one brother, Robert, of Ashburn. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from his late residence in Short street.

NOT SO SURE

A Scotch lady and her gardener used to worship together, not being able to agree with any form of church doctrine. NO CABINET MINISTER PRESENT TO BID MR. BORDEN FAREWELL

British Statesmen, Says London Letter, Merely Followed Official Custom. (Times Special Correspondent) London, Sept. 20.—Some comment has been caused here by the fact that no cabinet minister was present to bid an official farewell to Mr. Borden, and it has been unreasonably assumed that this was an indication of indifference on the part of His Majesty's ministers to a matter of fact which is not the personal to meet and bid goodbye to a person of equal station. These duties are performed by deputy.

ST. JOHN WANTS MR. PRITCHARD'S VERY BEST MAN STORY TO COURT

Saskatoon Pointed to in The Matter of Deciding on New Board of Trade Secretary

Discussing the question of secretary for the board of trade, a gentleman who has just returned from the west said to The Times this morning that St. John in this matter should not be less enterprising than towns in the west. He took the city court this morning. The evidence of the Industrial League Limited, which set out to make available a large amount of money to encourage the establishment of new industries in Saskatoon. The league sent to Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and secured the services of James A. Bell at a salary of $8,000. It has since given him an assistant. There you have a general manager and a commissioner, and a board of officials in all whose sole business is to boost the city of Saskatoon. I do not think I am out of the way in saying that the expenditure in salaries alone for these men is between $15,000 and $20,000 a year, and Saskatoon, for the advantage and opportunity, cannot for a moment compare with the city of St. John. What the Industrial League Limited and the board of trade have accomplished for Saskatoon is an interesting and inspiring story. It would seem to me, looking over the situation in St. John, that the board of trade should not for a minute consider the question of salary in getting the best man available to succeed Mr. Anderson.
